2. Again, Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon ſhall be turned into a fruitful Field, and the fruitful Field ſhall be eſteemed as a Foreſt. And in that day ſhall the deaf hear the words of the Book; and the eyes of the blind ſhall ſee out of obſcurity, and out of darkneſs. The meek alſo ſhall encreaſe their joy in the Lord, and the poor, among men, ſhall rejoice in the holy one of Iſrael: For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the 29.17,18, ſcorner is conſumed, and all that watch for iniquity 20. are cut off. Lebanon was a Foreſt, but now ſhe muſt be a fruitful Field. What means he here by Lebanon, but the Church under Perſecution; and the fruitful Field, Miſtreſs Babylon ſhall become as a Foreſt, that is, as the Church under diſtreſs. But when ſhall this be? Why, when the terrible one is brought low, and the ſcorner is conſumed, &c.

What can be more plain than this, to prove that Lebanon, even the Houſe, in the Foreſt of Lebanon (for that is here intended) was a Figure of the Church, in the Wilderneſs, or in a tempted and perſecuted ſtate. For to be turned into a fruitful Field, ſignifies the recovering of the afflicted Church, into a ſtate moſt quiet and fruitful; fruitful Fields are quiet, becauſe they are fenced, and ſo ſhall the Church be in that day.

63. 3. The Wilderneſs, and the ſolatary places ſhall be glad for them, and the Deſert ſhall rejoice, and 35.1. bloſſom as a Roſe.

What are we to underſtand by theſe words, if they be not a Prophecy of the flouriſhing ſtate of Chriſt's Kingdom; who in the days of her Perſecution, is compared to a Wilderneſs, to a Deſert, and to ſolitary places. And ſhe ſhall be glad for them; for what? For that ſhe is rid of the Dragons, Wild Beaſts, Satyrs, Screech-Owles, Great Owle, and Vulture, Types of the Beaſts, and unclean Birds of Antichriſt. Ch. 34. 13, 14, 15, 15, 17.

She ſhall be glad for them, that they are taken away from her, and placed far away: For then no Lion ſhall be there, nor any ravenous Beaſt: Yea, 'tis the Habitation of Dragons, where each lay, ſhall be Graſs, with Reeds, and Ruſhes, as it is, ch. 35. And now, The lame Man ſhall leap as an Hart, and the tongue of the dumb ſhall ſing; for in the Wilderneſs ſhall waters break out, and ſtreams in the Deſert. Read the whole Chapter.

For that the Deſert and Wilderneſs is thus mentioned, and that to expreſs the ſtate of the Church in trouble by; 'tis clear that Lebanon is not excluded, nor the thing that is ſignified thereby, which, I ſay, is the Church, in her low eſtate, in her Foreſt, or Wilderneſs condition.

4. I will plant in the Wilderneſs, the Cedar, 64.
the Shittah-Tree, the Myrtle-Tree, and the Oyl-Tree; and I will ſet in the Deſert, the Fir- Iſa. 41.
Tree, and the Pine, and the Box-Tree together. 18, 19.

Can any think that Trees are the things taken care of here? They are the Men that Antichriſt has murdered in his heat and rage againſt Chriſt, the which God will reſtore again to his Church, when Antichriſt is dead and buried, in the ſides of the pits mouth.

And that you may the better underſtand, he meaneth ſo, he expreſſeth again the ſtate of the Church, as like to a Wilderneſs condition, and promiſeth that in that very Church, now ſo like a Wilderneſs, to plant it again with Chriſtians, flouriſhing with variety of Gifts and Graces, ſignified by the various nature, and name of the Trees, ſpoken of here.

5. Behold, I create a new thing; now it ſhall ſpring forth, ſhall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the Wilderneſs, and Rivers in the Deſert; the Beaſts of the Field ſhall honour me, the Dra- Iſa. 43.
gons, and the Owls, becauſe I give Waters in the 19, 20.
Wilderneſs, and Rivers in the Deſert, to give drink to my people, my choſen.

Here God alludes to the condition of the Children of Iſrael, in the Wilderneſs of old, and implies they ſhall be in a Wilderneſs again; and as then he gave them Water, and delivered them from Serpents, Cockatrices, Vipers, Dragons; ſo he will do now, now to his people his choſen.

6. The Lord ſhall comfort Zion, he will comfort 65.
all her waſt places, and he will make her Wilder-

the Lord; joy and gladneſs ſhall be found therein, thanks giving, and the voice of melody.

See, here are Sion's waſt places, Sion's Wilderneſs, Foreſt, or Lebanon. Next, here is a promiſe that he will comfort her; and what doth this ſuppoſe, but that ſhe was in her Wilderneſs ſtate, uncomfortable, at leaſt, as to her outward peace, her liberty, and Goſpel privileges and beauties. Then here is the compariſon, by which he illuſtrates his promiſe, as to what degree and pitch he will comfort her. He will make her Wilderneſs, like Eden, and her Deſert like the Garden of the Lord. The

The effects of all which will be, she will have joy, and gladness; she will be thankful, and be melodious in her voice, and in her Soul to the Lord. This, I say, will follow upon her deliverance from her Desert, her Wilderness, her Desolate, and Comfortless State: All which is more fully expressed by her repeated Allelujahs.

Rev. 19. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Which Allelujahs there, are the effect of her deliverance from the rage of the Beast, and great Whore, of whose greatness, and ruine, you read in the two foregoing Chapters.

Now, I say, since the Church was to be in a Wilderness condition, under the Gospel; and since we have this House of the Forest of Lebanon, so particularly set forth in the Scriptures; and also since this House, its Furniture, its Troubles, and State, do so paint out this Church, in this Wilderness State, I take it to be for that very thing designed, that is to say, to prefigure this Church in this her so solitary and Wilderness State.

66. We will now therefore here make a brief Conclusion of all. First, This may inform us of the reason of the deplorable state of a professing People. It is allotted to them in this World to be so. The World, and Men of the World, must have their tranquillity here, and must be possest of all; this was fore-shewn in Esau, who had of his Sons many that were Dukes and Kings before there was any King in Israel. God so disposing of things that all may give place, when his Son shall come to reign in Mount Zion, and before his Ancients gloriously; which coming of his will be at the Resurrection, and end of this World, and then shall his Saints reign with him, when Christ who is our Life shall appear, then shall we also appear with him in glory.

Col. 3 3.

Let not therefore Kings and Princes and Potentates be afraid; the Saints that are such indeed, know their places, and are of a peaceable deportment; the Earth God hath given to the Children of Men, and his Kingdom, to the Sons of God.

Psal. 115. 16. Mat. 25. 34. Luk. 12. 32.

I know there are extravagant opinions in the World, about the Kingdom of Christ, as if it consisted in temporal glory, in part, and as if he would take it to him by carnal weapons, and so maintain it in its greatness and grandeur; but I confess my self an alien to these notions, and believe and profess the quite contrary, and look for the coming of Christ to Judgment personally, and 'twixt this and that, for his coming in Spirit, and in the power of his Word to destroy Antichrist, to inform Kings, and so to give quietness to his Church on Earth; which shall assuredly be accomplished, when the reign of the Beast, the Whore, the false Prophet, and of the Man of Sin is out.

2 Thes. 2. 8. Isa. 49. 23. 7. ch. 52. 15. ch. 60. 3. 10, 11. 16. 62. 2. Rev. 21. 24

2. Let this teach Men, not to think that the Church is curst of God, because she is put in a Wilderness State: Alas, that is but to train her up in a way of Solitariness, to make her Canaan the more welcome to her. (Rest is sweet to the labouring Man,) Yea, this Condition is the first step to Heaven; yea, 'tis a Preparation to that Kingdom. God's ways are not as Man's. I have chosen thee, saith he, in the Furnace of Affliction.

When Israel came out of Egypt, they were led of God into the Wilderness; but why? That he might have them to a Land, that he had espied for them, that he might bring them to a City of Habitation.

67. Ezek. 20. 6. Psal. 107. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7.

The World know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of our God. Do you think that Saints that dwell in the World, and that have more of the mind of God than the World, would, could, so rejoice in God, in the Cross, in Tribulations and Distresses? Were they not assured that through many Tribulations is the very road way to Heaven?

Acts 14. 22.

Let this then encourage the Saints to hope, and to rejoice in hope of the glory of God, notwithstanding present Tribulations. This is our Seed time, our Winter. Afflictions are to try us of what Mettle we are made; yea, and to shake off Worm eaten Fruit, and such as are rotten at Core. Troubles for Christ's sake are but like the prick of an Awl in the tip of the Ear, in order to hang a Jewel there.

Let this also put the Saints upon Patience; when we know that a Trial will have an end, we are by that knowledg encouraged to exercise patience. I have a bad Master, but I have but a year to serve under him, and that makes me serve him with patience: I have but a mile to go in this dirty way, and then I shall have my path pleasant and green, and this makes me tread the dirty way with patience.

I am now in my Rags, but by that a quarter of a year is come and gone, two hundred a year comes into my hand, wherefore I will wait, and exercise patience. Thus might I multiply Comparisons. Be patient then my Brethren: But how long? to the coming of the Lord. But when will that be? the coming of the Lord draws nigh.

Be patient, my Brethren, be long patient, even to the coming of the Lord: Behold, the Husbandman waiteth for the precious Fruit of the Earth; and hath long patience for it until he receive the early and latter Rain. Be ye also patient, stablish your Hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

OF ANTICHRIST, AND His RUINE:

And of the Slaying the Witnesses,

By JOHN BUNYAN.

A PREMONITION to the READER.

AFter that God had delivered Babylon and her King into the Hands of the Kings of the Medes and Persians, then began the Liberty of the Jews, from their long and tedious Captivity: For though Nebuchadnezzar and his Sons did tyrannically enslave, and hold them under; yet so wrought God with the Hearts of those Kings that succeeded them, that they made Proclamation to them to go home, and build their City, Temple, &c. and worship their own God according to his own Law. But because I would not be tedious in enumerating Instances for the clearing of this, therefore I will content my self with one, and with a brief Note upon it. It is that in the Seventh of Ezra: And whosoever will not do the Law of thy God, and the Law of the King, let Judgment be executed speedily upon him, whether it be to Death, or to Banishment, or to Confiscation of Goods, or to Imprisonment. This is the Conclusion of a Letter that King Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the Priest and Scribe, when he granted his Petition, and gave him leave to go to Jerusalem to build the Temple, and to offer Sacrifice there to the God whose House is in Jerusalem. And a Conclusion it was both comfortable and sharp; comfortable to Ezra and his Companions, but sharp unto his Enemies. I shall here present you with a Copy of the Letter at large.

1. Chron. 36. Ezra. 1.

Ezra 7.

12 Artaxerxes king of kings, Unto Ezra the priest, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at such a time:

13 I make a decree, That all they of the people of Israel, and of his priests and levites in my realm, which are minded of their own free-will to go up to Jerusalem, go with thee.

14 Forasmuch as thou art sent of the king, and of his seven counsellors, to enquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of thy God which is in thine hand:

15 And to carry the silver and gold, which the king and his counsellors have freely offered unto the God of Israel, whose habitation is in Jerusalem.

16 And all the silver and gold that thou canst find in all the province of Babylon, with the free-will-offering of the people; and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their God; which is in Jerusalem:

17 That thou mayst buy speedily with this money, bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the house of your God, which is in Jerusalem.

18. And whatsoever shall seem good to thee and to thy brethren, to do with the rest of the silver and gold, that do after the will of your God.

19 The vessels also that are given thee, for the service of the house of thy God, those deliver thou before the God of Jerusalem.

20 And whatsoever more shall be needful for the house of thy God, which thou shalt have occasion to bestow, bestow it out of the kings treasure-house.

21 And I, even I Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treasurers which are beyond the river, that whatsoever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it be done speedily:

22 Unto an hundred talents of silver, and to an hundred measures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred baths of oyl, and salt without prescribing how much.

23 Whatsoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done for the house of the God of heaven: for why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons?

24 Also we certifie you, that touching any of the Priests and Levites, singers, porters, Nethinims, or ministers of this house of God, it shall not be lawful to impose toll, tribute, or custom, upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wisdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, set magistrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whosoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed speedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

This is the Letter; and now for the scope
2. thereof.

First, Generally.

Secondly, Particularly.

Generally. The general scope of the Letter is this: A Grant given by the King to Ezra the Scribe, to go to Jerusalem, and build there the Temple of God, and offer Sacrifice in it according to the Law: with Commissions annexed thereunto, to the King's Lieutenants, Treasurers and Governours on that side the River, to further the work with such things as by the King was commanded they should.

But we will consider the matter particularly.

1. As to the manner of the Grant which the King gave to Ezra and his Brethren to go thither.

2. As to the King's Grant, with reference to their Building, and Way of Worship.

3. With reference to the King's Liberality and Gifts towards the building of the Temple, and by what Rules it was to be bestowed.

4. As to the way that the King concluded they should be governed in their own Land.

5. With reference to the King's Charge to his Officers that were thereabout, not to hinder Ezra in his Work.

6. And Lastly, with reference to the King's Threat and Commandment to do Judgment if they should hinder it.

First, As to the Manner of the Grant that the King gave to Ezra and his Brethren to go to build, it was such an one as forced none, but left every Jew to his own choice, whether he would go, or forbear. The words are these:

Ver. 12, 13. Artaxerxes, King of Kings, unto Ezra the Priest, a Scribe of the Law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at such a time: I make a Decree, That all they of the People of Israel, and of his Priests and Levites in my Realm, which are minded of their own free-will, to go up to Jerusalem, go with thee.

Thus gracious then was the King: He made a Decree, That all they of the Captive Jews, their Priests and Levites, that would return to their own Land, to build their Temple, and to sacrifice there, might: He would hinder none, force none, but left them free, to do as they would.

Secondly, As to the King's Grant, with reference to their Building, and Way of Worship there, nothing was to be done therein, but according to the Law of the God of Ezra, which was in his hands. Hence, when he was come to Jerusalem, he was to enquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem; to wit, What was wanting in order to the Temple and Worship of God there, according to the Law of his God, which was in his hand. Also when they went about to build, and to sacrifice, all was to be done according as was commanded by the God of Heaven: Yea, this was granted by the King, and his seven Councellors. 3. Ver. 14. Ver. 23.

Thirdly, As to the King's Liberality towards the building of this House, &c. it was large: He gave Silver, Gold, Bullocks, Rams, Lambs; with Wheat, Wine, Oyl, and Salt; but would by his Royal Power, give no Orders how in particular things should be bestowed, but left all that to Ezra the Priest, to do with it according to the Will, Word, or Law of his God. Ver. 15. Ver. 22. Ver. 18.

Fourthly, As to the way that the King concluded they should be governed in their own Land, it was by their own Laws; yea, he did bid Ezra the Priest, after the Wisdom of his God that was in his hand, set Magistrates and Judges, which might Judge all the People, &c. only he bid him make them such, which did know the Law of his God: Also the King added, That they should teach it to them that knew it not.

Fifthly, As to the King's Officers, he gave them a Charge not to hinder, but further this Work. To further this Work, not by putting their hand thereto, (that was to be left to the Jews alone, especially to Ezra, according to the Law of his God,) but that they should speedily give him such things which the King had commanded, to wit, Silver, and Wheat, and Wine, and Oyl, and Salt, for their encouragement; and to do therewith, as by the Law of their God they should. Further, That they should not impose Toll, Tribute, or Custom, upon the Priests, Levites, Singers, Porters, Nethinims, or Ministers. 4. Ver. 20, 21, 22.

Sixthly, And now we come to the Conclusion, to wit, the King's Threat and Command to do Judgment on them that obeyed not the Law of Ezra's God, and the King.

Considering what hath been said before, I conclude,

1. That this King imposed no Law, no Priest, no People upon these Jews; but left them wholly to their own Law, their own Ministers, and their own People: All which were the Laws of God, the Priests of God, the People of God, as to their Building of their Temple, and the Worship of their God.

2. He forced not THIS People, no, not to their Land, their Temple, nor their Worship, by his or their Law; but left them free to their own mind, to do thereabout as they would.

3. He added not any Law therefore of his own, either to prescribe Worship, or to enforce it upon the Jews.

But

But you will say, Upon what then was the Threatning and the Command to punish grounded? I answer, Upon a supposed breach of two Laws. He of the Jews, that in Jerusalem, rebelled against the Law of the Lord, was in his own Land left by the King to be punished by the same Law, according to the Penalties thereof: And he of the King's Officers, that refused to do the King's Laws, that refused to give the Jews such things as the King commanded, and that would yet exact such Customs and Tributes as the King forbad, should be punished by the King's Laws, whether unto Death, or unto Banishment, or unto Confiscation of Goods, or to Imprisonment.

And if all Kings would but give such liberty, to wit, that God's People should be directed in their Temple-Building, and Temple-Worship, as they find it in the Law of their God, without the additions of Man's Inventions: And if all Kings did but lay the same Penalty upon them of their pretended Servants that should hinder this Work, which this brave King Artaxerxes laid upon his; how many of the Enemies of the Jews, before this time, would have been hanged, banished, had their Goods confiscated to the King, or their Bodies shut up in Prison! The which we desire not; we desire only that this Letter of the King might be considered of, and we left to do as is there licens'd and directed: And when we do the contrary, let us be punished by the Law of God, as we are his Servants; and by the Law of the King, as we are his Subjects; and we shall never complain.

6. Only I cannot but observe how prettily it is done of some, who urge this Text to colour their Malice, Ignorance and Revenge withall, while they cry, The Law of God, and The Law of the King, when they will neither let, according to this Scripture, the Law of God, nor the Law of the King take place: Not the Law of God; for that they will not leave us to that, to square and govern our selves in Temple-Work, and Sacrificing by. Nor will they do the Law of the King, which has made void, ipso facto, whatever Law is against the Word of God; but because themselves can do, they will force us to do so too.

Before I leave this, I would touch once again upon the candour of this King Artaxerxes, who thus did: Because he gave this leave and license to the Jews, contrary (if he had any) to his own National Worship; yea, and also to the impairing of his own Incomes. Methinks he should have a Religion of his own; and that, not that of the Jews, because he was a Gentile; and not, as we read of, proselyted to the Jews Religion. Indeed, he spake reverendly of the God of Israel, and of his Temple-Worship, and Sacrifices, as did also several other Kings; but that will not prove that he was adapted to that Religion.

7. That his Incomes were impaired, 'tis evident; because he took off Toll, Tribute, and Custom from them, of whom mention is made afore; nor is it, I think, to be believed, that he did exact it of their Brethren. But we may see what the Lord can do; for thus to do, was
Ver. 27. put into the Heart of the King by the God of Heaven. This therefore ariseth not of Nature: No more did the Kindness of Cyrus, or Darius, of whom we read in the beginning of this History. As God therefore did put it into the Hearts of the wicked Kings of Babylon, to distress his Church and People for their Sins; so he put it into the Hearts of the Kings of the Medes and Persians, who were to be, in a sense, their Saviours; to ease them of those Distresses, to take off the Yoke, and let them go free. Indeed, there was an Artaxerxes that Chap. 4. put a stop to this Work of God, and he also was of the Kings that had destroyed the Babylonians; for it doth not follow, because God hath begun to deliver his People, that therefore their Deliverance must be compleated without stop or let. The Protestants in France had more favour formerly, than from their Prince they at this time have; yet I doubt not but that God will make that Horn also one of them (in his time) that (indeed) shall hate the Whore. As the Sins of God's People brought them into Captivity; so their Sins can hold them there; yea, and when the time comes that Grace must fetch them out, yet the Oxen that draw this Cart, may stumble; and the way through roughness, may shake it sorely. However, Heaven rules, and overrules; and by one means, and another, as the Captivity of Israel did seem to linger, so it came out at the time appointed; in the way that best pleased God, most profited them, and that most confounded those that were their implacable Enemies. This therefore should instruct those that yet dwell where the Woman sitteth, to Quietness and Patience.

To Quietness. For God rules, and has the 8. disposé of things. Besides, it is a kind of arraigning of his Wisdom, to be discontent at that which at present is upon the Wheel. Above all, it displeases him that any should seek, or go about to revenge their own Injuries, or to work their own Deliverances; for that is the work of God, and he will do it by the Kings: Nor is he weak, nor has he miss the opportunity; nor doth he sleep, but waketh, and waiteth to be gracious.

This also should teach them to be Patient, and put them upon bearing what at present they may undergo, patiently. Let them wait upon God; patiently let them wait upon Men, and patiently let them bear the fruits of their own Transgressions; which though they should be none other but a deferring of the Mercy wished for, is enough to try, and crack, and break their patience, if a continual supply, and a daily encrease thereof be not given by the God of Heaven.

And before I do conclude this, let me also add one word more; to wit, To exhort them to look, that they may see that which God at present may be doing among the Babylonians.

When God had his People into Babylon of old, he presented them with such Rarities there, as he never shewed them in their own Countrey. And is there nothing now to be seen by them that are not yet delivered from that Oppression, that may give them occasion hundred measures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred baths of oyl, and salt without prescribing how much.

23 Whatsoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be diligently done for the house of the God of heaven: for why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons?

24 Also we certifie you, that touching any of the Priests and Levites, singers, porters, Nethinims, or ministers of this house of God, it shall not be lawful to impose toll, tribute, or custom, upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wisdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, set magistrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.

26 And whosoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed speedily upon him, whether it be unto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

This is the Letter; and now for the scope thereof. 2.

First, Generally.

Secondly, Particularly.

Generally. The general scope of the Letter is this: A Grant given by the King to Ezra the Scribe, to go to Jerusalem, and build there the Temple of God, and offer Sacrifice in it according to the Law: with Commissions annexed thereunto, to the King's Lieutenants, Treasurers and Governours on that side the River, to further the work with such things as by the King was commanded they should.

But we will consider the matter particularly.

1. As to the manner of the Grant which the King gave to Ezra and his Brethren to go thither.

3. With reference to the King's Liberality and Gifts towards the building of the Temple, and by what Rules it was to be bestowed.

4. As to the way that the King concluded they should be governed in their own Land.

5. With reference to the King's Charge to his Officers that were thereabout, not to hinder Ezra in his Work.

6. And Lastly, with reference to the King's Threat and Commandment to do Judgment if they should hinder it.

First, As to the Manner of the Grant that the King gave to Ezra and his Brethren to go to build, it was such an one as forced none, but left every Jew to his own choice, whether he would go, or forbear. The words are these:

Ver. 12, 13. Artaxerxes, King of Kings, unto Ezra the Priest, a Scribe of the Law of the God of heaven, perfect peace, and at such a time: I make a Decree, That all they of the People of Israel, and of his Priests and Levites in my Realm, which are minded of their own free-will, to go up to Jerusalem, go with thee.

Ver. 23.

Thirdly, As to the King's Liberality towards the building of this House, &c. it was large: He gave Silver, Gold, Bullocks, Rams, Lambs; with Wheat, Wine, Oyl, and Salt; but would by his Royal Power, give no Orders how in particular things should be bestowed, but left all that to Ezra the Priest, to do with it according to the Will, Word, or Law of his God. Ver. 15, Ver. 22. Ver. 21.

Fourthly, As to the way that the King concluded they should be governed in their own Land, it was by their own Laws; yea, he did bid Ezra the Priest, after the Wisdom of his God that was in his hand, set Magistrates and Judges, which might Judge all the People, &c. only he bid him make them such, which did know the Law of his God: Also the King added, That they should teach it to them that knew it not.

Fifthly, As to the King's Officers, he gave them a Charge not to hinder, but further this Work. To further this Work, not by putting their hand thereto, (that was to be left to the Jews alone, especially to Ezra, according to the Law of his God,) but that they should speedily give him such things which the King had commanded, to wit, Silver, and Wheat, and Wine, and Oyl, and Salt, for their encouragement; and to do therewith, as by the Law of their God they should. Further, That they should not impose Toll, Tribute, or Custom, upon the Priests, Levites, Singers, Porters, Nethinims, or Ministers. 4. Ver. 20, 21, 22.

Sixthly, And now we come to the Conclusion, to wit, the King's Threat and Command to do Judgment on them that obeyed not the Law of Ezra's God, and the King.

Considering what hath been said before, I conclude,

1. That this King imposed no Law, no Priest, no People upon these Jews; but left them wholly to their own Law, their own Ministers, and their own People: All which were the Laws of God, the Priests of God, the People of God, as to their Building of their Temple, and the Worship of their God.

2. He forced not THIS People, no, not to their Land, their Temple, nor their Worship, by his or their Law; but left them free to their own mind, to do thereabout as they would.

3. He added not any Law therefore of his own, either to prescribe Worship, or to enforce it upon the Jews.

But

But you will ſay, Upon what then was the Threatning and the Command to puniſh grounded? I anſwer, Upon a ſuppoſed breach of two Laws. He of the Jews, that in Jeruſalem, rebelled againſt the Law of the Lord, was in his own Land left by the King to be puniſhed by the ſame Law, according to the Penalties thereof: And he of the King's Officers, that refuſed to do the King's Laws, that refuſed to give the Jews ſuch things as the King commanded, and that would yet exact ſuch Cuſtoms and Tributes as the King forbad, ſhould be puniſhed by the King's Laws, whether unto Death, or unto Baniſhment, or unto Confiſcation of Goods, or to Impriſonment.

And if all Kings would but give ſuch liberty, to wit, that God's People ſhould be directed in their Temple-Building, and Temple-Worſhip, as they find it in the Law of their God, without the additions of Man's Inventions: And if all Kings did but lay the ſame Penalty upon them of their pretended Servants that ſhould hinder this Work, which this brave King Artaxerxes laid upon his; how many of the Enemies of the Jews, before this time, would have been hanged, baniſhed, had their Goods confiſcated to the King, or their Bodies ſhut up in Priſon! The which we deſire not; we deſire only that this Letter of the King might be conſidered of, and we left to do as is there licens'd and directed: And when we do the contrary, let us be puniſhed by the Law of God, as we are his Servants; and by the Law of the King, as we are his Subjects; and we ſhall never complain.

6. Only I cannot but obſerve how prettily it is done of ſome, who urge this Text to colour their Malice, Ignorance and Revenge withall, while they cry, The Law of God, and The Law of the King, when they will neither let, according to this Scripture, the Law of God, nor the Law of the King take place: Not the Law of God; for that they will not leave us to that, to ſquare and govern our ſelves in Temple-Work, and Sacrificing by. Nor will they do the Law of the King, which has made void, ipſo facto, whatever Law is againſt the Word of God; but becauſe themſelves can do, they will force us to do ſo too.

Before I leave this, I would touch once again upon the candour of this King Artaxerxes, who thus did: Becauſe he gave this leave and licenſe to the Jews, contrary (if he had any) to his own National Worſhip; yea, and alſo to the impairing of his own Incomes. Methinks he ſhould have a Religion of his own; and that, not that of the Jews, becauſe he was a Gentile; and not, as we read of, proſelyted to the Jews Religion. Indeed, he ſpake reverendly of the God of Iſrael, and of his Temple-Worſhip, and Sacrifices, as did alſo ſeveral other Kings; but that will not prove that he was adapted to that Religion.

7. That his Incomes were impaired, 'tis evident; becauſe he took off Toll, Tribute, and Cuſtom from them, of whom mention is made afore; nor is it, I think, to be believed, that he did exact it of their Brethren. But we may ſee what the Lord can do; for thus to do, was Ver. 27. put into the Heart of the King by the God of Heaven. This therefore ariſeth not of Nature: No more did the Kindneſs of Cyrus, or Darius, of whom we read in the beginning of this Hiſtory. As God therefore did put it into the Hearts of the wicked Kings of Babylon, to diſtreſs his Church and People for their Sins; ſo he put it into the Hearts of the Kings of the Medes and Perſians, who were to be, in a ſenſe, their Saviours; to eaſe them of thoſe Diſtreſſes, to take off the Yoke, and let them go free. Indeed, there was an Artaxerxes that Chap. 4. put a ſtop to this Work of God, and he alſo was of the Kings that had deſtroyed the Babylonians; for it doth not follow, becauſe God hath begun to deliver his People, that therefore their Deliverance muſt be compleated without ſtop or let. The Proteſtants in France had more favour formerly, than from their Prince they at this time have; yet I doubt not but that God will make that Horn alſo one of them (in his time) that (indeed) ſhall hate the Whore. As the Sins of God's People brought them into Captivity; ſo their Sins can hold them there; yea, and when the time comes that Grace muſt fetch them out, yet the Oxen that draw this Cart, may ſtumble; and the way through roughneſs, may ſhake it ſorely. However, Heaven rules, and overrules; and by one means, and another, as the Captivity of Iſrael did ſeem to linger, ſo it came out at the time appointed; in the way that beſt pleaſed God, moſt profited them, and that moſt confounded thoſe that were their implacable Enemies. This therefore ſhould inſtruct thoſe that yet dwell where the Woman ſitteth, to Quietneſs and Patience.

To Quietneſs. For God rules, and has the 8.
diſpoſe of things. Beſides, it is a kind of arraigning of his Wiſdom, to be diſcontent at that which at preſent is upon the Wheel. Above all, it diſpleaſes him that any ſhould ſeek, or go about to revenge their own Injuries, or to work their own Deliverances; for that is the work of God, and he will do it by the Kings: Nor is he weak, nor has he miſt the opportunity; nor doth he ſleep, but waketh, and waiteth to be gracious.

This alſo ſhould teach them to be Patient, and put them upon bearing what at preſent they may undergo, patiently. Let them wait upon God; patiently let them wait upon Men, and patiently let them bear the fruits of their own Tranſgreſſions; which though they ſhould be none other but a deferring of the Mercy wiſhed for, is enough to try, and crack, and break their patience, if a continual ſupply, and a daily encreaſe thereof be not given by the God of Heaven.

And before I do conclude this, let me alſo add one word more; to wit, To exhort them to look, that they may ſee that which God at preſent may be doing among the Babylonians.

When God had his People into Babylon of old, he preſented them with ſuch Rarities there, as he never ſhewed them in their own Countrey. And is there nothing now to be ſeen by them that are not yet delivered from that Oppreſſion, that may give them occaſion to ſtay themſelves and wonder! What, is Preſervation nothing? What, is Baffling and Befooling the Enemies of God's Church nothing? In the Maryan days here at home, there was ſuch ſweet Songs ſung in the Fire, ſuch ſweet Notes anſwering them from Priſon, and ſuch Providences, that Coals of burning Fire ſtill dropped here and there upon the Heads of thoſe that hated God; that it might, and doubtleſs did make thoſe that did wiſely conſider of God's Doings, to think God was yet near, with, and for, a deſpiſed and afflicted People.

9. I conclude then, firſt with a word of Counſel, and then with a word of Caution.

Firſt, Let us mend our pace in the way of Reformation, that is the way to haſten the downfall of Antichriſt. Miniſters need reforming, particular Congregations need reforming; there are but few Church-Members but need reforming. This twenty years we have been degenerating, both as to Principles, and as to Practice; and have grown at laſt into an amazing likeneſs to the World, both as to Religion, and civil Demeanour: Yea, I may ſay, ſo remiſs have Churches been in inſtructing thoſe that they have received into fellowſhip with them; and ſo careleſs have the Received been, of conſidering the Grounds of their coming in to Churches, that moſt Members, in ſome places, ſeem now to be at a loſs; yea, and thoſe Churches ſtand with their fingers in their mouths, and are as if they would not, durſt not, or could not help it.

My Second, is, A word of Caution.

Firſt, Take heed of over-looking, or of ſhutting your Eyes upon your own Guilt: He that covereth his ſins, ſhall not proſper. It is incident to ſome Men, when they find repentance is far from them, to ſhut their Eyes upon their own Guilt, and to pleaſe themſelves with ſuch Notions of deliverance from preſent Troubles, as will ſtand with that courſe of Sin which is got into their Families, Perſons, and Profeſſions, and with a ſtate of Impenitence: But I adviſe you to take heed of this.

Secondly, Take heed of laying the cauſe of your Troubles in the badneſs of the Temper of Governours. I ſpeak not now with Reflection upon any, excepting thoſe concerned in this Caution: God is the Chief, and has the Hearts of all, even of the worſt of Men, in his hand. Good temper'd Men have ſometimes brought Trouble; and bad temper'd Men have ſometimes brought Enlargement to the Churches of God: Saul brought Enlargement, David brought Trouble: Ahab brought Enlargement; Jehoſaphat and Hezekiah did both ſome times bring Trouble: Therefore, the good or bad temper of Men ſway nothing with God in this matter; they are the Sins or Repentances of his People, that make the Church either happy or miſerable upon Earth.

Take heed, I ſay therefore, of laying of the Trouble of the Church of God at the doors of Governours; eſpecially at the doors of Kings, who ſeldom trouble Churches of their own Inclinations; (I ſay, ſeldom; for ſome have done ſo, as Pharaoh:) But I ſay, lay not the Cauſe of your Trouble there; for often-times they ſee with other Mens Eyes, hear with other Mens Ears, and act and do by the Judgments of others: (Thus did Saul, when he killed the Prieſts of the Lord; and thus did Darius, when he caſt Daniel into the Lyons Den:) But rather labour to ſee the true Cauſe of Trouble, which is Sin; and to attain to a fitneſs to be delivered out thence, and that is by Repentance, and Amendment of Life. If any object, That God oft-times delivers his of meer Grace: I anſwer, That's no thanks to them; beſides, we muſt mind our Duty. Further, When God comes to ſave his People, he can cut off ſuch Objectors, if they be impenitent, as the Sinners of his People; and can ſave his Church, without letting of them be Sharers in that Salvation: So he ſerved many in the Wilderneſs; and 'tis to be feared, ſo he will ſerve many at the Downfall of Antichriſt.

I ſhall ſay no more, but to teſtifie my Loyalty to my King, my Love to my Brethren, and Service for my Countrey, has been the cauſe of this my preſent Scribble. Farewel.

Thine in the Lord,

J. BUNYAN.

OF

OF ANTICHRIST.

ANTICHRIST is the Adversary of Christ; an Adversary really, a Friend pretendedly: So then, Antichrist is one that is against Christ; one that is for Christ, and one that is contrary to him: (And this is that Mystery of Iniquity.) Against him in Deed; for him in Word, and contrary to him in Practice. Antichrist is so proud, as to go before Christ; so humble, as to pretend to come after him; and so audacious as to say that himself is he. Antichrist will cry up Christ; Antichrist will cry down Christ: Antichrist will proclaim that himself is one above Christ. Antichrist is the Man of Sin, the Son of Perdition; a Beast, hath two Horns like a Lamb, but speaks as a Dragon.

Christ is the Son of God; Antichrist is the Son of Hell.

Christ is Holy, Meek, and Forbearing: Antichrist is Wicked, Outragious, and Exacting.

Christ seeketh the Good of the Soul: Antichrist seeks his own Avarice and Revenge.

Christ is content to rule by his Word: Antichrist saith, The Word is not sufficient.

Christ preferreth his Father's Will above Heaven and Earth: Antichrist preferreth Himself and his Traditions above all that is written, or that is called God, or worshipped.

Christ hath given us such Laws and Rules as are helpful and healthful to the Soul: Anti-Christ seeketh to abuse those Rules to our hurt and Destruction.

12. Antichrist may be considered either more particularly, or more generally.

1. More particularly: And so there are many Antichrists.

2. More generally: And so the many maketh but one Great Antichrist, one Man of Sin, one Enemy, one great Whore, one Son of Perdition.

Again, Antichrist must be distinguished with respect to his more Internal and External Parts; and so there is the Spirit, Soul, or Life; and also the Body and Flesh of Antichrist. The Spirit, or Soul, or Life of Antichrist, is that Spirit of Errour, that Wicked, that Mystery of Iniquity, that under colour and pretence of Verity, draweth Men from Truth to Falshood. The Body, or Flesh of Antichrist, is that Heap of Men, that Assembly of the Wicked, that Synagogue of Satan that is acted and governed by that Spirit. But God will destroy both Soul and Body; He shall consume the glory of his forrest, and of his fruitful field, both Soul and Body, (or from the Soul, even to the Flesh;) and they shall be (both Soul and Body) as when a standard-bearer fainteth.

Antichrist therefore is a mystical Man, so made, or begotten of the Devil, and sent into the World, himself being the chief and highest of him. Three things therefore go to the making up of Antichrist; the Head, Body, and Soul. The Devil, he is the Head; the Synagogue of Satan, that is the Body; that wicked Spirit of Iniquity, that is the Soul of Antichrist. Christ then is the Head of his Church; the Devil is the Head of Antichrist; the Elect are the Body of Christ; the reprobate Professors are the Body of Antichrist; the Holy Ghost is the Spirit of Life that acteth Christ's Body; that wicked Spirit of Iniquity, is that which acteth the Body of Antichrist. Thus therefore are the two great Mighties set forth before us, who are the Heads of those two Bodies; and thus are those two Bodies set before us, who are to be acted by these two Spirits.

The reason why Christ came into the World, was, That he might destroy all the Works of the Head of Antichrist, and they which he endeavoureth to compleat by his wicked Spirit working in his Body. And the reason why Antichrist came into the World, was, That the Church, which is the Body of Christ, might be tried, and made white by suffering under his Tyranny, and by bearing witness against his Falshoods. For, for the Tryal of the Faithful, and for the Punishment of the World, Antichrist was admitted to come: But when he came, he first appeared there where one would have thought there had been no place nor corner for his Reception. 13. 1 Joh. 3. 8.

The Devil then, made use of the Church of God to Midwive this Monster into the World, as the Apostle plainly shews, there he first sat, shewing himself. Here therefore was his first appearance, even in the Church of God: Not that the Church of God did willingly admit him there to sit as such; he had covered his Cloven-foot; he had Plumbs in his Dragon's Mouth, and so came in by Flatteries; promising to do for Christ and his Church, that which he never meant to perform. For he shewed himself that he was God; and in appearance, set his Heart to do as the Heart of God. And who could have found in their hearts to shut the door upon such an one? True, he came, when he came thither, out of the bottomless Pit; but there came such a Smoak out thence with him, and that Smoak so darkened the Light of the Sun, of the Moon, of the Stars, and of the Day, that had they been upon their Watch, as they were not, they could not have perceived him from another Man. Besides, there came with him so many Locusts to usher him into the House of God, and they so suited the Flesh and Reason of the Godly of that day, that with good Words, and fair Speeches, by their crafty and cunning Sleights, whereby they lay in wait to deceive, they quite got him in, and set him up, and made him a Great One, even the Chief, before they were aware. Further, He quickly got him a Beast to ride on, far, for sumptuous Glory, beyond (though as to Nature, as Assish a Creature as) that that on which Balaam was wont to ride: And by this Exaltation he became not only more ſtately, but the Horns of the Beaſt would puſh for him.

Ezek. 28. 2, 6.

Rev. 9. 2, 3.

Rev. 17. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Again, This Man of Sin, when he came into the World, had the Art of Metamorphizing, and could change himſelf, both in form and ſhape, into the likeneſs of a Beaſt, a Man, or Woman; and the Kings of the Earth, with the Inhabitants of the World, began then to love ſuch Women dearly; wherefore they went to her into the Bed of Love, and defiled themſelves with the filthineſs of her Fornications, gave her their Troth, and became her Husbands, and beloved Sons; took up Helmet and Shield, and ſtood to defend her; yea, though Chriſt himſelf, and ſome of the chief of his Followers, cried out of her ſhame, and of the evil of their doings; yet would ſhe be audacious.

Alſo this Woman had now arrayed her ſelf in Fleſh-taking Ornaments, of the colour of Purple and Scarlet, and was decked with Gold, and Precious-ſtones, and Pearls, after the manner, or attire of Harlots. Thus came ſhe to them, and lay in their Boſoms; and gave them out of her Golden Cup of the Wine of her Fornication; of the which they bibbed till they were drunken; and then, in requital, they alſo gave her of ſuch Liquors as they could, to wit, to drink of the Blood of Saints, and of Martyrs of Jeſus, till ſhe, like theſe Beaſts, was drunken alſo.

Now when they were drunken, they did as Drunkards do, revel, roar, and belch out their own ſhame, in the ſight of them that were ſober: Wherefore they cryed out upon ſuch Doings, and choſe rather to die, than to live with ſuch Company. And ſo 'tis ſtill with them where ſhe yet ſitteth, and ſo will be till ſhe ſhall fall into the hands of the ſtrong Lord, who will Judge her according to her ways. And that ſhe muſt do, as is implyed by this, That her Fornications are in a Cup; ſhe has therefore but her Cup to be drank out; wherefore when it is empty, then, whether ſhe will or no, the Lord God will call her to ſuch a reckoning, that all the Cloaths on her Back, with what Pearls and Jewels ſhe has, ſhall not be able to pay the ſhot.

15. Antichriſt, as was ſaid, had a time to come into the World; and ſo muſt have a time to go out again: For although he ſaith that he is a God, yet muſt he be ſubject to the Will of God; and muſt go, as well as come, according to that Will. Nor can all the fallen Angels, with all the Members and Limbs of Antichriſt, cauſe that this their Brat ſhould abide ſo much as one day longer than our God's prefixed time. And this the Head of Antichriſt underſtandeth very well: Wherefore the Holy Ghoſt ſaith, Wo to the Inhabiters of the Earth, and of the Sea; for the Devil is come down among you, having great wrath, becauſe he knows he hath but a ſhort time.

Rev. 12. 12. 2 Theſ. 2. 8

Beſides, the Text ſays plainly, The Lord ſhall deſtroy him, and that he goeth into Perdition: Alſo the Church of God believes it, and the Limbs of Antichriſt fear it.

Rev. 17. 14. Ch. 19. 20.

Now when, or as his time ſhall come to be deſtroyed, ſo he ſhall be made a hand of; and that with ſuch Inſtruments and Weapons of God's Indignation, as beſt ſhall be ſuited to his ſeveral Parts.

Such Weapons as are beſt for the deſtroying of his Soul, ſhall be uſed for the deſtroying of it; and ſuch Weapons as are beſt for the deſtroying of his Body, ſhall be made uſe of for the deſtroying of it.

And therefore, as to his Soul, or that Spirit of Errour that governs him in all his works of miſchief; this muſt be conſumed by the Spirit of Chriſt's Mouth, and be deſtroyed by the brightneſs of his coming.

Vox Sanctorum in deſtruct. and imm.

This we have in the words of Paul: For (ſaith he) the Myſtery of Iniquity (the Spirit of Antichriſt) doth already work; only he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way: And then ſhall THAT wicked be revealed, whom the Lord ſhall conſume with the ſpirit of his mouth, and ſhall deſtroy with the brightneſs of his coming. The Apoſtle here treateth of Antichriſt, with reference to his more ſubtile and ſpiritual part, ſince that indeed is the chiefeſt of Antichriſt: Wherefore, he calls it that wicked; not, that wicked one, as referring to the whole; but that wicked, as referrring to the myſtery or ſpirit of iniquity, the Heart and Soul of Antichriſt; and tells us, that the Lord ſhall conſume him with the ſpirit of his mouth, and ſhall deſtroy him with the brightneſs of his coming.

16. 2 Theſ. 2. 7, 8.

Now, by the Spirit of his Mouth, I underſtand his Holy Word; which is called, The Word and Breath of his Lips: And alſo, The Sword of his Mouth. By the Brightneſs of his Coming, I alſo underſtand, not only his Preſence, but an encreaſe of Light by his Preſence; not only to help Chriſtians to begin to bear witneſs againſt ſome parts and pieces of the Errours of Antichriſt, but until the whole is rooted out of the World: By this, I ſay, muſt the Soul, Spirit, or Life of Antichriſt be taken away. But how ſhall Chriſt by this Rod, Sword, or Spirit of his Mouth, conſume this Wicked, this Myſtery of Iniquity? Not by himſelf immediately, but by his Spirit and Word in his Church; the which he will uſe, and ſo manage in this Work, that they ſhall not reſt till he by them has brought this Beaſt to his Grave. This Beaſt is compared to the wild Boar, and the Beaſt that comes out of the Wood to devour the Church of God, (as we read in the Book of Pſalms:) But Chriſt, with the Dogs that eat the Crumbs of his Table, will ſo hunt and ſcour him about, that albeit he may let out ſome of their Bowels with the Tuſhes of his Chaps, yet they will not let him alone till they have his Life: For the Church ſhall ſingle him out from all Beaſts, and ſo follow him with Cryes, and pinch him with their Voices, that he alone ſhall periſh by their means. Thus ſhall Chriſt conſume and wear him out by the Spirit of his Mouth, and deſtroy him with the Brightneſs of his coming.

Iſa. 10. 4. Rev. 2. 16.

Pſa. 80.

Hence you find again, That this Wicked, is to to melt and consume away as Grease: For the Lord Jesus shall consume him, and cause him to melt away; not all at once, but now this part, and then that; now his Soul, and after that his Body, even until Soul and Body are both destroyed.

7. And that you may be convinced of the Truth of this thing, do but look back and compare Antichrist four or five hundred years ago, with Antichrist as he is now, and you shall see what work the Lord Jesus has begun to make with him, even with the Spirit, and Soul, and Life of Antichrist; both in confounding and blasting of it by this Spirit of his Mouth, as also by forcing of it to dishonourable Retreats, and by making of it give up to him, as the Conquerour, not only some of his superstitious and diabolical Rites and Ceremonies, to be destroyed; but many a goodly Truth, which this vile One had taken from his Church, to be renewed to them: Nay, further, he hath also already began to take from him both Kingdoms and Countreys, tho' as to some not so absolutely as he shall do by and by: And in the mean time, this is the Plague wherewith the Lord shall plague or
14. smite the People that have fought against Jerusalem: Their flesh shall consume away while they
17. 4. stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth. And how has this long ago been fulfilled here in England! as also in Scotland, Holland, Germany, France, Sweeden, Denmark, Hungaria, and other places! Nor hath this Spirit of Antichrist, with all his Art and Artificers, been able to reduce to Antichrist again, those People, Nations, or Parts of Nations, that by the Spirit of Christ's Mouth, and the brightness of his coming, have been made to forsake him, and to turn from him to Christ: The Reason is, for that the Lord has not retreated, but is still going on in the Spirit of his Mouth, and his Brightness, to make that Conquest over him that is determined, in the way that is determined: Of which more shall be spoken afterward; for the Path-way that he goeth, is as the shining Light, which shines more and more unto Noon. True, the Fogs of Antichrist, and the Smoak that came with him out of the bottomless Pit, has darkened and eclipsed the glorious Light of the Gospel: But you know, in Eclipses, when they are on the recovering hand, all the Creatures upon the face of the Earth cannot put a stop to that course, until the Sun or the Moon have recovered their Glory. And thus it shall be now; the Lord is returned to visit the Earth, and his People with his primitive lustre; he will not go back, nor slack his hand, until he has recovered what Antichrist has darkened of
3. 20. his. The Anger of the Lord shall not return, until he has executed, until he hath performed the Thoughts of his Heart; in the latter days ye shall consider it perfectly: Therefore he
0. 15. saith again, The Light of the Moon shall be as the Light of the Sun (was in her Eclipse;) and the Light of the Sun shall be sevenfold, as the Light of seven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound, &c. As the Verse before has it: In the day when the Towers fall.

For (as was said before) as to the recovery of the Light of the Gospel from under Antichristian Mists, and Fogs of Darkness; Christ will do that, not by Might nor Power, but by the Spirit of his Mouth, and the Brightness of his Coming: Wherefore, the Soul of Antichrist, or that Spirit of Wickedness by which this Gospel-light hath been diminished, must be consumed and destroyed by that Spirit also. Nor can any other way of Conquest over that be thorough, and lasting; because that Spirit can by no other means be slain. The Body of Antichrist may be destroyed by other Instruments, but Spirits cannot be killed but by Spirits. The Temporal Sword then may kill the Body, but after that it hath no more that it can do; wherefore, the other must be dealt with by another kind of Weapon: And here is one sufficient, the Spirit against the Spirit; the Spirit and Face of Christ, against the Spirit, that Wicked, of Antichrist. And by this Spirit of Christ's Mouth, all the Spirit that is in all the Trinkets and Wash of Antichrist shall also be destroyed; so that those Trinkets, those Rites, Ceremonies and Ordinances of this Man of Sin, shall be left as Carrion upon the face of the Earth, and shall stink in the Noses of Men, as doth the corrupted Blood of a dead Man. 18.

The Ordinances of Antichrist.

Now therefore will the Beauty of Antichrist fade like a Flower, and fall as doth a Leaf when the Sap of the Tree has left it; or as the Beauty departeth from the Body, when the Soul, or Life, or Spirit is gone forth. And as the Body cannot be but unpleasant and unsavoury when under such a state; so the Body of Antichrist will be to Beholders, when the Lord has slain the Spirit thereof. It is the Spirit of Antichrist that puts Life into the Body; and that puts lustre into the Ordinances of Antichrist, as the Light of the Sun, and of the Moon, and of the Stars do put lustre upon the things of this Visible World: Wherefore, when this Spirit, and Soul, and Life of Antichrist is slain, then it will be with him as 'twould be with the World, had it no Light of the Sun, of the Moon, or of the Stars.

And hence, as the loss of our Natural Life is compared to the loss of these * Lights; so 19.
the loss of the Life, Soul and Spirit of Anti- * Eccl. 12.
christ is compared to these things also. For, 1, 2, 3.
the Soul of Antichrist is compared to a Heaven; and her Ordinances and Rites, to the Ordinances of Heaven: Wherefore, when the Lord comes to fight against her with the Spirit of his Mouth, he saith, The Stars of the Heaven Isa. 13.
thereof shall be darkened, and the Constellations Isa. 34.
thereof shall not give their light; because he will Rev. 6.
slay that Spirit of Antichrist that is in them. 13, 14.

Take things therefore more distinctly, thus: The Antichristian Spirit, is the Heaven of Antichristians; their Sun, Moon and Stars, are their Superstitious Ordinances; their Earth is the Body or Flesh of Antichrist, otherwise called the Church and Synagogue of Satan. Now as the Earth cannot live, and be desirable, without the Influences of the Spirit of the Heavens; so neither can Antichrist live, when the Lord shall darken the Light of his Heaven, and shall slay the Spirit thereof.

Hence

Hence you read, as I touched before, that when his Heaven ſhall be rolled together as a Scroll, all the hoſt thereof, unto which I compare the Iſa. 34. 4. Ordinances of Antichriſt, ſhall fall down, as the Leaf falleth off from the Vine, and as a falling Fig from the Fig-tree. But how, or why doth the Leaf, or the Fig fall from the Tree? Why, becauſe the Spirit, or Sap of the Tree, is gone from them.

20. Therefore, the firſt and chief proceeding of the Lord with the Man of Sin, is, to ſlay his Soul, that his Body may alſo be conſumed: And when the Spirit of Antichriſt ſhall be made to leave both the Body and Ordinances of Antichriſt, 'twill be eaſie to deal both with the one and the other. And Firſt, for the Ordinances of Antichriſt; becauſe the Spirit of Errour is in them, as well as in the Body it ſelf. When that Spirit, as I ſaid, has left them, they will of themſelves even moulder away, and not be: As we have ſeen by Experience here in England, as others alſo have ſeen in other Countreys. For as concerning his Maſſes, Prayers for the Dead, Images, Pilgrimages, Monkiſh Vows, ſinful Faſts, and the beaſtly Single-life of their Prieſts, though when the Spirit of Antichriſt was in them, they did bear ſome ſway in the World; yet now, of what eſteem are they? or who has reverence for them? They are now blown together under Hedges, as the dry Leaves, for the Mice and Frogs to harbour in: yea, the Locuſts too camp Nahum 3. 15,16,17. in the Hedges among the dry Leaves, in the cold day, and when the Sun ariſes, they fly away: When 'tis a cold day for them in a Nation, then they lurk in the Hedges, though their Ordinances lye there, as Leaves that are dry, and fallen down from the Tree; but when the Sun ariſeth, and waxeth warm, they abide not, but betake them to their Wings, and fly away. But one would think that fallen Leaves ſhould have no great nouriſhment in them: True, if you have reſpect to Men, but with Vermin any thing will do: We ſpeak then of them with reference to Men, not with reſpect to the very Members of Antichriſt: And I ſay, as to them, when the Spirit of Antichriſt is gone out of theſe Ordinances, they will be with them as dry Leaves that no body ſeeketh after. The Ordinances therefore of Antichriſt are not able to bear up themſelves in the World, as the Ordinances of the Lord Jeſus are; for even the Ordinances of Chriſt, where the Spirit of Chriſt is not, are yet in ſome eſteem with Men: But THESE, when the Spirit of Deluſion has left them, are abhorred, both Skin and Bones: For Ezek. 20. 25, 26. in themſelves they are without any ſenſe, or rationality; yea, they look as parts of things which are uſed to Conjure up Devils with: Theſe were prefigured by the Ordinances that were NOT good, and by the Judgments whereby one ſhould not live: For what is there, or can there be of the leaſt dram of Truth or Profit in the things that are without the Word, that being the only ſtamp by which one is diſtinguiſhed from the other? I ſay, What is there in any of them, to the Man whoſe Eyes are open, but Deluſion and Deceit! Wherefore, as has been expreſs'd already, when the Lord Chriſt, by the Spirit of his Mouth, &c. ſhall drive this Myſtery of Iniquity from them, and ſtrip them of that Spirit of Deluſion that now by its craft puts bewitching Excellency upon them, they will of themſelves become ſuch ſtinking Rivers, Ponds and Pools, that Fleſh and Blood will loath to drink of them; yea, as it was with the Ponds and Pools of Egypt, they will be fit for nought but to breed and hatch up Frogs in.

Wherefore theſe Ordinances ſhall be rejected, not one of them ſhall find favour with Men on 21. Earth; when the Lord, by the Spirit of his Mouth, and the Brightneſs of his Coming, ſhall have ſeparated their Spirit from them.

Now, by Ordinances of Antichriſt, I do not intend things that only reſpect Matters of Worſhip in Antichriſt's Kingdom, but thoſe Civil Laws that impoſe and enforce them alſo; yea, that inforce THAT Worſhip with Pains and Penalties, as in the Spaniſh Inquiſition: For theſe muſt, as the other, be overthrown by Chriſt, by the Spirit of his Mouth, and the Brightneſs of his Coming: For theſe Laws, as the other, took their Being, and have their Soul and Life by the Spirit of Antichriſt; yea, as long as there is Life in them, 'tis becauſe the Spirit of that Man of Sin yet remaineth in them. Wherefore, theſe are alſo Great Ordinances, though of another Nature than are thoſe mentioned before: Great, I ſay, are they; foraſmuch as neither the Church of Antichriſt, nor his Inſtruments of Worſhip, can either live or ſtand without them. Wherefore, it was admitted to the Image of the Beaſt, not only to ſpeak, but to cauſe. To ſpeak out his Laws of Worſhip, and cauſe that as many as would not worſhip the Image Rev. 13. 15. of the Beaſt, ſhould be killed. And mark, This is becauſe that the Life that was communicated to the Image of the Beaſt, was by him alſo communicated to his Word and Authority. Wherefore, theſe Laws muſt not be ſeparated from thoſe in which the Spirit of Antichriſt is; yea, they are the very Pillars and Sinews by which Antichriſtianiſm remains: And were theſe dis-ſpirited, the whole Building would quickly become a ruinous Heap.

What could the King of Babylon's golden Image Dan. 3. have done, had it not been for the burning fiery Furnace that ſtood within view of the Worſhippers? Yea, What could that horrible Command, to Pray, for Thirty Days, to Chap. 6. neither God nor Man, but to the King, have done, had it not been for the dark Den, and the roaring Lyons there in readineſs to devour thoſe that diſobeyed it? As therefore the burning fiery Furnace, and the Den of Lyons, were the ſupport of the horrible Religion of the Babylonians of old; ſo Popiſh Edicts are the ſupport of the Religion of Antichriſt now; and as long as there is Spirit, that is, Authority, in them, they are like to thoſe now mentioned; the Spirit of ſuch Laws is that that makes them dreadful: For as the Furnace would have been next to nothing, if void of Fire; and the Den as little frightful, if deſtitnte of Lyons; ſo theſe Laws will be as inſignificant, when Chriſt has ſlain that Spirit that is in them; that Spirit that cauſes that as many as will not worſhip the Image of the Beaſt, ſhould be killed.

Nor

Nor can any Sword reach that Life of Antichriſt that is in theſe, but the Sword of Chriſt's Mouth: Therefore, as all the religious Rites and Ceremonies of Antichriſt are overthrown by his Spirit working in his, as Chriſtians; ſo thoſe Antichriſtian Laws will have their Soul and their Life taken from them alſo by this Spirit of his Mouth working in ſome of his, as Magiſtrates, and no otherwiſe; for before Kings and Princes, &c. come to be enlightned about the evils that are in ſuch Edicts, by the Spirit of the living God, they will let this Image of the Beaſt both ſpeak, and cauſe, &c. But when they ſhall ſee, they will ſay, Let it be decreed that this Prop of Antichriſt be taken down. It was decreed by Darius, That they that prayed, for Thirty Days, to any God but him, ſhould be caſt into the Den of Dan. 6.9. Lions: But this was before he ſaw; but when he came to ſee, then he decreed again; a Decree that quite took away the Power of that which he had decreed before.

Nor are we without Inſtances of this kind nearer home: Who is now afraid of the Act for burning of thoſe that Papiſts call Hereticks, ſince by the King and Parliament, as by the Finger of God, the Life and Soul is taken out of it. I bring this to ſhew you, That as there is Life in wicked Antichriſtian Penal Laws, as well as in thoſe that are ſuperſtitiouſly Religious; ſo the Life of theſe, of all theſe, muſt be deſtroyed by the ſame Spirit working in thoſe that are Chriſt's, though in a diverſe way.

Nor will the Life of theſe Sinews, as I have called them, be taken away, but as God ſhall enlighten Men to ſee the abominable filthineſs of that which is Antichriſtian-Worſhip: As would eaſily be made appear, if ſome that dwell in thoſe Countreys where the Beaſt and his Image have been worſhipped, would but take the pains to enquire into Antiquity about it. As the Noble King, King Henry VIII. did caſt down the Antichriſtian-Worſhip; ſo he caſt down the Laws that held it up: So alſo did the good King Edward his Son. The brave Queen Eli- Queen alſo, the Siſter to King Edward, zabeth. left of things of this nature, to her laſting Fame, behind her. And if one ſuch Law of Antichriſt hath eſcaped the hand of one, another hath taken it, and done that execution on it that their Zeal and Piety prompted them to.

23. There is yet another thing that the Spirit of Antichriſt is immediately concerned in; and that is, the Antichriſtian Names of the Men that worſhip the Beaſt: The Names, I mean, that Antichriſt hath baptized them into: For thoſe Names are breathed upon them by the very Spirit of Antichriſt; and are ſuch as are abſolutely Names of Blaſphemy, or ſuch as do Job 32. cloſely border thereupon; ſome ſuch as Elihu 21,22. durſt not for his Life give unto Men, only he calls them Flattering Titles. Now therefore, of the Danger (though not of the Names themſelves) you read ſufficiently in the Scripture; and perhaps the Holy Ghoſt has con- Rev. 17. tented himſelf with giving of Items that are general, that Men might, as to them, be the more cautious of what Names they give one to another: But this is clear, they are worn by Men of Spiritual Employ: But ſince they are but mentioned, and are not diſtinctly nominated, how ſhould we know which are they, and which not? Verily, by ſearching the Word of God, and by ſeeing by that what Names we are allowed to give unto Men, with reference to their Offices, Dignities and Places: For God has a Quarrel with the Names, as Rev. 11.13. well as with the Perſons that wear them; and when his Son ſhall down with Antichriſt, he will ſlay ſeven thouſand Names of Men, as well as the Perſons of the Worſhippers of the Beaſt.

24. But there are Things, as well as Men; and theſe alſo have been Baptized into thoſe Names Iſa. 2. 18. by the very Spirit of Antichriſt, and muſt be Job 22.28. deſtroyed by Chriſt, the Spirit of his Mouth, and the Brightneſs of his Coming: The Idols he will utterly aboliſh; and there are Men that Zech. 11. are Idols, as well as Things: Wherefore, let 17. Men have a care, as to ſhun the Worſhip of Idols, ſo that they bare not the Name, or ſtand in the Place of one: And the Reaſon of this Caution, is, becauſe Name and Thing are both abominable unto God.

To give you the Number of theſe Names that the Spirit of Antichriſt has Baptized Men into, (beſides the Things that do alſo wear ſuch Blaſpemies upon them,) would be a Task too great for me, and too weariſom for you. It ſhall ſatisfie then, that I give you Notice that there are ſuch Things, and Men, and Names; and that I put you upon ſearch to find out what they be. But whatſoever of the Spirit, or Soul, or Life of Antichriſt is in theſe Names, Men, or Things, muſt be conſumed by Chriſt, by the Spirit of his Mouth, and the Brightneſs of his Coming.

Another thing that I would touch upon, is this; to wit, The Lying Legends, and Falſe Mi- Rev. 13. racles that Antichriſt cries up: Theſe, by the 13, 14. means of which ſuch as dwell upon the Earth are deceived, and made to adore and worſhip the Beaſt: Theſe have their Life and Soul (as had thoſe mentioned before) from the Spirit of Wickedneſs; and muſt be deſtroyed as they, namely, by Chriſt, the Spirit of his Mouth, and the Brightneſs of his Coming: For theſe are not of the Body of Antichriſt, but rather ſuch Implements, or whatever you will call them, by which the Spirit and Soul of Antichriſt is conveyed into, and kept alſo alive in the Body of Antichriſt, which is the Church and Synagogue of Satan; you may call them Organs and Means by which that Wicked worketh in the Myſteries of Iniquity, for the begetting of, and maintaining a lying and falſe Belief of the Religion of the Beaſt: Nor can it be thought, but that, as the Antichriſtian Statiſts of Antichriſt, mentioned before, do put a dread and fear upon Men that are Worſhippers of the Beaſt, and his Image, to the holding of them ſtill to his Service; ſo theſe Legends and Miracles do, on the other hand, abridge and bind their Conſciences to that Worſhip; but all becauſe of that Spirit of Antichriſt that is in them.

So then, here is the Spirit of Antichriſt diffuſing it ſelf into all the things pertaining to the Kingdom of the Beaſt; for it dwells in the Body of Antichriſt; it dwells in the Matters and Things of Worſhip of Antichriſt; it dwells in the Titles and Names that are Antichriſtian; and it dwells in the Laws, Legends and Miracles of Antichriſt. And as it is the Spirit of Antichriſt, ſo it muſt be deſtroyed; not by Sword, nor by Bow, but by Chriſt, as fighting againſt it with the Spirit of his Mouth, and as conquering of it by the Brightneſs of his Coming.

25. The Body of Antichriſt deſtroyed, and how.

We come now to diſcourſe of the Body or Fleſh of Antichriſt, and of the Deſtruction of that; for that muſt be deſtroyed alſo. Now the Body of Antichriſt, is that Church or Synagogue in which the Spirit of Antichriſt dwells, or unto which the Spirit of Antichriſt is become a Soul and Life.

And this is to be deſtroyed, either as it is a Body Myſtical, or under the more groſs Conſideration.

Firſt, As it is a Body Myſtical, and ſo it is to be deſtroyed Abſolutely.

Secondly, As it is to be conſidered more Groſsly, and ſo it is to be deſtroyed Conditionally. That is, if Repentance doth not ſave the Men that have gone to the making up of this Body, and to the rejoycing in it.

As ſhe is a Body Myſtical, ſo ſhe is to be deſtroyed the ſame way that the things of Antichriſt, of which we diſcourſed before, were to be deſtroyed; to wit, by Chriſt, the Spirit of his Mouth, and the Brightneſs of his Coming.

This then is the ſumm, as to this: That the Church of Antichriſt, as a Church, ſhall de deſtroyed by the Word and Spirit of Chriſt. Nor can any thing in Heaven prevent it, becauſe the Rev. 18. 21. ſtrong God has decreed it: And a mighty Angel took up a Stone, like a great Mil-ſtone, and caſt it into the Sea, ſaying, Thus with violence ſhall that Great City Babylon be thrown down, and ſhall be found no more at all. This City, Babylon, is here ſometimes conſidered in the whole, and ſometimes as to the parts of it; but always, whether in whole, or in part, as ſome, or elſe as the whole of the Antichriſtian Church; and as ſuch, it muſt not be deſtroyed, but by the means aforeſaid. By which means her Witchcrafts, ſpiritual Whoredoms, ſpiritual Murthers, Theſts and Blaſphemies, ſhall be ſo de-
Ver. 11. tected, and made manifeſt, ſo laid open, and ſo diſcovered, that the Nations ſhall abhor her, flee from her, and buy her Merchandize no more. Hence her tempting things rot, and moulder away; for theſe will not keep, they are things not laſting, but that periſh in the uſing: What then will they do when they are
Ver. 14. laid by? Therefore it follows, All things which were (thy) goodly and dainty (Ones) are departed from thee, and thou ſhalt find them no more at all. Now, if when ſhe had things to trade with, her Dealers left her; how ſhall ſhe think of a Trade, when ſhe hath nothing to traffick with? Her things are ſlain, and ſtink already, by the Weapons that are made mention of before; what then will her Carkaſs do? It follows then, that as to her Church-ſtate, ſhe muſt of neceſſity tumble: Wherefore, from Ver. 22. to Ver. 24. you have the manner of her total Ruine, as a Church, and ſomething of the Cauſe thereof.

But as ſhe muſt, with reference to her Body, be conſidered Myſtically as a Church; ſo alſo 26.
ſhe muſt be conſidered as a Body of Men, (this is that which I called more groſsly,) and as ſuch, againſt whom the Wrath of God will burn, and againſt whom, if Repentance prevent not, he will have Indignation for ever. Theſe, I ſay, are them; to wit, as they are the Body of the People, that have been ſeduced by this Spirit of Antichriſt, that have been made uſe of to do all the miſchiefs that have been done both to True Religion, and to the Profeſſors of it, for this many hundred years, wherefore theſe muſt not eſcape: Wherefore you find, that after Antichriſt, as to the Spirit and Myſtery of Antichriſt, is ſlain, that the Body of Antichriſt, or the heap of People that became her Vaſſals, come next to be dealt withall.

Therefore, the Angel that ſtandeth in the Sun, makes a Proclamation to all the Fowls that fly in the midſt of Heaven, to gather themſelves, and to come unto the Supper of the Great God; that they may eat the Fleſh of the ſeveral ſorts of the Men that have been the Lovers, the Countenancers, the Upholders Rev. 19.
and Defenders of her Antichriſtian State, 17, 18.
Worſhip, and Falſhoods: For abundance of their Hearts ſhall be hardened, and made yet more obdurate, that they may be deſtroyed for the wickedneſs that they have done.

Wherefore, you find (as did the Enemies of the Church of old,) that they might revenge themſelves for the loſs of their Idol, or Antichriſtian ſtate, begin a new War with the King, whoſe Name is the Lord of Hoſts: And Ver. 19.
I ſaw the Beaſt, and the Kings of the Earth, and their Armies, gathered together to make war againſt him that ſat on the Horſe, and againſt his Army.

Their implacable Malice remained when their Church-ſtate was gone; wherefore they will now at laſt make another attempt upon the Men that had been the Inſtruments in Chriſt's hand to torment them that dwelt on the Earth: Of which more hereafter.

Now therefore is the laſt ſtroke of the Batter, with reference to the deſtroying the Body of Antichriſt; only the Head of this Monſter remains, and that is SATAN himſelf: Wherefore, the next News that we hear, is, that he is taken alſo: And I ſaw an Angel come Rev. 20.
leſs Pit, and a great Chain in his hand; and he laid hold on that old Serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thouſand years, and caſt him into the bottomleſs Pit, and ſhut him up, and ſet a ſeal upon him, that he ſhould deceive the Nations no more, until the thouſand years ſhould be fulfilled, &c.

Now therefore there will be nothing of An- 27.
tichriſt to be ſeen throughout the Nations, but ruinous heaps, and deſolate places. It is ſaid of the Army of the Man of Sin, when he came into the Land of God's People, though it was before him as the Garden of Eden, yet behind him 'twould be as a deſolate Wilderneſs; Joel 2, 3.
ſuch ruines would he make of the Flock of God, and of all their Ordinances, and heavenly Dainties.

ties. But when the Days that I have ſpoken of, ſhall come, it will be to him a time of Retaliation: For it ſhall then be done unto Antichriſt, as he hath done to the Church of God: As he hath made Women Childleſs, ſo ſhall he be made Childleſs; as he has made Zion ſit upon the Ground, ſo now muſt this wicked One come down and ſit in the Duſt; yea, as he has made many Churches Deſolations, ſo now ſhall he be alſo made a Deſolation. Wherefore, who ſo will find his Body, they muſt look for it in the ſide of the Pit's Mouth; and whoſo will find his Friends and Companions, they muſt look for them there likewiſe: They have ſet her a bed in the midſt of the ſlain, with all her multitude: her graves are round about him, all of them uncircumciſed, ſlain by the ſword: Though their terrour was cauſed in the land of the living, yet have they born their ſhame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midſt of them that be ſlain. There is Meſhech, Tubal, and all her multitude. There is Edom, her King, and all her Princes, &c. There be the Princes of the North, all of them, which with their might are laid with them that are ſlain by the ſword, and bare their ſhame with them that go down to the pit. For as Babylon has cauſed the ſlain of Iſrael to fall; ſo at Babylon ſhall fall the ſlain of all the Earth. The Margin reads it thus: Both Babylon is to fall, O ye ſlain of Iſrael! and with Babylon, the ſlain of all the Earth. Now then ſhe is gone down, when all theſe things ſhall be fulfilled: And what remains now, but to talk of her, as folk uſe to do of them that are dead: For the day will come that the Church of God ſhall have no more of Antichriſt, Babylon, or the Mother of Harlots, than only the Remembrance of her; to wit, that there was ſuch an Enemy of God in the World; that there was ſuch a Superſtitious, Idolatrous, Bloody People in the World. Wherefore, the People that ſhall be born, that ſhall live to ſerve God in theſe happy days, they ſhall ſee Antichriſt only in its ruines; they ſhall, like the Sparrows, the little Robbins, and the Wren, ſit and ſing, and chirrup one to another, while their Eyes behold this dead Hawk. "Here "(ſhall they ſay) did once the Lyon dwell; and "there was once a Dragon inhabited: Here "did they live that were the Murtherers of "the Saints; and there another, that did uſe "to ſet his Throat againſt the Heavens: But "now in the places where theſe ravenous Crea- "tures lay, grows Graſs, with Reeds and Ruſhes, "(or elſe, now their Habitation is curſed, Net- "tles grow, and ſo do Thorns and Brambles, "where their Palaces were wont to be.) "And as no Good was with them while they "lived, ſo their Name ſtinketh now they are "dead: yea, as they wrought Miſchiefs, and "lived like the wild Beaſts when they enjoyed "their Abundance; ſo now the wild Beaſts of "the Deſart, yea, they of the Deſart, ſhall meet "with the wild Beaſts of the Iſland: And the "Satyre ſhall cry to his Fellows, Their Houſes "ſhall be full of doleful Creatures, even "as Devils and Wicked Spirits do haunt the "deſolate Houſes of the Wicked, when they "are dead." And Babylon, the glory of Kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees excellency, ſhall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah: It ſhall never be inhabited, neither ſhall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither ſhall the Arabian pitch tent there: neither ſhall the Shepherd make their fold there.

A while after this, as was hinted before, the Chriſtians will begin with deteſtation to ask what Antichriſt was? Where Antichriſt dwelt? Who were his Members? And, What he did in the World? And it ſhall be anſwered by them that ſhall have skill to conſider his Features by the Word, by way of taunt and ſcorn, Is this the Man that made the Earth to tremble, that did ſhake Kingdoms? That made the World as a Wilderneſs, and deſtroyed the Cities thereof, that opened not the Houſe of his Priſoners? All the Kings of the Nations, even all of them lie in glory, every one in his own houſe. But thou art caſt out of thy grave like an abominable branch; and as the raiment of thoſe that are ſlain, thruſt through with a ſword, that go down to the ſtones of the pit, as a carkaſs trodden under feet.

There will be a ſtrange Alteration when Antichriſt is dead, and that both in the Church, and in the World. The Church, and the Members of it then, ſhall wear the Name of their God in their Foreheads; that is, they ſhall be bold in the Profeſſion of their King, and their God; yea, it ſhall be their Glory to be godly; and carnal Men ſhall praiſe them for it: The praiſe of the whole Earth ſhall the Church of God be in thoſe days.

Then there ſhall no more be a Canaanite in the Houſe of the Lord: No Lyon ſhall be there; the Unclean ſhall no more tread in the paths of God's People, but the ranſomed of the Lord ſhall walk there.

Glory that has not been ſeen nor heard of by the People that uſed to walk in Sack-cloth, ſhall now be ſet in the Land of the Living. For as it was ſaid of Chriſt, with reference to his day; ſo it ſhall be ſaid of Saints, with reference to this day: Many Kings and righteous Men have deſired to ſee the things that will be ſeen then, and ſhall not ſee them: But, without all doubt, the Men that ſhall be born at this time, will conſider that theſe Glories, and Liberties, and Priviledges of theirs, coſt the People that walked in the King of Babylon's fiery Furnace, or that ſuffered the Tryals, Troubles and Tyranny of the Antichriſtian Generation, more Groans and hearty Wiſhes than they did them that ſhall enjoy them. Thus then it will go; the Afflicted prayed for them, and the Poſſeſſors bleſs God for the enjoyment of them.

Oh! now ſhall the Church walk in the Light of the Lord, and ſit every Man under his Vine, and under his Fig-tree, and none ſhall make him afraid!

For the Lord will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet chuſe Iſrael, and ſet them in their own land, and the ſtranger ſhall be joyned with them, and they ſhall cleave to the houſe of Jacob. And the people ſhall take them, and bring them to their place: and the houſe of Iſrael ſhall poſſeſs them in the land of the Lord, for ſervants and handmaids: and they ſhall take them captives, whoſe captives they were, and they ſhall rule over their oppreſſors. And it ſhall come to paſs in the day that the Lord ſhall give thee reſt from thy ſorrow, and from thy thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou waſt made to ſerve. That thou ſhalt take up this proverb againſt the King of Babylon, and ſay, How hath the oppreſſor ceaſed? the golden city, (or, the Exactreſs of Gold) ceaſed? The Lord hath broken the ſtaff of the wicked, and the ſcepter of the rulers. He who ſmote the people in wrath with a continual ſtroke; he that ruled the nations in anger, is perſecuted, and none hindreth. The whole earth is at reſt, and is quiet: they break forth into ſinging. Yea, the fir-trees rejoyce at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, ſaying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up againſt us.

31. Alſo the World will now be (as it were) another thing than it was in the days of Antichriſt: Now will Kings, and Princes, and Nobles, and the whole Commonalty be rid of that Servitude and Bondage which in former times (when they uſed to carry Bell and the Dragon upon their Shoulders) they were ſubjected to. They were then a burthen to them, but now they are at eaſe. 'Tis with the World, that are the Slaves of Antichriſt now, as it is with them that are Slaves and Captives to a Whore: They muſt come when ſhe calls, run when ſhe bids, fight with and beat them that ſhe ſaith miſcall her, and ſpend what they can get by labour or fraud upon her, or ſhe will be no more their Whore, and they ſhall be no more her boſom Ones. But now! now it will be otherwiſe! Now they will have no Whore to pleaſe! Now they will have none to put them upon perſecuting of the Saints! Now they ſhall not be made, as before, guilty of the Blood of thoſe againſt whom this Gentleman ſhall take a pet! Now the World ſhall return, and diſcern between the Righteous and the Wicked; yea, they ſhall cleave to, and countenance the People of God, being perſwaded, as Laban was of Jacob, that the Lord will bleſs them for his Peoples ſakes: For at this day, the remnant of Jacob ſhall be (among the Gentiles) in the midſt of many people, as a dew from the Lord, as the ſhowers upon the graſs, that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the ſons of men. Micah. 5. 7.

Alſo in theſe days Men ſhall come flocking into the Houſe of God, both Kings, and Princes, and Nobles, and the Common People, as the Doves do to their Windows: And for that cauſe it is ſpoken to the Church, with reference to the latter days, ſaying, Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them ſtretch forth the curtains of thy habitations: ſpare not, lengthen thy cords, and ſtrengthen thy ſtakes; for thou ſhalt break forth on the right-hand, and on the left; and thy ſeed ſhall inherit the Gentiles, and make the deſolate places to be inhabited. Iſa. 54. 2, 3.

32. Now will be broken up thoſe Prophecies and Promiſes that to this day lye as under Lock and Key, and that cannot be opened until they be fulfilled. Now will the Spirit of God be poured forth abundantly; and our Rivers ſhall be in high places, that is, ſhall break forth from the Hearts of Great Ones; yea, then ſhall our Waters be made deep: And I will cauſe their Rivers to run with Oyl, ſaith the Lord God. Then ſhall the Differences, the Diviſions and Debates that are among the Godly, ceaſe: For Men ſhall ſee Eye to Eye, when the Lord ſhall bring again Zion; yea, the Watchmen of God's People ſhall do ſo; for it is for want of Light in them, that the Lambs have ſo butted one another. Ezek. 32. 14. Iſa. 52. 8.

Now the Church of God ſhall read with great plainneſs the depths of Providence, and the turnings and Windings of all God's dark and intricate Diſpenſations, through which ſhe hath waded in the cloudy and dark day: Now, I ſay, they ſhall ſee there was an harmony in them; and that if one of them had been wanting, the work and way of her Deliverance could not have been ſo full of the Wiſdom, and Juſtice, and Goodneſs of God: Wherefore now will that Song be ſung with clearer Notes than ever: Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty: juſt and true are thy ways, thou King of Saints: Who ſhall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy name? for thou only art holy: for all nations ſhall come and worſhip before thee; for thy judgments are made manifeſt. And again, For true and righteous are thy judgments, for thou haſt judged the great Whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and haſt avenged the blood of thy ſervants at her hand. Rev. 15. 3, 4. Chap. 19. 1, 2.

Of the Manner of the Ruine of Antichriſt.

33. WHat Antichriſt is, I have told you; and that as to his Soul and Body. I have alſo told you where, or in what things the Spirit and Life of Antichriſt lyeth, and how he ſhall reign for a time. I have moreover ſhewed you that he ſhall be deſtroyed, and by what, and that with reference both to his Soul and Body. Wherefore, waving other things, I ſhall here only preſent you with a few ſhort hints concerning the Manner of his Downfall.

There is the Downfall, the Time of the Downfall, and the Manner of the Downfall of Antichriſt.

The Manner of the Downfall of Antichriſt, may be conſidered, either with reſpect to the ſuddenneſs, unexpectedneſs, terribleneſs, or ſtrangeneſs thereof. It may alſo be conſidered with reſpect to the way of God's procedure with her, as to the gradualneſs thereof. As to the ſuddenneſs thereof, 'tis ſaid to be in an hour. It is alſo to be, when by her unexpected; for then ſhe ſaith, I ſit as a Queen. For the terribleneſs of it, The Nations ſhall ſhake at the ſound of her fall. And for the ſtrangeneſs thereof, it ſhall be to the Wonder of the World; it will be as when God overthrew Sodom. Rev. 18. 7, 8. Ezek. 31. 16, 17. Iſa. 14. 19.

But I ſhall not enlarge upon this Method in my Diſcourſe, but ſhall ſhew you the Manner of the Ruine of Antichriſt, with reſpect to the gradualneſs thereof. Ezek. 26. 18. Rev. 18. 8. Iſa. 47. 9.

Antichriſt then ſhall be brought to Ruine gradually; that is, by degrees: A part after a part; here a fenced City, and there a high Tower, even until ſhe is made to lye even with the Ground. And yet all ſhall be within the compaſs of God's Days, Hours, or Moments; for within the compaſs of theſe limited times Antichriſt ſhall be deſtroyed.

34. Now, (as I ſaid,) He, She, Sodom, Egypt, Babylon, Antichriſt, ſhall be deſtroyed; not all at at once, after the way of our counting of time; but by ſtep after ſtep, piece after piece. And perhaps there may be in the words now following, ſomething that ſignifies this: They Jer. 51. 31. ſhall ſhew the King of Babylon that his City is taken at one end. This is alſo ſhewed by the Veſſels in which is contained the Wrath of God for her, together with the manner of pouring of it out. The Veſſels in which it is contained are called VIALS: Now a Vial is that which letteth out what is contained in it by degrees, and not all at once.

There are alſo Two things to be conſidered, as to the Manner of its being poured out of them. The Firſt reſpecteth the Nature of the Vial. The other, the Order of the Angels that poured forth this Wrath.

For the Firſt: The Vial, as it letteth out what is in it by degrees; ſo it doth it with certain Guſts, that are mixed with Strength and Violence, bolting it out with noiſe, &c.

As for the Order of the Angels, or that Order that they obſerve, they plainly ſhew, that this Enemy muſt come down by degrees; for that theſe Vials are by them poured out one after another, each one working ſome- Rev. 16. 2, 8, 10, 17. thing of their own effects, before another is poured forth. The Firſt is poured forth upon the Antichriſtian Earth: The Second, upon her Sea: The Third is poured forth upon her Rivers: And the Fourth, upon her Sun: The Fifth is poured forth upon the Seat of the Beaſt: The Sixth, upon her Euphrates: And the Seventh, into her Air. And, I ſay, they are poured forth not all at one time, but now one, and then another. Now, ſince by theſe Vials Antichriſt muſt fall; and ſince alſo they are poured forth ſucceſſively: 'Tis evident that this Man of Sin, this Son of Perdition, is to fall and die by degrees. He would not die at all, as is manifeſt by his wreſtling with it; but he is a ſtrong God that Judges, and therefore he muſt come down: His Friends alſo, with what Cordials they can, will labour to lengthen out his Tranquility; but God hath ſet his Bounds, and he cannot go beyond the time appointed.

We muſt alſo put a difference betwixt her being fought withall and wounded, and that Rev. 12. of her dying the death. Michael and his Angels have been holding of her in play a long ſeaſon; but yet ſhe is not dead: But, as I ſaid, ſhe ſhall deſcend in battel, and periſh, and ſhall be found no more for ever.

35. tenth part falls. To ſpeak then to the Manner of the Ruine of this Antichriſt, with reſpect to the gradualneſs thereof: It muſt piece after piece be overthrown, until at laſt every whit thereof is rolled down from the Rocks, as a burnt Mountain.

And hence we read that this City falls firſt in a tenth part thereof, even while nine parts remain yet ſtanding: Nor doth this tenth part, notwithſtanding the Faith and faithful Teſtimony of the Two Witneſſes, quite fall, untill they are ſlain, and alſo raiſed again: For 'tis Rev. 11. ſaid, The ſame hour that the Witneſſes were Chap. 17. raiſed, the tenth part of the City fell; the tenth part of that City that reigneth over the Kings of the Earth; which City is Sodom, Egypt, Babylon, or the Great Whore.

By the City then, I underſtand the Church of Antichriſt in its utmoſt Bounds; and ſo it reacheth as far as the Beaſt with Seven Heads and Ten Horns hath dominion. Hence this City is alſo called Cities, as one Univerſe is called by the Name of ſeveral Countreys, &c. And them Cities alſo are called the Cities of Chap. 16. the Nations: For as when they are put toge- 19. ther, they all make but one; ſo when they are conſidered a-part, they are found in number Ten, and anſwer to the Ten Horns upon the Heads of the (Seven Headed) Beaſt that carries her, and do give her Protection.

This then I take to be the meaning: That the Antichriſtian Church is divided into Ten parts, and each part is put under one of the Horns of the Beaſt for Protection: But that Aid and Protection ſhall not help, when God ſhall come to execute Judgment upon her: For it ſaith, A tenth part of the City fell; that is, Firſt, and as a fore-runner of the Fall of all the reſt: Now where this Tenth part is, or which of the ten parts muſt fall firſt, or whether indeed a tenth part is already fallen, that I will leave to thoſe that are wiſer than my ſelf to determine.

But ſince I am ſpeaking of the Fall of a 36. tenth part of Antichriſt; a word or two about the Means of the Fall thereof.

The Means of the Fall of this tenth part, is an Earthquake; yet not ſuch as is univerſal, over the face of all, but an Earthquake in that tenth part where that City ſtood that ſhould fall. Now by Earthquakes here, cannot be meant any thing but ſuch a ſhaking as unſettleth the Foundations of this tenth part: But whether it ſhall be in this tenth part, as a City, or in it as a State, that I ſhall not determine; only my Thoughts are, That it ſhall be an Earthquake in that Kingdom where this tenth part ſhall happen to be: An Earthquake not to overthrow further than is appointed; and that is the City which is called the tenth part of the Great Antichriſt. So far as that State is a State, ſo far then it is ſhaken for Reformation, not for Deſtruction; for in the Earthquake were ſlain Seven thouſand (Names) of Men; and the remnant were affrighted, and gave Glory to the God of Heaven. But thus much for the Firſt: Great Babylon falleth firſt, in a tenth part of it.

Again, The next ſtep that the ſtrong God taketh towards the utter Overthrow of Antichriſt, will be more ſore upon the whole, though not at firſt univerſal neither; yet in concluſion, it ſhall throw down the Nine parts that are left: For thus it is recorded: And the Cities The nine parts fall. of the Nations fell: The Cities of the Nations, the Antichriſtian Churches; otherwiſe called the Daughters of the Mother of Harlots, and Abominations of the Earth.

Now to ſhew you the Hand of God in this Second ſtroke, wherewith the Lord will ſmite 37. this Enemy.

1. Here we have a great Earthquake.

2. And then, The Fall of the Cities of the Nations.

For the Earthquake, it is ſaid to be ſuch as never was, ſo mighty an Earthquake, and ſo great; Rev. 16. 18 for for it extended it ſelf as far as the other Nine Cities had any Ground to ſtand on; for it ſhook the Foundations of them all.

The fall of the Cities, was not immediately upon the ſhake that was made, but the Earthquake produced an Irruption, an Irruption in the nine remaining parts of this City: And ſuch an Irruption as is of the worſer ſort; for it divided them into a three headed diviſion: And the great City was divided into three parts: The great City, to wit, the Powers by which they were upheld. The meaning then is this; when God ſhall ſtrike this Man of Sin the ſecond time, he will not be ſo ſparing as he was at firſt, when he ſtrook but a tenth part to the ground; but now he will ſo ſhake, ſo confound, ſo divide, ſo raiſe up Antichriſt againſt himſelf, to wit, in the Body and Members of him, that they ſhall ſet to fighting, and to tearing one another in pieces, until they have conſumed the whole of theſe nine parts. It was, ſaith the Text, divided into three parts; which diviſions are the worſt of all: It will be therefore ſuch a diviſion as will bring them all to ruine. Hence it follows, And the Cities of the Nations fell.

Wherefore, this three-cornered Irruption will be the moſt dreadful to Antichriſt that ever was: it will be like that that was in Jeruſalem when ſhe came to be laid even with the Ground; and like that that came upon the Armies of the Gentiles, when they came up to fight againſt Jehoſaphat.

38. 2 Chron. 20. 23. For when the children of Ammon and Moab ſtood up againſt the inhabitants of Mount Seir, utterly to ſlay and to deſtroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to deſtroy another. This, I ſay, is the Diviſion that this mighty Earthquake ſhall make betwixt the Horns that are left to theſe nine parts that remained, when the tenth part of the City fell. And this will come to paſs through the encreaſe of the heat of God's Anger: For he is angry with the Waters where the Woman ſitteth, becauſe they have delivered up his Beloved to the bloody Whore; wherefore, he now will give them Blood to drink in fury.

Hence his beginning to deal with Antichriſt, is called, the beginning of Revenges: I will make (ſaith God) mine arrows drunk with blood, (and my ſword ſhall devour fleſh,) and that with the blood of the ſlain, and of the captives, from the beginning of revenges upon the enemy. And therefore it is ſaid again, that when God comes to do this work upon this Antichriſt, it is becauſe it is the Day of the Lord's Vengeance, and the Year of Recompences for the Controverſie of Zion: For the day of vengeance will be in his heart, when the year of his redeemed is come.

Deut. 33. 42. Iſa. 34. 8. Ch. 63. 4.

A Peace therefore cannot be made among theſe Cities when God has forbidden it: Wherefore the Effect of all, is, The Cities of the Nations fall. There is therefore like to be no more good days for Antichriſt after this Earthquake has begun to ſhake her: No, nothing now is to be expected of her, but Rumours, Tumults, Stirs, and Uproars: One Poſt ſhall run to meet another, to ſhew the King of Babylon that his City is taken at one end. And again, A rumour ſhall both come in one year; and after that, in another year, ſhall come a rumour and violence in the Land, Ruler againſt Ruler, &c. So that this Earthquake has driven away Peace, ſhaken the Foundations, and will caſt the nine Cities down to the ground.

Jer. 51. 31, 46, 47.

And this is a Second ſtroke that God will give this Man of Sin, and a Third cometh quickly. Wherefore it follows upon the Downfall of theſe Cities of the Nations, that Great Babylon came into remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceneſs of his wrath. Now then, have at Great Babylon. Great Babylon! What is that? Why, I take it to be the Mother, the Metropolitan, the Great Whore her ſelf: For though ſometimes, by the Great Whore, or Great Babylon, we may underſtand, the Church of Antichriſt in general; yet by it is meant more properly, the Mother of the Daughters, of whoſe Overthrow we have ſpoken before. We are now then come to the Threſhold of the Door of the Houſe of the OLD One; to the Door of the Mother of Harlots, and Abomination of the Earth. This then that but now is ſaid to come into remembrance with God, is that which gave being to the Cities deſtroyed before; to wit, the Miſtreſs, the Queen, the Mother-Church, as ſhe calleth her ſelf. 39. Great Babylon!

And this is the Wiſdom of God concerning her, that ſhe ſhould not be the firſt that ſhould Die; but that ſhe ſhould live to ſee the Deſtruction of her Daughters, and pine away under the ſight and ſenſe of that, even until Judgment alſo ſhall overtake her ſelf.

Thus Pharaoh and his chief Ones did live to ſee the greateſt part of Egypt deſtroyed before Judgment overtook them, but at laſt it came to their doors alſo. 40.

Zedekiah lived to ſee his Children ſlain before his face, before Judgment overtook him to his own perſonal deſtruction. Jer. 52. 8, 10, 11.

Babylon alſo, when God ſent the Cup of his Fury unto her, yet was to live to ſee the Nations drink before her: Take the cup of my fury (ſaid God to the Prophet,) and cauſe all the Nations to whom I ſend thee, to drink it: To wit, All the Kingdoms of the World which are upon the face of the Earth. And Sheſhach ſhall drink after them. But what was Sheſhach? may ſome ſay. I anſwer, It was Babylon, the Princeſs of the World, and at that time the Head of all thoſe Nations, (as this Queen is now the Mother of Harlots.) Wherefore, the ſame Prophet, ſpeaking of the Deſtruction of the ſame Sheſhach, ſaith, How is Sheſhach taken? How is the praiſe of the whole Earth ſurprized? How is Babylon become an aſtoniſhment among the Nations? Jer. 25. 15, &c. Dan. 5. 31. Jer. 51. 41.

Now, if this was the method of God's Proceeding with his Enemies in the way of his Judgments of old, why may we not ſuppoſe that he will go the ſame way with his great Enemy now: eſpecially ſince thoſe Judgments mentioned before, were executed upon thoſe, which, in ſome things, were Figures of the great Whore. Beſides, we read here plainly, that when the Cities of the Nations were fallen, Great Babylon came into remembrance before God, to give her to drink of the Cup.

From all which I conclude, as I did before, that the Mother, the Metropolitan, the Lady of Kingdoms, Kingdoms, ſhall live to ſee her Daughters executed before her face: After which ſhe ſhall come into Conſideration her ſelf; for ſhe muſt aſſuredly drink of the Cup.

This Deſtruction therefore muſt be laſt, for the Reaſons urged before, and alſo becauſe ſhe moſt deſerves the bottom of the Cup. The Pſ. 75. 8. bottom is, the dregs, the moſt bitter part, and that where the moſt heat, and fierceſt Wrath of God doth lye. Wherefore, although you find that by the Firſt Earthquake a great ſlaughter was made, and that a tenth part of the City fell; yet from that Judgment ſome did eſcape:
Rev. 11. 13. And the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of Heaven. But now, this Earthquake, by virtue of which the Cities of the Nations fall, and as an effect of which Great Babilon is come into remembrance before God, neither ſpares one of the Daughters of this Whore, nor any Man that is a Lover of them; but it ſo is ſeconded by a Hail-ſtorm, and that Hail-ſtorm worketh ſo in wrath, that not one eſcapes by Repentance. Every Hail-ſtone was the weight of a Talent, which ſome ſay is ſix pounds above Half an hundred weight: By this therefore God ſhews, that now his Anger was wrought up to the heighth. I know not wherewith ſo to
Rev. 5. 5, 6, 8, 9, 11. compare theſe Hail-ſtones, as with the Talent of Lead that was laid over the Mouth of the Ephah, which was prepared to hold the Woman, whoſe Name was Wickedneſs, this very Whore of Babylon: For that Talent of Lead was to keep down this Miſtreſs, that ſhe might get no more out of the Ephah, and theſe Hail-ſtones are to baniſh her out of the World: Therefore it follows, that ſhe muſt have the moſt heavy Judgment, even the bottom of the Cup.

Rev. 16. 19. And great Babylon came into remembrance before God. To remember with God, is to viſit either with Grace or Wrath. God is ſaid to remember Rachel, when he viſited her with the
Gen. 30. Bleſſing of a Fruitful Womb. It is ſaid alſo
Gen. 8. 1. that God remembred Noah, when the time came on that he was to be delivered from the Flood. Here alſo he is ſaid to remember Babylon, that is, to viſit her with his Anger for the wickedneſs that ſhe had committed: To give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceneſs of his wrath.

Now then is the time of Iniquity, when it will be come to the full; and now alſo is the time of God's Anger, when it will be come to
Dan. 8. 24. the full: Now therefore muſt the Murthers, and Thefts, and Blaſphemies, and Fornications, &c. belonging to this Mother of Harlots, be recompenſed to the full, to wit, with the Dregs of this Cup: Yet ſince the Hail-ſtones come by weight, and the Wrath comes by meaſure, (for ſo a Talent and a Cup imports,) it follows, that the Almighty God, even in the midſt of the heat of all this Anger, will keep to the Rules of Juſtice and Judgment while he is dealing with this Enemy: He has not Paſſions, to carry him beyond Rules of Judgment; nor Weakneſs, to cauſe him to fall ſhort of doing Juſtice: Therefore he has (as was ſaid) his Judgments for her by weight, and his Indignation by meaſure. But yet this Weight and Meaſure is not ſuited to her Conſtitution, not with an intent to purge or refine her; but it is diſpoſed according to the Meaſure and Nature of her Iniquity, and comes to ſweep her, as with the Beeſom of Deſtruction, until ſhe is ſwept off from the face of all the Earth.

And thus I have ſhewed you the manner of the Ruine of Antichriſt; that is, That it will be gradual, part after part, until the whole be overthrown. And this Truth may be applied both to the Soul, as well as to the Body of Antichriſt: For the Soul, Spirit, or Life of Antichriſt muſt alſo after this manner be deſtroyed. And hence it is ſaid to be conſumed, that is, by degrees: For to conſume, is to deſtroy by degrees: Only this Caution I would have the Reader remember, That much of the Soul of Antichriſt may be deſtroyed, when none of her Daughters are; and that the Deſtruction of her Spirit is a certain fore-runner of the Deſtruction of her Body in the manner that we have related. 43.

Now ſince ſhe is dying, let us ring her Paſſing-Bell; for when ſhe is dead, we that live to ſee it, intend to ring out.

For thus ſaith the Lord God, When I ſhall make thee a deſolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I ſhall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters ſhall cover thee; when I ſhall bring thee down with them that deſcend into the pit, with the people of old time; and ſhall ſet thee in the low parts of the earth, in places deſolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited, and I ſhall ſet glory in the land of the living. I will make thee a terrour, and thou ſhalt be no more: though thou be ſought for, yet ſhalt thou never be found again, ſaith the Lord God. Ezek. 26. 19, 20, 21.

Of the Signs of the approach of the Downfall of Antichriſt.

HAving in the fore-going Diſcourſe ſpoken of Antichriſt his Ruine, and the Manner thereof, I now come to ſpeak of the Signs of the approach of her Deſtruction. And whether I ſhall hit right, as to theſe, that I muſt leave to Time to make manifeſt; and in the mean while to the wiſe in heart to judge.

That ſhe ſhall fall, there is nothing more certain; and when ſhe is fallen, that ſhe never ſhall riſe again, is alſo as firmly decreed; yea, and ſhewed too by him that caſt the Mill-ſtone into the Sea, and ſaid, Thus with violence ſhall that great City, Babylon, be thrown down, and ſhall be found no more at all. This is therefore her Fate and Deſtiny, from the Mouth of the Holy One; and is ſealed up in the Scriptures of Truth, for the comfort of the People that have been afflicted by her. Rev. 18 21.

True, the time of her Fall is not certainly known by the Saints, nor at all believed by her; wherefore, her Plagues muſt come unlooked for by her. And as to the Saints, their Gueſſes, as to the time of her Ruine, muſt needs be conjectural and uncertain. For her part, ſhe ſhall ſay, and that when ſhe ſtands where ſhe muſt ſuddenly fall, I ſhall be a Lady for ever. And as to the Saints that would very willingly ſee Iſa. 47. 7, 8, 9.

her Downfall, how often have they been miſtaken as to the ſet-time thereof.

Nor have I been without Thought, but that this Miſtake of the Godly may become a Snare to Antichriſt, and a Trap to her Upholders. For what can be a greater Judgment, or more effectually harden the Hearts of the Wicked, than for them to behold that the Predictions, Prophecies, Expectations and Hopes of their Enemies (as to their Ruine) ſhould quite (as to the time) be fruſtrate, and made void.

Moſes propheſied, and the People hoped that God would give Iſrael the Land of Canaan; and yet the Canaanites beat them.

Numb. 14. 40. Joſ. 7. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Jer. 37. Jeremiah prophecied that the Enemy ſhould come and take the City Jeruſalem; but becauſe he came once, and went back without doing it, how ſtout and hardened were the hearts of that People againſt all the reſt of his Prophetick Sayings, as to ſuch a thing. Now the Errour lay not in theſe Prophets, but in the Peoples miſtaking the times: And if Miſtakes do ſo much harden the heart of the Wicked, what will they do to ſuch of them who make it their buſineſs to blind and harden their hearts againſt God, by Abuſing all Truths? Surely, when Men ſeek to harden their hearts by abuſing of Truth, they will do it to purpoſe, when they have alſo the advantage of the weakneſs of their profeſſed Enemies to do it by: eſpecially when their Enemies ſhall ſay they ſpeak by the Word of the Lord, and Time ſhall manifeſt it to be both a Miſtake and a Falſhood.

It is to be bewailed, namely, the forwardneſs of ſome in this matter, who have predicted concerning the time of the Downfall of Antichriſt, to the ſhame of them and their Brethren: Nor will the wrong that ſuch by their boldneſs have done to the Church of God, be ever repaired by them nor their Works. But the Judgments of God are a great Deep; and therefore who can tell, ſince the Enemy of God would not be convinced by the power of Truth, and the vertuous Lives of ſome, but that God might leave them to be ſnared, hardened and emboldened to run upon their unavoidable Deſtruction, by the Lyes and Lightneſs of others. They begin to vaunt it already, and to ſay, Where is the Word of the Lord, as to this, let it come now. But when Agag ſaid, Surely the bitterneſs of death is paſt, then was the time for him to be hewen in pieces. I ſhall not therefore meddle with the Times and Seaſons which the Father hath put in his own power; no, though they as to Antichriſt's Ruine are revealed; becauſe by the Holy Ghoſt there is a Challenge made, notwithſtanding the time is ſet, and by the Word related to the Man of Wiſdom to find it out if he can.

1 Sam. 15. 32, 33.

Rev. 13. 18.

If Samſon's Riddle was ſo puzzling, what ſhall we think of this? And though the Angel hath intimated, That this ſealed matter ſhall be opened towards the time of the end; yet 'tis evident, ſome have either been ſo haſty, or preſumed too much upon their own Abilities: For I am ſure they have miſſed the Mark, hardened the Heart of the Enemy, ſtumbled the Weak, and ſhamed them that loved them.

Dan. 12. 9.

But ſince the Moſt High hath irreverſibly determined her Downfall alſo, let us ſee if we can have better ſucceſs in diſcourſing upon the Signs, than others have had who have medled with the Timing thereof.

First then, The Downfall and Ruine of Antichriſt draws near, when the Church and People of God are driven from all thoſe hiding-places that God has prepared for them in the Wilderneſs. The Church of God, when the Dragon did his worſt, had an hiding-place prepared her of God, that ſhe might not utterly be devoured by him; and ſo ſhall have till the time of his end ſhall come. First Sign.

Of this you read in the 12*th.* of the Revelations, a place worthy to be noted for this. But now, when the time of the Ruine of Antichriſt draws on, then is the Church deprived of her Shelter, and laid open, as one would think, to be utterly ſwallowed up for ever, having no more place in the Wilderneſs, that is, among the Nations, to hide her ſelf from the Face of the Serpent. But how comes this to be a SIGN of the approach of the Ruine of Antichriſt? Why thus: The time of this Beaſt's War with the Church of God, and the time that the Church ſhall have an hiding-place in the Wilderneſs, are both of a length, the one continuing Forty two Months; the other, A thouſand two hundred and threeſcore Days. Now ſince the War that this Beaſt makes with the Woman and her Seed, and the Woman's hiding-place in the Wilderneſs from his Face, are, for length of time, the ſame; what hindreth but that when the Woman and her Seed can find no more ſhelter in the Nations, the time that the Beaſt hath allotted him to make War againſt her, ſhould be finiſhed alſo? When we therefore ſhall ſee that Plots and Conſpiracies, that Deſigns for utter Ruine, are laid againſt God's Church all the World over; and that none of the Kings, Princes, or Mighty States of the World, will open their Doors, or give them a City for refuge; then is the Ruine of Antichriſt at hand: For Haman's Plot, though the moſt univerſal that ever yet was hatching, (being laid in an Hundred twenty ſeven Provinces,) did but preſage the Deliverance and Exaltation of the Jews, and the hanging of Haman and his Sons: Yea, and I take it, that the very day that this great Enemy had ſet for the utter overthrow of the Church, God made the Day in which their Deliverance began, and that from whence it was compleated; and I take that to be a Type of this.

Rev. 13. 5. Chap. 12. 6. Chap. 11. 2. 3. 4. 6.

There is but one thing that I can think of that can give matter of a ſhew of Doubt abont this thing; and that is, Though the time of this War againſt the Saints, and that of the Woman's ſhelter in the Wilderneſs as to length, be one and the ſame; yet whether they did commence together, and begin to take their riſe, as men do that begin to run a race? A word therefore to this. I ſuppoſe they did commence much together; for elſe with whom ſhould this Beaſt make War, and how ſhould the Church eſcape? Or, if the Beaſt began his War before the Woman began to have a hiding-place, why was ſhe not ſwallowed up, ſince in the Wilderneſs was her only place of ſhelter? Again, What needed the Woman to have a place of ſhelter in the Wilderneſs, when there was no War made againſt her? And yet this muſt be, if her Thouſand two hundred and threeſcore Days, began before the Beaſts Forty two Months: But they ended both together; for the Beaſt could not kill the Witneſſes before they had finiſhed their Teſtimony; which Teſti-

Rev. 11. 3. mony of theirs laſted this full time that the Beaſt had granted him to make War with them, to wit, One thouſand two hundred and threeſcore days: Therefore their Times went out together, as will be made appear, if you conſider alſo that the Witneſſes were ſlain, by virtue, not of the Old, but of a New War levied againſt them; and that, as it ſhould ſeem, at the very time when her hiding-place was taken from her; for then indeed, for a little ſeaſon, will the Church of God be overcome, as I ſhall ſhew by and by.

Wherefore, let God's People conſider and remember, that when God's Church is abſolutely forlorn, and has no hiding-place any longer in the World, the Kingdom of Antichriſt will quickly begin to tumble. Nor is this the alone place from whence we may gather theſe Concluſions.

45. The time of Pharaoh's Tyranny, of his
Gen. 15. 13. Life, and of the Deliverance of the Children of Iſrael, came out much together; as any will diſcern that ſhall conſider the Hiſtory of them.

Ch. 34. 1, place ſo continued to David, till juſt about 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. the time in which Saul muſt die; and then behold, David's Ziklag is burnt with Fire, and himſelf ſtript naked of Harbour! But what matter! The time of Saul's Life, as well as of David's Ziklag, was now upon expiring; for within three or four days after David became the King of Iſrael.

Dan. 5. 25, 26, 27, 28. And thus alſo it was with the Babel Beaſt: His time expired, when the Captivity of Iſrael was upon the finiſhing: Then was the time of his Land come, and in that very night was Belſhazzar the King of the Caldeans ſlain.

46. Thus therefore it will happen to the Church in the latter days: Her place of ſhelter in the Wilderneſs; her Ziklag will be taken from her, about the time that the War that the Beaſt has to make upon the Woman and her Seed ſhall be finiſhed. But now the Church is not therefore immediately delivered, when her Ziklag is taken from her; for after that, the Beaſt levieth a new War, to the overcoming and killing of the Church: I ſay therefore, That this is a Sign, not of the Downfall of Antichriſt, but of the Approach thereof: For the Churches Bondage ſhall continue but three days, and a little after this. Much like to this was that of David; for after he had loſt his Ziklag, for two or three days he had ſore diſtreſs: But lo, then came the Kingdom to him.

Indeed, Senſe and Reaſon ſaith it is a fearful thing for the Church of God to be expoſed to the rage of her Enemy all over the World at once; and that all Nations ſhould ſhut up their Gates, let down their Portcullaces, bolt up their Doors, and ſet open their Floodgates to deſtroy them: But ſo will be the Diſpenſation of God, to the end Deliverance may be the ſweeter, and the Enemies Fall the more headlong, and the Arm of God the more manifeſt, both for the one, and againſt the other. And in this will that Scripture be fulfilled: And there will be a time of trouble, ſuch as never was ſince there was a nation; and at that time thy people ſhall be delivered, every one that ſhall be found written in the book. Dan. 12. 1

47. Let us gather up what has been ſaid again; namely, That it is a Sign of the Approach of the Ruine of Antichriſt, when God's Church can find no more ſhelter in the Wilderneſs; becauſe when her Ziklag is burned, the time of the War that the Baſt is to make againſt her, is finiſhed. Wherefore, when ſhe hath given one deſperate ſtruggle more, and laid the Church of God, or his Witneſſes, for dead, in the Street of his great City, for three days and an half, then comes the Kingdom, and the long, long-look'd for Reſt and Glory. Wherefore it remains, That an Agel ſhould ſtand in the Sun, and make Proclamation to all the Fowls that flie in the midſt of Heaven, to gather themſelves together to the Supper of the Great God: That they may eat the fleſh of Kings, and the fleſh of Captains; the fleſh of mighty Men, and the fleſh of Horſes, and of them that ſit on them; and the fleſh of all men, both free and bound, both ſmall and great. Rev. 19. This is to be after the Forty two Months of the Beaſt, and conſequently after the Thouſand two hundred and threeſcore Days that the Church was to be in Sackcloth; yea, after the Reſurrection of the Witneſſes, as is evident by that which follows: And the Beaſt was taken, (that is, after the Second Year) and with him the falſe Prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the Beaſt, and them that worſhipped his Image; theſe both were caſt alive into a lake of fire burning with brimſtone.

48. The Second Sign. Secondly, Another Sign of the Approach of the Ruine of Antichriſt, is this: Towards the end of her Reign, the Nations will be made to ſee her baſeneſs, and to abhorr Her and her Ways: They will, I ſay, be made to ſee theſe things, in order to her Ruine: Alſo, when they ſhall be made to ſee, her Ruine will not be far off: For ſo long as the Nations and their Rulers ſhall continue in that dead ſleep that ſhe hath bewitched them into, by their drinking of the Wine of her Fornication; ſo long we have no ground to think that her Ruine is at the door: But when God ſhall lay her before Kings, and ſhall diſcover her nakedneſs to the Nations, then be ſure her Deſtruction is at hand. Hence you read, that precedent to her Downfall: An Angel comes down from Heaven, and lightens the Earth with his glory. Rev. 18. 1. [The Earth;] that is, the Kingdoms, Countreys and Nations where the Woman ſitteth, or they that border thereupon. [Lightned;] to let them ſee the Filthineſs of the Whore. [With his Glory;] with the Doctrine that he had Commiſſion to Preach againſt her, for the diſcovering of her Lewdneſs to the Earth. This alſo was the way that God

Ezek. 16. 37. took with backſliding Iſrael of old, (and ſhe was a Type of our religious Babel,) when he intended to bring her to Judgment for her Sins; and this is the way that God will take to deſtroy our religious Antichriſt, when he comes to deliver his People out of her hand.

For though the People that ſuffer at her hand, can do nothing againſt her, but lay in Prayers and Tears againſt her before the God of Heaven, and bare their Witneſs againſt her before the Gods of the Earth; yet when Kings ſhall come to be concerned, and they will count themſelves concerned when they ſhall ſee how they have been deceived by her; then let her look to it.

Nahum 3. 5, 6, 7. Behold, I am againſt thee, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts; and I will diſcover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will ſhew the Nations thy nakedneſs, and the Kingdoms thy ſhame: and I will caſt abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will ſet thee as a gazing-ſtock. And what follows? And it ſhall come to paſs, that all they that look upon thee, ſhall flee from thee, and ſay, Nineveh is laid waſte, who will bemoan her? whence ſhall I ſeek Comforters for thee?

49. Wherefore, there wants nothing but that ſhe be diſcovered to the Nations and their Kings; for did they but ſee her, though they lay yet in her boſom, they would riſe up againſt her, that ſhe muſt die: Wherefore it is written again, I will bring forth a fire out of the midſt

Ezek. 28. 17, 18. of thee; it ſhall devour thee: and I will bring thee to aſhes upon the Earth, in the ſight of all them that behold thee.

The chief of the Wiſdom of Antichriſt this day is laid out, if perhaps by it ſhe may cover her nakedneſs, and keep it from the Eyes of

Iſa. 47. 3. Kings and their People. But God has ſaid it ſhall not avail: Thy nakedneſs ſhall be uncovered; yea, thy ſhame ſhall be ſeen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man. But how will he make her naked? Verily, by Kings. But how ſhall Kings do it? Why, by virtue of the Glory

Rev. 17. 16. of the Angel: Yea, They ſhall make her deſolate and naked; they ſhall eat her fleſh, and burn her with fire.

Let this, I pray, be conſidered, That Antichriſt ſhall not down but by the Hand of Kings. The Preacher then kills her Soul, and the King kills her Body. And why ſhould not the Kings have it granted unto them, that ſhe ſhould fall by their hand? The Kings are thoſe that ſhe has abuſed, that ſhe has in the groſſeſt manner abuſed, and has ſerved her ſelf of them: But the time of the end of Antichriſt, Jer. 27. 7. Myſtery Babylon is coming, And then many Nations and great Kings ſhall ſerve themſelves of that.

Nor ſhall all the Tricks, Lies and Deceit under which formerly ſhe us'd to ſhroud her ſelf, be able to prove a Balm to her any long-

Jer. 46. 11. er: No, In vain ſhalt thou uſe many Medicines, for no cure ſhall be unto thee; the Nations have heard of thy ſhame.

50. Babylon has for a long time been a Lady of Kingdoms, and a golden Cup in the Lord's Hand:

Rev. 18. 3. The Nations alſo have laregly drank of her Cup, and the Kings have committed Fornication with her: But now the Angel is come down, and hath lightned the Earth with his glory: Wherefore now it follows immediately, Babylon is fallen! That is, in the eyes and eſteem of the Nations, as well as otherwiſe.

True, ſome of the Kings will bewail her Fall, and will cry, Alas! Alas! when they ſee that they cannot help her; for that they ſhall ſee, as is evident, becauſe they ſtand afar off to lament her, afar off for the fear of her torment. The Kings therefore into whoſe hands God ſhall deliver her, and who ſhall execute his Judgments upon her, ſhall be more Mighty and Powerful to bring her down, than ſhall be the whole World beſides to uphold her.

And this obſerve further, That as the Kings that ſhall hate her, ſhall hate her becauſe in the light of the glory of the Angel they are made able to ſee her filthineſs; ſo the Kings that ſhall bewail her, are ſuch as in Judgment are left in the dark, and that ſhall be bewitched by her to the end. This therefore will let us ſee ſomething of the meaning of God, in that The Pope he has drawn off from her ſome of the Kings from King already; to wit, that he might train them up by the light of the Goſpel, that they may be expert, like Men of War, to ſcale her Walls, when the King of Kings ſhall give out the Commandment to them ſo to do.

There has been a great deal of talk in the Countreys, about the Ruine and Deſtruction of Babylon; but could we ſee more of the Kings engaged againſt her, we ſhould hope groundedly that her Fall was at the door. Well, bleſſed be God for what Kings there are, and the Lord turn the Hearts of many more to hate her.

Some, as I ſaid before, have adventured to fore-tell the Time of her Downfall; but give me the Signs thereof. This therefore is a Sign, a Sign that her Downfall approaches, when God ſhall lay her nakedneſs before the Nations, and put it into the Hearts of Kings to abhorr her. The Signs of the Times the Lord Jeſus would have us mind; and becauſe the Jews neglected them, though as to the Time they hit pretty right, yet they miſſed of the thing that the time brought forth.

51. Thirdly, A Third Sign of the approach of the Ruine of Antichriſt, is this: When Babylon is become the Habitation of Devils, &c. then the Downfall thereof is upon us. True, Babylon was always an Habitation for Devils; but not an Habitation only for them; Iſrael once dwelt there, and our Antichriſt was ſometimes a place of Reſidence for good Men. The meaning then, is, When you ſhall ſee the Church and People of God ſo forſake her that ſhe is left in a manner to her ſelf, and to her Diſciples, then ſhe is to fall quickly: When you hear it proclaimed by them that are yet in her, of God's People, We would Jer. 51. 9. have healed Babylon, but ſhe is not healed: forſake her, and let us go every one to his own Country: Then ſhe will ſoon be hiſſed out of the World: For this is the way of the Wiſdom of God; namely, To bring his People out of a City, or Place, when he intends the Ruine of that place. When God was about to deſtroy the old World, he put his Noah into an Ark: When God was about to deſtroy Sodom, he ſent his Lot away thence to Zoar: When Chriſt was about to deſtroy Jeruſalem, he bid his Diſciples flee from the midſt of that: And when there ſhall be by God

God a hiſſing for his People; and when they ſhall hear him, and obey, and gather to him, then you ſhall ſee what will become of this Enemy of Chriſt: I will hiſs for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them.

I ſay therefore, when Babylon ſhall become the Habitation of Devils, a Hold for all foul Spirits, and a Cage for every unclean and hateful Bird, then Babylon is fallen.

And thus the Angel that lightned the Earth with his Glory, proclaimed, Babylon the Great is fallen! is fallen! and is become the Habitation of Devils, and a Hold for every foul Spirit, and a Cage for every unclean and hateful Bird. Wherefore it muſt be, that by that her time is come that ſhe ſhould fall, God will have gleaned his People from the midſt of her. And when God ſhall have gleaned his People from the midſt of her, thoſe that are left behind will appear more than ever to be what they are, to wit, Devils, foul Spirits, and hateful Birds; wherefore, now will Antichriſt appear in his own moſt proper colours.

But to Comment a little upon the words.

Babylon,] Myſtery Babylon. The Antichriſtian Church.

52. Is fallen, is fallen.] In the Eyes and Faith of the Godly, by her dropping into the dregs of Degeneracy, and ſo is become the Habitation of Devils, &c. in order to her falling into utter and unavoidable Deſtruction for ever.

Is become.] That is, through the labour of the Fanners and Winnoers that God hath ſent to fan Babilon, and to fetch out his People, that ſhe might be left to her Chaff: I will ſend (ſaith God to Babylon,) Fanners, that ſhall fan her, and that ſhall empty her Land (of good Men;) for in the day of trouble they ſhall be againſt her round about.

An Habitation of Devils.] Devils: Not ſuch by Nature, but by Practice. Incarnate Devils: For when the time is come that Babylon muſt be deſtroyed, ſhe ſhall be found to be an Habitation for the moſt vile of the Sons of Men: For as Devils have acted towards the World; ſo ſhall the Sons of this Sorcereſs, and this Whore, act towards Chriſt and his Members in the latter days. And perhaps, the departing of Zion from the midſt of her, will blow her up into this Spirit of Deviliſm. Let God's People therefore, when Antichriſt is towards her end, look for nothing from her, but what the Devil, in times paſt, uſed to do; to wit, all ſinful Subtily, Malice, Wrath, Fraud, Deceit, Lying, Murther, falſe Accuſings, and implacable Madneſs of Spirit to do them miſchief. (But Lord God! think I, what will become of Good Men! and where will they be ſafe in ſuch days? Only I comfort my ſelf, by ſaying to my ſelf again, This is a Sign that the Ruine of Antichriſt is at the door.) But this I ſay, He muſt needs be a tuneable Man, that ſhall be able in thoſe days to ſing this Song to himſelf at all Seaſons: For this is to drive Reaſon backward, and to ſet the Cart before the Horſe. For what will the good Man's Reaſon ſay, when it ſeeth all Babylonians are become Devils, but that the Church of God will certainly be torn in pieces? But behold! the Text and the Holy Ghoſt runs counter: Babylon is fallen! is fallen! and (or, for it) is become the Habitation of Devils. Theſe words for certain are the words of an holy Angel; for it could not have entered into the Heart of meer Man to have conceived them.

An Habitation.] To be an Habitation (for Devils,) is to be their Houſe, their Dwelling-place, their Place of Priviledge, their Place of Reſt and Abode, or thither whither they have right to go. And thus will Babylon be; that is, an Houſe, an Habitation, a Dwelling-place, and a Place of Reſt, only for deviliſh minded Men; thither may ſuch Men come; for ſuch her Doors ſtand open, and there may ſuch inhabit. When therefore you ſee good Men come out thence, and all ſorts of wicked Men flock in thither, then know that Babylon is near her end. 53.

And a Hold for every foul Spirit.] Underſtand by Spirit, either thoſe that are Devils by Nature, or ſuch as are ſuch otherwiſe. But I think that the Angel chiefly intends all manner of unclean and filthy Spirits; and ſo the Church and Members of Babylon, their only place of ſafety: Or if you underſtand it of the Uncleanneſs of the Spirits and Minds of Men, then the meaning is, that they are called foul Spirits, in alluſion to thoſe of Devils which go by the ſame Name. But however, or which way ſoever taken, it ſeems Babylon is their Hold; that is, their place of Defence: For by an Hold, we often underſtand a place of Strength, a Caſtle, a Fort, a Tower; ſo that theſe Devils, theſe foul ſpirited Men, theſe Babylonians, will not only find Houſe-room and Harbour in Babel, but Shelter, Defence and Protection, when ſhe is near her Ruine: yea, they will find her an Upholder to them, and a Countenancer of them, in all their foul and deviliſh Pranks; yea, ſuch an Hold ſhall ſhe be to ſuch foul Spirits in ſuch foul Acts, that it ſhall not be poſſible that they ſhould be driven from her, or from them: For an Hold is often taken in the Scriptures for a place that is Impregnable, and muſt be ſo taken here. This intimates then, that ſome faint Oppoſition by the Kings and Nations will be made againſt theſe Inhabiters foul Spirits, but to little purpoſe, until the time of her Land ſhall come; for in their Hold they ſtill will be ſecured and defended from what Reaſon, Law and Scripture can or would do unto them. Thus then we ſee how Babel, towards her end, will be filled, and with what, to wit, with Devils, and foul Spirits; yea, and that ſhe will not only be an Habitation, but a Place of Defence for ſuch. 54. Mark 9. 25. Judg. 9. 46. 49. 1 Sam. 22. 4

And a Cage for every unclean and hateful Bird.] Thoſe that before are called Devils, and foul Spirits, are alſo here called Birds, unclean and hateful Beaſts. By the term [Birds,] he may allude to that of the Prophet Iſaiah, where theſe unclean Birds are mentioned. And by Cage, he may allude to the Prophet Jeremiah, from whom, as I think, the Holy Ghoſt takes theſe words; but then we muſt put Men in the place of Birds, and the Babylonian Kingdom for the Cage. 55. Iſa. 34. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17. Jer. 5. 25, 26, 27.

EVERY unclean Bird.] As was ſaid before, A Hold for EVERY foul Spirit. Theſe unclean Birds therefore are not all of one feather, or kind, but of ALL and EVERY Kind; and it intimates, that the worſt Act of all Profeſſions, ſhall be, as in a Cage, in Babylon, a little before her Downfall. But I ſay, if they will not be all of one Feather, yet in their Temper they will ſomewhat agree, being either in Shape, Monſtrous; of Appetite, Ravenous; or, of Inclination, Lovers of the Night: For of all theſe ſorts were the forbidden, or unclean Birds among the Jews. Now ſince theſe unclean Birds are not all of one Feather, or Kind, it intimates that the baſeſt of all Sorts, Sects, Profeſſions and Degrees, ſhall take Shelter in Babylon towards her End; and that they ſhall there, in their Temper, unanimouſly agree to ſhew themſelves monſtrous, to devour and eat up the Poor and Needy, and to blow out the Light of the Goſpel.

A Cage.] Not to Impriſon them in, but for them to ſit and Sing in, to confer their Notes in, to make melodious Muſick in; I mean, Melodious to their own thinking; for the Aſs thinks that he ſings full favouredly, and the Owl endeavours to lift up her Voice above all the Birds of the Wood: But it will be a Prediction of her Fall, and that her Ruine is at the door.

56. Zeph. 2. 13, 14. Of theſe Birds Zephaniah ſpeaks, when he Propheſies of the Downfall of Nineveh, ſaying, The Cormorant and the Bittern lodge in the uppermoſt lintels of it, their voice ſhall ſing in the windows (when) deſolation ſhall be on the threſhold. An unſeaſonable time to ſing in; for when Death is coming in at the Door, Mourning ſhould be in the Chambers: But this is the Judgment of God, That ſhe ſhould be a Cage for every unclean Bird to ſing in, even then when her Deſtruction and Deſolation cometh upon her.

To Sing, as in a Cage, doth alſo denote Security, and that the Heart is far from fear; for ſhe ſaith, I ſhall ſee no ſorrow, in that hour in which her Judgment comes.

But is this a Sign of the Approach of the Ruine of Antichriſt? And muſt thoſe that ſhall live to ſee thoſe days, rejoyce when theſe things begin to come to paſs? Are not theſe things rather a Sign that the utter Overthrow of the Church of God is at the door? Indeed, to Senſe it is, and Reaſon will be apt to ſay ſo: But hark what the Holy Ghoſt ſaith! She is fallen! is fallen now!

When therefore we ſhall ſee Men like Devils; yea, every foul Spirit, and hateful Bird, flock to, and take ſhelter in Babylon; let us not be frighted or dejected, but pluck up our Hearts, and ſay, This is one of the Signs that the Downfall of Babylon is near. Wherefore Iſa. 34. it follows, after that the Prophet had told us that theſe Birds ſhould dwell in the Land of the Iſa. 35. People of God's Curſe, That the wilderneſs and the ſolitary places ſhould be glad for them, (for that they are there,) and the deſart ſhall rejoyce, and bloſſom as a Roſe: It ſhall bloſſom (ſaith he) abundantly, and rejoyce, even with joy and ſinging: the glory of Lebanon ſhall be given unto it: the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they ſhall ſee the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God. And to ſupport the Weak from thoſe fears that in thoſe days will be pulling of them down, he adds, Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be ſtrong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence, he will come and ſave you. Then the eyes of the blind ſhall be opened, and the ears of the deaf ſhall be unſtopped. Then ſhall the lame man leap as an heart, and the tongue of the dumb ſing: for in the wilderneſs ſhall waters break out, and ſtreams in the deſart. And the parched ground ſhall become a pool, and the thirſty land ſprings of water: in the habitation of dragons where each lay, ſhall be graſs, with reeds and ruſhes. And an highway ſhall be there, and a way, and it ſhall be called the way of holineſs, the unclean ſhall not paſs over it, but it ſhall be for thoſe: the wayfaring men, though fools, ſhall not err therein. No lion ſhall be there, nor any ravenous beaſt ſhall go up thereon, it ſhall not be found there; but the redeemed ſhall walk there. And the ranſomed of the Lord ſhall return and come to Zion with ſongs, and everlaſting joy upon their heads: they ſhall obtain joy and gladneſs, and ſorrow and ſighing ſhall flee away.

What ſay ye now, ye Sons of God! Will you learn to make a Judgment of things according to the Myſtery of the Wiſdom of God, or will ye longer conclude acccording to Senſe and Reaſon? He turneth the ſhadow of Amos 5. death into the morning: And commands oft-times, that the faireſt Day ſhould ſucceed the fouleſt Night. Wherefore, when we ſee theſe Devils, foul Spirits, and unclean Birds in Babylon; yea, when we ſee good Men leave her, and the vileſt run in to her, then let us ſing the Angels Song, and ſay, Babylon the Great is fallen! is fallen! and is become the Habitation of Devils, and a Hold for every foul Spirit, and a Cage for every unclean and hateful Bird.

Fourthly, Another Sign of the approach of 4th. Sign. the Ruine of Antichriſt, is, The Slaying of the Witneſſes: For the Witheſſes are to be ſlain before the Fall of Antichriſt; and that by the hand of the Beaſt, who ſhall manage the Members of Antichriſt, having qualified them before that Work, with thoſe Qualifications of which you read in the Sign foregoing. For what can better fit a Generation for ſuch a Work, than to be themſelves all turned Devils, and alſo Succourers of all foul Spirits. Wherefore, they muſt be the wickedeſt of Men that ſhall do this; the very Scum of the Nations, and the very vileſt of People. Nor is this a New Notion: God threatned to give his Sanctuary into the hands of Strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth Ezek. 7. for a ſpoyl: to Robbers, Burglers, and they 20, 21. ſhould defile it. Again, ſaith God of his People, I will bring the worſt of the Heathen, and Ver. 24 they ſhall poſſeſs their houſes. For the truth is, this Work is too bad for Men either of Reaſon or Conſcience to be found in the practice of. The Hang-man is uſually none of the beſt: The Witneſſes are alſo to be ſlain; but not a Man, but a Beaſt muſt ſlay them; a Den of Thieves, a Hold of foul Spirits muſt do it.

That

That the Witneſſes muſt be ſlain before the Fall of Babilon, has been hinted already. Alſo, that their Death is a fore-runner of the Ruine of Antichriſt, has before been touch'd upon; but in this place I ſhall a little enlarge.

Rev. 11. And therefore I proceed: And when they ſhall have finiſhed their Teſtimony, the Beaſt that aſcended out of the bottomleſs pit ſhall make war againſt them, and overcome them, and kill them: And their dead bodies ſhall lie dead in the ſtreet of that great City, which ſpiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where alſo our Lord was crucified. And they of the people, and kindred, and tongues, and nations, ſhall ſee their dead bodies three days and an half, and ſhall not ſuffer their dead bodies to be put into graves. And after three days and an half the Spirit of Life from God entred into them, and they ſtood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon them that ſaw them. And they heard a great voice from heaven, ſaying, Come up hither: And they aſcended to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies beheld them.

Thus you ſee their Death is before their Deliverance. Alſo their Death is to be by the Hand of the Beaſt; to wit, by the Men that have and hold this Mark, and that of his Image, and that are of the number of his Name. You ſee alſo that their Death is not only a Fore-runner of their Deliverance, but a Sign that their Deliverance is at the door; ſince the one is but three Days and an half before the other.

And if a ſhort Comment upon this Text will give a little Light to the Reader, I ſhall not count my labour loſt.

And when they ſhall have finiſhed their Teſtimony.] When, or about the time they have done their work of Witneſs-bearing for God in the World: When they have made or are making an end of giving their Teſtimony for Chriſt, and againſt the Witchcrafts, Idolatries, Sorceries, Fornications, Thefts, Murthers, and Wickedneſs of Antichriſt: Then, and not till then.

Rev. 13. 1. Rev. 11. 3. The Beaſt that aſcended out of the bottomleſs pit.] The Beaſt: The Power that carrieth and beareth up Antichriſt, the Mother of Harlots: The Beaſt upon which the Woman ſitteth, and by the Heads and Horns of which ſhe is protected and defended; he is ſaid to aſcend out of the Bottomleſs-Pit; for that he manifeſteth by his Doings, that he was born there, and came to the work of the King thereof.

Rev. 11. Shall make war againſt them.] We read that he made War againſt them all the time of their Propheſying in Sackcloth, while they were bearing their Teſtimony againſt his Doing; and that his Commiſſion was, That he

Rev. 12. ſhould have leave to make War ſo long. But here we read again, that when they had finiſhed their Teſtimony, and ſo conſequently he had run out the time of his firſt Commiſſion for War, he makes War again. So that this War which now he raiſeth againſt them, ſeems to be another, a new War, and ſuch as is grounded upon other, to wit, new Arguments, beſides thoſe upon which his firſt War ſtood. By his firſt War, he ſought to beat down and overthrow their Teſtimony: By this War he ſeeketh to overthrow themſelves. The firſt War he made, was grounded upon a vain Confidence of his Ability to deſtroy their Faith; but this laſt was grounded upon madneſs againſt them, becauſe their Teſtimony had prevailed againſt him: Wherefore, Torment wherewith theſe Witneſſes by their Teſtimony tormented him and his Followers, was the cauſe of this laſt War. And this is inſinuated, when he ſaith, They made merry for their victory over them, becauſe theſe two Prophets, (to wit, by their Teſtimony,) tormented them that dwelt on the Earth. Rev. 13. 4. Rev. 11. 10.

The Beaſt therefore will make a War againſt the Witneſſes all the time of their Propheſying in Sackcloth, which will be a Thouſand two hundred and threeſcore Days. In all which time they ſhall give him the foyl, and overcome him by their Faith and Teſtimony; and be proclaimed more than Conquerours over him, through the Chriſt that loved them. But now, in this ſecond War he overcomes them, he overcomes them, and kills them. Rev. 12. 20.

Jezabel for a long time made War againſt Elias the Prophet, ſeeking to overthrow the Worſhip of God which he maintained, and to eſtabliſh the Religion of Baal: But when ſhe ſaw that by all ſhe could do ſhe got nothing, but that the Prophet got the day of her Worſhip, Prieſts, and Worſhippers, ſhe breaks out into a rage, as one tormented almoſt to death, and raiſes a new War; not now againſt his Religion, but his Perſon, and deſperately ſwears by all the Gods that ſhe had, That by to morrow that time the Life of the Prophet ſhould be as the Life of one of her Prieſts whom he had ſlain for an Idolater. When the Devil ſees that he cannot do by Argument, he will try if he can by Blows. 1 Kings 3. 26. Ch. 19. 2. Ch. 22. 24.

When Zedikiah, the Son of Chenanah, ſaw that with Argument he could not overcome Micaiah, he ſteps to him, and takes him a box o'th' Ear. This New War, is a box o'th' Ear which the Beaſt will give the Witneſſes, becauſe they overcame him by their Faith and Teſtimony, all the time that the firſt War laſted.

Now how long this ſecond War will laſt, and what ſtruglings the Witneſſes will make before he ſhall overcome them, I know not: This I know, that the Text ſaith, By this War he ſhall overcome them.

And ſhall overcome them.] Saints are not ſaid to be overcome, when they are Impriſoned, Baniſhed, and Killed for their faithful Teſtimony: No, by theſe things they overcome. To Overcome then, is to get the Maſtery, to Subdue, to turn out of Poſſeſſion, to take and hold Captive, to ſtrip the Subdued of Power and Priviledge, as is ſufficiently manifeſt both by Scripture and Reaſon: For of whom a man is overcome, of the ſame he is brought in bondage. 2 Pet. 2. 19, 20, 21.

So then, when he is ſaid to Overcome them, 'tis meant, he ſhall get the Maſtery of them, they ſhall grow faint before him, have no Heart or Spirit to bear up in their Profeſſion againſt him: Againſt him, I ſay, as ſhe did the the Thouſand two hundred and threeſcore Days War with him; for then they were Overcomers, and did bear away the Garland.

Nor do I, for my part, wonder at this, when I conſider that theſe Witneſſes are a Succeſſion of good Men; and that when Iſrael came out of Egypt of old, the feeble and weak handed did come behind. It will be the Lot therefore of the Church, in the latter end of the Reign of the Beaſt, to be feeble and weak in their Profeſſion, the valiant Ones have gone before: Theſe will come in, when thoſe that were able have bravely born their Teſtimony, or when they are upon finiſhing of that: In compariſon of whom, they that come after will be but like Eggs to the Cocks of the Game; wherefore they muſt needs be cruſhed, cow'd, and overcome. And then will the Beaſt boaſt himſelf, as did his Type of old, and ſay, Mine hand has found, as a neſt, the riches of the people; and as one gathereth Eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or that opened the mouth, or peeped.

Iſa.10. 13. Deut. 17. 17,18,19.

A ſad time, and it is to happen to the People that are left, to the latter end of the Witneſs-bearers; and that too, when they ſhall have finiſhed their Teſtimony.

Of this Tyranny the Cruelty of Amalek was a Type; who, as was hinted before, ſmote the hindermoſt, the weak: But his Judgment is, That he ſhall periſh for ever.

And ſhall overcome them.] There are Two ways of Overcoming; to wit, by Power and Policy: And perhaps by both theſe ways they may be overcome. However, overcome they ſhall be; for ſo ſaith the holy Word of God; yea, the Beaſt ſhall overcome them. Wherefore, the Church of God, at that day, will be under ſuch a Cloud as ſhe never was ſince Chriſt's day.

Now how long they ſhall thus be held Captive before they are brought to Execution; whether the Beaſt will ride in Triumph while they are in his Bounds; or whether he will ſuddenly kill them; that Time, and Obſervation, and Experience muſt make manifeſt: But kill them he ſhall, that's moſt certain; for ſo ſays the Holy Ghoſt,

And ſhall overcome them, and kill them.] In this method therefore God will ſuffer the Beaſt to proceed with the Church of God, after ſhe has ſufficiently born her Teſtimony for him in the World. He ſhall war againſt them, but that is not all: He ſhall overcome them, but that is not all; he ſhall overcome them, and kill them.

Exod. 32. 18. Acts 7. 34. Jer. 12. 11. Acts 11. 32

And kill them.] Of their ſlaughter alſo I ſhall ſpeak a word or two. But firſt I would note, as all know, that there is a difference to be put betwixt Killing and Overcoming: For though every one that is Killed, is Overcome; yet every one that is overcome, is not killed: Men may be overcome, and yet live; but when they are killed, 'tis otherwiſe: There may be a Cry heard from the Mouth of them that are Overcome, but not from the Mouth of them that are Killed: They that are Overcome, may conſult their own Enlargement and Deliverance; but they that are Killed, cannot do ſo. I do therefore diſtinguiſh betwixt being Killed and Overcome, becauſe the Text doth ſo: He ſhall make war againſt them, and ſhall overcome them, and kill them.

And kill them.] From theſe words therefore I will take occaſion to enquire,

1. How they are to be conſidered as to this Slaughter.

2. What Death they muſt die to accompliſh this Prophecy.

Firſt, How they are to be conſidered?

I Anſwer: Not in a Carnal or Natural, but in a Myſtical ſence. For, Firſt, They are called Witneſſes. Secondly, They are put under the number of Two: My two Witneſſes. Both which are to be Myſtically taken. Rev. 11.

Firſt, Becauſe their Teſtimony ſtandeth not in their Words only, but in their Converſation; yea, in their Suffering alſo: And that is a myſtical Witneſs-bearing.

Secondly, They go under the Number of Two: Not becauſe there were indeed two ſuch Men in the World, but becauſe Two are a ſufficient Number to bear Witneſs; and God's Church, in the moſt furious heat and rage of Antichriſt, has been at leaſt of ſuch a number of profeſſing Saints, to proclaim againſt the Beaſt and his Worſhip, in the Name of God. To think that there have been two ſuch Men in the World, is ridiculous; for theſe Witneſſes muſt continue to give their Teſtimony for God againſt Antichriſt, a Thouſand two hundred and threeſcore Years. Nor can they Scripturally bear this Title, My two Witneſſes, but with reſpect to their Propheſying ſo long. The Witneſſes therefore are nothing elſe but a ſucceſſive Church, or the Congregation of God abiding for him againſt Antichriſt, by reaſon of a continual Succeſſion of Men that is joyned by the ſpecial Bleſſing of God unto it. Numb. 35. 30. Deut. 19. 15. Ch. 19. 15.

Secondly, What Death they muſt die? I Anſwer, Not a Corporeal one, but that which is Myſtically ſuch. And I chuſe to underſtand it thus, becauſe this ſuiteth beſt with their State and Condion, which is myſtical. Beſides, thus did they (when they did overcome,) ſlay their Enemies, even with the Fire or Sword of their Mouth: If any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth and devoureth their enemies: If any man will hurt them, he muſt in this manner be killed. As therefore they went about to kill their Enemies, ſo their Enemies will kill them: But they ſought to kill their Enemies by their Teſtimony, as to their Antichriſtian Spirit, and Church State; and their Enemies will kill them, as to their Chriſtian Heat and fervency of Mind; and alſo as to their Chriſtian Church ſtate. So that, (at leaſt ſo I think,) there will be ſuch Ruines brought both upon the Spirit of Chriſtianity, and the True Chriſtian Church State, before this Antichriſt is deſtroyed, that there will for a time ſcarce be found a Chriſtian Spirit, or a True Viſible Living Church of Chriſt in the World: Nothing but the dead Bodies of theſe will be to be ſeen of the Nations; nor them neither, otherwiſe than as ſo many ruinous Heaps. For the Love that I bare to the Church of Chriſt, I wiſh, as to this, I may prove a falſe Prophet: But this looks ſo Rev. 11. 5.

like the Text, and alſo ſo like the Diſpenſations of God with his Church of old, that I cannot but think it will be ſo. For the Text, I have ſpoken to that already; wherefore I will now preſent you with ſome things that look like parallel Caſes.

Firſt, When the Church was coming out of Egypt, juſt before they were delivered from Pharaoh, they were in their own Eyes, and in the Eyes of their Enemies, none other than Exod. 14. dead: It had been better (ſaid they to Moſes) that we had ſerved the Egyptians, than that we
14. 9. ſhould die in this wilderneſs. The People ſaid ſo, Moſes feared, and Pharaoh concluded they were all dead Men. Alſo Paul tells us, that they were Baptized (that is, Buried) unto Moſes, in the Cloud, and in the Sea. They were, for the time, to uſe the Expreſſion, a dead Church, both in the Eeys of Pharaoh, in the Eyes of Moſes, and alſo in their own.

And 'tis to be taken notice of: As the Witneſſes in the Text were ſlain but a little before the Ruine of Antichriſt began; ſo this Church was baptized in the Sea but a little before Great Pharaoh was drowned there.

Secondly, In the time of Elias, which time alſo was typical of this, what Church was there to be ſeen in Iſrael? None but what was under Ground, buried in Dens, and in Caves of the Earth: Yea, the Prophet could ſee none, and therefore he cried to God, and
Rom. 11. 19. ſaid, Lord, they have digged down thine Altars,
3. and ſlain thy Prophets; and I am left alone, and
11. 3. they ſeek my Life! What viſible living Church was now in the Land, I mean, either with reference to a godly Spirit for it, or the Form and Conſtitution of it? What was, was known to God, but dead to every Man alive.

Thirdly, What was the dry Bones that we read of in the 37*th.* of Ezekiel, but the Church of God, and alſo a Figure of what we are Ezek. 37. 30. treating of? And why called dry Bones, ſince the People were alive, with their Subſtance, Wives and Children; but to ſhew, that that Church of God was now, as to their Spirit and Church State, accounted as dead, not only by themſelves, but by the King of Babylon,
2. and the Nations round about? Babylon then was the Valley, and the Grave; and the Church of God were the Bones: Bones without Fleſh, Sinews or Skin; Bones exceeding dry; yea,
3. ſo dry and dead were they, that the Prophet himſelf could not tell whether ever they ſhould live again.

Now this, as I ſaid, was a State that was not to end with the Church of Iſrael, but to be acted over once again by the Beaſt with the Church of the New-Teſtament: Yea, it is an eaſie matter to make their Witneſſes in this their Death, and the Church of Iſrael in this their Grave, in many things to ſymbolize.

Fourthly, Take another Inſtance, or rather Compariſon, unto which the Church of God compared her ſelf, when under the King of Babylons Tyranny: And that is, ſhe counted her ſelf as the Dung that the Beaſt lets fall to the ground from behind him. And doth this look like a Viſible Church State? Or has it the ſmell or ſavour of ſuch a thing? Nebuchadnezzar (ſaid ſhe) hath ſwallowed me up like Jer. 50. 34.
a Dragon; he hath filled his belly with my delicates; he hath caſt me out. Pray, what would you think of a Man, of whom one ſhould tell you, That he was eaten up of a Dragon; made to fill the Belly of a Dragon; and caſt out as the Dung of a Dragon? Would you think that ſuch an one did all this while retain the Shape, Form or Similitude of a Man? Why, thus the Church ſaid ſhe was, and thus the Church ſhall be again: For ſhe is once more to be Overcome, to be overcome and killed; and that by the Beaſt, the Dragon's Whelp, of which the King of Babylon was a Type. And therefore I conclude the Premiſes; that is, That the Beaſt will kill the Church that ſhall be in the latter days, as to her Chriſtian Spiritedneſs, and her Church State. And I could further add, That if we hold they die Corporeally, we muſt conclude, that their Natural Body being ſlain, ſhall lie Three Years and a half in the Street; yea, that their Reſurrection ſhall be Corporeal, &c. But why we ſhould think thus, as yet I can ſee no Reaſon, ſince the Perſons are ſuch Myſtically; the Beaſt Myſtically ſo; the Street in which they be, Myſtically ſuch; and the Days of their unburied State, to be taken Myſtically likewiſe. But we will paſs this, and deſcend to other things.

Fifthly, I will yet add another thing. When Iſrael was coming out of Babylon; yea, while they were building of the Temple of God, which was a Figure of our Church State now under the Goſpel; they were not only troubled, hindred and moleſted in their Work, but were made for a time to ceaſe, and let the Work lye ſtill.

Now (ſays the Text) when the Copy of King Ezra 4. 23.
Artaxerxes Letter (which he ſent to forbid the Jews in their work) was read before Rehum and Shimſhai the Scribe, and their Companions, they went up in haſte to Jeruſalem unto the Jews, and made them to ceaſe by force and power. Then ceaſed the work of the Houſe of God which is at Jeruſalem: ſo it ceaſed unto the ſecond year of the reign of Darius the King of Perſia.

And I pray, ſince their Temple-Worſhip was a Type of a New-Teſtament Church State and Worſhip, what doth their cauſing of that Work to ceaſe ſignifie to us, but that we muſt have a time alſo to ceaſe as they? And ſince their Temple-work was cauſed to ceaſe before the Houſe was finiſhed, what face could there be at preſent thereupon, but that, to look to, it was like ſome deformed, battered, broken Building, or as ſuch an one that was begun by fooliſh Builders? Yea, and ſince the Jews left off to build God's Houſe at the Command of the Heathens, what did that beſpeak, but that they had loſt their Spirit, were quaſhed, and ſo as to their Temple-work, killed, as it were, to all intents and purpoſes? And thus it will be, a little before the Church of God ſhall be ſet free from the Beaſt, and all his Angels: For theſe things were writ for our Admonition, to ſhew us what ſhall be done hereafter; yea, and whether we believe or disbelieve hereabout, Time will bring it to paſs.

I do not queſtion but many good Men have writ more largely of this Matter; but as I have not ſeen their Books, ſo I walk not by their Rules. If I miſtake, the Miſtakes are only mine; and if I ſhall merit Shame, I alone muſt bear it.

Some may think they have ſaid enough, when they aſſert, That for the Witneſſes to be Killed, is, To be Dead in Law: But I Anſwer, That is not to be Overcome. They are here ſaid to be Overcome; and that is more than to be Dead in Law: For a Man may be Dead in Law, and yet not be Overcome; and if ſo, then far enough off from being Killed. So then, for as much as they are ſaid to be Overcome, and Killed, it muſt be more than to be Dead in Law. Beſides, the Text ſuppoſeth that they had yielded up, as dying Men do their Souls, their Spirit of Life into the hands of God: For it ſaith concerning them, That at their Reſurrection, the Spirit of Life from God entred (again) into them: Into them, antecedent thereunto: And after three days and an half, the Spirit of Life from God entred into them, and they ſtood upon their feet. Thus it was concerning the dry Bones, of which mention was made before: Then ſaid he unto me, Propheſie unto the wind, propheſie, ſon of man, and ſay to the wind, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon theſe ſlain, that they may live. And thus much concerning their Killing.

Ezek. 37. 9

57. Now, as I ſaid, ſince in Death, the Body doth not only lye dead, but the Spirit of Life departs therefrom; it is to ſhew, that not only their Bodies, their Church State, ſhall die, (for Churches are called Bodies,) but that Spirit of Life that acted thoſe Bodies, ſhall be taken up to God. There ſhall, for a time, be no Living Viſible Church of Chriſt in the World: A Church, but no Living Church, as to Church State: A Church in Ruines, but not a Church in Order: Even as there was once a Chriſt, but no Living Chriſt in the Grave; yet the Gates of Hell ſhall not prevail to an utter Overthrow thereof, no more than they prevailed to an utter Overthrow of Chriſt; but as one did, ſo ſhall the other, revive, and riſe again, to the utter Confuſion and Deſtruction of their Enemies: Yea, and as Chriſt, after his Reſurrection, was, as to his Body, more Glorious than he was before; ſo the Witneſſes, after their Reſurrection, ſhall be more Spiritual, Heavenly, and Exact in all their Ways, than they were before they were killed. Reſurrections are always attended with new Additions of Glory; and ſo ſhall the Church of God, as to her Church-ſtate, be in the latter days.

1 Cor. 12. 27. Eph. 3. 6. Ch. 4. 12. Ch. 6. 23. Col. 1. 18.

But yet the Beaſt ſhall not altogether have his Will, (if that at all was his Will,) that theſe Witneſſes, in this Second War, ſhould be conquered to a Complyance with Antichriſt in his fooliſh and vain Religion: For it is not with dead Men to comply; but as they are dead to their own Church-ſtate, ſo they are to his. When the Jews had killed Chriſt, it was beyond all the Art of Hell to cauſe that his Body ſhould ſee Corruption; ſo when the Beaſt has killed the Witneſſes, he ſhall not be able to corrupt them with any of his Vices.

Hence you find, that not the Witneſſes, but the Dwellers upon the Earth were them that danced after the Devils Pipe, when he had fulfilled thir Murther.

Nor doth this Murther, as to the fulfilling of it in thoſe Nations where the Woman ſitteth, ſeem to be a great way off, if all be true that from Foreign Parts ſome have ſaid: For what a withdrawing of God and of his Spirit is there already in ſome of the Churches of God! The Word worketh not that ſound Repentance which it was wont to do: Preachers preach for little, but to ſpend themſelves, as Men that are wounded do when with groans they let out their Life. Where (ſay ſome) is the Spirit and Life of Communion? And where that Practical Holineſs that formerly uſed to be ſeen in the Houſes, Lives and Converſations of Profeſſors? The whole Head is ſick, and the whole Heart faint already; and how long will it be before Churches die of the wound that the Beaſt has given them, Time muſt make appear: But die I perceive they muſt; for if the Wound already given will not kill, repeated Blows ſhall.

By all that I have ſaid, I do not deny but that many of the People of God may die Corporeally, by the Hand of the Beaſt, in this ſecond War that ſhall be made by him againſt the Witneſſes: But ſhould as many more die, that will not prove that that Death will be that that by the killing of the Witneſſes is intended.

Some thing I would beſtow upon the Reader, for him to carry with him as a Memorandum, while he reads this Account of Things: As,

Firſt, This Victory of the Beaſt, is not to be until the Witneſſes have finiſhed their Teſtimony; and ſo by all that he ſhall do, he ſhall not hinder the Revelation of any of the Truths that they either were to bring to light, or to confirm by their Witneſs-bearing.

Witneſſes are not always bound to ſpeak: There is a time to keep ſilence: And thou ſhalt be dumb. But how ſhall we know when this time is come?

1. When a ſufficient Teſtimony has been given for Chriſt, and againſt Antichriſt, before the God of Heaven; for he muſt be the Judge.

2. When her Enemies forbear to plead againſt her by Argument, and rather betake themſelves to Blows.

3. When the Spirit of Teſtimony-bearing is taken from the Church; for that is not eſſential to Chriſtianity, but is given and taken away as there is occaſion.

4. When Teſtimony-bearing becomes a vain or needleſs Repetition, when they have heard ſufficiciently of things before.

Secondly, This Victory of the Beaſt ſhall not invalidate or weaken their Teſtimony; no, not in the Eyes of the World; for they will ſtill remember, and have a reverence for it: This is intimated by this, That they of the People, and Kindreds, and Tongues, and Nations, (that are neither the Witneſſes, nor they that in the next Verſe are called the Inhabiters, or they that dwell Rev. 11. 9. dwell upon the Earth,) shall not suffer their dead Bodies to be buried, or put into graves.

Thirdly, This shall not lengthen the Reign and Tranquility of the Antichristian Kingdom; nor frustrate, drive back (or cause to tarry) the glorious freedom and liberty of the Saints.

But some may say, This will be a SAD Day.

So it will, and gloomy; but it will be but short, and the Righteous shall have dominion over them next Morning: 'twill last but Three days and an half; nor shall it come, but for the Sins of Churches and Saints, and to hasten the Downfall of the Kingdom of the Beast, and for the sweetning to the Church her future Mercies. Christ Jesus, our Lord, in Answer to the Question of his Disciples, about the Destruction of Jerusalem, presented them with a Relation of many sad things; but when he was come even to the Hearts of Men, and had told them that they should fail for fear: He said, When these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads, for your redemption draweth nigh.

Luk. 21. 25, 26, 27, 28.

'Tis as ordinary as for the Light to shine, for God to make black and dismal Dispensations, to usher in bright and pleasing; yea, and the more frightful that is which goes before, the more comforting is that which follows after. Instances abundance might be given as to this, but at present let this suffice that is here upon the Paper before us; namely, The State of the Witnesses, with their glorious Resurrection.

61. Fifthly, Another Sign of the approach of the Ruine of Antichrist, will be this: The great Joy that will be in her, and and among her Disciples, when they shall see that the Witnesses are slain, and lye dead upon the spot: And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoyce over them, and make merry, and send gifts one to another, because these two Prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth. Babylon has been always a merry City, and her Disciples merry Men; but the poor Church of Christ has been solitary, and as a Wife forsaken; her Tears upon her Cheeks bear her witness, and so doth her Sackcloth-weed.

Fifth Sign.

Rev. 11. 10.

Hence our Babylon, under the Name of Nineveh, is called, The Rejoycing City. Only her Joy is distinguished from that which is the Joy of God's People, by these Two things.

Zeph. 2. 15.

First, Either she rejoyceth in outward and carnal Glory, or else in the Ruine of the Church of God. This last, to wit, The (supposed) Ruine of the Church of God, is that which will be now the cause of her Glorying. And this is the Joy that God complaineth of, and for the which he said that he would punish Babylon: Caldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her, shall be satisfied, saith the Lord; because ye were glad, because ye rejoyced, ye destroyers of mine heritage, &c. The Joy therefore of Babylon, Antichrist; the Joy that she shall conceive in her Heart upon the slaughter of the Witnesses, is a sure Sign of her unavoidable Ruine and Destruction. These two Prophets tormented her; they were to Babilon, as Mordecai was to Haman, a continual Plague and Eye-sore: As also was David to the wretched Saul: But now they are overcome, now they are killed; now she rejoyceth, and maketh merry. And this her Joy was of old prefigured by them that in her Spirit have gone before her: As,

Jer. 50. 10, 11.

62. First, When the Philistines had, as they thought, for ever overcome Samson, that Nazarite of God, how joyful were they of the Victory! And the Lords of the Philistines gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice unto Dagon their god, and to rejoyce; for they said, Our god hath delivered Samson our enemy into our hands. And when the people saw him, (saw him in Chains,) they praised their god; for they said, Our god hath delivered into our hands our enemy, and the destroyer of our countrey, who slew many of us. Poor Samson! while thou haddest thy Locks, thy Liberty, and thine Eyes, thou didst shake the Pillar that did bear up their Kingdom! But now they have conqured thee, how great is their Joy! How Great is their Joy, and how Near their Downfall! This therefore is a Joy that is like that we have under Consideration, to wit, the Joy of them that dwell upon the Earth; for that the Witnesses that did bear up the Name of God in the World, were overcome and killed.

Judg. 16. 23, 24.

63. Secondly, Like to this, is that which you read of in the First Book of Samuel, concerning the Men that had burnt David's Ziklag: Ziklag was poor David's place of safety; nor had he any else but that under the whole Heaven: But the Children of the East came upon it, and took it; set it on fire, and carried thence all David's Substance, with his Wives and his Children. (Very ill done to a Man in Affliction; to a Man that went always in fear of his Life, because of the rage of his Master Saul.) But how were they that had got the Victory? Oh! joyful, and glad, and merry at heart at the thoughts of the Richness of the Booty! Behold, they were scattered abroad upon all the earth, eating, and drinking, and dancing, because of all the great spoil that they had taken out of the Land of the Philistines (from Ziklag,) and out of the Land of Judah. Here again you find a joy and merriment like these that we have under Consideration, and that upon such like Accounts. Nothing pleases the Wicked more, than to see the Godly go down the wind; for their Words, and Lives, and Actions are a plague and a torment to them: As 'tis said of these two Prophets, They tormented them that dwelt on the Earth.

1 Sam. 30. 16.

64. Thirdly, While the Church of God lay dead in Babylon, and as Bones exceeding dry; what a trampling upon them was there by Belshazzar, a little before his Death! He called for the Golden and Silver Vessels that his Father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the Temple of God that was at Jerusalem, (those holy Vessels once dedicated to the Worship and Service of God,) that his Princes, his Wives and his Concubines might drink therein. An high Affront to Heaven: They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, and of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone: And all to shew what a Conquest, as he thought, he had got over the God of Heaven, and over his People that dwelt in Jerusalem, and over his Ordinances and Vessels used in his Worship and Service: Yea, this he did with ſuch Joy that was not uſual, as is intimated by his doing of it before a Thouſand of his Lords, and that till he had drank himſelf drunken. But all this while, as was hinted before, the Church of God, as it were, lay dead at his Feet; or as the Phraſe is, as Bones exceeding dry. This too will be the Joy of the Beaſt and his Followers in the latter days; they will make war with the Witneſſes; they ſhall overcome them, and kill them; and when that is done, they ſhall rejoyce over them, and make merry. But as Belſhazzar ſoon after this, ſaw the Hand-writing that made his Knees knock together; and as he lived not to ſee the light of another day; ſo 'twill be with the Beaſt and his Followers; the next News that we hear upon this Mirth and Jollity, is, the Tenth part of his Kingdom falls, and ſo on till the whole is ruined.

65. Thirdly, Moab alſo, in the day that Iſrael was taken Captive by their Enemies, could not forbear but skip for joy, ſo glad was he in his heart thereat. But what ſaith the jealous Lord? Make him drunken, for he magnifieth himſelf againſt the Lord: Moab alſo ſhall be a deriſion: For was not Iſrael (ſaith God) a deriſion to thee? was he found among thieves? for ſince thou ſpakeſt of him, thou ſkippeſt for joy. Of all things, God cannot away with this: For when the Wicked would rejoyce that they have been ſuffered to make havock of the Church of God, they deny the Wiſdom and Power by which they were permitted to do this, and offer Sacrifice to their own Net and Drag; which provoketh the Holineſs of Iſrael: Shall the Ax boaſt it ſelf againſt him that heweth therewith? or ſhall the Saw magnifie it ſelf againſt him that ſhaketh it? As if the Rod ſhould ſhake it ſelf againſt him that lifteth it up; or as if the ſtaff ſhould lift up it ſelf, as if it were no wood. But what follows? Why, Burning and Conſuming of Soul and Body of them that do ſuch a thing: And this Text I the rather bring, becauſe 'tis to be the Portion of Antichriſt.

Habbak. 1. 15, 16.

Iſa.10. 15, 16,17,18.

And therefore let this be a Caution to the Men that wonder after the Beaſt, to caution them to Repentance, for he will aſſuredly go into Perdition. What! ſhall the Witneſſes of God be killed! Shall the Beaſt ſtand glorying over them while they are dead, with his Feet in their Neck? and ſhall none be angry at it? Let them that love themſelves look to themſelves: God will be concerned, and will aſſuredly for this quickly put a period to the Kingdom and Reign of Antichriſt.

Jer.50.23. And although this glorying Miſtreſs of Iniquity, this Antichriſt and Babilon, may ſay that her Power is the Hammer of the whole Earth; yet God will cut him in ſunder, and break him in pieces with his Bout-Hammers, with the * Kings of the Earth, that he will uſe to do this work withall; that is, when this laſt Sign is fulfilled: I call it the laſt Sign; I find none that doth intervene betwixt the Slaying of the Witneſſes, and the beginnings of the Ruine of Antichriſt but this.

* Proteſtant Kings.

But a little to Comment upon their Joy, as the Holy Ghoſt doth ſet it forth. The Cauſe of their Joy we have touched already; which was, for that they had ſlain their Tormentors: For, as was ſhewed you, the Witneſſes had been their Tormentors: But when they ſhall overcome them, and kill them, they rejoyce, make merry, and ſend Gifts one to another. 66.

This repeating, and repeating with Aggravation, doth manifeſt, that at that day their Joy will be exceeding great: They ſhall rejoice, and make merry, &c. They ſhall rejoyce over them, over their ſlain, their Enemies, their tormenting Enemies. This Joy therefore, is a Joy that flows from Victory, from Victory after a War that has laſted a Thouſand two hundred and threeſcore Years. They ſhall rejoyce, as they do that have a moſt potent, vexatious and tormenting Enemy lying dead at their foot, and as thoſe that ride in triumph over them. They ſhall therefore rejoyce as Conquerors uſe to do, who make the Slaughters of their ſpoiled Enemies the Trophy of their Joy.

For the Devil, that great Deceiver of Mankind, will ſo fluſh up, and bewitch the Men that wonder after the Beaſt, with the Victory that they ſhall get over the faithful Witneſſes for God and his Son, that they will think ('twill never be day) that the Victory is ſo compleat, ſo univerſal, ſo thorough, that the Conqueſt muſt be laſting. And from Senſe and Reaſon they will have ground to think ſo; for who now is left in the World any more to make head againſt them? But here comes in that which will utterly ſpoil this Joy; theſe conquered, killed, dead Men muſt come to life again, and then what's become of their Joy? And great fear fell upon all that ſaw them. Wherefore, this Joy muſt fade and vaniſh: But, I ſay, the Followers of the Beaſt will be far from thinking ſo; for they will rejoyce over them, make merry, and ſend Gifts one to another, concluding that theſe Tormentors ſhall never torment them more. But Jacob's Bleſſing upon his Son Gad, ſhall be fulfilled upon theſe Witneſſes: Gad (ſaith he,) a troop ſhall overcome him; but he ſhall overcome at the laſt. So then, theſe Conquerors muſt not always rejoyce, though they will ſuppoſe they ſhall, and alſo make merry too. 67.

Gen.49.19. 1 Sam.30. 36. 2 Sam.13. 28. Eccl 10.19. Jer. 31.4. Luk. 15. 25, 32.

And make merry.] To make merry, is more than to rejoyce: To rejoyce, doth ſhew the preſent Act of the Soul; but to make merry, is to uſe the Means as will keep this Joy alive, and on foot. Joy is one thing, and the Continuance of it is another. Joy may be begotten by a Conceit, a Thought; but it cannot be maintained ſo; becauſe Deliberation will come in and ſpoil it, if ſufficient means is not uſed to continue it: Wherefore he adds, They rejoyced over them, [And made merry.]

Judg. 16. 6, 9.

And there are Five things that are uſually made uſe of to keep up wicked Joy. (1.) There is,

5.4. is, The Merriment of Muſick. (2.) The Merriment of Feaſting. (3.) The Merriment of of Laughter. (4.) The Merriment of Fleſhly ſolace. (5.) Revenge upon a ſuppoſed Enemy. So then, by theſe Five things we ſee what is the way that ſinful Joy is maintained in the Hearts of wicked Men; and alſo by what means the Limbs and Brats of Antichriſt will keep up that Joy that at firſt will be conceived in their hearts at the thought that now they have killed their Tormentors. (1.) They ſhall have Muſick. (2.) They ſhall have Feaſting. (3.) They ſhall have Laughter. (4.) They ſhall have fleſhly Solace. And, (5.) They ſhall have their fill, for the time, of Revenge. Thus therefore ſhall they rejoyce over them, and make merry, all the time of that little, ſhort Everlaſting that they are to live in the World.

68. And make merry.] To make merry, to make wicked Mirth, there muſt be a continual Fraternity, or Brotherhood in Iniquity, maintained among them, and that where none may come to interrupt; and that they will be capable of doing any where then, for that their Tormentors will be dead. Wickedneſs ſhall walk with open face in thoſe days; for then there will be none alive for God and his ways; wherefore, the Beaſt and his Train may do what they will: Now will be the time for Men to live careleſly and wantonly, and to make their Wantonneſs their Joy, (after the manner of the Zidonians,) for there will be none to put them to ſhame.

And ſhall ſend Gifts one to another.] This is another Token of their Gladneſs, and alſo a means to buoy them up ſtill: And it will be a Sign that they have joyned hand in hand to do this wickedneſs, not dreaming of the Puniſhment that muſt follow. This ſending of Gifts to each other, and that after they have ſlain theſe two Prophets, doth alſo declare that they will be far from Repentance for the Commiſſion of ſo great an Offence. Nay, it ſignifies further, that they were reſolved, and determined to quench all manner of Convictions one in another that might ariſe in their hearts for the Sin which they had committed: For a Gift blinds the Eyes of the Wiſe, and perverts the Judgment of the Righteous; how much more then will it ſtifle and choak appearances of ſuch upon the Spirits of wicked Men! I queſtion not at all but many have been, by the Favours and Gifts of wicked Men, drawn down into the Belly of Hell.

Now what theſe Gifts will be, either as to kind or quantity, that I can ſay nothing to: But probably, whatever they will be, there will be but little of their own coſt in them. Victors and Conquerors do uſe to viſit their Friends with their Spoyls won in Battel, with the Spoyl of the Enemies of their God.

And this was David's way, after he had recovered the loſs that he had ſuſtained at the burning of his Ziklag; he ſent to his Friends of what he had taken from his Enemies, as Token of Victory: David ſent of the ſpoyl (ſays the Text) unto the Elders of Judah, even to his friends; ſaying, Behold a Preſent for you of the Spoyls of the Enemies of the Lord! And why may not thoſe we have now under Conſideration, do ſo to their God, and their Friends alſo? Spoyling is like to be one of the laſt of the Miſchiefs that Antichriſt ſhall do to the Church of God in this World; And methinks, ſince the Beaſt will have power to Overcome, and to Kill, he ſhould alſo have power to Take away: Haſt thou killed, and alſo taken poſſeſſion? ſaid the Prophet to wicked Ahab. 1 Sam. 30 26. Ezra 9.7. Dan. 11.33

69. However, whatever their Gifts may be, and at whoſe coſt ſoever bought, 'tis a ſign their hearts will be open, they ſhall ſend Gifts one to another: Their merry days will then be come, and their Enemies will then be dead at their feet; wherefore, now they will have nothing to do but to rejoyce over them, and to make merry, and to ſend Gifts one to another.

Thus, as to Senſe and Reaſon, all ſhall be huſh, all ſhall be quiet and ſtill: The Followers of the Lamb ſhall be down; the Followers of the Beaſt ſhall be up, cry Peace and ſafety, and ſhall be as ſecure as an hard Heart, falſe Peace, and a deceitful Devil can make them: But behold! While they thus ſing in the window, Death is ſtradling over the threſhold! While they are crying Peace and Safety, ſudden Deſtruction cometh: By that they have well ſettled themſelves at their Table with Adonijah, they ſhall hear it proclaimed with ſound of Trumpet, The Witneſſes are riſen again. Zeph. 2.14. 1 Kings 1.

Now the Chriſtians Pipes will go again; and ſurely the Earth will be rent with the ſound of their Shouts and Acclamations, while they cry with joyful Sound, The Kingdoms of this world are become the Kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Chriſt, and he ſhall reign for ever and ever. Rev. 11. 15, 16.

But wo to the Wicked, it ſhall be ill with them; for the Lord Jeſus will now begin to ſhew his Jealouſie, and to make known his Indignation towards thoſe that have thus cruelly ſlain his Prophets, digged down his Altars, and made ſuch havock of the afflicted Church of God. Now will he whet his glittering Sword, and his hand ſhall take hold on Vengeance, that he may render a Recompence to his Enemies, and repay them that hate him. Iſa. 66. 14. Deut. 32. 40, 41.

But this he will not do immediately by himſelf, but by ſuch Inſtruments as have been ſpoken of before: Of which more particularly to treat, ſhall be that I ſhall next take in hand.

Of the Inſtruments that God will uſe to bring Antichriſt to his Ruine.

70. ALthough I have hinted at this before, yet it may be convenient briefly to touch it again. Antichriſt, as I have told you, conſiſteth of Soul and Body, and muſt be deſtroyed by ſuch Inſtruments as may moſt properly be applied to each. Further, As to the Soul, Spirit or Life of Antichriſt, and its Deſtruction, of that we have alſo ſpoken already: It remains then that now we diſcourſe of the Ruine of his Body and Fleſh.

I then take it, That the Deſtruction of her Fleſh ſhall come by the Sword, as managed in the Hands of Kings, who are God's Miniſters for the Puniſhment of evil Deeds, and the Praiſe of them that do well. Not that the Church, even as a Church, ſhall be quite exempt, and have therein no hand at all; for ſhe, even as ſuch, ſhall with her Faith and Prayers help forward that Deſtruction.

Rom. 13.

The Church therefore, as a Church, muſt uſe ſuch Weapons as are proper to her as ſuch; and the Magiſtrate, as a Magiſtrate, muſt uſe ſuch Weapons as are proper to him as ſuch. When the Church of Iſrael were Priſoners in Babylon, they did not fight their way through their Foes, and the Countreys to Jeruſalem; but waited in their captivated ſtate with patience, until the Kings of the Medes and Perſians came to deliver them. Nor is it to be ſlighted, but to be thought on ſeriouſly, that before there was an Iſraelite Captive in Babylon, their Deliverer Cyrus was propheſied of: Which Cyrus did afterwards come and take Babylon, and deliver the Captives, as it was foretold he ſhould. He ſaith unto Cyrus, He is my Shepherd, and ſhall perform all my pleaſure, even ſaying to Jeruſalem, Thou ſhalt be built, and to the Temple, Thy Foundation ſhall be laid. And again, Thus ſaith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whoſe right-hand I have holden to ſubdue Nations before him, &c. I have raiſed him up in righteouſneſs, and I will direct all his ways: he ſhall build my City, and he ſhall let go my Captives, not for price, nor reward, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts. And this accordingly he did, to wit, when the time was come; as may be ſeen in thoſe holy Records where theſe things are made mention of. Indeed, as I ſaid, the Church is not excluded; ſhe may, and ought, with her Faith and Prayer, and holy Life, to ſecond this work of Kings. Wherefore, when God ſpeaks of bringing down the lofty City, and of laying it low in the Duſt by the Church, he ſaith they ſhall do it by their Feet, and with their Steps: The foot ſhall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the ſteps of the needy.

Iſa. 44. 28.

Chap. 45. 1. — 13.

2 Chron. 36. 22, 23. Ezra Ch. 1, 2, & 3.

Iſa. 26. 5, 6.

71. By Feet and Steps, I underſtand the good Lives of the Children of God: But now, when Kings come to deal with her, as Kings, they ſerve her as Samuel ſerved Agag, as a Judge, cut her in pieces with their Swords: Or as you have it elſewhere, They make her deſolate and naked; they eat her fleſh, and burn her with fire. The Sword will be put into their Hands for this very purpoſe. Thus therefore muſt their Deliverance be begun.

It is alſo to be conſidered, That after theſe firſt Kings of the Medes and Perſians had broken the Yoak of the King of Babylon from off the Neck of the Captive Church, and had given her licenſe to go to her place to build her Temple and City, and to ſacrifice there according to the Law of their God, (as both in Ezra and Nehemiah we read;) and when their Work was hindred by Under-Officers, or they endeavoured ſo to do, they pleaded the Licenſe that they received to Build and Sacrifice by the Decree of the firſt Kings, and ſo finiſhed their Deliverance: They went not on in head-ſtrong manner, as if they regarded neither King nor Ceſar: But Zerubbabel, and Joſhua, and the reſt of the chief of the Fathers of Iſrael, ſaid unto them that fought to hinder their work, You have nothing to do with us to build an Houſe to the Lord our God, but we our ſelves will build it unto the Lord God of Iſrael, as King Cyrus the King of Perſia hath commanded us. And as they ſaid, ſo alſo they did: The Elders of the Jews builded and they proſpered, through the propheſying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the Son of Iddo, and they builded and finiſhed it, according to the commandment of the God of Iſrael, and according to the commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes King of Perſia. Yea, they did not only accept of the Kindneſs of Kings, but did acknowledge that Kindneſs with Thankſgiving, as a Gift of the God of Heaven: For the Kings had commanded and given leave to the Jews to go to Jeruſalem, to build their Temple, and to do Sacrifice there, according to the counſel of the Prieſts that were at Jeruſalem, and according to the Law of God that they had in their hand. For Artaxerxes ſent Ezra the Prieſt to enquire after the Condition that Jeruſalem and Judah was in, according to, or by the Law of God that was in his hand. And he had licenſe alſo further to do with the King's Silver and Gold, which he gave for the ſervice of the Houſe of the Lord, according to the Will, Word or Law of HIS God. And thou Ezra (ſays the King,) After the wiſdom of thy God (that is, after his Word,) which is in thy hand; ſet Magiſtrates and Judges which may judge the people that are beyond the River, all ſuch as know the Law of thy God, and teach ye them that know them not. And whoſoever will not do the Law of thy God, (that is, Worſhip, and walk by the Rule of his Teſtament,) and the Law of the King (that is, ſhall refuſe to give Ezra ſuch things as by the King was appointed for Ezra's help in the furthering of the Worſhip of God, according to the Law of his God,) let judgment be executed ſpeedily upon him, whether it be to death, or to baniſhment, or to confiſcation of goods, or to impriſonment. This was therefore a wonderful gracious Licenſe that the King gave now to Ezra: He impoſed nothing upon him or the Jews in Matters of Religion and Worſhip, but left him and them wholly to the Law, Will and Word of God, only he laid check upon wicked and ungodly People: That if they did things contrary to the Laws of Ezra's God, or did ſlight the King's Law, as aforeſaid, that then ſuch Penalties and Pains ſhould be inflicted upon them.

Ezra 7. 25. Ch. 6. 14. Ver. 14. Ver. 25. Ver. 26.

To the ſame purpoſe was the Decree of Cyrus, and that of Darius, to put it in execution. Alſo the Penalty enacted againſt ſuch Offenders,

Ezra 6. 1,—11. Offenders, was full as ſharp and ſevere: Alſo I make a decree (ſaid the King,) That whoſoever ſhall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his houſe; and being ſet up, let him be hanged thereon, and let his houſe be made a dunghil for this.— And the God that hath cauſed his name to dwell there, deſtroy all Kings and People that ſhall put to their hand to alter and to deſtroy this Houſe of God which is at Jernſalem: I Darius have made a decree, let it be done with ſpeed.

73. Ezra 4. 11,—21. Indeed, ſometimes a ſtop was put to this work by the Kings, and the Jews were made to ceaſe by force and power, the which the good People did bear with patience: Alſo they waited to ſee their God go before them among the Kings, who at length took away Artaxerxes, who for a time had put a ſtop to the Work, and brought in another, who gave leave that with ſpeed it ſhould be ſet on foot again.

Chap. 4. 23, 24. Chap. 5.

The Jews did alſo in theſe vacancies, or times in the which hindrances were put, carry it very tenderly and lovingly to thoſe Kings that at preſent they were under, ſubmitting of their Bodies and their Goods to their Will, and meekly endured the Tryal and Affliction, ſerving them with all faithfulneſs, watching to ſave their Lives from the hands of bloody Men. Alſo when the King's Laws, and the Law of their God, did at any time come in Competition, they would indeed adhere to, and do the Law of their God; yet with that tenderneſs to the King, his Crown and Dignity, that they could at all times appeal to the righteous God about it. Nor did they loſe by ſo doing; yea, they proſpered; for by this means Mordecai was made a Great Man, and a Saviour of his People. By this means alſo was Daniel made a great Man, and helpful to his Brethren.

Dan. 6. 22. Eſt. 2. 21, 22, 23. Chap. 7. 9.

Kings, I ſay, muſt be the Men that muſt down with Antichriſt, and they ſhall down with her in God's time.

74. God hath begun to draw the Hearts of ſome of them from her already, and he will ſet them, in time, againſt her round about. If therefore they do not that Work ſo faſt as we would have them, let us exerciſe Patience and Hope in God: 'Tis a wonder that they go ſo faſt as they do, ſince the Concerns of whole Kingdoms lye upon their Shoulders, and that there are ſo many Sanballat's and Tobias's to flatter with them and miſinform them concerning the People that are delivered but in part. See what an ugly Account was given of Jeruſalem by the Enemies of the Jews, even then when they were in the hands of their Deliverers: Be it known to the King, that the Jews which came up from thee to us, are come to Jeruſalem, to build the rebellious and bad City, and have ſet up the walls thereof, and joyned the foundations.— Be it known to the King, That if this City be builded, and the walls ſet up again, then will they not pay toll, tribute and cuſtom, and ſo thou ſhalt endamage the revenue of the Kings. Oh! what a Be it known, Be it known, is here! But were not theſe Gentlemen more afraid of loſing their own Places and Preferments, than of the King's loſing of his Toll and Cuſtom? But the whole was a Lye, though it hindred the Work for a time, and the Patience of the People, and their Loyalty to the King, did Conquer and Overcome all.

Ezra 4. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13.

I ſpeak the more to this, becauſe (as I have ſaid) I believe that by Magiſtrates and Powers we ſhall be delivered and kept from Antichriſt; and becauſe God has already begun to do it by ſuch, by which alſo ſhe ſhall be deſtroyed: And I have a few things to preſent to good Men, to be converſant in, in ſuch a day as this. 75.

Let the King have verily a place in your Hearts, and with Heart and Mouth give God Thanks for him; he is a better Saviour of us than we may be aware of, and may have delivered us from more Deaths than we can tell how to think. We are bidden to give Thanks to God for all Men, and in the firſt place, for Kings, and all that are in authority. 1 Tim. 2. 1, 2.

Be not angry with them, no, not in thy Thought; but conſider, if they go not on in the Work of Reformation ſo faſt as thou wouldeſt they ſhould, the fault may be thine; know that thou alſo haſt thy cold and chill frames of heart, and ſitteſt ſtill when thou ſhouldeſt be up and doing.

Pray for Kings to the God of Heaven, who has the Hearts of Kings in his Hand: And do it without wrath and doubting: Without wrath, becauſe thy ſelf is not perfect; and without doubting, becauſe God governeth them, and has promiſed to bring down Antichriſt by them.

Pray for the long Life of the King.

Pray that God would always give Wiſdom and Judgment to the King.

Pray that God would diſcover all Plots and Conſpiracies againſt his Perſon and Government.

Pray alſo that God would make him able to drive away all Evil and evil Men from his preſence; and that he may be a greater Countenancer than ever, of them that are holy and good, and wait and believe, that God that has begun his quarrel with Babylon, Antichriſt, the Mother of Antichriſt, the Whore; would in his own time, and in his own way, bring her down by the means which he has appointed.

I do confeſs my ſelf one of the old-faſhion Profeſſors, that covet to fear God, and honour the King. I alſo am for bleſſing of them that curſe me, for doing good to them that hate me, and for praying for them that deſpitefully uſe me, and perſecute me: And have had more Peace in the practice of theſe things, than all the World are aware of. I only drop this, becauſe I would ſhew my Brethren that I alſo am one of them; and to ſet them right that have wrong Thoughts of me as to ſo weighty Matters as theſe. 76.

Now theſe Kings whoſe Hearts God ſhall ſet to deſtroy Antichriſt, ſhall do it without thoſe inward Reluctancies that will accompany inferiour Men: They ſhall be ſtript of all Pity and Compaſſion. Hence they are compared to the mighty Waves of the Sea, which ſaith, when the wrecked and dying Marriners cry out for Mercy for themſelves, and for their Children, I am a SEA; I travel not, nor bring forth children; neither do I nouriſh up young men, or bring up virgins: I have therefore no pity for theſe, or any Jer. 51. 42. Iſa. 23. 4, 5.

of them: Therefore they muſt be ſwallowed up of this Sea, and ſink like a Stone in the midſt of theſe mighty Waters.

And thus much for the Means by which God will deſtroy the Body and Fleſh of Antichriſt.

Of the Cauſes of the Ruine of Antichriſt.

77. Although the Cauſes of the Ruine of Antichriſt be to ſome conſpicuous enough, yet to ſome they may be otherwiſe; yea, and will to all Kings and People whoſe Eyes ſhall be held, that they may not ſee the Judgment, in the reaſonableneſs and equitableneſs thereof; and theſe ſhall wail when they ſee the Smoak of her Torment; and theſe ſhall cry, Alas! Alas! Wherefore, for further Edification, as I have treated of the Man of Sin already; ſo will I now, Of the Cauſes of his Downfall. And,

Rev. 18.

Firſt, He muſt down, for that he hath uſurped, and taken the Name and Attributes of God upon himſelf: He hath ſaid, I am God: He hath ſat in the Temple of God, ſhewing himſelf that he is God; yea, and that in contempt and ſcorn of any other, exalting himſelf above all that is called God, or that is worſhipped; yea, hath cried down all Gods but himſelf: Wherefore it muſt needs be, that he be brought to Judgment, that the Truth of his Saying may be proved. And for this cauſe he is threatned, under the Name of the Prince of Tyrus: Becauſe thine heart is lift up (ſaith the Lord,) and thou haſt ſaid, I am a God: Therefore I will bring ſtrangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations, and they ſhall draw their ſwords againſt the beauty of thy wiſdom, and they ſhall defile thy brightneſs: They ſhall bring thee down to the pit, and thou ſhalt die the deaths of them that are ſlain, in the midſt of the ſeas. Wilt thou yet ſay before him that ſlayeth thee, I am a God? But thou ſhalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that ſlayeth thee.

Ezek. 28. 1,2,3,4,5, 6,7,8,9.

78. If God will not give his Name or Glory to another, be ſure he will not be under another; but this to have, and thus to do, Antichriſt has attempted. But how? In that he has been ſo bold as to preſcribe and impoſe a Worſhip beſides, and without reverence of that which God has preſcribed and impoſed: For to do this, is, to make one's ſelf a God. Thou ſhalt have none other Gods but me, is the Firſt Command: And the Firſt, to enforce the Second, Thou ſhalt not make to thy ſelf any graven Image, or the likeneſs of any thing that is in Heaven above, or in the Earth beneath, or in the Waters under the Earth; thou ſhalt not bow down to them, nor worſhip them: For he that thus doth, is an Idolater; and he that theſe things doth impoſe, is one that ſhews himſelf a God. But this doth Antichriſt do: And 'tis worth the noting, That God forbids not only Images, but the Likeneſs of any thing; Books, Altars, Fancies, Imaginations, or any thing in Heaven above, or in the Earth beneath, to bow down to, or to make them a Means to worſhip or come to God by, if he has not commanded nor tolerated them in his Holy Word.

Thus ſaith the Lord: And, I am the Lord, is the Stamp, the Seal and Sign of all true Rules of Worſhip; and therefore it is ſo often repeated both in Moſes, and in the Prophets, where God commandeth Worſhip to be performed, and impoſeth the Means and Methods of it. Now this, Thus ſaith the Lord, Antichriſt has rejected; and, I am the Lord, he hath aſſumed to himſelf; and therefore without the Law, the Word and Commandment, hath framed and impoſed a Worſhip, exalting himſelf in the Temple of God, although he is but the Man of Sin, above all that is called God, or that is worſhipped.

79. Nor is he in this his ſo foul a Fact, without them that Adore, Worſhip his Image, and Wonder after him; yea, he hath got by this means almoſt the whole World to himſelf, who ſay, Who is like unto the Beaſt? Who is able to make war with him? And that they might ſhew their reſolvedneſs to ſtand by him, they receive his Mark in their Fore-head, or in their Hand: His Mark; that is, they either openly or ſeriouſly become his Diſciples, and Worſhip him according to the Rules, Methods and Ways that he hath preſcribed. Wherefore, theſe with him, are alſo to drink of the fierceneſs of the Wrath of Almighty God: If any man worſhip the Beaſt, and his Image, and receives his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the ſame ſhall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation: And he ſhall be tormented with fire and brimſtone in the preſence of the holy Angels, and in the preſence of the Lamb.

Rev. 14. 9, 10.

But I ſay, for that Antichriſt hath thus taken the Place of God, preſcribed and impoſed a Worſhip as a God, got the World to worſhip and wonder after him as after a God: Therefore ſhall he die the death of the Uncircumciſed, both in the Soul, Spirit, Body or Fleſh of Antichriſt; therefore will God enlighten, and gather, and ſet the Kings and Nations againſt him, that both he and his may be buried, and have their doleſom Withdrawing-rooms from the World in the Sides of the Pit's Mouth.

80. Secondly, Antichriſt muſt be deſtroyed, becauſe he hath ſet himſelf againſt the SON of God; againſt the Father, and againſt the Son. He had a ſpite againſt the SON betimes, even then when he came forth but in little bits, when he attempted to deny that he was come in the fleſh. But ſeeing he could make no earnings of that, he hath changed his methods, and ſeeks to run him out and down by other means and ways: Becauſe therefore he hath ſet himſelf againſt the Son of God, the King, therefore he muſt die. That he hath ſet himſelf againſt the SON of God, is alſo evident; for he hath his Name from thence: He is therefore called Antichriſt. That he hath ſet himſelf againſt him, is yet further evident; for that he hath endeavoured to take from him his Headſhip over, and his Offices for and in the Church, which is his Body. He hath plainly endeavoured to be Head, for that he hath ſtriven to take his Wife from him, and to cauſe that ſhe ſhould be called HIS: Yea, he hath endeavoured by all Inventions to proſtrate her to his Luſts, to deflowr her, and to make her

He has been worſe than Pharaoh, who took Abraham's Wife; and worſe than Abimelech, who luſted after Iſaac's: Yea, worſe than Phalti, who run away with David's; for as much as ſhe is higher, beloved better, and coſt more than did any of theſe: would it not be counted an high Affront, for a baſe, inferiour Fellow, to call himſelf the Head of the Queen? Yet thus has Antichriſt done, and worſe; he has called himſelf the Head of the Univerſal Church of God.

And as he has attempted to be Head in his ſtead, ſo to be King, Prieſt and Prophet.

(1.) He has attempted to wreſt his Scepter and Kingdom from him, in that he hath endeavoured to thruſt himſelf into his Throne, which is the Heart and Conſcience of his People. The Heart and Conſcience is that which Chriſt claimeth for his own proper and peculiar Seat: My Son, give me thy heart. That Chriſt may dwell in your heart by faith. In this therefore the Church is not to be for another Man, ſo will he be for her; but this Throne Antichriſt has luſted for, attempted to take, and made war with Chriſt and his Church, becauſe they would not yield up to him this glorious Throne of his, and therefore he muſt die.

Eph. 3. 17.

81. (2.) He hath intruded upon the Prieſtly Office of Chriſt, hath called himſelf High-Prieſt; though the Lord hath ſaid, Becauſe thou rejecteſt knowledge, I will alſo reject thee, that thou ſhalt be no Prieſt to me: ſeeing thou haſt forgotten the Law of thy God, I will alſo forget thy Children. But he will make himſelf a Prieſt; he hath invented Sacrifices for the Quick and the Dead; he hath put, as he preſumes, Merit and Worth into theſe Sacrifices; he hath commanded that thoſe that worſhip, ſhould have Faith in, and expect Benefit by theſe Sacrifices; although he offereth to his God nought elſe but the Fleſh of the Hogg, and of the Mouſe, with the Broth of his abominable things. Many and ſundry ways he hath ſet himſelf up to be High-Prieſt, though God knows no High-Prieſt but one, though the Church ought to know no High-Prieſt but one; yea, though no High-Prieſt but one can approach God's Mercy-Seat, to do for us the neceſſary and deſired Work.

82. (3.) He hath intruded upon the Prophetical Office of Jeſus Chriſt. What elſe means his Pretences to Infallibility? And that too, when he impoſes unwritten Verities, abominable Traditions, blaſphemous Rites and Ceremonies; and forbids, or diſpenſeth with the holy Commands of God? Yea, when he enforceth theſe his Omrian Statutes, and doth impoſe the Works of the Houſe of Ahab, he doth all in the Name of the Lord Chriſt, when himſelf hath ſet himſelf in his place, and in his room: This is Myſtery Babylon, the Myſtery of Iniquity: This is Antichriſt's Soul and Body, and as ſuch, muſt be deſtroyed. But,

Mic. 6. 16.

83. Thirdly, Antichriſt muſt be deſtroyed, becauſe he hath blaſphemed againſt the Holy Ghoſt, and ſo ſet himſelf above the Father, the Son, the Spirit; againſt ALL that is called God. The Holy Ghoſt is that Spirit of Truth that Chriſt has promiſed to give unto his Church, to help her in the underſtanding of his holy Word, and to enable her to believe, and walk humbly and holily before God and Man. The Spirit of Antichriſt, is that Spirit of Errour that hath puffed up the Falſe Church into a conceit of her ſelf, and unſcriptural Worſhip; and that hath made this Falſe Church, which is his Body, to aſcribe all the horrible things and acts thereof, to the Wiſdom, Guidance, Directions or Operations of the Holy Ghoſt: As,

Third Cauſe

1. In all her unſcriptural Councels, Aſſemblies and Convocations, they blaſphemouſly father what they do upon the Holy Ghoſt, and make him the Inventer and Approver thereof.

2. She alſo blaſphemeth the Holy Ghoſt, in accuſing and condemning the Holy Scriptures of Inſufficiency, for that ſhe ſaith, though it is a Rule, yet but an imperfect one; one deficient, one that is not able to make the Man of God perfect in all things, without the Traditions, Inventions, and Blaſphemous Helps of Antichriſtian Wiſdom.

3. She hath alſo blaſphemed the Holy Ghoſt, in that ſhe hath ſet up her own Church-Government, Offices, Officers and Diſcipline: None of all which is the Church of Chriſt directed to by the Wiſdom of the Spirit of God in his Teſtament.

4. She hath alſo ſinned againſt the Holy Ghoſt, in that ſhe hath, as it were, turned the Holy Ghoſt out of doors, in concluding that he, without the Works of the Fleſh, is not ſufficient to govern the Hearts of Worſhippers, in the Service and Worſhip of God.

5. She hath alſo thus ſinned, in that ſhe hath wrought many lying Miracles in the face of the World, and impoſed them upon her Diſciples for the confirming of her Errours and blaſphemous Opinions, to the confronting of the true Miracles wrought by the Holy Ghoſt; and alſo to the concluding, that there was an inſufficiency in thoſe that were true, to confirm the Truth, without the addition of hers; which ſhe has wrought by the Power of Satan, and the Spirit of Deluſion, only to confirm her Lyes. 84.

6. She hath ſinned againſt the Holy Ghoſt, in that ſhe hath, with Jereboam the Son of Nebal, ſtriven againſt the Judgments wherewith God hath puniſhed her, to call her back from her wicked way; and perſiſted therein, to the effectual proving of her ſelf to be the lewd Woman. 2 King. 13. 4, 5, 6, 7, — 33, 34.

7. She hath ſinned, by labouring to hide all her wickedneſs, by Lies, Diſſimulations, and filthy Equivocations of her Prieſts, Fryars, Jeſuites, &c. I ſay, her labouring to hide the wickedneſs that ſhe hath committed againſt Kings, Countreys, Nations, Kingdoms and People. She hath hid theſe things by the Means or Perſons made mention of before; as by the Tail; for they indeed are the Tail of the Beaſt, that cover his moſt filthy Parts: The Prophet that ſpeaketh Lies, he is the Tail. But, Iſa. 9. 15.

85. Fourthly, Antichriſt muſt be deſtroyed, for the horrid Outrage, and villanous Murthers that ſhe hath committed upon the Bodies of the Saints. For there is none, as to theſe things, for Cruelty, to be compared with the Church of Antichriſt, Fourth Cauſe.

Antichriſt, and her Followers: For upon whom hath not her Cruelty been ſhewed; have they never ſo little ſtood in her way, though never ſo innocently and honeſtly by ſo doing, ſtood to the Truth and Verity of God? Yea, the promoting of her own Superſtition, Idolatry, and blaſphemous Rites and Ceremonies, have been ſo purſued by her, that ſhe has waded through a Sea of innocent Blood for the accompliſhment thereof.

The poor Church of God is a ſenſible bleeding Witneſs of this, and ſo has been for hundreds of Years together: Witneſs the Chronicles of all Nations where ſhe hath had to do; yea, and the Sackcloth and Aſhes, and Tears, and Widows, and Fatherleſs Children, and their Cryes, of all which the holy Word of God is a ſufficient Confirmation: For in her, when God Rev. 18. 24. ſhall come to make inquiſition for blood, will be found the blood of Saints and Prophets, and of all that were ſlain upon the earth. And yet has ſhe ſuch a Whore's Forehead, ſuch a blindneſs in her Judgment, and ſuch an hard and obdurate Heart, that it is not poſſible ſhe ſhould ever repent. Murthers have been ſo natural to her, and in them her hand has been ſo exerciſed, that it is now become a Cuſtom, a Trade, a Paſtime to her, to be either in the Act, or laying ſome Foundation for Murthers: Witneſs thoſe Plots, Deſigns, Conſpiracies, and frequent Attempts that are, one or other of them, continually on foot in the World for the commiſſion of Murthers.

86. Nay, the Text laſt mentioned ſeems to import, that Blood is ſo Natural to her, that ſhe ſticketh not at any Condition, Sex, Age, or Degree, ſo ſhe may imbrue her Hands in Blood. In her was found the Blood of Saints and Prophets, and of all other Carnal, Natural, Ignorant, Graceleſs Men that have been ſlain upon the Earth. 'Tis She that ſets Kings and Kingdoms at variance: 'Tis She that ſets Parents and Children at variance, by her abuſe of the Word of our Lord and Chriſt. And beſides, is it not eaſie, if we do but conſider thoſe bloody Maſſacres that have been committed by her Hand, both in France, Ireland, Piedmont, and in ſeveral places beſides, without wronging of her, to conclude, that the Blood of Thouſands, that have not known their Right-hand from their Left in Religion, hath been ſhed, to quench, if it might have been, her inſatiate Thirſt after Blood. Therefore, for Ezek. 23. 45. theſe things ſhall ſhe be Judged, as Women that ſhed Blood are Judged; becauſe ſhe is an Adultereſs, and Blood is in her Hands. She has been as a Beaſt of Prey: Nay, worſe; for they do but kill and tear for the hunger of themſelves, and of their Whelps; but ſhe, to ſatisfie her wanton and beaſtly Luſts: They have caſt lots for my people (ſaith God;) they have given a Boy for an Harlot, and a Girl for Wine, that they might drink; and therefore muſt Antichriſt be deſtroyed. Forbearance is no Payment, God's Patience, is not a ſign that he forgetteth to take Vengeance; but rather, that he waiteth till his Own are come out of her, and untill her Iniquity is filled up: For then he will execute the Judgment written, and will remember, as has been ſaid, the Babylonians, and all their Ways.

Fifthly, Antichriſt muſt be deſtroyed, becauſe ſhe hath put out of Order, and confounded the Rule and Government that God has ſet up in the World. 87. Fifthly. I ſay, ſhe has put it out of Order, and confounded it in all places where ſhe rules; ſo that it cannot accompliſh the deſign of him that ordained it, to wit, To be a Terrour to evil Works, and a Praiſe to them that do well.

Wherefore we read, That thoſe Horns or Kings where Myſtery Babylon ſitteth, are upon the Heads of that Beaſt that carrieth her, which Beaſt is her Protector. Magiſtracy is God's Ordinance, appointed for the good of Society, and for the peace and ſafety of thoſe that are good. But this Antichriſt has, where ſhe rules, put all out of order; and no wonder, for ſhe has be-puddled the Word of God; no wonder then, I ſay, if the Foundations of the World be out of courſe. 'Tis She that hath turned the Sword of the Magiſtrate againſt thoſe that keep God's Law: 'Tis She that has made it the Ruine of the Good and Vertuous, and a Protection to the Vile and Baſe. Wherefore, when the Holy Ghoſt tells us, that the time is coming in which God will count with the bloody-minded, for the Murthers that they have committed; he in a manner doth quite excuſe the Magiſtrate, ſaying, Wo to the bloody City! it is full of lies and robbery, the prey departeth not: The noiſe of a whip, the noiſe of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horſes, and the jumping chariots: The horſe-man lifteth up both the bright ſword, and the glittering ſpear; and there is a multitude of ſlain, and a great number of carkaſſes; and there is no end of their corpſes, they ſtumble upon their corpſes. But what is the cauſe of all this ſlaying, and the reaſon of this abundance of Corpſes? Why, it is becauſe of the unſatiable Thirſt of the Bloody City after Nahum 3. 1, 4 Blood; and, Becauſe of the multitude of whoredoms of the well-favoured Harlot, the Miſtreſs of Witchcrafts, that ſelleth Nations through her whoredoms, and Families through her witchcrafts. But doth this bloody City ſpill this Blood by her ſelf ſimply, as ſhe is the adulterated Whore? No, this Church has found out a Trick; that is to ſay, to quarrel with Chriſt in his Members, and to perſwade the Powers where ſhe rules to ſet enſnaring Laws to catch them, and to execute the ſame upon them.

Thus when the Synagogue of Satan, of old, 88. had Taken Chriſt, and Accuſed him, they made Pontius Pilate to Condemn and hang him. But God has begun to ſhew to ſome of the Kings this Wickedneſs, and has prevail'd with them to PROTEST againſt her. And in the mean time, for thoſe that are yet in the Bed of Love with her, the Holy Ghoſt doth, in the Text laſt mentioned, and in Rev. 18. 24. much excuſe them for the Blood that they have ſhed, and for the Injuries that they have done to his People; becauſe they have not done it of their meer Inclinations, nor in the proſecution of their Office, but through the Whoredoms and Witchcrafts of this well-favoured Harlot, who hath with falſe Doctrines, falſe Promiſes, and cauſeleſs Curſes, prevailed on them to do do it. And they have done it, rather of Fear, than Favour. Some indeed have more doted upon her Beauty, and have more thoroughly been devoted to her Service: But they alſo had not that aptneſs to do ſo of themſelves, but have been forced to it by the power of her Inchantments: Therefore, I ſay, the main Guilt ſhall be laid at her door, for that ſhe in chief has deſerved it. Son of Man (ſays God,) take up a lamentation for the Princes of Iſrael. Why? Becauſe their Mother, the Church, was at that time adulterated, and become a Lioneſs, had lain down with the Heathen, and ſo brought forth young Lions, that is, Rulers: And SHE brought up one of her Whelps, it became a young Lion, it learnt to catch the prey, it devoured men. It learnt, It learnt: But of who but of its Dam, or of the Lioneſs to whom ſhe had put it to learn to do ſuch things? Therefore they are to be lamented and pitied, rather than condemned, and their Mother made to bear the blame. Wherefore it follows, She was pulled up in fury, ſhe was caſt down to the ground, and the Eaſt wind dried up her fruit: her ſtrong rods were broken and withered, the fire conſumed them, and now ſhe is planted in the wilderneſs, (in the Provinces of Babylon,) in a dry and thirſty ground: And fire has gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, ſo that ſhe hath no ſtrong rod to be a ſcepter to rule: This is a lamentation, and ſhall be for a lamentation. Ezek. 19. 1, 2, 3.

89. Sixth Cauſe. Sixthly, Antichriſt muſt be deſtroyed, Becauſe of her exceeding Covetouſneſs. Religion, ſuch as it is, is the thing pretended to: But the great things of this World, are the things really intended by her in all her ſeeming Self-denials and Devotions. And for this Covetouſneſs alſo it is that this Deſtruction is to fall upon her: Wo to him that coveteth an evil covetouſneſs to his houſe (to his Church,) that he may ſet his neſt on high; (for he could not do the one, before he had obtained the other:) for then indeed they began to be high, when they had ſo inveigled Conſtantine, that he beſtowed upon them much Riches and Honour; and then it was cried by an Angel, and the Cry was heard in the City, Conſtantinople! Wo, wo, wo! this day is Venom poured into the Church of God! (as both My Lord Cobham and Mr. Fox witneſs in the Book of Acts and Monuments.)

Nor has any Generation ſince the World began, been ſo inſatiably greedy of Gain, as this poor People have been: They have got Kingdoms, they have got Crowns, they have got,—— What have they not got? They have got every thing but Grace and Pardon. Did I ſay before, That Religion is their pretence? Doth not the whole courſe of their way declare it to their Face? Every one of them, from the leaſt even to the greateſt, is given to Covetouſneſs; from the Prophet even to the Prieſt, every one dealeth falſely: Money, Money, as the Pedler cryes, Broken or Whole, is the Sinews of their Religion: And 'tis for that they ſet Kingdoms, Crowns, Principalities, Places, Preferments, Sacraments, Pardons, Prayers, Indulgences, Liberty; yea, and Souls and Bodies of Men, Women and Children, to ſale: Yea, 'tis for this that have they invented ſo many Places, Offices, Names, Titles, Orders, Vows, &c. 'Tis to get Money, to rob Countreys, that they may make their Neſts on high: And indeed they have done it, to the amazement of all the World: They are clambred up above Kings, and Princes, and Emperours: They wear the Triple-Crown: They have made Kings bow at their Feet, and Emperours ſtand bare-foot at their Gates: They have kicked the Crowns of Princes from their Heads, and ſet them on again with their Toes: Thus their Covetouſneſs has ſet them high, even above the Suns, Moons and Stars of this World: But to what end? That they may be caſt down to Hell. Jer. 6. 13. Ch. 8. 10.

90. The Seventh Cauſe. Seventhly, Antichriſt muſt be deſtroyed, Becauſe he ſtandeth in the way of the ſetting up of the Kingdom of Chriſt in the World. Many Princes were in Edom before there was a King in Iſrael; and Chriſt has ſuffered Antichriſt to ſet up before him: And he ſtandeth in his way, and has ſo overſpread the World in all places with that which is directly contrary to him, that he cannot ſet up his Kingdom, until that which is Antichriſt's is tumbled down to the ground; even as a Man whoſe Ground is full of Thorns, and Bryars, and Weeds, cannot ſowe in Expectation of a Crop, until he hath removed them: And theſe Seeds has Antichriſt ſown where the Kingdom of Chriſt ſhould ſtand: Upon the land of my people ſhall come up bryars and thorns; yea, upon all the houſes of Joy in the Joyous City: Becauſe the Palaces ſhall be forſaken, the Multitude of the Cities ſhall be left; the Forts and Towers ſhall be like Dens for ever, a joy of wild Aſſes, a paſture for flocks, (this is to happen to the Church of God,) until the ſpirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderneſs be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a foreſt: And the Antichriſtian Synagogue be turned into a Wilderneſs. Iſa. 32. 13, 14, 15.

91. When God came from Egypt with his People, to ſet up his Kingdom in Canaan, he caſt out the Heathen before them in order thereunto: (Thou haſt brought a Vine out of Egypt, thou haſt caſt out the Heathen, and planted it.) Wherefore, Antichriſt muſt be removed and deſtroyed for this: For Antichriſt is in flat Oppoſition to Chriſt, as Tibni was to Omri: Wherefore, Antichriſt muſt die. The reaſon is, becauſe Chriſt's Kingdom ſhall be Peceable, without Moleſtation; and Glorious, without the Fumes and Fogs of Antichriſtian Darkneſs: Becauſe alſo, as the World hath ſeen the manner of the Reign of Antichriſt, and how tyrannical and outragious a Kingdom his is; ſo they ſhall ſee the Reign of Chriſt, by his Word and Spirit in his People, how peaceable, how fruitful in Bleſſedneſs and Proſperity his Kingdom is. And hence it is that God purpoſeth to bury Antichriſt, before he ſets glory in the land of the living: As alſo you read in the Book of Revelations; for there you find the Kingnom of Antichriſt was deſtroyed before the New Jeruſalem was ſet up. When Men intend to build a New Houſe, if in the place where the Old one ſtood, they firſt pull down the Old one, raiſe the Foundation, and then they begin their New. Now God, as I ſaid, will have his Primitive Church-ſtate ſet up in this World, Pſal. 80. 8. 1 King. 16. 21, 22, 23. Ezek. 26. 20, 21.

(even where Antichriſt has ſet up his;) wherefore, in order to this, Antichriſt muſt be pulled down, down Stick and Stone; and then they that live to ſee it, will behold the New Jeruſalem come down from Heaven, as a Bride adorned for her Husband.

New Wine is not put into Old Bottles, nor a new Piece into an old Garment; nor ſhall any of the old Antiſcriptural Ordinances, Ceremonies, Rites, or Veſſels of the Man of Sin, be made uſe of, or accounted any thing worth, in this day of the Kingdom of Jeſus Chriſt. And thus I have ſhewed you ſomething of Antichriſt, of his Ruin, and of the Manner and Signs of the Approach thereof; together with the Means and Cauſes of his Ruine: All which I leave to the Judgment of the godly, and beg their Inſtruction where they ſee me to be out; and ſhall conclude, after a ſhort word of Application.

92. Firſt, Muſt Antichriſt be deſtroyed? Then this informs us, that a time is coming wherein there ſhall be no Antichriſt to afflict Gods Church any more. 'Tis Antichriſt, Antichriſtians, and Antichriſtianiſm, that is the Cauſe of the Troubles of Chriſtians, for being Chriſtians. And therefore 'tis from the conſideration of this that it is ſaid, Men ſhall beat their Swords into Plow-ſhares, and their Spears into Pruning-hooks, and that they ſhall learn war no more: Yea it is from the conſideration of this, that it is ſaid, The Child ſhall play with venomous and deſtroying Beaſts, and that a little Child ſhall lead the Wolf, the Leopard, and the young Lion, and that the weaned Child ſhall put his Hand into the Cockatrice's Den, and catch no hurt thereby. For as was ſaid before, 'tis through the inſtigation of this ſpirit of Errour, that the Governours of the World have heretofore done hurt to Zion, and I ſay now again, All things ſhall turn to their right courſe, and occupy their places, as do the Bodies in the higher Orbs.

Iſa. 11. 6, 7, 8, 9.

93. Secondly, Is Antichriſt to be deſtroyed, and muſt ſhe have an end? Then this gives us to underſtand, that a day is coming when Antichriſt ſhall be unknown, not ſeen, nor felt by the Church of God. There are men to be born who ſhall not know Antichriſt, but as they read in the Word that ſuch a thing has been. Theſe ſhall talk of her, as Iſrael's Childrens Children, were to talk of Pharaoh, of his Cruelty; of his Tasks, of his Pride, of the Red Sea, and how he was drowned there: They ſhall talk of them, as of thoſe that have been long dead; as of thoſe who for their horrible wickedneſs, are laid in the Pits mouth. This will be ſome of that ſweet Chat that the Saints ſhall, at their ſpare hours, have in time to come. When God has pull'd this Dragon out of the Sea, this Leviathan out of his River, and caſt his dead Carkaſs upon the open Field, then ſhall thoſe whoſe Anceſtors have been put into Terrors by him, come flocking to ſee the Monſter; and ſhall rejoyce for all the Mercy. In that day, the Church of God ſhall ſay, O Lord I will praiſe thee, though thou waſt angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comforteſt me. —— In that day ſhall ye ſay, Praiſe the Lord, call upon his Name, declare his doings among the People, &c. O how ſweetly did David, and the Church in his day, ſing of the Ruines of the Egyptians, and the Deliverances of their Fathers, which had been in times of old! to wit, what God did in Egypt, what he did at the red Sea; what he did to Sihon, to Og, and to the remnant of the Gyants: How he divided the Waters of Jordan, and gave the Land of Canaan in its Fruitfulneſs among his People: How that tho' Pharaoh and his Horſemen and Chariots were terrible then, yet now there is nothing left but their Souls, their Feet, and the Palms of their Hands; nothing but that which can do no hurt; nothing but what may miniſter an Occaſion of joyful remembrance of them.

Pſal. 69. Pſal. 105. Pſal. 106. Pſal. 136.

94. Thirdly, Is Antichriſt to be deſtroyed? Then this calls aloud to Gods people to make haſte to come out of her. Ho, ho, ſays the Prophet: He cries out as if the People were aſleep: Come forth, and flee from the Land of the North. The People of God in the latter days will want a Heart to come out of her, with that fear of her Plagues as they ſhould: Wherefore another ſays, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her ſins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. When Iſrael was carried into Babilon, 'twas not that they ſhould dwell there for ever: Tho they were bid to build them Houſes, and beget them Children there. But when they had builded, planted Vineyards, and got Wives and Children there, 'twas hard getting them from thence again: for now they were as it were Naturalized to the Countrey, and to the Manners of it. But God will have them out, (but they muſt not think to carry thence their Houſes and Vineyards on their backs,) or he will deſtroy them with thoſe Deſtructions wherewith he hath threatned to deſtroy Babylon it ſelf. Fleſh will hang behind, becauſe it ſavoureth the things of the Fleſh, plenty of which there is in that Countrey: But they that will live after the Fleſh muſt die. Wherefore, come out from among them, and be ye ſeparate, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you, and I will be a Father unto you, and ye ſhall be my Sons and Daughters, ſaith the Lord Almighty. But why, (ſome may ſay,) muſt we come out? I anſwer, Becauſe God has Temple-work to doe, Temple-worſhip to doe, Temple-Sacrifices to offer, and none of theſe things can by any means be done, but at Jeruſalem. But if you ſtill object and ſay, The Lord has raiſed us up Prophets in Babylon, and we will not come out; you muſt not murmur if you feel what is to follow. And that ſuch may know upon what bottom they ſtand, let them read this laſt quoted in the Margent.

Zech. 2. 6. Rev. 18. 4. Jer. 29. 5, 6, 7. 2 Cor. 6. 17, 18. Jer. 29. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19.

95. Fourthly, Muſt Antichriſt be deſtroyed? Then what mean they, who were, to appearance once come out, but now are going thither again? If it coſt Lots Wife dear for but Looking back, ſhall not it coſt them much dearer, that that are going back, that are gone back again? and that, AFTER the Angel had fled through the midſt of Heaven, preaching the Goſpel to thoſe that dwell on the Earth? They that received the Mark of the Beaſt at firſt, before this Angel came forth, are, when compared with theſe, excuſable: Wherefore, they are not threatned with that ſmoaking Wrath, as are theſe which are here under Conſideration.

You dread, that which is like to become of them that will be ſo mad to run into an Houſe, when Fire is putting to the Gunpowder-Barrel, in order to its blowing up: Why thus do they, let their pretended Cauſe be what it will, that are returning again to Babel. Are her Plagues pleaſant or eaſie to be born? Or doſt thou think that God is at play with thee, and that he threatneth but in jeſt? Her Plagues are Death, and Mourning, and Famine, and Fire; and are theſe things to be over-looked? And they that, as before is hinted, ſhall receive the Mark of the Beaſt in their Forehead, or in their Hand, and ſhall worſhip him, they, The ſame ſhall drink the Wine of the Wrath of God: And will this be a delightſom Draught? Remember how ill God took it, that his People of old, in their Hearts, though but in their Hearts, went back again into Egypt. You may ſay, But I have Friends, Relations and Concerns in Babylon. And I anſwer, So had Lot in Sodom; but for all that, he muſt either quickly come out, or run the hazard of being burned there with them. But methinks, a People that belong to God, ſhould be willing to leave all to follow him: Beſides, his Preſence is promiſed at Jeruſalem, there alſo will he accept thy Offerings.

96. Fifthly, Is Antichriſt to be deſtroyed? Then let them that love God, his Son, and his Zion, cry to God that it may be haſtned in its time. One of the Songs of Sion, is, That Babylon ſhall be deſtroyed: The Cries of the Souls of them that were ſlain for the Witneſs of Jeſus, is, That Babylon may be counted with, and that their Blood may be revenged upon her: The Promiſe is, That Babylon ſhall be deſtroyed: And do we hold our tongues? The Church of God will not flouriſh as it ſhould, until Babylon is deſtroyed: The World will never be in its right wits, until Babylon is deſtroyed: The Kingdom of Chriſt will never be ſet up, in and by his Church, as it ought, and ſhall, until Antichriſt is deſtroyed: There will never be Peace upon Earth, till Antichriſt is deſtroyed: And God has promiſed that there ſhall be Peace, and Truth, and Glory, when Babylon is deſtroyed: And do we hold our Peace? Beſides, your Innocency in Suffering; your Honeſty towards God, in your Teſtimony for his Truth; the ſubſtantial Ground which you have for the bottom of your Faith, as to things controverted betwixt Antichriſt and you, will never be manifeſted as it will then; and ſo conſequently, you never ſo brought out to the Light, and your Enemies never ſo put to ſhame as then: Then ſhame ſhall cover her that ſaid unto thee, Where is the Lord thy God? Wherefore, as I ſaid, cry unto the Lord, keep not ſilence, give him no reſt, let him not alone, until he has delivered his miſerble People out of the Mouth of this Lyon, and from the Paw of this Bear.

97. Sixthly, Is Antichriſt to be deſtroyed? Then let us live in the Expectation of it; and let this be one of our Songs in the Houſe of our Pilgrimage. God bids his People, while in Babylon, to let Jeruſalem come into their mind: And writes to them that then were in her, to acquaint them that he remembred them ſtill, and would aſſuredly deliver them from that place and ſtate: And wherefore doth he thus, but to beget an Expectation in them of their Salvation and Deliverance? The Lord is ſo pleaſed with the Faith and Expectation of his People, as to this, that they ſeldom are herein concerned as they ſhould, but he ſteps in with them, and warms their hearts. The reaſon is, becauſe the Faith of God's people, as to the Downfall of Babylon, ſtands upon as ſure a Foundation as doth the Salvation of their Souls; and that next to that, God is as much delighted in what he has purpoſed to do againſt Babylon, as in any thing elſe in the Earth: And therefore, if you conſider it well, the great and glorious Promiſes that are to be fulfilled on Earth, are to be fulfilled when Antichriſt is dead and buried: Theſe Bits are too good even for his Children to have, ſo long as this Dog is by, leſt he ſhould ſnatch at the Crumbs thereof; wherefore they are reſerved until he is gone: For thus ſaith the Lord, That after ſeventy years be accompliſhed at Babylon, I will viſit you, and perform my good word towards you, in cauſing you to return to this place: For I know the thoughts that I think towards you, ſaith the Lord; thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end: This is in Jeremiah the Twenty ninth. And in Chapter the Thirty firſt, he adds, Therefore they ſhall come, and ſing in the height of Zion, and ſhall flow together to the goodneſs of the Lord, for wheat, and for wine, and for oyl, and for the young of the flock, and of the herd; and their ſoul ſhall be as a watered garden, and they ſhall not ſorrow any more at all: Then ſhall the Virgin rejoyce in the dance, both young men and old together; for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoyce from their ſorrow: and I will ſatiate the ſoul of the prieſts with fatneſs, and my people ſhall be ſatisfied with my goodneſs, ſaith the Lord. Again, in the Thirty ſecond Chapter, ſtill ſpeaking of the ſame thing, he ſaith, Yea, I will rejoyce over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land aſſuredly, with my whole heart, and with my whole ſoul. I conclude this with that which I find in Chapter the Thirty third: And I will cleanſe them from all their iniquity whereby they have ſinned againſt me; and I will pardon all their iniquities whereby they have tranſgreſſed againſt me:

Ver. 12, 13, 14.

Vers. 8, 9. And it ſhall be to me a name of joy, a praiſe and an honour before all the Nations of the Earth, which ſhall hear of all the good that I do unto them; and they ſhall fear and tremble, for all the goodneſs, and for all the proſperity that I procure unto it.

98. Seventhly, Muſt Antichriſt be deſtroyed? Then this ſhould make us glad, when we ſee the Signs of his Fall preſenting themſelves to our view. Indeed, the Signs of his Fall, or thoſe that fore-run it, are terrible, and amazing to behold: But what of that, ſince the Wrinkles that are in their Faces threaten not us, but them? A Man is angry, and will puniſh; yea, and whets his Sword, makes his Rod, and he ſpeaks not a word, but Blood, Blood is in it. Indeed, this ſhould make them that are concerned in this Anger, be afraid; (but the judgment is, they are faſt aſleep.) But what is in all this of Terrour to them, for the pleading whoſe Cauſe he is ſo angry with the other? Nothing whereat the Innocent ſhould be afraid. Cold Blaſts in November, are not received with that gentleneſs as are colder in March and April; for that theſe laſt cold ones are but the farewell Notes of a piercing Winter; they alſo bring with them the Signs and Tokens of a comfortable Summer. Why, the Church is now at the riſing of the Year; let then the Blaſts at preſent, or to come, be what they will, Antichriſt is aſſuredly drawing towards his Downfall: And though the Devil, knowing what is to be done to him, and to his Kingdom, ſhall ſo blind his Diſciples, and fright the Godly, do ſomething like it upon the Church of Chriſt; yet we ſhould look thorough theſe Paper-Winkers, and eſpy in all this, that Fear, yea, certain terrible Judgments are following of him at the heels, by which not only the Soul, Spirit and Life of Antichriſt, but the Body thereof, yea, Body, and Soul, and Head, are quickly to go down thither; from whence they, as ſuch, ſhall not ariſe again. Amen.

OR, A

DISCOURSE

GRACE of GOD.

SHEWING,

I. What it is to be Saved.
II. What it is to be Saved by Grace.
III. Who they are that are Saved by Grace.
IV. How it appears that they are Saved by Grace.
V. What ſhould be the reaſon that God ſhould chooſe to ſave Sinners by Grace rather than by any other Means.

EPHES. 2. 5.

By Grace ye are ſaved.

1. IN the firſt Chapter, from the 4th. to the 12th. verſe, the Apoſtle is treating of the Doctrine of Election, both with reſpect to the act it ſelf, the end, and means conducing thereto.

1. The act (he tells us) was Gods free choice of ſome, ver. 4, 5, 11.

2. The end was God's Glory in their Salvation, ver. 6. 14.

3. The means conducing to that end was Jeſus Chriſt himſelf, in whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveneſs of ſins, according to the riches of his grace, ver. 9. This done, he treateth of the ſubjection of the Epheſians to the faith (as it was held forth to them in the word of the truth of the Goſpel) as alſo of their being ſealed by the holy Spirit of God unto the day of Redemption, ver. 12, 13, 14.

Moreover he telleth them how he gave thanks to God for them, making mention of them in his Prayers, even that he would make them ſee what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance, with the Saints, and what was the exceeding greatneſs of his power to themward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, which he wrought in Chriſt, when he raiſed him from the dead, &c. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20.

And leſt the Epheſians at the hearing of theſe their ſo many Priviledges, ſhould forget how little they deſerved them, he tells them, That in time paſt, they were dead in treſpaſſes and ſins, and that then they walked in them according to the courſe of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the ſpirit that now worketh in the children of diſobedience, ch. 2. 2, 3.

2. Having thus called them back to the remembrance of themſelves, to wit, what they were in their ſtate of Unregeneracy, he proceedeth to ſhew them, that their firſt quickning was by the Reſurrection of Chriſt their head (in whom they before were choſen) and that by him they were already ſet down in heavenly places (ver. 5, 6.) inſerting by the way, the true cauſe of all this bleſſedneſs, with what elſe ſhould be by us injoyed in another World: And that is, the Love and Grace of God: But God who is rich in mercy, for his great love where with he loved us, even when we were dead in ſins, hath quickned us together with Chriſt: (by Grace ye are ſaved.) Theſe laſt words ſeem to be the Apoſtles concluſion rightly drawn from the Premiſes: As who ſhould ſay, if you Epheſians were indeed dead in treſpaſſes and ſins; if indeed you were by nature the children of wrath even as others, then you deſerve no more than others. Again, if God hath choſen you, if God hath juſtified and ſaved you by his Chriſt, and left others as good as you by nature to periſh in their ſins, then the true cauſe of this your bleſſed condition is, the free grace of God; But juſt thus it is, therefore by grace ye are ſaved; therefore all the good which you enjoy more than others, it is of meer good will.

By Grace ye are Saved.

3. THE method that I ſhall chooſe to diſcourſe upon theſe words, ſhall be this: I will propound certain Queſtions upon the words, and direct particular Anſwers to them; in which Anſwers I hope I ſhall anſwer alſo (ſomewhat at leaſt) the expectation of the godly, and conſciencious Reader, and ſo ſhall draw towards a concluſion.

The Queſtions are,

1. What is it to be Saved?
2. What is it to be Saved by Grace?
3. Who are they that are Saved by Grace?
4. How it appears that they that are Saved, are ſaved by Grace?
5. What might be the reaſons which prevailed with God to ſave us by grace, rather than by any other means?

Now the reaſon why I propound theſe five Queſtions upon the words, it is, becauſe the words themſelves admit them; the firſt three are grounded upon the ſeveral Phraſes in the Text, and the two leſs, are to make way for demonſtration of the whole.

The Firſt Queſtion.

What is it to be [Saved.]

4. THIS Queſtion ſuppoſeth, that there is ſuch a thing as Damnation due to Man for ſin: For to ſave ſuppoſeth the perſon to be ſaved, to be at preſent in a ſad condition; ſaving, to him that is not loſt, ſignifies nothing, neither is it any thing in it ſelf: To Save, to Redeem, to Deliver are in the general terms equivalent, and they do all of them ſuppoſe us to be in a ſtate of thraldom and miſery: Therefore this word ſaved, in the ſence that the Apoſtle here doth uſe it, is a word of great worth, foraſmuch as the miſeries from which we are ſaved, is the miſery of all moſt dreadful.

The miſeries from which they that ſhall be ſaved, ſhall by their Salvation be delivered, are dreadful; they are no leſs than ſin, the curſe of God, and flames of Hell for ever: What more abominable than ſin? What more inſupportable than the dreadful wrath of an angry God? And what more fearful than the bottomleſs Pit of Hell? I ſay, what more fearful than to be tormented there for ever with the Devil and his Angels? Now to ſave, (according to my Text) is to deliver the ſinner from theſe, with all things elſe that attend them.

And although Sinners may think that it is no hard Matter to anſwer this Queſtion; yet I muſt tell you, there is no Man that can feelingly know what it is to be ſaved, that knoweth not experimentally ſomething of the dread of theſe three things; as is evident, becauſe all others do even by their practiſe count it a thing of no great concern, when yet it is of all other, of the higheſt concern among Men: For what ſhall it profit a Man if he ſhall gain the whole World and loſe his own Soul? Matt. 16. 26.

But I ſay, if this word ſaved concludeth our deliverance from ſin, how can he tell what it is to be ſaved, that hath not in his conſcience groaned under the burden of ſin? Yea, it is impoſſible elſe that he ſhould ever cry out with all his Heart, Men and Brethren, what ſhall we do? That is, Do to be ſaved? Acts 2. 37. The Man that hath no Sores or Aches, cannot know the vertue of the Salve, I mean, not know it from his own experience, and therefore cannot prize, nor have that eſteem of it, as he that hath received cure thereby: Clap a Plaſter to a well place, and that maketh not its vertue to appear, neither can he to whoſe fleſh it is ſo applied, by that application underſtand its worth: Sinners, you I mean, that are not wounded with guilt, and oppreſſed with the burden of ſin, you cannot, I will ſay it again, you cannot know in this ſenceleſs condition of yours, what it is to be ſaved.

Again, this word ſaved (as I ſaid) concludeth deliverance from the wrath of God; how then can he tell what it is to be ſaved, that hath not felt the burden of the wrath of God? He, he, that is aſtoniſhed with, and that trembleth at the wrath of God, he knows beſt what it is to be ſaved, Acts 16. 29.

Further, this word ſaved, it concludeth deliverance from Death and Hell. How then can he tell what it is to be ſaved, that never was ſenſible of the ſorrows of the one, nor diſtreſſed with the pains of the other? The Pſalmiſt ſays, The ſorrows of Death compaſſed me, and the pains of Hell got hold upon me, and I found trouble and ſorrow: Then called I upon the Name of the Lord: Mark then, Then called I upon the Name of the Lord: O Lord, I beſeech thee, deliver my ſoul, then, in my diſtreſs, when he knew what it was to be ſaved, then he called, becauſe (I ſay) then he knew what it was to be ſaved, Pſal. 18. 4, 5. Pſal. 116. 3, 4.

I ſay, this is the Man, and this only that knows what it is to be ſaved: And this is evident, as is manifeſt by the little regard that the reſt have to ſaving, or the little dread they have of Damnation: Where is he that ſeeks and grons for Salvation! I ſay, where is he that hath taken his flight for Salvaion! Becauſe of the dread of the wrath to come. O generation of Vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Matt. 3. 9.

Alas! do not the moſt ſet light by Salvation? As for ſin, how do they love it, embrace it, pleaſe themſelves with it, hide it ſtill within their Mouth, and keep it cloſe under their Tongue?

Tongue? Besides, for the wrath of God they feel it not, they fly not from it; and for Hell, it is become a doubt to many if there be any, and a mock to those whose doubt is resolved by Atheism.

6. But to come to the Question, What is it to be saved? To be saved, may either respect Salvation in the whole of it, or Salvation in the parts of it, or both: I think this Text respecteth both: to wit, Salvation compleating, and Salvation compleated; for, to save, is a work of many steps, or to be as plain as possible, to save, is a work that hath its beginning before the World began, and shall not be compleated before it is ended.

First then, we may be said to be saved, in the purpose of God before the World began. The Apostle saith, That he saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ before the world began, 2 Tim. 1. 9. This is the beginning of Salvation, and according to this beginning, all things concur and fall out in conclusion: He hath saved us according to his eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus. God in thus saving, may be said to save us, by determining to make those means effectual for the blessed compleating of our Salvation: And hence we are said, to be chosen in Christ to Salvation: And again, That he hath in that choice given us that grace that shall compleat our Salvation: Yea, the Text is very full, He hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ, according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, Ephes. 1. 2. 4.

7. Secondly, As we may be said to be saved in the purpose of God, before the foundation of the world, so we may be said to be saved, before we are converted, or called to Christ. And hence saved, is put before called; he hath saved us, and called us; he saith not, he hath called us, and saved us, but he puts saving before calling. So again, we are said to be preserved in Christ, and called, he saith not called and preserved: 2 Tim. 1. 9. Jude 1. And therefore God saith again, I will pardon them whom I reserve, that is, as Paul expounds it, those whom I have elected and kept, Jer. 50. 20. Rom. 11. 4, 5. and this part of Salvation is accomplished through the forbearance of God. God beareth with his own elect, for Christ's sake, all the time of their unregeneracy, until the time comes which he hath appointed for their Conversion. The sins that we stood guilty of before Conversion, had the judgment due to them been executed upon us, we had not now been in the World to partake of an heavenly calling. But the judgment due to them hath been by the patience of God prevented, and we saved all the time of our ungodly and unconverted state, from that Death, and those many Hells, that for our sins we deserved at the Hands of God.

8. And here lies the reason, that long Life is granted to the Elect before Conversion, and that all the sins they commit, and all the judgments they deserve, cannot drive them out of the World before Conversion. Manasseh, you know, was a great sinner, and for the trespass which he committed he was driven from his own Land, and carried to Babilon, but kill him they could not, though his sins had deserved death ten thousand times, but what was the reason? Why he was not yet called, God had chosen him in Christ, and laid up in him a stock of grace, which must be given to Manasseh before he dies: Therefore Manasseh must be Convinced, Converted, and Saved. That Legion of Devils that was in the possessed, Mark 5. with all the sins which he had committed in the time of his unregeneracy, could not take away his life before his Conversion: How many times was that poor Creature, as we may easily conjecture, assaulted for his life by the Devils that were in him, yet could they not kill him, yea, though his dwelling was near the Sea-side, and the Devils had power to drive him too, yet could they not drive him further than the Mountains that was by the Sea side: Yea, they could help him often to break his Chains, and Fetters, and could also make him as Mad as a Bedlam, they could also prevail with him to separate from Men, and cut himself with Stones, but kill him they could not, drown him they could not; he was saved to be called, he was, notwithstanding all this, preserved in Christ, and called. As it is said of the Young Lad in the Gospel, Mark 9. 22. he was by the Devil cast oft into the Fire, and oft into the Water to destroy him, but it could not be; even so hath he served others, but they must be saved to be called. How many Deaths have some been delivered from, and saved out of before Conversion! Some have fallen into Rivers, some into Wells, some into the Sea, some into the hands of Men; yea, they have been justly Arraigned, and Condemned, as the Thief upon the Cross, but must not die before they have been Converted. They were preserved in Christ and called.

Called Christian, how many times have thy sins laid thee upon a sick Bed? and to thine, and others thinking, at the very Mouth of the Grave, yet God said concerning thee, Let him live, for he is not yet Converted; behold therefore that the Elect are saved before they are called. God who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in our sins, Ephes. 2. 4, 5. hath preserved us in Christ, and called us.

9. Now this Saving of us, arises from six Causes.

1. God hath chosen us unto Salvation, and therefore will not frustrate his own Purposes, 1 Thes. 5. 9.

2. God hath given us to Christ; and his gift, as well as his calling, is without repentance, Rom. 11. 29. Joh. 6. 37.

3. Christ hath purchased us with his blood, Rom. 5. 8.

4. They are by God counted in Christ before they are Converted, Ephes. 1. 3, 4.

5. They are ordained before Conversion to eternal Life; yea, to be called, to be justified, to be glorified, and therefore all this must come upon them, Rom. 8. 29, 30.

6. For all this he hath also appointed them their portion and measure of grace, and that before the World began, therefore that they may partake of all these priviledges, they are saved and called; preserved in Christ, and called.

10. Thirdly, To be saved, is to be brought to, and helped to lay hold on, Jesus Christ by faith: And this is called saving by grace through faith: For by grace are ye saved, through faith, and that not of your selves, it is the gift of God, Ephes. 2. 8.

1. They must be brought unto Christ, yea, drawn unto him: For no Man (saith Christ) can come unto me, except the Father which hath sent me, draw him: Joh. 6. 44. Men, even the Elect, have too many Infirmities, to come to Christ without help from Heaven, inviting will not do. As they called them, so they went from them, therefore he drew them with cords, Hos. 11. 2, 4.

2. As they must be brought to, so they must be helped to lay hold on Christ by faith, for as coming to Christ, so faith is not in our own power, therefore we are said to be raised up with him, through the faith of the operation of God: And again, we are said to believe according to the working of his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ when he raised him from the dead. Col. 2. 12. Eph. 1. 18, 19, 20. Now we are said to be saved by faith, because, by faith we lay hold of, venture upon, and put on Jesus Christ for life: For life, I say, because God having made him the Saviour, hath given him life to communicate to sinners, and the life that he communicates to them, is the merit of his flesh and blood, which who so eateth and drinketh by faith, hath eternal life, because that flesh and blood hath merit in it sufficient to obtain the favour of God: Yea, it hath done so that day it was offered through the eternal spirit a sacrifice of a sweet smelling savor to him; wherefore God imputeth the righteousness of Christ to him that believeth in him, by which righteousness he is personally justified, and saved from that just judgment of the Law that was due unto him, Joh. 5. 26. Chap. 6. 53, 54, 55, 56, 57. Ephes. 4. 32. Chap. 5. 2. Rom. 4. 23, 24, 25.

Saved by Faith: For although Salvation beginneth in God's purpose, and comes to us through Christ's righteousness, yet is not faith exempted from having a hand in saving of us: Not that it meriteth oft, but is given by God to those which he saveth, that thereby they may embrace and put on that Christ, by whose Righteousness they must be saved.

Wherefore this faith is that which here distinguisheth them that shall be saved, from them that shall be damned. Hence it is said, He that believeth not, shall be damned; and hence again it is, that the Believers, are called, the Children, the Heirs, and the blessed with faithful Abraham: That the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe, Gal. 3. 26. Rom. 4. 13, 14. Gal. 3. 6, 7, 8, 9.

And here let Christians warily distinguish betwixt, the meritorious, and the instrumental cause of their justification. Christ with what he hath done and suffered, is the meritorious cause of our justification; therefore he is said to be made to us of God, Wisdom and Righteousness, and we are said to be justified by his blood, and saved from wrath through him, 1 Cor. 1. 30. Rom. 5. 9, 10. for it was his life and blood that was the price of our Redemption. Redeemed (says S. Peter) not with corruptible things, as silver and gold, (alluding to the redemption of money under the Law) but with the precious blood of Christ: Thou art therefore, (as I have said) to make Christ Jesus the object of thy faith for justification: For by his righteousness thy sins must be covered from the sight of the justice of the Law. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, for he shall save his people from their sins, Acts 16. 31. Mat. 1. 21.

Fourthly, To be saved, is to be preserved in the faith to the end. He that shall endure to the end, the same shall be saved, Matth. 24. 13. not that perseverance is an accident in Christianity, or a thing performed by humane industry: They that are saved, are kept by the power of God, through faith unto salvation, 1 Pet. 1. 3, 4, 5. 11.

But perseverance is absolutely necessary to the compleat saving of the soul, because he that falleth short of the state, that they that are saved, are possessed of, as saved, cannot arrive to that saved state: He that goeth to Sea, with a purpose to arrive at Spain, cannot arrive there, if he be drowned by the way: Wherefore perseverance is absolutely necessary to the saving of the soul, and therefore it is included in the compleat saving of us, Israel shall be saved in the Lord, with an everlasting salvation, they shall not be ashamed nor confounded, world without end, Isa. 45. 17. perseverance is here made absolutely necessary to the compleat saving of the soul.

But (as I said) this part of Salvation dependeth not upon humane power, but upon him that hath begun a good work in us, Phil. 1. 6. This part, therefore, of our Salvation, is great, and calleth for no less than the power of God for our help to perform it, as will be easily granted by all those that consider,

1*st*. That all the power, and policy, malice, and rage of the Devils and Hell it self is against us: Any Man that understandeth this, will conclude, that to be saved, is no small thing. The Devil is called a God, a Prince, a Lyon, a roaring Lyon; it is said, that he hath death and the power of it, &c. but what can a poor Creature whose habitation is in flesh, do against a God, a Prince, a roaring Lyon, and the power of death it self? Our perseverance therefore lieth in the power of God; the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

2*ly*, All the World is against him that shall be saved, but what is one poor Creature to all the World, especially if you consider, that with the World, is Terror, Fear, Power, Majesty, Laws, Gaols, Gibbets, Hangings, Burnings, Drownings, Starvings, Banishments, and a thousand kinds of Deaths, 1 Joh. 5. 4, 5. Joh. 16. 33.

3*ly*, Add to this that all the Corruptions that dwells in our flesh, is against us, and that not only in their nature and being, but they lust against us. and war against us, to bring us into Captivity to the Law of Sin and Death, Gal. 5. 17. 1 Pet. 2. 11. Rom. 7. 23.

4*ly*. All the Delusions in the world are against them that shall be saved, many of which are so cunningly woven, so plausibly handled, so rarely polished with Scripture and Reason, that 'tis ten thousand wonders, that the Elect are not swallowed up with them; and swallowed up they would be, were they not Elect, and was not God himself engaged, either by power to keep them from falling, or by grace, to pardon don if they fall, and to lift them up again, Mat. 24. 24. Eph. 4. 14. Rom. 3. 10.

5*ly*. Every Fall of the saved, is againſt the Salvation of his Soul; but a Chriſtian once fallen, riſeth not, but as helped by omnipotent power. O Iſrael, thou art fallen by thine iniquity, but in me is thy help, ſays God, Hoſ. 13. 9. chap. 14. 1. Pſal. 37. 23.

Chriſtians were you awake, here would be matter of wonder to you, to ſee a man aſſaulted with all the power of Hell, and yet to come off a Conqueror: Is it not a Wonder, to ſee a poor Creature who in himſelf is weaker than the Moth, Job 4. 19. to ſtand againſt, and overcome all Devils, all the World, all his Luſts and Corruptions! Or if he fall, is it not a wonder to ſee him, when Devils and Guilt are upon him, to riſe again, ſtand upon his feet again, walk with God again, and perſevere after all this in the Faith and Holineſs of the Goſpel! He that knows himſelf, wonders; he that knows Temptation, wonders; he that knows what Falls and Guilt means, wonders; indeed Perſeverance is a wonderful thing, and is managed by the power of God; for he only is able to keep us from falling, and to preſent us faultleſs before the preſence of his Glory, with exceeding Joy, Jude 24. Thoſe of the Children of Iſrael that went from Egypt, and entred the Land of Canaan, how came they thither? why the Text ſays, That as an Eagle ſpreadeth abroad her Wings, ſo the Lord alone did lead them. And again, He bore them, and carried them all the days of old, Deut. 32. 11, 12. Iſa. 63. 9. David alſo tells us, that Mercy and Goodneſs ſhould follow him all the days of his Life, and ſo he ſhould dwell in the houſe of the Lord for ever, Pſal. 23. 6.

12. Fifthly, To be ſaved, calls for more than all this; he that is ſaved, muſt, when this world can hold him no longer, have a ſafe Conduct to Heaven; for that is the Place where they that are ſaved, muſt to the full enjoy their Salvation. This Heaven is called, The End of our Faith, becauſe it is that which Faith looks at; as Peter ſays, Receiving the End of your Faith, the Salvation of our Souls; and again, But we are not of them that draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe, to the ſaving of the Soul, 1 Pet. 1. 9. Heb. 10. 39. For (as I ſaid) Heaven is the place for the ſaved to enjoy their Salvation in, with that perfect gladneſs that is not attainable here; here we are ſaved by Faith and hope of Glory; but there we that are ſaved ſhall enjoy the End of our Faith and Hope, even the Salvation of our Souls. There is Mount Sion, the heavenly Jeruſalem, the general Aſſembly, and Church of the firſt-born: There is the innumerable Company of Angels, and the Spirits of juſt men made perfect; there is God the Judge of all, and Jeſus the Mediator of the new Covenant; there ſhall our Soul have as much of Heaven as it is capable of enjoying, and that without intermiſſion: wherefore, when we come there, we ſhall be ſaved indeed!

But now for a poor Creature to be brought hither, this is the Life of the point: But how ſhall I come hither? There are Heights and Depths to hinder, Rom. 8. 38, 39.

Suppoſe the poor Chriſtian is now upon a Sick-Bed, beſet with a thouſand fears, and ten thouſand at the end of that; ſick-bed-Fears! and they are ſometimes dreadful ones; fears, that are begotten by the review of the Sin (perhaps) of forty years Profeſſion; fears that are begotten by dreadful and fearful Suggeſtions of the Devil, the ſight of Death, and the Grave, and it may be, of Hell it ſelf; fears that are begotten by the withdrawing, and ſilence of God and Chriſt, and by (it may be) the appearance of the Devil himſelf: Some of theſe made David cry, O ſpare me a little, that I may recover ſtrength before I go hence, and be no more, Pſal. 39. 13. The ſorrows of death, ſaid he, compaſſed me, the pains of hell got hold upon me, and I found trouble and ſorrow; theſe things in another place, he calls, the bands that the godly have in their Death, and the plagues that others are not aware of. They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued like other men, Pſal. 37. 45. But now, out of all theſe, the Lord will ſave his people; not one Sin, nor Fear, nor Devil ſhall hinder; nor the Grave nor Hell diſappoint thee. But how muſt this be? Why thou muſt have a ſafe Conduct to Heaven! What Conduct, a Conduct of Angels: Are they not all miniſtring Spirits, ſent forth to miniſter for them that ſhall be heirs of Salvation? Heb. 1. 14.

Theſe Angels therefore are not to fail them that are the ſaved; but muſt, as commiſſionated of God, come down from Heaven to do this Office for them; they muſt come, I ſay, and take the care and charge of or Soul, to conduct it ſafely into Abraham's boſom: 'tis not our meanneſs in the world, nor our weakneſs of Faith that ſhall hinder this; nor ſhall the loathſomneſs of our Diſeaſes make theſe delicate Spirits ſhy of taking this charge upon them: Lazarus the Beggar found this a Truth; a Beggar ſo deſpiſed of the rich Glutton, that he was not ſuffered to come within his Gate; a Beggar full of Sores and noiſome putrefaction; yet behold, when he dies, the Angels come from Heaven to fetch him thither; And it came to paſs, that the Beggar died and was carried by the Angels into Abraham's Boſome, Luke 16. 22.

True, Sick-Bed Temptations are oft-times the moſt violent, becauſe then the Devil plays his laſt Game with us, he is never to aſſault us more; beſides, perhaps God ſuffereth it thus to be, that the entring into heaven may be the ſweeter, and ring of this Salvation the louder: O 'tis a bleſſed thing for God to be our God, and our Guide, even unto Death, and then for his Angels to conduct us ſafely to Glory: This is ſaving indeed. And he ſhall ſave Iſrael out of all his Troubles: out of ſick-bed Troubles as well as others, Pſal. 25. 22. Pſal. 34. 6. Pſal. 48. 14.

Sixthly: To be ſaved, to be perfectly ſaved, calls for more than all this: The Godly are not perfectly ſaved when their Soul is poſſeſſed of Heaven. True, their Spirit is made perfect, and hath as much of Heaven as at preſent it can hold; but Man conſiſting of Body and Soul, cannot be ſaid to be perfectly ſaved ſo long as but part of him is in the Heavens: his Body is the price of the Blood of Chriſt, as well as his Spirit; his Body is the Temple of God, and a Member of the Body, and of the Fleſh, and of the Bones of Chriſt; he cannot then

10. Thirdly, To be saved, is to be brought to, and helped to lay hold on, Jesus Christ by faith: And this is called saving by grace through faith: For by grace are ye saved, through faith, and that not of your selves, it is the gift of God, Ephes. 2. 8.

1. They must be brought unto Christ, yea, drawn unto him: For no Man (saith Christ) can come unto me, except the Father which hath sent me, draw him: Joh. 6. 44. Men, even the Elect, have too many Infirmities, to come to Christ without help from Heaven, inviting will not do. As they called them, so they went from them, therefore he drew them with cords, Hos. 11. 2, 4.

2. As they must be brought to, so they must be helped to lay hold on Christ by faith, for as coming to Christ, so faith is not in our own power, therefore we are said to be raised up with him, through the faith of the operation of God: And again, we are said to believe according to the working of his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ when he raised him from the dead. Col. 2. 12. Eph. 1. 18, 19, 20. Now we are said to be saved by faith, because, by faith we lay hold of, venture upon, and put on Jesus Christ for life: For life, I say, because God having made him the Saviour, hath given him life to communicate to sinners, and the life that he communicates to them, is the merit of his flesh and blood, which who so eateth and drinketh by faith, hath eternal life, because that flesh and blood hath merit in it sufficient to obtain the favour of God: Yea, it hath done so that day it was offered through the eternal spirit a sacrifice of a sweet smelling savor to him; wherefore God imputeth the righteousness of Christ to him that believeth in him, by which righteousness he is personally justified, and saved from that just judgment of the Law that was due unto him, Joh. 5. 26. Chap. 6. 53, 54, 55, 56, 57. Ephes. 4. 32. Chap. 5. 2. Rom. 4. 23, 24, 25.

Saved by Faith: For although Salvation beginneth in God's purpose, and comes to us through Christ's righteousness, yet is not faith exempted from having a hand in saving of us: Not that it meriteth oft, but is given by God to those which he saveth, that thereby they may embrace and put on that Christ, by whose Righteousness they must be saved.

Wherefore this faith is that which here distinguisheth them that shall be saved, from them that shall be damned. Hence it is said, He that believeth not, shall be damned; and hence again it is, that the Believers, are called, the Children, the Heirs, and the blessed with faithful Abraham: That the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe, Gal. 3. 26. Rom. 4. 13, 14. Gal. 3. 6, 7, 8, 9.

And here let Christians warily distinguish betwixt, the meritorious, and the instrumental cause of their justification. Christ with what he hath done and suffered, is the meritorious cause of our justification; therefore he is said to be made to us of God, Wisdom and Righteousness, and we are said to be justified by his blood, and saved from wrath through him, 1 Cor. 1. 30. Rom. 5. 9, 10. for it was his life and blood that was the price of our Redemption. Redeemed (says S. Peter) not with corruptible things, as silver and gold, (alluding to the redemption of money under the Law) but with the precious blood of Christ: Thou art therefore, (as I have said) to make Christ Jesus the object of thy faith for justification: For by his righteousness thy sins must be covered from the sight of the justice of the Law. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, for he shall save his people from their sins, Acts 16. 31. Mat. 1. 21.

11. Fourthly, To be saved, is to be preserved in the faith to the end. He that shall endure to the end, the same shall be saved, Matth. 24. 13. not that perseverance is an accident in Christianity, or a thing performed by humane industry: They that are saved, are kept by the power of God, through faith unto salvation, 1 Pet. 1. 3, 4, 5.

But perseverance is absolutely necessary to the compleat saving of the soul, because he that falleth short of the state, that they that are saved, are possessed of, as saved, cannot arrive to that saved state: He that goeth to Sea, with a purpose to arrive at Spain, cannot arrive there, if he be drowned by the way: Wherefore perseverance is absolutely necessary to the saving of the soul, and therefore it is included in the compleat saving of us, Israel shall be saved in the Lord, with an everlasting salvation, they shall not be ashamed nor confounded, world without end, Isa. 45. 17. perseverance is here made absolutely necessary to the compleat saving of the soul.

But (as I said) this part of Salvation dependeth not upon humane power, but upon him that hath begun a good work in us, Phil. 1. 6. This part, therefore, of our Salvation, is great, and calleth for no less than the power of God for our help to perform it, as will be easily granted by all those that consider,

1*st*. That all the power, and policy, malice, and rage of the Devils and Hell it self is against us: Any Man that understandeth this, will conclude, that to be saved, is no small thing. The Devil is called a God, a Prince, a Lyon, a roaring Lyon; it is said, that he hath death and the power of it, &c. but what can a poor Creature whose habitation is in flesh, do against a God, a Prince, a roaring Lyon, and the power of death it self? Our perseverance therefore lieth in the power of God; the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

2*ly*, All the World is against him that shall be saved, but what is one poor Creature to all the World, especially if you consider, that with the World, is Terror, Fear, Power, Majesty, Laws, Gaols, Gibbets, Hangings, Burnings, Drownings, Starvings, Banishments, and a thousand kinds of Deaths, 1 Joh. 5. 4, 5. Joh. 16. 33.

3*ly*, Add to this that all the Corruptions that dwells in our flesh, is against us, and that not only in their nature and being, but they lust against us. and war against us, to bring us into Captivity to the Law of Sin and Death, Gal. 5. 17. 1 Pet. 2. 11. Rom. 7. 23.

4*ly*. All the Delusions in the world are against them that shall be saved, many of which are so cunningly woven, so plausibly handled, so rarely polished with Scripture and Reason, that 'tis ten thousand wonders, that the Elect are not swallowed up with them; and swallowed up they would be, were they not Elect, and was not God himself engaged, either by power to keep them from falling, or by grace, to pardon don if they fall, and to lift them up again, Mat. 24. 24. Eph. 4. 14. Rom. 3. 10.

5*ly*. Every Fall of the saved, is againſt the Salvation of his Soul; but a Chriſtian once fallen, riſeth not, but as helped by omnipotent power. O Iſrael, thou art fallen by thine iniquity, but in me is thy help, ſays God, Hoſ. 13. 9. chap. 14. 1. Pſal. 37. 23.

Chriſtians were you awake, here would be matter of wonder to you, to ſee a man aſſaulted with all the power of Hell, and yet to come off a Conqueror: Is it not a Wonder, to ſee a poor Creature who in himſelf is weaker than the Moth, Job 4. 19. to ſtand againſt, and overcome all Devils, all the World, all his Luſts and Corruptions! Or if he fall, is it not a wonder to ſee him, when Devils and Guilt are upon him, to riſe again, ſtand upon his feet again, walk with God again, and perſevere after all this in the Faith and Holineſs of the Goſpel! He that knows himſelf, wonders; he that knows Temptation, wonders; he that knows what Falls and Guilt means, wonders; indeed Perſeverance is a wonderful thing, and is managed by the power of God; for he only is able to keep us from falling, and to preſent us faultleſs before the preſence of his Glory, with exceeding Joy, Jude 24. Thoſe of the Children of Iſrael that went from Egypt, and entred the Land of Canaan, how came they thither? why the Text ſays, That as an Eagle ſpreadeth abroad her Wings, ſo the Lord alone did lead them. And again, He bore them, and carried them all the days of old, Deut. 32. 11, 12. Iſa. 63. 9. David alſo tells us, that Mercy and Goodneſs ſhould follow him all the days of his Life, and ſo he ſhould dwell in the houſe of the Lord for ever, Pſal. 23. 6.

12. Fifthly, To be ſaved, calls for more than all this; he that is ſaved, muſt, when this world can hold him no longer, have a ſafe Conduct to Heaven; for that is the Place where they that are ſaved, muſt to the full enjoy their Salvation. This Heaven is called, The End of our Faith, becauſe it is that which Faith looks at; as Peter ſays, Receive the End of your Faith, the Salvation of our Souls; and again, But we are not of them that draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe, to the ſaving of the Soul, 1 Pet. 1. 9. Heb. 10. 39. For (as I ſaid) Heaven is the place for the ſaved to enjoy their Salvation in, with that perfect gladneſs that is not attainable here; here we are ſaved by Faith and hope of Glory; but there we that are ſaved ſhall enjoy the End of our Faith and Hope, even the Salvation of our Souls. There is Mount Sion, the heavenly Jeruſalem, the general Aſſembly, and Church of the firſt-born: There is the innumerable Company of Angels, and the Spirits of juſt men made perfect; there is God the Judge of all, and Jeſus the Mediator of the new Covenant; there ſhall our Soul have as much of Heaven as it is capable of enjoying, and that without intermiſſion: wherefore, when we come there, we ſhall be ſaved indeed!

But now for a poor Creature to be brought hither, this is the Life of the point: But how ſhall I come hither? There are Heights and Depths to hinder, Rom. 8. 38, 39.

Suppoſe the poor Chriſtian is now upon a Sick-Bed, beſet with a thouſand fears, and ten thouſand at the end of that; ſick-bed-Fears! and they are ſometimes dreadful ones; fears, that are begotten by the review of the Sin (perhaps) of forty years Profeſſion; fears that are begotten by dreadful and fearful Suggeſtions of the Devil, the ſight of Death, and the Grave, and it may be, of Hell it ſelf; fears that are begotten by the withdrawing, and ſilence of God and Chriſt, and by (it may be) the appearance of the Devil himſelf: Some of theſe made David cry, O ſpare me a little, that I may recover ſtrength before I go hence, and be no more, Pſal. 39. 13. The ſorrows of death, ſaid he, compaſſed me, the pains of hell got hold upon me, and I found trouble and ſorrow; theſe things in another place, he calls, the bands that the godly have in their Death, and the plagues that others are not aware of. They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued like other men, Pſal. 37. 45. But now, out of all theſe, the Lord will ſave his people; not one Sin, nor Fear, nor Devil ſhall hinder; nor the Grave nor Hell diſappoint thee. But how muſt this be? Why thou muſt have a ſafe Conduct to Heaven! What Conduct, a Conduct of Angels: Are they not all miniſtring Spirits, ſent forth to miniſter for them that ſhall be heirs of Salvation? Heb. 1. 14.

Theſe Angels therefore are not to fail them that are the ſaved; but muſt, as commiſſionated of God, come down from Heaven to do this Office for them; they muſt come, I ſay, and take the care and charge of or Soul, to conduct it ſafely into Abraham's boſom: 'tis not our meanneſs in the world, nor our weakneſs of Faith that ſhall hinder this; nor ſhall the loathſomneſs of our Diſeaſes make theſe delicate Spirits ſhy of taking this charge upon them: Lazarus the Beggar found this a Truth; a Beggar ſo deſpiſed of the rich Glutton, that he was not ſuffered to come within his Gate; a Beggar full of Sores and noiſome putrefaction; yet behold, when he dies, the Angels come from Heaven to fetch him thither; And it came to paſs, that the Beggar died and was carried by the Angels into Abraham's Boſome, Luke 16. 22.

True, Sick-Bed Temptations are oft-times the moſt violent, becauſe then the Devil plays his laſt Game with us, he is never to aſſault us more; beſides, perhaps God ſuffereth it thus to be, that the entring into heaven may be the ſweeter, and ring of this Salvation the louder: O 'tis a bleſſed thing for God to be our God, and our Guide, even unto Death, and then for his Angels to conduct us ſafely to Glory: This is ſaving indeed. And he ſhall ſave Iſrael out of all his Troubles: out of ſick-bed Troubles as well as others, Pſal. 25. 22. Pſal. 34. 6. Pſal. 48. 14.

Sixthly: To be ſaved, to be perfectly ſaved, calls for more than all this: The Godly are not perfectly ſaved when their Soul is poſſeſſed of Heaven. True, their Spirit is made perfect, and hath as much of Heaven as at preſent it can hold; but Man conſiſting of Body and Soul, cannot be ſaid to be perfectly ſaved ſo long as but part of him is in the Heavens: his Body is the price of the Blood of Chriſt, as well as his Spirit; his Body is the Temple of God, and a Member of the Body, and of the Fleſh, and of the Bones of Chriſt; he cannot then then be compleatly ſaved until the time of the Reſurrection of the Dead, 1 Cor. 6. 13, 15, 19. Eph. 5. 30. wherefore when Chriſt ſhall come the ſecond time, then will he ſave the Body from all thoſe things that at preſent make it uncapable of the Heavens: For our Converſation is in Heaven, from whence we look for the Saviour the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who ſhall change this our vile Body, that it may be faſhioned like unto his glorious Body, Philip. 3. 20, 21. O! what a great deal of good God hath put into this little word ſaved: We ſhall not ſee all the good that God hath put into this word ſaved, until the Lord Jeſus comes to raiſe the Dead. It doth not yet appear what we ſhall be, Joh. 3. 2. but till it appears what we ſhall be, we cannot ſee the bottom of this word, ſaved. True, we have the earneſt of what we ſhall be, we have the Spirit of God, which is the earneſt of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchaſed poſſeſſion, Epheſ. 1. 14.

The poſſeſſion is our body, it is called a purchaſed poſſeſſion, becauſe 'tis the price of blood; now the redemption of this purchaſed poſſeſſion is the raiſing of it out of the Grave, which raiſing is called the redemption of our body, Rom. 8. 31. and when this vile body is made like unto his glorious body, and this body and ſoul together poſſeſſed of the Heavens, then ſhall we be every way ſaved.

14. There are three things from which this body muſt be ſaved.

1. There is that ſinful filth, and vileneſs that yet dwells in it, under which we groan earneſtly all our days, 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2, 3.

2. There is Mortality, that ſubjecteth us to Age, Sickneſs, Aches, Pains, Diſeaſes, and Death.

3. And there is the Grave and Death it ſelf, for Death is the laſt Enemy that is to be deſtroyed: So when this corruptible ſhall have put on incorruption, and this mortal ſhall have put immortality, then ſhall be brought to paſs that ſaying, that is written, death is ſwallowed up of victory, 1 Cor. 15. 54.

So then, when this comes to paſs, then we ſhall be ſaved, then will Salvation in all the parts of it meet together in our glory, then we ſhall be every way ſaved, ſaved in God's Decree, ſaved in Chriſt's Undertakings, ſaved by Faith, ſaved in Perſeverance, ſaved in Soul, and in Body and Soul, together in the Heavens, ſaved Perfectly, Everlaſtingly, Glorioufly.

15. Before I conclude my Anſwer to the firſt Queſtion, I would diſcourſe a little of the ſtate of our Body and Soul in Heaven, when we ſhall enjoy this bleſſed ſtate of ſalvation.

Firſt, Of the Soul, it will then be filled in all the faculties of it, with as much Bliſs and Glory, as ever it can hold.

1. The underſtanding ſhall then be perfect in knowledge; now we know but in part, we know God, Chriſt, Heaven, and Glory, but in part, but when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part ſhall be done away, 1 Cor. 13. 10. Then ſhall we have perfect and everlaſting Viſions of God, and that Bleſſed one, his Son Jeſus Chriſt; a good thought of whom doth ſometimes ſo fill us, while in this World, that it cauſeth joy unſpeakable, and full of glory.

2. Then ſhall our Will and Affections be ever in a burning flame of love to God and his Son Jeſus Chriſt; our love here hath ups and downs, but there it ſhall be always perfect with that perfection which is not poſſible in this World to be enjoyed.

3. Then will our Conſcience have that Peace and Joy, that neither Tongue, or Pen, of Men, or Angels, can expreſs.

4. Then will our Memory be ſo enlarged to retain all things that hapned to us in this world, ſo that with unſpeakable aptneſs we ſhall call to mind all God's Providences, all Sathan's Malice, all our own Weakneſſes, all the rage of Men, and how God made all Work together, for his Glory and our good, to the everlaſting raviſhing of our Hearts.

Secondly, For our Body, it ſhall be raiſed in power, in corruption, a ſpiritual Body and glorious, 1 Cor. 15. 44. 16.

The glory of which is ſet forth by ſeveral things.

1. It is compared to the brightneſs of the Firmament, and to the ſhining of the Stars, for ever and ever, Dan 12. 3. 1 Cor. 15. 41, 42.

2. It is compared to the ſhining of the Sun: Then ſhall the righteous ſhine forth as the ſun in the kingdom of their father; who hath ears to hear, let him hear, Matt. 13. 43.

3. Their ſtate is then to be equally glorious with Angels, but they which ſhall be counted worthy to obtain that World, and the Reſurrection from the Dead, neither Marry, nor are given in Marriage, neither can they die any more, for they are equal to the Angels, Luke 20. 35, 36.

4. It is ſaid, that then this our vile body ſhall be like the glorious body of Jeſus Chriſt, Philip. 3. 20, 21. 1 Joh. 3. 2, 3.

5. And now, when body and ſoul are thus united, who can imagine what glory they both poſſeſs? They will now be both in capacity without jarring to ſerve the Lord with ſhouting Thankſgivings, and with a Crown of everlaſting Joy upon their Head.

In this World there cannot be that harmony and oneneſs of Body and Soul, as there will be in Heaven. Here the Body ſometimes ſins againſt the Soul, and the Soul again vexes and perplexes the Body with dreadful apprehenſions of the Wrath and Judgment of God: While we be in this world, the Body oft hangs this way, and the Soul the quite contrary; but there, in Heaven, they ſhall have that perfect union as never to jarr more: But now the glory the Body, ſhall ſo ſuit with the glory of the Soul, and both ſo perfectly ſuit with the heavenly ſtate, that it paſſeth Words and Thoughts.

Thirdly, Shall I now ſpeak of the place that this ſaved Body and Soul ſhall dwell in, why. 17.

1. It is a City, Heb. 11. 16. Epheſ. 2. 19.
2. It is called Heaven, Heb. 10. 34.
3. It is called God's Houſe, Joh. 14: 1, 2, 3.
4. It is called a Kingdom, Luk. 12. 32.
5. It is called Glory, Coloſ. 3. 3. Heb. 2: 10.
6. It is called Paradice, Revel. 2. 7.
7. It is called Everlaſting Habitation, Luke 16: 9.

Fourthly, Shall I ſpeak of their Company; why, 18.

1. They

1. They shall stand and live in the presence of the glorious God the Judge of all, Heb. 12. 23.

2. They shall be with the Lamb, the Lord Jesus.

3. They shall be with innumerable Company of Holy Angels, Heb. 12. 22.

4. They shall be with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the Kingdom of Heaven, Luke 13. 28.

19. Fifthly, Shall I speak of their Heavenly Raiment.

1. It is Salvation, they shall be cloathed with the Garment of Salvation, Psal. 132. 16. Psal. 149. 4. Isa. 61. 10.

2. This Raiment is called white raiment, signifying their clean and innocent state in Heaven. And they (says Christ) shall walk with me in white, for they are worthy, Isa. 57. 2. Revel. 3, 4. chap. 19. 8.

3. It is called Glory, when he shall appear, we shall appear with him in glory, Col. 3. 3.

4. They shall also have Crowns of righteousness, everlasting Joy and Glory, Isa. 35. 10. 2 Tim. 4. 8. 1 Pet. 5. 4.

20. Sixthly, Shall I speak of their continuance in this Condition.

1. It is for ever and ever, and they shall see his face, and his name shall be in their foreheads, and they shall reign for ever and ever, Revel. 22. 4, 5.

2. It is Everlastingly: And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life, Joh. 6. 40. 47.

3. It is Life Eternal, My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me, and I give unto them eternal life, Joh. 10. 27, 28. chap. 7. 3.

4. It is World without end, But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting Salvation, they shall not be ashamed nor confounded World without end, Isa. 45. 17. Eph. 3. 20, 21.

O sinner! What saist thou! How doest thou like being saved? Doth not thy Mouth water? Doth not thy Heart twitter at being saved? Why come then, The Spirit and the Bride says come, and let him that heareth say come, and let him that is athirst come, and whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely, Revel. 22. 17.

QUESTION II.

What is it to be saved by [Grace?]

21. NOW I come to the Second Question, to wit, What it is to be saved by Grace? For so are the words of the Text, By Grace ye are saved.

But First, I must touch a little upon the word (Grace) and shew you how diversly it is taken.

1. Sometimes it is taken for the good will and favour of Men, Esth. 2. 17. Ruth 2. 2. 1 Sam. 1. 8. 2 Sam. 16. 4.

2. Sometimes it is taken for those sweet Ornaments, that a life, according to the Word of God, putteth about the Neck, Prov. 1. 9. chap. 3. 22.

3. Sometimes it is taken for the Charity of the Saints, as 2 Cor. 9. 6, 7.

4. But Grace in the Text, is taken for God's good will, the good Will of him that dwelt in the Bush; and is expressed variously.

1. Sometimes it is called, his good Pleasure:

2. Sometimes the good pleasure of his Will, which is all one with the riches of his Grace, Ephes. 1. 7.

3. Sometimes it is expressed by, Goodness, Pity, Love, Mercy, Kindness, and the like, Rom. 2. 4. Isa. 63. 9. Tit. 3. 4, 5.

4. Yea, he stiles himself, The Lord, the Lord God, merciful, gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity, transgressions and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty, Exod. 34. 6, 7.

22. Secondly, As the word Grace signifieth all these, so it intimates to us, that all these are free Acts of God, free Love, free-Mercy, free-Kindness: Hence we have other hints in the Word, about the nature of Grace, as,

1. It is an act of God's Will, which must needs be free, an act of his own Will, of the good pleasure of his Will; by every of these Expressions, is intimated, that Grace is a free act of God's goodness towards the Sons of Men.

2. Therefore it is expresly said, being justified freely by his Grace, Rom. 3. 24.

3. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both, Luk. 7. 42.

4. And again, Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord God, be it known unto you, Ezek. 36. 32. Deut. 9. 5.

5. And therefore grace and the deservings of the Creature are set in flat opposition one to another: And if it be by Grace, then it is no more of Works, otherwise Grace is no more Grace, but if it be of Works, then it is no more of Grace, otherwise Work, is no more work, Rom. 11. 6.

The word Grace therefore, being understood, doth most properly set forth the true cause of Man's happiness with God, not but that those Expressions, Love, Mercy, Goodness, Pity, Kindness, &c. and the like, have their proper place in our happiness also; had not God loved us; Grace had not acted freely in our Salvation, had not God been Merciful, Good, Pitiful, Kind, he would have turned away from us, when he saw us in our Blood, Ezek. 16.

So then, when he saith, By Grace ye are saved, it is all one as if he had said, by the good Will, free Mercy, and loving Kindness of God, ye are saved; as the words conjoyned with the Text, do also further manifest: But God (saith Paul) who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sin, hath quickened us together with Christ, by Grace ye are saved.

23. The words thus understood, admits us these few Conclusions.

1. That God in saving of the sinner hath no respect to the sinners goodness, hence it is said, he is frankly forgiven and freely justified, Luke 7. 42. Rom. 3. 24.

2. That God doth this to whom, and when he pleases, because 'tis an act of his own good pleasure, Gal. 1. 15, 16.

3. This is the cause why great sinners are saved, for God pardoneth according to the riches of his grace, Eph. 1. 7.

4. This

4. This is the true cauſe that ſome ſinners are ſo amazed, and confounded at the apprehenſion of their own Salvation, his Grace is unſearchable, and by unſearchable grace, God oft puzzles, and confounds our reaſon, Ezek. 16. 62, 63. Acts 9. 6.

5. This is the cauſe that ſinners are ſo often recovered from their back-ſlidings, healed of their wounds, that they get by their falls, and helped again to rejoyce in Gods mercy; why, he will be gracious to whom he will be gracious, and he will have compaſſion on whom he will have compaſſion, Rom. 9. 15.

But I muſt not here conclude this point; we are here diſcourſing of the Grace of God, and that by it we are ſaved; ſaved, I ſay, by the Grace of God.

Now, God is ſet forth in the word unto us under a double Conſideration.

1. He is ſet forth in his own eternal Power and Godhead, and as thus ſet forth, we are to conceive of him by his Attributes of Power, Juſtice, Goodneſs, Holineſs, Everlaſtingneſs, &c.

2. But then, we have him ſet forth in the word of Truth, as conſiſting of Father, Son, and Spirit, and although this ſecond Conſideration containeth in it the nature of the Godhead, yet the firſt doth not demonſtrate the Perſons in the Godhead: We are ſaved by the Grace of God, that is, by the Grace of the Father, who is God; by the Grace of the Son, who is God; and by the Grace of the Spirit, who is God.

24. Now ſince we are ſaid to be ſaved by Grace, and that the Grace of God, and ſince alſo we find in the word, that in the Godhead there is Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt, we muſt conclude, that it is by the Grace of the Father, Son, and Spirit, that we are ſaved; wherefore Grace is attributed to the Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt diſtly.

1. Grace is attributed to the Father, as theſe Scriptures teſtifie, Rom. 7. 25. 1 Cor. 1. 3. 2. Cor. 1. 2. Gal. 1. 3. Epheſ. 1. 2. Philip. 1. 2. Coloſ. 1. 2. 1 Theſ. 1. 2. 1 Tim. 1. 2. 2 Tim. 1. 2. 2 Theſ. 1. 2. Tit. 1. 4. Phil. 3.

2. Grace is alſo attributed to the Son, and I firſt manifeſt it by all thoſe Texts above mentioned, as alſo by theſe that follow, 2 Cor. 8. 9. chap. 13, 14: Gal. 6. 18. Philip. 4. 23. 1 Theſ. 5. 28. 2 Theſ. 3. 18. Phil. 3. Revel. 22. 21.

3. It is alſo attributed to the Holy Ghoſt, Zech. 12. 10. Heb. 12. 19. now he is here called the Spirit of Grace, becauſe he is the Author of Grace as the Father, and the Son: So then it remaineth that I ſhew you.

Firſt, How we are ſaved by the Grace of the Father.

Secondly, How we are ſaved by the Grace of the Son.

Thirdly, And how we are ſaved by the Grace of the Spirit.

Of the Father's Grace.

25. Firſt, How we are ſaved by the Grace of the Father: Now this will I open unto you thus.

1. The Father, by his Grace hath bound up them that ſhall go to Heaven in an eternal Decree of Election, and here indeed, as was ſhewed at firſt, is the beginning of our Salvation, 2 Tim. 1. 9. and Election is reckoned not the Sons act, but the Fathers, Bleſſed be God and the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who hath bleſſed us with all ſpiritual Bleſſings in heavenly places in Chriſt, according as he hath choſen us in him before the foundation of the World, Eph. 1. 4. Now this Election is counted an act of Grace, So then, at this preſent time alſo, there is a remnant according to the election of Grace, Rom. 11. 5.

2*ly*, The Father's Grace, ordaineth, and giveth the Son to undertake for us our Redemption: The Father ſent the Son to be the Saviour of the World, In whom we have Redemption through his Blood, the forgiveneſs of ſins, according to the riches of his Grace; that in the Ages to come, he might ſhew the exceeding riches of his Grace in his kindneſs to us-ward, through Chriſt Jeſus, 1 Joh. 4. 14. Epheſ. 1. 7. chap. 2. 7. Joh. 3. 16. chap. 6. 32, 33. chap. 12. 47.

3*ly*, The Father's Grace giveth us to Chriſt, to be juſtified by his Righteouſneſs, waſhed in his Blood, and ſaved by his Life. This Chriſt mentioneth, Joh. 6. 37. and tells us, it is his Father's Will that they ſhould be ſafe-coming at the laſt Day, and that he had kept them all the Days of his life, and they ſhall never periſh, Joh. 6. 38, 39. chap. 17. 2, 12.

4*ly*, The Father's Grace giveth the Kingdom of Heaven to thoſe that he hath given to Jeſus Chriſt; Fear not little flock, it is your Father's good Pleaſure to give you the Kingdom, Luke 12. 32.

5*ly*, The Father's Grace provideth, and layeth up in Chriſt for thoſe that he hath choſen a ſufficiency of all Spiritual Bleſſings to be Communicated to them at their need, for their preſervation in the Faith, and faithful perſeverance through this life; not according to our Works, but according to his own Purpoſe and Grace, which was given us in Chriſt Jeſus, before the World began, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Epheſ. 1. 3, 4.

6*ly*, The Father's Grace ſaveth us by the bleſſed and effectual Call, that he giveth us the Fellowſhip of his Son Jeſus Chriſt, 1 Cor. 1. 9. Gal. 1. 15.

7*ly*, The Father's Grace ſaveth us by multiplying Pardons to us for Chriſt's ſake, day by day. In whom we have redemption through his Blood, even the forgiveneſs of Sins, according to the Riches of his Grace.

8*ly*, The Father's Grace ſaves us, by exerciſing Patience and Forbearance towards us all the time of our Unregeneracy, Rom. 3. 24.

9*ly*, The Father's Grace ſaveth us, by holding of us faſt in his Hand, and by keeping of us from all the power of the Enemy, My Father (ſaid Chriſt) that gave them me is greater than all, and no Man can pull them out of my Father's Hand, Joh. 10. 29.

10*ly*, What ſhall I ſay? The Father's Grace ſaveth us, by accepting of our Perſons and Services, by lifting up the light of his Countenance upon us, by manifeſting of his Love unto us, and by ſending of his Angels to fetch us to himſelf when we have finiſhed our Pilgrimage in this World.

Of the Grace of the Son.

26. I come now to ſpeak of the Grace of the Son, for as the Father putteth forth his Grace in the ſaving of the Sinner, ſo doth the Son put forth his. For ye know the Grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that though he was rich, yet for your ſakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be made rich, 2 Cor. 8. 9.

Here you ſee alſo, that the Grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt is brought in as a Partner with the Grace of his Father, in the ſalvation of our Souls: Now this is the Grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; he was rich, but for our ſakes he became poor, that we through his poverty might be made rich.

To enquire then into this Grace, this condeſcending Grace of Chriſt, and that by ſearching out, how rich Jeſus Chriſt was, and then how poor he made himſelf, that we through his poverty might have the riches of Salvation.

FIRST, How rich was Jeſus Chriſt?

To which I Anſwer, Firſt, Generally, Secondly, Particularly.

FIRST Generally, he was rich as the Father: All things that the Father hath (ſaid he) are mine. Jeſus Chriſt he is the Lord of all, God over all bleſſed for ever: he thought it no robbery to be equal with God, being naturally and eternally God, as the Father, Joh. 16. 15. Acts 10. 36. Phil. 2. 5. Rom. 9. 4, 5. Joh. 10. 30. but of his Godhead he could not ſtrip himſelf.

27. SECONDLY, Jeſus Chriſt had glory with the Father, yea, a manifold glory with him, which he ſtript himſelf of.

FIRST, He had the glory of Dominion, he was Lord of all the Creatures, they were under him upon a double account.

1. As he was their Creator, Coloſ. 1. 16.
2. As he was made the Heir of God, Heb. 1, 2.

SECONDLY, Therefore the glory of Worſhip, Reverence, and Fear, from all Creatures was due unto him; the Worſhip, Obedience, Subjection, and Service of Angels was due unto him, the Fear, Honour and Glory of Kings and Princes, and Judges of the Earth, was due unto him; the obedience of the Sun, Moon, Stars, Clouds, and all Vapours was due unto him: All Dragons, Deeps, Fire, Hail, Snow, Mountains, and Hills, Beaſts, Cattel, creeping Things, and flying Fouls; the ſervice of them all, and their worſhip was due unto him, Pſal. 148.

THIRDLY, The glory of the Heavens themſelves was due unto him; in a word, Heaven and Earth was his.

FOURTHLY, But above all, the glory of Communion with his Father was his; I ſay, the glory of that unſpeakable Communion that he had with the Father before his Incarnation, which alone was worth Ten thouſand Worlds, that was ever his.

28. BUT again, As Jeſus Chriſt was poſſeſſed with this, ſo beſides he was Lord of Life: This glory alſo was Jeſus Chriſt's; in him was Life; therefore he is called, the Prince of it: Becauſe it was in him originally as in the Father, Acts 3. 15. he gave to all life and breath, and all things; Angels, Men, Beaſts, they had all their life from him.

AGAIN, as he was Lord of glory, and Prince of life, ſo he was alſo Prince of Peace, Iſa. 9. 6. and by him was maintained that harmony, and goodly order which was among things in Heaven, and things on Earth.

Take things briefly in theſe few Particulars.

1. THE Heavens were his, and he made them.
2. ANGELS were his, and he made them.
3. THE Earth was his, and he made it.
4. MAN was his, and he made him.

NOW this Heaven he forſook for our ſakes; He came into the World to ſave Sinners, 1 Tim. 1. 15.

He was made lower than the Angels for the ſuffering of death, Heb. 2. 9.

When he was born, he made himſelf, as he ſaith, a Worm, or one of no Reputation, he became the Reproach and By-word of the People, he was born in a Stable, laid in a Manger, earned his Bread with his Labour, being by Trade a Carpenter, Pſal. 22. 6. Philip. 2. 7. Luke 27. Mark 6. 3. When he betook himſelf to his Miniſtry, he lived upon the Charity of the People, when other Men went to their own Houſes, Jeſus went to the Mount of Olives. Hark what himſelf ſaith for the clearing of this! Foxes have Holes, and Birds of the air have Neſts, but the Son of Man hath not whereon to lay his Head, Luk. 8. 2, 3. Joh. 7. 35. and 8. 1. Luke 9. 58. he denied himſelf of this Worlds good.

AGAIN, As he was Prince of Life, ſo he for our ſakes laid down that alſo; for ſo ſtood the matter, that he, or we, muſt die; but the Grace that was in his heart wrought with him to lay down his Life; He gave his Life a Ranſom for many; he laid down his Life, that we might have life; he gave his Fleſh and Blood for the life of the World, he laid down his Life for his Sheep.

AGAIN, he was Prince of Peace, but he for- 29.
ſook his Peace alſo.

1. HE laid aſide Peace with the World, and choſe upon that account, to be a Man of Sorrows, and acquainted with grief; and therefore was Perſecuted from his Cradle to his Croſs, by Kings, Rulers, &c.

He laid aſide his Peace with his Father, and made himſelf the object of his Father's Curſe, inſomuch that the Lord ſmote, ſtroke, and afflicted him; and in concluſion hid his Face from him (as he expreſſed with great crying) at the hour of his death.

BUT perhaps ſome may ſay, What need was 30.
there that Jeſus Chriſt ſhould do all this? Could not the Grace of the Father ſave us without this Condeſcention of the Son?

Anſw. AS there is Grace, ſo there is Juſtice in God: And Man having ſinned, God concluded to ſave him in a way of Righteouſneſs; therefore it was abſolutely neceſſary, that Jeſus Chriſt ſhould put himſelf into our very Condition, ſin only excepted.

NOW by ſin we had loſt the glory of God; therefore Jeſus Chriſt lays aſide the glory that he had with the Father, Rom. 3. 23. Joh. 17. 5.

2. MAN by ſin had ſhut himſelf out of an earthly Paradice, and Jeſus Chriſt will leave his heavenly Paradice to ſave him, Gen. 3. 24. 1 Tim. 1. 15. Joh. 6. 38, 39.

3. MAN by ſin had made himſelf lighter than Vanity, and this Lord God, Jeſus Chriſt, made himſelf lower than the Angels to redeem him, Iſa. 40. 17. Heb. 2.

4. MAN by ſin loſt his right to the Creatures, and Jeſus Chriſt will deny himſelf of a whole World to ſave him, Luk. 9. 58.

5. MAN by ſin had made himſelf ſubject to Death, but Jeſus Chriſt will loſe his Life to ſave him, Rom. 6. 23.

6. MAN by ſin had procured to himſelf the Curſe of God, but Jeſus Chriſt will bear that Curſe in his own Body, to ſave him, Gal. 3. 13.

7. MAN by ſin had loſt Peace with God, but this would Jeſus Chriſt loſe alſo, to the end Man might be ſaved.

8. MAN ſhould have been mocked of God, therefore Chriſt was mocked of Men.

9. MAN ſhould have been ſcourged in Hell, but to hinder that, Jeſus was ſcourged on Earth.

10. MAN ſhould have been Crowned with Ignominy and Shame, but to prevent that, Jeſus was Crowned with Thorns.

11. MAN ſhould have been pierced with the ſpear of God's Wrath, but to prevent that Jeſus was pierced both by God and Men.

12. MAN ſhould have been rejected of God and Angels, but to prevent that, Jeſus was forſaken of God, and denied, hated, and rejected of Men, Iſa. 48. 22. Matt. 27. 46. Prov. 1. 24, 25, 26. Pſal. 22. 7. Matt. 27. 39. Luk. 6. 14. Pſal. 9. 17. Pſal. 11. 6. Matt. 27. 26. Dan. 12. 2. Joh. 19. 2, 3, 4, 5. Numb. 24. 8. Zech. 12. 10. Joh. 19. 37.

31. I might thus inlarge, and that by Authority from this Text, He became poor, that we through his poverty might be made rich; all the riches he ſtript himſelf of, it was for our ſakes; all the Sorrows he under-went, it was for our ſakes; to the leaſt circumſtance of the Sufferings of Chriſt, there was neceſſity that ſo it ſhould be, all was for our ſakes: For our ſakes he become poor, that ye through his poverty might be made rich.

And you ſee, the Argument that prevailed with Chriſt to do this great ſervice for Man, the Grace that was in his heart; as alſo the Prophet ſaith, in his love, and in his pity he redeemed them: According to this in the Corinthians, You know the Grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; both which, agree with the Text, By Grace ye are ſaved.

I ſay, this was the Grace of the Son, and the exerciſe thereof: The Father therefore ſhews his Grace one way, and the Son his another: 'Twas not the Father, but the Son, that left his Heaven for ſinners; 'twas not the Father, but the Son that ſpilt his Blood for ſinners. The Father indeed gave the Son, and bleſſed be the Father for that; and the Son gave his Life and Blood for us, and bleſſed be the Son for that.

But methinks we ſhould not yet have done with this Grace of the Son: Thou Son of the Bleſſed, What Grace was manifeſt in thy Condeſcention? Grace brought thee down from Heaven, Grace ſtript thee of thy Glory, Grace made thee Poor and Deſpicable, Grace made thee bear ſuch burdens of Sin, ſuch burdens of Sorrow, ſuch burdens of God's Curſe as is unſpeakable: O Son of God! Grace was in all thy Tears, Grace came bubling out of thy ſide with the Blood, Grace came forth with every word of thy ſweet Mouth, Pſal. 45. 2. Luk. 4. 22. Grace came out where the Whip ſmote thee, where the Thorns prickt thee, where the Nails and Spear pierced thee: O Bleſſed Son of God! Here is Grace indeed! Unſearchable Riches of Grace! Unthought of Riches of Grace! Grace to make Angels wonder, Grace to make Sinners happy, Grace to aſtoniſh Devils: And what will become of them that trample under foot this Son of God.

Of the Grace of the Spirit.

I come now to ſpeak of the Grace of the Spirit, for he alſo ſaveth us by his Grace: The Spirit, I told you, is God, as the Father and the Son, and is therefore alſo the Author of Grace; yea, and it is abſolutely neceſſary that he put forth his Grace alſo, or elſe no fleſh can be ſaved. The Spirit of God hath his hand in ſaving of us many ways; for they that go to Heaven, as they muſt be beholding to the Father and the Son, ſo alſo to the Spirit of God. The Father chooſeth us, giveth us to Chriſt, and Heaven to us, and the like; the Son fulfils the Law for us, takes the Curſe of the Law from us, bears in his own body our ſorrows, and ſets us juſtified in the ſight of God. The Father's Grace is ſhewed in Heaven and Earth; the Son's Grace is ſhewed on the Earth, and on the Croſs; and the Spirits Grace muſt be ſhewed in our Souls, and Bodies, before we come to Heaven. 32.

Queſt. BUT ſome may ſay, Wherein doth the ſaving Grace of the Spirit appear? 33.

Anſw. IN many things.

1. IN taking poſſeſſion of us for his own, in his making of us his Houſe and Habitation, 1 Cor. 3. 16. chap. 6. 19. Epheſ. 2. 21, 22. ſo that though the Father and the Son have both glorioufly put forth gracious Acts in order to our Salvation, yet the Spirit is the firſt that makes ſeiſure of us. Chriſt therefore when he went away, ſaid not, that he would ſend the Father, but the Spirit, and that he ſhould be in us for ever, Joh. 14. If I depart, (ſaid Chriſt) I will ſend him, the Spirit of Truth, the Comforter, Joh. 14. 14. chap. 16. 7. 13.

The holy Spirit coming into us, and dwelling in us, worketh out many Salvations for us now, and each of them in order alſo to our being ſaved for ever. 34

1. HE ſaveth us from our darkneſs, by illuminating of us; hence he is called the Spirit of Revelation, becauſe he openeth the blind eyes, and ſo conſequently delivereth us from that darkneſs, which elſe would drown us in the Deeps of Hell, Epheſ. 1. 17.

2. HE it is that convinceth us of the evil of our unbelief, and that ſhews us the neceſſity of our believing in Chriſt; without the conviction of this we ſhould periſh, Joh. 16. 9.

3. THIS is that Finger of God, by which the Devil is made to give place unto Grace, by whoſe power elſe we ſhould be carried headlong to Hell, Luke 11. 20, 21, 22.

4. THIS is he that worketh faith in our hearts, without which neither the Grace of the Father, nor nor the Grace of the Son can ſave us; For he that believeth not ſhall be damned, Rom. 15. 13. Mark 16. 16.

5. This is he by whom we are born again, and he that is not ſo born, can neither ſee nor inherit the Kingdom of Heaven, John 3. 3, 5, 6, 7.

6. This is he that ſetteth up his Kingdom in the heart, and by that means keepeth out the Devil after he is caſt out, which Kingdom of the Spirit, whoever wanteth, they lie liable to a worſe poſſeſſion of the Devil than ever, Mat. 13. 33. Luke 11. 24, 25.

7. By this Spirit we come to ſee the Beauty of Chriſt, without a ſight of which, we ſhould never deſire him, but ſhould certainly live in the neglect of him, and periſh, John 16. 14. 1 Cor. 2 9, 10, 11, 12. Iſa. 53. 1, 2.

8. By this Spirit we are helped to praiſe God acceptably; but without it, 'tis impoſſible to be heard unto Salvation, Rom. 8. 26. Eph. 6. 18. 1 Cor. 14 15.

9 By this bleſſed Spirit the Love of God is ſhed abroad in our hearts, and our hearts are directed into the Love of God, Rom. 5. 5. 2 Theſ. 2. 5.

10. By this bleſſed Spirit we are led from the wayes of the Fleſh into the wayes of Life, and by it our mortal Body, as well as our immortal Soul is quickned in the Service of God, Gal. 5. 18, 25. Rom. 8. 11.

11. By this good Spirit we keep that good Thing, even the Seed of God, that at the firſt by the Word of God was infuſed into us, and without which we are liable to the worſt Damnation, 1 John 3. 9. 1 Pet. 1. 23. 2 Tim. 1. 14.

12. By this good Spirit we have help and light againſt all the Wiſdom and cunning of the World, which putteth forth it ſelf in its moſt curſed Sophiſtications, to overthrow the Simplicity that is in Chriſt, Mat. 10. 19, 20. Mar. 13. 11. Luke 12. 11, 12.

13. By this good Spirit our Graces are maintained in life and vigour; as, Faith, Hope, Love, a Spirit of Prayer, and every Grace, 2 Cor. 4. 13. Rom. 15. 13. 2 Tim. 1. 7. Eph. 6. 18. Tit. 3. 5.

14. By this good Spirit we are ſealed to the Day of Redemption, Eph. 1. 14.

15. And by this good Spirit we are made to wait with Patience until the redemption of the purchaſed Poſſeſſion comes, Gal. 5. 5.

NOW all theſe Things are ſo neceſſary to our Salvation, that I know not which of them can be wanting; neither can any of them be by any means attained but by this bleſſed Spirit.

35. AND thus have I in few Words, ſhewed you the grace of the Spirit, and how it putteth forth it ſelf toward the ſaving of the Soul. And verily, Sirs, it is neceſſary that you know theſe things diſtinctly; to wit, the Grace of the Father, the Grace of the Son, and the Grace of the Holy Ghoſt; for it is not the Grace of one, but of all theſe Three, that ſaveth him that ſhall be ſaved indeed.

The Father's Grace ſaveth no man without the Grace of the Son; neither doth the Father and the Son ſave any without the Grace of the Spirit; for as the Father loves, the Son muſt die, and the Spirit muſt ſanctifie, or no Soul muſt be ſaved.

Some think, that the Love of the Father, without the Blood of the Son, will ſave them; but they are deceived; for without ſhedding of Blood is no remiſſion, Heb. 9 22.

Some think, that the Love of the Father, and Blood of the Son will do, without the Holineſs of the Spirit of God; but they are deceived alſo; for if any man have not the Spirit of Chriſt, he is none of his; and again, without holineſs no man ſhall ſee the Lord, Rom. 8, 9. Heb. 12. 14.

There is a Third ſort, that think the holineſs of the Spirit is ſufficient of it ſelf; But they (if they had it) are deceived alſo; for it muſt be the Grace of the Father, the Grace of the Son, and the Grace of the Spirit joyntly, that muſt ſave them.

But yet, as theſe three do put forth Grace jointly and truly in the Salvation of a Sinner; ſo they put it forth (as I alſo have ſhewed you before) after a diverſe manner: The Father deſigns us for Heaven; the Son redeems from Sin and Death; and the Spirit makes us meet for Heaven; not by electing, that's the Work of the Father; not by dying, that's the work of the Son; but by his revealing Chriſt, and applying Chriſt to our Souls, by ſhedding the Love of God abroad in our hearts, by ſanctifying of our Souls, and taking poſſeſſion of us as an Earneſt of our poſſeſſing of Heaven.

QUESTION III.

Who are they that are to be Saved by Grace?

I COME now to the Third Particular; 36.
namely, to ſhew you who they are that are to be ſaved by Grace.

FIRST, Not the ſelf-righteous; not they that have no need of the Phyſician. The whole have no need of the Phyſician, ſaid Chriſt: I come not to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance, Mar. 2. 17. And again, He hath filled the hungry with good things, but ſends the rich empty away, Luke 2. 23. Now when I ſay, not the ſelf-righteous, nor the rich, I mean, not that they are utterly excluded; for St. Paul was ſuch an one; but he ſaveth not ſuch, without he firſt awaken them to ſee they have need to be ſaved by Grace.

SECONDLY, The Grace of God ſaveth not him that hath ſinned the unpardonable Sin. There is nothing left for him but a certain, fearful, looking for of Judgment which ſhall devour the Adverſaries, Heb. 10. 26, 27.

THIRDLY, That Sinner that perſevereth in final Inpenitency and unbelief, ſhall be damned, Luke 13. 3, 5. Rom. 2. 2, 3, 4, 5. Mark 16. 15, 16.

FOURTHLY, That Sinner whoſe Mind the God of this World hath blinded, that the glorious Light of the Goſpel of Chriſt, who is the Image of God, can never ſhine into him, is loſt, and muſt be damned, 2 Cor. 4. 3, 4.

FIFTHLY, The Sinner that maketh Religion his Cloak for wickedneſs, he is an Hypocrite, crite, and continuing ſo, muſt certainly be damned, Pſal. 125. 5. Iſa. 33. 14. Matth. 24. 50, 51.

SIXTHLY, In a word, every Sinner that perſevereth in his wickedneſs, ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of heaven: Know you not that the unrighteous ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God: Be not deceived, neither Fornicator, nor Idolater, nor Adulterers, nor Effeminate, nor Abuſers of themſelves with Mankind, nor Thieves, nor Covetous, nor Drunkards, nor Revilers, nor Extortioners, ſhall inherit the Kingdom of God: Let no man deceive you with vain words; for becauſe of theſe things cometh the wrath of God upon the Children of Diſobedience, 2 Cor. 6. 9, 12. Ephes. 5. 5, 6.

37. Queſt. BUT what kind of Sinners ſhall then be ſaved?

Anſw. THOSE of all theſe kinds that the Spirit of God ſhall bring the Father by Jeſus Chriſt; theſe, I ſay, and none but theſe can be ſaved; becauſe elſe the Sinners might be ſaved without the Father, or without the Son, or without the Spirit.

NOW, in all that I have ſaid, I have not in the leaſt ſuggeſted, that any Sinner is rejected becauſe his ſins, in the nature of them, are great; Chriſt Jeſus came into the world to ſave the chief of Sinners: It is not therefore the greatneſs of, but the continuance in ſins, that indeed damneth the Sinner: (But I always exclude him that hath ſinned againſt the Holy Ghoſt; That it is not the greatneſs of ſin that excludeth the Sinner, is evident;

1. FROM the Words before the Text; which doth give an account of what kind of Sinners were here ſaved by Grace; as namely, they that were dead in treſpaſſes and ſins, thoſe that walked in theſe ſins, according to the courſe of this world, even according to the Prince of the Power of the Air, the Spirit that now worketh in the Children of diſobedience, among whom alſo we have all our converſation in times paſt, in the luſts of the Fleſh, fulfilling the deſires of the fleſh, and of the mind, and were by nature the Children of wrath even as others, Eph. 2. 2, 3.

2. IT is evident alſo from the many Sinners that we find to be ſaved, by the revealed will of God; for in the Word we have mention made of the Salvation of great Sinners, where their Names and their Sins ſtand recorded, for our encouragement; as,

1. YOU read of Manaſſeth, who was an Idolater, a Witch, a Perſecutor; yea, a Rebel againſt the Word of God, ſent unto him by the Prophets; and yet this man was ſaved, 2 Chron. 33. 2, 5, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. 2 King. 21. 16. 2 Chron. 33. 10, 11, 12, 13.

2. YOU read of Mary Magdalene, in whom was ſeven Devils; her Condition was dreadful; yet ſhe was ſaved, Luke 8. 2. John 20.

3. YOU read of the Man that had a Legion of Devils in him; O how dreadful was his Condition! and yet by Grace he was ſaved, Mark 5. 1. 19.

4. YOU read of them that murthered the Lord Jeſus, and how they were converted and ſaved, Acts 2. 23.

5. YOU read of the Exorciſts in Acts 19. 13. how they cloſed with Chriſt, and were ſaved by grace.

6. YOU read of Saul the Perſecutor, and how he was ſaved by grace, Acts 9. 15.

Object. BUT thou ſaiſt, I am a Backſlider. 38.

Anſw. SO was Noah, and yet he found grace in the eyes of the Lord, Gen. 9. 21, 22.

2. SO was Lot, and yet God ſaved him by grace, Gen. 20. 36. and, 2 Pet. 2. 7, 8, 9.

3. SO was David, yet by grace he was forgiven his Iniquities, 2 Sam. 12. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13.

4. So was Solomon, and a great one too; yet by grace his Soul was ſaved, Pſal. 89. 28, 29, 30, 32, 33, 34.

5. SO was Peter, and that a dreadful one; yet by grace he was ſaved, Mat. 26, 69, 70, 72, 74. Mark 16. 7. Acts 15, 7, 8, 9, 16, 11.

6. BESIDES, For further encouragement, read, Jer. 3. chap. 33. 25, 26. chap. 51. 5. Ezek. 36. 25. Hoſ. 14. 1, 2, 3, 4. And ſtay thy ſelf, and wonder at the Riches of the grace of God.

Queſt. BUT how ſhould we find out what Sinners ſhall be ſaved? All it ſeems ſhall not: 39.
Beſides, for ought can be gathered by what you have ſaid, there is as bad ſaved as damned, (let him that hath ſinned the unpardonable Sin aſide.)

Anſw. TRUE, there are as bad ſaved as damned; but to this Queſtion:

1. They that are effectually called, are ſaved.

2. They that believe on the Son of God ſhall be ſaved.

3. They that are ſanctified and preſerved in Chriſt, ſhall be ſaved.

4. They that take up their Croſs dayly, and follow Chriſt, ſhall be ſaved.

Take a Catalogue of them thus:

1. Believe on the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaved, Mark 16. 16. Acts 16. 31.

2. Confeſs with thy mouth the Lord Jeſus, and believe in thine heart that God hath raiſed him from the dead, and thou ſhalt be ſaved, Rom. 10, 9.

3. Be juſtified by the Blood of Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaved, Rom. 5. 9.

4. Be reconciled to God by the death of his Son, and thou ſhalt be ſaved by his life, Rom. 5. 10.

5. And it ſhall come to paſs, that whoſoever ſhall call upon the Name of the Lord ſhall be ſaved, Rom. 10. 13. See ſome other Scriptures.

1. He ſhall ſave the humble perſon, Job. 22. 29.

2. Thou ſhalt ſave the afflicted People, Pſal. 18. 27.

3. He ſhall ſave the Children of the needy, Pſal. 72. 4.

4. He ſhall ſave the Souls of the Needy, Pſal. 72 13.

5. O thou my God, ſave thy ſervant that truſteth in thee, Pſal. 86. 2.

6. He will fulfil the deſire of them that fear him, he will hear their cry, and will ſave them, Pſal. 145. 19.

But ſinner, if thou wouldſt indeed be ſaved, beware of theſe four things.

1. BE-

1. BEWARE of delaying repentance, delays are dangerous, and damnable; they are dangerous, because they harden the heart, they are damnable because their tendency is to make thee out-ſtand the time of Grace, Pſal. 95. 7. Heb. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

2. BEWARE of reſting in the Word of the Kingdom, without the Spirit and Power of the Kingdom of the Goſpel, for the Goſpel coming in Word only, ſaves no body, for the Kingdom of God or the Goſpel where it comes to Salvation, is not in Word, but in Power, 1 Theſ. 1. 4, 5, 6. 1 Cor. 4. 19.

3. TAKE heed of living in a profeſſion, a Life that is provoking to God: For that is the way to make him caſt thee away in his anger.

4. TAKE heed that thy inſide and outſide be alike, and both conformable to the Word of his Grace; labour to be like the living Creatures which thou mayeſt read of in the Book of the Prophet Ezekiel, whoſe appearance and themſelves were one, Ezek. 10. 22.

In all this I have advertiſed you not to be content without the power and ſpirit of God in your hearts, for without him you partake of none of the Grace of the Father or Son, but will certainly miſs of the Salvation of the Soul.

QUESTION IV.

41. How it appears, that they that are ſaved, are Saved by Grace?

THIS Fourth Queſtion requireth, that ſome Demonſtration be given of the truth of this Doctrine; to wit, that they that are ſaved, are ſaved by Grace.

What hath been ſaid before, hath given ſome Demonſtration of the truth, wherefore firſt repeating in few words, the ſum of what hath been ſaid already, I ſhall come to further proof.

1. THAT this is true, the Scriptures teſtifie, becauſe God choſe them to Salvation before they had done good, Rom. 9. 11.

2. CHRIST was ordained to be their Saviour before the foundation of the World, Epheſ. 1. 4. 1 Pet. 1. 19, 20, 21.

3. ALL things that concur and go to our Salvation, were alſo in the ſame laid up in Chriſt to be communicated in the diſpenſation of the fulneſs of times to them that ſhall be ſaved, Epheſ. 1. 3, 4. 2 Tim. 1. 9. Epheſ. 1. 10. chap. 3. 8, 9, 10, 11. Rom. 8. 30.

AGAIN, As their Salvation was contrived by God, ſo as was ſaid, this Salvation was undertaken by one of the three, to wit, the Son of the Father, Joh. 1. 29. Iſa. 48. 16.

Had there been a contrivance in Heaven about the Salvation of Sinners on Earth, yet if the reſult of that contrivance had been, that we ſhould be ſaved by our own good deeds, it would not have been proper for an Apoſtle or an Angel to ſay, By Grace ye are ſaved. But now, when a Councel is held in eternity about the Salvation of ſinners in time, and when the reſult of that Councel ſhall be, that the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghoſt will themſelves accompliſh the Work of this Salvation, this is Grace, this is naturally Grace; Grace that is rich and free. Yea, this is unthought-of Grace; I will ſay it again, this is unthought-of Grace; for who could have thought that a Saviour had been in the boſom of the Father, or that the Father would have given him to be the Saviour of Men, ſince he refuſed to give him to be the Saviour of Angels, Heb. 2. 16, 17.

42. AGAIN, Could it have been thought, that the Father would have ſent his Son to be the Saviour, we ſhould in reaſon have thought alſo, that he would never have taken the Work wholly upon himſelf, eſpecially that fearful, dreadful Soul aſtoniſhing, and amazing part thereof! Who could once have imagined, that the Lord Jeſus would have made himſelf ſo poor, as to ſtand before God in the nauſeous rags of our ſins, and ſubject himſelf to the Curſe and Death that was due to our ſin; but thus he did to ſave us by Grace.

Bleſſed be God, and the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who hath bleſſed us with all Spiritual Bleſſings in heavenly places in Chriſt, according as he hath choſen us in him before the foundation of the World, that we ſhould be holy, and without blame before him in love. Having predeſtinated us unto the adoption of Children, by Jeſus Chriſt, to himſelf, according to the good pleaſure of his Will, to the praiſe of the Glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved: In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveneſs of ſins, according to the riches of his Grace, Epheſ. 1. 3. to 7.

43. AGAIN, If we conſider the terms and condition upon which this ſalvation is made over to them that are ſaved, it will further appear, we are ſaved by Grace.

1. THE things that immediately concern our Juſtification and Salvation, they are offered, yea, given to us freely, and we are commanded to receive them by faith: Sinner hold up thy lap: God ſo loved the World that he giveth his Son, that he giveth his Righteouſneſs, that he giveth his Spirit, and the Kingdom of Heaven, Joh. 3. 16. Rom. 5. 17. 2 Cor. 1. 21, 22. Luke 12. 32.

2. HE alſo giveth Repentance, he giveth Faith, and giveth Everlaſting Conſolation, and good hope through Grace, Acts 5. 30, 31. Philip. 1. 29. 2 Theſ. 2. 16.

3. HE giveth Pardon, and giveth more Grace, to keep us from ſinking into Hell, then we have ſin to ſink us in thither, Acts 5. 3. Prov. 3. 34. Jam. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 5. 5.

4. HE hath made all theſe things over to us in a Covenant of Grace, we call it a Covenant of Grace, becauſe 'tis ſet in oppoſition to the Covenant of Works, and becauſe it is eſtabliſhed to us in the doings of Chriſt, founded in his Blood, ſtabliſhed upon the beſt Promiſes made to him, and to us by him: For all the Promiſes in him are yea, and in him Amen, to the Glory of God by us, 2 Cor. 1. 20.

44. But to paſs theſe, and to come to ſome other Demonſtrations for the clearing of this.

FIRST, Let us a little conſider, what Man is upon whom the Father, the Son, and the Spirit beſtows this grace.

By Nature he is an Enemy to God, an Enemy in his Mind: The carnal Mind is enmity to God; for it is not ſubject to the Law of God, neither neither indeed can be, Coloſſians 1. 21. Rom. 8 7.

SO that the ſtate of Man was this, he was not only over-perſwaded on a ſudden to ſin againſt God, but he drank this Sin like water, into his very Nature, mingled it with every Faculty of his Soul, and Member of his Body; by the means of which, he became alienate from God, and an Enemy to him in his very heart; and wilt thou, O Lord, as the Scripture hath it, And doſt thou open thine eyes upon ſuch an one? Job 14. 3. Yea, open thy heart, and take this man, not into Judgment, but into Mercy with thee.

FURTHER, Man, by his Sin, had not only given himſelf to be a Captive-Slave to the Devil; but continuing in his Sin, he made head againſt his God, ſtruck up a Covenant with Death, and made an agreement with Hell, But for God to open his eyes upon ſuch an one. and to take hold of him by riches of Grace, this is amazing, Iſa. 28. 16, 17, 18.

SEE where God found the Few when he came to look upon him to ſave him: As for thy Nativity ſays God, in the day thou waſt born, thy Navel was not cut, neither waſt thou waſhed in water to ſupple thee; thou waſt not ſalted at all, nor ſwadled at all; none eye pitied thee, to do any of theſe things to thee, to have compaſſion on thee; but thou waſt caſt out into the open Field, to the loathing of thy perſon, in the day that thou waſt born. And when I paſſed by thee, and ſaw thee polluted in thy Blood, I ſaid unto thee, when thou waſt in thy Blood, live; yea, I ſaid unto thee when thou waſt in thy Blood, live: now, when I paſſed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold thy time was the time of love; and I ſpread my skirt over thee, and covered thy Nakedneſs; yea, I ſwore unto thee, and entred into a covenant with thee, ſaith the Lord God, and thou becameſt mine: Sinner, ſee farther into the Chapter, Ezek. 16. All this is the grace of God; every Word in this Text ſmells of grace.

45. BUT before I paſs this, let us a little take notice of the carriage of God to Man, and again of Man to God in his Converſion.

FIRST, Of God's carriage to Man; he comes to him while he is in his Sins, in his Blood; he comes to him now, not in the heat, and fire of his Jealouſie; but in the cool of the Day, in unſpeakable gentleneſs, mercy, pity, and bowels of Love; not in cloathing himſelf with vengeance; but in a way of entreaty, and meekly beſeecheth the Sinner to be reconciled unto him, 2 Cor. 5. 19, 20.

IT is expected among Men, that he which giveth the Offence, ſhould be the firſt in ſeeking Peace: But Sinner, betwixt God and Man it is not ſo; not that we loved God, not that we choſe God; but God was in Chriſt reconciling the world unto himſelf, not imputing their treſpaſſes to them. God is the firſt that ſeeketh Peace; and, as I ſaid, in a way of Entreaty, he bids his Miniſters pray you in Chriſt's ſtead; as if God did beſeech you by us, we pray you in Chriſt's ſtead, be ye reconciled to God, O Sinner, wilt thou not open! Behold, God the Father, and his Son Jeſus Chriſt, ſtand both at the door of thy heart, beſeeching there for favour from thee, that thou wilt be reconciled to them, with promiſe, if thou wilt comply, to forgive thee all thy Sins. O grace! O amazing grace! To ſee a Prince entreat a Beggar to receive an Alms, would be a ſtrange ſight; to ſee a King entreat the Traitor to accept of Mercy, would be a ſtranger ſight than that; but to ſee God entreat a Sinner to hear Chriſt ſay, I ſtand at the door and knock, with an heart-ful, and an heaven-full of grace, to beſtow upon him that opens; this is ſuch a ſight as dazles the eyes of Angels. What ſaiſt thou now, Sinner, Is not this God rich in Mercy? Hath not this God great Love for Sinners? Nay further, that thou maiſt not have any ground to doubt that all this is but complementing, thou haſt alſo here declared, That God hath made his Chriſt to be Sin for us, who knew no Sin; that we might be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him. If God would have ſtuck at any thing, he would have ſtuck at the Death of his Son; but he delivered him up for us freely; how ſhall he not then with him, freely give us all things? Rom. 8.

BUT this is not all; God doth not only beſeech thee to be reconciled to him; but farther, for thy encouragement, he hath pronounced in thy hearing, exceeding great and precious Promiſes; and hath confirmed them by an Oath, that by two immutable things in which it is not poſſible that God ſhould lie, we might have a ſtrong conſolation who have fled for refuge to lay hold on the hope ſet before us, Heb. 6. 18, 19. Iſa. 1. 18. chap. 55. 6, 7. Jer. 51. 5.

SECONDLY, Let us come now to the 46.
Carriage of theſe ſinners to God, and that from the firſt day he beginneth to deal with their ſouls, even to the time that they are to be taken up into Heaven.

AND firſt, to begin with God's ordinary dealing with ſinners, when as firſt he miniſtreth Conviction to them by his Word, how ſtrangely do they behave themſelves? They love not to have their Conſciences touched; they like not to ponder upon what they have been, what they are, or what is like to become of them hereafter: Such Thoughts they count unmanly, hurtful, diſadvantageous; therefore they refuſe to hearken, they pull away their ſhoulder, they ſtop their ears that they ſhould not hear, Zech. 7. 11. And now they are for any thing, rather than the Word: An Ale-houſe, a Whore-houſe, a Play-houſe, Sports, Pleaſures, Sleep, the World, and what not, ſo they may ſtave off the Power of the Word of God.

2ly, IF God now comes up cloſer to them, 47. and begins to faſten Conviction upon the Conſcience, though ſuch Conviction be the firſt ſtep to Faith and Repentance, yea, and to Life eternal; yet what ſhifts will they have to forget them, and wear them off! Yea, although they now begin to ſee that they muſt either turn or burn; yet oftentimes, even then, they will ſtudy to wave a preſent Converſion: They object, they are too young to turn yet; ſeven years hence time enough, when they are old, or come upon a ſick-bed: O what an Enemy is Man to his own Salvation! I am perſwaded that God hath viſited ſome of you often with his Word, even twice, and thrice; and you have thrown Water as faſt, as he hath by the Word caſt Fire upon your Conſcience, Chriſtian, what had become of thee, if

God

God had took thy denial, for an Answer, and said, Then will I carry the Word of Salvation to another, and he will hear it! Sinner turn, (says God,) Lord, I cannot tend it, says the Sinner: Turn or burn (says God;) I will venture that, says the Sinner: Turn and be saved (says God,) I cannot leave my Pleasures, says the Sinner: Sweet Sins, sweet Pleasures, sweet Delights, says the Sinner. But what Grace is it in God, thus to parley with the Sinner! O the Patience of God to a poor Sinner! What if God should now say, Then get thee to thy Sins, get thee to thy Delights, get thee to thy Pleasures, take them for thy Portion, they shall be all thy Heaven, all thy Happiness, and all thy Portion.

48. 3*ly*, BUT God comes again, and shews the sinner the necessity of turning now; now, or not at all; yea, and giveth the sinner this conviction so strongly, that he cannot put it off. But behold the sinner has one spark of enmity still. If he must needs turn now, he will either turn from one sin to another, from great ones to little ones, from many to few, or from all to one and there stop. But perhaps Convictions will not thus leave him: Why then he will turn from Prophaneness to the Law of Moses, and will dwell as long as God will let him upon his own seeming goodness. And now observe him, he is a great stickler for legal performance, now he will be a good Neighbour, he will pay every Man his own, will leave off his Swearing, the Alehouse, his Sports, and Carnal Delights: he will read, pray, talk of Scripture, and be a very busie one in Religion (such as it is:) Now he will please God, and make him amends, for all the wrong he hath done him, and will feed him with Chapters, and Prayers, and Promises, and Vows, and a great many more such dainty Dishes as these: Perswading himself that now he must need be fair for Heaven, and thinks besides, that he serveth God as well as any Man in England can. But all this while he is as ignorant of Christ, as the stool he sits on, and no nearer Heaven then was the blind Pharisee, only he is got in a cleaner way to Hell, than the rest of his Neighbours are, There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet are not purged from their filthiness, Prov. 30. 12.

Might not God now cut off this Sinner, and cast him out of his sight; might he not leave him here to his own choice, to be deluded by, and to fall in his own Righteousness, because he trusteth to it, and commits iniquity, Ezek. 33. 13. But Grace, preventing Grace preserves him, 'tis true, this turn of the Sinner, (as I said) is a turning short of Christ: But,

49. 4*ly*, God in this way of the Sinner will mercifully follow him, and shew him the shortness of his performances, the emptiness of his Duties and the uncleanness of his righteousness, Isa. 28. 20. chap. 64. 6. This I speak of the sinner, the Salvation of whose Soul is graciously intended and contrived of God, for he shall by Gospel-light be wearied out of all; he shall be made to see the vanity of all, and that the personal righteousness of Jesus Christ, and that only, is it which of God is ordained to save the Sinner from the due reward of his sins; but behold, the sinner now, at the sight and sence of his own nothingness, falleth into a kind of despair; for although he hath it in him, to presume of Salvation, through the delusiveness of his own good opinion of himself, yet he hath it not in himself, to have a good opinion of the Grace of God, in the righteousness of Christ: Wherefore he concludeth, That if Salvation be alone of the Grace of God through the Righteousness of Christ, and that all of a Man's own, is utterly rejected, as to the justification of his person with God, then he is cast away. Now the reason of this sinking of heart, is the sight that God hath given him, a sight of the uncleanness of his best performance, the former sight of his Immoralities, did somewhat distress him, and make him betake himself to his own good deeds to ease his Conscience, wherefore this was his prop, his stay; but behold, now God hath taken this from under him, and now he falls, wherefore his best doth also now forsake him, and flies away like the Morning-dew, or a Bird, or as the Chaff that is driven with the Whirlwind, and the smoak out of a Chimney, Hos. 9. 11. chap. 13. 3.

Besides, this revelation of the emptiness of his own righteousness, brings also with it a further discovery of the naughtiness of his heart, in its Hypocrisies, Pride, Unbelief, hardness of Heart, Deadness, and backwardness to all Gospel, and New Covenant Obedience, which sight of himself, lies like Millstones upon his Shoulders, and sinks him yet further into doubts and fears of Damnation. For, bid him now receive Christ, he answers, he cannot, he dares not: Ask him why he cannot, he will answer, He has no faith, nor hope in his heart; tell him that grace is offered him freely, he says, But I have no heart to receive it; besides he finds not, as he thinks, any gracious disposition in his Soul, and therefore concludes, he doth not belong to God's mercy, nor hath an interest in the Blood of Christ, and therefore dares not presume to believe; wherefore, as I said, he sinks in his heart, he dies in his thoughts, he doubts, he despairs, and concludes, he shall never be saved.

50. 5*ly*, BUT behold, the God of all grace leaveth him not in this distress, but comes up now to him closer than ever, he sends the spirit of Adoption, the Blessed Comforter to him, to tell him, God is Love, and therefore not willing to reject the broken in heart; bids him cry, and pray for an evidence of mercy to his Soul, and says, Peradventure you may be hid in the day of the Lord's Anger. At this the Sinner takes some encouragement, yet he can get no more then that which will hang upon a meer probability, which by the next doubt that ariseth in the heart, is blown quite away, and the Soul left again in his first plight, or worse; where he lamentably bewails his miserable state, and is tormented with a thousand fears of perishing, for he hears not a word from Heaven, perhaps for several Weeks together: Wherefore Unbelief begins to get the mastery of him, and takes off the very edge and spirit of Prayer, and inclinations to hear the word any longer: Yea, the Devil also claps in with these thoughts, saying, that all your Prayers, and hearing, and reading, and godly Company, which you frequent, will rise up in judgment against you at last; therefore fore better it is, if you must be damned, to chuse as easie a place in Hell as you can. The Soul at this, being quite discouraged, thinks to do as it hath been taught, and with dying Thoughts, it begins to faint when it goeth to Prayer, or to hear the Word; but behold, when all hope seems to be quite gone, and the Soul concludes, I die, I perish, in comes on a sudden the Spirit of God again with some good Word of God, which the soul never thought of before; which Word of God commands a Calm in the soul, makes Unbelief give place, encourageth to hope and wait upon God again; perhaps it gives some little sight of Christ to the soul, and of his blessed undertaking for sinners. But behold, so soon as the power of things do again begin to wear off the heart, the sinner gives place to Unbelief, questions God's Mercy, and fears damning again; he also entertains hard Thoughts of God and Christ, and thinks former encouragements were Fancies, Delusions, or meer Think-so's. And why doth not God now cast the Sinner to Hell, for his thus abusing his mercy and grace? O no! He will have mercy on whom he will have mercy, and he will have compassion on whom he will have compassion; wherefore goodness and mercy shall follow him all the days of his Life, that he may dwell in the house of the Lord for ever, Psal. 23. 6.

51. 6ly, GOD therefore, after all these Provocations, comes by his Spirit to the soul again, and brings sealing grace and pardon to the Conscience, testifying to it, that its sins are forgiven, and that freely for the sake of the Blood of Christ, and now has the sinner such a sight of the grace of God in Christ, as kindly breaks his heart with joy and comfort. Now the soul knows what it is to eat Promises; it also knows what it is to eat and drink the flesh and blood of Jesus Christ by faith: now it is driven by the power of his grace, to its knees, to thank God for forgiveness of sins, and for hopes of an inheritance amongst them that are sanctified by faith, which is in Christ. Now it hath a Calm and Sun-shine; now he washeth his steps with Butter, and the Rock poures him out Rivers of Oyl,

52. 7ly, BUT after this, perhaps the soul grows cold again; it also forgets this grace received, and waxeth carnal; begins again to itch after the World, loseth the life and savour of heavenly things, grieves the Spirit of God, wofully backslides, casteth off Closet-Duties quite, or else retains only the formality of them, is a reproach to Religion, grieves the hearts of them that are awake, and tender of God's Name, &c. But what will God do now? Will he take this advantage to destroy the Sinner? No. Will he let him alone in his Apostasie? No. Will he leave him to recover himself by the strength of his now languishing graces? No. What then? Why he will seek this Man out, till he finds him, and bring him home to himself again. For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I even I, will both search my Sheep, and seek them out, as a Shepherd seeketh out his Flock, in the day that he is among the sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered. I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away; I will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick, Ezek. 34. 11. 16.

THUS he dealt with the Man that went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among Thieves; and thus he dealt with the Prodigal you read of also, Luke 10. 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35. Luke 15. 20.

Of Gods ordinary way of fetching the Backslider home, I will not now discourse, namely, whether he always breaketh his bones for his sins, as he broke David's: or whether he will all the days of their Life, for this, leave them under guilt and darkness; or whether he will kill them now, that they may not be damned in the Day of Judgment, as he dealt with them at Corinth, 1 Cor. 11. 30, 31, 32. He is wise, and can tell how to imbitter backsliding to them he loveth.

HE can break their Bones, and save them; he can lay them in the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deep, and save them: he can slay them as to this Life, and save them. And herein again appears wonderful grace, that Israel is not forsaken, nor Judah of his God, though their Land be filled with sin against the Holy One of Israel, Jer. 51. 5.

53 8ly, BUT suppose God deals not either of these ways with the Back-slider, but shines upon him again, and seals up to him the remission of his sins a second time, saying, I will heal their Back-slidings, and love them freely: What will the soul do now? Surely it will walk humbly now, and holily all its days: It will never backslide again, will it? It may happen it will not, it may happen it will; it is just as his God keeps him; for although his sins are of himself, his standing is of God; I say, his standing, while he stands, and his recovery, if he falls, are both of God. Wherefore, if God leaves him a little, the next gap he finds, away he's gone again: My People, says God, are bent to back-sliding from me. How many times did David backslide? yea, Jehosaphat and Peter? 2 Sam. 11. chap, 24. 2 Chron 19. 1, 2, 3. chap. 20. 5. Mat. 26. 69, 70, 71. Gal. 2. 11, 12, 13. As also in the 3*d.* of Jeremiah, 'tis said, But thou hast played the Harlot with many Lovers, yet return unto me, saith the Lord, Jer. 3. 1. Here is Grace! So many times as the soul backslides, so many times God brings him again, (I mean, the soul that must be saved by grace,) he renews his Pardons, and multiplies them. Lo all these things worketh God oftentimes with Man, Job 33. 29.

54 9ly, BUT see yet more grace; I will speak here of Heart-wanderings, and of daily Miscarriages; I mean, of these common Infirmities that are incident to the best of saints, and that attend them in their best Performances; not that I intend, for I cannot mention them particularly; that would be a Task impossible; but such there are, worldly Thoughts, unclean Thoughts, too low Thoughts of God, of Christ, of the Spirit, Words, Ways and Ordinances of God, by which a Christian transgresses many times; may I not say, sometimes, many hundred times a day; yea, for ought I know, there are some Saints, and them not long-lived neither, that must receive, before they enter into Life, Millions of pardons from God for these; and every Pardon is an Act of grace, through the redemption that is in Christ's Blood. Seventy times seven times a day we sometimes sin against our Brother; but how many times in that day do we sin against God? Lord, who can understand his errors? Cleanse thou me from my secret sins, said David: And again, If thou, Lord, shouldest mark iniquity, O Lord, who should stand; But there is forgiveness with thee that thou maist be feared, Mat. 18. 21, 22. Psal. 19. 12. Psal. 130. 3, 4.

BUT to mention some of them; sometimes they question the very Being of God, or foolishly ask, how he came to be at first? Sometimes they question the truth of his Word, and suspect the Harmony thereof, because their blind hearts and dull heads cannot reconcile it; yea, all fundamental Truths lie open sometimes to the censure of their Unbelief and Atheism; as namely, whether there be such an one as Christ, such a thing as the Day of Judgment, or whether there will be a Heaven or Hell heteafter? and God pardons all these by his grace. When they believe these things, even then they sin, by not having such reverent, high and holy thoughts of them as they ought; they sin also by having too too good thoughts of themselves, of Sin, and the World; sometimes, let me say, often, they wink too much at known sin; they bewail not, as they should, the Infirmities of the Flesh; the itching inclinations which they find in their hearts after vanity, go too often from them unrepented of: I do not say, but they repent them in the general. But all these things, O how often doth God forgive through the riches of his grace?

THEY sin by not walking answerable to Mercies received; yea, they come short in their Thanks to God for them, even then when they most heartily acknowledge how unworthy they are of them; also how little of the strength of them is spent to his praise, who freely poureth them into their bosomes; but from all these sins are they saved by grace.

THEY sin in their most exact and spiritual performance of Duties; they pray not, they hear not, they read not, they give not Alms, they come not to the Lord's Table, or other holy Appointments of God, but in, and with much coldness, deadness, wandrings of heart, ignorance, mis-apprehensions, &c. They forget God, while they pray unto him; they forget Christ, while they are at his Table; they forget his Word, even while they are reading of it.

HOW often do they make Promises to God, and afterwards break them? Yea, or if they keep Promise in shew, how much doth their heart even grudge the performing of them? how do they shuck at the Cross? and how unwilling are they to lose that little they have for God, though all they have was given them to glorifie him withal? All these things, and a thousand times as many more dwell in the flesh of Man; and they may as soon go away from themselves, as from these Corruptions; yea, they may sooner cut the Flesh from their Bones, than these motions of sin from their Flesh; these will be with them in every Duty; I mean, some or other of them: yea, as often as they look, or think, or hear, or speak. These are with them, especially when the Man intends good in so doing: When I would do good, says Paul, evil is present with me. And God himself complains, that every imagination of the thought of the heart of Man is only evil, and that continually, Rom. 7. 21. Gen. 6. 5.

BY these things therefore we continually defile our selves, and every one of our Performances; I mean, in the judgment of the Law, even mixing iniquity with those things which we hallow unto the Lord. For from within, out of the heart of Man proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murthers, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceits, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, foolishness; all these things come from within, and they defile the Man, Mark 7. 21, 22. Now what can deliver the Soul from these, but grace? By grace ye are saved.

QUESTION V.

What might be the Reason moved God to ordain, and chuse to save those that he saveth, by his Grace, rather than by any other Means? 55.

I COME now to answer the Fifth Question: namely, to shew why God saveth those that he saveth, by grace, rather than by any other Means.

FIRST, God saveth us by Grace, because since sin is in the World, he can save us no other way: Sin and Transgression cannot be removed but by the grace of God, through Christ: Sin is the Transgression of the Law of God, who is perfectly just. Infinite Justice cannot be satisfied with the recompence that Man can make; for if it could, Christ Jesus himself needed not to have died; besides, Man having sinned, and defiled himself thereby, all his Acts are the Acts of a defiled Man: Nay farther, the best of his Performances are also defiled by his hands; their Performances therefore cannot be a recompence for Sin. Besides, to affirm, that God saveth defiled Man for the sake of his defiled Duties; for so, I say is every Work of his hand, Hag. 2. 14. What is it but to say, God accepteth of one sinful Act as a recompence and satisfaction for another? But God, even of old hath declared how he abominates imperfect Sacrifices; therefore we can by no means be saved from sin, but by grace, Rom. 3. 24.

SECONDLY, To assert, that we may be saved any other way than by the grace of God, what is it, but to object against the Wisdom and Prudence of God, wherein he aboundeth toward them whom he hath saved by grace? Ephes. 1. 5, 6, 7, 8. His Wisdom and Prudence found out no other way; therefore he chuseth to save us by grace.

THIRDLY, We must be saved by Grace because else it follows, that God is mutable in his Decrees, for so hath he determined before the foundation of the World; therefore he saveth us not, nor chooseth to save us by any other way than by grace, Ephes. 1, 3, 4. chap. 3. 8, 9, 10. 11. Rom. 9. 23.

FOURTHLY, If Man should be saved any other way than by grace, God would be disappointed in his Design to cut off boasting from his Creature, but God's design to cut off boasting from his Creature, cannot be frustrate or disappointed; therefore he will save Man by no other means than by grace; he (I say) hath designed, that no flesh should glory in his presence, and therefore he refuseth their Works; Not of Works, lest any Man should boast: Where is boasting then? It is excluded, by what Law? Of Works, nay, but by the Law of Faith: Ephes. 2. 8, 9. Rom. 3. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.

FIFTHLY, God hath ordained, that we should be saved by Grace, that he might have the praise and glory of our Salvation, That we should be to the praise of the glory of his Grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved, Ephes. 1. 5, 6. Now God will not lose his Praise, and his Glory; he will not give to another; therefore God doth choose to save Sinners but by his Grace.

56. SIXTHLY, God hath ordained, and doth choose to save us by Grace, because were there another way apparent, yet this is the way that is safest, and best secureth the Soul. Therefore it is by Faith, that it might be by Grace, to the end the Promise (the promise of eternal Inheritance, Hebr. 9. 14, 15, 16.) might be sure to all the Seed: No other way could have been sure: This is evident in Adam, the Jews, and I will add, the fallen Angels, who being turned over to another way than Grace, you see in short time what became of them.

To be saved by Grace, supposeth that God hath taken the Salvation of our Souls into his own hand, and to be sure, it is safer in God's hand than ours. Hence it is called the Salvation of the Lord, the Salvation of God, and Salvation, and that of God.

When our Salvation is in God's hand, himself is engaged to accomplish it for us.

1. HERE is the Mercy of God engaged for us, Rom. 9. 15.

2. HERE is the Wisdom of God engaged for us, Ephes. 1. 7, 8.

3. HERE is the Power of God engaged for us, 1 Pet. 1. 3, 4, 5.

4. HERE is the Justice of God engaged for us, Rom. 3. 24, 25.

5. HERE is the Holiness of God engaged for us, Psal. 89. 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35.

6. HERE is the Care of God engaged for us, and his watchful Eye is always over us for our good, 1 Pet. 5. 7. Isa. 27. 1, 2, 3.

57. What shall I say?

1. GRACE can take us into favour with God, and that when we are in our Blood, Ezek. 16. 7, 8.

2. GRACE can make Children of us, though by nature we have been Enemies to God, Rom. 9. 25, 26.

3. GRACE can make them God's People, which were not God's People, 1 Pet. 2. 9, 10.

4. GRACE will not trust our own Salvation in our own hands, He putteth no trust in his Saints, Job 15. 15.

5. GRACE can pardon our ungodliness, justify us with Christ's Righteousness, it can put the Spirit of Jesus Christ within us, it can help us up when we are down, it can heal us when we are wounded, it can multiply Pardons, as we through Frailty multiply Transgressions: What shall I say?

1. GRACE, and Mercy is everlasting.
2. 'TIS built up for ever.
3. 'TIS the Delight of God.
4. IT rejoyceth against Judgment.
5. AND therefore it is the most safe and secure way of Salvation, and therefore hath God chosen to save us by his Grace and Mercy rather than any other way, Isa. 43. 25. Rom. 3. 24, 25. Isa. 44. 2, 4. Psal. 37. 23. Luk. 10. 33, 34. Isa. 55. 7, 8. Psal. 136. Psal. 89. 2. Mala. 7. 18. Jam. 2. 13.

SEVENTHLY, We must be saved by the Grace of God, or else God will not have his Will. They that are saved, are predestinated to the adoption of Children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his Will, to the praise of the Glory of his Grace, Ephes. 1. 5. 6. 58.

1. BUT if it be his Will, that Men should be saved by Grace, then to think of another way, is against the Will of God. Hence they that seek to establish their own Righteousness, are such as are accounted to stand out in defiance against, and that do not submit, to the Righteousness of God; that is, to the Righteousness that he hath willed to be, that through which alone we are saved by Grace, Rom. 10. 34.

2*ly*. IF it be his Will, that Men should be saved through Grace, then it is his Will that Men should be saved by Faith in that Christ, who is the contrivance of Grace: Therefore they that have sought to be justified another way, have come short of; and perished notwithstanding that Salvation that is provided of God for Men by Grace, Rom. 9. 31, 32, 33.

3*ly*, GOD is not willing that Faith should be made void, and the promise of none effect: Therefore they of the Righteousness of the Law are excluded: For if the Inheritance be of the Law, then it is no more of Promise, but God gave it to Abraham by Promise, Rom. 4. 14. Gal. 3. 18.

4*ly*, GOD is not willing that Men should be saved by their own natural Abilities, but all the Works of the Law, which Men do to be saved by, they are the Works of Mens natural Abilities, and are therefore called, the Work of the Flesh, Rom. 4. 1. Gal. 3. 1, 2, 3. Philip. 3. 3. but, God is not willing that Men should be saved by these, therefore, no way but by his Grace.

EIGHTHLY, We must be saved by Grace, or else the main pillars, and foundations of Salvation, are not only shaken but overthrown; to wit, Election, the New Covenant, Christ, and the Glory of God, but these must not be overthrown, therefore we must be saved by Grace. 59.

1. ELECTION, which layeth hold of Men by the grace of God, God hath purposed that that shall stand; the election of God standeth sure, Rom. 9. 11. 2 Tim. 2. 19. Therefore Men must be saved by vertue of the election of grace.

2. THE Covenant of Grace, that must stand: Brethren, I speak after the manner of Men: Though it be but a Man's Covenant, yet if it be confirmed, (as this is by the Death of the Testator, Heb. 9. 16, 17.) no Man disalloweth, or addeth therethereunto; therefore Man must be saved by vertue of a Covenant of Grace.

2. CHRIST, who is the gift of the Grace of God to the World, he must stand, because he is a sure foundation, the same yesterday, to day, and for ever, Isa. 28. 16, 17. Heb. 13. 8. therefore Men must be saved by grace, through the Redemption that is in Christ.

4. GOD's Glory, that also must stand, to wit, the glory of his Grace, for that he will not give to another, therefore Men must so be saved from the Wrath to come, that in their Salvation praise may redound to the glory of his Grace.

60. NINTHLY, There can be but one Will, the Master in our Salvation, but that shall never be the Will of Man, but of God; therefore Man must be saved by Grace, Joh. 1. 11, 12, Rom. 9. 16.

TENTHLY, There can be but one righteousness, that shall save a Sinner, but that shall never be the righteousness of Men, but of Christ, therefore Men must be saved by grace, that imputeth this righteousness to whom he will.

ELEVENTHLY, There can be but one Covenant, by which Men must be saved, but that shall never be the Covenant of the Law, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof: Therefore Men must be saved by the Covenant of Grace, by which God will be merciful to our Unrighteousnesses, and our Sins and Iniquities will remember no more, Heb. 8. 6. to 13.

POSTSCRIPT.

61. A FEW words by way of Use, and so I shall conclude.

The First USE.

FIRST, Is the Salvation of the sinner by the Grace of God? Then here you see the reason, Why God hath not respect to the personal vertues of Men in the bringing of them to Glory: Did I say, personal vertues, how can they have any to God-ward, that are enemies to him in their minds, by wicked Works? Indeed, Men one to another seem to be, some better, some worse, by nature, but to God they are all alike, dead in Trespasses and Sins.

We will therefore state it again, Are Men saved by Grace? Then here you may see the reason, why Conversion runs at that rate among the Sons of Men, that none are converted for their good deeds, nor rejected for their bad, but even so many of both, and only so many, are brought home to God, as Grace is pleased to bring home to him.

1. NONE are received for their good deeds, for then they would not be saved by Grace, but by Works, Works and Grace, as I have shewed, are in this matter opposite each to other; if he be saved by VVorks, then not by Grace; if by Grace, then not by VVorks, Rom. 11.

That none are received of God for their good deeds, is evident, not only because he declares his abhorrence of the supposition of such a thing, but hath also rejected the Persons that have at any time attempted to present themselves to God in their own good deeds for justification. This I have shewed you before.

2. MEN are not rejected for their bad deeds. This is evident by Manasseth, by the Murderers of our Lord Jesus Christ, by the Men that you read of in the Nineteenth of the Acts, with many others, whose sins were of as deep a dye as the sins of the worst of Men, 2 Chron. 33. 2. 13, Acts 2. 23. 41. ch. 19. 19.

Grace respecteth, in the Salvation of a sinner, chiefly the purpose of God, wherefore those that it findeth under that purpose, those it justifies freely through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ.

At Saul's Conversion, Ananias of Damascus, brought in a most dreadful Charge against him to the Lord Jesus Christ, saying, Lord, I have heard by many, of this Man, how much evil he hath done to thy Saints at Jerusalem, and here he hath authority from the Chief Priests to bind all that call upon thy Name: But what said the Lord unto him? Go thy ways for he is a chosen Vessel unto me, Acts 9. 13, 14, 15. This Man's Cruelty, and Outrage must not hinder his Conversion, because he was a chosen Vessel: Mens good deeds are no argument with God to convert them; Mens bad deeds are no argument with him to reject them. I mean, them that come to Christ by the drawings of the Father; besides Christ also saith, I will in no wise cast such out, John 6. 37. 44.

62. SECONDLY, Is the Salvation of the Sinner, by the Grace of God? Then here you see the reason, why some Sinners, that were wonderfully averse to Conversion by nature, are yet made to stoop to the God of their Salvation: Grace takes them to do, because Grace hath designed them to this very thing: Hence some of the Gentiles were taken from among the rest; God granted them repentance unto life, because he had taken them from among the rest, both by election and calling, for his Name, Acts 11. 18. chap. 15. 14. These Men, that were not a People, are thus become the People of God; these Men that were not beloved for their VVorks, were yet beloved by the Grace of God. I will call them my people, which were not my people, and her beloved, which was not beloved: But their minds are averse; but are they the People, on whom God doth magnifie the Riches of his Grace? VVhy then they shall be in the day of his Power made willing, and be able to believe through Grace, Psal. 110. 3. Acts 18. 27. But doth the guilt, and burden of sin so keep them down, that they can by no means lift up themselves? VVhy God will by the exceeding greatness of that power, by which he raised Christ from the dead, work in their Souls also by the Spirit of Grace, to cause them to believe and to walk in his ways, Ephes. 1. 18, 19, 20.

St. Paul tells us in that Epistle of his to the Corinthians, that it was by Grace he was what he was. By the Grace of God I am what I am, says he, and his Grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain, 1 Cor. 15. 10. This Man kept always in his mind a warm remembrance, of what he was formerly by nature, and also how he had added to his vileneſs by practice; yea, moreover, he truly concluded in his own Soul, that had not God by unſpeakable grace put a ſtop to his wicked proceedings, he had periſhed in his wickedneſs: Hence he lays his Call and Converſion at the door of the grace of God. When it pleaſed God, ſays he, who ſeparated me from my Mothers womb, and called me by his grace, to reveal his Son in me, Gal. 1. 14, 15. And hence it is again, that he ſaith, He obtained Grace and Apoſtleſhip: Grace, to convert his Soul, and the gifts and Authority of an Apoſtle, to preach the Goſpel of the grace of God.

THIS bleſſed Man aſcribes all to the grace of God.

1. HIS Call, he aſcribes to the grace of God.

2. HIS Apoſtleſhip, he aſcribes to the grace of God.

3. AND all his Labour in that Charge, he alſo aſcribes to the grace of God.

THIS Grace of God, it was that which ſaved from the beginning.

1. NOAH found grace in the eyes of the Lord, and was therefore converted, and preſerved from the Flood, Gen. 6. 7, 8.

2. Abrahath found grace in the ſight of the Lord; and therefore he was called out of his Countrey, Gen. 12. 1, 2.

3. Moſes found grace in the eyes of the Lord; and therefore he muſt not be blotted out of God's Book, Exod. 33. 12, 17.

NEITHER may it be imagined, that theſe Men, were, before grace laid hold on them, better than other Men; for then they would not have been ſaved by grace: Grace ſhould not have had the dominion and glory of their ſalvation. But as St. Paul ſays of himſelf, and of thoſe that were ſaved by grace in his day, What, are we better than they? No, in no wiſe; for we have proved before that both Jews and Gentiles are all under ſin, Rom. 3. 9. So it may be ſaid of theſe bleſſed ones; for indeed this Concluſion is general, and reacheth all the Children of Men, Chriſt Jeſus alone only excepted; But,

63. THIRDLY, Is the Salvation of the Sinner by the grace of God? Then here you may ſee the reaſon why one Backſlider is recovered, and another left to periſh in his Backſliding.

There was Grace for Lot, but none for his Wife: therefore ſhe was left in her tranſgreſſion; but Lot was ſaved notwithſtanding. There was grace for Jacob, but none for Eſau; therefore Eſau was left in his Back-ſliding, but Jacob found Mercy notwithſtanding. There was grace for David, but none for Saul; therefore David obtained Mercy, and Saul periſhed in his Back-ſliding. There was grace for Peter, but none for Judas; therefore Judas is left to periſh in his Back-ſliding, and Peter is ſaved from his ſin. That Text ſtands good to none but thoſe that are elect by grace, Sin ſhall not have dominion over you; for you are not under the Law, but under Grace, Rom. 6. 14.

IT will be ſaid, Repentance was found in one, but not in the other: Well, but who granted and gave the one Repentance? The Lord turned, and looked upon Peter; he did not turn and look upon Judas; yea, the Lord told Peter before he fell, that he ſhould follow him to the Kingdom of Heaven; but told him, that he ſhould deny him firſt; but withal, told him alſo, he ſhould not let his heart be troubled, that is, utterly dejected; for he would go and prepare a place for him, and come again and receive him to himſelf, John 13. 36, 37, 38. Chap. 14. 1, 2, 3. That is a bleſſed Word of God. The ſteps of a good man are ordered by the Lord, and he delighteth in his way; though he fall, he ſhall not be utterly caſt down; for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand, Pſal 37. 23, 24.

The Second USE.

MY Second USE ſhall be to them that are dejected in their Souls at the ſight and ſenſe of their Sins. 64

FIRST, Are they that are ſaved, ſaved by grace? Then they that would have their guilty Conſciences quieted, they muſt ſtudy the Doctrine of Grace.

IT is Satan's great Deſign, either to keep the Sinner ſenſeleſs of his Sins; or if God makes him ſenſible of them, then to hide and keep from his thoughts the ſweet Doctrine of the grace of God, by which alone the Conſcience getteth Health and Cure: For everlaſting Conſolation, and good Hope is given through grace, 2 Theſ. 2. 16. How then ſhall the Conſcience of the burthened Sinner be rightly quieted, if he perceiveth not the grace of God?

STUDY therefore this Doctrine of the grace of God. Suppoſe thou haſt a Diſeaſe upon thee, which is not to be cured by ſuch or ſuch Medicine, the firſt ſtep to thy Cure, is to know the Medicines: I am ſure this is true, as to the Caſe in hand; the firſt ſtep to the Cure of a wounded Conſcience, is for thee to know the grace of God, eſpecially the grace of God as to Juſtification, from the Curſe, in his ſight.

A Man under a wounded Conſcience, naturally leaneth to the works of the Law, and thinks God muſt be pacified by ſomething that he ſhould do, whereas the Word ſays, I will have Mercy, and not Sacrifice; for I am not come to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance, Mat. 9. 13.

Wherefore thou muſt ſtudy the grace of God. 'Tis a good thing (ſaith the Apoſtle,) that the heart be eſtabliſhed with grace. Thereby inſinuating, that there is no eſtabliſhment in the Soul, that is right, but by the knowledge of the grace of God, Heb. 13. 9.

I ſaid, That when a man is wounded in his Conſcience, he naturally leaneth to the works of the Law: wherefore thou muſt therefore be ſo much the more heedful to ſtudy the grace of God; yea, ſo to ſtudy it as rightly, not only in notion, but in thy practices, to diſtinguiſh it from the Law. The Law was given by Moſes, but Grace and Truth came by Jeſus Chriſt, John 1. 17. Study it, I ſay, ſo as to diſtinguiſh it, and that, not only from the Law, but from all thoſe things that Men blaſphemouſly call this grace of God.

There are many things which Men call the Grace of God, that is not.

1. THE

65. 1. THE Light and Knowledge that is in every Man.

2. THAT natural willingneſs that is in Man to be ſaved.

3. THAT Power that is in Man by nature, to do ſomething, as he thinketh, towards his own Salvation.

I name theſe Three: There are alſo many other which ſome will have entituled the Grace of God: But do thou remember, that the grace of God is his good-will and great love to Sinners in his Son Jeſus Chriſt; by the which good will they are ſanctified through the offering up of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt, once for all, Heb. 10. 10.

AGAIN, When thou haſt ſmelt out this grace of God, and canſt diſtinguiſh it from that which is not, then labour to ſtrengthen thy Soul with the bleſſed knowledge of it. Thou therefore, my Son, ſaid Paul, be ſtrong in the grace that is in Chriſt Jeſus, 2 Tim. 2. 1. Fortifie thy Judgment and Underſtanding; but eſpecially labour to get down all into thy Conſcience, that that may be purged from dead works, to ſerve the living God.

66. And to enforce this Uſe upon thee yet farther, conſider, a Man gets yet more advantage by the knowledge of, and by growing ſtrong in this Grace of God.

1. IT miniſtreth to him matter of Joy; for he that knows this grace aright, he knows God is at peace with him, becauſe he believeth in Jeſus Chriſt, who by grace taſted death for every man; by whom alſo we have acceſs by faith into this grace wherein we ſtand, and rejoyce in hope at the glory of God, Rom. 5. 1, 2, 3. And indeed, what joy, or what rejoycing is like rejoycing here? To rejoyce in hope of the glory of God, it is to rejoyce in hope to enjoy him for ever, with that eternal glory that is in him.

2*ly*, AS it manifeſteth matter of joy and rejoycing; ſo it cauſeth much fruitfulneſs in all holineſs and godlineſs. For the grace of God that bringeth Salvation, hath appeared to all men, teaching us, that denying ungodlineſs, and worldly luſts, we ſhould live ſoberly, righteouſly, and godly in this preſent World, Tit. 2. 11, 12. Yea, it ſo naturally tendeth this way, that it can no ſooner appear to the ſoul, but it cauſeth this bleſſed fruit in the heart and life: We our ſelves were ſometimes fooliſh, diſobedient, deceived, ſerving divers luſts and pleaſures; living in malice and envy, hateful and hating one another; but after the love and kindneſs of God our Saviour appeared. What then? Why then, he that believeth, being juſtified by his grace, and expecting to be an heir according to the hope of eternal life, is careful to maintain good works, Tit. 3. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.

See alſo that in St. Paul's Epiſtle to the Coloſſians, We give thanks, ſay he, to God and the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, praying always for you ſince we heard of your Faith in Chriſt Jeſus, and of the love which ye have to all the Saints; for the hope which is laid up for you in heaven; whereof ye heard before in the word of the Truth of the Goſpel, which is come unto you, as it is alſo in all the world, and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth alſo in you, ſince the day you heard it, and knew the grace of God in truth, Col. 1. 3, 4.

67. 3*ly*, THE knowledge of, and ſtrength that comes by the grace of God, is a ſovereign Antidote againſt all, and all manner of Deluſions that are, or may come into the world. Wherefore S. Peter exhorting the Believers to take heed that they were not carried away with the Errors of the wicked, and ſo fall from their own ſtedfaſtneſs, adds, as their only help, this exhortation; But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, 2 Pet. 3. 18.

1. SUPPOSE it ſhould be urged, That Man's own Righteouſneſs ſaveth the Sinner; why then we have this at hand, God hath ſaved us, and called us, not according to our works, but according to his own purpoſe and grace, which was given us in Chriſt, &c. 2 Tim. 1. 9.

2. SUPPOSE it ſhould be urged, That by the Doctrine of free grace, we muſt not underſtand, God's extending free forgiveneſs as far as we have, or do ſin. The Anſwer is, But where Sin abounded, Grace hath much more abounded; that as Sin hath reigned unto Death, ſo grace might reign through Righteouſneſs, (through the Juſtice of God, being ſatisfied by his Son,) unto eternal Life, Rom. 5. 20, 21.

3. SUPPOSE it ſhould be urged, That this is a Doctrine tending to looſneſs and laſciviouſneſs; the Anſwer is ready: What ſhall we ſay then? ſhall we continue in ſin that Grace may abound? God forbid: How ſhall we that are dead to ſin, live any longer therein? for the Doctrine of free grace believed, is the moſt Sin-killing Doctrine in the world, Rom. 6. 1, 2.

4. SUPPOSE Men ſhould attempt to burthen the Church of God with unneceſſary Ceremonies, and impoſe them, even as the falſe Apoſtles urged Circumciſion of old, ſaying, unleſs you do theſe things, ye cannot be ſaved. Why, the Anſwer is ready: Why tempt ye God to put a yoak upon the necks of the Diſciples, which neither our Fathers, nor we were able to bear; but we believe that through the grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, we ſhall be ſaved, even as they, Acts 15. 1, 10, 11. But not to enlarge;

5*ly*, THIS Doctrine, By Grace ye are ſaved, it is the only remedy againſt deſpairing thoughts, at the apprehenſion of our own unworthineſs: as, 68.

1. THOU crieſt out, O curſed Man that I am, my ſins will ſink me into Hell.

Anſwer. Hold Man, there is a God in Heaven that is the God of all grace, 1 Pet. 5. 10. Yet thou art not the Man of all ſin; if God be the God of all grace, then if all the ſins in the world were thine, yet the God of all Grace can pardon, or elſe it ſhould ſeem, that ſin is ſtronger in a Man penitent, to damn, than the grace of God can be to ſave.

2. BUT my ſins are of the worſt ſort; Blaſphemy, Adultery, Covetouſneſs, Murther, &c.

Anſwer, All manner of Sins and Blaſphemy ſhall be forgiven unto Men, wherewith ſoever they ſhall blaſpheme: Let the wicked forſake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon, Matt. 12. 31. Mark 3. 28. Iſa. 55. 7, 8.

3. BUT I have a ſtout and rebellious heart, a heart that is far from good.

Anſw. Hearken to me (ſaith God,) ye ſtout-hearted, that are far from righteouſneſs, I bring near my righteouſneſs; that is the righteouſneſs of Chriſt, by by which ſtout-hearted ſinners are juſtifyed, though ungodly, Iſa. 46. 12, 13. Philip. 3. 7, 8. Rom. 4. 5.

4. BUT I have an heart as hard as any ſtone.

Anſwer. A new heart alſo will I give you (ſays God) and a new ſpirit will I put within you, and I will take away the ſtony heart out of your fleſh, and I will give you an heart of fleſh, Ezek. 36. 26.

5. BUT I am as blind as a Beetle, I cannot underſtand any thing of the Goſpel.

Anſwer. I will bring the blind a way that they know not, I will lead them in paths that they have not known; I will make darkneſs light before them, and crooked things ſtraight; theſe things will I do unto them, and not forſake them, Iſa. 41. 16.

6. BUT my heart will not be affected with the Sufferings and Blood of Chriſt.

Anſwer. I will pour upon the houſe of David, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, the ſpirit of grace and ſupplication, and they ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they ſhall mourn for him as one mourneth for his only Son, and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as, one that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born, Zech. 12. 10.

7. BUT though I ſee what is like to become of me if I find not Chriſt, yet my Spirit, while I am thus, will be, running after Vanity, Fooliſhneſs, Uncleanneſs, Wickedneſs.

Anſwer. Then will I ſprinkle clean water upon you, and you ſhall be clean, from all filthineſs, and from all your Idols will I cleanſe you, Ezek. 36. 25.

8. BUT I cannot believe in Chriſt.

Anſwer. BUT God hath promiſed to make thee believe. I will alſo leave in the midſt of thee an afflicted and poor People, and they ſhall truſt in the Name of the Lord: And again, There ſhall be a Root of Jeſſe, and he ſhall riſe to reign over the Gentiles, and in him ſhall the Gentiles truſt, Zeph. 3. 12. Rom. 15. 12.

9. BUT I cannot pray to God for Mercy.

Anſwer. BUT God hath graciouſly promiſed a Spirit of Prayer, yea, Many People and ſtrong Nations, ſhall come to ſeek the Lord of Hoaſts in Jeruſalem, and to pray before the Lord: They ſhall call on my Name, and I will hear them, I will ſay, it is my People, and they ſhall ſay, the Lord is my God; Zech. 8. 22. chap. 13. 9. chap. 12. 10.

10. But I cannot repent.

Anſwer. The God of our Fathers raiſed up Jeſus whom ye ſlew, and hanged on a Tree: Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, to give repentance to Iſrael, and the forgiveneſs of ſins, Acts 5. 30, 31.

Thus might I inlarge, for the Holy Bible is full of this exceeding Grace of God. O theſe words, I will, and you ſhall, they are the Language of a Gracious God: They are Promiſes by which our God has engaged himſelf to do that for poor Sinners, which would elſe be left undone for ever.

The Third USE.

69. THIRDLY, Are they that are ſaved, ſaved by Grace? Then let Chriſtians labour to advance God's Grace.

1. IN Heart.
2. IN Life.

FIRST in Heart, and that in this manner.

1. BELIEVE in God's Mercy, through Jeſus Chriſt, and ſo advance the Grace of God; I mean, venture heartily, venture confidently, for there is a ſufficiency in the Grace of God. Abraham magnified the Grace of God, when he conſidered not his own body now dead, neither yet the barrenneſs of Sarah's Womb: When he ſtaggered not at the promiſe of God through unbelief, but was ſtrong in faith, giving Glory to God, Rom. 4. 19, 20.

2. ADVANCE it by heightning of it in thy thoughts: Have always good and great thoughts of the Grace of God, narrow and ſlender thoughts of it are a great diſparagement to it.

And to help thee in this matter, conſider.

1. THIS Grace is compared to a Sea, and thou wilt caſt all our ſins into the depth of the Sea, Mich. 7. 19. now a Sea can never be filled up by caſting into it. 70

2. THIS Grace is compared to a Fountain, to an open Fountain: In that day there ſhall be a Fountain opened to the Houſe of David, and to the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem for ſin and for uncleanneſs: Now a Fountain can never be drawn dry, Zech. 13. 1.

3. THE Pſalmiſt crys out concerning the Grace and Mercy of God, it endureth for ever, he ſays ſo twenty ſix times in one Pſalm: ſurely he ſaw a great deal in it, ſurely he was taken a great deal with it, Pſal. 136.

4. St. PAUL ſays, the God of all Grace, can do more then we ask, or think, Epheſ. 3. 20.

5. THEREFORE as God's Word ſays, ſo thou ſhouldeſt conclude of the Grace of God.

3ly, COME boldly to the Throne of Grace by hearty Prayer, for this is the way alſo to magnifie the Grace of God: This is the Apoſtles Exhortation, Let us therefore come boldly to the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need, Heb. 4. 15.

See here a little, and wonder.

WE have been all this while diſcourſing of the Grace of God; and now we are come to his Throne; as Job ſays, even to his Seat; and behold, that is a Throne of Grace. O, when a God of Grace is upon a Throne of Grace, and a poor Sinner ſtands by, and begs for Grace, and that in the name of a gracious Chriſt, in and by the help of the Spirit of Grace, can it be otherwiſe, but ſuch a ſinner muſt obtain mercy and grace, to help in time of need? But not to forget the Exhortation, Come boldly. Indeed we are apt to forget this Exhortation; we think, being we are ſuch abominable ſinners, we ſhould not preſume to come boldly to the Throne of Grace: But yet ſo we are bidden to do; and to break a Commandment here, is as bad as to break it in another place.

YOU may ask me, What is it to come boldly? 71

Anſwer 1. It is to come confidently, Let us draw near with a true heart, in full aſſurance of faith, having our hearts ſprinkled from an evil conſcience, and our bodies waſhed with pure water, Heb. 10. 21, 22.

2. TO come boldly, it is to come frequently, at Morning, at Noon, and at Night will I pray: We uſe to count them bold Beggers that come often to our Door.

3. TO come boldly, it is to ask for great things when we come: That's the bold Beggar gar, that will not only ask, but alſo chooſe the thing that he asketh.

4. TO come boldly, it is to ask for others as well as our ſelves; to beg Mercy and Grace for all the Saints of God under Heaven, as well as for our ſelves: Praying with all Prayer and Supplication in the Spirit for all Saints, Epheſians 6. 18.

5. TO come boldly, it is to come and take no nay; thus Jacob came to the Throne of grace. I will not let thee go except thou bleſs me. Gen. 32. 26.

6. TO come boldly, it is to plead God's Promiſes with him, both in a way of Juſtice and Mercy, and to take it for granted, God will give us, (becauſe he hath ſaid it) whatever we ask in the Name of his Son.

4*ly*, LABOUR to advance God's Grace in thy heart, by often admiring praiſing and bleſſing God in ſecret for it, God expects it: He that offereth praiſe glorifies me, ſays he: By Jeſus Chriſt therefore let us offer the ſacrifice of praiſe to God continually; that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks in his Name, Pſal. 50. 23. Hebr. 13. 15.

72. BUT again Secondly, As we ſhould advance this Grace in our hearts, ſo we ſhould do it in our life: We ſhould in our Converſation adorn the Doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. 'Tis a great word of the Apoſtle; Only let your Converſation be as becomes the Goſpel of Chriſt, which is the Goſpel of the Grace of God, Philip. 1. 27. God expecteth that there ſhould in our whole life be a bleſſed tang of the Goſpel; or that in our life among Men, there ſhould be preached to them the Grace of the Goſpel of God.

The Goſpel ſhews us, That God did wonderfully ſtoop and condeſcend for our good, and to do accordingly it is to ſtoop and condeſcend to others.

The Goſpel ſhews us, That there was abundance of pity, love, bowels, and compaſſion in God towards us, and accordingly we ſhould be full of bowels, pity, love, and compaſſion to others.

The Goſpel ſhews us, That in God there is a great deal of willingneſs to do good to others.

The Goſpel ſhews us, That God acteth towards us, according to his truth and faithfulneſs, and ſo ſhould we be in all our actions one to another.

By the Goſpel God declares, that he forgiveth us ten thouſand Talents, and we ought likewiſe to forgive our Brother the hundred Pence.

73. And now before I conclude this Uſe let me give you a few heart indearing Conſiderations, to this ſo good and ſo happy a Work.

FIRST, Conſider, God hath ſaved thee, by his Grace; Chriſtian, God hath ſaved thee, thou haſt eſcaped the Lyon's Mouth, thou art delivered from Wrath to come, advance the grace that ſaves thee, in thy heart and life.

SECONDLY, Conſider, God left Millions in their ſins that day he ſaved thee by his grace: He left Millions out, and pitched upon thee: It may be Hundreds alſo, yea Thouſands, were in the day of thy Converſion, lying before him under the preaching of the Word as thou wert, yet he took thee: Conſiderations of this nature affected David much, and God would have it affect thee to the advancing of his Grace in thy Life and Converſation, Pſal. 78, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71. Deut. 7. 7.

THIRDLY, Conſider, perhaps the moſt part of thoſe that God refuſed, that day that he called thee by his Grace, were as to Converſation far better than ever thou wert. I was a Blaſphemer, I was a Perſecutor, I was an injurious Perſon, but I obtained mercy! O this ſhould affect thy heart, this ſhould engage thy heart to ſtudy to advance this Grace of God, 1 Tim. 1. 14, 15.

FOURTHLY, Perhaps in the day of thy Converſion thou waſt more unruly than many: Like a Bullock unaccuſtomed to the Yoak, hardly tamed, thou waſt brought home by ſtrong hands; thou wouldeſt not drive, the Lord Jeſus muſt take thee up, lay thee upon his Shoulder, and carry thee home to his Father's Houſe, this ſhould engage thy heart to ſtudy to advance the Grace of God, Luke 15. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

FIFTHLY, It may be, many did take even offence at God in his converting and ſaving of thee by his Grace, even as the elder Son was offended with his Father for killing the fatted Calf for his Brother, and yet that did not hinder the Grace of God, nor make God abate his love to thy Soul: This ſhould make thee ſtudy to advance the Grace of God in thy heart and life, Luke 15. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32.

SIXTHLY, Conſider again, that God hath allowed thee but a little time for this good work, even the few days that thou haſt now to live, I mean for this good work among ſinful Men, and then thou ſhalt go to receive that wages that Grace alſo will give thee for thy work to thy eternal joy.

SEVENTHLY, Let this alſo have ſome place upon thy heart, every Man ſhews ſubjection to the God that he ſerveth: Yea, though that God be none other but the Devil and his Luſts, and wilt not thou, O Man! ſaved of the Lord! Be much more ſubject to the Father of Spirits and Love: Alas! They are purſuing their own Damnation, yet they ſport it, and Dance all the way they go. They ſerve that God with chearfulneſs and delight, who at laſt will plunge them into the everlaſting gulf of Death, and torment them in the fiery flames of Hell: But thy God is the God of Salvation, and to God thy Lord belongs the iſſues from death: wilt not thou ſerve him with joyfulneſs in the enjoyment of all good things? Even him by whom thou art to be made bleſſed for ever.

Object. This is that which kills me, Honour God I cannot; my heart is ſo wretched, ſo ſpiritleſs, and deſperately wicked I cannot? 74.

Anſwer. What doſt thou mean by cannot?

1. IF thou meaneſt, thou haſt no ſtrength to do it, thou haſt ſaid an untruth, for ſtronger is he that is in us, than he that is in the World, Joh. 4. 4.

1. IF thou meaneſt thou haſt no will, then thou art out alſo, for every Chriſtian (in his right mind) is a willing Man, and the day of God's Power hath made him ſo, Pſal. 110. 3.

3. IF thou meaneſt, that thou wanteſt Wiſdom, that's thine own fault: If any Man lacks wiſdom, let him ask it of God, who giveth to all Men liberally, and upbraideth not. Jam. 1. 5.

Object.

75. Object. I cannot do things as I would.

Answer. No more could the best of the Saints of old, to will is present with me, said Paul, but how to perform that which is good I find not: And again, the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh, and these are contrary the one to the other, so that ye cannot do the things that ye would: Rom. 7. 18. Gal. 5. 17.

And here indeed lies a great discovery of this truth, ye are saved by Grace, for the Children of God, whilst here, notwithstanding their Conversion to God, and Salvation by Christ through Grace, are so infirm and weak, by reason of a body of death that yet remaineth in them, that should even the sin that is in the best of their performances be laid to their charge, according to the tenour of a Covenant of Works, they would find it impossible ever into get in glory. But why do I talk thus? 'Tis impossible that those that are saved by grace should have their Infirmities laid to their charge as afore, for they are not under the Law, they are included by the Grace of God, in the Death and Blood of the Son of God, who ever liveth to make intercession for them at the right hand of God. Whose intercession is so prevalent with the Father, as to take away the iniquity of our holy things from his sight, and to present us holy and unreprovable, and unblameable in his sight: To him, by Christ Jesus, through the help of the blessed Spirit of Grace, be given, Praise, and Thanks, and Glory, and Dominion, by all his Saints, now and for ever, Amen.

FINIS.

To the READER.

Courteous Reader,

IN this little Book thou art presented with a Discourse of the GRACE of God, and of Salvation, by that Grace; In which Discourse thou shalt find how each Person in the Godhead, doth his part in the Salvation of the Sinner.

I. THE Father putteth forth his Grace, thus.

II. THE Son putteth forth his Grace, thus.

III. AND the Spirit putteth forth his Grace, thus: Which things thou shalt find here particularly handled.

THOU shalt also find in this small Treatise, the way of God with the Sinner, as to his CONVERSATION, and the way of the Sinner with God in the same: Where the Grace of God, and the wickedness of the Sinner do greatly shew themselves.

IF thou findest ME short in things, impute that my love to brevity.

IF thou findest me besides the truth in ought, impute that to mine Infirmity.

BUT if thou findest any thing here, that serveth to thy furtherance and joy of Faith, impute that to the Mercy of God, bestowed on thee and me,

Thine to serve thee,

With that little I have,

The Epistle to the Reader. 2.

Courteous Reader,

HAVING formerly writ some small Matter, touching the Doctrine of Faith; as Justification by Grace, through the Faith of Christ's Blood, &c. I do here, as the Second to that Doctrine, present thee with a few Lines, touching Good Works, that I might, as at first I shewed thee the Good and Glory of the one, so now shew thee the Beauty and Excellency of the other: For though we are justified, (Rom. 3. 24, &c.) freely by Grace through Christ before God; yet we are justified before Men (Jam. 2. 18.) by our works: Nay, a life of Holiness flowing from Faith in us that are saved by Grace, it doth justifie that Grace before the World, that justifies us before God, 2 Cor. 6. 1, 3. 2 Cor. 9. 12, 13. 1 Pet. 2. 31, 12.

I have not here only in general treated of this Doctrine of good Works; but particularly (after some Discourse about Works flowing from Faith, and what makes it truly and gospelly good,) I discourse of them as we stand under our several Relations, in this World among Men.

As First, The Duty of the Master of a Family: Of the Husband to his Wife; and of hers to him: Of the Duty of Parents to their Children; and of Children to their Parents: Of Masters also to their Servants; and of the Servant again to his Master: with a brief Touch upon good Neighbourhood; and a Discovery of Covetousness, Pride, and Uncleanness, which are great Obstructions to a truly Gospel-Conversation.

I KNOW there are many that have treated of good Works in large and learned Discourses; but I doubt all have not so Gospelized their Discourses as becomes them, and as the Doctrine of the Grace of God calleth for.

HOWEVER, I thought it my Duty to add this Discourse to all that are past; and that for these Reasons:

FIRST, To take away those Aspersions that the Adversaries cast upon our Doctrine, (Rom. 3. 8. as also in the days of Paul,) that because we preach Justification without the works of the Law: therefore they pretend we plead for looseness of Life, whose damnation is just.

SECONDLY, Because, though there be much Discourse about Works in general, yet a particular Discourse of them, as before is touched, is too much neglected; and by this means every one too much left at Uncertainties (as from them) of their several Works under their particular Relations; which I think is one Reason of that Disorder in Families and Places where God's People live, to their shame, and the dishonour of God.

THIRDLY, Because these few Books that do particularly treat thus of good Works, are, I think, now so scarce, or so big, that but few have them, and few buy them, if they may be had, especially our new Converts, for whose sakes principally this short Discourse is intended; and indeed, this is one reason of my Brevity, that the Price might neither be burthensome, nor the Reading long and tedious: Multitude of Words drown the Memory; and an Exhortation in few Words, may yet be so full, that the Reader may find that in the side of a Sheet, which some are forced to hunt for in a whole Quire, &c. The Lord teach us this Wisdom.

FOURTHLY, I have written this Book, to shew that I bear a Fellow-Testimony and Witness (with all that know God,) of the operation that Grace hath, and will have in the heart that hath savingly received it.

LASTLY, I have thus written, because it is amiable and pleasant to God, when Christians keep ther Rank, Relation and Station, doing all as become their Quality and Calling. When Christians stand every one in their Places, and do the work of their Relations, then they are like the Flowers in the Garden, that stand and grow where the Gardiner hath planted them, and then they shall both honour the Garden in which they are planted, and the Gardiner that hath so disposed of them. From the Hysop in the Wall, to the Cedar in Lebanon, their Fruit is their Glory. And seeing the Stock into which we are planted, is the fruitfullest Stock; the Sap conveyed thereout, the fruitfullest Sap, and the Dresser of our Souls the wisest Husbandman, John 15.1. How contrary to Nature, to Example, and Expectation, should we be, if we should not be rich in good Works.

Wherefore take heed of being painted Fire, wherein is no warmth; and painted Flowers, which retain no Smell; and of being painted Trees, whereon is no Fruit. Whoso boasteth himself of a false Gift, is like Clouds and Wind without Rain, Prov. 25. 14.

Farewel.

The LORD be with thy Spirit, that thou maist profit for time to come.

TIT. III. vij, viij.

3. That being justified by his Grace, we should be made Heirs according to the hope of Eternal Life.

This is a faithful Saying; and these things I will that you affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God, might be careful to maintain good Works. These things are good, and profitable unto Men.

I Shall not at this time discourse of every Particular at large, included in these VVords; but shall briefly fall upon those things that I judge most necessary for the People for God: Neither shall I need to make any great Preamble to the words for their explication; they themselves being plain, and without that ambiguity that calleth for such a thing; the general Scope being this, That they which have believed in God, should be careful to maintain good Works.

But yet to prosecute what I intend, with what clearness I may, I shall in a word or two make way for what is to be the Main of this Book.

[This is a faithful Saying;] This; VVhich? VVhy that which goeth before; namely, That being justified by Grace, we should be made Heirs according to the Hope of Eternal Life. This is a faithful Saying; and these things I will that thou affirm constantly.

VVhy so?

VVhy, That they which have believed in God, might be careful to maintain good Works.

The Meaning is, that the way to provoke others to good Works, is constantly (in the evidence and demonstration of the Spirit) to shew them the certainty of their being by grace made Heirs of Eternal Life.

From this Scripture therefore I do gather these things observable:

FIRST, That good Works do flow from Faith. Yea,

SECONDLY, That every one that believeth should be careful that their works be good.

THIRDLY, That every Believer should not only be careful that their works be good, and for the present do them, but should also be careful to maintain them; that is, They should carefully study to keep in a constant course of good works.

And LASTLY, That the best way to provoke both our selves and others to this Work; it is to be often affirming to others, the Doctrine of Justification by grace, and to believe it our selves. This is a faithful Saying: And these things I will, saith Paul, that thou affirm constantly, that they who have believed in God, might be careful to maintain good VVorks.

I begin with the First.

This is evident divers ways: First, From the impossibilty of their flowing from any other thing; they must either flow from Faith, or not at all: For whatsoever is not of Faith, is Sin. And again, Without Faith it is impossible to please him, (Rom. 14. 23. Heb. 11. 6.) Every Man by nature, before Faith, is an evil and a corrupt Tree: And a corrupt Tree cannot bring forth good Fruit. Do Men gather Grapes of Thorns, or Figs of Thistles? Mat. 7. 16,17. Now a Man is made good by Faith, and by that bringeth forth the Fruits that are acceptable to God, Heb. 11. 4. Col. 1. 4, 5, 6.

VVherefore, Sinners, before Faith, are compared to thy VVilderness, whose Fruits are Briars

Briars and Thorns; and whose hearts are the habitation of Dragons; that is, of Devils, Isa. 35. 6, 7. Heb. 6, 7, 8. And hence again it is, that they are said to be Godless, Christless, Spiritless, Faithless, Hopeless; without the Covenant of Grace, without Strength; enemies in their minds by wicked works, and possessed by the Spirit of wickedness, as a Castle by a Conqueror, Ephes. 2.12. Jude 19. 2 Thes. 3.2. Col. 1.21. Luk. 11.21.

NOW these things being thus, it is impossible that all the Men under Heaven, that are unconverted, should be able to bring forth one work rightly good; even as impossible, as for all the Briars and Thorns under Heaven, to bring forth one cluster of Grapes, or one bunch of Figs; for indeed they want the qualification. A Thorn bringeth not forth Figs, because it wanteth the nature of the Fig-tree; and so doth the Bramble the nature of the Vine. Good Works must come from a good heart.

NOW, this the Unbeliever wanteth, because he wanteth Faith; for 'tis that which purifieth the heart, Luke 6. 45. Acts 15. 9. Good works must come from love to the Lord Jesus; but this the Unbeliever wanteth also: Because he wanteth Faith: For Faith worketh by love, and by that means doth good, as Gal. 5. 6.

And hence again it is, that though the carnal Man doth never so much which he calleth good, yet it is rejected, slighted, and turned as dirt in his face again; his Prayers are abominable, his plowing is sin, and all his righteousness as menstruous rags, Prov. 15. 8. Prov. 21. 4. Isa. 60. 4. Thus you see, that without Faith there are no Good Works.

5. Now then to shew you that they flow from Faith: And that,

For that Faith is a principle of Life, by which a Christian lives (Gal. 2. 20, 21.) a principle of Motion, by which it walks towards Heaven in the way of Holiness, Rom. 4. 12. 2 Cor. 5. 7. It is also a principle of strength, by which the Soul opposeth its Lust, the Devil, and this World, and overcomes them; This is your victory, even your Faith, 1 Joh. 5. 4, 5. Faith in the heart of a Christian, is like the Salt that was thrown into the corrupt Fountain, that made the naughty Waters good, and the barren Land fruitful, 2 Kings 2. 19, 20, 21. Faith, when it is wrought in the heart, is like leaven hid in the meal, Mat. 13. 33. or like perfume that lighteth upon stinking leather, turning the smell of the leather into the savour of the Perfume; it being then planted in the heart, and having its natural inclination to holiness: Hence it is that there followeth an alteration of the Life and Conversation, and so bringeth forth fruit accordingly. A good Man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth good fruit, Luke 6. 45. Which treasure, I say, is this Faith (Jam. 2. 5. 1 Pet. 1. 7.) And therefore it is that Faith is called, The Faith according to Godliness, and the most holy Faith, Tit. 1. 1. Jude 20.

6. 2. GOOD Works must needs flow from Faith, or no way; Because that alone carrieth in it an argument sufficiently prevalent to win upon our natures, to make them comply with holiness.

Faith sheweth us that God loveth us, that he forgiveth us our sins; that he accounteth us for his Children, having freely justified us through the Blood of his Son, Rom. 3. 24, 25. Rom. 4. Heb. 11. 13. 1 Pet. 1. 8.

Faith receiveth the Promise, imbraceth it, and comforteth the soul unspeakably with it.

Faith is so great an Artist in arguing and reasoning with the Soul, that it will bring over the hardest heart that it hath to deal with: It will bring to my remembrance at once, both my vileness against God, and his goodness towards me; it will shew me, that though I deserve not to breath in the Air, yet that God will have me an Heir of glory.

Now, there is no Argument greater than this: This will make a Man run through ten thousand difficulties, to answer God (though he never can) for the Grace he hath bestowed on him.

Further, Faith will shew me how distinguishingly this Love of God hath set it self upon me: It will shew me, that though Esau was Jacob's Brother, yet he loved Jacob, Mal. 1. 2. That though there were thousands more besides me that were as good as me, yet I must be the Man that must be chosen. 7.

Now this, I say, is a marvellous Argument, and unspeakably prevaileth with the sinner, as saith the Apostle, For the Love of Christ constrains us, because we thus judge, That if one dyed for all, then are all dead; and that he dyed for all, that they which live (that is, by Faith) should not henceforth live unto themselves. but to him that died for them, and rose again, 2 Cor. 5. 14. Love, (saith the Wise-man) is strong as Death: Many waters cannot quench Love, neither can the floods drown it. If a Man would give all the substance of his house for Love, it would be utterly contemned Song. 8. 6, 7.

Oh! when the broken, dying, condemned Soul, can but see, by Faith, the Love of a tender-hearted Saviour; and also see what he underwent to deliver it from under that Death, Guilt and Hell, that now it feels and fears; which also it knoweth it hath most justly and highly deserved: Then bless the Lord, O my Soul; and what shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits? Psal. 103. 1, 2, 3. Psal. 116. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14.

Thus is Faith a prevailing Argument to the Sinner, whereby he is fetched off from what he was, and constrained to bend and yield to what before he neither would nor could, 1 Cor. 2. 14. Rom. 8. 7.

And hence it is, that Gospel-Obedience is called the Obedience of Faith, as well as Obedience to the Faith, Rom. 16. 26. For it must be by the Faith of Christ in my heart, that I submit to the Word of Faith in the Bible, otherwise all is to no profit; (as saith the Apostle) The Word preached did not profit them, it not being mixed with Faith in them that heard it, (Heb. 4. 2.) For Faith alone can see the reality of what the Gospel saith; and so I say, argue over the heart to the imbracing of it.

4. FAITH is such a Grace, as will represent to the Soul all things in their proper colours: It doth not (as doth Unbelief and Ignorance) shew us all things out of order, putting darkness for light, and bitter for sweet, but will set every thing in its proper place before our eyes; God and Christ shall be with it, the chiefest 8.

good, the most lovely and amiable; a Heavenly Life shall be of greater esteem, and more desireable, than all the Treasures of Egypt! Righteousness and Sanctification will be the thing after which it will most vehemently press; because it seeth not only Death and Damnation, as the fruits of sin, but sin also in it self, distinct from the punishment belonging to it, a detestible, horrible, and odious thing, Heb. 11. 25, 26, 27. Phil. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Rom. 12. 9.

By Faith we see this World hath no abiding in it for us, nor no satisfaction if it were otherwise, Prov. 33. 5. Heb. 11, 15, 16. & 13. 14. 1 Cor. 7. 29, 30, 31. And hence it is, that the People of God have groaned to be gone from hence, into a state that is both sinless, and temptationless: And hence it is again, that they have run through so many Tryals, Afflictions and Adversities, even because of that love to holiness of life, that Faith being in their hearts did prompt them to, by shewing them the worth and durableness of that which was good, and the irksomeness and evil of all things else, 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. Heb. 11. 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39.

9. 5. FAITH layeth hold of that which is able to help the Soul to bring forth Good Works: It layeth hold of, and engageth the strength of Christ, and by that overcometh that which oppresseth. I can do all things through Christ that strengtheneth me, Phil. 4. 13.

In a word, a Life of Holiness and Godliness in this World, doth so inseparably follow a principle of Faith, that it is both monstrous and ridiculous to suppose the contrary. What, shall not he that hath Life have Motion? Gal. 2. 20.

He that hath by Faith received the Spirit of Holiness, shall not he be holy? Gal. 3. 2. And he that is called to Glory and Vertue, shall not he add to his Faith Vertue? 2 Pet. 1. 4, 5. We are by Faith made good Trees, and shall not we bring forth good Fruit? Luke 6. 43. They that believe are created in Christ Jesus unto good Works; and God hath, before the World was, ordained that we should walk in them; and shall both our second Creation, and God's foreordination be made frustrate? Ephes. 1. 4. & 2. 10. Besides, the Children of Faith are the Children of Light, and of the Day, 1 Tim. 5. 5. Lights upon a Hill, and Candles on a Candlestick, and shall not they shine? They are the Salt of the Earth, Shall not they be seasoning? Mat. 5. 13, 14.

The Believer is the alone Man, by whom God sheweth to the World, the Power of his Grace, the operation of his Peoples Faith, &c. The Unbelievers read indeed of the Power of Grace, of the Faith, Hope, Love, Joy, Peace, and Sanctification of the heart of the Christian, but they feel nothing of that sin-killing operation that is in these things; these are to them as a story of Rome or Spain: Wherefore, to shew them in others, what they find not in themselves, God worketh Faith, Hope, Love, &c. in a Generation that shall serve him; and by them they shall see what they cannot find in themselves; and by this means they shall be convinced, that though sin, and the pleasures of this life, be sweet to them, yet there is a People otherwise minded, even such a People, that do indeed see the Glory of that which others read of, and from that sight, take pleasure in those things which they are most averse unto. To this, I say, are Christians called; herein is God glorified; hereby are sinners convinced; and by this is the World condemned; 1 Thes. 4. 7. 1 Pet. 2. 12. & 3. 1. Hebr. 11. 7.

Object. But if Faith doth so naturally cause Good Works, what then is the reason that God's People find it so hard a matter to be faithful in good Works? 10.

I Answer. First, God's People are fruitful in good Works, according to the proportion of their Faith; if they be slender in good works, it is because they are weak in Faith. Little faith is like small Candles, or weak fire, which though they shine and have heat, yet but dim shining and small heat when compared with bigger Candles and greater Fire. The reason why Sardis had some in it whose Works were not perfect before God; it was, because they did not hold fast, by Faith, the Word that they have formerly heard, and received, Rev. 3. 1, 2, 3.

SECONDLY, There may be a great mistake in our judging of our own fruitfulness: The Soul that indeed is candid and right at heart, is taught by Grace to judge it self, though fruitful, yet barren upon two accounts: 1. When it compareth its Life to the Mercy bestowed upon it: For when a soul doth indeed consider the greatness and riches of the Mercy bestowed upon it, then it must needs cry out, O wretched Man that I am! Rom. 7. 24. for it seeth it self wonderfully to fall short of a Conversation becoming one who hath received so great a benefit. 2. It may also judge it self barren, because it falleth so far short of that it would attain unto; it cannot do the thing that it would, Gal. 5. 17. 3. The heart of a Christian is naturally very barren; upon which, though the Seed of Grace (that is the fruitfullest of all Seeds) be sowen, yet the heart is naturally subject to bring forth weeds, Matt. 15. 19. 11.

Now, to have a good Crop from such ground, doth argue the fruitfulness of the Seed: Wherefore I conclude upon these three things.

FIRST, That the Seed of Faith is a very fruitful Seed, in that it will be fruitful in so barren a soil.

SECONDLY, That Faith is not beholding to the heart, but the heart to it, for all its fruitfulness.

THIRDLY, That therefore the way to be a more fruitful Christian, it is to be stronger in believing.

Now for the second thing, to wit, 12.

That every one that believeth, should be careful that their works be good. This followeth from what went just before; to wit, That the heart of a Christian is a heart subject to bring forth Weeds.

There is flesh as well as spirit in the best of Saints: And as the Spirit of Grace will be always putting forth something that is good, so the flesh will be putting forth continually that which is evil.

For the Flesh lusteth against the Spirit, as the Spirit against the Flesh, Gal. 5. 17. Now this considered, is the cause why you find so often in the Scriptures so many items and cautions to the Christians to look to their Lives and Conversations; tions; As, Keep thy heart with all diligence, Prov. 4. 23. Watch ye; stand fast in the Faith; quit you like Men, be strong, 1 Cor. 16. 13. Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a Man soweth, that shall he reap: For he that soweth to the flesh, shall of the flesh reap Corruption: But he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting, Gal. 6. 7, 8.

All works are not good that seem to be so: It is one thing for a Man's ways to be right in his own eye, and another for them to be right in God's. Often that which is in high estimation with Men, is abomination in the sight of God, Prov. 30. 12. Luk. 16. 15.

Seeing Corruption is not yet out of our Natures, there is a proneness in us to build upon the right foundation, Wood, Hay, and Stubble, instead of Gold and Silver, and precious Stones, 1 Cor. 3, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15. How was both David the King, Nathan the Prophet, and Uzza the Priest deceived, touching good Works? 1 Chron. 17. 1, 2, 3, 4. 1 Chron. 13. 9, 10, 11. Peter also, in both his defending his Master in the garden, and in dissuading of him from his Sufferings, though both out of love and affection to his Master, was deceived touching good Works, Matth. 16. 22, 23. John 18. 9, 10.

13. Many have miscarried both as to Doctrine, Worship, and the prosecution of each.

1. FOR Doctrine, Christ tells the Jews, that they taught for the Doctrines of God, the Doctrines and Traditions of Men, Mat. 15. Mark 7. As also saith the Apostle, They teach things they ought not, for filthy lucres sake, Tit. 1. 11.

2. ALSO, touching Worship, we find how frequently Men have mistaken, both for Time, Place, and Matter, with which they worshipped.

1. FOR Time. It hath been that which Man hath devised, not which God hath commanded, 1 Kin. 12. 32. They change the Ordinances, saith Isaiah, Isa. 24. 5. They change God's Judgments into wickedness, saith Ezekiel, Ezek. 5, 6.

2 FOR Place. When they should have worshipped at Jerusalem, they worshipped at Bethel, at Gilgal and Dan, in Gardens, under Poplars and Elms, 1 Kings 12. 26, 27, 28, 29. Hos. 4. 13, 14, 15. Isa. 65. 2, 3, 4, 5.

2. FOR the Matter with which they worshipped. Instead of bringing according to the Commandment, they brought the Lame, the Torn, and the Sick; they would sanctifie themselves in Gardens, with Swines-flesh and Mice, when they should have done it at Jerusalem, with Bullocks and Lambs, Isa. 66. 17.

AGAIN, Touching Mens prosecuting their Zeal for their Worship, &c. that they do think right: How hot hath it been, though with no reason at all. Nebuchadnezzar will have his fiery Furnace, and Darius his Lions Den for Nonconformists, Dan. 3. 6. and 6. 7, &c.

AGAIN, They have persecuted Men even to strange Cities; have laid Traps and Snares in every corner, to entrap and to entangle their words; and if they could at any time but kill the Persons that dissented from them, they would think they did God good Service, Acts 26. 11. Luke 11. 53, 54. John 16. 1, 2. But what need we look to far from home, (were it not that I would seal my Sayings with Truth) we need look no farther to affirm this Position, than to the Papists & their Companions: How many have they in all Ages hanged, burned, starved, drowned, wracked, dismembred, and murthered, both openly, and in secret? and all under a pretence of God, his Worship, and good Works.

Thus you see how wise Men and Fools, Saints and Sinners, Christians and Heathens, have erred in the business of good works, wherefore every one should be careful to see that their Works be good.

NOW, Then to prevent, if God will, Miscarriage in this Matter, I shall propound unto you what it is for a Work to be rightly good. 14.

FIRST. A good work must have the Word for its Authority.

SECONDLY, It must, as afore was said, flow from Faith.

THIRDLY, It must be both rightly Timed, and rightly Placed.

FOURTHLY, It must be done willingly, chearfully, &c.

1. IT must have the Word for its Authority. Zeal without knowledge, is like a metled Horse without eyes, or like a Sword in a madman's hand: and there is no Knowledge where there is not the Word; For if they reject the Word of the Lord, and act not by that, what Wisdom is in them? saith the Prophet, Jer. 8. 9. Isa. 8. 20. Wherefore see thou have the Word for what thou dost.

2. AS there must be the Word for the authorizing of what thou dost, so there must be Faith, from which it must flow, as I shewed you before: For, whatever is not of Faith, is sin; and without Faith it is impossible to please God. Now I say, without the Word there is no Faith, Rom. 10. 17. As without Faith there is no good, let Mens pretences be what they will.

3. AS it must have these two aforenamed so also it must have, first, right Time, and secondly, right Place.

1. IT must be rightly Timed: Every work is to be done at the same time; every time not being convenient for such a work: There is a time for all things, and every thing is beautiful in its time, Eccles. 31. 11. There is a time to pray, a time to hear, a time to read, a time to confer, a time to meditate, a time to do, and a time to suffer. Now, to be hearing when we should be preaching, and doing, that is, yielding active obedience to that under which we ought to suffer, is not good. Christ was very wary, that both his doings and sufferings were rightly timed, John 2. 3, 4. & 13. 1, 2. And herein we ought to follow his steps. To be at Plough in the Field, when I should be hearing the Word, is not good, and to be talking abroad, when I should be instructing my Family at home, is as bad. Whoso keepeth the Commandment, shall feel no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment, Eccles. 8. 5. Good things miss-timed, are fruitless, unprofitable, and vain. 15.

2. AS things must have their right time, so they must be rightly placed; for the miss-placing of any Work, is as bad as the miss-timing of it.

When I say, things, if good, must be rightly placed, I mean, we should not give to any work more than the word of God alloweth it, neither should we give it less: Mint, Anise, and and Cummin, are not so weighty matters, as Faith and the Love of God; as in Mat. 22. 23. For a Pastor to be exercising the Office of a Deacon, instead of the office of a Pastor, it is misplacing of works, Acts 6. 2. For Martha to be making outward Provision for Christ, when she should have sate at his feet to hear his word, was the misplacing a work; and for her Sister to have done it at her Request, (though the thing in it self was good) had been her Sin also, Luke 10. 39, 40, 41, 42.

16. NOW, To prevent the misplacing of good works.

FIRST, They misplace them that set them in the room of Christ, Rom. 10. 1, 2, 3.

SECONDLY, They also misplace them that make them Co-partners with him, Rom. 9. 31, 32. Acts 15. 1.

This is, setting up our Posts by God's Posts; and Man's Righteousness by the Righteousness of Christ, Ezek. 43, 7, 8. These are said to be teachers of the Law, not knowing what they say, nor whereof they affirm, 1 Tim. 1. 7.

THIRDLY, They also misplace works, who ascribe to a work of less moment, that honour that belongeth to a work more noble; and such are,

1. THOSE who count the ceremonial part of an Ordinance, as good as the Doctrine and Signification of it.

2. SUCH who count the Dictates and Impulses of a meer natural Conscience, as good, as high, and divine, as the leadings and movings of the Spirit of Christ.

3. THOSE also who count it enough to do something of what God hath commanded, (and that something, possibly the least,) instead of all, and the things more necessary and weighty.

4. They also much misplace them, who count things indifferent, as high as those that are absolutely necessary in the Worship of God.

5. BUT the grosser, who places Mens Traditions above them.

6. AND they greatest of all, who put Bitter for Sweet, and Darkness for Light. All these things we must shun and avoid, as things absolutely obstructive to good works.

Wherefore, touching good works; Obedience is better than Sacrifice; that is, to do things according to the Word of God, is better than to do them according to my Fancy and Conceit, 1 Sam. 15. 22. Wherefore let all things be done decently and in order, 1 Cor. 14. 40.

AGAIN, As good works should be ordered and qualified. as before is touched, so they should be done from the heart willingly, chearfully, with simplicity and Charity, according to what a Man hath, 1 John 5. 3. 2 Cor. 9. 7. Rom. 12. 8. Col. 3. 20. 1 Cor. 10. 14. 1 Cor. 8. 12.

17. FARTHER, There are three things that a Man should have in his eye in every work he doth.

1. THE Honour of God, 1 Cor. 6. 20.

2. THE Edification of his Neighbour, 1 Cor. 14. 26.

3. The Expediency or Inexpediency of what I am to do, 1 Cor. 6. 12 And always observe it, that the Honour of God is wrapped up in the Edification of thy Neighbour; and the Edification of thy Neighbour, in the Expediency of what thou dost.

AGAIN, If thou wouldst walk to the Edification of thy Neighbour, and so to God's Honour, in the midst of thy Observers; Beware,

1. THAT thou in thy words and carriages, dost so demean thy self, that Christ in his precious Benefits may be with clearness spoken forth by thee; and take heed, that thou dost not enter into doubtful Points with them that are weak, Rom. 15. 1. but deal chiefly, lovingly, and wisely, with their Consciences about those Matters that tend to their establishment in the Faith of their Justification, and Deliverance from Death and Hell. Comfort the feeble-minded, confirm the weak, 1 Thes. 5. 14.

2. If thou be stronger than thy Brother, take heed that thou do not that before him, that may offend his weak Conscience: I mean, things that in themselves may be lawful: All that is lawful is not expedient; all that is lawful edifieth not, 1 Cor. 6. 12. Wherefore here is thy Wisdom and love, that thou in some things deny thy self for thy Brothers sake: 1 Cor. 8. 13. I will not eat meat while the world standeth, saith Paul, lest I make my Brother to offend. Wherefore have this Faith to thy self before God, Rom. 14. 22. But if thou walk otherwise, know, thou walkest not charitably, and so not to edification, and so not to Christ's Honour, but dost sin against Christ, and wound thy weak Brother, for whom Christ died, Rom. 14. 15. 1 Cor. 8. 12.

But I say, all this while keep thy eye upon the Word; take heed of going contrary to that under any pretence whatever; for without the Word, there is nothing to God's glory, nor thy Brother's edification. Wherefore, walk wisely in a perfect way, Psal. 101. 2, 3.

Having thus, in few words, shewed you what are works rightly good, I beseech you in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, that you put your selves into a consciencious performance of them, that you may, while you live here, be Vessels of honour, and fit for the Master's use, and prepared to every good work, 1 Tim. 6. 17. Study to approve things that are excellent, that you may be sincere, and without offence, until the Day of Christ, Phil. 1. 10. Covet Communion with God; covet earnestly the best gifts, 1 Cor. 12. 31. Ah! we that are redeemed from among Men, Rev. 14. 4. and that rejoyce in hope of the Glory of God, Rom. 5. 2. we that look, I say, for the blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ, Tit. 2. 13. What manner of persons should we be in all holy Conversation and Godliness? 2 Pet. 3. 11.

To conclude, for your further edification, take a plain rehearsal of your several general Duties and Works, to which God ingageth you in his Word, according to your Places, Callings, and Relations in this World.

Touching the Master of a Family.

18 IF thou have under thee a Family, then thou art to consider the several relations thou standest under; and art to know, that thou in each of them hast a work to do for God, and that he expecteth thy faithful deportment under every one of them. As,

FIRST,

FIRST, then in general, He that is the Master of a Family, he hath, as under that relation, a work to do for God; to wit, The right governing of his own Family. And his work is twofold.

1. TOUCHING the spiritual state thereof.
2. TOUCHING the outward.

As touching the spiritual State of his Family; He ought to be very diligent and circumspect, doing his utmost endeavour, both to encrease Faith where it is begun, and to begin it where it is not.

Wherefore to this end, he ought diligently and frequently to lay before his houshold such things of God, out of his Word, as are sutable for each particular: And let no Man question his Rule in the Word of God for such a practice; for if the thing it self were but of good report, and a thing tending to civil honesty, it is within the compass and bounds even of nature it self, and ought to be done; much more things of a higher nature: Besides, the Apostle exhorts us to, Whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are true, just, and of good report, to think of them, that is, to be mindful to do them, Phil. 4. 8. But to be conversant in this godly Exercise in our Family, is very worthy of praise, and doth much become all Christians. This is one of the things for which God so highly commended his Servant Abraham, and that with which his heart was so much affected: I know Abraham, saith God, (I know him to be a good Man in very deed) for he will command his Children and his Houshold after him, and they shall keep the Way of the Lord, Gen. 18. 19. This was a thing also which good Joshua designed should be his practice as long as he had a breathing time in this world: As for me, saith he, I and my houshold, we will serve the Lord, Josh. 24. 15.

Further, We find also in the New Testament, that they are looked upon as Christians of an inferior rank that have not a due regard to this Duty, yea, so inferior, as not fit to be chosen to any Office in the Church of God. A Pastor must be one that ruleth well his own house, having his Children in subjection with all gravity: For if a Man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the Church of God? The Deacon also, saith he, must be the Husband of one Wife; ruling their Children and their own House well, 1 Tim. 3. Mark a little, the Apostle seems to lay down thus much, that a Man that governs his Family well, hath one qualification belonging to a Pastor or Deacon in the House of God, (For he that knoweth not how to rule his own House, how shall he take care of the Church of God?) which thing considered, it giveth us light into the work of the Master of a Family, touching the governing of his House.

19. 1. THEN a Pastor must be sound and incorrupt in his Doctrine: And indeed so must the Master of a Family, Tit. 1. 9. Ephes. 6. 4.

2. A Pastor should be apt to teach, to reprove, and to exhort: And so should the Master of a Family, 1 Tim. 3. 2. Deut. 6. 7.

3. A Pastor must himself be exemplary in Faith and Holiness: And so also should the Master of a Family, 1 Tim. 3. 2, 3, 4. & 4. 12.

I, saith David, will behave my self in a perfect way; I will walk in (or before) my house in a perfect way, Psal. 101. 2.

4. THE Pastor is for getting the Church together, and when they are so come together, then to pray among them, and to preach unto them: This is also commendable in Christian Masters of Families.

Object. BUT my Family is ungodly and unruly touching all that is good, What shall I do? 20.

Answ. I Answer, First, Though this be true, yet thou must rule them, and not they thee: Thou art set over them of God, and thou art to use the authority which God hath given thee, both to rebuke their Vice, and to shew them the evil of their rebelling against the Lord. This did Eli, though not enough; and thus did David, 1 Sam. 2. 24, 25. 1 Chron. 28. 9.

Also, thou must tell them how sad thy state was when thou wast in their condition, and so labour to recover them out of the snare of the Devil, Mark 5. 19.

2. THOU oughtest also to labour to draw them forth to God's Publick Worship, if peradventure God may convert their Souls. Saith Jacob to his Houshould, and to all that were about him, Let us arise and go to Bethel, and I will make there an Altar to God, that answered me in the day of my distress, Gen. 35. 3.

Hannah would carry Samuel to Shilo, that he might abide with God for ever, 1 Sam. 1. 22. Indeed a soul rightly touched, will labour to draw, not only their Families, but a whole City after Jesus Christ, John 4. 28, 29.

3. IF they are obstinate, and will not go forth with thee, then do thou get godly and sound Men to thy House, and there let the Word of God be preached, when thou hast, as Cornelius, gathered thy Family and Friends together, Acts 10.

You know that the Jaylor, Lydia, Crispus, Gaius, Stephanus, and others, had not only themselves, but their Families, made gracious by the Word preached, and that some of them, if not all, by the Word preached in their Houses, Acts 16, 14, 15, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34. Acts 18. 7, 8. 1 Cor. 1. 16. And this, for ought I know, might be one reason among many, why the Apostles taught in their day, not only publickly, but from house to house. I say, that they might, if possible, bring in those in some Family, which yet remained unconverted, and in their sins, Acts 5. 24. & 20. 20, 21. for some, you know, how usual it was in the day of Christ, to invite him to their Houses, if they had any afflicted, that either would not, or could not come unto him; Luke 7. 2, 3. & 8. 41.

If this be the way with those that have outward Diseases in their Families, how much more then, where there are Souls that have need of Christ, to save them from Death and eternal Damnation?

4. TAKE heed that thou do not neglect Family-Duties among them thy self; as, reading the Word, and Prayer; if thou hast one in thy Family that is gracious, take encouragement; nay, if thou art alone, yet know that thou hast both liberty to go to God through Christ, and also art at that time in a capacity of having the universal Church joyn with thee, for the whole number of those that shall be saved.

5. TAKE heed that thou suffer not any ungodly, prophane or Heretical Books, or Discourse course in thy House; Evil Communication corrupts good Manners, 1 Cor. 15.33. I mean, such prophane, or heretical Books, &c. as either tend to provoke to looseness of Life, or such as do oppose the Fundamentals of the Gospel.

I know, that Christians must be allowed their liberty as to things indifferent; but for those things that strike either at Faith or Holiness, they ought to be abandoned by all Christians, and especially by the Pastors of Churches, and Masters of Families; which practice was figured out by Jacob's commanding his House, and all that was with him, to put away the strange gods from among them, and to change their Garments, Gen. 35. 1, 2,

All those in the Acts, set a good example for this, who took their curious Books and burned them before all men, though they were worth five thousand pieces of Silver, Acts 19. 18,19.

The neglect of this fourth Particular, hath occasioned Ruine in many Families, both among Children and Servants. It is easier for vain talkers, and their deceivable works, to subvert whole Households, than many are aware of.

Tit. 1.10, 11

Thus much touching the spiritual state of thy Household.

21. And now to its outward.

Touching the outward state of thy Family, thou art to consider these three Things.

FIRST, That it lieth upon thee to care for them, that they have a convenient Livelihood: If any man provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own House, he hath denied the Faith, and is worse than an Infidel, 1 Tim. 5. 8. But mark, when the Word saith, thou art to provide for thy House, it giveth thee no Licence to distracting carefulness; neither doth it allow thee to strive to grasp the World in thy Heart or Coffers, nor to take care for years or days to come; but so to provide for them, that they may have Food and Raiment; and if either they or thou be not content with that, you launch out beyond the Rule of God, 1 Tim. 6.8. Mat. 6.34. This is to labour, that you may have wherewith to maintain good works for necessary uses.

Tit. 3.14.

And never object, that unless you reach farther, it will never do; for that is but unbelief. The Word saith, That God feedeth Ravens, careth for Sparrows, and cloatheth the Grass; in which Three, to feed, cloath, and care for, is as much as heart can wish, Luke 12. 6, 24, 27, 28.

SECONDLY, Therefore though thou shouldest provide for thy Family, yet let all thy labour be mixed with moderation. Let your moderation be known unto all men, Phil. 4. 5. Take heed of driving so hard after this world, as to hinder thy self and Family from those Duties towards God, which thou art by Grace obliged to; as, private Prayer, reading the Scriptures, and Christian Conference. It is a base thing for Men so to spend themselves and Families after this World, as that they disengage their heart to God's Worship.

Christians, The time is short: It remaineth then, that they that have Wives, be as those that have none; and they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoyce, as those that rejoyced not; and they that use this World, as not abusing it; for the fashion of this world passeth away.

1 Cor. 7. 29,30,31.

Many Christians live and do in this world, as if Religion were but a By-business, and this world the one thing necessary; when indeed all the things of this world are but things by the by; and Religion only the one thing needful, Luke 10. 40, 41, 42.

THIRDLY, If thou wouldest be such a Master of a Family as becomes thee, thou must see that there be that Christian Harmony among those under thee, as becomes that House where one ruleth that feareth God.

1. THOU must look that thy Children and Servants be under subjection to the Word of God: for though it is of God only to rule the heart; yet he expecteth that thou shouldest rule their outward man; which if thou dost not, he may in a short time cut off all of thy stock that pisseth against the wall, 1 Sam. 3. 11, 12, 13, 14. See therefore, that thou keep them temperate in all things, in Apparel, in Language, that they be not Gluttons, nor Drunkards; not suffering either thy Children vainly to domineer over thy Servants, nor they again to carry themselves foolishly towards each other.

2. LEARN to distinguish between that injury that in thy Family is done to thee, and that which is done to God; and though thou oughtest to be very zealous for the Lord, and to bear nothing that is open transgression to him; yet here will be thy wisdom, to pass by personal Injuries, and to bury them in oblivion. Love covereth a multitude of sins. Be not then like those that will rage and stare like mad-men, when they are injured; and yet either laugh, or at least not soberly rebuke, and warn, when God is dishonoured.

Rule thy own House well, having thy Children (with others in thy Family) in subjection, with all gravity. 1 Tim. 3.4

Solomon was so excellent, sometimes this way, that he made the Eyes of his Beholders to dazzle, 2 Chron. 9, 3, 4.

But to break off from this General, and to come to Particulars.

22. FIRST, Hast thou a Wife? Thou must consider how thou oughtest to behave thy self under that Relation: And to do this aright, thou must consider the condition of thy wife, whether she be one that indeed believeth, or not: If she believeth, then,

First, Thou art engaged to bless God for her; For her price is far above Rubies, and she is the gift of God unto thee, and is for thy adorning and glory, Prov. 12. 4. Prov. 31. 10. 1 Cor. 11. 7. Favour is deceitful, and Beauty is vain; but a Woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised. Prov. 30.30

The Duty of Husbands to believing Wives.

Secondly, Thou oughtest to love her, under a double Consideration; 1. As she is thy Flesh and thy Bone; (For never [Man] yet hated his own flesh, Ephes. 5. 29.) 2. As she is together with thee an Heir of the grace of Life, 1 Pet. 3.7. This, I say, should engage thee to love her with Christian Love; to love her, as believing you both are dearly beloved of God and the Lord Jesus Christ, and as those that must be together with him in eternal happiness.

Thirdly, Thou oughtest so to carry thy self to, and before her, as doth Christ, to, and before his Church; as saith the Apostle, So ought Men to love their Wives, even as Christ loved the Church, and gave himself for it, Eph. 5. 25. When Husbands behave themselves like Husbands, bands indeed, then will they be not only Husbands, but such an Ordinance of God to the Wife, as will preach to her the carriage of Christ to his Spouse. There is a sweet scent wrapped up in the Relations of Husbands and Wives (Ephes. 5. 32.) that believe. The Wife, I say, signifying the Church, and the Husband the Head and Saviour thereof; Ephes. 5.32. For the Husband is the head of the Wife, even as Christ is the head of the Church; and he is the Saviour of the Body.

This is one of God's chief ends in instituting Marriage, that Christ and his Church, under a Figure, might be wherever there is a Couple that believe through Grace.

Wherefore that Husband that carrieth it undiscreetly toward his Wife, he doth not only behave himself contrary to the Rule, but also maketh his Wife lose the benefit of such an Ordinance, and crosseth the mistery of his Relation. Therefore, I say, So ought Men to love their Wives as their own Bodies: He that loveth his Wife, loveth himself; for no Man ever yet hated his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the Church, Ephes. 5. 28, 29. Christ laid out his life for his Church, covereth her Infirmities, communicates to her his Wisdom; protecteth her, and helpeth her in her Imployments in this World, and so ought Men to do for their Wives.

Solomon and Pharoah's Daughter had the art of thus doing, as you may see in the Book of Canticles.

Wherefore bear with their weaknesses, help
1 Pet. 3. 7. their infirmities, and honour them as the weaker Vessels, and as being of a frailer Constitution.

In a word, be such a Husband to thy believing Wife, that she may say, God hath not only given me a Husband, but such a Husband, as preacheth to me every day the Carriage of Christ to his Church.

The Duty of Husbands, to unbelieving Wives.

2. IF thy Wife be Unbelieving or Carnal, then thou hast also a Duty lying before thee, which thou art engaged to perform under a double engagement. 1. For that she lieth liable every moment to eternal Damnation. 2. That she is thy Wife that is in this evil case.

Oh! how little sence of the worth of Souls is there in the hearts of some Husbands, as is manifest by their unchristian carriage to, and before their Wives!

NOW, to qualifie thee for a Carriage suitable,

1. LABOUR seriously after a sence of her miserable state, that thy bowels may yern towards her Soul.

2. BEWARE that she take no occasion from any unseemly carriage of thine, to proceed in evil; and here thou hast need to double thy diligence; for she lyeth in thy bosom, and therefore is capable of espying the least miscarriage in thee.

3. IF she behave her self unseemly and unruly, as she is subject to do, being Christless and Graceless, then labour thou to overcome her Evil with thy Goodness, her Frowardness with thy Patience and Meekness: It is a shame for thee who hast another principle, to do as she.

4. TAKE fit opportunities to convince her; observe her disposition, and when she is most likely to bear, then speak to her very heart.

5. WHEN thou speakest, speak to purpose; 'tis no matter for many words, provided they be pertinent. Job in a few words answers his Wife, and takes her off from her foolish talking; Thou speakest, saith he, like one of the foolish Women; shall we receive good at the hands of God, and shall we not receive evil? Job 2. 10.

6. LET all be done without rancor, or the least appearance of anger; With meekness instruct those that oppose themselves, if peradventure they may recover themselves out of the snare of the Devil, who are taken captive by him at his will, 2 Tim. 2. 25, 26. And how knowest thou, O Man, but thou mayest save thy Wife, 1 Cor. 7. 16.

Touching Parents.

IF thou art a Parent, a Father, or a Mother, then thou art to consider thy Calling under this Relation. 23.

Thy Children have Souls, and they must be begotton of God as well as of thee, or they perish.

And know also, that unless thou be very circumspect in thy behaviour, to, and before them, they may perish through thee: The thoughts of which should provoke thee, both to instruct, and also to correct them.

1. To instruct them as the Scripture saith, and to bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord; and to do this diligently, when thou sittest in thy house, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up, Ephes. 6. 4. Deut. 6. 7.

NOW to do this to purpose;

FIRST, Do it in terms and words, easie to be understood: Affect not high expressions, they will drown your Children. Thus God spake to his Children, and Paul to his, Hos. 12, 10. 1 Cor. 3. 2.

SECONDLY, Take heed of filling their heads with Whimzies, and unprofitable Notions, for this will sooner learn them to be malepert and proud, than sober and humble. Open therefore to them the state of Man by nature: Discourse with them of Sin, of Death, and Hell; of a Crucified Saviour, and the Promise of Life through Faith: Train up a Child in the Way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it, Prov. 22. 6.

THIRDLY, There must be much Gentleness and Patience in all thy instructions, lest they be discouraged, Col. 3. 21. And FOURTHLY, Labour to convince them by a Conversation answerable, that the things of which thou instructest them, are not Fables, but Realities, yea, and Realities so far above what can be here enjoyed, that all things, were they a thousand times better than they are, are not worthy to be compared with the Glory and worthiness of these things.

Isaac was so holy before his Children, that when Jacob remembred God, he remembred that he was the fear of his Father Isaac, Gen. 31. 53.

Ah! When Children can think of their Parents, and bless God for that instruction and good they have received from them, this is not only profitable for Children, but honourable and comfortable to Parents. The Father of the Righteous shall greatly rejoice; and he that begetteth a wise Child, shall have joy of him, Prov. 23. 24, 25.

24. Touching Correction.

Jer. 29. 4, 5. FIRST, See if fair words will win them from evil: This is God's way with his Children.

SECONDLY, Let those words you speak to them in your reproof, be both sober, few, and pertinent, adding always some suitable Sentence of the Scripture therewith; as if they lie, then such as Rev. 21. 8, 27. If they refuse to hear the Word, such as 2 Chron. 25. 14, 15, 16.

THIRDLY, Look to them that they be not Companions with those that are rude and ungodly, shewing with soberness a continual dislike of their naughtiness; often crying out to them, as God did of old unto his, O! do not this abominable thing that I hate, Jer. 44. 4.

FOURTHLY, Let all this be mixed with such love, pity and compunction of spirit, that if possible, they may be convinced, you dislike not Psal. 99. 8. their persons, but their sins. This is God's way.

FIFTHLY, Be often endeavouring to fasten on their Consciences, the day of their Death and Deut. 32. 29. Judgment to come. Thus also God deals with his.

SIXTHLY, If thou art driven to the Rod, then, 1. Strike advisedly in cool blood; and soberly shew them, 1. Their fault; 2. How much it is against thy heart thus to deal with them; 3. And that what thou dost, thou dost in conscience to God, and love to their Souls; 4. And tell them, that if fair means would have done, none of this severity should have been: This, I have proved it, will be a means to afflict their hearts as well as their bodies; and it being the way that God deals with his, it is the most likely to accomplish its end.

SEVENTHLY, Follow all this with prayer to God for them, and leave the issue to him.

Folly is bound up in the heart of a Child; but the Rod of Correction will fetch it out, Prov. 22. 15.

LASTLY, Observe these Cautions.

1. TAKE heed that the mis-deeds for which thou correctest thy Children, be not learned them by thee. Many Children learn that wickedness of their Parents, for which they beat and chastise them.

2. TAKE heed thou smile not upon them to encourage them in small faults, lest that thy carriage to them, be an encouragement to them to commit greater.

3. TAKE heed thou use not unsavory and unseemly words in thy chastising of them, as railing, mis-calling, and the like; this is Devilish.

4. TAKE heed thou do not use them to many chiding words and threatnings, mixed with lightness and laughter; this will harden: Speak not much, not often, but pertinent to them, with all Gravity.

Of Masters to Servants.

25. MAsters also have a work to do as they stand related to their Servants. And

FIRST, If possible they can, to get them that fear God. He that worketh deceit, saith David, shall not dwell within my House; and he that telleth Lies, shall not tarry in my sight, Psal. 101. 7.

SECONDLY, But if none at the present but Unbelievers can be got to do thy labour; Then,

1. KNOW that it is thy Duty so to behave thy self to thy Servant, that thy service may not only be for thy good, but for the good of thy Servant, and that both in body and Soul: Wherefore deal with him, as to admonition, as with thy Children; give him the same Bread of God thou giveſt to them; and who knows, but that thou with spiritual Delicates, bringest up thy Servant, but he may become thy Spiritual Son in the end, Prov. 29. 21.

2. TAKE heed thou do not turn thy Servants into Slaves, by over-charging them in thy work, through thy greediness, To make Men serve with rigour, is more like to Israels Enemies, than Christian Masters, Exod. 1. 14.

3. TAKE heed thou carry not thy self to thy Servant, as he of whom it is said, he is such a Man of Belial, that his Servants could not speak to him; 1 Sam. 25. 14, 15, 16, 17.

And the Apostle bids you forbear to threaten them, because you also have a Master in Heaven, Ephes. 6. 9. As who should say, your Servants cannot be guilty of so many Miscarriages against you, as you are guilty of against Christ: Wherefore do with, and to your Servants, as you would have your Master do with you.

4. TAKE heed that thou neither circumvent him at his coming into thy service, nor at his going out.

1. SERVANTS at their going into service, may be beguiled two ways.

FIRST, By their Masters lying unto them, saying, their work is so small and so easie, when it is indeed, if not too burdensom, yet far beyond what at first was said of it. This is beguiling of them.

2. THE other way is, when Masters greedily seek to wier-draw their Servants to such wages, as indeed is too little and inconsiderable for such work and labour. Both these the Apostle opposeth, where he saith, Masters give unto your Servants that which is just, just labour and just wages, knowing that you also have a Master in Heaven, Col. 4. 1.

2. AS Servants may be circumvented at their coming into their labour, so also they may be at their going out. Which is done by Masters that either change their Wages, like heathenish Laban, Gen. 31. 7. or by keeping it back, like those against whom God will be a swift Witness. Mal. 3. 5

3. TAKE heed that thou make not a gain of thy place, because thou art gracious, or livest conveniently for the means of Grace.

Servants that are truly godly, they care not how cheap they serve their Masters, provided they may get into godly Families, or where they may be convenient for the Word. But now, if a Master or Mistress should take this opportunity to make a prey of their Servant, this is abominable; this is making a gain of godliness, and merchandize of the things of God, (1 Tim. 6. 5.) and of the Soul of thy Brother.

I have heard some poor Servants say, That in some Carnal Families, they have had more liberty to God's things, and more fairness of dealing, than among Professors. But this stinketh: And as Jacob said concerning the cruelty of his two Sons, so may I say of such Masters, they make Religion stink before the Inhabitants of the Land, Gen. 34. 30.

In

In a word, Learn of the Lord Jesus, to carry your selves well to your Servants, that your Servants also may learn something of the kindness of Christ by your deportment to them: Servants are Goers as well as Comers; take heed that thou give them no occasion to scandal the Gospel when they are gone, for what they observed thee unrighteously to do when they were with thee. Then Masters carry it rightly toward their Servants, when they labour both in word and life to convince them, that the things of God are the One thing necessary. That which Servants are commanded to do, touching their fear, their singleness of heart, their doing what they do as to the Lord, and not to Men; the Master is commanded to do the same things unto them, Ephes. 5. 6, 7, 8, 9.

The Duty of Wives.

26. BUT passing the Master of the Family, I shall speak a word or two to those that are under him.

AND first, to the Wife: The Wife is bound by the Law to her Husband, so long as her Husband liveth, Rom. 7. 2. Wherefore, she also hath her work and place in the Family, as well as the rest.

NOW there are these things considerable in the carriage of a Wife toward her Husband, which she ought conscientiously to observe.

FIRST, That she look upon him as her Head
1 Cor. 11. 3. and Lord. The head of the woman is the Man. And so Sarah called Abraham Lord.
1 Pet. 3. 6. SECONDLY, She should therefore be subject to him, as is fit in the Lord. The Apostle saith, That the Wife should submit her self to her Husband, as to the Lord, 1 Pet. 3. 1. Col. 3. 18. Ephes. 5. 22. I told you before, that if the husband doth walk towards his wife as becomes him, he will therein be such an ordinance of God to her, besides the relation of an husband, that shall preach to her the carriage of Christ to his Church. And now I say also, that the wife,
Eph. 5. 24. if she walk with her husband as becomes her she shall preach the obedience of the Church to her husband. Therefore as the Church is subject to Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

Now for thy performing of this work, thou must first shun these Evils:

1. THE Evil of a wandring and a gossiping Spirit; this is evil in the Church, and is evil also in a wife, who is the figure of a Church. Christ loveth to have his Spouse keep at home; that is, to be with him in the Faith and Practice of his things, not ranging, and medling with the things of Satan; no more should wives be given to wander and gossip abroad. You know that Prov. 7. 11. saith, She is loud and stubborn, her feet abide not in her house.

Wives should be about their own husband's
Tit. 2. 5. business at home; as the Apostle saith, Let them be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands: And why? Because otherwise the Word of God will be blasphemed.

2. TAKE heed of an idle, talking, or brangling tongue. This also is odious either in Maids or Wives, to be like Parrots, not bridling their tongue; whereas the wife should know, as I said before, that her husband is her Lord, and is over her, as Christ is over the Church. Do you think it is seemly for the Church to parrot it against her husband? Is she not to be silent before him, and to look to his Laws, rather than her own Fictions? Why so, saith the Apo- 1 Tim. 2.
stle, ought the wife to carry it towards her husband. 11, 12.
Let the woman, saith Paul, learn in silence with all subjection; but I suffer not a woman to teach, or to usurp authority over the Man; but to be in silence.

It is an unseemly thing to see a woman so much as once in all her Life-time, to offer to over-top her husband; she ought in every thing to be in subjection to him, and to do all she doth, as having her warrant, license, and authority from him. And indeed here is her glory, even to be under him, as the Church is under Christ. Now she openeth her mouth in Wis- Prov. 31.
dom, and in her tongue is the Law of kindness. 26.

3. TAKE heed of affecting immodest Apparel, or a wanton Gate; this will be evil both abroad and at home; abroad, it will not only give ill example, but also tend to tempt to lust and lasciviousness; and at home, it will give an offence to a godly husband, and be cankering to ungodly Children, &c. Wherefore, as saith the Apostle, let womens Apparel be modest, as becometh women professing godliness, with good works, 1 Tim. 2. 10. not with broidered Hair, or Gold, or Pearls, or costly Array. And as it is said again, Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning, of plaiting the Hair, and of wearing Gold, and of putting on of Apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the Heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet Spirit, which is in the sight of God, of great price: For after this manner in old time, the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own Husbands, 1 Pet. 3. 3. 4, 5, 6.

But yet, do not think that by the subjection I have here mentioned, that I do intend women should be their husbands slaves. Women are their husbands yoke-fellows, their Flesh and their Bones; and he is not a Man that hateth his own Flesh, or that is bitter against it, Eph. 5. 29. Wherefore let every man love his wife as himself: and the wife see that she reverence her husband, Eph. 5. 33.

The wife is Master next her Husband, and is to rule all in his absence; yea, in his presence, she is to guide the House, to bring up the Children, provided she so do it, as the Adversary have no occasion to speak reproachfully, 1 Tim. 5. 10. 13. Who can find a vertuous woman? For her price is far above Rubies. A gracious woman retaineth honour, and guideth her Affairs with discretion, Prov. 31. 10. & 11. 16. & 12. 4.

Object. But my Husband is an Unbeliever; 27.
what shall I do?

Answ. If so, then what I have said before, lieth upon thee with an engagement so much the stronger. For, 1. Thy husband being in this condition, he will be watchful to take thy slips and infirmities, to throw them as dirt in the face of God and thy Saviour. 2. He will be apt to make the worst of every one of thy words, carriages, and gestures. 3. And all this doth tend to the possessing his heart with more hardness, prejudice and opposition to his own Salvation. Wherefore, as Peter saith, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that if any obey not the word, they may also without the word be won by the conversation of the wives, while they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear 1 Pet. 3. 1, 2. Thy husband's Salvation or Damnation lieth much in thy deportment and behaviour before him; wherefore, if there be in thee any fear of God, or love to thy husband, seek, by a carriage full of meekness, modesty, and holiness, and a humble behaviour before him, to win him to the love of his own Salvation, and by thus doing how knowest thou, 1 Co. 7. 16. O woman, but thou shalt save thy husband?

28. Object. But my husband is not only an Unbeliever, but one very froward, peevish, and testy; yea, so froward, &c. that I know not how to speak to him, or behave my self before him.

Answ. Indeed there are some wives in great slavery by reason of their ungodly husbands; and as such should be pitied, and prayed for: so they should be so much the more watchful and circumspect in all their ways.

1. THEREFORE be thou very faithful to him in all the things of this Life.

2. BEAR with patience his unruly and unconverted behaviour; thou art alive, he is dead; thou art principled with Grace, he with Sin. Now then, seeing Grace is stronger than Sin, and Vertue than Vice; be not overcome with his Vileness, but overcome that with thy Vertues, Rom. 12. 21. It is a shame for those that are gracious, to be as lavishing in their words, &c. as those that are graceless. They that are slow to wrath, are of great understanding; but they that are hasty in spirit, exalt folly, Prov. 14. 29.

3. THY Wisdom therefore, if at any time, thou hast a desire to speak to thy Husband for his Conviction concerning any thing either good or evil, it is to observe convenient times and seasons.

There is a time to keep silence, and a time to speak, Eccles. 3. 7.

Now for the right timing thy Intentions.

1. CONSIDER his Disposition; and take him when he is farthest off of those filthy Passions that are thy Afflictions. Abigail would not speak a word to her churlish Husband, till his Wine was gone from him, and he in a sober temper, 1 Sam. 25. 36, 37. The want of this observation, is the cause why so much is spoken, and so little effected.

2. TAKE him at those times when he hath his heart taken with thee, and when he sheweth tokens of Love and Delight in thee. Thus did Esther with the King her Husband, and prevailed, Esther 5. 3. 6. and 7. 1, 2.

3. OBSERVE when Convictions seize his Conscience, and then follow them with sound and grave Sayings of the Scriptures. Somewhat like to this dealt Manoah's Wife with her Husband, Judg. 13. 22, 23. Yet then,

1. LET thy words be few.

2. AND none of them savouring of a Lording it over him; but speak thou still as to thy Head and Lord, by way of intreaty and beseeching.

3. AND that in such a Spirit of Sympathy, and Bowels of Affection after his Good, that the manner of thy Speech and Behaviour in speaking, may be to him an Argument that thou speakest in Love, as being sensible of his Misery, and inflamed in thy Soul with desire after his Conversion.

4. AND follow thy Words and Behaviour with Prayers to God for his Soul.

5. STILL keeping thy self in a holy, chaste, and modest Behaviour before him.

Object. But my husband is a Sot, a Fool, 29. and one that hath not wit enough to follow his outward Employment in the world.

Answ. 1. THOUGH all this be true; yet thou must know he is thy Head, thy Lord, and thy Husband.

2. THEREFORE thou must take heed of desiring to usurp authority over him; he was not made for thee; that is, for thee to have dominion over him, but to be thy Husband, and to rule over thee, 1 Tim. 2. 12. 1 Cor. 1. 3. 8.

3. WHEREFORE, though in truth thou maist have more discretion than he, yet thou oughtest to know, that thou, with all that is thine, is to be used as under thy Husband; even every thing, Ephes. 5. 24.

Take heed therefore, that what thou dost, goes not in thy Name, but his; not to thy exaltation, but his; carrying all things so, by thy dexterity and prudence, that not one of thy Husband's weaknesses be discovered to others by thee. A vertuous woman is a Crown to her Husband; but she that causeth shame, is as rottenness to his bones. For then, as the Wise Man saith, she will do him good, and not evil, all the days of her Life, Prov. 12. 4. Prov. 31. 14.

4. THEREFORE act, and do still as being under the power and authority of thy Husband.

Now touching thy Carriage to thy Children and Servants.

Thou art a Parent, and a Mistress and so thou oughtest to demean thy self.

And besides, seeing the believing Woman is a figure of the Church, she ought, as the Church, to nourish and instruct her Children and Servants, as the Church, that she may answer in that particular also: And truly, the Wife being always at home, she hath great advantage that way; wherefore do it, and the Lord prosper your proceeding.

Of Children to Parents.

THERE lieth also a Duty upon Children, 30. to their Parents, which they are bound both by the Law of God and Nature, conscientiously to observe. Children, obey your Parents in the Lord, for this is right. And again, Children, obey your Parents in all things; for this is well pleasing to the Lord, Eph. 6. 1. Col. 3. 20.

There are these general things in which Children should shew forth that honour that is due to their Parents from them.

FIRST, They should always count them better than themselves. I observe a vile spirit among some Children, and that is, they are apt to look over their Parents, and to have slighting and scornful thoughts of them; this is worse than heathenish; such a one hath got just the heart of a Dog or a Beast, that will bite those that begot them, and her that brought them forth.

Object. BUT my Father, &c. is now poor, and I 31. am am rich, and it will be a disparagement, or at least a hinderance to me, to shew that respect to him as otherwise I might.

Answ. I tell thee thou argueſt like an Atheiſt and a Beaſt, and ſtandeſt in this full flat againſt the Son of God. Mark 7. 9, 10, 11, 12. 13.

Muſt a gift, and a little of the glory of the Butter-fly, make thee that thou ſhalt not do for, and honour to, thy Father and Mother? A wiſe Man maketh a glad Father, but a fooliſh Son deſpiſeth his Mother, Prov, 15. 20. Though thy Parents be never ſo low, and thou thy ſelf never ſo high, yet he is thy Father, and ſhe thy Mother, and they muſt be in thy eye in great eſteem. Prov. 30. 17. The eye that mocketh at his Father, and that deſpiſeth to obey his Mother, the Ravens of the Valley ſhall pick it out, and the young Eagles ſhall eat it.

SECONDLY, Thou oughteſt to ſhew thy honour to thy Parents, by a willingneſs to help them with ſuch Neceſſaries and Accommodations which they need. If any have Nephews or Children, let them learn to ſhew pity at home, and to requite their Parents, ſaith Paul, for that is good and acceptable before God, 1 Tim. 5. 4.

And this Rule Joſeph obſerved to his poor Father, though he himſelf was next the King in Egypt, Gen. 47. 12. Gen. 41. 39, 40, 41, 42, 43.

But mark; Let them requite their Parents.

There are three things, for which, as long as thou liveſt thou wilt be a debtor to thy Parents.

1. FOR thy being in this World: They are they from whom immediately under God thou didſt receive it.

2. FOR their care to preſerve thee when thou waſt helpleſs, and couldſt neither care for, nor regard thy ſelf.

3. FOR the pains they have taken with thee to bring thee up. Until thou haſt Children of thy own, thou wilt not be ſenſible of the pains, watchings, fears, ſorrow and affliction, that they have gone under to bring thee up; and when thou knoweſt it, thou wilt not eaſily yield, that thou haſt recompenced them for their favour to thee: How often have they ſuſtained thy hunger, cloathed thy Nakedneſs? What care have they taken that thou mighteſt have wherewith to live and do well when they were dead and gone? They poſſibly have ſpared it from their own Belly and Back for thee, and have alſo impoveriſhed themſelves, that thou mighteſt live like a Man. All theſe things ought duly, and like a Man, to be conſidered by thee, and care ought to be taken on thy part to requite them; the Scripture ſaith ſo; Reaſon ſaith ſo; and there be none but Dogs and Beaſts deny it. It is the duty of Parents to lay up for their Children; and the duty of Children to requite their Parents.

THIRDLY, Therefore ſhew by all humble and Son like carriage, that thou doſt to this day, with thy heart, remember the love of thy Parents.

Thus much for Obedience to Parents in general.

32. AGAIN, If thy Parents be godly, and thou wicked (as thou art if thou haſt not a ſecond work or birth from God upon thee) then thou art to conſider, that thou art more ſtrongly engaged to reſpect and honour thy Parents, not now only as a Father in the fleſh; but as godly Parents, thy Father and Mother is now made of God thy teachers and inſtructers in the way of Righteouſneſs: Wherefore to allude to that of Solomon, O Son, hearken to the law of thy Father, and forſake not the law of thy Mother; bind them continually upon thy heart, and tie them about thy neck, Prov. 6. 20, 21.

NOW to provoke thee here to conſider.

FIRST, That this hath been the practice always of thoſe that are and have been obedient Children; yea, of Chriſt himſelf to Joſeph and Mary, though he himſelf was God bleſſed for ever, Luke 2. 51.

SECONDLY, Thou haſt alſo the ſevere Judgments of God upon thoſe that have been diſobedient, to awe thee. As,

1. ISHMAEL, for but mocking at one good carriage of his Father and Mother, was both thruſt out of his Father's Inheritance, and the Kingdom of Heaven, and that with God's Approbation, Gen. 21. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Gal. 4. 30.

2. HOPHNI and Phinehas, for refuſing the good counſel of their Father, provoked the great God to be their Enemy. They hearkened not to the voice of their Father, becauſe the Lord would ſlay them, 1 Sam. 2. 23, 24, 25.

3. Abſolom was hanged, as I may ſay, by God himſelf, for rebelling againſt his Father. 2 Sam. 18. 9.

Beſides, little doſt thou know how heart-aking a conſideration it is to thy Parents, when they do but ſuppoſe thou mayeſt be damned: How many Prayers, Sighs, and Tears are there wrung from their hearts upon this account?

Every miſcarriage of thine goeth to their heart, for fear God ſhould take an occaſion thereat to ſhut thee up in hardneſs for ever.

How did Abraham groan for Iſhmael? O, ſaith he to God, That Iſhmael might live before thee. Gen. 17. 18.

How was Iſaac and Rebekah grieved for the miſcarriage of Eſau? Gen. 26. 34, 35.

And how bitterly did David mourn for his Son, who died in his wickedneſs? 2 Sam. 18. 32, 33.

LASTLY, And can any imagine, but that all theſe carriages of thy godly Parents, will be to thee the increaſe of thy torments in Hell, if thou die in thy ſins, notwithſtanding?

AGAIN, If thy Parents and thou alſo be godly, how happy a thing is this? How ſhouldeſt thou rejoyce, that the ſame Faith ſhould dwell both in thy Parents and thee? Thy Converſion, poſſibly, is the fruits of thy Parents Groans and Prayers for thy Soul; and they cannot chuſe but rejoyce; do thou rejoyce with them: 'Tis true, in the Salvation of a Natural Son, which is mentioned in the Parable; This my Son was dead, and is alive again; was loſt, and is found; and they began to be merry, Luke 15. 24.

Let therefore the conſideration of this, that thy Parents have Grace as well as thee, ingage thy heart ſo much the more to honour, reverence, and obey them.

Thou art better able now to conſider the pains and care that thy Friends have been at, both for thy Body and Soul; wherefore ſtrive to requite them: Thou haſt ſtrength to anſwer in ſome meaſure the Command; wherefore do not neglect it.

It is a double Sin in a gracious Son not to remember the Commandment, yea, the firſt Commandment with promiſe, Epheſ. 6. 1, 2.

Take heed of giving thy ſweet Parents one ſnappiſh ſnappiſh word, or one unſeemly carriage. Love them becauſe they are thy Parents; becauſe they are godly; and becauſe thou muſt be in Glory with them.

AGAIN, If thou be godly, and thy Parents wicked, as often it ſadly falls out: Then,

FIRST, Let thy Bowels yearn towards them; 'tis thy Parents that are going to Hell.

SECONDLY, As I ſaid before to the Wife, touching her Unbelieving Husband, ſo now I ſay to thee, Take heed of a parroting Tongue; ſpeak to them wiſely, meekly, and humbly; do for them faithfully without repining; and bear, with all child-like modeſty, their reproaches, their railing, and evil ſpeaking. Watch fit opportunities to lay their condition before them. O! how happy a thing would it be, if God ſhould uſe a Child to beget his Father to the Faith! Then indeed might the Father ſay, With the fruit of my own Bowels hath God converted my Soul. The Lord, if it be his Will, convert our poor Parents, that they, with us, may be the Children of God.

Concerning Servants.

33. SErvants alſo, they have a Work to do for God, in their place and ſtation among Men.

The Apoſtles aſſert Maſters under a threefold Conſideration.

1. THE Believing Maſter.
2. THE Unbelieving Maſter.
3. THE Froward Maſter.

For all which, Servants are furniſhed with Counſel and Advice in the Word, for the demeaning of themſelves under each of them.

But before I ſpeak in particular to any of theſe, I will in general, ſhew you the Duty of Servants.

FIRST, Thou art to look upon thy ſelf as thou art; that is, as a Servant, not a Child, nor a Wife, thou art inferior to theſe; wherefore count thy ſelf under them, and be content with that ſtation. For three things the Earth is diſquieted, and for four which it cannot bear: One is a Servant when he reigneth, Prov. 30. 21, 22.

It is out of thy place, either to talk or do, as one that reigneth.

SECONDLY, Conſider, that thou being a Servant, what is under thy hand, is not thy own, but thy Maſters: Now becauſe it is not thy own, thou oughteſt not to diſpoſe of it; but becauſe it is thy Maſters, thou oughteſt to be faithful. Thus it was with Joſeph, Gen. 39, 7, 8, 9. But if thou do otherwiſe, know that thou ſhalt receive of God for the wrong that thou doeſt; and there is with God no reſpect of perſons, Col. 3. 25. Wherefore, THIRDLY, Touching thy Work and Imployment, thou art to do it as unto the Lord, and not for Man; and indeed then Servants do their buſineſs as becomes them, when they do all in obedience to the Lord, as knowing that the place in which they now are, it is the place where Chriſt hath put them, and in which he expecteth they ſhould be faithful.

Servants (ſaith Paul) be obedient to them that are your Maſters — with fear and trembling, in ſingleneſs of heart, as unto Chriſt; not with eye-ſervice, as Men-pleaſers, but as the Servants of Chriſt, doing the Will of God from the heart, Ephes. 6. 5, 6.

Obſerve a little the Word of God to Servants.

1. SERVANTS muſt be Obedient. Yet,
2. NOT with that Obedience that will ſerve Man only: Servants muſt have their eye on the Lord, in the work they do for their Maſters.
3. THAT their work in this ſervice is the Will and Ordinance of God.

From which I conclude, That thy work in thy place and ſtation, as thou art a Servant, is as really God's Ordinance, and as acceptable to Him, in its kind, as is Preaching, or any other work for God; and that thou art as ſure to receive a reward for thy labour, as he that hangs, or is burnt for the Goſpel. Wherefore ſaith the Apoſtle to Servants, Whatſoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not to Men, knowing that of the Lord you ſhall receive the reward of inheritance; for ye ſerve the Lord Chriſt, Col. 3. 22, 23, 24.

And now touching the three ſorts of Maſters mentioned before. 34.

FIRST, For the Believing Maſter; ſaith Paul, They that have Believing Maſters, let them not deſpiſe them becauſe they are Brethren, but rather do them ſervice becauſe they are faithful and beloved, and partakers (with the Servants) of the heavenly Benefits, 1 Tim. 6. 2. (Servants, if they have not a care of their hearts, will be ſo much in the conſideration of the relation that is betwixt their Maſters and they, as Brethren, that they will forget the relation that is between them as Maſters and Servants: Now, though they ought to remember the one, yet let them take heed of forgetting the other: Know thy place as a Servant, while thou conſidereſt that thy Maſter and thee are Brethren, and do thy work for him faithfully, humbly, and with meekneſs, becauſe he is a Maſter faithful and beloved, and partaker of the heavenly benefit.) If any Man teach otherwiſe, ſaith the Apoſtle Paul, and conſent not to wholſom Words, even the Words of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the Doctrine which is according to Godlineſs, he is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about queſtions, and ſtrife of words, whereof cometh envy, ſtrife, railings, evil ſurmiſings, perverſe Diſputings of Men of corrupt minds, and deſtitute of the Truth, ſuppoſing that gain is Godlineſs; from ſuch withdraw thy ſelf. 1 Tim. 6. 3, 4, 5.

SECONDLY, For the unbelieving Maſters (for of them Paul ſpeaks in the firſt verſe of this 6th of Timothy.) Let as many Servants, ſaith he, as be under the yoak, count their own Maſters worthy of all honour, that the Word of God and his Doctrine be not blaſphemed.

Servants living with Unbelieving Maſters, are greatly engaged to be both watchful, faithful, and truſty. Ingaged, I ſay, 1. From the conſideration of the condition of their Maſter; for, he being unbelieving, will have an evil eye upon thee, and upon thy doings, and ſo much the more becauſe thou profeſſeſt: As in the caſe of Saul and David, 1 Sam. 18. 8, 9. &c.

2. THOU art ingaged becauſe of the profeſſion thou makeſt of the Word of God: for by thy profeſſion, thou doſt lay both God and his Word before thy Maſter, and he hath no other wit but to blaſpheme them, if thou behave thy ſelf unworthily. Wherefore Paul bids Titus, Exhort Servants to be obedient to their own Maſters, and to pleaſe them well in all things, not anſwering again (not giving parroting Anſwers, or ſuch as 35.

are crosse or provoking) not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the Doctrine of God our Saviour in all things, Tit. 2. 9, 10.

That Servant, who in an Unbelievers Family, doth his work before God, as God's Ordinance, he shall adorn the Doctrine of God, if not save his Master by so doing; but if he doth otherwise, he shall both stumble the Unbeliever, dishonour God, offend the Faithful, and bring guilt upon his own Soul.

36. THIRDLY, For the froward Master, though I distinguish him from the Unbeliever, yet it is not because he may not be such, but because every Unbeliever doth not properly go under that Name. Now with this froward and peevish Fellow, thou art to serve as faithfully for the time thou standest bound, as with the most pleasant and rational Master in the World. Servants, saith Peter, be subject to your Masters with all fear, not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward, 1 Pet. 2. 18. And if thy peevish Master will still be froward, either out of spite to thy Religion, or because he is without reason concerning thy labour, (thou to the utmost of thy power labouring faithfully) God then reckoneth thee a Sufferer for well doing, as truly as if thou wert called upon the stage of this world before Men, for the matters of thy Faith. Wherefore Peter adds this encouragement to Servants, to the Exhortation he gave them before, This is thank worthy, saith he, if a Man for Conscience toward God endureth grief, suffering wrongfully; for what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, you take it patiently? But if when you do well, and suffer for it, you take it patiently, this is acceptable with God, 1 Pet. 2. 19, 20.

Wherefore be comforted concerning thy condition, with considering that God looks upon thee, as on Jacob in the Family of Laban; and will right all thy wrongs, and recompence thee for thy faithful, wise, and godly Behaviour, before, and in the service of thy froward Master.

Wherefore be patient, I say, and abound in faithfulness in thy place and calling, till God make a way for thy escape from this place; and 1 Cor. 7. 21 when thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

37. Of Neighbours each to other.

HAVING thus in few words shewed you what is Duty under your several Relations, I shall now at last speak, in a word or two, touching Good Neighbourhood, and then draw towards a Conclusion.

Touching Neighbourhood, there are these things to be considered and practised, if thou wilt be found in the practical part of Good Neighbourhood.

FIRST, Thou must be of a good and sound conversation in thy own family, place, and station, shewing to all, the power that the Gospel and the things of another World hath in thy heart, That ye may be blameless and harmless, the Sons of God, without rebuke in the midst of a crooked and perverse Nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the World, Phil. 2. 15, 16.

SECONDLY, As persons must be of good behaviour at home, that will be good Neighbours, so they must be full of courtesie and charity to them that have need about them, Luk. 10. 36, 37.

Right good Neighbourhood, is, for Men readily to Communicate, as of their Spirituals, so of their Temporalities, as food, rayment, and help to those that have need; to be giving to the Poor as thou seest them go by thee, or to enquire after their condition, and according to thy capacity to send unto them, Job 31. 15, 16, 17, &c.

THIRDLY, Thou must be always humble and meek among them, as also grave and gracious; not light and frothy, but by thy words and carriage, Ministring Grace to the hearers, Eph. 4. 29.

Thus also Job honoured God among his Neighbours, Job 30. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

FOURTHLY, Thy Wisdom will be, rightly to discountenance Sin, and to reprove thy Neighbour for the same, Levit. 19. 17. denying thy self in some things, for the preventing an injury to thy Neighbour, that thou mayest please him for his edification, Rom. 15. 2.

FIFTHLY, If thou wouldest be a good Neighbour, take heed of thy Tongue upon two Accounts.

1. THAT thou with it give no offensive language to thy Neighbour, to the provoking of him to anger: Bear much, put up wrongs, and lay little: It is an honour for a Man to cease from strife: But every Fool will be medling, Prov. 20. 3. And again, He loveth transgression that loveth strife. Prov. 17. 19.

And as thou shouldest take heed that thou be not the original of contention and anger, so also take heed that thou be not an instrument to beget it between Parties, by tale-bearing and gossiping spirit: He that passeth by, and medleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a Dog by the ears. As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire; so is a contentious Man to kindle strife. Prov. 26. 17, 21.

I do observe two things very odious in many Professors, the one is a head-strong and stiff-necked Spirit, that will have its own way: And the other is, a great deal of tatling and talk about Religion, and but a very little, if any thing, of those Christian deeds that carry in them the Cross of a Christian in the doing thereof, and profit to my Neighbour. 38.

1. WHEN I say a head-strong and stiff-necked spirit, I mean, they are for pleasing themselves, and their own fancies, in things of no weight, though their so doing be as the very slaughter-knife to the weak Conscience of a Brother or Neighbour. Now this is base: A Christian in all such things as intrench not the matters of Faith and Worship, should be full of self-denial, and seek to please others rather than themselves; Giving none offence to the Jew, nor to the Greek, nor to the Church of God; not seeking their own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved, 1 Cor. 10. 32, 33.

And the second is as bad, to wit, when Professors are great Pratlers, and Talkers, and Disputers, but do little of any thing that be speaketh love to the poor, or self-denyal in outward things. Some People think Religion is made up of words; a very wide mistake: Words without Deeds, is but a half-faced Religion: Pure Religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this; To visit the Fatherless and Widows in their affliction, and to keep thy self unspotted from the World, Jam. 1. 27. Again, If a Brother or a Sister be destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be warmed and filled (which are very very fine words,) yet if you give them not those things that are necessary to the Body, what doth it profit? Jam. 2. 15, 16.

NOW then, before I go any farther, I will hear take an occasion to touch a little upon those Sins that are so rife in many Professors in this Day; and they are, Covetousness, Pride, and Uncleanness: I would speak a word to them in this place, the rather, because they are they which spoil both Christian Brotherhood, and Civil Neighbourhood, in too great a measure.

FIRST, For Covetousness.

1. Covetousness, it is all one with Desire; he that desires, covets; whether the thing he desires be evil or good. Wherefore that which is called coveting, in Exod. 20. 17. is called Desire, in Deut. 5. 21. As the Apostle also saith, I had not known Lust, except the Law had said, Thou shalt not covet, Rom. 7. 7. That is, I had not known Lust to be a Sin, unless the Law had forbid it. Wherefore though lawful Desires are good, 1 Cor. 12. 31. and to be commended; yet Covetousness, as commonly understood, is to be fled from, and abhorred, as of the Devil.

2. Covetousness, or evil Desire, it is the first Mover, and giveth to every Sin its Call, as I may say, both to move, and act; as was said before, the Apostle had not known Sin, except the Law had said, Thou shalt not desire, or covet; for where there is no desire to sin, there appears no Sin.

3. THEREFORE Covetousness carrieth in it every Sin, (we speak of Sins against the Second Table) even as a Serpent carrieth her young ones in her Belly. This the Scripture affirms, where it saith, Thou shalt not covet thy Neighbour's Wife, nor his Man-servant, nor his Maid-servant, nor his Ox, nor his Ass, nor any thing that is thy Neighbour's, Exod. 20. 17. Covetousness will meddle with any thing.

NOW there are in my mind at present, these Eight Notes of Covetousness, which hinder good works, and a Christian Conversation among Men, wherever they are harboured.

FIRST, When Men, to whom God hath given a comfortable Livelihood, are yet not content therewith. This is against the Apostle, where he saith, Let your conversation be without Covetousness, and be content with such things as you have, for he hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee, Heb. 13. 5.

SECONDLY, It is Covetousness in the Seller, that puts him to say of his Traffick, it is better than it is, that he may heighten the price of it; and Covetousness in the Buyer, that prompts him to say worse of a thing, than he thinks in his conscience it is, and that for an abatement of a reasonable price. This is that which the Apostle forbids under the Name of Defraud, 1 Cor. 6. 7, 8. And that which Solomon condemns. Prov. 20. 14.

THIRDLY, It is through Covetousness, that Men think much of that which goeth beside their own Mouth, though possibly it goeth to those that have more need than themselves, and also that better deserve it than they.

FOURTHLY, It argueth Covetousness, when Men will deprive themselves, and those under them, of the Privileges of the Gospel, for more of this world, and is condemned by Christ. Luke 14. 18, 19, 20.

FIFTHLY, It argueth Covetousness, when Men that have it, can go by, or hear of the Poor, and shut up their Bowels and Compassions from them, 1 John 3. 17.

SIXTHLY, Also when Men are convinced it is their duty to communicate to such and such that have need; yet they defer it, and if not quite forget it, yet linger away the time, as being loth to distribute to the Necessities of those in want. This is forbidden by the holy Ghost. Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thy hand to do it. Now, it is due from thee to the Poor, by the Commandment of God, if they want, and thou hast it: Say not then to thy Neighbour, go, and come again to morrow, and I will give, when thou hast it by thee, Prov. 3. 27, 28.

SEVENTHLY, It argueth a greedy Mind also, when, after Men have cast in their minds what to give, they then from that will be pinching, and clipping, and taking away; whereas the Holy Ghost saith, Every one, as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give, not grudgingly, nor of necessity; for God loveth a chearful giver, 2 Cor. 9. 7.

Lastly, It argueth a filthy greedy heart also when a man, after he hath done any good, then in his heart to repent, and secretly wish that he had not so done, or at least, that he had not done so much: this is to be weary of well-doing; (I speak now of communicating,) and carrieth in it two Evils, First, It spoileth the work done: And, secondly, It (if entertained) spoileth the Heart for doing any more so. The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the Churl said to be bountiful; for the liberal deviseth liberal things, and by liberal things he shall stand. Isa. 32. 6, 8.

Now then, to dissuade all from this poisonous Sin, observe, that above all Sins in the New Testament, this is called Idolatry; Ephes. 5. 5. Col. 3. 5. And therefore God's People should be so far from being taken with it, that they should be much afraid of the naming of it one among another, lest it should as adulterous thoughts, infect the heart, by the talking of it, Ephes. 5. 3.

Quest. BUT why is Covetousness called Idolatry?

Answ. 1. BECAUSE it engageth the very Heart of a Man in it, to mind earthly things; it gets our love, which should be set on God; and sets it upon poor empty Creatures; it puts our affections out of Heaven, where they should be, and sets them on Earth, where they should not be, Ezek. 33. 31. Phil. 3, 18, 19. Col. 3. 1, 2, 3, Thus it changeth the Object on which the Heart should be set, and setteth it on that on which it should not: it makes a Man forsake God, the Fountain of living water, and causeth him to hew to himself Cisterns, broken Cisterns, which can hold no water, Jer. 2. 11, 12, 13.

FOR, 2. It rejecteth the Care, Government, & Providence of God towards us, & causeth us to make of our care and industry a God; to whom, instead of God, we fly continually, both for the keeping what we have, and for getting more.

This was Israel's Idolatry of old, and the Original of all her Idolatrous Practices, Hos. 2. 5. For their Mother hath played the Harlot, (that is, committed Idolatry,) she that conceived them, hath done shamefully; for she said, I will go after my my Lovers, that gave me my bread, and my waters, my wool, and my flax, my oyl, and my drink.

3. IT disalloweth of God's way of disposing his Creatures, and would have them ordered, and disposed of otherwise than his heavenly Wisdom seemeth meet; and hence ariseth all discontents about God's dealing with us. Covetousness never yet said, It is the Lord, let him do what he pleaseth; but is ever objecting, like God, against every thing that goeth against it; and it is that which, like a God, draweth away the Heart and Soul from the true God, and his Son Jesus Christ: And he went away sorrowful; for he had great possessions, Mat. 19, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22. Now then, that which engageth the Heart, that rejecteth the Providence of God, and that is for ordering and disposing of things contrary to God, and for breaking with God upon these terms, is Idolatry; and all these do Covetousness, The wicked boasteth of his hearts desire, and blesseth the Covetous, whom the Lord abhorreth, Psal. 10. 3. Now the way to remedy this Disease, is, to learn the Lesson which Paul had got by heart; to wit, In whatsoever state you are therewithto be content. Phil. 4. 11, 12, 13.

I come in the second Place, to speak a word of Pride, and Loftiness of Heart and Life.

Of Pride.

1. PRIDE in general, it is that, which causeth a Man to think of Man and his Things, above what is written, 1 Cor. 4. 6.

2. IT hath its Seat in the Heart among these Enormities, Fornications, Adulteries, Lasciviousneses, Murders, Deceit, &c. Mark 7. 21, 22, 23. and sheweth it self in these following Particulars:

FIRST, When you slight this or that person, though gracious; that is, look over them, and shun them for their poverty in this world, and chuse rather to have converse with others, that possibly are less gracious, because of their greatness in this world. This the Apostle James writes against, Jam. 2. 1, 2, 3. under the name of Partiality; for indeed the fruits of a puffed-up heart, is to deal in this manner with Christians, 1 Cor. 4. 6, 7.

Now this Branch of Pride floweth from ignorance of the vanity of the Creature, and of the worth of a gracious heart: Wherefore get more of the knowledge of these two, and this Sprigg wil be nipt in the head, and you will learn to condescend to men of low degree, Rom. 12. 16.

SECONDLY, It argueth Pride of Heart, when Men will not deny themselves in things what they may, for the good and profit of their Neighbours. And it argueth now, that Pride is got so much up into Self-Love, and Self-Pleasing, that they little care who they grieve or offend, so they may have their way, Obad. 12. 13, 14, 15.

THIRDLY, It argueth Pride of Heart, when sober reproofs for Sin, and unbeseeming Carriages will not down with thee, but that rather thou snuffest, and givest way to thy Spirit to be peevish, and to retain prejudice against those that thus reprove thee. Saith the Prophet, Hear ye, and give ear, be not proud, for the Lord hath spoken; that is, Hear the Reproofs of God for your Sins, and break them off by Repentance: But if you will not hear, my Soul shall weep in secret for your Pride, &c. Jer. 13. 15, 16, 17. So also in Hosea, They will not frame their doing, to turn unto their God; for the spirit of whoredom is in the midst of them: they have not known the Lord; and the Pride of Israel doth testifie to his face, &c. Hos. 5. 4, 5.

This argueth great senselesness of God, and a heart greatly out of frame.

FOURTHLY, It argueth Pride also, when a Reproof or Admonition will not down as well from the poorest Saint, as from the greatest Doctor; and it argueth a glory in Men, 1 Cor. 3. 21. and that they would, that their Faith should stand in their Wisdom, and not in the Power of God, that is, of naked Truth, 1 Cor. 2. 5.

FIFTHLY, It argueth Pride of heart, when a man that hath this or that in his heart to do, in reference to God, but yet will slight a sober asking counsel and direction of God in this matter. The wicked through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God, saith David. Psal. 10. 4.

SIXTHLY, It argueth Pride of heart, when persons are tickled with thoughts of their own Praise, that secretly lust after it; that think of themselves and others above what is written; which those do, who do not acknowledge, that Man in his best estate is altogether vanity: But such kind of People have forgot the Exhortation; Be not high-minded, but fear; Rom. 11. 10. And also, that there is a knowledge that puffeth up, and edifieth neither themselves nor others. 1 Cor. 8. 1, 2.

Wherefore, to such the Apostle saith, Be not desirous of vain-glory, but in lowliness of Mind, let each esteem others better than themselves, Phil. 2. 3. Gal. 5. 26.

Pride also there is in outward carriage, behaviour, and gesture, which is odious for Christians to be tainted with; and this Pride is discovered by mincing words, a made carriage, and an affecting the Toyes and Baubles that Satan and every light headed Fool bringeth into the world. As God speaketh of the Daughters of Zion, They walk with stretched-out necks, wanton eyes, mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet, Isa. 3. 16. A very unhandsome carriage for a People that profess Godliness, and that use to come before God to confess their Sins, and to bemoan themselves for what they have done: How can a sense of thy own baseness, of the vileness of thy heart, and of the holiness of God, stand with such a Carriage? Dost thou see the vileness of thy heart, the fruit of Sin? And art thou afflicted with that disagreement that is between God and thy Heart, that layest the Reins on the neck of thy Lusts, and lettest them run whither they will? Be not deceived; Pride ariseth from ignorance of these things, 1 Tim. 6. 3, 4. A sense of my vileness, of what I have deserved, and of what continually in my heart opposeth God, cannot stand with a foolish, light, and wanton carriage: thou wilt then see there is other things to mind than to imitate the Butter-fly: Alas, all these kind of things, are but a painting the Devil, and a setting a carnal gloss upon a Castle of his; thou art but making gay the Spider; is thy heart ever the sounder for thy fine gate, thy mincing words, and thy lofty looks? Nay, doth not this argue, that thy heart is rotten, cankered and besotted heart? Oh! that God would but let thee see a little of thy own inside, inside, as thou hast others to behold thy outside: thou painted Sepulchre; thou whited Wall, will these things be found Vertues in the Day of God? Or, is this the way that thou takest to mortifie Sin? An high look, a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked, is sin, Prov. 21. 4. Pride is the ring-leader of the seven abominations that the Wise-man nameth, Prov. 6. 16, 17. And is that above all, that causeth to fall into the condemnation of the Devil, 1 Tim. 3. 6.

42. ## Of Adultery or Uncleanness.

NOW I come in the last place to touch a word or two of Adultery, and then to draw towards a Conclusion.

Adultery, it hath its place in the heart among the rest of those filthinesses I mentioned before, Mark 7. 21, 22. of which sin I observe two things.

FIRST, That almost, in every place where the Apostle layeth down a Catalogue of wickednesses, he layeth down Adultery, Fornication, and Uncleanness, in the front; as that in Mark. 7. 21. Rom. 1. 29. 1 Cor. 6. 9. Gal. 5. 19. Ephes. 5. 3, 1 Thes. 4. 3, 4, 5. Heb. 12. 16. Jam. 2. 11. 1 Pet. 3. 11. 2 Pet. 2. 10.

From this I gather, that the Sin of Uncleanness is a very predominate and master Sin, easie to overtake the sinner, as being one of the first that is ready to offer it self at all occasions, to break the Law of God.

SECONDLY, I observe, that this sin is committed unawares to many, even so soon as a Man hath but looked upon a Woman. I say unto you, saith Christ, That whosoever looketh on a Woman to lust, or desire after her, he hath already committed Adultery with her in his heart, Mat. 5. 28.

This sin of Uncleanness, I say, is a very taking sin, it is natural above all sins to Mankind; as it is most natural, so it wants not tempting occasions, having Objects for to look on in every corner: wherefore there is need of a double and trible watchfulness in the Soul against it. It is better here to make a Covenant with our Eyes, like Job, (Job 31. 1.) than to let them wander to God's dishonour, and our own discomfort.

There are these three things which discover a Man or Woman too much inclining to the uncleanness of their own heart.

The first is a wanton eye, or an eye that doth secretly affect it self with such objects as are tickling the of heart with the thoughts of immodesty and uncleanness. Isaiah calls this a wanton eye; and Peter, an eye full of Adultery, that cannot cease from sin, 2 Pet. 2. 14. Isa. 3. 16. This is that also which Christ calleth, and evil eye; and John, the lust of the flesh, and of the eyes, and doth defile those who are not very watchful over their own hearts, Mark 7. 22. 1 John 2. 16.

This wanton eye, is that which the most holy Saints should take heed of, because it is apt to seize upon them also. When Paul bids Timothy beseech the younger Women to walk as becomes the Gospel, he bids him do it with all Purity: As who should say, take heed that while thou instructest them to holiness, thou thy self be not corrupted with the lust of thy eye, 1 Tim. 5. 1, 2. O how many Souls in the day of God, will curse the day that ever they gave way to a wanton eye!

2. The second thing that discovereth one much inclining to the lusts of Uncleanness, it is wanton and immodest talk; such as that brazen-fac'd Whore, in the seventh of the Proverbs had, or such as they in Peter, who allured, through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those who were clean escaped from them, who live in error, 2 Pet. 2. 18. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh: Wherefore if we be Saints, let us take heed, as of our eye, so of our tongue, and let not the lust of Uncleanness, or of Adultery, be once named among us; named among us as becometh Saints, Ephes. 5. 3. Mark; let it not be once named. This implies, that the lusts of uncleanness are deviliſhly taken; they will both take the heart with eyes and tongue; Let it not be once named among you, &c.

THIRDLY, Another thing that bespeaks a Man or Woman inclining to wantonness and uncleanness, it is an adorning themselves in light and wanton Apparel. The Attire of an Harlot is too frequently in our day the Attire of Professors; a vile thing, and argueth much wantonness and vileness of affections. If those that give way to a wanton Eye, wanton VVords, and immodest Apparel, be not Whores, &c. in their hearts, I know not what to say. Doth a wanton eye argue Shamefacedness? Doth wanton talk argue Chastity? And doth immodest Apparel, with stretched-out Necks, naked Breasts, a made Speech, and mincing Gates, &c. argue mortification of Lusts? 43.

If any say that these things may argue Pride as well as Carnal Lusts. VVell; But why are they proud? Is it not to trick up the Body? And why do they with Pride trick up the Body, if it be not to provoke both themselves and others to Lusts: God knoweth their hearts without their outsides; and we know their hearts by their outsides.

My Friends, I am hear treating of Good Works, and perswading you to fly those things that are hinderances to them; wherefore bear with my plainness when I speak against Sin; I would strike it through with every word, because else it will strike us through with many sorrows. 1 Tim. 6. 9, 10.

I do not treat of Good Works, as if the doing of them would save us (for we are justified by his Grace according to the hope of Eternal Life) yet our sins and evil works will lay us obnoxious to the judgments both of God and Man. He that walketh not uprightly, according to the truth of the Gospel, is like to have his Peace assaulted often, both by the Devil, the Law, Death and Hell, yea, and is like to have God hide his face from him also, for the iniquity of his covetousness, Isa. 57. 17.

How can he that carrieth himself basely in the sight of Men, think he yet well behaveth himself in the sight of God? And if so dim a light as is in Man, can justly count thee as a Transgressor, How shall thy sins be hid from him, whose eye-lids try the Children of Men? Psal. 11. 4.

'Tis true, Faith without VVorks justifies us before God: Yet that Faith that is alone, will be found to leave us Sinners in the sight both of God and Man, Rom. 3. 28. and 4. 5. Jam. 2. 18. And though thou addest nothing to that which saveth thee by what thou canst do, yet thy Righteousness may profit the Son of Man; as also also saith the Text: but if thou shalt be so careless as to say, what care I for being righteous to profit others? I tell thee, that the love of God is not in thee, Job 35.18. 1 Joh. 3.17. 1 Co. 13.1,2,3.

Walk therefore in God's ways, and do them, for this is your wisdom, and your understanding in the sight of the Nations, which shall hear of all these Statutes, and say, this great Nation is a wise and understanding People, Deut. 4.6.

44. Observat. 3. Every Believer should not only take heed that their works be good, and so for the present do them, but should carefully study to maintain them; that is, to keep in a continual exercise of them.

It is an easier matter to begin to do good, than it is to continue therein; and the reason is, there is not so much of a Christian's Cross in the beginning of a work, as there is in a continual, hearty, conscientious practice thereof. Therefore Christians have need, as to be pressed to do good, so to continue the work: Man by nature, is rather a Hearer than a doer, Athenian-like, continually listning after some new thing; seeing many things, but observing nothing, Acts 17.20. Isa. 42.20. It is observable, that after Christ had divided his Hearers into four parts, he condemned three of them for fruitless hearers, Luke 8.5,6,7,8. O, it is hard continuing believing, continuing loving, continuing resisting all that opposeth; we are subject to be weary of well-doing, Gal. 6.9. To pluck out right eyes, to cut off right hands and feet, is no pleasant thing to Flesh and Blood; and yet none but these shall have the Promise of Life; because none but these will be found to have the effectual work of God's Grace in their Souls: If ye continue in my Word, then are you my Disciples [indeed,] Mat. 18.8, 9. and 24. 13. John 8. 31. And hence it is that you find so many Ifs in the Scripture about Mens happiness; as, if you be Sons, then heirs; and if you continue in the Faith; and if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast to the end, Rom. 8. 17. Col. 1. 23. Heb. 3. 14. Not that their continuing in the way of God, is the cause of the Work being right; but the Work being right, causeth the continuance therein. As John saith in another place, They went out from us, because they were not of us; for had they been of us, [no doubt] saith he, they would have continued with us, 1 John 2. 19. But I say, where the work of God indeed it savingly begun, even there is flesh, corruption, and the body of death to oppose it: Therefore should Christians take heed, and look that against these Opposites, they maintain a continual course of good Works among Men.

BESIDES, As there is that in our own bowels that opposeth Goodness, so there is the Tempter, the wicked One, both to animate these Lusts, and to joyn with them in every Assault against every appearance of God in our Souls. And hence it is that he is called the Devil, the Enemy, the Destroyer, and him that seeks continually to devour us, 1 Pet. 5.8. I need say no more but this; He that will walk like a Christian indeed, as he shall find it is requisite, that he continue in good Works; so his continuing therein, will be oppos'd: if therefore he will continue therein, he must make it his business to study how to oppose those that oppose such a Life, that he may continue therein. Now then to help in this, here fitly comes in the last Observation; to wit,

45. That the best way both to provoke our selves and others to good Works, it is to be often affirming to others, the Doctrine of Justification by Grace, and to belive it our selves. This is a faithful Saying; and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that those which have believed in God, might be careful to maintain good Works.

I told you before, that good Works must flow from Faith: And now I tell you, that the best way to be frritful in them, is to be much in the exercise of the Doctrine of Justification by Grace; and they both agree; for as Faith animates to good Works, so the Doctrine of Grace animates Faith: Wherefore, the way to be rich in good Works, it is to be rich in Faith; and the way to be rich in Faith, is to be conscienciously affirming the Doctrine of Grace to others, and believing it our selves.

FIRST, To be constantly affirming it to others. Thus Paul tells Timothy, that if he put the Brethren in mind of the Truths of the Gospel, the himself should not only be a good Minister of Christ, but should be nourished up in the words of Faith, and of good Doctrine, 1 Tim. 4. 6.

It is the Ordinance of God, that Christians should be often asserting the things of God each to others; and that by their so doing, they should edifie one another, Heb. 10.24.25. 1 Thes. 5. 11.

The Doctrine of the Gospel is like the Dew and the small Rain that distilleth upon the tender Grass, wherewith it doth flourish, and is kept green, Deut. 32.1.

Christians are like the several Flowers in a Garden, that have upon each of them the Dew of Heaven, which being shaken with the wind, they let fall their Dew at each others Roots, whereby they are joyntly nourished, and become Nourishers of one another. For Christians to commune savourly of God's Matters one with another, it is as if they opened to each others Nostrils Boxes of Perfume. Saith Paul to the Church at Rome, I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual Gift, to the end you may be established; that is, that I may be comforted together with you, by the mutual Faith both of you and me, Rom. 1. 11, 12.

Christians should be often affirming the Doctrine of Grace, and Justification by it, one to another.

SECONDLY, As they should be thus doing, so they should live in the Power of it themselves, they should by Faith suck and drink in this Doctrine, as the good ground receiveth the Rain; which being done, forthwith there is proclaimed good Works. Paul to the Colossians, saith thus, We give Thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, since we heard of your Faith in the Lord Jesus, and Love to all the Saints; for the Hope which is laid up in Heaven for you, whereof ye heard before in the word of the Truth of the Gospel, which is come unto you, as it is also in all the world, and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you. But how long ago? Why, since the day ye heard it, saith he, and knew the Grace of God in Truth, Col. 1. 3, 4, 5, 6.

Apples and Flowers are not made by the Gardiner; but are an effect of the planting and watering. Plant in the sinner good Doctrine, and let it be watered with the Word of Grace; and as the effect of that, there is the fruits of Holiness, and the end everlasting Life, *Rom.*6.22.

Good Doctrine is the Doctrine of the Gospel, which sheweth to Men, that God cloatheth them with the Righteousness of his Son, freely, and maketh him with all his benefits over to them; by which free gift the sinner is made righteous before God; and because he is so, therefore there is infused a principle of Grace into the heart, whereby it is both quickned, and bringeth forth fruit, Rom. 3. 21, 22, 23, 24, 25. 1 *Cor.*1.30. 2*Cor.*5.21. John 1.16.

Now then, seeing Good Works do flow from Faith, and seeing Faith is nourished by an affirming of the Doctrine of the Gospel, &c. take here these few Considerations from the Doctrine of the Gospel, for the support of thy Faith, that thou mayest be indeed fruitful and rich in Good Works.

FIRST, The whole Bible was given for this very end, that thou shouldst both believe this Doctrine, and live in the comfort and sweetness of it: For whatsoever things was written afore-time, was written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope.
Rom.15.4.

Joh.20.31. SECONDLY, That therefore every Promise in the Bible is thine, to strengthen, quicken, and encourage thy heart in believing.

THIRDLY, Consider that there is nothing that thou dost, can so please God as believing: The Lord takes pleasure in them that fear him, in them that hope in his mercy, Psal. 147. 11.

They please him because they imbrace his Righteousness, &c.

FOURTHLY, Consider that all the withdrawings of God from thee, are not for the weakening, but for the tryal of thy faith; and also, that what-ever he suffers Satan, or thy Job 23. 8, 9, 10. own heart, to do, it is not to weaken Faith.

1 Pet 1.7. FIFTHLY, Consider, that believing is that which will keep in thy view the things of Heaven and Glory; and that at which the Devil will be discouraged, sin weakened, and thy heart quickened and sweetened, *Heb.*11.27. *Jam.*4.7. 1 *Pet.*5.9. *Ephes.*6.16. *Rom.*15.13.

LASTLY, By believing, the Love of God is kept with warmth upon the heart, and that this will provoke thee continually to bless God for Christ, for Grace, for Faith, Hope, and all these things, either in God, or thee, that doth accompany Salvation, 2 Cor. 2. 14. Psal. 103. 1,2,3,4. The Doctrine of the forgiveness of sins received by Faith, will make notable work in the heart of a sinner, to bring forth Good Works.

BUT Secondly, Forasmuch as there is a body of Death and Sin in every one that hath the Grace of God in this World; and because this body of death will be ever opposing that which is good, as the Apostle saith, *Rom.*7. 21. therefore take these few particulars further, for the suppressing that which will hinder a fruitful Life.

1. KEEP a continual watch over the wretchedness of thy own heart (not to be discouraged at the sight of thy vileness) but to prevent its wickedness; for that will labour either to hinder thee from doing Good Works, or else will hinder thee in the doing thereof; for evil is present with thee for both these purposes: Take heed, then, that thou do not listen to that at any time, but deny, though with much struggling, the workings of sin to the contrary.

2. LET this be continually before thy heart, that God's eye is upon thee, and seeth every secret turning of thy heart, either to or from him: All things are naked and bare before the eyes of him with whom we have to do, Heb.4.13.

3. IF thou deny to do that good which thou oughtest, with what thy God hath given thee; then consider, that though he love thy soul, yet he can chastise: First, Thy inward Man with such troubles, that thy life shall be restless and comfortless: Secondly, And can also so blow upon thy outward Man, that all thou getteſt, shall be put in a Bag with holes, *Psal.*89.31,32,33. *Hag.*1.6. And set the case he should license but one Thief among thy substance, or one spark of fire among thy Barns, how quickly might that be spent ill, and against thy will, which thou shouldest have spent to God's Glory, and with thy Will? And I tell thee further, that if thou want a heart to do good when thou hast about thee, thou mayest want comfort in such things thy self from others, when thine is taken from thee. See *Judg.*1.6,7.

4. CONSIDER, that a life full of Good Works, is the only way, on thy part, to answer the Mercy of God extended to thee; God hath had mercy on thee, and hath saved thee from all thy distresses; God hath not stuck to give thee his Son, his Spirit, and the Kingdom of Heaven: Saith Paul, I beseech you therefore by the Mercies of God, that you present your bodies a living Sacrifice to God, holy, accrptable, which is your reasonable service, Rom.12.1. See Mat. 18.32,33.

5. CONSIDER, that this is the way to convince all Men, that the Power of God's things hath taken hold of thy heart (I speak to them that hold the head) and say what thou wilt, if thy Faith be not accompanied with a Holy Life, thou shalt be judged a withered Branch, a wording Professor, Salt without Savour, and as lifeless as a sounding Brass, and a tinkling Cymbal, *Joh.*15: Mat. 13. 1 Cor. 13. 1, 2. For, say they, shew us your Faith by your Works, for we cannot see your hearts, Jam. 2. 18. But I say on the contrary, if thou walk as becomes thee who art saved by Grace, then thou wilt witness in every Man's Conscience, that thou art a good Tree; now thou leavest guilt on the heart of the wicked, 1 Sam. 24. 16, 17. Now thou takest off occasion from that desire occasion, and now thou art clear from the blood of all Men, 2 Cor. 11.12. Acts 20. 26, 31, 32, 33, 34. This is the Man also that provoketh others to Good Work: The ear that heareth such a Man, shall bless him; and the eye that seeth him, shall bear witness to him. Surely, saith David, he shall never be moved: The Righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance, Heb 10.24. Job 29.11. Psal.112.6.

6. AGAIN, The heart that is fullest of Good Works, hath in it least room for Satan's Temptations: And this is the meaning of Peter, where he saith, Be sober, be vigilant; that is, be busying thy self in Faith and Holiness, for the Devil, your Adversary, goeth about like a roaring Lyon, seeking whom he may devour, 1 Pet. 5. 8. He that walketh uprightly, walketh safely; and they that add to Faith, Vertue; to Vertue Knowledge, to Knowledge, Temperance; to Temperance, Brotherly kind- kindness; and to these Charity, and that abounds therein, he shall neither be barren nor unfruitful; he shall never fall, but so an entrance shall be ministred to him abundantly, into the everlasting Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. Prov. 10. 9.

7. THE Man who is fullest of Good Works, he is fittest to live, and fittest to die: I am now (at any time) ready to be offered up, saith fruitful Paul, 2 Tim. 4. 6. Whereas he that is barren, he is neither fit to live, nor fit to die: To die, he himself is convinced he is not fit; and to live, God himself saith, he is not fit; Cut him down, Why doth he cumber the ground? Luke 13. 7.

LASTLY, Consider, to provoke thee to Good Works, thou shalt have of God when thou comest to Glory, a Reward for every thing thou dost for him on Earth. Little do the People of God consider, how richly God will reward, what from a right principle, and to a right end, is done fore him here; not a bit of bread to the poor, not a draught of water to the meanest of them that belong to Christ, or the loss of a hair of your head, shall in that day go without its reward, Luke 14. 13, 14. Mat. 10. 42.

For this light affliction (and so all other pieces of self-denial) which is but for a moment, worketh out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of Glory, 2 Cor. 4. 17. I tell thee Christian, be but rich in good Works, and thou shalt have more than Salvation; thy Salvation thou hast freely by Grace through Christ, without works, Ephes. 2. 8, 9, 10. but now being justified and saved, and as the fruits hereof, reviewed by the Holy Ghost; after this, I say, thou shalt be rewarded for every work that proves good; For God is not unrighteous to forget your works and labour of love, which you have shewed to his Name, in that you have ministred to his Saints, and do minister. Heb. 6. 10. 1 Cor. 3. 14. Moses counted the reward that he was to have, for a short suffering with the People of God, of greater worth, than the Treasures of Egypt, the smiles of the King, or the honour of his Kingdom, Heb. 11. 25, 26, 27.

The fruitless Professor must meet with disappointments.

In a word, Let the disappointments that do, and shall most surely befal the fruitless Professors, provoke thee to look with all diligence to thy standing. For

FIRST, Such a one is but deceived and disappointed touching the Work of Grace he supposeth to be in his heart, he thinks he is a Christian, and hath Grace, as Faith, Hope, and the like, in his soul, yet no fruits of these things manifest themselves in him; indeed his tongue is tipt with a talk and tattle of Religion: Poor Man, poor empty Man! Faith without Works is dead; thy hope shall be as the giving up of the Ghost; thy gifts with which thy soul is possessed, are but such as are common to Reprobates; thou art therefore disappointed, God reputes thee still but wicked, though thou comest and goest to the place of the Holy, Jam. 2 19, 20. Job 11. 20. 1 Cor. 13. 1, 2, 3.

SECONDLY, Therefore all thy joy and comfort must needs fall short of saving comfort, and so leave thee in the suds notwithstanding; thy joy is the joy of the Pharisees, Joh. 5. 33. and thy gladness as that of Herod; Mark 6. 20. and the longest time it can last, it is but a Scripture moment, Job 20. 5. Alas, in all thy gladness and content with thy Religion, thou art but like the Boy that plays with Brass instead of Gold; and with Counters instead of that which will go for currant Coin: Thus, If a Man think himself to be something when he is nothing, he deceiveth or disappoints himself, Gal. 6. 3.

THIRDLY, This is not all, but look thou certainly for an eternal disappointment in the Day of God, for it must be; thy Lamp will out at the first sound the Trump of God shall make in thine ears; thou canst not hold up at the appearance of the Son of God in his Glory; his very looks will be to thy profession, as a strong wind is to a blinking Candle, and thou shalt be left only to smoak.

Oh the alteration that will befal a foolish Virgin! She thought she was happy, and that she should have received happiness with those that were right at the heart; but behold the coutrary, her Lamp is going out, she is now to seek for saving Grace, when the time of Grace is over; her Heaven she thought of, is proved a Hell, and her God is proved a Devil; God hath cast her out of his presence, and claps the door upon her; she pleads her profession, and the like, and she hath for her answer repulses from Heaven: So are the paths of all that forget God; and the Hypocrites hope shall perish; whose hope shall be cut off, and whose trust shall be the Spiders web; though he lean upon his house, it shall not stand; he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure, Mat. 25. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Luk. 13. 25, 26, 27, 28. Job 8. 13, 14, 15.

Take heed therefore; thy Soul, Heaven, and Eternity lies at stake; yea, they turn either to thee or from thee upon the hinge of thy faith: If it be right, all is thine; if wrong, then all is lost, however thy hopes and expectations are to the contrary; For in Christ Jesus neither Circumcision availeth any thing, nor Uncircumcision, but Faith which worketh by Love: Let no Man therefore deceive you with vain words, for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the Children of unbelief: For the Earth that drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth Herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God; but that which beareth Briars and Thorns, is [rejected] and is nigh unto cursing, whose end is to be burned, Gal. 5. 6. Eph. 5. 3, 4, 5, 6. Heb. 6. 7, 8.

Object. BUT what shall I do, who am so cold, slothful and heartless, that I cannot find any heart to do any work for God in this world? Indeed Time was when his Dew rested all night upon my Branches, and when I Could with desire, with earnest desire, be doing and working for God; but alas, now it is otherwise.

Answer, IF this be true, thy Case is sad, thou art to be pitied; the Lord pity thee: And for thy recovery out of this condition, I would give thee no other counsel than was given to Ephesus, when she had lost her first Love; Remember, saith Christ, from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do thy first Works, &c. Rev. 2. 5.

Mark: Thy first Works, is to enter into a serious considering, and remembrance from whence thou art fallen: Remember that thou hast left thy God, the stay of thy Soul, and him without whom there is no stay, comfort, or strength for thee to either do or suffer any thing in this world. Without me, saith he, you can do nothing, John 15. 5. A sad condition; the remembrance of this, for certain, is the first step to the recovering a back-sliding heart; for the right remembrance of this, doth bring to mind what loss that Soul hath sustained that is in this condition, how it hath lost its former Visits, Smiles, and Consolations of God: When thy Conscience was supplied with the Blood of thy Saviour; when every step thou tookest, was, as it were in Honey and Butter; and when thy heart could meditate Terrour with comfort, Job 29. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. Isa. 33. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18. Instead of which, thou feelest darkness, hardness of heart, and the thoughts of God are terrible to thee, Psal. 77. 3. Now God never visits thee; or if he doth, it is but as a wayfaring man, that tarrieth but for a Night. Jer. 14. 8, 9.

This also brings to mind, how the Case is altered with thee, touching thy Confidence in God for thy future Happiness, how uncertain thou now art of thy hopes for Heaven, how much this Life doth hang in doubt before thee, Deut. 28. 65, 66.

50. 2. REMEMBER therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent.] These are Words well put together; for a solid considering of what I have lost in my declining, will provoke in my heart a sorrow, and godly heaviness, whereby I shall be forced to bemoan my condition, and say, I will go and return to my first Husband, for then it was better with me than now, Hos. 2. 7.

And believe it, the reason of God's standing off from giving thee comfortable communion with himself, it is, that thou mightest first see the difference between sticking close to God, and forsaking of him; and next, that thou mightest indeed acknowledge thy Offence, and seek his Face, Hos. 5. 15. He taketh no pleasure in thy forlorn condition; he had rather thou shouldest have him in thy bosom, only he will have it in his own way: He looketh down upon Men, and if any say, I have sinned, and perverted that which is right, and it profiteth me not; then he will deliver his Soul from going down into the Pit, and his Life shall see the Light, Job 33. 27, 28.

3. REMEMBER from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do thy first works.]

As there should be a remembring and a repenting; so there should be a hearty doing our first works; a believing, as before; a laying hold of the things of Heaven and Glory, as at the first; for now is God returned to thee, as before; Zech. 1. 16. And though thou maist, through the loss of thy Locks, with Samson, be weak at the first, yet, in short time, thy Hair will grow again; that is, thy former experience will in short space be as long, large and strong as in the former times; indeed at the first thou wilt find all the wheels of thy Soul rusty, and all the strings of thine heart out of tune; as also, when thou first beginnest to stir, the dust and filth of thy heart, will, like Smoak, trouble thee from that clear beholding the Grace of thy God, and his Love to thy Soul; but yet wait, and go on, and though thou findest thy self as unable to do any thing as thou formerly couldest; yet I say, up, and be doing, and the Lord will be with thee; for he hath not despised the day of thy small things, 1 Chron. 22. 16. Zech. 4. 10.

I know thou wilt be afflicted with a thousand Temptations, to drive thee to despair, that thy Faith may be faint, &c. But against all them, set thou the Word of God, the Promise of Grace, the Blood of Christ, and the Examples of God's Goodness to the great Back-sliders, that are for thy encouragement, recorded in the Scriptures of Truth; and remember, that turning to God after back-sliding, is the greatest piece of Service thou canst do for him, and the greatest honour thou canst bring to the Blood of Christ; and know farther, that God, to shew his willing reception of so unworthy a Creature, saith, There shall be joy in Heaven at thy Conversion to him again, Luke 15. 7, 10.

To Conclude.

IF thou yet, notwithstanding what hath been said, dost remain a Back-slider.

FIRST, Then remember that thou must die; and remember also, that when the Terrors of God, of Death, and a Back-slidden Heart meet together, there will be sad work in that Soul; this is the Man that hangeth tilting over the Mouth of Hell, while Death is cutting the Thred of his Life.

SECONDLY, Remember, that though God doth sometimes, yea, often, receive Back-sliders; yet it is not always so: Some draw back unto perdition; for because they have flung up God, and would none of him, he in Justice fling up them and their Souls for ever, Prov. 1. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.

I have observed, that sometimes God, as it were, in revenge for Injury done him, doth snatch away Souls in the very nick of their back-sliding; as he served Lot's Wife, when he turned her into a Pillar of Salt, even while she was looking over her Shoulder to Sodom, Gen. 19. 26. An Example that every Back-slider should remember with astonishment, Luke 17. 32.

Thus have I in few words, written to you, (before I die) a word to provoke you to Faith and Holiness, because I desire that you may have the Life that is laid up for all them that believe in the Lord Jesus, and love one another when I am deceased; though there I shall rest from my Labours, and be in Paradise; as through Grace I comfortably believe; yet, it is not there, but here, I must do you good; wherefore, I not knowing the shortness of my Life, nor the hinderance that hereafter I may have of serving my God and You, I have taken this opportunity to present these few Lines unto you for your edification.

Consider what hath been said, and the Lord give you understanding in all things.

Farewel.

TOUCHING

PRAYER:

Wherein is briefly Diſcovered,

1. What PRAYER is.
2. What it is to Pray with the Spirit.
3. What it is to Pray with the Spirit, and with the Underſtanding alſo.

By JOHN BUNYAN.

But, we know not what we ſhould pray for as we ought; only the Spirit helpeth our Infirmities, Rom. 8. 26.

1 COR. XIV. xv.

I will pray with the Spirit, and I will pray with the Underſtanding alſo.

PRAYER is an Ordinance of God, and that to be uſed both in Publick and Private; yea, ſuch an Ordinance, as brings thoſe that have the Spirit of Supplication, into great Familiarity with God; and is alſo ſo prevalent an action, that it getteth of God, both for the perſon that prayeth, and for them that are prayed for, great things. It is the Opener of the Heart of God, and a Means by which the Soul, though empty, is filled. By Prayer, the Chriſtian can open his heart to God, as to a Friend, and obtain freſh Teſtimony of God's Friendſtip to him. I might ſpend many words in diſtinguiſhing between Publick and Private Prayer; as alſo between that in the Heart, and that with the Vocal Voice: Something alſo might be ſpoken to diſtinguiſh between the Gifts and Graces of Prayer; but eſchewing this Method, my Buſineſs ſhall be at this time, only to ſhew you the very Heart of Prayer, without which, all your lifting up, both of Hands, and Eyes, and Voices, will be to no purpoſe at all, I will pray with the Spirit.

The Method that I ſhall go in at this time, ſhall be, First, To ſhew you what true Prayer is. Secondly, To ſhew you, what it is to pray with the Spirit. Thirdly, What it is to pray with the Spirit, and Underſtanding alſo. And ſo, Fourthly, To make ſome ſhort Uſe and Application of what ſhall be ſpoken.

What

3. What Prayer is,

FOR the First, What Prayer is.

Prayer is a sincere, sensible, affectionate pouring out of the heart or soul to God, through Christ, in the strength and assistance of the holy Spirit, for such things as God hath promised, or according to the Word, for the good of the Church, with submission, in Faith, to the Will of God.

IN this Description are these seven things.

1. IT is a Sincere. 2. A Sensible. 3. An affectionate pouring out of the Soul to God, through Christ. 4. By the strength or assistance of the Spirit. 5. For such things as God hath promised, or, according to his Word. 6. For the good of the Church. 7. With submission in Faith to the Will of God.

4. For the First of these, It is a sincere pouring out of the Soul to God. Sincerity is such a Grace as runs through all the Graces of God in us, and through all the actings of a Christian, and hath the sway in them too, or else their actings are not any thing regarded of God, and so of and in Prayer, of which particularly David speaks, when he mentions Prayer. I cried unto the Lord with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue. If I regard Iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear my Prayer. Part of the exercise of Prayer is sincerity, without which, God looks not upon it as Prayer in a good sence: Then shall you seek me and find me, when you shall search for me with your whole heart, Jer. 29. 12, 13. The want of this made the Lord reject their Prayers in Hosea 7. 14. where he saith, They have not cryed unto me with their heart (that is, in sincerity) when they howled upon their beds. But for a pretence, for a shew in Hypocrisie, to be seen of Men, and applauded for the same, they pray. Sincerity was that which Christ commended in Nathaniel, when he was under the Fig tree; Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile. Probably this good Man was pouring out of his Soul to God in Prayer under the Figtree, & that in a sincere, and unfained spirit before the Lord. The Prayer that hath this in it as one of the principal ingredients, is the Prayer that God looks at. Thus, The Prayer of the upright is his delight, Prov. 15. 8.

Psal. 17. 1, 2, 3, 4.

And why must sincerity be one of the Essentials of Prayer, which is accepted of God, but because sincerity carries the soul in all simplicity to open its heart to God, and to tell him the case plainly without equivocation; to condemn it self plainly without dissembling; to cry to God heartily, without complementing. I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus. Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastized, as a Bullock unaccustomed to the yoke. Sincerity is the same in a corner alone, as it is before the face of all the World. It knows not how to wear two vizards, one for an appearance before Men, and another for a short snatch in a corner; but it must have God, and be with him in the duty of Prayer. It is not a lip-labour that it doth regard, for it is the heart that God looks at, and that which sincerity looks at, and that which Prayer comes from, if it be that Prayer which is accompanied with sincerity.

Jer. 31. 18.

2. IT is a sincere and sensible pouring out of the Heart or Soul. It is not as many take it to be, even a few babling, prating, complementory expressions, but a sensible feeling there is in the heart. Prayer hath in it a sensibleness of divers things: Sometimes sense of sin, sometimes of mercy received, sometimes of the readiness of God to give mercy, &c.

5. FIRST, A sense of the want of mercy, by reason of the danger of sin. The Soul I say, feels, and from feeling sighs, groans, and breaks at the heart. For right Prayer bubleth out of the heart when it is over-prest with grief and bitterness, as blood is forced out of the flesh, by reason of some heavy burthen that lieth upon it. David roars, crys, weeps, faints at heart, fails at the eyes, loseth his moisture, &c. Hezekiah mourns like a Dove. Ephraim bemoans himself. Peter weeps bitterly, Christ hath strong cryings and tears, and all this from a sence of the justice of God, the guilt of sin, the pains of Hell and destruction. The sorrows of death compassed me about, the pains of hell got hold upon me, and I found trouble and sorrow. Then cryed I unto the Lord. And in another place, My sore ran in the night. Again, I am bowed down greatly, I go mourning all the day long. In all these instances, and in hundreds more that might be named, you may see, that Prayer carrieth in it a sensible feeling disposition, and that first from a sence of sin.

1 Sam. 1. 10. Psal. 69. 3. Psal. 38. 8, 9, 10. Isa. 38. 14. Jer. 3. 21. Mat. 26. 75. Heb. 5. 7. Psa. 116. 3. Psal. 77. 2. Psal. 38. 6.

SECONDLY, Sometimes there is a sweet sence of mercy received; encouraging, comforting, strengthening, enlivening, enlightening mercy, &c. Thus David pours out the soul to bless, and praise, and admire the great God for his loving kindness to such poor vile Wretches. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me bless his holy Name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits. Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases, and crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies; who redeemeth thy life from destruction, who satisfieth thy mouth with good things, so that thy youth is renewed as the Eagles. And thus is the Prayer of Saints sometimes turned into praise and thanksgiving, and yet are Prayers still. This is a Mystery, God's People pray with their praises, as it is written, Be careful for nothing, but in every thing by Prayer with supplication and thanksgiving, let your request be made known to God. A sensible thanksgiving for mercies received, is a mighty Prayer in the sight of God; It prevails with him unspeakably.

Psal. 103. 1, 2. Phil. 4. 6.

THIRDLY, In Prayer, there is sometimes in the soul, a sence of Mercy to be received. This again sets the soul all on a flame. Thou, O Lord God, (saith David) hast revealed to thy servant, saying, I will build thee an house; therefore hath thy servant found in his heart to pray unto thee. This provoked Jacob, David, Daniel, with others, even a sence of Mercies to be received; which caused them, not by fits and starts, nor yet in a foolish, frothy way to babble over a few words written in a paper; but mightily, fervently, and continually, to groan out their conditions before the Lord, as being sensible; sensible, I say, of their wants, their misery, and the willingness of God to shew mercy.

2 Sam. 7. 27. Gen. 32. 10, 11. Dan. 9. 3, 4.

A good sense of Sin, and the Wrath of God, with some encouragement from God to come unto unto him, is a better Common-Prayer-Book than that which is taken out of the * Papistical Mass-Book; being the Scraps and Fragments of the Devices of some Popes, some Friars, and I wot not what.

* See Mr. Fox's citation of the Mass, in the last Volume of the Book of Martyrs.

3. PRAYER is a sincere, sensible, and an affectionate pouring out of the Soul to God. O, the heat, strength, life, vigour, and affection that is in right Prayer! As the Hart panteth after the water-broks, so longeth my Soul after thee, O God. I have longed for thy Precepts; I have longed after thy Salvation. My Soul longeth, yea, fainteth for the Courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God. My Soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times. Mark ye here; My Soul longeth, it longeth, it longeth, &c. O, what affection is here discovered in Prayer! The like you have in Daniel; O Lord, hear; O Lord forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not for thy Names sake, O my God. Every Syllable carrieth a mighty vehemency in it. This is called the fervent, or the working Prayer, by James. And so again, Luke 22. 44. And being in an Agony, he prayed more earnestly, or had his Affections more and more drawn out after God for his helping hand. O, how wide are the most of Men with their Prayers from this Prayer, that is Prayer in God's account. Alas, the greatest part of Men make no conscience at all of the Duty; and as for them that do, it is to be feared, that many of them, are very great strangers to a sincere, sensible and affectionate pouring out their hearts or souls to God; but even content themselves with a little Lip-labour, and bodily exercise, mumbling over a few imaginary Prayers. When the Affections are indeed engaged in Prayer, then, then the whole Man is engaged, and that in such sort, that the Soul will spend it self to nothing, as it were, rather than it will go without that good desired, even Communion and Solace with Christ. And hence it is that the Saints have spent their strengths, and lost their lives, rather than go without the Blessing, Psal. 69, 3. Psal. 38. 9, 10. Gen. 32. 24, 25, 26.

Pf. 119. 40 Pf. 84. 2. Pf. 119. 20 Dan. 9. 19. Jam. 5. 7.

All this is too too evident by the ignorance, prophaneness, and spirit of envy, that reigns in the hearts of those Men that are so hot for the Forms, and not the Power of Praying: Scarce one of forty among them know what it is to be born again, to have communion with the Father through the Son; to feel the power of Grace sanctifying their Hearts; but for all their Prayers, they still live cursed, drunken, whorish, and abominable Lives, full of Malice, Envy, Deceit, Persecuting of the dear Children of God. O, what a dreadful After-clap is coming upon them! which all their hypocritical assembling themselves together, with all their Prayers, shall never be able to help them against, or shelter them from.

AGAIN, It is a pouring out of the Heart or Soul: There is in Prayer an unbosoming of a Man's self, an opening of the Heart to God, an affectionate pouring out of the Soul in requests, Sighs, and groans. All my Desires are before thee (saith David, my groanings are not hid from thee. And again, My Soul thirsteth for God, even for the living God: When shall I come and appear before God? When I remember these things, I pour out my soul in me, Psal. 42. 2, 3. Mark, I pour out my Soul: It is an Expression, signifying, that in Prayer, there goeth the very life and whole strength to God. As in another place, Trust in him at all times ye people, pour out your hearts before him. This is the Prayer to which the Promise is made, for the delivering of a poor creature out of captivity and thraldom. If from thence thou shalt seek the Lord, thou shalt find him, if thou seekest him with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, Deut. 4. 29.

Psal. 62. 8.

AGAIN, It is a pouring out of the heart or soul to God. This sheweth also the Excellency of the Spirit of Prayer: It is the great God to which it retires; When shall I come and appear before God? And it argueth, that the Soul that thus prayeth indeed, sees an emptiness in all things under heaven; That in God alone there is rest and satisfaction for the Soul. Now she that is a widow, and desolate, trusteth in God. So saith David, In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust, let me never be put to confusion: deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape; incline thine ear to me, and save me: be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort. For thou art my rock and my fortress; deliver me, O God, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man: For thou art my hope, O Lord my God, thou art my trust from my youth. Many in a wording way, speak of God: but right Prayer makes God his hope, stay, and all. Right Prayer sees nothing substantial, and worth the looking after, but God. And that (as I said before) it doth in a sincere, sensible, and affectionate way.

1 Tim. 5. 5.

8. AGAIN, It is a sincere, sensible affectionate pouring out of the Heart, or Soul to God, through Christ. This, through Christ, must needs be added, or else it is to be questioned, whether it be Prayer, though in appearance it be never so eminent and eloquent.

Christ is the way through whom the Soul hath admittance to God, and without whom it is impossible that so much, as one desire should come into the ears of the Lord of Sabbath. If you ask any thing in my Name, whatsoever you ask the Father in my Name, I will do it. This was Daniel's way in praying for the people of God, he did it in the Name of Christ. Now therefore, O our God, hear the Prayer of thy Servant, and his Supplications, and cause thy Face to shine upon thy Sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. And so David, For thy Name sake, (that is, for thy Christ's sake,) pardon mine iniquity; for it is great. But now, it is not every one that maketh mention of Christ's Name in Prayer, that doth in indeed, and in truth effectually pray to God in the Name of Christ, or through him. This coming to God through Christ, is the hardest part that is found in Prayer. A Man may more easily be sensible of his works, ay, and sincerely too desire Mercy, and yet not be able to come to God by Christ, That Man that comes to God by Christ, he must first have the knowledge of him. For he that comes to God, must believe that he is. And so he that comes to God through Christ, must be enabled to know Christ. Lord, (saith Moses) shew me thy way, that I may know thee.

Joh. 14. 6. Jo. 14. 13, 14. Dan. 9. 27. Psal. 25. 11 Heb. 11. 6. Exod. 33. 13.

This Christ, none but the Father can reveal. Mat. 11. 27. And to come through Christ, is for the Soul to Mat. 16. 18 be enabled of God to ſhroud it ſelf under the ſhadow of the Lord Jeſus, as a Man ſhroudeth himſelf under a thing for Safeguard. Hence Pſal. 18. 2. it is that David ſo often terms Chriſt his Shield, Pſal. 27. 1. Buckler, Tower, Fortreſs, Rock of Defence, &c. Pſal. 28. 1. Not only, becauſe by him he overcame his Enemies; but, becauſe through him he found favour with God the Father. And ſo he ſaith to Gen. 15. 1. Abraham, Fear not, I am thy Shield, &c. The Man then that comes to God through Chriſt, muſt have Faith, by which he puts on Chriſt, Joh 3. 5, 7. and in him appears before God. Now he that Joh. 1. 12. hath Faith, is born of God, born again, and ſo become one of the Sons of God; by vertue of which, he is joyned to Chriſt, and made a Eph. 5. 30. Member of him. And therefore, Secondly, He, as a Member of Chriſt, comes to God; I ſay, as a Member of him, ſo that God looks on that Man as part of Chriſt, part of his Body, Fleſh, and Bones, united to him by Election, Converſion, Illumination, the Spirit being conveyed into the Heart of that poor Man by God. So that now he comes to God in Chriſt's Merits, in his Blood, Righteouſneſs, Victory, Interceſſion, and ſo ſtands before him; being ac- Eph. 1. 6. cepted in his beloved. And becauſe this poor Creature is thus a Member of the Lord Jeſus, and under this conſideration hath admittance to come to God: Therefore, by vertue of this Union, alſo, is the holy Spirit conveyed into him, whereby he is able to pour out himſelf, (to wit) his Soul before God, with his Audience. And this leads me to the next, or Fourth Particular.

4. PRAYER is a ſincere, ſenſible, affectionate pouring out of the Heart or Soul to God through Chriſt, by the ſtrength or aſſiſtante of the Spirit. For theſe things do ſo depend one upon another, that it is impoſſible that it ſhould be Prayer, without there be a joint concurrence of them; for though it be never ſo famous, yet without theſe things, it is only ſuch Prayer as is rejected of God. For without a ſincere, ſenſible, affectionate pouring out of the Heart to God, it is but Lip-labour; and if it be not through Chriſt, it falleth far ſhort of ever ſounding well in the ears of God. So alſo, Lev. 10. 1, 2. if it be not in the ſtrength and aſſiſtance of the Spirit, it is but like the Sons of Aaron, offering with ſtrange Fire. But I ſhall ſpeak more to this under the Second Head; and therefore in the mean time, That which is not petitioned through the teaching and aſſiſtance of the Ro. 8. 26, 27. Spirit, it is not poſſible that it ſhould be according to the Will of God.

9. Mat. 6. 6, 7, 8. 5. PRAYER is a ſincere, ſenſible, affectionate pouring out of the Heart or Soul to God throug Chriſt, in the ſtrength and aſſiſtance of the Spirit, for ſuch things as God hath promiſed, &c. Prayer it is, when it is within the compaſs of God's Word; and it is Blaſphemy, or at beſt, vain Babling, when the Petition is beſide the Book. David therefore ſtill, in his Prayer, Pſ. 119. 25 28. kept his eye on the Word of God. My Soul, See alſo, ſaith he, cleaveth to the duſt; quicken me accord- Pſ. 119, 41 42, 58, 65, 74, 81, 82, 105, 147. ing to thy Word. And again, My Soul melteth for 154, 169, 170. heavineſs; ſtrengthen me according to thy Word. And, Remember thy Word unto thy Servant, on which thou haſt cauſed me to hope. And indeed, the holy Ghoſt doth not immediately quicken and ſtir up the Heart of the Chriſtian without, but by, with, and through the Word, by bringing that to the Heart, and by opening of that, whereby the Man is provoked to go to the Lord, and to tell him how it is with him; and alſo to argue, and ſupplicate, according to the Word. Thus it was with Daniel, that mighty Prophet of the Lord. He underſtanding by Books, that the Captivity of the Children of Iſrael was hard at an end; then according unto that Word, he maketh his Prayer to God. I Daniel (ſaith he) underſtood by Books, Dan. 9. 2. (viz. the Writings of Jeremiah,) the number of the years whereof the Word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, that he would accompliſh ſeventy years on the Deſolation of Jeruſalem, And I ſet my face to Verſ. 3. to the Lord God, to ſeek by Prayer and Supplication, with Faſting, and Sackcloth and Aſhes. So that, I ſay, as the Spirit is the Helper and the Governour of the Soul, when it prayeth according to the Will of God; ſo it guideth by and accord to the Word of God, and his Promiſe. Hence it is that our Lord Jeſus Chriſt himſelf did make a ſtop, although his Life lay at ſtake for it; I Mat. 26. could now pray to my Father, and he ſhould give me 53, 54 more than twelve Legions of Angels; but how then muſt the Scripture be fulfilled, that thus it muſt be. As who ſhould ſay, were there but a word for it in the Scripture, I ſhould ſoon be out of the hands of mine Enemies, I ſhould be help'd by Angels; but the Scripture will not warrant this kind of praying, for that ſaith otherwiſe. It is a praying then according to the word and promiſe. The Spirit by the word muſt direct, as well in the manner, as in the matter of Prayer. I will pray with the Spirit, and I will pray with the 1 Cor. 14. Underſtanding alſo. But there is no underſtand- 15. ing without the word: For if they reject the word Jer. 8. 9. of the Lord, what Wiſdom is in them?

6. FOR the Good of the Church. This Clauſe 10. reacheth in whatſoever tendeth either to the honour of God, Chriſt's advancement, or his People's benefit. For God, and Chriſt, and his People are ſo linked together, that if the Good of one be prayed for, to wit, the Church, the Glory of God, and Advancement of Chriſt muſt needs be included. For as Chriſt is in the Joh. 17. 23 Father, ſo the Saints are in Chriſt; and he that Deut. 32. toucheth the Saints, toucheth the Apple of God's 10. Eye; & therefore pray for the peace of Jeruſalem, Pſal. 7. 8. Zech. 2. 8. and you pray for all that is required of you. For Pſ. 122. 6. Jeruſalem will never be in perfect peace until Pſ. 51. 18. ſhe be in Heaven; and there is nothing that Iſa. 62. 6, 7 Chriſt doth more deſire than to have her there. That alſo is the place that God through Chriſt hath given her. He then that prayeth for the peace and good of Sion, or the Church, doth ask that in Prayer which Chriſt hath purchaſed with his Blood; and alſo that which the Father hath given to him as the price thereof. Now he that prayeth for this, muſt pray for abundance of Grace for the Church, for help againſt all its temptations, that God would let nothing be too hard for it, that all things might work together for its good; that God would keep them blameleſs and harmleſs, the Sons of God, to his Glory, in the midſt of a crooked and perverſe Nation. And this is the ſubſtance of Chriſt's own Prayer in John 17. And all Paul's Prayers did run that way, as one of his Prayers do do eminently shew: And this I pray, that your Love may abound yet more and more in all knowledge, and all judgment; that ye may approve things that are excellent; that you may be sincere, and without offence until the day of Christ. Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

BUT a short Prayer you see, and yet full of good Desires for the Church, from the beginning to the end; That it may stand and go on, and that in the most excellent frame of Spirit, even without blame, sincere, and without offence until the day of Christ, let its Temptations or Persecutions be what they will. And because, as I said, Prayer doth submit to the will of God, and say, Thy Will be done, as Christ hath taught; therefore the People of the Lord in all humility are to lay themselves and their Prayers, and all that they have, at the foot of their God to be disposed of by him as he in his heavenly Wisdom seeth best. Yet not doubting but God will answer the desire of his People, that way that shall be most for their advantage, and his glory. When the Saints therefore do pray with submission to the Will of God, it doth not argue, that they are to doubt or question God's Love and Kindness to them. But because they at all times are not so wise, but that sometimes Satan may get advantage of them, as to tempt them to pray for that, which if they had it, would neither prove to God's glory, nor his Peoples good: Yet, this is the confidence we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us: And if we know that he heareth us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the Petition that we ask of him; That is, we asking in the Spirit of Grace and Supplication. For, as I said before, that Petition that is not put up in and through the Spirit, it is not to be answered, because it is beside the will of God. For the Spirit only knoweth that, and so consequently knoweth how to pray according to that will of God. For what Man knoweth the things of a Man, save the Spirit of a Man that is in him? Even so the things of God knoweth no Man, but the Spirit of God. But more of this hereafter.

Mat. 6. 10.

1 Joh. 5. 14, 15.

1 Cor. 2. 11.

THUS you see, first, what Prayer is. Now to proceed:

II. I will pray with the Spirit.

II.

NOW to pray with the Spirit; for that's the praying Man, and none else, so as to be accepted of God: It is for a man (as aforesaid) sincerely, and sensibly, with affection to come to God through Christ, &c. Which sincere, sensible, and affectionate coming, must be by the working of God's Spirit.

There is no Man, nor Church in the world, that can come to God in Prayer, but by the Assistance of the holy Spirit: For through Christ we all have access by one Spirit unto the Father. Wherefore Paul saith, We know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the Spirit it self maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. And he that searcheth the Heart, knoweth the meaning of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the Saints according to the will of God. And because there is in this Scripture so full a discovery of the Spirit of Prayer, and of Man's inability to pray without it; therefore I shall in a few words comment upon it.

Eph. 2. 18

FOR we] Consider first, the Person speaking, even Paul, and in his person, all the Apostles. We Apostles, we extraordinary Officers, the wise Master-Builders, that have some of us been caught up into Paradise: We know not what we should pray for.

Rom. 15, 16. 1 Cor. 3. 10. 2 Cor. 12. 4.

SURELY there is no Man but will confess, that Paul and his Companions were as able to have done any work for God, as any Pope or proud Prelate in the Church of Rome, and could as well have made a Common-Prayer Book, as those who at first composed this; as being not a whit behind them, either in Grace or Gifts.

See Mr. Fox's Acts and Mon. Vol. 2.

For we know not what we should pray for.] We know not the Matter of the things for which we should pray, neither the Object to whom we pray, nor the Medium by, or through whom we pray; none of these things know we, but by the help and assistance of the Spirit. Should we pray for Communion with God through Christ; should we pray for Faith, for Justification by Grace, and a truly sanctified Heart? None of these things know we. For, As no Man knoweth the things of a Man, save the Spirit of a Man that is in him; even so the things of God knows no Man, but the Spirit of God. But here, alas, the Apostles speak of inward and spiritual things, which the world knows not.

Mat. 11. 27. 1 Cor. 2. 9, 10, 11. 1 Cor. 2. 11. Isa. 29. 11

AGAIN, As they know not the Matter, &c. of Prayer, without the help of the Spirit, so neither know they the Manner thereof without the same; and therefore he adds, We know not what we should pray for as we ought; but, the Spirit helpeth our Infirmities, with sighs and groans which cannot be uttered. Mark here, they could not so well and so fully come off in the manner of performing this Duty, as these in our days think they can.

THE Apostles, when they were at the best, yea, when the Holy Ghost assisted them, yet then they were fain to come off with sighs and groans, falling short of expressing their Mind, but with sighs and groans which cannot be uttered.

But here now, the Wise Men of our days are so well skill'd, as that they have both the Manner and Matter of their Prayers at their fingers ends; setting such a Prayer for such a day, and that twenty years before it comes. One for Christmas, another for Easter, and six days after that: They have also bounded how many Syllables must be said in every one * of them. For each Saints day also, they have them ready for the generations yet unborn to say. They can tell you also, when you shall kneel, when you should stand, when you should abide in your Seats, when you should go up into the Chancel, and what you should do when you come there. All which the Apostles came short of, as not being able to compose so profound a manner. And that for this reason included in this Scripture, because the Fear of God tied them to pray as they ought,

For we know not what we should pray for as we ought.] Mark this; as we ought. For the not thinking of this Word, or at least, the Mat.16.18 be enabled of God to shroud it self under the shadow of the Lord Jesus, as a Man shroudeth himself under a thing for Safeguard. Hence Psal.18.2. it is that David so often terms Christ his Shield, Psal.27.1. Buckler, Tower, Fortress, Rock of Defence, &c. Psal.28.1. Not only, because by him he overcame his Enemies; but, because through him he found favour with God the Father. And so he saith to Gen.15.1. Abraham, Fear not, I am thy Shield, &c. The Man then that comes to God through Christ, must have Faith, by which he puts on Christ, Joh.3.5,7. and in him appears before God. Now he that Joh.1.12. hath Faith, is born of God, born again, and so become one of the Sons of God; by vertue of which, he is joyned to Christ, and made a Eph.5.30. Member of him. And therefore, Secondly, He, as a Member of Christ, comes to God; I say, as a Member of him, so that God looks on that Man as part of Christ, part of his Body, Flesh, and Bones, united to him by Election, Conversion, Illumination, the Spirit being conveyed into the Heart of that poor Man by God. So that now he comes to God in Christ's Merits, in his Blood, Righteousness, Victory, Intercession, and so stands before him; being ac- Eph.1.6. cepted in his beloved. And because this poor Creature is thus a Member of the Lord Jesus, and under this consideration hath admittance to come to God: Therefore, by vertue of this Union, also, is the holy Spirit conveyed into him, whereby he is able to pour out himself, (to wit) his Soul before God, with his Audience. And this leads me to the next, or Fourth Particular.

4. PRAYER is a sincere, sensible, affectionate pouring out of the Heart or Soul to God through Christ, by the strength or assistante of the Spirit. For these things do so depend one upon another, that it is impossible that it should be Prayer, without there be a joint concurrence of them; for though it be never so famous, yet without these things, it is only such Prayer as is rejected of God. For without a sincere, sensible, affectionate pouring out of the Heart to God, it is but Lip-labour; and if it be not through Christ, it falleth far short of ever sounding well in the ears of God. So also, Lev.10.1, 2. if it be not in the strength and assistance of the Spirit, it is but like the Sons of Aaron, offering with strange Fire. But I shall speak more to this under the Second Head; and therefore in the mean time, That which is not petitioned through the teaching and assistance of the Ro.8.26, 27. Spirit, it is not possible that it should be according to the Will of God.

9. Mat.6.6, 7,8. 5. PRAYER is a sincere, sensible, affectionate pouring out of the Heart or Soul to God throug Christ, in the strength and assistance of the Spirit, for such things as God hath promised, &c. Prayer it is, when it is within the compass of God's Word; and it is Blasphemy, or at best, vain Babling, when the Petition is beside the Book. David therefore still, in his Prayer, Ps.119.25 28. kept his eye on the Word of God. My Soul, See also, Ps.119,41 42,58,65, 74,81,82, 103, 147. 154, 169, 170. saith he, cleaveth to the dust; quicken me according to thy Word. And again, My Soul melteth for heaviness; strengthen me according to thy Word. And, Remember thy Word unto thy Servant, on which thou hast caused me to hope. And indeed, the holy Ghost doth not immediately quicken and stir up the Heart of the Christian without, but by, with, and through the Word, by bringing that to the Heart, and by opening of that, whereby the Man is provoked to go to the Lord, and to tell him how it is with him; and also to argue, and supplicate, according to the Word. Thus it was with Daniel, that mighty Prophet of the Lord. He understanding by Books, that the Captivity of the Children of Israel was hard at an end; then according unto that Word, he maketh his Prayer to God. I Daniel (saith he) understood by Books, Dan.9.2. (viz. the Writings of Jeremiah,) the number of the years whereof the Word of the Lord, came to Jeremiah, that he would accomplish seventy years on the Desolation of Jerusalem, And I set my face to Vers.3 to the Lord God, to seek by Prayer and Supplication, with Fasting, and Sackcloth and Ashes. So that, I say, as the Spirit is the Helper and the Governour of the Soul, when it prayeth according to the Will of God; so it guideth by and accord to the Word of God, and his Promise. Hence it is that our Lord Jesus Christ himself did make a stop, although his Life lay at stake for it; I Mat.26. could now pray to my Father, and he should give me 53,54 more than twelve Legions of Angels; but how then must the Scripture be fulfilled, that thus it must be. As who should say, were there but a word for it in the Scripture, I should soon be out of the hands of mine Enemies, I should be help'd by Angels; but the Scripture will not warrant this kind of praying, for that saith otherwise. It is a praying then according to the word and promise. The Spirit by the word must direct, as well in the manner, as in the matter of Prayer. I will pray with the Spirit, and I will pray with the 1 Cor.14. Understanding also. But there is no understand- 15. ing without the word: For if they reject the word Jer.8.9 of the Lord, what Wisdom is in them?

6. FOR the Good of the Church. This Clause 10. reacheth in whatsoever tendeth either to the honour of God, Christ's advancement, or his People's benefit. For God, and Christ, and his People are so linked together, that if the Good of one be prayed for, to wit, the Church, the Glory of God, and Advancement of Christ must needs be included. For as Christ is in the Joh.17.23 Father, so the Saints are in Christ; and he that Deut.32. toucheth the Saints, toucheth the Apple of God's 10. Eye; & therefore pray for the peace of Jerusalem, Psal.122.6. Zech.2.8. and you pray for all that is required of you. For Ps.122.6. Jerusalem will never be in perfect peace until Ps.51.18. she be in Heaven; and there is nothing that Isa.62.6,7 Christ doth more desire than to have her there. That also is the place that God through Christ hath given her. He then that prayeth for the peace and good of Sion, or the Church, doth ask that in Prayer which Christ hath purchased with his Blood; and also that which the Father hath given to him as the price thereof. Now he that prayeth for this, must pray for abundance of Grace for the Church, for help against all its temptations, that God would let nothing be too hard for it, that all things might work together for its good; that God would keep them blameless and harmless, the Sons of God, to his Glory, in the midst of a crooked and perverse Nation. And this is the substance of Christ's own Prayer in John 17. And all Paul's Prayers did run that way, as one of his Prayers do do eminently shew. *And this I pray, that your Love may abound yet more and more in all knowledge, and all judgment; that ye may approve things that are excellent; that you may be sincere, and without offence until the day of Christ. All which the Apostles came short of, as not being able to compose so profound a manner. And that for this reason included in this Scripture, because the Fear of God tied them to pray as they ought,

Eph. 1. 16, to 21. & ch. 3. 14, to 19. Col. 1. 9, 10, 11, 12, 13. Phil. 1. 9, 10, 11.

* At their publick Exercises?

For we know not what we should pray for as we ought.] Mark this; as we ought. For the not thinking of this Word, or at least, the the not understanding it in the Spirit and Truth of it; hath occasioned these Men to devise, as 1 King. 12. 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33. Jeroboam did, another way of worship, both for Matter and Manner, than is revealed in the Word of God. But saith Paul, We must pray as we ought; and this we cannot do by all the Art, Skill, Cunning, and Device of Men or Angels. For we know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the Spirit: Nay farther, it must be the Spirit it self that helpeth our Infirmities; not the Spirit and Man's Lusts, What Man of his own Brain may imagine and devise, is one thing, and what they are commanded, and ought to do, is another. Many ask and have not, because they ask amiss, Jam. 4. 3. and so are never the nearer the enjoying of those things they petition for. It is not to pray at random, that will put off God, or cause him to answer. While Prayer is making, God is searching the Heart, to see from what Root and Spirit it doth arise. And he that searcheth the Heart, knoweth, (that is, approveth only) the meaning of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the Saints according to the Will of God. For in that which is according to his will, only he heareth us, and in nothing else. And it is the Spirit only that can teach us so to ask: It only being able to search out all things, even the deep things of God. Without which Spirit, though we had a thousand Common-Prayer-Books, yet we know not what we should pray for as we ought, being accompanied with those infirmities that make us absolutely unacpable of such a work. Which infirmities, although it is a hard thing to name them all, yet some of them are these that follow. Joh. 15. 14.

13. FIRST, Without the Spirit, Man is so infirm, that he cannot with all other means whatsoever, be enabled to think one right saving thought of God, of Christ, or of his blessed things; and therefore he saith of the wicked, God is not in all their thoughts, Psal. 10. 4. Unless it be that they Imagine him altogether such a one as themselves. Psal. 50. 20. For every imagination of the thought of their heart is only evil, and that continually, Gen. 6. 5. Gen. 8. 21. They then, not being able to conceive aright of God to whom they pray, of Christ through whom they pray, nor of the things for which they pray, as is before shewed, how shall they be able to address themselves to God, without the Spirit help this Infirmity? Peradventure you will say, By the help of the Common-Prayer-Book; but, that cannot do it unless it can open the eyes, and reveal to the Soul all these things before touched. Which, that it cannot, it is evident; because that is the work of the Spirit only: The Spirit it self is the revealer of these things to poor souls, and that which doth give us to understand them; wherefore, Christ tells his Disciples when he promised to send the Spirit, the Comforter, He shall take of mine and shew unto you; as if he had said, I know, you are naturally dark and ignorant, as to the understanding any of my things; though ye try this course and the other, yet your ignorance will still remain; the vail is spread over your heart, and there is none can take away the same, nor give you spiritual understanding, but the Spirit. The Common-Prayer-Book will not do it, neither can any Man expect that it should be instrumental that way, it being none of God's Ordinances; but a thing since the Scriptures were written, patched together one piece at one time, and another at that; a meer humane invention and institution, which God is so far from owning of, that he expresly forbids it, with any other such like, and that by manyfold Sayings in his most holy and blessed Word. See Mark 7. vers. 7, 8. and Col. 2. vers. 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23. Deut. 12. 30, 31, 32. Prov. 30. 6. Deut. 4. 2. Revel. 22. 18. For right Prayer, must as well in the outward part of it, in the outward expression, as in the inward intention, come from what the soul doth apprehend in the Light of the Spirit; otherwise it is condemned as vain and an abomination; because the Heart and Tongue do not go along joyntly in the same; neither indeed can they, unless the Spirit help our infirmities. And this David knew full well, which did make him cry, Lord, open thou my lips, and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. I suppose, there is none can imagine, but that David could speak, and express himself as well as others, nay, as any in our Generation, as is clearly manifested by his word, and his works. Nevertheless when this good Man, this Prophet, comes into God's Worship, then the Lord must help, or he can do nothing; Lord open thou my lips, and then my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. He could not speak one right word, except the Spirit it self gave utterance: For we know not what we should pray for as we ought, but the Spirit it self helpeth our infirmities. But Mat. 7. Prov. 28. 9. Isa. 29. 13. Ps. 51. 10, 11.

14. SECONDLY, It must be a praying with the Spirit, that is, the effectual praying; because, without that, as Men are senceless, so Hypocritical, cold, and unseemly in their Prayers; and so, they with their Prayers are both rendred abominable to God. It is not the excellency of the voice, nor the seeming affection, and earnestness of him that prayeth, that is any thing regarded of God without it. For Man, as Man, is so full of all manner of wickedness, that as he cannot keep a word, or thought, so much less a piece of prayer clean, and acceptable to God through Christ. And for this cause, the Pharisees, with their Prayers, were rejected. No question, but they were excellently able to express themselves in words, and also for length of time too they were very notable; but they had not the Spirit of Jesus Christ to help them, and therefore they did what they did with their infirmities or weaknesses only, and so fell short of a sincere, sensible, affectionate pouring out of their Souls to God, through the strength of the Spirit. That is the Prayer that goeth to Heaven, that is sent thither in the strength of the Spirit. For, Mat. 23. 14. Mar. 12. 40. Luke 18. 11, 12. Isa. 58. 3.

15. THIRDLY, Nothing but the Spirit can shew a Man clearly his misery by nature, and so put a Man into a posture of Prayer. Talk is but talk, as we use to say, and so it is but mouth-worship, if there be not a sence of misery, and that effectually too. O the cursed Hypocrisie that is in most hearts, and that accompanieth many thousands of praying Men that would be so looked upon in this day, and all for want of a sence of their misery! But now the Spirit, that will sweetly shew the soul its misery, where where it is, and what is like to become of it; alſo the intolerableneſs of that condition: For it is the Spirit that doth effectually convince of ſin and miſery, without the Lord Jeſus, and ſo puts the ſoul into a ſweet, ſerious, ſenſible, affectionate way of praying to God according to his Word. Joh. 16.7, 8, 9.

FOURTHLY, If Men did ſee their ſins, yet without the help of the Spirit, they would not pray. For they would run away from God, with Cain and Judas, and utterly deſpair of mercy, were it not for the Spirit. When a Man is indeed ſenſible of his ſin, and God's Curſe, then it is an hard thing to perſwade him to pray; For ſaith his heart, There is no hope, It is in vain to ſeek God; I am ſo vile, ſo wretched, and ſo curſed a Creature, that I ſhall never be regarded. Now here comes the Spirit, and ſtayeth the Soul, helpeth it to hold up its Face to God, by letting into the heart ſome ſmall ſence of mercy to encourage it to go to God; and hence it is called the Comforter. Jer. 2. 25. Jer. 18. 12. Joh. 14. 26

17. FIFTHLY, It muſt be in, or with the Spirit; For without that, no Man can know how he ſhould come to God the right way. Men may eaſily ſay, they come to God in his Son: But it is the hard'ſt thing of a thouſand to come to God aright and in his own way, without the Spirit. It is the Spirit that ſearcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. It is the Spirit, that muſt ſhew us the way of coming to God, and alſo what there is in God that makes him deſireable. I beſeech thee (ſaith Moſes) ſhew me thy way that I may know thee, Exod. 33. 13. And Joh. 16. 14. He ſhall take of mine, and ſhall ſhew it unto you. 1 Cor. 2. 12

18. SIXTHLY, Becauſe without the Spirit, though a Man did ſee his miſery, and alſo the way to come to God; yet he would never be able to claim a ſhare in either God, Chriſt, or Mercy, with God's approbation. O how great a task is it, for a poor ſoul that comes ſenſible of ſin and the wrath of God, to ſay in Faith, but this one word, Father! I tell you, however Hypocrites think, yet the Chriſtian, that is ſo indeed, finds all the difficulty in this very thing, it cannot ſay, God is its Father. Oh! ſaith he, I dare not call him Father; and hence it is that the Spirit muſt be ſent into the hearts of God's People for this very thing, to cry Father; it being too great a work for any Man to do knowingly, and believingly without it. When I ſay, knowingly, I mean, knowing what it is to be a Child of God and to be born again. And when I ſay believingly, I mean, for the Soul to believe, and that from good experience, that the work of Grace is wrought in him: This is the right calling of God Father; and not as many do, to ſay in a babling way, the Lord's Prayer, (ſo called) by heart, as it lieth in the words of the Book. No, here is the life of Prayer, when in, or with the Spirit, a Man being made ſenſible of ſin, and how to come to the Lord for mercy; he comes, I ſay, in the ſtrength of the Spirit, and crieth Father. That one word ſpoken in Faith, is better than a thouſand Prayers, as Men call them, written and read, in a formal, cold, luke-warm way. O how far ſhort are the People of being ſenſible of this, who count it enough to teach themſelves and Children, to ſay the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, with other Sayings; when as God knows they are ſenceleſs of themſelves, their miſery, or what it is to be brought to God through Chriſt! Ah poor Soul! Study your miſery, and cry to God to ſhew you your confuſed blindneſs, and ignorance, before you be too rife in calling God your Father, or learning your Children either ſo to ſay. And know, that to ſay, God is your Father, in a way of Prayer, or conference, without an experiment of the work of Grace on your Souls, it is to ſay, you are Jews and are not, and ſo to lie. You ſay, Our Father, God ſaith you blaſpheme. You ſay, you are Jews, that is, true Chriſtians: God ſaith, You lye. Behold I will make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which ſay, they are Jews, and are not, but do lie. Revel. 3. 9. And I know the blaſphemy of them that ſay, they are Jews, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan. Revel. 2. 9. And ſo much the greater the ſin is, by how much the more the ſinner boaſts it with a pretended ſanctity, as the Jews did to Chriſt, in the 8th. of John, which made Chriſt even in plain terms to tell them their doom, for all their hypocritical pretences. And yet forſooth, every curſed Whore-maſter, Thief, and Drunkard, Swearer, and Perjured Perſon, they that have not only been ſuch in times paſt, but are even ſo ſtill; theſe I ſay, by ſome muſt be counted the only honeſt Men, and all becauſe with their blaſphemous Throats, and hypocritical Hearts, they will come to Church and ſay, Our Father. Nay further, theſe Men, though every time they ſay to God, Our Father, do moſt abominably blaſpheme, yet they muſt be compelled thus to do. And becauſe others that are of more ſober Principles, ſcruple the truth of ſuch vain Traditions; therefore they muſt be looked upon to be the only enemies of God and the Nation; when as it is their own curſed Superſtition, that doth ſet the great God againſt them, and cauſe him to count them for his enemies. And yet juſt like to Bonner, that blood-red Perſecutor, they commend (I ſay) theſe Wretches, although never ſo vile (if they cloſe in with their Traditions) to be good Church-men, the honeſt Subjects; while God's People are (as it hath always been) looked upon to be a turbulent, ſeditious, and factious People. Joh. 8. 41, to 45. Isa. 53. 10. Ezra 4. 12, to 16.

16. Therefore give me leave a little to reaſon with thee, thou poor, blind, ignorant Sot: It may be, thy great Prayer is to ſay, Our Father which art in Heaven, &c. Doſt thou know the meaning of the very firſt words of this Prayer? Canſt thou indeed, with the reſt of the Saints, cry, Our Father? Art thou truly born again? Haſt thou received the Spirit of Adoption? Doſt thou ſee thy ſelf in Chriſt, and canſt thou come to God as a Member of him? Or, art thou ignorant of theſe things, and yet dareſt thou ſay, Our Father? Is not the Devil thy Father? And doſt thou not do the deeds of the fleſh? And yet dareſt thou ſay to God, Our Father? Nay, art thou not a deſperate perſecutor of the Children of God? Haſt thou not curſed them in thine heart many a time? And yet doſt thou out of thy blaſphemous Throat ſuffer theſe words to come, even Our Father? He is their Father whom thou hateſt and perſecuteſt. But as the Devil preſented himſelf amongſt the Sons of God, Job 1. when Joh. 8. 44.

they were to preſent themſelves before the Father, even our Father; ſo it is now, becauſe the Saints are commanded to ſay, Our Father; therefore all the blind, ignorant rabble in the World, they muſt alſo uſe the ſame words, Our Father.

SECONDLY, And doſt thou indeed ſay, Hallowed be thy Name, with thy heart? Doſt thou ſtudy by all honeſt and lawful ways, to advance the Name, Holineſs, and Majeſty of God? Doth thy Heart and Converſation, agree with this paſſage? Doſt thou ſtrive to imitate Chriſt in all the works of Righteouſneſs, which God doth command of thee, and prompt thee forward to? It is ſo, if thou be one that can truly with God's allowance cry, Our Father. Or is it not the leaſt of thy thoughts all the day? And doſt thou not clearly make it appear, that thou art a curſed Hypocrite, by condemning that with thy daily practiſe, which thou pretendeſt in thy praying, with thy diſſembling Tongue?

THIRDLY, Wouldeſt thou have the Kingdom of God come indeed, and alſo his will to be done in Earth as it is in Heaven? Nay, notwithſtanding, thou, according to the form, ſayeſt, Thy Kingdom come, yet would it not make thee ready to run mad, to hear the Trumpet ſound to ſee the Dead ariſe, and thy ſelf juſt now to go and appear before God, to reckon for all the deeds thou haſt done in the Body? Nay, are not the very thoughts of it altogether diſpleaſing to thee? And if God's will ſhould be done on Earth as it is in Heaven, muſt it not be thy ruine? There is never a Rebbel in Heaven, againſt God; and if he ſhould ſo deal on Earth, muſt he not whirle thee down to Hell? And ſo of the reſt of the Petitions. Ah! How ſadly would even thoſe Men look, and with what terrour would they walk up and down the world, if they did but know the lying and blaſpheming that proceedeth out of their mouth, even in their moſt pretended ſanctity? The Lord awaken you, and learn you poor ſouls, in all humility, to take heed, that you be not raſh and unadviſed with your heart, and much more with your mouth; when you appear before God (as the wiſe Man ſaith) Be not raſh with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be haſty to utter any thing; eſpecially to call God Father, without ſome bleſſed experience when thou comeſt before God. But I paſs this.

20. SEVENTHLY, It muſt be a praying with the Spirit if it be accepted, becauſe, there is nothing but the Spirit that can lift up the Soul, or Heart to God in Prayer. The preparation of the heart in Man, and the anſwer of the Tongue is from the Lord, Prov. 16. 1. That is, In every work for God (and eſpecially in Prayer) if the Heart run with the Tongue, it muſt be prepared by the Spirit of God. Indeed the Tongue is very apt (of it ſelf) to run without either Fear or Wiſdom. But when it is the anſwer of the heart, and that ſuch an heart as is prepared by the Spirit of God; then it ſpeaks ſo as God commands and doth deſire.

They are mighty words of David, where he ſaith, That he lifteth his heart, and his ſoul to God, Pſal. 25. 1. It is a great work for any Man without the ſtrength of the Spirit; and therefore I conceive that this is one of the great reaſons, why the Spirit of God is called, a Spirit of Supplication, becauſe it is that which helpeth the Heart when it ſupplicates indeed, to do it. And therefore ſaith Paul, Praying with all prayer and ſupplicaton in the Spirit. And ſo in my Text, I will pray with the Spirit. Epheſ. 6. 18. Zac. 12. 11.

Prayer, without the heart be in it, is like a ſound without life; and an Heart, without it be lifted up of the Spirit, will never pray to God.

EIGHTHLY, As the heart muſt be lifted up by the Spirit if it pray aright, ſo alſo it muſt be held up by the Spirit when it is up, if it continue to pray aright. I do not know what, or how, it is with others hearts, whether they be lifted up by the Spirit of God, and ſo continued, or no: But this I am ſure of; 21.

FIRST, That it is impoſſible that all the Prayer-Books that Men have made in the World ſhould lift up or prepare the heart; that is, the Work of the great God himſelf.

AND in the Second place, I am ſure, that they are as far from keeping it up, when it is up. And indeed, here is the life of Prayer, to have the heart kept with God in the duty. It was a great matter for Moſes to keep his hands lifted up to God in Prayer; but how much more then to keep the heart in it. Exod. 17. 12.

The want of this is that which God complains of; That they draw nigh to him with their Mouth, and honour him with their Lips, but their hearts were far from him (but chiefly) they that walk after the Commandments and Traditions of Men, as the ſcope of Matt. 15. 8, 9. doth teſtifie. And verily, may I but ſpeak my own experience, and from that tell you the difficulty of praying to God as I ought; it is enough to make your poor, blind, carnal Men to entertain ſtrange thoughts of me. For, as for my heart, when I go to pray, I find it ſo loath to go to God, and when it is with him, ſo loath to ſtay with him, that many times I am forced in my Prayers, firſt, to beg of God that he would take mine heart, and ſet it on himſelf in Chriſt, and when it is there, that he would keep it there. Nay, many times I know not what to pray for, I am ſo blind, nor how to pray I am ſo ignorant; only bleſſed be Grace, the Spirit helps our infirmities. Ezek. 33. Pſ. 86. 11.

Oh, the ſtarting holes, that the heart hath in the time of Prayer! None knows how many by-ways the heart hath, and back lanes, to ſlip away from the preſence of God. How much Pride alſo, if enabled with Expreſſions? How much Hypocriſie if before others? And how little Conſcience is there made of Prayer between God and the Soul in ſecret, unleſs the Spirit of Supplication be there to help.

When the Spirit gets into the Heart, then there is Prayer indeed, and not till then.

NINTHLY, The Soul that doth rightly pray, it muſt be in and with the help and ſtrength of the Spirit; becauſe it is impoſſible that a Man ſhould expreſs himſelf in Prayer without it: When I ſay it is impoſſible for a Man to expreſs himſelf in Prayer without it, I mean that it is impoſſible, that the heart in a ſincere, and ſenſible, affectionate way, ſhould pour out it ſelf before God, with thoſe groans and ſighs, that come from a truly praying heart, without the aſſiſtance 22.

ſtance of the Spirit. It is not the mouth that is the main thing to be looked at in Prayer, but whether the heart be ſo full of affection, and earneſtneſs in Prayer with God, that it is impoſſible to expreſs their ſenſe and deſire. For then a Man deſires indeed, when his deſires are ſo ſtrong, many, and mighty, that all the words, tears, and groans, that can come from the heart, cannot utter them. The Spirit helps our infirmities, and makes interceſſion for us, with ſighs and groans, that cannot be uttered.

That is but poor Prayer, which is only diſcovered in ſo many words.

A Man that truly prays one Prayer, ſhall after that never be able to expreſs with his Mouth or Pen, the unutterable deſires, ſence, affection, and longing, that went to God in that Prayer.

The beſt Prayers have often more groans than words; and thoſe words that it hath are but a lean and ſhallow repreſentation of the Heart, Life, and Spirit of that Prayer. You do not find any words of Prayer that we read of, come out of the Mouth of Moſes, when he was gone out of Egypt, and was followed by Pharaoh, and yet he made Heaven ring again with his cry. But it was the unexpreſſible, and unſearchable groans, and cryings of his Soul, in and with the Spirit. God is the God of Spirits, and his Eyes look further than at the outſide of any duty whatſoever. I doubt this is but little thought on by the moſt of them that would be look'd upon as a praying People.

1 Sam. 16. 7.

The nearer a Man comes in any work that God commands him, to the doing of it according to his will; ſo much the more hard and difficult it is. And the reaſon is, becauſe Man as Man, is not able to do it. But Prayer (as aforeſaid) is not only a Duty, but one of the moſt eminent Duties; and therefore ſo much the more difficult. Therefore Paul knew what he ſaid, when he ſaid, I will pray with the Spirit. He knew well, it was not what others writ or ſaid, that could make him a praying perſon, nothing leſs than the Spirit could do it.

23. TENTHLY, It muſt be with the Spirit, or elſe, as there will be a failing in the act it ſelf, ſo there will be a failing, yea, a fainting, in the proſecution of the work. Prayer is an Ordinance of God, that muſt continue with a Soul, ſo long as it is on this ſide Glory. But as I ſaid before, it is not poſſible for a Man to get up his heart to God in Prayer; ſo it is as difficult to keep it there, without the aſſiſtance of the Spirit. And if ſo, then for a Man to continue from time to time in Prayer with God, it muſt of neceſſity be with the Spirit.

Chriſt tells us, That Men ought always to pray and not to faint, Luke 18. 1, 2. And again tells us, that this is one definition of an Hypocrite, That either he will not continue in Prayer, or elſe if he do it, it will not be in the power, (Job 27. 10.) that is, in the Spirit of Prayer, but in the form for a pretence only, Mat. 23. 14. It is the eaſieſt thing of an hundred, to fall from the power to the form; but it is the hardeſt thing of many, to keep in the Life, Spirit, and Power of any one Duty, eſpecially Prayer: That is ſuch a work, that a Man without the help of the Spirit cannot ſo much as pray once; much leſs, continue without it in a ſweet praying frame, and in praying, ſo to pray, as to have his Prayers aſcend into the Ears of the Lord of Sabboath.

Jacob did not only begin, but held it; I will not let thee go, unleſs thou bleſs me, Gen. 32. So did the reſt of the Godly, Hoſ. 12. 4. But this could not be without the Spirit of Prayer: It is through the Spirit that we have acceſs to the Father, Epheſ. 2. 18.

That ſame is a remarkable place in Jude, when he ſtirreth up the Saints by the Judgment of God upon the wicked, to ſtand faſt, and continue to hold out in the faith of the Goſpel, as one excellent means thereto, without which he knew they would never be able to do it. Saith he, Build up your ſelves in your moſt holy Faith, praying in the Holy Ghoſt, Jude 20. As if he had ſaid, Brethren, as eternal Life is laid up for the perſons that hold out only, ſo you cannot hold out unleſs you continue praying in the Spirit. The great Cheat that the Devil and Antichriſt deludes the World withal, it is to make them continue in the form of any Duty, the from of Preaching, of Hearing, of Praying, &c. Theſe are they that have a form of godlineſs, but deny the power; from ſuch turn away, 2 Tim. 3. 5.

Here followeth the Third Thing; to wit, 24.

What it is to Pray with the Spirit, and with Underſtanding.

AND now to the next thing, what it is to Pray with the Spirit, and to pray with Underſtanding alſo. For the Apoſtle put a clear deſtinction between praying with the Spirit, and praying with the Spirit and Underſtanding. Therefore when he ſaith he will pray with the Spirit, he adds, and will pray with the Underſtanding [alſo.] This diſtinction was occaſioned through the Corinthians not obſerving, that it was their duty to do what they did to edification, of themſelves and others too; whereas they did it for their own Commendations: So I judge: For many of them having extraordinary gifts, as to ſpeak with divers Tongues, &c. therefore they were more for thoſe mighty gifts than they were for the edifying of their Brethren; which was the cauſe that Paul wrote this Capter to them, to let them underſtand, that though extraordinary gifts were excellent, yet, to do what they did to the edification of the Church was more excellent. For I will pray in an unknown Tongue, my Spirit prayeth, but my underſtanding (and alſo the underſtanding of others) is unfruitful. Therefore, I will pray with the Spirit, and I will pray with the Underſtanding alſo.

Read the ſcope of the whole Chapter.

1 Cor. 14. 3, 4, 5, 12, 19, 24, 25, &c.

It is expedient then that the Underſtanding ſhould be occupied in Prayer, as well as the Heart and Mouth; I will pray with the Spirit, and I will pray with the Underſtanding alſo. That which is done with underſtanding, is done more effectually, ſenſibly, and heartily, as I ſhall ſhew farther anon, than that which is done without it. Which made the Apoſtle pray for the Coloſſians, That God would fill them with the knowledge of his will, in all wiſdom and ſpiritual underſtanding, Col. 1. 9. And for the Epheſians, That God would give unto them the Spirit of wiſdom dom and revelation, in the knowledge of him. Eph. 1. 17. And so for the Philippians That God would make them abound in knowledge, and in all judgment, Phil. 1. 9. A suitable Understanding is good in every thing a man undertakes, either Civil or Spiritual; and therefore it must be desired by all them that would be a praying People. In my speaking to this, I shall shew you what it is to pray with understanding.

Understanding is to be taken both for speaking in our Mother-Tongue, and also experimentally.

I pass the first, and treat only on the second.

25. For the making of right Prayers, it is to be required that there should be a good or spiritual understanding in all them who pray to God.

FIRST, To pray with understanding, is to pray as being instructed by the Spirit, in the understanding of the want of those things which the Soul is to pray for. Though a Man be in never so much need of pardon of Sin, and deliverance from wrath to come, yet if he understand not this, he will either not desire them at all, or else be so cold and lukewarm in his desires after them, that God will even loath their frame of Spirit in asking for them. Thus it was with the Church of the Laodiceans, they wanted knowledge of spiritual understanding: They knew not that they were poor, wretched, blind and naked, The cause whereof, made them, and all their Services, so loathsom to Christ, that he threatens to spue them out of his mouth, Rev. 3. 17. Men without understanding, may say the same words in Prayer, as others do; but if there be an understanding in the one, and none in the other, there is, O there is a mighty difference in speaking the very same words! The one speaking from a spiritual understanding of those things, that he in words desires, and the other words it only, and there is all.

26. SECONDLY, Spiritual understanding espieth in the heart of God a readiness and willingness to give those things to the Soul that it stands in need of. David by this could guess at the very Thoughts of God towards him, Psal. 40. 5. And thus it was with the Woman of Canaan, (Mat. 15. 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.) she did by Faith and a right understanding, discern (beyond all the rough carriage of Christ,) tenderness and willingness in his heart to save, which caused her to be vehement and earnest, yea restless until she did enjoy the Mercy she stood in need of.

An understanding of the willingness that is in the Heart of God to save Sinners, there is nothing will press the Soul more to seek after God, and to cry for pardon, than it. If a man should see a Pearl, worth an hundred pounds, lie in a Ditch; yet, if he understood not the value of it, he would lightly pass it by; but if he once get the knowledge of it, he would venture up to the neck for it. So it is with Souls concerning the things of God: If a man once get an understanding of the worth of them, then his heart, nay, the very strength of his Soul runs after them, and he will never leave crying till he have them. The two blind Men in the Gospel, because they did certainly know that Jesus, who was going by them, was both able and willing to heal such Infirmities as they were afflicted with; therefore they cried, and the more they were rebuked, the more they cried, Mat. 20. 29, 30, 31.

THIRDLY, The Understanding being spiritually enlightned, hereby there is the way (as aforesaid) discovered, through which the Soul should come unto God; which gives great encouragement unto it.

IT is else with a poor Soul, as with one who hath a work to do, and if it be not done, the danger is great; if it be done, so is the advantage: but he knows not how to begin, nor how to proceed; and so through discouragement, lets all alone, and runs the Hazard.

FOURTHLY, The enlightned Understanding sees largeness enough in the Promises to encourage it to pray; which still adds to it strength to strength. As when Men promise such and such things to all that will come for them, it is great encouragement to those that know what Promises are made, to come and ask for them.

FIFTHLY, The Understanding being enlightned, way is made for the Soul to come to God with sutable Arguments, Sometimes in a way of expostulation; as Jacob, Gen. 32. 9. Sometimes in way of Supplication; yet not in a verbal way only, but even from the heart there is forced by the Spirit, through the Understanding, such effectual Arguments, as moveth the Heart of God. When Ephraim gets a 27.
right understanding of his own unseemly Carriages towards the Lord, then he begins to bemoan himself, Jer. 31. 18, 19, 20. And in bemoaning of himself, he used such Arguments with the Lord, that it affects his Heart, draws out Forgiveness, and makes Ephraim pleasant in his Eyes throngh Jesus Christ our Lord. I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, (saith God,) Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised; as a Bullock unaccustomed to the yoak; turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the Lord my God. Surely after I was turned, I repented, and after I was instructed, (or had a right understanding of my self,) I smote upon my thigh, I was ashamed; yea, even confounded; because I did bear the reproach of my Youth. These be Ephraim's Complaints and Bemoanings of himself; at which the Lord breaks forth into these heart-melting Expressions; saying, Is Ephraim my dear Son? Is he a pleasant Child? For since I spake unto him, I do earnestly remember him still; therefore my Bowels are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the Lord. Thus you see, that as it is required to pray with the Spirit, so it is to pray with the Understanding also. And to illustrate what hath been spoken 28.
by a Similitude. Set the Case, there should come Two a Begging to your door, the one is a poor, lame, wounded, and almost starved Creature; the other is a healthful lusty person, These two use the same words in their begging; the one saith, he is almost starved, so doth the other; but yet the Man that is indeed the poor, lame, or maimed Person, he speaks with more sense, feeling, and understanding of the Misery that is mentioned in their begging, than the other can do; and it is discovered more by his affectionate speaking, his bemoaning himself: His Pain and Poverty makes him speak more in a spirit of Lamentation than the other, and he ſhall be pitied ſooner than the other, by all thoſe that have the leaſt dram of natural affection or pity. Juſt thus it is with God. There are ſome who out of cuſtom and formality, go and pray; there are others, who go in the bitterneſs of their ſpirits: The one he prays out of bare notion, and naked knowledge, the other hath his words forced from him by the anguiſh of his Soul: Surely, that is the Man that God will look at, even him that is of an humble and contrite ſpirit, and that trembleth at his word, Iſa. 66. 2.

Sixthly, AN Underſtanding well enlightned is of admirable uſe alſo, both as to the matter and manner of Prayer. He that hath his underſtanding well exerciſed, to diſcern between good and evil, and in it placed a ſence, either of the miſery of Man, or the mercy of God; that Soul hath no need of the Writings of other Men, to teach him by Forms of Prayer: For as he that feels the pain, needs not to be learned to cry Oh! Even ſo he that hath his underſtanding opened by the Spirit, needs not ſo to be taught of other Mens prayers, as that he cannot pray without them: the preſent ſence, feeling, and preſſure that lieth upon his Spirit, provokes him to groan out his requeſt unto the Lord. When David had the pains of Hell catching hold on him, and the ſorrows of Hell compaſſing him about, he needs not a Biſhop in a Surplice, to learn him to ſay, O Lord I beſeech thee, deliver my Soul, Pſal. 116. 3, 4. Or to look into a Book, to teach him in a Form to pour out his Heart before God. It is the Nature of the Heart of Sick Men, in their pain and Sickneſs to vent it ſelf for eaſe, by dolorous groans and complainings to them that ſtand by. Thus it was with David, in Pſal. 38. to the 12. verſ. And thus Bleſſed be the Lord it is with them that are indued with the Grace of God.

Seventhly. IT is neceſſary that there be an enlightned underſtanding, to the end that the Soul be kept in a continuation of the Duty of Prayer.

The People of God are not ignorant how many wiles, tricks, and temptations the Devil hath to make a poor Soul, who is truly willing to have the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and that upon Chriſt's terms too; I ſay to tempt that Soul to be weary of ſeeking the Face of God, and to think that God is not willing to have Mercy on ſuch a one as him. I ſaith Satan, thou mayeſt pray indeed, but thou ſhalt not prevail. Thou ſeeſt thine Heart is hard, cold, dull and dead, thou doſt not pray with the Spirit, thou doſt not pray in good earneſt, thy thoughts are running after other things, when thou pretendeſt to pray to God. Away Hypocrite, go no further, it is but in vain to ſtrive any longer. Here now, if the Soul be not well informed in its underſtanding, it will preſently cry out, The Lord hath forſaken me, and my God hath forgotten me. Whereas the Soul tightly informed and enlightened, ſaith, Iſa. 45. 27. Well, I will ſeek the Lord and wait; I will not leave off, though the Lord keep ſilence, and ſpeak not one word of comfort. He loved Jacob dearly, and yet he made him wreſtle before he had the bleſſing. Seeming delays in God are no tokens of his diſpleaſure; he may hide his Face from his deareſt Saints. He loves to keep his People praying, and to find them ever knocking at the Gate of Heaven; it may be, ſays the Soul, the Lord tries me, or he loves to hear me groan out my condition before him.

Iſa. 49. 14. Gen. 32. 25, 26, 27. Iſa. 8. 17.

The Woman of Canaan would not take ſeeming Denials for real ones; ſhe knew the Lord was gracious, And, the Lord will avenge his People, though he bear long with them. The Lord hath waited longer upon me, than I have waited on him; and thus it was with David; I waited patiently, ſaith he: That is, It was long before the Lord anſwered me, though at the laſt he enclined his ear unto me, and heard my Cry, Pſ. 40. 1. And the moſt excellent remedy for this, is an underſtanding well informed and enlightened. Alas, how many poor Souls are there in the world, that truly fear the Lord, who, becauſe they are not well informed in their underſtanding, are oft ready to give up all for loſt, upon almoſt every trick and temptation of Satan. The Lord pity them, and help them to pray with the Spirit, and with the Underſtanding alſo. Much of mine own experience could I here diſcover; when I have been in my fits of agonies of Spirit, I have been ſtrongly perſwaded to leave off, and to ſeek the Lord no longer; but being made to underſtand, what great Sinners the Lord hath had Mercy upon; and how large his Promiſes were ſtill to Sinners; and that it was not the whole, but the ſick, not the righteous, but the ſinner, not the full, but the empty, that he extended his Grace and Mercy unto. This made me through the aſſiſtance of his holy Spirit, to cleave to him, to hang upon him, and yet to cry, though for the preſent he made no anſwer; and the Lord help all his poor, tempted and afflicted people to do the like, and to continue though it be long, according to the Saying of the Prophet; and to help them (to that end) to pray, not by the inventions of Men, and their ſtinted Forms, but with the Spirit, and with Underſtanding alſo.

Luk. 18. 4 to 6.

Hab. 2. 3.

And now to anſwer a Query or two, and ſo to paſs on to the next thing.

Query 1. BUT what would you have us poor Creatures to do, that cannot tell how to pray; the Lord knows I know not either how to pray, or what to pray for. 31.

Anſw. Poor heart! Thou canſt not (thou complaineſt) pray. Canſt thou ſee thy Miſery? Hath God ſhewed thee that thou art by nature under the Curſe of his Law? If ſo, do not miſtake, I know thou doſt groan, and that moſt bitterly. I am perſwaded, thou canſt ſcarcely be found doing any thing in thy calling, but Prayer breaketh from thy heart. Have not thy groans gone up to heaven from every corner of thy houſe? I know 'tis thus; and ſo alſo doth thine own ſorrowful heart witneſs thy Tears, thy forgetfulneſs of thy calling, &c. Is not thy heart ſo full of deſires after the things of another world, that many times thou doſt even forget the things of this world? Prithee read this Scripture, Job 23. 12.

Rom. 8. 28

Query 2. Yea, but when I go into ſecret, and intend to pour out my Soul before God, I can ſcarce ſay any thing at all.

Anſwer. Ah ſweet Soul! It is not thy words that God ſo much regards, as that he will not mind thee except thou comeſt before 32.

him with ſome eloquent Oration. His eye is on the brokenneſs of thine Heart; and that it is, that makes the very bowels of the Lord run over; A broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not deſpiſe, Pſal. 51. 17.

2. The ſtopping of thy words may ariſe from overmuch trouble in thy heart. David was ſo troubled ſometimes, that he could not ſpeak, Pſal. 77. 3, 4. But this may comfort all ſuch ſorrowful hearts as thou art, that though thou canſt not through the anguiſh of thy Spirit, ſpeak much, yet the Holy Spirit ſtirs up in thine heart groans and ſighs, ſo much the more vehement; when the mouth is hindred, yet the Spirit is not.

Moſes, as aforeſaid, made Heaven ring again with his Prayers, (that we read of) not one word came out of his Mouth. But,

3. If thou wouldeſt more fully expreſs thy ſelf before the Lord; ſtudy, Firſt, Thy filthy eſtate. Secondly, God's Promiſes. Thirdly, The Heart of Chriſt. Which thou maiſt know or diſcern, 1. By his Condeſcention and Bloodſhed. 2. By the Mercy he hath extended to great Sinners formerly; and plead thine own vileneſs, by way of bemoaning; Chriſt's blood, by way of expoſtulation; and in thy Prayers, let the Mercy that he hath extended to other great Sinners, together with his rich Promiſes of Grace, be much upon thy Heart. Yet let me counſel thee; 1. Take heed that thou content not thy ſelf with words. 2. That thou do not think that God looks only at them neither. But, 3. However, whether thy words be few or many, let thine Heart go with them; And then ſhalt thou ſeek him, and find him, when thou ſhalt ſeek him with thy whole heart, Jer. 29. 13.

33. Object. BUT though you have ſeemed to ſpeak againſt any other way of praying, but by the Spirit, yet here you your ſelf can give direction how to pray.

Anſwer. WE ought to prompt one another forward to Prayer, though we ought not to make for each other Forms of Prayer.

TO exhort to pray with Chriſtian Direction, is one thing, and to make ſtinted Forms for the tying up the Spirit of God to them, is another thing.

THE Apoſtle gives them no Form to pray withal; yet directs to Prayer, Epheſ. 6. 18. Rom. 15. 30, 31, 32.

LET no man therefore conclude, that becauſe we may with allowance give Inſtructions and Directions to pray; that therefore it is lawful to make for each other Forms of Prayer.

34. Object. But if we do not uſe Forms of Prayer, how ſhall we teach our Children to pray?

Anſw. MY Judgment is, that Men go the wrong way to learn their Children to pray, in going about ſo ſoon to learn them any ſet company of words, as is the common uſe of poor Creatures to do.

For to me it ſeems to be a better way for People betimes to tell their Children what curſed Creatures they are, and how they are under the wrath of God by reaſon of original and actual Sin; alſo to tell them the nature of God's Wrath, and the duration of the Miſery; which if they conſcienciouſly do, they would ſooner learn their Children to pray than they do. The way that men learn to pray, it is by Conviction for Sin; and this is the way to make our ſweet Babes do ſo too. But the other way, namely, to be buſie in Learning Children Forms of Prayer, before they know any thing elſe, it is the next way to make them curſed Hypocrites, and to puff them up with Pride. Learn therefore your Children to know their wretched ſtate and condition; tell them of Hell Fire, and their Sins, of Damnation, and Salvation; the way to eſcape the one, and to enjoy the other, (if you know it your ſelves) and this will make Tears run down your ſweet Babes Eyes, and hearty Groans flow from their Hearts; and then alſo you may tell them to whom they ſhould pray, and through whom they ſhould pray: you may tell them alſo of God's Promiſes, and his former Grace extended to Sinners, according to the Word.

Ah! poor ſweet Babes, the Lord open their Eyes, and make them holy Chriſtians. ſaith David, Come ye Children, hearken unto me, I will teach you the fear of the Lord, Pſal. 34. 11.

He doth not ſay, I will muzzle you up in a Form of Prayer; but I will teach you the Fear of the Lord: which is, to ſee their ſad ſtates by Nature, and to be inſtructed in the Truth of the Goſpel; which doth through the Spirit, beget Prayer in every one that in truth learns it: And the more you learn them this, the more will their Hearts run out to God in Prayer.

God never did account Paul a praying Man, until he was a convinced and converted Man; no more will it be with any elſe, Acts 9. 11.

35. Object. But we find that the Diſciples deſired that Chriſt would teach them to Pray, as John alſo taught his Diſciples; and that thereupon he taught them that Form called the Lord's Prayer.

Anſw. 1. TO be taught by Chriſt, is that which not only they, but we deſire, and ſeeing he is not here in his perſon to teach us, the Lord teach us by his word and Spirit; for the Spirit is it which he hath ſaid he would ſend to ſupply in his room when he went away, as it is, John 14. 16. and 16. 7.

2. AS to that called a Form, I cannot think that Chriſt intended it as a ſtinted Form of Prayer.

FIRST, BECAUSE he himſelf layeth it down diverſly, as is to be ſeen, if you compare, Mat. 6. Luk. 11. Whereas if he intended it as a ſet Form, it muſt not have been ſo laid down, for a ſet Form is ſo many words and no more.

Secondly, WE do not find that the Apoſtles did ever obſerve it as ſuch, neither did they admoniſh others ſo to do; Search all their Epiſtles: Yet ſurely they, both for knowledge to diſcern, and faithfulneſs to practiſe, were as eminent as any he ever ſince in the World which would impoſe it.

But in a word, Chriſt by thoſe words, Our Father, &c. doth inſtruct his people what Rules they ſhould obſerve in their Prayers to God.

1. THAT they ſhould pray in Faith.
2. TO God in the Heavens.

3. FOR

3. FOR ſuch things as are according to his Will, &c. Pray thus; or, after this manner.

36. Object. BUT Chriſt bids, pray for the ſpirit; this implyeth that Men without the Spirit, may notwithſtanding pray and be heard; See Luke 11. 9, 10, 11, 12, 13.

Anſw. 1. THE Speech of Chriſt there is directed to his own. Verſ. 1.

2. CHRIST is telling of them, that God would give his Holy Spirit to them that ask him, is to be underſtood of giving more of the Holy Spirit; for ſtill they are the Diſciples ſpoken to, which had a meaſure of the Spirit already; for he ſaith when ye pray, ſay, Our Father, verſ. 2. I ſay unto you, verſ. 8. And, I ſay unto you, verſ. 9. If ye then being evil, know how to give good things to your Children, how much more ſhall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him. Chriſtians ought to pray for the Spirit, that is, more of it, though God hath endued them with it already.

37. Queſt. Then would you have none pray, but thoſe that know they are Diſciples of Chriſt.

Anſw. YES.

1. LET every ſoul that would be ſaved, pour out it ſelf to God, though it cannot through temptation, conclude it ſelf a Child of God. And,

2. I know if the Grace of God be in thee, it will be as natural to thee to groan out thy Condition, as it is for a Sucking Child, to cry for the Breaſt. Prayer is one of the firſt things that diſcovers a Man to be a Chriſtian, Act. 9. 12. But yet if it be right it is ſuch Prayer as followeth.

Firſt, TO deſire God in Chriſt, for himſelf, for his Holineſs, Love, Wiſdom, and Glory. For right Prayer, as it runs only to God through Chriſt, ſo it centers in him, and in him alone, Whom have I in Heaven but thee? And there is none in earth that I deſire (long for, or ſeek after) beſides thee, Pſal. 73. 25.

Secondly, That the Soul might enjoy continual Communion with him, both here and hereafter. I ſhall be ſatisfied, when I awake with thine image, or in thy likeneſs, Pſal. 17. 15. For in this we groan earneſtly, &c. 2 Cor. 5. 2.

Thirdly, RIGHT Prayer is accompanied with a continual labour after that which is prayed for; My ſoul waiteth for the Lord, more than they that watch for the morning, Pſal. 130. 6. I will ariſe now, and ſeek him whom my ſoul loveth, Cant. 3. 2. For mark I beſeech you, there is two things that provoke to Prayer: The one is a deteſtation to ſin, and the things of this life; the other is a longing deſire after Communion with God, in an holy, and undefiled ſtate and inheritance. Compare but this one thing with moſt of the Prayers that are made by Men, and you ſhall find them but mock-Prayers, and the breathings of an abominable ſpirit; for even the moſt of Men, either not pray at all, or elſe only endeavour to mock God and the World, by ſo doing; for do but compare their prayer and the courſe of their lives together, and you may eaſily ſee, that the thing included in their Prayer is the leaſt looked after by their lives. O ſad Hypocrites!

Thus have I briefly ſhewed you, 1. VVhat Prayer is. 2. VVhat it is to pray with the Spirit. 3. VVhat it is to pray with the Spirit, and with the Underſtanding alſo.

I ſhall now ſpeak a word or two of Application, and ſo conclude, with, 1. A word of Information. 2. A word of Encouragement. 3. A word of Rebuke.

USE I.

A Word of Information.

38. FOR the firſt to Inform you; As Prayer is the duty of every one of the Children of God, and carried on by the Spirit of Chriſt in the ſoul: So every one that doth but offer to take upon him to pray to the Lord, had need be very wary, and go about that work eſpecially, with the dread of God, as well as with hopes of the mercy of God through Jeſus Chriſt.

Prayer is an Ordinance of God, in which a Man draws very near to God; and therefore, it calleth for ſo much the more of the aſſiſtance of the Grace of God, to help a ſoul to pray, as becomes one that is in the preſence of him. It is a ſhame for a Man to behave himſelf irreverently before a King, but a ſin to do ſo before God. And as a King (if wiſe) is not pleaſed with an Oration made up with unſeemly words and geſtures; So God takes no pleaſure, in the ſacrifice of Fools, Eccleſ. 5. 1, 4. It is not long Diſcourſes, nor eloquent Tongues, that are the things which are pleaſing in the Ears of the Lord; But a humble, broken, and contrite heart; Pſal. 51. 17 that is, ſweet in the Noſtrils of the Heavenly Majeſty. Therefore for information, know, that there are theſe five things that are Obſtructions to Prayer, and even make void the Requeſts of the Creature. Iſa. 57. 15.

Firſt, VVHEN Men regard Iniquity in their hearts, at the time of their Prayers before God. If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear my Prayer, Pſal. 66. 18. VVhen there is a * ſecret love to that very thing, which thou with thy diſſembling lips, doſt ask for ſtrength againſt. For this is the wickedneſs of Mans heart, that it will even love, and hold faſt that which with the Mouth it prays againſt; and of this ſort are they, that honour God with their mouth, but their heart is far from him, Ezek. 33. 31. O how ugly would it be in our eyes, if we ſhould ſee a Beggar ask an Alms, with intention to throw it to the Dogs; or, that ſhould ſay with one breath, Pray beſtow this upon me; and with the next, I beſeech you give it me not. And yet, thus it is with theſe kind of perſons; with their Mouth they ſay, Thy Will be done; and with their Hearts nothing leſs. VVith their Mouth ſay, Hallowed be thy Name; and with their Hearts and Lives, they delight to diſhonour him all the day long. Theſe be the Prayers that become ſin, Pſal. 109. 7. and though they put them up often, yet the Lord will never anſwer them, 2 Sam. 22. 42.

* For the preventing of temptation, that by the miſunderſtanding of this may ſeize thy heart, look further.

Secondly, WHEN Men pray for Shew, 39. to be heard, and thought ſome body in Religion, and the like.

THESE Prayers alſo fall ſhort of God's approbation, and are never like to be anſwered, in reference unto eternal Life.

There are two sorts of Men that pray to this end.

1. Your Trencher Chaplains, that thrust themselves into great Men's Families, pretending the worship of God, when in truth, the great business is, their own Bellies; and were notably painted out by Ahab's Prophets, and also Nebuchadnezzar's, who, though they pretended great Devotion; yet their Lusts and their Bellies were the great things aimed at by them in all their pieces of Devotion. 1 Kin. 18. 19.

2. Them also that seek Repute and Applause for their eloquent Terms, and seek more to tickle the Ears and Heads of their Hearers, than any else. These be they that pray to be heard of Men, and have all their reward already. Mat. 6. 5.

These Persons are discovered thus; 1. They eye only their Auditory in their Expressions. 2. They look for commendation when they have done. 3. Their Hearts either rise or fall according to their Praise or Enlargement. 4. The length of their Prayer pleaseth them; and that it might be long, they will vainly repeat things over and over; they study for Enlargements; but look not from what Heart they come: They look for Returns; but it is the windy Applause of Men: And therefore they love not to be in their Chamber, but among company; and if at any time Conscience thrusts them into their Closet, yet Hypocrisie will cause them to be heard in the streets; and when their mouths have done going, their Prayers are ended; for they wait not to hearken what the Lord will say, Psal. 85. 8. Mat. 6. 7.

40. Thirdly, A Third sort of Prayer that will not be accepted of God, it is, when either they pray for wrong things, or if for right things, yet that the thing prayed for, might be spent upon their Lusts, and laid out to wrong ends: Some have not, because they ask not, saith James; and others ask and have not, because they ask amiss, that they may consume it on their Lusts. Jam. 4. 2, 3, 4. Ends contrary to God's Will, is a great Argument with God, to frustrate the Petitions presented before him. Hence it is that so many pray for this, and that, and yet receive it not, God answers them only with silence; they have their words for their labour; and that is all.

Object. But God hears some Persons though their hearts be not right with him, as he did Israel, in giving Quails, though they spent them on their Lusts. Psal. 106. 14.

Answ. If he doth, it is in Judgment, not in Mercy; he gave them their desire indeed; but they had better have been without it; for he sent Leanness into their Souls. Wo be to that man that God answereth thus. Ps. 106. 15

41. Fourthly, ANOTHER sort of Prayers there are that are not answered, and those are such as are made by Men, and presented to God in their own persons only, without their appearing in the Lord Jesus. For though God hath appointed Prayer, and promised to hear the Prayer of the Creature, yet not the Prayer of any Creature that comes not in Christ. If you ask any thing in my Name. And whether ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ. If you ask any thing in my Name, &c. Though ye be never so devout, zealous, earnest, and constant in Prayer, yet, it is in Christ only that you must be heard and accepted. But alas, the most of men know not what it is to come to him in the Name of our Lord Jesus, which is the reason they either live wicked, pray wicked, and also die wicked. Or else, 2. That they attain to nothing else but what a meer natural man may attain unto, as to be exact in word and deed, betwixt Man and Man, and only with the righteousness of the Law, to appear before God.

Fifthly, THE last thing that hindereth Prayer, is, the Form of it, without the power, It is an easie thing for men to be very hot for such things, as Forms of Prayer, as they are written in a Book; but yet they are altogether forgetful to enquire with themselves, with themselves, whether they have the spirit and power of Prayer; these men are like a painted man, and their Prayers like a false Voice: They in person appear as Hypocrites, and their Prayers are an abomination. When they say they have been pouring out their Souls to God, he saith, they have been howling like Dogs, Hos. 7. 14. 42. Prov. 28. 9

When therefore thou intendest, or art minded to pray to the Lord of Heaven and Earth, consider these following Particulars.

1. CONSIDER seriously what thou wantest; do not as many, who in their words only beat the Air, and ask for such things, as indeed they do not desire, nor see that they stand in need thereof.

2. WHEN thou seest what thou wantest, keep to that, and take heed thou pray sensibly.

Object. But I have a Sense of nothing; then, by your Argument, I must not pray at all. 43.

Answer. First, IF thou findest thy self senseless in some sad measure, yet thou canst not complain of that senslesness, but by being sensible. There is a sense of senslesness; according to thy sense then, that thou hast of the need of any thing, so pray, (Luke 8. 9.) and if thou art sensible of thy senslesness, pray the Lord to make thee sensible of whatever thou findest thy heart senseless of. This was the usual practice of the holy Men of God; Lord, make me to know mine end, Psal. 39. 4. Lord, open to us this Parable, said the Disciples, Luke 8. 9,

And to this is annexed the Promise, Call upon me, and I will hear thee, and shew thee great and mighty things that thou knowest not. Jer. 33. 3. that thou art not sensible of. But,

Secondly, TAKE heed, that thine heart go to God as well as thy mouth; let not thy mouth go any further than thou striveſt to draw thine heart along with it. David would lift his heart and soul to the Lord, and good reason: For so far as a Man's mouth goeth along without his heart, so far it is but lip labour only; and tho' God calls for, and accepteth the calves of the lips, yet the lips without the heart argueth, not only senselessness, but our being without sence of our senselessness, and therefore if thou hast a mind to inlarge in Prayer before God, see that it be with thy heart.

Thirdly, TAKE heed of affecting expressions, and so to please thy self with the use of them, that thou forget not the Life of Prayer.

44. I shall conclude this Use with a Caution or two.

AND the First is, Take heed thou do not throw off Prayer, through sudden perswasions, that thou hast not the Spirit, neither prayest thereby. It is the great Work of the Devil to do his best, or rather worst, against the best Prayers. He will flatter your false dissembling Hypocrites, and feed them with a thousand fancies of well-doing, when their very Duties of Prayer, and all other, stink in the Nostrils of God; when he stands at a poor Joshua's hand to resist him, that is, to perswade him, that neither his person nor performances are accepted of God. Take heed therefore of such false conclusions, and groundless discouragements: and though such perswasions do come in upon thy spirit, be so far from being discouraged by them, that thou use them to put thee upon further sincerity and restlesness of spirit, in thy approaching to God.

Isa. 65.5. Zach. 3.1.

Let not thy corruptions stop thy Prayers.

Secondly, AS such sudden temptations, should not stop thee from Prayer, and pouring out thy soul to God; so neither should thine own hearts corruption hinder thee. It may be thou mayest find in thee all those things before mentioned, and that they will be endeavouring to put forth themselves in thy praying to him: Thy business then is to judge them, to pray against them, and to lay thy self so much the more at the foot of God, in a sence of thy own vileness, and rather make an argument from thy vileness and corruption of heart, to plead with God for justifying and sanctifying grace, then an argument of discouragement, and despair. David, went this way, O Lord (saith he) pardon mine iniquity, for it is great, Psal. 25.

USE II.

45. ### A Word of Encouragement.

AND therefore Secondly, to speak a word by way of encouragement (to the poor tempted and cast down soul) to pray to God through Christ. Though all Prayer that is accepted of God in reference to eternal life must be in the Spirit; for that only maketh intercession for us according to the Will of God: Yet because many a poor soul may have the holy Spirit working on them, and stirring of them to groan unto the Lord for mercy, though through unbelief they do not, nor, for the present cannot believe that they are the people of God, such as he delights in; yet forasmuch as the truth of grace may be in them, therefore I shall to encourage them, lay down further these few particulars.

Rom. 8.27

1. THAT Scripture in Luke 11. 8. is very encouraging to any poor soul that doth hunger after Christ Jesus. In the 5th, 6th, and 7th verses, he speaketh a Parable of a Man that went to his friend to borrow three loaves, who, because he was in bed denied him, yet for his importunity sake he did arise and give him; clearly signifying, that though poor souls through the weakness of their faith cannot see that they are the friends of God, yet they should never leave asking, seeking, and knocking at God's door for mercy. Mark, saith Christ, I say unto you, although he will not arise and give him because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity, (or restless desires) he will arise and give him as many as he needeth. Poor heart! Thou criest out that God will not regard thee, thou dost not find that thou art a friend to him, but rather an Enemy in thine heart by wicked works; and thou art as though thou didst hear the Lord saying to thee, trouble me not I cannot give unto thee; as he in the Parable; yet I say, continue knocking, crying, moaning, and bewailing thy self: I tell thee though he will not arise and give thee, because thou art his friend; yet because of thy importunity, he will arise and give thee as many as thou needest. The same in effect you have discovered, Luk. 18. in the Parable of the unjust Judge, and the poor Widow; her importunity prevailed with him. And verily, mine own experience tells me, that there is nothing that doth more prevail with God, than importunity. Is it not so with you in respect of your Beggars that come to your door? Though you have no heart to give them any thing at their first asking, yet if they follow you, bemoaning themselves, and will take no nay without an Almes you will give them; for their continual begging overcometh you. Is there bowels in you that are wicked, and will they be wrought upon by an importuning Beggar? Go thou and do the like. It is a prevailing motive, and that by good experience; he will arise and give thee as many as thou needest.

Mat. 7.7,8.

Luk. 11.11

2. Another encouragement for a poor trembling convinced soul, is, to consider the Place, Throne, or Seat, on which the great God hath placed himself to hear the Petitions and Prayers of poor Creatures; and that is a Throne of Grace, Heb. 4. 16. The Mercy-Seat, Exod. 25. 22. Which signifieth, that in the days of the Gospel, God hath taken up his Seat, his abiding place in mercy and forgiveness; and from thence he doth intend to hear the sinner, and to commune with him, as he saith, Exod. 25. 22. (speaking before of the Mercy-Seat) And there will I meet with thee. Mark, It is upon the Mercy-seat; There will I meet with thee, and there will I commune with thee, from above the Mercy-seat. Poor Souls! They are very apt to entertain strange thoughts of God, and his carriage towards them, and suddenly conclude, that God will have no regard unto them; when yet he is upon the Mercy-seat, and hath taken up his place on purpose there, to the end he may hear and regard the Prayers of poor Creatures. If he had said, I will commune with thee from my Throne of Judgment; then indeed, you might have trembled and fled from the face of the great and glorious Majesty. But when he saith he will hear and commune with souls upon the Throne of Grace, or from the Mercy-Seat; this should encourage thee, and cause thee to hope, nay, to come boldly to the Throne of Grace, that thou mayest obtain mercy, and find Grace to help in time of need, Heb. 4.16.

3. THERE is yet another encouragement to continue in Prayer with God, and that is this.

As there is a Mercy-seat from whence God is willing to commune with poor sinners; so there is also by this Mercy-seat, Jesus Christ who continually besprinkleth it with his blood. Hence it is called, called, The blood of ſprinkling, Hebr. 12. 14. When the High Prieſt under the Law was to go into the Holieſt, where the Mercy-ſeat was, he might not go in without blood, Heb. 9. 7.

Why ſo? Becauſe, though God was upon the Mercy-ſeat, yet he was perfectly juſt as well as merciful. Now the blood was to ſtop Juſtice from running out upon the perſons concerned in the interceſſion of the High Prieſt, as in Levit. 16. 13, 14, 15, 16. To ſignifie, that all thine unworthineſs that thou feareſt, ſhould not hinder thee from coming to God in Chriſt for mercy. ☞ Thou cryeſt out that thou art vile, and therefore God will not regard thy Prayers; 'tis true, if thou delight in thy vileneſs, and come to God out of a meer pretence. But if from a ſenſe of thy vileneſs thou do pour out thy heart to God, deſiring to be ſaved from the guilt, and cleanſed from the filth, with all thy heart; fear not, thy vileneſs will not cauſe the Lord to ſtop his Ear from hearing of thee. The value of the blood of Chriſt which is ſprinkled upon the Mercy-ſeat, ſtops the courſe of Juſtice, and opens a flood-gate for the mercy of the Lord to be extended unto thee. Thou haſt therefore, as aforeſaid, boldneſs to enter into the Holieſt, by the blood of Jeſus, that hath made a new and living way for thee, thou ſhalt not die. Heb. 10. 19, 20.

Beſides, Jeſus is there, not only to ſprinkle the Mercy-ſeat with his blood; but he ſpeaks, and his blood ſpeaks; he hath audience, and his blood hath audience; inſomuch, that God ſaith, when he doth but ſee the blood, he will paſs over you, and the plague ſhall not be upon you, &c. Ex. 12. 13.

I ſhall not detain you any longer. Be ſober and humble; go to the Father in the Name of the Son, and tell him your caſe, in the aſſiſtance of the Spirit, and you will then feel the benefit of praying with the Spirit and the Underſtanding alſo.

USE III.

46. A Word of Reproof.

THIS ſpeaks ſadly to you who never pray at all.

I will pray, ſaith the Apoſtle, and ſo ſaith the heart of them that are Chriſtians. Thou then art not a Chriſtian that art not a praying perſon. The Promiſe is, That every one that is righteous ſhall pray, Pſal. 32. 6. Thou then art a wicked wretch that prayeſt not. Jacob got the Name of Iſrael by wreſtling with God, Gen. 32. And all his Children bare that Name with him, Gal. 6. But the People that forget Prayer, that call not on the Name of the Lord, they have Prayer made for them, but it is ſuch as this, Pour out thy fury upon the Heathen, O Lord, and upon the People that call not upon thy Name, Jer. 10. 25. How likeſt thou this, O thou that art ſo far off from pouring out thine heart before God, that thou goeſt to Bed like a Dog, and riſeſt like an Hog, or a Sot, and forgetteſt to call upon? What wilt thou do when thou ſhalt be damned in Hell, becauſe thou couldeſt not find in thine heart to ask for Heaven? Who will grieve for thy ſorrow, that didſt not count mercy worth asking for? I tell thee, the Ravens, the Dogs, &c. ſhall riſe up in judgment againſt thee, for they will according to their kind make ſigns, and a noiſe for ſomething to refreſh them when they want it; but thou haſt not the heart to ask for Heaven, though thou muſt eternally periſh in Hell, if thou haſt it not.

47. 2. This rebukes you that make it your buſineſs to ſlight, mock at, and undervalue the Spirit, and praying by that. What will you do, when God ſhall come to reckon for theſe things? You count it High Treaſon to ſpeak but a word againſt the King. Nay, you tremble at the Thoughts of it; and yet in the mean time you will blaſpheme the Spirit of the Lord. Is God indeed to be dallied with, and will the end be pleaſant unto you? Did God ſend his Holy Spirit into the hearts of his People, to that end that you ſhould taunt at it? Is this to ſerve God? And doth this demonſtrate the Reformation of your Church? Nay, is it not the mark of implacable Reprobates? O fearful! Can you not be content to be damned for your ſins againſt the Law, but you muſt ſin againſt the Holy Ghoſt?

Muſt the holy, harmleſs, and undefiled Spirit of Grace; the Nature of God, the Promiſe of Chriſt, the Comforter of his Children; that without which, no Man can do any ſervice acceptable to the Father: Muſt this, I ſay, be the burthen of your Song, to taunt, deride, and mock at? If God ſent Corah and his Company headlong to Hell, for ſpeaking againſt Moſes and Aaron, Numb. 16. do you that mock at the Spirit of Chriſt, think to eſcape unpuniſhed? Heb. 10. 29. Did you never read what God did to Ananias and Saphira, for telling but one lye againſt it? Acts 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. Alſo to Simon Magus, for but undervaluing of it, Acts 8. 18, 19, 20, 21. And will thy ſin be a virtue, or go unrewarded with vengeance, that makeſt it thy buſineſs to rage againſt, and oppoſe its Office, Service, and Help, that it giveth to the Children of God? It is a fearful thing to do deſpite unto the Spirit of Grace: Compare Matth. 12. 31. with Mark 3. 30.

3. AS this is the doom of thoſe who do openly Blaſpheme the Holy Ghoſt, in a way of diſdain and reproach to its Office and Service: So alſo it is ſad for you, who reſiſt this Spirit of Prayer, by a Form of Man's inventing. A very Juggle of the Devil; that the Traditions of Men ſhould be of better eſteem, and more to be owned, than the Spirit of Prayer. What is this leſs than that accurſed Abomination of Jeroboam, which kept many from going to Jeruſalem, the place and way of God's Appointment to worſhip; and by that means brought ſuch diſpleaſure from God upon them, as to this day is not appeaſed? One would think that God's Judgments of old upon the Hypocrites of that day, ſhould make them that have heard of ſuch things, take heed and fear to do ſo. Yet the Doctors of our day are ſo far from taking of warning by the puniſhment of others, that they do moſt deſperately ruſh into the ſame tranſgreſſion, (viz.) To ſet up an Inſtitution of Man, neither commanded nor commended of God: and whoſoever will not obey herein, they muſt be driven either out of the Land or the World. 1 King. 13. 26, &c.

Hath

Hath God required these things at your hands? If he hath, shew us where. If not (as I am sure he hath not) Then what cursed presumption is it in any, Pope, Bishop or other, to command that in the Worship of God which he hath not required? Nay, further: It is not that part only of the Form, which is several Texts of Scripture, that we are commanded to say; but even all must be confessed as the Divine worship of God, notwithstanding those absurdities contained therein, which because they are at large discovered by others, I omit the Rehearsal of them. Again, though a Man be willing to live never so peaceably; yet because he cannot for Conscience sake own that, for one of the most eminent parts of God's worship, which he never commanded: Therefore must that Man be looked upon as Factious, Seditious, Erroneous, Heretical; a disparagement to the Church, a seducer of the People, and what not? Lord, what will be the fruit of these things! when for the Doctrine of God there is imposed (that is more than taught) the Traditions of Men? Thus is the Spirit of Prayer disowned, and the form imposed; the Spirit debased, and the Form extolled: they that pray with the Spirit, though never so humble and holy, counted Phanaticks; and they that pray with the Form, though with that only, counted the Vertuous. And how will the favorites of such a practice answer that Scripture, which commandeth, that the Church should turn away from such as have a Form of Godliness, 2Tim.3.5. and deny the Power thereof? And if I should say, that Men that do these things aforesaid, do advance a Form of Prayer of other Mens making, above the Spirit of Prayer, it would not take long time to prove it? For, he that advanceth the Book of Common-Prayer above the Spirit of Prayer, he doth advance a Form of Mens making above it. But this do all those who banish, or desire to banish, them that pray with the Spirit of Prayer; while they hug and imbrace them that pray by that Form only, and that because they do it. Therefore they love and advance the Form of their own or others inventing, before the Spirit of Prayer, which is God's special and gracious Appointment.

If you desire the clearing of the Minor, look into the Goals in England, and into the Alehouses of the same; and I trow, you will find those that plead for the Spirit of Prayer in the Goal, and them that look after the Form of Mens Inventions only, in the Alehouse. It is evident also by the silencing of God's dear Ministers, though never so powerfully enabled by the Spirit of Prayer; if they, in Conscience, cannot admit of that Form of Common Prayer. If this be not an exalting the Common-Prayer-Book above either praying by the Spirit, or preaching the Word, I have taken my mark amiss. It is not pleasant for me to dwell on this; the Lord in mercy turn the hearts of the People to seek more after the Spirit of Prayer; and in the strength of that, to pour out their souls before the Lord. Only let me say, it is a sad sign, that that which is one of the most eminent parts of the pretended Worship of God, is Antichristian; when it hath nothing but the Tradition of Men, and the strength of Persecution to uphold, or plead for it.

The Conclusion.

I shall Conclude this Discourse with this Word of Advice to all God's People. 49.

1. BELIEVE that as sure as you are in the way of God, you must meet with Temptations.

2. THE first day therefore that thou dost enter into Christ's Congregation, look for them.

3. WHEN they do come, beg of God to carry thee thorow them.

4. BE jealous of thine own heart, that it deceive thee not in thy Evidences for Heaven, nor in thy walking with God in this World.

5. TAKE heed of the flatteries of false Brethren.

6. KEEP in the Life and Power of Truth.

7. LOOK most at the things which are not seen.

8. TAKE heed of little Sins.

9. KEEP the Promise warm upon thy heart.

10. Renew thy Acts of Faith in the Blood of Christ.

11. CONSIDER the work of thy Generation.

12. COUNT to run with the foremost therein.

Grace be with thee.

THE END.

THE

The Strait Gate:

OR,

Great Difficulty of going to HEAVEN.

Plainly Proving by the Scriptures,

That not only the Rude and Prophane, but many great Professors will come short of that Kingdom.

By JOHN BUNYAN.

Enter ye in at the strait gate, for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be that go in thereat. Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way that leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it. Matt. 7. 13, 14.

To the READER.

Courteous Reader,

GOD (I hope) hath put it into my heart to write unto thee another time, and that about matters of greatest moment (for now we discourse not about things controverted among the Godly, but directly about the Saving or Damning of the Soul, yea, moreover this Discourse is about the fewness of them that shall be saved, and it proves, that many an high Profession will come short of eternal life;) wherefore the matter must needs be sharp, and so disliked by some, but let it not be rejected by thee. The Text calls for sharpness, so do the times, yea, the faithful discharge of my duty towards thee, hath put me upon it.

I do not now pipe but mourn, and 'twill be well for thee, if thou canst graciously lament, Mat. 11. 17. Some (say they) make the Gate of Heaven too wide, and some make it too narrow: For my part I have here presented thee with as true a measure af it as by the word of God I can: Read me therefore, yea, read me, and compare me with the Bible, and if thou findest my Doctrine, and that Book of God concur; embrace it, as thou wilt answer the contrary in the day of Judgment: This awakening work (if God will make it so) was prepared for thee: If there be need and it wounds, get healing by blood; if it disquiets get peace by blood: If it takes away all thou hast because 'twas naught, (for this Book is not prepared to take away true grace from any) then buy of Christ Gold tried in the fire, that thou maist be Rich, and white Rayment that thou mayest be Cloathed, and that the shame of thy Nakedness doth not appear, and anoint thine Eyes with Eye-salve that thou mayest see, Revel. 3. 18. Selfe flatteries, self-deceivings, are easie and pleasant, but damnable! The Lord give thee an heart to Judge right of thy Self, right of this Book, and so to prepare for eternity, that thou mayest not only expect entrance, but be received into the Kingdom of Christ, and of God, Amen.

So Prays thy Friend,

The Strait Gate:

LUKE XIII. Ver. xxiv.

Strive to Enter in at the Straid Gate, for many, I ſay unto you, ſeek to Enter in, and ſhall not be able.

THESE are the Words of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and are therefore in eſpecial manner to be heeded; beſides, the ſubject matter of the Words, is the moſt weighty, to wit, how we ſhould attain Salvation, and therefore alſo to be heeded.

The occaſion of the Words, was a queſtion which one that was at this time in the Company of the Diſciples; put to Jeſus Chriſt; the queſtion was this, Lord are there few that be Saved? ver. 23. A ſerious queſtion, not ſuch as tended to the ſubvertion of the hearers, as too many now adays do; but ſuch as in its own Nature tended to the awakening of the Company to good, and, that called for ſuch an anſwer that might profit the People alſo: This queſtion alſo, well pleaſed Jeſus Chriſt, and he prepareth, and giveth ſuch an anſwer, as was without the leaſt retort, or ſhew of diſtaſte, ſuch an anſwer I ſay, as carried in it the moſt full reſolve to the queſtion it ſelf, and help to the Perſons queſtioning; And he ſaid unto them, ſtrive to enter in, &c. The Words are an anſwer, and an inſtruction alſo.

1. AN anſwer, and that in the affirmative, the Gate is ſtrait, many that ſeek will not be able, therefore but few ſhall be ſaved.

2. THE anſwer, is an inſtruction alſo, ſtrive to Enter in, &c. good Counſel, and Inſtruction; pray God help me, and my Reader, and all that love their own Salvation to take it.

My manner of handling the words will be, firſt by way of Explication, and then by way of Obſervation.

By way of Explication.

1. THE Words are to be conſidered, with reference to their general ſcope

2. AND then with reference to their ſeveral Phraſes.

1. THE general ſcope of the Text is to be conſidered, and that is that great thing Salvation; for theſe words do immediately look at, point to, and give direction about Salvation. Are there few that be ſaved? ſtrive to enter in at the ſtrait Gate.

The words, I ſay, are to direct us, not only to talk of, or to wiſh for, but to underſtand how we ſhall, and to ſeek that we may be effectually ſaved; and therefore of the greateſt importance. To be ſaved! what, is like being ſaved? to be ſaved from ſin, from Hell, from the wrath of God, from Eternal Damnation, what is like it? To be made an heir of God! of his Grace! Of his Kingdom and Eternal Glory! What is like it? And yet all this is included in this word, ſaved, and in the anſwer to that queſtion, are there few that be ſaved? indeed this word, ſaved, is but of little uſe in the world, ſave to them that are heartily afraid of Damning. This word lies in the Bible, as excellent ſalves lie in ſome Mens Houſes, thruſt into a hole, and not thought on for many Months, becauſe the Houſhould People have no wounds nor ſores: In time of Sickneſs, what ſo ſet by, as the Doctors Glaſſes, and Gally-pots full of his excellent things; but when the Perſon is grown well, the reſt is thrown to the Dunghill. Oh! when Men are ſick of ſin, and afraid of Damning, what a Text is that, where this word ſaved is found? Yea, what a word of worth and goodneſs and bleſſedneſs is it to him that lies continually upon the wrath of a guilty Conſcience? But the whole need not the Phiſtian: He therefore, and he only, knows what ſaved means, that knows, what Hell and Death and Damnation means: what ſhall I do to be ſaveed? Is the language of the trembling ſinner; Lord ſave me, is the language of the ſinking ſinner, and none admire the glory that is in that word ſaved, but ſuch as ſee without being ſaved, all things in Heaven and Earth are emptineſs to them, they alſo that believe themſelves priviledged in all the bleſſedneſs that are wrapped up in that word, bleſs and admire. God that hath ſaved them: Wherefore, ſince the thing intended both in the queſtion and the anſwer is no leſs then the Salvation of the Soul, I beſeech you to give the more earneſt heed, Heb. 21.

But to come to the particular Phraſes in the words, and to handle them orderly in the words I find four things. 5.

1. AN intimation of the Kingdom of Heaven.

2. A Deſcription of the Entrance into it.

3. AN Exhortation to Enter into it; and,

4. A Motive to inforce that Exhortation.

Firſt, An intimation of the kingdom of Heaven, for when he ſaith, ſtrive to Enter in; and in ſuch Phraſes there is ſuppoſed a place or ſtate or both to be enjoyed; Enter in, enter into what, or whether but into a ſtate or place or both; and therefore when you read this word, enter in, you muſt ſay there is certainly included in the Text that good thing that yet is not expreſſed; Enter in, into Heaven, that's the meaning: where the saved are, and shall be, into Heaven, that place, that glorious place, where God, and Christ, and Angels are, and the Souls or Spirits of just Men made perfect: enter in; that thing included, tho' not expressed in the words, is called in another place, the Mount Sion, the Heavenly Jerusalem, the general Assembly and Church of the first Born which are written in Heaven. Heb. 12. And therefore the words signifie unto us, that there is a state most glorious, and that when this World is ended; and that this place and state is likewise to be enjoyed, and inherited by a generation of Men for ever. Besides, this word, enter in, signifieth that Salvation to the full is to be enjoyed only there, and that there only is Eternal safety; all other places and conditions, are hazzardous, dangerous, full of snares, imperfections, temptations and afflictions, but there all is well; there is no Devil to Tempt, no desparately wicked Heart to deliver us up, no deceitful Lust to intangle, nor any Inchanting World to bewitch us: there all shall be well to all Eternity. Further all the parts of, and circumstances that attend Salvation, are only there to be enjoyed: there only is Immortality and Eternal Life; there is the glory and fulness of Joy, and the everlasting Pleasures; there is God and Christ to be enjoyed by open Vision, and more; there are the Angels, and the Saints; further, there is no death, nor sickness, no sorrow, nor sighing, for ever: there is no pain, nor persecutor, nor darkness to eclipse our glory. O this Mount Sion, O this Heavenly Jerusalem! 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. Psal. 16. 11. Luke 20. 35, 36. Heb. 12. 12, 23, 14.

Behold therefore what a great thing the Lord Jesus hath included by this little word, in, in this word is wrapt up an whole Heaven, and Eternal Life: even as there is also by other little words in the Holy Scriptures of Truth; as where he saith, knock and it shall be opened unto you, and the Elect have obtained it. This should teach us, not only to read but to attend in reading, not only to read, but to lift up our Hearts to God in reading, for if we be not heedful, if he give us not light and understanding; we may easily pass over without any great regard, such a word as may have a glorious Kingdom and Eternal Salvation in the Bowels of it: Yea sometimes, as here, a whole Heaven is intimated, where it is not at all expressed. The Apostles of old, did use to fetch great things out of the Scriptures. even out of the very order and timing of the several things contained therein, see Rom. 4. 9, 10, 11. Gal. 3. 16, 17. Heb. 8. 13. but,

6. Secondly, As we have here an intimation of the Kingdom of Heaven, so we have a description of the entrance into it, and that by a double similitude.

1. It is called a Gate.

2. A strait Gate: strive to enter in at the strait Gate.

1. IT is set forth by the similitude of a Gate. A Gate, you know, is of a double use, it is to open and shut, and so consequently, to let in, or to keep out; and to do both these at the season; as he said, let not the Gates of Jerusalem be opened till the Sun be hot; and again, I commanded that the Gate should be shut, and charged that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath: Neh. 7. 3. ch. 13. 19, 20. And so you find of this Gate of Heaven, when the Five wise Virgins came, the Gate were opened, but afterwards came the other Virgins, and the Door was shut Matt. 11. So then, the entrance into Heaven, is called a Gate, to shew, there is a time when there may be entrance, and there will come a time when there shall be none; and indeed this is a chief truth contained in the Text: strive to enter in at the strait Gate, for many I say unto you will seek to enter in and shall not be able. I read in the Scriptures of two Gates or Doors, through which they that go to Heaven must enter.

1. THERE is the Door of Faith, the Door which the Grace of God hath opened to the Gentiles, this Door is Jesus Christ, as also himself doth testifie, saying, I am the Door, &c. Acts 14. 27. Joh. 10. 9. By this Door Men enter into God's Favour, and Mercy, and find forgiveness through Faith in his Blood, and live in hope of Eternal Life, and therefore himself also hath said I am the Door, by me if any Man enter in, he shall be saved, that is, received to Mercy and inherit Eternal Life: But,

2. THERE is another Door, or Gate; (for that which is called in the Text, a Gate, is twice in the next verse, called, a Door) there is, I say, another Gate, and that is the passage into the very Heaven it self; the entrance into the Celestial Mansion-House, and that is the Gate mentioned in the Text, and the Door mentioned twice in the verse that follows. And thus Jacob called it, when he said Bethel was the House of God, and this is the Gate of Heaven, that is, the entrance, for he saw the entrance into Heaven, one end of Jacob's Ladder stands in Bethel, Gods House, and the other end reacheth up to the Gate of Heaven, Gen. 28. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17. Jacob's Ladder was the figure of Christ, which Ladder was not the Gate of Heaven, but the way from the Church to that Gate which he saw above at the top of the Ladder: Gen. 28. 12. and Joh. 1. 51. But again that the Gate in the Text, is the Gate, or entrance into Heaven, consider, 7.

1. It is that Gate that letteth Men into, or shuteth Men out of that place or Kingdom where Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob is, which place is that Paradice where Christ promised the Thief, that he should be that day, that he asked to be with him in his Kingdom: it is that place into which Paul said, he was caught, when he heard words unlawful or impossible for a Man to utter, Luke 13. 20. chap. 23. 24. 2 Cor. 12. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Quest. BUT is not Christ the Gate or entrance into this Heavenly place?

Answ. He is he without whom no Man can get thither, because by his merits Men obtain that World, and also because he (as the Father) is the Doner and disposer of that Kingdom to whom he will: farther, this place is called his House, and himself the Master of it (when once the Master of the House is risen up, and hath shut to the Door (ver. 25.) But we use to say, that the Master of the House, is not the Door: Men enter into Heaven then, by him, not as he is the Gate or Door, or entrance into the Celestial Mansion-House, but as he is the giver and disposer of that Kingdom to them who he shall count worthy, because he hath obtained it for them.

2. THAT

2. THAT this Gate is the very passage into Heaven, consider the Text hath special reference to the day of judgment, when Christ will have laid aside his mediatory Office, which before he exercised for the bringing to the Faith his own Elect; and will then Act, not as one that justifies the ungodly, but as one that judgeth sinners; he will now be risen up from the Throne of Grace, and shut up the Door against all the impenitent, and will be set upon the Throne of judgment, from thence to proceed with ungodly sinners.

Object. BUT Christ bids strive, strive now to enter in at the strait Gate, but if that Gate be as you say, the Gate or entrance into Heaven, then it should seem, that we should not strive till the day of Judgment, for we shall not come at that Gate till then.

Answer. CHRIST, by this exhortation, strive, &c. doth not at all admit of, or countenance delays, or that a Man should neglect his own Salvation, but putteth poor Creatures upon preparing for the Judgment, and counselleth them now to get those things that will then give them entrance into glory. This exhortation, is much like these, be ye therefore ready also, for at such an hour as you think not, the Son of Man cometh: and they that were ready went in with him to the Marriage, and the Door was shut, Mat. 24. 44. ch. 25. 10.

So that when he saith, strive to enter in, it is as if he should say, blessed are they that shall be admitted another day to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, but they that shall be counted worthy of so unspeakable a favour, must be well prepared, and fitted for it before hand: now the time to be fitted, is not the day of Judgment, but the day of Grace; not then, but now: therefore strive now for those things, that will then give you entrance into the Heavenly Kingdom: But,

8. Secondly, As it is called a Gate, so it is called a strait Gate; strive to enter in at the strait Gate.

The straightness of this Gate, is not to be understood carnally, but mistically: you are not to understand it, as if the entrance into Heaven was some little pinching wicket, no, the straightness of this Gate is quite another thing. This Gate is wide enough, for all them that are the truly gracious, and sincere Lovers of Jesus Christ, but so strait, as that not one of the other can by any means enter in: open to me the Gates of righteousness, I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord, this Gate of the Lord into which the righteous shall enter, Psal. 118. 19, 20. by this word therefore Christ Jesus hath shewed unto us that without due qualifications there is no possibility of entring into Heaven; the strait Gate will keep all others out: when Christ spake this parable, he had doubtless his Eye upon some passage or passages of the Old Testament, with which the Jews were well acquainted. I will mention two and so goon.

1. THE place by which God turned Adam and his Wife out of Paradice; possibly our Lord might have his Eye upon that, for though that was wide enough for them to come out at, yet it was to strait for them to go in at, but what should be the reason of that? why they had sinned, and therefore God set at the East of that Garden, Cherubins and a flaming Sword, turning every way, to keep the way of the Tree of Life: Gen. 3. 24. The Cherubins and this flaming Sword, they made the entrance too strait for them to enter in: Souls, there are Cherubins and a flaming Sword at the Gates of Heaven to keep the way of the Tree of Life, therefore none but them that are duly fitted for Heaven can enter in at this strait Gate, the flaming Sword will keep all others out. Know you not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the Kingdom of God, be not deceived, neither Fornicators, nor Idolaters, nor Adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with Mankind, nor Thieves, nor Covetous, nor Drunkard, nor Revilers, nor Extortioners, shall inherit the Kingdom of God, 1 Cor. 6. 9.

2. Perhaps our Lord might have his Eye upon the Gates of the Temple, when he spoke this word unto the People, for though the Gates of the Temple were six Cubits wide, yet they were so strait, that none that were unclean in any thing might enter in thereat, Ezek. 40. 48. because there were placed at them Gates, Porters whose Office was to look that none but those that had right to enter, might go in thither: and so it is written, Jehojadah set Porters at the Gates of the house of the Lord, that none that were unclean in any thing might enter in, 2 Cor. 23. 19. Souls, God hath Porters at the Gates of the Temple, at the Gate of Heaven, Porters, I say, placed there by God, to look that none that are unclean in any thing may come in thither. In at the Gate of the Church, none may enter now, that are open profane and scandalous to Religion; no, though they plead they are beloved of God; What hath my Beloved to do in mine House (saith the Lord) seeing she hath wrought leudness with many. Jer. 11. 15.

I say, I am very apt to believe that our Lord Jesus Christ had his thoughts upon these two Texts, when he said, the Gate is strait, and that which confirms me the more in the thing is this, a little below the Text he saith, there shall be weeping and gnashing of Teeth, when you shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the Kingdom of Heaven, and you your selves thrust out. ver. 28. thrust out, which signifieth a violent Act, resisting with striving; those that would (though unqualified) enter: the Porters of the Temple were, for this very thing, to wear Arms if need were, and to be Men of Courage and Strength, lest the unsanctified or unprepared should by some means enter in. We read in the Book of the Revelations, of the Holy City, and that it had twelve Gates, and at the Gates twelve Angels, but what did they do there? why amongst the rest of their service, this was one thing, that there might in no wise enter in, any thing that defileth, or worketh abomination, and that maketh a lie: Rev. 21. 12. 21. But more particularly to shew what it is, that maketh this Gate so strait: there are three things that maketh it strait. 1. There is Sin. 2. There is the word of the Law. 3. There are the Angels of God. First, there is sin, the sin of profane, and the sin of the Professor.

9. 1. THE sin of the profane, but this needs not be inlarged upon, because it is concluded upon, at all hands, where there is the common belief of the being of God, and the judgment to come, that the wicked shal be turned into Hell, and all the Nations that forget God, Psal. 9. 17.

2. BUT there is the Sin of Professors, or take it rather thus, there is a Profession that will stand with an unsanctified Heart and Life, the sin of such will overpoise the Salvation of their Souls, the sin-end being the heavieſt end of the scale: I say, that being the heavieſt end which hath sin in it; they tilt over; and so are, notwithstanding their glorious profession, drowned in perdition and destruction: for none such hath any inheritance in the Kingdom of Christ and of God, therefore let no Man deceive you with vain words, for because of these things, comes the wrath of God upon the Children of disobedience; neither will a profession be able to excuse them, Eph. 5. 3. 4, 5, 6. The Gate will be too strait for such as these to enter in thereat. A Man may partake of Salvation in part, but not of Salvation in whole: God saved the Children of Israel out of Egypt, but overthrew them in the wilderness: I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the People out of the Land of Egypt, afterwards destroyed them that believed not: so we see, (that notwithstanding their beginning) they could not enter in, because of unbelief, Jude 5.

Heb. 3. 19.

10. Secondly, There is the word of the Law, and that will make the Gate strait also: none must go in thereat but those that can go in by the leave of the law, for though no man be or can be, justified by the works of the law, yet unless the righteousness and holiness by which they attempt to enter into this Kingdom, be justified by the law, 'tis in vain once to think of entring in at this strait Gate: Now the Law justifieth not, but upon the account of Christs Righteousness; if therefore thou be not indeed found in that Righteousness, thou wilt find the Law, lie just in the passage into Heaven to keep thee out; every Mans work must be tried by Fire, that it may be manifest of what sort it is. There are two errors in the World about the Law, one is, when Men think to enter in at the strait Gate by the Righteousness of the Law, the other is, when Men think, they may enter into Heaven without the leave of the Law; both these, I say, are errors: for, as by the works of the Law no flesh shall be justified, so without the consent of the Law, no flesh shall be saved, Heaven and Earth shall pass away, before one jot, or title of the Law shall fail, till all be fulfilled: he therefore must be Damned, that cannot be saved by the consent of the Law, and indeed this Law is the flaming Sword that turneth every way, yea, that lieth to this day, in the way, to Heaven, for a bar to all unbelievers and unsanctified professors, for it is taken out of the way for the truly gracious only; it will be found as a roaring Lyon to devour all others. because of the Law, therefore the Gate will be found too strait for the unsanctified to enter in; when the Apostle had told the Corinthians that the unrighteous should not inherit the Kingdom of God, and, that such were some of them, he adds, but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified, in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the spirit of our God, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10, 11. closely concluding, that had they not been washed, and sanctified, and justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, the Law, for their transgressions, would have kept them out, it would have made the Gate too strait for them to enter in.

11. Thirdly, There are also the Angels of God, and by reason of them the Gate is strait. The Lord Jesus, calleth the end of the World, his harvest; and saith moreover, that the Angels are his reapers; these Angels are therefore to gather his Wheat into his Barn, but to gather the ungodly into bundles to burn them, Mat. 13. 39. 41. 49. unless therefore, the Man that is unsanctified, can master the Law, and conquer Angels: unless he can, as I may say, pull them out of the Gate-way of Heaven, himself is not to come thither for ever: No Man goeth to Heaven but by the help of the Angels, I mean at the day of Judgment, For the Son of Man, shall send forth his Angels with a great sound of a Trumpet, and they shall gather together his Elect from the four winds, from one end of Heaven to the other. If those that shall enter in at the strait Gate shall enter in thither by the conduct of the Holy Angels; pray when do you think those Men will enter in thither, concerning whom the Angels are commanded, to gather them, to bind them in bundles, to burn them? This therefore is a third difficulty: the Angels will make this enterance strait, yea, too strait for the unjustified and unsanctified to enter in thither.

Mat. 24. 31.

I come now to the Exhortation, which is to strive to enter in; strive to enter in at the strait gate. 12. These words are fitly added, for since the Gate is strait, it follows, that they that will enter in must strive. Strive, this word Strive, supposeth that great idleness is natural to professors, they think to get to Heaven by lying as it were on their Elbows. Secondly, It also suggesteth, that many will be the difficulties that professors will meet with before they get to Heaven. 3. It also concludeth that only the labouring Christian, Man or Woman will get in thither. Strive, &c. Three questions I will propound upon the word, an answer to which may give us light into the meaning of it.

1. Quest. What doth this word, Strive, import.

2. Quest. How should we Strive?

3. Quest. Why should we Strive?

First, What doth this word Strive, import? Answ. When he saith, Strive, It is as much as to say, bend your selves to the work with all your might: Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do; do it with all thy might, for there is no work nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the Grave, whither thou goest. Eccles. 9. 10. thus Sampson did, when he set himself to destroy the Philistins, he bowed himself with all his might, Judg. 16. 30. Thus David, did also when he made provision for the building and beautifying of the Temple of God, 1 Chro. 29. 2. And thus must thou do if ever thou entereſt into Heaven.

2*ly*. When he saith strive, he calleth for the mind and will, that they should be on his side, and on the side of the things of his Kingdom; for none strive indeed, but such as have given the Son of God their Heart, of which the mind and will are a principal part, for saving Conversion lieth more in the turning of the mind and will to Christ, and to the love of his Heavenly things, then in all knowledge and Judgment; and this the Apostle confirmeth when he he saith, Stand fast in one Spirit, with one mind, striving, &c. Phil. 1. 27.

Thirdly, AND more particularly, this word strive, is expressed by several other terms, as, 1. It is expressed by that word, so run that you may obtain, 1 Cor. 9. 24, 25. 2. It is expressed by that word, Fight the good Fight of Faith, lay hold of eternal Life, 1 Tim. 6. 12. 3. It is expressed by that word, Labour not for the Meat that perisheth, but for that Meat that endureth to everlasting life, John 6. 27. 4. It is expressed by that word, We wrestle with Principalities and Powers, and the Rulers of the darkness of this world, Ephes. 6. 12. Therefore when he saith strive, it is as much as to say, run for heaven, fight for heaven, labour for heaven, wrestle for heaven, or you are like to go without it.

Secondly, THE Second Question, is, How should we strive?

Answ. 1. The Answer in general, is, Thou must strive lawfully; and if a man also strive for the Mastery, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully, 2 Tim. 25.

But you will say, What is it to strive lawfully?

Answ. 1. To strive against the things which are abhorred by the Lord Jesus; yea, to resist to the spilling of your Blood, striving against sin, Heb. 12. 4: to have all those things that are condemned by the Word; yea, though they be thine own right hand, right eye, or right foot, in abomination; and to seek by all godly means the utter suppressing of them, Mar. 9. 43, 45, 47.

2. TO strive lawfully, is to strive for those things that are commended in the Word. But thou, O Man of God, fly the world, and follow after, that is, strive for righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness, fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, &c. 1 Tim. 6. 11, 12.

3. HE that striveth lawfully, must be therefore very temperate in all the good and lawful things of this Life. And every one that striveth for the Mastery, is temperate in all things; now they do it to obtain a corruptible Crown; but we an incorruptible, 1 Cor. 9. 25. Most Professors give leave to the world, and vanity of their Hearts, to close with them, and to hang about their necks, and make their striving to stand rather in an out-cry of words, than a hearty labour against the Lusts and Love of the World, and their own Corruptions; but this kind of striving is but a beating of the Air, and will come to just nothing at last, 1 Cor. 9, 26.

4. HE that striveth lawfully, must take God and Christ along with him to the work, otherwise he will certainly be undone: Whereunto, said Paul, I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily, Col. 1, 29. And for the right performing of this, he must observe these following Particulars.

1. HE must take heed, that he doth not strive about things, or words to no profit; for God will not then be with him: Of these things, saith the Apostle, put them in remembrance; charging them before the Lord, that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers, 1 Tim. 2. 14. But alas! How many Professors in our days are guilty of this Transgression, whose Religion stands chiefly, if not only in a few unprofitable Questions, and vain janglings, about words and things to no profit, but to the destruction of the Hearers

2. He must take heed, that whilst he strives against one Sin, he does not harbour and shelter another, or that whilst he cries out against other mens sins, he does not countenance his own.

3. IN the striving, strive to believe, strive for the Faith of the Gospel; for the more we believe the Gospel, and the reality of the things of the world to come, with the more stomach and courage shall we labour to possess the blessedness, Phil. 1. 27. Heb. 4. Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.

4. As we should strive for, and by Faith, so we should strive by Prayer, Rom. 15. 30. by fervent and effectual Prayers; O the swarms of our Prayerless Professors! What do they think of themselves? Surely the Gate of Heaven was heretofore as wide as in these our days; but what striving by Prayer was there then among Christians for the thing that gives admittance into this Kingdom, over there is in these latter days?

5. WE should also strive by mortifying our Members that are upon the earth: I therefore so run, said Paul, so fight I, not as one that beats the Air, but I keep under my Body, and bring it into subjection, lest that by any means when I have preached the Gospel to others, I my self should be a Cast-away, 1 Cor. 9. 27. But all this is spoken principally to Professors, so I would be understood.

I come now to the Third Question, namely, But why should we strive? 15.

Answ. 1. BECAUSE the thing for which you are here exhorted to strive, it is worth the striving for; it is for no less than for a whole Heaven, and an Eternity of Felicity there; how will Men that have before them a little Honour, a little Profit, a little Pleasure, strive? I say again, how will they strive for this? Now they do it for a corruptible Crown; but we an incorruptible. Methinks this Word Heaven, and this eternal Life, what is there again either in Heaven or Earth like them to provoke a man to strive?

2. Strive, because otherwise the Devil, and Hell will assuredly have thee. He goes about like a roaring Lion, seeking whom he may devour, 1 Pet. 5. 8. These fallen Angels, they are always watchful, diligent, unwearied; they are also mighty, subtle, and malicious, seeking nothing more than the damnation of thy Soul; O thou that art like the heartless Dove, strive.

3. Strive, because every Lust strives and wars against thy Soul; The Flesh lusteth against the Spirit: Dearly beloved, I beseech you, said Peter, as Strangers and Pilgrims, abstain from fleshly Lusts, which war against the Soul, Gal. 5. 17. 'Tis a rare thing to see or find out a Christian, that indeed can bridle his Lusts; but no strange thing to see such Professors that are not only bridled, but sadled too, yea, and ridden from Lust to Sin, from one Vanity to another, by the very Devil himself, and the Corruptions of their Hearts.

4. Strive, Because thou hast a whole world against thee; the world hateth thee if thou beest

a Christian; the men of the world hate thee; the things of the world are snares for thee, even thy Bed and Table, thy Wife and Husband, yea, thy most lawful Enjoyments have that in them that will certainly sink thy Soul to Hell, if thou dost not strive against the Snares that are in them, Rom. 11. 9.

The World will seek to keep thee out of Heaven, with Mocks, Flouts, Taunts, Threatnings, Goals, Gibbets, Halters, Burnings, and a thousand Deaths; therefore strive. Again, if it cannot overcome thee with these, it will flatter, promise, allure, entice, entreat, and use a thousand Tricks on this hand, to destroy thee; and observe, many that have been stout against the Threats of the world, have yet been overcome with the bewitching Flatteries of the same. There ever was enmity betwixt the Devil and the Church, and betwixt his Seed and her Seed too; Michael and his Angels, and the Dragon and his Angels, these make war continually, Gen. 3. Rev. 12. There hath been great desires and endeavours among Men, to reconcile these two in one, to wit, the Seed of the Serpent, and the Seed of the Woman; but it could never yet be accomplished: The world says, They will never come over to us; and we again say, by God's Grace, we will never come over to them; but the Business hath not ended in words, both they and we have also added our endeavours to make each other submit; but endeavours have proved ineffectual too: They for their part, have devised all manner of cruel torments to make us submit; as, slaying with the Sword, stoning, sawing asunder, flames, wild beasts, banishments, hunger, and a thousand Miseries; we again on the other side, have laboured by Prayers and Tears, by Patience and long-suffering, by gentleness and Love, by sound Doctrine, and faithful witness-bearing against their Enormities, to bring them over to us, but yet the Enmity remains; so that they must conquer us, or we must conquer them; one side must be overcome; but the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God.

5. Strive, because there is nothing of Christianity got by Idleness; Idleness cloaths a Man with Rags, and the Vineyard of the slothful is grown over with Nettles, Prov. 23. 21. chap. 24. 30, 31, 32. Profession that is not attended with spiritual Labour, cannot bring the Soul to Heaven: The Fathers before us, were not slothful in Business, but fervent in Spirit, serving the Lord. Therefore be not slothful, but followers of them who through Faith and Patience inherit the Promises, Rom. 12. 11. Heb. 6. 12.

Strive to enter in.

16. Methinks the words at the first reading, do intimate to us, that the Christian in all that ever he does in this world, should carefully heed and regard his Soul, I say, in all that ever he does: Many are for their Souls by Fits and Starts; but a Christian indeed, in all his doings and designs which he contriveth and manageth in this world, should have a special eye to his own future and everlasting good, in all his Labours he should strive to enter in. Wisdom, (Christ) is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom, and in all thy gettings get understanding, Prov. 4. 7. Get nothing, if thou canst not get Christ and Grace, and further hopes of Heaven, in that getting; get nothing with a bad Conscience, with the hazard of thy peace with God, and that in getting it, thou weakness thy Graces which God hath given thee; for this is not to strive to enter in: Add Grace to Grace, both by religious and worldly Duties; for so an entrance shall be ministred unto you abundantly into the everlasting Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, 2 Pet. 1. 8, 9, 10, 11. Religious Duties are not only the striving times; he that thinks so, is out: Thou maist help thy Faith and thy Hope, in the godly management of thy Calling, and maist get farther footing in eternal Life, by studying the Glory of God in all thy worldly employment. I am speaking now to Christians that are justified freely by Grace; and am encouraging, or rather counselling of them, to strive to enter in; for there is an entring in by Faith and good Conscience now, as well as our entring in Body and Soul hereafter; and I must add, that the more common it is to thy Soul to enter in now by Faith, the more stedfast Hope shalt thou have of entring in hereafter in Body and Soul.

Strive to enter in.

By these words also the Lord Jesus giveth 17.
sharp rebuke to those Professors that have not eternal Glory, but other temporal things in their eye, by all the bustle that they make in the world about Religion: Some there be, what a stir they make, what a noise and clamour, with their Notions and Forms, and yet perhaps all is for the Loaves; because they have eaten of the Loaves, and are filled, John 6. 26. These strive indeed to enter, but it is not into Heaven: They find Religion hath a good trade at the end of it; or, they find that it is the way to Credit, Repute, Preferment, and the like; and therefore they strive to enter into these: but these have not the strait Gate in their Eye, nor yet in themselves have they love to their poor and perishing Souls; wherefore this Exhortation nippeth such, by predicting of their Damnation.

Strive to enter in.

These words also sharply rebuke them who content themselves as the Angel of the Church of Sardis did, to wit, to have a Name to live, and be dead, Rev. 3. 1. or as they of the Laodiceans, who took their Religion upon trust, and was content, with a poor, wretched, lukewarm Profession: For such as these do altogether unlike to the Exhortation in the Text, that says, strive; and they sit and sleep; that says, strive to enter in, and they content themselves with a Profession that is never like to bring them thither.

Strive to enter in.

Further, these Words put us upon proving 18.
the truth of our Graces now; I say, they put us upon the proof of the truth of them now; for if the strait gate be the gate of Heaven, & yet we are to strive to enter into it now, even while we live, and before we come thither, then, doubtless Christ means by this Exhortation, that we should use all lawful means to prove our graces in this world, whether they will stand in the Judgment or no: Strive to enter in; get those Graces now, that will prove true Graces then; and and therefore try them you have; and if upon Trial, they prove not right, caſt them away, and cry for better, leſt they caſt thee away, when better are not to be had. Buy of me Gold tried in the fire: Mark that, Rev. 13. 20. Buy of me Faith and Grace that will ſtand in the Judgment; ſtrive for that Faith, buy of me that Grace, and alſo white Rayment, that thou maiſt be cloathed, that the ſhame of thy wickedneſs doth not appear, and anoint thine eyes with eye-ſalve, that thou maiſt ſee Mind you this Advice, this is right ſtriving to enter in.

But you will ſay, How ſhould we try our Graces? Would you have us run into temptation to try if they be ſound or rotten?

Anſw. You need not run into Trials; God hath ordained that enough of them ſhall overtake thee to prove thy Graces either rotten or ſound before the day of thy Death: Sufficient to the day is the evil thereof, if thou haſt but a ſufficiency of Grace to withſtand. I ſay, thou ſhalt have Trials enough overtake thee, to prove thy Graces ſound or rotten: thou maiſt therefore, if God ſhall help thee, ſee how it is like to go with thee before thou goeſt out of this world, to wit, whether thy Graces be ſuch as will carry thee in at the Gates of Heaven or no.

But how ſhould we try our Graces now?

Anſw. How doſt thou find them in outward Trials? See Heb. 11. 15, 16. How doſt thou find thy ſelf in the inward workings of Sin? (Rom. 7. 24.) How doſt thou find thy ſelf under the moſt high enjoyment of Grace in this world? Phil. 3. 14.

But what do you mean by theſe three Queſtions?

Anſw. I mean Graces ſhew themſelves at theſe their Seaſons whether they be rotten or ſound.

How do they ſhew themſelves to be true under the firſt of theſe?

Anſw. By miſtruſting our own Sufficiency, by crying to God for help, by deſiring rather to die, than to bring any diſhonour to the Name of God, and by counting, that if God be honoured in the Trial, thou haſt gained more than all the world could give thee, 2 Chron. 20. 12. chap. 14. 11. Acts 4. Acts 20. 22. 2 Cor. 4. 17, 18. Heb. 11. 24, 25.

How do they ſhew themſelves to be true under the Second?

Anſw. By mourning and confeſſing, and ſtriving, and praying againſt them; by not being content, ſhouldeſt thou have Heaven if they live, and defile thee, and by counting of holineſs the greateſt Beauty in the world, and by flying to Jeſus Chriſt for Life, Zech. 12. 10. John 19. Heb. 12. 4. Pſal. 19. 12.

How do they ſhew themſelves to be true under the Third?

Anſw. By prizing the true Graces above all the world, by praying heartily that God will give thee more, by not being content with all the Grace thou canſt be capable of enjoying on this ſide Heaven and Glory, Pſal. 84. 10. Luke 17. 5. Philip. 3.

Strive to enter in.

The Reaſon why Chriſt addeth theſe words, to enter in, is obvious; to wit, becauſe there is no true and laſting happineſs on this ſide heaven; I ſay, none that is both true and laſting; I mean, as to our ſenſe and feeling, as there ſhall; for here have we no continuing City, but we ſeek one to come; Heb. 13. 14. The heaven is within; ſtrive therefore to enter in: The Glory is within; ſtrive therefore to enter in: The Mount Sion is within; ſtrive therefore to enter in; The heavenly Jeruſalem is within; ſtrive therefore to enter in; Angels and Saints are within ſtrive therefore to enter in; and to make up all' the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and that glorious Redeemer is within, ſtrive therefore to enter in.

Strive to enter in.

For without are Dogs, Sorcerers, and Whoremongers, and Murthererers, and Idolaters, and whoſoever loveth and maketh a Lie: without are alſo the Devils, and Hell, and Death and all damned Souls; without is howling, weeping, wailing, and gnaſhing of Teeth; yea, without are all the Miſeries, Sorrows, and Plagues that an infinite God can in Juſtice and Power inflict upon an evil and wicked Generation: Strive therefore to enter in at the ſtrait gate, Rev. 22. 15. Mat. 25. 41. Rev. 12. 9, Iſa. 65. 13, 14. Mat. 22. 13. Deut. 29. 18, 19, 20.

Strive to enter in at the ſtrait Gate, [for many] I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

We are now come to the Motive which our Lord urges to inforce his Exhortation: He told us before, That the Gate was ſtrait; he alſo exhorted us to ſtrive to enter in thereat, or to get thoſe things now, that will further our entrance then, and to ſet our ſelves againſt thoſe things that will hinder our entring in.

In this Motive there are five things to be minded. 20.

1. THAT there will be a diſappointment to ſome at the day of judgment, they will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

2. THAT not a few, but many, will meet with this diſappointment; for [many] will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

3. THIS Doctrine of the Miſcarriage of many, then, it ſtandeth upon the validity of the word of Chriſt; for many [I ſay] will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

4. Profeſſors ſhall make a great heap among the many that ſhall fall ſhort of heaven, for many I ſay [unto you] will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

5. WHERE Grace and Striving are wanting, now, ſeeking and contending to enter in, will be unprofitable then; for many, I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

But I will proceed in my former Method, to wit, to open the Words unto you.

For many, &c.

If he had ſaid, for [ſome] will fall ſhort; it had been a Sentence to be minded: If he had ſaid, for ſome that ſeek, will fall ſhort, it had been very awakening; but when he ſaith, many, many will fall ſhort, yea, many among Profeſſors will fall ſhort; this is not only awakening, but dreadful.

For many, &c.

I find this Word Many, variouſly applied in Scripture.

1. SOME-

1. SOMETIMES it intendeth the open profane, the wicked, and ungodly World, as where Christ saith, wide is the Gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be that go in thereat; Mat. 7. 13. I say by the many here, he intends those chiefly, that go on in the broad way of sin, and prophanness, bearing the tokens of their Damnation in their Foreheads, those whose dayly practice proclaims, that their Feet go down to Death, and their Steps take hold of Hell, Job 21. 29, 30. Isa. 3. 9. Pro. 55.

2. SOMETIMES this word, many, intendeth those that cleave to the People of God deceitfully, and in Hypocrisie; or as Daniel hath it, many shall cleave unto the Church with flatteries, Dan. 11. 34. The word many, in this Text, includeth all those who feign themselves better then they are in Religion; it includeth I say those that have Religion, only, for an Holy-day Saint to set them out at certain times and when they come among sutable company.

3. SOMETIMES this word many, intendeth them that Apostatize from Christ, such as for a while believe and in time of temptation fall away, as John saith of some of Christs Disciples, from that time many of his Disciples went back, and walked no more with him, Joh. 6. 66.

4. SOMETIMES this word many, intendeth them that make a great noise, and do many great things in the Church, and yet want saving Grace, many, saith Christ, will say unto me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not Prophesied in thy Name, and in thy Name cast out Devils, and in thy Name done many wonderful works: Mark there. will be many of these.

5. SOMETIMES this word many intendeth those poor ignorant deluded Souls that are led away with every Wind of Doctrine: those who are caught with the cunning and crafty deceiver, who lieth in wait to beguile unstable Souls. And many shall follow their pernicious ways, by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of, 2 Pet. 2. 2.

6. SOMETIMES this word many includeth all the World, good and bad. And many of them that sleep in the Dust of the Earth shall awake, some to everlasting Life, and some to everlasting shame and contempt: Dan. 12. 2. compare with Joh. 5. 28, 29.

7. LASTLY, Sometimes this word many intendeth the good only, even them that shall be saved, Luke 1. 10. chap. 2. 34.

Since then that the word is so variously applied, let us enquire how it must be taken in the Text, and.

1. IT must not be applied to the sincerely godly, for they shall never perish: Joh. 10. 27, 28.

2. IT cannot be applied to all the World, for then no flesh should be saved.

3. NEITHER is it to be applied to the open profane ouly, for then the Hypocrite is by it excluded.

4. BUT by the many in the Text our Lord intendeth in special the professor, the professor I say, how high soever he seems to be now, that shall be found without saving Grace in the day of Judgment.

Now that the professor, is in special intended in this Text, consider, so soon as the Lord had said, many will seek to enter in, and shall not be able, he pointeth, as with his finger, at the many that then he in special intendeth, to wit, them among whom he had taught; them that had eat and Drunken in his presence; them that had Prophesied, and cast out Devils in his Name, and in his Name had done many wonderful Works, Luke 13. 26. Mat. 7. 27. These are the many intended by the Lord in this Text, though others are also included under the sentence of Damnation by his word in other places. For many, &c. Matthew saith concerning this strait Gate, That there are but few that find it: But it seems the cast-aways in my Text, did find it, for you read that they knocked at it, and cried, Lord open unto us: so then, the meaning may seem to be this, many of the few that find it, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able. I find at the day of Judgment, some will be crying to the Rocks to cover them, and some at the Gates of Heaven for entrance: Suppose that those that cry to the Rock to cover them, are they whose Conscience will not suffer them, once to look God in the Face because they are fallen under present guilt, and the dreadful fears of the wrath of the Lamb, Rev. 6. 16. And that those that stand crying at the Gate of Heaven, are those whose confidence holds out to the last, even those whose boldness will enable them to contend even with Jesus Christ for entrance. Them, I say, that will have, profession, casting out of Devils, and many wonderful works to plead: Of this sort are the many in my Text; for many I say unto you, will seek to enter in and shall not be able. For many, &c. Could we compare the professors of the times with the everlasting word of God, this Doctrine would more easily appear to the Children of Men. How few among the many, yea, among the Swarms of Professors have Heart to make Conscience of walking before God, in this World, and to study his Glory among the Children of Men: How few, I say, have his Name lie nearer their Hearts, then their own carnal concerns, nay, do not many make his Word, and and his Name, and his ways a Stalking-Horse, to their own worldly advantages: God calls for Faith, good Conscience, Moderation, Self-denial, Humility, Heavenly-mindedness, love to Saints, to Enemies: and for conformity in Heart, in Word, and Life to his will, but where is it? Mark. 11. 22. Pet. 3. 16. Heb. 13. 5. Phil. 4. 5. Mat. 10. 37, 38, 39. Colo. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4. Mich. 6. 8. Revel. 2. 10. Joh. 15. 17. 1 Joh. 4. 21. Mat. 5. 44. Pro. 23. 26. Colo. 4. 6.

For many [I say unto you]. 23

These latter words carry in them a double argument to prove the truth asserted before. First, in that he directly pointeth at his followers. I I say unto [you]: many I say unto you, even to you that are my Disciples, to you that have Eat and Drunk in my presence. I know that sometimes Christ hath directed his Speech to his Disciples, not so much upon their accounts, as upon the accounts of others: but here it is not so: the I say unto you, in this place, it immediately concerned some of themselves. I say unto you, ye shall begin to stand without, and to knock, saying; Lord, Lord open to us, and he shall answer, and say unto you, I know you not, whence you are; then shall ye begin to say, we have Eat, and

Drunk

Drunk in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreets: But he ſhall ſay, I tell you, I know you not whence you are, depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity, 'tis you, you, you, that I mean. I ſay unto you. It is common with a profeſſing People, when they hear a ſmart and thundring Sermon, to ſay, now has the Preacher paid off the Drunkard, the Swearer, the Liar, the Covetous, and Adulterer; forgetting that theſe ſins may be committed in a ſpiritual and myſtical way. There is ſpiritual Drunkenneſs, ſpiritual Adultery, and a man may be a Liar that calls God his Father when he is not; or that calls himſelf a Chriſtian, and is not. Wherefore perhaps all theſe Thunders and Lightnings in this terrible Sermon, may more concern thee than thou art aware of; I ſay unto you: unto you Profeſſors, may be the Application of all this Thunder, Rev. 2. 9. chap. 3. 9. I ſay unto you.

Had not the Lord Jeſus deſigned by theſe words, to ſhew what an overthrow will one day be made among Profeſſors; he needed not to have you'd it at this rate, as in the Text; and afterwards he has done, the Sentence had run intelligible enough without it; I ſay, without his ſaying [I ſay unto you;] but the Truth is, the Profeſſor is in danger, the Preacher, and the Hearer, the workers of Miracles, and workers of Wonders may all be in danger of damning, notwithſtanding all their attainments. And to awaken us all about this Truth therefore, the Text muſt run thus; For many, I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

See you not yet, that the Profeſſor is in danger, and that theſe Words, I ſay unto you, are a Propheſie of the everlaſting perdition of ſome that are famous in the Congregation of Saints: I ſay, if you do not ſee it, pray God your eyes may be opened, and beware that thy portion be not as the portion of one of thoſe that are wrapped up in the 28*th.* verſe of the Chapter. There ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of Teeth, when ye ſhall ſee Abraham, and Iſaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the Kingdom of heaven, and you your ſelves thruſt out.

For many [I ſay] unto you.

45. Theſe Words, I told you, carry in them a double Argument for confirmation of the truth aſſerted before: Firſt, the Profeſſors are here particularly pointed at; and ſecondly, it is the ſaying of the Truth himſelf; for theſe words, I ſay, are words full of Authority; I ſay it, I ſay unto you, ſays Chriſt, as he ſaith in another place, It is I that ſpeak, behold it is I: The Perſon whoſe words we have now under conſideration, was no blundering raw-headed Preacher, but the very Wiſdom of God, his Son, and him that hath lain in his boſom, from everlaſting, and conſequently, had the moſt perfect knowledge of his Father's will, and how it would fare with Profeſſors at the end of this world. And now hearken what himſelf doth ſay of the words which he hath ſpoken; Heaven and earth ſhall paſs away, but my word ſhall not paſs away, Matt. 24. 35. [I ſay] unto you.

The Prophets uſed not to ſpeak after this manner, nor yet the holy Apoſtles; for thus to ſpeak, is to preſs things to be received upon their own authority. They uſed to ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord, or Paul, or Peter an Apoſtle, or a Servant of God. But now we are dealing with the words of the Son of God; it is he that hath ſaid it, wherefore we find the truth of the periſhing of many Profeſſors, aſſerted, and confirmed by Chriſt's own mouth. This conſideration carrieth great awakening in it; but into ſuch a faſt ſleep are many now adays fallen, that nothing will awaken them, but that ſhrill and terrible cry, behold the Bride-groom comes, go ye out to meet him. I ſay unto you,

There are two things upon which this Aſſertion may be grounded. 25. 1. There is in the world a thing like Grace, that is not, 2. There is a ſin called the ſin againſt the Holy Ghoſt, from which there is no redemption. And both theſe things befal Profeſſors.

Firſt, There is in the world a thing like Grace that is not. This is evident, becauſe we read that there are ſome that not only make a fair ſhew in the fleſh, that glory in appearance, that appear beautiful outward, that do as God's People, but have not the grace of God's people, Gal. 6. 12, 2 Cor. 5. 12. Matt. 23. 27. Iſa. 57. 2. 2. 'Tis evident alſo from thoſe frequent Cautions that are every where in the Scriptures given us about this thing. Be not deceived, let a man examine himſelf; examine your ſelves, whether you be in the faith: All theſe expreſſions intimate to us, that there may be a ſhew of, or a thing like Grace, where there is no Grace indeed. Gal. 6 7. 1 Cor. 11. 28. 2 Cor. 13. 5. 3. This is evident from the concluſion made by the holy Ghoſt upon this very thing, for if a man thinketh himſelf to be ſomething when he is nothing, he deceiveth himſelf, Gal. 6. 3. The holy Ghoſt here concludeth, that a man may think himſelf to be ſome thing, may think he hath grace, when he hath none, may think himſelf ſomething for heaven and another world, when indeed he is juſt nothing at all with reference thereto; the holy Ghoſt alſo determines upon this point, to wit, that they do ſo deceive themſelves: for if a man thinketh himſelf to be ſomething, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himſelf; he deceiveth his own ſoul, he deceiveth himſelf of heaven and ſalvation: So again, let no man beguile you of your reward, Col. 2. 18. 4. It is manifeſt from the Text; for many I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able: Alas! great light, great parts, great works, and great confidence of heaven, may be where there is no faith of God's Elect, no love of the Spirit, no repentance unto Salvation, no ſanctification of the Spirit, and ſo conſequently no ſaving Grace: But,

Secondly, As there is a thing like grace, which is not; ſo there is a Sin called the Sin againſt the Holy Ghoſt, from which there is no redemption, and this Sin doth more ordinarily befal Profeſſors.

1. There is a Sin called the Sin againſt the holy Ghoſt, from which there is no redemption; this is evident both from Matthew and Mark; But whoſoever ſpeaketh againſt the holy Ghoſt, it ſhall not be forgiven him neither in this world, neither in the world to come; But he that ſhall blaſpheme againſt the holy Ghoſt, hath never forgiveneſs, but is in danger of eternal damnation, Matt. 12. 32. Mark 3. 29. Wherefore when we know that a man hath ſinned this Sin, we are not to pray for him, or to have compaſſion on him, 1 John 15. 16. Jude. 22.

1. This ſin doth moſt ordinarily befal Profeſſors, for there are few, if any, that are not

Professors, that are at present capable of sining this sin. They which were once enlightened, and have tasted the heavenly gift, that were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, and have tasted the good word of God, and the power of the World to come, Heb. 6 4, 5. of this sort are they that commit this sin; Peter also describes them to be such, that sin the unpardonable sin. For if after they have escaped the pollution of the World through the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again intangled therein and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning, 2 Pet. 2. 2. The other passage in the tenth of the Hebrews holdeth forth the same thing; For if we sin wilfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sin, but a certain, fearful looking for of Judgment and fiery indignation that shall devour the adversaries. Heb. 10. 26, 27. These therefore are the persons that are the prey for this sin: This sin feedeth upon Professors, and they that are such, do very often fall into the mouth of this eater. Some fall into the mouth of this sin, by delusions, and doctrines of Devils, and some fall into the mouth of it, by returning with the Dog to his own vomit again, and with the sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire, 1 Pet. 2. 22. I shall not here give you a particular description of this sin, that I have done elsewhere; but such a sin there is, and they that commit it shall never have forgiveness: and I say again, there be Professors that commit this unpardonable sin, yea more than the most are aware of: Let all therefore look about them; the Lord awaken them that they may so do: For what with a profession without grace, and by the venom of the sin against the Holy Ghost, many will seek to enter in, and shall not be able. Will seek to enter in.

27. This Kingdom, at the Gate of which the Reprobate will be stopt, will be at the last Judgment, the desire of all the World, and they, especially they in my Text will seek to enter in. For then they will see that the blessedness is to those that shall get into this Kingdom, according to that which is written, Blessed are they that do his Commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the Gates into the City, Revel. 22. 14. To prove that they will seek, although I have done it already, yet read these Texts at your leisure, Matt. 25. 11. ch. 7. 22. Luk. 13. 28. And in a word, to give you the reason why they will seek to enter in.

1. NOW they will see what a Kingdom it is, what Glory there is in it, and now they shall also see the blessedness which they shall have, that shall then be counted worthy to enter in: The reason why this Kingdom is so little regarded, it is because it is not seen, the glory of it is hid from the eyes of the World: Their eye hath not seen, nor their ear heard, &c. I, but then they shall hear and see too, and when this comes to pass, then even then he that now most seldom thinks thereof, will seek to enter in.

2. THEY will now see what Hell is, and what Damnation in Hell is, more clear than ever: They will also see how the breath of the Lord, like a stream of brimstone doth kindle it: O the sight of the burning fiery Furnace which is prepared for the Devil and his Angels! This, this will make work in the souls of cast aways at that day of God Almighty, and then they will seek to enter in.

3. NOW they will see what the meaning of such words as these are, Hell-fire, everlasting fire, devouring fire, fire that never shall be quenched: Now they will see what for ever, means: What eternity means: Now they will see what this word means, the bottomless pit: Now they will hear roaring of sinners in this place, howling in that, some crying to the Mountains to fall upon them, and others to the Rocks to cover them; now they will see blessedness is no where but within.

4. NOW they will see what glory the godly are possessed with, how they rest in Abraham's bosom, how they enjoy eternal glory, how they walk in their white robes, and are equal to the Angels. O the favour, and blessedness, and unspeakable happiness that now Gods People shall have, and this shall be seen by them that are shut out, by them that God hath rejected for ever, and this will make them seek to enter in, Luk. 16. 22, 23. 13. 28. Will seek to enter in.

Q. But some may say, How will they seek to enter in? 28.

Ans. THEY will put on all the confidence they can, they will trick, and trim up their profession and adorn it with what bravery they can. Thus the Foolish Virgins sought to enter in, they did trim up their Lamps, made themselves as fine as they could, they made shift to make their Lamps to shine a while, but the Son of God, discovering himself, their confidence failed, their Lamps went out, the door was shut upon them, and they were kept out. Matt. 25. 1, to 12.

2. THEY will seek to enter in, by crouding themselves in among the godly. Thus the Man without the Wedding Garment, sought to enter in, he goes to the Weedding, gets into the Wedding-Chamber, sits close among the Guests, and then, without doubt, concluded, he should escape Damnation, but you know, one black sheep is soon seen, though it be among an hundred white ones, why even thus it faired with this poor Man; and when the King came in to see the Guests, he saw there a Man that had not on a Wedding-Garment. He spied him presently, and before one word was spoken to any of the other, he had this dreadful Salutation, Friend how cameſt thou in hither, not having on a Wedding-Garment? And he was speechless, tho' he could swagger it out amongst the Guests, yet the Master of the Feast, at first coming in, strikes him dumb, and having nothing to say for himself, the King had something to say against him: Then said the King to the Servants (the Angels) bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of Teeth. Matt. 22. 11, 12, 13.

3. THEY will seek to enter in by pleading their Profession and admittance to the Lords Ordinances, when they were in the World, Lord we have eat and drank in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets, we sat at thy Table, and used to frequent Sermons and Christian Assemblies; we were well thought of by thy Saints, and were admitted into thy Churches, we professed the same faith as they did, Lord, Lord open unto us.

4. THEY will seek to enter in, by pleading their Virtues, how they subjected to his Ministry, how they wrought for him, what good they did in the World, and the like, Matt. 7. 22. but neither will this help them; the same answer that the the two former had, the same have these; Depart from me ye workers of Iniquity.

5. THEY will seek to enter in by pleading Excuses, where they cannot evade Conviction. The slothful Servant went this way to work, when he was called to account for not improving his Lords Money. Lord (says he) I knew thou wast an hard Man, reaping where thou hast not sowed, and gathering where thou hast not strewed, and I was afraid, &c. (either that I should not please in laying out thy money, or that I should put it into hands, out of which I should not get it again at thy need) and I went and hid thy talent in the earth, lo, there thou hast that is thine, as if he had said, true Lord, I have not improved, I have not got, but consider also, I have not imbezled, I have not spent, nor lost thy money, Lo there thou hast that is thine, Matt. 25. 24, 25, 26, 27. There are but few will be able to say these last words at the Day of Judgment; the most of Professors are for imbezzeling, misspending and slothing away their time, their talents, their opportunities to do good in; but, I say, if he that can make so good an excuse as to say, Lo, there thou hast what is thine: I say, if such an one shall be called a wicked and slothful servant, if such an one shall be put to shame at the Day of Judgment, yea, if such an one, shall, notwithstanding this care to save his Lords money, be cast as unprofitable into utter darkness, where shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, what will they do that have neither took care to lay out, nor care to keep what was committed to their trust?

6. They will seek to enter in by pleading, that Ignorance was the ground of their miscarrying in the things wherein they offended; wherefore when Christ charges them with want of love to him, and with want of those fruits that should prove their love to be true, as, that they did not feed him, did not give him drink, did not take him in, did not cloth him, visit him, come unto him, and the like: They readily reply, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee: Matt. 25. 41, 42, 43, 44. As who should say, Lord, we are not conscious to our selves, that this charge is worthily laid at our door. God forbid that we should have been such sinners, but Lord, give an instance; when was it, or where? True, there was a Company of poor sorry people in the World very inconsiderable, set by with no body, but for thy self we professed thee, we loved thee, and hadst thou been with us in the World, wouldest thou have worn Gold, wouldest thou have eaten the sweetest of the World, we would have provided it for thee; and therefore, Lord, Lord open to us. But will this Plea do? No, then shall he answer them, Inasmuch as you did it not to one of the least of these my brethren, ye did it not to me. This Plea then, though grounded upon Ignorance, which is one of the strangest pleas for neglect of duty, would not give them admittance into the Kingdom. These shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal.

29. I might add other things by which 'twill appear how they will seek to enter in; as,

1. THEY will make a stop at this Gate, this beautiful Gate of Heaven, they will begin to stand without at the Gate, as being loath to go any further: Never did Malefactor so unwillingly turn off the Ladder, when the Rope was about his Neck, as these will turn away, in that day, from the Gates of Heaven to Hell.

2. THEY will not only make a stop at the Gate; but there they will knock and call, this also argueth them willing to enter: They will begin to stand without and to knock at the Gate saying, Lord, Lord open to us. This word, Lord, being doubled, shews the vehemency of their desires: Lord, Lord, open unto us. The Devils are coming; Lord, Lord, the pit opens her mouth upon us: Lord, Lord there is nothing but Hell and Damnation left us, if Lord, Lord thou hast not mercy upon us; Lord, Lord open to us.

3. THEIR last argument for entrance is their tears, when groundless confidence, pleading of vertues, excuses, and ignorance, will not do; when standing at the Gate, knowing and calling Lord, Lord, open to us, will not do, then they betake themselves to their tears: Tears are sometimes the most powerful Arguments, but they are nothing worth here: Esau also sought it carefully, with tears, but it helped him nothing at all, Heb. 12. 15, 16. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, for the Gate is shut for ever, mercy is gone for ever, Christ hath rejected them for ever: All their Pleas, Excuses, and Tears, will not make them able to enter into this Kingdom:

For many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in and shall not be able.

I come now to the latter part of the words which closely shews us the reason of the rejection of these many that must be damned, they will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

An Hypocrite, a false Professor may go a great way, they may pass through the first and second Watch, to wit, may be approved of Christians and Churches, but what will they do when they come at this Iron Gate that leadeth into the City? There the workers of iniquity will fall, be cast down, and shall not be able to rise.

And shall not be able. 30.

The time, as I have already hinted, which my Text respecteth, it is the Day of Judgment, a day when all Masks and Vizzards shall be taken off from all Faces: It is a day wherein God will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the heart, 1 Cor. 4. 5. It is also the day of his wrath, the day in which he will pay vengeance, even a recompence to his Adversaries.

At this day those things that now these many count sound and good, will then shake like a Quagmire, even all their naked knowledge, their feigned faith, pretended love, glorious shews of gravity in the face, their holy-day words and specious carriages will stand them in little stead: I call them holy-day ones, for I perceive that some Professors do with Religion, just as People do with their best Apparel, hang it against the Wall all the Week, and put them on on Sundays; For as some scarce ever put on a Suit, but when they go to a Fair or a Market, so little House-Religion will do with some; they save Religion till they go to a Meeting, or till they meet with a godly Chapman: O poor Religion! O poor Professor, what wilt thou do at this Day, and the Day of thy Tryal and Judgment?

cover thy self thou canst not; go for a Christian thou canst not; stand against the Judge thou canst not; what wilt thou do? The ungodly shall not stand in Judgment, nor Sinners in the Congregation of the Righteous.

And shall not be able.

The ability here intended, is not that which standeth in carnal power of fleshly subtility, but in the truth and simplicity of those things, for the sake or which, God giveth the Kingdom of Heaven to his People.

There are five things, for the want of which, 31. this People will not be able to Enter.

First, this Kingdom belongs to the Elect, to those for whom it was prepared from the Foundation of the World, Matt. 25. Hence Christ saith, when he comes, He will send forth his Angels with a great sound of a Trumpet, and they shall gather together his Elect, from the four Winds, from one end of Heaven to another, Mat. 24. and hence he saith again, I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah, an inheritor of my Mountains, and mine Elect shall inherit it, and my Servants shall dwell there; they shall deceive, if it were possible, the very Elect, but the Elect hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded, Rom. 11. 7.

Secondly, They will not be able to enter, because they will want the Birth-Right; the Kingdom of Heaven is for the Heirs, and if Children then Heirs, if Born again then Heirs: Wherefore it is said expresly, except a Man be Born again he cannot see the Kingdom of God; by this one word, down goes all carnal priviledge of being Born of Flesh and Blood, and of the will of Man, canst thou produce the Birth-right, but art thou sure thou canst? for it will little profit thee to think of the blessed Kingdom of Heaven, if thou wantest a Birth-right to give thee inheritance there. Esau, did dispise his Birth-right, saying what good will this Birth-right do me? and there are many in the World of his mind to this day: tush (say they,) they talk of being Born again, what good shall a Man get by that? they say, no going to Heaven without being Born again, but God is merciful, Christ died for Sinners, and we will turn when we can tend it, and doubt not but all will be well at last. But I will answer thee, thou Child of Esau, that the Birth-right and Blessing go together, miss of one, and thou shalt never have the other; Esau found this true, for having first delpised the Birth-right, when he would afterwards have inhereted the Blessing he was rejected, for he found no place of Repentance though he sought it carefully with Tears; Gen. 25. Heb. 12. 14, 15, 16.

Thirdly, They shall not be able to enter in who have not believed with the Faith of God's Operation, the Faith that is most Holy, even the Faith of God's Elect: He that believeth on the Son of God hath everlasting Life, he that believeth not the Son shall not see Life, but the wrath of God abideth on him. Joh. 3. But now, this Faith is the effect of electing Love, and of a new Birth, Joh. 1, 11, 12. Therefore all the Professors that have not that Faith which floweth from being Born of God, will seek to enter in and shall not be able.

Fourthly, They shall not be able to enter in, that have not Gospel-holiness; Holiness that is the effect of Faith is that which admits into the presence of God, and into his Kingdom too. Blessed and Holy are they that have part in the first Resurrection, on such the second Death (which is Hell and Eternal Damnation Rev. 20. 14.) hath no power, Rev. 20. 6. Blessed and Holy, with the Holiness that flows from Faith which is in Christ, for to these the inheritance belongs. That they may receive Forgiveness of Sins and inheritance among them that are Sanctified by Faith (said Christ) which is in me, Acts 26. 18. This Holiness which is the Natural effect of Faith in the Son of God, Christ Jesus the Lord, will at this day of Judgment distinguish from all other shews of Holiness and Sanctity, be they what they will, and will admit the Soul that hath this Holiness into his Kingdom, when the rest will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

Fifthly, They shall not be able to enter in, that do not persevere in this Blessed Faith and Holiness, not that they that have them indeed, can finally fall away, and everlastingly perish, but it hath pleased Jesus Christ to bid them that have the right, to hold fast that they have, to endure to the end, and then tells them they shall be Saved: though 'tis as true, that none is of power to keep himself, but God worketh together with his Children, and they are kept by the Power of God through Faith unto Salvation, which is also laid up in Heaven for them, 1 Pet. 1. 3, 4, 5.

The Foolish shall not stand in thy sight, thou hatest the workers of iniquity. The Foolish are the unholy ones, that neither have Faith nor Holiness, nor perseverance in godliness, and yet lay claim to the Kingdom of Heaven: but better is a little with righteousness, then great Revenues without Right: Psal. 55. Prov. 16. 8. what is it for me to claim a House, or a Farm without right; or to say, all this is mine, but have nothing to shew for it: this is but like the Revenues of the Foolish: his Estate lieth in his conceit; he hath nothing by Birth-right, and Law, and therefore shall not be able to inherit the possession: for many I say unto you will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

Thus you see, that the non Elect, shall not be able to enter, that he that is not Born again, shall not be able to enter, that he that hath not saving Faith, with Holiness and perseverance flowing therefrom, shall not be able to enter: wherefore consider of what I have said.

I come now to give you some Observations from the words, and they may be three. 32.

First, When Men have put in all the claim they can for Heaven, but few will have it for their inheritance; for many I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

Secondly, Great therefore will be the disappointment that many will meet with at the day of Judgment; for many will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

Thirdly, Going to heaven therefore will be no trival business, Salvation is not got by a Dream, they that would then have that Kingdom must now strive lawfully to enter: for many I say unto you will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

I shall speak chiefly, and yet but briefly to the first of these Observations, to wit,

That when Men have put in all the claim they can to the Kingdom of heaven, but few will have it for

for their inheritance: The Observation standeth of two parts.

* First, That the time is comming, when every Man will put in whatever claim they can to the Kingdom of Heaven.

Secondly, There will be but few of them that put in claim thereto, that shall enjoy it for their inheritance.

I shall speak but a word or two, to the first part of the Observation, because I have prevented my enlargement thereon, by my explication upon the words; but you find in the 25. of Matthew, that all they on the Left-hand of the Judge did put in all the claim they could for this Blessed Kingdom of Heaven: If you shall take them on the Left-hand, as most do, for all the sinners that shall be Damned, then that compleatly proveth the first part of the Observation, for it is expresly said, then shall they, (all of them joyntly, and every one apart) also answer him saying, Lord, when saw we thee thus and thus, and did not minister unto thee, Mat. 25. 44. I could here bring you in the plea of the sloathful Searvant, the cry of the Foolish Virgins; I could also here inlarge upon that passage; Lord, Lord, have we not Eat and Drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our Streets; but these things are handled already in the handling of which, this first part of the Observation is proved; wherefore without more words, I will, God assisting by his Grace, descend to the second part thereof, to wit,

33. There will be but few of them that put in claim thereto, that will enjoy it for their inheritance.

I shall speak distinctly to this part of the Observation, and shall first confirm it by a Scripture or two.

Straight is the Gate, and narrow is the way that leadeth unto Life, and few there be that find it; Mat. 7. 13, 14.

Fear not little flock, it is your Fathers good pleasure to give you the Kingdom, Luk. 12. 32. By these two Text, and by many more that will be urged anon, you may see the truth of what I have said. To enlarge therefore upon the truth; and, First, more generally. Secondly, more particularly.

First, More generally, I shall prove that in all ages, but few have been saved.

Secondly, More particularly, I shall prove but few of them that profess have been saved.

First, In the Old World, when it was most populous, even in the days of Noah, we read but of eight Persons that were saved out of it; well therefore might Peter call them but few, but how few? Why but eight Souls; wherein few; that is, eight Souls were saved by Water, 1 Pet. 3.20. He touches a second time upon this truth, saying, he spared not the Old World, but saved Noah the eight Person, a Preacher of righteousness, bringing in the floud upon the world of the ungodly: Mark all the rest are called the ungodly, and there were also a World of them. 2 Pet. 2. 5. These are also taken notice of in Job, and go there also, by the name of wicked Men, Hast thou marked the Old way, which wicked Men have troden, which were cut down out of time, whose foundation was overflown with a floud, which said unto God, depart from us, and what can the Almighty do for them? Job. 22. 15, 16, 17, 18.

There were therefore but eight persons that escaped the wrath of God, in the day that the floud came upon the Earth, the rest were ungodly; there was also a World of them, and they are to this day in the Prison of Hell, Heb. 6. 11, 6, 1 Pet. 3. 19, 20.

Nay, I must correct my Pen, there were but seven of the eight that were good, for Ham though he scaped the Judgment of the water, yet the curse of God overtook him to his Damnation.

Secondly, When the World began again to be repleniished, and People began to multiply therein: How few even in all Ages do we read of, that were saved from the Damnation of the World?

1. ONE Abraham and his Wife, God called out of the Land of the Caldeans, (I called (said God) Abraham alone, Isa. 51. 1, 2.

2. ONE Lot out of Sodom and Gomorah, out of Adma and Zeboim, one Lot out of Four Cities; indeed, his Wife and two Daughters, went out of Sodom with him, but they all three proved naught, as you may see in the Nineteenth of Genesis: Wherefore Peter observes, that Lot only was saved: He turned the Cities of Sodom and Gomorah into Ashes, condemning them with an overthrow, making them an Example unto those that often should live ungodly, and delivered just Lot; that Righteous Man, read 2 Pet. 2. 6, 7, 8.

Jude says, that in this Condemnation, God over-threw, not only Sodom and Gomorah, but the Cities about them also: and yet you find none but Lot, could be found that was righteous either in Sodom or Gomorah, or the Cities about them, wherefore they, all of them, suffer the Vengance of Eternal Fire, ver. 7.

Thirdly, Come we now to the time of the Judges, how few then were the Godly, even then when the Inhabitants of the Villages ceased, they ceased in Israel, the High-ways (of God) were then unoccupied, Judg. 5. 6, 7.

Fourthly, There were but few in the days of David: help Lord, says he, for the Godly Man ceaseth, for the faithful fail, from among the Children of Men, Psal. 12. 1.

Fifthly, In Isaia's time the saved were come to such a few, that he positively says, but that there were a very small number left, God had made them like Sodom, and they had been like unto Gomorah, Isa. 1. 8, 9.

Sixthly, It was cryed unto them in the time of Jeremiah, that they should run to and fro through the Streets of Jerusalem, and see, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a Man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth, and I will Pardon it, Jer. 5. 1.

Seventhly, God shewed his Servant Ezekiel how few there would be saved in his day, by the Vision of a few Hairs, saved out of the midst of a few Hairs; for the saved were a few saved out of a few, Ezek. 5. 3, 4, 5.

Eighthly, You find in the time of the Prophet Micha, how the Godly complain, that as to number they then were, so few, that he compares them to those that are left behind, when they had gathered the Summer-Fruit, Mic. 7. 1.

Ninthly, when Christ was come, how did he confirm this Truth, that but few of them that put in claim for Heaven, will have it for their inheritance.

But

But the common People could not hear it, and therefore upon a time when he did but a little hint at this truth, the people, even all in the Synagogue where he preached it, were filled with wrath, rose up, thrust him out of the City, and led him unto the brow of the hill (whereon their City was built) that they might cast him down headlong, Luk. 4. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29.

Tenthly, John, who was after Christ, saith, the whole World lies in wickedness, that all the World wandered after the Beast, and that power was given to the Beast, over all Kindreds, Tongues and Nations; power to do what? Why to cause all, both great and small, rich and poor, bond and free, to receive his mark, and to be branded for him: John 5. 10. Revel. 13. 3, 8, 16.

Eleventhly, Should we come to observation and experience, the shew of the countenance, of the bulk of Men, doth witness against them, they declare their sin like Sodom, they hide it not, Isa. 3. 9. where is the Man that maketh the Almighty God his delight, and that designeth his Glory in the World; Do not even almost all, pursue this World, their Lusts and Pleasures? And so, consequently, say unto God, depart from us, for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways, or what's the Almighty that we should serve him? It's in vain to serve God, &c.

So that without doubt, it will appear a truth in the day of God, That but few of them, that shall put in their claim to Heaven, will have it for their inheritance.

34. Before I pass this head, I will shew you to what the saved are compared in the Scriptures.

First, They are compared to an handful, there shall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the Mountains, &c. Psal. 27. 16. this corn is nothing else but them that shall be saved, Matt. 3. 12. Chap. 13. 30. But mark, There shall be an handful; what's an handful when compared with the whole heap, or what's an handful out of the rest of the World?

Secondly, As they are compared to an handful, so they are compared to a Lillie among the Thorns, Song. 2. 2. which is rare, and not so commonly seen. As the Lillie among Thorns, saith Christ, so is my Beloved among the Daughters. By Thorns we understand the worst and best of Men, even all that are destitute of the Grace of God, for the best of them is as a Bryar, and the most upright of them as a Thorn-hedge, Mich. 7. 4. 2 Sam. 23. 6. 2. I know that she may be called a Lillie amongst Thorns also, because she meets with the pricks of Persecution, Ezek. 2. 6 chap. 29. 24. 3. She may also be thus termed, to shew the disparity that is betwixt Hypocrites and the Church, Luk. 8. 14. Heb. 8. But this is not all, the saved are compared to a Lillie among Thorns, to shew you, that they are but few in the World; to shew you, that they are few and rare; for as Christ compares her to a Lilly among Thorns, so she compares him to an Apple-tree among the Trees of the Wood, which is rare, and scarce, not common.

Thirdly, They that are saved, are called but one of many, for though there be threescore Queens, and fourscore Concubines, and Virgins without number, yet my love, saith Christ, is but one, my undefiled is but one, Song. 6. 8. 9. according to that of Jeremiah, I will take you, one of a City, Jer. 3. That saying of Paul is much like this, know you not, that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the Prize, 1 Cor. 9. 24. but one, that is, few of many, few of them that run, for he is not here, comparing them that run, with them that sit still, but with them that run, some run and lose, some run and win; they that run and win, are few in comparison of them that run and lose: They that run in a race run all, but one receives the prise: Let there then be threescore Queens, and fourscore Concubines, and Virgins without number, yet the saved are but few.

Fourthly, They that are the saved, are compared to the gleaning after the Vintage is in: Wo is me, said the Church, for I am as when they have gathered the Summer Fruit, as the Grape gleanings after the Vintage is in, Mich. 7. 1. The gleanings! What's the gleanings to the whole Crop? And yet you here see, to the gleanings are the saved compared; 'tis the Devil and Sin that carry away the Cart-loads, while Christ and his Ministers come after a gleaning: But the gleaning of the Grapes of Ephraim, are better than the Vintage of Abiezer, Jud. 8. Them that Christ and his Ministers glean up and bind up in the bundle of life, are better than the Loads that go the other way: You know it is often the cry of the poor in Harvest, poor gleaning, poor gleaning: And the Ministers of the Gospel, they also cry, Lord, who hath believed our report? And to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed? Isa. 53. 1. When the Prophet speaks of the saved under this Metaphor of gleaning, how doth he amplify the matter? Gleaning Grapes shall be left, says he, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five, in the outmost fruitful branches thereof, saith the Lord, Isa. 17. 6. Thus you see what gleaning is left in the Vineyard, after the Vintage is in, two or three here, four or five there. Alas! They that shall be saved, when the Devil and Hell have had their due, they will be but as the gleaning, they will be but few, they that go to Hell, go thither in clusters, but the saved go not so to Heaven, Matt. 13. 30. Mich. 7. wherefore when the Prophet speaketh of the saved, he saith, there is no cluster, but when he speaketh of the Damned, he saith, they are gathered by clusters, Revel. 14. 18, 19. O sinners, but few will be saved. O Professors, but few will be saved!

Fifthly, They that shall be saved, are compared to jewels; And they shall be mine, saith the Lord, in the day that I make up my jewels. Malachi 3. 13. Jewels, you know, are rare things, things that are not found in every house: Jewels will lie in little room, being few and small; though lumber takes up much; in almost every house, you may find brass, and iron, and lead; and in every place you may find hypocritical Professors, but the saved are not these common things: They are Gods peculiar treasure, Psal. 35. 4. wherefore Paul distinguisheth betwixt the lumber, and the treasure in the house; there is, saith he, in a great house, not only vessels of Gold and Silver, but also of wood, and of earth, and some to honour, and some to dishonour, 2 Tim. 2. 20. here is a word for wooden and earthy Professors, the Jewels and Treasure are Vessels to Honour, they of wood and earth, are Veſſels of diſhonour, that is, Veſſels for deſtruction, *Rom.*9.21.

• Sixthly, They that ſhall be ſaved, are compared to a remnant; except the Lord had left in us a very ſmall remnant, we ſhould have been as Sodom, and ſhould have been like unto Gomorrah, Iſa. 1.9. A remnant, a ſmall remnant, a very ſmall remnant: O how doth the Holy Ghoſt word it? And all to ſhew you; how few ſhall be ſaved: Every one knows, what a remnant is, but this is a ſmall remnant, a very ſmall remnant. So again, ſing with gladneſs for Jacob, and ſhout among the chief of the Nations, publiſh ye, praiſe ye, and ſay, O Lord, ſave thy people, the remnant of Iſrael; Jer. 31.7. What ſhall I ſay? The ſaved are often in Scripture called, a remnant, Ezek. 9. 8. 14. Iſa. 10. 20, 21, 22. chap. 11. 11. 16. Jer. 23. 3. Joel 2. 32. But what's a remnant, to the whole piece? What's a remnant of People, to the whole Kingdom? Or, what's a remnant of Wheat to the whole Harveſt

Seventhly, The ſaved are compared to the tythe, or tenth part, wherefore when God ſendeth the Prophet to make the Hearts of the people fat, their Ears dull, and to ſhut their Eyes: The Prophet asketh, How long? To which God anſwereth, Until the Cities be waſted without Inhabitant, and the Houſes without Man and the Land be utterly deſolate, and the Lord have removed Man far away, and there be a great forſaking in the midſt of the Land: But yet, (as God ſaith in another place, I will not make a full end,) in it ſhall be a tenth, ſo the holy ſeed ſhall be the ſubſtance thereof, Iſa. 6. 10. 11, 12, 13. But what's a tenth? What's one in ten? And yet ſo ſpeaks the Holy Ghoſt, when he ſpeaks of the Holy ſeed, of thoſe that was to be reſerved from the Judgment; and obſerve it, the fatning, and blinding of the reſt, it was to their everlaſting deſtruction, and ſo both Chriſt and Paul expounds it often in the new Teſtament, Matt. 13, 14, 15. Mark 4. 12. Luke 8. 10. John 12. 40. Acts 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8. So that thoſe that are reſerved from them that periſh, will be very few, one in ten. A tenth ſhall return, ſo the holy ſeed ſhall be the ſubſtance thereof.

I ſhall not add more generals at this time, I pray God that the World be not offended at theſe: But without doubt, but few of them that ſhall put in their claim for heaven will have it for their Inheritance; which will yet further appear in the reading of that which follows.

35. Secondly, Therefore I come more particularly to ſhew you, that but few will be ſaved, I ſay, but few of Profeſſors themſelves will be ſaved, for that is the truth, that the Text doth more directly look at and defend. Give me therefore thy hand (good Reader) and let us ſoberly walk through the reſt of what ſhall be ſaid, and let us compare as we go each particular with the Holy Scripture.

Firſt, 'Tis ſaid, The Daughter of Zion is left as a Cottage in a Vineyard, as a Lodge in a Garden of Cucumbers, as a beſieged City, Iſa. 1. 8. The Vineyard was the Church of Iſrael, Iſa. 5. 1. the Cottage in that Vineyard, was the Daughter of Zion, or the truly gracious amongſt, or in that Church: A Cottage, God had but a Cottage there, but a little habitation in the Church, a very few that were truly gracious amongſt that great multitude that profeſſed; and had it not been for theſe, for this Cottage, the reſt had been ruined as Sodom: Except the Lord of Hoſts had left in us, in the Church, a very few, they had been as Sodom, v. 9. wherefore among the multitude of them that ſhall be damned, Profeſſors will make a conſiderable party.

Secondly, For though thy people Iſrael, be as the ſand of the Sea, a remnant ſhall return, a remnant ſhall be ſaved, Iſa. 10. 22. Rom. 9. 27. for though thy people Iſrael, whom thou broughteſt out of Egypt, to whom thou haſt given Church-conſtitution- holy Laws, holy Ordinances, holy Prophets, and holy Covenants: Thy People, by ſeparation from all People, and thy People by profeſſion: Though this thy People be as the Sand of the Sea, a remnant ſhall be ſaved: Wherefore among the multitude of them that ſhall be Damned, Profeſſors will make a conſiderable Party.

Thirdly, Reprobate ſilver ſhall men call them becauſe the Lord hath rejected them, Jer. 6. 30. the people here under conſideration, are called in verſe 27. God's People, his people by profeſſion. I have ſet thee for a tower and a fortreſs among my people, that thou maieſt know, and try their way, what follows? They are all grievous revolters, walking with ſlanders, reprobate ſilver, the Lord hath rejected them. In chap. 7. ver. 29. they are called alſo the generation of his wrath: For the Lord hath rejected, and forſaken the generation of his wrath. This therefore I gather out of theſe holy Scriptures; that with reference to profeſſion, and Church conſtitution, a people may be called the People of God, but with reference to the event and final concluſion that God will make with ſome of them, they may be truly the generation of his wrath.

Fourthly, In the 5th of Iſaiah, you read again of the Vineyard of God, and that it was planted on a very fruitful Hill, planted with the choiceſt Vines, had a VVall, a Tower, a VVine-preſs belonging to it, and all things that could put it into right order and good Government, as a Church, but this Vineyard of the Lord of Hoſts brought forth wild Grapes, Fruits unbecoming her Conſtitution and Government, wherefore the Lord takes from her his hedge and wall, and lets her be trodden down: Read Chriſt's Expoſition upon it in Matt. 2. and 33. &c. look to it Profeſſors, theſe are the words of the Text, for many, I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Fifthly, Son of Man, ſaid God to the Prophet, the houſe of Iſrael is to me become droſs, all they are braſs and tin, and Iron and lead, in the midſt of the furnace, they are the droſs of ſilver, Ezek. 22. 18. God had ſilver there, ſome ſilver, but it was but little, the bulk of that People was but the droſs of the Church, though they were the members of it, but what doth he mean by the droſs? VVhy he looked upon them as no better, notwithſtanding their Church-membership, then the rabble of the world, that is, with reſpect to their latter end, for to be called droſs, it is to be put among the reſt of the ſinners of the world in the judgment of God, though at preſent they abide in his Houſe: Thou putteſt away all the wicked of the earth like droſs, therefore I love thy Teſtimonies, Pſal, 119. 119.

God

God ſaith of his ſaved ones, he hath choſen them in the furnace of affliction. The refiner, when he putteth his ſilver into his Furnace, he puts lead in alſo among it; now this lead being ordered as he knows how, works up the droſs from the ſilver, which droſs ſtill as it riſeth, he putteth by, or taketh away with an inſtrument; and thus deals God with his Church, there is ſilver in his Church, I, and there is alſo droſs; now the droſs are the Hypocrites, and graceleſs ones that are got into the Church, and theſe will God diſcover and afterwards put away as droſs. So that it will without doubt prove a truth of God, that many of their Profeſſors that ſhall put in claim for Heaven, will not have it for their Inheritance.

Sixthly, It is ſaid of Chriſt, his fan is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floor, and will gather his wheat into his garner, but will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire, Matt. 3. 12.

1. The Floor, is the Church of God. (O my threſhing and the corn of my floor,) ſaid God by the Prophet, Iſa. 21. 10. to his People.

2. The Wheat are thoſe good ones in his Church, that ſhall be undoubtedly ſaved, therefore he ſaith, Gather my wheat into my garner.

3. The Chaff groweth upon the ſame ſtalk, and ear, and ſo is in the ſame viſible body with the wheat, but there is not ſubſtance in it, wherefore in time, they muſt be ſevered one from the other, the wheat muſt be gathered into the garner, which is Heaven; and the chaff, or Profeſſors that want true grace, muſt be gathered into Hell, that they may be burned up with unquenchable fire: Therefore let Profeſſors look to it.

Seventhly, Chriſt Jeſus caſts away two of the three grounds that are ſaid to receive the word, Luke 8. The ſtony ground, received it with joy, and the thorny ground brought forth fruit almoſt to perfection: Indeed the high-way ground was to ſhew us that the carnal, while ſuch, receive not the word at all, but here is the pinch, two of the three that received it, fell ſhort of the Kingdom of Heaven; for but one of the three received it, ſo as to bring forth fruit to perfection; look to it Profeſſors.

Eighthly, The Parable of the unprofitable ſervant, the Parable of the Man without a wedding garment, and the Parable of the unſavory ſalt, do each of them juſtifie this for truth, Matt. 25. 24, 25. chap. 22. 11, 12, 13: chap. 5. 13. that of the unprofitable ſervant, is to ſhew us, the ſloth and idleneſs of ſome Profeſſors; that of the man without a wedding garment, is to ſhew us, how ſome Profeſſors have the ſhame of their wickedneſs ſeen by God, even when they are among the Children of the Bridegroom; and that Parable of the unſavory ſalt, is to ſhew, that as the Salt that hath loſt its ſavor is fit for nothing, no, not for the Dunghil, but to be trodden under the foot of Men: So ſome Profeſſors (yea, and great ones too, for this Parable reached one of the Apoſtles,) will in God's day be counted fit for nothing but to be troden down as the mire in the Streets: Oh the ſloathful, the naked, and unſavory Profeſſors, how will they be rejected of God and his Chriſt, in the Judgment; look to it Profeſſors.

Ninthly, The Parable of the Tares alſo, giveth countenance to this truth: For though it be ſaid, the field is the World, yet it is ſaid, the Tares were ſown even in the Church; And while men ſlept, the enemy came and ſowed Tares among the wheat, and went his way: Matt. 13. 24, 25.

Object. But ſome may object, the Tares might be ſowed in the world among the Wheat, tho' not in the Churches.

Anſw. But Chriſt, by expounding this Parable tells us, the Tares were ſown in his Kingdom (the Tares, that is, the Children of the Devil, ver. 30. 39. As therefore the Tares are gathered and burned in the fire, ſo ſhall it be in the end of this world. The Son of Man ſhall ſend forth his Angels, and they ſhall gather out of his Kingdom, all things that offend, and them that do iniquity, and ſhall caſt them into a furnace of fire; there ſhall be wailing and gnaſhing of teeth, ver. 40, 41, 42, 43. Look to it Profeſſors.

Tenthly, The Parable of the ten Virgins alſo, ſuiteth our purpoſe; them ten are called the Kingdom of Heaven, Matth. 25. 1. that is, the Church of Chriſt. the viſible rightly conſtituted Church of Chriſt, for they went all out of the world, had all lamps, and all went forth to meet the Bride-groom, yet behold what an overthrow the one half of them met with at the Gate of Heaven, they were ſhut out, bid to depart, and Chriſt told them he did not know them, ver. 10. 11. Tremble Profeſſors, pray Profeſſors.

Eleventhly, The Parable of the Net that was caſt into the Sea, Matt. 13. 41, 42. that alſo countenanceth this truth: The ſubſtance of that Parable is to ſhew, that ſouls may be gathered by the Goſpel, there compared to a Net, may be kept in that Net, drawn to ſhoar, to the worlds end by that Net; and yet may then prove bad Fiſhes, and be caſt away: The Parable runs thus, The Kingdom of Heaven (the Goſpel) is like unto a Net, which was caſt into the Sea (the World) and gathered of every kind (good and bad) which when it was full, they drew it to ſhoar (to the end of the World) and ſat down (in Judgment) and gathered the good into veſſels, and caſt the bad away: Some bad Fiſhes, nay I doubt a great many will be found in the Net of the Goſpel, at the Day of Judgment: Watch and be ſober, Profeſſors.

Twelfthly, And many ſhall come from the eaſt, and from the weſt, and ſhall ſit down with Abraham, and Iſaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of Heaven, and the children of the kingdom ſhall be caſt out, Matt. 8. 12. The Children of the kingdom whoſe priviledges were ſaid to be theſe, to whom pertained the Adoption, and the Glory, and the Covenants, and the giving of the Law, and the ſervice of God, and the promiſe, Rom. 9. 4. I take liberty to harp the more upon the firſt Church, becauſe that that happened to them, happened as types and examples, intimating there is ground to think, that things of as dreadful a nature are to happen among the Church of the Gentiles, 1 Cor. 10, 11, 12. neither indeed have the gentile-Churches ſecurity from God, that there ſhall not as dreadful things happen to them. And concerning this very thing, ſufficient caution is given to us alſo, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. Gal. 5. 19, 20, 21. Epheſ. 5. 3, 4, 5, 6. Phil. 3. 10. 19. 2 Theſ.

2 Thes. 2. 11, 12. 2 Tim. 2, 20, 21. Heb, 6. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. chap. 10. 26, 27, 28. 2 Pet. 2. chap. 3. 1 John 5. 10. Rev. 2. 20. 21, 22.

Thirteenthly, The Parable of the True Vine, and its Branches, confirm what I have said Joh. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. By the Vine there, I understand, Christ; Christ as Head; by the Branches, I understand his Church; some of these branches proved fruitless Cast-aways, were in time cast out of the Church, were gathered by men, and burned.

Fourteenthly, and Lastly, I will come to particular Instances.

1. The Twelve had a Devil among them, Joh. 6. 70.

2. Ananias and Saphira were in the Courch of Jerusalem, Acts 5.

3. Simon Magus was among them at Samaria, Acts 8.

4. Among the Church of Corinth were them that had not the knowledge of God, 1 Cor. 15.

5. Paul tells the Galatians, false Brethren crept in unawares; and so does the Apostle Jude, and yet they were as quick-sighted to see as any now a-days, Gal. 2. Jude 3, 4.

6. The Church in Sardis had but a few names in her to whom the Kingdom of Heaven belonged; Thou hast a few names even in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments, and they shall walk with me in white, for they are worthy.

7. As for the Church of the Laodiceans, it is called a wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked, Rev. 3. So that put all things together, and I may boldly say as I also have said already, That among the multitude of them that shall be damned, Professors will make a considerable party: or to speak in the words of the Observation, When Men have put in all the claim they can for heaven, but few will have it for their inheritance..

36. I will now shew you some Reasons of the Point, besides those five that I shewed you before.

But first, I will shew you why the poor carnal ignorant World miss of Heaven, and then why the knowing Professors miss of it also.

First, The poor, carnal, ignorant World miss of Heaven, even because they love their sins, and cannot part with them; Men love darkness rather than light, because their deeds be evil, Joh. 3. The poor ignorant world miss of Heaven, because they are enemies in their minds to God, his Word, and Holiness; They must be all damned who take pleasure in unrighteousnes, 2 Thes. 2. 10, 11, 12. The poor ignorant world miss of Heaven, because they stop their ears against Convictions, and refuse to come when God calls: Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded, but have set at nought all my counsels, and would none of my Reproof; I also will laugh at your calamities, and mock when your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction like a whirlwind, when distress and anguish cometh upon you; then shall you call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but shall not find me, Prov. 1. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.

Secondly, The poor ignorant world miss of Heaven, because the God of this world hath blinded their eyes, that they can neither see the evil and damnable state they are in at present, nor the way to get out of it, neither do they see the beauty of Jesus Christ, nor how willing he is to save poor Sinners, 2 Cor. 4. 2, 3.

Thirdly, The poor ignorant world miss of Heaven, because they put off and defer coming to Christ, until the time of God's Patience and grace is over: Some indeed are resolved never to come; but some again say, we will come hereafter, and so it comes to pass, that because God called, and they did not hear, so they shall cry, and I will not hear, saith the Lord, Zech. 7. 11, 12, 13.

Fourthly, The poor ignorant world miss of Heaven, because they have false apprehensions of God's Mercy. They say in their hearts, we shall have peace, though we walk in the imagination of our heart, to add drunkenness to thirst: But what saith the Word? The Lord will not spare him, but then the anger of the Lord, and his jealousie shall smoak against that Man, and all the Curses that are written in this Book, shall be upon him, and God shall blot out his Name from under Heaven, Deut. 29. 19, 20, 21.

Fifthly, The poor ignorant world miss of Heaven, because they make light of the Gospel, that offereth mercy to them freely, and because they lean upon their own good meanings, and thinkings, and doings, Matt. 22. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. Rom. 9. 30, 31.

Sixthly, The poor carnal world miss of Heaven, because by unbelief, which reigns in them, they are kept for ever from being cloathed with Christ's Righteousness, and from washing in his Blood, without which there is neither remission of Sin, nor justification. But to pass these till anon. 37.

I come in the next place, to shew you some Reasons why the Professor falls short of Heaven.

First, In the general, they rest in things below special grace, as in Awakenings that are not special, in Faith that is not special, &c. and a little to run parallel betwixt the one and the other, that if God will, you may see and escape.

1. Have they that shall be saved Awakenings about their state by Nature? so have they that shall be damned? They that never go to Heaven, may see much of Sin and of the Wrath of God due thereto; this had Cain and Judas, and yet they came short of the Kingdom, Gen. 4. Matt. 27. 4. The saved have Convictions in order to their eternal life; but the others Convictions are not so: The Convictions of the one doth drive them sincerely to Christ; the Convictions of the other doth drive them to the Law, and the Law to Desperation at last.

2. There is a Repentance that will not save, a Repentance to be repented of, and a Repentance to Salvation, not to be repented of, 2 Cor. 7. 10. Yet so great a Similitude and Likenss there is betwixt the one and the other, that most times the wrong is taken for the right, and through this Mistake Professors perish.

As 1. In saving Repentance there will be an acknowledgment of Sin; and one that hath the other Repentance, may acknowledge his Sins also, Matt. 27. 4.

2. In Saving Repentance there is a crying out under Sin, but one that hath the other Repentance may cry out under sin also, Gen. 4. 13.

3. In saving repentance there will be humiliation for sin, and one that hath the other repentance may humble himself also, 1 King. 21. 29.

4. Saving Repentance is attended with self-loathing, but he that hath the other Repentance may have loathing of sin too, 2 Pet. 2. 22. a loathing of sin, because it is sin, that he cannot have, but a loathing of sin because it is offensive to him, that he may have: The Dog doth not loath that which troubleth his stomach, because it is there, but because it troubleth him; when it has done troubling of him, he can turn to it again, and lick it up as before it troubled him.

5. Saving Repentance is attended with Prayers and Tears, but he that hath none but the other repentance, may have Prayers and Tears also, Gen. 27. 34, 35. Heb. 12. 14, 15, 16.

6. In saving Repentance there is fear and reverence of the word, and Ministers, that bring it; but this may be also where there is none but the repentance that is not saving: For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man, and holy, and observed him; when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly, Mark 6. 20.

7. Saving Repentance makes a mans heart very tender of doing any thing against the word of God: But Balaam could say, If Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the Lord, Numb. 24. 13. Behold, then how far a Man may go in repentance, and yet be short of that which is called repentance unto salvation not to be repented of.

1. He may be awakened. 2. He may acknowledge his sin. 3. He may cry out under the burden of sin. 4. He may have humility for it. 5. He may loath it. 6. May have Prayers and Tears against it. 7. May delight to do many things of God. 8. May be afraid of sinning against him, and after all this may perish for want of saving repentance.

Secondly, Have they that shall be saved, faith; why they that shall not be saved, may have faith also. Yea, a faith in many things, so like the faith that saveth, that they can hardly be distinguished (though they differ, both in root and branch:) to come to particulars.

1. Saving Faith hath Christ for its object, and so may the Faith have that is not saving; those very Jews, of whom it is said, they believed on Christ; Christ tells them, and that after their believing: You are of your Father the Devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do, John 8. from v. 30. to v. 44.

2. Saving Faith is wrought by the Word of God, and so may the Faith be, that is not saving, Luke 3. 13.

3. Saving Faith looks for Justification without works, and so may a Faith do that is not saving, Jam. 2. 18.

4. Saving faith will sanctifie and purifie the Heart, and the faith that is not saving may work a man off from the pollutions of the world, as it did Judas and Demas, and others, see 2 Pet. 2.

5. Saving Faith will give a man tastes of the World to come, and also joy by them tastes, and so will the faith do that is not saving, Heb. 6. 4, 5. Luke 8. 13.

6. Saving Faith will help a Man, if called thereto, to give his body to be burned for his Religion, and so will the faith do to that is not saving, 1 Cor. 13. 1, 2, 3, 4.

7. Saving faith will help a Man to look for an inheritance in the World to come, and that may the faith do that is not saving: All those Virgins took their Lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom, Matt. 25. 1.

8. Saving Faith will not only make a Man look for, but prepare to meet the Bridegroom, and so may the Faith do that is not saving; then all these Virgins arose and trimmed their Lamps, Matt. 25. 7.

9. Saving Faith will make a Man look for an intereſt in the Kingdom of Heaven with confidence, and the Faith that is not saving will even demand entrance of the Lord: Lord, Lord, open unto us, Matt. 25. 11.

10. Saving Faith will have good works follow it into Heaven, and the Faith that is not saving, may have great works follow it, as far as to Heaven Gates. Lord, have we not propheſied in thy Name, and in thy Name caſt out Devils, and in thy Name done many wondrous works, Matt. 7. 22.

Now then, if the Faith that is not saving, may have Christ for its object, be wrought by the word, look for justification without works, work Men off from the Pollutions of the world, and give Men tastes of, and joy in the things of another World: I say, again, if it will help a Man to burn for his Judgment, and to look for an inheritance in another World, yet if it will help a Man to prepare for it, claim intereſt in it, and if it can carry great works, many great and glorious works as far as Heaven Gates; then no marvel if abundance of People take this faith for the saving Faith, and so fall short of Heaven thereby. Alas Friends? There are but few that can produce such for Repentance, and such Faith, as yet you see, I have proved even Reprobates have had in several ages of the Church. But,

Thirdly, They that go to Heaven are a Praying People, but a Man may pray that shall not be saved; Pray! He may pray, pray daily, yea, he may ask of God the ordinances of Justice, and may take delight in approaching to God, nay further, such souls may as it were cover the Altar of the Lord with Tears, with weeping, and crying out, Isa. 28. 2. Malachi 12. 13.

Fourthly, Do God's People keep Holy Fasts? They that are not his People may keep Fasts also, may keep Fasts often, even twice a Week, The Pharisee stood, and prayed thus with himself, God I thank thee, that I am not as other Men are, Extortioners, Unjust, Adulterers, or even as this Publican: I fast twice a week, I give Tythes of all that I possess, Luk. 16. 11, 12. I might enlarge upon things, but I intend but a little Book: I do not question but many Balaamites will appear before the Judgment-Seat to Condemnation: Men that have had Visions of God, and that knew the knowledge of the Most High, Men that have had the Spirit of God come upon them, and that have by that been made other Men, yet these shall go to the Generations of their Fathers, they shall never see light, Numb. 24. 2. 4. 16. 1 Sam. 10. 6. 10. Psal. 49. 19.

I read

I read of some Men, whose Excellency in Religion mounts up to the heavens, and their head reaches unto the clouds, who yet shall perish for ever like their own doing, and he that in this world hath seen them, shall say, at the Judgment, where are they? Job 20. 5, 6, 7. There will be many an one that were gallant Professors in this world, be wanting among the saved in the day of Christ's coming; yea, many whose damnation was never dream'd of: Which of the Twelve ever thought that Judas would have proved a Devil? Nay, when Christ suggested that one among them were naught, they each were more afraid of themselves than of him, Matt. 26. 21, 22, 23. Who questioned the salvation of the foolish Virgins? the wise ones did not, they gave them the priviledge of communion with themselves, Matt. 25. The discerning of the Heart, and the infallible proof of the truth of saving grace, is reserved to the Judgment of Jesus Christ at his coming; the Church and best of Saints, sometimes hit, and sometimes miss in their Judgments about this matter: and the cause of our missing in our Judgment, is, 1. Partly, because we cannot infallibly, at all times, distinguish Grace that saveth, from that which doth but appear to do so. 2. Partly also because some Men have the Art to give right names to wrong things. 3. And partly because we being commanded to receive him that is weak, are afraid to exclude the least Christian, by a hid means, Hypocrites creep into the Churches; but what saith the Scripture? I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins: And again, All the Churches shall know that I am he that searches the reins and hearts, and I will give to every one of you according to your works, Jer. 11. 20. chap. 17. 10. Rev. 2. 23. To this searcher of hearts, is the time of infallible discerning reserved, and then you shall see how far Grace that is not saving, hath gone; and also how few will be saved indeed. The Lord awaken poor Sinners by my little Book.

I come now to make some brief Use and Application of the whole; and my first Word shall be to the open Profane: Poor Sinner, thou readest here, that but a few will be saved, that many that expect Heaven, will go without Heaven; what saist thou to this, poor Sinner? Let me say it over again: There are but few to be saved, but very few; let me add, but few Professors; but few eminent Professors; what saist thou now Sinner? If Judgment begins at the house of God, what will the end of them be that obey not the Gospel of God? This is Peter's Question; canst thou answer it, Sinner? yea, I say again, if Judgment must begin at them, will it not make thee think, what shall become of me? And I add, when thou shalt see the Stars of Heaven to tumble down to Hell, canst thou think that such a Muck-heap of Sin as thou art, shalt be lifted up to Heaven? Peter asks thee another Question, to wit, If the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and sinners appear? 1 Pet. 14. 18, 19. Canst thou answer this Question, Sinner? Stand among the righteous thou maist not; (the ungodly shall not stand in the Judgment, nor Sinners in the Congregation of the righteous, Psal. 1. 5.) Stand among the wicked thou then wilt not dare to do; where wilt thou appear, Sinner? To stand among the Hypocrites will avail thee nothing: The Hypocrite shall not come before him, that is, with acceptance, but shall perish, Job 13. 16. Because it concerns thee much, let me over with it again: When thou shalt see less Sinners than thou art, bound up by Angels in bundles, to burn them, where wilt thou appear, Sinner? Thou maist wish thy self another man, but that will not help thee, sinner. Thou maist wish, would I had been converted in time; but that will not help thee neither. and if, like the wife of Jeroboam, thou shouldst feign thy self to be another Woman, the Prophet, the Lord Jesus would soon find thee out; what wilt thou do, poor Sinner? Heavy Tidings, heavy Tidings will attend thee, except thou repent, poor Sinner! 1 Kings 14. 2, 5, 6. Luke 13. 3, 5. O the dreadful state of a poor Sinner, of an open profane Sinner! Every body that hath but common sense, knows that this man is in the broad way to Death, yet he laughs at his own Damnation.

Shall I come to Particulars with thee?

1. Poor unclean Sinner, the Harlot's House is the way to Hell, going down to the Chambers of Death, Prov. 2. 18. chap. 5. 5. chap. 7. 27.

2. Poor swearing, and thievish Sinner, God hath prepared the Curse, that every one that stealeth shall be cut off, as on this side, according to it; and every one that sweareth, shall be cut off on that side, according to it, Zech. 5. 3.

3. Poor Drunken Sinner, what shall I say to thee? Wo to the Drunkards of Ephraim, wo to them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strong drink; they shall not inherit the Kingdom of Heaven, Isa. 28. chap. 5. 11, 12. 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10.

4. Poor covetous worldly Man, God's Word says, that the covetous the Lord abhorreth; that the covetous man is an Idolater; and that the covetous shall not inherit the Kingdom of God, Psal. 10. 3. Ephes. 5. 5. John 2. 15. 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10.

5. And thou Lyar, what wilt thou do? All Lyars shall have their part in the Lake that burneth with Fire and Brimstone, Rev. 21 8, 27,

I shall not enlarge, poor Sinner, let no man deceive thee; for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the Children of Disobedience, Ephes. 5. 6. I will therefore give thee a short Call, and so leave thee.

Sinner, awake; yea, I say unto thee, awake: Sin lieth at thy Door, and God's Axe lieth at thy Root, and Hell-fire is right underneath thee: I say again, awake. Every Tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire, Gen. 4. 7. Matt. 3. 10.

Poor Sinner, awake; Eternity is coming, and his Son, they are both coming to judge the world; awake, art yet asleep, poor Sinner? Let me set the Trumpet to thine ear once again. The Heavens will be shortly on a burning flame; the Earth and the Works thereof shall be burned up, and then wicked Men shall go into perdition; dost thou hear this, Sinner, 2 Pet. 3. Heark again, the sweet Morsels of Sins will then be fled and gone, and the bitter burning fruits of them only left; What saist thou now Sinner? Canst thou drink Hell-fire? Will the Wrath of God be a pleasant Dish to thy Taste? This must be thine every day's Meat and Drink in Hell, Sinner.

I will yet propound to thee God's ponderous Queſtion, and then for this time leave thee: Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be ſtrong in the day that I ſhall deal with thee, ſaith the Lord? Ezek. 22. 14. What ſaiſt thou? Wilt thou anſwer this Queſtion now? or wilt thou take time to do it? or wilt thou be deſperate, and venture all? And let me put this Text in thine ear to keep it open; and ſo the Lord have mercy upon thee: Upon the wicked ſhall the Lord rain ſnares, fire and brimſtone, and an horrible tempeſt, this ſhall be the portion of their cup, Pſal. 11. 6. Repent ſinners.

42. Secondly, My ſecond Word is to them that are upon the Potter's wheel, concerning whom, we know not, as yet, whether their Convictions, and Awakenings will end in Converſion, or no; ſeveral things I ſhall ſay to you, both to further your Convictions, and to caution you from ſtaying any where below, or ſhort of ſaving Grace.

1. Remember that but few ſhall be ſaved; and if God ſhould count thee worthy to be one Eph. 2. 45. of that few, what a Mercy would that be?

2. Be thankful therefore for Convictions; Converſion begins at Conviction, though all Conviction doth not end in Converſion. It is a great mercy to be convinced that we are ſinners, and that we need a Saviour; count it therefore a Mercy, and that thy convictions may end in converſion; Do thou,

1. Take heed of ſtifling of them: It is the way of poor Sinners to look upon convictions, as things that are hurtful; and therefore they uſe to ſhun the awakening Miniſtry, and to check a convincing Conſcience; ſuch poor ſinners are much like to the wanton Boy that ſtands at the Maid's Elbow to blow out her Candle as faſt as ſhe lights it at the Fire. Convinced ſinner, God lighteth thy Candle, and thou putteſt it out; God lights it again, and thou putteſt out; (Yea, how oft is the Candle of the wicked put out? Job 21. 17.) At laſt God reſolveth he will light thy Candle no more; and then, like the Egyptians, you dwell all your days in darkneſs, and never ſee light more, but by the light of Hell-fire; wherefore give glory to God, and if he awakens thy Conſcience, quench not thy convictions; do it, ſaith the Prophet, before he cauſe darkneſs, and before your feet tumble upon the dark mountains, and he turn your convictions into the ſhadow of death, and make them groſs darkneſs, Jer. 13. 16.

1. Be willing to ſee the worſt of thy condition; 'tis better to ſee it here than in Hell; for thou maiſt ſee thy miſery here or there.

2. Beware of little ſins, they will make way for great ones, and they again will make way for bigger, upon which, God's wrath will follow; and then may thy latter end be worſe than thy beginning, 2 Pet. 2. 20.

3. Take heed of bad company, and evil communications, for that will corrupt good manners. God ſaith, evil Company will turn thee away from following him, and will tempt thee to ſerve other Gods, Devils; ſo the anger of the Lord will be kindled againſt thee, and deſtroy thee ſuddenly, Deut. 7. 3.

4. Beware of ſuch a Thought as bids thee delay Repentance; for that is damnable, Prov. 1. 24. Zech. 7. 12, 13.

5. Beware of taking example by ſome poor carnal Profeſſor, whoſe Religion lies in the tip of his Tongue. Beware I ſay, of the Man whoſe Head ſwims with Notions, but his Life is among the unclean, Job 36. 14. He that walketh with wiſe men, ſhall be wiſe; but a companion of fools ſhall be deſtroyed, Prov. 13. 20.

6. Give thy ſelf much to the Word, and Prayer, and good Conference.

7. Labour to ſee the Sin that cleaveth to the beſt of thy performances, and know that all is nothing if thou beeſt not found in Jeſus Chriſt.

8. Keep in remembrance that God's eye is upon thy heart, and upon all thy ways: Can any hide himſelf in ſecret places, that I ſhould not ſee him, ſaith the Lord? Do not I fill heaven and earth, ſaith the Lord? Jer. 23, 24.

9. Be often meditating upon death and judgment, Eccleſ. 11. 9. chap. 12. 14.

10. Be often thinking what a dreadful end, Sinners, that have neglected Chriſt, will make at that Day of Death and Judgment, Heb. 10. 31.

11. Put thy ſelf often, in thy thoughts, before Chriſt's Judgment-ſeat, in thy ſins, and conſider with thy ſelf, were I now before my Judge, how ſhould I look, how ſhould I ſhake and tremble?

12. Be often thinking of them that are now in hell paſt all mercy; I ſay, be often thinking of them, thus;

1. They were once in the world, as I now am.

2. They once took delight in ſin, as I have done.

3. They once neglected Repentance, as Satan would have me do.

4. But now they are gone, now they are in Hell, now the Pit hath ſhut her Mouth upon them.

Thou maiſt alſo doubt thy Thoughts of the damned, thus;

1. If theſe poor Creatures were in the world again, would they ſin as they did before? would they neglect Salvation as they did before?

2. If they had Sermons, as I have; if they had the Bible, as I have; if they had good company, as I have; yea if they had a day of Grace, as I have; would they neglect it as they did before? Sinner, couldeſt thou ſoberly think of theſe things they might help (God bleſſing them) to awaken thee, and to keep thee awake to repentance, to the repentance that is to ſalvation, never to be repented of.

43. Object. But you have ſaid, few ſhall be ſaved, and ſome that go a great way, yet are not ſaved; at this therefore, I am even diſcouraged, and awakened: I think I had as good go no further, I am indeed under conviction, but I may periſh, and if I go on in my ſins I can but periſh, and 'tis ten, twenty, an hundred to one, if I be ſaved, ſhould I be never ſo earneſt for Heaven.

Anſw. That few will be ſaved muſt needs be a truth, for Chriſt hath ſaid it; that many go far, and come ſhort of heaven, is as true, being teſtified by the ſame hand: but what then? why then had I as good never ſeek; who told thee ſo? muſt no body ſeek, becauſe few are ſaved, this is juſt contrary to the Text, that bids us, therefore ſtrive, ſtrive to enter in, becauſe the gate is ſtrait, and becauſe many will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able. But why go back back again, seeing that is the next way to Hell, never go over hedge and ditch to Hell, if I must needs go thither, I will go the fartheſt way about; but who can tell though there ſhould not be ſaved ſo many as there ſhall, but thou mayſt be one of that few. They that miſs of Life periſh, becauſe they will not let go their ſins, or becauſe they take up in profeſſion ſhort of the ſaving faith of the Goſpel: They periſh I ſay, becauſe they are content with ſuch things as will not prove graces of a ſaving nature, then they come to be tryed in the fire, otherwiſe the promiſe is free and full, and everlaſting. Him that cometh to me, ſays Chriſt, I will in no wiſe caſt out; for God ſo loved the World, that he gave his only begotten ſon, that whoſoever believeth in him might not periſh, but have everlaſting Life, John 6. 37. wherefore let not this thought, few ſhall be ſaved, weaken thy heart, but let it cauſe thee to mend thy pace, to mend thy crys, to look well to thy grounds for Heaven; let it make thee fly faſter from ſin, to Chriſt, let it keep thee awake and out of carnal ſecurity, and thou maiſt be ſaved.

44. Thirdly, My third word is to Profeſſors, Sirs, give me leave to ſet my trumpet to your ears again a little, when every man hath put in all the claim they can for heaven, but few will have it for their Inheritance. I mean but few Profeſſors, for ſo the Text intendeth, and ſo I have alſo proved, for many, I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Let me therefore a little expoſtulate the matter with you, O ye thouſands of Profeſſors.

Firſt, I begin with you whoſe Religion lieth only in your Tongues, I mean you who are little or nothing known from the reſt of the Rabble of the World, only you can talk better than they; hear me a word or two. If I ſpeak with the tongue of Men and Angels, and have not Charity, that is, love to God, and Chriſt, and Saints, and Holineſs, I am nothing, no child of God, and ſo have nothing to do with Heaven, 1 Cor. 13. A prating Tongue will not unlock the Gates of Heaven, nor blind the Eyes of thy Judge; look to it; the wiſe in heart will receive Commandments; but a prating Fool ſhall fall, Prov. 10. 8.

Secondly, Covetous Profeſſor, thou that makeſt a gain of Religion, that uſeſt thy Profeſſion to bring Griſt to thy Mill, look to it alſo; Gain is not Godlineſs; Judas's Religion lay much in the Bag, but his Soul is now burning in Hell; all Covetouſneſs is Idolatry; but what is that, or what will you call it, when Men are religious for filthy Lucre ſake, Ezek. 33. 31.

Thirdly, Wanton Profeſſors I have a word for you; I mean, you that can tell how to miſplead Scripture, to maintain your Pride your Banqueting, and abominable Idolatry; Read what Peter ſays, you are the ſnare and damnation of others; you allure through the Luſt of the Fleſh, through much wantonneſs, thoſe that were clean eſcaped from them who live in errour, 2 Pet. 2. 18. Beſides, the holy Ghoſt hath a great deal againſt you, for your feaſtings, and eating without fear, not for health, but gluttony, Jude 12. Farther, Peter ſays, that you that count it pleaſure to riot in the day-time, are ſpots and blemiſhes, ſporting your ſelves with your own deceivings, 2 Pet. 2. 13. And let me ask, did God give his word to juſtifie your wickedneſs? or doth Grace teach you to plead for the Fleſh, or the making proviſion for the luſts thereof; Of theſe alſo are they that feed their bodies to ſtrengthen their luſts, under pretence of ſtrengthning frail Nature. But pray remember the Text; Many, I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Fourthly, I come next to the Opinioniſt, I mean, to him whoſe Religion lieth in ſome Circumſtantials of Religion; with this ſort this Kingdom ſwarms at this day; theſe think all out of the way that are not of their mode, when themſelves may be out of the way in the midſt of their Zeal for their Opinions; pray do you alſo obſerve the Text, Many, I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Fifthly, Neither is the Formaliſt exempted from this number; he is a man that hath loſt all but the ſhell of Religion; he is hot indeed for his form; and no marvel, for that is his All to contend for; but his Form being without the power and ſpirit of godlineſs, it will leave him in his ſins; nay, he ſtandeth now in them, in the ſight of God, 2 Tim. 3. 5. and is one of the many that will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Sixthly, The Legaliſt comes next, even him that hath no Life but what he makes out of his Duties; this Man hath choſen to ſtand and fall by Moſes, who is the condemner of the world, There is one that accuſeth you, even Moſes, in whom ye truſt, John 5. 45.

Seventhly, There is in the next place, the Libertine, he that pretendeth to be againſt Forms and Duties, as things that gender to bondage, neglecting the order of God: This Man pretends to pray always, but under that pretence, prays not at all; he pretends to keep every day a Sabbath, but this pretence ſerves him only to caſt off all ſet times for the worſhip of God. This is alſo one of the many that will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able, Tit. 1. 16.

Eighthly, There is the Temporizing Latitudinarian; he is a man that hath no God but his Belly, nor any Religion but that by which his belly is worſhipped; his Religion is always like the Times, turning this way and that way, like the Cock on the Steeple; neither hath he any Conſcience but a benumm'd and ſear'd one, and is next door to a down-right Atheiſt; and alſo is one of them many that will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

9ly. There is alſo the wilfully ignorant Profeſſor, or him that is afraid to know more, for fear of the Croſs; he is for picking and chuſing of Truth, and loveth not to hazard his All for that worthy Name by which he would be called: When he is at any time overſet by Arguments, or Awakenings of Conſcience, he uſes to heal all, by, I was not brought up in this Faith; as if it were unlawful for Chriſtians to know more than hath been taught them at firſt converſion, there are many Scriptures that lie againſt this Man, as the mouths of great Guns, and he is one of the many that will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Tenthly, We will add to all theſe, the Profeſſor that would prove himſelf a Chriſtian, by by comparing himſelf with others, inſtead of comparing himſelf with the word of God. This man comforts himſelf becauſe he is as holy as ſuch, and ſuch; he alſo knows as much as that old Profeſſor, and then concludes he ſhall go to Heaven: as if he certainly knew, that thoſe with whom he compareth himſelf would be undoubtedly ſaved, but how if he ſhould be miſtaken, nay may they not both fall ſhort; but to be ſure he is in the wrong that hath made the compariſon, 2 Cor. 10. 12. and a wrong foundation will not ſtand in the day of Judgment. This man therefore is one of the many that will ſeek to enter in and ſhall not be able.

Eleventhly, There is yet another Profeſſor, and he is for God and for Baal too, he can be any thing, for any Company: he can throw ſtones with both hands, his Religion alters as faſt as his company; he is a frog of Egypt, and can live in the water, and out of the water, he can live in religious company and again as well out, nothing that is diſorderly comes a miſs to him, he'll hold with the Hair, and run with the Hound, he carries fire in one hand, and water i' th' other; he is a very any thing but what he ſhould be: This is alſo one of the many that will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

Twelfthly, There is alſo that Free-willer who denies to the Holy Ghoſt the ſole work in converſion, and that Socinian, who denieth to Chriſt that he hath made to God ſatisfaction for ſin; and that Quaker who takes from Chriſt the two natures in his Perſon, and I might add as many more; touching whoſe damnation) they dying as they are) the Scripture is plain: theſe will ſeek to enter in and ſhall not be able.

45. But Fourthly, if it be ſo, what a ſtrange diſappointment will many Profeſſors meet with at the day of Judgment: I ſpeak not now to the open Profaner, every body (as I have ſaid) that hath but common underſtanding between good and evil, knows that they are in the broad way to Hell and Damnation, and they muſt needs come thither, nothing can hinder it, but Repentance unto Salvation, except God ſhould prove a lier to ſave them, and 'tis hard ventring of that.

Neither is it amiſs, if we take notice of the Examples that are briefly mentioned in the Scriptures concerning Profeſſors that have miſcarried.

1. Judas periſhed from among the Apoſtles, Acts 1. 2. Demas as I think periſhed from among the Evangeliſts, 2 Tim. 4. 10. 3. Diotrephes from among the Miniſters, or them in office in the Church. Joh. 9. 10. 4. And as for Chriſtian Profeſſors, they have fell by heaps, and almoſt by whole Churches, 2 Tim. 1. 15. Revel. 3. 4. 15, 16, 17. 5. Let us add to theſe, that the things mentioned in the Scriptures about theſe matters, are but brief hints, and items of what is afterwards to happen; as the Apoſtle ſaid; ſome mens ſins are open before hand, going before unto Judgment, and ſome men they follow after, 1 Tim. 5. 24. So that, fellow-profeſſor, let us fear, leſt a promiſe being left us of entring into this reſt, any of us ſhould ſeem to come ſhort of it: O to come ſhort! nothing kills it, nothing will burn like it. I intend not diſcouragements, but awakenings; the Churches have need of awakening, and ſo have all Profeſſors; do not deſpiſe me therefore; but hear me over again: What a ſtrange diſappointment will many Profeſſors meet with at the Day of God Almighty? A Diſappointment, I ſay, and that as to ſeveral things.

1. They will look to eſcape Hell, and yet fall juſt into the mouth of Hell: What a diſappointment will here be?

2. They will look for Heaven, but the gate of Heaven will be ſhut againſt them: what a Diſappointment is here?

3. They will expect that Chriſt ſhould have compaſſion for them; but will find that he hath ſhut up all bowels of compaſſion from them: What a Diſappointment is here?

Again, Fifthly, As this Diſappointment will be fearful; ſo certainly it will be very full of Amazement. 46.

1. Will it not amaze them to be unexpectedly excluded from Life and Salvation.

2. Will it not be amazing to them to ſee their own Madneſs and Folly, while they conſider how they have dallied with their own Souls, and took lightly for granted, that they had that Grace that would ſave them, but hath left them in a damnable ſtate.

3. Will they not alſo be amazed one at another, while they remember how in their Lifetime they counted themſelves Fellow-heirs of Life. To allude to that of the Prophet; They ſhall be amazed one of another, their faces ſhall be as flames, Iſa. 13. 8.

4. Will it not be amazing to ſome of the Damned themſelves, to ſee ſome come to hell that then they ſhall ſee come thither? To ſee Preachers of the Word, Profeſſors of the Word, Practiſers in the Word, to come thither; What wondring was there among them at the Fall of the King of Babylon, ſince he thought to have ſwallowed up all becauſe he was run down by the Medes and Perſians? How art thou fallen from Heaven, Lucifer, Son of the Morning? How art thou cut down to the ground that didſt weaken the Nations? If ſuch a thing as this, will with amazement ſurprize the damned, what an amazement will it be to them to ſee ſuch an one as he, whoſe head reached to the clouds, to ſee him come down to the Pit, and periſh for ever like his own dung. Hell from beneath is moved for thee, to meet thee at thy coming; it ſtirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the Earth, Iſa. 14. They that ſee thee, ſhall narrowly look upon thee, and conſider thee, ſaying, Is this the Man? Is this he that profeſſed, and diſputed, and forſook us; but now he is come to us again? Is this he that ſeparated from us, but now is he fallen with us into the ſame eternal damnation with us?

Sixthly, Yet again, one Word more, if I may awaken Profeſſors. 1. Conſider, though the poor carnal world ſhall certainly periſh, yet they will want theſe things to aggravate their ſorrow, which thou wilt meet with in every thought that thou wilt have of the condition thou waſt in when thou waſt in the world. 47.

1. They will not have a Profeſſion to bite them when they come thither.

2. They

2. They will not have a taſte of a loſt heaven, to bite them when they come thither.

3. They will not have the thoughts of, I was almoſt at heaven, to bite them when they came thither.

4. They will not have the thoughts of, how they cheated Saints, Miniſters, Churches, to bite them when they come thither.

5. They will not have the dying thoughts of falſe Faith, falſe Hope, falſe Repentance, and falſe Holineſs, to bite them when they come thither. I was at the gates of Heaven, I looked into Heaven, I thought I ſhould have entred into Heaven; O how will theſe things ſting! They will, if I may call them ſo, be the ſting of the ſting of Death in Hell-fire.

48. Seventhly, Give me leave now in a word, to give you a little advice.

1. Doſt thou love thine own Soul? then pray to Jeſus Chriſt for an awakened heart, for an heart ſo awakened, with all the things of another world, that thou maiſt be allured to Jeſus Chriſt.

2. When thou comeſt there, beg again for more Awakenings about Sin, Hell, Grace, and about the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt.

3. Cry alſo for a Spirit of diſcerning, that thou maiſt know that which is ſaving Grace indeed.

4. Above all Studies, apply thy ſelf to the Study of thoſe things that ſhew thee the evil of Sin, the ſhortneſs of Mens Life, and which is the way to be ſaved.

5. Keep company with the moſt godly among Profeſſors.

6. When thou heareſt what the nature of true Grace is, defer not to ask thine own heart if this Grace be there? And here take heed,

1. That the Preacher himſelf be found, and of good Life.

2. That thou takeſt not ſeeming Graces for real ones, nor ſeeming fruits for real Fruits.

3. Take heed that a Sin and thy Life goes not unrepented of; for that will make a flaw in thine Evidence, a wound in thy Conſcience, and a breach in thy Peace; and a hundred to one, if at laſt, it doth not drive all the Grace in thee into ſo dark a corner of thy heart, that thou ſhalt not be able, for a time, by all the torches that are burning in the Goſpel, to find it out to thine own comfort and conſolation.

JOHN BUNYAN, of BEDFORD,

By the Grace of GOD, Preacher of the GOSPEL of his Dear SON.

Jeſus ſaith, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no Man cometh to the Father, but by me, Jo. 14. 6. Neither is there Salvation in any other, Acts 4. 12.

The Author to the Reader.

SEEING the Lord hath been pleaſed to put it into mine heart, to write a few things to thee (Reader) touching thoſe things which are moſt ſurely believed by all thoſe that are, or ſhall be ſaved, Luke 1. 1. Acts 13. 38. I think it meet alſo, to ſtir up thy heart by way of remembrance, touching thoſe things that are the hinderances of thy believing the things that are neceſſary to the welfare of thine immortal ſoul. And indeed, this is the only thing neceſſary; it is better to loſe all that ever thou haſt, than to have thy ſoul and body for ever caſt into Hell: And therefore, I beſeech thee to conſider with me a few things touching the Stratagems, or ſubtile Temptations of the Devil, whereby he lyeth in wait, if by any means he may, to make thee fall ſhort of eternal life, 1 Pet. 5. 8.

And

And first of all, he doth endeavour by all means to keep thee in love with thy sins and pleasures, knowing that he is sure of thee, if he can but bewitch thee to live and die in them, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. 2 Thes. 2. 12. Yea, he knows that he is as sure of thee, as if he had thee in Hell already, John 3. 19 And that he might accomplish his design on thee in this particular, he laboureth by all means possible to keep thy Conscience asleep in security and self-conceitedness, keeping thee from all things that might be a means to awaken and rowse up thine heart: As first, he will endeavour to keep thee from hearing of the word, by suggesting unto this and the other worldly business which must be performed; so that thou wilt not want excuse to keep thee from the Ordinances of Christ, in Hearing, Reading, Meditation, &c. or else, he seeks to disturb, and distract thy mind when thou art conversant in these things, that thou canst not attend to them diligently, and so they become unprofitable; or else if thou art a little more stirred, he labours to rock thee asleep again, by casting thee upon, and keeping thee in evil Company, as among Rioters, Drunkards, Jesters, and other of his instruments, which he imployeth on purpose to keep thee secure, and so ruine thy Soul and Body for ever and ever.

If not thus, then peradventure he will seek to perswade thee it is but a melancholly fit, and will put thee upon the works of thy Calling, or thy Pleasures, or Physick; or some other trick he will invent such as best agreeth with thy nature: And thus thy heart is again deaded, and thou art kept in carnal security, that thou mightest perish for ever. But if notwithstanding these, and many cunning slights more which might be named, he connot so blind, and benumb thy conscience, but that it doth see and feel sin to be a burden, intolerable and exceeding sinful: Then in the second place, his design is to drive thee to Dispair, by perswading thee that thy sins are too big to be pardoned, he will seek by all means possible to aggravate them by all the circumstances of time, place, person, manner, nature, and continuance of thy sins, he will object in thy soul, thou hast out sinned grace, by rejecting so many Exhortations, and Admonitions, so many Reproofs, so many tenders of Grace; hadst thou closed in with them it had been well with thee, but now thou hast stood it out so long, that there is no hope for thee: Thou mightest have come sooner, if thou didst look to be saved, but now it is too late. And withal, that he might carry on his design upon thee to purpose, he will be sure to present to thy conscience, the most sad sentences of the Scripture; yea, and set them home with such cunning Arguments, that if it be possible, he will make thee despair, and make away thy self, as did Judas.

But if he be prevented in this his intended purpose; the next thing he doth beset thee with, is to make thee rest upon thy own Righteousness, telling thee, that if thou wilt needs be saved, thou must earn Heaven with thy fingers ends; and it may be, he represents to thy soul such a Scripture; If thou do well, shalt thou not be accepted? And thou having (but in the strength of nature) kept thy self from thy former grosser polutions, and it may be from some more secret sins, art ready to conclude, now thou dost well; now God accepts thee; now he will pardon, yea, hath pardoned thee; now thy Condition is good, and so goest on till thou meetest with a searching Word, and Ministery, which tells thee, and discovers plainly unto thee, that thou doest all this while deceive thy self, by a vain hope and confidence; for tho' thou seek after the Law of Righteousness, thou hast not yet attained to the Law of Righteousness, nor yet canst, because, thou seekest it not by Faith, but as it were, by the Works of the Law, Rom. 9. 31, 32. Here again, thou art left in the mire, and now peradventure thou seest, that thou art not profited by the Works of the Law, nor thy own Righteousness: And this makes thee stir a little, but in process of time, (through the subtil sleights of the Devil, and the wickedness of thine own heart;) thou forgettest thy trouble of Conscience, and slipest into a notion of the Gospel, and the grace thereof, and now thou thinkest thy self cock-sure: Now thou art able to say, He that lives and dies in his sins, shall be Damned for them: He that trusts in his own Righteousness, shall not be saved: Now thou canst cry, Grace, Grace, its freely by Grace, its through the Death of the Man Christ Jesus, that sinners do attain unto eternal Life, Heb. 9. 14. This, I say, thou hast in the notion, and hast not the power of the same in thine heart, and so it may be thine head is full of the knowledge of the Scriptures, though thine heart be empty of sanctifying Grace. And thus thou doest rejoyce for a time: Yet because thou hast not the root of the matter within thee, in time of Temptation thou fallest away, Luke 8. 13.

Now being in this condition, and thinking thy self to be wondrous well, because of that Notion of the Truth, and that notion thou hast in the things of God: I say, being in this state, thou art lyable to these Dangers.

First, Thou art like to perish if thou die with this notion in thine head, except God out of his rich Grace do work a saving work of Grace and Knowledge in thy heart; for know this, thou mayest understand glorious Mysteries, and yet be a Cast-away, 1 Cor. 13. 1, 2, 3. Or else,

Secondly, Thou art liable to the next Damnable Heresie that the Devil sendeth into the World. See and consider, Luk. 8. 13. 2 Tim. 2. 18. I say, thou doest lie liable to be carried away with it, and to be captivated by it; so that at last, through the Delusions of the Devil, thou mayest have thy Conscience seared as with an hot iron, so hard, that neither Law, nor Gospel, can make any entrance thereinto, to the doing of thee the least good. And indeed, who are the Men that at this day are so deluded by the Quakers, and other pernicious Doctrines? But those who thought it enough to be Talkers of the Gospel, and Grace of God, without seeking and giving all diligence to make it sure unto themselves? And for this cause God hath sent them strong Delusions, that they should believe a Lye: That they all might be damned, who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in Unrighteousness, as it is written, 2 Thes. 2. 11, 12. And indeed if you mark it, you shall see, that they be such kind of People, who at this day are so carried away with the Quakers Delusions; namely, a Company of loose Ranters, and light Notionists, with here and there a Legalist, which were shaking in their Principles from time to time, sometimes on this Religion, sometimes on that: And thus these Unstable Souls are deluded and beguiled at last, 2 Pet. 2. 14. So that these who before (as one would have thought) had something of God in them, are now turned such enemies to the glorious truths of the Gospel, that there is none so obstinately erroneous as they. And indeed it is just with God, to give then over to believe a Lye, 2 Thes. 2. 11. who before were so idle that they would not receive the Truth of God into their hearts, in the love of it. And to be bewitched by the Devil to obey his Temptations, and be damned, who would not obey the truth, Gal. 3. 1. that they might be saved.

But you will say, what Lyes are those, that the Devil beguileth poor Souls withal? I shall briefly 7. tell you some of them, but having before said, that they especially are liable to the danger of them, who slip into high Notions, and rest there; taking that for true faith which is not. I shall desire thee seriously to consider this one Character of a Notionist. Such an one, whether he perceives it or not, is puffed up in his fleshly mind, and advanceth himself above others, thinking but few may compare with him for Religion and knowledge in the Scriptures, but are ignorant and foolish in comparison of him: (Thus knowledge puffeth up, 1 Cor. 8. 1.) whereas when Men receive truth in the love of the truth, the more the head and heart is filled with the knowledge of the Mystery of Godliness, the more it is emptied of its own things, and is more sensible of its own vileness, and so truly humbled in its own eyes.

And further, a Notionist, though he fall from his former strictness and seeming holiness, and appear more loose, and vain in his practises, yet speaks as confidently of himself, as to assurance of Salvation, the love of God, and union with God, as ever. But now to return, and declare some of those Lyes which the Devil perswades some of these Men to believe.

1. That Salvation was not fully, and compleatly wrought out for poor sinners by the Man Christ Jesus, though he did it gloriously, Acts 13. 38, 39, by his death upon the Cross, without the Gates of Jerusalem, Heb. 13. 12. compared with Jo. 19. 20.

2. This is another of his lyes wherewith he doth deceive poor sinners, bidding them follow the Light that they brought into the World with them, telling them, that light will lead them to the Kingdom; for (say they) it will convince of sin, as swearing, lying, stealing, covetousness, and the rest of the sins against the Law, Rom. 3. 20. But the Law is not of Faith, Gal. 3. 12. And then I am sure, that it, with all its motions and convictions, is never able to justifie the soul of any poor sinner. For as many as are of the works of the Law are under the Curse; for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things that are written in the Book of the Law to doe them, Gal. 3. 10. but that no man is justified by the Law is evident, for, The just shall live by faith, ver. 11. Now because I am not altogether ignorant of the delusion of the Devil touching this grace of Faith also, I shall therefore in short give thee (reader) a brief, yet true description from the Scripture. 1. What true justifying faith is, and what it lays hold upon. 2. I shall shew who it doth come from. 3. That every one hath it not. 4. What are the fruits of it. First therefore true faith is a fruit, work, or gift of the Spirit of God. (Gal. 5: 22. 2 Thes. 1. 11. and 1 Cor. 12. 9.) whereby a poor soul is enabled through the mighty operation of God (Col. 2. 12.) in a sence of its sins and wretched estate to lay hold on the righteousness, blood, death, resurrection, ascension, intercession, and coming again of the Son of God which was crucified without the gates of Jerusalem, for eternal life; Jo. 3. 16, 18. compared with Mat. 3. 17. Gal. 2. 20. Rom. 5. 8, 9, 10. Ro. 3. 25. Act. 16. 31. Heb. 13. 12. according to that saying in Heb. 11. 1. Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things not seen, that is, the things that are hoped for faith sees, lays hold upon, and embraces them, Heb. 11. 13. as if they were present; yea, it seals up the certainty of them to the soul. Therefore saith the Apostle, it is the evidence, or testimony, or witness, of those things that are not seen as yet with a bodily eye: which are obtained by the blood of the man Christ Jesus, Heb. 9. 14. compared with Heb. 10. 12. 19, 20. by which the soul sees as in a glass the things that God hath laid up for them that fear him, 1 Cor. 13. 12. 2 Cor. 3. 18.

Secondly, If you would know who this Faith comes from, read Ephes. 2. 8. For by grace ye are saved (saith the Scripture) through faith, and that not of your selves it is the gift of God. Again, in Phil. 1. 29. it is thus written. For unto you (that are believers) it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake: And thus much do the Apostles hold forth to us in their prayer, or request to the Lord Jesus, when they say, Lord increase our faith, Luke 17. 5. and he is therefore called the Author and Finisher of our Faith, Heb. 12. 3. also we find in Jam. 1. 17. that, Every good and perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of Lights, &c. and therefore faith comes from God, for true justifying faith is a good gift, and perfect in respect of the Author God, in respect of its object, Christ; and in respect of the nature, though not in respect of the degree, and measure of it in us: even as a grain of gold, is as perfect gold, as a pound of gold, though not so much.

All men have not faith, This the Apostle witnesseth in so many words, as we find, 2 Thes. 3. 2. and Deut. 32. 20. Also in Tit. 1. 15. To them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure, &c. It appeareth also in this, that all do not attain salvation, which they must needs do if they had true justifying faith; compare Luke 13. 24. and 1 Jo. 5. 19. with Mar. 16. 16. And Heb. 4. 3. with ver. 6. and 11. they that believe shall be saved.

4. The fruits of it are, first, to purifie the heart, Acts 15. 9. and 1 Jo. 3. 3. and that, as I said before, by laying hold on what Jesus Christ had done and suffered for sinners, Acts 13. 38, 39.

2. It fills the soul with peace and joy, in that it lays hold on the things that are obtained for it, Rom. 5. 1. 2 Tim. 1. 9. 10. 1 Pet. 1. 8.

3. It makes the Soul to wait patiently, for the glory that is to be revealed at the second appearing of the man Christ Jesus, whom God hath raised from the dead; which hath also delivered it from the wrath to come, as in Tit. 2. 13, 14. 1 Pet. 4. 13. and 5. v. 1. 4. 1 Thes. 1. 10.

But how (may some say) doth the Devil make his delusions take place in the hearts of poor creatures? 8.
Answ. Why, 1. he labours to render the doctrine of the Lord Jesus, and Salvation by him alone, very odious and low: and also his ordinances, as hearing, reading, meditation, use of the Scriptures, &c. telling poor sinners that these things are but poor, low, carnal, beggerly, empty Notions; preached up by the

Clergy men,

Clergy-men, who are the Scribes and Pharisees of this Generation; who have the letter, but not the Spirit of God in them; which lead men into the form, but not into the power of the Lord Jesus: And with this perswasion, he also represents the ungodly and base carriage, or behaviour of some, who have taken in hand to preach the Doctrine of the Lord Jesus Christ, and thereby he doth render the Gospel of our Lord Jesus the more contemptible and base. But Woe, woe, woe, be to them by whom such offences come, Mat. 18. 7. Lu. 17. 1, 2.

2. He pretends to lead them up into some higher light, mysteries, and revelations of the Spirit, into which but a very few have attained or can attain, also bewitching their affections, and taking them with an earnest pursuit after these his pretended truths; perswading them, that they shall be as God himself, able to discern between good and evil, Gen. 3. 5. And in this he is exceeding subtile and expert, as having practised it ever since the days of Adam. These things being thus considered, and in some measure hungred after, and the rather because they are good (as they think) to make one wise Gen. 3. 6. The poor Soul is all on the sudden possessed with a desperate Spirit of delusion, which carries it away headlong with some high, light, frothy Notions, and spiritual wickedness (which drown it in perdition and destruction) that doth feed and tickle the heart a while, to the end it may make way for a farther manifestation of it self in the poor deluded soul; which when it hath attained to, it doth then begin to bring the soul into a clearer sight of those things, which it was loth it should know at the first; but having fitted the soul by degrees, for a further possession of it self, at last it begins to hold forth its new Gospel; shewing the soul a new Christ, and new Scriptures. The new and false Christ, is a Christ crucified within, dead within, risen again within, and ascended within in opposition to the Son of Mary, who was Crucified without, Dead without, risen again without, and ascended in a Cloud away from his Disciples into Heaven (Acts 1. 9, 10, 11.) without them.

Now this new and false Christ, hath a new and false faith belonging to his Gospel, which faith is this, to apprehend this Christ Crucified within, Dead within, Risen again within, and Ascended within. But ask them for a Scripture that doth positively prove their Doctrine, they also have a Scripture, but it is within, it doth bear witness within, and if they had not that, (though that be of the Devils making,) I am sure they would have none out of Gods Holy Scriptures, for they will allow of no Crucified Christ, but he that was Crucified without the Gates of Jerusalem: (a) Dead and Buried in the Sepulchre of Joseph of Arimathea: (b) was raised again out of that Sepulchre into which Joseph had laid him: (c) Who went before his Disciples into Gallilee: (d) And to Emaus: (e) Shewed them his Hands and his Feet, (f) where the Nails had gone through: Did eat and drink with them after his Resurrection: Was seen of them on earth forty days after his Resurrection: (h) and after that ascended away in a Cloud, out of the sight of his Disciples into Heaven: (i) Which Christ ever lives to make intercession for us: (k) Who will come again also at the end of the World to Judgment. (l) Who also is the same that hath obtained eternal Redemption for us: (m) This I say, or rather the Scriptures say, is Gods Christ, Mat. 16. 16. in whom he is well pleased, Mat. 3. 17. neither doth God own any other, or allow of any other: For there is none other Name under Heaven given among Men, whereby we must be saved, than the Name of Jesus of Nazareth, Acts 4. 10. compared with v. 11, 12. But as I told you before, the way to be thus deluded, is first to render Gods Christ odious and low, with a pretence of some further light and Revelations; and thus professing themselves to be wise, they became Fools, Rom. 1. 22. But you will say, Doth not the Scripture make mention of a Christ within? Col. 1. 27. and 2 Cor. 13. 5. Rom. 8. 10. I Answer. * 1. God's Christ was, and is, true God, and true Man; he was born of the Virgin Mary, true God, and true Man, Mat. 1. 23. and They shall call his Name Emanuel, which being Interpreted, is God with us, or God in our Nature, according to 1 Tim. 3. 16. God was manifested in the flesh; and 1 Joh. 1. 14. The word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, as of the only begotten of the Father, full of Grace and Truth. And in Heb. 1. 14. Forasmuch then as the Children are partakers of flesh and blood, he, that is, God, Heb. 1. 8. also himself likewise took part of the same, that through death he must destroy him that had the power of Death, that is, the Devil. Now as he was thus true God, and true Man, so he became our Redeemer, and Saviour. Compare the first and second Chapters to the Hebrews together, and you may clearly see that this is a glorious truth, that he who is the first and the last, Rev. 1. 17. 18. and 2. 8. humbled himself, and made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a Servant, and was made in the likeness of Men: And was this all? No, he humbled himself unto death, even the Death of the Cross, Phil. 2, 7, 8. compared with Revel. 1. 17, 18. and Rev. 2. 8. with Gal. 1. 4. Now after this Christ of God, true God, and true Man, had wrought out eternal redemption for us poor miserable sinners, Heb. 9. 14. compared with 1 Tim. 1. 15. I say, after he had done this, he ascended up into Heaven, and there ever lives to make intercession for us. Now this Christ, having thus compleatly wrought out our Salvation, sends his Disciples abroad to preach the same to poor sinners, Acts 2. and 2 Cor. 5. 19, 20. 1 Cor. 1. 17. and so many as were ordained to eternal life, when they heard the word, or the Gospel preached by the Apostles, which Gospel was this Christ, 1 Cor. 1. 17. compared with ver. 23. I say, so many as were ordained to eternal life, when they heard the word, the Holy Ghost, or Spirit of Christ fell upon them, Acts 10. 44. compared with Acts 13. 48. which did lead them into the Redemption and glorious things that the Lord Jesus had laid up and prepared for them, Joh. 16. 13, 14, 15. 1 Cor. 2. 9. Which Spirit was the earnest of their inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession to the praise of his glory, Eph. 1. 13, 14. This earnest of their inheritance was a glorious encouragement to them that had it, to hope for the glory that was to be revealed at the appearing of Jesus Christ, which is the meaning of that place in * Col. 1. 27, And that will be seen clearly if we truly compare it with Eph. 1. 13, 14. before cited. Now this Spirit, which sometimes is called the Spirit of Christ, 2 Cor. 13. 5. This Spirit, I say, being given to all those that were ordained to eternal life, it must needs follow, that those that had not this Spirit, but did live and die without it, were not ordained to eternal life, and so were none of Christs: but were Reprobates, Rom. 8. 9.

(a) Heb. 13. 12. Jo. 16. 20. (b) Jo. 19. 38, 39, 40, 41. (c) Jo. 20. 1. 12. (d) Mark 16. 7. (e) Luke 24. 16. (f) Luke 24. 39, 40. (h) Acts 1. 3. (i) Act. 1. 9, 10, 11. (k) Heb. 7. 24, 25. Act. 10. 42. & 17. 31. 2 Pet. 3. 10, 11. (m) Acts 13. 37, 38, 39. Rom. 3. 25. Eph. 1. 7. Rev. 1. 5. Heb. 1. 2. & 9. 14.

* Though I shall go seemingly about in answer to this Question, yet it will be very profitable to them who shall weigh and consider the several sentences hereof.

* The Spirit of Christ is the earnest of that inheritance that Christ as he was God and Man did obtain. Col. 1. 27. Ephes. 1. 13, 14.

Rom. 8. 9. for the Spirit of Christ is the distinguishing Character betwixt a Believer and an Unbeliever, he that hath it, and is led by it, is a Child of God, Rom. 7. 14. but he that hath it not is none of Christs.

* The Objection answered.

*So then, The * Answer that I give to the Question, is this. The* Spirit of Christ that is given to believers, is the Earnest, or hope of that Inheritance that Christ hath already purchased, and is now preparing for so many as he hath given, or shall give this Holy Spirit unto. And for the proof hereof, Read Eph. 1. 13, 14. In whom (saith the Scripture) ye also trusted after that ye heard the word of truth, the Gospel of your Salvation. In whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit of Promise, which is the earnest of our Inheritance: (which inheritance is the eternal redemption that was purchased by Christ for poor sinners, Heb. 9. 14.) until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. Again, Gal. 5. 5. for ye through the Spirit, wait for the hope of righteousness by faith. And Col. 1. 27. the Apostle speaking of this great mystery, saith, To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this Mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ, in you the hope of glory, which glory was then revealed to the Saints no otherwise then by faith, as the Apostle saith, We rejoyce in the hope of the glory of God, Rom. 5. 2. Which hope is begotten by the Spirits shedding abroad the love of God in our hearts, ver. 5. which hope is not yet seen, that is, not yet actually enjoyed; for we are saved by hope; but hope that is seen is not hope; for what a Man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it, Rom. 8. 24, 25. And as I say, the cause of Believers hope is this, Christ, or the Spirit of Christ in them, the hope of glory. And indeed he may well hope for glory to come, who hath already an earnest thereof given him of God, and that earnest no less than the Spirit of the Lord Jesus, Rom. 8. 16, 17. 9.

But now, this Spirit, which is the Cause of a Believers hope, all Men have not, Jude 19. Eph. 2. 12. Rom. 8. 9. Jo. 14. 16, 17. Therefore what a sad Doctrine is that which saith, follow the Light that Christ hath enlightened every Man withal, which cometh into the World, which light is the Conscience * Joh. 8. 9. that convinceth of Sins against the Law; and that you may see clearly if you mind that Scripture, John 8. 9. which saith, That the Pharisee which had neither the love of God, nor yet his word abiding in them, John 5. 38, 43. when they had heard Christ speaking thus to them, He that is without sin among you, &c. being convicted by their own Consciences, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even to the least. But the Devil, that he might be sure not to miss of his design, labours by all means to render the Scriptures also odious and low, telling them of the Scriptures within; which Christ never taught, nor yet his Disciples: But they being given up of God to a reprobate mind, have given themselves over, rather to follow the suggestions of the Devil, than the Holy Scriptures which God hath commanded us to betake our selves to, Isa. 8. 20. compared with John 5. 39. which Scripture is called the sword of the Spirit, Eph. 6. 17. which weapon our Lord Jesus himself held up, to overcome the Devil withal, Matt. 4. 4, 7, 10. Luke 4. 4. 8, 12. But this design (as I told you) the Devil carries on, by pretending to shew them a more excellent way which they may attain to, if they be but wise, and follow what is made known unto them from the Light within them.

It is the spirit of the Devil that doth render the Scriptures contemptible and low.

But (Reader) that thou mayest be able to escape the snare of this cunning hunter, I shall lay thee down some few directions, which if the Lord give thee grace to follow, thou shalt escape these wicked Delusions. 10.

And first of all, I admonish thee to be very serious touching thine estate and condition; and examine thine own heart by the rule of the word of God, whether or no, thou hast as yet any beginnings of desiring after Religion: And if thou findest that thou hast lived until now in ignorance, and hast not set thy self to remember thy Creator as thou art commanded, Eccles. 12. 1. then I beseech thee consider that thou art under the wrath of Almighty God, and hast been so ever since thou camest into the world, Eph. 2. 1, 2: being thou in thy first Parents didst transgress against thy Maker, Rom. 5. 18. Therefore as by the offence of one, that is, of Adam, ver. 14. judgment came upon all Men unto Condemnation. Besides the many Sins thou hast committed ever since thou wast born: Sins against the Law of God, and sins against the Gospel of the grace of God: Sins against the long suffering, and forbearance of God, and sins against his judgments: Sins of Omission and sins of Commission, in thoughts, words and actions: Consider, I say, thy condition; yea, get a very great sense of thy sins that thou hast committed; and that thou mayest so do, Beg of God to convince thee by his Holy Spirit, not only of sins against Law, but also of that damning sin, the sin of unbelief.

2. If thou by Grace art but brought into such an estate as to see thy self in a lost condition because of sin, without the Lord Jesus, then in the next place have a care of resting on any Duty done, though it be never so specious; I say have a care of making any stay any where on this side the Lord Jesus Christ: But above all, strive to believe, that that very Man that was born of the Virgin Mary, did come into the world on purpose to save thee, as well as other poor Sinners: I say, thou must not be content till thou art enabled to say, Gal. 2. 20. He loved me, and gave himself for me. And that thou maist be sure to attain to this most precious Rev. 22. 17 Faith, (for so it is) be much in applying the freest Promises to thy own Soul; yea, those that have no conditions annexed to them, as these, or other like, Jer. 31. 3. Jer. 3. John 6. 37. also Joh. 14. 19. Hos. 14. 3. I say, labour to apply to thy own Soul in particular, the most glorious and freest Promises in the Book of God. And if at any time the Devil besets thee by his Temptations, (for so is his wonted manner to do, and so much the more, as he sees the labour to get out of his reach;) I say, when he assails thee with his fiery darts, be sure to act Faith on the most free Promises, and have a care that thou dost not enter into any dispute with him; but rather resist him by those blessed Promises that are laid down in the Word of God: And withal, be sure to meditate upon the Blood of the Man Christ Jesus, who also is the true God, and read those Scriptures that do most fully and clearly speak of it; as, 1 John 1. 7. Eph. 1. 7. Heb. 9. 14. Rom. 3. 25.

But

But if thou say (as it is often the speech of poor Souls lying under a sense of Sin, and the apprehensions of wrath due to it) I cannot apply the Promises to mine own Soul; and the reason is, because my Sins are so great, and so many. Consider, and know it for a Truth, that the more and greater thou seest thy sins to be, the more cause hast thou to believe; yea, thou must therefore believe because thy Sins are great: David made it an encouragement to himself, or rather the Spirit of the Lord made it his encouragement, to crave, yea to hope for pardon, because he had greatly transgressed, Psal. 25. 11. For thy Name sake, O Lord, (saith he) pardon mine Iniquity, for it is great. As if he had said, O Lord, Thy Name will be more glorified, the riches of thy Grace will be more advanced, thy Mercy and Goodness will more shine, and be magnified in pardoning me who am guilty of great iniquity, than if thou pardonest many others who have not committed such heinous Offences. And I dare say, the reason why thou believest not, is not because thy Sins are great, but because thou dost reason too much with that wicked Enemy of Man's Salvation, and givest way too much to the fleshly reasoning of thine own heart. For Christ hath said, He that cometh unto me, I will in no wise cast out, John 6. 37. And again, Though thy sins be as red as Scarlet, they shall be as white as Snow, Isa. 1. 18. And Christ calleth those that labour, and are heavy laden, to come to him, with promise to give them rest, Mat. 11. 28. Wherefore thou must not say, my sins are too big; but thou must say, because I am a great sinner, yea, because I have sinned above many of my companions, and am nearer to Hell and eternal damnation then they, because of my sins, therefore will I cry unto the Lord, and say, O Lord, Pardon my sins, for they are great.

11. Now that thou mayest not be deceived in a matter of so great concernment, have a special care of these three things. First, have a care of putting off thy trouble of Spirit the wrong way, which thou maist do three ways. First, when thy Conscience flieth in thy face, and tells thee of thy sins, thou dost put off Convictions the wrong way, if thou dost stop thy Conscience by promising to reform thy self, and lead a new Life, and getteſt off thy guilt by so doing: For though thou maist by this means stlil and quiet thy Conscience for a time, yet thou canst not hereby satisfie and appease the wrath of God; Yea, saith God to such, Though thou wash thee with Nitre, and take thee much Sope, yet thine Iniquity is marked before me, Jer. 2. 22.

2. If when thou art under the guilt of thy Sins, thou puttest off Convictions by thy Performances or Duties, and so satisfiest thy Conscience, then also thou dost put off thy Convictions the wrong way: For God will not be satisfied with any thing less than the Blood, Righteousness, Resurrection, and Intercession of his own Son, Acts 4. 12. And thou shouldest not satisfie thy self with any less than God would have thee to satisfie thy self withal; and that is the water of Life, Isa. 55. 1, 2. which water of Life thy Duties and all thy Righteousness is not; for it is but menstruous Rags, Isa. 64. 6.

3. Have a care that when thou art under conviction, thou doest not satisfie thy self with a Notion of the free grace of the Gospel; My meaning is, do not content thy self with any measure of knowledge that thou canst attain unto, or bottom thy peace upon it, thinking thou art now well enough, because thou canst speak much of the Grace of God, and his Love in Christ to poor sinners. For this thou mayest have, and do; and yet be but a Companion for Demas, yea, for Judas and the rest of the damned multitude: As the Apostle saith, For all this thou mayest be but as sounding brass, and as a tinckling Cymball; that is, nothing but a sound, 1 Cor. 13. 1, 2, 3.

12. But Secondly, If thou wouldest not be deceived, then have a care to avoid false Doctrines, which are according to the spirit of the Devil, and not after Christ.

As first, If any Doctrine doth come unto thee, that tells thee, Except thou art circumcised after the manner of Moses, thou canst not be saved: That is, if any Man come unto thee, and tells thee, thou must do such and such works of the Law, to the end thou mayest present thy self the better before God, do not receive him: For to him that worketh not, but believeth in him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness, Rom. 4. 5.

Nothing can make us accepted with God but the Merits of Jesus Christ. The Ranters Doctrine is false.

2. If any come unto thee, and bring such a Doctrine as this; That thou mayest be saved by Grace, though thou walk in the imaginations of thy own wicked heart: His Doctrine also is deviliſh, do not receive him, Deut. 29. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23.

3. But if any come unto thee, and doth in truth advance the Blood, Righteousness, Resurrection, Intercession, and second Coming of that very Man in the Clouds of Heaven, that was bron of the Virgin Mary; and doth press thee to believe on what he hath done (shewing thee thy lost condition without him) and to own it as done for thee in particular, and withal doth admonish thee, not to trust in a bare Notion of it, but to receive it into thy heart, so really, that thy very heart and soul may burn in Love to the Lord Jesus Christ again: and doth also teach thee, that the Love of Christ should and must constrain thee, not to live to thy self: but to him thau loved thee, and gave himself for thee, 2 Cor. 5. 14, 15. Eph. 4. 20, 21, 22, 23. 1 Cor. 7. 23. Ye are bought with a price, Be not ye the Servants of Men. If his Conversation be also agreeable to his Doctrine, a believing, honest, loving, self-denying, courteous Conversation, (he also is a true Christian.) Receive that Doctrine * and receive it really; for it is the Doctrine of God, and of Christ, Gal. 4. 4. Gal. 1. 4. Eph. 1. 7. Rev. 1. 5. Acts 13. 38. John 1. 19. Acts 4. 12. Acts 10. 40, 41, 42. and 1 Thes. 1. 10. Mark 13. ult. 2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. Considering the end of their Conversation Jesus Christ, yesterday, and to day, and the same for ever, Heb. 13. 7, 8.

* The Doctrine is true, and of God, whatever the Man be.

13. Again, If thou wouldst not be deceived, then, beware of slighting any known Truth that thou findest revealed, or made known to thee in the Gospel; but honour and obey it in its place, be it (as thou thinkest) never so low, John 14. 15.

2. Have a care that thou do not undervalue, or entertain low thoughts of God, Christ the Son of Mary, and the holy Scriptures, but search them, John 5. 39. And give attendance to the reading of them, 1 Tim. 4. 13. For, I will tell thee, he that slights the Scriptures, doth also slight him of whom they testifie. And I will tell thee also, that for this cause, God hath given up many to strong delusions, lusions, that they might believe a Lie: that they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousnes, 2 Thes. 2. 11, 12.

Therefore I say unto thee, In the Name of the Lord Jesus, the Son of Mary, the Son of God, the very Creator of Heaven and Earth, and all things that are therein; have a care of thy self; for the Devil doth watch for thee day and night, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Thine own heart also doth labour to deceive thee, if by any means it may, Jer. 17. 10. Therefore do not thou trust it; for if thou do, thou wilt not do wisely, Prov. 28. 26. I say therefore, have a care that thou labour in the strength of the Lord Jesus, to escape all these things; for if thou fall into any one of them, it will make way for a farther income of Sin and the Devil, through whose deceitfulness thy heart will be hardned, and thou wilt be more uncapable of receiving instruction, or reaping advantage, by and from the Ordinances of Jesus Christ: The rather therefore, give all diligence to believe in the Christ of God, which is the Son of Mary, and be sure to apply all that he hath done, and is doing, unto thy self, as for thee in particular; which thing if thou dost, thou shalt never fall.

And now Reader, I shall also give thee some few Considerations, and so I shall commit thee to the Lord.

1. Consider, That God doth hold out his Grace, and Mercy freely, and that to every one, Rev. 22. 17. Isa. 55. 1, 2, 3, 6, 7.

2. Consider, That there is no way to attain to this free Mercy and Grace, but by him that was born of the Virgin Mary; for he himself saith, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh to the Father but by me, John 14. 6. compared with Matt. 1. 20, 21.

3. Consider, if thou striveſt to go over any other way, thou wilt be but a thief and a robber, John 10. 1. compared with v. 9. And know that none of these (so continuing) shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10.

4. Consider, that if the Devil should be too hard for thee, and deceive thee, by perswading thee to embrace, or entertain a new Gospel, which neither Christ nor his Disciples did allow of, it would make thee gnash Teeth when it is too late.

5. Consider, that though thou hast been deluded by Satan to this day, yet if now thine eyes be opened, to see and acknowledge it, though as yet thou hast been either exceedingly wicked, (a) or an idle, (b) luke-warm, hypocritical Professor; (c) and hast stood it out to the last; (d) for all this there is hope; and if now thou receive the Truth in the love of the Truth, being as willing to be rid of the Filth of Sin, as the Guilt of it, thou shalt be saved.

(a) 1 Tim. 1. 13. (b) Mat. 20. 6, 7. (c) Rev. 3. 17, 18, 19. (d) Ezek. 18. 21, 22.

6. Consider, that the Lord will call thee to Judgment for all thy Sins past, present, and what else thou shalt practise hereafter, especially for thy rejecting and trampling on the Blood of his Son, the Man Christ Jesus: And if thou dost not agree with thine Adversary, now, while thou art in the way, he will deliver thee to the Judge, and the Judge will deliver thee to the Officer, and if he cast thee into prison, I tell thee, thou shalt not come out thence till thou hast paid the very last Mite, Luke 12. 58, 59.

And therefore I beseech thee to consider; Here is at this time Life and Death, Heaven and Hell, everlasting Joy, and everlasting Torment set before thee. Here is also the way to have the one, and the way to escape the other. Now if the Lord shall do thee any good by what I have spoken, I hope it will be a means to stir me up to thank the Lord that ever he did use such a Sinner as I am, in the work of his Gospel. And here I shall close up what I have said, desiring thee (if thou be a Christian) to pray for him who desires to continue

Thy Servant in the Lord Jesus Christ, though less than the least of all Saints,

JOHN BUNYAN.

EPISTLE

Writ by

Mr. BURTON,

Minister at Bedford.

To the Reader,

1. READER, thou hast in this small Treatise, set before thee, the several pieces of that great and glorious mystery, Jesus Christ, God manifested in the flesh: And if thou art enlightned by the spirit of Christ, here thou mayest see by that spirit how Jesus Christ the Son of God, the Son of Mary, is both true God and true Man, both Natures making but one Christ one Jesus, where speaking first of his being God, and then of his taking upon him the nature of Man; afterward in the 8 and 9 verses, he saith, he (meaning this Jesus) humbled himself, &c. and God (meaning the Father) hath highly exalted him, &c. speaking of both natures God and Man as together making but one Christ; who is the Saviour, and is to be believed and trusted in for Salvation not only as God, but as man also; and those who do not thus make him the object of their faith, will surely fall short of pardon of sin, and of salvation, through this man (speaking of Christ as crucified at Jerusalem) is preached unto you forgiveness of sins: and saith he, there is one Mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; and this discovers the damnable errors of those commonly called Socinians, who on the one hand deny him that was born of the Virgin Mary to be true God as well as true man: and this is also quite contrary to those commoly called Familists, Ranters, Quakers or others, who on the other hand either deny Christ to be a real Man without them, blasphemously fancying him to be only God manifest in their flesh; or else make his humane nature with the fulness of the Godhead in it, to be but a Type of God to be manifest in the Saints, and so according to their wicked imagination, his humane nature was to be laid aside after he had offered it up upon the cross without the Gate at Jerusalem, contrary to Acts 1. 1,2,3,9,10, 11 Verses, compared with the last chapter of Luke, where it is clearly held forth that the man Christ rose again out of the grave with the same body which was crucified and laid in the Grave, and was taken up above the clouds into heaven with the same real body, and that he shall again descend from Heaven in that same glorious body of flesh, as Acts 1, 9, 10, 11. And this sure truth of Christ being the Saviour and Mediator, as Man, and not only as God, will also shew serious believers what to think of some, who though they will not (it may be) deny that Christ is a real man without them in the Heavens as well as God, yet do own him to be the Saviour only as God, first dwelling in that Flesh that was born of the Virgin, and then dwelling in Saints, and thus both beginning and perfecting their Salvation within them, and so indeed do hold Christ as Man, to be only (I say to be only) the saved or glorifyed one of God, together with the Saints his Members, only something in another and more glorious manner and measure than the Saints; and theſe high-flown People are in this very like to Familiſts and Quakers, undervaluing the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, God-man, and though they may ſpeak much of Chriſt, yet they do not rightly and ſavingly lay him for their Foundation. Now as a help againſt all theſe dangerous things, thou haſt here the main things of Chriſt laid down before thee briefly, and fully proved by the Scriptures: Firſt of his being true God out of Fleſh from eternity, and then of his taking Fleſh, or the nature of Man upon him in the Womb of the Virgin, and ſo his fulfilling the Law, his dying for Sins at Jeruſalem, his riſing again without, his aſcending into Heaven without, and not into a fancyed Heaven only within, as ſome ſay; his interceding in Heaven for all his, and his coming again in his Body of Fleſh to judge the World. And if thou art yet in a ſtate of Nature, though covered over with an out-ſide Profeſſion, here thou may'ſt find ſomething (if the Spirit of Chriſt meet thee in reading) to convince thee of the ſad condition thou art in, and to ſhew thee the righteouſneſs thou art to fly to by Faith, and to truſt in for Salvation, when convinced of Sin; which is a Righteouſneſs wrought by that God-man Jeſus Chriſt without thee, dying without thee at Jeruſalem for ſinners: Here alſo thou may'ſt ſee the difference between true and falſe Faith. If thou art a true Believer, as theſe things are the Foundation of thy Faith, ſo they may be of great uſe for thee to meditate upon, and to exerciſe thy Faith in, particularly in Meditation, and in this way to ſeek daily for a higher Faith in theſe Truths, to be given into thy Heart from Heaven; and there is a great need of this, for though theſe Truths be commonly known amongſt Profeſſors to the notion of them, yet very few know or believe them aright: Nay, it may well be ſaid in this Age, that, if the Faith of the true Saints was well ſifted, and Tradition, Notion and the Apprehenſions of their own Reaſon and Fancy was ſifted out, moſt of them would be found to have very little knowledge of, and Faith in, theſe common Truths.

Secondly, Theſe Truths being put thus together, and plainly proved by the Scriptures, may be a great help (through the Spirit concurring) to ſtrengthen thee againſt all thoſe damnable Hereſies which are ſpread abroad, which deny the Lord Jeſus Chriſt either plainly or more cunningly and myſteriouſly. And thirdly, the more 3.
thou art rooted and ſet down from Heaven in the Faith of theſe Truths of Chriſt, to believe fully the glorious reality of them, and their intereſt in them, the more heavenly peace and joy thou wilt have, and alſo thou wilt 1 Pet. 1. 7, 8.
hereby attain the more true Holineſs and Purity of Heart and Life, purify- Acts 15.9.
ing their Hearts by Faith: And then the more thou haſt of the right Faith of Chriſt, and of his things in thy heart, the more ſtrong and valiant wilt thou be in ſpirit to do any Work private or publick for Jeſus Chriſt, like Stephen, who being full of Acts 6. 8.
Faith and of the Holy Spirit, was alſo full of Power. In this Book thou haſt alſo laid down from the Scriptures how Jeſus Chriſt is without the Saints as Man, and yet dwelleth within them, that is, ſomething of his Divine Nature or his Bleſſed Spirit dwells within them, which Spirit is ſometime called Rom. 8.9.
the Spirit of Chriſt. He that hath not the Spirit of Chriſt, &c. and ſometime called Chriſt; If Chriſt be in you, &c. Rom. 8.10. and alſo how we may know whether it be Chriſt and the Spirit of Chriſt within, or a falſe Spirit, calling it ſelf Chriſt, and that is thus; If it be indeed Chriſt within, that is, the Spirit of Chriſt God-man; why then it teaches that Man or Woman in whom it is, to apply, and truſt in Chriſt without for Salvation; Chriſt as born of the Virgin Mary, as fulfilling the Law without them, as dying without the Gate of Ieruſalem as a ſacrifice for ſin, it teaches them to truſt in the Man Chriſt as riſing again out of the Grave without them, as aſcending into, and interceding in Heaven without for them; and as to come from that Heaven again in his Fleſh to judge the World. Thus the man Chriſt himſelf ſaith, When he (the Spirit of Truth) Joh. is come, &c. he ſhall glorifie me. He ſhall 13.
make you more to prize, admire and glorifie me, who am both God and Man, and who ſhall be abſent from you touching my Body. Then follows, For he ſhall take of mine, (of my glorious things)

and

and ſhew them to you; he ſhall take my Divine and Humane Nature, my Birth, my Perſon and Offices, my Obedience, Death, Satisfaction, my Reſurrection, Aſcenſion and Interceſſion, and of my ſecond coming in the Clouds with my mighty Angels to Judgment, and ſhall ſhew them, or clear them up to you: He ſhall take of my Salvation, which I have wrought for you in my own Perſon without you: And he ſhall take of my Glory and Exaltation in the Heavens, and ſhew to you. Now to mind this one thing, and to be ſet down in a right Underſtanding of it, by the Spirit, from the Scriptures, will be of great concernment to thee and me; for, for want of this, many Profeſſors have ſplit themſelves, ſome looking only on what Chriſt hath done and ſuffered without them, reſting in an Hiſtorical, Traditional, and indeed a fancyed Faith of it, without looking for the Spirit of Jeſus Chriſt to come with Power into their Hearts, without which they cannot rightly know, nor rightly believe in Chriſt the Son of God without them, ſo as to have any ſhare or intereſt in
Rom. 8. 9. him, If any Man have not the Spirit of Chriſt, he is none of his: Others have been depending too much upon ſomething they call Chriſt, and the righteouſneſs of Chriſt within them, in oppoſition to Chriſt and his righteouſneſs without them, from which all true Saints have their juſtification and comfort, it being received through the operation of the Spirit which dwells in them; and however theſe may talk much of Chriſt within them, yet it is manifeſt, that it is not the Spirit of Chriſt, but the Spirit of the Devil; in that it doth not glorifie, but ſlight and reject the Man Chriſt and his righteouſneſs which was wrought without them: Reader, in this Book thou wilt not meet with high flown airy Notions, which ſome delight in, counting them high Myſteries, but the ſound plain, common, (and yet ſpiritual and myſterious) truths of the Goſpel, and if thou art a Believer, thou muſt needs reckon them ſo, and the more, if thou haſt not only the faith of them in thy heart, but art daily living in the ſpiritual ſenſe and feeling of them, and of thy Intereſt in them. Neither doth this Treatiſe offer to thee doubtful controverſial things, or matters of opinion, as ſome Books chiefly do, which when inſiſted upon the weightier things of the Goſpel have always done more hurt than good: But here thou haſt things certain, and neceſſary to be believed, which thou canſt not too much ſtudy. Therefore pray, that thou mayeſt receive this word which is according to the Scriptures in Faith and Love, not as the word of Man, but as the word of God, without reſpect of Perſons, and be not offended becauſe Chriſt holds forth the glorious Treaſure of the Goſpel to thee in a poor earthen Veſſel, by one who hath neither the greatneſs nor the wiſdom of this World to commend him to thee; for as the Scripture ſaith, Chriſt, (who was low and contemptible in the World himſelf) ordinarily

2. My end in writing theſe few Lines is not to ſet up Man, but having had experience with many other Saints of this Mans fondneſs in the faith, of his Godly Converſation, and his Ability to Preach the Goſpel, not by humane Art, but by the Spirit of Chriſt, and that with much ſucceſs in the converſion of Sinners when there are ſo many carnal empty Preachers both Learned and unlearned; I ſay having had experience of this, and judging this Book may be profitable to many others, as well as to my ſelf: I thought it my Duty upon this account (though I be very unfit for it) to bear Witneſs with my Brother to the plain and ſimple (and yet glorious) Truths of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. And now Reader, the Lord give thee and me a right underſtanding in theſe things, that we may live and die not with a Traditional Notional dead Faith, but with a right ſpiritual lively Faith of Chriſt, in our heart, wrought by the mighty Power of God; ſuch a Faith as may make Jeſus Chriſt more real and precious to us than any thing in the World, as may purifie our Hearts, and make us new Creatures, that ſo we may be ſure to eſcape the Wrath to come, and after this Life enjoy eternal Life and Glory through the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Farewell,

Thine to ſerve thee in the Lord Jeſu,

SOME Gospel-Truths Opened, &c.

15. Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to set forth their several Judgments concerning the Son of the Virgin Mary, the Lord Jesus Christ; and some of those many having most grosly erred from the simplicity of the Gospel, it seemed good to me, having had some knowledge of these things, to write a few words, to the end, if the Lord will, Souls might not be so horribly deluded by those several corrupt Principles that are gone into the world concerning him.

NOW, that there is such a thing as a Christ, I shall not spend much time in proving of; only I shall shew you, that he was first promised to the Fathers, and afterward expected by their Children: But before I do that, I shall speak a few words concerning God's fore-ordaining and purposing, that a Christ, a Saviour should be, and that before the World began. Now God in his own wisdom and counsel, knowing what would come to pass, as if it were already done, Rom. 4. 17. He knowing that Man would break his Commandments, and so throw himself under eternal destruction, did in his own purpose fore-ordain such a thing as the rise of him that should fall, and that by a Saviour, Eph. 1. 4. According as he hath chosen us in him, (meaning the Saviour) before the foundation of the world. That is, God seeing that we would transgress, and break his Commandment, did before chuse some of those that would fall, and give them to him that should afterward purchase them actually, though in the account of God, his blood was shed before the world was, Rev. 13.8. I say in the account of God his son was slain? that is, according to God's purpose and conclusion, which he purposed in himself before the World was; as it is written, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy Calling, according to his own purpose and Grace which was given us in Christ before the world began. As also, in 1 Pet. 1. 20. Where the Apostle speaking of Christ, and the Redemption purchased by him for Sinners, saith of him, Who verily was fore-ordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last days for you who by him do believe in God that raised him from the dead, God having thus purposed in himself, that he would save some of them that by transgression had destroyed themselves, did with the everlasting Son of his Love, make an Agreement, or Bargain, that upon such and such terms, he would give him a company of such poor Souls as had by transgression fallen from their own Innocency and Uprightness, into those wicked Inventions that they themselves had sought out, Eccles. 7. 29. The Agreement also how this should be, was made before the foundation of the world was laid, Tit. 1. 2. The Apostle, speaking of the Promise, or Covenant made between God and the Saviour (for that is his meaning,) saith on this wise, In hope of eternal Life, which God that cannot lie, promised before the world began. Now this Promise, or Covenant was made with none but with the Son of God, the Saviour: And it must needs be so; for there was none with God before the world began, but he by whom he made the world; as in Prov. 8. from v. 22. to v. 31. which was and is the Son of his Love.

This Covenant, or Bargain, had these Conditions in it.

First, that the Saviour should take upon him flesh and blood, the same nature that the Sons of men were partakers of (sin only excepted) Heb. 2. 14. Heb. 4. 15. And this was the Will or Agreement that God had made with him: And therefore when he speaks of doing the will of God, Heb. 10. 5. he saith, a Body hast thou prepared me, (as according to thy Promise, Gen. 3. 15. which I was to take of a woman,) and in it I am come to do thy will, O God, as it is written of me in the Volume of thy Book, v. 7.

2. The Saviour was to bring everlasting Righteousness to justifie Sinners withal, Dan 9. 24, 25. The Messias, or Saviour, shall bring in everlasting righteousness, and put an end to iniquity, as it is there written. To make an end of Sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness. This, I say, was to be brought into the world by the Saviour, according to the Covenant, or Agreement, that was between God and Christ before the world began, which God, that cannot lie, promised at that time, Tit. 1. 2.

Tit. 1. 2.

3. He was to accomplish this everlasting Righteousness by spilling his most precious Blood, according to the Terms of the Covenant, or Bargain; and therefore when God would shew his People what the Agreement was that he and the Saviour had made, even before the Covenant was accomplished and sealed actually. See for this Zech. 9. (where he is speaking of him that should be the Saviour,) v. 11. And as for thee also (meaning the Saviour) by the blood of thy Covenant; or as some render it, whose Covenant is by Blood (which is all to one purpose.) I (meaning God) have sent forth the Prisoners out of the Pit wherein there was no water. The meaning is this: As for thee also, seeing the Covenant, or Bargain that was made between me and thee before the world was, is accomplished in my account, as if it were actually and really done, with all the conditions that were agreed upon by me and thee; I have therefore, according to that Agreement that was on my part, sent forth the Prisoners, and those that were under the Curse of my Law, out of the Pit wherein there is no water; seeing thou also hast compleatly fulfilled in my account whatsoever was on thy part to be done, according to our agreement. And thus is that place to be understood in John 17. 9. I pray for them, I pray not for the world, but for those that thou hast given me (which I covenanted with thee for) thine they were, and thou gavest them me, (but on such and such conditions as are before mentioned, Zech. 9.) And again, According as he hath chosen us in him, (that is, in Christ,) before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and * without blame before him in love. Now, seeing this was thus concluded upon by those that did wish well to the Souls and Bodies of poor Sinners, after the world was made by them, and after they had said, Let us make Man after our own Image, after our Likeness, Gen. 1. 26. And after Man, whom God had made upright, had by transgression fallen from that state into which God at first placed him, and thrown himself into a miserable condition by his transgression, then God brings out of his love that which he and his Son had concluded upon, and begins now to make forth that to the world, which he had purposed in himself before the world began, Eph. 1. 4, 9. 2 Tim. 1. 9. Now the first discovery that was made to a lost Creature of the love of God, was made to fallen Adam, Gen. 3. 15. Where it is said, I will put enmity between thee and the Woman, and between thy seed and her seed, which is the Saviour, Gal. 4. 4. It shall break thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. This was the first discovery of the love of God to lost Man: This was the Gospel which was preached to Adam in his generation; in these words was held forth to them in that generation, that which should be farther accomplished in after-generations.

When these words were spoken, the Covenant was not actually sealed; for that was done when the Blood of Christ was let out upon the Cross.

* To be holy, and without blame, is that which God intended for us in that glorious Covenant; and by it alone we are holy and without blame before him in love; for we are compleat in him alone with whom the Covenant was made. Col. 2. 10. Tit. 1. 2.

16. 2. Another Discovery of the Love of God in the Gospel, was held forth to Noah, in that he would have him to prepare an Ark to save himself withal; which Ark did type out the Lord that was to come, and be the Saviour of those whom he before had covenanted for with God the Father. And God said to Noah, the end of all Flesh is before me; make thee an Ark of Gopher wood, Gen. 6. 13, 14. And Chap. 7. 1. The Lord said unto Noah, come thou and all thy house into the Ark, for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation.

3. God breaks out with a farther discovery of himself in love to that generation in which Abraham lived, Gen. 12. 3. Where he saith, And in thee, (that is, from thee shall Christ come through, in whom) shall all the Families of the earth be blessed. This was also a farther manifestation of the good will of God to poor lost sinners; and through this discovery of the Gospel, did Abraham see that which made him rejoyce, John 8. 56.

4. When the time was come that Moses was to be a Prophet to the People of his generation, then God did more gloriously yet break forth with one Type after another; as the Blood of Bulls, and Lambs, and Goats: Also Sacrifices of divers manners, and of several things, which held forth that Saviour more clearly which God had in his own purpose and decree determined to be sent; for these things (the Types) were a shadow of that which was to come, which was the substance, Heb. 9. 9, 10. Heb. 10. 1, 5, 6, 7. Now when these things were thus done, when God had thus signified to the world, what he intended to do in after-times, presently all that had faith to believe that God would be as good as his word, began to look for, and to expect that the Lord should accomplish and bring to pass what he had promised, what his hand and counsel had before determined to be done.

17. Now Abraham begins to look for what God had promised and signified; namely, that he would send a Saviour into the world, in his appointed time, which thing being promised, Abraham embraces, being perswaded of the certainty of it; as in Heb. 11. 13. And this did fill his heart with joy and gladness, as I said before; for he saw it, and was glad, John 8. 56.

2. Jacob also, while he was blessing his Sons, concerning things to come, breaks forth with these words, I have waited for thy Salvation. He was also put in expectation of Salvation to come by this Saviour.

3. David was in earnest expectation of this, which was held forth by Types and Shadows in the Law; for as yet the Saviour was not come, which made him cry out with a longing after it, O that the Salvation of Israel were come out of Sion, Psal. 53. 6. And again, O that the Salvation of Israel were come out of Sion, Psal. 147. The thing that David waited for, was not in his time come, though before his time it was promised; which makes him cry out, O that it were come, that it were come out of Sion! Where, by the way, take notice, that the true Salvation and Saviour of Israel was to come out of Sion, that is, out of the Church of God, touching the flesh, as it is written, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your Brethren like unto me, Deut. 18. 15, 18. And again, I have laid help upon one that is mighty; I have exalted one chosen out of the people, Psal. 89. 19. And, Rom. 9. 5. Whose are the Fathers, of whom as concerning the the flesh, Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Christ, as concerning the flesh, did come of the Fathers.

4. Isaiah did propheſie of this, that God would thus save his People; yea, he breaks forth with theſe words, But Iſrael ſhall be ſaved with an everlaſting Salvation, Iſa. 45. 17. He alſo tells them how it ſhall be accompliſhed in that 53*d. Chap.* Yea, he had ſuch a glorious taſte of the reality of it, that he ſpeaks as though it had been actually done.

5. In the days of Jeremiah, this that God had promiſed to the Fathers, was not yet accompliſhed; in chap. 23. 5. he ſaith, Behold the days come, ſaith the Lord, that I will (mark, it was not yet done) but I will (ſaith God) raiſe unto David a righteous Branch, and a King ſhall reign and proſper. In his days Judah ſhall be ſaved, and Iſrael ſhall dwell ſafely; and this is his Name wherewith he ſhall be called, The Lord our Righteouſneſs.

6. He was alſo to come in Zechariah's time, Zech. 3. 8. Where he ſaith, For behold I will bring forth my Servant the Branch.

7. He was not come in the time of Malachy neither, though he was indeed at that time near his coming. For he ſaith himſelf, Behold, I will ſend my Meſſenger, (meaning John the Baptiſt,) Iſa. 40. v. 3. Luke 1. 76. and he ſhall prepare the way before me; And the Lord whom ye ſeek, ſhall ſuddenly come to his Temple, even the Meſſenger of the Covenant, whom ye delight in. Behold he ſhall come, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts.

8. Old Simeon did alſo wait for the conſolation of Iſrael a long time, Luke 2. 25. Where it is ſaid, And behold there was a Man in Jeruſalem, whoſe Name was Simeon, the ſame was a juſt Man, and devout, waiting for the conſolation of Iſrael. That is, waiting for him that was to be the Saviour, as is clear, if you read with underſtanding a little farther: And it was revealed to him by the Spirit, that he ſhould not ſee Death before he had ſeen the * Lord Chriſt, v. 26.

*God has a Chriſt, one diſtinct from all other things whatſoever that is called Chriſt, whether they be Spirit or Body, or both Spirit and Body, and this is ſignified, where he ſaith, the Lord Chriſt.

And thus have I in brief ſhewed you, 1. That there is ſuch a thing as Chriſt. 2. That this Chriſt was promiſed and ſignified out by many things before he did come. 3. How he was waited for, and expected before the time that God had appointed in the which he ſhould come.

18. The Second Thing that I will (through the ſtrength of Chriſt) prove, is this, that he that was of the Virgin, is he that is the Saviour.

And firſt, I ſhall lay down this for a Truth; That it is not any Spirit only by, and of it ſelf, without it do take the Nature of Man, that can be a Saviour of Man from eternal vengeance.

Or thus: That that will be a Saviour of Man, muſt in the nature of Man ſatisfie and appeaſe the juſtice and wrath of God. And the Arguments that I do bring to prove it by, are theſe.

1. Becauſe it was Man that had offended; and Juſtice required that Man muſt give the ſatisfaction: And therefore, when he that ſhould be the Saviour, was come, he took upon him the form of a Servant, and was made in the likeneſs of Men, Phil. 2. 7. And in Heb. 2. 14. Becauſe the Children were partakers of fleſh and blood; he alſo himſelf likewiſe took part of the ſame: To what end? That through Death he might deſtroy him that had the power of Death, that is the Devil. And is that all? No; but alſo that he might deliver them who through fear of Death, were all their life time ſubject to bondage.

The Second Argument is this; becauſe, if a Spirit only could have made ſatisfaction for the Sin of Mankind, and have ſubdued Satan for Man, without the nature of Man, either there had been weakneſs in God when he made that Promiſe to fallen Adam, That the Seed of the woman ſhould break the Serpent's head; (for there hath been no need of, and ſo no room for that promiſe) or elſe God having made it, would have appeared unfaithful, in not fulfilling his Promiſe, by redeeming the World without it.

3. If a Spirit only could have made Satisfaction, and ſo have ſaved Man; then Chriſt needed not to have come into the world, and to have been born of a woman, Gal. 4. 4. But in that he muſt come into the world, and muſt be born of a woman, it is clear, that without this, he could not have been a Saviour: For he was made of a woman, made under the Law, to this end, that he might redeem them that were under the Law; implying, No Subjection to this (viz. the taking of the Nature of Man) no redemption from the Curſe of the Law. But Chriſt hath delivered from the Curſe of the Law (all that believe in his Name) being in their Nature made a Curſe for them.

And this is the reaſon, why the fallen Angels are not recovered from their damnable eſtate, becauſe, he did not take hold of their * nature, For he took not on him the nature of Angels, but he took on him the ſeed of Abrahm, Heb. 2. 16.

Now then, ſeeing this is the very truth of God, I ſhall next prove, that Jeſus that was born of the Virgin, to be the Saviour: And firſt, I ſhall prove it by comparing ſome place of the Old and New Teſtament together, and by ſome Arguments drawn from the Scriptures.

And firſt, ſee Gen. 3. 15. where he is called the ſeed of the Woman, ſaying, I will put enmity between thee and the Woman, and between thy ſeed and her ſeed; and ſo was Jeſus, Gal. 4. 4. where it is ſaid, God ſent forth his Son made of a Woman, or born of a Woman.

2. This Woman muſt be a Virgin, Iſa. 7. 14. where it is ſaid, a Virgin ſhall conceive and bare a Son, and ſhall call his Name Emanuel. And Jeſus is he that was the fulfilling of this Scripture, Matth. 1. 22, 23. Now all this was done that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken of the Lord by the Prophet, ſaying, Behold a Virgin ſhall conceive, and bring forth a Son, and they ſhall call his Name Emanuel.

3. The Saviour muſt be of the Tribe of Judah. And this Judah Propheſied of, on his Death-bed, ſaying, Judah, thou art he whom thy Brethren ſhall praiſe, or honour, thine hand ſhall be on the neck of thine enemies, thy Fathers Children ſhall bow down before thee. Gen. 49

Gal. 3. 13. * They that are redeemed muſt have redemption wrought out for them through their Natures; for except that nature that ſinned do bring in recovery from the Curſe that is due to it for its ſin, that nature that ſinned muſt ſuffer for its own ſin.

And again, Mac. 5 2. But thou Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come, that is to be ruler in Israel. Jesus also came of the Tribe of Judah, and that will clearly appear, if you read, Mat. 1. Matthew he begins first with Abraham, v. 2. and thence to Judah, v. 3. from Judah to David, v. 6. From David to Zerobabel, v. 13. then to Jacob the Father of Joseph, the Husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, ver. 16.

Now Mary was one of the same House also, and for this consider, Jesus came from the Loyns of David; see Mat. 1. but that he could not do, if Mary had not been of the seed of David: For Christ came from her, not from him, for Joseph knew her not till she had brought forth her first-born, Mat. 1. 25. Again, the Angel told her, that he was the Son of David, saying, And the Lord God will give unto him the throne of his Father David, Luke 1. 32.

And again, The Jews knew this very well, or else they would have been sure to have laid it open before all the world; for they sought by all means to disown him. And though they did through the devilishness of their unbelief disown him, yet could they find no such thing as to question the right of his Birth from Mary. If it had been to be done, they would no doubt have done it; they did not want malice to whet them on; neither did they want means so far as might help forward their malice; without manifest and apparent injury; For they had exact Registers, or Records of their Genealogies, so that, if they had had any colour for it, they would sure have denied him to have been the Son of David. There was reasoning concerning him when he was with them, John 7.27.43. and I do believe, part of it was about the Generation of which he came. And this was so commonly known, that the blind Man that sat by the way side could cry out, Jesus thou Son of David, have mercy on me; thou Son of David, have mercy on me, Luke 18. 38, 39. It was so common, that he came from the Loyns of his Father David according to the flesh, that it was not so much as once questioned. And when Herod demanded (Matt. 2. 4, 5, 6.) of the chief Priests and Scribes of the People where Christ should be born, They said unto him, in Bethlehem of Judea: For thus it is written by the Prophet, And thou Bethlehem in the Land of Judea, art not the least among the Princes of Judah, for out of thee shall come a Governour that shall rule my People Israel: (For out of thee) Mark that; if Mary had not been of Judah, Christ had not come out of Judah, but Christ came out of Judah; therefore Mary is also a Daughter of Judah. And this is evident, as saith the Scripture, for our Lord sprang out of Judah, Heb 7. 14.

20. Again, when Christ the Saviour was to come into the World, at that time the Scepter was to depart from Judah, according to the Prophesie of Jacob. The Scepter shall not depart from Judah, nor a Lawgiver from between his feet until Shiloh come, Gen. 49. 10.

Now the Scepter was then departed from those that were Jews by nature, and also the Law giver, and Herod who was a stranger, and not of Judea, was King over them, as Cæsar's Deputy; and Cæsar Augustus impoled Laws on them.

The stubborn Jews also confessed the Scepter to be departed, when before Pontius Pilate a Roman Governour of Judea, they cryed out against Christ: We have no King but Cæsar, Joh. 19. 15.

Nay farther, the Jews from that day to this, have been without a King of their own Nation to govern them: they never had the Scepter swayed since by any of themselves, but have been a scattered despised People, and have been as it were liable to all dangers, and for a long time driven out from their Countrey, and scattered over all the Nations of the Earth, as was propheſied concerning them, Jer. 14. 9. Zech. 5. 14, 15. And yet these poor Souls are so horribly deluded by the Devil, that though they see these things come to pass, yet they will not believe. And one reason among many, of their being thus deluded, is this, they say that the word Scepter in Gen. 49. is not meant of a Kingly Government; but the meaning is, (say they) a Rod, or Persecutions shall not depart from Judah till Shiloh come: Now they do most grosly mistake that place; for though I am not skilled in the Hebrew Tongue, yet through Grace, I am enlightned into the Scriptures; whereby I find that the meaning is not persecutions, nor the rod of afflictions, but a Governor or Scepter of the Kingdom shall not depart from Judah till Shiloh come. And that this is the meaning of the place, weigh but the very next words of the same Verse, and you will find it to be the Scepter of a King that is meant; for he addeth, nor a Law-giver from between his feet. Mark it, The Scepter, nor a Lawgiver; the Legislative power depending on the Scepter of the Kingdom, shall not depart from Judah till Shiloh come. According to that Scripture, written in Isa. 7. 16. For before the Child shall know to refuse the evil, and chuse the good, the Land which thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her Kings: which Scripture hath been fulfilled from that same time.

But a word to the Jews Exposition of the Scepter to be a Rod, or Persecutions; saying, that persecutions shall not depart from Judah till Shiloh come. This cannot be the meaning of the place; for the Jews have had rest oftentimes, and that before Shiloh did come; at one time they had rest fourscore years, Judges 3. 30. Again, And the Land had rest from war, Josh. 14. 15. And again, And the Lord gave them rest round about, according to all that he sware unto their Fathers, and there stood not up a Man of all their Enemies before them, Josh. 21. 44. And the Land had rest forty years, Judg. 3. 11. There was rest many a time from persecution and from the rod, though it were but for a season; but the Scepter, or Kingdom, did not depart from Judah, and a Law-giver from between his feet till Shiloh came.

Again, To prove that Jesus is the Christ, 21. it is clear from the hand of God against the Jews, for putting him to death. What was the reason why they did put him to death, but this, He did say that he was the Christ the Son of God? Luke 22. 70. Then said they all, Art thou the Son of God? And he said, ye say that I am: that is, I am he as you say, I am the Son of God; yea, the only begotten Son of the Father, Joh. 9. 37. Joh. 17. 9 ther, and I was with him before the world was.

Now the Jews did put him to death for his thus owning his own; that is, for not denying of his Sonship, but making himself equal with God; therefore did they put him to death, John 19. 7.

Now God did, and doth most miserably plague them to this very day for their crucifying of him: But I say, Had he not been the Christ of God, God's Son, he would not have laid Sin to their charge, for crucifying him; but rather have praised them for their Zeal, and for taking him out of the way, who did rob God of his honour, in that he made himself equal with God, and was not. He would have praised them for doing the thing that was right, as he did Phineas the Son of Eleazar, for executing Judgment in his time, on the Adulterer and Adulteress, Numb. 25. 8.

But in that he said he was the Son of God, and accounted it no robbery so to call himself, Phil. 2. And seeing that they did put him to death, because he said he was the Son of God; and in that God doth so severely charge them with, and punish them for their Sin in putting him to death, for saying that he was the Son of God, it is evident that he was and is the Son of God, and that Saviour that should come into the world. For his Blood hath been upon them to this very day for their hurt, according to their desire, Mat. 27. 25.

22. Again, Jesus himself doth in this day hold forth that he is the Christ, where he saith, the Time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, Mark 1. 15. What time is this that Jesus speaks of? Surely, 'tis that of Daniel's seventy weeks, spoken of in Chap. 9. 24. where he saith, Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people to finish transgression, and to make an end of sin, and to make reconciliation or satisfaction for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to anoint the most holy: This time, that here Daniel speaks of, is it that Christ saith hath an end; and the Argument that he brings to perswade them to believe the Gospel, is this, The Kingdom of God is at hand, (according as was propheſied of it by Daniel,) repent, and believe the Gospel. Repent, and believe that this is the Gospel; and that this is the truth of God, consider, that Daniel had a Revelation of these Days from the Angel of God, and also the time in which it should be accomplished: namely, seventy weeks was the determined time of the Messias his coming, from the time when the Angel spake these words to Daniel: Seventy weeks, that is about 490 years, if you reckon every day in the said twenty weeks for a year: a day for a year; a day for a year; for so is the holy Spirit's way sometime to reckon days, Ezek. 4 6. And this the Jews were convinced of, when Christ saith to them, Ye Hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the Sky, but can you not discern the Signs of the times? Mat. 16, 3. Do you not see that those things that are spoken of as forerunners of my coming, are accomplished? Do you not see that the Scepter is departed from Judah? Do you not see the time that Daniel spake of, is accomplished also? There shall no sign be given you but the sign of the Prophet Jonah; O ye hypocritical Generation! Ver. 4.

Another Argument to prove that Jesus is the Christ, is this, By his power; the blind see, the lame walk, the deaf hear, the dumb speak, the dead are raised up, the Devils are dispossessed. In Isa. 35. 4. It is thus propheſied of him, Behold your God will come with a vengeance; even God with a recompence, he will come and save you. But how shall we know when he is come? Why, then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped, then shall the lame man leap as an Hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing; for in the wilderness shall waters break forth, and streams in the desart, ver. 5, 6. Now when John would know whether he were the Christ or no, Jesus sends him this very answer, Go, and tell John (saith he) what you hear and see; the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the Lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the poor have the Gospel preached unto them, Mat. 11. 3, 4, 5. 23.

Another argument that doth prove this Jesus to be the Christ, is this, namely, he to whom it was revealed that he should see him, though he waited long for him. So soon as ever he did but see that sweet Babe that was born of the Virgin Mary, he cried out, Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace according to thy word: for mine eyes have seen thy Salvation, which thou hast prepared before all people, as it is in Luke 2. 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31. The Propheteſs Anna also, so soon as she had seen him, gave thanks to the Lord, and spake of him to all those that waited for redemption in Israel, ver. 36, 37, 38. 24.

Another Argument is the Sign of the Prophet Jonah. He, even Jonah, was three days and three nights in the Whale's belly, Jonah 1. 17. And Jesus makes this very thing an argument to the Jews, that he was the true Messias, where he saith, A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign, that is, they would have me to shew them a Sign, to prove, that I am the Saviour, and there shall no sign be given to them, but the sign of the Prophet Jonah, for as Jonah was three days and three nights in the whales belly, so shall the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth, Mat. 12. 39, 40. And this, the Apostle makes mention of to be accomplished, where he saith The Jews slew Jesus, and hanged him on a tree, Acts 10. 39. and laid him in a Sepulchre, Mat. 27. But God raised him up the third day, and shewed him openly, Acts 10. 40. 25.

Another Scripture argument to prove that Jesus is the Christ, is this, that there was not one of his bones broken; which thing was foretold and typed out by the Paschal Lamb, where he saith, Thou shalt not leave any of it until the morning, nor break a bone of him, Exod. 12. 46. Numb. 9. 12. which thing was fulfilled in the Son of the Virgin, (though contrary to the customs of this Nation,) as it is written, Then came the Souldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other that was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs, John 19. 31, 32. that the Scripture should be fulfilled, a bone of him shall not be broken, ver. 36. 26.

Another

27. Another Scripture demonstration is, in that they did fulfil the saying that was written, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots, Psal. 22. 18. But this was also fulfilled in Jesus, as it is written: Then the Soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every Soldier a part, and also his coat. Now the coat was without seam; They said therefore among themselves, let us not rent it, but let us cast lots whose it shall be; that the Scripture might be fulfilled which saith, They parted my rayment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots, John 19. 23, 24.

Again, the Scripture saith, they shall look on me whom they have pierced, Zech. 12. 10. But the Soldier thrust a Spear into his side, that it might be fulfilled which was written, They shall look on him whom they have pierced, John 19. 34, 35, 36, 37.

28. Now then, seeing this is the truth of God that Jesus that was born of the Virgin, is the Christ of God; how horribly are those deceived who look on Jesus the Son of Mary, to be but a shadow or type, of something that was afterward to be revealed; whereas the Scriptures most lively hold him forth to be the Christ of God, and not a shadow of a spirit, or of a body afterwards to be revealed, but himself was the very substance of all things that did any way type out Christ to come; and when he was indeed come, then was an end put to the Law for righteousness, or justification to every one that believeth; Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth, as it is written, Rom. 10. 4. That is, he was the end of the Ceremonial Law, and of that commonly called the Moral Law, the substance of which is laid down, Exod. 20. from the first to the 17th. verse, though that Law, as handed out by Christ, still remains of great use to all believers, which they are bound to keep for sanctification, as Christ saith, Mat. 5. 19. verse, to the end of the Chapter. But Christ Jesus hath obtained everlasting righteousness, having fulfilled all the Law of God in the body of his flesh, wherein he also suffered on the Cross without the Gates, and doth impute this righteousness to poor Man, having accomplished it for him in the body of his flesh, which he took of the Virgin, Gal. 4. 4. God sent forth his Son made of a Woman*, made under the Law, that is, to obey it, and to bear the Curse of it, being made a Curse for us, Gal. 3. 13. to redeem them that were under the Law, that is, to redeem such as were ordained to life eternal, from the Curse of the Law. And this he did by his Birth, being made or born of a Woman; by his Obedience, yea, by his perfect Obedience he became the Author of eternal Salvation to all them that obey him, Heb. 5. 8, 9. and by his doing and suffering, did compleatly satisfie the Law and the Justice of God, and bring in that glorious and everlasting salvation, without which we had all eternally been undone, and that without remedy; for without shedding of his blood there was no remission.

A Believer hath no Law to fulfil for justification; only believe on what the Man Christ Jesus hath done and be saved.

* That is, born of the Virgin.

See Heb. 9. 22. and compare it with Heb. 8. v. 3. where he saith it is of necessity that this Man hath somewhat also to offer, which Man was Jesus, c. 7. 22.

Secondly, Seeing Jesus Christ, the Son of the Virgin Mary, was and is the Christ of God: And that Salvation came in alone by him, for there is Salvation in no other, Acts 4. 12. then how are they deceived, that think to obtain Salvation by following the Convictions of the Law, which they call Christ (though falsely) when alas, let them follow those Convictions that do come from the Law, and conscience set on work by it; I say, let them follow all the Convictions that may be hinted in upon their Spirits from that Law, they shall never be able to obtain Salvation by their obedience to it, for by the Law is the knowledge of sin, Rom. 3. 20. And It is not of works least any man should boast, as those fond Hypocrites call'd Quakers would do. And again, If righteousness comes by the Law, then Christ is dead in vain, Gal. 2. 21. But that no man is justified by the works of the Law, it is evident, for the just shall live by faith, Gal. 3. 10. Which living by Faith, is to apply the Lord Jesus Christ his Benefits, as Birth, Righteousness, Death, Blood, Resurrection, Ascension, and Intercession, with the glorious benefits of his second coming to me, as mine, being given to me, and for me, and thus much doth the Apostle signifie, saying; The life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me, Gal. 2. 20. 29.

Gal. 2. 16. John 1a. 15. Heb. 9. 12. Gal. 3. 10.

Again, Seeing Gods Christ which was with him before the World was, John 17. ver. 5. took upon him flesh and blood from the Virgin Mary, (who was espoused to Joseph the Carpenter) and in that humane nature yielded himself an offering for sin, (for it was the body of his flesh by which sin was purged, Col. 1. 22.) I say, seeing the Son of God, as he was in a body of flesh, did bring in Salvation for sinners, and by this means, as I said before, we are saved, even by Faith in his Blood, Righteousness, Resurrection, &c. How are they then deceived who own Christ no otherwise than as he was before the World began, who was then without flesh and blood (for he took that in time of the Virgin, Gal. 4. 4. Heb. 2. 14.) I say, they are wickedly deluded, who own him no otherwise but as he was before the World was: For in their owning of him thus and no otherwise, they do directly deny him to be come in the flesh, and are of that Antichristian Party which John speaks of, Joh. 4. 3. Every Spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God; and this is that spirit of Antichrist, whereof you have heard that it should come, and even now already it is in the world. Now because the Enemy doth most notably wrest this Scripture, as they do others, to their own Damnation, I shall speak something to it; and therefore, when he saith, every Spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God, his meaning is, Every Spirit that doth not confess that that Christ that was with the Father before the World was, did in the appointed time of the Father come into the World, took on him a body from the Virgin, and was very Man as well as very God, and in that body of flesh did do and suffer whatsoever belonged to the Sons of Men for the breach of the Holy Law of God, and impute his glorious righteousness which he fulfilled in that body of his 30.

his flesh, to the souls that shall believe, on what he hath done, and is a doing in the same body. And that this is the mind of the Spirit of God, consider, First, he himself saith, handle me and see, for a Spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have, when his Disciples had thought he had been but a Spirit, Luke 24. 39, 40. Now that in this flesh he died for sins: Consider Secondly, that Scripture which saith, Who his own self (that is, the Christ that was born of the Virgin) did bear our sins in his own body on the tree. See Col. 1. 22. in the body of his flesh, saith he, to present you holy and unblameable, and unreproveable in his sight. Now that he arose again from the Dead, with the body of flesh wherewith he was Crucified, consider, that forenamed Scripture, Luke 24. 39, 40. spoken after his Resurrection.

31. Now that he went away with the same body from them into Heaven, consider that it is said, And he led them out as far as Bethany, and he lift up his hands and blessed them: And it came to pass while he blessed them, he was carried from them, and carried into Heaven, Luk. 24. 50, 51. This is the meaning of those words therefore; Jesus Christ is come into the Flesh, that is, Jesus Christ hath come in the flesh that he took of the Virgin, hath brought us who were enthralled to the Law, the Devil, and Sin, to Liberty; and that by his Obedience and Death: Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood (saith the Scripture) he, Christ also himself took part of the same; Wherefore? That through death he might destroy him that had the power of Death, that is the Devil, and deliver them who through fear of death, were all their time subject to bondage, Heb. 2. 14, 15. For he was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification, Rom. 4. 25. For he, even that Man, through the power of the eternal Spirit, did offer up himself without spot to God, and thereby, or by that offering, obtained eternal redemption for us, Heb. 9. 12, 14. And therefore I say again and again, look to your selves, that you receive no Christ except Gods Christ: For he is like to be deceived that will believe every thing that calls it self a Christ. For many, saith he, shall come in my Name, and shall deceive many, Matth. 24. 5.

32. Now having spoken thus much touching the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ, I shall, according to the assistance of the Lord Jesus, proceed, and shall speak something of his Godhead, Birth, Death, Resurrection, Ascension, and Intercession; together with his most Glorious and Personal appearing the second time, which will be to raise the Dead, and bring every Work to Judgment, Eccles. 12. 14.

AND first I shall shew you that he (Christ) is very God, Co-eternal, and also Co-equal with his Father,

2. That by this Son of Mary (which is equal with his Father) the World was made.

3. That he in the fulness of time, was made of a Woman, made under the Law, to redeem them that were (or are) under the Law; that is, was born of a Woman: And in our nature (for he made himself of no reputation, and took on him the form of a Servant, and was made in the likeness of Men) and in our stead he did fulfil the Law in point of justification, Rom. 10. 4. and was Crucified for our Transgressions, 1 Cor. 1. 23, 24, 25.

4. That very body of the Son of Mary which was Crucified, did rise again from the Dead, after he had been buried in Joseph's Sepulchre; that he in that very Body ascended up into Heaven; and in that very Body shall come again to these ends.

1. First to judge the Quick and the Dead.
2. To receive his Saints to himself.
3. To pass Eternal Condemnation on his Enemies.

These things in brief I shall touch upon, according to the wisdom given me.

And therefore that Christ is very God, I shall first prove by plain Texts of Scripture.

2. From the Testimony of God, Angels, and Men, witnessed by the Scriptures.

3. By several Arguments drawn from Scripture, which will prove the same clearly.

1. Then to prove it by the Scriptures; tho' indeed the whole Book of Gods Holy Scripture, testifie these things plainly to be most true, yet there be some places more pregnant and pertinent to the thing then others; and therefore I shall mention some of them: As first, Mind that in Prov. 8. v. 22, &c. and there you shall find him spoken of under the Name of Wisdom, the same Name that is given him in 1 Cor. 1. 24. I say in that place of the Proverbs above mentioned, you shall find these Expressions from his own Mouth. The Lord possessed me in the beginning of his way before his works of old. I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning: or ever the Earth was, when there was no depths, I was brought forth; while there was no fountain abounding with water. Before the Mountains were setled, before the Hills, was I brought forth. While as yet he had not made the Earth, nor the Fields, nor the highest places of the dust of the World. When he prepared the Heavens, I was there: when he set a compass upon the face of the depth: when he established the Clouds above; when he strengthened the Fountains of the deep: When he gave to the Sea his Decree, That the Waters should not pass his Commandment. When he appointed the Foundations of the Earth; then was I by him, as one brought up with him: And I was daily his delight, rejoycing in the habitable parts of the Earth, and my delight was with the Sons of men. Also John 1. 1, 2. you have these words spoken of Christ, In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. As also in Heb. 1. 2. the Apostle being about to prove the Son of Mary to be very God, saith; He hath in these latter days spoken to us by his Son; which Son is the Son of Mary, as in Matth. 3. But (saith the Apostle) Heb. 1. 8. to the Son he saith, Thy Throne, O God, is for ever and ever, a Scepter of Righteousness is the Scepter of thy Kingdom. Again, in John 17. 5. you have the words of the Son of Mary for it, saying, And now Father, glorifie thou me with thine own self, with the glory that I had with thee before the world was. Again, he himself saith, before Abraham was, I am: And again, I and my Father are one. And in Phil. 2. 5. the Apostle saith, Let the same mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus; who being in the form of God, thought it no robbery to be equal with God, but made himself of no reputation, and took on him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of Men. Also Rev. 2. 8. Christ himself saith, I am the first and the last, which was dead, but am alive. And thus have I quoted some few Scriptures to prove that the Son of Mary is the true God.

2. I shall give you the Testimony of God himself touching the truth of this, viz. That Christ, the Son of the Virgin, is the true God. And first see Zach. 13. 7. and there you shall find these words, Awake O Sword, against my Shepherd, and against the Man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of Hosts. In this place the Lord doth call that Man his fellow, which he doth not do to any meer Creature. Again, in Matt. 3. 17. he calls him his beloved Son, saying This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased. And in the aforesaid place of the Hebrews, Cap. 1. the Apostle advancing the Lord Jesus, brings in this Question, To which of the Angels, said he, at any time, thou art my Son? Vers. 5. But to the Son he saith, ver. 8. Thy Throne, O God, is for ever and ever. And thus far of the Testimony that God himself hath given of the Son of Mary, Jesus Christ.

34. 3. The Angels do shew that he is God:
First, In that they do Obey him.
Secondly, In that they Worship him.

1. That they obey him, is clear, if we compare Rev. 21. 9. with Rev. 22. 6. In the first of these places we find, that there came one of the Angels of the seven Vials, which had the seven last Plagues, and talked with John. He came not of himself; for in that 22 Cap. ver. 6. he saith, The Lord sent his Angel, to shew unto his Servants the things that must be done. Now in the 16. verse, you may see who this Lord God is: He saith there, I Jesus, have sent mine Angel, to testifie these things in the Churches. * I am the root (as well as) the Off spring of David, and the bright and morning Star. I say this Obedience of the Angels doth testifie that Jesus, which is the Son of Mary, is the true and very God; for they do obey God only.

*Compare Rev. 1. 1.

Secondly, The Angels do shew that the Son of Mary, is the true God, in that they do not only obey him, but worship him also; yea, they are commanded so to do, Heb. 1. 6. where it is written, When he bringeth his first begotten into the world, he (i. e.) God, saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him, viz. the Son of Mary. Now the Angels themselves command that we worship none but God, Rev. 22. 8, 9. When John fell down to worship the Angel, the Angel said, See thou do it not, for I am thy fellow-servant; worship God. Now if the Angels should command to worship God, and they themselves should worship him that by nature is no God, they should overthrow themselves, in commanding one thing, and doing another, and so loose their own Habitations, and be shut up in chains of Darkness, to be punished with everlasting destruction from God himself at the great day. And thus much concerning the Testimony of Angels touching Jesus the Son of Mary, the Son of God, yea, very and true God, Isa. 9. 6.

Now followeth David his Testimony among other of the Saints, who witness Jesus the Son of Mary to be true God; and that you may find in Psal. 110. 1. where he saith, The Lord said unto my Lord, sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine Enemies thy footstool. Also Isaiah in the 9th Chap. verse 6. saith, For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given, and the Government shall be upon his Shoulders, and his Name shall be called Wonderful, Councellor, the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the Throne of David (which is not, nor never was the heart of any Believer) and upon his Kingdom to order it, and to establish it with judgment and justice, from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of Hosts will do this. Again, see Peter's Testimony of this Son of Mary; When Jesus asked his Disciples, Whom say ye that I am? Peter, as the Mouth of the rests said, Thou art Christ, the Son of the living God, Matth. 16. 16. Also when Thomas, one one of Christ's Disciples, would not be perswaded by the others that they had seen the Lord, except he did also see in his Hands the print of the Nails, and put his Fingers into the print of the Nails, and thrust his hand into his side, he would not believe. Saith the Son of Mary, Reach hither thy Fingers, and behold my Hands, and reach hither thy Hand, and thrust it into my side, and be not faithless but believing; and then Thomas breaks out with a mighty Faith, and a glorious Testimony for his Master; and saith, My Lord, and my God, John 20. 27, 28. Again, see Paul's Testimony of him, Rom. 9. 5. where speaking of the Son of Mary, he saith, That Christ came of the Fathers, who is over all, God blessed for ever, Amen. And the Apostle John doth also witness as much, 1 John 5. 20. where speaking of Jesus Christ, he saith on this wise, And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we might know him that is true, and we are in him that is true (Who is that? Why, saith John) even in his Son Jesus Christ. Who is he? Why, This is the true God, and Eternal Life. 35.

I could here also bring in the Testimony of the very Devils themselves, as Luke 4. 41. Luke 8. 28. where he is by them acknowledged to be the Son of the living God: But it is needless so to do; for we have plainly proved it already.

Now followeth the several Scripture Arguments, which will prove that Jesus the Son of Mary is very God. 36.

And First, There is none but he that is the true God, can satisfie the Justice of the true God, for the breach of his Holy Law: But if you compare Isa. 53. 6. with Matth. 3. 17. you shall find, that Jesus the Son of Mary did give God a full and compleat satisfaction for the breach of his holy Law; therefore Jesus the Son of Mary must needs be the great and true God.

Secondly,

Secondly, He that hath power of his own to lay down his Life, and hath power of his own to take it up again, must needs be the true God; but this did Jesus the Son of Mary the Virgin; therefore he must needs be the true God, John 10. 8. Rom. 1. 4.

If all the Quakers and Ranters in the world, were but under the guilt of one sinful thought, it would make them to cry out with Cain, my punishment is greater then I can bear, Gen. 4. 13.

Thirdly, There was never any able to bear the sins of all the Believers in the World, that ever were, now are, or hereafter shall be, but the true God: But Jesus, the Son of the Virgin Mary, did bear them all, in his own Body on the Tree, 1 Pet. 2. 24. Isa. 53. 6. Therefore Jesus the Son of Mary must needs be the true God as well as Man.

Fourthly, There was never any meer Man able, by his own power, to overcome the Devil in all his Temptations, but he that is also the true God (for Adam in his state of Innocency was overcome by them, and fell under them:) But Jesus the Son of the Virgin did overcome them all by his own power; therefore (see Gen. 3. 15. Isa. 51. 9. Isa. 63. 5. Matth. 44. Luke 4. 12.) he is very God, as well as very Man.

Fifthly, There was never any that did call himself the true God (and was not) which did please God in so doing. But Jesus the Son of Mary did call himself the true God, or account himself equal with God (which is all one) yet God was well pleased with him, Phil. 2. 6, 7. John 8. 29. And therefore Jesus the Son of Mary must needs be true God as well as Man.

Mat. 3. 17.

Sixthly, There was never any that had all Power in Heaven and in Earth, but the true God. Jesus the Son of the Virgin Mary, who was espoused to Joseph, hath all power in Heaven and in Earth in his own hand. Therefore, Matth. 28. 18. he is the true and great God.

Seventhly, There was never any able to keep poor souls from falling from God, saving he that is the true God. Jesus the Son of Mary did, and doth this, John 10. 27, 28, 29, 30. John 17. 12. Therefore, &c.

Eighthly, Never could any justly call himself the first and the last, except the true God, nor truly (as the Lord did say) I am. But these did Jesus the Son of Mary; Revel. 1. 1. compared with v. 17, 18. Rev. 2. 8. and John 8. 58. Therefore Jesus must needs be true God as well as Man.

9. Never was there any that could absolutely forgive Sins but God, Mar. 27. Luke 5. 21. But Jesus the Son of the Virgin Mary, can forgive sins, Luk. 5. 20. Mar. 2. 5. Therefore Jesus the Son of Mary must needs be true God, as well as Man.

10. The Scriptures never call any the true and living God; but he that is the true God. The Scriptures call Jesus, the Son of the Virgin, the true God, Isa. 9. 6. 1 John 5. 20. Therefore he is the true and great God.

11. He that made all things, whether they be visible, or invisible, whether they be Thrones or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers, must needs be the true God. But Jesus the Son of the Virgin Mary did make all these, Col. 1. 14. to the 18. John 1. to v. 16. Hebr. 1, 2, 3. And therefore he is the true God, as well as Man.

12. The blood of a mere finite Creature could never obtain Eternal Redemption for Sinners. But the Blood of Jesus, the Son of the Virgin Mary, hath obtained Eternal Redemption for sinners, Eph. 1. 7. Heb. 9. 12, 14. Heb. 10. 19, 20. Therefore the Blood of the Son of the Virgin, must needs be the Blood of God. And so the Apostle calleth it, saying to the Pastors of the Churches; Feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood, Acts 20. 28. 1 John 3. 16.

Rom. 3. 25. Rom. 5. 9. Heb. 9. 12.

13. Never was there any that could overcome Death in his own power, but the true God, Hos. 13. 4. Jesus the Son of the Virgin Mary did overcome Death by himself, Heb. 2. 14. Therefore, &c.

1 Tim. 1. 10. Heb. 1. 8,

14. He that searcheth the hearts, and knoweth the thoughts of Men, must needs be the true God, Jer. 17. 10. But Jesus the Son of the Virgin doth, Luke 5. 22. Luke 9. 47. John 2. 24, 25. Therefore, &c.

15. He that by his own power commandeth the raging Sea, must needs be the true God, Job 38. 10, 11. Prov. 8. 29. But this did Jesus the Son of Mary, Mark 4. 39, 41. Luke 8. 24. Therefore, &c.

16. He that is the Wisdom, Power, and Glory of God, must needs be the true God. But Jesus the Son of the Virgin is all these, as 1 Cor. 1. 23, 24. Heb. 1. 1, 2, 3. Therefore Jesus the Son of the Virgin must needs be true God as well as Man.

The next thing that I am to prove, is this; Namely, That by this Jesus Christ, the Son of the Virgin, the World was made: And here I shall be brief, having touched on it already. Only I shall lay down some of the Scriptures, that hold forth this to be a truth, and so pass to the next things that I intend to speak of. 37.

AND therefore in the first place, see Heb. 1. 1, 2. where the Apostle is speaking of the Son of God, which Son was born of the Virgin Mary, according to these Scriptures mentioned before, Matth. 1. 18, to 23. Luke 2. Matt. 3. 17. where God himself saith, This is my beloved Son, &c. This Son of God, saith the Apostle by whom God hath spoken to us, by him also he made the Worlds. And Col. 1. the Apostle speaking of the deliverance of the Saints, saith, Who hath delivered you from the power of darkness, and translated you into the Kingdom of his dear Son, in whom we have Redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins. And is that all? No, but He is (also) the image of the invisible God, v. 15. The first born of every Creature. And in v. 16, 17. By him were all things created that are in Heaven, and that are in Earth, visible and invisible, whether they be Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers: All things were created by him and for him. And he is before all things, and by him all things consist. Also Heb. 1. 10. it is thus written of this Son of God, Christ Jesus the Son of Mary, And thou Lord in the beginning hast laid the foundations of the Earth, and the Heavens are the work of thy hands. And again, John 1. and the first 9 verses, the Evangelist, or Apostle, speaking of the Son, saith, In the beginning was the Word, which Word was the Son, Rev. 19. 12, 13. This Word or Son was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made that was made. In him was life, and the life was the light of men; And the light shined in the darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not. But in the ninth verse of this first Chapter of John, it is written, That was the true light, which lighteth every one that cometh into the world. Now seeing the Lord hath brought me thus far; and because the Quakers by wresting this Scripture, do not only split themselves upon it, but endeavour also to split others, I shall therefore, before I proceed any further, speak a few words to it; and they are these that follow.

The Apostle in these nine first Verses, or most of them, is speaking of the Divinity or Godhead of the Son of Mary, and shewing that he made the world: Now in this Ninth Verse he speaketh of Man as he is in his coming into the world, and not as he is a regenerate person. Now every Man as he comes into the world, receives a Light from Christ, as he is God, which light is the Conscience, that some call Christ, though falsly, This Light, or Conscience, will shew a Man that there is a God, and that this God is eternal, Rom. 1. 20. This Light doth discover this Eternal God by his works in the world; for saith the Scripture before named, The invisible things of him (meaning God) from the Creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made; even his eternal Power and Godhead. This Light also will reprove of Sin, or convince of, and make manifest Sins against the Law of this Eternal God: So that Man, before he is regenerate, is able by that Light to know that sins against the Law, are sins against God, as is manifested in the unconverted Pharisees, who, (as Christ told them) had neither the love of God, nor the word of God abiding in them, John 5. 38, 42. yet knew sins against the Law, to be sins; for they were offended at a woman for committing adultery, which act was forbidden, Mat. 5. 27, 28. by the Law; and it is said also, they were convicted of sin by their own Consciences, John 8. 7, 8, 9, 10.

Again, The Apostle writing to the Corinthians, and admonishiug them to walk orderly, 1 Cor. 11. 14. turns them to Nature it self, saying, Doth not even Nature it self teach you? &c. This Light surely is that, wherewith Christ, as he is God, hath enlightned every man that cometh into the world, which doth convince of sins against the Law of God. Therefore, as the Apostle saith, Rom. 1. 20. They are left without excuse. That is, they have their own Conscience, that doth shew them there is a God, and that this God is to be served and obeyed; and the neglect of this will be sure to damn them, though the obedience to the Law will not save them, because they are not able to make a full recompence to God for the sins that are past; neither are they able for the time to come, to yield a full, continual, and compleat obedience to the Law of this Almighty, Infinite, and Eternal God. For as many as are of the works of the Law, are under the Curse; for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things that are written in the Book of the Law to do them. * But that no man is justified by the works of the Law, it is evident: For the just shall live by faith, Gal. 3. 10, 11.

* If works would do it, what need is there of Faith? But it is evident that works will not save, because there must be faith in the blood of Jesus the Son of Mary.

38. But now, though Christ, as he is God, doth give a Light to every one that cometh into the world, which Light is the Conscience, (as they themselves confess;) yet it doth not therefore follow that this Conscience is the Spirit of Christ, or the work of Grace, wrought in the Heart of any man whatsoever; for every one hath Conscience, yet every one hath not the Sprit of Christ: For Jude speaks of a company of Men in his days, who had not the Spirit of Christ, Jude 19. These be they who separate themselves, (saith he) sensual, having not the Spirit. Yea, Heathens, Turks, Jews, Pagans, Atheists, have that also that doth convince of sin, and yet are so far from having the spirit of Christ in them, that it is their great delight to serve their Lusts, this World their Sins; whereas the Apostle saith plainly, If Christ be in you, the Body is dead because of Sin; but the Spirit is Life for righteousness sake. So that those who are alive to their sins, have not the Spirit of Christ. Nay, let me tell you, the very Devils themselves, who were thrown from their first state for sin, 2 Pet. 2, 4. have such a taste of their horrible sins, that when they did but suppose that Jesus was come to put an end to their tyrannical dealing with the world, and to bring them to judgment for their sins, (to which they know they shall be brought,) it made them cry out, Art thou come to torment us before the time? James doth also signifie thus much unto us, where he saith, The Devils also believe and tremble, Jam. 2. 19. Which Belief of theirs is not a believing in Christ to save them; for they know he did not take hold on their Nature, Heb. 2. But they do believe that Christ will come to their everlasting torment; and the belief of this doth make these proud Spirits to tremble.

Rom. 8. 10. Jude 6. Mat. 8. 16.

39. Again, Man, at his coming into the world, hath his Conscience given him, which doth convince of sin, John 2, 9. John 8. 9. yet Man, as he cometh into the world, hath not the Spirit of Christ in him; for that must be received afterward, by the preaching of the Word, which is preached by the Ministers and Servants of Jesus Christ. This is God's usual way to communicate of his Spirit into the hearts of his Elect; and this is clear in so many words, where Peter preaching to a certain number, the Scripture saith, While Peter yet spake these words the holy Ghost, or holy Spirit, fell on all those that heard the Word. And again, Gal. 3. ver. 2, & 5, compared together, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the Law; (saith the Apostle) or by the hearing of of Faith? or the Gospel, which is the word of Faith preached by us? Which Spirit, as Christ saith, the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him, though his Children shall have fellowship with him to the great comfort of their own Souls, John 14.16,17.

40. But now, this merciless Butcherer of Men, the Devil, that he might be sure to make the Soul fall short of Glory, if possible, endeavours to perswade the Soul that its state is good; that it hath the Spirit of Christ in it; and for a proof of the same, saith he, turn thy mind inward, and listen within, and see if there be not that within thee that doth convince of sin: Now the poor Soul, finding this to be so, all on haste (if it be willing to profess) through ignorance of the Gospel, claps in with these motions of its own Conscience, which doth command to abstain from this evil, and to practise that good; which, if neglected, will accuse and torment for the same neglect of others, (Rom. 2. 15.) both now and hereafter.

Now the Soul seeing that there is something within that convinceth of sin, doth all on a sudden close with that, supposing it is the Spirit of Christ, and so through this mistake, is carried away with the Teachings and Convictions of its own Conscience, (being miss-informed by the Devil) unto the works of the Law; under which, though it work all days, and labour with its might and main, yet it never will be able to appease the wrath of God, nor get from under the Curse of the Law, nor get from under the guilt of 1 sinful thought the right way, which is to be done by believing what another Man Rom. 5. 15 hath done by himself, Heb. 1. 2, 3. without us, on the Cross, without the Gates of Jerusalem. See for this, 1 Pet. 2. 24. Heb. 13. 12. The one saith, He bare our sins in his own Body on the Tree; the other saith, It was done without the Gate.

And thus the poor Soul is most horribly carried away headlong, and thrown down violently under the Curse of the Law, under which it is held all its days, if God of his meer Mercy prevent not; and at the end of its life doth fall into the very Belly of Hell.

41. Again, That the Devil might be sure to carry on his Design, he now begins to counterfeit the work of Grace: Here he is very subtil, and doth transform himself into an Angel of Light, 2 Cor. 11. 14. Now he makes the Soul believe that he is its Friend, and that he is a Gospel-Minister; and if the Soul will be led by what shall be made known unto it by the Light (or Conscience) within, it shall not need to fear but it shall do well.

Now he counterfeits the New Birth, perswading them that it is wrought by following the Light that they brought into the world with them. Now he begins also to make them run through Difficulties; and now, like Baal's Priests, they must lance themselves with knives, &c. Now 1656. But now 1691. Quakers are Changed to the Laws of the World. Now they must wear no Hatbands; now they must live with Bread and Water; now they must give heed to seducing Spirits, and Doctrines of Devils, which bids them abstain from Marriage, and commands them to abstain from Meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving, of them which love and know the truth, as in 1 Tim. 4. 1, 2, 3. Now they must not speak, except their spirit moves them, (I do not say the spirit of Christ) though when it moves, they will speak such sad Blasphemies, and vent such horrible Doctrines, that it makes me wonder to see the patience of God, in that he doth not command either the ground to open her mouth, and swallow them up, or else suffer the Devil to fetch them away alive, to the astonishment of the whole World.

Object. But you will say, Doth not the Scripture say that it is the spirit of Christ that doth make manifest or convince of sin? John 16. 8.

Answ. Yes, it doth so. But for the better understanding of this place, I shall lay down this; namely, That there are two things spoken of in the Scriptures, which do manifest sin, or Convince of sin.

First, the Law, as saith the Apostle, Rom. 3 20. Therefore by the deeds of the Law shall no flesh be justified in his sight, viz. God's sight: For by the Law is the knowledge of sin.

Secondly, The Spirit of Christ doth make manifest, or reprove of sin, as it is written, John 16. 8, 9. And when he (the Spirit) is come, he will reprove the world of sin, of righteousness, and of judgment; of sin because they believe not on me, saith the Son of Mary, which is Christ.

Now, the Law doth sometimes by its own power manifest sin without the spirit of Christ; as in the case of Judas, who was convinced of the sin of Murther, which made him cry out, I have sinned; yet at that time he was so far from having the spirit of Christ in him, that he was most violently possessed of the Devil, Luke 22. 3, 4. Mat. 27. 3, 4, 5. He hanged himself immediately after.

Again, Sometimes the spirit of Christ takes the Law, and doth effectually convince of sin, of Righteousness, and Judgment to come.

Quær. But you will say, How should I know whether I am convinced by the Law alone, or that the Law is set home effectually by the Spirit of the Lord Jesus upon my Conscience? 42.

Answ. Unto this I answer. First, When the Law doth convince by its own power, without the help of the spirit of Christ, it doth only convince of sins against the Law; as of Swearing, Lying, Stealing, Murdering, Adultery, Covetousness, and the like. I say it doth only make manifest sins against the Law, pronouncing an horrible Curse * against thee, if thou fulfil it not, and so leaves thee; but it gives thee no strength to fulfil it compleatly, and continually, (which thou must do, if thou wilt be saved thereby.) Now thy own strength being insufficient for these things, having lost it in Adam, thou art a breaker of the Law. Here the Law finds thee in thy Sins, and condemns thee for thy sins: But gives thee no power to come wholly out of them; neither doth it shew thee thy right Saviour, to save thee from them *(which is the Son of the Virgin Mary, the Man Christ Jesus) but commands thee upon pain of eternal damnation, to continue in all things that are written in the book of the Law to do them, Gal. 3. 10. And therefore if thou hast been convinced of *Gal. 3. 10.

* For a proof here of take the carriage of the Pharisees towards our Saviour, who while they trusted in Moses, Crucified Jesus, 1 Cor. 2. 8.

no other Sins, but what are against the Law, for all thy Convictions and Horrour of Conscience, thou mayest be but a Natural Man at the best, and so under the Curse, Gal. 3. 10.

Objection. But, perhaps thou wilt say, I am not only convinced of my sins against the Law, but I have also some power against my sins, so that I do in some considerable measure, abstain from those things that are forbidden in the Law.

This thou mayest have, and do, as thou thinkest perfectly, as those blind Pharisees called Quakers, do think that they also do, and yet be but a natural Man: And therefore, I pray consider that place in Rom. 2. 14. the Apostle there speaks on this wise, concerning the Gentiles obedience to the Law, For when the Gentiles, which have not the Law, do by Nature the things contained in the Law, these having not the Law, are a Law unto themselves, which shew the work of the Law written in their hearts. Which work of the Law, Christ as he is God, hath enlightned every one withal, that cometh into the World, John 1. 19. which as the Quakers say, doth convince of Sin, yet of no other than sins against the Law: And therefore must needs be all one light, or Law; for the Law is light, Prov. 6. 23. and gives the knowledge of Sin, Rom. 3. 20. And therefore as I said before, so say I now again, If thy Convictions are no other than for the sins against the Law, though thy obedience be the strictest that ever was wrought by any Man (except the Lord Jesus the Son of Mary) thou art at the best but under the Law, and so consequently under the Curse, and under the wrath of God, Gal. 3. 10. John 3. 36. whether thou believest it or not.

43. But now the second thing how thou shouldest
Answ. 2. know, whether the Spirit of Christ doth effectually set home the Law upon thy Conscience, or not; And therefore to speak directly to it; If the Spirit of the Lord Jesus, the Son of God, doth set home the Law effectually; then the same Spirit of Christ shews thee more sin then the Sins against the Law. For first it shews thee, That all thy righteousness is but as filthy rags, Isa. 64. 6. Thou seest all thy Praying, Meditation, Hearing, Reading, Alms-Deeds, Fasting, Reformation, and whatsoever else thou hast done, doest, or canst do being an Unbeliever, deserves at the hands of God his Curse, and Condemnation, and that for ever: And therefore thou art so far from trusting to it that in some measure thou even loatheſt it, and art ashamed of it, as being a thing abominable,
Phil. 3. 8. both in Gods sight, and thine own. Thou counteſt thy own performances, when at best, and thine own righteousness, A Bed too short to stretch thy self upon; and a covering too narrow to wrap thy self in, Isa. 28. 20.

And these things thou seest not overly, or slightly, and as at a great distance, but really, and seriously, and the sense of them sticks close unto thee.

Secondly, It shews thee that thou hast no Faith in the Man Christ Jesus by nature, and that though thou hadst no other sins, yet thou art in a perishing State because of unbelief, according to that 16th of John, ver. 9: of Sin, because they believe not on me. If therefore thou hast been convinced aright by the Spirit, thou hast seen that thou hadst no faith in Christ the Son of Mary, the Son of God, before Conversion. It shews thee also, that thou canst not believe in thine own strength, though thou wouldest never so willingly, yea, though thou wouldest give all the World (if thou hadst it) to believe, thou couldest not. In the next place, it will shew thee, that if thou doest not believe in the Man Christ Jesus, And that with the faith of the operation of God, * thou wilt surely perish, and that without remedy. Also it shews thee that if thou hast not that righteousness, which the Man Christ Jesus accomplished in his own person for sinners, I say, if thou be not cloathed with that, instead of thine own, thou art gone for ever; and therefore saith Christ, (speaking of the Spirit) when he is come, he shall reprove the world of Sin, and of righteousness too, That is, The Spirit shall convince Men and Women of the sufficiency, of that righteousness that Christ in his Humane Nature hath fulfilled: So that they need not run to the Law for righteousness; for Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness, to every one that believeth, Rom. 10. 4. Again, if the Spirit of Jesus setteth home the Law upon thy Conscience, thou wilt freely confess, that although the Law Curseth, and Condemneth thee for thy sins, and gives thee no power either to fulfil it, or to come out of thy sins: Yet God is just in giving that Law, And the Law is holy, and the Commandment holy, and just, and good, Rom. 7. 12.

Because faith is the gift of God, Eph. 2. 8. Phil. 1. 29. * Col. 2. 12.

Lastly, It also convinceth of Judgment to come; He (viz. the Spirit) shall reprove the world of Sin, of Righteousness, yea, and of Judgment too.

* Then doth the soul see, that that very Man, that was born of the Virgin Mary, Crucified upon the Cross without the gates of Jerusalem, shall so come again; even that same Jesus, in like manner, as he was seen to go up from his Disciples. Yea, they that are thus convinced by the Spirit of Christ, know that God hath appointed a day, in which he will Judge the World in righteousness by that Man whom he hath ordained, which is the Man Christ Jesus: For it is he that is ordained of God to be the Judge of Quick and Dead, Acts 10. 42.

Acts 17. 31

44. And now, O Man, or Woman, whoever thou art, that art savingly Convinced by the Spirit of Christ, thou hast such an endless desire after the Lord Jesus Christ, that thou canst not be satisfied or content with any thing below the Blood of the Son of God to purge thy Conscience withal; even that blood that was shed without the gates, Heb. 13, 12. Also thou canst not be at quiet, till thou doest see by true Faith, that the Righteousness of the Son of Mary is imputed unto thee, and put upon thee, Rom. 3. 21, 22, 23. Then also thou canst not be at quiet, till thou hast power over thy Lusts, and Corruptions, till thou hast brought them into Subjection to the Lord Jesus Christ. Then thou wilt never think that thou hast enough faith. No, thou wilt be often crying out, Lord, give me more precious faith, Lord, more faith in thy righteousness, more faith in thy blood and death, more faith in thy resurrection; And Lord, more faith in this, that thou art now at the right hand of thy Father in thy humane Nature, making intercession for me a miserable sinner. And then O poor Soul,

Heb. 9. 14.

John 16. 8, 9. 1 Tim. 2. 5. Heb. 7. 24. 25.

Soul, if thou comest but hither, thou wilt never have an itching ear after another Gospel. Nay, thou wilt say, If a Presbyter, or Anabaptist, or Independent, or Ranter, or Quaker, or Papist, or Gal. 1. 8. Pope, or an Angel from Heaven, Preach any other Gospel, let him be accursed, again and again. And thus have I briefly shewed you.

Rom. 1. 20. First, How Christ, as he is God, doth enlighten every Man that comes into the World.

Secondly, What this light will do, viz. shew them that there is a God, by the things that are made; and that this God must be Worshipped.

Thirdly, I have shewed you the difference between that Light, and the Spirit of Christ the Saviour.

Fourthly, I have also shewed you how you should know the one from the other, by their several effects.

As First, the first Light convinces of sins, but of none other then sin against the Law; neither doth it shew the Soul a Saviour, or deliver (for Joh. 6. 44. that is the work of the Spirit) from the Curse Joh. 16. 24. wherewith it doth Curse it: But I shewed you, that when the Spirit of Christ comes, and works effectually, it doth not only shew Men their sins against the Law: But also shews them their loss condition, if they believe not in the righteousness, Blood, Death, Resurrection, and Intercession of Jesus Christ the Son of Mary, the Son of God. And thus much I thought necessary to be Mat. 3. 17. Heb. 1. 5. spoken at this time, touching the Nature of Conviction.

Now in the Third place.

Though I have spoken something to this thing already, namely, concerning our Lord the Saviour, yet again, in few words, through Grace, I shall shew, that he was made, that is, Born of a Woman, and made under the Law, to Redeem them that are under the Law. My meaning is, That God is our Saviour.

And for this, see Isa. 45. 15. where you have these words; Verily, thou art a God that hidest thy self, O God of Israel, the Saviour, and ver. 21, 22. you have these words. Who hath told it from antient times? Have not I the Lord? And there is no God besides me: a just God and a Saviour, and there is none besides me. Look unto me, and be ye saved all the ends of the Earth: Why, who art thou? for I am God, and there is none else. Also in Isa. 54. 5. For thy maker is thine Husband, the Lord of Host is his Name: and thy Redeemer the Holy one of Israel, the God of the whole Earth shall be be called; read also ver. 6, 7, 8. of that Chapter. I could abundantly multiply Scriptures to prove this to be truth, but I shall only mind you of two or three, and so pass on. The first is in Jude, ver. 25. To the only wise God our Saviour be glory, and Acts 1 Joh. 5. 20. 20. 23. Joh. 3. 16.

46. Object. But you will say, How is God a Saviour of Sinners, seeing his Eyes are so pure that he cannot behold iniquity, Habak. 1. 13.

For answer hereunto. First, when the fulness of time was come wherein the Salvation Gal. 4. 4. of sinners should be actually wrought out, God sent forth his Son, (which Son is equal with the Father) made of a Woman, made under the Law, (that is, he was subject to the power and curse of the Law) to this end, to Redeem them that are or were, under the Law, that is, to deliver us from the Curse of the Law, being made a Curse for us. Joh. 1. 1. Joh. 17. 5. Joh. 10. 30. Gal. 3. 12. 13.

From whence take notice, that when the Salvation of sinners was to be actually wrought out, then God sent forth the everlasting Son of his Love into the World, clothed with the Human Nature, according to that in Joh. 1. 14. Heb. 2. 14. And 1 Tim. 3. 16. which saith, God was manifested in the Flesh, that is, took Flesh upon him.

2. This Son of God, which is equal with the Father, did in that Flesh, which he took upon him, compleatly fulfil the whole Law: So that the Apostle saith, Christ is the very end of the Law for Righteousness to every Rom. 10. 4. one that believes. This Righteousness, which this Christ did accomplish, is called the Righteousness of God, Rom. 3. 22. This Righteousness of God, is by the Faith of Jesus Christ, unto all, and upon all them that believe: My meaning is, it is imputed to so many as shall by Faith lay hold on it. This is also part of Rom. 3. 22 the meaning of that Speech of the Apostle: Gal. 3. 27. As many as were Baptized in Christ, have put on Christ. That is, by Faith have put on the Righteousness of Christ, with the rest of that which Christ hath bestowed upon you, having accomplished it for you. This is also the meaning of the Apostle, Col. 2. 9, 10. where he saith, For in him (that is the Son of Mary, Chap. 1. 13, 14.) dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily. And ye are compleat in him. That is, in his Obedience and Righteousness. Which also the Apostle himself doth so hard press after, Phil. 3. 6, 7, 8. saying, Doubtless, I count all things but loss, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, which Lord was Crucified by the Jews, as it is in 1 Cor. 2. 8. for whom, that is for Christ, I have suffered the loss of all things (as well the Righteousness of the Law, in which I was blameless, as all other Phil. 3. 6. things) and do count them but Dung, that I may win Christ: And be found in him, not having on mine own Righteousness, which is of the Law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the Righteousness which is of God by Faith; which is Rom. 3. 20 unto all, and upon all them that believe. That place also in the ninth of Daniel, ver. 24, 25. holdeth forth as much, where Prophecying of the Messias, he saith, that it is he that came to finish transgression, and to make an end of sin, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting Righteousness. Now that the Righteousness of the Son of Mary is it, mind the 26. verse; where he saith thus, and after Threescore and two Weeks shall Messiah be cut off, That is, Christ shall be Crucified. But not for himself, That is, not for any sin that he hath committed; for he committed none. Then surely, it must be for the sins of the People, Joh. 11. 50. as the high Priest said, it is expedient that one Man should Die for the People, which Man was the true Messias, Dan. 9. 24. which also is the Son of Mary, Mat. 1. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22. And the Son of God, Mat. 3. 17. And also the true God, 1 Joh. 5. 20.

And

And this Messias, this Son of the Virgin, this Son of God, this True God, did not Die for himself, for he had not offended; Neither did he fulfil the Law or finish transgression, and bring in everlasting Righteousness for himself, for he had not sinned, 1 Pet. 2. 22. therefore it must of necessity follow, that this Righteousness of God, this everlasting Righteousness, is imputed to all, and upon all them that believe, Rom. 3. 22. 2 Cor. 5. 19. 20, 21.

47. But Secondly, this Messias, this Son of Mary, this Son of God, this true God, he was put to Death for the sins that his Children had committed, according to that saying. Herein perceive we the love of God, in that he laid down
1 Joh. 3. 16 his Life for us. Also in Acts 20. the Apostle
Acts 20. 28 speaking to the Pastors of the Churches, faith,
Zac. 12. 10 Feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

Now, I would not be mistaken. I do not not think, or say, that he Died in his Divine Nature, but as it is written, he in his own Bo-
1 Pet. 2. 24 dy on the Tree did bear our sins; which Tree was the Cross, Col. 2. 14. And as the Apostle saith again, Who when he had by himself purged our sins, sate down on the Right Hand of

Col. 1. 19, head) in the 19. ver. For it pleased the Father
20, 21, 22. that in him should all fulness dwell; and (having made peace by the Blood of his Cross) by him to reconcile all things to himself: By him I say, whether they be things in Earth, or things in Heaven. And you who were sometimes alienated, and Enemies in your minds by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled. But how? Why in ver. 22. he tells you, that it is in the body of his Flesh, through Death, to present you holy and unblamable, and unreprovable in his sight. That is, Christ, who is the true God, after that he had finished all actual Obedience on Earth, did in the pow-

Rom. 6. 10 2. 24.) let us arm our selves with the same mind. That is, let us Die to sin as he did, that we might live to God as he did, and doth. And thus have I briefly shewed you.

1. That the Son of Mary is very God.
2. That he made the World.
3. That he is our Saviour, and how.

Col. 1. 22. 4. That he Died for sinners, and how. Namely, and in his Divine Nature, but in his Humane, in his own Body, and in his own Flesh, redeeming his Church with his own Blood, Act. 20. 28. and with his own Life, 1 Joh. 3. 16. John. 10. 18.

We shall now pass on to some other things (the Lord willing) touching his Burial, Resurrection, Ascention, Intercession, Second coming, Resurrection of the Body, and Eternal Judgment

48. And first, I shall prove by several Scriptures that he was buried, and so pass on. First, therefore see that place, Mat. 27. ver. 57. and so forward. After that Jesus the Son of God had been Crucified a while, he gave up the Ghost; that is, he Died; and after he had been a while Dead, Joseph of Arimathea went into Pilate, and begged the Body of Jesus, and Pilate gave consent thereto. And Joseph took the Body of Jesus, and wrapped it in clean Linnen. and laid it (viz.) the Body of Jesus in his own Tomb, and rolled a Stone upon the Mouth of the Sepulchre, and departed, Matt. 27. 57, 58, 59, 60. Also in Luke 24. 51, 52, 53. The Apostle Paul also teacheth so much, 1 Cor. 15. 3, 4. where he saith, For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ Died for our sins according to the Scriptures. And that he was Buried. Again, in Acts 13. 29. the Apostle speaking there of Jesus Christ, saith, And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the Tree, and laid him in a Sepulchre. And so much touching the Burial of Jesus Christ the Son of God.

In the next place I am to prove, That that very Man, whom the Jews did Crucifie between two Thieves, called Jesus Christ, did rise again. That very Man, with that very Body wherewith he was Crucified upon the Cross, did rise again out of the Grave, in which he was laid. And this I shall prove by Scriptures, by the testimony of Angels, by Christs own words after he was risen, and by the testimony of the Apostles in the Scripture.

First therefore consider, Psal. 16. ver. 10. where the Prophet speaks on this wise of Christs Resurrection; For thou wilt not leave my Soul in Hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see Corruption. Which words the Apostle Peter cites in Acts 2. from ver. 22. to 32. also Isa. 26. 19. in the Person of Christ, saith, Thy Dead Men shall Live, together with my Dead Body shall they rise. See also John 20. 15. 16. where mention is made of his appearing unto Mary Magdalen, and he called her Mary, and she called him Master; which signifies that he was risen, and that she knew him after his Resurrection; for he was come out of the Grave, see ver. 6, 7, 8. Again, another Scripture is that in Luke 24 1, 2, 3. The Disciples of Jesus coming to the Sepulcre, thinking to anoint the Body of Jesus, found the Stone that was on the mouth of the Sepulchre rolled away: and when they went in, they found not the Body of the Lord Jesus; and at this they were troubled and perplexed, ver. 4. But as two of them went up to Emmaus, and were talking of what had befallen to Jesus, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them, ver. 15. Another Scripture is that in Mark 16. ver. 9. which saith on this wise, Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalen, out of whom he had cast seven Devils. Where take notice how the Holy Ghost lays it down in these words, out of whom he had cast seven Devils. To intimate to us the certainty, that it was the same Jesus that was Born of the Virgin Mary, who did many miracles, and Cured many Diſeaſes, who did alſo caſt ſeven Devils out of Mary Magdalen, that did riſe again. Yea, ſaith the Holy Ghoſt, it was the ſame Jeſus that did work ſuch a wonderful miracle on Mary, he appeared to her firſt, out of whom he had caſt ſeven Devils. And let theſe Scriptures ſuffice to prove the Reſurrection of the Son of God.

Secondly, you ſhall have the teſtimony of the holy Angels alſo by the Scriptures. And firſt look into Mark 16. 3,4,5,6, and 7, ver. the words are theſe, And they (viz. the Diciples) ſaid among themſelves, Who ſhall roll away the ſtone They had a good mind to ſee their Lord, but they could not, as they thought, get away the ſtone which covered the mouth of the Sepulchre. And when they looked (that is, towards the Sepulchre) they ſaw the ſtone rolled away, for it was great; and entring into the Sepulchre, they ſaw a Young-Man, that is, an Angel, ſitting on the right ſide, Cloathed with a long white Garment. And they, the Diſciples, were affrighted. And he ſaid unto them, be not afraid (you have no cauſe for it) you ſeek Jeſus of Nazareth which was Crucified; He is not here, he is riſen, behold the place where they laid him. What Scripture can be plainer ſpoken then this? Here is an Angel of the Lord ready to ſatisfie the Diſciples of Jeſus, that he was riſen from the Dead. And leſt they ſhould think it was not the right Jeſus he ſpoke of, yes, ſaith he, it is the ſame Jeſus that you mean; you ſeek Jeſus of Nazareth, do you not? Why he is riſen, he is not here. But do you ſpeak ſeriouſly, and in good earneſt? Yea ſurely, if you will not believe me, behold the place where they laid him. This Scripture, or Teſtimony, is very clear to our purpoſe. But again, the next place is in Mat. 28. ver. 3,4,5,6,7. In the third verſe there is an Angel (as before) bearing witneſs of the Reſurrection of Jeſus. His Countenance was like Lightning, and his Raiment white as Snow, and for fear of him the Keepers did ſhake, and became as Dead Men. And the Angel anſwered and ſaid unto them, (viz. to the Women who came to ſeek Jeſus) Fear you not: but let them that ſeek to keep the Lord in his Grave fear * if they will; for you have no ground of fear, who ſeek Jeſus who was Crucified; He is not here, for he is riſen; he cannot be in Body here and riſen too: If you will not believe me, come, ſee where the Lord lay, and go quickly and tell his Diſciples that he is riſen from the Dead, and behold, he goeth before you into Galilee, there ſhall you ſee him. But ſhall we be ſure of it? Yea, ſaith the Angel, Loe, it is I that have told you. See how plainly this Scripture alſo doth teſtifie of Chriſt his Reſurrection. Here, ſaith the Angel, you ſeek a Saviour, and none will content you but he, even the ſame that was Crucified: Well you ſhall have him, but he is not here. Why, where is he then? He is riſen from the Dead. But are you ſure it is the ſame that we look for? Yea, it is the ſame that was Crucified, ver. 5. But where ſhould we find him? Why, he goeth before you into Galilee, where he uſed to be in his Life time, before he was Crucified: And that you might be ſure of it there to find him, know that he is an Angel of God that hath told you, ver. 7. And thus have you in brief the Teſtimony of the Angels of God, to witneſs that Jeſus the Son of the Virgin, the Son of God, is riſen from the Dead.

* They are they that had need to fear and tremble; for they deny faith of the Son of God.

Object. But you will ſay, might they not be deceived? Might not their Eyes dazel, and they might think they did ſee ſuch a thing, when indeed there was no ſuch matter?

Anſw. Well, becauſe it is ſo difficult a matter, to be perſwaded of the truth of this thing, that Chriſt is raiſed again out of the Grave, that very Man, with that very Body; though theſe things that have been already ſpoken, might be enough (through Grace) to ſatisfie, yet becauſe of the unbelief of ſome, we ſhall turn to ſome more of thoſe infallible proofs that are ſpoken of in Act. 1. 3. to prove the point yet more clear. And therefore firſt of all, do but ſee how the Lord doth deal with an unbelieving Diſciple, John 20, ver. 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28. You ſhall ſee in the 23. ver. Chriſt after his Reſurrection, is talking with his Diſciples, but Thomas was not with them. But when the Diſciples ſaw him again, they ſaid unto him, We have ſeen the Lord, ver. 25. but Thomas would not believe them. Another time Jeſus comes to his Diſciples again, and then Thomas was with them; then ſo ſoon as the Lord had ſaid, Peace be unto you, he turned himſelf to Thomas, and ſaid to him; Thomas, Reach hither thy Finger, and behold my Hands, and reach hither thy Hand, and thruſt it into my Side, and be not Faithleſs but Believing, ver. 27. As much as if the Lord ſhould have ſaid, * Come Thomas, thou haſt doubted of the truth of my Reſurrection very much; thou ſayeſt that thou wilt not believe, except thou do feel with thy Fingers the print of the Nailes, and do thruſt thy Hand into my Side. Come Thomas, reach hither thy Finger, and behold my Hands, and ſee if there were not the Nailes driven through them; and reach hither thy Hands and thruſt them into my Side, and feel if I have not the very hole in it ſtill, that was made with the Spears that the Souldier did thruſt into it, and be not ſo full of unbelief, but believe that my Reſurrection is a glorious Truth.

* O how doth the Lord condeſcend to the end he might ſtrengthen the faith of one that is weak.

Another Infallible proof, is that in Luke 24. from the 36. to the end of the 44, verſe. In ver. 36. it is ſaid that the Lord, (even while they were talking) ſtood in the midſt of them, and ſaid, Peace be unto you: But they were ſo far from being at Peace, that they were terrified, and ſuppoſed that they had ſeen a Spirit. And Jeſus ſaid unto them, Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughts ariſe in your Hearts? What, do you think that I am a Spirit? Do you think your Eyes dazle? Behold my Hands and my Feet. Look well upon me, and ſee my Hands, and the holes in them, and likewiſe my Feet, and the holes in them, and know that it is I my ſelf, and not a Spirit, as you ſuppoſe, Know, that it is I my ſelf, and not another. Doth your Hearts fail you? Then take hold of me with your Hands, yea, handle me and ſee, for a Spirit hath not Fleſh and Bones, as ye ſee me have. And when he had ſpoken theſe things, he ſhewed them his Hands and his Feet: As if he had ſaid,

Come my Disciples, take special notice of me; do not be daunted, nor affrighted, but consider that it is I my self. Well, they could not believe as yet, but wondered that such a thing as this should be: And while they were thus wondering he will give them another infallible proof; And he said unto them, have you here any Meat? ver. 41. As if the Lord had said, Come my Disciples, I see that you are very full of unbelief, if you have here any Meat, you shall see me Eat before you all. And they gave him a piece of a broiled Fish, and of an Honey Comb, and he did Eat before them. Again, ver. 42. the Lord strives with another Infallible proof against their doubting, saying, My Disciples, do you not remember what Discourse you and I had before I was Crucified, how that I told you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets concerning me? Another Infallible proof was, that appearance of his at the Sea of Tiberias, where he came to them on the shore, and called them, and provided for them a Dinner, and wrought a notable miracle while he was there with them at that time, Namely, the catching of 153 great Fishes, and yet their Net brake not. Which as it was a great miracle, so it did also shew his Power and Authority over his Creatures. Besides his Eating and Drinking with his Disciples after his Resurrection; and also his Preaching to them, Acts 1. 3. This is not the least, viz. that he was with his Disciples on Earth 40 days which was almost six weeks, speaking to them the things concerning his Kingdom: which was a mighty confirmation of their Faith in his Resurrection.

4. Mar. 8. 31. Mar. 14. 21.

5. Joh. 21. read that whole chapter, Act. 10. 41.

I shall now briefly touch two or three Scriptures, the which hold forth his Disciples testimony of his Resurrection. And the first is in Acts 10. 40, 41. In which place, the Apostle speaking of the Lord Jesus, saith, Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly, yet not to all the People, but to witnesses chosen before of God, even to us (saith the Apostle:) who did Eat and Drink with him after he was risen from the Dead. Again Act. 4. 10. and Act. 13. 29, 30, 31. The words run thus. (the Apostle speaking of Jesus, saith) And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the Tree, and laid him in a Sepulchre. But God raised him from the Dead, and he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the People. And thus far touching his Resurrection from the Dead.

See 1 Cor. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.

In the next place, I am to prove that this very man, Christ Jesus, the Son of the Virgin, in his very Body, the same Body that was Crucified, is above the Clouds and the Heavens. And though this is made light of by those Men called Quakers, and other Infidels of this generation: Yet I am sure that it will prove true to their cost, who reject it as erroneous and vain. But to prove it, First I shall prove that he is ascended. Secondly, that he is ascended above the Clouds, and the Heaven.

For the first, that he is ascended, see Eph. 4. 8, 9, 10. Wherefore (saith the Apostle) when he Ascended up on high, he led Captivity Captive, and gave gifts unto Men. Now that he Ascended, what is it but that he Descended first into the lower parts of the Earth; he that Descended is the same that also Ascended (again) up far above all Heavens.

Again, read Joh. 20. 17. where Christ after his Resurrection from the Dead, saith to Mary Magdalen, Touch me not, for I am not yet Ascended to my Father: That is, I have not yet ascended with this my Body wherewith I was Crucified on the Cross. But go to my Brethren and tell them (meaning his Disciples) that I do Ascend to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God. Joh. 20. 17.

Object. But in that place (may some say) Eph. 4. 10. He that Descended, is said to be the same that Ascended: Now there was no Human Nature with God in Heaven before the World was; Therefore if he be but the same that was with the Father from all Eternity, then the Humanity of the Son of Mary is not Ascended into Heaven. 51.

Answ. First, for answer, It is clear from, Joh. 1. 1. that the word or Son of God, as he was a Spirit, was with the Father before the World was. But now, in the fulness of time that is, when that time that the Father and he had concluded on, was come, God sent forth his Son (which was with him before the World was, Joh. 7. 5.) made of a Woman, that is Born of a Woman. And he took on him the form of a Servant, and was made in the likeness of Men, Phil. 2. 6, 7. Now as he was Born of a Woman, as he was in the likeness of Men, So he ascended to the Right Hand of his Father, in our Nature. And for this, I pray turn to Act. 1. and there you shall find, that he is the same that was Born of the Virgin, that very Man that was Crucified; if you compare ver. 3. with ver. 9, 10, 11. you will find it so to be. Now in ver. 9. after he had spoken many things while they beheld, that is, while his Disciples looked on him, he was taken up, that is, he was taken up from them into Heaven, as in verse 11. and a Cloud received him out of their sight. And while they looked up stedfastly towards Heaven, as he went up (which Heaven, was not within them; if it had, they needed not to have looked toward the Clouds and the Heaven without them,) behold two Men stood by them, not in them, in White Apparel, which also said (that is, the two Men, or Angels which stood by them said) Ye Men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into Heaven? Here again, they did not look within them, but stood gazing or looking after the Lord Jesus, the Son of Mary, who was carried away from them in a Cloud, ver. 9. But why (say the Angels) do you stand gazing so much into Heaven: your Master will come again after a certain time. For, This same Jesus, Namely, which was Crucified, which rose again, and hath been with you these 40 days, which also you see go into Heaven, shall so come, (namely in a Cloud) as ye have seen him go into Heaven. But shall he not lose his Body before he come again? No say the Angels, he shall so come, that is, as ye have seen him go; in like manner, that is, with the same Body. Or else I am sure he cannot come in the same manner, if he lose his Body before he comes again;

Tit. 1. 2. Gal. 4. 4. Act. 1. 9, 10. 11. See Mat. 25. 19. Mat. 13. 34. Acts 1. 3.

again; for he went thither with that body. But that same Jesus that was Crucified, is he that went, or Ascended up into Heaven. If you compare Luke 24. v. 39, 40, 41. 42, 43. with the 50. and 51. verses of the same Chapter, you may clearly find it so to be. And therefore if he come again in like manner, he must come again with the same body wherewith he was Crucified.

52. Object. But you will say, The Scripture saith, he that descended is the same that Ascended, which to me (say you) implies, none but the spirits ascending.

Answ. For answer, We do not say, (as I said before) that it is another that ascended, but the very same. That is, the very same Christ, that was with the Father from everlasting, did come down from Heaven. That same Christ also that came down from Heaven did ascend up thither again: Only, he descended without a Body from Heaven, and took flesh and blood upon him from the Virgin. And though he descended without a Body, yet (he) the very same Christ, that descended without a Body, the same did ascend again with a Body, even that very Body that he took of the Virgin Mary, See Luke 24. from 39. to the 51. verses. Now let me give you a Similitude, for it is warrantable; for both Christ and his Apostles did sometimes use them, to the end, souls might be better informed. The similitude is this. Suppose there come into thine House a Man that is naked, and without clothing, though he go out of thy House again well clothed, yet the same Man that came in without clothing, is the same Man also that goes out of thy House, though very well clothed. Even so it is in this case. The Lord Jesus came into the Womb of the Virgin, Spirit, Mat. 1.18. but he came out of the Womb clothed with a body, and went up into Heaven again clothed with a Body. Compare Luke 24. 39. with Act. 1. 11. and Acts 2. 30, 31.

Act. 2. 30, 31. Joh. 15. 1. 1 Cor. 9. 24, 25.

Now also I shall lay down some few things to be considered, for the better clearing of it.

1. 1. Consider, that he did say to his Disciples, Mat. 25. 19 that he would go away from them: John 14. 3. John 16. 7. Yea, saith he, I go and prepare a place for you) and then I will (after a long time) come again and take you to my self, that where I am, that is, whither I am going, there ye may be also. Now I say, If Christ had not gone from his Disciples (for that was his meaning) touching his bodily presence; I say, if he had not gone away from them, in respect of his bodily presence, he had said more then he had performed; which is horrible blasphemy once to assert; which going of his, is his going into Heaven. See 1 Pet. 3. 22.

53. 2. Secondly, Consider, that there it was that he was to receive the Promise of the Father, Luke 24. 49, 50, 51. which promise was the shedding forth in an abundant manner the Blessed Holy Ghost. And for this see Acts 2. 33. Therefore being by the right hand of God (which is in Heaven) exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this which ye now see and hear. For David is not ascended into the Heavens, but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly (for 'tis very true) that God hath made that same Jesus whom you have Crucified, both Lord and Christ.

3. Thirdly, Consider, that if he were on earth, he could not be a Priest, Heb. 8. 4. Now the Man Christ Jesus is a Glorious Priest, Heb. 7. 24. in the Heavens, Heb. 9, 24. And therefore he is able to save to the uttermost, all that come to God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them. (That Man v. 25.)

4. Fourthly, If he be not gone into Heaven, both his own, and his Apostles Doctrine is false; yea, the witness of the Angels also, 1 Pet. 3. 22. Act. 1. 9, 10, 11. which to think were damnable Infidelity in any Man.

Fifthly, Know that he is gone into Heaven, because the Scriptures say he is; which is the very truth of God, spoken by his Holy Apostles and Prophets: Yea, holy Men of God, spake them as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. Eph. 6. 9. 1 Pet. 3. 22 Heb. 9. 24.

Sixthly, Consider, If thou sayest that that man is not gone into Heaven, then thou must also conclude, that he is still in the Grave: And if so, then thou sayest, that the Prophets, Apostles, Angels, Christ, God, and all are Lyars, who have testified these things in the Scriptures for glorious truths, Isa. 26. 19. Acts 10. v. 40, 41, 42. and 13. v. 30, 34, 36, 37, 38. Acts 1. 9, 10, 11. And as the Apostle saith of himself, and the rest of the Apostles and Ministers of Jesus Christ, And we are found false witnesses of God, because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ, whom he raised not up, if so be the dead rise not. But now is Christ risen, and become the first fruits of them that sleep. For as by Man came death, by Man came also the Resurrection from the dead, 1 Cor. 15. 15, 20, 21. 1 Pet. 3. 22 Heb. 9. 24. Rev 1. 17, 18. Rev. 2. 8.

54. Secondly, Now I am to prove, that he is above the Clouds and the Heavens, my meaning is, he is above the lowest Heavens: For there are 3 as appears in 2 Cor. 12. 1, 2, 3, 4. I knew a Man in Christ (saith Paul there) caught up into the third Heaven: Now,

The Scripture speaking of highest implys a lower.

Heaven in Scripture, is taken sometimes metaphorically, and sometimes properly.

First, Metaphorically it is taken for the Church and People of God; as in Rev. 12. 12.

Secondly, Properly, it is taken for the material Heaven, where the Sun, Moon, and Stars are placed; as in Genesis 1. v. 8, 14, 15, 16, compared together; above which Heaven, Jesus the Son of Mary is ascended.

Therefore I pray you consider with me a little: John 14. 2, 3. Joh. 16. 7. Acts 1. 9, 10, 11.

And first, That when he went into this Heaven into which he is gone, he went AWAY from his Disciples, as it is written, If I go not away, the Comforter will not come; so that he did not go into a Heaven within them in his person, and humane nature. If so, he must needs go into that Heaven without above the Clouds and the Stars, Gen. 1. 8, 5, 16.

2. Consider, he was caught away in a Cloud, yea, and was caught upwards from them, as it is Acts 1. 9, 10, 11. and carried away into Heaven, yea, and his Disciples stood gazing or looking up after him into Heaven, which Heaven must needs be that above the Clouds.

1. If you consider the posture of the Disciples, they looked upwards after the Cloud that did take him away.

2. Consider the manner of his going, it was in a Cloud.

3. He was received out of their sight.

4. And so received up into Heaven; which heaven must needs be above the Clouds, where God is in his special presence. But further.

Job 22.12 13,14.

3. Consider, that those Believers that are alive at this day in the body, are absent from the Lord, 2 Cor. 5. 6. but now, if the Man Christ were ascended into that heaven within them, he would neither be absent from them, nor they from him; but in that he is absent from them touching his bodily presence, and they from him touching the same, it is evident, that that heaven into which he is ascended, must needs be without above the Clouds.

4 Consider, that that heaven into which the Man Christ is ascended, must contain in till the time of restitution of all things, as in Acts 3.21. into which heaven he hath been ascended above sixteen hundred years by computation. And I am sure there is not a Saint that doth live in the World half so long, before he fall asleep, and be gathered to his Fathers; so that that heaven into which he is ascended, is not within, but must needs be that above the Clouds. But,

5. Consider, that he that ascended from his Disciples, was a Man, with Flesh and Bones, not a Spirit only; for handle me, and see, (saith he) for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have, Luke 24. 39, 50, 51. verses. Now let the Adversaries shew by the Scriptures that there is any place in them called heaven, that is able to contain a Man of some four or five Foot long, the space of fifteen or sixteen Hundred Years; besides that, therefore, it must needs be that heaven without, which is above the Clouds and Stars.

6. Consider, That Heaven into which the Lord Jesus that Man is ascended must not contain him always; for, saith the Apostle, 1 Thes. 4. 16. The Lord himself shall Descend from Heaven with a shout, with the Voice of an Archangel. So that there is another descending from that Heaven into which he is ascended; and his descending from that Heaven is this end, namely, to take his People to himself, as it is ver. 17. so that it is clear, that it is not any Heaven within thee, into which the Man Christ that was Born of the Virgin Mary is ascended, but it must needs be that Heaven without which is above the Clouds. 1. If thou consider, that the place into which he ascended, even the Heaven into which he is entred, is the same place where all the Deceased Saints are in their Spirits: Therefore saith Paul, I desire to depart, and to be with Christ which is better. Now Paul did not in this place, Paul 1. 23. mean the enjoyjoying of Christ only in the Spirit; for that he enjoyed in great measure when he spake these words; but he spake of a Dying, and Being with Christ after this Life is ended; as is clear if you compare the 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, and 26, verse together, being absent from him while he was here in the Body, 2. Cor. 5. 6. For whilst at home in the Body, we are absent from the Lord.

So that that Heaven into which the Man Christ is ascended, is not into his Church on Earth; but into Heaven without, above the Clouds and the Stars. And this David doth Propheſie of, Psal. 47. 5. where he saith God is gone up with a shout, the Lord with the Sound of a Trumpent. Now Christ, as God merely could not go up, being no less in one place then another; but as God Man, or in his humane Nature he went up; as will clearly appear, Eph. 4. 8, 9, 10. where he speaketh of his Triumph over all the Enemies of his People at his Resurrection and Ascention into Heaven above the Clouds.

1 Tim. 2. 5. Joh. 16. 6, 7. Joh. 14. 1, 2, 3.

8. When Christ doth descend from that heaven into which he is now ascended, his Saints and he will meet one another, just in the Air, according to the Scripture, 1 Thes. 4: 16, 17. for (saith he) the Lord will descend from Heaven with a shout, with the Voice of the Archangel, and with the Trump of God, and the Dead in Christ shall rise first, (that is, they shall come out of their Graves) and then we which shall be saved alive (at that day) and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the Clouds to meet the Lord in the Air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

Pray mark here a little, and see what Heaven the Man Christ is ascended into, and see if it be not the Heaven without, above the Sun, Moon, and Stars.

When Christ and his Saints do meet a second time together, the one ascends and the other descends; the one is caught up in the Clouds towards the Heaven, the other descends from heaven towards the Earth, and they must needs meet one another just in the Air, that is, between the heaven and the Earth. So then the one coming from heaven, and the other from the Earth, and their meeting being in the Air, which is between heaven and Earth, is an undeniable demonstration, that that heaven into which the Man Christ is ascended, must needs be that heaven without, above the Sun, Moon and Stars. And thus much touching the Son of Mary, his ascending up into the heaven without above the Clouds, Act. 1. 9, 10, 11. Act. 3. 21. and 1 Pet. 3. 22.

Phil. 2. 20. 1 Thes. 1. 10.

In the next place,

55.

Now I shall prove the Intercession of the Man Christ Jesus to be in the heaven that I have been speaking of; though some have mocked at it, and others have called it jugling, which names here I shall not mention, only I shall admonish them, that they do not blaspheme the truth and Son of God in his intercession.

I shall quote some of the Scriptures that hold out his truth and so pass on,

And first of all, see Psal. 16. 4. where David Prophecying of the intercession of Christ, saith, Their sorrows shall be multiplyed that hasten after another God, (speaking of the wicked) their drink Offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their Names into my lips. Now, compare this with Heb. 8. 4. where he saith, If he were on earth, he should not be a Priest. And Heb. 9. 24. For Christ is not entred into the holy places made with hands (meaning the Temple which Solomon Built) which are Figures of the true: But into heaven it self, now to appear in the presence of God for us. Wherefore he is able to save to the uttermost, them that come to God by him: seeing he ever lives to make Intercession for them, Heb. 7.25.

that

But you will say, is there a Man made mention of here? Yes, for the Scripture saith, There is one God, and one Mediator between God and Men, the Man Christ Jesus. And in that 8th. to the Heb. made mention of before; where the Apostle is speaking of Christs Priestly Office, as he is in the Heavens, compared with other Priests that are on Earth; he saith ver. 3. for every High Priest is ordained to offer Gifts and Sacrifices; wherefore (speaking of Christ) it is of necessity that this Man have somewhat also to offer: For if he were on Earth, he should not be a Priest seeing there are Priests that offer according to the Law, (which Law was the Law of Moses, Chap. 9. from 19. to 23. where also he is speaking of the Priesthood of the Priests under the Law, and their Offering of the Blood of Bulls and Goats, (verse 12. compared with verse 19,20,21.) And of the Lord Jesus the High Priest of Saints, and of his blood (ver. 14. compared with ver. 24.) Now as Men under the Law did offer up the Blood of Bulls and Goats, so the Man Christ Jesus did offer up his own Blood to his Father; and this you may clearly see, if you compare Heb. 9. 14. where he saith, How much more shall the Blood of Christ, who through the Eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God; purge your Consciences from Dead works to serve the living God, with Heb. 10. 12. where he saith, But this Man (meaning the Son of the Virgin) Chap. 2. 14. compared with Mat. 1. 21. after he had offered one Sacrifice for sins for ever, sate down at the right Hand of God. Again, Heb. 7. the Chap. I mentioned before, you shall find his intercession plainly held forth, if you read ver. 22. and so on, where the Scripture saith, By so much was Jesus made the surety of a better Testament. And truly they were many Priests (meaning the Priests under the Law) because they were not suffered to continue by reason of Death, (That is, the High Priest under the Law, could not live ever in this World, Because it was appointed to all Men once to Die.) But when he speaks of Christ Jesus, he saith on this wise, But this Man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Priesthood; wherefore he (this Man) is able to save to the uttermost, them that come to God by him, seeing he (this Man) ever liveth to make intercession for them. And thus in brief have I proved through the assistance of the Lord, the Intercession of the Son of Mary, which is also the Son of God. And this concerning Christ's Priestly Office, might serve also for a proof of his being in the Heaven without, above the Stars. But all Men may see (unless they be blind) that these are the truths of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of God his Father; and that those Men that oppose them (as the Quakers do) are very violently possessed of the Devil, and besides themselves; and have neither the truth of God, nor his Spirit in them, 2 Joh. ver. 9, 10. Joh. 5. 38. 42.

1 Tim. 2.5.

Rev. 2.8. Rev. 17.18.

56. And now through the assistance of the Lord, I shall come to the last that I promised, and that is to prove, That this very Man Christ, will come to Judge the Quick and the Dead.

And first, I shall prove the Truth it self, viz. That that Man shall come again to judge the World, Quick, and Dead.

Secondly, I shall shew you that his coming will be very shortly.

Thirdly, what shall be done at his coming.

Fourthly, Who shall stand when he shall come, and who not. For the first,

That that Man that was Born of the Virgin Mary shall come again to Judge the Quick and the Dead; read 2 Tim. 4. 1. I (saith Paul) charge thee therefore before God (speaking to him, even to Timothy, and so to all believers) and the Lord Jesus Christ, who will Judge the Quick and the Dead at his appearing and Kingdom. Now if you would know who this Lord Jesus is, look into Act. 10. 28. and you shall see it was Jesus of Nazareth; would you know who that was? read Mat. 2. towards the end, and you shall see it was the Son of Mary the Virgin, who was Espoused to Joseph the Carpenter. But read Act. 10. ver. 38, 39, 40, 41, 42. you shall find these words, God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost, and with the Power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were Oppressed of the Devil; for God was with him: And we are witnesses of all things that he did, both in Jerusalem, and in the Land of the Jews; whom they slew, and Hanged on a Tree, even Jesus of Nazareth; him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly, not to all the People, but unto witnesses, chosen before of God; even to us who did Eat and Drink with him, after he Rose from the Dead. And he commanded us to Preach unto the People, (that is, God commanded us) and to testifie (that is, to be bold in our Preaching) that it is he (namely, Jesus of Nazareth, whom the Jews did thus Crucifie) which was ordained of God to be Judge of Quick and Dead. This is he also that is spoken of in Act. 17. 30, 31. The times of this ignorance God winked at (meaning Mens being without the Gospel) but now commandeth all Men every where to repent, because he hath appointed a day (which day is the day of Judgment, Mat. 12. 36.) in the which he will Judge the World in Righteousness, by that Man (namely Jesus of Nazareth) whom he hath ordained, (compare this with that in Act. 10. 38, 39, 40, 41, 42. whereof he hath given assurance to all Men,) that is, hath given a sure sign unto all Men in that he hath raised him (that is, in that he hath raised Jesus of Nazareth) from the Dead. This also is Christ's own meaning, Mat. 24. where speaking of his second coming, he styleth himself the Son of Man, saying; and then shall appear the sign of the Son of Man, and so shall the coming of the Son of Man be, ver. 27. So shall also the coming of the Son of Man be, ver. 37. So shall also the coming of the Son of Man be, ver. 39. Where, by the way it is observable to see how the Lord of Life and Glory doth in this Chapter, where he speaketh of his second coming, for the most part stile himself the Son of Man. Sure he doth it to this end, because he will not have his Humanity and the Doctrine thereof, to be raised out from under Heaven: For he knew, that in the last days, there would come Mockers walking after their own Lusts, and saying, where is the promise of his coming, 2 Pet. 3. 3. I could multiply Scriptures to prove this Doctrine ctrine of his second coming, as Heb. 9. ver. last 2 Pet. 3. 2 Thes. 1. 6, 7, 8. Luke 21. Mat. 24. Mat. 25. Rev. 22. 7. 12. and the last, 2 Cor. 5. 10. Rom. 14. 10. Act. 24, 25. But,

Secondly, I will shew you that his coming will be shortly. It is true, no Man can tell neither the day nor the hour, yet so far as the Scriptures will give us light into the nearest of his coming, so far we may go. And if you read Mat. 24. you shall see many signs of his coming spoken of. 57.

1. There is falling away from the faith spoken of. And that hath been fulfilled and is fulfilling every day.

2. Wars and Rumors of Wars is another sign that is coming doth draw nigh, even at the Doors.

3. The Love of many waxing cold, is another sign that it is nigh, even the coming of Christ: And how cold is the Love of many at this day? They that were hot two or three Year ago, are now grown lukewarm and cold. They are cold in the Lords appearing: they are cold in the profession of the Gospel. They are cold in Love to the Saints, they are cold in the Worship of God; Yea, very cold, which is a notable Demonstration that the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

4. The Stars falling from Heaven; (That is Professors falling from the Faith which once they professed) is another sign that the coming of the Lord is at hand: And how many Professors do you see now a days, fall from the Doctrine of God, and his Son Jesus Christ, as though there were no such thing as a World to come, and no such thing as a Lord Jesus Christ, and his second coming.

Mat. 25. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7.

5. Many poor Souls will go on in their profession with Lamps without Oyl, just before his second coming. And the Lord knows that most of the Professors of this Generation, are such kind of professors, yea, very foolish Professors, which is another sure sign, that the coming of the Lord draws nigh.

These things I do but hint in, though I enlarge upon them.

Luk. 18. 8.

6. When the time of Christ's second coming is at hand, there will be but a very little * faith in the World. And the Lord knows, that there be many; who are now as high as Lucifer, that at that day for want of Faith will be thrown down to the sides of the pit: even in very Belly of Hell.

* Lay 1 Jo. 3. 3. to thy Heart, and compare thy condition with it, and thou wilt find this a glorious truth.

7. Another sign of Christ's second coming, is the Carnal mindedness of the most of the World; and the very carriages of almost all Man now living do discover this truth to be at this day fulfilled, and know that when they shall say peace and safety, then sudden distruction comes, and they shall not escape, 1 Thes. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Mat. 24. 24 Mar. 13. 22

8. Before Christ's second coming, there shall come many false-Christs, and false Prophets and shall shew great signs, and wonders, to seduce if it were possible the Elect. And is not this more clearly fulfilled in our days then ever it was, especially among those Men called Quakers, who being as Persons, whose Consciences are seared with an hot Iron, and they being sealed up unto destruction, do some of them call themselves Christ, and shew great signs, (as their Quaking) and such a legal holiness, as makes the simple admire them, and wonder after them, which shews the coming of Christ to be very nigh.

9. Before Christ's second coming, there shall come scoffers in the World, walking after their own Lusts, and if ever this Scripture was fulfilled; it is fulfilled on these Men called Quakers: For they are the Men, that at this day make a mock at Christ's second coming, which shall be from heaven without; and therefore saith the Holy Ghost, these Mockers shall be such as shall say, where is the promise of his coming? For since the Fathers fell a Sleep, all things continue as they were, See 2 Pet. 3. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. and there you shall see their Mocking and the Reason of it. Read, and the Lord give thee understanding. But I would not have thee think that I speak at Random, in this thing, Know for certain, that I my self have heard them Blaspheme; yea, with a grinning Countenance, at the Doctrine of that Man's second coming from heaven above the Stars, who was Born of the Virgin Mary. Yea, they have told me to my Face, that I have used Conjuration, and Witchcraft, because what I Preached was according to the Scriptures. I was also told to my Face, that I Preached up an Idol, because I said, that the Son of Mary was in heaven, with the same Body that was Crucified on the Cross; And many other things have they Blasphemously vented against the Lord of Life and Glory, and his precious Gospel. The Lord Reward them according as their work shall be.

2 Pet. 3. 3. 1 Thes. 1. 10. Phil. 3. 20.

I could have hinted in many other things which Christ and his Apostles have shewed to be signs of his coming. But I shall commend the Holy Scriptures unto thee, which are able to make the Man of God perfect in all things, through Faith in the Lord Jesus.

2 Tim. 3. 16, 17.

58. Now you have also the manner of his coming how it shall be, most notably laid down in the Scriptures. I shall hint in a few things touching it.

As first, He will come when there is but very few looking for his coming. When they shall say Peace and Safety, then sudden Destruction cometh, 1 Thes. 5. 1, 2, 3. Which sudden Destruction will be at his second coming, for that is it which the Apostle spake of in those three verses. Then will all the World be caught at such an unexpected time, that it will come upon them, even as a snare cometh upon those Creatures that are caught in it. As it is written, Luke 21. 35. For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the Face of the whole Earth. Which is all on a sudden, before they are aware.

2. He cometh with all his Saints and Angels. Then will the Lord descend from that heaven, into which he now ascended, as it is written in 1 Thes. 4. 16. Then will he come, and all his Saints with him, as Jude saith in his Epistle, v. 5. Then shall Abel and Enoch, Noah and Abraham, David and Job, Peter and Paul: Together with all the Saints which have been, now are, or hereafter shall be, and they shall sit on the Throne with the Lord Jesus Christ, as in Mat. 19. 28.

19. 28. Before whom shall all the Nations of the World be gathered, as it is written, Joel 3. 12. Let the Heathen be wakened (or raised out of their Graves, Dan. 12. 2.) and come down to the Vally of Jehoshaphat; for there will I sit to judge all the Heathen round about. Which never was yet accomplished, though it shall certainly be, in Gods time: To the astonishment, and everlasting Damnation of all those that shall continue mocking, or sinning against God and his Christ.

3. He shall come in a flaming fire, (when he doth come again: he will come in such a manner, as will make all that shall be found in their sins rather seek to creep under a Mountain, than to meet the Lord of Glory, Rev. 6.15.) As Esay saith, For behold the Lord will come with fire, and with his Chariots like a whirlwind: to render his anger with fury, and his rebukes with flames of fire, Esay 66, 15. To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them, of all their ungodly deeds which they have committed, and of all their hard speeches, which ungodly sinners have spoken against him, Jude 15. as I shall shew farther by and by.

59. And therefore in the next place, I shall shew you, what shall be done when he is come.

First, When Christ is come the second time, they that are in their Graves shall arise, and come forth of their Graves (as I said before) in which they have lain according to that in John 5. 28. Where Christ saith, Marvel not at this, for the hour is coming in the which all that are in the Graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth: they that have done good unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil unto the Resurrection of Damnation. You will say, Are these Graves spoken of here, the Graves that are made in the Earth? Yea, that they are, and for a further proof of the same, look into Dan. 12. 2. Daniel there speaking of the same thing saith, And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall arise, or awake, some to everlasting life, and some to everlasting contempt, or damnation.

I shall not stand here to dispute any distinctions of the Resurrections, only prove that the Dead shall arise; and that is a clear truth from the Scriptures, Acts 10. 42. Rev. 20. 11, 12, 13, 14. and 1 Thes. 4. 16. 1 Cor. 15. 52. the Dead shall be raised.

2. He shall call all Men and Women to an account for all their close sinful Thoughts, Words, and Actions; then will the secrets of all hearts be made manifest. Then shall all thy Adulterous, and Theevish, and Covetous, Idolatrous, and Blasphemous Thoughts be laid open, according to that saying, Their Consciences also bearing them witness, and their thoughts the mean time, or while, accusing, or else excusing one another, Rom. 2. 15. But when? Why, in the day when God shall judge the secrets of Men by Jesus Christ, v. 16. See also 1 Cor. 4. 5. Therefore judge nothing before the time; What time is that? Why, when the Lord comes; What will he do? He will bring to light the hidden things of darknesses, that is, all those cunning, close, hidden wickedness, that thou in thy life time hast committed; yea, he will make manifest the counsels of the heart; that is, the most hidden and secret things that are contrived and plotted by the Sons of Men; Then shall all the midnight Whoremongers be laid open with all their sins; Then thou (it may be) who hast committed such sins as thou wouldest not have thy Neighbour, thy Father, thy Wife, thy Husband, or any one else know of for thousands, then thou shalt have them all laid open, even upon the house tops, Luke 12. 1, 2, 3. Then thou that hatest Gods Children, his Ways, his Word, his Spirit; then thou that makest a mock at Jesus of Nazareth's second coming, then thou that livest in open Prophaneness, or secret Hypocrisie, then I say, will be such a time of reckoning for you, as never was since the World began, then you that shall die in your sins, will cry to the Mountains, fall on us, and cover us from the face of him that sits on the Throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb (which Lamb is the Man Christ Jesus, Joh. 1. 19.) And ah, my Friends! If the very looks of God be so terrible, what will his blows be, think you? Then if all thy idle words shall be accounted for, as it is written, But I say unto you, that every idle word that Men shall speak, they shall give an account thereof in the day of judgment, Mat. 12. 36. and also all thy filthy actions shall be then regarded in such sort, as thou shalt receive a just recompence for them. And know, saith the Scripture, that for all these things * God will bring thee into Judgment, Eccles. 11. 9. Then

* Though sinners will be unwilling to come to judgment, yet this will be their misery, God will bring them. Mal. 4. 1, 2.

Thou that art an unbeliever shalt be sure to fall under the judgment for all thy sins.

First, thou must give an account.

Secondly, thou must fall in the judgment. Oh my Friends, there are hot days a coming for all those that are found out of the Lord Jesus: Behold, saith Malachi, the days come that shall burn as an Oven, and all the proud, yea, all that do wickedly shall be as Stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of Hosts; and it shall leave them neither Root nor Branch. The day of Judgment will burn like an Oven, and all that have not the Righteousness of Christ upon them shall be as Stubble. Ah Friends, put a Red Hot Oven, and Stubble together, and what work will there be? Even the one will burn and destroy the other.

3. When Christ doth come the second time, another end of his coming will be to purge out all things that offended in this Kingdom, Mat. 13. 41, 42. Then shall the Son of Man send forth his Angels and they shall gather out of his Kingdom all things that offend, and them that do iniquity, and shall cast them into a Fornace of Fire; there shall be Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth. There are many things that do offend in his Kingdom now: namely, the lukewarm professor, he doth offend first the Lord, secondly, his People. But then thou lukewarm offending Professor shalt offend the Chruch of God no more.

Secondly, the loose Professors do also offend God, Christ and his Church.

First, He Scandals the Gospel by his loose walking, and naughty carriages.

Secondly, He doth make the World Blaspheme the name of God by the same.

Thirdly,

Thirdly, He grieves the Hearts of Gods People, Phil. 3. 18. But know that thou also shalt be taken away from offendidg any more, God, Christ, and his Saints, and thou shalt have Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth, for thy thus offending, Mat. 18. 6, 7.

Men seeking to get encouragement from their Ignorance do more harden themselves in sin, and so are in greater danger of Eternal damnation.

4. Another end of Christ's second coming, is to cut off all the Ignorant Persons that are in the World. There is a generation of poor Souls that do think to be excused for their Ignorance: Alas? Saith one, I am a poor Ignorant Man, or Woman; and therefore I hope that the Lord will have Mercy upon me: We cannot say others do as such and such, and will the Lord Condemn us? And thus poor Souls, as they are in the broad way to Destruction, least they should miss of the way to Hell; do swallow down by Clusters, that which will Poyson them, Body and Soul for ever, and ever.

But you will say, What, will not the Lord have Mercy on Ignorant Souls?

Answ. Not on those who Live and Die in their Ignoranee. He himself hath said, Esa. 27. 11. Because it is a People of no understanding, therefore he that made them will not have Mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour. Again, Paul also in that 2 Thes. 1. 8. saith, that when Jesus Christ shall come to Judge the World, he doth come to take Vengeance on all them that know not God, and that Obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

This 27th of Isaiah and the 11. verse, is a notable confutation of the Ignorants Hypocritical hope, where he saith, He that made them will have no mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.

But ye will say, who are those Ignorant Persons, that shall find no favour at that day? Or how doth the Ignorance discover it self?

I shall only mention three or four sorts of Men; and leave thee to the Scriptures, which if thou read them diligently, will further lay them open before thee.

And first, the Profane Scoffer, who makes a Mock at the truths of God, and so goes on in his sins, for this see in 2 Pet. 3. 3. which the Apostle attributes to their Ignorance, ver. 5. And therefore he likens them to bruit Beasts, Chap. 2. 10. and 12. verses, who walk after the Flesh in the Lusts of uncleanness; and speak evil of the things they understand not, and shall utterly perish in their corruption; who because they understand not the Scriptures, nor the Power of God in them, speak evil of the truths therein contained, and think the Lord like unto themselves, Psal. 50.

Secondly, The formal Professor, who hath only a notion of the Gospel, and some seeming Holiness, but wants Gospel Faith: Such are called Foolish Virgins, Mat. 25. 2, 3. to whom Christ will say in that day, Verily, I know you not. Add hereto, those that think it enough to confess Christ with their Mouths, and profess that they know God, but deny him in their works; such notwithstanding all their profession, shall, if they so continue, perish Eternally, being abominable, disobedient, and to every good work Reprobate, or void of judgment, that is, Ignorant, Tit. 1. ver. 16.

3. The legal righteous Man or Woman, tho' they walk blameless, as touching the righteousness that is in the Law: For they being ignorant of Gods righteousness, go about to establish their own righteousness, as Reading, hearing Sermons, Prayers, Publick or Private, Peaceableness with their Neighbours, Fasting, Alms, good Works as they count them, Just Dealings, abstinence from the grosser polutions of the World, stricter Obedience to the Commandments of the first and second table; all which with many other things may be comprehended in their own righteousness, and it is grounded on their Ignorance, and goes on in Rebellion; and such Ignorant Persons shall in that day perish, not Submitting through ignorance to the righteousness of God, Rom. 10. 3. compared with Luke 19. 27. where Christ saith, that when he shall come the second time, he will command those his Enemies, who submitted not themselves to him, who is called the righteousness of God, Esa. 46. 13. or would not have him to Reign over them, to be Slain before his Face.

4. Those whose hearts are set upon the world, and follow the alluring perswasions of it; the Lord calls such Fools, Luke 12. 20. and Prov. 7. 7. who go after it (viz. the World, held forth by a similitude of a Woman with the attire of an Harlot) as an Oxe to the slaughter, or a Fool to the correction of the stocks, till a dart strike thorow his Liver, as a Bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life: and knows not, mark, it is through ignorance, ver. 23.

A fit end of Christ's coming, is, that his righteous ones might shine as the Sun in the glory, or Kingdom of their Father, Matt. 13. 43. there are many things that do hinder the People of God from shining forth as the Sun now.

As first, They have a body of death, which makes them fetch many a groan in their journey to Canaan, Rom. 7. 24. 2 Cor. 5. 2. They meet with many a sad temptation, which also makes them in heavines many a time, 1 Pet. 1. 6. They have also many other things that do hinder their shining now; but then the body of death shall be left off. My meaning is; that sin shall be no more in the natures of Gods People then: Their bodies that are now so vile, shall then be made like unto the glorious body of the Son of God, who shall change our vile bodies, that it may be like unto his glorious body according to the working, whereby he is able to subdue all things unto himself, Phil. 3. ver. 21.

6. Another end of Christ's coming shall be to take an account of his Children, how they have laid out their Talents, that he hath committed to their trust, Mat. 25. 19. Rom. 14. 12. 2 Cor. 5. 10.

7. Another end of his coming is, to set up his Kingdom, which will be glorious indeed at his appearing, 2 Tim. 3. 1. Rom. 8. 19, 20, 21. I do but touch these things, because I would hasten towards a conclusion; many other things might have been spoken to, but at this time I shall forbear.

But you will say, VVho shall stand when he appears? VVhy, I told you before, that the Ungodly shall not stand in the Judgment, nor Sinners Sinners in the Congregation of the Righteous, Psal. 1. 5. let him be close or prophane, as I told you even now, all shall be laid open, all shall be made manifest, all shall come into Judgment.

Ah poor soul! It is not then thy brave words will save thee; it is not thine eloquent Tongue, that will then do thee any good; if thou be without the Wedding Garment, thou wilt be speechless, as in Matt. 22.12. But thou that art a Converted Person, shalt stand in the Judgment, thou that art Born again shalt enter into the Kingdom, and none else, Joh. 3. 5. Rev. 21. 27.

62. But how shall I know that I am Born again?

Answ. Why, if thou art Born again, then thou knowest that thou wast not born a Christian at first, Eph. 2. 1, 2, 3. You hath he quickned who were Dead in Trespasses and Sins.

2. Thou knowest that once thou hadst no Faith in the Lord Jesus; and wert convinced of sin because thou didst not believe in the Son of Mary, Joh. 16. 9.

3. Thou seest all true joy through the blood and righteousness of the Son of Mary, 1 Cor. 15. 57. Rom. 7. 24. 25.

4. Art thou born again? Then thou canst not be quiet till thou seest God smile, and lift up the light of his Countenance upon thee,
2 Cor. 4. 6. Psal. 4. 6. and that through the Face of the Son of Mary, the Son of God.

5. Thou knowest that God hath given thee thy Faith, Phil. 1. 29. Eph. 2 8.

6. Art thou born again? Then thou knowest that the Doctrine of the Son of Mary the Virgin, is a right Doctrine, 2 John 9.

7. Then also thou lookest for the personal appearing of the Son of Mary from Heaven in the Clouds, Rev. 1. 7 the second time, Heb. 9. 28.

These things, though plain, yet if the Lord set them home upon thy conscience, may be profitable both to thee and me. Therefore let us examine the matter a little. And first,

Thou thinkest that thou art a Christian; thou shouldest be sorry else, well, but when did God shew thee that thou wert no Christian? When didst thou see that? And in the light of the Spirit of Christ, see that thou wert under the wrath of God, because of Original Sin? Nay, dost thou know what Original Sin means? Is it not the least in thy thoughts? And dost thou not rejoyce in secret, that thou art the
Rom. 5. 12. same that thou ever wert? If so, then know for certain that the wrath of God to this very day abideth on thee, John 3. 36. And if so, then thou art one of those that will fall in the Judgment, except thou art born again, and made a new Creature, 2 Cor. 5. 17.

But Secondly, thou thinkest that thou hast been born again, ('tis well if thou hast) but least thou shouldest deceive thy poor Soul, I pray thee consider, when did the Spirit of the Lord Jesus shew thee, that thou hadst no Faith in thee by Nature? And when did the Spirit of Christ convince thee of Sin, because thou didst not believe in him? It may be thou hast been convinced of sins against the Law, by the Law, and thy own Conscience, as the Pharisees were, Joh. 8. 9. and Rom. 3. 20. I, but when didst thou see thy self a lost Creature for want of Faith in the Son of Mary? If not, thou hast not yet been savingly convinced by the Spirit of Christ; for that when it convinceth effectually of sin, it convinceth of unbelief; though thou hast been never so much convinced of sins against the Law, if thou hast not seen thy self under the Power and Dominion, Guilt and Punishment of Sin because thou didst not believe in Christ, thou hast not yet been savingly convinced; for thats one work of the Spirit to convince of Sin, Because they believe not on me, saith Jesus, the Son of Mary, who was Espoused to Joseph the Carpenter; But on the contrary, dost thou not say in thy Heart, thou never hadst thy Faith to seek, but hast always believed with as good a Faith as any one Alive; If so, then know for certain that thou hast no Faith of the Operation of God in thee, according to Gods ordinary Working; and if so, then know that if the Son of Man should come to judge the World at this moment of time, that thou with all thy Faith (thou thinkest thou hast) wouldest fall in the judgment, 2 Thes. 2. 12.

3. Art thou born again? Then thou seest that thy great sin was want of Faith in the Son of Mary. Then thou seest that it is he that was sent of God to Die for the sins of the World, Joh. 1. 19. Joh. 3. 16, 17, 18, 19. Act. 13. 38, 39. and that thou art compleat in him, without any works of the Law, Rom. 4. 4. then thou rejoycest in Christ Jesus, and puttest no confidence in the Flesh, Phil. 3. 3. yet thou rejoycest in the flesh and blood of the Son of Mary, knowing that his flesh is Meat indeed, and his Blood is drink indeed Joh. 6. 55. out of which thou wouldest very willingly make thy Life all thy days; out of his Birth, Obedience, Death, Resurrection, Ascension, and glorious Intercession, now at the Right Hand of his Father, Heb. 7. 24, 25. but if thou art wavering in these things, know, that thou art but a Babe at the best, and for ought thou knowest, God may cut thee off in thy unbelief, and cast thee into utter Darkness, where there shall be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth.

4. Art thou born again? Then thou seest all true peace and joy comes through the blood of the Son of Mary, and his Righteousness, as in Rom. 7. 24. and 1 Cor. 15. 57. there are many poor Souls that are taken with raptures of Joy, and false conceited consolation, Joh. 16. 20. which doth come from the Devil, and their own deceitful Hearts; but their joy shall be turned into Mourning and Sorrow of Heart, Luke 6. 24, 25. but thou that art a Christian indeed, and not in word only, rejoycest in Christ Jesus the Son of Mary; yea, tho' now you see him not, yet believing, you rejoyce with joy unspeakable and full of Glory, 1 Pet. 1. 8. And these two things are the Fruits of thy Faith, and of thy joy.

1. The Lord Jesus Christ is very precious unto thee, 1 Pet. 2. ver. 7.

2. Thou dost purifie thine Heart by this Faith, and the power of the Spirit of Christ, which thou hast received into thy Soul, Rom. 8 13. Act. 15. 9. and 1 Joh. 3. 3. but if thy guilt of sin goes off, and convictions go off any other way then by the Blood and Righteousness of the Man Christ Jesus, thy guilt goes off not right, but wrong, and thy latter end will be a very bitter end without Faith and Repentance; for it is his Blood through which all true peace comes, Col. 1. 20. and there is no other name under Heaven given among Men, whereby we should be saved, but by the Lord Jesus of Nazareth, Act. 4. ver. 10, 11, 12. compared together.

5. Art thou born again? Then thou canst not be quiet, till thou doest see God lift up the light of his Countenance upon thee, yea, thou hast such a desire after the light of God's Countenance, that all the Glory, Riches, Honour, Pleasure, Profits, &c. of this World will not satisfie, till thou doest see God to be a Reconciled Father to thee in the Lord Jesus Christ; as it is Psal. 4. 6. Joh. 14. 8. Psal. 35. 3. Then thou wilt not be quiet till thou dost hear from the Son of Mary, which is the Lord of Glory, 2 Cor. 12. 9 1 Cor. 2. 8. such a voice as this, Son be of good cheer, thy sins are forgiven thee; and My Grace is sufficient for thee. But if thou canst content thy self with any thing below this, thou wilt, when all comes to all, be found but a rotten-hearted Professor, who will have thy Portion among the Sloathful ones, who will fall in the Judgment of the Son of Man, when he comes in Flaming Fire with his mighty Angels, 2 Thes. 1. 8.

6. Art thou born again? Then thou knoweest that God hath given thee thy Faith that thou hast in his Son: Then thou art to say through Grace, there was a time in which I had no faith, there was a time in which I could not believe in the Son of God for Eternal Life. But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved me, even when I was dead in sins and unbelief; (which is the greatest) hath quickned me together with Christ: By Grace I am Saved, Eph. 2. 4, 5. through Faith, ver. 8.

7. Art thou born again? Then thou knowest that the Doctrine of the Son of God, the Son of Mary is a right Doctrine, which is this.

63. First, That the Son of God which was with his Father before the World was (Joh. 1. 1. Joh. 17. 5.) came into the World in the fulness of time, and was made in the likeness of Man, Phil. 2. 7. being made of a Woman or Virgin, made under the Law, to redeem them that were under the Law, Gal. 4. 4. And that was done in this wise. What the Law could not do in that it was weak through the Flesh, that is, through our Flesh, God sending his own Son in likeness of sinful Flesh, and for sin, Condemned sin in the Flesh, that is, Condemned him in the Flesh for the sins of poor sinners; For this, compare Rom. 8. 3. and 2 Cor. 5. 21. with Gal. 3. 13. and it will appear clearly to be the truth of God: Also, that this Son of God, which is the true God, as well as the Son of Mary, did bear our sins in his own Body on the Tree, 1 Pet. 2. 24. and did spill his own Blood, which is also the Blood of God, Acts 20. 28. that he Died, and was laid in Joseph's Sepulchre, Joh. 19. 38, 39, 40, 41. and rose again the third day, Acts 10. 40. that very Man, Luke 24. verse 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44. and Ascended up into Heaven in a cloud, Acts 1. 9, 10, and 11. and there ever lives to make Intercession for us, that very Man, Heb. 7. 24. 25. Heb. 8. 3. Heb. 10. 12.

And in the last place, if thou art a Christian, then thou lookest for that very Jesus again, whom the Jews did Crucifie, Joh. 19. whom God raised again as it is, 1 Thes. 1. 10. I say thou lookest, thou waitest, thou hastenest after the coming of this Lord Jesus, which doth deliver thee from the wrath to come, 2 Pet 3. 10, 11, 12. Heb. 9. 26, 27, 28. 1 Thes. 1. 10. Yea, thou knowest, that this very Man shall so come, in like manner, as his Disciples did see him go into Heaven, which was a very Man, Luke 24. 39 compared with ver. 50. 51. of the same Chapter. Yea, in a Cloud he went away from his Disciples, and in the Clouds he shall come again, Rev. 1. 7. to judge all that are in their Graves, Joh. 5. 28, 29. Dan. 12. 2. and shall receive all that look for, and love his second coming, to himself, Heb. 9. 27, 28. And they shall be for ever with him, 1 Thes. 4. 16. 17. But the wicked shall be cast into Eternal Damnation, Mat. 25. 46. These things, I say, if thou be a Christian indeed, thou believest, and owneſt, and the Faith of them doth purifie thy heart, 1 Joh. 3. 3. and wean thee from this World, and the things thereof; and if it is not from this principle, that is, if thy Obedience do not flow from this Faith, which is the Faith of God's Elect, as I have proved at large, thy Obedience, thy Zeal, thy Self-denial, thy Holiness, Righteousness; yea, all that thou canst do, is but sin in the sight of the great God of Heaven and Earth. For all true sanctification comes through the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, by the Operation of the Spirit of God, 1 Cor. 6. 11. But ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified, in the Name of our Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God: And in Cant. 1. 3. Thy Name is as an Oyntment poured forth, therefore do the Virgins love thee. Heb. 11. 6 Rom. 14. 23.

Well then, seeing this is a truth of so great concernment, I beseech you, seek to be throughly rooted into it by Faith. And that thou maist so be, examine thy Heart; yea, beg of God to help thee to examine it, and to throw out all that Fancy that thou takest instead of Faith; Also throw away all thine own Wisdom, yea, thy own Righteousness also, and come to God in the Name of the Son of Mary, which is the Son of God, and beg Faith of him, true Faith, the Faith of the Operation of God; such a Faith as he gives to his own Elect, which will shew thee clearly of these things; so that thou shalt not deceive thy self with a Fancy of them; and the advantages will be many. 64

1. It will comfort thy Heart against Persecutions, Temptations, and cross Providences, as also James saith to his Persecuted Brethren; Be Patient my Brethren, saith he, establish your Hearts, for the coming of the Lord draws nigh, Jam. 5. 8.

2. It will through Grace, wean thy Heart and affections abundantly from this World, and the things therein: Who is he that overcomes the World, (saith John) but he that believes that Jesus is the Son of God? 1 Joh. 5. 5. who is he also that Purifies his Heart, but he that looketh for the second coming of Christ from Heaven (as in 1 Joh. 3. 3. compared with 2 Pet. 3. 10, 11.) to Judge the World?

3. Here-

3. Hereby thou wilt be able to Judge of all Doctrines whatsoever, though they come never so nigh the Truth, yet if they be not indeed the very truth, thou wilt find them and their Doctrine Lyers, Rev. 2. 2. and 1 Cor. 2. 15.

4. If thou beest throughly set down in this Doctrine, even in the Faith of this Doctrine which I have held forth unto thee, thou wilt not be taken with any other Doctrine whatsoever. What is the Reason I pray you, that there are so many Giddy-headed Professors in these days, that do stagger to and fro like a company of Drunkards, but this, They were never sealed in the Doctrine of the Father, and the Son? They were never enabled to believe that that Child that was born of the Virgin Mary, was the mighty God, Isa. 9. 6. No, saith, Christ, he that is built upon this Rock (meaning the Faith of himself, which is to believe that the Son of Mary is the Christ of God, Mat. 16. 16.) the Gates of Hell shall not prevail against him, verse 18.

5. The Faith of this Doctrine, will make thee labour in the work of God in the World. Oh, it will liven thy heart in the work of the Lord; especially, if thou livest in the Faith of thy interest in Christ, it will make thee labour to be found watching when thy Lord shall return from the Wedding; that when he doth come, thou maist open to him immediately, Luke 12. 35. 36.

65. Now seeing the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ is so nigh, even at the doors, what doth this speak to all sorts of People (under Heaven) but this? First, to see whether they have Oyl in their Lamps or not; that is, to search, and see, whether the Spirit of the Man Christ Jesus be in them or no; for he that hath not the Spi- of Christ in him, is none of Christs, Rom. 8. 9. Thou that hast not the Spirit of Christ in thee, why, at that day (let thy profession be what it will) he will say to thee, depart, I know you not, Mat. 25. and if so, then thy latter end will be worse then thy beginning, as in 2 Pet. 2. 20.

2. Then what will become of all the Profane, Ignorant, Scoffers, Self-righteous, Proud, Bastard-Professors in the World? If the Children of God shall scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly, and the sinner appear? 1 Pet. 4. 18.

3. Then what will become of all those that Creep into the Society of Gods People without a Wedding Garment on? Why, it will be said unto them, Friends, how came you hither? Take them, and bind them hand and foot, and cast them into utter Darkness; there shall be Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth, Mat. 22. 11, 12, 13.

4. Then what will become of all those that mock at the second coming of the Man Christ, as do the Ranters, Quakers, Drunkards, and the like? Why, read their doom in Mat. 24. 50, 51. The Lord of that or these Servants, shall come in a day when they look not for him, and in an hour that they are not aware of, and shall cut them asunder, and appoint them their Portion with Hypocrites, and there shall be Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth.

5. Then what doth this speak to the Lords own People? Surely this, that they should be in a watchful posture, Mark. 13. 37.

66. Watch therefore over your own Hearts, least they should be over-charged with surfeiting and drunkenness, and the cares of this Life, and so that day come upon you unawares; for as a snare shall it come upon all the dwellers upon the Face of the Earth, as it is in Luk. 21. 34, 35, 36.

2. Watch over the Devils Temptations. Oh, have a care in the first place, least by any means, as the Serpent beguiled Eve, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ: And the rather, because at this day he is very busie with his Doctrines, and his Ministers; trying all ways, if by any means he might deceive you with fair Speeches, and inticing carriages; with a fair shew in the Flesh, yet denying the Lord, and refusing to be justified by the Blood of Jesus the Son of Mary, the Son of God: Watch I say over the Devil touching Doctrines, for he labours as much this way as any way, for he knows if he can but get you to lay a rotten foundation, he is sure of you, live as godly in your conceit as you will, and therefore, it is worth your Observation, in that 24th. of Mat. when Christ is speaking of the signs of his coming, he breaks forth with a warning word to his Disciples, to beware of false Teachers, ver. 4. the very first words that he answers to a question that his Disciples put to him, is this, Take heed that no Man deceive you. Again, ver. 11. And many false Prophets shall arise, and shall deceive many. And in ver. 24. he saith again, for there shall come, or arise, false Christs and false Prophets, and shall shew signs and wonders, insomuch, that if it were possible, they should deceive the very Elect.

3. Take heed that he doth not deceive you in point of worship, that he make you not slight any of the Divinances of God; for if he do, he will quickly make way for another Temptation.

4. Take heed that you also have not your Lamps to trim when the Bridegroom comes; if you have, you may paradventare be ashamed and blush before him at his coming, 1 Joh. 2. last ver. Therefore content not your selves with a Profession of Christ, and no more, for the Devil may deceive, yea, doth deceive a professing People many times. And if he will Deceive a professing generation, he must come in this manner.

First, Under the Name of Christ.

Secondly, With a fair shew in the Flesh of outward holiness, Gal. 6. 12.

Thirdly, He must come with good words and fair Speeches, Rom. 16. 18. Now though he come to Drunkards, Swearers, Whoremongers, Theives, Lyers, Murderers, and covetous Persons, in his Black Colours; yet if he will come to deceive a professing Party, he must appear like an Angel of Light. And the reason why Souls are deceived by him in these his appearances, is, because they are not able to distinguish betwixt the Law and the Gospel, the convictions of Conscience by the Law only, and convictions by the Spirit, but do (tho' they profes the Lord Jesus) give eare to every Wind of Doctrine, and being unstable, as Peter saith, do fall into the Temptations of the Devil, in wresting the Scriptures to their own Destruction, 2 Pet. 3. 16. 2 Cor. 11. 14.

In a word, you that have not yet laid hold on the Lord Jesus Christ, for Eternal Life, lay hold upon him, upon his Righteousness, Blood, Resurrection, Ascention, intercession, and wait for his second coming to Judge the World in Righteousness, Act. 17. 31. And you that have laid hold, I say to you, lay faster hold on your Lord Jesus, Who so hath Ears to hear, let him hear, Mat. 13. 43.

67. Now, That thou mayst the more clearly understand my Faith in the Doctrine of Gods dear Son, I have thought good to hold forth again the Doctrine of the former Treatise by way of Question and Answer, as followeth.

Quest. Seeing there are many false Christs gone out into the World, according as was Prophesied of in former times (Mat. 24. 5. 23.) by the Lord himself; And seeing (if we be saved) we must be saved by a Christ; for he that misses of him (saith the Scriptures) cannot be saved, because there is no way to come to the Father but by him, as it is written, Joh. 14. 6. Act. 4. 12. How therefore, is the knowledge of the true Christ to be attained unto, that we may be saved by Him?

Answ. Indeed to know Christ, (Gods Christ) is as the Scripture saith, the one thing necessary, Luke 10. 42. without which all other things will avail nothing; And therefore I shall according to the Scriptures.

First, Tell you what Gods Christ is. And,

Secondly, How the knowledge of him is attained unto.

And therefore, first, Gods Christ is true God, and true Man.

That he is true God, is manifest by that Scripture, in Isa. 9. 6. where it is said, to us a Child is Born, to us a Son is given, and the government shall be upon his Shoulder, and his Name shall be called Wonderful Counseller, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace, also 1 Joh. 5. 20. And we are in him, that is true, (saith the Apostle) even in his Son Jesus Christ, this is true God, and Eternal Life, see Heb. 1. 8. Joh. 1. 12. Rom. 9. 5. Joh. 20. 28.

But Secondly, That he is true Man, see again, Isa. 9. 6. where it is said, Unto us a Child is born unto us a Son is given; and compare it with Mat. 1. 21. where it is said, And she shall bring forth a Son, and thou shalt call his Name Jesus, for he shall save his People from their sins, see Joh. 1. 14. And the Word was made Flesh, 1 Tim. 3. 16. God was manifested in the Flesh. These two Scriptures are expounded by Heb. 2. 14. where it is said, Forasmuch then as the Children are partakers of Flesh and Blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same, that is, of Flesh and Blood, see Rom. 8. 3. and compare it with Luke 24. 39. where Christ saith, Behold my Hands and my Feet, that it is I my self; handle me and see, for a Spirit hath not Flesh and Bones as ye see me have. And he doth often call himself by the Name of the Son of Man (Mat. 24. Mat. 16. 13.) to signifie that he is very Man, as well as very God.

68. Quest. But why was he true God and true Man?

Answ. He was true Man, because Man had offended, and Justice required that Man should suffer and make satisfaction, and so it is written, 1 Cor. 15. 21. For since by Man came Death, by Man came also the Resurrection of the Dead. And again, All we like Sheep have gone astray, and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquities of us all. And in 1 Pet. 2. 24. where that 53. of Isa. is mentioned, he saith, Who his own self bare our sins in his own Body on the Tree, that we being Dead to sins, should live unto righteousness, by whose stripes we are healed. And again, God did prepare this Body, the Humane Nature of Christ, that it should be a Sacrifice for sins, wherefore he saith, Sacrifices and Offerings (that is such as were Offered by the Law of Moses) thou wouldest not have; but a Body hast thou prepared me, Heb. 10. 5. In this Body which God had prepared for him, which he took of the Virgin, Gal. 4. 4. in this he did bear all the sins of all his Elect, 1 Pet. 2. 24.

And he must needs be true God, because, it was an infinite God that was transgressed against, and Justice required an infinite satisfaction, and therefore he must be infinite that must give this satisfaction, or else Justice could not be satisfied, and so it was written, where the Apostle is telling the Pastors of the Church of Ephesus, by what they were Redeemed, he tells them, that God did Purchase them with his own Blood, Acts 20. 28. see 1 Joh. 3. 16. where he saith, herein perceive we the love of God, in that he laid down his Life for us. Not in his Divine, but in his Humane Nature; for as I said before, Gods Christ was of both Natures, Esa. 9. 6. Rom. 9. 5. 1 Joh. 5. 20. Joh. 1. 1. 14. True God, and true Man, and the Divine Nature did enable him to undergo in his Humane Nature, all that sin, Curse, and wrath that was laid upon him for us; and to overcome, and obtain Eternal Redemption for us, Heb. 9. 24.

Quest. How did this Christ bring in Redemption for Man? 69.

Answ. Why first, Man brake the Law of God; but this Man did fulfil it again, and became the end of it for Righteousness to every one that believeth, Rom. 10. 4.

2. Man was foiled and overcome by the Devil; but this Man Christ did overcome him again, Luke 4. Heb. 2. 14, 15. and that for us. Rom. 5. 12.

3. Man did lose the Glory of God, but this Man hath obtained it again.

4. Man by sin lost Eternal Salvation; but this Man by his own Blood hath obtained it again for him, Heb: 9. 12.

5. Man by sin brought Death into the World; But Jesus Christ that Man hath destroyed it again, Heb. 2. 14. compared with Hos. 13. 14. and brought in Life and immortality, 2 Tim. 1. 10. Rom. 5. 15.

Quest. But how are we Justified by this Mans Obedience? 70.

Answ. All our iniquities were laid upon him, Isa. 53. 6, 8, 11, 12. And his Righteousness is bestowed on us, if we believe, as it is written, even the Righteousness of God which is by Faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe. And this is it which Paul so much sought after, when he saith, yea doubtless, and I count all things loss, and do count them but Dung, that I may win Christ, and be found in him, not having mine own Righteousness, which is of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Christ, the Righteousness of God by Faith, Phil. 3. ver. 8, 9.

Quest. How do Men come by this Righteousness and everlasting Life? 71.

Answ.

Answ. By Faith Men lay hold upon it, and apply it to their own Souls in particular, Gal. 2. 20. For it is by Faith they are justified, as also saith the Scripture, Rom. 5. 1. That his faith lays hold on and applies, that which this Christ of God hath done, and is a doing, and owns it as his own.

72. Quest. What is this Faith that doth Justifie the sinner?

Answ. It is a Gift (b), Fruit (c), or work (d), of the Spirit of God, whereby a Soul is enabled, under a sight of its sins, and wretched estate, to lay hold on the Birth, Righteousness, Blood, Death, Resurrection, Ascention and Intercession of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by the assistance of the Spirit, whereby it is wrought, to apply all the Vertue, Life and Merit of what hath been done and suffered, or is a doing by the same Lord Jesus Christ, to its own self in particular, Gal. 2. 20. Rom. 7. 24, 25. as if it self had really done all that the Lord Jesus Christ hath done: I do not say that the Soul doth any thing for Justification, but it doth know, that whatsoever Jesus Christ hath done in point of Justification, is given to, and bestowed upon it, Rom. 3. 22. and God finding the Soul in him, that is in Christ, doth Justifie it from all things, from which it could not be justified by the Law of Moses, Acts 13. 38, 39.

(b) Eph. 2. 8.
(c) Gal. 5. 22.
(d) Thes. 2. 11.

73. Quest. Well, but is there no way to come to the Father of Mercies but by this Man that was born of the Virgin? Is there no way to come to God but by the Faith of Him?

Answ. No, there is none other Name under Heaven given among Men, whereby we must be saved, Acts 4. 12. And Jesus himself, that was born of the Virgin Mary, said, I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life: No Man cometh to the Father, but by me, Joh. 14. 6.

74. Quest. And where is this Man, that was born of the Virgin, that we may come to the Father by him?

Answ. He Ascended away from his Disciples in a Cloud, into Heaven, as we may read, Act. 1. 9, 10, 11.

Quest. What doth he there?

Answ. He ever lives to make Intrecession for all that come unto God by him, Heb. 7. 25. That is, they that shall come out of themselves to him, and venture their Souls on what he did and suffered when he was on Earth, and is doing now in Heaven; shall certainly be saved: For he ever lives to save them, that do thus come to the Father by him. And it is, because, he spilt his Blood for all that shall by the Faith of Gods Elect lay hold upon him: and thus it is written where he saith, we are justified freely by his Grace, through the Redemption that is in Christ Jesus, Mark it, whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through Faith in his Blood; to declare his Righteousness, that is, to declare Gods Righteousness, for the Remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God; to declare, I say, at this time; his Righteousness, that he might be just, and the justifier of him that believeth (or layeth hold) on Jesus, Rom. 3. 24. 25 26.

75. Quest. But did this Man rise again from the Dead, that very Man, with that very Body wherewith he was Crucified? For you do seem as I conceive to hold forth so much by these your expressions.

Answ. Why do you doubt of it?

Quest. Do you believe so?

Answ. Yes, by the Grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, for he hath enabled me so to do.

Quest. And can you prove it by the Scripture?

Answ. Yes.

Quest. How?

Answ. First, from that Scripture in Luk. 24. 37, 38, 39, 40. where Christ himself after he was Crucified appeared to his Disciples, (who having seen him) supposed they had seen a Spirit. But he said, Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughts arise in your Hearts? Behold my Hands and my Feet, that it is I my self, and do not think you see a Spirit; handle me, and see, for a Spirit hath not Flesh and Bones, as you see me have. This he spake after he was Crucified, Luke 23. 33. and Buried, ver. 53. and rose again from the Dead, Chap. 24. 6, 7. Many other Scriptures could I give for the proof hereof, as Act. 10. 39, 40, 41, 42. And Acts 13. 28, 29, 30, 31. 1 Thess. 1. 10. only read Act. 2. 29, 30, 31 where the Apostle proveth the same, bringing in the words of the Prophet David for a Testimony thereof, saying; He being a Prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an Oath to him, that of the Fruit, of his Loyns according to the Flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his Throne (saith) he seeing this before, spake of the Resurrection of Christ, that his Soul was not left in Hell, neither his Flesh did see Corruption. Mark it, his Flesh did see no Corruption, ver. 31. But if he had not risen again, his Flesh had seen Corruption. But he arose again from the Dead, that very Man, that very Body; for his Flesh did see no Corruption.

76. Quest. Why did he rise again from the dead, with that very Body?

Answ. 1. Because it was not possible he should be holden of Death.

Act. 2. 24.

2. Because in his humane nature he suffered for sin; and if he had not recovered himself from that very Curse, even from under Death, and all other things that lay on him, which he had through the sins of his Children subjected himself unto, he had not overcome Sin, Hell, Death, the Law, and the Devil; but had been overcome by them; and if so, then had not redemption been obtained for sinners; for it was at his Resurrection from the Dead, that God said unto him, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee: (As saith the Apostle) And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise made unto the Fathers, God had fulfilled the same unto us their Children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again: As it is written in the second Psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee, Acts 13. 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35. And it is this, namely, the Resurrection of that Man from the Dead, that doth give us ground of hope; as in 1 Pet. 1. 3. where he saith, He hath begotten us again a lively hope, by the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the Dead.

3. Because God intends to redeem the Bodies of his Saints out of their Graves in which they have lain many a year, John 5. 28, 29. Rom. 8. 23. 1 Cor. 15. 52. and to possess them with his own glory; and when this comes to pass, then shall that Scripture be fulfilled, that saith, He shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like to his glorious body, according to the working (of his mighty power) whereby he is able to subdue all things to himself, Phil. 3. 21. And he hath given us assurance thereof, in that he hath raised up Jesus our Lord again from the Dead, Acts 17. 31.

77. Quest. But do you think, that these our bodies that we do carry about with us in this World, after that they are dead and buried, and rotten, shall rise again out of those Graves into which they are laid; when the Scripture saith, Flesh and blood shall not inherit the Kingdom of God?

Answ. Flesh in Scripture is taken more ways than one: As

1 Cor. 15. 50.

First, It is taken for the Works of the Law; where the Apostle saith, Received ye the spirit by the Works of the Law, or by the hearing of faith? Are ye so foolish, having begun in the spirit, are ye made perfect by the flesh? By flesh here, he means the Law; as is clear, if you compare, Gal. 3. 2, 3. with v. 10, 11, 12. Again, sometimes flesh is taken for sins, Rom. 8. 1. 5. And sometimes it is taken for the bodies of the Saints, as subject to Distempers, to Pain, Sickness, Corruptions, to Death, by reason of sin, 2 Cor. 4. 11: 2 Cor. 7. 5. Now the Apostle in that place, where he saith, Flesh and Blood shall not inherit the Kingdom of Heaven, or of God, his meaning is, sinful flesh and blood, or the sin, with any imperfection that is in the Bodies of the Saints, shall not inherit the Kingdom; and that you shall find to be the mind of the Holy Ghost, if you read with understanding the latter end of the same Verse, whert he saith, Neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. That is, sin, or any imperfection of the body, shall not inherit eternal life; for saith he in ver. 53. This corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. Mark here, I pray you, though he saith, Flesh and Blood shall not inherit the Kingdom of God; yet he saith, This corruptible must put on incorruption: For the Trump shall blow, and the Dead shall be raised (as Christ saith, They that are in the Graves shall hear his voice, John 5. 28. And shall come forth of their Graves incorruptible, 1 Cor. 15. 52. And shall all appear before the Judgment seat of Christ, 2 Cor. 5. 10, Rev. 12, 12, 13. See also that Scripture, Phil. 3. 20, 21. where the Apostle saith, He waited for Christ the Saviour from Heaven. And what shall he do when he comes? Why, He shall change our vile body. Mark it, it must be our vile body that must be changed. But if it be changed, then how can it be the same? Not the same in respect of sin, or bodily infirmities, but the very same in respect of substance: For, saith he, It is our vile body that must be changed; and it is the very same, It shall be fashioned like to his glorious body. And if you ask, How is it possible that this should be done? He Answers, According to the working, whereby he is able to subdue all things unto himself, Phil. 3. 21.

78. Quest. But do you think this is certain? Methinks the Scriptures seemingly hold forth so much, yet I cannot believe it, for it is contrary to all reason.

Answ. Truly the Scriptures do not only hold forth so much seemingly, but they do most really, and plainly hold out these things, to all those that have received the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ. For it is it, and it alone, that can reveal these things. For no Man knows the things of God, but the spirit of God, 1 Cor. 2. 11. Now if thou wouldst know these things, thou must first receive the Spirit of the Son of God, without which, thou canst not know so much as one of the fundamental truths of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

79. Quest. But there are those in our days, who reject this Doctrine that you lay down, concerning the Lord Jesus Christ, as you lay it down, and they are for a Christ within, for a Cross within, for a Resurrection, and Intercession within; and they do not hold as you do, a Christ without, and a Resurrection of Christ without, and Intercession of Christ without; I, and they have very much Scripture for that which they say too: And therefore what should such as we do, that stand tottering and shaking in these distracted and dangerous times? For our poor souls are in very much doubt what way to take.

Answ. Therefore, I will speak a few words to you by way of discovery of the falsity of such Opinions; and a word of direction, how you should understand the truth.

First, Therefore, he that crys up a Christ within, in opposition to a Christ without, that Man, instead of having the spirit of Christ in him, is possessed with a spirit of delusion; for where the spirit of Christ is in truth, that spirit causeth the soul to look to the Christ that was born of the Virgin, for all justification; as it is written, Howbeit, when he, the spirit of truth is come, he shall lead you into all truth; for he shall not speak of himself, but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak, and he will shew you things to come, mark the next verse, He (saith the Son of the Virgin) shall take of mine, and shall shew unto you, John 16. 13, 14. He shall take of mine; What is that? Why surely it is, he shall take of my Godhead, my Humanity, my Birth, my Righteousness, my Blood, my Death, my Resurrection, my Ascension, and Intercession, my Kingly, Priestly, and Prophetical Offices, and shall shew you the Life, Merit, and Value of them. And this was it which was revealed to Paul by the holy spirit, here spoken of, 1 Cor. 15. 1, 2. to the 8. Moreover brethren, saith he, I declare unto you the Gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand. By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. But what is this Doctrine? Why, I delivered to you first of all, that which I also received. What was that? Why, How that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures. And that he was Buried, and that he Rose again the third day according to the Scriptures, (there is, his Death and Resurrection preached) And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the Twelve; after that he was seen of above five hundred Brethren at once, of whom the greatest part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep. After that he was seen of James, then of all the Apostles. And last of all he was seen of me (saith Paul) as of one born out of due time. This is it, I say, that the spirit of truth doth hold forth to poor sinners, a Christ Crucified without the Gates of Jerusalem, Luke 23. 32, 33. buried in Joseph's Sepulchre, v. 53. risen again the third day, Luke 24. 6. a-

ſcended away from his Diſciples in a Cloud into Heaven, as in Act. 1, 9, 10, 11. And there ever liveth, that very Man, with that very body, to make interceſſion for all that receive him, Heb. 7. 24, 25. This is, I ſay, the Doctrine
Col. 1. 27. of the ſpirit of truth, whatſoever is the ſpirit of errour.

80. Queſt. But do not the Scriptures make mention of a Chriſt within, 2 Cor. 13. 5.

Anſw. Yes, And he that hath not the ſpirit of Chriſt, is none of his, Rom. 8. 9. But he that hath it, is led out of himſelf by it; and as I ſaid before, it ſhews the ſoul, what the bleſſed Son of the Virgin Mary hath done and ſuffered, and is a doing for it. Therefore hereby know we the ſpirit of truth from the ſpirit of errour. Every ſpirit that doth confeſs that Jeſus Chriſt is come in the fleſh, is of God; That is, that ſpirit that doth confeſs, that Jeſus Chriſt took fleſh upon him, and in that fleſh did bear our ſins, 1 Pet. 2, 24. Col. 1. 20. 21, 22. 1 Pet. 3. 18. 1 Pet 4. 1. and after he was taken down from the Croſs, and laid in a Sepulchre, roſe again from the Dead; that very Man, with that very Body, wherewith he was Crucified: That ſpirit that doth believe and confeſs this is of God, and is the bleſſed Spirit of Chriſt, whereof he ſpake, when he was yet with his Diſciples touching his bodily preſence: For he (ſaith the Son of Mary) ſhall glorifie me, for he ſhall take of Mine and ſhew it to you, John 16. 13, 14.

I have anſwered this already in my Epiſtle to the firſt Treatiſe. Therefore believe not every ſpirit, but try the ſpirits whether they be of God, for many falſe Spirits and Prophets are gone out into the world, therefore have a care how thou receiveſt the voice that ſpeaks to thee. but try whether they are according to the truth of Gods word as it is written, To the Law and to the Teſtimony, if it be not according to this word, it is becauſe there is no light in them, Iſa. 8. 20.

Therefore try a little, Do they ſlight God's Chriſt, which is the Son of the Virgin, that ſpirit is of the Devil, 1 Cor. 12. 3.

2. Do they ſay that that blood of his which was ſhed without the Gates of Jeruſalem, doth not waſh away ſin, yea, all ſin from him that believes? That is a Spirit of Antichriſt, 1 John 1. 7.

3. Do they ſay, that that Man that was Crucified without the Gates of Jeruſalem, is not riſen again (with that very body wherewith he was Crucified out of the Sepulchre) Luke 24. 38, 39. That is a Spirit of Antichriſt.

4. Do they ſay that that very Man that was Crucified with that very body, is not now in the preſence of his Father, abſent from his people touching his bodily preſence, though preſent in ſpirit? I ſay whoever they be, that ſay he is not there, they are of the Devil: For the proof of this ſee Acts 5. 30. and 31, and compare it with Heb. 7. 24, 25. The God of our Fathers (ſaith the Apoſtle) raiſed up Jeſus. But what Jeſus? Whom ye ſlew (ſaith he to the Jews. Him, the very ſame whom ye ſlew) hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, to give repentance unto Iſrael, and forgiveneſs of ſins.

81. And indeed, here is my Life, namely, the Birth of this Man, the Righteouſneſs of this Man, the Blood of this Man, the Death and Reſurrection of this Man, the Aſcenſion and Interceſſion of this Man for me; and the ſecond coming of this Man to judge the World in Righteouſneſs, Acts 17. 31. I ſay, here is my Life, if I ſee this by faith without me, through the Operation of the Spirit within me: I am ſafe, I am at peace, I am comforted, I am encouraged, and I know that my comfort, peace, and encouragement is true, and given me from Heaven, by the Father of Mercies, through the Son of the Virgin Mary, Mat. 1. 21. who is the way to the Father of Mercies, John 14. 6. who is able to ſave to the uttermeſt, all that come to the Father by him, Heb. 7. 25. Becauſe he, that very Man, with that very body wherewith he was crucified, is aſcended into Heaven, Acts 1. 9, 10, 11. and there ever lives to make interceſſion for them that come to God by him. This is the Rock, ſinner, upon which, if thou be built, the gates of Hell, nor Ranter, Quaker, Sin, Law, Death, no nor the Devil himſelf, ſhall ever be able to prevail againſt thee, Matt. 16. 16, 17, 18. And here I leave thee to the Wiſdom of the great God, who if he hath choſen thee in his Son, and brought thee to him; and hath made thee by faith to lay hold on him, thou needeſt not fear the Devil with his Siftings, Snares, Wiles, and Fiery Darts, wherewith he doth deſtroy thouſands; but mayeſt with the Apoſtle (if thou live in the power and life of the Love of God towards thee) cry out, I am perſwaded, that neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor Principalities, nor Powers, nor things preſent, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature ſhall be able to ſeparate thee from the love of God which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord, Rom. 8. 38, 39.

And now Reader, if thou be a true Chriſtian I am ſure, that theſe be the things that appear to be the glorious ſubſtantial truths to thy ſoul, and thou doeſt not care for that comfort that doth not make this Man, the Son of the Virgin precious to thy ſoul, 1 Pet. 2. 7. for thou knoweſt, that it is he, that hath deliver'd thee from the wrath to come, 1 Theſ. 1. 10. But as for you that are diſobedient, except you mend your manners, you will ſtumble and fall backwards, and be broken, and ſnared and taken, Iſa. 28. 13. and wonder and periſh becauſe you believe not, Acts 13. 21.

82. A few words more, and ſo I ſhall have done, and they are words of counſel to thee; Have a care thou receive not every Chriſt that is proffered to thee, though it may appear very excellent to thy fooliſh heart: For under the Name Chriſt, are Men deceived, as it is written, many ſhall come in my Name, ſaying, I am Chriſt, and ſhall deceive many, Mat. 24. 5. But have a care that thou receive that Chriſt, that was born without thee, fulfilled the Law in his Humane Nature without thee; ſpilt his blood without thee, is Riſen again and Aſcended without thee, and maketh Interceſſion without thee: And that he, that very Man that was born of the Virgin, will come again in the Clouds without thee; and this truth muſt thou receive by that Spirit that he hath promiſed to ſend and give to them that ask him: And that ſhall dwell in thy heart, heart, and ſhall ſhew thee what the Son of Mary the Virgin, the Son of Man, the Son of God, the true God hath in his body done for thy ſoul, John 16. 13, 14. And if thou receive him in truth, then though thou do not boaſt, nor brag of thy holineſs, as thoſe painted Hypocrites called Quakers do: Yet thou wilt do more work for God in one hour, then they, even all of them, can do in all their life time.

Take my Counſel, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt have mercy upon thy Soul and Body.

Farewel.

83. Some Queſtions to the Quakers, or a few Quæries to thoſe who are poſſeſſed with a Spirit of Deluſion in this Generation.

Be ready always to give an Anſwer to every Man that asketh you a Reaſon of the Hope that is in you, 1 Pet. 3. 15. And I beſeech you do it in Sincerity.

1. IF thou ſayeſt that every one hath a meſure of the Spirit of Jeſus Chriſt within him, why ſay the Scriptures that ſome are ſenſual having not the Spirit, Jude 19. And when Chriſt tells his Diſciples of ſending them the Spirit, he alſo ſaith, The World cannot receive it, Joh. 14. 17.

2. What is the Church of God Redeemed by, from the Curſe of the Law? Is it by ſomething that is done within them, or by ſomething done without them? If thou anſwer, it is Redeemed from the Curſe of the Law by ſomething that worketh in them. Then I ask, why did the Man Chriſt Jeſus Hang upon the Croſs on Mount Calvary, without the Gates of Jeruſalem, for the ſins of the People? And why do the Scriptures ſay, that through this Man, is Preached to us the forgiveneſs of Sins. That is, through his Blood, Eph. 1. 7. which was ſhed without the Gates of Jeruſalem, Heb. 13. 12.

Gal. 3. 3. Act. 13. 38 1 Pet. 2. 24. Col. 1. 20. &c.

3. What Scripture have you to prove, that Chriſt is, or was Crucified within you, Dead within you, Riſen within you, and Aſcended within you?

4. Is that very Man that was Crucified on Mount Calvary between two Thieves, whoſe Name is Jeſus, the Son of Mary, I ſay, is he the very Chriſt of God, yea, or no?

5. Is that very Man, with that very Body, within you, yea, or no?

6. Was that Jeſus, that was Born of the Virgin Mary, a real Man of Fleſh and Bones, after his Reſurrection from the Dead, out of Joſeph's Sepulchre, yea, or no? For the Scripture ſaith he was, as in Luke 24. 39. If ſo, then did that Man that ſaid handle me and ſee, for a Spirit hath not Fleſh and Bones as ye ſee me have; I ſay, did that Man go away from his Diſciples (and not into them, in his Body) as theſe Scriptures declare, Luke 24. 39. 40. compared with verſe 50, 51. alſo Acts 1. 9, 10, 11. or did he with that Body of Fleſh go into his Diſciple, as ſome fond Dreamers think.

7. Hath that Chriſt that was with God the Father before the World was, no other Body but his Church? If you ſay no, as it is your wonted courſe. Then again I ask you, what, that was in which he did bear the ſins of his Children? If you anſwer, It was in his own Body on the Tree, for ſo ſaith the Scripture, 1 Pet. 2. 24. Then I ask you further, whether that Body in which he did bear our ſins, (which is alſo called his own Body) was, or is the Church of God, yea, or no? Again if you ſay he hath no Body but the Church, the Saints, Then I ask, what that was that was taken down from the Croſs, and laid into Joſeph's Sepulchre, Luke 23. 51, 52.

Now I know, that as Chriſt is the Head of his Church, ſo the Church is the body of the Head, which is Chriſt. But as Chriſt is the Mediator between God and Men, I ſay, as he is Mediator, ſo he is a Man, 1 Tim. 2. 5. and abſent from his Saints in the World, as is clear, 2 Cor. 5. 6. Therefore as he is a Mediator, and a Man, ſo he hath a body that is abſent from his Church, which body is Aſcended from his Diſciples, above the Clouds, into Heaven. If you ſay no, Then I ask you, Did he leave the Body behind him, which was born of the Virgin Mary, which walked up and down with his Diſciples in the World, was afterwards Hanged upon the Croſs, Buried, Roſe again from the Dead, with which Body he did Eat, Drink, and likewiſe walk with his Diſciples after his Reſurrection from the Dead, and did bid his Diſciples ſee if he were not Fleſh and Bones, yea, or no?

Chriſt hath redeemed us from the Curſe of the Law, being made a Curſe for us.

The Authour to the READER.

Gentle Reader,

IT was the great care of the Apoſtle Paul to deliver his Goſpel to the Churches in its own ſimplicity, becauſe, SO it is the Power of God unto Salvation to every one that believeth. And if it was his care ſo to deliver it to us, it ſhould be ours to ſeek ſo to continue it: And the rather, becauſe of the Unaptneſs of the Minds, even of the Saints themſelves, to retain it without commixture. For, to ſay nothing of the Projects of Hell, and of the cunning craftineſs of ſome that lie in wait to deceive even the Godly themſelves, as they are dull of hearing, ſo much more dull in receiving, and holding faſt the ſimplicity of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt: from their Senſe, and Reaſon, and Unbelief, and Darkneſs, ariſe many imaginations, and high thoughts which exalt themſelves againſt the Knowledg of God, and the Obedience of Jeſus Chriſt, wherefore they themſelves have much ado to ſtand compleat in all the Will of God. And were they not concerned in electing love, by which they are bound up in the Bundle of Life, and bleſſed with the Enjoyment of Saving Grace, which enlighteneth their Souls, and maintaineth their Faith and Hope, they would not only be aſſaulted, and afflicted with their own Corruptions, but as others, overcome thereby. 2.

Alas! How ordinary a thing is it for Profeſſors to fall from the Knowledge they have had of the Glorious Goſpel of the Bleſſed God, and to be turned unto Fables, Seducing Spirits, and Doctrines of Devils, through the Intoxications of Deluſions, and the Witchcrafts of falſe Preachers.

Now this their ſwerving from the Goſpel, ariſeth,

1. Either from their not-having, or (having) not-retaining, the true Knowledge of the Perſon of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt: Or, 3.

2. From their not believing the true Cauſes of his coming into the World, with his Doing, and Suffering there. Upon one, or both theſe accounts, I ſay, it is that they everlaſtingly periſh: for if they have not, and do not also retain the Knowledge of his Person, they want the HE, on whom if they believe not, they must die in their Sins: And if they know not the reason of his Coming, Doing, and Suffering, they are in the same condition also.

Now those Professors that have had some Knowledg of these things, and yet have lost them, it hath come thus to pass with them; because they first lost the Knowledg of themselves, and of their Sins.

They know not themselves to be such nothing-ones, as the Scripture reporteth them to be, nor their Sins to be so hainous as the Law hath concluded: Therefore they either turn again with the Dog to his Vomit, or adhere to a few of the Rags of their own Fleshly Righteousness, and so become pure in their own Eyes, yet are not purged by Blood, from their Filthiness.

For the Person and Doings of Jesus Christ are only precious to them that get and retain the true Knowledg of themselves, and the due Reward of their Sins by the Law: These are desolate, being driven out of all, these embrace the Rock instead of a Shelter; the Sensible Sinner receiveth him joyfully.

And because a miscarriage in this Great Truth, is the most dangerous and damning Miscarriage: therefore should Professors be the more fearful of swerving aside there-from. The Man that rejecteth the true Knowledge of the Person of the Lord Jesus, and the Causes of his Doing and Suffering in the World, takes the next way to be guilty of that Transgression, that is not to be purged with Sacrifice for ever. That FEARFUL Transgression, for which is left NO Offering AT ALL, nor any thing to be expected by the Person Transgressing, but fearful Judgment, and fiery Indignation which shall devour the Adversary.

Now for their sakes that have not sinned this Sin, for their sakes that are in danger thereof, but yet not overcome; for their sakes have I written this little Book, wherein is largely, and yet with few words, discovered the Doctrine of the Person, and Doings and Sufferings of Christ, with the true Cause thereof, also a removal of those Objections that the Crafty Children of Darkness have framed against the same.

4. And I have been the more plain and simple in my writing, because the Sin against the Holy Ghost is in these days, more common than formerly, and the Way unto it, more beautified with colour, and pretence of Truth. I may say of the way to this Sin, it is, as was once the Way to Jerusalem, strewed with Boughs and Branches, and by some there is cried a kind of Hosanna to them that are treading these Steps to Hell. Oh the plausible Pretences, the golden Names, the feigned Holiness, the demure Behaviours mixt with damnable Hypocrisie, that attends the Persons that have forsaken the Lord Jesus, that have despised his Person, trampled upon him, and counted the Blood of the Covenant, wherewith he was Sanctified, an Unholy thing! They have Crucified him to themselves, and think that they can go to Heaven without him; yea, pretend they love him, when they hate him; pretend they have him, when they have cast him off; pretend they trust in him, when they bid defiance to his Undertakings for the World.

Reader, let me beseech thee to hear me patiently; read, and consider, and judg. I have presented thee with that which I have received from God; and the Holy Men of God, who spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost do bear me Witness. Thou wilt say, all pretend to this: Well, but give me the hearing, take me to the Bible, and let me find in thy Heart no favour, if thou find me to swerve from the Standard.

I say again, receive my Doctrine, I beseech thee in Christ's stead receive it; I know it to be the Way of Salvation. I have ventured my own Soul thereon with gladness, and if all the Souls in the World were mine as mine own Soul is, I would through God's Grace venture every one of them there. I have not writ at a venture, nor borrowed my Doctrine from Libraries. I depend upon the sayings of no man: I found it in the Scriptures of Truth, among the true sayings of God.

I have done when I have exhorted thee to Pray, and give heed to the Words of God as revealed in the Holy Writ. The Lord Jesus Christ himself give thee Light and Life by Faith in him; to whom with the Father and the good Spirit of Grace be Glory and Dominion now and for ever: Amen.

John Bunyan.

Acts XIII. 32.

Of this Man's Seed, hath God according to his promise, raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus.

THese Words are part of a Sermon, which Paul preached to the People that lived at Antioch in Pisidia; where also Inhabited many of the Jews. The Preparation to his Discourse he thus begins; Men of Israel, and ye that fear God Ver. 16. give audience; by which having prepared their minds to attend, he proceeds and gives a particular relation of God's peculiar dealings with his People Israel, from Egypt to the time of David their King; of whom he treateth particularly.

That he was the Son of Jesse, that he was a King, that God raised him up in mercy, that God gave Testimony of him, that he was a Man after God's own Heart, that he should fulfil all his Will, ver. 22.

And this he did of purpose, both to ingage them the more to attend, and because they well knew that of the fruit of his Loins God had promised the Messiah should come.

Having thus therefore gathered up their minds to hearken, he presenteth them with his Errand; to wit, That the Messiah was come, and that the promise was indeed fulfilled, that a Saviour should be born to Israel.

Of this Man's Seed (saith he) hath God according to the promise, raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus.

In this Assertion he concludeth,

1. That the Promise had kept its due course in presenting a Saviour to Israel; to wit, in David's Loins; Of this Man's Seed.

2. That the time of the Promise was come, and the Saviour was revealed; God hath raised unto Israel a Saviour.

3. That Jesus of Nazareth, the Son of Joseph was he: He hath raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus.

6 From these things we may enquire for the explication of the Words:

1. What this Jesus is.

2. What it was for this Jesus to be of the Seed of David.

3. What it was for Jesus to be of this Man's Seed according to the promise.

4. And what it was for him to be raised unto Israel.

These things may give us light into what shall be spoken after.

Quest. 1. First, What this Jesus is.

He is God, and had Personal Being from before all Worlds; therefore not such an one as took being when he was formed in the World; He is God's natural Son. The Eternal Son of his Begetting, and Love. God sent forth his Son; he was, and was his Son, before he was Revealed. Prov. 30. 4. Eze. 21. 10. What is his Name, and what is his Sons Name, if thou canst tell? He hath an Eternal Generation, such as none can declare: nor Man, nor Angel, Isa. 53. 8. He was the delight of his Father before he had made either Mountain, or Hill. While as yet he had not made the Earth or the Fields, or the highest part of the Dust of the World, all things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made that was made, and he is before all things, and by him all things consist. It is he with whom the Father consulted when he was about to make Man; when he intended to overthrow Babel, and when he sent Isaiah to harden the Hearts of Israel, Prov. 8. 26. Joh. 1. 3. Heb. 1. 2, 3. Col. 1. 17. Gen. 1. 26. and 11. 7. Isa. 6. 8. This is the Person intended in the Text. Hence also he testifies of himself, that he came down from the Father; that he had Glory with him before the World was. John 16. 28. chap. 17. 5. chap. 6. 62. And what and if you shall see the Son of Man ascend up where he was before.

Quest. 2. Secondly, What was it for Jesus to be of David's Seed? To be of David's Seed, is to spring from his Loins, to come of his Race according to the Flesh: and therefore as he is David's God, so likewise is he David's Son; the Root, and also the Off-spring of David: And this the Lord himself acknowledgeth; saying, I am the Root, or God, and the Off-spring, and Son of David, and the Bright and Morning Star: This is indeed the great Mystery, the Mystery of Godliness. If David called him Lord, how is he then his Son? Revel. 22. 16. Luke. 2. 4. Rom. 1. 3. 2 Tim. 2. 8. Matt. 22. 45.

And hence it is that he is said to be Wonderful, because he is both God and Man in one Person. To us a Child is born, to us a Son is given, and the Government shall be upon his Shoulder, and his Name shall be called Wonderful: Wonderful indeed! Wonderful God, Wonderful Man, Wonderful God-Man, and so a Wonderful Jesus and Saviour. He also hath wonderful Love, bore wonderful Sorrows for our wonderful Sins, and obtained for his a wonderful Salvation. Isa. 9. 6.

Quest. 3. Thirdly, What it was for Jesus to be of this Man's Seed according to the Promise.

1. This Word [Promise] doth sometimes comprehend all the Promises which God made to our Fathers from the first Promise to the last; and so the Holy Ghost doth call them. The Promise made unto the Fathers, God hath fulfilled the same to us their Children, Acts 13. 32, 33.

2. But the Word Promise here, doth in special intend that which God made to David himself. Men and Brethren said Peter, let me freely speak unto you of the Patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his Sepulcher is with us unto this day: therefore being a Prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an Oath to him, that of the Fruit of his Loins according to Acts 2. 29, 30.

not, and do not also retain the Knowledge of his Person, they want the HE, on whom if they believe not, they must die in their Sins: And if they know not the reason of his Coming, Doing, and Suffering, they are in the same condition also.

Now those Professors that have had some Knowledg of these things, and yet have lost them, it hath come thus to pass with them; because they first lost the Knowledg of themselves, and of their Sins.

They know not themselves to be such nothing-ones, as the Scripture reporteth them to be, nor their Sins to be so hainous as the Law hath concluded: Therefore they either turn again with the Dog to his Vomit, or adhere to a few of the Rags of their own Fleshly Righteousness, and so become pure in their own Eyes, yet are not purged by Blood, from their Filthiness.

For the Person and Doings of Jesus Christ are only precious to them that get and retain the true Knowledg of themselves, and the due Reward of their Sins by the Law: These are desolate, being driven out of all, these embrace the Rock instead of a Shelter; the Sensible Sinner receiveth him joyfully.

And because a miscarriage in this Great Truth, is the most dangerous and damning Miscarriage: therefore should Professors be the more fearful of swerving aside there-from. The Man that rejecteth the true Knowledge of the Person of the Lord Jesus, and the Causes of his Doing and Suffering in the World, takes the next way to be guilty of that Transgression, that is not to be purged with Sacrifice for ever. That FEARFUL Transgression, for which is left NO Offering AT ALL, nor any thing to be expected by the Person Transgressing, but fearful Judgment, and fiery Indignation which shall devour the Adversary.

Now for their sakes that have not sinned this Sin, for their sakes that are in danger thereof, but yet not overcome; for their sakes have I written this little Book, wherein is largely, and yet with few words, discovered the Doctrine of the Person, and Doings and Sufferings of Christ, with the true Cause thereof, also a removal of those Objections that the Crafty Children of Darkness have framed against the same.

4. And I have been the more plain and simple in my writing, because the Sin against the Holy Ghost is in these days, more common than formerly, and the Way unto it, more beautified with colour, and pretence of Truth. I may say of the way to this Sin, it is, as was once the Way to Jerusalem, strewed with Boughs and Branches, and by some there is cried a kind of Hosanna to them that are treading these Steps to Hell. Oh the plausible Pretences, the golden Names, the feigned Holiness, the demure Behaviours mixt with damnable Hypocrisie, that attends the Persons that have forsaken the Lord Jesus, that have despised his Person, trampled upon him, and counted the Blood of the Covenant, wherewith he was Sanctified, an Unholy thing! They have Crucified him to themselves, and think that they can go to Heaven without him; yea, pretend they love him, when they hate him; pretend they have him, when they have cast him off; pretend they trust in him, when they bid defiance to his Undertakings for the World.

Reader, let me beseech thee to hear me patiently; read, and consider, and judg. I have presented thee with that which I have received from God; and the Holy Men of God, who spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost do bear me Witness. Thou wilt say, all pretend to this: Well, but give me the hearing, take me to the Bible, and let me find in thy Heart no favour, if thou find me to swerve from the Standard.

I say again, receive my Doctrine, I beseech thee in Christ's stead receive it; I know it to be the Way of Salvation. I have ventured my own Soul thereon with gladness, and if all the Souls in the World were mine as mine own Soul is, I would through God's Grace venture every one of them there. I have not writ at a venture, nor borrowed my Doctrine from Libraries. I depend upon the sayings of no man: I found it in the Scriptures of Truth, among the true sayings of God.

I have done when I have exhorted thee to Pray, and give heed to the Words of God as revealed in the Holy Writ. The Lord Jesus Christ himself give thee Light and Life by Faith in him; to whom with the Father and the good Spirit of Grace be Glory and Dominion now and for ever: Amen.

John Bunyan.

Acts XIII. 32.

Of this Man's Seed, hath God according to his promiſe, raiſed unto Iſrael a Saviour, Jeſus.

THeſe Words are part of a Sermon, which Paul preached to the People that lived at Antioch in Piſidia; where alſo Inhabited many of the Jews. The Preparation to his Diſcourſe he thus begins; Men of Iſrael, and ye that fear God Ver. 16. give audience; by which having prepared their minds to attend, he proceeds and gives a particular relation of God's peculiar dealings with his People Iſrael, from Egypt to the time of David their King; of whom he treateth particularly.

That he was the Son of Jeſſe, that he was a King, that God raiſed him up in mercy, that God gave Teſtimony of him, that he was a Man after God's own Heart, that he ſhould fulfil all his Will, ver. 22.

And this he did of purpoſe, both to ingage them the more to attend, and becauſe they well knew that of the fruit of his Loins God had promiſed the Meſſiah ſhould come.

Having thus therefore gathered up their minds to hearken, he preſenteth them with his Errand; to wit, That the Meſſiah was come, and that the promiſe was indeed fulfilled, that a Saviour ſhould be born to Iſrael.

Of this Man's Seed (ſaith he) hath God according to the promiſe, raiſed unto Iſrael a Saviour, Jeſus.

In this Aſſertion he concludeth,

1. That the Promiſe had kept its due courſe in preſenting a Saviour to Iſrael; to wit, in David's Loins; Of this Man's Seed.

2. That the time of the Promiſe was come, and the Saviour was revealed; God hath raiſed unto Iſrael a Saviour.

3. That Jeſus of Nazareth, the Son of Joſeph was he: He hath raiſed unto Iſrael a Saviour, Jeſus.

6 From theſe things we may enquire for the explication of the Words:

1. What this Jeſus is.

2. What it was for this Jeſus to be of the Seed of David.

3. What it was for Jeſus to be of this Man's Seed according to the promiſe.

4. And what it was for him to be raiſed unto Iſrael.

Theſe things may give us light into what ſhall be ſpoken after.

Queſt. 1. Firſt, What this Jeſus is.

He is God, and had Perſonal Being from before all Worlds; therefore not ſuch an one as took being when he was formed in the World; He is God's natural Son. The Eternal Son of his Begetting, and Love. God ſent forth his Son; he was, and was his Son, before he was Revealed. Prov. 30. 4. Eze. 21. 10. What is his Name, and what is his Sons Name, if thou canſt tell? He hath an Eternal Generation, ſuch as none can declare: nor Man, nor Angel, Iſa. 53. 8. He was the delight of his Father before he had made either Mountain, or Hill. While as yet he had not made the Earth or the Fields, or the higheſt part of the Duſt of the World, all things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made that was made, and he is before all things, and by him all things conſiſt. It is he with whom the Father conſulted when he was about to make Man; when he intended to overthrow Babel, and when he ſent Iſaiah to harden the Hearts of Iſrael, Prov. 8. 26. Joh. 1. 3. Heb. 1. 2, 3. Col. 1. 17. Gen. 1. 26. and 11. 7. Iſa. 6. 8. This is the Perſon intended in the Text. Hence alſo he teſtifies of himſelf, that he came down from the Father; that he had Glory with him before the World was. And what and if you ſhall ſee the Son of Man aſcend up where he was before. John 16. 28. chap. 17. 5. chap. 6. 62.

7. Queſt. 2. Secondly, What was it for Jeſus to be of David's Seed? To be of David's Seed, is to ſpring from his Loins, to come of his Race according to the Fleſh: and therefore as he is David's God, ſo likewiſe is he David's Son; the Root, and alſo the Off-ſpring of David: And this the Lord himſelf acknowledgeth; ſaying, I am the Root, or God, and the Off-ſpring, and Son of David, and the Bright and Morning Star: This is indeed the great Myſtery, the Myſtery of Godlineſs. If David called him Lord, how is he then his Son? Revel. 22. 16. Luke. 2. 4. Rom. 1. 3. 2 Tim. 2. 8. Matt. 22. 45.

And hence it is that he is ſaid to be Wonderful, becauſe he is both God and Man in one Perſon. To us a Child is born, to us a Son is given, and the Government ſhall be upon his Shoulder, and his Name ſhall be called Wonderful: Wonderful indeed! Wonderful God, Wonderful Man, Wonderful God-Man, and ſo a Wonderful Jeſus and Saviour. He alſo hath wonderful Love, bore wonderful Sorrows for our wonderful Sins, and obtained for his a wonderful Salvation. Iſa. 9. 6.

8. Queſt. 3. Thirdly, What it was for Jeſus to be of this Man's Seed according to the Promiſe.

1. This Word [Promiſe] doth ſometimes comprehend all the Promiſes which God made to our Fathers from the firſt Promiſe to the laſt; and ſo the Holy Ghoſt doth call them. The Promiſe made unto the Fathers, God hath fulfilled the ſame to us their Children, Acts 13. 32, 33.

2. But the Word Promiſe here, doth in ſpecial intend that which God made to David himſelf. Men and Brethren ſaid Peter, let me freely ſpeak unto you of the Patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his Sepulcher is with us unto this day: therefore being a Prophet, and knowing that God had ſworn with an Oath to him, that of the Fruit of his Loins according to Acts 2. 29, 30.

the Fleſh, he would raiſe up Chriſt to ſit on his Throne, he ſeeing this before, ſpake of the Reſurrection of Chriſt, &c.

9. Queſt. 4. Fourthly, What it was for Jeſus to be raiſed thus up of God to Iſrael.

Here we have two things to conſider of:

1. Who Iſrael is.

2. What it was for Jeſus to be raiſed up unto them.

1. Who Iſrael is. By Iſrael ſometimes we ſhould underſtand the whole Stock of Jacob, the Natural Children of his Fleſh; for that name they have of him; for he obtain'd it when he wreſtled with the Angel, and it prevailed (Gen. 32.) and remained with his Seed in their Generations.

2. By Iſrael we are to underſtand all thoſe that God hath promiſed to Chriſt. The Children of the Promiſe are counted for the Seed, the elect Jews and Gentiles. Theſe are called the Iſrael of God, and the Seed of Abraham, whom Jeſus in ſpecial regarded in his undertaking the work of Man's Redemption, Rom. 9. 6. Gal. 6. 16. Heb. 2. 14, 15, 16.

2. What it was for Jeſus to be raiſed up unto them.

This word, raiſed up, is diverſly taken in the Scripture.

1. It is taken for ſending, as when he ſaith, he raiſed them up Judges, Saviours, and Prophets; he means, he ſent them ſuch, (Judges 2. 16, 18. Chap. 3. 9, 15. Amos 2. 11.) and thus he raiſed up Jeſus; that is, he ſent him. I came not ſaith he, of my ſelf, but he ſent me. Joel 12. But the Father which ſent me gave me a commandment.

2. To be raiſed up intimateth one inveſted with power and authority. Thus he raiſed up David to be the King of Iſrael; he anointed him and inveſted him with Kingly Power, 1 Sam. 16. 13. Acts 13. 22. And thus was Jeſus Chriſt raiſed up: Hence he is called, the Horn of Salvation: He hath raiſed up for us Luk. 2. 69. an Horn of Salvation in the Houſe of his Servant David.

3. To be raiſed up intimateth quickning and ſtrenghtning, to oppoſe and overcome all oppoſition. Thus was Jeſus raiſed up from under Sin, Death, the rage of the World, and Hell, that day that God raiſed him out of the Grave.

Thus therefore was Jeſus raiſed up to Iſrael; that is, he was ſent, authorized, and ſtrengthned to, and in the work of their Salvation, to the compleating of it.

10. The Words thus opened, do lay before us theſe two Obſervations.

Firſt, That in all Ages God gave his People a Promiſe, and ſo ground for a believing remembrance that he would one day ſend 'em a Saviour.

Secondly, That when Jeſus was come into the World, then was that Promiſe of God fulfilled.

To begin with the Firſt, That in all Ages God gave his People a Promiſe, and ſo ground for a believing remembrance, that he would one day ſend them a Saviour.

This Zacharias teſtifies when he was filled with the Holy Ghoſt; for ſpeaking of the Meſſias, or the Saviour, he ſaith, That God ſpake of him by the mouth of all the Prophets which have been ſince the World began: To which I will add that of Peter; Yea, and all the Prophets from Luk. 2. 69, 70. Samuel, and thoſe that follow after, as many as have ſpoken, have likewiſe foretold of theſe Acts 3. 24. days.

From theſe Texts it is evident that in every Generation or Age of the World, God did give his People a Promiſe, and ſo ground for a believing remembrance that he would one day ſend them a Saviour: for indeed the Promiſe is not only a ground for a remembrance, but for a believing Remembrance: what God ſaith is ſufficient ground for Faith, becauſe he is Truth, and cannot lye or repent. But that is not all, his Heart was engaged, yea all his Heart, in the Promiſe which he ſpoke, of ſending us a Saviour.

From this Obſervation I ſhall make enquiry into theſe three things. 11.

1. What it is to be a Saviour.

2. How it appears that God in all Ages gave his People a Promiſe that he would one day ſend them a Saviour.

3. That this was ground for a believing remembrance that a Saviour ſhould one day come.

Firſt What it is to be a Saviour.

This Word Saviour is eaſie to be underſtood, it being all one with Deliverer, Redeemer, &c. A Saviour, Jeſus; both Words are of the ſame ſignification, and are doubled, perhaps to teach us, that the Perſon mentioned in the Text, is not called Jeſus only to diſtinguiſh him from other Men (for names are given to diſtinguiſh) but alſo, and eſpecially to ſpecify his Office: his Name is Saviour, becauſe it was to be his Work, his Office, his Buſineſs in the World. His Name ſhall be called Jeſus, for he ſhall ſave Matth. 1. 21. his People from their ſins.

Secondly, This Word Saviour is a Word ſo large, that it hath place in all the undertakings of Chriſt; for whatever he doth in his Mediation, he doth as a Saviour. He interpoſeth between God and Man as a Saviour. He engageth againſt Sin, the Devil, Death, and Hell, as a Saviour, and triumphed over them by himſelf as a Saviour.

Thirdly, The word Saviour, as I ſaid, is all one with Redeemer, Deliverer, Reconciler, Peace-maker, or the like; for though there be variation in the terms, yet Saviour is the intendment of them all. By Redeeming he becomes a Saviour, by Delivering he becomes a Saviour, by Reconciling he becomes a Saviour, and by making Peace he becometh a Saviour: But I paſs this now, intending to ſpeak more to the ſame Queſtion afterwards.

Secondly, how it appears that God in all 12. Ages gave his People a Promiſe that he would one day ſend 'em a Saviour.

It appears evidently, for ſo ſoon as Man had ſinned, God came to him with an Heart full of Promiſe, and continued to renew, and renew, till the time of the promiſed Meſſias to be revealed, was come.

He

He promised him under the name of the Seed of the Woman, after our first Father had sinned: I will put enmity between thee and the Woman, and between thy Seed and her Seed: it shall break thy Head, and thou shalt bruise his Heel. This the Apostle hath his eye upon when he saith, When the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son made of a Woman, made under the Law, to Redeem them that were under the Law. Gen. 3. 15. Gal. 4. 4.

2. God renewed this Promise to Abraham, and there tells him Christ should be his Seed; saying, In thy Seed shall all Families of the Earth be blessed. Now saith St. Paul; To Abraham and his seed was the Promise made: He saith not unto seeds, as of many, but as of one, and to thy seed, which is Christ. Gen. 12. 3. Gal. 3. 16.

3. He was promised in the time of Moses under the name of a Prophet; I will raise them up (saith God to him) a Prophet of their Brethren like unto thee: This Peter expounds of Christ, for Moses truly said unto the Fathers: A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your Brethren like unto me, him shall you hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you. Deut. 18. 18. Acts 3. 22.

4. He promised him to David under the Title of a Son; saying, I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a Son: For this the Apostle expounded of the Saviour; saying, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee: and again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son. 2. Sam. 7. 14. Heb. 1. 5.

5. He was promised in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, Kings of Judah.

1. By the name of a Branch. In that day shall the Branch of the Lord be beautifull and glorious. Isa. 4. 2.

2. Under the name of the Son of a Virgin. Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign: Behold a Virgin shall conceive and bear a Son, and thou shalt call his Name Emanuel. This Matthew expounds of Christ, Isa. 7. 14. Matt. 1. 22.

3. He was promised under the name of a Rod. There shall come forth a Rod out of the Stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his Roots, and the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him. This answereth the Text, David was the Son of Jesse, and Christ the Son of David, Isa. 11. 1, 2.

4. He is promised under the Title of a King. Behold, a King shall rule in righteousness; and a Man shall be for a hiding-place from the Wind, and a covert from the Tempest, as Rivers of Waters in a dry place, as the shadow of a great Rock in a weary Land. Isa. 32. 1, 2.

5. He was promised under the name of an Elect Servant. Behold, my Servant whom I uphold, mine Elect in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my Spirit upon him, he shall bring forth Judgment to the Gentiles: he shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the streets: a bruised reed shall he not break, and smoaking flax shall he not quench. Isa. 42. 1, 3. Matt. 12. 18

6. He was promised to Jeremiah under the name of the Lord our Righteousness. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a Righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper: he shall execute Judgment in the Earth, in his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the name wherewith he shall be called, The Lord, our Righteousness. Jer. 23. 5, 6

7. He was promised by the Prophet Ezekiel under the name of David a Shepherd. And I will set one Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my Servant David, he shall feed them: and he shall be their Shepherd, and I the Lord will be their God, and my Servant David a Prince among them, I the Lord have spoken it. Ezek. 34. 24. Joh. 10. 1, 2, 3.

8. He was promised by the Prophet Daniel under the name of Messias, or Christ, the most Holy. And after threescore and two weeks shall the Messiah be cut off, but not for himself. Dan. 9. 26.

9. He was promised by the Prophet Micha under the name of the Ruler of Israel. But thou Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come, that is to be Ruler in Israel. Mic. 5. 2. Mat. 2. 6.

10. He was promised to Haggai, as the desire of all Nations. I will shake all Nations, and the desire of all Nations shall come, and I will fill this house with Glory, saith the Lord of Hosts. Hag. 2. 7.

11. He was promised by Zechariah, under the name of Servant and Branch. For behold I will bring forth my Servant the Branch: and again, Behold the Man whose name is the Branch, he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the Temple of the Lord, and he shall bear the Glory. Zech. 3. 8.

12. He was promised by Malachi, under the name of the Lord, and the Messenger of the Covenant. Behold, I send my Messenger, and he shall prepare the way before thee, and the Lord whom ye seek shall suddenly come to his Temple; even the Messenger of the Covenant whom ye delight in, behold he shall come, saith the Lord of Hosts. Mal. 3. 1.

Indeed the Scriptures of the Old-Testament are filled with Promises of the Messias to come, Prophetical Promises, Typical Promises: For all the Types and Shadows of the Saviour, are virtually so many Promises. Having therefore touched upon the Prophetical, I will briefly touch the Typical Promises also; for as God spake at sundry times to the Fathers, so also in divers manners, Prophetically, Providentially, Typically, and all of the Messias. Heb. 1. 1. 13.

The Types of the Saviour were various.

1. Sometimes he was typed out by Men.
2. Sometimes by Beasts.
3. Sometimes by Insensible Creatures.

First, He was typed forth sometimes by Men.

1. Adam was his Type in many things, especially as he was the Head and Father of the first World. He was the Figure of him that was to come. Rom. 5. 14.

2. Moses was his Type as Mediator, and as Builder of the Tabernacle, Heb. 3. 2, 3.

3. Aaron was his Type as he was High-Priest, and so was Melchisedec before him, Heb. 5. 4, 5. chap. 7. 1. 21.

4. Sampson was his Type in the effects of his death: for as Sampson gave his life for the Deliverance of Israel from the Philistines, Christ gave his Life to deliver us from Sin and Devils.

5. Joshua was his Type in giving the Land of Canaan to Israel, as Jesus will give the Kingdom

Kingdom of Heaven to the Elect, Heb. 4. 8.

6. David was his Type in many things, eſpecially in his ſubduing of Iſraels Enemies, and feeding them; hence he is ſometimes called David their King, and David their Shepherd, Ezek. 34. 23, 24.

7. Solomon was his Type in his building the Temple, and in his Peaceable Kingdom. Hence it is ſaid, he ſhall build the Temple of the Lord; and again, Of his Government and Peace there ſhall be no end.

Beaſts were his Types. To inſtance ſome:

14. Firſt, The Paſchal-Lamb was his Type, Exod. 12.

1. In its Spotleſneſs. Chriſt was a Lamb without blemiſh and without ſpot, 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19.

2. In its being Roaſted. It was a Figure of the curſed Death of Chriſt, (for to be Roaſted beſpake one accurſed, Jer. 29. 22.) Gal. 3. 13.

3. In that it was to be eaten. He that eateth my Fleſh, and drinketh my Blood, ſaith Chriſt, hath Eternal Life. John 6. 57.

4. In that its Blood was to be ſprinkled upon the doors of their Houſes, for the deſtroying Angel to look on: The Blood of Chriſt is ſprinkled upon the Elect for the Juſtice of God to look on, Heb. 9. 1. Pet, 1. 1, 2.

5. By eating the Paſchal Lamb, the People went out of Egypt: by feeding upon Chriſt by Faith, we come from under the Egyptian Darkneſs, Tyrany of Satan, &c.

Secondly, The Red Cow was his Type; Numb. 19. 2, &c.

1. In that ſhe was to be without blemiſh.

2. In that ſhe was to be ſlain without the Camp. Jeſus alſo that he might ſanctifie the People with his own Blood, ſuffered without the Gate. Heb. 13. 12.

3. In that her Fleſh was to be burnt, a Type of the grievous Death of Chriſt.

4. Her Aſhes was to be carried into a clean place without the Camp; a Type of the clean Sepulcher, where the Body of Jeſus was laid, John 19. 38, 39, 40, 41.

There was alſo divers other Sacrifices, as Bulls, Goats, and Birds; which were Types of him, which I here omit.

Thirdly, Inſenſible Creatures were his Types.

15. As firſt, The Manna in the Wilderneſs, (Ex. 16.) and that,

1. As it came down from Heaven; for ſo did Chriſt, I came down from Heaven, ſaith he, and again, I am the living Bread which came down from Heaven. Joh. 6. 51.

2. The Manna was to be eaten, ſo is Chriſt by Faith. If any man eat of this Bread, he ſhall live for ever, and the Bread that I will give is my Fleſh, which I will give for the life of the World. Joh. 6. 51.

3. The Manna was to be gathered daily, ſo is Chriſt to be daily eaten.

4. The Manna was all the Bread that Iſrael had in the Wilderneſs: Chriſt is all the Bread that Believers have in this Life for their Souls.

5. The Manna came not by Moſes Law, neither comes Chriſt by our Merits. Moſes gave you not that Bread from Heaven, but my Father giveth you the true Bread from Heaven. Joh. 6. 32.

Again, the Rock that gave them out Water for their Thirſt, was a Type of him, (Numb. 20.) They did all drink of the ſame ſpiritual drink, for they drank of that ſpiritual Rock that followed them, and that Rock was Chriſt. 1 Cor. 10. 4.

This Rock was his Type in four things.

1. It gave Drink to the People in the Wilderneſs when they were come out of Egypt. Chriſt gives drink to them that forſake the World for him.

2. The Rock yielded Water by being ſmitten by Moſes's Rod: Chriſt giveth drink even his Blood, by being ſtriken by Moſes's Law, Numb. 20. 11. Iſa. 53.

3. The Water out of this Rock was given to the Thirſty. I will give to him that is a Thirſt, ſaith Chriſt, of the Fountain of the water of Life freely. Revel. 21. 6.

4. The Water of the Rock in the Wilderneſs ran after the People. They drank of that Rock that followed them, he opened the Rock and the Waters guſhed out, they ran in dry places like a River. Chriſt alſo is ſaid by that Type to follow us: They drank of that Rock that followed them, and that Rock was Chriſt. Pſal. 105. 41. 1 Cor. 10. 4.

Again, the Mount Moriah was his Type.

1. That Mount ſtood in Jeruſalem; Chriſt alſo ſtands in his Church.

2. Upon that Rock was built the Temple, And upon this Rock, ſaid Chriſt, will I build my Church, and the Gates of Hell ſhall not prevail againſt it. 2 Chron. 3. 1. Matt. 16. 18.

Other things might be urged, but theſe being virtually of the force of the Promiſe, and alſo as a Key to open them, therefore I thought good to place them here with the Promiſes; becauſe, as they are ſtanding with them, ſo they are written to beget Faith in the ſame Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

I come now to the third thing, to wit, That theſe Promiſes were ground for a Believing Remembrance that a Saviour ſhould one day come.

There is a Remembring, and a Believing Remembring, or ſuch a Remembring that begetteth, and maintaineth Faith in the Heart. Jacob had a Believing Remembrance, when he ſaid, I have waited for thy Salvation, O Lord. And ſo had David when he cryed, O that the Salvation of Iſrael was come out of Zion. Theſe with Simeon and Anna, had not a Remembrance only, but a Believing Remembrance, that God would ſend them a Saviour. They had the Promiſe not in the Book only, but in their Hearts: This Goſpel was mixed in them with Faith; therefore they with their Fellows remembred and believed, or made the Promiſe the Ground of their Believing that God would one day ſend them a Saviour. Gen. 49. 18. Pſal. 53.

Let me make ſome uſe of this Doctrine. 16.

Here we may ſee how much the Heart of God was ſet upon the Salvation of Sinners, he ſtudied it, contrived it, ſet his Heart on it, and promiſed, and promiſed, and promiſed to compleat compleat it by ſending one day his Son for a Saviour, Epheſ. 1. 3. 2 Sam. 14. 14. Tit. 1. 2.

No marvel therefore, if when he treateth of the New-Covenant, in which the Lord Jeſus is wrapped, and preſented in a Word of Promiſe to the World, that he ſaith; I will do it aſſuredly with my whole Heart, and with my whole Soul. Jer. 32. 41.

Now this is of ſingular comfort to ſenſible Sinners; yea, what greater ground of conſolation to ſuch, than to hear that the God againſt whom they have ſinned, ſhould himſelf take care to provide us a Saviour.

There are ſome poor Sinners in the World, that have given ſuch way to diſcouragement, from the ſence of the greatneſs of their Sins, that they dare not think upon God, nor the Sins which they have committed: But the reaſon is, becauſe they are ignorant that God's Heart was wrapt up in this good work of providing and ſending a Saviour. Let ſuch hearken now to the Call of God; Return unto me, for I have redeemed thee: Ho! turn again, hearken; the Heart of God is much ſet upon Mercy, from the beginning of the World he reſolved and promiſed, ay, and ſware we ſhould have a Saviour. Iſa. 44. 22.

17. 2. Doct. I now proceed to the ſecond Obſervation,

That when Jeſus was come into the World, then was the Promiſe of God fulfilled; namely, That he would one day ſend us a Saviour.

Take three Texts for the Confirmation of this Point.

1. This is of a truth that Prophet that ſhould come into the World.

Theſe words were ſpoken of them that were preſent at that Miracle of Jeſus, when he fed Five Thouſand with Five Barly Loaves, which a Lad had about him in the Company: For theſe Men, when they had ſeen the Marvel, being amazed at it, made confeſſion of him to be the Saviour, Joh. 6.

Joh. 9. 27. 2. Lord, I believe thou art the Chriſt the Son of God, which ſhould come into the World.

1 Tim. 1. 15. 3. This is a faithful ſaying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Chriſt Jeſus came into the World to ſave Sinners.

18. For the explaining of this Obſervation, I will briefly handle three queſtions.

1. How this Jeſus is to be diſtinguiſhed from others of that name.

2. What it was for this Jeſus to come into the World.

3. What it was for him to come to be a Saviour.

Queſt. 1. For the Firſt, The Jeſus in the Text, is diſtinguiſhed from all others of that Name.

1. By the manner of his Birth, he was born of a Virgin, a Virgin eſpouſed to a Man whoſe Name was Joſeph; but he knew her not till ſhe had brought forth her Firſt-born Son, and he called his name Jeſus. Mat. 1. 25.

2. He is diſtinguiſhed from others of that Name, by the place of his Birth; to wit Bethlehem the City of David, there he muſt be Born, there he was Born, Joh. 7. 42. Mat. 2. 4, 5, 6.

3. He is diſtinguiſhed by his Linage, He came of the Houſe, and Linage of David, Luke 2. 4, 5, 6.

4. He is diſtinguiſhed by the time of his Birth, to wit, The time that the Prophets prefixed. Gal. 4. 4.

5. But his common Diſtinction is, Jeſus of Nazareth; by his Name he is diſtinguiſhed one and twenty times in the New Teſtament.

1. His Enemies called him Jeſus of Nazareth, Mat. 26. 71. Mark 14. 67. Joh. 18. 5.

2. His Diſciples called him Jeſus of Nazareth, Mat. 21. 11. Luk. 24. 19. Joh. 1. 45. Acts 2. 22.

3. The Angels called him Jeſus of Nazareth, Mark 16. 6.

4. And he calleth Himſelf Jeſus of Nazareth, Acts 22. 8.

5. Yea, and he goeth alſo by the name of Jeſus of Nazareth among the Devils, Mar. 1. 24. Luk. 4. 34.

He was called Jeſus of Nazareth, becauſe he dwelt there with his Mother Mary and her Husband. Nazareth was his City where he had been brought up, whither for ſhelter Joſeph carried him when he came up out of Egypt with him: in Nazareth was his common Abode, until the time that John was caſt into Priſon: Where- fore he might well ſay, I am Jeſus of Nazareth: Yea, though he was now in Heaven; for Heaven ſhall not make us forget what Country-men we were when we lived in the World. Jeſus you ſee here, though glorified in Heaven, yet forgets not what Country-Man he was when he dwelt in the World. I am Jeſus of Nazareth, ſaith he, I am the Jeſus that thou perſecuteſt; and that thou mayeſt know I am he, I tell thee I dwelt once in the City of Nazareth in Galilee: Joſeph and my Mother Mary brought me up there, and there I dwelt with them many years. I am Jeſus of Nazareth whom thou perſecuteſt. Luk. 4. 16. Mat. 2. 23. chap. 4. 12, 13.

Queſt. 2. Secondly, What was it for Jeſus to come into the World? 19.

Anſw. 1. Not his coming in, or by his Spirit in his People; for ſo he was never out of the World.

2. Neither is it his Appearance in his Ordinances.

3. Nor that coming of his by which he deſtroyeth Antichriſt.

4. Nor his Appearing in his dreadful Providences or Judgments.

But by the coming of Jeſus, according to the Text, we are to underſtand that, or ſuch a Coming, whereby he was manifeſt to be God-Man in one Perſon, God in our Fleſh without us, or diſtinct in his own Perſon by himſelf; Such a Coming by which he was manifeſted to be in all points like as men are, Sin only excepted. Such a Coming, wherein, or by which, the Son of God became alſo the Son of Man.

For the further clearing of this, you find it expreſly ſaid, he was born into the World; Mary, of whom was born Jeſus. Now when Jeſus was born, its said, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? Herod demanded of them where Christ should be born, Mat. 1. 16. Chap. 2. 1, 2, 4. Luk. 1. 35. Chap. 2. 11.

Now that this was fulfilled according to the very word of the Text, without any juggle, evasion, or cunningly devised Fable, consider,

1. He is called the First-Born of this Woman, The Male Child that opened her Womb. Luke. 2. 7, 23.

2. He was not born till nourished in her Womb the full time according to the time of Life. And so it was that while they were at Bethlehem, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered, and she brought forth her First-born Son, and wrapt him in swadling Clothes, and laid him in a Manger. Luke 24, 5, 6, 7.

3. She also continued in her Separation at the Birth of Jesus, as other women at the Birth of their Children, until the days of her Purification according to the Law of Moses were accomplished, Luke 2. 22.

4. Himself also, as other Hebrew Children, was brought to Jerusalem to present him unto the Lord, As it is written in the Law of Moses, every Male that openeth the Womb shall be called Holy unto the Lord. Luke 2. 23, 24.

5. Thus Jesus also as other Hebrew Children, when the set Day was come, was Circumcised. And when eight days were accomplished for the Circumcising of the Child, his Name was called Jesus, which was so named of the Angel before he was conceived in the Womb. Luk. 2. 21.

6. After this, he is often called the Young-Child, the Child Jesus; and farther it is said of him, that he grew, that he encreased in Wisdom and Stature, Mat. 2. 20, 21. Luk. 2. 40, 52.

Behold, with what diligence, even to a Circumstance, the Holy Ghost sets forth the Birth of the Lord Jesus, and all to convince the incredulous World, of the true Manner of the coming of the Saviour into the World.

20. Secondly, The Reality of the Manhood of this Lord Jesus, is yet further manifest, and that,

First, by those natural Infirmities that attend humane Flesh.

Secondly, By the Names the Prophets gave him in the Days of the Old Testament and the New.

First by those natural Infirmities that attend Human Flesh.

As 1. At his Birth he could not go, but as carried by his Parents.

2. He was sensible of Hunger, Luk. 4. 2.
3. He was sensible of Thirst, John 19. 28.
4. He was sensible of Weariness, Joh. 4. 6.
5. He was nourished by Sleep, Mar. 4. 34.
6. He was subject to Grief, Mar. 3. 5.
7. He was subject to Anger, Mar. 3. 5.
8. He was subject to Weep, Joh. 11. 35. Luk. 19. 41.
9. He had Joy as a Man and rejoyced, Mat. 11. 27, Luk. 10. 21.

These things, I say, Jesus was subject to as a Man, as the Son of the Virgin.

21. Secondly, The Reality of his Manhood is yet made manifest by the Names the Prophets gave him, both in the Old Testament and in the New.

As 1. He is called the seed. The seeed of the Woman, the seed of Abraham, the seed of David, by which is meant he was to come of their Children, Gen. 3. 15. Chap. 12. and 22. Gal. 3. 16, 17. Rom 1. 4.

2. Therefore it is added (where mention is made of the Fathers) of whom as concerning the Flesh Christ came. He was made of the Seed of David according to the Flesh: And hence again, he calleth himself the Off-spring of David; therefore, I say, he is said to be of their Flesh, their Loins, and is called their Son, Rom. 1. 4. Chap. 9. 5. Acts. 2. 30. Revel. 22. 16.

3. He therefore is frequently called a Man, and the Son of Man. Then shall you see the Son of Man coming in the Clouds of Heaven. When the Son of Man shall come in his Glory, and all the Holy Angels with him. This Man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable Priesthood. It is therefore necessary that this Man have somewhat also to offer. Matt. 26. 63. Chap. 25. 30, 31. Heb. 7. 24. chap. 8. 3. chap. 10. 12.

4. What shall I say, Himself gave undeniable Demonstration of all this, when he said, he was dead; when he called to Thomas to put his Finger to, and behold his Hands, to reach to him his Hand and thrust it into his Side, and bid him he should not be faithless but believing. At another time when he stood in the midst of the Eleven, as they were troubled with the thoughts of unbelief, he said, Behold my Hands and my Feet, that it is I my self, handle me, and see; for a Spirit hath not Flesh and Bones, as ye see me have. Joh. 20. 27. Luke 24. 39.

Thus have I shewed you what it was for Jesus to come into the World; namely, To be born of a Woman, to take Flesh, and to become God-man in one Person.

I come now to the third Question; but before I speak particularly to that, I will produce further Testimony that we find upon record concerning the Truth of all this.

Particular Testimonies that this Coming of Jesus is his Coming to Save us. 22.

1. Simeon the Just gives Testimony of him. And the Holy Ghost was upon him, and it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost that he should not see Death before he had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came by the Spirit into the Temple, and when the Parents brought in the Child Jesus to do for him after the Custom of the Law, then took he him up in his Arms, and blessed God, and said, Lord now lettest thou thy Servant depart in peace, for mine Eyes have seen thy Salvation. Luk. 2. 25, 26, 27, 28.

The Testimony of Anna.

2. Anna a Propheteſs, one of a great Age, which departed not from the Temple, but served God with Fasting and Prayer night and day. And she coming in at the same instant, gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for Redemption in Jerusalem. Luk. 2. 36, 37, 38.

The Testimony of John Baptist.

3. John Baptist as he fulfilled his Ministry, he cried concerning this Jesus, Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the Sins of the World. Joh. 1. 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34.

World. And he, ſaith John, that ſent me to baptize with Water, the ſame ſaid unto me, Upon whom thou ſhalt ſee the Spirit deſcending and abiding, or remaining, the ſame is he which ſhall baptize with the Holy Ghoſt. And I ſaw and bare record that this is the Son of God.

The Teſtimony of the Star and Wiſe-Men.

4. The Star that appeared at his Birth in the Eaſt, and that coaſted through the Heavens, till it came over the Place where the young Child Jeſus was, that Star gave Teſtimony that he was the Saviour. This Star alarmed many, eſpecially the Wiſe-Men of the Eaſt, who were brought by it from afar to worſhip him. And lo, the Star which they ſaw in the Eaſt, went before them till it came and ſtood over where the young Child was. And when they ſaw the Star, they rejoyced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the Houſe, they ſaw the young Child with Mary his Mother, and fell down and worſhiped him; and when they had opened their Treaſures, they preſented unto him Gifts, Gold, and Frankincenſe, and Myrrh.

The Teſtimony of the Angels.

1. To Mary her ſelf.

And in the ſixth Month the Angel Gabriel was ſent from God unto a City of Galilee named Nazareth, to a Virgin eſpouſed to a Man whoſe Name was Joſeph, and the Virgins Name was Mary; and the Angel came in unto her, and ſaid, Hail 1.2.26, thou that art highly favoured. And the Angel ſaid unto her, Fear not, Mary, for thou haſt found favour with God. And behold, thou ſhalt conceive in thy Womb, and bring forth a Son, and ſhalt call his Name Jeſus. He ſhall be great, and ſhall be called the Son of the Higheſt. And the Lord God ſhall give unto him the Throne of his Father David, and he ſhall reign over the Houſe of Jacob for ever, and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no end.

2. The Angels Teſtimony to the Shepherds, as they were feeding their Flocks in the Fields by Night.

And lo, the Angel of the Lord came upon them, 2.8, and the Glory of the Lord ſhined round about them, and they were ſore afraid; and the Angel ſaid unto them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which ſhall be to all People; for unto you is born this day in the City of David, a Saviour, which is Chriſt the Lord.

3. How the Angels ſolemnized his Birth among themſelves.

2.13 And ſuddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the Heavenly Hoſt, praiſing God, and ſaying, Glory to God in the higheſt, and on Earth peace, good-will towards Men,

The Teſtimony of God the Father.

1. When he was Baptized.

3.16, And Jeſus when he was Baptized went up ſtraightway out of the Water; and lo, the Heavens were opened unto him, and he ſaw the Spirit of God deſcending like a Dove, and lighting upon him; and lo, a voice from Heaven, ſaying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleaſed.

2. The Father's Teſtimony concerning the Transfiguration.

9.28, And he took Peter, and James, and John, and 9.35. went up into a Mountain to pray: and as he prayed, the faſhion of his Countenance was altered, and his Raiment was white and glittering, &c. And there appeared Moſes and Elias talking with him, and a Cloud from Heaven overſhadowed them, at which the three Diſciples began to be afraid. Then there came a voice out of the Cloud ſaying, This is my beloved Son, hear him.

This is that Teſtimony of God which Peter ſpeaks of, ſaying, We have not followed cunningly deviſed Fables, when we made known unto you the Power and Coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, but were eye-witneſſes of his Majeſty; for he received from God the Father Honour and Glory when there came ſuch a voice to him from the Excellent Glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleaſed: And this voice which came from Heaven we heard, when we were with him in the Holy Mount. 2 Pet. 1. 16,17,18.

3. God gave Teſtimony of him by Signs, and Wonders.

Believeſt thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The Words that I ſpeak unto you, I ſpeak not of my ſelf, but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doth the Works; God alſo bearing them witneſs (that preached Salvation by Jeſus) both with Signs and Wonders, and with divers Miracles and Gifts of the Holy Ghoſt, according to his own Will. Joh. 14 10. Heb. 2. 4.

Concerning Jeſus, how he put himſelf upon the Teſt among his Adverſaries. 23.

THE Lord Jeſus alſo putteth himſelf upon the Teſt among his Adverſaries divers ways.

Firſt, he urgeth the time of the appearing of the Meſſias, to be come.

The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God is at hand; repent ye and believe the Goſpel. Mar. 1. 15

For this he had a three-fold proof.

1. The Heathens had invaded and taken the Land, according to that of Daniel, Dan. 9. 25, 26. 2. The Scepter was departed from Judah, according to that of Jacob, (Gen. 49. 10) to which alſo ſuited that Prophecy: Before the Child ſhall know to refuſe the evil and chuſe the good, the Land which thou abhorreſt, ſhall be forſaken of both her Kings. 3. The Roman Emperor had not only ſubdued the Nation, and put down the Kingly Race of the Jews; but had ſet up and eſtabliſhed his own Power over them. In the Fifteenth year of the Reign of Tiberias Cæſar, Pontius Pilate was Governour of Judæa. Herod was Tetrarch of Galilee, Philip Tetrarch of Iturea, and Lyſanias Tetrarch of Abilene, all Heathens, and of Tiberius his making.

Beſides, The Kingly Race of Judah was at this time become ſo low by reaſon of the Roman oppreſſion, that the chief of them were put to get their living by their own hands, even Joſeph, the ſuppoſed Father of Jeſus, was then become a Carpenter: Poor man! when Jeſus was born, he was fain to thruſt into a Stable, for there was in the Inn no room for ſuch Gueſts as they. The Offering alſo which was brought unto God at the time when Jeſus was preſented unto the Lord, was two Turtle-Doves, or two young Pigeons; a Sacrifice allowed only for them that were poor, and could provide no bigger.

And if ſhe be not able to bring a Lamb, then ſhe Levit. 12. 8.

ſhall bring two Turtle-Doves or two young Pigeons, the one one for a Burnt Offering, the other for a Sin-Offering: Beſides, Jeſus himſelf ſaith, Foxes have Holes, and the Birds of the Air have Neſts, but the Son of Man hath not whereon to lay his Head.

Now, I ſay, all theſe things were ſo apparent to the Jews, that they could not object; they felt the Romans were come, they knew the Scepter was gone, they ſmarted under the Roman Tyranny, and knew the Kingly Race of Judea was overthrown: How then could they object, that the time was not come for Chriſt to be born?

Further, The People was generally convinced, that the time was come, and therefore, ſaith
Luk. 3. 15 the Text, They were in expectation. And as all the People were in expectation, and all men muſed in their Hearts of John, whether he was the Chriſt or not: The unbiaſſed People obſerving the face of things, could do no other but look for the Meſſias. And hence it is, that the Lord Jeſus gives the Phariſees, thoſe Mortal Enemies of his, ſuch ſore rebukes; ſaying, O ye Hypocrites, ye can diſcern the Face of the Sky, but can you not diſcern the Signs of the Times? The Kingdom is loſt, the Heathens are come,
Mat. 16 3. and the Scepter is departed from Juda. Ye Luke 12. Hypocrites, ye can diſcern the Face of the Sky, and
56. of the Earth, but how is it that ye do not diſcern this Time?

24. Secondly, He yet again puts himſelf upon the Teſt, by the Miracles which he wrought before them.

Joh. 14. 11. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father in me, or elſe believe me for the very works ſake.

John 5. 36. For the Works which the Father hath given me to finiſh, the ſame works that I do, bear witneſs of me, that the Father hath ſent me.

This Proof they could not withſtand, but granted that he did many Miracles while they did nothing. Then gathered the Chief Prieſts, Joh. 11. 47, and Phariſees a Counſel, and ſaid, what do we?
48. for this Man doth many Miracles: if we let him alone, all men will believe on him, and the Romans ſhall come and take away both our Place and Nation.

Yea ſo did Jeſus confound them, that by their own Records and Laws by which they were to prove perſons clean or unclean; they in reading their Lectures, did juſtifie him and overthrow themſelves.

For inſtance, it was written in their Law; If he that hath an Iſſue ſpit upon him that is clean, that Spittle ſhould make him unclean, (Levit. 15. 8.) Now Jeſus whom they counted moſt unclean, becauſe he ſaid he was the Son of God) (as they thought ſpeaking Blaſphemy) he ſpits upon People, and makes them whole; he ſpat and made clay with the ſpittle, and with that clay made a blind man ſee, John 9. 6. Alſo he ſpit on the Eyes of another and made him ſee, Mar. 8. 23, 24, 25. Again he ſpit, and with his ſpittle touched the Tongue of one that was Dumb, and made him ſpeak immediately, Mar. 7. 33, 34, 35. Thus he proved himſelf clear of their Accuſations, and maintained before them, that by thir Law he was guiltleſs, and the Son of God; for the Miracles which he wrought were to prove him ſo to be.

Again, in their Law it was written, that whoſo touched the Altar of Incenſe ſhould be Holy, (Exod. 29. 37.) A Woman with a Bloody Iſſue toucheth him, and is whole of her Plague. Yea, they brought to him many diſeaſed Perſons; and beſought him that they might only touch the Hem of his Garment; and as many as touched, were made perfectly whole.

Thus was he juſtified before them out of their own Law, and had his Glory manifeſt before their Faces, to their everlaſting confuſion and contempt. Mat. 5. 2 Mat. 14 35, 36.

Indeed, the Jews did make one Objection againſt Jeſus Chriſt, that ſeemed to them to have weight in it; and that was becauſe he firſt began to appear and manifeſt his Glory in Canaan of Galilee. At this, I ſay, they ſtumbled, it was their ſore temptation; for ſtill as ſome affirmed him to be the Chriſt, others as faſt objected, ſhall Chriſt come out of Galilee? art thou alſo of Galilee? ſearch and look, for out of Galilee ariſeth no Prophet 25. Joh. 2. 11. chap. 7. 41, 42.

But this their ſtumble might ariſe either, 1. From the Cruelty of Herod: Or, 2. From their own not obſerving, and keeping in mind the Alarum that God gave them at his Birth.

1. It might ariſe or be occaſioned through the Cruelty of Herod; for Jeſus was born in Bethlehem the City where David dwelt: But when Herod ſent out to kill him, and for his ſake killed all the young Children in Bethlehem; then was Joſeph warned by an Angel of God, to take the young Child and his Mother and fly into Egypt, and ſo he did, and was there till the Death of Herod, Mat. 2. 1, 13, 16, 19, 20. After this the Angel comes to them in Egypt, and bids them take the young Child and return into the Land of Iſrael; wherefore they aroſe and went: but hearing that Herod's Son that Tyrant ruled in the Room of his Father, they were afraid to go to Bethlehem, but turned aſide into the Parts of Galilee, where they remained till the time of his ſhewing to Iſrael.

2. This ſtumble of theirs might ariſe from their not obſerving and keeping in mind the Alarum that God gave them of his Birth. 1. God began to give them the Alarum at the Birth of John the Baptiſt, where was aſſerted that he was to go before the Face of the Lord Jeſus, and to prepare his Ways. And fear came upon all that dwelt round about them, Luk. 1. and all theſe ſayings were noiſed abroad throughout all the Hill-Countries of Judea. 2. Again, What a continuation of this Alarum was there alſo at the Birth of Jeſus, which was about three Months after John Baptiſt was born? Now comes a ſtrange Star over the Country to lead the Men of the Eaſt to the Stable where Jeſus was born; now was Herod, the Prieſts, the Scribes, and alſo the City Jeruſalem awakened and ſore troubled: for it was noiſed by the Wiſe-Men, that Chriſt the King and Saviour was born. Beſides, The Shepherds, Simon and Anna, gave notice of him to the People; they ſhould therefore have retained the Memory of theſe things, and have followed God in all his dark Providences, until his Son of Righteouſneſs ſhould ariſe among them with healing under his Wings. 3. I may add add another cauſe of their ſtumble. They did not underſtand the Prophecies that went before of him.

Mat. 2. 15. 1. He was to come to them out of Egypt. Mat. 2. 23. Out of Egypt have I called my Son. 2. He turned aſide into Cana of Galilee, and dwelt in the City of Nazareth; That it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the Prophets, he ſhall be called a Nazaren. 3. That ſaying alſo was to be fulfilled. The Land of Zebulon, and the Land of Nepthali, by the way of the Sea beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles, the People that ſat in Darkneſs ſaw a great Light, and to them that ſat in the region and ſhadow of Death, Light is ſprung up.

Mat. 4. 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17.

At theſe things then they ſtumbled and 'twas a great Judgment of God upon them.

Beſides, There ſeemed to be a Contradiction in the Prophecies of the Scriptures concerning his Coming. He was to be born in Bethlehem, and yet to come out of Egypt: How ſhould he be the Chriſt, and yet come out of Galilee; out of which ariſeth no Prophet? Thus they ſtumbled.

Hence note, That though the Prophecies and Promiſes be full and plain as theſe were, that he ſhould be born in Bethlehem; yet Mens Sins may cauſe them to be fulfilled in ſuch obſcurity, that inſtead of having benefit thereby, they may ſtumble and ſplit their Souls thereat.

Take heed then, hunt not Chriſt from plain Promiſes with Herod, hunt him not from Bethlehem, leſt he appear to your amazement and deſtruction from Egypt, or in the Land of Zebulon. But thus much to the Second Queſtion; to wit, What it was for Jeſus to come into the World.

26. I come now to the Third Queſtion.

Queſt. 3. What it was for him to come to be a Saviour.

For the further handling of this Queſtion I muſt ſhew:

1. What it is to be a Saviour. 2. What it is to come to be a Saviour. 3. What it is for Jeſus to come to be a Saviour.

To theſe Three briefly.

Firſt, What it is to be a Saviour. 1. A Saviour ſuppoſeth ſome in Miſery, and himſelf one that is to deliver them. 2. A Saviour is either ſuch an one Miniſterially, or Meritoriouſly.

Miniſterially, is when one Perſon engageth, or is engaged by virtue of reſpect or command from Superiours, to go and obtain by conqueſt or the King's Redemption, the Captives or Perſons grieved by the Tyranny of an Enemy. And thus were Moſes, and Joſhuah, and the Judges and Kings of Iſrael, Saviours.

Nehem. 9. 27. Thou deliveredſt them into the Land of their Enemies who vexed them, and in the time of their trouble when they cried unto thee, thou heardeſt them from Heaven; and according to thy manifold Mercies thou gaveſt them Saviours, who ſaved them out of the Hand of their Enemies.

Thus was Jeſus Chriſt a Saviour, he was ingaged by virtue of reſpect and command from God, to obtain by conqueſt and redemption, the Captives or Perſons grieved;

Joh. 4. 14. God ſent his Son to be the Saviour of the World.

Meritoriouſly, is when the Perſon engaging, ſhall at his own proper coſt and charge, give a ſufficient value or price for thoſe he redeemeth.

Thus thoſe under the Law were redeemed by the Money called the Redemption-Money. And Moſes gave the Money of thoſe that were redeemed unto Aaron and to his Sons. Numb. 3. 46, 47, 48, 49, 51, 52.

And thus was Jeſus Chriſt a Saviour; he paid a full price to Divine Juſtice for Sinners, even his own precious Blood. Foraſmuch as you know that you were not redeemed from your vain Converſation, received by tradition from your Fathers, with corruptible things, as Silver and Gold, but with the precious Blood of Chriſt. 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19.

And foraſmuch as in Man's redemption, the Undertaker muſt have reſpect, not only to the paying of a price, but alſo to the getting of a Victory; for there is not only Juſtice to ſatisfy, but Death, Devil, Hell, and the Grave to conquer: therefore hath he alſo by himſelf gotten Victory over theſe.

1. He hath aboliſhed Death, 2 Tim. 1. 10. 2. He hath deſtroyed the Devil, Heb. 2. 14, 15. 3. He hath been the deſtruction of the Grave, Hoſ. 13. 14. 4. He hath gotten the Keys of Hell, Revel. 1. 17, 18, 19.

And this I ſay, he did by himſelf at his own proper coſt and charge, when he triumphed over them upon his Croſs, Col. 2. 14, 15.

Queſt. 2. Secondly, What it is to come to be a Saviour? 27.

1. To come to be one, ſuppoſeth one ordained. and fore-prepared for that Work. Then ſaid he lo, I come, a Body haſt thou prepared me. Hebr. 10.

To come to be a Saviour, ſuppoſeth one commiſſionated, or authorized to that Work. The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, becauſe he hath anointed me (authorized me) to preach the Goſpel to the Poor: He hath ſent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the Captives, and recovering of Sight to the Blind, and to ſet at liberty them that are bruiſed. Luk. 4. 18.

And upon this account it is, that he is ſo often called CHRIST, or the Anointed one; the Anointed Jeſus, or Jeſus the Anointed Saviour. Thou art the Chriſt the Son of God, that ſhould come into the World. This Jeſus whom I Preach unto you is Chriſt: He teſtified to the Jews, that Jeſus was Chriſt, and he confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damaſcus, proving by the Scriptures that this is the very Chriſt: The very Anointed of God, or he whom God authorized and qualified to be the Saviour of the World. Joh. 11. 27, Acts 17. 3. chap. 18. 5. chap. 9. 22.

3. To come to be a Saviour, ſuppoſeth a reſolution to do that Work before he goeth back. I will ranſom them from the power of the Grave; I will redeem them from death: O Death I will be thy Plague, O Grave I will be thy Deſtruction, Repentance ſhall be hid from mine Eyes. Hoſ. 13. 14

And as he reſolved, ſo he hath done.

1. He hath purged our Sins, Heb. 1. 2, 3. 2. He hath perfected for ever (by one Offering) them that are ſanctified, Heb. 10. 14. 3. He hath obtained Eternal Redemption for them, Heb. 9. 12. See further, 2 Tim. 1. 10. Heb. 9. 26. Col. 2. 15. Heb. 6. 18, 19, 20.

Queſt. 3. I come now to the Third Queſtion. 28. What it is for Jeſus to come to be a Saviour.

1. Anſ. It is the greateſt diſcovery of mans

miſery and inability, to ſave himſelf there from, that ever was made in the World. Muſt the Son of God himſelf come down from Heaven? or can there be no Salvation? cannot one Sinner ſave another? cannot man by any means redeem his Brother, nor give to God a Ranſome for him? cannot an Angel do it? cannot all the Angels do it? no, Chriſt muſt come and dye to do it.

2dly. It is the greateſt diſcovery of the Love of God, that ever the World had. For God SO to love the World, as to ſend his Son! For God SO to commend his love to the World, as to ſend it to them in the Blood of his Son! Amazing Love! John 3. 16. Rom. 5. 8.

3dly. It is the greateſt diſcovery of the Condeſcenſion of Chriſt that ever the World had.

Matth. 20. 28. 1 Joh. 3. 8. Joh. 10. 10. Luke 19. 10. Joh. 12. 47. 1 Tim. 1. 15. Revel. 1. 5. Phil. 2. 6, 7, 8, 9.

1. That he ſhould not come to be miniſtred unto, but to miniſter; and to give his Life a Ranſom for many. Mat. 20. 28. 2. That he ſhould be manifeſt for this purpoſe, that he might deſtroy the Works of the Devil. 3. That he ſhould come that we might have life, and that we might have it more abundantly. 4. That the Son of God ſhould come to ſeek and to ſave that which was loſt. 5. That he ſhould not come to judg the World, but to ſave the World. 6. That Chriſt Jeſus ſhould come into the World to ſave Sinners, of whom I am chief. 7. That he ſhould love us and waſh us from our Sins in his own Blood. What amazing Condeſcenſion and Humility is this!

29. How Jeſus Chriſt addreſſed himſelf to the Work of our Redemption:

I Come then in the next place to ſhew you HOW Jeſus Chriſt addreſſed himſelf to the Work of mans Redemption.

The Scripture ſaith, he became poor: That he made himſelf of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a Servant, that he humbled himſelf unto Death, even the Death of the Croſs. But particularly,

1. He took upon him our Fleſh. 2. He was made under the Law. 3. He took upon him our Sins. 4. He bore the Curſe due to our Sins.

Firſt, He took upon him our Fleſh. I ſhewed you before that he came in our Fleſh, and now I muſt ſhew you the Reaſon of it: namely, Becauſe, That was the way to addreſs himſelf to the Work of our Redemption.

Wherefore, when the Apoſtle treated of the Incarnation of Chriſt, he addeth withal the reaſon, to wit, That he might be capable to work out the Redemption of Men.

There are three things to be conſidered in this firſt. Head.

1. That he took our Fleſh; for this Reaſon, That he might be a Saviour. 2. How he took the Fleſh, that he might be our Saviour. 3. That it was neceſſary that he ſhould take our Fleſh, if indeed he will be our Saviour.

Rom. 8. 3, 4. For the Firſt, That he took our Fleſh, for this Reaſon, That he might be a Saviour: For what the Law could not do in that it was weak through the Fleſh, God ſending his own Son in the likeneſs of ſinful fleſh, and for ſin condemned ſin in the Fleſh.

The Sum of the Words is, foraſmuch as the Law could do us no good, by reaſon of the inability that is in our Fleſh to do it (for the Law can do us no good until it be fulfilled) and becauſe God had a deſire that good ſhould come to us, therefore did he ſend his Son in our likeneſs, cloathed with Fleſh, to deſtroy by his doing the Law, the tendency of the Sin that dwells in our Fleſh. He therefore took our Fleſh, that our Sin, with its effects, might by him be condemned and overcome.

The Reaſon therefore why he took Fleſh, is, Becauſe he would be our Saviour.

Heb. 2. 14, 15. Foraſmuch then as the Children are Partakers of Fleſh and Blood, he alſo likewiſe took part of the ſame, that through Death he might deſtroy him that had the Power of Death, that is the Devil, and deliver them, who through fear of Death were all their life-time ſubject to bondage.

In theſe words it is aſſerted, that he took our Fleſh for certain Reaſons. 30.

1. Becauſe the Children, the Heirs of Heaven, are partakers of Fleſh and Blood. Foraſmuch then as the Children are partakers of Fleſh and Blood, he alſo himſelf took part of the ſame. Had the Children, the Heirs, been without Fleſh, he himſelf had not taken it upon him: had the Children, been Angels, he had taken upon him the Nature of Angels; but becauſe the Children were partakers of Fleſh, therefore, leaving Angels, or refuſing to take hold of Angels, he took Fleſh and Blood, the Nature of the Children; that he might put himſelf into a capacity to ſave and deliver the Children. Therefore it follows, That through Death he might deſtroy him that had the Power of Death that is the Devil.

This therefore was another Reaſon, that he might deſtroy the Devil.

The Devil had bent himſelf againſt the Children; he is their Adverſary, and goeth forth to make war with them. The Devil your Adverſary: And he went to make War with the Remnant of her Seed. Now the Children could not deſtroy him, becauſe he had already caſt them into Sin; defiled their Nature, and laid them under the Wrath of God, Therefore Chriſt puts himſelf among the Children, and into the Nature of the Children; that he might by means of his Dying in their Fleſh, deſtroy the Devil; that is, take away Sin, his Work, that he might deſtroy the Works of the Devil; for Sin is the great Engine of Hell, by which he overthroweth all that periſh: Now this did Chriſt deſtroy, by taking on him the ſimilitude of Sinful Fleſh; of which more anon. 1 Pet. 5. 8. Revel. 12.

That he might deſtroy him that had the Power of Death, that is the Devil, and deliver them. This was the thing in chief intended, that he might deliver the Children, that he might deliver them from Death, the Fruit of their Sin, and from Sin, the Sting of that Death. That he might deliver them, who through the Fear of Death, were all their Life-time ſubject to bondage.

He took Fleſh therefore, becauſe the Children had it; and that he might dye for the Children & deliver them from the Works of the Devil; that he might deliver them. No Deliverance had come to the Children if the Son of God had had not taken their Fleſh and Blood. Therefore he took our Fleſh, that he might be our Saviour.

Again, In a Saviour there muſt be not only Merit, but Compaſſion and Sympathy; becauſe the Children are yet to live by Faith, are not yet come to the Inheritance. It behoved him therefore in all things to be made like unto his Brethren, that he might be a Merciful and Faithful High-Prieſt in things pertaining to God, to make Reconciliation for the Sins of the People. Heb. 2. 17, 18.

Two Reaſons are reedred in this Text, why he muſt take Fleſh; namely that he might be their Prieſt, to offer Sacrifice, to wit, his Body and Blood for them; and that he might be merciful and faithful, to pity and preſerve them unto the Kingdom appointed for them.

Mark your therefore, how the Apoſtle, when he aſſerteth that the Lord Jeſus took our Fleſh, urgeth the reaſon why he took our Fleſh. THAT he might deſtroy the Devil and Death, THAT he might deliver them. It behoved him to be made like unto his Brethren, THAT he might be merciful and faithful, That he might make Reconciliation for the Sins of the People. The Reaſon therefore why he took our Fleſh is declared, to wit, That he might be our Saviour. And hence you find it ſo often recorded; He hath ſlain the Enmity by his Fleſh; and you who were ſometimes Aliens and Enemies in your Minds by Wicked Works: yet, now hath he reconciled, in the Body of his Fleſh, through Death, to preſent you holy and unblameable in his Sight. Ephes. 2. 15, 16. Col. 1. 21, 22

How he took Fleſh. 32

I Come now to the Second Queſtion, to wit, How he took our Fleſh. This muſt be inquired into, for his taking Fleſh was not after the common way, never any took Man's Fleſh upon him as he, ſince the Foundation of the World.

1. He took not our Fleſh like Adam, who was formed out of the Ground. Who was made of the Duſt of the Ground. 2. He took not our Fleſh as we do by Carnal Generation. Joſeph knew not his Wife, neither did Mary know any Man, till ſhe had brought forth her Firſt-born Son. 3. He took Fleſh then, by the immediate working and over-ſhadowing of the Holy Ghoſt: And hence it is ſaid expreſly, She was found with Child of the Holy Ghoſt. Now the Birth of Jeſus Chriſt was on this wiſe: When as his Mother Mary was eſpouſed to Joſeph, (before they came together) ſhe was found with Child of the Holy Ghoſt. And hence again, When Joſeph doubted of her Honeſty (for he perceived ſhe was with Child, and knew he had not touched her) the Angel of God himſelf comes down to reſolve his doubt, and ſaid, Joſeph thou Son of David, Fear not to take unto thee Mary thy Wife, for that which is conceived in her, is of the Holy Ghoſt. Gen. 2. 7. Chap. 3. 19. Luk. 1. 34. Mat. 1. 25. Mat. 1. 18. Mat. 1. 20.

But again, Though the Holy Ghoſt was that by which the Child Jeſus was formed in the Womb, ſo as to be without Carnal Generation; yet was he not formed in her without but by her Conception. Behold, thou ſhalt conceive in thy Womb, and bring forth a Son, and ſhalt call his Name Jeſus. Wherefore, he took Fleſh not only IN, but OF the Virgin. Hence he is called HER Son, the SEED of the Woman. And hence it is alſo that he is called the Seed OF Abraham, the Seed OF David; THEIR Seed according to the Fleſh. Luk. 1. 31. Gen. 13. 15. Chap. 12. Chap. 22. Gal. 3. 16. Chap. 4. 4. Rom. 1. 3. Luk. 1. 32. Rom. 9. 5.

And this the Work he undertook, required.

1. It required that he ſhould take our Fleſh.
2. It required that he ſhould take our Fleſh without Sin, which could not be, had he taken it by reaſon of a Carnal Generation; for ſo, all Children are conceived in, and polluted with Sin, Pſal. 51. And the leaſt pollution, either of Fleſh or Spirit, had utterly diſabled him for the Work, which to do, he came down from Heaven. Therefore, Such an High-Prieſt became us, who is holy, harmleſs, undefiled, ſeparate from Sinners, and made higher than the Heavens. Heb. 7. 26.

This Myſtery of the Incarnation of the Son of God was thus compleated: I ſay, That he might be in all points like as we are, yet without Sin; for Sin in the Fleſh diſableth, and maketh incapable to do the Commandment. Therefore was he thus made, thus made of a Woman: And this the Angel aſſigneth as the Reaſon of this his Marvellous Incarnation: The Holy Ghoſt, ſaith he, ſhall come upon thee, and the Power of the Higheſt ſhall overſhadow thee; therefore alſo that Holy thing that ſhall be born of thee, ſhall be called the Son of God. Luk. 2. 35.

The Overſhadowing of the Holy Ghoſt, and the Power of the Higheſt; the Father, and the Holy Ghoſt, brought this Wonderful thing to paſs, for Jeſus is a Wonderful One, in his Conception and Birth. This Myſtery is that, next to the Myſtery of three Perſons in one God. It is a great Myſtery. Great is the Myſtery of Godlineſs; God was manifeſted in the Fleſh.

The Concluſion is, That Jeſus Chriſt took our Fleſh, that he might be a Saviour; and that he might be our Saviour indeed, he THUS took our Fleſh.

That it was neceſſary that he ſhould take our Fleſh, if he will be our Saviour. 33

I Come now to the Third Thing, namely, that it was neceſſary that he ſhould take our Fleſh if he will be our Saviour.

And that firſt, from the Nature of the Work; his Work was to ſave, to ſave man, ſinking man: man that was going down to the Pit, Job 34. 24. Now he that will ſave him that is ſinking, muſt take hold on him. And ſince he was not to ſave a Man, but Men; therefore it was neceſſary that he ſhould take hold, not of one Perſon, but of the Common Nature, clothing himſelf with part of the ſame.

He took not hold of Angels, but took on him the Seed of Abraham. For THAT Fleſh was the ſame with the whole lump of the Children, to whom the Promiſe was made; and comprehended in it the Body of them that ſhall be ſaved, even as in Adam was comprehended the whole World at firſt, Rom. 5.

Hence we are ſaid to be choſen in him, to be gathered, being in him, to be dead by him, to be riſen with him, and to be ſet with him, or in him in Heavenly places already. Epheſ. 1. 4. 10. Rom. 7 4. Col. 3. 1, 2, 3.

This then was the Wiſdom of the great God, that the Eternal Son of his Love ſhould take hold c. 2, 12. 1 3.

hold of, and ſo ſecure the ſinking Souls of perliſhing Sinners by aſſuming their Fleſh.

34. Secondly, The Manner of his doing the Work of a Saviour, did call for his taking of our Fleſh. Luke. 24. 26. Acts 17.3. He muſt do the Work by dying: Ought not Chriſt to have ſuffered? Chriſt muſt needs have ſuffered, or elſe no glory follows. The Pro- 1 Pet. 1.11. phets teſtified before-hand the Sufferings of Chriſt, and the Glory that ſhould follow. Yea, they did it by the Spirit of Chriſt himſelf. This Spirit then did bid them tell the World, yea, teſtify, that Chriſt muſt ſuffer, or no man be bleſt with Glory. For the threatning of death, and the Curſe of the Law lay in the Way between Heaven Gates and the Souls of the Children, for their Sins; wherefore he that will ſave them, muſt anſwer Divine Juſtice, or God muſt lye in ſaving them without inflicting the Puniſhment threatned. Chriſt then muſt needs have ſuffered, the manner of the Work, laid a neceſſity upon him to take our Fleſh upon him; he muſt die, he muſt die for us, he muſt die for our Sins. And this was effectually foretold by all the Bloody Sacrifices offered under the Law; The Blood of Bulls, and the Blood of Lambs, the Blood of Rams, and the Blood of Calves, and the Blood of Goats and Birds. Theſe Bloody Sacrifices, what did they ſignifie, what were they figures of, but of the Bloody Sacrifice of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt; their Blood being a Shadow of his Blood, and their Fleſh being a Shadow of his Fleſh?

Therefore when God declared that he took no pleaſure in them, becauſe they could not make the Worſhippers perfect as pertaining to the Conſcience; then comes Jeſus Chriſt to offer his Sinleſs Body and Soul for the Sin of the People: For it is not poſſible that the Blood of Bulls and Goats ſhould take away Sin: wherefore, when he cometh into the World, he ſaith, Sacrifices and Offerings thou wouldeſt not, but a Body haſt thou prepared me; in Burnt Offerings and Sacrifices for Sin thou haſt had no Pleaſure. Then ſaid I, lo, I come, in the Volume of thy Book it is written of me to do thy good Will. Since Burnt-Offerings cannot do thy Will, my Body ſhall; ſince the Blood of Bulls and Goats cannot do thy Will, my Blood ſhall.

Then follows, By the Will of God we are Heb. 10.8, 9, 10. Sanctified through the offering up of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt once for all.

35. Thirdly, The End of the Work required, That Chriſt, if he will be our Saviour, ſhould take upon him our Fleſh.

The End of our Salvation is, That we might enjoy God, and that he by us might be glorified for ever and ever.

1. That we might enjoy God. I will dwell in them, and they ſhall be my People, and I will be their God. This Indwelling of God, and conſequently our Enjoyment of him, begins firſt in its Eminency, by his poſſeſſing our Fleſh in the Perſon of Jeſus Chriſt. Hence his Name is called Emmanuel, God with us; and the Word was made Fleſh and dwelt among us. The Fleſh of Chriſt, is the Tabernacle which the Lord pitched according to that ſaying: Rev. 21. 3. The Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they ſhall be his People, and God himſelf ſhall be with them, and be their God. Here God beginneth to diſcover his Glory, and to be deſireable to the Sons of Men.

God could not communicate himſelf to us, nor take us into the Enjoyment of himſelf, but with reſpect to that Fleſh which his Son took of the Virgin, becauſe Sin ſtood betwixt. Now this Fleſh, only, was the Holy Lump, in this Fleſh God could dwell, and foraſmuch as this Fleſh is the ſame with ours, and was taken up with intent that what was done, in, and by that, ſhould be communicated to all the Children; therefore through that, doth God communicate of himſelf unto his People. God 2 Cor. 5. was in Chriſt reconciling the World unto himſelf. Joh. 14. 6. And I am the way, ſaith Chriſt, no man cometh to the Father but by me.

That Paſſage to the Hebrews is greatly to our purpoſe: We have boldneſs, Brethren, to enter Hebr. 10. into the Holieſt, (the place where God is) by the 19, 20. Blood of Jeſus, by a new and living Way which he hath conſecrated for us through the Vail, that is to ſay, his Fleſh.

1. As the End of our Salvation, is, That we might enjoy God: ſo alſo it is that he by us might be Glorified for ever. That God in all things might be Glorified through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

Herein deed will the Myſtery of his Grace, Wiſdom, Juſtice, Power, Holineſs, and Glory, inhabit Eternal praiſe, while we that are counted worthy of the Kingdom of God, ſhall admire at the Myſtery, and ſee our ſelves, without our ſelves, even by the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt (through Faith therein) effectually, and eternally ſaved. O! This will be the burden of our Eternal Joy, God loved us, and gave his Son for us, Chriſt loved us, and gave his Fleſh for our Life, and his Blood for our Eternal Redemption and Salvation.

That Chriſt was made under the Law. 36.

BUT Secondly, Chriſt was made under the Gal. 4. 4 Law. When the fulneſs of the time was come, God ſent forth his Son, made of a Woman, made under the Law.

Of right, being found in Fleſh, he muſt needs be under the Law, for that there is not any Creature, above or without Law to God, (but this is not to the point in hand) Chriſt was not therefore under the Law becauſe he was found in Fleſh, but he took Fleſh, and deſignedly put himſelf, or was made under the Law; wherefore 'tis added, he was made under the Law to Redeem, to Redeem them that were under the Law. Wherefore here is a deſign, an Heavenly contrivance, and device on Foot. Chriſt is made, that is by deſign, ſubjected under the Law, for the ſake, and upon the account of others: To redeem them that were under the Law.

Made under the Law; that is, put himſelf into the Room of Sinners, into the Condition of Sinners; made himſelf ſubject to the ſame pains and penalties we were obnoxious to. We were under the Law, and it had dominion over us, bound us upon pain of Eternal Damnation to do compleatly all things written in the Law. This Condi-

Condition Chriſt put himſelf into, that he might redeem: for aſſuredly we had elſe periſhed.

The Law had dominion over us, and ſince we had ſinned, of right it pronounced the Curſe, and made all Men ſubject to the Wrath of God. Chriſt therefore did not only come into our Fleſh, but alſo into our Condition, into the Valley and Shadow of Death where we were, and where we are as we are Sinners. He that is under the Law, is under the Edge of the Axe. When David was to go viſit his Brethren, and to ſave them from the Hand of Goliah, he
1 Sam. 17. 18. was to look how his Brethren fared, and to take their Pledg. This is true of Jeſus Chriſt, when he came to ſave us from the Hand of Death and the Law; he looked how his Brethren fared, took to heart their deplorable Condition, and put himſelf into the ſame Plight, to wit, under the Law, that he might redeem them that were under the Law.

I told you before, that he came ſinleſs into the World, that he had a miraculous Conception, and Wonderful Birth: and here you ſee a Reaſon for it, he was to be put, or made under the Law to redeem. He that will be made under the Law to redeem, had need be ſinleſs, and ſpotleſs himſelf; for the Law findeth fault with the leaſt, and condemneth man for the firſt beginning of Sin.

Without this then there could not have been Redemption, nor any the Sons of God by Adoption; no Redemption, becauſe the Sentence of Death had already paſt upon all; no Sons by Adoption, becauſe that's the Effect of Redemption. God ſent forth his Son made of a Woman, made under the Law to redeem them that were under the Law, That we might receive the Adoption of Sons. Chriſt then by being made under the Law, hath recovered his from under the Law, and obtained for them the Priviledg of the Adoption of Sons.

For as I told you before, Chriſt ſtood a Common Perſon, preſenting in himſelf the whole Lump of the promiſed Seed, or the Children of the Promiſe; wherefore he comes under the Law for them, takes upon him to do what the Law required of them, takes upon him to do it for them.

He began therefore at the firſt tittle of the Law, and going in Man's Fleſh, for Man, through the Law, He becomes the End of the Law for righteouſneſs, for every one that believeth. The END of the Law, what is the end of the Law but perfect and ſinleſs Obedience? that is the End of the Law, both with reſpect to its Nature, and the Cauſe of its being impoſed. God gave the Law, that compleat Righteouſneſs ſhould by that be found upon Men, but becauſe Sin was got into Man's Fleſh, therefore this Righteouſneſs by us, could not be compleated: Now comes Chriſt the Lord into the World, clothes himſelf with the Children's Fleſh, addreſſeth himſelf to the Work of their Redemption, is made under the Law; and going through every part of the Law without Sin, he becometh the end of the Law for Juſtifying Righteouſneſs to every one that believeth, Rom. 10. 4. For he obeyed not the Law for himſelf, he needed no obedience thereto: 'Twas we that needed obedience, 'twas we that wanted to anſwer the Law; we wanted it, but could not obtain it, becauſe then the Law was weak through the Fleſh; therefore God ſent his own Son, and he did our duty for us, even to become the End of the Law to every one that believeth: In this therefore Chriſt laboured for us, he was made under the Law to redeem. Therefore, as I ſaid before, It behoved him to be ſinleſs, becauſe the Law binds over to anſwer for ſin at the Bar of the Judgment of God. Therefore did his God-Head aſſume our humane Fleſh, in a clean and ſpotleſs way, that he might come under the Law, to redeem them that were under the Law.

For conſiſting of two Natures, and the Perſonality lieing in the God-Head, which gave value and worth to all things done for us by the Man-hood, the Obedience takes denomination from thence, to be the Obedience of God. The Sons Righteouſneſs, the Sons Blood; the Righteouſneſs of God, the Blood of God, Heb. 5. 8, 9. Phil. 3. 7, 8. Acts 20. 28. 1 Joh. 3. 16

Thus Jeſus Chriſt came into the World under the Law to redeem; not ſimply as God, but God-Man, both natures making one Chriſt. The God-head therefore did influence and give value to the human Fleſh of Chriſt in all its Obedience to the Law; elſe there would have been wanting that Perfection of Righteouſneſs which only could anſwer the Demands and Expectation of the Juſtice of God, to wit, Perfect Righteouſneſs by Fleſh. 37.

But the Second Perſon in the God-head, the Son, the Word, coming under the Law for Men in their Fleſh, and ſubjecting himſelf by that Fleſh to every tittle, and demand of the Law; all, and every whit of what was acted, and done by Jeſus Chriſt God-man for us, it was, and is the Righteouſneſs of God: and ſince it was not done for himſelf, but for us (as he ſaith in the Text, to redeem.) The Righteouſneſs by which we are ſet free from the Law, is none other but the Righteouſneſs that alone reſideth in the Perſon of the Son of God.

And that it is abſolutely neceſſary thus it ſhould be is evident, both with reſpect to God, and alſo with reſpect to Man.

1. With reſpect to God. The Righteouſneſs is demanded by God: therefore he that comes to redeem, muſt preſent before God a Righteouſneſs abſolutely perfect; this can be done by none but God. 2. With reſpect to Man. Man was to preſent this Righteouſneſs to God, therefore muſt the undertaker be Man. Man for Man, and God for God, God-Man between God and Men. This Days-Man can lay his Hand upon us both, and bring God and Man together in peace, Job. 9. 33.

Queſt. But ſome may ſay, What need of the Righteouſneſs of one that is naturally God? had Adam who was but a meer Man ſtood in his Innocency and done his Duty, he had ſaved himſelf and all his Poſterity. 38.

Anſ. Had Adam ſtood, he had ſo long ſecured himſelf (from the Wages of Sin) and Poſterity ſo long as they were in him. But had

Adam

Adam ſinned, yea, although he had not defiled his Nature with filth, he could never after that have redeemed himſelf from the Curſe of the Law, becauſe he was not equal with God: for the Curſe of the Law is the Curſe of God, but no man can deliver himſelf from the Curſe of God, having firſt tranſgreſſed. This is evident becauſe Angels, for ſin, lie bound in Chains, and can never deliver themſelves.

He therefore that redeemeth man from under the Law, muſt not only do all the good that the Law requireth, but bear all the Penalty that is due by the Law for ſin.

Should an Angel aſſume humane Fleſh, and in that Fleſh do the Law, this Righteouſneſs would not redeem a Sinner, it would be but the Righteouſneſs of an Angel, and ſo, far ſhort of ſuch a Righteouſneſs as can ſecure a Sinner from the Wrath of God. But thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thy Soul, with all thy Heart, with all thy Mind, with all thy Strength. If there was no more required of us, now to redeem our ſelves, it would be utterly impoſſible for us to do it, becauſe in the beſt there is ſin, which will intermix it ſelf with every Duty of Man: This being ſo, all the Heart, all the Soul, all the Strength, and all the Mind, to the exact requirement of the Juſtice of the Law, can never be found in a Natural Man.

Beſides, For this Work there is required a perfect Memory, always to keep in mind the whole Duty of Man, the whole of every tittle of all the Law, leſt ſin come in by forgetfulneſs. 2. A perfect Knowledge and Judgment, leſt ſin come in by ignorance. 3. An everlaſting Unweariedneſs in all, leſt ſin and continual temptations tire the Soul, and cauſe it to fail before the whole be done.

For the accompliſhing this laſt, he muſt have, 1. A perfect Willingneſs, without the leaſt thought to the contrary. 2. Such an hatred of ſin, as is not to be found, but in the Heart of God. 3. A full delight in every duty, and that in the midſt of all Temptations. 4. A continuing in all things to the well-pleaſing of the Juſtice of God.

I ſay, ſhould the penalty of the Law be taken off, ſhould God forgive the Penalty and Puniſhment due to ſins that are paſt, and only demand good works now, according to the Tenour of the Law, no man could be ſaved: there would not be found that Heart, that Soul, that Mind and that Strength any where in the World.

This therefore muſt ceaſe for ever, unleſs the Son of God will put his Shoulder to the Work; but bleſſed be God he hath done it: When the fulneſs of the time was come, God ſent forth his Son, made of a Woman, made under the Law, to redeem them that are under the Law.

39. Chriſt took upon him our Sins.

BUT Thirdly, Chriſt our Saviour takes upon him our Sins. This is another ſtep to the Work of our Redemption. He hath made him to be ſin for us. Strange Doctrine! a Fool would think it blaſphemy, but Truth hath ſaid it: Truth, I ſay, hath ſaid, not that he was made to be ſin, but that GOD made him to be ſin. He hath made him to be ſin for us. 1. Cor. 5. 21.

This therefore ſheweth us how effectually Chriſt Jeſus undertook the Work of our Redemption. He was made to be ſin for us. Sin is the great block and bar to our happineſs; ſin is the Procurer of all miſeries to men both here and for ever. Take away ſin, and nothing can hurt us; for death Temporal, death Spiritual, and death Eternal is the Wages of ſin, Rom. 6. 23.

Sin then and Man for Sin, is the Object of the Wrath of God. If the Object of the Wrath of God, then is his Caſe moſt dreadfull; for who can bear, who can grapple with the Wrath of God? Men cannot, Angels cannot, the whole World cannot. All therefore muſt ſink under ſin, but he who is made to be ſin for us; he only can bear ſins, he only can bear them away, and therefore were they laid upon him. The Lord laid upon him the Iniquities of us all. Iſa. 53.

Mark therefore, and you ſhall find, that the Reaſon why God made him to be ſin for us, was, That we might be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him. He took our Fleſh, he was made under the Law, and was made to be ſin for us; that the Devil might be deſtroyed, that the Captives might be redeemed, and made the Righteouſneſs of God in him.

And foraſmuch as he ſaith, that GOD hath made him to be ſin, it declareth that the Deſign of God, and the Myſtery of his Will and Grace was in it. He hath made him to be ſin. God hath done it, that we might be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him: there was no other way, the Wiſdom of Heaven could find no other way, we could not by other means ſtand juſt before the Juſtice of God.

Now what remains, but that we who are reconciled to God by Faith in his Blood, are quit, diſcharged, and ſet free from the Law of Sin and Death. Yea, what encouragement to truſt in him, when we read, That God made him to be ſin for us.

Queſt. But how was Jeſus Chriſt made of God to be ſin for us? 40.

Anſw. Even ſo as if himſelf had committed all our Sins; that is, they were as really charged upon him, as if himſelf had been the Actor and Committer of them all. He hath made him to be ſin; not only as a Sinner, but as Sin it ſelf. He was as the Sin of the World, that Day he ſtood before God in our ſteed. Some indeed will not have Jeſus Chriſt our Lord to be made ſin for us, their wicked Reaſons think this to be wrong Judgment in the Lord: it ſeems, ſuppoſing, that becauſe they cannot imagine how it ſhould be: therefore God, if he does it, muſt do it at his Peril, and muſt be charged with doing wrong Judgment, and ſo, things that become not his Heavenly Majeſty: But againſt this Dunciſh Sophiſtry, we ſet Paul and Iſaiah, the one telling us ſtill, The Lord laid on him the Iniquities of us all; and the other, That God made him to be ſin for us.

But theſe Men, as I ſuppoſe, think it enough for Chriſt to die under that notion only, not know-knowing nor feeling the Burden of Sin, and the Wrath of God due thereto. Theſe make him as ſenceleſs in his Dying and as much without reaſon, as a ſilly Sheep or Goat, who alſo died for Sin, but ſo as in name, in ſhew, and ſhadow only. They felt not the proper Weight, Guilt, and Judgment of God for Sin. But thou, Sinner, who art ſo in thine own Eyes, and, who feeleſt guilt in thine own Conſcience; know thou that Jeſus Chriſt the Son of the Living God in fleſh, was made to be ſin for thee, or ſtood ſenſibly guilty of all thy Sins before God, and bare them in his own Body upon the Croſs.

God charged our Sins upon Chriſt, and that in their guilt and burden; what remaineth, but that the Charge was real or feigned: if real, then he hath either periſhed under them, or carried them away from before God: if they were charged but feignedly, then did he but feignedly die for them, then ſhall we have but feigned benefit by his Death, and but a feigned Salvation at laſt; not to ſay how this Curſed Doctrine chargeth God and Chriſt with Hypocriſie, the one in ſaying, He made Chriſt to be ſin; the other, That He bare our ſin; when indeed, our guilt and burden never was really upon him.

41. Queſt. But might not Chriſt die for our Sins, but he needs muſt bear their Guilt or Burden?

Anſw. He that can ſever ſin and guilt, ſin and the Burden, each from other, laying ſin and no guilt, ſin and no burden on the Perſon that dieth for Sin, muſt do it only in his own imaginary Head. No Scripture, nor Reaſon, nor Senſe, underſtandeth, or feeleth ſin when charged, without its guilt and burden.

And here we muſt diſtinguiſh between ſin charged, and ſin forgiven: Sin forgiven, may be ſeen without guilt or burden, though I think not without ſhame in this World: But ſin charged, and that by the Juſtice of God, for ſo it was upon Chriſt: This cannot be, but guilt and the burthen, as inſeparable companions, muſt unavoidably lye on that Perſon. Poor Sinner, be adviſed to take heed of ſuch deluded Preachers, who with their Tongues ſmoother than Oil, would rob thee of that Excellent Doctrine, God hath made him to be ſin for us: for ſuch, as I ſaid, do not only preſent thee with a feigned deliverance and forgiveneſs, with a feigned Heaven and Happineſs, but charge God and the Lord Jeſus as meer Impoſtors, who while they tell us that Chriſt was made of God to be Sin for us, affirm, that it was not ſo REALLY, ſuggeſting this Sophiſtical Reaſon, no wrong Judgment comes from the Lord. I ſay again, this Wicked Doctrine is the next way to turn the Goſpel in thy thoughts, to no more than a cunningly-deviſed Fable, 2. Pet. 1. and to make Jeſus Chriſt in his dying for our Sins, as brutiſh as the Paſchal Lamb in Moſes's Law.

Wherefore, diſtreſſed Sinner, when thou findeſt it recorded in the Word of Truth, that Chriſt died for our Sins, and that God hath made him to be ſin for us: Then do thou conſider of Sin as it is a Tranſgreſſion againſt the Law of God, and that as ſuch, it procureth the Judgment of God, torments and afflicts the Mind with Guilt, and bindeth over the Soul to anſwer it: ſever not Sin and Guilt aſunder, leſt thou be an Hypocrite like theſe Wicked Men, and rob Chriſt of his true Sufferings. Beſides, to ſee Sin upon Chriſt, but not its Guilt, to ſee Sin upon Chriſt, but not the legal Puniſhment; what is this but to conclude, that either there is no guilt and puniſhment in Sin, or that Chriſt bare our Sin, but we the Puniſhment? for the Puniſhment muſt be born, becauſe the Sentence is gone out from the Mouth of God againſt Sin.

Do thou therefore as I have ſaid, conſider of Sin as a Tranſgreſſion of the Law, 1 Joh. 3. and a provoker of the Juſtice of God, which done, turn thine Eye to the Croſs, and behold thoſe Sins in the Guilt and Puniſhment of them, ſticking in the Fleſh of Chriſt. God condemned Sin in the Fleſh of Chriſt. He bare our Sins IN his own Body on the Tree. Rom. 8, 3. 1. Pet. 2. 24.

I would only give thee this Caution, not Sin in the nature of Sin; Sin was not ſo in the Fleſh of Chriſt, but Sin in the Natural Puniſhment of it, to wit, Guilt, and the Chaſtiſing Hand of Juſtice. He was Wounded for our Tranſgreſſions, he was bruiſed for our Iniquities: The Chaſtiſements of our Peace were upon him, and by his Stripes we are healed. Iſa. 53.

Look then upon Chriſt crucified to be as the Sin of the World, as if he only had broken the Law; which done, behold him perfectly innocent in himſelf, and ſo conclude, that for the Tranſgreſſion of God's People he was ſtricken: That when the Lord made him to be Sin, He made Him to be ſin FOR US.

He was made a Curſe for us. 42.

FOurthly, As he was made Fleſh under the Law, and alſo Sin; ſo he was made a Curſe for us. Chriſt hath redeemed us from the Curſe of the Law, being made a Curſe for us; as it is written, Curſed is every one that hangeth on a Tree. This Sentence is taken out of Moſes, being paſſed there upon them that for Sin are worthy of death. And if a Man have committed a Sin worthy of death, and thou hang him on a Tree, his Body ſhall not remain all night upon the Tree, but thou ſhalt in any wiſe bury him that Day, for he that is hanged is accurſed of God. By this Sentence Paul concludeth that Jeſus Chriſt was juſtly hanged, becauſe Sin worthy of Death was upon him. Sin, not of his own, but ours. Since then he took our ſins, he muſt be curſed of God; for ſin is ſin where-ever it lies, and juſtice is juſtice where-ever it finds it: wherefore ſince Jeſus Chriſt will bear our ſin, he muſt be numbred with the Tranſgreſſors, and counted worthy to die the Death.

He that committeth Sin is worthy of Death: This, though Chriſt did not perſonally do, his Members, his Body, which is his Church, did: and ſince he would undertake for them with God, and ſtand in their ſins before the Eyes of his Juſtice; he muſt die the Death by the Law.

Sin and the Curſe cannot be ſevered. Sin muſt be followed with the Curſe of God: ſin therefore being removed from us to the Back of Chriſt, thither goes alſo the Curſe; for if ſin be found upon him, he is the Perſon worthy to die, worthy by our Sins. Wherefore Paul here ſetteth forth Chriſt clothed with our ſins; and ſo taking from us the Guilt and Puniſhment. What Puniſhment, but the Wrath and Diſpleaſure of God. Chriſt hath redeemed us from the Curſe of the Law, being made a Curſe for us.

43. In this Word [Curſe] are two things comprized.

1. The Reality of ſin, for there can be no Curſe where there is no ſin; either of the Perſons own, or made to be his by his own Conſent or the Imputation of Divine Juſtice. And ſince ſins are made to be Chriſt's by Imputation, they are his, though not naturally, yet really, and conſequently the Wages due: He hath made him to be ſin; he was made a Curſe for us. 2. This word Curſe comprizeth therefore the Puniſhment of ſin, that Puniſhment properly due to ſin from the Hand of God's Juſtice, which Puniſhment ſtandeth in three things.

1. In charging ſin upon the Body and Soul of the Perſon concerned: and hence we read Iſa.53.10. Heb. 10. 10. that both the Body and Soul of Chriſt, were made an Offering for Sin. 2. The Puniſhment ſtandeth in God's inflicting of the juſt merits of ſin upon him that ſtandeth charged therewith, and that is Death in its own nature and ſtrength; to wit, Death with the Sting thereof: The Sting of Death is Sin. This Death did Chriſt die becauſe he died for our Sins. 3. The ſorrows and pains of this Death therefore muſt be undergone by Jeſus Chriſt. Now there are divers ſorrows in Death.

1. Such ſorrows as Bruits are ſubject to. 2. Such ſorrows as Perſons are ſubject to, that ſtand in ſin before God.

3. Such ſorrows as thoſe undergo who are ſwallowed up of the Curſe and Wrath of God for ever.

Now ſo much of all kind of Sorrow as the Imputation of our Sin, could juſtly bring from the Hand of Divine Juſtice, ſo much of it he had.

1. He had Death. 2. He had the ſting of Death, which is ſin. 3. He was forſaken of God, but could not by any means have thoſe ſorrows which they have that are everlaſtingly ſwallowed up of them. Act. 2. 24. It was not poſſible that he ſhould be holden of it.

For where ſin is charged and born, there muſt of neceſſity follow the Wrath and Curſe of God. Now where the Wrath and Curſe of God is, there muſt of neceſſity follow the Effects, the Natural Effects.

I ſay, the Natural Effects: to wit, the Sence, the ſorrowful Sence of the Diipleaſure of an Infinite Majeſty, and his Chaſtiſements for the ſin that hath provoked him.

There are Effects Natural, and Effects Accidental; thoſe Accidental, are ſuch as flow from our weakneſs, whilſt we wreſtle with the Judgment of God, to wit, helliſh fear, deſpair, rage, blaſphemy, and the like: Theſe were not incident to Jeſus Chriſt, he being in his own Perſon every way perfect. Neither did he always endure the Natural Effects; his Merits relieved, and delivered him. God Acts 2.24. looſed the pains of death, becauſe it was not poſſible he ſhould be holden of it.

Chriſt then was made a Curſe for us, for he did bear our ſin; the Puniſhment therefore, from the Revenging Hand of God, muſt needs fall upon him.

Wherefore, by theſe four things, we ſee how Chriſt became our Saviour, he took hold of our Nature, was born under the Law, was made to be ſin, and the Accurſed of God for us. And obſerve it; all this as I ſaid before, was the Handy-Work of God. God made him Fleſh, made him under the Law, God made him Iſa. 53. to be ſin, and alſo a Curſe for us. The Lord bruiſed him, the Lord put him to grief, the Lord made his Soul an Offering for Sin: Not for that he hated him, conſidering him in his own harmleſs, innocent, and bleſſed Perſon; for he was daily his Delight; but by an Act of grace to usward, were our Iniquities laid upon him, and he in our ſtead, bruiſed and chaſtiſed for them. God loved us, and made him a Curſe for us. He was made a Curſe for us, That Gal. 3. 13, the Bleſſing of Abraham might come on the Gen- 14, 15. tiles, through Faith in Jeſus Chriſt.

Further Demonſtration of this Truth. 44.

BEfore I paſs this Truth, I will preſent thee (Courteous Reader) with two or three Demonſtrations for its further confirmation.

Firſt, That Chriſt did bear our Sin and Curſe is clear, becauſe he died, and that without a Mediator.

1. He died, Death is the Wages of Sin. Now Rom. 6. 23. if death be the Wages of ſin, and that be true, that Chriſt did die, and not ſin, either the Courſe of Juſtice is perverted, or elſe he died for our Sins; there was no cauſe of Death in him, Act. 13. 28. yet he died. He did no Evil, Guile was not found in his Mouth, yet he received the Wa- 1 Cor. 15. ges of ſin. Sin therefore, though not of his 1, 2, 3. own, was found upon him, and laid to his Gal. 1. 4. Charge, becauſe he died. Chriſt died for our ſins, 1. Pet. 2. Chriſt gave himſelf for our ſins. 22.

He then that will conclude that Chriſt did not bear our Sin, chargeth God fooliſhly, for delivering him up to Death: for laying on him the Wages, when in no ſence he deſerved the ſame. Yea he overthroweth the whole Goſpel, for that hangeth on THIS hinge; Chriſt died for our ſins.

Object. But all that die, do not bear the Curſe of God for Sin.

Anſ. But all that die without a Mediator do: Angels died the Curſed Death, becauſe Chriſt took not hold of them; and they for whom Chriſt never prayeth, they die the curſed death, for they periſh everlaſtingly in the unutterable Torments of Hell. Chriſt too died that Death which is the Proper Wages of ſin, for he had none to ſtand for him. I looked, ſaith he, and there was none to help, and I wondred that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own Arm brought Salvation unto me. And he ſaw that there was no man: and he wondred that there was no Interceſſor, therefore his Arm brought Sal- Iſa. 63. 5. vation unto him, and his Righteouſneſs ſuſtained him. Iſa. 59. 16.

Chriſt then died, or endured the Wages of Sin, and that without an Interceſſor, without one between God and he: He grappled immediately with the Eternal Juſtice of God, who who inflicted on him Death, the Wages of Sin: there was no man to hold off the Hand of God; Juſtice had his full blow at him, and made him a Curſe for ſin. He died for ſin without a Mediator, he died the Curſed Death.

45. Secondly, A Second thing that demonſtrateth that Chriſt died the Curſed Death for ſin: It is the Frame of Spirit that he was in at the time that he was to be taken.

Never was poor mortal ſo beſet with the apprehenſions of approaching Death as was this Lord Jeſus Chriſt; Amazement beyond meaſure, Sorrow that exceeded ſeized upon his Soul. My Soul, ſaith he, is exceeding ſorrowful even unto Death. And he began, ſaith Mark, to be ſore amazed and to be very heavy. Matth. 26. 38. Mark 14. 34.

Add to this, That Jeſus Chriſt was better able to grapple with Death, even better able to do it alone, than the whole World join'd all together.

1. He was anointed with the Spirit without Meaſure, Joh. 3. 34. 2. He had all Grace perfect in him, John 1. 16. 3. Never any had ſo much of his Fathers Love as himſelf, Prov. 8. 23, 30. 4. Never none ſo harmleſs, and without ſin as he, and conſequently never Man had ſo good a Conſcience as he, Heb. 7. 26. 5. Never none prepared ſuch a ſtock of good Works to bear him Company at the Hour of Death as he. 6. Never none had greater aſſurance of being with the Father Eternally in the Heavens than he. And yet behold, when HE comes to die, how weak is he, how amazed at Death, how heavy, how exceeding ſorrowful; and I ſay, no cauſe aſſigned but the Approach of Death.

Alas! how often is it ſeen, that we poor Sinners can laugh at Deſtruction when it cometh: yea, and rejoice exceedingly when we find the Grave, looking upon Death as a part of our Portion; yea, as that which will be a means of our preſent relief and help, 1 Cor. 3. 22. Joh. 3. 22.

This Jeſus Chriſt could not do, conſidered as dying for our Sin, but the nearer Death, the more heavy and oppreſſed with the thoughts of the Revenging Hand of God. Wherefore he falls into an Agony, and ſweats; not after the common rate as we do when Death is ſevering Body and Soul. His Sweat was as it were great drops (Clodders) of Blood falling down to the Ground. Luke. 22. 44.

What, I ſay, ſhould be the Reaſon, but that death aſſaulted him with his Sting. If Jeſus Chriſt had been to die for his Vertues only, doubtleſs he would have born it lightly, and ſo he did as he died, bearing Witneſs to the Truth, He endured the Croſs, and deſpiſed the Shame. How have the Martyrs deſpiſed death, and as it were, not been careful of that, having peace with God by Jeſus Chriſt, ſcorning the moſt Cruel Torments that Hell and Men could deviſe and invent; but Jeſus Chriſt could not do ſo, as he was a Sacrifice for Sin, he died for ſin, he was made a Curſe for us. O my Brethren, Chriſt died many Deaths at once, he made his Grave with the Wicked, and with the Rich in his Death. Look how many thouſands ſhall be ſaved, ſo many deaths did Jeſus die; yet it was but once he died. Hebr. 12. 1, 2.

He died thy death, and my death, and ſo many deaths as all our Sins deſerved, who ſhall be ſaved from the Wrath to come.

Now to feign that theſe Sorrows, and this Blood Agony was not real, but in ſhew only; What greater Condemnation can be paſſed upon Jeſus Chriſt, who loved to do all things in the moſt unfeigned Simplicity? It was therefore becauſe of ſin; the ſin that was put into the death he died, and the Curſe of God that was due to ſin; That, that made death ſo bitter to Jeſus Chriſt; 'tis Chriſt that died. The Apoſtle ſpeaks as if never any died but Chriſt, nor indeed did there, ſo wonderful a Death as he. Death conſidered ſimply, as it is a deprivation of natural life could not have theſe Effects in a Perſon, perſonally more Righteous than an Angel. Yea, even Carnal Wicked Men not awakened in their Conſcience, how ſecurely can they die! It muſt therefore alſo be concluded, that the Sorrows and Agony of Jeſus Chriſt came from a higher cauſe, even from the Guilt of ſin, and from the Curſe of God that was now approaching for that Sin. Rom. 8.

It cannot be attributed to the Fear of Men, their Terrour could not make him afraid; that was contrary to his Doctrine, and did not become the Dignity of his Perſon; it was ſin, ſin, ſin, and the Curſe due to ſin.

46. Thirdly, It is evident that Chriſt did bear and die the Curſed Death for ſin; from the Carriage and Diſpenſation of God towards him.

Firſt from the Carriage of God. God now becomes as an Enemy to him.

1. He forſakes him. My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? Yea, the Sence of the Loſs of God's comfortable Preſence abode with him even till he gave up the Ghoſt. 2. He dealeth with him as with one that hath ſinned, he chaſtiſeth him, he bruiſeth him, he ſtriketh and ſmiteth him, Iſa. 53. and was pleaſed, that is, his Juſtice was ſatisfied, in ſo doing. It pleaſed the Lord to bruiſe him, he hath put him to grief.

Theſe things could not be, had he only conſidered him in his own Perſonal ſtanding, (where was the Righteous forſaken.) Without the conſideration of ſin, he doth not willingly afflict, nor grieve the Children of Men; that is, not out of pleaſure, or without ſufficient cauſe.

Jeſus Chriſt then, ſince he is under this with-drawing, chaſtiſing, bruiſing, and afflicting diſpleaſure of God, he is all that time under ſin, under our ſins, and therefore thus accurſed of God, his God.

Secondly, Not only the Carriage of God, but his Diſpenſations, his viſible Diſpenſations, plainly declare that he ſtood before God in our Sins, Vengeance ſuffered him not to live. Wherefore God delivered him up. He ſpared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all. Rom. 8. 32.

1. He delivered him into the Hands of Men, Mar. 9. 31. 2. He was delivered into the Hands of Sinners, Luk. 24. 7. 3. He was delivered unto Death, Rom. 4. 25. 4. Yea, ſo delivered up, as that they both had him to put him to death, and God left him for that purpoſe in their Hands: yea, was ſo far off from delivering him, that he gave way to all things that had a tendency to take his Life from the Earth.

Now may Men do what they will with him, he was delivered to their Will.

1. Judas may ſell him. 2. Peter may deny him. 3. All his Diſciples forſake him. 4. The Enemy apprehends him, binds him, they have him away like a Thief to Caiaphas the High-Prieſt, in whoſe Houſe he is mocked, ſpit upon, his Beard is twitched from his Cheeks; now they buffet him and ſcornfully bow the Knee before him: Yea, his Viſage is ſo marred more than any Mans, and his Form more than the Sons of Men.

Iſa. 52.13, 14, 15.

Now he is ſent to the Governour, defaced with Blows and Blood; who delivereth him into the Hand of his Souldiers; they Whip him, Crown him with Thorns, and ſtick the Points of the Thorns faſt in his Temples, by a Blow with a Staff in their Hand: Now is he made a Spectacle to the People, and then ſent away to Herod, who with his Men of War ſet him at naught; no God appearing for his Help.

In fine, they at laſt condemn him to Death, even to the Death of the Croſs, where they hang him up by Wounds made through his Hands and his Feet, between the Earth and the Heavens, where he hanged for the ſpace of Six Hours, to wit, from Nine in the Morning, till Three in the Afternoon. No God yet appears for his help, while he hangs there; ſome rail at him, others wagg their Heads, others tauntingly ſay, He ſaved others, himſelf he cannot ſave; ſome divide his Raiment, caſting lots for his Garments before his Face, others mockingly bid him come down from the Croſs, and when he deſireth ſuccour, they give him Vinegar to drink. No God yet appears for his help.

Now the Earth quakes, the Rocks are rent, the Sun becomes black, and Jeſus ſtill cries out that he was forſaken of God; and preſently boweth his Head and dies: read Matth. 26, 27. Mar. 14, 15. and Luk. 22, 23. John 18, 19.

And for all this there is no cauſe aſſigned from God, but Sin. He was wounded for our Tranſgreſſions, he was bruiſed for our Iniquities, and the chaſtiſement of our Peace was upon him, and by his Stripes we are healed.

Iſa. 53.

The Sum then is, That Jeſus Chriſt the Lord by taking part of our Fleſh, became a publick Perſon, not doing, nor dying in a private Capacity, but in the room and ſtead of Sinners, whoſe Sin deſerved Death and the Curſe of God: all which Jeſus Chriſt bare in his own Body upon the Tree. I conclude then, that my Sin is already Crucified, and accurſed in the Death and Curſe Chriſt under-went.

47. I come now to ſome Objections.

Objection Firſt.

CHriſt never was a Sinner, God never ſuppoſed him to be a Sinner, neither did our Sins become really his, God never reputed him ſo to have been; therefore hate or puniſh him as a Sinner, he could not; for no falſe Judgment can belong to the Lord.

1. Anſ. That Chriſt was not a Sinner perſonally, by acts, or doings of his own, is granted, and in this ſence 'tis true, That God did never ſuppoſe him to be a Sinner, nor puniſhed him as ſuch a Sinner, nor did he really (if by really you underſtand naturally) become our Sin, nor did God ever repute him ſo. 2. But that Chriſt ſtood before God in our Sins, and that God did not only ſuppoſe him ſo to ſtand, but ſet him in them, put them upon him, and counted them as his own, is ſo true, that he cannot at preſent be a Chriſtian that denies it. The Lord hath laid upon him the Iniquities of us all. 3. So then, though God did not puniſh him for ſin of his own committing, yet he puniſhed him for ſin of our committing. The Juſt ſuffered for the unjuſt. 4. Therefore it is true, That though Chriſt did never really become ſin of his own, he did really become our Sin, did really become our Curſe for ſin: If this be denyed, it follows that he became our ſin but feignedly, that he was made our Curſe, or a Curſe for us, but in appearance, ſhew, or in diſſimulation; but no ſuch action or work can proceed of the Lord. He did then really lay our ſin, and his Curſe upon him for our ſin.

Iſa. 53. 1 Pet. 2. 22. 1 Pet. 3. 18

2. Object. But if Chriſt indeed hath ſuffered for our Sins, and endured for them that Curſe, that of juſtice is due thereto: then hath he alſo endured for us the proper torments of Hell, for they are the Wages of our Sins. 48.

Anſ. Many things might be ſaid in Anſwer to this Objection. But briefly;

1. What God chargeth upon the Soul for ſin, is one thing, and what followeth upon that Charge, is another. 2. A difference in the Perſon ſuffering, may make a difference in the Conſequences that follow upon the Charge.

Let us then conſider of both theſe things.

1. The Charge is Sin, God charged him with our Sins. 2. The Perſon then ſtands guilty before the Judgment of God.

The Conſequences are:

1. The Perſon charged ſuſtains, or ſuffereth the Wrath of God. 2. This Wrath of God is expreſſed, and inflicted on Body and Soul.

The Conſequences are:

1. God forſaketh the Perſon charged, and being left, if he cannot ſtand, he falleth under the Power of guilt and horror of the ſame.

If the Perſon utterly fall under this Charge as not being able to wreſtle with, and overcome this Wrath of God, then deſpair, horror of Hell, rage, blaſphemy, darkneſs, and damnable anguiſh immediately ſwallow him up, and he lieth for ever and ever in the Pains of Hell, a Monument of Eternal Vengeance.

Now that Chriſt underwent the Wrath of God 'tis evident, becauſe he bare our Curſe; That God forſook him, he did with ſtrong crying and tears acknowledg; and therefore that he was under the Soul-afflicting ſenſe of the loſs of God's God's Favour, and under the ſenſe of his Diſpleaſure muſt needs flow from the Premiſes.

But now, becauſe Chriſt Jeſus the Lord, was a Perſon infinitely differing from all others that fall under the Wrath of God: therefore thoſe things that flow from damned Sinners, could not flow from him.

Acts. 2. 27. 1. Deſpair would not riſe in his Heart, for his Fleſh did reſt in hope; and ſaid even when he ſuffered, thou wilt not leave my Soul in Hell.

2. The Everlaſtingneſs of the Puniſhment therefore, not the Terrors that accompany ſuch, could not faſten upon him; for he knew at laſt that God would Juſtifie him, or approve of his Works that they were Meritorious.

And mark, Everlaſting Puniſhment is not the proper Wages of Sin, but under a ſuppoſition that the Perſon ſuffering be not able to pay the Debt. Thou ſhalt not depart thence till thou haſt paid the very laſt Mite.

2. The difference then of the Perſons ſuffering may make a difference, though not in the Nature of the Puniſhment; yet in the Duration and Conſequences of it.

1. Chriſt under the Sentence, was as to his own perſonal Acts only, altogether innocent; the Damned, only altogether Sinners.

2. Chriſt had in him, even then the utmoſt Perfection of all Graces and Vertues; but the Damned, the Perfection of Sin and Vileneſs.

3. Chriſt's Humanity had ſtill Union with his God-head; the Damned Union only with Sin.

4. Now an Innocent Perſon, perfect in all Graces, as really God as Man, can better wreſtle with the Curſe for Sin, than either ſinful Men or Angels.

1. While they deſpair, Chriſt hopes. 2. While they blaſpheme, Chriſt ſubmits. 3. While they rage, Chriſt juſtifies God. 4. While they ſink under the burthen of Sin and Wrath, Chriſt recovereth by vertue of his Worthineſs: Thou wilt not leave my Soul in Hell, neither wilt thou ſuffer thy Holy one to ſee Corruption. He was Gods Holy one, and his Holineſs prevailed.

So that it follows not, That becauſe Chriſt did undergo the Curſe due to our Sins, he therefore muſt have thoſe accidental Conſequences which are found to accompany damned Souls.

49 3. Object. But the Scripture ſaith, That the Wages of Sin, is everlaſting Puniſhment. Depart from me ye curſed into Everlaſting fire, prepared for the Devil and his Angels, Matt. 25.

Anſ. This Objection is partly anſwered already, in the Anſwer to that foregoing. But further;

Mat. 5. 25. Luke 12. 58, 59. 1. Conſider, The Wages of Sin is Death, and puniſhment under the Wrath of God. Till thoſe that dye the Death for Sin, have paid the utmoſt Farthing.

2. So then the Everlaſtingneſs of the Puniſhment lyeth here; if the Perſon ſuffering be not able to make amends to Juſtice for the Sins for which he ſuffereth; elſe Juſtice neither would, nor could, becauſe 'tis juſt, keep ſuch ſtill under puniſhment.

3. The reaſon then why fallen Angels, and damned Souls have an everlaſtingneſs of Puniſhment allotted them, is becauſe, by what they ſuffer: they cannot ſatisfie the juſtice of God.

4. The Concluſion then is, though the Rebukes of God for Sin by death and puniſhment after, be the Rebukes of Eternal Vengeance; yet the Eternity of that Puniſhment, is for want of merit: could the Damned merit their own Deliverance, Juſtice would let them go.

5. It is one thing therefore to ſuffer for ſin, by the ſtroke of Eternal Juſtice, and another thing to abide for ever a Sufferer there: Chriſt did the Firſt, the Damned do the Second.

6. His Riſing therefore from the Dead the third Day, doth nothing invalidate his Sufferings, but rather ſheweth the Power of his Merit. And here I would ask a Queſtion, Had Chriſt Jeſus been more the Object of Faith, if weakneſs and endleſs Infirmity had kept him under the Curſe, than by riſing again from the Dead, want of merit cauſing the one, ſufficience thereof cauſing the other?

7. If Men will not believe that Chriſt hath removed the Curſe, becauſe he is riſen again, they would much more ſtrongly have doubted it, had he been ſtill in the Grave. But O amazing darkneſs! to make that an Argument, that his Sufferings wanted Merit, which to God himſelf is ſufficient proof that he hath purged our Sins for ever. For this Man after he had offered up one ſacrifice for Sins for ever, ſat down on the Right Hand of God. Heb. 10. 12.

50. 4. Object. But the Scripture ſaith, Chriſt is our Example, and that in his very Death. 1 Pet. 2. 21.

Anſ. Chriſt in his Sufferings and Death, is both Sacrifice and Example.

1. A Sacrifice. Chriſt our Paſſover is Sacrifice for us. And again, He gave himſelf for us, an Offering, and a Sacrifice to God for a ſweet ſmelling Savor. And thus he made Reconciliation for Iniquity, and brought in Everlaſting Righteouſneſs, 1 Cor. 5. 8. Epheſ. 5. 1, 2. Dan. 9. 2. 2ly. He was alſo in his Sufferings Exemplary, and that in ſeveral particulars. 1. In his meek Deportment, while he was apprehended, Iſa. 53. 7. 2. In doing them good that ſought his Life, Luk. 22. 50, 51. 3. In his Praying for his Enemies when they were in their out-rage. Luk 23. 34. 4. When he was reviled, he reviled not again; when he ſuffered he threatned not, but committed himſelf to him that judgeth Righteouſly. 1 Pet. 2. 23.

In theſe reſpects I ſay, he was Exemplary, and brought honour to his Profeſſion by his good Behaviour: and O how Beautiful would Chriſtianity be in the Eyes of Men, if the Diſciples of our Lord would more imitate him therein!

But what? becauſe Chriſt is our Pattern, is he not our Paſſover? or, becauſe we ſhould in theſe things follow his Steps; died he not for our Sins? Thus to conclude, would not only only argue thee very Erroneous, but ſuch a Concluſion would overthrow the Goſpel; it being none other but a great ſlight of Satan, to ſhut out the whole by a Part, and to make us Blaſphemers, while we plead for Holineſs.

Look then upon the Death of Chriſt under a double Conſideration.

1. As he ſuffered from the Hand of God.
2. As he ſuffered from the Hand of Men.

Now as he ſuffered by God's Hand, ſo he ſuffered for ſin; but as he ſuffered from Men, ſo he ſuffered for righteouſneſs ſake.

Obſerve then, That as he ſuffered for ſin, ſo no MAN took away his Life; but as he ſuffered for righteouſneſs, ſo THEY ſlew him by wicked Hands: What is it then? Chriſt muſt needs have ſuffered, and the Wiſdom of God had ſo ordained, That Acts 3.18. thoſe things which God before had ſhewed by the Mouth of all his Prophets, that Chriſt ſhould ſuffer, he hath ſo fulfilled.

Thus therefore we ought to diſtinguiſh of the Cauſes, and ends of the Death of Chriſt.

51 Again, As Chriſt ſuffered for ſin, ſo he would neither be taken at mans pleaſure, nor die at mans time.

1. Not at mans pleaſure, and hence it was that they ſo often ſought his Life in vain, for his Hour was not yet come; to wit, the Hour in which he was to be made a Sacrifice for our Sin, John 13. Chap. 17. 1, 2. Chap. 18. 1, 2.

2. Not at their Time; but contrary to all expectation, when the due time was come, he bowed his Head and gave up the Ghoſt, John 19. 30.

And for this laſt work he had power given him of God, that is, power to dye when he would. I have power, ſaid he, to lay down my Life, and I have power to take it again: This Power never Man had before. This made the Centurion wonder, and made Pontius Pilate marvel: And indeed well they might, for it was as great a Miracle as any he wrought in his Life. It demonſtrated him to be the Son of God, Mar. 15. 38, 39. The Centurion knowing that according to nature he might have lived longer, concluded therefore that his dying at that inſtant was not, but miraculouſly. And when he ſaw that he ſo cryed out, and gave up the Ghoſt, he ſaid, Truly this Man was the Son of God.

And the Reaſon why he had power to dye was, That he might offer his Offering willingly, and at the ſeaſon.

Levit. 1. 3. 1. Willingly. If his Offering be a Burnt-Sacrifice of the Lord, let him offer a Male without blemiſh, he ſhall offer it of his own voluntary Will, at the Door of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord.

2. He muſt offer it at the Seaſon. Thou ſhalt keep this Ordinance (the Paſſover) in his Seaſon. Exod. 13. 10.

Now both theſe Offerings having immediate reſpect to the Offering of the Body of Chriſt for ſin (for he came in the room of all burnt Sacrifices) the Paſſover was alſo a Type of him, Heb. 10. 3, 4, 5, 6. 1 Cor. 5. 7, 8. Therefore, he being now the Prieſt as well as Sacrifice, muſt have Power and Will to offer his Sacrifice with acceptation; and this the Scripture teſtifieth he did, where it ſaith, In due time Chriſt dyed for the Ungodly. In due time, that is, at the time appointed, at the acceptable time. Rom. 5. 8, 9.

Thou muſt therefore, unleſs thou art willing to be deceived, look upon the Sufferings of Chriſt under a double Conſideration, and diſtinguiſh between his Sufferings as our Example, and his Suffering for our Sins. And know, that as he ſuffered as our Example, ſo he ſuffered only for righteouſneſs ſake from the Hands of wicked Men; but as he ſuffered for our Sins, ſo he ſuffered (as being by God reputed wicked) the Puniſhment that was due to ſin, even the dreadful Curſe of God: Not that Chriſt dyed two deaths, one after another, but he dyed at the ſame time upon a double account, for his Righteouſneſs ſake from Men; for our ſins from the Hand of God. And, as I ſaid before, had he only ſuffered for righteouſneſs ſake, Death had not ſo ſo amazed him, nor had he been ſo exceeding heavy in the Thoughts of it; that had never put him into an Agony, nor made him ſweat as it were, great drops of Blood. Beſides, when men ſuffer only for righteouſneſs ſake, God doth not uſe to hide his Face from them, to forſake them, and make them accurſed; But Chriſt hath delivered us from the Curſe of the Law, being made a Curſe for us.

Object. But if indeed Chriſt hath paid the full price for us by his Death, in ſuffering the Puniſhment that we ſhould have done: wherefore is the Scripture ſo ſilent, as not to declare that by his Death he hath made Satisfaction? 52

Anſ. No Man may teach God Knowledge, he knoweth beſt how to deliver his mind in ſuch words and terms as beſt agree with his Eternal Wiſdom, and the Conſciences of theſe that are truly deſirous of Salvation, being over-burdened with the guilt of Sin. Perhaps the Word ſatisfaction will hardly be found in the Bible; and where is it ſaid in ſo many words, God is diſſatisfied with our Sins? yet 'tis ſufficiently manifeſt, that there is nothing that God hateth but ſin, and Sinners for the ſake of ſin. What meant he by turning Adam out of Paradiſe, by drowning the Old World, by burning up Sodom with Fire and Brimſtone from Heaven? What meant he by drowning of Pharoah, by cauſing the Ground to ſwallow up Corah and his Company, and by his deſtroying Iſrael in the Wilderneſs, if not to ſhew that he was diſſatisfied with Sin? That God is alſo ſatisfied, yea, more than ſatisfied by Chriſt's ſufferings for our Sins, is apparent: For granting that he dyed for them, as theſe Scriptures declare, Iſa. 53. 1 Cor. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4. Gal. 1. 4. 1 Cor. 5. 8. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Gal. 3. 13. 1 Pet. 2. 24. Chap. 3. 18. 1 John 2. 2. Chap. 3. 16. Chap. 4. 14. Revel. 1. 5. Chap. 5. 9. Iſa. 49. 4, 5, 6.

It is apparent, becauſe it is ſaid; That God ſmelled in that Offering of the Body of Chriſt Chriſt for our ſins, a ſweet ſmelling ſavor. He gave himſelf for us an Offering, and a Sacrifice to God for a ſweet ſmelling ſavor. 2. It is apparent, becauſe it is ſaid expreſly, That God for Chriſt's ſake doth now forgive. Be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Chriſt's ſake hath forgiven you.

3. It is apparent that God is ſatisfied with Chriſt's Blood for our ſins, becauſe he hath declared, that he can juſtifie thoſe that believe in, or rely upon that Blood for Life, in a way of Juſtice and Righteouſneſs. Being juſtified freely by his Grace through the Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt, whom God hath ſet forth to be a Propitiation through faith in his Blood, to declare his Righteouſneſs for the Remiſſion of ſins, that are paſt through the forbearance of God. To declare, I ſay, at this time his Righteouſneſs, that he might be juſt, and the Juſtifier of him that believeth in Jeſus.

Now, I ſay, to object againſt ſuch plain Teſtimonies, what is it but,

1. To deny that Chriſt died for ſin; or to conclude, 2. That having ſo done, he is ſtill in the Grave: Or, 3. That there is no ſuch thing as ſin: Or, 4. No ſuch thing as Revenging Juſtice in God againſt it: Or, 5. That we muſt die our ſelves for our ſins: Or, 6. That ſin may be pardoned without a ſatisfaction: Or, 7. That every man may merit his own Salvation.

But without ſhedding of Blood there is no Remiſſion, Heb. 9. 22.

To avoid therefore theſe curſed Abſurdities, it muſt be granted that Jeſus Chriſt by his Death did make ſatisfaction for ſin.

But the word ſatisfaction may not be uſed by the Holy Ghoſt, perhaps, for that it is too ſhort and ſcanty a Word to expreſs the Bleſſedneſs that comes to Sinners by the Blood of Chriſt.

1. To make ſatisfaction, amounts to no more than compleatly to anſwer a legal Demand for harms and injuries done. Now this when done to the full, leaveth the Offender there where he was before he committed the Injury. Now if Chriſt had done no more than this, he had only paid our Debt, but had not obtained eternal redemption for us.

2. For a full Satisfaction given by this Man for harms done by another, may neither obtain the Love of the Perſon offended, nor the ſmalleſt Gift which the Perſon offending hath not deſerved. Suppoſe I owe to this Man ten thouſand Talents, and another ſhould pay him every Farthing, there remaineth over and above, by that compleat Satisfaction, not one ſingle Half-penny for me. Chriſt hath therefore done more than to make Satisfaction for ſin by his Blood. He hath alſo made us Kings and Prieſts to God and his Father, and we ſhall reign with him for ever and ever.

53. But take a few more Scriptures for the Proof of the Doctrine afore aſſerted.

Col. 1. 14. Firſt, We have Redemption through his Blood. 1. Redemption from Sin, Epheſ. 1. 7. 2. Redemption from Death, Heb. 2. 14, 15. Hoſ. 13, 14. 3. Redemption from Satan, Heb. 2. 15. 4. Redemption from the World, Gal. 1. 4. 5. Redemption to God, Revel. 5. 9. 6. Eternal Redemption. Neither by the Blood of Goats and Calves, but by his own Blood, he entered in once into the Holy Place, having obtained Eternal Redemption for us. Heb. 9. 12.

Secondly, We are ſaid alſo to be waſhed in his Blood.

1. Our Perſons are waſhed; He loved US, and waſhed US from our Sins in his own Blood, Rev. 1. 5. 2. His Blood waſheth alſo our Performances, Our Robes are waſhed, and made white in the Blood of the Lamb. Revel. 7. 14.

Thirdly, We are ſaid to be purged by his Blood.

1. Purged from Sin before God. When he had by himſelf purged our Sins, he ſat down on the Right Hand of God. Heb. 1. 3. 2. Purged from evil Conſciences. How much more ſhall the Blood of Chriſt, who through the Eternal Spirit offered himſelf without ſpot to God; purge your Conſcience from dead Works, to ſerve the Living God? Heb. 9. 14.

Fourthly, We are ſaid to be made nigh to God by his Blood. But now in Chriſt Jeſus, ye who ſometimes were afar off, are made nigh by the Blood of Chriſt. Epheſ. 2. 13.

Fifthly, Peace is ſaid to be made by his Blood.

1. Peace with God, Col. 1. 20. 2. Peace of Conſcience, Heb. 10. 19, 20, 21, 22. 3. Peace one with another, Epheſ. 2. 14.

Sixthly, We are ſaid to be juſtified by his Blood. Much more being now juſtified by his Blood, we ſhall be ſaved from Wrath through him. Rom. 5. 9.

Juſtified, that is Acquitted:

1. Acquitted before God, Epheſ. 5. 25, 26. 2. Acquitted before Angels, Mat. 28. 5. 3. Acquitted by the Law, Rom. 3. 21, 22, 23. 4. Acquitted in the Court of Conſcience, Heb. 9. 14.

Seventhly we are ſaid to be ſaved by his Blood, Rom. 5. 8, 9. Eighthly, We are ſaid to be reconciled by his Blood, Col. 1. 20, 21, 22.

Ninthly, We are ſaid to he ſanctified by his Blood, Heb. 13. 12.

Tenthly, we are ſaid to be admitted into the Holieſt by his Blood, Heb. 10. 19.

Eleventhly, We are ſaid to have Eternal Redemption by his Blood, Heb. 9. 12. Yea Laſtly, This Blood which was once ſpilt upon the Croſs, will be the burden of our Song in Heaven it ſelf for ever and ever, Revel. 5. 9.

Now if we be redeemed, waſhed, purged, made nigh to God, have peace with God; if we ſtand juſt before God, are ſaved, reconciled, ſanctified, admitted into the Holieſt; if we have eternal Redemption by his Blood, and if his Blood will be the burden of our Song for ever: then hath Chriſt paid the full price for us by his Death, then hath he done more than made ſatisfaction for our Sins.

Several Demonſtrations more, proving the former Doctrine.

54. BUt before I conclude this Anſwer, I will give you nine or ten more undeniable Demonſtrations, to ſatisfy you, if God will bleſs them to you, in the Truth of this great Doctrine, to wit, That Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done hath paid the full Price to God for the Souls of Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them. The

The Firſt Demonſtration.

55. AND Firſt, I begin with his Reſurrection: THAT God that delivered him up unto death, and that made him a Curſe for Sin; THAT God raiſed him up from the Dead.

Acts 3. 15. chap. 13. 30. But God raiſed him from the Dead. Now conſidering, that at his Death he was charged with our Sins, and accurſed to Death for our Sins: That Juſtice that delivered him up for them, muſt have amends made to him, before he acquit him from them; for there can be no change in Juſtice. Had he found him in our Sins in the Grave, as he found him in them upon the Tree, (for he had them in his Body on the Tree, 1 Pet. 2. 24.) he had left him there as he left him upon the Tree: yea, he had as ſurely Rotted in the Grave, as ever he died on the Tree. But when he viſited Chriſt in the Grave, he found him a Holy, Harmleſs, Undefiled, and Spotleſs Chriſt, and therefore he raiſed him up from the Dead.

Acts 2. 24. He raiſed him up from the Dead, having looſed the Pains of Death; becauſe it was not poſſible that he ſhould be holden of it.

Queſt. But why not poſſible now to be holden of death?

Anſ. Becauſe, the Cauſe was removed, Sin was the Cauſe, he died for our Sins, he gave himſelf for our Sins; Theſe Sins brought him to Death: But when God that had made him a Curſe for us, looked upon him into the Grave, he found him there without ſin, and therefore looſed the Pains of Death; for Juſtice ſaith, This is not poſſible, becauſe not lawful, that he who lieth ſinleſs before God, ſhould be ſwallowed up of Death; therefore he raiſed him up.

1 Cor. 15. 1. 2, 3. Gal. 1. 4.

56. Queſt. But what did he do with our Sins? for he had them upon his Back.

Anſ. 'Tis ſaid he TOOK them away: Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the ſin of the World. 'Tis ſaid he PUT them away. Now once in the End of the World hath he appeared to put away ſin by the Sacrifice of himſelf: That is, by the Merit of his undertaking he brought into the World, and ſet before the Face of God ſuch a Righteouſneſs, that out-weigheth, and goeth far beyond that Sin; and ſo did hide Sin from the ſight of God: Hence, he that is juſtified, is ſaid, to have his Sins HID, and covered. Bleſſed is the Man whoſe Tranſgreſſions are forgiven, and whoſe Sin is covered, covered with the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt. I ſpread my ſkirt over thee, and covered thy Nakedneſs, thy Sins. Chriſt Jeſus therefore, having by the Infiniteneſs of his Merit, taken away, put away, or hidden our Sins from the Face of God, therefore he raiſed him up from the Dead.

Joh. 1. 29. Heb. 9. 26. Rom. 4. 7. Ezek. 16. 8.

You find in that 16th of Leviticus mention made of two Goats, one was to be ſlain for a Sin-Offering, the other to be left alive: The Goat that was ſlain, was a Type of Chriſt's Death, the other of his Merit. Now this living Goat, HE carryed away the Sins of the People into the Land of forgetfulneſs. And Aaron ſhall lay both his Hands upon the head of the Live-Goat, and confeſs over him all the Iniquities of the Children of Iſrael, and all their Tranſgreſſions, in all their Sins, putting them upon the Head of the Goat, and ſhall ſend him away by the Hands of a fit Man into the Wilderneſs, and the Goat ſhall bear upon him all their Iniquities unto a Land not inhabited. Thus did Jeſus Chriſt bear away by the Merit of his Death, the Sins and Iniquities of them that Believe; wherefore, when God came to him in the Grave, he found him Holy and Undefiled, and raiſed him up from the Dead.

Levit. 16.

And obſerve it, As his Death was for our Sin, ſo his Riſing again was for our Diſcharge: for both in his Death and Reſurrection he immediately reſpected our Benefits; he died for us, he roſe from the Dead for us. He was delivered for our Offences, and was raiſed again for our Juſtification. By his death he carried away our ſins, by his riſing, he brought to us juſtifying righteouſneſs. Rom. 4. 25.

There are five Circumſtances alſo attending his Reſurrection, that ſhew us how well pleaſed God was with his Death. 57.

1. It muſt be ſolemnized with the Company, Attendance and Teſtimony of Angels, Mat. 28. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. Luk. 24. 3, 4, 5, 6. John 20. 11, 12. 2dly. At, or juſt upon his Reſurrection, the Graves, where many of the Saints, for whom he died, lay aſleep, did open, and they followed the Lord in full Triumph over Death. The Graves were opened, and many Bodies of Saints which ſlept aroſe, and came out of their Graves after his Reſurrection, and went into the Holy City, and appeared unto many. Matth. 27. 52.

Theſe Saints coming out of their Graves after him; what a Teſtimony is it, that he, for them, had taken away ſin, and deſtroyed him that had the Power of Death: yea, what a Teſtimony was it that he had made amends to God the Father, who granted him at his Reſurrection, to have preſently out of the Grave, Of the Price of his Blood, even the Body of many of the Saints which ſlept. He was declared to be the Son of God with Power by the Spirit of Holineſs, and the Reſurrection from the Dead. It ſaith not, by his Reſurrection, though that be true; But by the Reſurrection, meaning the Reſurrection of the Bodies of the Saints which ſlept, becauſe they roſe by vertue of his Blood; and by that he was with power declared to be the Son of God. They I ſay, were part of his Purchace, ſome of them for whom Chriſt died: Now for God to raiſe them, and that upon, and by vertue of his Reſurrection, what is it but an open Declaration from Heaven, that Chriſt by his Death hath made amends for us, and obtained Eternal Redemption for us? Rom. 1. 4.

3dly. When he was riſen from the Dead, God, to confirm his Diſciples in the Faith of the Redemption that Chriſt had obtained by his Blood, brings him to the Church, preſents him to them alive, ſhews him openly, ſometimes to two or three, ſometimes to eleven or twelve, and once to above five hundred Brethren at once, Acts 1. 3. Chap. 10. 40. Luk. 24, 13, 14, 15, 16, 31. Joh. 20. 19. Chap. 21. 1, 2, 3, &c. 1 Cor. 15. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.

4thly. At his Reſurrection, God gives him the Keys of Hell, and of Death, Revel. 1. 16, 17. Hell and Death are the Effects and Fruits of Sin. The Wicked ſhall be turned into Hell, and the Wages of ſin is Death. But what then are Sinners the better for the Death and Blood of Chriſt? O! they that dare venture upon him are much the better, for they ſhall not periſh unleſs the Saviour will damn them; for he hath the Keys of Hell and of Death. Fear not, ſaith he, I am the Firſt and the Laſt, I am he that liveth, and was dead, and behold, I am alive for evermore, and have the Keys of Hell and Death. Theſe were given him at his Reſurrection, as if God had ſaid, My Son thou haſt ſpilt thy Blood for Sinners, I am pleaſed with it, I am delighted in thy Merits, and in the Redemption which thou haſt wrought; in token hereof, I give thee the Keys of Hell and of Death: I give thee all Power in Heaven and Earth, ſave who thou wilt, deliver who thou wilt, bring to Heaven who thou wilt.

5thly. At Chriſt's Reſurrection, God bids him ask the Heathen of him with a promiſe to give him the uttermoſt parts of the Earth for his Poſſeſſion. This Sentence is in the ſecond Pſalm, and is Expounded by Paul's Interpretation of the Words before, to be ſpoken to Chriſt at his Reſurrection. Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. I have begotten thee, that is, ſaith Paul, from the Dead.

He hath raiſed up Jeſus again, as it is alſo written in the ſecond Pſalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. Now mark at his Raiſing him from the Dead, he bids him ask, ASK of me, and that the Heathen: As if God had ſaid, my Son, thy Blood hath pacified and appeaſed my Juſtice; I can now in Juſtice, for thy ſake, forgive poor Mortals their Sin; ASK them of me, ASK them though they be Heathens, and I will give them to thee, to the utmoſt ends of the Earth. This is then the firſt Demonſtration to prove that Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full Price to God for the Souls of Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them; namely, his being raiſed again from the Dead.

Act. 13. 30, 31, 32, 33, 34.

50. ## The Second Demonſtration.

SEcondly, A ſecond thing that demonſtrateth this Truth, is, That he Aſcended, and was received up into Heaven. So after the Lord had ſpoken to them, he was received up into Heaven.

Mar. 16. 19.

This Demonſtration conſiſteth of two parts, 1. Of his Aſcending. 2. Of his being Received.

Firſt, For his Aſcending. He is Aſcended on High, Eph. 4. 8.

This Act of Aſcending anſwereth to the High-Prieſt under the Law, who, after they had killed the Sacrifice, he was to bring the Blood into the moſt Holy Place, to wit, the inner Temple, the way to which, was aſcending or going up.

2 Chron. 9.

Now conſider the Circumſtances that attended his Aſcending, when he went to carry his Blood to preſent it before the Mercy-Seat; and you will find, they all ſay amends is made to God for us.

1. At this, He is again attended, and accompanied with Angels, Act. 1. 10, 11.

2. He Aſcendeth with a ſhout, and with the ſound of a Trumpet, with, Sing Praiſes, ſing Praiſes, ſing Praiſes, Pſal. 47. 5, 6.

3. The Enemies of Man's Salvation are now tyed to his Chariot-Wheels. When he Aſcended on High, he led captivity captive; that is, he led Death, Devils, and Hell, and the Grave, and the Curſe, captive, for theſe things were our Captivity. And thus did Deborah propheſie of him, when ſhe cryed, Ariſe Barack and lead thy Captivity captive, thou Son of Abinoam. And David alſo foreſaw when he ſaid, Thou haſt aſcended on high, thou haſt led Captivity captive.

Ephes. 4. 8.

Judges 5. 12.

Pſal. 68. 18.

4. The Apoſtles muſt be the Beholders of his going up, and muſt ſee the Cloud receive him out of their ſight, Act. 1. 11, 12.

The Conſideration of theſe things ſtrongly inforceth this Concluſion, That he hath ſpoiled what would have ſpoiled us, had he not by his Blood-ſhed taken them away. And I ſay, for God to adorn him with all this Glory in his Aſcenſion; THUS to make him ride Conqueror up into the Clouds; THUS to go up with ſound of Trumpet, with ſhout of Angels, and with Songs of Praiſes; and let me add, to be accompanied alſo with thoſe that roſe from the Dead after his Reſurrection, who were the very Price of his Blood. This does greatly demonſtrate, That Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for the Souls of Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them; he had not elſe rid thus in Triumph to Heaven.

2. I come now to his being Received: He was received up into Heaven. The High-Prieſt under the Law, when he aſcended into the Holieſt, he was, there to offer the Blood; which Holieſt was the Type of Heaven, Exod. 19. 10, 11. Heb. 9. 24. But becauſe the Sacrifices under the Law could not make them that did the Service perfect, as pertaining to the Conſcience; therefore they were to ſtand, not ſit; to come out again, not tarry there. For it is not poſſible that the Blood of Bulls and Goats, ſhould take away ſin; wherefore, when he cometh into the World, he ſaith, Sacrifice and Offerings thou wouldeſt not, but a Body haſt thou prepared me. In Burnt Offerings and Sacrifices for ſin thou haſt had no pleaſure. Then ſaid he, lo, I come (in the Volume of thy Book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

Heb. 10. 4, 5, 6.

Chriſt therefore in his entring into Heaven, did it, as High-Prieſt of the Church of God: Therefore neither did he go in without Blood. Wherefore, when he came to be an High-Prieſt of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with Hands; that is to ſay, not of this Building, neither by the Blood of Bulls and Goats, but by his own Blood, he entered in once into the Holy Place, having obtained Eternal Redemption for us.

Heb. 9. 12, 13, 14.

He entered in having obtained, or becauſe he obtained Eternal Redemption for us: but to paſs that:

59. Conſider ye now alſo thoſe Glorious Circumſtances that accompany his Approach to the Gates of the Everlaſting Habitation.

1. The Everlaſting Gates are ſet, yea, bid ſtand open. Be ye open ye Everlaſting Doors, and the King of Glory ſhall come in. This King of Glory, is Jeſus Chriſt, and the words are a Prophecy of his Glorious Aſcending into the Heavens, when he went up as the High-Prieſt of the Church, to carry the price of his Blood into the Holieſt of all. Lift up your Heads, O ye Gates, even lift them up, ye Everlaſting Doors, and the King of Glory ſhall come in. Pſalm 24. 7, 9.

2ly. At his Entrance he was received, and the Price accepted which he paid for our Souls. Hence it is ſaid, he entred in by his Blood; that is, by the Merit of it. To receive, is an act of complacency and delight, and includeth well-pleaſedneſs in the Perſon Receiving, who is God the Father: And conſidering that this Jeſus, now received, is to be received upon our account, or as undertaking the Salvation of Sinners: (for he entered into the Heavens for us) it is apparent that he entered thither by vertue of his Infinite Righteouſneſs, which he accompliſhed for us upon the Earth.

3dly. At his Reception, he received Glory, and that alſo for our Encouragement. God raiſed him up, and gave him Glory, that our Faith and Hope might be in him. 1 Pet. 1. 19, 20, 21.

60. He gave him Glory, as a Teſtimony, that his undertaking the Work of our Redemption was accepted of him.

1. He gave glory; firſt to his Perſon, in granting him to ſit at his own Right Hand, and this he had, I ſay, for, or upon the account of the Work he accompliſhed for us in the World; When he had offered up one Sacrifice for Sins, for ever, he ſate down on the Right Hand of God, and this by God's appointment. Sit thou at my right Hand. This Glory is the Higheſt; it is above all Kings, Princes and Potentates in this World; it is above all Angels, Principalities and Powers in Heaven. He is gone into Heaven, and is on the Right Hand of God; Angels, and Authorities, and Powers being made ſubject unto him. Heb. 10. 12, 13. 1 Pet. 3. 32.

2. He gave Glory to his Name, to his Name, JESUS; that Name being exalted above every Name. He hath given him a Name above every Name, that at the Name of Jeſus, every Knee ſhould bow, of things in Heaven, and things on Earth, and things under the Earth, and that every Tongue ſhould confeſs that Jeſus Chriſt is Lord, to the Glory of God the Father, Phil. 2.

This Name is ſaid (in another place) to be a Name above every Name that is Named, not only in this World, but in that alſo which is to come. Epheſ. 1. 21.

But ſhould [JESUS] have been ſuch a Name, ſince he undertook for Sinners; had this Undertaker failed in his Work, if his Work had not been accepted with God, even the Work of our Redemption by his Blood? No verily, it would have ſtunk in the Noſtrils both of God and Man, it would have been the moſt abhorred Name: but JESUS is the Name; JESUS, he was called in order to his Work. His Name ſhall be called JESUS, for he ſhall ſave; He was ſo named of the Angels, before he was conceived in the Womb; and he goeth by that Name now he is in Heaven: By the Name Jeſus, Jeſus of Nazareth, becauſe he once dwelt there. This Name, I ſay, is the Higheſt Name, the Everlaſting Name; the Name that he is to go by, to be known by, to be worſhipped by, to be glorified by; yea the Name by which alſo moſt Glory ſhall redound to God the Father. Now what is the ſignification of this Name, but SAVIOUR? This Name he hath therefore, for his Works ſake; and becauſe God delighted in his Undertaking, and was pleaſed with the Price he had paid for us; therefore the Divine Majeſty hath given him it, hath made it High, and hath commanded all Angels to bow unto it. Yea it is the Name in which he reſteth, and by which he hath magnified all his Attributes.

1. This is the Name by which Sinners ſhould go to God the Father.

2. This is the Name through which they obtain forgiveneſs of Sins, and ANY thing. If you ask any thing in my Name, I will do it, John 14.

3. This is the Name through which our ſpiritual Services and Sacrifices are accepted, and by which an Anſwer of Peace is returned into our Boſoms, 1 Pet. 2. But more of this anon.

3. At this Name Devils tremble, at THIS Name Angels bow the Head, at THIS Name God's Heart openeth, at THIS Name the Godly Man's Heart is comforted: THIS Name none but Devils hate it, and none but thoſe that muſt be Damned deſpiſe it; No man ſpeaking by the Holy Ghoſt calls Jeſus accurſed, or accounteth him ſtill dead, and his Blood ineffectual to ſave the World.

61. 3dly. He hath alſo given him the Glory of Office.

1. He is there a Prieſt for ever, intercepting betwixt the Divine Preſence, and all that hate us, by his Blood; Sin, Satan, Death, Hell, the Law, the Grave, or the like, cannot be heard, if his Blood be preſented to God, as the Atonement for us: This is called the Blood of ſprinkling which ſpeaks better things than the Blood of Abel. By this Blood he entred into Heaven, by this Blood he ſecureth from wrath, all that come unto God by him: but ſhould his Blood have had a Voice in Heaven to ſave withal, had it not merited firſt, even in the ſhedding of it, the Ranſom, and Redemption of Souls? Tis true, a Man whoſe Blood cannot ſave, may with Abel's, cry out for Vengeance and Wrath on the Head of him that ſhed it, but THIS Blood ſpeaks for better things, this Blood ſpeaks for Souls, for Sinners, for Pardon. Having obtained Eternal Redemption for us. Heb. 12. 24.

2. He is there a Fore-runner for us. Whither the Fore-runner is for us entered, even Jeſus. Heb. 6. 20. This Office of Harbinger, is diſtinct from, though it comes by vertue of, his Prieſtly Office; therefore they are both mentioned in the Text. Whither the Fore-runner is for us entered, even Jeſus, made an High-Prieſt for ever, after the Order of Melchiſedec. He is therefore our Fore-runner, by vertue of his Prieſthood, his Blood giving worth to all he does.

In

In this Office of Harbinger, or Fore-runner, he prepareth for Believers their dwelling-Places in the Heavens; their dwelling-Places, according to their Place, State, Calling, Service, or Work, in his Body the Church: In my Fathers Houſe, ſaith he, are many Manſions; if it were not ſo, I would have told you: I go to prepare a place for you. John 14

This is that is mentioned in the 47*th*. Pſalm. He ſhall chuſe our Inheritance for us, the Excellency of Jacob whom he loved. But ſhould he have had power to chuſe our Inheritance for us, to prepare for us our dwelling Places; ſhould he have Power to give, even Heaven it ſelf, to a Company of Poor Men, had he not in the firſt place obtained by his Blood the deliverance of our Souls from Death.

3. He is there a Prophet for us, by which Office of his, he hath received to communicate the whole Will of the Eternal God, ſo far as is fit for us to know in this World, or in that which is to come. Hence he is called the Prophet of the Church. The Lord ſhall raiſe you up a Prophet, and this is, of a truth, that Prophet that ſhould come into the World. But this Office he hath alſo now in Heaven, by vertue of the Blood he ſhed for us upon Earth. Hence the New Teſtament is called, The New Teſtament in his Blood, and his Blood is ſaid to be The Blood of the Everlaſting Covenant, or Teſtament: Yea ſuch Vertue doth his Blood give to the New Teſtament or Covenant of Grace, as that ſevered from that it is nothing worth; for a Teſtament is of force after Men are dead, otherwiſe it is of no ſtrength at all, while the Teſtator liveth. So that every Word of God, which he hath by Chriſt given to us, for our Everlaſting Conſolation, is dipt in Blood, is founded in Blood, and ſtands good to Sinners purely (I mean with reſpect to Merit) upon the account of Blood, or becauſe his Blood that was ſhed for us on the Croſs, prevailed for us for the Remiſſion of our Sins. Let no Man think to receive any benefit by Chriſt's Prophetical Office; by any of the good Words of Grace, and forgiveneſs of Sins that are ſprinkled up and down in the New Teſtament; That looketh not for that good to come to him for the ſake of that Blood by which this Teſtament is eſtabliſhed: For neither was the firſt Teſtament dedicated without Blood; for when Moſes had ſpoken every Precept to all the People according to the Law; He took the Blood of Calves, and of Goats with Water, and ſcarlet Wooll, and Hyſop, and ſprinkled both the Book and all the People, ſaying, This is the Blood of the Teſtament which God hath injoyned unto you. Heb. 9. 16, 17. Heb. 9. 18, 19, 20.

The Prophetical Office of Chriſt ſtandeth of two parts: Firſt in Promiſes of Grace; Secondly, in Directions of Worſhip; but neither is this laſt, to wit, the Doctrine of Worſhip, or our ſubjection to that Worſhip, of any value, any further than as ſprinkled alſo with his Blood: For as in the firſt Teſtament, the Tabernacle and all the Veſſels of the Miniſtry were ſprinkled with Blood (and it was neceſſary that ſo it ſhould be) ſo the Heavenly things themſelves muſt be alſo purified with Sacrifices, but yet with better Sacrifice than theſe; for now, not Moſes, but Chriſt, doth ſprinkle, not with Blood of Calves, but with his own Blood, neither as entered into places made with hands, but from Heaven doth Jeſus ſprinkle all that Doctrine of Worſhip, and ſubjection of his Saints thereto, which is of his own inſtituting and commanding, Heb. 9. 23, 24, 25, 26.

4 He hath received there the Office of a King, by which he ruleth in the Church, and over all things for her ſake. The Government is laid upon his Shoulders; the Lord God hath given him the Throne of his Father David. Hence it is that he ſaith, All Power is given me in Heaven and Earth; but now this Kingly Office he hath it by his Blood, becauſe he humbled himſelf to Death, therefore God hath highly exalted him, and given him the higheſt Name. And hence again he is called a LAMB upon the Throne. In the midſt of the Throne and of the four Beaſts, and in the midſt of the Elders ſtood a Lamb as it had been ſlain, having ſeven Horns; a Demonſtration of Kingly Power. But mark, he was a Lamb upon the Throne, he had his Horns as a Lamb. Now by LAMB, we are to underſtand, not only his meek and ſweet Diſpoſition, but his Sacrifice; for he was as a Lamb to be ſlain and Sacrificed; and ſo his having a Throne and ſeven Horns as a Lamb, giveth us to underſtand, that he obtained this Dignity of King by his Blood. When he had by himſelf purged our Sins, he ſat down on the right hand of the Majeſty in the Heavens. When he had offered up one Sacrifice for ſins for ever, he ſat down on the right hand of God. Rev. 5. Heb. 4 10.

Now put all theſe together, to wit, his Reſurrection from the Dead, his Aſcenſion, and his Exaltation to Office, and remember alſo that the Perſon thus Exalted, is the ſame Jeſus of Nazareth that ſometime was made accurſed of God for ſin, and alſo that he obtained this Glory by vertue of the Blood that was ſhed for us, and it muſt unavoidably follow, That Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them.

The third Demonſtration. 62

BUT to proceed; A third Demonſtration, That Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full Price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them, is, becauſe he hath received for them the Holy Spirit of God.

This Jeſus hath God raiſed up, whereof, ſaid Peter, we are all Witneſſes. Therefore being by the Right Hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the Promiſe of the Holy Ghoſt, he hath ſhed forth that which ye now ſee and hear. Acts 2. 32, 33.

The receiving of the Holy Ghoſt at the Hand of the Father, who had bruiſed him before for the Tranſgreſſions of his People. The receiving of it, I ſay, upon his Reſurrection, and that to give them for whom (juſt before) he had ſpilt his Blood to make an Atonement for their Souls; argueth that the Divine Majeſty found reſt and content in that precious Blood, and found it full price for the Sinners for whom he ſhed it.

And if you conſider the neceſſity of the giving of this good ſpirit to Men, and the benefit that they receive by his coming upon them, you will ſee yet more into the Truth now contended for.

Firſt, Then of the Neceſſity of giving this good Spirit.

Secondly, And then of the Benefit which we receive at his coming.

Firſt, Of the Neceſſity of its being given.

1. Otherwiſe Jeſus could never have been proved to be the Saviour; for the Promiſe was, that Meſſias ſhould have the Spirit given him; given him to communicate. As for me, this is my Covenant with them, ſaith the Lord, my Spirit which is upon thee, and my Words which I have put in thy Mouth (meaning the Redeemer, ver. 20.) ſhall not depart out of thy Mouth, nor out of the Mouth of thy ſeed, nor out of the Mouth
Iſa 59. 21. of thy ſeed's ſeed, from henceforth and for ever.

Here is the Promiſe of the Spirit to be given to Chriſt, and by him to his Seed for ever. And this was ſignified long before in the A-Exod. 30. 30. nointing of Aaron and his Sons. And thou ſhalt anoint Aaron and his Sons, and conſecrate them.

This Spirit Jeſus promiſed to ſend unto his, at his Exaltation on the Right Hand of God: The Spirit, I ſay, in the plentifull Pourings of it out. True, the Church in all Ages had ſomething of it by vertue of the Suretyſhip of the Lord Jeſus; but this in compariſon of what was to come into the Church after his Reſurrection, is not reckoned a Pouring forth, therefore Pourings forth thereof are reſerved to the time of the Aſcenſion, and Exaltation of this Jeſus. I will pour out of my Spirit in THOSE Days.

Hence Jeſus reſerves it till his going away, and 'tis expreſly ſaid; The Holy Ghoſt was not yet given, becauſe Jeſus was not yet glorified. Accordingly did the Apoſtles wait after his Reſurrection for the pouring forth of the Holy Ghoſt, and at the ſet time did receive it, by the giving of which, he declared himſelf to be the ſon of God and Saviour of the World, John 14. 26. Chap. 15. 26. Chap. 16. 7. Act. 1. 4. 5. Joel 2. 28. Acts 2. 16, 17. Joh. 7. 39. Rom. 1. 4.

2. Without the giving of the Holy Ghoſt there had wanted a Teſtimony that his Goſpel was the Goſpel of Meſſias. Moſes his Miniſtration was confirmed by Signs and Wonders and mighty Deeds, both in Egypt, in the Wilderneſs, and at the Red Sea; wherefore 'twas neceſſary that the Doctrine of Redemption by Blood, which is the Doctrine of the Goſpel of this Jeſus, ſhould be alſo confirmed with ſigns following. Hence both himſelf and Apoſtles did as frequently work Miracles and do mighty Deeds, as his Miniſters now do preach: which Signs and Miracles, and Wonders, confirmed their Doctrine, though themſelves, both Maſter and Scholar was (in appearance the moſt conſiderable) mean: yea, they by the means of the Holy Ghoſt, have ſo ratified, confirmed, and ſetled the Goſpel in the World, that no Philoſopher, Tyrant, or Devil hath been able hitherto, to move it out of its place. Mar. 16. 20.
He confirmed the Word with Signs following. Heb. 2. 4.

3. As the giving of the Holy Ghoſt was neceſſary thus; ſo was it neceſſary alſo to ſtrengthen them that were intruſted with his Goſpel.

1. To preach it effectually. 2. To ſtand to it boldly. 3. And to juſtifie it to be the Doctrine of Meſſias incontroulably.

1. To preach it effectually; in demonſtration of the ſpirit. 1 Cor. 2 4. 2 Cor. 6. 4, 5, 6

2. To ſtand to it boldly; Then Peter filled with the Holy Ghoſt, ſaid: And they ſaw the Boldneſs of Peter and John. Joh. 16. 8, 9. Acts. 8. 13.

3. To juſtifie the Doctrine incontroulably. I will give you a Mouth and Wiſdom which all your Adverſaries ſhall not be able to reſiſt or gainſay. And they were not able to reſiſt the Wiſedom and Spirit by which he ſpake. Luk. 21. 15 Act. 6. 10.

Now, I ſay, that God ſhould give the Holy Ghoſt to Jeſus, to confirm this Goſpel, Redemption from ſin by his bloud; what is it, but that by his blood he hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them?

But again, the Benefit which we receive at the Coming of the Holy Ghoſt, doth more demonſtrate this Truth; hath Chriſt purchaſed Sinners, and are they the Price of his Blood? Yes. But how doth that appear? Why, becauſe by the Holy Ghoſt which he hath received to give us, we are fitted for the Inheritance which by his Blood is prepared for us. 63.

1. By the Spirit of God we are quickned, and raiſed from a ſtate of Sin, but that we could not be, were it not that an Atonement is made for us; firſt, by the Blood of Chriſt our Saviour. This is true; for they that are quickened by the Holy Ghoſt, are quickned by it through the Word of the Goſpel which offereth Juſtification to Sinners through Faith in his Blood: yea, we are ſaid to be quickned together with him, dead and riſen with him: yet ſo as by the Spirit of God.

2. We are not only quickned by the Holy Ghoſt, but poſſeſſed therewith; it is given to dwell in our Hearts. Becauſe ye are Sons, God Gal. 4. 4, hath ſent forth the Spirit of his Son into your 5, 6. Hearts; which Spirit is alſo our earneſt for Heaven, until the Redemption of the purchaſed Poſſeſſion; that is, until our Body which is the purchaſed Poſſeſſion, be redeemed alſo out of the Grave by the Power of the ſame mighty Spirit of God, Epheſ. 1. 13. 14.

3. By this Holy Spirit we are made to believe, Rom. 15. 13.

4. By this Holy Spirit, we are helped to pray and call God Father.

5. By this Holy Spirit we are helped to underſtand and apply the Promiſes.

6. By this Holy Spirit the Joy of Heaven, and the Love of God is ſhed abroad in the Heart of the Saved.

7. By this Holy Spirit we are made to wait for the hope of Righteouſneſs by Faith, that is, to ſtand faſt through our Lord Jeſus in the day when he ſhall judge the World.

And all this is the Fruit of Redemption by Blood;

Blood; of Redemption by the Blood of Chriſt.

This is yet further evident,

1. Becauſe the Work of the Spirit is to lead us into the ſayings of Chriſt; which, as to our Redemption from Death, are ſuch as theſe. John. 6. I lay down my Life, that you may have Life. I give my Life a Ranſom for many; And the Bread which I will give is my Fleſh, which I will give for the Life of the World. 2. Becauſe, the Spirit in the Wiſdom of Heaven, is not counted a ſufficient Teſtimony on Earth, but as joined with the Blood of Chriſt. There are three that bear Witneſs on Earth, the Spirit, the Water, and the Blood. Theſe are the Witneſſes of God. The Spirit, becauſe it quickneth; the Blood, becauſe it hath merited; and the Water, to wit, the Word, becauſe by that, we are clean, as to life and converſation, 1 Joh. 5. 8. Epheſ. 5. 26. Rom. 8. 16. Pſal. 119. 9. 3. Becauſe, as by the Spirit, ſo we are ſanctified by Faith in the Blood of Jeſus, Heb. 13. 12. 4. Becauſe when moſt full of the Spirit, and when that doth work moſt mightily in us, we are then moſt in the belief, and admiring apprehenſions of our deliverance from Death by the Blood of Jeſus, Revel. 15. Chap. 5. 9. 5. The Holy Ghoſt breatheth no where, ſo as in the Miniſtry of this Doctrine, this Doctrine is ſent WITH the Holy Ghoſt from Heaven; yea, as I have hinted, one of the Great Works of the Holy Ghoſt under the Old-Teſtament, was to teſtifie of the Sufferings of Chriſt, and the Glory that ſhould follow. 1 Pet. 1. 10, 12.

Put all theſe things together and ſee, if Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath not paid full price to God for Sinners; if he hath not obtained Eternal Redemption for them.

The Fourth Demonſtration.

64. THat Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained eternal Redemption for them, is evident, if you conſider how the preaching thereof hath been from that time to this a mighty Conquerer over all kind of Sinners. What Nation, what People, what kind of Sinners have not been ſubdued by the preaching of a Crucified Chriſt? He upon the White Horſe with his Bow and his Crown hath conquered, doth conquer, and goeth forth yet conquering and to conquer: And I, ſaith he, If I be lifted up from the Revel. 6. 2. Earth, will draw all men unto me: but what was it to be lifted up from the Earth? Why, it may be expounded by that ſaying; As Moſes lifted up the Serpent in the Wilderneſs, ſo muſt the John 12. 32. chap 3. 14, 15. Son of Man be lifted up, that whoſoever believeth in him, might not periſh but have everlaſting life.

He was then lifted up, when he was hanged upon a Tree between the Heavens and the Earth as the Accurſed of God for us. The Revelation of this, it conquers all Nations, Tongues, and People. And they ſang a new Revel. 5. 9. Song, ſaying, thou art worthy to take the Book and to open the Seals thereof, for thou waſt ſlain, and haſt redeemed us to God by thy Blood, out of every Kindred, and Tongue, and People, and Nation: Hence the Apoſtle Paul choſe, above all Doctrines, to preach up a Crucified Chriſt, and reſolved ſo to do: For I determined, ſaith he, not to know any thing among you, ſave Jeſus Chriſt and him Crucified. 1 Cor. 2. 2, 3.

1. The Doctrine of Forgiveneſs of Sin, conquered his very Murderers. They could not withſtand the Grace; thoſe bloody ones, that would kill him whatever it coſt them, could ſtand no longer, but received his Doctrine, fell into his Boſome, and obtained the Salvation which is in Chriſt Jeſus. They ſhall look upon him whom they have pierced, and mourn for Zech. 12. 10. him, as one mourneth for his only Son, and they ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as one is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born. Now was this Scripture eminently fulfilled, when the Kindneſs of a Crucified Chriſt, broke to pieces the Hearts of them that had before been his Betrayers and Murderers. Now was there a great Mourning in Jeruſalem; now was their wailing and lamentation, mixed with joy and rejoycing.

2. Though Paul was mad, exceeding mad againſt Jeſus Chriſt of Nazareth, yea, though he was his avowed Enemy, ſeeking to put out his Name from under Heaven: yet the Voice from Heaven [I am Jeſus, &c.] I am the Saviour; how did it conquer him, make him throw down his Arms, fall down at his Feet, and accept of the forgiveneſs of Sins freely by grace, through Redemption by Faith in his Blood.

3. They at Samaria, though before Philip preached to them, worſhipped and admired the Devil in Magus, yet when they believed Philip's preaching of Chriſt unto them, and forgiveneſs of ſins through Faith in his Name, great joy was amongſt them, and they were baptized both Men and Women, Act. 8. He preached, ſaith the Text, the things concerning the Kingdom of God, and the Name of Jeſus Chriſt; that is, all the Bleſſings of Life, through the Name of Jeſus Chriſt; for he is the Mediator, and without his Blood come no ſpiritual bleſſings to Men.

4. How was the ſturdy Jailer overcome by a Promiſe of forgiveneſs of Sins by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt. It ſtopt his Hand of ſelf-murder, it eaſed him of the gnawings of a guilty Conſcience, and fears of Hell-Fire, and filled his Soul with rejoicing in God. Act. 16. 30, 31, 32, 33.

5. How were thoſe that uſed curious Arts, that were next to, if not, Witches indeed; I ſay, how were they prevailed upon, and overcome by the Word of God; which is the Goſpel of good Tidings through Faith in the Blood of Chriſt? Act. 19. 17, 18.

6. How were the Epheſians, who ſometimes were far from God; how, I ſay, were they made nigh by the Blood of Chriſt! Epheſ. 2. 13.

7. The Coloſſians, though ſometimes dead in their Sins, yet how were they quickned by God, through the Forgiveneſs of all their Treſpaſſes, and they had that through his Blood, Col. 2. 13. Chap. 1. 14.

What ſhall I ſay, no man could as yet ſtand before, and not fall under the Revelation of the Forgiveneſs of Sins through a Crucified Chriſt; as hanged, as dying, as accurſed for

Sinners

Sinners; he draws all men unto him, men of all ſorts, of all degrees.

Shall I add, how have men broken through all difficulties to Jeſus, when he hath been diſcovered to them! neither Lyons nor Fires, nor Sword, nor Famine, nor Nakedneſs nor Peril; neither Death, nor Life, nor Angels, nor Principalities, nor Powers, nor things preſent, nor things to come, nor Height, nor Depth, nor any other Creature, ſhall be able to ſeparate us from the Love of God, which is in Chriſt Jeſus our Lord, Rom. 8. 35, 36. 37, 38, 39.

65. The Fifth Demonſtration.

THat Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them, is evident, by the Peace and Holineſs, that by that Doctrine poſſeſſeth Mens Souls; The Souls of Men awakned, and that continue ſo. By awakned Men I mean, ſuch as through the Revelation of their Sin and Miſery, groan under the want of Jeſus to ſave them, and that continue ſenſible, that they needs muſt periſh if his benefits be not beſtowed upon them.

For otherwiſe the Goſpel miniſtreth neither Peace nor Holineſs to any of the Souls of the Sons of Men; that is to ſay, not Saving Peace and Holineſs. ☞ The Goſpel of Grace and Salvation, is above all Doctrines, the moſt dangerous, if in word only, it be received by graceleſs men: if it be not attended with a Revelation of Men's need of a Saviour: if it be not accompanied in the Soul by the Power of the Holy Ghoſt. For ſuch Men as have only the notions of it, are of all Men liable to the greateſt Sins, becauſe there wanteth in their notions, the Power of Love, which alone can conſtrain them to love Jeſus Chriſt. And this is the Reaſon of theſe Scriptures. They turn the grace of God into wantonneſs; They turn the grace of our God into laſciviouſneſs. Jude 4.

For ſome when they hear of the Riches of Grace, through Chriſt, that hearing, not being attended with the Faith and Love which is in Chriſt Jeſus; thoſe Men receive the notions of this good Doctrine, only to cloak their Wickedneſs, and to harden themſelves in their Villanies.

Others when they hear, being leavened before with the leaven of ſome other Doctrine, ſome Doctrine of the Righteouſneſs of the World, or Doctrine of Devils; forthwith make head againſt, and ſpeak evil of the bleſſed Doctrine; and becauſe ſome that profeſs it, are not cleanſed from their filthineſs of Fleſh and Spirit, and do not perfect Holineſs in the fear of God: therefore others conclude that all that profeſs it, are ſuch, and that the Doctrine it ſelf tendeth to encourage, or at leaſt, to tolerate licentiouſneſs, as they imagined and affirmed of Paul, that he ſhould ſay, Let us do evil, that good may come. Rom. 3. 8, 9.

The ground of that Wicked Concluſion of theirs, was, becauſe he by the Allowance of God affirmed, That as ſin had reigned unto death, ſo grace reigned unto life in a way of Righteouſneſs by Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. Nay then, ſays the Adverſary, we may be as unholy as we will, and that by the Doctrine you preach: for, if where ſin abounds, grace abounds more, the conſequence of a wicked life, is but the heightening, advancing, and magnifying of Grace. But what ſaith the Apoſtle? my concluſions are true, That grace doth reign above ſin, but to ſay, let us therefore ſin, that Man's Damnation is juſt; becauſe ſuch an one abuſeth, and maketh the moſt deviliſh uſe of the Bleſſedeſt Doctrine that ever was heard of in the World amongſt Men. Beſides, 'tis evident that ſuch know not the Power thereof; nor have felt or ſavoured its bleſſedneſs; for where this Goſpel cometh in truth, it naturally produceth Peace and Holineſs.

66. 1. Peace. He is our Peace, he is the Prince of Peace, he giveth Peace in his High Places.

This word Peace hath in it a double reſpect.

1. It reſpecteth God: He hath made Peace by the Blood of his Croſs; that is, he hath made peace for us with God, having appeaſed the rigor of his Law, and ſatisfied juſtice for us. Hence it is ſaid: The Peace of God which paſſeth all underſtanding, ſhall keep your Hearts and Minds through Chriſt Jeſus: The Peace of God, that is, the Doctrine of Reconciliation by Chriſt's being made to be ſin for us, THAT ſhall keep the Heart, that is, from deſpair or fainting under apprehenſions of weakneſs and juſtice: But yet, this Peace of God, cannot be apprehended, nor be of any comfort to the Heart, but as the Man looks for it through Chriſt Jeſus. Therefore that clauſe is added, through Chriſt Jeſus: for he is Peace-maker, 'tis he that reconcileth us to God in the Body of his Fleſh through death; for by his doing and ſuffering he preſented God with Everlaſting Righteouſneſs for Sinners. Upon this we have Peace with God. Hence Chriſt is called King of Righteouſneſs FIRST; firſt being by interpretation King of Righteouſneſs, and after that alſo King of Salem, which is King of Peace. For he could not make peace with God, 'twixt us and him, but by being firſt the Lord of Righteouſneſs, the Lord our Righteouſneſs: but having firſt compleated Righteouſneſs, he then came and preached Peace, and commanded his Ambaſſadors to make Proclamation of it to the World, 2 Cor. 5. 19, 21. For 'twas want of Righteouſneſs that cauſed want of Peace: now then righteouſneſs being brought in, it followeth that he hath made peace. For he is our Peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle Wall of Partition between us. Having aboliſhed in his Fleſh the Enmity, even the Law of Commandments, contained in Ordinances, for to make in himſelf of twain one new Man, ſo making Peace, and that he might reconcile both unto God, in one Body by the Croſs, having ſlain the Enmity thereby, and came and Preached Peace to you that were afar off, and to them that were nigh; for through him we both have acceſs, by one Spirit, unto the Father. Col. 1. 20. Phil. 4. 7. Heb. 7. 1, 2. Ephes. 2. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18.

2dly. This word Peace reſpecteth our inward quietneſs of Heart which we obtain, by beholding this Reconciliation made by Chriſt, with God, for us. Being juſtified by Faith, we have Peace with God through our Lord Jeſus 13. Rom. 5. 1. 2. chap. 15.

Jeſus Chriſt. The God of Peace fill you with all joy and peace in believing.

This Peace is expreſſed diverſly:

1. Sometimes it is called QUIETNESS; for it calms the Soul from thoſe troublous Fears of damning, becauſe of ſin. And the Iſa 32. 17. Work of Righteouſneſs ſhall be Peace, and the Effect of Righteouſneſs, Quietneſs and Aſſurance for ever. 2. Sometimes it is called BOLDNESS; for by the Blood of Chriſt a Man hath encouragement to approach unto God. Having, Heb. 10. 19, 20. brethren, Boldneſs to enter into the Holieſt by the Blood of Jeſus, by a new and living way which he hath conſecrated for us through the Vail, that is to ſay his Fleſh. 3. It is ſometimes called CONFIDENCE; becauſe by Jeſus Chriſt we have not only encouragement to come to God, but confidence; that if we ask any thing according to his Will, he not only heareth, but granteth the Requeſt which we put up to him. Ephes. 3. 12. In whom we have boldneſs and acceſs, with confidence, by the Faith of Jeſus. 4. Sometimes this 1 John 5. 14, 15. Peace is expreſſed by REST, becauſe a Man having found a ſufficient Fulneſs to anſwer all his Wants, he ſitteth down, and looks no further for ſatisfaction. Mat. 11. 28. Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you reſt 5. It is alſo expreſſed by SINGING, becauſe the Peace of God when it is received into the Soul by Faith, putteth the Conſcience into a Heavenly and Melodious Frame. Iſa. 35. 10. And the Ranſomed of the Lord ſhall return, and come to Zion with Songs, and Everlaſting Joy upon their Heads, they ſhall obtain joy and gladneſs, and ſorrow and ſighing ſhall fly away. 6. Sometimes it is expreſſed, or diſcovered by an Heavenly glorying and boaſting in Jeſus Chriſt, becauſe this Peace cauſeth the Soul to ſet its Face upon its Enemies with Faith of a Victory over them for ever by its Lord Jeſus. Let Jer. 9. 23, 24. him that glorieth, glory in the Lord; and, Pſal. 34. 2. My Soul ſhall make her boaſts in the Lord, the Humble ſhall hear thereof, and be glad. 7. Sometimes it is expreſſed or diſcovered by Joy, Joy unſpeakable; becauſe the Soul having ſeen it ſelf reconciled to God, hath not only quietneſs, but ſuch apprehenſions do now poſſeſs it of the unſpeakable Benefits it receiveth by Chriſt with reſpect to the World to come, that 1 Pet. 1. 8. it is ſwallowed up with them. Whom having not ſeen, ye love, in whom though now ye ſee him not, yet believing ye rejoice, with Joy unſpeakable, and full of glory. 8. Laſtly: It is expreſſed, or diſcovered by the Triumph that ariſeth ſometimes in the Hearts of the Believers; for they at times are able to ſee Death, Sin, the Devil, and Hell, and all Adverſity conquered by and tied as Captives at the Chariot-Wheels of Jeſus Chriſt: Taken captive, 2 Cor. 2. 14 I ſay, and overthrown for ever. Thanks Pſal. 47. 1. be to God who cauſeth us always to triumph in Chriſt. O clap your Hands, O ye People, ſing unto God with the voice of Triumph.

67. Now that all this ſhould be a cheat, is impoſſible, that is, it is impoſſible, that Believers ſhould thus have peace with God through the Blood of his Croſs; he having not paid full price to God for them; eſpecially if you conſider that the Authors of this Peace, are all the three in the God-head, and that upon a double account.

1. In that they have given us a Goſpel of Peace, Rom. 10. 15. or a New-Teſtament which propoundeth Peace with God through the Redemption that is in Chriſt. Now as this is called the Goſpel of Peace; ſo 1. It is called, The Goſpel of God, 1 Theſ. 2. 9. 2 Theſ 1. 8. 2. The Goſpel of Chriſt, Rom. 15. 19. 3. A Goſpel indited by the Holy Ghoſt, 1 Theſ. 4. 8.

I ſay therefore, that Redemption and Salvation, being that throw Chriſt, and the Truth thereof proclaimed by the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghoſt, in the Word of the Truth of the Goſpel, it muſt needs be that we who believe, ſhall be ſaved, if we hold the confidence and the rejoicing firm unto the End. 2. As the three in the God-head are the Authors of this Peace, by inditing for us the Goſpel of Peace, or the good Tidings of Salvation by Jeſus Chriſt: So they are the Authors of our Peace, by working with that word of the Goſpel in our Hearts. And hence 1. the Father is called the God of Peace; now the God of Rom. 15. 33. Peace be with you all: And the very God of Peace 1 Theſ. 5. 23. ſanctify you. And becauſe he is the God of Peace, therefore he filleth thoſe that believe Rom. 15. 13. in his Chriſt, with joy and Peace through believing. 2. Again, Chriſt is called the Prince of Peace; therefore the Prayer is, Grace be 2 Theſ. 1. 2. with you and Peace from God the Father, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. 3. The Holy Ghoſt alſo is the Author of this Peace, this inward Peace; Even Righteouſneſs and Peace, and joy Rom. 14. 17. in the Holy Ghoſt.

And, I ſay, as I alſo have already ſaid, the procuring or Meritorious Cauſe of this Peace, are the doings and ſufferings of Chriſt. Therefore by his doings and ſufferings he paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained eternal Redemption for them: elſe God would never have indited a Proclamation of Peace for them, and the Tenour of that Proclamation to be the Worthineſs of the Lord Jeſus: yea, he would never have wrought with that Word in the Heart of them that believe, to create in them Peace, Peace.

Secondly, As peace with God is an Evi- 68. dence, (the Blood of Chriſt being the Cauſe thereof) that Chriſt hath by it paid full price to God for Sinners; ſo Holineſs in their Hearts taking its beginning from this Doctrine, makes this fifth Demonſtration of double ſtrength.

1. That Holineſs, true Goſpel Holineſs, poſſeſſeth our Hearts by this Doctrine, 'tis evident; becauſe the ground of Holineſs which is the Spirit of God in us, is miniſtred to us by this Doctrine. When the Apoſtle had inſinuated that the Galatians were bewitched, becauſe they had turned from the Doctrine of Chriſt Crucified, he demands of them, Whether they received the Spirit by the Works of the Law, or by Gal. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4. the hearing of Faith? That is, whether the Spirit took Poſſeſſion of their Souls by their Obedience to the Ten Commandments; or by their giving credit to the Doctrine of the Forgiveneſs of their Sins, by Faith in this Crucified cified Chriſt: ſtrongly concluding not by the Law, but by the hearing, or preaching of Faith; that is, of the Lord Jeſus as Crucified, who is the Object of Faith. 2 As this Doctrine conveyeth the ground, or ground-work which is the Spirit; ſo alſo it worketh in the Heart thoſe three Graces, Faith, Hope, Love, all which as naturally purifie the Heart from Wickedneſs, as Sope, or Niter, cleanſeth the Cloth. He purified their Hearts by Faith, by Faith in Chriſt's Blood. And every one that hath this Hope in him, purifieth himſelf even as he is pure. And alſo Love, you ſhall ſee what that doth, if you look into the Text, Act. 15. 9. 1 Joh. 3. 3, 4. 1 Cor. 13. Now I ſay, this Faith groundeth it ſelf in the Blood of Chriſt; Hope waiteth for the full enjoyments of the purchace of it, in another World: and love is begot, and worketh, by the Love that Chriſt hath expreſſed by his Death, and by the Kindneſs he preſented us within his Heart-Blood, Rom. 3. 24. 1 Cor. 15. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 14.

69. Beſides, what arguments ſo prevailing, as ſuch as are purely Goſpel? To inſtance a few.

1. What ſtronger, than a free forgiveneſs of Luk 7. 41, 42, 47. Sins. A certain Man had two Debtors, the one owed him five Hundred Pence, and the other Fifty, and when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both, tell me therefore which of them will love him moſt? 2. What ſtronger argument to Holineſs, than to ſee, that though forgiveneſs comes free to us, yet it coſt Chriſt Jeſus Heart-Blood to obtain it for us. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and ſent his Son to be the Propitiation for our Sins. And this Love of God in giving his Chriſt, and of Chriſt, in dying for us, there is no argument ſtronger to prevail with a ſenſible
2 Cor. 5. 14. and awakened Sinner to judg, he ſhould live to him that died for him, and roſe again. 3. What
1 John 2. 1, 2. ſtronger argument to Holineſs than this; If any man ſins, we have an advocate with the Father, Jeſus Chriſt the Righteous. Unſanctified and graceleſs Wretches, know not how to uſe theſe Words of God; the Hypocrites alſo fly in our Faces, becauſe we thus urge them; but a Heart that is poſſeſſed with Goſpel ingenuity, or to ſpeak more properly, that is poſſeſſed with Goſpel-Grace, and with Divine Conſiderations, cries; if it be thus, O let me ne-
2 Cor. 5. 14. ver ſin againſt God! for the Love of Chriſt conſtrains me. 4. What greater argument to Holineſs, than to ſee the Holy Scriptures ſo furniſhed with Promiſes of Grace and Salvation by Chriſt, that a Man can hardly caſt his Eye into the Bible, but he eſpieth one, or another of them? who would not live in ſuch an Houſe, or be ſervant to ſuch a Prince, who, beſides his exceeding in good Conditions, hath Gold and Silver as common in his Palace, as
2 Cor. 7. 1. Stones are by the High-way ſide? Having therefore theſe Promiſes, dearly beloved, let us cleanſe our ſelves from all filthineſs of fleſh and ſpirit, perfecting Holineſs in the Fear of God. 5. What greater argument to Holineſs, than to have our Performances, though weak and infirm, from us, yet accepted of God in Jeſus Chriſt, 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5, 6. 6. What greater argument to holineſs, than to have our Soul, our Body, our Life hid, and ſecured with Chriſt in God? Mortifie therefore your Members that are upon the Col 3. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 Earth, fornication, uncleanneſs, inordinate affection, evil concupiſcence, and covetouſneſs which is Idolatry.

What greater argument to Holineſs, than to be made the Members of the Body, of the Fleſh, and of the Bones of Jeſus Chriſt? Shall Ephes. 5. 30. I take the Members of Chriſt, and make them the Members of an Harlot? God forbid. 1 Cor. 6. 15.

Now all theſe, and five times as many more, having their Foundation in the Love, Blood and Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and operating in the Soul by Faith, are the great argument unto that Holineſs, to which is annexed eternal Life. 'Tis worth our obſerving, that in Act. 26. at the 18. The Inheritance belongs to them, that are ſanctified by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt: For all other pretences to Holineſs, they are but a ſtollen ſemblanceof that which is true and acceptable, though 'tis common; for even that which is counterfeit to be called by the deluded, the True; and to be reckoned to be in them that are utter Strangers to Faith, and the Holineſs that comes by Faith But whoſoever compoundeth any like it, or whoſoever putteth any of it upon a Stranger; ſhall even be cut off from Exod. 30. 33. his People. God knoweth which is Holineſs that comes by Faith in forgiveneſs of Sins, and acceptance with God, through Chriſt: and God knows which is only ſuch feignedly; and accordingly will he deal with Sinners in that great Day of God Almighty.

The Sixth Demonſtration. 70.

THat Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them, is evident, becauſe Prayers are accepted of God only upon the account and for the ſake of the Name of Jeſus Chriſt: Verily, verily I ſay unto you, whatſoever Joh. 16. 23. ye ſhall ask the Father in my Name, he will give it you. In my Name, in the Name of Jeſus Chriſt of Nazareth: in the Name of him that came into the World to ſave Sinners, by dying for them a grievous bloody Death; in his Name that hath by himſelf put away ſin, and brought unto God acceptable Righteouſneſs for Sinners; in his Name; why in his Name, if he be not accepted of God? why in his Name, if his undertakings for us are not well-pleaſing to God? But, by theſe Words, in my Name, are inſinuated that his Perſon, and performances, as our undertaker, are accepted by the Father of Spirits. We may not go in our own names, becauſe we are Sinners; not in the Name of one another, becauſe all are Sinners; but why not in the Name of an Angel? Becauſe they are not thoſe that did undertake for us, or had they, they could not have done our work for us. He put- Job. 4. 18. teth no truſt in his Saints, yea the Heavens are not chap. 15. clean in his Sight. It may further be objected: 15.

Since Jeſus Chriſt is God equal with the Father, and ſo hath naturally the ſame Power to give as the Father, why ſhould the Father rather than the Son, be the great Giver to the Sinners of the World? and why may we not go to Chriſt in the Name of the Father, as well as to the the Father in the Name of Chriſt? I ſay, how can theſe things be ſalved, but by conſidering that ſin and juſtice put a NECESSITY upon it, that thus muſt our Salvation be obtained. Sin and Juſtice could not reconcile, nor could a means be found out to bring the Sinner and an Holy God together, but by the Intercepting of the Son, who muſt take upon him to anſwer Juſtice, and that by taking our Sins from before the Face of God by bloody Sacrifice, not by Blood of o-

Heb. 8. 3. thers, as the High-Prieſts under the Law. For, as every High-Prieſt is ordained to offer Gifts and Sacrifices, it is of neceſſity that this Man have ſomewhat alſo to offer: which Offering and Sacrifice of his being able to perfect for ever them that are ſanctified and ſet apart for Eternal Life; Therefore the name of the Perſon that offered (even Jeſus made of God an High-Prieſt) is acceptable with God; yea therefore is he made for ever, by his doing for us, the Appeaſer of the Juſtice of God, and the Reconciler of Sinners to him. Hence it is, that HIS Name is that which it behooveth us to mention when we come before God, for what God hath determined in his Counſells of Grace to beſtow upon Sinners; becauſe, for his Name ſake he
1 Joh 2.14. forgiveth them. I write to you, little Children,
Act. 10. becauſe your Sins are forgiven you for his Name ſake.
43. To him give all the Prophets, witneſs, that through his Name, whoſoever believeth in him, ſhall receive Remiſſion of Sins.

They therefore that would obtain the forgiveneſs of Sins, muſt ask it of God, through the Name of Jeſus; and he that ſhall ſenſibly and unfeignedly do it, he ſhall receive the forgiveneſs of them. Whatſoever ye ſhall ask the Father in my Name, he will give it you. Hence it is evident that he hath not only paid full price to God for them, but alſo obtained Eternal Redemption for them.

And it is obſervable, the Lord Jeſus would have his Diſciples make a Proof of this, and promiſeth, that if they do, they ſhall experi-
Joh. 16. 24. mentally find it ſo. Hitherto, ſaith he, ye have asked nothing in my NAME, ask and ye ſhall receive, that your joy may be full. As who ſhould ſay, O my Diſciples, you have heard what I have promiſed to you, even that my Father ſhall do for you, whatſoever ye ſhall ask him in my Name. Ask now therefore, and prove me, if I ſhall not make my Words good: Ask, I ſay, what you need, and ſee if you do not receive it to the Joying of your Hearts. At that day ye ſhall ask in my Name, and I ſay not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you. I do not bid you ask in my Name, as if the Father was yet hard to be reconciled, or unwilling to accept you to Mercy: my Coming into the World was the Deſign of my Father, and the Effect of his Love to Sinners; but there is ſin in you, and juſtice in God; therefore that you to him might be reconciled, I am made of my Father Mediator, wherefore ask in my Acts 4 12. Name; for, there is none other name given under the Heavens among Men whereby they muſt be ſaved. Ask in my Name, love is let out to you through me, it is let out to you by me in a way of Juſtice, which is the only ſecure way for you. Ask in my Name, and my Father will love you. The Father himſelf loveth you, Joh. 16. 27. becauſe you have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God. My Fathers Love is ſet firſt upon me, for my Name is chief in his Heart, and all that love me are beloved of my Father, and ſhall have what they need if they ask in my Name.

But, I ſay, what cauſe would there be to ask in his Name more than in the Name of ſome other? ſince juſtice was provoked by our Sin; if he had not undertook to make up the difference that by Sin was made betwixt juſtice and us. For though there be in this Jeſus infinite worth, infinite righteouſneſs, infinite merit; yet if he make not with theſe, intereſt for us, we get no more benefit thereby than if there were no Mediator: But this Worth and Merit is in him for us; for he undertook to reconcile us to God, it is therefore that his Name is with God ſo prevailing for us poor Sinners: and therefore that we ought to go to God in his Name. Hence therefore it is evident, that Jeſus Chriſt hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them.

The Seventh Demonſtration. 7.

THat Jeſus Chriſt, by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for Sinners, &c. is evident, becauſe we are commanded alſo to give God thanks in his Name. By him therefore let us offer the Sacrifice of Praiſe continually, that is, the Fruit of our Lips, giving thanks in his Name, Heb. 13. 15.

By him therefore; wherefore? becauſe he alſo that he might ſanctifie us with his own Blood, ver. 12. ſuffered without the Gate.

He ſanctified us with his Blood, but why ſhould the Father have thanks for this? even becauſe the Father gave him for us, that he might die to ſanctifie us with his Blood. Giving thanks to the Father which hath made us meet to be Partakers of the Inheritance of the Saints Col. 1. 12, in Light, who hath delivered us from the Pow- 13, 14. er of Darkneſs, and hath tranſlated us into the Kingdom of his dear Son, in whom we have Redemption through his Blood, even the forgiveneſs of Sins. The Father is to be thanked, for the contrivance was alſo his, but the Blood, the Righteouſneſs, or that worthineſs, for the Sake of which we are accepted of God, is the worthineſs of his own dear Son; as it is meet therefore that God ſhould have thanks, ſo it is neceſſary that he have it in his Name for whoſe ſake we are indeed accepted of him.

Let us therefore by him offer Praiſe,

Firſt, For the Gift of his Son, and for that we ſtand quit through him in his Sight; and that in deſpite of all inward weakneſs, and that in deſpite of all outward enemies.

When the Apoſtle had taken ſuch a view of himſelf as to put himſelf into a maze, with an out-cry alſo, who ſhall deliver me? he quiets himſelf with this ſweet concluſion, I thank God Rom. 7. 24. through Jeſus Chriſt. He found more in the Blood of Chriſt to ſave him, than he found in his own Corruptions to damn him; but that could not be, had he not paid full price for him, had he not obtained Eternal Redemption for him. And can an Holy and Juſt God require that we give thanks to him in his Name, if it was not effectually done for us by him?

Further, when the Apoſtle looks upon Death and the Grave, and ſtrengthneth them by adding to them Sin and the Law, ſaying, The Sting of Death is Sin, and the Strength of Sin is the Law: he preſently added, but thanks be to God which giveth us the Victory through Jeſus Chriſt. The Victory over Sin, Death, and the Law, the Victory over theſe through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt: but God hath given us the Victory; but it is through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, through his fulfilling the Law, through his deſtroying Death, and through his bringing in everlaſting Righteouſneſs. Eliſha ſaid to the King of Iſrael, that had it not been that he regarded the Perſon of Jehoſhaphat, he would not look to him, nor regard him: nor would God at all have looked to, or regarded thee, but that he reſpected the Perſon of Jeſus Chriſt.

1 Cor. 15.

2 Kin. 3. 14.

Col. 3. 15. Let the Peace of God therefore rule in your Hearts, to the which alſo you are called in one body, and be you thankful. The Peace of God, of that we have ſpoken before; but how ſhould this rule in our Hearts? he by the next Words directs you; Let the Word of Chriſt dwell in you Richly; that is, the Word that makes revelation of the Death and Blood of Chriſt, and of the Peace that is made with God for you thereby.

Epheſ. 5. 20. Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the Name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. For all things; for all things come to us through this Name Jeſus; Redemption, Tranſlation, the Kingdom, Salvation, with all the good things wherewith we are bleſſed.

Theſe are the Works of God, he gave his Son, and he brings us to him, and puts us into his Kingdom; that is, his true Body, which Jeremiah calleth a putting among the Children, and a giving us a goodly heritage of the Hoſts of Nations.

Joh. 6. Jer. 3. 19.

2 Cor. 2. 13, 14. 4. Now thanks be to God, which cauſeth us always to triumph in Chriſt.

See here our cauſe of triumph is through Chriſt Jeſus, and God cauſeth us through him to triumph: Firſt and chiefly, becauſe Chriſt Jeſus hath done our Work for us, hath pleaſed God for our Sins, hath ſpoiled the powers of Darkneſs. God gave Jeſus Chriſt to undertake our Redemption; Chriſt did undertake it, did engage our Enemies, and ſpoiled them. He ſpoiled principalities and powers, and made a ſhew of them openly, triumphing over them upon the Croſs. Therefore it is evident that he paid full price to God for Sinners with his Blood, becauſe God commands us, to give thanks to him in his Name; through his Name. And whatſoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the Name of the Lord Jeſus, giving thanks unto God, and the Father by him.

Col. 2. 14, 15.

Col. 3. 17.

Take this Concluſion from the whole, no thanks are accepted of God that come not to him in the Name of his Son; his Son muſt have the Glory of conveying our thanks to God, becauſe he was he that by his Blood conveyeth his Grace to us.

The Eighth Demonſtration. 72.

IN the next place; That Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them, is evident; Becauſe we are exhorted to wait for, and to expect the full and glorious Enjoyment of the Eternal Redemption, at the ſecond Coming of the Lord from Heaven: Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning, and you your ſelves like unto men that wait for their Lord, that when he cometh and knocketh, ye may open unto him immediately.

Luk. 12. 35, 36.

Jeſus Chriſt hath obtained by his Blood Eternal Redemption for us, and hath taken it up now in the Heavens, is (as I have ſhewed) preparing for us there Everlaſting Manſions of reſt; and then he will come again for us. This Coming is intended in this Text, and this Coming we are exhorted to wait for: and that I may more fully ſhew the Truth of this Demonſtration, obſerve theſe following Texts.

1. It is ſaid, he ſhall chuſe our Inheritance for us. He ſhall chuſe our Inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved, Selah. God is gone up with a Shout, &c.

Pſal. 47. 4, 5.

Theſe latter words intend the Aſcenſion of Jeſus Chriſt: His Aſcenſion, when he had upon the Croſs made reconciliation for iniquity; his Aſcenſion into the Heavens to prepare our Manſions of Glory for us. For, our Inheritance is in the Heavens; our Houſe, our Hope, our Manſion-Houſe, and our incorruptible, and undefiled Inheritance is in Heaven, 2 Cor. 1. 2. Col. 1. 5, 6. Joh. 14. 1, 2. 1 Pet. 1. 3, 4, 5.

This is called the Eternal Inheritance, of which we that are called, have received the Promiſe already.

Heb. 9. 14, 15.

This Inheritance, I ſay, he is gone to chuſe for us in the Heavens, becauſe by his Blood he obtained it for us, Heb. 9. 12. and this we are commanded to wait for: but how ridiculous yea, how great a cheat would this be, had he not by his Blood obtained it for us.

2. We wait for his Son from Heaven, whom he raiſed from the dead, even Jeſus Chriſt, which delivered us from the Wrath to come. He delivered us by his Blood, and obtained the Kingdom of Heaven for us, and hath promiſed that he would go and prepare our places, and come again and fetch us thither. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto my ſelf, that where I am, there ye may be alſo. This then is the Cauſe that we wait for him, we look for the reward of the Inheritance at his Coming, who have ſerved the Lord Chriſt in this World.

1 Theſ. 1. 10.

Joh. 14. 3.

3. For our converſation is in Heaven, from whence we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. We look for him to come, yet as a Saviour; a Saviour he was at his firſt Coming,

and

and a Saviour he will be at his ſecond Coming. At his firſt Coming, he bought and paid for us; at his Second Coming, he will fetch us to himſelf. At his firſt Coming, he gave us promiſe of the Kingdom; at his ſecond Coming, he will give us poſſeſſion of the Kingdom. At his firſt Coming, he alſo ſhewed us how we ſhould be, by his own Transfiguration; at his ſecond Coming, he will change our Phil.3.21. vile Body that it may be faſhioned like unto his Glorious Body.

4. Hence therefore it is, that his Coming is called, our bleſſed Hope. Looking for the Bleſſed Hope, and glorious Appearing of the Great God,
Tit.2.13. and our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt. A Bleſſed Hope indeed, if he hath bought our Perſons with his Blood, and an Eternal Inheritance for us in the Heavens: A bleſſed Hope indeed, if alſo at his Coming we be certainly carried thither. No marvel then if Saints be bid to wait for it, and if Saints themſelves long for it. But what a diſappointment would theſe waiting Believers have, ſhould all their expectations be rewarded with a Fable? and the reſult of their Bleſſed Hope can amount to no more, if our Saviour, the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, either denieth to come, or coming, bringeth not with him the HOPE, the bleſſed HOPE that is laid up for us in Heaven: Whereof we have Col.1.5,6. certainly been informed by the Word of the Truth of the Goſpel.

5. For Chriſt was once offered to bear the Sin of many, and unto them that look for him, ſhall he ap-
Heb.9.28. pear the ſecond Time, without ſin unto Salvation. Here we have it promiſed that he ſhall come, that he ſhall appear the ſecond time, but not with ſin, as he did before, to wit, with, and in the Sin of his People, when he bare them in his own Body; but now without ſin, for he before did put them away by the Sacrifice of himſelf. Now then let the Saints look for him, not to die for the purchaſing of their perſons by Blood, but to bring to THEM, and to bring them alſo to that Salvation, that before, when he died, he obtained of God for them by his Death,

Theſe things are to be expected therefore, by them that believe in, and love Jeſus Chriſt, and that from faith and love ſerve him in this world; they are to be expected by them, being obtained for them by Jeſus Chriſt: And he ſhall give the Crown, ſaith Paul, not only to me, but to them that love his Appearing, 2 Tim. 4. 8, 9.

Now foraſmuch as this Inheritance in the Heavens is the Price, Purchace, and Reward of his Blood; how evidently doth it appear, that he hath paid full price to God for Sinners? Would God elſe have given him the Heaven to diſpoſe of to us that believe, and would he elſe have told us ſo? Yea, and what comfort could we have to look for his Coming, and Kingdom, and Glory, as the Fruits of his Death; if his Death had not for that purpoſe been ſufficiently efficacious? O! the Sufferings 1Pet.1.11. of Chriſt, and the Glory that ſhall follow.

The Ninth Demonſtration. 773.

THat Jeſus Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for Sinners is evident, Becauſe of the Threatnings wherewith God hath threatned, and the Puniſhments wherewith he puniſhed thoſe that ſhall refuſe to be ſaved by Chriſt, or ſeek to make inſignificant the Doctrine of Righteouſneſs by Faith in him.

This Demonſtration conſiſteth of three parts.

1. It ſuggeſteth that ſome refuſe to be juſtified or ſaved by Chriſt, and alſo ſeek to make inſignificant the Doctrine of Righteouſneſs by Faith in him. 2. That God doth threaten theſe. 3. That God will puniſh theſe.

That ſome refuſe to be ſaved by Chriſt is evident, from many Texts. He is the Stone which the Builders have rejected: He is alſo diſallowed of Men: The Jews ſtumble at him, and to the Greeks he is fooliſhneſs; both ſaying this Man ſhall not rule over us, or how can this man ſave us? Pſal. 118. 22. Mat. 24. 42. 1 Pet. 2. 4. 1 Cor. 1. 23. Luk. 19. 14.

The Cauſes of Mens refuſing Chriſt are many.

1. Their Love to ſin. 2. Their Ignorance of his Excellency. 3. Their Unbelief. 4. Their Deferring to come to him in the acceptable Time. 5. Their leaning to their own Righteouſneſs. 6. Their entertaining Damnable Doctrines. 7. Their loving the praiſe of Men. 8. The meanneſs of his Ways, his People, &c. 9. The juſt Judgment of God upon them. 10. The Kingdom is given to others.

Now theſe, as they all refuſe him, ſo they ſeek more or leſs, ſome practically, others in practice and judgment alſo, to make inſignificant the Doctrine of Righteouſneſs by Faith in him.

1. One does it by preferring his Sins before him. 2. Another does it by preferring his Righteouſneſs before him. 3. Another does it by preferring his Deluſions before him. 4. Another does it by preferring the World before him.

Now theſe God threatneth, theſe God puniſheth.

Firſt, God threatneth them. Whoſoever ſhall Acts 3.23. not receive that Prophet, ſhall be cut off from amongſt his People. The Prophet is Jeſus Chriſt; the Doctrine that he preached was that he would lay down his Life for us, that he would give us his Fleſh to eat, and his Blood to drink by Faith: and promiſed, that if we did eat his Fleſh, and drink his Blood, we ſhould have Eternal Life. He therefore that ſeeth not, or that is afraid to venture his Soul for Salvation on the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt by Faith, he refuſeth this Prophet, he heareth not this Prophet; and him God hath purpoſed to cut off. But would God thus have threatned, if Chriſt by his Blood and the Merits of the ſame, had not paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them.

Pſal. 110 1. Mat. 22. 44. Heb. 1.13. Heb. 10. 11, 12, 13.

Secondly, Sit thou on my Right Hand untill I make thine Enemies thy Foot-ſtool. The Honour of ſitting at God's Right Hand, was given him becauſe he died, and offered his Body once for all. This Man when he had offered up one Sacrifice for ſins for ever, ſat down on the Right Hand of God, from henceforth expecting till his Enemies be made his Foot-ſtool. Expecting, ſince God accepted his Offering, that thoſe that refuſed him ſhould be trodden under foot, that is, ſunk by him into, and under endleſs and unſupportable Vengeance. But would God have given the World ſuch an account of his Sufferings, that by one Offering he did perfect for ever them that are ſanctified? yea, and would he have threatned to make thoſe foes his Foot-ſtool, that ſhall refuſe to venture themſelves upon his Offering (for they are indeed his Foes) had not his Eternal Majeſty been well pleaſed with the Price he paid to God for Sinners; had he not obtained Eternal Redemption for them?

2 Theſ. 1. 7, 8.

Thirdly, He ſhall come from Heaven with his mighty Angels in flaming Fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Goſpel of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

Here he expreſly telleth us wherefore they ſhall be puniſhed: Becauſe they know not God, and obey not the Goſpel of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, where alſo is notably intimated that he that obeyeth not the Goſpel of Chriſt, knoweth not God, neither in his Juſtice or Mercy. But what is the Goſpel of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, but good Tidings of good things; to wit, Forgiveneſs of Sins by Faith in his Blood, an Inheritance in Heaven by Faith in his Blood, as the whole of all the foregoing diſcourſe hath manifeſted? Now, I ſay, can it be imagined that God would threaten to come upon the World with this Flaming-Fiery Vengeance to puniſh them for their Non-ſubjection to his Son's Goſpel, if there had not been by himſelf paid to God full price for the Souls of Sinners; if he had not obtained Eternal Redemption by his Blood for Sinners?

Jude 14 15

Fourthly, And Enoch, the ſeventh from Adam, alſo propheſied of theſe, ſaying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thouſands of his Saints, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly Deeds, which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard Speeches which ungodly Sinners have ſpoken againſt him.

The LORD that is here ſaid to come with ten thouſands of his Saints, is Jeſus Chriſt himſelf: and they that come with him are called his Saints, becauſe given to him by the Father, for the Sake of the ſhedding of his Blood. Now in that he is ſaid to come to execute judgment upon all, and eſpecially thoſe that ſpeak hard Speeches againſt him; 'tis evident that the Father tendereth his Name which is, Jeſus, a Saviour, and his undertaking for our Redemption; and as evident that the hard Speeches, intended by the Text, are ſuch as vilifie him, as Saviour, counting the Blood of the Covenant, unholy, and trampling him that is Prince of the Covenant under the Feet of their reproachfull Language; this is counted a putting of him to open ſhame, and a deſpiſing the riches of his Goodneſs, Heb. 10. chap. 6. Rom. 2. Time would fail to give you a view of the revilings, deſpitefull Sayings, and of the ungodly Speeches which theſe abominable Children of Hell, let fall in their Pamphlets, Doctrines, and Diſcourſes, againſt this Lord the King. But the threatning is, He ſhall execute judgment upon them for all their ungodly Deeds, and for all the hard Speeches that ungodly Sinners have ſpoken againſt him.

Act. 13. 40, 41.

Fifthly, Take heed therefore leſt that come upon you which is ſpoken of in the Prophets: Behold, ye Deſpiſers, and wonder, and periſh: for I work a Work in your days, a Work which you ſhall in no wiſe believe, though a Man declare it unto you.

This Work is the ſame we have been all this while treating of, to wit, Redemption by the Blood of Chriſt for Sinners, or that Chriſt hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them. This is manifeſt from ver. 23. to ver. 29. of this Chapter.

Now, obſerve, there are, and will be Deſpiſers of this Doctrine, and they are threatned with the Wrath of God. Behold, ye Deſpiſers, and wonder, and periſh: But would God ſo carefully have cautioned Sinners to take heed of deſpiſing this bleſſed Doctrine, and have backed his Caution with a threatning that they ſhall periſh, if they perſiſt, had not himſelf received by the Blood of Chriſt full-price for the Souls of Sinners?

Secondly, As God threatneth, ſo he puniſheth thoſe that refuſe his Son, or that ſeek to vilifie or make inſignificant, the Doctrine of Righteouſneſs by Faith in him.

1. He puniſheth them with the abidings of his Wrath. He that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life, but the Wrath of God abideth on him. Joh. 3. 36.

The Wrath of God for Men; for ſin ſtands already condemned by the Law; and the Judgment is, that they who refuſe the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, ſhall have this Wrath of God for ever lie, and abide upon them: For they want a Sacrifice to pacifie wrath for the Sin they have committed, having reſiſted, and refuſed the Sacrifice of the Body of Chriſt. Therefore it cannot be that they ſhould get from under their preſent condition who have refuſed to accept of the undertaking of Chriſt for them.

Beſides, God to ſhew that he taketh it ill at the Hands of Sinners, that they ſhould refuſe the Sacrifice of Chriſt, hath reſolved that there ſhall be no more Sacrifice for ſin. If therefore we ſin wilfully after we have received the Knowledge of the Truth; there remaineth no more Sacrifice for ſin. God doth neither appoint another, neither will he accept another who-ever brings it. And here thoſe ſayings are of their own natural force: How ſhall we eſcape, if we neglect ſo great Salvation! And again, See that ye refuſe not him that ſpeaketh, for if they eſcaped not who refuſed him that ſpake on Earth, (Moſes) How ſhall we eſcape if we turn away from him (Chriſt) that ſpeaketh from Heaven! Heb. 10. 26. Heb. 2. 3 chap. 12. 25.

This

This therefore is a mighty Demonſtration that Chriſt by what he hath done, hath paid full price to God for the Souls of Sinners, becauſe God ſo ſeverely threatneth, and alſo puniſheth them that refuſe to be juſtified by his Blood: he threatneth as you have heard, and puniſheth by leaving ſuch men in their Sins, under his heavy and unſupportable Vengeance here.

Mar. 16. 16. Secondly. He that believeth not ſhall be damned, damned in Hell-Fire. He that believeth not, but what ſhould he believe? Why!

1. That Jeſus is the Saviour. If, ſaith he, ye believe not that I am he, ye ſhall die in your Sins.

2. He that believeth not that he hath undertaken and compleatly perfected Righteouſneſs for us, ſhall die in his Sins, ſhall be damned and periſh in Hell-fire: For ſuch have no cloak for their Sin, but muſt ſtand naked to the ſhew of their Shame before the Judgment of God, that fearful Judgment. Therefore, after he had ſaid, there remains for ſuch, no more ſacrifice for ſin; he adds, But a certain fearfull looking for of judgment; there is for them left nothing but the Judgment of God, and his fiery Indignation which ſhall devour the Adverſaries. He that deſpiſed Moſes's Law died without mercy under two or three Witneſſes; of how much ſorer puniſhment ſuppoſe ye ſhall be be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and counted the Blood of the Covenant, wherewith he was ſanctified, an Unholy thing, and done deſpite to the Spirit of Grace?

Heb. 10. 28, 29, 30.

Heb. 10. 28, 29, 30.

See here, if Fury comes not up now into the Face of God: now is mention made of his fearful Judgment and fiery Indignation. Now I ſay, is mention made thereof, when it is ſuggeſted that ſome have light thoughts of him, count his Blood unholy, and trample his ſacrificed Body under the Feet of their Reproaches: Now is he a conſuming fire, and will burn to the loweſt Hell. For we know him that hath ſaid, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompence, ſaith the Lord. And again, The Lord ſhall judge his People. Theſe words are urged by the Holy Ghoſt, on purpoſe, to beget in the Hearts of the Rebellious, reverend thoughts, and an high eſteem of the Sacrifice which our Lord Jeſus offered once for all upon Mount Calvary unto God the Father for our Sins; for that is the very Argument of the whole Epiſtle.

It is ſaid to this purpoſe in one of Paul's Epiſtles to the Theſſalonians, That becauſe men receive not the Love of the Truth, that they might be ſaved: For this cauſe God ſhall ſend them ſtrong deluſions, that they ſhould believe a lye and be damned.

2 Theſ. 2.

The Truth mentioned in the Place, is Jeſus Chriſt. I am the Truth, ſaith he, Joh. 14. 6. The Love of the Truth, is none elſe but the Love and Compaſſion of Jeſus Chriſt in ſhedding his Blood for Mans Redemption. Greater love than this hath no man, that a Man lay down his Life for his Friend. This then is the Love of the Truth (of Jeſus) that he hath laid down his Life for us. Now that the rejecters of this Love, ſhould by this their rejecting procure ſuch wrath of God againſt them, that rather than they ſhall miſs of damnation, himſelf will chuſe their Deluſions for them, and alſo give them up to the effectual Working of theſe Deluſions: what doth this manifeſt, but that God is diſpleaſed with them that accept not of Jeſus Chriſt for Righteouſneſs, and will certainly order that their end ſhall be everlaſting Damnation: therefore Jeſus Chriſt hath paid full price to God for Sinners, and obtained Eternal Redemption for them.

Joh. 15. 13

The Uſe of the Doctrine. 75.

I come now to make ſome Uſe of, and to apply this Bleſſed Doctrine of the Undertaking of Jeſus Chriſt; and of his paying full Price to God for Sinners, and of his obtaining Eternal Redemption for them.

The Firſt Uſe.

BY this Doctrine, we come to underſtand many things, which otherwiſe abide obſcure and utterly unknown, becauſe this Doctrine is accompanied with the Holy Ghoſt, that Reveaſer of ſecrets, and ſearcher of the deep things of God, 1 Pet. 1. 1, 2. Epheſ. 1. 17. 1 Cor. 2. The Holy Ghoſt comes down with this Doctrine, as that in which it alone delighteth: therefore is it called The Spirit of Wiſdom and Revelation in the Knowledge of Jeſus Chriſt. He giveth alſo the Light of the Knowledge of the Glory of God in the Face of Jeſus Chriſt. Little of God is known in the World where the Goſpel is rejected: the Religious Jew, and the Wiſe Gentile may ſee more of God in a Crucified Chriſt than in Heaven and Earth beſides! For in him are hid all the Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledg: not only in his Perſon, as God, but alſo in his undertakings as Mediator. Hence Paul telleth us, That he determined not to know any thing among the Corinthians, but Jeſus Chriſt and him Crucified. I ſay, more of God is revealed in this Doctrine to us, than we can ſee of him in Heaven and Earth without it.

2 Cor. 4. 6.

Col. 2. 3. 1 Cor. 2. 2.

Firſt, Here is more of his WISDOM ſeen, than in his making, and upholding all the Creatures. His Wiſdom, I ſay, in deviſing means to reconcile Sinners to an Holy and Infinite Majeſty, to be a Juſt God, and YET a Saviour; to be juſt to his Law, juſt to his Threatning, juſt to himſelf, and yet ſave Sinners, can no way be underſtood till thou underſtandeſt why Jeſus Chriſt did hang on the Tree; for here only is the Riddle unfolded, Chriſt died for our Sins, and therefore can God in juſtice ſave us, Iſa. 45. 21. And hence is Chriſt called the Wiſdom of God, not only becauſe he is ſo eſſentially, but becauſe by him is the greateſt Revelation of his Wiſdom towards man. In Redemption therefore, by the Blood of Chriſt, God is ſaid to abound towards us in all Wiſdom. Here we ſee the Higheſt Contradictions reconciled, here Juſtice kiſſeth the Sinner, here a Man ſtands juſt in the Sight of God, while confounded at his own

Epheſ. 1. 7, 8.

Pol-

Pollutions; and here he that hath done no good, hath yet a ſufficient Righteouſneſs; even the Righteouſneſs of God which is by Faith of Jeſus Chriſt.

76. Secondly, The JUSTICE of God, is here more ſeen, than in puniſhing all the Damned. He ſpared not his own Son, is a Sentence which more revealeth the Nature of the Juſtice of God, than if it had ſaid, he ſpared not all the World. True, he caſt Angels from Heaven, and drowned the Old World; he turned Sodom and Gomorrha into Aſhes, with many more of like nature, but what were all theſe to the Curſing of his Son? yea, what were ten thouſand ſuch manifeſtations of his Ireful Indignation againſt Sin, to that of ſtriking, afflicting, chaſtiſing, and making the darling of his Boſom the Object of his Wrath and Judgment? Here it is ſeen he reſpecteth not perſons, but judgeth Sin, and condemneth him on whom it is found; yea although on Jeſus Chriſt his well-Beloved, Rom. 8. 32. Gal. 3. 13.

77. Thirdly, The Myſtery of God's WILL, is here more ſeen, than in hanging the Earth upon nothing; while he condemneth Chriſt though Righteous, and juſtifieth us though Sinners: while he maketh him to be ſin for us, and us the Righteouſneſs of God in him, 1 Pet. 3. 18. 2 Cor. 5. 20.

78. Fourthly, The POWER of God, is here more ſeen, than in making of Heaven and Earth; for, for one to bear, and get the Victory over Sin, when charged by the Juſtice of an Infinite Majeſty, in ſo doing, he ſheweth the Height of the Higheſt Power: For where ſin by the Law is charged, and that by God immediately, there an Infinite Majeſty oppoſeth, and that with the whole of his Juſtice, Holineſs, and Power: So then, he that is thus charged, and engaged for the Sin of the World, muſt not only be equal with God, but ſhew it, by overcoming that Curſe and Judgment that by Infinite Juſtice is charged upon him for Sin.

When Angels and Men had ſinned, how did they fall and crumble before the Anger of God! they had not power to withſtand the terrour, nor could there be worth found in their Perſons, or Doings, to appeaſe diſpleaſed Juſtice. But behold here ſtands the Son of God before him in the ſin of the World, his Father finding him there, curſeth and condemns him to death: but he by the Power of his God-head, and the Worthineſs of his Perſon and Doings, vanquiſheth ſin, ſatisfieth God's Juſtice, and ſo becomes the Saviour of the World. Here then is Power ſeen: ſin is a mighty thing, it cruſheth all in pieces ſave him whoſe Spirit is Eternal, Heb. 9. 14. Set Chriſt, and his Sufferings aſide, and you neither ſee the Evil of ſin, nor the Diſpleaſure of God againſt it; you ſee them not in their utmoſt. Had'ſt thou a view of all the Legions that are now in the pains of Hell, yea, couldeſt thou hear their ſhreeks and groans together at once, and feel the whole of all their burden: much of the evil of ſin, and of the Juſtice of God againſt it, would be yet unknown by thee; for thou wouldeſt want power to feel, and bear the utmoſt! A Giant ſhews not his Power by killing of a little Child, nor yet is his Might ſeen by the reſiſtance that ſuch a little one makes, but then he ſheweth his power when he dealeth with one like himſelf: yea, and the Power alſo of the other is then made manifeſt in ſaving himſelf from being ſwallowed up with his Wrath. Jeſus Chriſt alſo made manifeſt his Eternal Power and God-head, more by bearing and overcoming our Sins; than in making or upholding the whole World: Hence Chriſt Crucified, is called the Power of God, 1 Cor. 1. 23, 24.

79. Fifthly, The LOVE and MERCY of God, is more ſeen in, and by this Doctrine, than any other way. Mercy and Love are ſeen in that God gives us Rain and fruitful Seaſons, and in that he filleth our Hearts with food and gladneſs; from that bounty he beſtoweth upon us as men, as his Creatures. Oh! but herein is Love made manifeſt, in that Chriſt laid down his Life for us: And God commended his Love toward us, in that while we were yet Sinners, Chriſt died for us. 1 Joh. 3. 16. chap. 4. 10.

Never Love like this, nor did God ever give ſuch diſcovery of his Love from the beginning to this Day. Herein is Love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and ſent his Son to be the Propitiation for our Sins. Rom. 5.

Here is Love, that God ſent his Son! his Darling! his Son that never offended! his Son that was always his delight! Herein is Love that he ſent him to ſave Sinners! to ſave them by bearing their Sins! by bearing their Curſe! by dying their Death! and by carrying their Sorrows! Here is Love in that while we were yet Enemies, Chriſt died for us! yea, here is Love, in that while we were yet without ſtrength, Chriſt died for the Ungodly. Rom. 5.

The Second Uſe. 80.

But Secondly, as this Doctrine giveth us the beſt diſcovery of God; ſo alſo it giveth us the beſt diſcovery of our ſelves, and our own things.

Firſt, It giveth us the beſt diſcovery of our ſelves: Wouldeſt thou know, Sinner, what thou art; look up to the Croſs, and behold a Weeping, Bleeding, Dying Jeſus: nothing could do but that, nothing could ſave thee but his Blood; Angels could not, Saints could not, God could not, becauſe he could not ly, becauſe he could not deny himſelf. What a thing is Sin, that it ſhould ſink all that bear its burden, yea it ſunk the Son of God himſelf into Death and the Grave, and had alſo ſunk him into Hell-fire for ever, had he not been the Son of God; had he not been able to take it on his Back, and bear it away. O! This Lamb of God. Sinners were going to Hell, Chriſt was the Delight of his Father, and had a whole Heaven to himſelf; but that did not content him, Heaven could not hold him. He muſt come into the World to ſave Sinners. Ay, and had he not come, thy ſins had ſunk thee, thy ſins had provoked the Wrath of God againſt thee; to 1 Tim. 1. 15.

thy perdition and deſtruction for ever. There is no Man, but is a Sinner, there is no ſin but would damn an Angel, ſhould God lay it to his charge. Sinner, the Doctrine of Chriſt Crucified, crieth therefore aloud unto thee, that ſin hath made thy Condition dreadful: See your ſelves, your ſin, and conſequently, the Condition that your Souls are in, by the Death and Blood of Chriſt; Chriſts Death giveth us the moſt clear diſcovery of the dreadful Nature of our ſins. I ſay again, if ſin be ſo dreadful a thing, as to break the Heart of the Son of God (for ſo he ſaith it did) how ſhall a Poor, Wretched, Impenitent, damned Sinner wreſtle with the Wrath of God? Awake Sinners you are loſt, you are undone, you periſh, you are damned, Hell-fire is your Portion for ever, if you abide in your ſins, and be found without a Saviour in the dreadful day of Judgment.

81. Secondly, For your good Deeds cannot help you, the Blood of Chriſt tells you ſo: For by this Doctrine, Chriſt died for our Sins, God damneth to Death and Hell, the Righteouſneſs of the World. Chriſt muſt die, or Man be damned: where is now any room for the Righteouſneſs of Men? room I ſay, for Man's Righteouſneſs, as to his Acceptance and Juſtification Bring then thy Righteouſneſs to the Croſs of Jeſus Chriſt, and in his Blood behold the Demands of Juſtice; behold them, I ſay, in the Cries, and Tears, in the Blood and Death of Jeſus Chriſt. Look again, and behold the Perſon dying; ſuch an one as never ſinned, nor offended at any time, yet he dies. Could an Holy Life, an Innocent Harmleſs Converſation have ſaved one from Death, Jeſus had not died. But he muſt die, ſin was charged, therefore Chriſt muſt die.

Men therefore need to go no further to prove the worth of their own Righteouſneſs, than to the Death of Chriſt: They need not be to ſeek in that Matter till they ſtand before the Judgment-Seat.

Queſt. But how ſhould I prove the Goodneſs of mine own Righteouſneſs, by the Death and Blood Gal. 21. of Chriſt?

Anſ. Thus: If Chriſt muſt die for Sin, then all thy Righteouſneſs cannot ſave thee. If Righteouſneſs comes by the Law, then Chriſt is dead in vain. By this Text, 'tis manifeſt, that either Chriſt died in vain, or thy Righteouſneſs is vain. If thy Righteouſneſs can ſave thee, then Chriſt died in vain. If nothing below, or beſides the Death of Chriſt could ſave thee, then thy Righteouſneſs is in vain; one of the two muſt be caſt away, either Chriſt's or thine. Chriſt Crucified to ſave the World, diſcovereth two great Evils in Man's own Righteouſneſs: I mean when brought for Juſtification and Life.

1. It oppoſeth the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt.
2. It condemneth God of Fooliſhneſs.

1. It oppoſeth the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt; in that it ſeeketh it ſelf to ſtand, where ſhould the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt; to wit, in God's affection for the Juſtification of thy Perſon, and this is one of the higheſt affronts to Chriſt, that poor man is capable to give him: Right worthily therefore doth the Doctrine of the Goſpel damn the Righteouſneſs of Men, and promiſeth the Kingdom of God to Publicans and Harlots rather.

2. It condemneth God of Fooliſhneſs: For if Works of Righteouſneſs which we can do, can juſtifie from the Curſe of the Law in the Sight of God, then are not all the Treaſures of Wiſdom found in the Heart of God and Chriſt: For this Dolt-headed Sinner hath now found out a way of his own, unawares to God, to ſecure his Soul from Wrath and Vengeance. I ſay, unawares to God, for he never imagined that ſuch a thing could be, for had he, he would never have purpoſed before the World began, to ſend his Son to die for Sinners. Chriſt is the Wiſdom of God, as you have heard, and that as he is our Juſtifying Righteouſneſs. God was manifeſt in the Fleſh to ſave us, is the great Myſtery of Godlineſs. But wherein lieth the depth of this Wiſdom of God in our Salvation, if Man's Righteouſneſs can ſave him? Job 40. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14.

Yea, wherefore hath God alſo given it out, that there is n one other Name given to Men, under Heaven, whereby, we muſt be ſaved? I ſay again, why is it affirmed, without ſhedding of Blood is no remiſſion, if Mans good Deeds can ſave him?

This Doctrine therefore of the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, being rightly preached, and truly believed, arraigneth and condemneth Man's Righteouſneſs to Hell: It caſteth it out, as Abraham caſt out Iſhmael.

BLOOD! BLOOD, the ſound of Blood, abaſeth all the Glory of it. When Men have ſaid all, and ſhewed us what they can, they have no Blood to preſent God's Juſtice with; yet 'tis Blood that maketh an atonement for the Soul, and nothing but Blood can waſh us away from our Sins, Lev. 17. 11. Revel. 1. 5. Heb. 9.

Juſtice calls for Blood, Sins call for Blood, the Righteous Law calls for Blood; yea the Devil himſelf muſt be overcome by Blood: Sinner, where is now thy Righteouſneſs? Bring it before a Conſuming Fire; [for our God is a Conſuming Fire] Bring it before the Juſtice of the Law: yea try if ought but the Blood of Chriſt can ſave thee from thy Sins, and Devils; try it, I ſay, by this Doctrine; go not one ſtep further before thou haſt tried it.

82. Thirdly, By this Doctrine we are made to ſee the worth of Souls: it cannot be but that the Soul is of Wonderful Price, when the Son of God will not ſtick to ſpill his Blood for it. O Sinners, you that will venture your Souls for a little Pleaſure, ſurely you know not the worth of your Souls. Now if you would know what your Souls are worth, and the Price which God ſets them at, read that Price by the Blood of Chriſt. The Blood of Chriſt was ſpilt to ſave Souls. For ye are bought with a Price, and that price none other than the Blood of Chriſt; wherefore glorify God in your Bodies and in your Spirits which are Gods, 1 Cor. 6. 20. Sinners, you have Souls, can you behold a Crucified Chriſt and not Bleed, and not Mourn, and not fall in Love with him?

83. The third Uſe.

By this Doctrine Sinners, as Sinners, are encouraged to come to God for mercy, for the Curſe due to Sin is taken out of the way. I ſpeak now to Sinners that are awake, and ſee themſelves Sinners.

There are two things in ſpecial when Men begin to be awakened, that kill their thoughts of being ſaved.

1. A Senſe of ſin. 2. The Wages due thereto. Theſe kill the Heart, for who can bear up under the guilt of ſin? If our Sins be upon us, and we pine away in them, how can we Ezek. 33. 10. THEN live? How indeed! it is impoſſible. So neither can Man grapple with the Juſtice of God. Can thine Heart endure, or can thine Hands be ſtrong? they cannot. A wounded Spirit who can bear? Men cannot, Angels cannot: wherefore if now Chriſt be hid, and the bleſſing of Faith in his Blood denied, woe be to them: ſuch go after Saul and Judas, one to the Sword, and the other to the Halter, Ezek. 22. 14. Prov. 18. 14. and ſo miſerably end their days; for come to God they dare not, the thoughts of that Eternal Majeſty ſtrikes them through.

But now preſent ſuch Poor dejected Sinners with a Crucified Chriſt, and perſuade them that the Sins under which they ſhake and tremble, were long agoe laid upon the Back of Chriſt, and the Noiſe, and Senſe, and Fear of damning begins to ceaſe, depart, and fly away: Dolours and Terrours fade, and vaniſh, and that Soul conceiveth hopes of Life: For thus the Soul argueth, Is this indeed the Truth of God, that Chriſt was made to be Sin for me! was made the Curſe of God for me! Hath he indeed born all my Sins, and ſpilt his Blood for my Redemption? O bleſſed Tydings, O welcome Grace! Bleſs the Lord, O my Soul, and all that is within me, bleſs his Holy Name. Now is peace come, now the Face of Heaven is altered: Behold all things are become new. Now the Sinner can abide God's Preſence, yea, ſees unutterable Glory and Beauty in him: For here he ſees Juſtice ſmite. While Jacob was afraid of Eſau, how heavily did he drive, even towards the Promiſed Land? but when killing thoughts were turned into kiſſing, and the fears of the Swords Point turned into Brotherly Embraces, what ſays he, I have ſeen thy Gen. 33. 10. Face, as though it had been the Face of God; and thou waſt pleaſed with me?

So, and far better is it, with a poor diſtreſſed Sinner at the Revelation of the Grace of God through Jeſus Chriſt. God was in Chriſt reconciling the World unto himſelf, not imputing their Treſpaſſes to them: O! what work will ſuch a word make upon a wounded Conſcience, eſpecially when the next words follow. For he hath made him to be Sin for us, who knew no ſin, that we might be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him.

Now the Soul ſees qualifications able to ſet him quit in the Sight of God: Qualifications prepared already. Prepared I ſay already, and that by God through Chriſt; even ſuch as can perfectly anſwer the Law. What doth the Law require? If Obedience, here it is; if Bloody Sacrifice, here it is; if infinite Righteouſneſs, here it is. Now then the Law condemns him that Believes, before God, no more; for all its Demands are anſwered, all its Curſes are ſwallowed up in the Death and Curſe Chriſt underwent.

Object. But reaſon ſaith, ſince Perſonal Sin brought the Death, ſurely Perſonal Obedience muſt bring us Life and Glory. 84.

Anſ. True, Reaſon ſaith ſo, and ſo doth the Law it ſelf, Rom. 10 5. but God, we know, is above them both, and he in the Covenant of Grace, ſaith otherwiſe: to wit, That if thou ſhalt confeſs with thy Mouth the Lord Jeſus, and ſhalt believe in thine Heart that God hath raiſed him from the Dead, thou ſhalt be ſaved. Rom. 10. 6,7,8,9.

Let Reaſon then hold its Tongue, yea let the Law with all its Wiſdom ſubject it ſelf to him that made it; let it look for ſin where God hath laid it; let it approve the Righteouſneſs which God approveth: yea though it be not that of the Law, but that by Faith of Jeſus Chriſt.

God hath made him our Righteouſneſs; God hath made him our Sin; God hath made him our Curſe; God hath made him our Bleſſing: Methinks this word God hath made it ſo, ſhould ſilence all the World.

The Fourth Uſe. 85.

Fourthly, By this Doctrine ſufficiency of Argument is miniſtred to the tempted, to withſtand, thereby, the aſſaults of the Devil.

When the Souls begin to ſeek after the Lord Jeſus, then Satan begins to afflict and diſtreſs, as the Canaanites did the Gibeonites, for making Peace with Jehoſhuah, Joſ. 10. 1. 6.

There are three things that do uſually afflict the Soul that is earneſtly looking after Jeſus Chriſt.

1. Dreadful Accuſations from Satan. 2. Grievous defiling and infectious thoughts. 3. A ſtrange readineſs in our Nature to fall in with both. By the firſt of theſe the Heart is made continually to tremble. Hence his Temptations are compared to the roaring of a Lyon, 1 Pet. 5. 8. For as the Lyon by roaring killeth the Heart of his Prey, ſo doth Satan kill the Spirit of theſe that hearken to him: For when he tempteth, eſpecially by way of accuſation, he doth to us, as Rabſhakeh did to the Jews: He ſpeaks to us in our own Language. He ſpeaks our Sin at every word, our guilty Conſcience knows it; he ſpeaks our Death at every word, our doubting Conſcience feels it.

Secondly, Beſides this, there doth now ariſe even in the Heart ſuch defiling, and foul infectious thoughts, as put the Tempted to their Wits end: for now it ſeems to the Soul that the very flood-gates of the Fleſh are opened, and that to ſin there is no ſtop at all, now the Air ſeems to be covered with darkneſs, and the Man is as if he was changed into the nature of a Devil: Now if ignorance and unbelief prevail, he concludeth that he is reprobate, made to be taken and deſtroyed.

Thirdly, Now alſo he feeleth in him a readineſs to fall in with every Temptation; a readineſs, I ſay, continually preſent, Rom. 7. 21. This throws all down, now deſpair begins to ſwal-ſwallow it up; now it can neither pray, nor read, nor hear, nor meditate on God, but Fire and Smoke continually burſteth forth of the Heart againſt him, now ſin and great confuſion puts forth it ſelf in all: yea, the more the Sinner deſireth to do a duty ſincerely, the further off it always finds it ſelf: For by how much the Soul ſtruggleth under theſe diſtreſſes, by ſo much the more doth Satan put forth himſelf to reſiſt, ſtill infuſing more poiſon, that if poſſible it might never ſtruggle more (for ſtrugglings are alſo as poiſon to Satan.) The Fly in the Spiders Web, is an Emblem of the Soul in ſuch a condition; the Fly is entangled in the Web, at this the Spider ſhews himſelf; if the Fly ſtir again, down comes the Spider to her, and claps a foot upon her; if yet the Fly makes a noiſe, then with poiſoned Mouth the Spider lays hold upon her; if the Fly ſtruggle ſtill, then he poiſons her more and more; what ſhall the Fly do now? why ſhe dies, if ſome body does not quickly releaſe her. This is the caſe of the Tempted, they are entangled in the Web, (their Feet and Wings are entangled) now Satan ſhews himſelf, if the Soul now ſtruggleth, Satan laboureth to hold it down; if it now ſhall make a noiſe, then he bites with blaſphemous Mouth, (more poiſonous than the Gall of a Serpent.) If it ſtruggle again, then he poiſoneth more and more: inſomuch that it needs at laſt muſt die in the Net, if the Man, the Lord Jeſus, helps not out.

The afflicted Conſcience underſtands my words.

Further, though the Fly in the Web, is altogether uncapable of looking for relief, yet this awakened tempted Chriſtian is not; what muſt he do therefore? how ſhould he contain hopes of life? If he looks to his Heart, there is Blaſphemy; if he looks to his duties, there is Sin; if he ſtrives to mourn and lament, perhaps he cannot, unbelief and hardneſs hinder: ſhall this Man lie down in deſpair? No: ſhall he truſt to his duties? No: ſhall he ſtay from Chriſt till his Heart is better? No: What then? Let him NOW look to Jeſus Chriſt Crucified, then ſhall he ſee his Sins anſwered for, then ſhall he ſee Death a-dying, then ſhall he ſee Guilt born by another, and there ſhall he ſee the Devil overcome. This ſight deſtroys the Power of the firſt Temptation; purifies the Heart and inclines the Mind to all good things.

And to encourage thee, tempted Creature, to this moſt Goſpel-Duty: Conſider, that when Jeſus Chriſt read his Commiſſion upon the entering into his Miniſtry, he proclaimed: The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, becauſe he hath anointed me to preach the Goſpel to the Poor, he hath ſent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the Captives, and recovering of ſight to the Blind, to ſet at liberty them that are bruiſed, to preach the acceptable Year of the Lord. Luk. 4.18, 19.

Theſe things therefore ſhould the Tempted believe, but believing is now ſweating-work; for Satan will hold as long as poſſible, and only ſtedfaſt Faith can make him fly: But O! the Toyl of a truly gracious Heart in this Combate, if Faith be weak, he can ſcarce get higher than his Knees; Lord help, Lord ſave, and then down again, till an Arm from Heaven takes him up; until Jeſus Chriſt be evidently ſet forth Crucified for him, and Curſed for his Sin: for then (and not till then) the Temptation rightly ceaſeth, at leaſtwiſe for a Seaſon. Now the Soul can tend to look about it, and thus conſider with it ſelf: If Chriſt hath born my Sin and Curſe, then 'tis taken away from me, and ſeeing thus to take away ſin, was the Contrivance of the God of Heaven, I will bleſs his Name, hope in his Mercy, and look upon Death and Hell with Comfort. Thine Heart ſhall meditate terrour, thou ſhalt ſee the Land that is very far off. Iſa. 33. 18, 17, 18.

The fifth Uſe. 86.

Fifthly, This Doctrine makes Chriſt precious to the Believers. Unto you therefore which believe he is precious. 1 Pet. 2. 5. This Head might be greatly enlarged upon, and branched out into a thouſand particulars, and each one full of weight and glory.

1. By conſidering what Sin is. 2. By conſidering what Hell is. 3. By conſidering what Wrath is. 4. By conſidering what Eternity is. 5. By conſidering what the loſs of a Soul is. 6. What the loſs of God is. 7. What the loſs of Heaven is. 8. And what it is to be in utter Darkneſs with Devils and damned Souls for ever and ever. And after all to conclude, from all theſe Miſeries the Lord Jeſus delivered me.

Further, This makes Chriſt precious, if I conſider in the next place:

1. How he did deliver me, 'twas with his Life, his Blood; it coſt him Tears, Groans, Agony, Separation from God; to do it he endured his Fathers Wrath, bare his Father's Curſe, and died thouſands of deaths at once.

2. He did this, while I was his Enemy, without my deſires, without my knowledge, without my deſerts, he did it unawares to me.

3. He did it freely, chearfully, yea he longed to die for me; yea, Heaven would not hold him for the Love he had to my Salvation, which alſo he hath effectually accompliſhed for me at Jeruſalem. Honourable Jeſus! precious Jeſus! loving Jeſus! Jonathan's Kindneſs captivated David, and made him precious in his Eyes for ever. I am diſtreſſed for thee, my Brother Jonathan (ſaid he) very pleaſant haſt thou been to me; thy Love to me was wonderfull, paſſing the Love of Women. Why, what had Jonathan done? O! He had delivered David from the Wrath of Saul. But how much more ſhould he be precious to me, who hath ſaved me from Death and Hell! who hath delivered me from the Wrath of God! The Love of Chriſt conſtraineth us. Nothing will ſo edge the Spirit of a Chriſtian as, Thou waſt ſlain, and haſt redeemed us to God by thy Blood: This makes the Heavens themſelves ring with joy and ſhouting. Mark the Words, Thou waſt ſlain, and haſt redeemed us to God with thy Blood, out of every Kindred, and Tongue, and People, and Nation, and haſt made us unto our God, Kings, and Prieſts, and we ſhall reign on the Earth. What follows now? And I beheld, and heard the 2 Sam. 1. 26.

voice of many Angels round about the Throne, and the Beaſts, and the Elders, and the Number of them was ten thouſand times ten thouſand, and thouſands of thouſands, ſaying with a loud Voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was ſlain, to receive Power, and Riches, and Wiſdom, and Strength, and Honour, and Glory, and Bleſſing; and every Creature which is in Heaven, and on the Earth, and ſuch as are in the Sea, and all that are therein heard I, ſaying, Bleſſing, Honour, Glory and Power, be unto him Revel 5 9, 10, 11, 12, 13. that ſitteth upon the Throne, and to the LAMB for ever and ever.

Thus alſo is the Song, that New-Song, that is ſaid to be ſung by the Hundred forty and four thouſand which ſtand with the LAMB upon Mount Sion, with his Fathers Name written in their Fore-heads. Theſe are alſo called Harpers, Harping with their Harps. And they ſang as it were a new Song before the Throne, and before the four Beaſts, and the Elders; and none could learn that Song but the Hundred and forty and Revel. 14. 1, 2, 3. four thouſand, which were redeemed from the Earth.

But why could they not learn that Song? Becauſe they were not redeemed; none can ſing of this Song but the Redeemed: they can give Glory to the Lamb, the Lamb that was ſlain, and that redeemed them to God by his Blood. 'Tis Faith in his Blood on Earth, that will make us ſing this Song in Heaven. Theſe Shoutings and Heavenly Songs muſt needs come from Love put into a Flame by the Sufferings of Chriſt.

The laſt Uſe. 87.

If all theſe things be true, what follows but a Demonſtration of the Accurſed Condition of thoſe among the Religious in theſe Nations whoſe Notions put them far off from Jeſus, and from venturing their Souls upon his Bloody Death. I have obſerved ſuch a Spirit as this in the World, that careth not for knowing of Jeſus; the Poſſeſſed therewith do think, that it is not material to Salvation to venture upon a Crucified Chriſt, neither do they trouble their Heads or Hearts with inquiring whether Chriſt Jeſus be riſen, and aſcended into Heaven, or whether they ſee him again or no, but rather are for concluding, that there will be no ſuch thing: Theſe Men ſpeak not by the Holy Ghoſt, for in the Sum, they call Jeſus accurſed; but I doubt not to ſay that many of them are Anathematiſed of God, and ſhall ſtand ſo, till the Coming of the Lord Jeſus, to whom be Glory for ever and ever: Amen.

IGNORANT:

BEING

A Salve to cure that great Want of Knowledge, which ſo much reigns both in Young and Old.

Prepared, and preſented to them in a plain and eaſie Dialogue, fitted to the Capacity of the Weakeſt,

By JOHN BUNYAN.

HOS. 4. 6.

My People periſh for lack of Knowledge.

To the Church of Chriſt in and about Bedford, walking in the Faith and Fellowſhip of the Goſpel, your affectionate Brother and Companion in the Kingdom and Patience of JESUS CHRIST, wiſheth all Grace and Mercy by Jeſus Chriſt, Amen.

HOly and beloved, Although I have deſigned this little Treatiſe for publick and common benefit, yet conſidering that I am to you a Debtor not only in common Charity, but by reaſon of ſpecial Bonds which the Lord hath laid upon me to you-ward, I could do no leſs, (being driven from you in preſence, not affection) but firſt preſent you with this little Book; not for that you are wanting in the things contained herein, but to put you again in remembrance of firſt things, and to give you occaſion to preſent ſomething to your carnal Relations that may be (if God will) for their awakening and Converſion; accept it therefore as a Token of my Chriſtian Remembrance of you.

Next, I preſent it to all thoſe Unconverted, old and young, who have been at any time under my Preaching, and yet remain in their ſins: And I entreat them alſo that they receive it as a Token of my Love to their immortal Souls; yea, I charge them as they will anſwer it in the day of the terrible judgment, that they read, ponder, and receive this wholeſome Medicine prepared for them. Now the God of Bleſſing bleſs it to the awakening of many ſinners, and the ſalvation of their ſouls by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt. Amen.

Yours, to ſerve you by my Miniſtry (when I can) to your Edification and Conſolation,

3. Queſt. HOw many Gods are there?

Anſw. To the Chriſtians there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we of him, 1 Cor. 8. 9.

Q. Why? is not the God of the Chriſtians the God of them that are no Chriſtians?

A. He is their Maker and Preſerver; but they have not choſen him to be their God, Acts 17 24. Pſal. 36. 6. Judg. 10. 14.

Q. Are there then other Gods beſides the God of the Chriſtians?

A. There is none other true God but He: but becauſe they want the grace of Chriſtians, therefore they chuſe not Him, but ſuch gods as will ſuit with, and countenance their luſts, Joh. 8. 44.

Q. What gods are they that countenance the luſts of wicked men?

A. The Devil, who is the god of this world; the belly, that god of gluttons, drunkards, and riotous perſons; and idle pleaſures and vanities, which are for the moſt part the gods of the youth, Job 8. 44. 2 Cor. 4. 4. Phil. 3. 19. Exod. 32. 6. 1 Cor. 10. 7. 2 Tim. 2. 22. 1 Joh. 5. 21.

Q. Who is a Chriſtian?

A. One that is born again, a new creature; one that ſits at Jeſus feet to hear his Word; one that hath his heart purified and ſanctified by Faith which is in Chriſt, Joh. 3. 3, 5, 7. Act. 11. 26. Act. 15. 9. chap. 26. 18. 2 Cor. 5. 17.

Q. How do you diſtinguiſh the God of the Chriſtians, from the gods of other people?

A. He is a Spirit, John 4. 24

Q. Is there no other Spirit but the true God?

A. Yes, there are many ſpirits, 1 Joh. 4. 1.

Q. What ſpirits are they?

A. The good Angels are ſpirits; the bad Angels are ſpirits; and the Souls of Men are ſpirits, Heb. 1. 7, 14. 1 King. 22. 21, 22. Rev. 16. 13, 14. Act. 7. 59. Heb. 12. 23.

Q. How then is the true God diſtinguiſhed from other Spirits?

A. Thus; No ſpirit is Eternal but he, no ſpirit is almighty but he, no ſpirit is Incomprehenſible and Unſearchable but he; He is alſo moſt Merciful, moſt Juſt, moſt Holy, Deut. 33. 27. Gen. 17. 1. Pſal. 145. 3. Mich. 7. 18. Job 34. 17. 1 Sam. 2. 2.

4. Q. Is this God, being a ſpirit, to be known?

A. Yes, and that by his Works of Creation, by his Providences, by the Judgments that he executeth, and by his Word.

Q. Do you underſtand him by the Works of Creation?

A. The Heavens declare the Glory of God, and the Firmament ſheweth his handy-work: ſo that the inviſible things of him from the Creation of the World, are clearly ſeen, being underſtood by the things that are made, even his Eternal Power and God-head, Pſal. 19. 1, 2. Rom. 1. 20.

Q. Do his Works of Providence alſo declare him?

A. They muſt needs do it, ſince through his Providence the whole Creation is kept in ſuch harmony as it is, and that in deſpite of Sin and Devils: alſo if you conſider that from an Angel to a Sparrow, nothing falls to the ground without the Providence of our Heavenly Father, Mat. 10. 29.

Q. Is he known by his Judgments?

A. God is known by his Judgments which he executeth; the Wicked is ſnared in the Work of his own hands, Pſal. 9. 16.

Q. Is he known by his Word?

A. Yes, moſt clearly: for by that he revealeth his Attributes, his Decrees, his Promiſes, his way of Worſhip, and how he is to be pleaſed by us.

Q. Of what did God make the World? 5.

A. Things that are ſeen, were not made of things that do appear, Heb. 11. 3.

Q. How long was he in making the World?

A. In ſix days the Lord made Heaven and Earth, the Sea, and all that is in them, and on the ſeventh day God ended all his works which he had made, Exod. 20. 11. Gen. 2. 2.

Q. Of what did God make Man?

A. The Lord God formed Man of the duſt of the Ground, and breathed into his noſtrils the breath of Life, and Man became a living ſoul, Gen. 2. 7.

Q. Why doth it ſay, God breathed into him the breath of Life? is Man's Soul of the very nature of the God-head?

A. This doth not teach that the Soul is of the nature of the God-head, but ſheweth that it is not of the ſame matter as his Body, which is duſt, Gen. 18. 27.

Q. Is not the Soul then of the nature of the God-head?

A. No, for God cannot ſin, but the Soul doth; God cannot be deſtroyed in Hell, but the Souls of the Impenitent ſhall, Ezek. 18. 4. Mat. 10. 28.

Q. How did God make Man in the Day of his firſt Creation?

A. God made Man upright. In the Image of God created he him, Eccl. 7. 29. Gen. 1. 27.

Q. Did God when he made Man, leave him without a Rule to walk by? 6.

A. No: He gave him a Law in his nature, and impoſed upon him a poſitive Precept, but he offered violence to them, and brake them both, Gen. 3. 3, 6.

Q. What was the due deſert of that Tranſgreſſion?

A. Spiritual death in the day he did it, Temporal Death afterwards, and everlaſting Death laſt of all, Gen. 2. 17. chap. 3. 19. Mat. 25. 46.

Q. What is it to be ſpiritually dead?

A. To be alienate from God, and to live without him in the World, through the Ignorance that is in Man, and through the Power of their Sins, Epheſ. 4. 18, 19.

Q. Wherein doth this alienation from God appear?

A. In the love they have to their ſins, in their their being loth to come to him, in their pleading idle excuſes for their ſins, and in their ignorance of the excellent myſteries of his bleſſed Goſpel, Epheſ. 2. 2, 3, 11, 12. Rom. 1. 28. Epheſ. 4. 18, 19.

Q. What is temporal death?

A. To have Body and Soul ſeparate aſunder, the Body returning to the Duſt as it was, and the Spirit to God that gave it, Gen. 3. 19. Eccleſ. 12. 7.

Q. What is everlaſting death?

A. For Body and Soul to be ſeparate for ever from God, and to be caſt into Hell-fire, Luk. 13. 27. Mar. 9. 43.

Q. Do Men go Body and Soul to Hell ſo ſoon as they die?

A. The Body abideth in the Grave till the ſound of the laſt Trump; but the Soul, if the Man dies Wicked, goes preſently from the face of God into Hell, as into a Priſon, there to be kept till the day of Judgment, 1 Cor. 15. 52. Iſa. 24. 22. Luk. 12. 20.

7. Q. Do we come into the World as upright as did our firſt Parent?

A. No; He came into the World ſinleſs, being made ſo of God Almighty; but we came into the World ſinners, being made ſo by his Pollution.

Q. How doth it appear that we came into the World polluted?

A. We are the Fruit of an unclean thing, are defiled in our very conception, and are by nature the Children of wrath, Job 14. 4. Pſal. 51. 5. Epheſ. 2. 3.

Q. Can you make further proof of this?

A. Yes, It is ſaid, That by one Man came Sin, Death, Judgment, and Condemnation upon all Men, Rom. 5. 12, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19.

Q. Do we then come Sinners into the World?

A. Yes, we are Tranſgreſſors from the Womb, and go aſtray as ſoon as we are born, ſpeaking lies, Iſa. 48. 8. Pſal. 58. 3.

Q. But as Adam fell with us in him, ſo did he not by Faith riſe with us in him? for he had no ſeed until he had the Promiſe.

A. He fell as a publick perſon, but believed the Promiſe as a Single perſon. Adam's faith ſaved not the World, though Adam's ſin overthrew it.

Q. But do not ſome hold that we are Sinners only by imitation?

A. Yes, being themſelves deceived. But God's Word ſaith, we are Children of Wrath by Nature, that is, by Birth and Generation.

Q. Can you bring further proof of this?

A. Yes; In that day that we were born, we were polluted in our own Blood, and caſt out to the loathing of our perſons. Again, the Children of old that were dedicated unto the Lord, a Sacrifice was offered for them at a Month old, which was before they were Sinners by imitation, Ezek. 16. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Num. 18 14, 15, 16.

Q. Can you make this appear by experience?

A. Yes; The firſt things that bloom and put forth themſelves in Children, ſhew their Ignorance of God, their diſobedience to Parents, and their innate enmity to Holineſs of life; their inclinations naturally run to vanity. Beſides little Children die, but that they could not, were they not of God counted ſinners; for death is the wages of ſin, Rom. 6. 23.

8. Q. What is ſin?

A. It is a Tranſgreſſion of the Law, 1 Joh. 3. 4.

Q. A Tranſgreſſion of what Law?

A. Of the Law of our Nature, and of the Law of the Ten Commandments as written in the holy Scriptures, Rom. 2. 12, 14, 15. Exod. 20.

Q. When doth one ſin againſt the Law of Nature?

A. When you do any thing that your Conſcience tells you is a Tranſgreſſion againſt God or Man, Rom. 2. 14, 15.

Q. When do we ſin againſt the Law as written in the Ten Commandments?

A. When you do any thing that they forbid, although you be Ignorant of it, Pſal. 19. 12.

Q. How many ways are there to ſin againſt this Law?

A. Three: By ſinful thoughts, by ſinful words, and alſo by ſinful actions, Rom. 7. 7. Mat. 5. 28. chap. 12. 37. Rom. 2. 6.

Q. What if we ſin but againſt one of the Ten Commandments?

A. Whoſoever ſhall keep the whole Law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all: for he that ſaid, Do not commit adultery, ſaid alſo, Do not kill; now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art a Tranſgreſſor of the Law, Jam. 2. 10, 11.

9. Q. Where will God puniſh Sinners for their ſins?

A. Both in this World and in that which is to come, Gen. 3. 24. chap. 4. 10, 11, 12. Job 21. 30.

Q. How are Men puniſhed in this World for ſin?

A. Many ways, as with ſickneſs, loſſes, croſſes, diſappointments and the like: ſometimes alſo God giveth them up to their own hearts luſts, to blindneſs of mind alſo, and hardneſs of heart; yea, and ſometimes to ſtrong deluſions that they might believe lies, and be damned, Lev. 26. 15, 16. Amos 4. 7, 10. Rom. 1. 24, 28. Exod. 4. 21. chap. 9. 12, 13, 14. Zeph. 1. 17. Rom. 11. 7, 8. 2 Theſ. 2. 11, 12.

Q. How are Sinners puniſhed in the World to come?

A. With a Worm that never dies, and with a Fire that never ſhall be quenched, Mar. 9. 44.

Q. Whither do Sinners go to receive this puniſhment?

A. The Wicked ſhall be turned into Hell, and all the Nations that forget God, Pſal. 9. 27.

10. Q. What is Hell?

A. It is a place, and a ſtate moſt fearful, Luk. 16. 28. Act. 1. 25. Luk. 16. 21.

Q. Why do you call it a place?

A. Becauſe in Hell ſhall all the damned be confined as in a Priſon, in their chains of darkneſs for ever, Luk. 12. 5, 58. Chap. 16. 26. Jude 6.

Q. What

Q. What a place is Hell?

A. It is a dark bottomleſs burning lake of Fire, large enough to hold all that periſh, *Mat.*22. 13. *Revel.*20. 1, 25. *Iſa.*30. 33. Prov. 27. 20.

Q. What do you mean when you ſay it is a fearful ſtate?

A. I mean, that it is the lot of thoſe that are caſt in thither to be tormented in moſt fearful manner, to wit, with Wrath and fiery indignation, *Rom.*2.9. *Heb.*10. 26, 27.

11. Q. In what parts ſhall they be thus fearfully tormented?

A. In Body and Soul: for Hell-fire ſhall kindle upon both beyond what now can be thought, *Mat.*10.28. *Luk.*16.24. *Jam.*5.3.

Q. How long ſhall they be in this Condition?

A. Theſe ſhall go away into everlaſting puniſhment, and the ſmoak of their torment aſcendeth up for ever and ever, and they have no reſt day nor night; for they ſhall be puniſhed with everlaſting deſtruction from the preſence of the Lord, and from the glory of his Power, Mat. 25. 46. Rev. 14. 11. 2 Theſ. 1. 9.

Q. But why might not the ungodly be puniſhed with this puniſhment in this World, that we might have ſeen it and believe?

A. If the ungodly ſhould with puniſhment have been rewarded in this World, it would in all probability have overthrown the whole order that God hath ſettled here among Men. For who could have endured here to have ſeen the flames of Fire, to have heard the groans, and to have ſeen the tears perhaps of damned relations, as Parents or Children? Therefore as Tophet of old was without the City, and as the Gallows and Gibbets are builded without the Towns; ſo Chriſt hath ordered that they who are to be puniſhed with this kind of Torment, ſhall be taken away; Take him away, ſaith he, (out of this World) and caſt him into utter darkneſs, and let him have his puniſhment there, there ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of Teeth. Beſides, Faith is not to be wrought by looking into Hell, and ſeeing the damned tormented before our Eyes; but by hearing the Word of God: for he that ſhall not believe Moſes and the Prophets, will not be perſwaded ſhould one come from the dead, yea ſhould one come to them in flames to perſuade them, Mat. 22. 13. *Rom.*10. 17. *Luk.*16. 27,28,29,30,31.

Q. Are there degrees of torments in Hell?

A. Yes, for God will reward every one according to their Works: Wo to the Wicked, it ſhall go ill with him, for the reward of his hands ſhall be given him, *Iſa.*3. 11.

Q. Who are like to be moſt puniſhed there, Men or Children?

A. The puniſhment in Hell comes not upon ſinners, according to age, but ſin: ſo that whether they be Men or Children, the greater ſin, the greater puniſhment; for there is no reſpect of Perſons with God, Rom. 2. 11.

12. Q. How do you diſtinguiſh between great ſins, and little ones?

A. By their Nature, and by the Circumſtances that attend them.

Q. What do you mean by their Nature?

A. I mean when they are very groſs in themſelves, 2*Chron.*33.2. *Ezek.*16.42.

Q. What kind of ſins are the greateſt?

A. Adultery, Fornication, Murder, Theft, Swearing, Lying, Covetouſneſs, Witchcraft, Sedition, Hereſies, or any the like, 1*Cor.*6.9,10. *Epheſ.*5. 3,4, 5, 6. *Col.*3. 5,6. *Gal.*5. 19, 20, 21. *Rev.*21.8.

Q. What do you mean by Circumſtances that attend ſin?

A. I mean Light, Knowledg, the Preaching of the Word, Godly Acquaintanee, timely Cautions, &c.

Q. Will theſe make an alteration in the ſin?

A. Theſe things attending ſinners, will make little ſins great, yea greater than greater ſins that are committed in groſſeſt Ignorance.

Q. How do you prove that?

A. Sodom and Gomorrha wallowed in all, or moſt of thoſe groſs Tranſgreſſions above mentioned: yea, they were ſaid to be ſinners exceedingly, they lived in ſuch ſins as may not be ſpoken of without bluſhing, and yet God ſwears that Iſrael, his Church, had done worſe than they; and the Lord Jeſus alſo ſeconds it in that Threatning of his, I ſay unto you, that it ſhall be more tollerable in that day for Sodom than for thee, *Ezek.*16. 48. *Mat.*11. 24. Luk. 10. 12.

Q. And was this the reaſon, namely, becauſe they had ſuch circumſtances attending them as Sodom had not?

A. Yes, as will plainly appear, if you read the three Chapters above mentioned.

Q. When do I ſin againſt Light and Knowledg?

A. When you ſin againſt convictions of Conſcience, when you ſin againſt a known Law of God, when you ſin againſt Counſels and diſ-ſwaſion of Friends, then you ſin againſt Light and Knowledg, *Rom.*1. 32.

Q. When do I ſin againſt Preaching of the Word?

A. When you refuſe to hear God's Miniſters, or hearing them, refuſe to follow their wholſome Doctrine, 2*Chron.*36.16. *Jer.*25.4,7. *chap.*35. 15.

Q. When elſe do I ſin againſt Preaching of the Word?

A. When you mock, or deſpiſe or reproach the Miniſters; alſo when you raiſe lies and ſcandals of them, or receive ſuch lies or ſcandals raiſed: you then alſo ſin againſt the preaching of the Word, when you perſecute them that Preach it, or are ſecretly glad to ſee them ſo uſed, 2*Chron.*30.1,10. *Rom.*3.8. Jer. 20.10. 1*Theſ.*2.15,16.

Q. How will godly acquaintance greaten my ſin?

A. When you ſin againſt their Counſels, Warnings, or Perſwaſions to the contrary; alſo when their lives and converſations are reproof to you, and yet againſt all you will ſin. Thus ſinned Iſhmael, Eſau, Eli's ſons, Abſolom and Judas, they had good Company, good Counſels, and a good life ſet before them by their godly Acquaintance, but they ſinned againſt all all, and their Judgment was the greater. Ishmael was cast away, Esau hated, Eli's sons died suddenly, Absolom and Judas were both strangely hanged; *Gen.*21.10. *Gal.*4.30. *Mal.*1.2. 1*Sam.* 2.20,25. 2*Sam.*16.

Q. Are sins thus heightned, distinguished from others by any special name?

A. Yes; they are called Rebellion, and are compared to the sin of Witchcraft; they are called wilful sin, they are called Briers and Thorns, and they that bring them forth are nigh unto Cursing, whose end is to be burned, 1 Sam. 15. 23. *Heb.*10.26. chap. 6. 7, 8.

Q. Are there any other things that can make little Sins great ones?

A. Yes; As when you sin against the Judgments of God: As for example, you see the Judgments of God come upon some for their transgressions, and you go on in their iniquities: also when you sin against the Patience, Long-suffering, and Forbearance of God, this will make little sins great ones, *Dan.*5. 21,22,23,24. *Rom.*2. 4.5.

Q. Did ever God punish little Children for sin against him?

A. Yes: When the Flood came, he drowned all the little Children that were in the old World; he also burned up all the little Children which were in Sodom: and because upon a time the little Children at Bethel mocked the Prophet as he was a going to worship God, God let loose two she-Bears upon them which tore forty and two of them to pieces, 2*Kin.* 2. 22, 23.

Q. Alas! What shall we little Children do?

A. Either go on in your sins; or remember now your Creator in the days of your Youth, before the evil days come, Eccles. 12.1.

Q. Why do you mock us, to bid us go on in our sins? you had need pray for us that God would save us.

A. I do not mock you, but as the wise man doth; and besides, I pray for you and wish your Salvation.

Q. How doth the wise man mock us?

A. Thus, Rejoice, O young man, in thy Youth, and let thy heart chear thee in the days of thy Youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but know thou that for all these things God will bring thee to Judgment, Eccles. 11. 9.

Q. What a kind of mocking is this?

A. Such an one as is mixed with the greatest seriousness; as if he should say, I, do, sinners, go on in your sins if you dare; do, live in your vanities, but God will have a time to judg you for them.

Q. Is not this just as when my Father bids me be naught if I will; but if I be naught, he will beat me for it?

A. Yes; or like that saying of Joshua, If it seem evil to you to serve the Lord, chuse you this day whom you will serve; serve your sins at your peril, Josh. 24. 15.

14. Q. Is it not best then for me to serve God?

A. Yes; for they that serve the Devil must be where he is, and they that serve God and Christ, must be where they are, Joh. 12.16. *Mat.*25. 41.

Q. But when had I best begin to serve God?

A. Just now: Remember now thy Creator, now thou hast the Gospel before thee, now thy heart is tender and will be soonest broken.

Q. But if I follow my play and sports a little longer, may I not come time enough?

A. I cannot promise thee that, for there be little Graves in the Church-yard; and who can tell but that thy young life is short: or if thou dost live, perhaps thy day of Grace may be as short, as was Ishmael's of old: read also *Prov.*1. 24,25,26.

Q. But if I stay a little longer before I turn, I may have more wit to serve God than now I have, may I not?

A. If thou stayest longer, thou wilt have more sin, and perhaps less wit: for the bigger sinner, the bigger fool, *Prov.*1. 22.

Q. If I serve God sometimes and my sin sometimes, how then?

A. No Man can serve two Masters: Thou canst not serve God and thy Sins. God saith, My Son, give me thy Heart. Also thy Soul and Body are his; but the double-minded Man is forbidden to think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord, Mat. 6. 24. Prov. 23. 26. 1 *Cor.*6. 28. Jam. 1. 7,8.

Q. Do you find many such little Children as I am, serve God?

A. Not many; yet some I do, Samuel served him being a Child; when Josias was young he began to seek after the God of his Father David: And how kindly did our Lord Jesus take it, to see the little Children run tripping before him, and crying Hosannah to the Son of David! 1 *Sam.*3. 1. 2 *Chron.*34. 3. *Mat.*21. 15, 16.

Q. Then I am not like to have many Companions, if I thus young begin to serve God, am I?

A. Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way that leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it. Yet some Companions thou wilt have. David counted himself a Companion of all them that love God's Testimonies; all the Godly, though Gray-headed, will be thy Companions; yea, and thou shalt have either one or more of the Angels of God in Heaven to attend on, and minister for thee, Mat. 7. 13,13. *Psal.*119.63. *Mat.*18. 10.

Q. But I am like to be slighted, and despised by other little Children, if I begin already to serve God, am I not?

A. If Children be so rude as to mock the Prophets and Ministers of God, no marvel if they also mock thee: but it is a poor Heaven that is not worth enduring worse things than to be mocked for the seeking and obtaining of, 2*Kings* 2. 23, 24.

Q. But how should I serve God? I do not know how to Worship him. 15.

A. The true Worshippers, worship God in Spirit and Truth, *Joh.*4.24. *Phil.*3. 3.

Q. What is meant by Worshiping him in the Spirit?

A. To worship him in God's Spirit and in mine own; that is, to worship him, being wrought over in my very heart by the good Spirit of God, to an hearty Compliance with his will, Rom. 1. 9. Chap. 6. 17. Psal. 101. 3.

Q. What is it to worship him in truth?

A. To

A. To do all that we do in his Worſhip according to his Word, for his Word is truth, and to do it without diſſimulation. *Heb.*8. 5. Joh. 17. 17. Pſal. 26. 6. Pſal. 118. 19, 20. You may take the whole thus: Then do you worſhip God a-right, when in heart, and life, you walk according to his Word.

Q. How muſt I do to Worſhip him with my ſpirit and heart?

A. Thou muſt firſt get the good knowledg of him. And thou Solomon my Son, ſaid David, know thou the God of thy Fathers, and ſerve him, with a perfect heart. Mind you, he firſt bids know him, and then ſerve him with a perfect heart, 1 *Chron.*28. 9.

16. Q. Is it eaſie to get a true knowledg of God?

A. No; Thou muſt cry after Knowledg, and lift up thy voice for Underſtanding. If thou ſeekeſt for her as Silver, and ſearcheſt for her as for hid treaſure, then ſhalt thou underſtand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledg of God, Prov. 2. 1,2,3,4,5.

Q. How comes it to be ſo difficult a thing to attain the true Knowledg of God?

A. By reaſon of the pride and ignorance that is in us, as alſo by reaſon of our wicked ways, *Pſal.*10. 4. Eph 4. 18, 19. *Tit.*1. 16.

Q. But do not every one profeſs they know God?

A. Yes; But their ſuppoſed knowledg of him varieth as much as do their faces or complexions, ſome thinking he is this, and ſome that.

Q. Will you ſhew me a little how they vary in their thoughts about him.

A. Yes; Some count him a kind of an heartleſs God, that will neither do evil nor good; ſome count him a kind of an ignorant and blind God, that can neither know nor ſee through the Clouds, ſome again count him an inconſiderable God, not worth the enjoying, if it muſt not be but with the loſs of this World, and their Luſts. Moreover, ſome think him to be altogether ſuch an one as themſelves, one that hath as little hatred to ſin as themſelves, and as little love to holineſs as themſelves, Zeph. 1. 12. Job 22.12,13. chap 21.9,10,11,12,13,14, 15. *Pſal.*50. 21.

Q. Are there any more falſe Opinions of God?

A. Yes; There are three other falſe opinions of God. 1. Some think he is all Mercy and no Juſtice, and that therefore they may live as they liſt. 2. Others think he is all Juſtice and no Mercy, and that therefore they had as good go on in their ſins and be damned, as turn and be never the better. 3. Others think he is both Juſtice and Mercy, but yet think alſo, that his Juſtice is ſuch as they can pacify with their own good works, and ſave themſelves with their own right hand, (*Rom.*3.8. *Jer.*2.25. Job. 40.14.) contrary to theſe Scriptures, *Hab.*1.13. Iſa. 45. 21.

Q. How then ſhall I know when I have the true Knowledg of God?

A. When thy Knowledge of him and the holy Scriptures agree.

Q. The Scriptures! do not all falſe Opinions of him flow from the Scriptures?

A. No, in no wiſe; 'tis true, Men father their errors upon the Scriptures, when indeed they flow from the ignorance of their hearts, Epheſ. 4. 18.

Q. But how if I do not underſtand the holy Bible, muſt I then go without the true knowledg of God?

A. His Name is manifeſted by his Word; the Scriptures are they that teſtify of him, and they are able to make the Man of God perfect in all things, and wiſe unto Salvation through Faith in Jeſus Chriſt, *Joh.*17. 6,7,8. *Joh.*5. 39. 2*Tim.*3. 15,16.

Q. But what muſt one that knoweth not God do, to get the knowledg of God?

A. Let him apply his heart unto the Scriptures, as unto a light that ſhineth in a dark place (even this World) until the day dawn, and the day-Star ariſe in his heart, Pro. 22. 7. chap. 23. 12. 2 Pet. 1. 19, 20.

Q. But how ſhall I know when I have found by the Scriptures the true Knowledg of God?

A. When thou haſt alſo found the true knowledg of thy ſelf, *Iſa.*6. 5. *Job.*42. 5.

Q. What is it for me to know my ſelf?

A. Then thou knoweſt thy ſelf, when thou art in thine own eyes, a loathſome, polluted, wretched, miſerable Sinner, and that not any thing done by thee, can pacify God unto thee, Job 42. 5. *Ezek.*20. 43,44. *Rom.*7. 24.

Of Confeſſion of Sin.

17 Queſt. YOu have ſhewed me, if I will indeed worſhip God, I muſt firſt know him aright, now then to the queſtion in hand, pray how muſt I Worſhip him?

A. In confeſſing unto him, Nehem. 9. 1, 2, 3.

Q. What muſt I confeſs?

A. Thou muſt confeſs thy tranſgreſſions unto the Lord, *Pſal.*32. 5.

Q. Was this the way of the godly of old?

A. Yes; Nehemiah confeſſed his ſins, David confeſſed his ſins, Daniel confeſſed his ſins, and they that were Baptized by John in Jordan confeſſed their ſins, *Nehem.*1.6. *Pſal.*32. 5. *Dan.*9. 4. *Mat.*3. 6.

Q. What ſins muſt I confeſs to God?

A. All ſins whatſoever; for he that covereth his ſins ſhall not proſper, but whoſo confeſſeth and forſaketh them ſhall find Mercy, *Pro.*28. 13. 1 John 1. 9.

Q. But how if I do neither know nor remember all my ſins?

A. Thou muſt then ſearch and try thy ways by the holy Word of God, *Lam.*3. 40. *Pſal.*77. 6.

Q. But how if I do not make this ſearch after my ſins?

A. If thou doſt not, God will: if thou doſt not ſearch them out and confeſs them, God will ſearch them out and charge them upon thee, and tear thee in pieces for them, Pſal. 50. 21, 22.

Q. Where muſt I begin to confeſs my Sins?

A. Where God beginneth to ſhew thee them: Obſerve then where God beginneth with conviction for ſin, and there begin thou with confeſſion of it. Thus David began to confeſs, thus Daniel began to confeſs, 2*Sam.*12. 7,8,9,10, 11,12,13. *Dan.*9. 3,4,5,6,7,8.

Q. What muſt I do, when God hath ſhewed me any ſin, to make right Confeſſion thereof?

A. Thou muſt follow that Conviction, until it ſhall bring thee to the Original and Fountain of that ſin, which is thine own heart, 1 King. 8. 38. *Pſal.*51. 5.

Q. Is

18. Q. Is my heart then the Fountain and Original of ſin?

A. Yes: For from within out of the heart of Man proceed evil thoughts, Adulteries. Fornications, Murders, Theſts, Covetouſneſs, Wickedneſs, Deceit, Laſciviouſneſs, an evil Eye, Blaſphemy, Pride, Fooliſhneſs. All theſe evil things come from within, and defile the Man, *Mar.*7. 21,22,23.

Q. When a Man ſees this, what will he think of himſelf?

A. Then he will not only think but conclude, that he is an unclean thing, that his heart has deceived him, that it is moſt deſperate and wicked, that it may not be truſted by any means, that every imagination and thought of his heart (naturally) is only evil, and that continually, Iſa. 64. 6. Prov. 28. 26. *Iſa.*44. 20. *Gen.*6.5.

Q. You have given me a very bad character of the heart, but how ſhall I know that it is ſo bad as you count it?

A. Both by the Text, and by Experience.

Q. What do you mean by Experience?

A. Keep thine eyes upon thy heart, and alſo upon God's Word, and thou ſhalt ſee, with thine own eyes, the deſperate wickedneſs that is in thine heart; for thou muſt know ſin by the law, that bidding thee do one thing, and thy heart inclining to another, Rom. 7. 7,8,9.

Q. May I thus then know my heart?

A. Yes; that is ſomething of it, eſpecially the Carnality of thy mind, becauſe the carnal mind is enmity againſt God; for it is not ſubject to the Law of God, neither indeed can be, *Rom.*8. 7.

Q. Can you particularize ſome few things wherein the wickedneſs of the heart of man ſhews it ſelf?

A. Yes; by its ſecret hankering after ſin, although the Word forbids it: by its deferring of Repentance; by its being weary of holy Duties; by its aptneſs to forget God; by its ſtudying to leſſen and hide ſin; by its feigning it ſelf to be better than it is, by being glad when it can ſin without being ſeen of Men; by its hardening it ſelf againſt the Threatnings and Judgments of God; by its deſperate inclinings to Unbelief, Atheiſm, and the like, Prov. 1. 24,25, 26. *Iſa.*43. 22. *Mal.*1. 12,13. *Judg.*3. 7. *Jer.*2. 32. *Pſal.*106. 21. *Hoſ.*2. 13. *Prov.*30. 20. Jer. 2. 25. Rom. 1. 32. chap. 2. 5. Zeph. 7. 11, 12, 13.

19. Q. Is there any thing elſe to be done in order to a right confeſſion of ſin?

A. Yes; Let this Conviction ſink down into thy heart, that God ſees much more wickedneſs in thee than thou canſt ſee in thy ſelf. If thy heart condemn thee, God is greater than thy heart, and he knows all things; beſides, he hath ſet thy ſecret ſins in the light of his Countenance, 1*Joh.*3.20.*Pſal.*90.8.

Q. Is there any thing elſe that muſt go to a right confeſſion of ſin?

A. Yes; In thy confeſſions thou muſt greaten and aggravate thy ſin by all juſt circumſtances.

Q. How muſt I do that?

A. By conſidering againſt how much Light and Mercy thou haſt ſinned, againſt how much Patience, and Forbearance, thou haſt ſinned; alſo againſt what Warnings and Judgments thou haſt ſinned; and againſt how many of thine own Vows, Promiſes, and Ingagements, thou haſt ſinned: theſe things heighten and aggravate ſin, Ezra 9.10,11,12,13,14,15.

Q. But what need I confeſs my ſins to God, ſeeing he knows them already?

A. Confeſſion of ſin is neceſſary, for many Reaſons.

Q. Will you ſhew me ſome of thoſe Reaſons?

A. Yes; One is, by a ſincere and hearty Confeſſion of ſin thou acknowledgeſt God to be thy Sovereign Lord, and that he hath right to impoſe his Law upon thee, Exod. 20.

Q. Can you ſhew me another Reaſon?

A. Yes; By confeſſing thy ſin, thou ſubſcribeſt to his righteous Judgments that are pronounced againſt it, *Pſal.*51. 3,4.

Q. Can you ſhew me another Reaſon?

A. Yes; By confeſſing of ſin, thou ſheweſt how litttle thou deſerveſt the leaſt Mercy from God.

Q. Have you yet another reaſon why I ſhould confeſs my ſins?

A. Yes; By ſo doing thou ſheweſt whether thy heart loves it, or hates it: He that heartily confeſſeth his ſin, is like him who having a Thief or a Traitor in his houſe, brings him out to condign puniſhment; but he that forbears to confeſs, is like him who hideth a Thief or Traitor againſt the Laws and Peace of our Lord the King.

Q. Give me one more reaſon why I ſhould confeſs my ſins to God?

A. He that confeſſeth his ſin, caſteth himſelf at the feet of Gods Mercy, utterly condemns and caſts away his own righteouſneſs, concludeth there is no way to ſtand juſt and acquit before God, but by and through the righteouſneſs of another; whither God is reſolved to bring thee, if ever he ſaves thy Soul; *Pſal.*51. 1,2,3. 1*Joh.*1.9. *Phil.*3.6,7,8.

Q. What frame of heart ſhould I be in when I confeſs my ſins?

A. Do it heartily, and to the beſt of thy power thoroughly. For to feign, in this Work, is abominable; to do it by the halves, is wickedneſs; to do it without ſence of ſin cannot be acceptable: and to confeſs it with the mouth, and to love it with the heart, is a lying unto God, and a provocation of the eyes of his Glory.

Q. What do you mean by feigning and diſſembling in this work? 20.

A. When men confeſs it, yet know not what it is; or if they think they know it, do not conclude it ſo bad as it is; or when men ask pardon of God, but do not ſee their need of pardon; this man muſt needs diſſemble.

Q. What do you mean by doing it by the halves?

A. When men confeſs ſome, but not all that they are convinced of; or if they confeſs all, yet labour in their Confeſſion to leſſen it; or when in their Confeſſion they turn not from all Sin to God, but from one sin to another. They turned,but not to the most high, none of them did exalt him, *Prov.*28. 13. Job 31. 33. Jam. 3. 12. *Hos.*7. 16.

Q. What is it to confess sin without the sence of sin?

A. To do it through Custom, or Tradition, when there is no guilt upon the Conscience, now this cannot be acceptable.

Q. What is it to confess it with the mouth, and to love it with the heart?

A. When men condemn it with their mouth, but refuse to let it go; when with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their Covetousness, Job 20.12,13. *Jer.*8. 5. Ezek. 33. 31.

Q. But I asked you what frame of heart I should be in, in my Confessions?

A. I have shewed you how you should not be. Well, I will shew you now what frame of heart becomes you in your Confessions of Sin. Labour by all means for a sence of the evil that is in sin.

Q. What evil is there in Sin?

A. No Man with Tongue can express what may by the Heart be felt of the evil of Sin; but this know, it dishonoureth God, it provoketh him to wrath, it damneth the Soul, Rom. 2. 13. *Ephes.*5.5,6. 2*Thes.*2.12.

Q. What else would you advise me to in this great work?

A. When we confess Sin, Tears, Shame, and brokenness of heart becomes us, Jer. 50. 4. *Isa.*22. 12. *Psal.*51.17. *Jer.*31.19.

Q. What else becomes me in my Confessions of Sin?

A. Great detestation of Sin, with unfeigned Sighs and Groans, that express thou dost it heartily, Job 42. 5, 6. Ezek. 9. 4. Jer. 31. 9.

Q. Is here all?

A. No; Tremble at the Word of God; Tremble at every Judgment, lest it overtake thee; Tremble at every promise, lest thou shouldest miss thereof: for, saith God, To this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite Spirit, and that trembles at my Word.

Isa. 66. 2. Heb.4.1,2.

Q. What if I cannot thus confess my Sins?

A. Bewail the hardness of thy Heart, keep close to the best Preachers, remember that thou hangest over Hell, by the weak thread of an uncertain life. And know, God counts it a great evil, not to be ashamed of, not to blush at sin,*Isa.*63. 17.*Jer.*6. 15. chap. 8. 12.

Q. Are there no thanks to be rendred to God in Confessions?

A. O, Yes; Thank him that he hath let thee see thy Sins, thank him that he hath given thee time to acknowledg thy sins;thou mightest now have been confessing in Hell: thank him also that he hath so far condescended as to hear the self-bemoaning Sinner, and that he hath promised, Surely to have Mercy upon such.

Jer 31.18, 19, 20.

21. Of Faith in Christ.

Quest. I Am glad that you have instructed me into this part of the worship of God, I pray tell me also how else I should worship him?

A. Thou must believe his Word.

Q. Is that wôrshipping of God?

A. Yes; after the way which you call heresy, so worship I the God of my Fathers, believing all things that are written in the Law, and the Prophets, &c. Act. 24. 14.

Q. Why should believing be counted a part of Gods worship?

A. Because without Faith it is impossible to please him, Heb. 11. 6.

Q. Why not possible to please him without believing?

A. Because in all true Worship, a man must believe that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. Besides, he that worships God, must also of necessity believe his Word, else he cannot worship with that reverence and fear that becomes him, but will do it in a superstitious prophane manner: for whatsoever is not of Faith is sin, Rom. 14. 23.

Q. But do not all believe as you have said? 22.

A. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is Spirit. And again,theChildren of the flesh,these are not the Children of God, but the Children of the promise are counted for the Seed, John 3. 6. Rom. 9. 8.

Q. What do you mean by that?

A. Thou must be born twice before thou canst truely believe once, Joh. 3. 3, 5.

Q. How do you prove that?

A. Because believing is a Christian act, and none are true Christians but those that are born again. But I mean by believing, believing unto Salvation.

Q. Can you prove this?

A. Yes; They that believe in the Name of Christ, are such, which are born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God, *Joh.*1. 12, 13.

Q. What is believing?

A. It is such an act of a gracious Soul, as layeth hold on Gods Mercy through Christ, Act. 15. 11.

Q. Why do you call it an act of a gracious Soul?

A. Because their minds are disposed that way, by the Power of the Holy-Ghost, Rom. 15. 13.

Q. If such a poor Sinner as I am would be saved from the wrath to come, how must I believe?

A. Thy first question should be, on whom must I believe? John 9. 35, 36.

Q. On whom then must I believe?

A. On the Lord Jesus Christ, Act. 16. 31, 32.

Q. Who is Jesus Christ that I might believe in him? 23.

A. He is the only begotten Son of God, Joh. 3. 16.

Q. VVhy must I believe on him?

A. Because he is the Saviour of the World, 2*Pet.* 1. 1. 1 John 4. 14.

Q. How is he the Saviour of the World?

A. By the Father's designation, and sending: for God sent not his Son into the World to condemn theWorld,but that theWorld through him might be saved, *Joh.*3.13.

Q. How

Q. How did he come into the World?

A. In Mans fleſh, in which fleſh he fulfilled the Law, died for our Sins, conquered the Devil and Death, and obtained Eternal Redemption for us, *Gal.*4.4. *Rom.*10. 3, 4. chap. 8. 3. Heb. 2. 14, 15. chap. 6. 20. chap. 9. 12, 24.

Q. But is there no other way to be ſaved but by believing in Jeſus Chriſt?

A. There is no other name given under Heaven among men whereby we muſt be ſaved; and therefore he that believeth not, ſhall be damned, Act. 4. 12. Mar. 16. 16. John 3. 18, 36.

Q. What is believing on Jeſus Chriſt?

A. It is a receiving of him with what is in him, as the gift of God to thee a Sinner, Joh. 1. 12.

Q. What is in Jeſus Chriſt to encourage me to receive him?

A. Infinite Righteouſneſs to juſtify thee, and the Spirit without meaſure to ſanctify thee, *Iſa.*45.24,25. Dan 9.24. *Phil.*3.7,8. *Joh.*3.24.

Q. Is this made mine if I receive Chriſt?

A. Yes; If thou receive him as God offereth him to thee, Joh. 3. 16.

Q. How doth God offer him to me?

A. Even as a rich Man freely offereth an Alms to a Begger, and ſo muſt thou receive him, Joh. 6. 32, 33, 34, 35.

Q. Hath he indeed made amends for Sin? and would he indeed have me accept of what he hath done?

A. That he hath made amends for Sin, 'tis evident, becauſe God for Chriſt's ſake forgiveth thee. And 'tis as evident that he would have thee accept thereof, becauſe he offereth it to thee, and hath ſworn to give thee the utmoſt benefit, to wit, Eternal life, if thou doſt receive it, yea and hath threatned thee with eternal Damnation, if after all this thou ſhalt neglect ſo great Salvation, *Epheſ.*5. 1. *Rom.*3. 24. *Mat.*28. 19. Act. 13. 32,33,38,39. *Heb.*6.17,18. *chap.*2.3. Mar. 16. 16.

24. Q. But how muſt I be qualified before I ſhall dare to believe in Chriſt?

A. Come, ſenſible of thy ſins, and of the Wrath of God due unto them, for thus thou art bid to come, Mat. 11. 28.

Q. Did ever any come thus to Chriſt?

A. David came thus, Paul and the Jailer came thus, alſo Chriſt's Murderers came thus, *Pſal.*51. 1,2,3. Acts 9. 6. Acts 16. 30,31. Acts 2. 37.

Q. But doth it not ſeem moſt reaſonable that we ſhould firſt mend and be good?

A. The whole have no need of the Phyſician, but thoſe that are ſick; Chriſt came not to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance, Mar. 2. 17.

Q. But is it not the beſt way, if one can, to mend firſt?

A. This is juſt as if a ſick man ſhould ſay, is it not beſt for me to be well before I go to the Phyſician; or as if a wounded man ſhould ſay, when I am cured I will lay on the Plaiſter.

Q. But when a poor Creature ſees its vileneſs, it is afraid to come to Chriſt, is it not?

A. Yes; But without ground, for he hath ſaid, Say to them that are of a fearful heart, be ſtrong, fear not; and to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite Spirit, and trembles at my word, Iſa 35. 4. Chap. 66. 2.

Q. What encouragement can be given us, thus to come?

A. The Prodigal came thus, and his Father received him, and fell upon his neck and kiſſed him. Thus he received the Coloſſians and conſequently all that are ſaved, Luke 15. Coloſ. 2. 13.

Q. Will you give me one more encouragement?

A. The Promiſes are ſo worded, that they that are Scarlet-ſinners, Crimſon-ſinners, Blaſphemous-ſinners, have encouragement to come to him with hopes of life, Iſa. 1. 18. *Mar.*3.28. John 6. 36. Luke 24. 47 Acts 13. 36.

Q. Shall any one that believeth be ſaved? 25.

A. If they believe as the Scriptures have ſaid, if the Scriptures be fulfilled in their believing, Joh. 7. 38. Jam. 2. 23.

Q. What do you mean by that?

A. When Faith which a Man ſaith he hath, proveth it ſelf to be of the right kind by its acts and operations in the mind of a poor Sinner, Jam. 2. 19, 20, 21, 22.

Q. Why, are there many kinds of Faith?

A. Yes; there is a Faith that will ſtand with a heart as hard as a rock; a ſhort-winded Faith, which dureth for a while; and in time of temptation ſuch fall away, Luke 8. 13.

Q. Is there any other kind of Faith.

A. Yes; There is a Faith that hath no more life in it than hath the body of a dead man, Jam. 2. 26.

Q. Is there yet another of theſe unprofitable Faiths?

A. Yes; there is a Faith that is of our ſelves, and not of the ſpecial Grace of God, *Eph.*2. 8.

Q. Tell me if there be yet another?

A. There is a Faith that ſtandeth in the Wiſdom of men, and not in the power of God, 1 Cor. 2. 5.

Q. Is here all?

A. No; there is a Faith that ſeems to be holy, but it will not do, becauſe 'tis not the moſt holy Faith, 2 Pet. 2. 20. Jude 20.

Q. Alas! If there be ſo many kinds of Faith, that will not profit to Salvation, how eaſie is it for me to be deceived?

A. It is eaſie indeed, and therefore the holy Ghoſt doth in this thing, ſo often caution us, Be not deceived, Let no man deceive you, and if a man thinketh himſelf to be ſomething when he is nothing, he deceiveth himſelf, 1 Cor. 6. 9. Eph. 5. 6. Gal. 6. 3.

Q. But is there no way to diſtinguiſh the right 26.
Faith from that which is wrong?

A. Yes; And that by the manner of its Coming, and Operation.

Q. What do you mean by the manner of its Coming?

A. Nay; you muſt make two queſtions of this one; that is, what is it for Faith to come, and in what manner doth it come?

Q. Well then, what is it for Faith to come?

A. This word Faith comes, ſuppoſeth, thou wert once without it; it alſo ſuppoſeth that thou didſt not fetch it whence it was, it alſo ſuppoſeth it hath a way of coming, Gal. 3. 23, 25.

Q. That I was once without it, you intimated before, but muſt I take it without proof for granted?

A. I will give you a proof or two: God hath concluded them all in unbelief, and again it is ſaid, Faith comes. And again, the Holy Ghoſt inſinuateth our eſtate to be dreadful before Faith come, Rom. 11. 32. chap. 10. 17. Gal. 3. 23.

27. Q. Why? How is it with men before Faith comes?

A. Without Faith or before Faith comes it is impoſſible to pleaſe God, for whether their actions be civil or religious, they ſin in all they do. The Sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination, and the plowing of the wicked is ſin, Prov. 21. 4. 27.

Q. Is not this a very ſad Condition?

A. Yes; But this is not all, for their preſent unbelief bindeth them over to wrath, by ſhutting them up to the Law; it alſo draweth them away from God, and will drown them in everlaſting damnation, if the grace of God prevent not, Gal. 3. 23. Heb. 3, 17, 18. John 3. 36.

Q. What if a man ſaw himſelf in this condition?

A. There are many ſee themſelves in this Condition?

Q. How came they to ſee it?

A. By the preaching and hearing the Word of God, Joh. 16. 8, 9.

Q. And what do ſuch think of themſelves?

A. They do not only think, but know that in this Condition they are without Chriſt, without Hope, and without God in the World, Eph. 2. 11, 12.

Q. Are not they happy that ſee not themſelves in this Condition?

A. Yes; If they have ſeen themſelves delivered therefrom by a work of Faith in their Souls, elſe not.

Q. How do you mean?

A. I mean if they have ſeen themſelves delivered from this ſtate, by being by the Word and Spirit of God implanted into the Faith of Chriſt, Rom. 11. 17, 18, 19.

Q. Are not they happy that are never troubled with this ſad ſight of their Condition?

A. They are juſt ſo happy as is that man, who lieth faſt aſleep in his houſe while it is on fire about his ears. Can a man be happy, that is ignorant that he is without God and Chriſt, and Hope? Can a man be happy that is ignorant that he is hanging over Hell by the poor weak thread of an uncertain Life? for this is the ſtate of ſuch an one.

Q. But may not Faith come to a man without he ſee himſelf to be firſt in this Condition?

A. It is God's ordinary way to convince men of this their ſad Condition before he revealeth to them the righteouſneſs of Faith, or work Faith in them to lay hold of that Righteouſneſs, Joh. 16. 9, 10, 11. Gal. 3. 23, 25.

Q. How then do you conclude of them that never ſaw themſelves ſhut up by unbelief under ſin and the curſe of God?

A. I will not judg them for the future, God may convert them before they die; but at preſent their ſtate is miſerable: for becauſe they are ſhut up and held Priſoners by the Law, by their luſts, and by the Devil, and unbelief; therefore they cannot ſo much as with their heart deſire that God would have mercy upon them, and bring them out of their Snares and Chains.

Q. Then do you count it better for a Man to ſee his Condition by nature, than to be ignorant thereof?

A. Better a thouſand times to ſee it in this World, than to ſee it in Hell-fire, for he muſt ſee it there or here: now if he ſees it here, this is the place of Prayer, here is the preaching of the Word which is God's Ordinance to beget Faith. Beſides, here God applieth Promiſes of Mercy to the deſolate, and Chriſt alſo hath proteſted that he that cometh to him, he will in no wiſe caſt out, Joh. 6. 37.

28. Q. I am convinced that I was once without Faith, and alſo that I cannot fetch it, but pray tell me the way of its coming?

A. Faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God, Rom. 10. 17.

Q. How by hearing?

A. God mixeth it with the Word, when he abſolutely intendeth the Salvation of the Sinner, Heb. 4. 2, 3. Act. 13. 48.

Q. And how do Men hear when Faith is mixed with the Word?

A. They hear the Word not as the Word of Man, but as it is in truth the Word of God, which worketh effectually in them that believe, 1 Theſ. 2. 13.

Q. Pray tell me now the manner of its coming?

A. It comes through difficulty, it comes gradually.

Q. What are the difficulties which oppoſe it at its coming?

A. Senſe of Unworthineſs, Guilt of Conſcience, natural Reaſon, Unbelief, and arguments forged in Hell, and thence ſuggeſted by the Devil into the Heart againſt it, Luk. 5. 8. Mar. 9. 24. Iſa. 6. 5. Rom. 4 18, 19, 20.

Q. How doth Faith come? gradually.

A. Perhaps at firſt it is but like a grain of Muſtard-ſeed, ſmall, and weak; Mat. 17. 20.

Q. Will you explain it further?

A. Faith, at firſt, perhaps may have its excellency lie in view only, that is in ſeeing where Juſtification and Salvation is; after that it may ſtep a degree higher, and be able to ſay, it may be, or who can tell but I may obtain this Salvation? again, it may perhaps go yet a ſtep higher and arrive to ſome ſhort and tranſient aſſurance, Heb. 11. 13. Joel 2. 13, 14. Zeph. 2. 3. Pſal. 30. 7.

Q. But doth Faith come only by hearing?

A. It is uſually begotten by the Word preached, but after it is begotten, it is increaſed ſeveral ways. It is increaſed by Prayer, it is increaſed by Chriſtian Conference, it is increaſed by Reading, it is increaſed by Meditation, it is increaſed by the remembrance of former Experiences, Luk. 17. 5. Mar. 9. 24. Rom. 1. 12. chap. 16. 25, 26. 1 Tim. 4 12, 13, 14, 15. Mat. 16. 8, 9.

Q. What

Q. What do theſe things teach us ?

A. They teach us that the Men of this World are very ignorant of, and as much without deſire after Faith ; they neither Hear, nor Pray, Confer, nor Read, nor Meditate for the ſake of Faith.

A. But you ſaid even now, that this Faith was diſtinguiſhed from that which profiteth not to Salvation, as by the manner of its coming, ſo by its operation ? pray what is its operation ?

A. It cauſeth the Soul to ſee in the light thereof, that there is no Righteouſneſs in this World that can ſave the ſinner, *Iſa.*64. 6.

Q. How doth it give the Soul this Sight ?

A. By giving him to underſtand the Law, and his own inability to do it, *Gal.*2.15,16.

29. Q. And doth it always ſhow the Soul where Juſtifying Righteouſneſs is ?

A. Yes ; it ſhews that Juſtifying Righteouſneſs is only to be found in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, in what he hath done and ſuffered in the Fleſh, Iſa. 45,24,25. Phil. 3.3,4,5,6, 7, 8.

Q. How doth Faith find this Righteouſneſs in Chriſt ?

A. By the Word, which is therefore called the Word of Faith, becauſe Faith by that findeth ſufficient Righteouſneſs in him, Rom. 10. 6, 7, 8, 9.

Q. How elſe doth it operate in the Soul ?

A. It applieth this Righteouſneſs to the ſinner, and alſo helps him to embrace it, Rom. 3. 21, 22. 1 Cor. 1. 30. Gal. 2. 20.

Q. How elſe doth it operate ?

A. By this application of Chriſt, the Soul is quickned to Life, Spiritualized and made Heavenly. For right Faith quickeneth to Spiritual Life, Purifies and Sanctifies the Heart; and worketh up the Man that hath it, into the Image of Jeſus Chriſt, *Col.*2. 12, 13. *Act.*15.9. Chap. 26. 18. 2 Cor. 3. 18.

Q. How elſe doth it operate ?

A. It giveth the Soul peace with God through Jeſus Chriſt, *Rom.*5. 1.

30. Q. Surely Chriſt is of great eſteem with them that have this Faith in him, is he not ?

A. Yes, Yes. Unto them therefore which believe he is precious, precious in his Perſon, precious in his Undertakings, precious in his Word , 1 Pet. 2. 7. Chap. 1. 18, 19. 2 Pet. 1. 3, 4.

Q. Can theſe People , then , that have this Faith , endure to have this Chriſt ſpoken againſt ?

A. O ! No ! This is a Sword in their bones, and a burden that they cannot bear, *Pſal.*42. 10. Zeph. 3. 18, 19.

Q. Doth it not go near them when they ſee his ways and People diſcountenanced?

A. Yes ; and they alſo chuſe rather to be deſpiſed and perſecuted with them, than to enjoy the pleaſures of Sin for a Seaſon, Heb. 11. 24, 25.

Q. Do they not pray much for his ſecond Coming ?

A. Yes, yes ; they would fain ſee him on this ſide the Clouds of Heaven, their Converſation is in Heaven, from whence they look for the Saviour the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, *Phil.*3.20.

Q. And do they live in this World as if he were to come preſently ?

A. Yes ; For his Coming will be glorious and dreadful, full of Mercy and Judgment. The day of the Lord will come as a Thief in the night, in which the Heavens ſhall paſs away with a great noiſe, and the Elements ſhall melt with fervent heat ; the earth alſo and the works therein ſhall be burnt up : ſeeing then that all theſe things ſhall be diſſolved, what manner of perſons ought we to be in all holy Converſation and Godlineſs? 2 Pet. 3. 10, 11.

Of Prayer.

31. Q. WEll, I am glad that you have ſhewme that I muſt worſhip God by confeſſion of Sin, and Faith in Jeſus Chriſt : Is there any other thing a part of the true Worſhip of God?

A. Yes ; ſeveral, I will mention only two more at this time ?

Q. What are they?

A. Prayer, and Self-denial.

Q. Is Prayer then a part of the Worſhip of God ?

A. Yes ; a great part of it ?

Q. How do you prove that ?

A. O come let us worſhip, and bow down, let us kneel before the Lord our Maker, Pſal. 95. 6.

Q. Is there another Scripture proves it ?

A. Yes ; Then ſhe came and worſhipped him, ſaying, Lord help me, *Mat.*15. 25.

Q. What is Prayer ?

A. A ſincere ſenſible affectionate pouring out of the Soul to God in the Name of Chriſt for what God hath promiſed, *Prov.*15. 8. Jer. 31. 18, 19. Pſal. 42. 2, 3, 4. Joh. 14. 13, 14. 1 Joh. 5. 14.

Q. Doth not every body pray ?

A. No ; the wicked through the pride of his Countenance will not ſeek after God ; God is not in all his thoughts, Pſal. 40. 4.

Q. What will become of them that do not pray ?

A. They do not Worſhip God, and he will deſtroy them ; Pour out thy fury (ſaid the Prophet) upon the heathen, and upon the families that call not upon thy name, Pſal. 79. 6. Jer. 10. 25.

Q. But ſeeing God knoweth what we want, why doth he not give us what we need, without praying ?

A. His Counſel and Wiſdom leadeth him otherwiſe. Thus ſaith the Lord, I will yet be enquired of by the houſe of Iſrael to do it for them, Ezek. 36. 37.

32. Q. Why will God have us pray ?

A. Becauſe he would be acknowledged by thee, that he is above thee, and therefore would have thee come to him as the Mean come to the Mighty. Thus Abraham came unto him, *Gen.*18. 27, 30.

Q. Is there another Reaſon why I ſhould Pray ?

A. Yes ; For by Prayer thou acknowledgeſt, that help is not in thine own power, 2 Chron. 20. 6, 12.

Q. What Reaſon elſe have you why I ſhould Pray ?

A. By Prayer thou confeſſeſt that help is only in him, Pſal. 62. 1.

Q. What other Reaſon have you ?

A. By Prayer thou confeſſeſt thou canſt not live live without his Grace and Mercy, Mat. 14. 30. Heb. 4. 16.

33. Q. Are all that pray heard of the Lord?

A. No; They looked, that is, prayed, but there was none to save them; even unto the Lord, but he answered them not, 2 Sam. 22. 42.

Q. To what doth God compare the Prayers which he refuseth to answer?

A. He compareth them to the howling of a Dog, Hos. 7. 14.

Q. Who be they whose Prayers God will not answer?

A. Theirs, who think to be heard for their much speaking, and vain repetition, Matth. 6. 7.

Q. Is there any other whose Prayer God refuseth?

A. Yes; There are that ask and have not, because what they ask, they would spend upon their lusts, Jam. 4. 3.

Q. Is there any other whose Prayer God refuseth?

A. Yes; If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear my Prayer, Psal. 66. 18.

Q. Is the regarding of sin in our heart such a deadly hindrance to Prayer?

A. Son of Man, saith God, these men have set up their Idols in their Heart, and have put the stumbling block of their Iniquity before their Face: should I be enquired of at all by them? I will set my Face against that man, and will make him a Sign and a Proverb. And I will cut him off from the midst of my people, Ezek. 14. 3, 8.

Q. Whose Prayers be they that God will hear?

A. The Prayers of the poor and needy, Psal. 34. 6. Isa. 41. 17.

34. Q. What do you mean by the poor?

A. Such as have poverty in Spirit, Mat. 5. 3.

Q. Who are they that are poor in Spirit?

A. They that are sensible of the want and necessity of all those things of God, that prepare a Man to the Kingdom of Heaven.

Q. What things are they?

A. Faith, Hope, Love, Joy, Peace, a new Heart, the Holy Ghost, Sanctification, see Jam. 2. 5. 2 Thes. 2. 16. Ezek. 36. 26, 27.

Q. What do you mean by the needy?

A. Those whose Souls long and cannot be satisfied without the enjoyment of these blessed things, Psal. 63. 1. Psal. 119. 20.

Q. Will God hear the prayers of such?

A. Yes; For he satisfieth the longing Soul, and filleth the hungry Soul with good things, Psal. 107. 9.

Q. How shall I know that I am one of those, to whom God will give these things?

A. If thou seest a beauty in them beyond the beauty of all other things, Psal. 110. 3.

Q. How else shall I know he heareth me?

A. If thou desirest them for their beauties sake, Psal. 90. 14, 17.

Q. How else should I know I shall have them?

A. When thy groanings after them are beyond expression, Rom. 8. 26.

Q. How else should I know, and so be incouraged to pray?

A. When thou followest hard after God in all his Ordinances for the obtaining of them, Isa. 4. 31. chap. 64. 5.

Q. How else should I know?

A. When thou makest good use of that little thou hast already, Rev. 3. 8.

Q. Are here all the good signs that my Prayers shall be heard?

A. No; there is one more without which thou shalt never obtain.

Q. Pray what is that?

A. Thou must plead with God, the Name and Merits of Jesus Christ, for whose sake only God giveth thee these things. If we ask any thing in his name, he heareth us, and whatsoever you ask the Father in my name, saith Christ, I will do it, Joh. 14. 13, 14.

Q. Doth God always answer presently?

A. Sometimes he doth, and sometime he doth not, Isa. 30. 19. Dan. 10. 12.

Q. Is not God's deferring, a sign of his anger?

A. Sometimes it is not, and sometimes it is.

Q. When is it no sign of his anger?

A. When we have not wickedly departed from him by our sins, Luk. 18. 7.

Q. When is it a sign of his anger?

A. When we have backsliden, when we have not repented some former miscarriages, Hos. 5. 14, 15.

Q. Why doth God defer to hear their Prayers that have not wickedly departed from him?

A. He loves to hear their voice, to try their Faith, to see their importunity, and to observe how they can wrestle with him for a blessing, Song. 2. 14. Mat. 15. 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28. Luk. 11. 5, 6, 7, 8. Gen. 32. 25, 26, 27.

Q. But is not deferring to answer Prayer a great discouragement to Praying?

A. Though it is, because of our unbelief, yet it ought not, because God is faithful. Therefore men ought always to pray, and not to faint Luk. 10. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Of Self-Denial. 35.

Q. I Am glad you have thus far granted my request: But you told me that there was another part of God's Worship, pray repeat that again?

A. It is Self-denial.

Q. Now I remember it well, pray how do you prove that Self-denial is called a part of God's Worship?

A. It is said of Abraham, that when he went to offer up his Son Isaac upon the Altar for a burnt-offering, which was to him a very great part of Self-denial, that he counted that Act of his, Worshipping God?

Q. Will you be pleased to read the Text?

A. Yes; And Abraham said unto his young Men, Abide ye here with the Ass, and I and the Lad will go yonder and worship, &c. This now was when he was a going to slay his Isaac, Gen. 22. 5.

Q. What is Self-denial?

A. It is for a Man to forsake his All, for the sake of Jesus Christ.

Q. Will

Q. Will you prove this by a Scripture or two?

A. Yes; Whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my Disciple, Luk. 14. 33.

Q. Indeed this is a full place, can you give me one more?

A. Yes; What things were gain to me, those I count loss for Christ; yea doubtless and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ, &c. Phil. 3. 7, 8.

Q. These two are indeed a sufficient Answer to my Question; but pray will you now give me some particular instances of the Self-denial of them that have heretofore been the followers of Christ?

A. Yes; Abel denied himself, to the losing of his Blood; Abraham denied himself, to the losing of his Country and his Fathers House; Moses denied himself, of a Crown and a Kingdom, and of ease and tranquillity; Joseph denied himself, of fleshly Lusts, Gen. 4. 8. chap. 12. 1, 2, 3, 4. *Heb.*11. 24, 25, 26, 27. Gen. 39. 7, 8, 9.

Q. But these Men each of them denied themselves but of some things, did they?

A. You see Abel lost all, his Blood and all; Abraham lost his Country to the hazzard of his Life, so did Moses in leaving the Crown and Kingdom, and Joseph in denying his Mistress, Gen. 12. 13. Heb. 11. 27. Gen. 39. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14.

Q. Will you discourse a little particularly of Self-denial?

A. With all my heart.

36. Q. First then, pray in what Spirit must this Self-denial be performed?

A. It must be done in the spirit of Faith, of Love, and of a sound mind. Otherwise, if a Man should sell all that he hath and give to the poor, and his Body to be burnt besides, it would profit him nothing, 1 *Cor.*13. 1, 2, 3.

Q. Who are like to miscarry here?

A. They whose ends in Self-denial are not according to the proposals of the Gospel.

Q. Who are they?

A. They that suffer through Strife and Vainglory; or thus, they who seek in their sufferings, the praise of Men more than the Glory of Christ, and profit of their Neighbour.

Q. Who else are like to miscarry here?

A. They that have designs like Ziba to ingratiate themselves by their pretended Self-denial, into the affections of the godly, and to enrich themselves by this means, 2 Sam. 16. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Q. Are there any other like to miscarry here?

A. Yes; They that by denying themselves think with the Pharisee, to make themselves stand more Righteous in God's eyes than others, Luk. 18. 11, 12.

Q. Who else are in danger of miscarrying here?

A. They who have fainted in their Works, they whose Self-denial hath at last been overcome by self-Love, Gal. 3. 4. chap. 6. 9.

37. Q. Shall I propound a few more questions?

A. If you please.

Q. What then if a Man promiseth to deny himself hereafter and not now, is not this one step to this kind of Worship?

A. No, by no means; for the reason why this Man refuseth to deny himself now, is because his heart at present sticks closer to his Lusts and the World, than to God and Christ.

Q. Can you give me a Scripture instance to make this out?

A. Yes; Esau never intended for ever to part with the Blessing, he intended to have it hereafter; but God counted his not chusing of it at present, a despising of it, and a preferring of his Lusts before it, and therefore when he would, God would not, but reject both him and his tears, Gen. 25. 30,31,32,33. Heb. 12. 14,15,16.

Q. How and if a man shall say thus, I am willing to deny my self in many things, though he cannot deny himself in all, is not this one step in this part of this Worship of God?

A. No, in no wise; for this man doth just like Saul, he will slay a part, and will keep a part alive; the Kingdom must be taken from him also, 1 Sam. 15.

Q. How if a man be willing to lose all but his Life?

A. He that will save his Life shall lose it, but he that will lose his life for my sake, saith Christ, shall save it unto life Eternal, Mat. 16. 25. Joh. 12. 25.

Q. How if a man has been willing to lose all that he hath, but is not now, will not God accept of his willingness in time past, though he be otherwise now?

A. No; for the true Disciple must deny himself daily, take up his Cross daily, and go after Jesus Christ, Luk. 9. 23.

Q. But how if a man carrieth it well outwardly, so that he doth not dishonour the Gospel before men, may not this be counted Self-Denial?

A. No; If he be not right at heart: for though man looketh on the outward appearance, God looketh at the heart; 1 Sam. 16. 7.

Q. But if I be afraid my heart may deceive me in this great work, if hard things come upon me hereafter, is there no way to find out whether it will deceive me then or no?

A. I will give you a few answers to this question, and will shew you first whose heart is like to deceive him in this work.

Q. Will you befriend me so much?

A. Yes; 1. He that makes not daily Conscience of Self-denial, is very unlike to abide a Disciple for times to come, if difficult. Judas did not deny himself dayly, and therefore fell when the temptation came, Joh. 12. 6.

Q. Will you give me another Sign?

A. Yes; he that indulgeth any one secret lust under a profession, is not like to deny himself in all things for Christ.

Q. Who are they that indulge their lusts? 38.

A. They that make provision for them, either in apparel, or diet, or otherwise, Rom. 13. 12, 13, 14. *Isa.*3. 16, 17, 18, 19, 20. Amos 6. 3, 4, 5, 6.

Q. Who

Q. Who else do so?

A. They that excuse their sins, and keep them disguised that they may not be reprehended, as Saul did, &c. 1 Sam. 15. 18, 19, 20, 21.

Q. Who else are they that indulge their lusts?

A. They that heap up to themselves such Teachers as will favour their Lusts, 2 Tim. 4. 3, 4. Isa. 30. 10.

Q. Who else do indulge their sins?

A. They that chuse rather to walk by the imperfect lives of professors than by the holy Word of God: or thus, they that make the miscarriages of some good men, an incouragement unto themselves to forbear to be exact in Self-denial, these eat up the sins of Gods people as men eat bread, Hos. 4. 7, 8, 9.

39. Q. Will you now shew me who are like to do this part of Gods Worship acceptably?

A. Yes; He whose heart is set against sin as sin, is like to deny himself acceptably, Rom. 7. 13, 14.

Q. Who else?

A. He that hath the sence and savour of forgiveness of sins upon his heart, 2 Cor. 5. 14.

Q. Who else is like to deny himself well?

A. He that hath his affections set upon things above where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God, Col. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Q. Who else is like to deny himself well for Christ?

A. He that seeth a greater treasure in Self-Denial, than in self-seeking, 2 Cor. 12. 9, 10, 11. Heb. 11. 24, 25, 26.

Q. Are there none other signs of one that is like to do this part of Gods worship acceptably?

A. Yes; He that takes up his Cross daily, and makes Christ's Doctrine his Example. Luk. 6. 47, 48. Joh. 12. 25, 26.

Q. But how do you discover a Man to be such a one?

A. He keepeth his heart with all diligence, he had rather die than sin; Ill carriages of professors break his heart, nothing is so dear to him as the Glory of Christ, Prov. 4. 23. Numb. 11. 15. Phil. 3. 18. Act. 20. 24.

40. Q. Pray can you give me some motive to Self-Denial?

A. Yes; The Lord Jesus denied himself for thee; what sayest thou to that?

Q. Wherein did Christ deny himself for me?

A. He left his Heaven for thee; he denied for thy sake to have so much of this World, as hath a Fox, or a Bird, and he spilt his most precious Blood for thee. Joh. 6. 38. Luk. 9. 58. 2 Cor. 8. 9. Rev. 1. 5.

Q. Can you give another motive to Self-Denial?

A. Yes; What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole World and lose his own Soul? Luk. 8. 36.

Q. But why doth God require Self-Denial of them that will be saved?

A. God doth not require Self-Denial as the means to obtain Salvation, but hath laid it down as a proof of the truth of a mans affections to God and Christ.

Q. How is Self-denial a proof of the truth of a mans affections to God?

A. In that for the sake of his Service, he leaveth all his enjoyments in this World. Thus he proved Abraham's affections, thus he proved Peter's affections, and thus he proved their affection that you read of in the Gospel, Gen. 22. 12. Mat. 4. 18, 19, 20, 21, 22. Luke 9. 57, 58. 59, 60, 61, 62.

Q. What reason else can you produce why God requireth Self-Denial?

A. Self-Denial is one of the distinguishing Characters by which true Christians are manifested from the feigned Ones: for those that are feigned, flatter God with their mouth, but their hearts seek themselves; but the sincere for the love that he hath to Christ, forsaketh all that he hath for his sake, Psal. 78. 36, 37. Ezek. 33. 31, 32.

Q. Is there yet another reason why God requireth Self-Denial of them that profess his name?

A. Yes; because by Self Denial the power and goodness of the Truths of God are made manifest to the incredulous World. For they cannot see but by the Self-Denial of God's people, that there is such Power, Glory, Goodness and desirableness in God's Truth as indeed there is, Dan. 3. 16, 28. Phil. 1. 12, 13.

Q. Have you another Reason why God requireth Self-Denial?

A. Yes; because Self-Denial prepareth a man, though not for the pardon of his sin, yet for that far more exceeding and eternal weight of Glory, that is laid up only for them that deny all that they have for the Lord Jesus his name and cause in this World, 2 Cor. 4. 8, 9, 10, 17. 2 Thes. 1. 5, 6.

Q. Before you conclude, will you give me a few 41. Instances of the severity of God's hand upon some Professors, that have not denied themselves when called thereto by him?

A. Yes, willingly; Lot's Wife for but looking behind her towards Sodom, when God called her from it, was stricken from Heaven, and turned into a Pillar of Salt, therefore remember Lot's Wife, Gen. 19. 17, 26. Luk. 17. 31, 32.

Q. Can you give me another instance?

A. Yes; Esau for not denying himself of one morsel of Meat was denied a share in the Blessing, and could never obtain it after, though he sought it carefully with Tears, Gen. 25. 32, 33, 34. Heb. 12. 14, 15.

Q. Have you at hand another instance?

A. Yes; Judas for not-denying himself, lost Christ, his Soul, and Heaven: and is continued the great Object of God's Wrath among all Damned Souls, John 12. 5, 6. Luke 22. 3, 4, 5, 6. Mat. 26. 14, 15, 16. Act. 1. 25.

Q. Will you give me one more instance, and so conclude?

A. Yes; Ananias and Saphira his Wife, did for the want of Self-Denial, pull upon themselves such Wrath of God, that he slew them, while they stood in the midst before the Apostles, Act. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

The Concluſion.

BEfore I wind up this diſcourſe, I would lay down theſe few things for you to conſider of, and meditate upon.

I. Conſider, That ſeeing every one by nature are accounted ſinners; 'Tis no matter whether thy actual ſins be little or great, few or many, thy ſinful nature hath already laid thee under the Curſe of the Law.

II. Conſider, That therefore thou haſt already ground for humiliation, ſins to repent of, Wrath to fly from, or a ſoul to be damned.

III. Conſider, That time ſtays not for thee, and alſo that as time goes, ſin encreaſeth, ſo that at laſt the end of thy time, and the compleating of thy ſin, are like to come upon thee in one moment.

IV. Bring thy laſt day often to thy bed-ſide, and ask thy heart if this morning thou waſt to die, if thou be ready to die or no.

V. Know 'tis a ſad thing to lie a dying, and to be afraid to die; to lie a dying and not to know whither thou art a going; to lie a dying, and not to know whether good Angels or bad muſt conduct thee out of this miſerable World.

VI. Be often remembring what a bleſſed thing it is to be ſaved, to go to Heaven, to be made like Angels, and to dwell with God and Chriſt to all Eternity.

VII. Conſider how ſweet the thought of Salvation will be to thee when thou ſeeſt thy ſelf in Heaven, whilſt others are roaring in Hell.

The Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with thy Spirit.

THE EPISTLE to four Sorts of READERS.

I. To the Godly Reader.

Friend,

1 Cor. 1. 27, 28. Mat. 11. 25. and 21. 15, 16.

THough the Men of this World, at the Sight of this Book, will not only deride, but laugh in Conceit, to conſider that one ſo low, contemptible, and inconſiderable as I, ſhould buſie my ſelf in ſuch ſort, as to meddle with the Expoſition of ſo hard and knotty a Scripture, as here they find the ſubject Matter of this little Book; yet do thou remember, that God hath choſen the fooliſh things of this World to confound the Wiſe, and things that are not, to bring to nought things that are: Conſider alſo, that even of old it hath been his Pleaſure to hide theſe things from the Wiſe and Prudent, and to reveal them unto Babes.

1 Cor. 2. 12.

I tell you, that the Operation of the Word and Spirit of God (without depending upon that Idol, ſo much adored) is ſufficient of it ſelf to ſearch out all things, even the deep things of God.

The Occaſion of my firſt medling with this Matter, was as followeth:

Upon a certain Firſt Day, I being together with my Brethren, in our Priſon-Chamber, they expected that, according to our Cuſtom, ſomething ſhould be ſpoken out of the Word, for our mutual Edification; but at that time I felt my ſelf (it being my Turn to ſpeak) ſo empty, ſpiritleſs, and barren, that I thought I ſhould not have been able to ſpeak among them ſo much as five Words of Truth, with Life and Evidence; but at laſt, it ſo fell out, that providentially I caſt mine Eye upon the eleventh Verſe of the one and twentieth Chapter of this Prophecy; upon which, when I had conſidered a while, methought I perceived ſomething of that JASPER, in whoſe Light you there find this HOLY CITY is ſaid to come or deſcend; wherefore having got in my Eye ſome dim Glimmerings thereof, and finding alſo in my Heart a deſire to ſee further thereinto; I with a few Groans did carry my Meditations to the Lord JESUS for a Bleſſing, which he did forthwith grant according to his Grace; and helping me to ſet before my Brethren, we did all eat, and were well refreſhed; and behold alſo, that while I was in the Diſtributing of it, it ſo increaſed in my Hand, that of the Fragments that we left, after we had well dined, I gathered up this Basket-full. Methought the more I caſt mine Eye upon the whole Diſcourſe, the more I ſaw lye in it: Wherefore ſetting my ſelf to a more narrow Search, through frequent Prayer to God (what firſt with doing, and then with undoing, and after that with doing again) I thus did finiſh it.

But yet, notwithſtanding all my Labour and Travel in this Matter, I do not, neither can I expect that every Godly Heart ſhould in every thing ſee the Truth and Excellency of what is here diſcourſed; neither would I have them imagine that I have ſo thorowly viewed this Holy City, but that much more than I do here cruſh out, is yet left in the Cluſter: Alas! I ſhall only ſay thus, I have cruſh'd out a little Juyce to ſweeten their Lips withal; not doubting but in little time more large Meaſures of the Excellency of this City, and of its Sweetneſs and Glory, will by others be opened and unfolded; yea, if not by the Servants of the Lord JESUS, yet by the Lord Himſelf, who will have this City builded and ſet in its own Place.

But,

But, I say, for this DISCOURSE, if any of the Saints that read herein, think they find nought at all but Words (as many times it falleth out, even in their Reading the Scriptures of God themselves) I beg, I say, of such, that they read charitably, judge modestly; and also that they would take heed of concluding, that because they for the present see nothing in this or that Passage, that therefore there is nothing in it: Possibly from that which thou mayest cast away as an empty Bone, others may pick both good and wholesome Bits; yea, and also out of that, suck much Nourishing Marrow. You find by Experience, that that very Bit that will not down with one, may yet not only down, but be healthful and nourishing to another. Babes are more for Milk than strong Meat, though Meat will well digest with those that are of riper Years, 1 Cor. 2. 1, 2, 3. Heb. 5. 12, 13, 14.

Wherefore that which thy Weakness will not suffer thee to feed on, leave; and go to the Milk and Nourishment that in other Places thou shalt find.

II. To the Learned Reader. 3.

MY second Word is to my Wise and Learned Reader.

Sir, I suppose in your reading of this DISCOURSE, you will be apt to blame me for two things: First, because I have not so beautified my Matter with acuteness of Language as you could wish or desire. Secondly, Because also I have not given you, either in the Line, or in the Margent, a Cloud of Sentences from the Learned Fathers, that have according to their Wisdom (possibly) handled these Matters long before me.

To the first, I say, The Matter indeed is excellent and high; but for my part, I am weak and low; it also deserveth a more full and profound Discourse than my small Parts will help me to make upon the Matter: But yet seeing the Lord looketh not at the outward appearance, but on the Heart; neither regardeth high swelling Words of Vanity, but pure and naked Truth; and seeing also that a Widows Mite being all, even Heart as well as Substance, is counted more and better, than to cast in little out of much, and that little too perhaps the worst. I hope, my Little being All, my Farthing (seeing I have no more) may be accepted and counted for a great deal in the LORD's Treasury. Besides, Sir, Words easie to be understood do often hit the Mark; when high and learned ones do only pierce the Air. He also that speaks to the Weakest, may make the Learned understand him; when he that striveth to be high, is not only for the most part understood but of a Sort, but also many times is neither understood by them, nor by himself.

Secondly, The Reason why you find me empty of the Language of the Learned, I mean their Sentences and Words, which others use, is, because I have them not, nor have not read them: had it not been for the BIBLE, I had not only not thus done it, but not at all.

Lastly, I do find in most such a Spirit of Whoredom and Idolatry concerning the Learning of this World, and Wisdom of the Flesh, and GOD's Glory so much stained and diminished thereby; that had I all their Aid and Assistance at command, I durst not make use of ought thereof, and that for fear lest that Grace, and those Gifts that the Lord hath given me, should be attributed to their Wits, rather than the Light of the Word and Spirit of GOD: Wherefore I will not take of them from a Thread to a Shoo-latchet, lest they should say, We have made Abraham rich. Gen. 14. 23.

Sir, What you find suiting with Scriptures, take, though it should not suit with Authors; but that which you find against the Scriptures, slight, though it should be confirmed by Multitudes of them. Yea, further, Where you find the Scriptures and your Authors jump, yet believe it for the sake of Scriptures Authority. I honour the Godly, as Christians, but I prefer the BIBLE before them; and having that still with me, I count my self far better furnished than if I had (without it) all the Libraries of the two Universities: Besides, I am for drinking Water out of my own Cistern; what GOD makes mine by the Evidence of his Word and Spirit, that I dare make bold with: Wherefore seeing, though I am without their learned Lines, yet well furnished with the Words of GOD, I mean the BIBLE, I have contented my self with what I there have found, and having set it before your Eyes,

I pray read and take, Sir, what you like best;
And that which you like not, leave for the rest.

III. To the Captious Reader. 4.

MY third Word is to the captious and wrangling Reader.

Friend, However thou camest by this Book, I will assure thee, thou wast least in my Thoughts when I writ it; I tell thee, I intended this Book as little for thee, as the Goldsmith intendeth his Jewels and Rings for the Snowt of a Sow. Wherefore put on Reason, and lay aside thy Frenzie; Be sober, or lay by the Book. Mat. 7. 6.

IV. To the Mother of Harlots, &c. 5.

MY fourth Word is to the Lady of Kingdoms, the Well-favoured Harlot, the Mistris of Witchcrafts, and the Abominations of the Earth.

Mistris, I suppose I have nothing here that will either please your wanton Eye, or go down with your voluptuous Palate: here is bread indeed, as also Milk and Meat; but here is neither Paint to adorn thy wrinkled Face, nor Crutch to uphold or undershore thy shaking, tottering, staggering Kingdom of ROME; but rather a certain Presage of thy sudden and fearful final downfall, and of the Exaltation of that holy Matron, whose Chastity thou dost abhor, because by it she reproveth and condemneth thy leud and stubborn Life. Wherefore, Lady, smell thou may'st of this, but taste thou wilt not: I know that both thy wanton Eye, with all thy mincing Brats that are intoxicated with thy Cup, and inchanted with thy Fornications, will at the sight of so homely and plain a Dish as this, cry, Foh! snuff, put the Branch to the Nose, and say, Contemptible! But Wisdom is justified of all her Children. The Virgin Daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn; Jerusalem hath shaken her Head at thee; yea, her GOD hath smitten his Hands at thy dishonest Gain and Freaks. Rejoyce ye with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her; rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her; that ye may suck and be satisfied with the Breasts of her Consolations, that ye may milk out and be delighted with the abundance of her Glory. Mal. 1. 12, 13. THE HOLY CITY: OR, THE New JERUSALEM.

6. Revelations XXI.

Verse 10. And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high Mountain, and ſhewed me that great City, the holy Jeruſalem, deſcending out of Heaven from God,
11. Having the Glory of God: and her Light was like unto a Stone moſt precious, even like a Jaſper Stone, clear as Cryſtal:
12. And had a Wall great and high, and had twelve Gates, and at the Gates twelve Angels, and Names written thereon, which are the Names of the Twelve Tribes of the Children of Iſrael.
13. On the Eaſt three Gates, on the North three Gates, on the South three Gates, and on the Weſt three Gates.
14. And the Wall of the City had twelve Foundations, and in them the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb.
15. And he that talked with me had a Golden Reed to meaſure the City, and the Gates thereof, and the Wall thereof.
16. And the City lyeth four ſquare, and the Length is as large as the Breadth: and he meaſured the City with the Reed, twelve thouſand Furlongs: the Length, and the Breadth, and the Height of it are equal.
17. And he meaſured the Wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four Cubits, according to the Meaſure of a Man, that is, of the Angel.
18. And the Building of the Wall of it was of Jaſper, and the City was of pure Gold, like unto clear Glaſs.
19. And the Foundations of the Wall of the City were garniſhed with all manner of precious Stones. The firſt Foundation was Jaſper; the ſecond, Saphire; the third, a Calcedony; the fourth, an Emerald;
20. The fifth, Sardonyx; the ſixth, Sardius; the ſeventh, Chryſolite; the eighth, Beryl; the ninth, a Topaz; the tenth, a Chryſoprаſus; the eleventh, a Jacinth; the twelfth, an Amethyſt.
21. And the twelve Gates were twelve Pearls, every ſeveral Gate was of one Pearl; and the Street of the City was pure Gold, as it were tranſparent Glaſs.
22. And I ſaw no Temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the Temple of it.
23. And the City had no need of the Sun, neither of the Moon to ſhine in it: for the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the Light thereof.
24. And the Nations of them which are ſaved, ſhall walk in the Light of it: and the Kings of the Earth do bring their Glory and Honour unto it.
25. And the Gates of it ſhall not be ſhut at all by Day: for there ſhall be no Night there.
26. And they ſhall bring the Glory and Honour of the Nations into it.
27. And there ſhall in no wiſe enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatſoever worketh Abomination, or maketh a Lie: but they which are written in the Lambs Book of Life.

CHAP. XXII.

Verſe 1. And he ſhewed me a pure River of Water of Life, clear as Cryſtal, proceeding out of the Throne of God, and of the Lamb.
2. In the midſt of the Street of it, and of either ſide of the River, was there the Tree of Life, which bare twelve manner of Fruits, and yielded her Fruit every Month: and the Leaves of the Tree were for the Healing of the Nations.
3. And there ſhall be no more Curſe: but the Throne of God, and of the Lamb ſhall be in it; and his Servants ſhall ſerve him.
4. And they ſhall ſee his Face, and his Name ſhall be in their Foreheads.

7. IN my dealing with this Myſtery, I ſhall not meddle where I ſee nothing, neither ſhall I hide from you that which at preſent I conceive to be wrapt up therein: only you muſt not from me look for much inlargement, though I ſhall endeavour to ſpeak as much in few words, as my Underſtanding and Capacity will enable me, through the help of Chriſt.

In this Deſcription of this Holy City, you have theſe five general Heads:

Firſt, the Viſion of this City in general.

Secondly, A Diſcovery of its Defence, Entrances, and Faſhion, in particular.

Thirdly, A Relation of the Glory of each.

Fourthly, A Diſcovery of its Inhabitants, their Quality and Numerouſneſs.

Fifthly, A Relation of its Maintenance, by which it continueth in Life, Eaſe, Peace, Tranquillity and Sweetneſs for ever.

To all which I ſhall ſpeak ſomething in their proper Places, and ſhall open them before you.

But before I begin with any of them, I muſt ſpeak a word or two concerning John's Qualification, whereby he was enabled to behold and take a view of this City; which Qualification he relateth in theſe words following.

Verſe 10.

And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high Mountain, and ſhewed me that great City, the holy Jeruſalem, deſcending out of Heaven from God.

The Angel being to ſhew this holy Man this great and glorious Viſion, he firſt (by qualifying of him) puts him into a ſuitable Capacity to behold and take the View thereof; He carried me away in the Spirit: VVhen he ſaith, He carried me away in the Spirit, he means he was taken up into the Spirit, his Soul was greatly ſpiritualized: Whence take notice, That an ordinary Frame of Spirit is not able to compre-

1 Cor. 3. 1, 2. of them: I could not ſpeak to you as unto ſpiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto Babes in Chriſt; I have fed you with Milk, and not with meat; for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, nor yet are ye able.

And he carried me away in the Spirit, &c. Thus it was with the Saints of old, when God had either ſpecial Work for them to do, or great things for them to ſee: Ezekiel, when he had the Viſion of this City in the old Law, in the Captivity at Babylon, he muſt be firſt fore-fitted with a competent Meaſure of the Spirit, Ezek. 40. 2. John alſo, when he had the whole Matter of this Prophecy revealed un-
Rev. 1. 10, 11. to him, he muſt be in the Spirit; I was (ſaith he) in the Spirit on the Lord's Day, and heard behind me a great Voice, as of a Trumpet, talking with me, &c.
When God calls to work, he fits for work. Whence note again, That when God calls a Man to this or that Work for him, he firſt fits him with a ſuitable Spirit: Ezekiel ſaith, when God bid him ſtand upon his Feet, That the Spirit entred into him, and ſet him upon his Feet.
Ezek. 2. 1, 2. And he carried me away, &c. Mark, And he carried me [away] &c. As a Man muſt have much of the Spirit that ſees much of God, and his goodly Matters; ſo he muſt be alſo carried AWAY with it; he muſt by it be taken off from things carnal and earthly, and taken up into the Glory of things that are ſpiritual and heavenly: the Spirit loveth to do what it doth in private; that Man to whom God intendeth to reveal great things, he takes him aſide from the Lumber and Cumber of this World, and carrieth him away in the Solace and Contemplation of the things

Prov. 18. 1 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high Mountain. Thus having ſhewed his Frame,
9. and inward Diſpoſition of Spirit; he now comes to tell us alſo of the Place or Stage on which he was ſet; to the end that now being fitted by Illumination, he might not be hindred of his Viſion by ought that might intercept: He carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high Mountain. Thus did God

-----To a great and high Mountain. This Mountain therefore ſignifieth the Lord Chriſt, on which the Soul muſt be placed, as on a mighty Hill, whereby he may be able (his Eyes being anointed with ſpi-

Ezek. 40. 2. Mat. 16. 18. from whence the Prophet Ezekiel had the Viſion of this City: And upon this Rock (ſaith Chriſt) will I build my Church, and the Gates of Hell ſhall not prevail againſt it.

And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high Mountain, and ſhewed me that great City, the holy Jeruſalem. Having thus told us how, and with what he was qualified, he next makes relation of what he ſaw, which was, that great City, the holy Jeruſalem. 10.

Jeruſalem, in the Language of the Scripture, is to be acknowledged for the Church and Spouſe of the Lord Jeſus; and is to be conſidered either generally, or more particularly. Now as ſhe is to be taken generally, ſo ſhe is to be underſtood as being * the whole Family in Heaven and Earth; and as ſhe is thus looked upon, ſo ſhe is not conſidered with reſpect to this or that State and Condition of the Church here in the World, but ſimply, as ſhe is the Church: therefore it is ſaid, when at any time any are converted from Satan to God, That they are come to Mount Sion, the City of the living God, the heavenly Jeruſalem; to an innumerable company of Angels; to the general Aſſembly and Church of the Firſtborn that are written in Heaven; to God the Judge of all, and to the Spirits of juſt Men made perfect; to Jeſus, and to the Blood of ſprinkling. Jeruſalem conſidered in general. * Eph. 3. 15. Heb. 12. 22, 23, 24.

But again. As Jeruſalem is thus generally to be underſtood, ſo alſo ſhe is to be conſidered more particularly: 1. Either as ſhe relates to her firſt and pureſt State; or 2. As ſhe relates to her declined and captivated State; or, 3. With reference to her being recovered again from her apoſtatized and captivated Condition: Thus it was with Jeruſalem in the Letter; which threefold State of this City ſhall be moſt exactly anſwered by our Goſpel-Jeruſalem, by our New-Teſtament-Church. Her firſt State was in the Days of Chriſt and his Apoſtles, and anſwered to Jeruſalem in the Days of Solomon; her ſecond State is in the Days of Antichriſt, and anſwereth to the carrying away of the Jews from their City into Babylon; and her third State is this in the Text, and anſwereth to their Return from Captivity, and rebuilding their City and Walls again: All which will be fully manifeſt in this Diſcourſe following. Jeruſalem is to be conſidered more particularly.

Beſides, That this holy City that here you read of, is the Church, the Goſpel-Church, returning out of her long and Antichriſtian Captivity; conſider, 11.

Firſt, She is here called a City, the very Name that our Primitive * Church went under; which Name ſhe loſeth all the while of her Apoſtatizing and Captivity under Antichriſt: for obſerve, I ſay, all the while ſhe is under the Scourge of the Dragon, Beaſt, and the Woman in Scarlet, &c. ſhe goeth under the Name of a Woman, a Woman in Travel, a Woman flying before the Dragon, a Woman flying into the Wilderneſs, there to continue in an afflicted and tempted Condition, and to be glad of VVilderneſs Nouriſhment, untill the time of her Enemies were come to an end, Rev. 12. * Eph. 3. 19. Rev. 13.

Now the reaſon why ſhe loſt the Title of City, at her going into Captivity, is, Becauſe then ſhe loſt her Situation and Strength; ſhe followed others than Chriſt, wherefore he ſuffered her Enemies to ſcale her Walls, to break down her Battlements; he ſuffered, as you ſee here, the great Red Dragon, and Beaſt with ſeven Heads and ten Horns, to get into her Vineyard, who made moſt fearful work both with her and all her Friends: her Gates alſo were now either broken down, or ſhut up, ſo that none could, according to her Laws and Statutes, enter into her; her Charter alſo, even the Bible it ſelf, was moſt groſly abuſed and corrupted, yea, ſometimes burned and deſtroyed almoſt utterly, wherefore the Spirit of God doth take away from her the Title of City, and leaveth her to be termed a wandring Woman, as aforeſaid: The Court that is without the Temple (ſaith the Angel) leave out, and meaſure it not, for it is given to the Gentiles; and the holy City ſhall they tread under foot forty and two Months. The holy City ſhall they tread under foot; that is, all the City-

Conſti-

Conſtitutions, her Forts and Strength, her Laws and Privileges for a long time ſhall be laid aſide and ſlighted, ſhall become a hiſſing, a taunt, and a by-word among the Nations. And truly thus it was in the Letter, in the deſtruction of Jeruſalem by the King of Babylon and his wicked Inſtruments, by whoſe hands the City was broken up, the Walls pulled down, the Gates burned, the Houſes rifled, the Virgins raviſhed, and the Children laid dead in the top of every ſtreet, 2 Chron. 36. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21. Jer. 52. Lam. chap. 1, 2, 3, 4. Now was Zion become a plowed Field, and Jeruſalem turned to heaps; a place of Briars and Thorns, and of waſtneſs and deſolation, Mic. 3. 12. Iſa. 7. 23, 24.

Secondly, The Phraſe alſo that is joyned with this of City, doth much concern the point; ſhe is here called, The new and holy City, which words are explained by theſe, As a Bride adorned and prepared for her Husband: the meaning is, That ſhe is now got into her Form, Faſhion, Order and Privileges again; ſhe is now ready, adorned, prepared, and put into her primitive ſtate: Mark, though ſhe was in her ſtate of affliction called a Woman, yet ſhe was not then either called a City, or a Woman ADORNED; but rather a Woman robbed and ſpoiled, rent and torn among the briars and thorns of the Wilderneſs, Iſa. 5. 6. and 42. 22. and 32. 13, 14. Wherefore this City is nothing elſe but the Church returned out of Captivity from under the reign of Antichriſt: As is yet further manifeſt, becauſe, Thirdly, We find no City to anſwer that which was built after the Jews return from Captivity, but this: for this, and only this is the City that you find in this Prophecy, that is nominated as the Antitype of that Second of the Jews: wherefore John hath no Relation of her while towards the doom of Antichriſt, and no deſcription of her in particular until Antichriſt is utterly overthrown: as all may ſee that wiſely read the 17th, 18th, 19th, and 20th. Chapters of this Prophecy.

12. Why the Church at this day is called by the name of a City, rather than a Woman, Temple, Houſe, or the like.

----- And ſhewed me that great City. The holy Ghoſt is pleaſed at this time to give the Church the name of a City, rather than any other name; rather than the name of Spouſe, Woman, Temple, and the like: (though he giveth us her under the name of a Woman alſo, to help us to underſtand what he means) but I ſay, the name of a City is now the name in ſpecial, under which the Church muſt go, and that for ſpecial Reaſons:

Firſt, To ſhew us how great and numerous a People will then be in the Church; the Church may be a Woman, a Temple, a Spouſe, when ſhe is but few, but an handfull, but two or three; but to be a City, and that in her glory, it beſpeaks great ſtore of Members, Inhabitants, and Citizens; eſpecially when ſhe goeth under the name of a GREAT City, as here ſhe does: He ſhewed me that GREAT City.

Secondly, She goeth rather under the name of a City, than Temple or Spouſe; to ſhew us alſo how plentifully the Nations and Kingdoms of Men ſhall at that day traffick with her, and in her, for her goodly Merchandize of Grace and Life: to ſhew us, I ſay, what wonderfull cuſtom the Church of God at this day ſhall have among all ſorts of People, for her Heavenly Treaſures. It is ſaid of Tyrus and Babylon, That their Merchandize went into all the World, and Men from all Quarters under Heaven came to trade and to deal with them for their Wares: why thus it will be in the latter day with the Church of God, the Nations ſhall come from far; from Tarſhiſh, Pul, Lud, Tubal, Javan, and the Iſles afar off: They ſhall come, ſaith God, out of all Nations upon Horſes and Mules, and upon ſwift Beaſts, to my holy Mountain Jeruſalem: And it ſhall come to paſs, that from one New Moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another, ſhall all fleſh come to worſhip before me, ſaith the Lord. Alas, the Church at that day when ſhe is a Woman onely, or a Temple either, may be without that Beauty, Treaſure, Amiableneſs, and affecting Glory that ſhe will be endowed with when ſhe is a proſperous City: His marvellous kindneſs is ſeen in a ſtrong City. In Cities, you know, are the Treaſures, Beauty, and Glory of Kingdoms, and 'tis thither men go, that are deſirous to ſolace themſelves therewith: *Out of Zion, the perfection of * Beauty, God hath ſhined.*

Iſa. 66. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23.

Pſal. 31. 21.

* Pſal 50. 2.

Thirdly, It is called a City, rather than a Woman, or Temple, to ſhew us how ſtrong and ſecurely it will keep its Inhabitants at that day: In that day ſhall this Song be ſung, We have a ſtrong City, Salvation will God appoint for Walls and Bulwarks: And verily if the Cities of the Gentiles, and the ſtrength of their Bars, and Gates, and Walls, did ſo ſhake the Hearts, yea, the very Faith of the Children of God themſelves, how ſecure and ſafe will the Inhabitants of this City be, even the Inhabitants of that City which GOD Himſelf will build? &c.

Deut. 9. 1, 2. Num. 13. 28.

But laſtly and more eſpecially, The Church is called here a City, chiefly to ſhew us that now ſhe ſhall be undermoſt no longer: Babylon reigned, and ſo ſhall Jeruſalem at this day: And thou, O Tower of the Flock, the ſtrong hold of the Daughter of Zion, unto thee ſhall it come, even the firſt Dominion, the Kingdom ſhall come to the Daughter of Jeruſalem. Now ſhall ſhe, when ſhe is built and compleat, have a compleat Conqueſt and Victory over all her Enemies; ſhe ſhall reign over them; the Law ſhall go forth of her that rules them, and the Governours of all the World at that day ſhall be Jeruſalem-Men: And the Captivity of this Hoſt of the Children of Iſrael ſhall poſſeſs that of the Canaanites, even unto Zarephath; and the Captivity of Jeruſalem which is in Sepharad, ſhall poſſeſs the Cities of the South: And Saviours ſhall come out of Mount Sion to judge the Mount of Eſau, and the Kingdom ſhall be the Lords. For the Law ſhall go forth of Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jeruſalem: And ye ſhall judge among many People, and rebuke ſtrong Nations afar off, and they ſhall beat their Swords into Plow-ſhares, and their Spears into Pruning-hooks: Nation ſhall not lift up a Sword againſt Nation, neither ſhall they learn War any more. There brake he the Ships of Tarſhiſh with an Eaſt Wind: As we have heard, ſo have we ſeen in the City of the Lord of Hoſts, in the City of our God; God will eſtabliſh it for ever. For obſerve it, Chriſt hath not only obtained the Kingdom of Heaven for thoſe that are his, when this World is ended, but hath alſo, as a Reward for his Sufferings, the whole World given into his hand; wherefore as all the Kings and Princes and Powers of this World have had their time to reign, and have Glory in this World in the Face of all; ſo Chriſt will have his time at this day to ſhew who is the only Potentate and Lord of Lords. At which day, he will not onely ſet up his Kingdom in the midſt of their Kingdoms, as he doth now, but will ſet it up even upon the top of their Kingdoms; at which day there will not be a Nation in the World, but muſt bend to Jeruſalem or periſh: For the Kingdom and Dominion, and greatneſs of the Kingdom under the whole Heaven, ſhall be given to the People of the Saints of the moſt High, whoſe Kingdom is an everlaſting Kingdom, and all Dominions ſhall ſerve and obey him. And his Dominion ſhall be from Sea to Sea, and from the River, to the ends of the Earth. O Holineſs! how ſhall it ſhine in Kings and Nations, when God doth this!

13. He ſhewed me that great City, the holy Jeruſalem, deſcending out of Heaven from God. In theſe words we are to enquire into three things:

Firſt, What he here ſhould mean by Heaven.

Secondly, What it is for this City to deſcend out of it.

Thirdly, And why ſhe is ſaid to deſcend out of it from God.

Firſt, For the word Heaven, in Scripture it is variouſly to be underſtood, but generally either materially or metaphorically: Now not materially here, but metaphorically; and ſo is generally, if not always, taken in this Book.

Now

Now that it is not to be taken for the material Heavens where Chriſt in Perſon is: Conſider,

That the deſcending of this City is not the coming of glorified Saints with their Lord; becauſe that even after the deſcending, yea and building of this City, there ſhall be Sinners converted to God; but at the coming of the Lord Jeſus from Heaven with his Saints, the door ſhall be ſhut; that is, the door of Grace, againſt all Unbelievers, Luk. 13. 25. Matth. 25. 10.

Therefore Heaven here is to be taken metaphorically, for the Church; which, as I ſaid before, is frequently ſo taken in this Prophecy, as alſo in many others of the holy Scriptures, Rev. 11. 15. & 12. 1, 2, 3, 7, 8, 10, 13. & 13. 6. & 19. 1, 14. Jer. 51. 48. Matth. 25. 1. &c. And obſerve it, though the Church of Chriſt under the tyranny of Antichriſt, loſeth the Title of a ſtanding City, yet in the worſt of times ſhe loſeth not the title of Heaven; She is Heaven when the great Red Dragon is in her, and Heaven when the third part of her Stars are caſt unto the Earth; ſhe is Heaven alſo when the Beaſt doth open his Throat againſt her, to blaſpheme her God, his Tabernacle, and thoſe that dwell in her.

14. Secondly, Now then to ſhew you what we are to underſtand by this, that ſhe is ſaid to DESCEND out of Heaven; for indeed to ſpeak properly, Jeruſalem is always in the Scriptures ſet in the higheſt ground, and men are ſaid to deſcend, when they go down from her, but to aſcend, or go up, when they are going thitherwards: but yet though this be true, there muſt alſo be ſomething ſignificant in this word deſcending; whetefore when he ſaith, he ſaw this City to DESCEND out of Heaven, he would have us underſtand, Ezr. 3. 1. Neh. 12. 1. Mat. 20. 17, 18. Luk. 19. 28. & 10. 30.

1. That though the Church under Antichriſt be never ſo low, yet out of her Loins ſhall they come that yet ſhall be a reigning City: Generation is a deſcending from the Loins of our Friends; he therefore ſpeaks of the generation of the Church: VVherefore the meaning is, That out of the Church that is now in Captivity, there ſhall come a compleat City, ſo exact in all things, according to the Laws and Liberties, Privileges and Riches of a City, that ſhe ſhall lie level with the great Charter of Heaven. Thus it was in the Type, the City after the Captivity was builded, even by thoſe that once were in Captivity, eſpecially by their Seed and Off-ſpring; and thus it ſhall be in our New-Teſtament New Jeruſalem; They that ſhall be of thee, ſaith the Prophet, (that is, of the Church in affliction) they ſhall build the old waſte places; thou ſhalt raiſe up the Foundations of many Generations; and thou ſhalt be called, The Repairer of Breaches, and the Reſtorer of Paths to dwell in; and again, They that ſometimes had Aſhes for Gladneſs, and the Spirit of Heavineſs inſtead of the Garment of Praiſe, they ſhall build the old Waſtes, they ſhall raiſe up the former Deſolations, and they ſhall repair the waſte Cities, the Deſolations of many Generations; for your ſhame you ſhall have double, and for confuſion they ſhall rejoyce in their Portion, &c. Thus therefore by deſcending, we may underſtand that the Churches Generation ſhall be this Holy City, and ſhall build up themſelves the Tower of the Flock.

Iſa. 45. Iſa. 58. 11, 12. & 61, 3, 4, 7.

2. When he ſaith, This holy City deſcended out of Heaven, he would have us underſtand alſo what a Bleſſing and Happineſs this City at her re-building will be to the whole VVorld: Never were kind and ſeaſonable ſhowers more profitable to the tender new-mown-Graſs, than will this City at this day be, to the Inhabitants of the VVorld; they will come as a Bleſſing from Heaven upon them: As the Prophet ſaith, The Remnant of Jacob ſhall be in the midſt of many People, as a dew from the Lord; as the ſhowers upon the Graſs, that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the Sons of Men. O the Grace, the Light and Glory, that will ſtrike with ſpangling Beams from this City, as from a Sun, into the furtheſt parts of the VVorld! Thus ſaith the Lord, As the new Wine is found in the Cluſter, and one ſaith, Deſtroy it not, for a Bleſſing is in it: ſo will I do for my Servants ſake, that I may not deſtroy them all: I will bring forth a Seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an Inheritor of my holy Mountain; and my Elect ſhall inherit it, and my Servants ſhall dwell there: And Sharon (where the ſweet Roſes grew, Song. 2. 1.) ſhall be a fold for Flocks, and the Valley of Achor a place for the Herds to lie down in, for my People that have ſought me. In that day Iſrael ſhall be the third with Egypt and Aſſyria, even a Bleſſing in the midſt of the Land. And it ſhall come to paſs, that as you were a curſe among the Heathen, O Houſe of Judah, and Houſe of Iſrael; ſo will I ſave you, and you ſhall be a Bleſſing: fear not, but let your Hands be ſtrong. As the dew of Hermon that deſcended upon the Mountains of Zion, for there the Lord commanded the Bleſſing, even life for evermore.

15. And now for the third particular, namely, VVhat it is to deſcend out of Heaven FROM GOD.

1. To deſcend out of Heaven (that is, out of the Church in Captivity) from God, is this: The Church is the place in which God doth beget all thoſe that are the Children of him; wherefore in that they are ſaid to deſcend out of Heaven FROM GOD, it is as if he had ſaid, The Children of the Church are Heaven-born, begotten of God, and brought forth in the Church of Chriſt: For Jeruſalem which is above, is the Mother of us all: The Lord ſhall count when he writeth up the People, that this Man was born there.

Gal. 4. 26. Pſal. 87. 5, 6.

2. VVhen he ſaith he ſaw this Jeruſalem come out of Heaven from God, he means, That thoſe of the Church in Captivity that ſhall build this City, they ſhall be a People peculiarly fitted and qualified for this Work of God. It was not all the Children of Iſrael that had their hand in building Jeruſalem after the Captivity of old; their Nobles put not their hands to the Work of the Lord; alſo there were many of Judah that were ſworn to Tobiah the arch Oppoſer of the building of the City, becauſe of ſome Kindred and Relation that then was between them and him. And as it was then, ſo we do expect it will be now; ſome will be even at the beginning of this VVork, in Babylon, at that time alſo ſome will be cowardly and fearful, yea, and even men hired to hinder the Work. VVherefore I ſay, thoſe of the Church that at that day builded the City, they were men of a particular and peculiar Spirit, which alſo will ſo be at the building of the New Jeruſalem: They whoſe Light breaks forth as the Morning, they that are mighty for a Spirit of Prayer, they that take away the Yoke, and ſpeaking Vanity, and that draw out their Soul to the Hungry; they that the Lord ſhall guide continually, that ſhall have fat Bones, and that ſhall be as a watered Garden, whoſe Waters fail not, &c. of THEM ſhall they be that build the old Waſtes, and that raiſe up the Foundations of many Generations, &c. It was thus in all Ages, in every Work of God, SOME of his People, SOME of his Saints in ſpecial in all Ages, have been uſed to promote, and advance, and perfect the VVork of their Generations.

3. This City deſcends or comes out of Heaven from God, that is, by his ſpecial working and bringing to paſs; 'twas God that gave them the Pattern, even when they were in Babylon; 'twas God that put it into their Hearts while there, to pray for deliverance; 'twas God that put it into the Hearts of the Kings of the Medes and Perſians to give them Liberty to return and build; and it was God that quailed the Hearts of thoſe that by oppoſing did endeavour to hinder the bringing the VVork to perfection; yea, it was God that did indeed bring the VVork to perfection; wherefore ſhe may well be ſaid to deſcend out of Heaven from GOD; as he alſo ſaith himſelf by the Prophet, [I] will cauſe the Captivity of Judah, and the Captivity of Iſrael to return, and [I] will build them as at the firſt, Ezek. 4. 1, 2, 3, 4. Neh. 2. 8. and 3. 18. Ezr. 7. 27.

Neh. 4. 15. and 6. 15, 16. Jer. 33. 7. and 32. 44. Ezek. 36. 33, 34, 35, 36. and 37. 11, 12, 13, 14. Amos 9. 11.

Laſtly, VVhen he ſaith he ſaw her deſcend from God out of Heaven, he may refer to her Glory, which at her declining departed from her, and aſcended to God; as the Sap returns into the Root at the Fall of the Leaf: which Glory doth again at her return deſcend, or come into the Church, and Branches of the ſame, as the Sap doth ariſe at the Spring of the Year; for indeed the Churches Beauty is from Heaven, and it either goeth up thither from her, or elſe comes from thence to her, according to the natures of both Fall and Spring, Cant. 2.

Thus you ſee what this HEAVEN is, and what it is for this City to DESCEND out of it; alſo what it is for this City to deſcend out of it FROM GOD.

16. Ver. 11. Having the Glory of God. Theſe laſt words do put the whole matter out of doubt, and do moſt clearly ſhew unto us, that the deſcending of this City is the perfect return of the Church out of Captivity: The Church, when ſhe began at firſt to go into Captivity, her Glory began to depart from her; and now ſhe is returning again, ſhe receiveth therewith her former Glory, having the Glory of God. Thus it was in the Type, when Jeruſalem went into Captivity under the King of Babylon (which was a figure of the Captivity of our New-Teſtament-Church under Antichriſt) it is ſaid that then the glory of God departed from them, and went by degrees, Ezek. 10. 4 18. & 11. 22, 23, &c. firſt out of the Temple to the Threſhold of the Houſe, and from thence with the Cherubims of Glory, for that time quite away from the City.

Again, As the Glory of God departed from this City at her going into Captivity; ſo when ſhe returned again, ſhe had alſo then returned to her the Glory of God; whereupon this very Prophet that ſaw the Glory of God go from her at her going into Captivity, did ſee it, the very ſame; and that according as it departed, ſo return at her deliverance: He brought me to the Gate, ſaith he, (that is, when by a Viſion he ſaw all the Frame and Patterns of the City and Temple, in the ſtate in which it was to be after the Captivity) he brought me to the Gate that looketh toward the Eaſt, and behold the Glory of the God of Iſrael came from the way of the Eaſt (the very ſame way that it went, when it departed from the City, Ezek. 11. 23.) his Voice was like the Voice of many Waters, and the Earth ſhined with his Glory; It was according to the appearance of the Viſion which I ſaw, even according to the Viſion that I ſaw when I came to deſtroy the City, and the Viſion was like the Viſion that I ſaw by the River Chebar; and I fell on Ezek 43, 1 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. my face, and the Glory of the Lord came into the Houſe by the way of the Gate, whoſe proſpect is towards the Eaſt: ſo the Spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner Court, and behold, the Glory of the Lord filled the Houſe.

Thus you ſee it was in the Deſtruction and Reſtoration of the Jews Jeruſalem, by which God doth plainly ſhew us how things will be in our Goſpel-Church; ſhe was to decline and loſe her glory, ſhe Rev. 11. was to be trampled (as ſhe was a City) for a long time under the feet of the unconverted and wicked World: Again, She was after this to be builded, and to be put into her former Glory; at which time ſhe was to have her Glory, her former Glory, even the Glory of God returned to her again: He ſhewed me, ſaith John, that great City the holy Jeruſalem, deſcending out of Heaven from God, having the Glory of God: As he ſaith by the Prophet, I am returned to Jeruſalem with Mercies, and my Houſe ſhall be built Zech. 1. 16 & 8. 3. in it: and again, I am returned to Zion, and will dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem.

17. Having the Glory of God: There is the Grace of God, and the Glory of that Grace; there is the Power of God, and the Glory of that Power; and there is the Majeſty of God, and the Glory of that Majeſty, Epheſ. 1. 6. 2 Theſſ. 2. 9. Iſa. 2. 19.

'Tis true, God doth not leave his People in ſome ſence, even in the worſt of times, and in their moſt forlorn condition; as he ſheweth by his being with them in their ſad ſtate in Egypt and Babylon, and other of their ſtates of calamity: as he ſaith, Though I caſt them far off among the Heathen, and although I have ſcattered them among the Countries; yet will I be to them a little Sanctuary in the Countries where they ſhall come. God is with his Church even in her greateſt adverſity, both to limit, bound, meaſure, and appoint out to her, her quantity and quality, her beginning and duration of diſtreſs and temptation: but yet I ſay the Glory of God, in the notion of Ezekiel and John (when they ſpeak of the Reſtoration of this City) that is not always upon his People, though always they are beloved, and counted for his peculiar Treaſure. She may then have his Grace, but not at the ſame time the glory of his Grace; his Power, but not the glory of his Power; ſhe may alſo have his Majeſty, when not the glory thereof: God may be with his Church, even then when the Glory is departed from Iſrael.

Joh. 14. 18. Dan. 3. 25. Ezek. 11. 16. Iſa. 27. 7, 8, 9. Rev. 2. 10.

The difference that is between her having his Grace, Power and Majeſty, and the Glory of each, is manifeſt in theſe following particulars: Grace, Power, and Majeſty, when they are in the Church in their own proper Acts, only as we are conſidered Saints before God, ſo they are inviſible, and that not only altogether to the World, but often to the very Children of God themſelves; but now when the glory of theſe do reſt upon the Church, according to Ezekiel and John, why then it will be viſible and apparent to all Beholders: When the Lord ſhall build up Zion, he ſhall APPEAR in his glory; as he ſaith alſo in another place, The Lord ſhall ARISE upon thee, and his glory ſhall be SEEN upon thee.

Pſal. 102. 16. Iſa. 60. 1, 2.

Now then to ſpeak a word or two in particular, to the Glory of God that at this day will be found to ſettle upon this City.

Firſt therefore at her returning, ſhe ſhall not only have his Grace upon her, but the very Glory of his Grace ſhall be ſeen upon her; the glory of Pardoning Grace ſhall now ſhine in her own Soul; and Grace in the glory of it ſhall appear in all her doings: now ſhall both our inward and outward man be moſt famouſly adorned and beautified with Salvation; the golden Pipes that are on the Head of the Zech. 4. 2. golden Candleſtick ſhall at this day convey with all freeneſs the golden Oyl thereout, into our golden Hearts and Lamps: Our Wine ſhall be mixt with Gall no longer, we ſhall now drink the pure blood of the Grape: the glory of pardoning and forgiving Mercy ſhall ſo ſhew it ſelf at this day in this City, and ſhall ſo viſibly abide there in the Eyes of all Spectators, that all ſhall be inflamed with it: For Zions ſake I will not hold my peace, and for Jeruſalems ſake I will not reſt, untill the Righteouſneſs thereof go forth as brightneſs, and the Salvation thereof as a Lamp that burneth: and the Gentiles ſhall ſee thy Righteouſneſs, and all Kings thy Glory; and thou ſhalt be called by a New Name, which the mouth of the Iſa. 62. 1, 2. Lord ſhall name. And again, The Lord ſhall make bare Iſa. 52. 9. his holy Name in the eyes of all the Nations, and all 10. the ends of the Earth ſhall ſee the Salvation of God. Pſal. 98. 2. At that day the Prophet tells us that there ſhall be HOLINESS upon the very Horſes Bridles; and that the Pots in the Lords Houſe ſhall be like the Bowls before the Altar; and every Pot in Jeruſalem ſhall be Zech. 14. 20, 21. Holineſs unto the Lord. The meaning of all theſe places is, That in the day that the Lord doth turn his Church and People into the frame and faſhion of a City, and when he ſhall build them up to anſwer the firſt ſtate of the Church, there will ſuch Grace and plenty of Mercy be extended unto her, begetting ſuch Faith and Holineſs and Grace in her Soul, and all her Actions, that ſhe ſhall convince all that are about her, that ſhe is the City, the beloved City, the City that the Lord hath choſen; for after that he Zech. 8. 3. had ſaid before, He would return to Zion, and dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem, he ſaith moreover, That Jeruſalem ruſalem ſhall be called, A City of Truth, and the Mountain of the Lord of Hoſts, the holy Mountain: And all the People of the Earth ſhall ſee that thou art called by the Name of the Lord, and they ſhall be afraid of thee.

Deut. 28 10.

Secondly, As the Glory of the Grace of God will at his day be wonderful manifeſt in and over his City; ſo alſo at that Day will be ſeen the Glory of his Power: O my People, ſaith God, that dwelleſt in Zion, be not afraid of the Aſſyrian; he ſhall ſmite thee with a Rod, and ſhall lift up his Staff againſt thee after the manner of Egypt (that is, ſhall perſecute and afflict thee, as Pharaoh ſerved thy Friends of old) but be not afraid: for yet a little while, and the Indignation ſhall ceaſe, and mine Anger in their Deſtruction: and the Lord of Hoſts ſhall ſtir up a Scourge for him, according to the Slaughter of Midian at the Rock Oreb: and as his Rod was upon the Sea, ſo ſhall he lift it up after the Manner of Egypt: the ſum is, God will at the Day of his Re-building the New Jeruſalem, ſo viſibly make bare his Arm, and be ſo exalted before all by his Power towards his People, that no People ſhall dare to oppoſe (or ſtand, if they do make the leaſt Attempt to hinder) the Stability of this City. I will ſurely (gather or) aſſemble, O Jacob, all of thee, ſaith God: I will ſurely gather the Remnant of Iſrael—as the Sheep of Bozrah, as the Flocks in the midſt of the Fold; they ſhall make a noiſe by reaſon of the multitude of Men: The Breaker up is come up before them, they have broken up (the Antichriſtian Siege that hath been laid againſt them) they are gone thorow the Gate, they are gone out of it, and their King ſhall paſs before them, and the Lord in the Head of them: Like as a Lyon, and a young Lyon roaring on the Prey, when a multitude of Shepherds are called forth againſt him, he will not be afraid of their Voice, nor abaſe himſelf for the Noiſe of them; ſo ſhall the Lord come down to fight for Mount Zion, and for the Hills thereof: The Lord ſhall go forth like a mighty Man, and ſhall ſtir up Jealouſie like a Man of War; he ſhall cry, yea, roar; he ſhall prevail againſt his Enemies; but not by Might, nor yet by Power, that is, the Power and Arm of Fleſh, but by the Power of the Word and Spirit of God, which will prevail, and muſt prevail, to quaſh and over-turn all Oppoſition.

Thirdly, When God hath thus appeared in the Glory of his Grace, and the Glory of his Power to deliver his Choſen; then ſhall the implacable Enemies of God ſhrink and creep into Holes like the Locuſts and Frogs of the Hedges, at the Appearance of the Glory of the Majeſty of God: now the high ones, lofty ones, haughty ones, and the Proud, ſhall ſee ſo evidently the hand of the Lord towards his Servants, and his Indignation towards his Enemies, that they ſhall go into the Rocks and Holes of the Earth, and into the Tops of the ragged Rocks, for the Fear of the Lord, and for the Glory of his Majeſty, when he ſhall ariſe to ſhake terribly the Earth.

Iſa. 2.

Where the Preſence of the Lord doth ſo appear upon a people, that thoſe that are Spectators perceive and underſtand it, it muſt needs work on thoſe Spectators one of theſe two things; either firſt a trembling and aſtoniſhment, and quailing of Heart, as it doth among the implacable Enemies; or elſe a buckling and bending of Heart, and ſubmiſſion to his People and VVays; as ſaith the Prophet, The Sons of them that afflicted thee ſhall come bending to thee, all they that deſpiſed thee ſhall fall down at the Soles of thy Feet; they ſhall call thee, The City of the Lord, The Zion of the Holy One of Iſrael: as Moſes ſaid to the Children of Iſrael, The Lord ſhall put the Fear of you, and the Dread of you upon all the Land that you ſhall tread upon, as he ſaid unto you.

At this Day the Footſteps of the Lord will be ſo apparent and viſible in all his Actions and Diſpenſations in and towards his People, this holy City, that all ſhall ſee, as I have ſaid, how gracious, loving, kind and good the Lord is now towards his own Children: ſuch Glory, I ſay, will be over them, and upon them, that they all will ſhine before the World; and ſuch tender Bowels in GOD towards them, that no ſooner can an Adverſary peep, or lift up his Head againſt his Servants, but his Hand will be in the Neck of them: ſo that in ſhort time he will have brought his Church into that Safety, and her Neighbours into that Fear and Submiſſion, that they ſhall not again ſo much as dare to hold up a Hand againſt her, no, not for a thouſand Years. Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will bring again the Captivity of Jacob's Tents, and have mercy upon his dwelling Places; and the City ſhall be builded upon her own Heap, and the Palace ſhall remain after the manner thereof: and out of them ſhall proceed a Thanks-giving, and the Voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they ſhall not be few; and I will alſo glorifie them, and they ſhall not be ſmall: Their Children alſo ſhall be as aforetime, and their Congregation ſhall be eſtabliſhed before me; and I will puniſh all that oppreſs them.

Rev. 20. 3. Jer. 30. 18, 19, 20.

Having the Glory of God: And her Light was like unto a Stone moſt precious, even like a Jaſper Stone, Clear as Cryſtal. Having thus told us of her Glory, even of the Glory of God, how it at this Day will reſt upon this City; he now comes to touch a ſecond thing, to wit, her Light, and that in which ſhe deſcends, and by which, as with the Light of the Sun, ſhe ſeeth before her, and behind her, and on every ſide: This therefore is another Branch of her Beauty; She in her deſcending hath the Glory of God, and alſo the Light of a Stone moſt precious.

Ezekiel tells us, That in the Viſion which he ſaw when he came to deſtroy the City (which Viſion was the very ſame that he ſaw again at the reſtoring of it) he ſaith, I ſay that in this Viſion among many other Wonders, he ſaw a Fire infolding it ſelf, and Brightneſs about it; and that the Fire alſo was bright, and that out of it went forth Lightning; that the Likeneſs of the Firmament upon the living Creatures, was the Colour of the terrible Cryſtal; that the Throne alſo, upon which was placed the Likeneſs of a Man, was like, or as the Appearance of a Saphire-Stone: all which VVords, with the Nature of their Light and Colour, the Holy Ghoſt doth in the Viſion of John comprize, and placeth within the Colour of the Jaſper and the Cryſtal-Stone. And indeed, though the Viſion of John and Ezekiel, touching the end of the Matter, be but one and the ſame, yet they do very much vary and differ in Terms and Manner of Language: Ezekiel tells us, That the Man that he ſaw come to meaſure the City and Temple, had in his Hand a Line of * Flax, which Line John calls a Golden Reed: Ezekiel tells us, that the River came out of, or from under the * Threſhold of the Houſe; but John ſaith, it came out of the Throne of God, and of the Lamb: Ezekiel tells us, that on either ſide of this River grew All Trees for Food; John calls theſe ALL Trees, but ONE Tree, and tells us that it ſtood on both ſides of this River: The like might alſo be ſhewed you in many other Particulars, as here you ſee they differ as touching the Terms of the Light and Brightneſs that appears upon this City at her Re-building, which the Holy Ghoſt repreſents to John under the Light and Glory of the Jaſper and Cryſtal Stone: for indeed, the end of Ezekiel's Viſion was to ſhew us, That as when the Glory of God departed from the City, it ſignified that he would take away from them the Light of his Word, and their clearneſs of VVorſhip; ſuffering them to mourn for the Loſs of the one, and to grope for the VVant of the other: ſo at his return again, he would give them both their former Light of Truth, and alſo the Clearneſs of Spirit to underſtand it; which alſo John doth ſhew us ſhall laſt for ever.

Ezek. 1. 4. Ver 13, 14 Ver. 22. Ver. 26. * Ezek. 40. 3. * Ezek. 47. 1. Ver. 12.

——And her Light was like unto a Stone moſt precious——This Stone it is to repreſent unto us the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, in whoſe Light and Clearneſs this City comes out of Babylon: for, as he ſaith, ſhe hath the Glory of God, that is, his viſible Hand of Grace, Power and Majeſty, to bring her forth; ſo ſhe comes in the Light of this precious Stone: which terms, I ſay, both the Prophet Iſaiah, and the Apoſtle Peter, do apply to the Lord Jeſus, and none elſe: the one calling him, A precious Corner-Stone, the other calling him, The chief Corner-Stone, elect and precious. Now then when he ſaith this City hath the Light of this Stone to deſcend in; he means, That ſhe comes in the ſhining Wiſdom, Knowledge, Underſtanding, and Influences of Chriſt, out of her afflicted and captivated State: and obſerve it, ſhe is rather ſaid to deſcend in the Light of this Stone, than in the Light of God (though both be true) becauſe it is the Man Chriſt, the Stone which the Builders rejected, in whom are hid all the Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledge, of whoſe Fulneſs we do all receive, and Grace for Grace: for it hath pleaſed the Father that in him ſhould all Fulneſs dwell.

Iſa. 28.16. 1 Pet. 2. 6. Col. 2. 3. John 1.16. Col. 1. 19. See alſo Act. 2. 33. and Eph. 4. 10, 11, 12, 13.

This ſheweth us then theſe two things: firſt, That the Time of the Return of the Saints to build the ruinous City, is near, yea, very near, when the Light of the Lord Jeſus begins to ſhine unto perfect Day in her: God will not bring forth his People out of Babylon, eſpecially thoſe that are to be the chief in the Building of this City, without their own Judgments: They ſhall ſee Eye to Eye, when the Lord ſhall bring again Zion: as he ſaith alſo in another place, The Light of the Moon ſhall be as the Light of the Sun, and the Light of the Sun ſevenfold, as the Light of ſeven days, in the Day that the Lord bindeth up the Breach of his People, and healeth the Stroke of their Wound. Now the Eyes of them that ſee, ſhall not be dim, and the Ears of them that hear, ſhall hearken: The Heart alſo of the raſh ſhall underſtand Knowledge, and the Tongue of the Stammerers ſhall be ready to ſpeak plainly: The Lord ſhall be now exalted, and be very high, for he will fill Zion with Judgment and Righteouſneſs, and Wiſdom and Knowledge ſhall be the ſtability of thy Times: When Iſrael went out of Egypt, they wanted much of this; they went out blindfold as it were, they went the, knew not whither; wherefore they went not in the Glory of that which this City deſcendeth in; as Moſes ſaid, The Lord hath not given you an Heart to perceive, nor Eyes to ſee, nor Ears to hear unto this day. But theſe ſhall ſee every ſtep they take; they ſhall be like the Beaſts that had Eyes both before and behind; they ſhall ſee how far they are come out of Antichriſt, and ſhall ſee alſo how far yet they have to go, to the compleat Re-building and finiſhing of this City.

The Light of the Church ſhall be according to the purity of the Word. Iſa. 52. 8. & 30. 26. Iſa. 32. 3, 4. Iſa. 33. 5, 6. Deut. 29. 4.

22. The Way out of Babylon, a pleaſant Way.

Secondly, This ſheweth us how ſweet and pleaſant the way of this Church will be at this Day before them: Light, Knowledge and Judgment in GOD's Matters, doth not only give Men to ſee and behold all the things with which they are concerned, but the things themſelves being good, they do alſo by this Means convey very great Sweetneſs and Pleaſantneſs into the Hearts of thoſe that have the Knowledge of them: Every ſtep, I ſay, that now they take, it ſhall be as it were in Honey and Butter: The Ranſomed of the Lord ſhall return, and come to Zion with Songs, and everlaſting Joy ſhall be upon their Heads; they ſhall obtain Joy and Gladneſs, and Sorrow and Sighing ſhall flee away. As he ſaith, Again, I will build thee, and thou ſhalt be built; O Virgin of Iſrael, thou ſhalt again be adorned with Tabrets, and ſhalt go forth in the Dances of them that make merry.——For thus ſaith the Lord, Sing with Gladneſs for Jacob, and ſhout among the Chief of the Nations; publiſh ye, praiſe ye, and ſay, O Lord ſave thy People, the Remnant of Iſrael: Behold I will bring them from the North Country, and gather them from the Coaſts of the Earth, and with them the Blind and the Lame, the Woman with Child, and her that travelleth with Child together; a very great Company ſhall return thither.

* See Ver. 2

Iſa 35. 10. Jer. 31. 4. 7, 8.

By theſe VVords, the Blind and the Lame, the Woman with Child, and her that travelleth, he would have us underſtand thus much:

Firſt, That the VVay of God ſhall by the illuminating Grace of Chriſt be made ſo pleaſant, ſo ſweet, and ſo beautiful in the Souls of all at that Day, that even the Blindeſt ſhall not ſtumble therein, neither ſhall the Lame refuſe it for fear of Hurt; yea, the Blind, the Lame, the VVoman with Child, and her that travelleth, ſhall (though they be of all in moſt evil caſe to travel, and go the Journey, yet) at this Day, by reaſon of the glorious Light and Sweetneſs that now will poſſeſs them, even forget their Impediments, and dance, as after muſical Tabrets.

Secondly, This City upon the time of her Re-building, ſhall have her blind Men ſee, her Halt and Lame made ſtrong; ſhe alſo that is with Child, and her that travelleth, ſhall joyntly ſee the City-work that at this Day will be on foot, and put into form and order; yet before the end: Behold, at that time I will undo all that afflict thee, ſaith the Lord to his People, and I will ſave her that halteth, and gather her that was driven out, and I will get them Praiſe and Fame in every Land where they have been put to ſhame; at that time I will bring you again, even in the time that I gather you: for I will make you a Name and a Praiſe, among all People of the Earth, when I turn back your Captivity before your EYES, ſaith the Lord God.

Zeph. 3. 19, 20.

And her Light was like unto a Stone moſt precious.

23. In that he ſaith, Her Light is like unto A STONE MOST PRECIOUS, he ſheweth us how welcome, and with what eagerneſs of Spirit this Light will at this Day be imbraced by the Lord's People: Truly the Light is good, ſaith Solomon, and a pleaſant thing it is for the Eyes to behold the Sun; and if ſo, then how beautiful, deſirable, and precious will that Light be, that is not only heavenly, and from Chriſt, but that will be univerſal among all Saints, to ſhew them the ſame thing, and to direct them to, and in the ſame Work: The Want of this, hath to this Day been one great reaſon of that croſſneſs of Judgment and Perſwaſion that hath been found among the Saints, and that hath cauſed that Lingering and Diſputing about the glorious State of the Church in the latter Days: Some being for its Excellency to conſiſt chiefly in outward Glory; and others ſwerving on the other ſide, conclude ſhe ſhall not have any of this; ſome conceiving that this City will not be built untill the Lord comes from Heaven in Perſon; others again concluding, that when he comes, then there ſhall be no longer tarrying here, but that all ſhall forthwith, even all the Godly, be taken up into Heaven; with divers other Opinions in theſe Matters: And thus many run to and fro, but yet, God be thanked, Knowledge does increaſe, though the Viſion will be ſealed, even to the time of the End. But now, I ſay, at the time of the End, the Spirit ſhall be poured down upon us from on high; now alſo they that erred in Spirit ſhall come to underſtanding; the City ſhall deſcend in the Light of a Stone moſt precious: the Sun will be riſen upon the Earth, when Lot goeth from Sodom into Zoar.

Now there ſhall be an Oneneſs of Judgment and Underſtanding in the Hearts of all Saints; they ſhall be now no more two, but one in the Lords hand: Alas! the Saints are yet but as an Army routed, and are apt ſometimes through Fear, and ſometimes through Forgetfulneſs, to miſtake the Word of their Captain General, the Son of God, and are alſo too too prone to ſhoot and kill even their very Right-hand Man; but at that Day all ſuch doing ſhall be laid aſide, for the knowledge of the Glory of the Lord ſhall cover the Earth, as the Waters cover the Sea; which Knowledge ſhall then ſtrike thorow the Heart and Liver of all ſwerving and unſound Opinions in Chriſt's Matters; for then ſhall every every one of the Chriſtians call upon the Name of the Lord, and that with one pure Lip, or Language, Zeph. 3. 8. to ſerve him with one Conſent. 'Tis Darkneſs, and not Light, that keepeth God's People from knowing one another, both in their Faith and Language; and 'tis Darkneſs that makes them ſtand at ſo great a diſtance both in Judgment and Affections, as in theſe and other Days they have done: But then, ſaith God, I will plant in the Wilderneſs (that is, in Iſa. 41. 19. the Church that is now bewildered) the Cedar, the 20. & 60. Shittah Tree, the Myrtle Tree, and the Oyl Tree; I 13. will ſet in the Deſart the Fir Tree, the Pine, and the Box-Tree together; that they may ſee and know, conſider and underſtand together, that the Hand of the Lord hath done this, and the Holy One of Iſrael hath created it: And again, The Glory of Lebanon ſhall come unto thee, the Fir-Tree and the Pine-Tree, and the Box-Tree together, to beautifie the Houſe of my Glory, and to make the place of my Feet glorious.

Never was fair Weather after foul, nor warm Weather after cold, nor a ſweet and beautiful Spring after a heavy, and nipping, and terrible VVinter, ſo comfortable, ſweet, deſirable and welcome to the poor Birds and Beaſts of the Field, as this Day will be to the Church of God: Darkneſs! it was the Plague of Egypt: It is an empty, forlorn, deſolate, ſolitary, and diſcomforting State; wherefore Light, even the illuminating Grace of God, eſpecially in the Meaſure that it ſhall be communicated unto us at this Day, it muſt needs be precious: In Light there is Warmth and Pleaſure; it is by the Light of the Sun that the whole Univerſe appears unto us diſtinctly, and it is by the Heat thereof that every thing groweth and flouriſheth; all which will now be gloriouſly and ſpiritually anſwered in this Holy, and New Jeruſalem: O how clearly will all the Spi- 2 Theſſ. 2. ders, and Dragons, and Owls, and foul Spirits of Rev. 18. 1, Antichriſt at that Day be diſcovered by the Light 2, 3, 4. hereof! Now alſo will all the pretty and little Birds in the Lord's Field, moſt ſweetly ſend forth their pleaſant Notes, and all the Flowers and Herbs of his Garden-Spring: Then will it be ſaid to the Church by her Husband and Saviour, Ariſe, Cant. 2. 10 my Love, my fair One, and come away; for lo, the 11, 12, 13. Winter is paſt, the Rain is over and gone, the Flowers appear in the Earth, and the time of the ſinging of Birds is come, and the Voice of the Turtle is heard in our Land; the Fig-Tree putteth forth her green Figs, and the Vine with her tender Grapes give a good Smell. You know how pleaſant this is, even to be fulfilled in the Letter of it, not only to Birds and Beaſts, but Men; eſpecially it is pleaſant to ſuch Men that have for ſeveral years been held in the Chains of Affliction: It muſt needs therefore be moſt pleaſant and deſirable to the afflicted Church of Chriſt, who hath lain now in the Dungeon of Antichriſt for above a thouſand Years: But Lord, how will this Lady, when ſhe gets her Liberty, and when ſhe is returned to her own City, how will ſhe then take pleaſure in the warm and ſpangling Beams of thy ſhining Grace! and ſolace her ſelf with thee Cant. 7. 11 in the Garden, among the Nuts and the Pomgranates, 12, 13. among the Lilies and Flowers, and all the chief Spices.

24. Even like a Jaſper Stone, clear as cryſtal. Theſe Words are the Metaphor by which the Holy Ghoſt is pleaſed to illuſtrate the whole Buſineſs. Indeed Similitudes, if fitly ſpoke and applied, do much ſet off, and out any Point, that either in the Doctrines of Faith or Manners, is handled in the Churches. Wherefore, becauſe he would illuſtrate, as well as affirm, the Glory of this Jeruſalem to the Life; therefore he concludes his general Deſcription of this City with theſe Compariſons: I ſaw, ſaith he the Holy City, the Lambs Wife: I ſaw her in her Spangles, and in all her Adorning, but verily ſhe was moſt excellent; She was ſhining as the Jaſper, and as pure and clear as Cryſtal. The Jaſper, it ſeems, is a very beautiful and coſtly Stone, in as much as that, above all the precious Stones, is made uſe of by the Holy Ghoſt to ſhew us the Glory and ſhining Vertues of the Lord Jeſus in this New Jeruſalem: and yet, behold! the Jaſper is too ſhort and ſlender to do the Buſineſs; there muſt another Stone be added, Even like a Jaſper Stone, clear as Cryſtal. Yea, ſaith the Lord Jeſus, Her Cheeks are like Rows of Jewels, Cant. 1. 9, and ſo are the Joynts of her Thighs: even like the Jew- 10 & 7. 1. els that are the Work of the Hands of a cunning Workman.

The Cryſtal is a Stone ſo clear and ſpotleſs, that even her greateſt Adverſaries in the midſt of all their Rage, are not able, juſtly, to charge her with the leaſt Mote or Spot imaginable: wherefore when he ſaith, that this City in her deſcending, is even like the Jaſper for Light, and like the Cryſtal for Clearneſs; he would have us further learn, that at the Day of the deſcending of this Jeruſalem, ſhe ſhall be every way ſo accompliſhed with Innocency, Sincerity and Clearneſs in all her Actions, that none ſhall have from her, or her Ways, any juſt Occaſion given unto them to ſlight, contemn, or oppoſe her. For,

Firſt, As ſhe deſcends, ſhe meddleth not with any Mans Matters but her own; She comes all along by the King's High-way: that is, alone by the Rules that her Lord hath preſcribed for her in his Teſtament. The Governours of this World need not at all to fear a Diſturbance from her, or a Diminiſhing of ought they have: She will not meddle with their Fields nor Vineyards, neither will ſhe drink of the Water of their Wells: only let her go by the King's High-way, and ſhe will not turn to the Right-hand or Num. 20. to the Left, untill ſhe hath paſſed all their Borders. It 18, 19. is a falſe Report then that the Governours of the Num. 21. Again, She will be clear as Cryſtal in the Obſervation of all her turns and ſtops, in her journeying from Egypt to Canaan, from Babylon to this Jeruſalem-ſtate. She will, I ſay, obſerve both Time and Order, and will go only as her God doth go before her; now one ſtep in this Truth, and then another in that, according to the Diſpenſation of God, and the light of the day ſhe lives in: As the Cloud goes, ſo will ſhe; and when the Cloud ſtays, ſo will ſhe. Verſe 12. And had a Wall great and high, and had twelve Gates, and at the Gates twelve Angels, and Names written thereon, which are the Names of the Twelve Tribes of the Children of Iſrael. Theſe words do give us to underſtand that this holy City is now built, and in all her parts compleat; they give us alſo to underſtand the manner of her ſtrength, &c.

Of her Defence.

And had a Wall----- Having thus, I ſay, given us a Deſcription of this City in general, he now deſcends to her Strength and Frame in particular; her Frame and Strength, I ſay, as ſhe is a City compact together: as alſo of her Splendor and Beauty.

And obſerve it, that of all the particulars that you read of, touching the fence, faſhion, or frame of this City, and of all her glory, the firſt thing that he preſenteth to our view, is, her Safety and Security; She had a Wall. A Wall, you know, is for the Safety, Security, Defence, and Preſervation of a Place, City, or Town; therefore it is much to the purpoſe that in the firſt place after this general Deſcription, he ſhould fall upon a Diſcovery of her Security and Fortification: for what of all this Glory and Goodneſs, if there be no way to defend and preſerve it in its high and glorious ſtate? If a Man had in his poſſeſſion even Mountains of Pearl, and golden Mines; yet if he had not wherewith to ſecure and preſerve them to himſelf, from thoſe that with all their might endeavour to get them from him, he might not only quickly loſe his Treaſure, and become a Beggar, but alſo through the very fear of loſing them, even loſe the comfort of them, while yet in his poſſeſſion. To ſpeak nothing of the Angels that fell, and of the Glory that they then did loſe, I may inſtance to you the ſtate of Adam in his Excellency; Adam, you know, was once ſo rich and wealthy, that he had the Garden of Eden, the Paradiſe of Pleaſure, yea, and alſo the whole World to boot, for his Inheritance; but mark, in all his Glory he was without a Wall; wherefore preſently, even at the very firſt aſſault of the Adverſary he was not only worſted as touching his Perſon and ſtanding, but even ſtript of all his Treaſure, his Paradiſe taken from him, and he in a manner left ſo poor, that forthwith he was glad of an Apron of Fig-Leaves to cover his nakedneſs, and to hide his ſhame from the face of the Sun: Wherefore, I ſay, John ſpeaks to the purpoſe in ſaying ſhe had a Wall; a Wall for Defence and Safety, for Security and Preſervation: Now then, ſhe ſhall lie no longer like blaſted Bones in an open field, or valley; that was her portion in the days of her affliction.

Gen. 3. Ezek. 37. 1, 2.

And had a Wall---- It is ſaid of old Jeruſalem, that ſhe had a Wall and a Wall, two Walls for her Defence and Safety: which two, in my Judgment, did hold forth theſe two things: The one, their eternal preſervation and ſecurity from the wrath of God, through the benefits of Chriſt; and the other, that ſpecial protection and ſafeguard that the Church hath always had from and by the ſpecial Providence of her God, in the midſt of her Enemies: Wherefore one of theſe is called by the proper name of Salvation, which Salvation I take in ſpecial to ſignifie our fortification and ſafety from the wrath of God, and the Curſe and Power of the Law and Sin: The other is called, A Wall of fire round about her; and alludeth to the Viſion that the Prophets ſervant was made to ſee for his comfort, when he was put in fear, by reaſon of the great company of the Enemies that were bending their force againſt the life of his Maſter.

The Reaſon of two Walls.

But now in thoſe days, though there were for the defence of the City thoſe two Walls, yet they ſtood a little diſtance each from other, and had a Ditch between them; which was to ſignifie, that though then they had the Wall of Salvation about them, with reference to their eternal ſtate; yet the Wall of God's Providence and ſpecial Protection was not yet ſo nearly joyned thereto, but that they might for their fooliſhneſs have that broken down, and they ſuffered to fall into the ditch that was between them both; and ſo he ſaith by the Prophet, I will tell you what I will do to my Vineyard, (that is, to this City, for the Wickedneſs thereof) I will take away the hedge thereof, and it ſhall be eaten up; and will break down the Wall thereof, and it ſhall be trodden down. Which Hedge and Wall could not be that of Eternal Salvation, for that ſtood ſure, though they ſhould be ſcattered among the Nations, as Wheat is ſifted in a Sieve; it muſt therefore be the Wall of her ſpecial Preſervation in her outward Peace and Happineſs, which Wall was often in thoſe days broken down, and they made havock of, of all that dwelt about them.

27. Two Walls made one.

But now touching the ſafety of New Jeruſalem, the City of which I here diſcourſe; ſhe is ſeen in the Viſion by John to have but one onely Wall; to ſignifie, That at this day the Wall of her Eternal Salvation, and of God's ſpecial Providence, to protect and defend her, in her preſent, viſible and Goſpel-Glory, ſhall be ſo effectually joyned together, that now they ſhall be no more two, that is, at a diſtance, with a ditch between, but one ſound and incloſing-Wall; to ſhew us, That now the ſtate of this Jeruſalem, even touching her outward Glory, Peace and Tranquillity, will be ſo ſtable, invincible and laſting, that unleſs that part of the Wall which is Eternal Salvation, can be broken down, the Glory of this City ſhall never be vailed more: Wherefore the Prophet, when he ſpeaks with reference to the happy ſtate and condition of this City, he ſaith, Violence ſhall be heard no more within thy Land, nor waſting and deſtruction within thy Borders; but thou ſhalt call thy Walls, Salvation, and thy Gates, Praiſe: as he ſaith alſo in another place, Thine Eye ſhall ſee Jeruſalem a quiet Habitation, a Tabernacle that ſhall not be taken down, nor one of the Stakes thereof ſhall ever be removed, neither ſhall any of the Cords thereof be broken. The Walls are now conjoined, both joined into one; the Father hath delivered up the great Red Dragon into the hand of Chriſt, who hath ſhut him up and ſealed him down, even down for a thouſand years. Wherefore from the Lord ſhall there be upon every dwelling Place of Mount Zion,

The reaſon why they both are made one.

Zion, and upon all her Assemblies, a Cloud and Smoak by Day, and the shining of a Flaming Fire by Night; for upon all her Glory shall be a Defence: And in that day shall this Song be sung, We have a strong City, Isa 4. 5. & 26. 1, 2. Salvation will God appoint for Walls and Bulwarks, The same in effect hath our Prophet John, saying, I saw the Holy City, the New Jerusalem, descending out of Heaven from God, prepared as a Bride adorned for her Husband; And I heard a great Voice out of Heaven, saying, The Tabernacle of God is with Men, and he shall dwell with them; and God himself shall be with them, and be their God; and God shall wipe away all Tears from their Eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying; neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away. Rev. 21. 2, 3, 4.

28. The Wall is great and high. Deut. 1. 28.

And had a Wall great and high---- These words, Great and High, are added for illustration, to set out the matter to the height; and indeed the glory of a Wall lyeth in this, that it is great and high; the VValls of the Canaanites were terrible upon this account, and did even sink the Hearts of those that beheld them: wherefore this City shall be most certainly in safety, she hath a VVall about her, a great Wall; a VVall about her, an high Wall: It is great for compass, it incloseth every Saint; it is great for thickness, it is compacted of all the Grace and Goodness of God, both spiritual and temporal; and for height, if you count from the utmost side to the utmost, then it is higher than Heaven, who can storm it? and for depth, it is lower than Hell, who can undermine it? Heb. 7. 26. Job 11. 8.

The height of the Wall.

Great Mercies, high Mercies, great Preservation, and a high Arm to defend, shall continually at this day incamp this City: God himself will be a continual Life-Guard to this City; I will encamp, saith he, about mine House, because of the Army, because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth; and no Oppressor shall pass thorow them any more, for now have I seen with mine Eyes. Zech. 9. 8.

29. The Gates of the City. Jer. 17. 19, 20.

---And had twelve Gates---- Having thus shewed us her Wall, he now comes to her Gates; it had Gates, it had twelve Gates: By Gates in this place we are to understand the way of Entrance; Gates, you know are for coming in, and for going out; and do in this place signifie two things:

What the Gates signifie.

First, An Entrance into communion with the God and Saviour of this City.

Secondly, Entrance into communion with the Inhabitants and Priviledges of this City; in both which the Gates do signifie Christ: for as no man can come to the knowledge and enjoyment of the God, and glorious Saviour, but by and thorow the Lord Christ; so no man can come into true and spiritual communion with these Inhabitants, but by him also: I AM THE WAY, saith he, the Truth, and the Life; and no man comes to the Father but BY ME: and again, I am the DOOR, BY ME if any man ENTER, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. Joh. 10. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. & 14. 6.

Twelve Gates. Neh. 3, 13. 28, 29, 31. & 12. 37, 39.

---And had twelve Gates--- In that he saith, Twelve Gates, he alludeth to the City Jerusalem that was of old, which had just so many; and are on purpose put into the number of Twelve, to answer to the whole number of the Elect of God, which are comprehended within the number of the Twelve Tribes, whether they are natural Jews or Gentiles; for as all the Godly Jews are the Seed of Abraham after the Flesh, though not Godly, because they are the Children of the Flesh of Abraham; so all the Godly Gentiles are the Children of Abraham after the Spirit, tho' not by that means made the Children of the Flesh of Abraham: they both meet then in the Spirit and Faith of the Gospel, as God saith to the Jews, When the Stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the Passover (that is, become godly, and receive the Faith of Christ) let all his Males, be circumcised, and then let them come near, and keep it, &c. For they that are of Faith, are the Children of faithful Abraham, who is called, The very Father of us all. Thus you see all the godly come under the Title of the Children of Abraham, and of the Jews; and so under the denomination also of being Persons belonging to the Tribes, the twelve Tribes, who answer to those twelve Gates. VVherefore the Psalmist minding this, speaketh indefinitely of all the Godly, under the name of The Tribes of Israel, saying, Our Feet shall stand within thy Gates, O Jerusalem: Jerusalem is builded, a City that is compact together, whither the Tribes go up, the Tribes of the Lord, unto the Testimony of Israel, to give thanks to the Name of the Lord. Psal. 122. 2, 3, 4.

The twelve Gates do answer the twelve Tribes.

Exod. 12. 48. Gal. 3. 7. Rom. 4. 16.

But again, Though I am certain that all the Gentiles that are at any time converted, are reckoned within the compass of some of the Tribes of Israel, to which the Gates of this City may truly be said to answer: Yet the Gates are here in a special manner called by the name of twelve, to answer to the happy Return and Restoration of those poor distressed Creatures the twelve Tribes of the Jews that are scattered abroad, and that are and for a long time have been to our astonishment and their shame, as Vagabonds and Straglers among the Nations, there to continue many days, without a King, without a Prince, and without a Sacrifice, and without an Ephod; that is, without the true God, the true Saviour, and the true Word and Ordinances; after which, saith the same Prophet, They shall even in the latter days (that is, when this City is builded) return and seek the Lord their God, and David their King, and shall then fear the Lord and his Goodness. This the Apostle also affirmeth, when he telleth the believing Gentiles, That blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; which Israel in this place cannot by any means be taken for the Gentiles that are converted, for this Israel must be rejected until the bulk of the elect Gentiles be converted; besides, he calleth this Israel by the name of Israel, even while unconverted; but the converted Gentiles, still Gentiles, even when converted: he calls this Israel the Natural Branches, but the Gentiles Wild Branches; and tells us further, That when they are converted, they shall be grafted into their own Olive Tree; but when the Gentiles are converted, they must be cut off of their own Stock and Tree: read Rom. 11. throughout. VVherefore, I say, the Gates are called twelve, to answer these poor Creatures, who at this day shall be awakened, and enlightned, and converted to the Faith of Jesus. These Gates in another place are called, A Way, and these Jews, The Kings of the East; and it is there said also, That at present this VVay doth want preparing; which is as much as to say, This City wants setting up, and the Gates want setting in their proper places: VVherefore saith John, The sixth Angel poured out his Vial upon the great River Euphrates, that is, destroyed the strength and force of the Roman Antichrist, (for the River Euphrates was the fence of literal Babylon, the Type of our spiritual one) which force and fence, when it is destroyed or dried up, then the way of the Kings of the East will be prepared, or made ready for their Journey to this Jerusalem. Of this the Prophets are full, crying, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling block out of the way of my People: and again, Go thorow, go thorow the Gates, prepare ye the way of my People; cast ye up, cast ye up the high-way, gather out the stones, lift up a Standard for the People: Behold, the Lord hath proclaimed unto the end of the World, Say to the Daughter of Zion, Thy Salvation cometh; behold, his Reward is with him, and his Work before him: and they shall call them, The holy People, the Redeemed of the Lord: and thou shalt be called, Sought out; A City not forsaken. All which doth most especially relate to the Conversion of 30. The Angels, and what they are.

——And at the Gates twelve Angels—— By Angels, in this Place we are to underſtand the Meſſengers and Miniſters of the Lord Jeſus, by whom the Myſtery of Eternal Life and Felicity is held forth and diſcovered before the Sons of Men; and thus this Word Angel is frequently taken in this Prophecy, Rev. 1. 20. and 2. 1. 8. 12. 18. and 3. 1. 7. and 14. 6.

In theſe Words then, there are two things to be conſidered:

Firſt, Why they ſhould be called Twelve. And,

Secondly, Why they are ſaid to ſtand at the twelve Gates of this New and Holy City.

Why the Angels are ſaid to be Twelve.

For the firſt, They are called twelve, to ſignifie two things. 1. The Truth of their Doctrine. And 2. The Sufficiency of their Doctrine and Miniſtry for the converting of the twelve Tribes to the Faith of Chriſt, and Priviledges of this City.

Firſt, For the Truth of their Doctrine: For by twelve here, he would have us to underſtand that he hath his Eye upon the twelve Apoſtles, or upon the Doctrine of the Twelve, the Apoſtolical Doctrine: as if he ſhould ſay, This City, the New Jeruſalem, ſhall be every way accompliſhed with Beauty and Glory; ſhe ſhall have a Wall for her ſecurity, and twelve Gates to anſwer the twelve Tribes; yea, and alſo at theſe Gates the twelve Apoſtles, in their own pure, primitive, and unſpotted Doctrine. The Romiſh Beaſts have corrupted this Doctrine by treading it down with their Feet, and have muddied this Water with their own Dirt and Filthineſs; but at this Day, this ſhall be recovered from under the Feet of theſe Beaſts, and cleanſed alſo from their Dirt, and be again in the ſame Glory, Splendor and Purity, as in the Primitive times. It is ſaid, that when Iſrael was paſſed out of Egypt, beyond the Sea, they preſently came to Elim, where were twelve Wells of Water, &c. and that they incamped by the Waters: which twelve Wells did figure forth the Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles, out of which the Church at her return from Captivity, ſhall draw and drink, as out of the Wells of Salvation. Now ſhall the Wells of our Father Abraham, which the Philiſtines have for a great while ſtopped; now, I ſay, ſhall they again be opened by our Iſaac, his Son; and ſhall be alſo called after their own Names. This is generally held forth by the Prophets, That yet again the Church ſhall be fed upon the Mountains of Iſrael, and that they ſhall lie down in a good Fold, and a fat Paſture; yea, I will feed my Flock, and I will cauſe them to lie down, ſaith the Lord God.

Ezek. 34. 18, 18. Exod. 15. 27. Iſa. 12. 3. Gen. 26. 18. Ezek. 34. 14, 15.

Secondly, As by theſe twelve, we are to underſtand the Truth and Purity of the Doctrine of the Twelve; ſo again by this VVord Twelve, we are to underſtand the Sufficiency of that Doctrine and Miniſtry to bring in the Twelve Tribes to the Priviledges of this City: Mark, for the twelve Tribes there are twelve Gates, for every Tribe a Gate, and at the twelve Gates, twelve Angels, at every Gate an Angel: O Judah, ſaith God, I have ſet an Harveſt for thee, when he ſhall turn again the Captivity of his People; and ſo for the reſt of the Tribes: Before Ephraim and Benjamin, and Manaſſeh, he will ſtir up his Strength to ſave them: I will hiſs for them, ſaith God, and gather them, for I have redeemed them; and they ſhall increaſe as they have increaſed: and I will ſow them among the Nations, and they ſhall remember me in far Countreys, and they ſhall live with their Children, and ſhall return; and I will bring them again alſo out of the Land of Egypt, and gather them out of Aſſyria, and I will bring them into the Land of Gilead and Lebanon, and place ſhall not be found for them.

Hoſ. 6. 11. Pſal. 80. 2. Zech. 10, 6, 7, 8, 9. 10.

31. VVhy the twelve Angels ſtand at the twelve Gates.

But to come to the ſecond Queſtion, that is, Why theſe twelve Angels are ſaid to ſtand at the twelve Gates? which may be for divers Reaſons.

First, To ſhew us that the Doctrine of the Twelve, is the Doctrine that letteth in at theſe Gates, and that alſo that ſhutteth out: Whoſe ſins ye remit, they are remitted, ſaith Chriſt; and whoſe ſins ye retain, they are retained: And hence it is that the true Miniſters in their right Adminiſtration, are called Porters; becauſe as Porters ſtand at the Gate, and there open to, or ſhut upon thoſe that make an Attempt to enter in; ſo the Miniſters of Chriſt by the Doctrine of the Twelve, do both open to, and ſhut the Gates againſt the Perſons that will be attempting to enter in at the Gates of this City.

Mat. 18. 18. Job 20. 23. Mark 13. 34. 2 Chron. 23. 19.

Secondly, But again, They are ſaid to ſtand at the Gates for the incouraging and perſwading of the tempted and doubting Jews, who at the beginning of their Return will be much afflicted under the Sight and Sence of their own Wretchedneſs: Alas! were it not for ſome to ſtand at the Gates of this City for Inſtruction, and the Incouragement of thoſe that will at that Day in earneſt be looking after Life, they might labour as in other things for very Vanity; and might alſo be ſo grievouſly beat out of Heart and Spirit, that they might die in Deſpair: But now to prevent this, for thoſe that are in the way to Zion with watry Eyes, and wetted Cheeks, here ſtand the Angels, continually ſounding with their golden Goſpel-Trumpets; Enter ye into his Gates with Thanks giving, and into his Courts with Praiſe; be thankful unto him, and bleſs his Name; for the Lord is good, and his Mercy is everlaſting, and his Truth indureth for ever, even to all Generations: as he ſaith again, And it ſhall come to paſs in that Day, that the great Trumpet ſhall be blown, and they ſhall come which were ready to periſh in the Land of Aſſyria, and the Out-caſts of the Land of Egypt, and ſhall worſhip the Lord in the holy Mount at Jeruſalem.

Pſal. 100. 4, 5. Iſa. 27. 13.

——And at the Gates twelves Angels, and Names written thereon, which are the Names of the twelve Tribes of the Children of Iſrael. Thus it was in the Viſion of the Prophet, when he was taking a View of the Pattern of this City; And the Gates of the City, ſaith the Angel to him, ſhall be after the Names of the Tribes of Iſrael; which Saying John doth here expound, ſaying, The Names of the twelve Tribes of the Children of Iſrael, were writ or ſet upon them.

32. Ezek. 48. 31.

This being thus, it cleareth to you what I ſaid but now, to wit, That the Gates are called twelve, to anſwer the twelve Tribes, for their Names are written thereon: This muſt therefore without all doubt, be a very great Incouragement to this deſpiſed People; I ſay great Incouragement, that notwithſtanding all their Rebellion, Blaſphemy, and Contempt of the glorious Goſpel, their Names ſhould yet be found recorded and ingraved upon the very Gates of New Jeruſalem. Thus then ſhall the Jews be comforted in the latter Days; and truly they will have but need hereof; for doubtleſs at their return, when they are throughly ſenſible of the Murther they have committed, not only upon the Bodies of the Prophets and Apoſtles, but of the Son of God himſelf: I ſay this muſt needs, together with the Remembrance of the reſt of their villanous Actions, exceedingly afflict and diſtreſs their Bleeding Souls: for the Children of Iſrael ſhall come, they and the Children of Judah together, going and weeping; they ſhall go and ſeek the Lord their God, and ſhall ask the way to Zion, with their Faces thitherward. Mark, going and weeping; there will not be a Step that theſe poor People will take in the day of their returning, but will be watered with the Tears of Repentance and Contrition, under the Conſideration of the VVickedneſs that in the Days of their Rebellion they have committed againſt the Lord of Glory: as he ſaith alſo by another Prophet, I will pour upon the Houſe of David, and upon the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, the Spirit of Grace and Supplication, and they ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they ſhall mourn

Jer. 50. 5.

for

for him, as a Man mourns for his onely Son; and they ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as him that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born: at that day there ſhall be a great mourning in Jeruſalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the Valley of Megiddon, and the Land ſhall mourn.

Zech. 12. 10,11,12.

Wherefore, I ſay, they both have and alſo will have need of twelve Gates, and on them the Names of their twelve Tribes, with an Angel at each, to incourage them to enter this holy and goodly City; and to tell them that yet he counts them his Friends, in whoſe Houſe he received the wounds in his Hands.

Zech. 13. 6.

But again, As by the Names of the twelve Tribes written on the Gates, we may ſee what incouragement the Jews will have, at their Return, to enter in at them: ſo we may alſo underſtand that by the Names of the twelve Tribes here written, God would have us to perceive how all muſt be qualified, that from among the Gentiles at this day do enter in at theſe Gates; namely, Thoſe, and thoſe only, that be cut out of their own wild Olive-Tree, and tranſplanted among the Children of Iſrael, into their good Olive-Tree: Such as are Jews inwardly, the Iſrael of God according to the New Creature, they ſhall enter, (for the holy Gentiles alſo by vertue of their converſion, are ſtiled the Children of Abraham, Jews, the Choſen Generation, the Peculiar People, the Holy Nation; and ſo are ſpiritually, though not naturally by carnal generation, of the twelve Tribes, whoſe Names are written upon the Gates of this City) And it ſhall come to paſs, ſaith the Prophet, that in what Tribe the Stranger, (that is the Gentile) ſojourneth, there ſhall ye give him his Inheritance, ſaith the Lord God. Thus the Jews and Gentiles ſhall meet together in the Spirit of the Goſpel, and ſo both become a righteous Nation; to both which, the Gates of this City ſhall ſtand continually open; at which alſo, they may with boldneſs demand, by the Faith of the Lord JESUS, their entrance, both for Communion with the God, Grace, and Priviledges of this City; according to that which is written, Open ye the Gates, that the righteous Nation which keepeth the Truth may enter in.

Gal. 3. 7. Rom. 2. 28. 1 Pet. 2. 9, 10.

Ezek. 47. 22, 23.

Iſa. 26. 2.

Thus much of the number of the Gates, and now to proceed to the Order of them.

Verſ. 13. On the Eaſt three Gates, on the North three Gates, on the South three Gates, and on the Weſt three Gates. I ſhall not ſpeak any thing to the manner of his repeating of the Quarters towards which the Gates do look; why he ſhould begin at the Eaſt, then to the North, afterwards croſſing to the South, and laſt to the Weſt; though I do verily think that the holy Ghoſt hath ſomething to ſhew us, wherefore he doth thus ſet them forth: and poſſibly he may ſet them thus, and the Weſt laſt, not only becauſe the Weſt part of the World is that which always cloſeth the day, but to ſignifie that the Weſt, when Jeruſalem is rebuilded, will be the laſt part of the World that will be converted, or the Gate that will be laſt, becauſe longeſt occupied with the travels of the Paſſengers and wayfaring-Men in their Journey to this Jeruſalem. But I paſs that.

From the order of their ſtanding, I ſhall enquire into two things:

Firſt, VVhy the Gates ſhould look in this manner every way, both Eaſt, Weſt, North and South?

Secondly, VVhy there ſhould be three, juſt three, on every ſide of this City; On the Eaſt three, on the North three, on the South three, and on the Weſt three?

Why the Gates look every Way.

For the Firſt, The Gates by looking every way, into all Quarters, may ſignifie to us thus much, That God hath a People in every corner of the VVorld: and alſo, That Grace is to be carried out at theſe Gates by the Angels in their Miniſtry, into every place, to gather them home to him: as it is ſaid of the living Creatures, Whither the Head looked they followed it, and turned not as they went; ſo whitherſoever the Gates look, thither the Miniſters go, and carry the VVord, to gather together the Elect: He ſent them two and two before his Face, into every City and Place whither he himſelf would come.

Ezek. 10. 11.

Mat. 28. 19. Joh. 11. 12.

Again, The Gates by their thus looking every way, do ſignifie to us, That from what Quarter or Part of the VVorld ſoever men come for Life, for thoſe men there are the Gates of Life, even right before their doors: Come they from the Eaſt, why thither look the Gates; and ſo if they come from North, or VVeſt, or South: No Man needs at all to go about, to come at Life, and Peace, and Reſt: Let him come directly from Sin to Grace, from Satan to Jeſus Chriſt, and from this World to New Jeruſalem. The twelve Brazen Oxen that Solomon made to bear the molten Sea, they ſtood juſt as theſe Gates ſtand, and ſignifie, as I ſaid before, that the Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles ſhould be carried into all the VVorld, to convert, (as in the Primitive times, ſo now at the building of New Jeruſalem) and to bring in Gods Sheep to the Fold of his Church: Now I ſay, as the VVord is carried every way, ſo the Gates, the open Gates, look alſo into all corners after them, to ſignifie that loving Reception that ſhall be given to every Soul that from any corner of the whole VVorld ſhall unfeignedly cloſe in with Grace, through the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Thus therefore Men ſhall come from the Eaſt, and from the Weſt, from the North, and from the South, and ſit down in the Kingdom of God.

Luk. 10. 1. 1 King. 7. 23, 24, 25. Luk. 13. 29. Pſal. 107. 1, 2, 3.

On the Eaſt three Gates, on the North three Gates, on the South three Gates, and on the Weſt three Gates. Having thus ſhewed you in a word, why they ſtand thus looking into every Corner or Quarter of the World: I now come to ſhew you why there muſt be juſt three looking in this manner every way.

Why there are three Gates looking every Way.

Firſt then, There may be three looking every way, to ſignifie that it is both by the conſent of the Three Perſons in the Trinity, that the Goſpel ſhould thus every way go forth to call men: and alſo to ſhew you, that both the Father, Son and Spirit are willing to receive and embrace the Sinner from whatſoever part or corner of the Earth he cometh hither for Life and Safety: Come they from whence they will, the Father is willing to give them the Son, and ſo is the Son to give them Himſelf, and ſo is the Spirit to give them its help againſt whatever may labour to hinder them while they are here.

Joh. 3. 16. Rev. 21. 6. & 22. 17.

Secondly, In that three of the Gates look every way, it may be alſo to ſhew us, that there is none can enter into this City, but by the Three Offices of the Lord Jeſus; Chriſt by his Prieſtly Office muſt waſh away their Sins; and by his Prophetical Office he muſt illuminate, teach, guide and refreſh them; and by his Kingly Office, rule over them, and govern them with his VVord.

Heb. 7. 25. Joh. 13. 8. Act. 3. 22, 23, 24. Iſa. 40. 10, 11. & 9, 6, 7. Pſal 76. 1, 2, 3. Pſal. 110. 3.

Thirdly, Or by three Gates, may be ſignified the three ſtates of the Saints in this Life; an entrance into Childhood, an entrance into a Manly ſtate, and an entrance into the ſtate of a Father in the Church.

1 Joh. 2. 12, 13, 14.

Or laſtly, The three Gates may ſignifie the threefold ſtate we paſs thorow from Nature to Glory: the ſtate of Grace in this Life, the ſtate of Felicity in Paradiſe, and our ſtate in Glory after the Reſurrection: Or Thus, The ſtate of Grace that poſſeſſeth Body and Soul in this Life; the ſtate of Glory that poſſeſſeth the Soul at Death, and the ſtate of Glory that both Body and Soul ſhall be poſſeſſed with at the coming of the Lord and Saviour: This was figured forth by the order of the the Stairs in the Temple at Jeruſalem, which was firſt, ſecond, and third, by which Men aſcended from the loweſt to the uppermoſt Room in the Houſe of God; as he tells us, They went up with winding Stairs from the firſt into the ſecond ſtory, and from thence by them into the third.

1 Kin. 6. 8. Thus much for the Wall and Gates of New Jeruſalem.

35. Verſ. 14. And the Wall of the City had twelve Foundations, and in them the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb. In theſe Words we have two things conſiderable:

The Foundations of the Wall. 1. That the City-Wall hath twelve Foundations. 2. That in theſe twelve, are the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb,

Firſt, It hath twelve Foundations: This argueth invincible ſtrength and ſupport. That Wall that hath but one Foundation, how ſtrongly doth it ſtand, if it be but ſafely laid upon a Rock, even ſo ſtrongly, that neither Wind nor Weather in their greateſt vehemency, are able to ſhake or ſtir it, to make it fall: but I ſay, how muoh more when a City hath Foundations, twelve Foundations, and thoſe alſo laid by God himſelf; as it is ſaid concerning the Worthies of old, They looked for a City that had Foundations, whoſe Builder and Maker is God,

Mat. 7. 24, 25.

Heb. 11. 13, 14.

36. And the Wall of the City had twelve Foundations, and in them the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb. The Wall, you know, I told you, is the Wall of Salvation, or the Safety of the Church by Jeſus Chriſt; to which is adjoyned, as the effect of that, the ſpecial Providence and Protection of God: Now this VVall, ſaith the Holy Ghoſt, hath twelve Foundations, to wit, to bear it up for the continuation of the ſafety, and ſecurity of thoſe that are the Inhabitants of this City; a Foundation is that which beareth up all, and that upon which the ſtreſs of all muſt lie and abide: Now to ſpeak properly, the Foundation of our Happineſs is but one, and that one none but the Lord Jeſus; for other Foundation can no man lay, than that is laid, which is Jeſus Chriſt. So then, when he ſaith the VVall of the City had twelve Foundations, and that in them alſo are written the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb; he doth not mean that this VVall had twelve Chriſts for its ſupport, but, That the Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles is that Doctrine upon which both Chriſt, and Grace, and all Happineſs ſtandeth firm and ſure for ever: and to ſignifie alſo, that neither Chriſt nor any of his Benefits can be profitable unto thee, unleſs thou receive him alone upon the terms that they do hold him forth and offer him to Sinners in their VVord and Doctrine: If we or an Angel from Heaven, preach unto you any other Goſpel, ſaith Paul, than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accurſed: As I ſaid before, ſo I ſay now again, If any man preach any other Goſpel unto you, than that ye have received, let him be accurſed.

1 Cor. 3. 11.

It is the Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles that holds up the Wall of New Jeruſalem.

Gal. 1. 8, 9

37. And in them the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb. And in them their names:] This makes it manifeſt that by the Foundations of this VVall, we are to underſtand the Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lord Chriſt, for their Names are to it, or found ingraved in the Foundations. Thus it was with the Doctrine which was the Foundation of the Jewiſh Church: the firſt Pattern being delivered by the man Moſes; his Name was always ſo entailed to that Doctrine, that at laſt it became common, and that by Divine Allowance, to call that Doctrine by the name of Moſes himſelf: There is one that accuſeth you, ſaith Chriſt even Moſes in whom you truſt: and again, For Moſes of old hath in every City them that preach him. The ſame liberty of ſpeech doth the Holy Ghoſt here uſe in ſpeaking of the Foundations of this VVall, which is the Doctrine of the Twelve. And in that he calleth the Doctrine by the Name of Foundations, and leaveth it onely with telling us the Names of the twelve Apoſtles are engraven in it; he expects that men ſhould be wiſe that read him, and that they ſhould be skillful in the VVord of Righteouſneſs, if they come up clearly to the underſtanding of him.

Joh. 5. 45. Act. 15. 21.

38. And in them the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb.

Thus you ſee that the twelve Apoſtles, above all the Servants of Chriſt, are here owned to be the Foundations of this Wall; and good reaſon, for they above all other are moſt clear and full in the Doctrine of Grace, and all Doctrines pertaining to Life and Holineſs: In other Ages, ſaith Paul, it was not made known to the Sons of men, as it is now revealed to his Holy Apoſtles and Prophets by the Spirit. Moſes was not fit for this, for his was a more dark and vailed Adminiſtration; While Moſes is read, the vail is over the Heart, ſaith Paul. Neither was any of the Prophets fit for this, for they were all inferiour to Moſes, and were as it were his Scholars: Nay, John the Baptiſt is here ſhut out; for the leaſt in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

The Doctrine of the XII, the pureſt of all other.

Num. 12. 6, 7.

Mat. 11. 11.

The Apoſtles above all other were the men that were with the Lord Jeſus all the time, from the Baptiſm of John, even until the time he was taken up into Heaven; they ſaw him, heard him, and diſcourſed with him, and were Beholders of all the wondrous VVorks that he did; they did eat and drink with him after his Paſſion, and ſaw after he was riſen the print of the Nails and the Spear with which he was pierced, when he died for our Sins: And becauſe they had ſeen, felt, and at ſuch a rate experienced all things from the very firſt, both touching his Doctrine, Miracles, and Life; therefore he ſaid unto them in chief, Ye ſhall be Witneſſes unto me both in Jeruſalem and all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the utmoſt parts of the Earth.

The XII went beyond all others in their Experience.

Act. 1. 21. & 13. 31. & 10. 39. & 2. 31. 1 Joh. 1. 2, 3.

Further, The Apoſtles were in that marvellous Manner endued with the holy Ghoſt, that they out-ſtript all the Prophets that ever went before them; neither can I believe that in the beſt of times there ſhould be any beyond them; yet if it ſhould ſo fall out, that a Diſpenſation ſhould come, in which they ſhould have, as to the pouring forth of the Spirit, their Equals; yet it could not follow, that therefore the Goſpel ſhould be offered in other terms than they at firſt have offered it; eſpecially beſides what hath been ſaid of them, if you conſider to them 'twas ſaid, Whatſoever ye ſhall looſe on Earth, ſhall be looſed in Heaven; and whatſoever ye ſhall bind on Earth ſhall be bound in Heaven. They, as to their Doctrine, were infallible, 'twas impoſſible they ſhould err; he that deſpiſed their Doctrine, deſpiſed God himſelf: Beſides, they have given in commandment that all ſhould write after their Copy, and that we ſhould judge both Men and Angels that did, or would do otherwiſe.

The Foundation may not be altered.

Timothy muſt have his Rule from Paul, and ſo muſt holy Titus: All which, if we conſider it, the holy Ghoſt ſpeaks to the purpoſe, in ſaying, That in the twelve Foundations are found the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb: they are called the chief, and ſuch as have laid the Foundation, and others build thereon, and that as no men have laid the Foundation but they, ſo none can lay even that Foundation otherwiſe than they afore have laid it.

39. —And in them the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb. Theſe words then, teach us two things worthy of our Chriſtian Conſideration.

First, That God hath given to every man a certain and viſible mark to aim at for his Salvation, or to build his Soul upon, namely, The Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb: for in that he ſaith their Names are in the Foundations, it is better better for us (all things conſidered) than if he had ſaid, In them was the name of God himſelf; that is, it is more eaſie to ſee (this way) through the miſt of our Carnality what the Myſtery of his Will ſhould be, which is, that we receive Chriſt according to their Doctrine, Words, Writings, Epiſtles, Letters, &c. their Names, I ſay, being there, God counts it as the Broad Seal of Heaven, which giveth Authority to all that Doctrine whereunto by themſelves they are prefixed and ſubſcribed; not where they are writ by others, but by themſelves. I ſay, as the Token of every Epiſtle, and of their Doctrine for Truth; the which Paul inſinuates, when he ſaith, that his hand is the token of every Epiſtle: as he ſaith again, Am not I an Apoſtle? And again, Behold, I Paul have written unto you; I Paul, I an Apoſtle I a wiſe Maſter-Builder, I who am in my Doctrine one of the Foundations of the Wall of Salvation, I have written unto you. And, as I ſaid before, there is reaſon it ſhould be thus: for as he who was the Foundation of the Jewiſh Church, even Moſes, received the Pattern of all his Order from the Mouth of the Angel in Mount Sinai, ſo the twelve received their Doctrine of Faith and Manners, the Doctrine of the New Teſtament, from the Mouth of the Son of God himſelf, as from the Mouth of the Angel of the everlaſting Covenant, on the Mountain of Zion.

The Names of the XII, as the Broad Seal of Heaven.

Act. 7. 38. & 1. 13. Matthew 28. 19.

Secondly, In that he ſaith, The Names of the Twelve are in the Foundations, this ſhews us the reaſon of the continual ſtanding of this Jeruſalem; it is builded upon the Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb, and ſtandeth there: for obſerve ſo long as he ſees this Holy City, he ſees her ſtanding upon theſe Foundations; but he ſaw the City till ſhe was taken up, therefore ſhe continued as being ſettled for ever upon them. Indeed the Primitive City, or firſt Churches, was built upon theſe Foundations, and had alſo ſo long as they there continued, ſufficient ſupportation and upholding by that means; but then, as I have ſhewed you, the Wall of her Salvation, and the VVall of Gods ſpecial Protection, ſtood at a diſtance each from other, and were not ſo conjoined as now they will be: wherefore they then, to anſwer the Type, did fall into the Ditch that was between, and through their Fooliſhneſs provoked God to remove the VVall of his outward Protection and Safe-guard from them; whereupon the wild Beaſt, Antichriſt, got into his Vineyard, making havock of all their Dainties: But mark, this City is not ſo, the VValls are now conjoined, and for ever faſtned upon the Foundations, therefore it abides for ever, and aſcends higher and higher; yet not from the Foundations, but by them into Heaven: Behold, ſaith God, I have graven thee upon the Palms of my Hands, thy Walls are continually before me.

Epheſ. 2.

Iſa. 49. 16.

40. And in them the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb. This word twelve, muſt be warily underſtood, or elſe the weak will be ready to ſtumble and take offence; wherefore to prevent this, conſider,

How you are to underſtand the word Twelve.

First, The twelve muſt be them twelve that were with the Lord Jeſus from the Baptiſm of John, until the day in which our Lord was taken up.

Secondly, Theſe twelve are not neither to be conſidered ſimply, as twelve Chriſtians, or twelve Diſciples; but as their Witneſs of the Lord Jeſus (they being with him from firſt to laſt) was a twelve-fold Witneſs of him in all his things; a twelve-fold ſeeing with their Eyes, a twelve-fold hearing with their Ears, a twelve-fold handling alſo with their Hands, and feeling of the Son of God: As one of them ſaid, That which was from the beginning, which we have ſeen with our Eyes, and our Hands have handled of the Word of Life; that which we have ſeen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye might have fellowſhip with us, &c. Now this being thus, it followeth that the Doctrine of the other Apoſtles, as of Paul and Barnabas, was ſtill but the Doctrine of the twelve; their Doctrine, I ſay, and no other: Wherefore as Ephraim and Manaſſeh were diſſolved into the twelve Tribes, ſo theſe two, with all other the Apoſtles of Chriſt, are diſſolved into the Number of the Twelve, becauſe their Doctrine is onely the Doctrine of the twelve; for they center in their Doctrine; their length and breadth, and depth and heighth being the Doctrine of the twelve. So then the names of the twelve being found in the Foundations of this Wall, it argueth that that Doctrine is onely true, that is the Doctrine of the twelve Eye-Witneſſes of the Lord Jeſus: And again, that at the Day of Antichriſt's fall, this Doctrine ſhall be in its former purity, and bear the ſway, and for ever hold up the Wall of ſafety, for the Inhabitants of New Jeruſalem: And indeed this Doctrine, That the Doctrine of the twelve is that upon which Eternal Safety is built and ſtands, is ſo true, that it muſt not be varied from, upon pain of Eternal Damnation: Here centred Luke the Evangeliſt, here centred Jude, here centred the Author to the Hebrews, yea, here centred Paul himſelf, with all the Old and New Teſtament. The Doctrine of the twelve muſt be the opener, expounder, and limiter of all Doctrines; there alſo muſt all men center and ground, and ſtay. A man may talk of, yea, enjoy much of the Spirit of God; but yet the twelve will have the ſtart of him; for they both had the Spirit as he, and more than he: beſides, they together with this, did feel, ſee, handle and receive Conviction, even by their very carnal Senſes, which others did not; beſides, their names alſo are found in the Foundations of this ſaving Wall, as being there engraved by GOD himſelf: which putteth all out of doubt, and giveth us infallible ground that their Doctrine is onely true, and all mens falſe that do not keep within the bounds and limits of that.

To conclude: Here are yet two things worthy of noting: 41.

The firſt is, That by the Names of the twelve Apoſtles being in the Foundations of this Wall, and the Names of the twelve Tribes being upon the Gates of this City, it giveth us to conſider, that at the time of the building of this City, the Jews and Gentiles ſhall be united together, and become one Body: which very Conſideration muſt needs be to the Jews a great incouragement to have in mind at their Converſion: for it plainly ſignifieth that our New-Teſtament-Preachers ſhall carry in their Mouths, Salvation to the Jews; by which means they ſhall be again reconciled and made one with the Lord Jeſus.

Rom. 11. Jam. 1. 1. 1 Pet. 1. 1. Act. 13. 16. 26. Rom. 1. 16. Rom. 2. 10.

The ſecond Conſideration is, That at the day of New Jeruſalem, there ſhall be no Doctrine accepted, nor no Preachers regarded, but the Doctrine, and the Preachers of the Doctrine of the Twelve: for in that he ſaith, That in them are found the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb, he doth implicitely exclude all other, of whatever Tribe they pretend themſelves: It ſhall not be then as now, a Popiſh Doctrine, a Quakers Doctrine, a Prelatical Doctrine, and the Presbyter, Independent, and Anabaptiſt, thus diſtinguiſhed, and thus confounding and deſtroying: But the Doctrine ſhall be one, and that one the Doctrine where you find the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb. If any man teach otherwiſe, and conſenteth not to wholſome Words, even the Words of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the Doctrine that is according to Godlineſs, he is proud, and knoweth nothing.

No Preacher now allowed, but he that can preach the Doctrine of the XII.

1 Tim. 6. 3, 4.

Thus you ſee the Doctrine of the twelve is that which letteth Souls into this City; and that the ſame Doctrine is the Doctrine that keepeth up the Wall of their Salvation about them, when they are entred in within the Gates.

Verſ. 15. And he that talked with me had a Golden Reed to meaſure the City, and the Gates thereof, and the Wall thereof. 42.

A Golden Reed.

Now having passed the relation of the Wall, Gates, and Foundations, he comes to the Measuring-Line, to see how all things lie and agree with that.

Under the Law, I find that all things pertaining to the Worship of God were to be by Number, Rule, and Measure, even to the very tacks and loops of the Curtains of the Tabernacle: Now the Rule or Line by which all things were then squared, it was the Laws, Statutes and Ordinances which were given to Moses by the Lord in the Mount Sinai; for thither he went to recieve his Orders; and according to the Pattern there shewed him, so he committed all things by writing to them that were to be employed in the Workmanship of the holy things pertaining to the rise and compleating of the Tabernacle, and all its Instruments.

Exod. 10. 11. & 24. 1. & 25. 40. Deut. 30. 10. & 31. 24, 25, 26.

Now when this Rule was thus received, then whosoever observed not to do it, he was to fall under the Penalty that by the same Law also was prescribed against the Offenders and Transgressors.

Numb. 15. 30, 31.

I find also, that when the Temple was builded in the days of Solomon, all things were then done according to the writing that David made, when the hand of God was upon him, when he made him understand all the Work of this Pattern.

2 Chron. 3. 1, 2, 3. & Chap. 4. 1 Chron. 19. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. & 28, 19.

Thus again, When Josiah went about to bring to pass the Reformation of the Church of the Jews, and their Instruments of Worship, after their Revolting; he goeth to the Law of God, and by that understanding what was out of order, and how to put all things into order, he so did reduce them to their former manner. The same way also went Ezra, and Nehemiah, at the rebuilding of the Temple and City after the Captivity. From all which, I conclude, that the Reed, the Golden Reed, that here you read of, it is nothing else but the pure and unspotted Word of God; by which, both the City, Gates and VVall of this Jerusalem are regulated: Which Word by the holy Prophet, is also compared to Gold, and is said to be above much fine Gold.

This Golden Reed is the Word of God.

Psal. 12. 6. & 19. 9, 10.

I find in the Vision of the Prophet Ezekiel, that the Angel that there is said to measure the City, which was a Type of our Jerusalem, he appeared with a line of Flax in his hand, to measure the pattern withal; which very phrase doth shew us that this was but the Type, and an Old-Testament-business: but John hath his in a New-Testament-stile, and that in the most excellent manner of Language, to signifie that his City, or the City that he hath the Vision of, is to be the end of all Types and Shadows, and the very perfection of them all: Wherefore he tells us also, that the Line or Reed by which this City is builded, and squared, it is not now a Line of Flax, but a Reed of Gold, a Golden Reed; to signifie not a Word of the Law and Letter that had to do with Shadows, but the New-Testament, and ministration of the Spirit, which hath to do with Substance, and the heavenly things themselves.

Ezek. 40. 3.

Why the measuring-Line of New Jerusalem in special, is called a Golden Reed.

Heb. 9 23

43. The City measured.

A Golden Reed to measure the City, &c. I told you at the first that this City was the Church of God that should be in the latter days; but yet not the Church disorderly, and confusedly scattered here and there, without all visible order and discipline but the Church brought into exact Form and Order, lying every way level and square with the Rule and Golden Reed of the New Testament of Christ; wherefore he calleth it a City, a City under Rule. Thus it was in the Type; for when Solomon's Temple was to be builded, and the City in after-times, it was not enough that they had Stones and Timber, but every one of them must be such Stones, and such Timber, and must also come under the Rule and Square of the Workman; and so being fitted by Hewers, Sawes, Axes and Squares, they were fitly put into the building. By this then we may see, with what a holy, exact Line, Rule, and Order this Church and City at this day, will be compact and builded; the Members must be all such as shall be made fit for the City of God, by the hewing words of the Prophets: they must join in Christian-Communion also according to the Golden Reed of the New Testament, and ministration of the Spirit. Indeed all the time of the reign of Antichrist, the Church, as she was a Holy Temple in the Lord, so she was measured with reference to the truth of her Grace, and invisible condition: but as she is to be a City, so she then is to be trodden down, and ty lie without all Form and Order: but when Antichrist is dead, she shall again come into mind, be considered, reared, builded by measure, and inhabited: and observe it, as the Rule of the Carpenter is of use in the building, from the first appearance of the laying of a Stone in order, even till it be in every point and part compleat; so the Golden Reed with which the Angel is here said to measure the City, &c. is to be of use from the first Foundation, even to the laying of the last Stone thereof: As was also fore-shewed by the man that is said to measure the pattern of this, in Ezekiel, Ezek. 30. to chapter 48.

Rev. 11. 1.

And he measured the City. That is, he measured the Church in her Constitution and Fellowship. 44. Now, when God is said to measure, he is said to measure sometimes in Judgment, and sometimes in Mercy; sometimes to throw down, and sometimes to build up and establish: Sometimes, I say, he is said to measure in Judgment, with intention to throw down and destroy: Thus he measured the City before she went into Captivity, and the ten Tribes before they were carried away beyond Babylon, because they lay cross to his Word, and had perverted that which was right, &c. but when he is said to measure the City in this place, it is that she might be builded and set up: wherefore, as I said, the Line or Golden Reed that is now stretched forth to measure this City, it is to the end, that all things may be in right Form and Order, fitly joined and knit together, by that which every joint supplieth according to the effectual working of the measure of every part, making increase of the Body, to the edifying of it self in love.

Isa. 28. 17, 18. Amos 7. 7, 8, 9.

Ephes 4. 16. Col. 2. 19.

Again, By measuring the City, he would have us to understand, that all her Limits and Bounds were now apparent, that all things, even the Church and all the World, were made to see their own Compass: for as God in the days when Temple-Worship (only) was on foot, would not lose a Form or Ordinance of all the Forms and Ordinances of his Temple; so when City-work comes up, he will not lose an Inch of the Limits, and Bounds, and Compass of his City, she shall be full as large, and of as great a compass every way, as is determined of her: as he saith by the Prophet, All the Land, saith he, shall be turned into a Plain*; that is, there shall be a smooth Face upon the whole Earth, all Snugs, and Hubs, and Hills, and Holes shall now be taken away, even from Geba to Rimmon, South of Jerusalem: and it (the City) shall be lifted up and inhabited in her place, from Benjamins Gate, unto the place of the first Gate, unto the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananiel, unto the King's Wine-Presses. The four places here mentioned in this verse, they do seem to be the four Corners of the City of old; at which places the City bounds were set; and in which very Circle the Prophet tells us, but with Gospel-Language, she shall be setled again.

* This is that which a little before is called the new Heaven and a new Earth.

Zech. 14. 10.

And he measured the City, and the Gates thereof. 45. This was figured forth by the Vision in Ezekiel, for in it he saw the Angel go from Gate to Gate, and saw him take the exact and distinct measure of every one thereof; nay, not only of them in a general way, but of the Thresholds, the Porch, the Posts, and the Faces of their Entrances; he measured also every little Chamber that was above upon the Gates, with all the Spaces that were between.

The Gates measured.

Ezek. 40. Now

Now by Gates, I told you, we are to underſtand the Son of God, as he is the Way to the Father, and to the Priviledges of this City: Wherefore when he ſaith, he meaſured the Gates, it is, as if he had ſaid, he meaſured the Entrance, Strength and goodly Countenance of Him, with the Manſions of Glory that are to be enjoyed by every one that entreth in hereby; for the Porch, Poſts, Face, Entrance and Chambers of the Gate in Ezekiel, they ſignifie the Entrance, Strength, Shining Countenance, and reſting places that every one ſhall find in the Lord Jeſus that entreth in by him: and to meaſure all theſe, it is in ſubſtance but this, To ſet them forth, and out, in their full force, glory, largeneſs, beauty and profitableneſs, in the view of all: for I told you at the firſt, the Golden Reed is the Word of God: Now the City and the Gates thereof, are ſaid to be meaſured by this Golden-Reed; which I ſay, can be nothing elſe, but an opening of all the Excellencies of Chriſt, as he is the Gate of the Sheep, even by the full Sway, Power, Majeſty, and Clearneſs of the Word. The Lord help us! Chriſt, as he is the Door to God, and to all Goſpel-Priviledges, is now ſtrangely handled, and ſo hath been of a long time among the Sons of men; ſome of them making him the very In-let to all the vile and abominable crew in the World, counting all that are pliant to their ungodly humours, the Saints of the moſt high, and Chriſt the Door and Gate through whom they have right to enter, and to whom belong the delicates of the precious things of God, even thoſe which he hath moſt choicely laid up, and reſerveth for none but thoſe that unfeignedly turn from iniquity, and walk with him in the newneſs of the Spirit. Others again do ſhut up the Gates againſt the Godly, labouring with might and main to hinder thoſe that labour to enter, that fain would do it unfeignedly. Others again do labour all that in them lies todeface the Gates, to take away their Beauty: like him that took the Gold from off the Doors and Gates of the Temple, rendering Chriſt a low and carnal buſineſs, &c. but at the meaſuring-day, at the day when the Golden-Reed ſhall be the alone Rule: then you ſhall ſee this City, and her Gates diſcovered in their own Glory, Holineſs, and Beauty: for though in our affliction under Antichriſt, our Temple and Inſtruments of Worſhip, with the City, Wall, Gates, and the like, have been much defaced, (even our Doctrine of Faith and Worſhip) and have been much trod and trampled under the Foot of the uncircumciſed: Yet all ſhall be recovered and brought into Order again by the Golden Reed of the Word of God: which thing was figured forth to us by that good man Ezra the Scribe, who at the reſtoring of Jeruſalem took review of all the things pertaining to the City, both touching its Breaches and Deformity, and alſo how to ſet all things in Order, and that by the Law of God which was in his Hand, even according to the Writing thereof. And whoſoever doth but read the Hiſtory of Ezra and Nehemiah throughout, they ſhall find that by the Word of God they brought all things to paſs; all the Ordinances of the Houſe andCity of God into their right and holyOrder: And indeed the meaſuring of the City and of the Gates thereof, which is Chriſt the Way, it can be nothing elſe but a bringing of them by the right underſtanding and opening of the Word into their proper Places and Excellencies, both for Comers in, and Goers out, according to the Commandment: for to ſpeak properly, Chriſt in his Love, Grace, Merits and Largeneſs of Heart, to let Souls into Communion with God and all Happineſs, is in all theſe things unſearchable, and paſſing knowledge, being filled with theſe things beyond thought, and without meaſure.

46. And he meaſured the City, the Gates thereof, and the Wall thereof. In that he ſaith, he meaſured the Wall alſo, it is to ſhew us that all things now are according to the Rule of the Word: The Inhabitants are according to the Word, the Entrance is according to the VVord, yea, and ſo is the ſafety of it alſo, even a Fence to fence them from their Enemies; even a fence on every ſide, that they may be at eaſe and reſt, and be no more a toſſing to and fro: O thou afflicted, and toſſed with Tempeſt, ſaith he, and not comforted, (I will do many good things for thee) in righteouſneſs ſhalt thou be eſtabliſhed: thou ſhalt be far from Oppreſſion, for thou ſhalt not fear; and from Terror, for it ſhall not come nigh unto thee. Iſa. 54. 11, 14.

The wall meaſured.

Touching the VVall, what it is, I have ſpoken already; therefore here I ſpeak only to the meaſure of it, which meaſure is only the fulfilling all thoſe Promiſes and Engagements of God, that are made to New Jeruſalem, for her Safety and continual Defence; and that not only in her own Eyes, but in the Eyes of all her Beholders: Then ſhall that ſaying be with gladneſs in the Mouths of all the Inhabitants of this Jeruſalem, We were bond-men, and yet our God hath not forſaken us in our bondage, but hath extended Mercy unto us in the ſight of the Kings of Perſia, to give us a reviving to ſet up the Houſe of our God, to repair the deſolations thereof, and to give us a Wall in Judah and in Jeruſalem. VVhich VVall, I ſay, ſhall be ſo conſpicuous to all the Adverſaries of this holy and beloved City, that the greateſt of them ſhall not once dare to peep or mutter againſt her any more: God is known in her Palaces for a Refuge: for lo, the Kings were aſſembled, they paſſed by, they ſaw it, and ſo they marvelled; they were troubled, and haſted away; fear took hold upon them, and pain, as of a Woman in travel: As it is ſaid of the building of the VVall after the Captivity; when the Enemies and all the Heathen ſaw it was finiſhed, they were much caſt down in their own Eyes.

Ezra 9. 9. Pſal. 48. 1, 2 3, 4, 5, 6. Neh. 6. 15, 16.

The regulating of this City by this Golded Reed, and the meaſuring the Gates, and VVall by this VVord, when finiſhed, will then cauſe all that have ſkill in ſinging the Lords Songs, and of lifting up the Praiſes of God in this City, to gather themſelves together to ſing, and to praiſe, and to ſay, Bleſs ye the Name of the Lord, for his Mercies endure for ever: for then will they puriſie the People (this City) with the Gates and Wall thereof. Neh. 12. 28, 29, 30.

Wherefore in the mean time, between this and the building of this City, let Jeruſalem come into your mind, and walk about her, go ye round about her (enquire by the VVord what God hath ſaid of her State, Strength, Safety, Eaſe, Peace, and bleſſed Tranquillity in the latter days) tell the Towers thereof, mark ye well her Bulwarks, conſider her Palaces, that ye may tell it to the Generations following. Pſal. 48. 12, 13.

Ver. 16. And the City lieth four ſquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he meaſured the City with the Reed, twelve thouſand Furlongs, the length, and the breadth, and heighth of it are equal. 47.

And the City lieth four ſquare] Theſe words do open unto you the matter yet more, to wit, That now both the City, Gates and VVall, were exactly in their Viſibility according to the VVord, lying even every way with that Golden Reed: for by four ſquare, you are to underſtand Perfection, or an anſwering the figures that of old did figure to us the compleatneſs and perfection of the New-Teſtament-Order.

For if you ſearch the Scriptures, you will find that eſpecially the great and principal Inſtruments of God's Worſhip in and under the Law, their Perfection was what here you read to be the Perfection of this City, even a four ſquare. As for inſtance The Breaſt-plate of Judgment, on which were engraved the Names of the Children of Iſrael, its exact point of Perfection was, to be a right four ſquare. The ten Baſes alſo, that were to be for Bearers to the Lavers in the Temple, they were to be four ſquare: The Altar of Burnt-Offerings likewiſe, with the Altar of Incenſe, their perfect Pattern was, that they ſhould be four ſquare: the inward Court, and outward Court, with the Poſts of the Temple, and Tables on which they were to ſlay the Sacrifices, they were all four ſquare. Yea, the City in the Type, in the Viſion of Ezekiel, was ſeen to be of the ſame Frame and Faſhion every way, having juſt twelve Gates, and of each of the four Sides three Gates. Wherefore, when he ſaith, The City lyeth four ſquare, it is as if he had ſaid, She lieth even with the Pattern, or Golden Reed of the Word; even, I ſay, both in her Members, Doctrine, Worſhip and Manners: For the things afore-hinted unto you, do hold forth all theſe Particulars.

——And the Length is as large as the Breadth—— This explaineth the Matter yet more fully and diſtinctly, for as to the things that I made mention of before, though they were to be made four ſquare, and that their Perfection lay exactly in that Form; yet theſe Squares did not lye in their Height and Depth, but in their Length and Breadth, juſt as you read here of the Square of this City. As to inſtance: The Altars, though they were five Cubits long, and five Cubits broad, yet but three high; ſo the Baſes, they were a Cubit and an half broad, and a Cubit and an half long, yet but half a Cubit high; the Tables alſo on which they ſlew the Sacrifices, they were a Cubit and a half long, and a Cubit and a half broad, yet but one Cubit high. Which things being thus, you ſee the Reaſon of his ſaying the Length is as large as the Breadth.

48. Now by Length and Breadth here, we may yet obſerve another Myſtery held forth unto us; for by the Breadth is held forth the Perfection of the Rule, or Law to which all Chriſtians ought to yield their hearty Obedience: His Commandment is exceeding broad: The Breadth of which is ſignified, I ſay, by the Breadth of thoſe things that before you ſee to be the Inſtruments of the Worſhip of God: Now, as by Breadth, we are to underſtand the perfect Latitude and Compaſs of the Commandment; ſo by Length, we are to underſtand the Anſwerableneſs of the Obedience of the Inhabitants of this City: for indeed the Perfection of Chriſtian Obedience lieth in an Anſwerableneſs to the Will of God; as it is ſaid of the Father and Mother of John the Baptiſt; They walked in all the Commandments of the Lord blameleſs; and of Anna, that ſhe continued without ceaſing in the Service of God in the Temple, day and night: This is to be as long in our Obedience, as the Law is broad in Commanding: the Law commands right Obedience, and the Chriſtian giveth it; the Law commands continual Obedience, and the Chriſtian giveth it; the Law commands univerſal Obedience, and the Chriſtian giveth it: He giveth it all theſe ſorts of Obedience, 1. By the Perſon of Chriſt, for he is his Righteouſneſs; he giveth it all theſe, 2. With the Conſent of the Mind; and 3. He giveth it all theſe Obediences in the Love of the Spirit, which the Apoſtle calleth the fulfilling of the Law; that is, an anſwering the Breadth of its Command, by the Length of Obedience: wherefore when he ſaith, The Length is as large as the Breadth, he would have us underſtand how perfect in Holineſs theſe bleſſed Souls will be at this Day: and indeed, this is it that is by God expected to be in this City at this Day: As the Angel with his Meaſuring-Line ſaid to Zechariah, I am going to meaſure Jeruſalem, and to ſee what is the Breadth thereof, and what is the Length thereof: To ſee whether their Doctrine be pure, and whether their Obedience be anſwerable.

By breadth is to be underſtood the perfection of the Word, and by length the compleatneſs of the Saints Obedience.

49. A ſecond Meaſure.

——And he meaſured the City with the Reed, twelve thouſand Furlongs—— Theſe latter VVords do refer us to a diſtinct Meaſure from that which went before; the former Meaſure pointing at the Breadth of her Commandment, and the Length of her Obedience; but this at the Glory and Fulneſs of her Manſions and Portions: For after he had ſaid, The City lieth four ſquare, and that the Length is as large as the Breadth, (which is the full and compleat Effect of that firſt Meaſure) he comes over again with another Meaſuring, ſaying, And he meaſured the City twelve thouſand Furlongs; as who ſhould ſay, He meaſured the City, Gates and VVall firſt, and found them all exact, and according to the Golden Reed; and after he had ſo done, he meaſured the City with the Reed twelve thouſand Furlongs.

He meaſured the City with the Reed] That is, he meaſured out to the City, he meaſured for the City, for its Lot and Portion, twelve thouſand Furlongs: VVhich very thing you find in the Viſion of the Prophet Ezekiel: for after he had meaſured the City, the Veſſels, with the Inſtruments of VVorſhip, I ſay, when he had done this, he comes again with an Afterwards, to meaſure the City her Portions and Manſions, Ezek. 47. 1. &c. A Portion meaſured out for the City.

VVherefore, I ſay, theſe VVords do refer to her Portion that ſhe is to enjoy of her God, as the former referreth to her Duty and Obedience.

Now that which maketh me conclude that this latter Meaſure is a Meaſure diſtinct from the former, and that it relateth neither to the Exactneſs of Rule, nor the Compleatneſs of Obedience, but only to the Largeneſs of the Portions that God will allot for thy Sons and Daughters, thou City of God, it is,

Firſt, Becauſe this is the biggeſt Meaſure: For I find, by conſidering the Scripture, that as the Perſons and Things pertaining to the VVorſhip of God, were to go according to the Rule of this golden Reed, ſo alſo the Portions that pertained to the Perſons VVorſhiping, were to go by Rule and Meaſure alſo, (as here he ſaith he meaſured alſo the City, or to it, with the Reed, twelve thouſand Furlongs.) And hence it is that our Grace is called the Meaſure of Grace, and that our Glory is called a weight of Glory.

Rom.12.3 Eph.4.7. 2 Cor. 4. 17.

Now I ſay, I find that our Portions do go always under the biggeſt Meaſure; the Spoons, Cups, Flaggons, Snuffers, Baſons, Candleſticks and Pans, which were the Inſtruments of VVorſhip, were not ſo large as the Chambers in the Temple, and the Compaſs of the Holy Land, which were the * Manſions, and * Portions of the Church.

* See Joſh. 15. to Chap. 19.

Secondly, I take the twelve thouſand Furlongs to ſignifie Portions, rather than VVorſhip or VVorſhippers; becauſe, as to the Nature of it, it moſt exactly agrees with the Portions that are meaſured out to this City by the Angel before Ezekiel, which is a Meaſuring forth ſo much Land for the Portion of the Prince, ſo much for the Portion of the Prieſt, and ſo much for the Portion of the twelve Tribes: Yea, the very Phraſe, Twelve thouſand Furlongs, alſo implieth ſuch a Compaſs of Ground, by which we find the Holy Land hath been meaſured.

* Joh. 14. 1, 2, 3. Ezek. 45. 46, 47. Luk. 24. 13.

Laſtly, I take it to be thus alſo; becauſe I find not in all this Deſcription of this Holy City, that any Place doth give us that Ground to ſpeak to her Meaſure of Portion, as this; and it would ſeem ſtrange to me, that the Deſcription of this City given by Ezekiel, ſhould be more compleat than this that is given by our Prophet John: for Ezekiel doth moſt amply ſet forth her Portions, even diſtinctly, for Prince, Prieſt, and the Tribes in particular. This therefore is to be underſtood of the Portions of the City, which John did ſee were meaſured out unto her, immediately after he ſaw the Breadth of her Rule, and the Length of her Obedience: Only conſider that Ezekiel meaſureth by Reeds, not counting by Furlongs; but John, though he meaſureth by Reeds, yet counteth by Furlongs.

Joh.11.18.

But now, though the Holy Ghoſt is thus pleaſed to ſpeak of the Portions of the Saints in the New Jeruſalem, as if he intended chiefly that their Portion ſhould conſiſt in outward Happineſs, and in the Enjoyment of ſuch and ſuch a Portion, or Compaſs of Ground: Yet conſider that theſe are but metaphorical and borrowed Expreſſions, ſpoken to our Capacities, under which is indeed included the Nature of our Bleſſed and Spiritual Food and Nouriſhment: You know it is uſual for the Holy Ghoſt in Scripture to call the Saints Sheep, Lambs, Heifers, Cows, Rams, Doves, Swallows, Pellicans, and the like; and

and alſo to call their Food, their ſpiritual and Heavenly Food, Graſs, Provender, VVheat, Wine, Oyl, Grapes, Apples, Figs, Nuts, and the like alſo; all which are but ſhadowiſh and figurative Expreſſions, even as this of the Meaſure of the twelve thouſand Furlongs: and obſerve it, that which John ſaith here is twelve thouſand Furlongs, Ezekiel tells us, it lieth on this ſide, and on that ſide of the Bank of the River of the Water of Life: Now I think there is none ſo much void of Underſtanding, as to think this VVater of Life is any thing elſe but the precious Grace of God, in and thorow the Lord Jeſus: VVherefore the Ground or Meaſure for Portions, it is nothing elſe but our Spiritual and Heavenly Food, even Spiritual Grace, and Gifts, and Comforts, that the Holy Ones of this City ſhall moſt plentifully partake of, and enjoy: And ſo indeed the Prophet alſo ſaith, ſpeaking of the Portions of the Holy Land for this City: The Increaſe thereof, ſaith he, ſhall be for Food unto them that ſerve the City; and they that ſerve it, ſhall ſerve it out of the Twelve Tribes of Iſrael: Out of the Twelve Tribes, that is, out of the twelve thouſand Furlongs, which is the Portion of the Tribes. This is according to the Saying of the Prophet David, He maketh me to lie down in green Paſtures, he leadeth me beſides the ſtill Waters: And again, For the Lamb that is in the midſt of the Throne ſhall feed them, and ſhall lead them into living Fountains of Water: for their Shame, they ſhall have double; and for Confuſion, they ſhall rejoyce in their Portion: Therefore in their Land they ſhall poſſeſs the double; Everlaſting Joy ſhall be upon them.

Ezek. 48. 18, 19. Pſal. 23. 2. Rev. 7. 17. Iſa. 61. 7.

Thus you ſee the Meaſure of the City, Gates, and VVall, and the Effect of that; and thus you ſee alſo the Meaſure of the Portion for the City, with what it is: VVherefore it remaineth that we ſee what is to be the Effect of that alſo.

50. And he meaſured the City with the Reed, twelve thouſand Furlongs, and the Length and the Breadth, and the Height of it are equal. Before he told us, that the Length was as large as the Breadth; which I then told you, did ſignifie the Nature of her Rule, and the meaſure of her Obedience: but now he adds, and ſaith, That both in Length and Breadth, and in Height, ſhe is equal. Wherefore in that he adds at laſt a ſquareneſs of Height, to her ſquareneſs of Length and Breadth; and alſo in that he adds it not before he had told us of the Meaſure of her Portions, he would have us to underſtand, that as the Rule in which this City ſhall walk, ſhall be compleat, and as her Obedience to that Rule ſhall be compleat, ſo her Enjoyment of God and his Grace at that Day ſhall be proportionable alſo: She is ſquare in her Rule, ſquare in her Obedience, and ſquare in her Enjoyment of God and his Goodneſs; The Length, and the Breadth, and the Heighth of it are equal. Indeed the Scripture ſaith, That in keeping his Commandments there is great Reward: And again, This Man ſhall be bleſſed in his Deed. This ſheweth unto us then, what glorious Days theſe will be to the Houſe and City of God; even Days in which Saints ſhall ſee the Mind of God clearly, have Hearts to do it compleatly, and have continually the anſwerable Enjoyment of God, and ſpiritual Happineſs: Now will his Paths drop Fatneſs, with a Witneſs! and now will he meet him that rejoyceth and worketh Righteouſneſs, thoſe that remember him in his Ways: And the Length, and the Breadth, and the Heighth of it are equal. Wherefore the Prophet in the Viſion of the Meaſures of the Portions, doth obſerve that there was a Squareneſs in them, as well as in their Ordinances and Obedience: and hence it is that he tells us that every little Chamber was one Reed broad, and one Reed long: And again, the Oblation, that is the Portion for the Tribes, ſhall be five and twenty thouſand: By five and twenty thouſand ye ſhall offer the Holy Oblation FOUR SQUARE, with the Portion of the City.

Pſal. 19. 11. Jam. 1. 25. Pſal. 65. 11. Iſa. 64. 5. Ezek. 40. 7. & 48. 20.

Again, In that he ſaith, The Length and Breadth, and the Height of it are equal; he ſheweth us how fit this City at this Day will be, even for the Kingdom of Heaven and Glory: for obſerve, That as the Rule, Obedience, and Comforts of God, do make this City a ſquare City, both in Height, and Length, and Breadth; ſo the Holieſt of all, which was a *Type of Heaven, was of the ſame Faſhion alſo; It was twenty Cubits high, and twenty Cubits long, and twenty Cubits broad; the Length, and the Breadth, and the Height of it were equal.

* Heb. 9. 24. 1 King. 6. 20.

Wherefore, as now the VVill of God will be done (according to the Petition) on Earth as it is in Heaven; ſo will this City be at this Day fit to enter into the Holieſt Place; even as fit as one four ſquare is to ſhut into another: Here is a four ſquare City for a four ſquare Heaven; And the Length, and the Breadth of it are equal: Wherefore it is upon this Account that this City at her appearing, is ſaid to be adorned and prepared, as a Bride is for her Huſband, which we all know is the moſt perfect and compleateſt Attire that is poſſible to be got: And therefore it is again, that at the Coming of the Lord, thoſe that go in with him to the Marriage, are ſaid to be ready beforehand.

51. A third Meaſure.

Verſe 17. And he meaſured the Wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four Cubits. This Meaſure of the VVall that here he maketh mention of, is alſo diſtinct from the former Meaſure, where he is ſaid to meaſure the City, Gates, and VVall; and it refers to ſuch a Wall, or to ſuch a part of the Wall in ſuch a Place: For I find that though the VVall of this City in general is that which ſhall incompaſs the New Jeruſalem round; yet this VVall is in ſome Place, and for ſome Reaſon, of another Manner and Meaſure than the VVall is in general, as it compaſſeth round the City; which part of the VVall is called the broad Wall, the VVall upon which even half of the People might walk compleat at once.

Neh. 3. 8. & 12. 38.

But to trace out the Buſineſs in the Type, and ſo to come to its Anſwer in the Anti-type: I find that a little diſtance from Jeruſalem there was a Place called Tophet, which Place was counted Prophane, Unholy, or Defiled; I find alſo that this Unclean, Unholy Place, was a Figure of Hell it ſelf: Now mark, I find by the Scripture, that againſt this Tophet, this unholy and prophane Place, was the broad Wall of the City for the Defence of the Sanctuary, erected, and reared up: He meaſured, ſaith the Prophet, by the four Sides, and it had a Wall round about, five hundred Reeds long, and five hundred Reeds broad, TO MAKE A SEPARATION BETWEEN THE SANCTUARY AND THE PROPHANE PLACE. VVhich Wall could not be that Wall which compaſſed the City, becauſe it was but five hundred Reeds long: for take the Meaſure of this Wall in its largeſt Meaſure, and it is, (if you count a Reed for that which we count a Pole) but twelve Furlongs, which Compaſs will ſcarce go round many Market-Towns; eſpecially, if together with this, you conſider the Breadth of the Wall, whoſe Breadth is as large as its Length; wherefore now there is not room enough for a City ſo big as a Cottage to ſtand in the midſt thereof: I ſpeak this, to ſhew you that the Wall in this place is not the Wall that goeth round about the City, but the Wall that is placed juſt between the Sanctuary and Tophet, or Hell it ſelf: Now though Ezekiel and John did differ touching their Count about the Thickneſs of this VVall, it is not ſo much to ſignifie the VValls are not one and the ſame, as to ſhew us that the one, to wit, Ezekiel's Wall, was to encompaſs a worldly Sanctuary, but John's to incompaſs a Spiritual and Heavenly; wherefore Ezekiel's muſt be of ſo many Reeds long to go round about the material Sanctuary, as a Type; but John comes more to the Spirit of the Matter, and ſheweth us what the Sanctuary, VVall, and the like ſhould mean; for by Sanctuary, we are to underſtand (even in the Old Teſtament) a Place of Safety and Security, which was a Type of Chriſt: Now in that Tophet did ſtand againſt the Sanctuary in the Letter, it ſignifies that Hell

Hell it ſelf is bent againſt all thoſe that take Shelter in Chriſt; but to no purpoſe, for in the very face of Tophet, even between it and our place of ſanctuary, is fixed an invincible and impregnable mighty Wall, to keep in ſafety thoſe that have fled to Chriſt for ſhelter. Now I ſay, in that John tells us this VVall is an hundred forty four Cubits, (and waves the manner of the meaſure of Ezekiel) it is to ſhew us that this VVall is for the ſafety of the hundred forty four thouſand that have taken ſanctuary in Chriſt, that is, all the holy and truly gracious Souls that are with him on the Mount Zion, having his Fathers Name written in their Foreheads; both Numbers, I ſay, being twelve times twelve, implying a ſufficient ſafety for all that are ſincerely and truly gracious.

Rev. 14. 1, 2, 3. Rev. 7.

52. And now to bring down the matter to our New Jeruſalem-ſtate: for though it be true in all Ages, that there is between thoſe that have taken ſanctuary in Chriſt, and the bottomleſs pit, an invincible and mighty Wall of Grace and heavenly Power, and of the Merits of Chriſt, to ſave to the utmoſt all and every one that are thus fled to him for ſafety; yet there is ſomething in it more than this, for thoſe that come into the days and ſtate of the New Jeruſalem: For, I ſay, this Wall being it that makes a ſeparation between the Sanctuary, and the prophane place in general, and yet being ſpoken of as a thing extraordinary, and accompanying the ſtate of this new City onely; it implieth that at this day the Saints ſhall have that ſhelter by this Wall from all the force of Hell, and the damned Spirits that now from Tophet afflict them, that they never had before; and therefore you find at the beginning of the thouſand Years, which (as I conceive) is the time of the building of this City, a mighty Angel is ſaid to come down from Heaven to lay hold of the Dragon, that old Serpent, called the Devil and Satan, and to bind him a thouſand Years; which done, he caſts him into the bottomleſs pit, and there ſhuts him up, to the end he ſhould deceive the Nations no more, the effect of which will be not onely a delivering of the Saints from outward perſecution, but alſo from being any more aſſailed with either wicked and erroneous Doctrine, or fierce and fiery darts from the Prince of Darkneſs, which now many of them are ſo much annoyed and afflicted with: now the Church will be free from thoſe helliſh ſuggeſtions to blaſpheme, to deſpair, and the like, that her Members do yet moſt dreadfully and ſadly meet with: for obſerve, this old Tempter is ſaid to be tied up, or to be caſt into the bottomleſs Pit, firſt as he is a Dragon, under which name he goeth in this Book, in his perſecuting the Church, Rev. 12. Secondly, he is ſaid to be ſhut up, as he goeth under the name of a Serpent, under which name he went when he fomented his devilliſh and damning ſeducing Doctrine to our firſt Parents; the which the Spirit expreſly ſeems to relate unto, and therefore calls him that O L D Serpent; that O L D Serpent that deceived us at the firſt. Thirdly, he is ſaid to be ſhut up alſo, as he goeth under the name of the Devil and Satan, under which Name he goeth commonly in the New-Teſtament, when he provoketh and ſtirreth up our luſts, and when he labours to drive us into all manner of unbelief, diſtruſt, deſpair, and ſo conſequently into murmurings and blaſphemy againſt God. Wherefore, I ſay, that at the day that this Wall is ſet up in all its glory, and when it performs every part and piece of its office to the full, then ſhall Satan be bruiſed under our Feet indeed, and then ſhall Jeruſalem be called, The joyus City, and her People, A Joy; for her former Sorrows ſhall be paſt and forgot.

53. day (ſhould I live till then) why though there ſhould be no Devil to afflict me, I ſhall feel and meet with ſorrow and trouble enough.

Anſw. I anſwer thee: First, I dare not ſay that at this day thou ſhalt be in every ſence without thy evil heart, in the midſt of all this glory, tempted Soul: Yet I ſay thus much to thee;

The benefit of having Satan thus bound and tied up.

First, VVhere there is no Devil to tempt, though the Saints will yet be imperfect, and come ſhort of a glorified ſtate; yet they by his abſence will be delivered from many dreadful vexing and burning helliſh Darts, that will otherwiſe confound and afflict the Soul like Arrows, whoſe heads are poiſoned: Chriſtians have a great dealmore eaſe, when God doth (even at this day) with-hold the Devil for a ſeaſon, (though yet they have their own luſts) than they have when the Devil and their own luſts are ſuffered to meet and work together: yea the Lord Jeſus himſelf, who had no ſin, yet in the Temptation was fearfully handled and afflicted with the Devil; though all the while, I ſay, he kept him at ſtaves end, and did not ſuffer him in the leaſt to annoy his Perſon; and therefore 'tis ſaid that when he was in the Wilderneſs in the conflict, the Angels came to miniſter unto him: at the time of his Agony alſo, in which Agony doubtleſs Satan had a very great hand to afflict him, you ſee his complaint, how that he was ſore amazed, and exceeding ſorrowful, even unto death, being ſo laden with heavineſs and ſorrow, that he was ſcarce able to ſtand or wag under the burden of it. Satan even from himſelf beſides the workings of our own Luſt, doth do us wonderful injury, and hits our Souls with many a fiery Dart, that we think comes either from our ſelves, or from Heaven, and God himſelf; but now by this Wall, this broad Wall, this Sorrow will be cut off.

Corruptions ſhall now alſo be greatly weakened.

Secondly, Again, when Satan is thus tied up, we ſhall, together with this Mercy, receive ſuch a plentiful pouring forth of the Holy Ghoſt, that though there will remain in us ſtill the remainders of our Corruptions; yet by the plentiful in-dwellings of the holy Ghoſt, and the Joy and Peace and heavenly ſweetneſs thereof, theſe things ſhall lie like lean, withered, blaſted things: the reaſon of that power and that ſtrength that our Luſts have to this day in our hears, it is becauſe we are ſo lean and thin and weak in the things of God: ſtrong Grace makes Corruptions weak, and ſtrikes them thorow, laying them at the point of death, always gaſping for life: thus it was with Moſes, he had ſuch Grace in his Soul, and ſuch Communion with God, that though he had yet a Body of Sin within him, it was a rare thing for him to ſee his wretchedneſs; that is, to ſee it pert, lively, and powerful in him: indeed God ſaith, That upon the Land of his People ſhall come up Briars and Thorns; yea, upon all the Houſes of Joy in the joyous City, becauſe the Palaces ſhall be forſaken, the multitude of the City ſhall be left, the Forts and Towers ſhall be for Dens for ever, a Joy of wild Aſſes, a Paſture of Flocks; until the Spirit be poured on us from on high, and the Wilderneſs be a fruitful Field, &c. And then the Lord ſhall defend the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and he that is feeble among them at that day ſhall be as David, and the Houſe of David ſhall be as God, even as the Angel of the Lord before him: The Inhabitants ſhall not ſay, I am ſick; The People that dwell therein, ſhall be forgiven their Iniquity.

Rev. 21. 9.

That the City, the New Jeruſalem, is to be builded according to the Word of Chriſt; but yet by his Word as it is in the hand of his Angels, that is, his Meſſengers and Servants; of which Servants, the Chief will be thoſe that are his Inſtruments to pour forth the ſeven Vials full of the ſeven laſt Plagues upon the Antichriſtian Harlot: For they with their Plagues, will both deſtroy what ſtandeth in implacable Oppoſition, and will ſubject the reſt, and bring them into a Correſpondency with the Word and Will of God (as I have ſhewed.) Whence note, That they of his Servants that God ſhall uſe to pour forth his laſt and moſt dreadful Plagues upon the VVhore, they are they that God will uſe to ſhew us the Pattern of this Holy City: Or thus, They that can tell how to plague the Whore, they can tell how to meaſure this City: The righteous Men, they ſhall judge them (that is, the Antichriſtian Harlot, with her wicked and adulterous Daughters) after the manner of Adultereſſes, and after the manner of Women that ſhed Blood; becauſe they are adulterous, and Blood is in their Hands. Ezek. 23. 45.

Thus much touching the Frame of this City, its VValls, Gates, and Foundations, with the Meaſure of each: And now it remains that I ſpeak of the Glory of them.

Verſe 18. And the Building of the VVall of it was of Jaſper; and the City was pure Gold, like unto clear Glaſs. 55. The Glory of the Wall. In theſe VVords you have a Diſcovery of the Glory both of the Wall and City it ſelf; and that, as you ſee, under the Notion of two choice Metaphors: the Wall is Jaſper, the chief of Stones; and the City is Gold, the chief of Metals: And the Building of the Wall of it was of Jaſper, and the City was pure Gold.

This Jaſper is that Stone, in the Light of which this City is ſaid to deſcend, as in the Light of a Stone moſt precious: Now as there he ſaith ſhe deſcended in the Light of this Stone, ſo here he ſaith this Stone is the Wall thereof; And the Building of the Wall of it was of Jaſper.

This therefore confirmeth unto you what I ſaid of the Wall before, to wit, That it was the Salvation of God through Chriſt: wherefore learn this by the way, that this City ſhall not be at this Day in her own Keeping, but in the Keeping of Jeſus Chriſt; He with his Benefits doth compaſs her round, and by him alone ſhe lieth down in Safety: VVherefore it is from this Conſideration that God doth ſay by the Mouth of the Prophet, I will give them within my Houſe, and within my Walls, a Place and a Name better than that of Sons and of Daughters; I will give them an everlaſting Name that ſhall not be cut off. Iſa. 56. 5.

56. And the [Building] of the Wall, &c. By this word Building, we are to underſtand both the Materials of the Wall, the Manner of their Placing, and the Inſtruments that God will uſe for the ſetting up thereof: Now to ſpeak properly, this Wall being the Lord Jeſus Chriſt Himſelf in his Precious Merits, Benefits and Offices, the Builder hereof muſt needs be God Himſelf; for he it is that hath made this Chriſt for us a Safeguard and Defence, by making of him our Wiſdom, Righteouſneſs, Sanctification and Redemption, by which he doth incompaſs us round on every ſide, and that at every Moment, to deliver us from the Power and Deſtruction both of Sin, Death, the Devil, and Hell. 1 Cor. 1. 30. Heb. 11. 10 Heb. 3. 4.

But again, The Building here ſpoken of, is a Building of this Wall after the Deſtruction of Antichriſt, and ſo long after Chriſt was ſent, and made theſe things in his own Perſon, to his beloved and bleſſed Church: VVherefore the Building of this Wall that is here ſpoken of, it muſt be underſtood of the Recovering again the Purity of thoſe Doctrines, in which the Lord Jeſus, with all his Benefits, is found and made ours, for our everlaſting Defence and Safety: For we find that the King of Babylon, who was a Type of our Antichriſt, when he came up againſt Jeruſalem, the Type of our Primitive Church, he brake down their City, deſtroyed their Walls, rifled their Houſes, and killed their Children; whoſe Steps, I ſay, our Antichriſt follows to a Hair, in treading down the Primitive Church, corrupting her Doctrines (which are her Safeguard and Wall) alſo robbing and ſpoiling the Houſes of God, and killing his Children with a thouſand Calamities; turning all the heavenly Frame and Order of Church-Government into an Heap of Rubbiſh, and a confuſed Dunghil. Pſal. 74. 4, 5, 6, 7.

Wherefore the Building again of this Wall is to be underſtood of the Recovering, and ſetling, and faſtning the Doctrines of Chriſt, as afore, in which Doctrines he in all his Benefits is wrapped, and held faſt for ever: I ſay, a recovering of them, and ſetting him up again in his primitive and pure Glory, of being our Prieſt, Prophet and King in his Church, and a giving unto theſe Offices their own proper Length, Breadth, Height and Depth; letting them rule in all their Force, Glory, and Majeſty, and Authority, for then will be golden Days, and not till then; then, I ſay, when the ſeveral Offices of the Lord Jeſus do rule in their own Nature and Largeneſs of Authority, both in the Church and in the World. Zec. 14. 9. Rev. 11. 15 Zec. 9. 7, 8.

Alas! This Wall is yet unbuilt, the Offices of the Lord Jeſus do not yet ſhine in that Purity, nor ſo ſtand in their proper places, as they ſhall do at the coming in of New Jeruſalem: the Wall lies yet but as an Heap of Rubbiſh; the Offices of the Lord Chriſt are to this day by many Preachers confounded, and removed to and fro, even like looſe and rouling Stones; theſe Offices alſo are by others attributed to Antichriſt, and his Children of Iniquity; but at this day the Nations ſhall know themſelves to be but Men, and the Doctrines of Chriſt ſhall be ſet again in their own Places: Now ſhall every going into this City, and every going out thereof, ſtand where it ought; and now ſhall every Towerand Fortreſs on this Wall be placed as in the days of old; which Towers and Fortreſſes are the glorious Names and Attributes of the Father and Chriſt: for the Name of the Lord is a ſtrong Tower, the Righteous flee into it, and are ſafe: And again, Thou haſt been a ſhelter to me, and a ſtrong Tower from the Enemy: Wherefore now, I ſay, ſhall the Name of God, as Lord of all, and Father of his Church, with the Names of the Son, as Head, Saviour, and King of Kings, be as the Bulwarks to this City, to which ſhall be added all the Promiſes, Conſolations, Encouragements, &c. in the bleſſed Book of God, out of which this City continually ſhall ſuck the Milk and Nouriſhment of the unſearchable Grace of God to them; to all which ſhall be added many new pieces of Timber in the Wall (for ſo it was in the Type at the rebuilding of the City) by which new Pieces, I gather, that the ſpecial Providence of God, and his Protection, ſhall be at this day ſo faſtned in this Wall for the compleat delivering of this City, both from Hell and Earth, that ſhe ſhall ſtand in full Force, Safety and Peace, even till the Heavens and the Earth ſhall be no more. Now when this Wall is thus ſet up, even every Truth and Office of Chriſt, in its own true natural Force, about this City; and when God in his ſpecial and moſt indeared Affections, ſhall engage himſelf even everlaſtingly to keep this City Safe from all Storms and Tempeſts, and Trouble and Sorrow; then ſhall theſe Citizens, as a ſign of their Conqueſt both of Hell and the World, even ſet up their Banners on the ſeveral Towers of this Wall, and the Standards that belong to the Tribes thereof; then, I ſay, We ſhall rejoyce in thy Salvation, O Lord, and in thy Name will we ſet up our Banners: And then ſhall the Inhabitants of the World both wondering and tremblingly ſay, Who is this that looketh forth as the Morning, fair as the Sun, clear as the Moon, and terrible as an Army with Banners? O the Names of God, of Chriſt, of his Offices, and the Power of his Grace and Promiſes! How will they ſhine? In what Glory will they appear? They will be even as a Wall of Fire round about

57. For the Workmen, I am ſure God is the principal, as I ſaid before; but yet he will do it by Inſtruments, thorow the guidance of his Spirit. The Building of the Wall of old, was of God; but ſo, as that he did it by the hand of Nehemiah and his Companions. I do obſerve in the compleating of the City Jeruſalem of old, that there was firſt Altar-work, then Temple-work, and after that the Building the Wall, and compleating the City. Altar-work, I ſay, was the firſt which was reared, and on which there were offered according to the Law and Holy Cuſtom, the Sacrifices and Offerings both Morning and Evening, as every day required; but the Foundation of the Tem- Ezra 3. 1, ple was not yet laid. Theſe Altar-men were thoſe 2,3,4,5,6. alſo that afterward built the Temple; but yet by them was firſt of all repaired the Altar, to ſignifie that the firſt work that will be on foot at the beginning of the return of the Chriſtians from out of Antichriſtian Babylon, it will be to find out Altar-work, that is, the Prieſtly Office of Chriſt, and to offer by him the Prayers and Supplications of the Church continually. Wherefore theſe Altar-men, or theſe Men in their Altar-work, did figure out for us our famous and holy Worthies, that before us have riſen up in their Place, and ſhook off thoſe Relicks of Antichriſt that intrenched upon the Prieſtly Office of our Lord and Saviour, even worthy Wickliff, Hus, Luther, Melancthon, Calvin, and the bleſſed Martyrs in Queen Maries Days, &c. with the reſt of their Companions; theſe in their Days were ſtout and valiant Champions for God according to their Light, and did upon the Altar of God, which is Chriſt our Lord, offer up many ſtrong Cries, with Groans and Tears, as every Day required, for the compleat recovering of the Church of God; the Benefit of whoſe Offering we have felt and enjoyed to this Day; but by this the Foundation of the Temple was not yet laid.

What is Temple-work.

Again, As there is thus Altar-work, and Temple-work to be done by the Saints when they are coming out of ſpiritual Sodom and Egypt: So at the end of theſe, there will be City-work on foot alſo. Which City-work will chiefly conſiſt in Iſa. 65. 19. ſetting up the Wall and Gates for Defence, 20, 21. and of building themſelves Houſes or Manſions of Reſt and Refreſhment, after all their hard Uſage under the Tyranny of the Man of Sin, that Son of Perdition; which City-work will be then compleated, when the Church of Chriſt hath obtained a compleat Conqueſt and Victory over the World, and hath got her Enemies, and them that hate her, to lye at her Feet, and to lick the Duſt of the Soals Iſa 60. 14. thereof. For, as I have told you already, Temple-work, yea, when that is compleat in the Work, yet there may be great Havock made of the Church of Chriſt; at which time alſo, City-work may be trampled under the Feet of the Wicked and Uncircumciſed Gentiles; but when the City is builded, then Rev. 11. 1, 2, 3. Zion is become a ſtrong Hold, and about all her Glory Iſa. 4. 5. ſhall be a Defence. Then ſhe either draweth and allureth her Adverſaries to entreat her kindly, and to count it their Honour to be under her Protection (as did the Gibeonites) or elſe ſhe breaks and bruiſes, Joſh. 9. and ſubjects them to her by her Power and Authority. The Daughter of Tyre ſhall be there with a Gift, Pſal. 45. 12 and the Rich among the People ſhall intreat thy Favor. In the laſt days, ſaith the Prophet, It ſhall come to paſs, that the Lords Houſe ſhall be eſtabliſhed upon the tops of the Mountains, and ſhall be exalted above the Hills; and People ſhall flow unto it, and many Nations ſhall come and ſay, Come, and let us go up unto the Mountain of the Lord, and to the Houſe of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his Ways, and we will walk in his Paths. For the Law ſhall go forth of Zion, and the VVord of the Lord from Jeruſalem. And ye ſhall judge among the People, and rebuke ſtrong Nations afar off; and they ſhall beat their Swords into Plough-ſhares, and their Spears into Pruning-hooks; (that Force and Power that they uſed formerly to deſtroy the Church of God, now they ſhall uſe it to do her Service, even to break up the Clods of the Hearts of Sinners, and to prune and dreſs the Houſe of God, and Vineyard of Jeſus Chriſt) Nation ſhall not lift up a Sword againſt Nation, neither ſhall they learn VVar any more; (for the Word of the Kingdom of Peace ſhall bear ſway.) And thou, O Tower of the Flock, the ſtrong Hold of Mich. 4. 1, the Daughter of Zion, unto thee ſhall it come, even 2, 3, 4 5, 6, the firſt Dominion; the Kingdom ſhall come to the 7, 8. Daughter of Jeruſalem. This is City-work, and as to the Glory, Peace, and Deliverance of the Church, it is the chiefeſt of all other, becauſe it is not only moſt excellent for concourſe and multitude, but, I ſay, for Preſervation and Safety; and that not only to keep the Worſhippers, if they keep their Order, but to keep the Order and Worſhippers both in Order and continual Safety, that they may be for ever in the pureſt Order. But now, though at the com- Neh. 4. 1, pleating of this Wall, and the building its Towers, 2, 7, 8, 9, when they are finiſhed, there will be great Peace; 10, 11. & yet all the time that theſe things are doing, before 6. v. 1. to they be done, let the Work-men look for Oppoſition, 13. Taunts, Underminers, and a thouſand Tricks for the Hindrance of it; For the Street of the City ſhall be Dan. 9. 25. built, and the VVall, even in troublous times.

58. And the Building of the VVall of it, was of Jaſper. Of Jaſper only; for as by Building is ſhewed unto us the Manner of the VVork, ſo by Jaſper is ſhewed unto us the Matter it ſelf, the Matter therefore muſt be (Jaſper) Chriſt only, his VVord, Offices, and glorious Brightneſs only; for indeed, whatever the ſpecial Grace, Protection and Providence of God will at this day be over this City, yet it ſhall be every whit of it according to Chriſt; that is, both of him, for him, and by him, as the Fruits and Effects of his Suffering, Bloodſhed and Merits: Therefore, Iſa. 53. 10 ſaith God, I will divide him a Portion with the Great, and he ſhall divide the Spoil with the Strong, becauſe he hath poured out his Soul unto Death, and was numbred among the Tranſgreſſors. O Holineſs! How will it ſhine both in Kings and Nations, when God doth this.

59. And the City was pure Gold. Having thus given us a Diſcovery of the Glory of the VVall, he now comes to ſhew us the Glory of the City that is within the VVall: The City, ſaith he, is Gold, it is pure Gold: This was figured out by the golden Candleſticks

The Glory of the City

Exod. 25. 31. to 36. dleſticks belonging to the Tabernacle and Temple among the Jews, which Candleſticks did then preſent unto us the Worth and Uſe of the Church of CHRIST; The ſeven Candleſticks are the ſeven Churches, ſaith the Lord Chriſt himſelf. Now the City here ſpoken of, is the Church in her higheſt and greateſt Glory: Its State was alſo figured out by the Temple it ſelf, whoſe Beams, Poſts, Walls, Doors, and the like, were moſt famouſly covered over with Gold. It was alſo (tho' but leanly) repreſented to us by the golden State of old Jeruſalem in the days of Solomon the King, in which State Gold was ſo plentiful in the midſt thereof, that Silver was nothing counted of among the Citizens there, in thoſe days, but was as common as the Stones in the Street of the City.

60. And the City was pure Gold. I find by the Search of the Scriptures, that there are divers ſorts of Gold in the World; there is the Gold of the Land of Havilah, the Gold of Parvaim, the Gold of Ophir, the Gold of Sheba, and the Gold of Uphaz. Now ſeeing he ſaith the City is Gold, yet not diſtinguiſhing what Gold, or which, we may ſuppoſe in this Place he means Gold of all theſe Sorts: and indeed it is moſt agreeable to this Text, thus to judge: for the Church at this day ſhall be made up of the twelve Tribes that are ſcattered abroad, and of the Gentile Nations both far and near; who as they now lie, are, for ought I can learn, at as great a diſtance, and as remote from one another (not only in Knowledge and Affections) but touching the Places of their Abode, as are the golden Mines, out of which the Gold that I ſpake of before is digged and fetched: Thus ſhall Gold, the golden Saints of God, at this day be gathered out of the ſeveral golden Mines of the World, and be brought to King Solomon the Son of David, our Lord Jeſus to Jeruſalem, with which he will build him a golden ſhining City, the Joy of all the World.

Gen. 2. 11. 2 Chron. 3. 6. Job 22. 24 Pſal. 72. 15 Jer 10 9.

61. And the City was pure Gold. Gold is the choice and chief of all Metals, both for Worth, Colour and Vertue; wherefore when he ſaith, The City is Gold, you may conceive how rich and ſhining, and vertuous this City will be; the Riches of the whole World will be here; the Beauty and the Vertue of the whole World will be here; I mean ſpiritual Riches, Beauty and Health; wherefore the reſt of the World at this day will be but as a cruſhed Bunch of Herbs in which is no Vertue; or like a Furnace full of Droſs, out of which the Gold is taken; or like an old crazy and ruinous Houſe, from which is departed all Health and Happineſs; and indeed much like to this is that Saying of the Prophet, to wit, That at this day the whole Circumference of the World that is without the Walls and Priviledges of this City, it ſhall be but like an old ruinous Houſe, in which dwells nothing but Cormorants, Bitterns, Owls, Ravens, Dragons, Satyrs, the Screech-Owl, the great Owl, the Vulture, and the like moſt doleful Birds. All their Princes ſhall be nothing, ſaith the Prophet, and when they call their Nobles to the Kingdom, none ſhall be there: In their very Palaces ſhall be Thorns and Nettles, and Brambles; for all among them that are Princes and Nobles indeed, will have pack'd up, and be gone for Jeruſalem: So that the World, I ſay, will be left empty, void, and ſtript both of Treaſure, Beauty and Health, at the day of Jeruſalems Building again. But O how melancholy a forlorn beautileſs World will this be at this day! It will be only the Place of Dogs, Sorcerers, Whoremongers and Murderers, and whoſoever loveth and maketh a Lie; it will now be the very Emblem of Hell, as the Church at this Day will be the Emblem of Heaven; wherefore as the Church (as I ſhewed you before) will be moſt fit for her putting on of Immortality and Incorruption; ſo the World will at this day be moſt fit to be ſwallowed up of the Lake and bottomleſs Gulph. All things that are good, and worth any thing, ſhall at this day be found only in the City of God: The Gold will be in Jeruſalem, Zech. 14. 14. Rev. 18.

Again, In that this City is here called by the Name of Gold, it is to ſhew us how great Pains, and Travel, and Charge the Lord Chriſt hath been at to get ſo great a Treaſure together: Gold is fetched from a far Country, and that with great Pains, Charge and Difficulty: The Gold wherewith King Solomon made his drinking Veſſels, it coſt a three years Journey to obtain it; So the Saints alſo, thoſe golden Veſſels wherewith is made this golden City, they coſt Chriſt a three Days Travel in the Heart of the Earth, even ſweatingly under the Wrath of God, to obtain them, and thus to build this City with them.

2 Chron. 9. 12. Luke 22. 44. Mat. 12 40

62. Further, In that he ſaith this City is Gold, he would have us to conſider what the State of the Church was before ſhe came into this happy Condition, to wit, an afflicted, tempted and tried Condition. Gold, as it comes from the Mine, it cometh commixed with its Duſt and Ore; wherefore the Goldſmith hath a burning Furnace, wherein he having put it, doth with the Fire purge and take away the Droſs and Duſt from among the Metal it ſelf; into which Furnace he puts it once, twice, thrice, and again, to the end it may at length be throughly cleanſed and purified from its Droſs: Now all this befalleth the People of God; they are thrown into the burning fiery Furnace of Affliction and Temptation, and there they are tried, purged and purified; as the Lord alſo ſaith by the Prophet, I will try them as Gold is tried, and will refine them as Silver is refined; yea, I will melt them and try them; for how ſhall I do for the Daughter of my People.

Iſa. 31. 9. Jer. 9. 7. Zech. 13. 9

Laſtly, When he ſaith this City is Gold, he alſo thereby inſinuates how invincible and unconquerable a Spirit the People of God are poſſeſſed with: Gold is a Metal ſo invincible and unconquerable, that no Fire can conſume it; it may burn it indeed, and melt it; the Droſs indeed doth conſume and give way to the Power of the Fire, but the Gold remains, and holds its ground; yea, it gets ground even of the Furnace and Fire it ſelf; for the more it is burned and melted, the more it recovers its Colour, and the more it ſhakes of its Droſs and Diſhonour: Juſt thus it is with the People of God and hath been ſo even from the beginning; The more they oppreſſed them, the more they grew; the Truth of which will be proved with a witneſs, when God comes to ſet up this City Jeruſalem: his Church hath been now for many hundred years in the King of Babylons Furnace; all which time ſhe hath moſt gloriouſly endured and withſtood the heat; and at laſt, when the Fire hath done its worſt againſt her, Behold there comes out a City of Gold: A Type of which was the State of the three Children, who though they were caſt into the Fire, bound, and in Diſgrace; yet came out in the Liberty and Grace of the Son of God. Wherefore let her be bold to ſay, even before ſhe comes out of the Fire, When I am tried, I ſhall come forth as Gold.

Exod. 1. 12. Dan 3. 23, 24 25, 26. Job 23. 10

And the City was [pure] Gold. Theſe Words, PURE GOLD, clear up what I ſaid already: Pure Gold, or Gold upon which the Fire hath done its Work. The Church in the Fire of Perſecution is like Eſther in the perfuming Chamber, but making fit for the Preſence of the King; which Fire, when it hath done its Work, then ſhe comes into his Preſence in Cloathing all of Gold: The Kings Daughter is all glorious within, her Cloathing is of wrought Gold: And again, At thy right hand did ſtand the Queen in Gold of Ophir. Wherefore he means by Pure Gold, Gold out of the Fire, Gold on which the Fire of Perſecution and Temptation hath done its full and compleat Work.

Eſth. 2. 12. Pſal. 45. 9, 13.

And the City was pure Gold, like unto clear Glaſs. 63. By Glaſs, in this place, we are to underſtand the Word of God, as both James and Paul do teſtifie. By clear Glaſs then, we are to underſtand the Word in its own Nature and Purity, without the Corruptions and Traditions of Men. Wherefore, when he saith, this golden City was like unto clear Glass: it is as if he had said she is even with the Word and Law of her Goldsmith, in all her matters. The Word is a Golden Reed, this City a Golden City; and that, a Golden City, taken out of the furnace of affliction, and therefore like to the Golden Reed. And the City was pure Gold, like unto clear Glass.

Jam. 1. 23, 24, 25. 2 Cor. 3. 18. & 1 Cor. 13. 12.

Verse. 19, 20. And the Foundations of the Wall were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first Foundation was a Jasper, the second a Saphir, the third a Chalcedony, the fourth an Emerald, the fifth a Sardonix, the sixth a Sardius, the seventh a Chrysolite, the Eighth Beryl, the ninth Topaz, the tenth Chrysoprasus, the eleventh a Jacinth, the twelfth an Amethyst.

Thus having shewed us the Glory of the Wall, and of the City, he now comes to shew us the glory of the Foundations. The Foundations you know, I told you before, they are the twelve Apostles in their Doctrine, or the (primitive) Doctrine of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb.

The Glory of the Foundations.

Now the great business in this place will be to shew you the garnishing of these Foundations, and also the mystery and order of the lying of the Foundations, for their glory lieth in both.

As for the garnishing of these Foundations, it is, and will be at the day of New Jerusalem, two-fold, and the first is with beautiful Gifts and Grace: Thus were the Apostles of old adorned, and thus shall their Doctrine again be garnished. I know that the Doctrine of the twelve hath been always accompanied with goodly gifts and grace, from the first Churches quite down, that is, according to the measure of light they appeared in, and according to the dispensations of God in the times of Antichrist. But yet the glory that this Doctrine had in these latter days, I mean since the Apostasie, it was nothing in comparison of the glory and splendor that will be in them in the day when this City is builded and compleat; Wherefore you find, that tho' all-along in Antichrist's reign, the Gospel of Grace hath shone, and given light to the Saints and People of God in all their travels and afflictions; yet the shining of it at that day was much opposed and eclipsed by the smoak of the bottomless-pit: as he saith, There arose a smoak out of the pit, as the smoak of a great furnace, and the Sun and the Air were darkened by reason of the smoak of the pit. In which dayes I say, abundance of the light, heat, and operation of the Gospel, was diminished and taken off, so that but little of the power or glory of it, hath been either felt, or seen from that time to this very day. This is that God spake of by the Prophet Amos, saying, I will cause the Sun to go down at noon, and will darken the Earth in the clear day; and I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day. (All which he explaineth in the next words, for) Behold the days come, saith the Lord, that I will send a Famine in the Land, not a Famine of Bread, or of thirst for Water, but of hearing the Words of the Lord, and they shall wander from Sea to Sea, and from the North even to the East; they shall run to and fro to seek the Word of the Lord, and shall not find it. In those days Eli's sons were become Varlets. Indeed there was here and there a little child, like Samuel in his minority, that now and then would speak most goodly things. But the word of the Lord was precious in those dayes, there was no open Vision. This is that which David in the Spirit of Prophecy complaineth of, saying, They know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the Foundations of the Earth are out of course. Thus in the days of the eclipsing of the glory of these Foundations: But now, behold, they recover their light, and put on, as of old, their former glory, and are again garnished as in the former days. Now will all the Doctrines of the Gospel spangle and sparkle; out of every Text will the Ministers of God make to issue exceedingly most precious & heavenly Fire; for these Stones are indeed the Stones of Fire, and in them is contained that which would set the whole World on a flame with love and delight in the things of God and another World, had but men the Spirit of Wisdom, and the Authority of God in their Ministry, as the Apostles and the primitive Christians had. Well this Doctrine of the Twelve shall be again adorned with Gifts and Grace as in the days of old: by which it shall also be made to shine, and to cast forth its Golden Rays before the Nations, to their Salvation. Behold, saith God, I will lay thy Stones with fair Colours, that is, thy Apostolical Doctrines shall again be garnished, as at the first; Truth shall appear in its old and mature colours, and (as such) shall be imbraced, and lived and delighted in, both by Jews and Gentiles, as I have shewed.

But secondly, The Twelve Foundations that here you read of, they are the *same with those twelve Stones that long before were set in the Breast-plate of Judgment, in which were engraven the Names of the twelve Tribes of the children of Israel, the names of which Tribes did comprehend the whole body of the house of their Fathers. Now then, seeing these Twelve are the same with those on the Breast-plate of Judgment; and seeing also, that those on the Breast-plate did comprehend the whole of the twelve Tribes: I conclude that for these Foundations to be garnished with all manner of precious Stones, it is as much as to say, they shall be garnished with abundance of Converts; Multitudes, and that of all sorts both of Jews and Gentiles, Moors, Tartars, Turks, and those in the utmost parts of the World, shall now be entangled with the Light and Truth, with the Glory and Goodness of the Doctrine of the Twelve. And I the rather take it thus, 1. Because, as the Foundations themselves are said to be precious Stones: so also the Saints in general, they go under the same names too. As Jeremiah saith, The precious Stones of the Sanctuary, are the precious Sons of Zion: As Peter also saith, in alluding to the precious Stones of the Temple: The Saints are lively, or living precious stones, built up a spiritual house, &c. and the foundations of the Wall were garnished with all manner of precious stones; That is, the Doctrine of the Twelve was garnished with all manner of precious souls; that is, converted by it, by which they become a glory and a garnishing to it.

*If you compare the stones you will find them (some of them) to differ in name, but know it is usual for one stone to go under 2 names; and besides, the Greek doth give many things other names than doth the Hebrew text.

2dly, I take it to be the conversion of the Precious Ones of God; because, that thus to understand it, is most like the phrase of the Apostle Paul himself, saying, What is our Hope, or Joy, or Crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming? Ye are our Glory and Joy. Mark; in the text he saith, The Foundations were garnished with all manner of precious Stones, and here those precious Stones, Paul accounts to be those that are converted by the Word: for, what is our hope, or joy, or crown? are not even ye they that have been converted by us? Ye are our Joy, ye are our Crown, ye are our Glory; It is with you that we shall be crowned, adorned, and garnished in the presence of our Lord Jesus. Mark, John saith, They are garnished, Paul saith, they are crowned; John saith, they are garnished with precious Stones, and Paul saith, they are crowned with the conversion of Sinners. Thus therefore as God will lay these Stones with fair colours, so also he will lay these Fundations with Saphirs: that is, as he will beautifie the Doctrine of the Twelve with its former Glory, Sweetness and Authority: so he will crown and garnish it with the conversion of many sinners. The Elect are the Jewels of God, and this is the day of his binding them up, even then when the Anti-

Antichriſt falls, and the Goſpel breaks out in its primitive glory.

66. And the Foundations of the Wall were garniſhed with all manner of precious Stones. In theſe Words, there are yet two things conſiderable.

Firſt, That all who go to the adorning of theſe Foundations, they muſt be precious Stones, not a common ſtone ſhall here be owned: And indeed what ſhould Pebbles do among the Pearls and the Diamonds of New-Jeruſalem; or the ſtones of blackneſs and emptineſs, among the Saints of Light! I tell you, that thoſe which God doth reckon the adorning-ſtones, they are all, and every one, precious ſtones; they muſt be all lively, gliſtring, and curious ſtones, though ſtones of divers colours. Antichriſt counts any thing ſufficient enough to garniſh his Apoſtles with, even the empty ſtones of confuſion, the ſinners that have no more grace in their ſouls than there is ſap in a poſt that hath been this twenty years without either ſap or water: But God will not count ſuch for the beauty of his VVord, nor for the garniſhing and beautifying of the Doctrine of the Twelve: they are garniſhed with PRECIOUS STONES.

Job 28. 3. 1 Pet 2 5. 1 Chron. 29. 2. Iſa. 34. 11.

Secondly, As he ſaith the Foundations are garniſhed with precious ſtones only; ſo he ſaith it is with ALL MANNER of precious Stones: by which he would have us underſtand that all Saints have not the ſame degree either of precious grace, or gifts and vertue in them; there are ſome that excel, and differ from the reſt, even as one Star differeth from another in glory. Some Saints, as they have both more grace, and alſo gifts than others; ſo too they are more laborious and painful in the work of God than their fellows, and therefore he ſaith, ALL MANNER of precious Stones.

1 Cor. 15. 41. 1 Cor. 12. Prov. 31. 29. 1 Cor. 15. 10.

67. Verſ. 20. The firſt Foundation was a Jaſper, the ſecond a Saphir, the third a Chalcedony, the fourth an Emerald, the fifth Sardonyx, the ſixth Sardius, the ſeventh Chryſolite, &c. Thus having ſhewed you the garniſhing and beautifying of the twelve Foundations, he now comes to diſcover the Foundations themſelves, with reference to their order of placing and lying.

Touching which order, he ſaith the firſt and bottom Foundation is a Jaſper.

The Jaſper does repreſent the Lord Chriſt upon ſeveral accounts.

I have hitherto ſaid that this Jaſper in both the two afore-mentioned places, both as to the Light of this City, and alſo of the VVall, it was Jeſus Chriſt: Chriſt illuminating, and Chriſt defending: But here the Jaſper is ſaid to be one of the twelve Foundations, even one of thoſe Foundations in which are writ the Names of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb, which one would think did put this Jaſper now into another ſtate, even to be a repreſentation of one of the twelve Apoſtles, and not of the Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt himſelf: To which I ſhall yet ſay, that the Jaſper here in the order of the Foundations, is to be underſtood of Chriſt, as well as in the other two places in this Diſcourſe; I ſay it is yet to be underſtood of repreſenting the Lord Jeſus, though it alſo doth bear the name of one of the twelve Apoſtles of the Lamb: And in this very thing there is an infolding Myſtery wrapped up, and incloſed.

The firſt account.

For firſt, In that the Name of an Apoſtle is writ in this Stone, and yet that this Jaſper ſhould repreſent Chriſt, it ſheweth unto us the agreement that is between the Doctrine of the Apoſtles, and Chriſt himſelf, to wit, That they are one and the very ſame; and hence it is that the Apoſtle ſaith, We preach Chriſt crucified: Chriſt in all his Benefits is the very Marrow, Life and Sum of all their Teaching; Other Foundation can no man lay than that is laid which is Jeſus Chriſt. Wherefore the Doctrine of the Apoſtles being Chriſt it ſelf, no marvel though the Name of an Apoſtle be writ upon this Jaſper; and again, no marvel though this Jaſper go yet under that Name that repreſents him.

1 Cor. 1. 23, 24. 1 Cor. 3. 11.

Secondly, In that it is ſaid the Names of the Twelve are in theſe twelve Foundations, and yet that the firſt of them ſhould be the Jaſper, Chriſt; It argueth alſo that whoſoever receiveth the Doctrine of the Twelve, they muſt needs with that receive the Lord Chriſt himſelf: Receive the Doctrine of the Goſpel, as it is held forth by the Twelve in the Word, and thou canſt not miſs of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt himſelf; he will be found in the bottom of their Doctrine: Ye are builded upon the Foundation of the Apoſtles and Prophets, Chriſt Jeſus himſelf being the chief Corner-ſtone. The ſecond account. Epheſ. 2. 19, 20.

Thirdly, In that he ſaith in theſe twelve Stones are the Names of the twelve Apoſtles, and yet that the firſt ſhould be the Jaſper, Chriſt; It argueth alſo that where-ever the Doctrine of the Twelve is preached, there is therewith the preſence of Chriſt: the preſence of his Spirit to teach and enlighten the ignorant and blind Hearts of the Unconverted; the preſence alſo of his Power, to overcome them, and to make them fall under the Glory and Truth of his heavenly Word: Lo, ſaith he, I am with you always, even to the end of the World: And they went forth and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the Word with ſigns following. The third account. Mat. 28. 19, 20. Mark 16. 20.

Fourthly, In that he ſaith the Names of the Twelve are in the Foundations, and yet that Chriſt ſhould be one of the twelve himſelf: It ſheweth to us the Union that is between Chriſt and his holy People: Mark in the twelve Foundations are placed all, even all manner of precious Stones: again, In the Twelve is placed the Jaſper, Chriſt; by which we may ſee the nearneſs that is between Chriſt and his whole Body: I in them, and thou in me, ſaith Chriſt, that they may be made perfect in one. Chriſt and his Saints make but one Temple, one Man; being but one Fleſh, one Nature, &c. The fourth account. Joh. 17. 23 1 Cor. 12. 12.

Fifthly, In that this Jaſper is ſaid to be one of the Foundations, and that too the firſt and undermoſt; He ſheweth farther, that Chriſt is the Foundation of them before God, that are the Foundation of him before men: The Twelve do bear up Chriſt before the World, as the twelve brazen Oxen did hold up the Molten Sea in the Temple; and Chriſt doth bear up the Twelve before his Father, as the high Prieſts did carry the twelve Stones on their Breaſt-plate of Judgment, when they went to make an Atonement for the Sins of the People, into the Holieſt. The fifth account. 1 Kin. 7. 25. Exod. 28. 29.

Sixthly, It ſheweth us further, That though the Apoſtles ſhall be adorned with the Converſion of thoſe that they ſhall win to the Lord Chriſt; yet they will never be able to ſtand under that Glory and Honour, unleſs they are ſupported and upheld by Chriſt, as their Foundation. Sirs, As Chriſt is the Strength of his People in their VVork for him in this VVorld, ſo he muſt be their Strength by which they muſt ſtand under the Reward they ſhall have for their labour, when this VVorld is ended: And hence it is, that the Prophet ſaith, They ſhall hang upon him all the Glory of his Fathers Houſe, the Off-ſpring and the Iſſue; all Veſſels of ſmall quantity, from the Veſſels of Cups, even to the Veſſels of Flagons; and again, he ſhall build the Temple of the Lord, and he ſhall bear the Glory. He ſhall bear the Glory of our Salvation from Sin, Preſervation in the midſt of all Temptations, and of our going to Glory; alſo he ſhall bear the Glory of our labour in the Goſpel, of our Gifts and Abilities, of making our Labour and VVork effectual to the ſaving of Sinners, that in all things he might have the preheminence. The ſixth account. Iſa. 22 24. Zec. 6. 13. Col. 1. 18.

Seventhly, In that the Foundations are twelve, and Chriſt the undermoſt of them; It ſignifieth that all that are converted by the Twelve, as they ſhall be for the garniſhing of the Twelve, ſo alſo both the Twelve, with all that they are garniſhed with, ſhall be for garniſhing of Chriſt; we The ſeventh account.

ſhall ſtick like Pearls in the Crowns of the twelve Apoſtles, and they again with all their Glory ſhall ſtick in the Crown of Chriſt. And hence it is that you find the four and twenty Elders, which four and twenty do (as I conceive) hold forth the Twelve, both in the firſt and ſecond Jeruſalem; I ſay, hence it is that you find them take their Crowns from off their Heads, and caſt them down before the Throne of God, and of the Lamb, crying, Bleſſing, and Honour, and Glory and Power be unto him that ſits upon the Throne, and to the Lamb for ever and ever.

The eighth Account.

Laſtly, One thing more of this goodly Jaſper, and then to the reſt; which thing is this, That Jaſper that here you find to be the firſt in the twelve Foundations, even that Jaſper you find to be the laſt of all among the Stones in the * Breaſt-Plate of Judgment: from whence you may note, 1. That Chriſt as he is to be the * Author, or firſt of our Faith, ſo alſo he is to be the Finiſher, or laſt of our Faith. 2. That as he is to be the * Captain and Leader of his People, ſo he is to be the Rereward and bringer-up of his People; He is to go before them to lead them the way; and to come behind them to bring them all up. 3. Again, foraſmuch as he is ſaid to be laſt before he is firſt; that is, laſt in Exodus, and after that, firſt in the Revelations; it may be to ſhew us, that Chriſt was firſt to be leaſt, loweſt and laſt, and then to be greateſt, higheſt and firſt. He firſt humbled himſelf to the Death, even to the ſhameful Death of the Croſs; and then was by God his Father exalted and placed above every Name: As he alſo himſelf doth witneſs, ſaying, Ought not Chriſt to have ſuffered theſe things, and to have entered into his Glory.

68. The firſt Foundation was a Jaſper, the ſecond a Saphir, the third a Chalcedony, the fourth an Emerald, the fifth Sardonix, the ſixth Sardius, the ſeventh Chryſolite, the Eighth Beryl, the ninth Topaz, &c. Touching the Jaſper, you ſee what I have ſaid. Now all I have to ſay to the reſt of them, it is in general theſe three things.

Touching the reſt of the Foundations.

Firſt, In that the Foundations are all and every one of them Precious Stones, it ſignifieth that all the Doctrines of the New Jeruſalem, will be only the precious Doctrine of the twelve Apoſtles; not common Stuff, not raked out of the Dunghils and Muckheaps of this World, and from among the Toys of Antichriſt, but ſpiritual, heavenly, and glorious. He that hath his Word, ſhall then ſpeak it faithfully, For what is the Chaff to the Wheat, ſaith the Lord?

Jer. 23 32.

Secondly, In that they are called after the Names of Precious Stones; it ſignifieth alſo, that at that day none ſhall be uſed or put into the Miniſtry, but thoſe that have received ſpiritual and heavenly Gifts from above. 'Tis not every babling Fellow, not thoſe that look for their Abilities from the Rudiments of the World, that then ſhall be of any Value or Account. He muſt be a coſtly Stone, a Stone about which the Lord Jeſus hath beſtowed the Coſt of his heavenly Abilities, even he whom the Lord Jeſus ſhall appear unto for that very purpoſe, to make him a Miniſter: He ſhall be a Miniſter, and none elſe at that day. The other ſhall be aſhamed every one of his Viſion; yea, and ſhall in thoſe days be ſo contemptible, that their Father and their Mother ſhall * reprove them, and count them Liars; yea, and ſhall be ready to run them through, while they are prophetying in their rough Garments to deceive.

* Zech. 13. 3, 4, 5.

 The differing nature and Operations of theſe Stones, do hold forth the differences of adminiſtrations and operations that were, and will ever be among the true and holy Miniſters of the Lord Jeſus.*

Thirdly, In that theſe precious Stones are not all of one and the ſame Nature but every one of them ſeveral, and diverſe one from another: It argueth that the Gifts of the Apoſtles, and ſo of the Miniſters of the new Jeruſalem, ſhall be * differing one from another in Glory and Operation; yet mark as in theſe Stones, ſo in every one of them ſhall be perfect Glory, according to the Nature of God's working by his Spirit; as the Nature of the Jaſper is perfect in his Kind, and the Nature of the Saphir is perfect in his. Theſe Stones, ſome of them are of greater Light and Clearneſs than others; and ſo ſome of the Apoſtles are chiefeſt. Some of theſe Stones, again, they are of a more fiery and burning Colour than others, they being bright alſo, but of a more mild Brightneſs. Therefore ſome of the Miniſtry are called the Sons of Thunder, when others are ſtiled by the Name of the Sons of Conſolation. The Gifts are differing, being diverſe, their Adminiſtrations are differing, and the Operations of them alſo are differing, though all theſe things are from that one and the ſelf ſame ſpirit, working in every one ſeverally as he pleaſes. All theſe things will ſpangle in the New Jeruſalem, and carry their full Breadth and Sway as in the days of old.

2 Cor. 11. 5. Rom. 12. 6. Mark 3. 17. Act. 4 36. 1 Cor. 12. 4, 5, 6.

To conclude this, In that he here ſaith, That the Foundations of the Wall are theſe twelve Stones; he doth it to ſhew that now alſo the former Miniſtration that was in the Apoſtles Days will be the ſame, and in full Force again: For their Gifts of Knowledge, Judgment and Authority, they are ſuch as have to this Day lain buried, as it were with the Apoſtles themſelves; but now they ſhall ſhew themſelves again, even theſe Foundation-ſtones, Stones that are great Stones, Stones of ten Cubits, and Stones of eight Cubits. Thus much of the Glory of the Foundations.

1 Kings 7. 10.

Verſe 21. And the twelve Gates are twelve Pearls, every ſeveral Gate was of one Pearl; and the Street of the City was pure Gold, as it were tranſparent Glaſs. Having thus ſhewed us the Glory of this City, Wall and Foundations, he now comes to ſhew us the Glory of the Gates, and of the Street of the City.

69.

And the twelve Gates are twelve Pears—— The Gates, I told you before, they ſignifie Chriſt, both as he is the way to Communion with the God of this City, and with the Inhabitants thereof, that ſo they may have a Share in the Priviledges of the ſame. I told you alſo then, that though he tells us exactly of the Meaſure both of City and Wall, yet he tells us nothing of the Meaſure of theſe twelve Gates, and goings in thereat; and the Reaſon is, becauſe Chriſt as he is the way to Grace, he is beyond all meaſure, both as to Fulneſs and Freeneſs. And now again, he puts us to the ſame Plunge with the unſearchable Riches of the Lord Chriſt; for who can count the worth of a Pearl as big as the Gates of a City? as indeed, when Chriſt himſelf doth ſpeak of the Parable of the Pearl in the Field, he only telleth us that there is ſuch a one, but never valueth the worth thereof, only he ſaith, a Pearl of great Price, and ſo leaveth it. Now when he ſaith that the Gates are Pearls, he thereby inſinuates ſeveral things. As

Eph. 3. 8. Mat. 13. 35, 36.

Firſt, To ſhew us how rich a Treaſure Chriſt Jeſus our Lord is, and will be to all thoſe that by him ſhall enter in through the Gates into this City, Riches and Honour are with me, ſaith he, even durable Riches and Righteouſneſs. My Fruit (or the Fruit of entering in by me) it is better than Gold, and my Revenues than choice Silver. I lead in the way of Righteouſneſs, in the midſt of the Paths of Judgment; That I may cauſe them that love me to inherit Subſtance, and I will fill their Treaſures.

Chriſt a rich Chriſt to all that enter here.

Prov. 8. 18, 19, 20, 21. Ephes. 3. 8.

Chriſt is rich indeed, both in his blood, Reſurrection, Interceſſion, and all his Offices, together with his Relations, and all his Benefits; all which he beſtoweth upon every one that receiveth him, and maketh them unſpeakably wealthy.

Secondly, the Pearl, as it is rich, and ſo worth much, ſo again it is beautiful and amiable, even to take the Eyes of all Beholders; It hath, I ſay, a very ſweet and ſparkling Light and Glory in it, enough to take the Eye, and affect the Heart of all thoſe that look upon it. And thus is Chriſt to all that come to him, and by him to the Father, &c. My Beloved, ſaith ſhe, is white and ruddy, the chiefeſt of ten thouſand; his Mouth is moſt ſweet, he is altogether lovely.

Chriſt is beautiful to all that enter here.

Cant. 5. 10. 16.

The

The Mother of Harlots had some Knowledge of the Beauty and Glory of this Stone, and knew that it had a very taking and drawing Glory in it; and therefore she gets it for some time to adorn her self withal; She was decked with Gold and precious Stones, and Pearls, and was therefore called the well-favoured Harlot; by which means she hath drawn into her Lewdness the Kings and Kingdoms of the World; who have in such sort been entangled with her Beauty, and with her Fornication, that they have been adulterated from God and their own Salvation: For indeed she used this Pearl but for to get them to drink of her Fornication, that they might drink and spue, and fall and never rise more. But now when he saith, the Gates are Pearl, it is as if he had said, This Woman is stript of her Beauty and delicate Ornaments; the * Pearl is taken from her, and is set in its right Place, even to be for the Gates of Jerusalem. Wherefore it is to be expected, that many should be taken with the way of entrance into this beloved City, in the day that she shall be set up, and appear in her heavenly Beauty. The Glory of that City must needs be great, whose Wall is Jasper, and Gates are Pearl.

Rev 18. 4. Ezek. 16 17. Nah. 3. 4. * Rev. 18. 21, 22, 23. Prov. 8. 35. & 3. 35. 1 Cor. 2. 8. Joh. 17. 24.

70. Christ only can let in Souls into the privileges of his Church. Rev. 22. 22 & 3. 7.

And the twelve Gates are twelve Pearls. Not Pearls and other precious Stones commixed, but Pearl only: To signifie that Christ only can let in Souls into this City, that they may partake of the goodness and Priviledges thereof. 'Tis not he and Saints together, neither is it all the Saints and Angels in Heaven without him, He alone hath the Key of David, and that openeth, and no Man shutteth; and that shutteth, and no Man openeth.

Secondly, As he saith, The several Gates are each of them Pearls: So he saith, that every several Gate was of One Pearl; of one entire Pearl. By which he would have us understand also, that as none can enter in but by Christ, so none can enter in but by whole Christ. Christ must be helpful to thee every way, or he will be helpful to thee no way; thou must enter in by every whit of Christ, or thou shalt enter in by never a whit of him. Wherefore look not to have him thy Saviour, if thou take him not for King and Prophet; nay, thou shalt not have him in any one, if thou dost not take him in every one of these. VVherefore the Prophet saith, He shall build the Temple of the Lord (that is, by his Prophetical Office) and he shall sit and rule upon his Throne, and he shall be a Priest upon his Throne, and the Counsel of Peace shall be between them both.

As none can enter in but by Christ, so none can enter in but by WHOLE CHRIST. Zech. 6. 12, 13.

71. And the Street of the City was pure Gold, as it were transparent Glass. In these VVords there are four things to be enquired into.

Of the glory of the Street.

First, VVhat this Street is?

Secondly, VVhy he saith not [Streets] but [Street] as of one?

Thirdly, VVhy this Street is called by the Term of pure Gold?

Fourthly, And why it should look like transparent Glass?

For the First, A Street ordinarily is the Place of common Concourse, and the Place of continual open Salutation, and taking Acquaintance one of another; and as touching this Street, we are also to understand it of the open and common Place or VVay of God's VVorship, in which Saints salute each other, and acquaint themselves together; also here the VVorld are converted, Saints built up and edified, &c. Wisdom cryeth without, she uttereth her Voice in the Streets, saith Solomon, she cryeth in the chief Places of Concourse, in the opening of the Gates: in the City she uttereth her Words; that is, in the publick and righteous Ordinances of the Lord Jesus, which he hath ordained in his Church, for Men to travel and trade in, for the good and wholsome Merchandize of Heaven, as the Men of this VVorld do for the things thereof, in the Streets and open Places of their Cities and Places of Priviledge.

Prov. 1. 20, 21. What is meant by Street. Prov. 8. 1, 23. and 9. 1, 2, 3.

Thus it was in the Figure when the City Jerusalem was builded after the Captivity (as ours shall be at, and after the Overthrow and Downfall of Antichrist) for then it is said that the People, to hear the Law were gathered together in the Street, even in the Water-Street; there they heard the Sence given, and there they were convinced of their VVickedness: also there they received the Knowledge of God's goodness to them, and there they received Power to eat the Fat, and drink the Sweet, to eat and drink and be merry, and to cast away Sadness and Fear. This by way of Allegory is called the way for the wayfaring Men, even the way of Holiness, over which the Unclean shall not in any wise pass: The way in which they learn to know God and themselves, and the way of Newness of Life, in which every one walks that entereth in by the Gates of New Jerusalem. And it is most sutable to the Matter that went before, To understand the Street to be the way of God, the way of Holiness and Newness of Life: because as it is natural for the Stranger, so soon as ever he is entered the Gates of a City, to have his Feet in the Streets of the City; so it is natural for the Sinner, so soon as ever he is entered into the Church by Christ, to have his Feet treading in the Way and Paths of Holiness. Wherefore it is usual in the holy Scripture to call the Transformation of the Sinner from Satan to God, a holy Way, and also to admonish him that is so transformed, to walk in that way, saying, Walk in the Faith, Love, Spirit, and Newness of Life, and walk in the Truth, Ways, Statutes and Judgments of God.

Neh. 8. Nehem. chap. 8. The Gate Psal. 86. 11 & 143. 8. Ezra 11. 20 Ezek 37. 24. Gal. 5, 25. Rom. 4. 12.

He that entereth not by these Gates into the City, he cannot walk in Newness of Life; but he that hath entered in by them, he cannot but walk in Newness of Life. The next thing then that a Man passeth into, when he is entered into the New Jerusalem, is to walk in the STREET thereof, the way of Holiness, even the way in which Men learn to fear God, and to believe in, and love the Lord Jesus, &c.

Ephes. 5. 1, 2. 2 Joh. 4. Rom. 6. 4.

Secondly, Now the Street or way of Holiness, it is on purpose called, not many, but one, to shew us the Perfection of Light, Grace, Faith and spiritual Comfort that the Inhabitants of this City shall then enjoy. Daniel also calleth it ONE Street, to signifie the same thing: Wherefore from hence I gather, that then all Saints shall walk (as before I have made appear) even in one Street, in one Way, and in one Light. It is Antichrist that hath brought in all those Crossings, By-Lanes, and odd Nooks, that to this day many an honest Heart doth greatly lose it self in; but at this day they shall be otherwise minded, that is, made all to savour one thing, and to walk one way, not biting and devouring each other as now. And indeed there is all reason it should be thus, for the Street it self is but one: There is but ONE God, ONE Lord Jesus, ONE Spirit, ONE Faith, ONE Baptism, even as we are also called in ONE Hope of our Calling: Now therefore when Saints have the Rubbish of Antichristian Darkness and Trumpery removed; then they shall have, as they also had of old, but one Heart, one Soul, one Judgment, one Mind, and shall with one Heart and Mouth glorifie God. The which also shall be prayed for of all the Saints, even of all that have received the pure Language before these things come to pass. They shall call upon the Name of the Lord with ONE Lip, to serve him with ONE Consent. Oh! the heavenly spiritual Harmony that will be in the City of God in those days, *when the Trumpeters and Singers shall be as one, to make one Sound, then the House shall be filled with a Cloud.

Why this Street is called not many, but one. Dan. 9. 25. Why the Street is called Gold. Eph. 4. 5, 6. Act. 2. 24. & 32. 33. Phil. 1. 27. Rom. 15. 6. Zeph. 3. 9. * 2 Chro. 5. 13. & 1 King. 6. 30. Cant. 3. 10.

Thirdly, When he saith, that the Street of the City was pure Gold; he alludes to the Floor in Solomon's Temple, which was overlaid with Gold; he alludes to Solomon's Chariot also, whose Bottom was paved with Love, and overlaid with Gold. By the Floor of the Temple, we are to understand the way of Holiness; and by the Chariot of Solomon, mon, the triumphant Glory of that way. Again in that he ſaith this Street is Gold, he would have us to underſtand the worth and treaſure that is laid up in the ways of God, and of a truly gracious heart. Firſt for the worth and treaſure that is laid up in the ways of God They beget Light, they change the heart, they lead from Death, the Devil and Hell, to Life, God and the Kingdom of Heaven; in them God walks, and thoſe that walk there alſo are ſure to meet with him. O this way, It is the way which no Fowl knoweth, and which the Vulturs eye hath not ſeen; it cannot be gotten for Gold, neither ſhall Silver be weighed for it; the Gold and the Cryſtal cannot equal it, and the Exchange of it ſhall not be for Jewels of fine Gold. No mention ſhall be made of Coral, or of Pearls; for the price of Wiſdom is above Rubies. All the ways of God they are pleaſantneſs, and all his Paths are Peace, and ought to be preferred before our neceſſary food.

Pſal. 119. 130. & 119. 9. Prov. 2. Iſa. 64. 5. Job 28. 7. 15, 16, 17. 18, 28. Pro. 3. 17.

Again, As the Ways of God are thus rich, and ſo far above the Gold and Rubies of the world; ſo alſo is that ſanctified and gracious heart, without which no man can walk in this Golden Street. It is not every Clown with his clumping dirty ſhoes that is admitted into Kings Privy-Chambers, and private Palaces: Neither doth, or will God at the day of New Jeruſalem ſuffer any to trace about this Golden Street, but ſuch as have Golden feet, and that beautified with goodly ſhooes. For, as for this Street all that walk in it, they muſt be [golden men] with [golden hearts] and with Graces that are much more precious than Gold that periſheth.

Cant. 7. 1. 1 Pet. 1. 7. Rev. 3. 18.

Further; In that he ſaith, this Street is Gold, pure Gold; he giveth us to underſtand alſo, what great delight and pleaſure the Lord's People will take in his Ways and Ordinances in that day: There will not then be that backwardneſs to do good, and to receive God, as there is in theſe more dry and empty days of the Goſpel. As Gold is pleaſing to the covetous man and worldling, ſo ſhall the Ways of God be to the Saints and Godly at that day. Now we have ſtrong Corruptions and weak Grace, but then we ſhall have ſtrong Grace, and weak, withered Corruptions. You that are ſpiritual, you know what an high and goodly lifting up of heart one ſmall gale of the good Spirit of God will make in your ſouls, how it will make your luſts to languiſh, and your ſouls to love, and take pleaſure in the Lord that ſaves you. You know, I ſay, what a flame of love, and bowels, and compaſſion, and ſelf-denial, and endeared affection to God and all Saints, it will beget in the ſoul. O! it is good to be here, ſaith the gracious heart: Well, and ſo thou ſhalt be always, if thou live to ſee New Jeruſalem ſetled in her own place.

Iſa. 65. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24.

73. What is meant by Glaſs.

And the Street of the City was pure Gold, as it were tranſparent Glaſs. Mark, a Street of Gold like Glaſs, a Street of Gold, as it were tranſparent Glaſs. By Glaſs here, as alſo in the eighteenth verſe, we are to underſtand the Word. Wherefore when he ſaith, the Street, the Golden Street was like unto Glaſs; he means, that the walking and carriage of the Saints at this day ſhall be like unto, or according to the Word, the Life of the Saints anſwering the Life of the Word, and Rule of the Lord Chriſt.

Jam. 1. 23. 24 25.

The firſt Reaſon why tranſparent Glaſs.

Again, in that he doth add to Glaſs, the word Tranſparent, he would have us to underſtand thereby theſe two things.

First, That the walking and ways of Holineſs of the Saints ſhall be more in the Power and Spirit of the VVord, than all along in the eign of Antichriſt they have been. For tranſparent Glaſs, it is the moſt clear and excellent Glaſs, and goeth as far beyond other ſorts of Glaſs, as he that walks in the ſpirit and power of the Commandment, goes beyond him that only walks in the Letter and outward VVord thereof. Alas, the Churches of Chriſt at their firſt aſſembling, will be like the coming together of Ezekiel's Bones, cloathed much with fleſh and ſinews, but greatly void of ſpirit and life. VVherefore the Spirit, Power, Holineſs and Majeſty that now will appear in the Church, it will greatly tranſcend and go beyond the Spirit, Power and Holineſs that hath accompanied her in former days: Then ſhall the Sun be aſhamed, and the Moon confounded, when the Lord ſhall reign in Mount Zion, &c. Then ſhall the Sun be aſhamed, that is, then ſhall that little light and underſtanding of the VVord that hath been in the Church in the days when a third part of the glory of the Goſpel was hid by the ſmoak of the Pit, be as it were laid aſide, and be uſeleſs; every Saint ſhall be under the light of a Sun that ſhines ſeven-fold brighter, even as the light of ſeven days. VVe ſee it is ſo in ſome meaſure at this day; VVhat light, and with what clearneſs do the Saints in this day ſee the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God, beyond what the holy and goodly Martyrs and Saints did in the days that were before us, Hus, Bilny, Ridly, Hooper, Cranmer, with their Brethren, if they were now in the VVorld, would cry out and ſay, Our light and knowledge of the Word of the Teſtament of Chriſt, was much inferiour to the Light that at this day is broken forth, and that will yet daily in deſpite of Men and Devils, diſplay its Rayes and Beams amongſt the ſons of men! VVhen the Children of Iſrael were to depart the Land of Egypt, the Lord made known himſelf to them, otherwiſe than ever he made known himſelf *either to Abraham, Iſaac, or Jacob their Fathers. The Book alſo, at the recovering the Church, from under Antichriſt, is to be unlocked and unſealed gradually, firſt one Seal, and afterwards another, and laſt of all the ſeventh, before which time the Book will never quite be opened, according to that of the Angel, Go thy way, Daniel, for the words are cloſed up, and ſealed until the time of the end; in which time (which is the time of New Jeruſalem) they ſhall be opened, and men ſhall conſider it perfectly: VVherefore, Ezek. 37: 7, 8. Iſa. 24. 23. Rev. 8. 12. & 9. 2. * Exod. 6. 3. Rev. 5th. and 6th. chapters. Dan. 12. 9. Jer. 30. 24. Jer. 23. 20.

Secondly, It muſt needs be that the Church return to her old and primitive love: for what is the cauſe of the want of love to Chriſt, and one another now, but our want of light in the Things, Myſteries and Priviledges of the glorious Goſpel of the Son of God? VVherefore this being come, then Love will reign, and have her perfect work among the Godly. Love is the very quinteſſence of all the Graces of the Goſpel, and is as tranſparent to them; the greateſt of theſe is Charity; it is the fulfilling of the Law, the Bond of Perfectneſs, and the moſt excellent way: VVherefore the holy Ghoſt doth mean by this word TRANSPARENT Glaſs, that the height of Light, and the height of Love will be found in this City; all their things ſhall be done without confuſed ſmoak and darkneſs, and alſo without ſpiritual pride and deſire of vain-glory: then ſhall they indeed do all their things in Charity, and in the feeling Bowels and Fellowſhip of the Goſpel: Then ſhall the Offerings of Judah and Jeruſalem be pleaſant to the Lord, as in the days of old, and as in former times.

The ſecond Reaſon why Tranſparent Glaſs. 1 Cor. 13. 13. 1 Cor. 12. 31. Rom. 13. 10 1 Cor. 16. 14. Col. 3. 14. Mal. 3. 4.

Alas! Though now through Grace, the Saints of God have attained to more Light and Knowledge in the Myſteries of the Kingdom of God, than heretofore they had; yet their Light is far inferior to that which will be, when this City is builded: Our ſpiritual Union and Fellowſhip in the very Bowels of the Grace and Goſpel of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt alſo is yet greatly defective. It is ſaid that no man was able to enter into the Temple of God, until the ſeven Plagues of the ſeven Angels were fulfilled: but when the ſeven laſt Plagues are ſpent, and when all the Adverſaries of the Church, which cauſed terror in the Land of the Living, ſhall be laid with the uncircumciſed in the Pit, then look for Golden days, and not till then; then ſhall this Golden Street be finiſhed; that is, then ſhall the Light, Faith, Love, and Holineſs of the Goſpel be walked in and embraced, in a tranſparent and tranſcending ſcending way: He ſhall cauſe them that come of Jacob to take Root, Iſrael ſhall bloſſom and bud, and fill the face of the World with Fruit.

Iſa 27. 6.

74. The time when this City ſhall have no Temple.

Verſ. 22. And I ſaw no Temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the Temple of it. Theſe words do, in my preſent Light, point at the end of the days of this Jeruſalem here in this VVorld; and in ſo doing, they ſignifie to us, that when ſhe is builded, ſhe ſhall ſtand and continue in this her glorious ſtate afore-mentioned, even untill that Glory be ſwallowed up of that which doth excel.

That they do point at the end of her day in this world, I do gather from theſe particulars:

Firſt, Becauſe they are the laſt words of the deſcription of her Glory, (that is, theſe and the words enſuing, which is but one and the ſame continued ſpeech) and it is eaſie to conclude that John in this deſcription of this City, doth from firſt to laſt, even from the firſt appearing of her as ſhe cometh out of Babylon, till ſhe be perfect in Glory, give us the relation of it: firſt, I ſay, ſhewing us her deſcending, then her building, and afterward the Glory of that building; at the end of which alſo he ſheweth to us with what Glory he will crown this City, even by ſwallowing of her up with a far more exceeding and eternal weight of Glory.

Secondly, Becauſe in theſe words he doth abſolutely cut off all and every whit of her outward and external Glory; that is, as to outward Ordinances, and Temple-VVorſhip, which yet was to be moſt famous for a long time in this new and goodly City; which he verifies in the eleventh Chapter of this Prophecie, (which Chapter is a ſummary collecting of the Church in her Fall and Riſe under Antichriſt, which Church there in her Riſe, is this City here in her glory in this World) he tells us there, I ſay, that when the Kingdoms of this World were become the Kingdoms of the Lord, and of his Chriſt, that THEN THE TEMPLE OF GOD WAS OPENED IN HEAVEN; that is, Temple-Worſhip under the Goſpel recovered into its former and Primitive ſtate and purity, in which it was before the coming in of the Man of Sin: which Temple he here utterly ſhutteth out, ſaying, I ſaw no Temple therein; in the room of which he ſetteth the preſence of the Lord Jeſus, and God his Father, making them to ſtand and be in the room of Temple and Goſpel-Worſhip, in that manner as it is uſed while we here live in the Fleſh: For the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the Temple of it. 'Tis true, the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the Temple of this Church in her loweſt condition, therefore much more when ſhe is brought into the condition that ſhe is in at her rebuilding; but yet, neither in her low eſtate, nor yet in her higheſt, is it proper to ſay, that ſo long as ſhe is in this World, God will be a Temple to her, in oppoſitipn to her Temple and Goſpel-Worſhip, in outward and New-Teſtament-Adminiſtrations: Wherefore when he ſaith, He ſaw no Temple therein, and that from this reaſon, Becauſe the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the Temple of it; he muſt needs aim at a ſtate to which the Church cannot attain until her Lord comes: For then will that which is perfect be come, and that which is in part be done away.

1 Cor. 13. 10.

75. What this excluded Temple ſignifies.

Now that the [Temple] in this place excluded, can ſignifie nothing elſe but the outward orderly way of God's Worſhip, which the Saints ought with Conſcience, in Faith, to be found in till their Lord comes: Conſider,

Firſt, That our New-Teſtament doth uſe the word Temple, three ſeveral ways:

1. For the outward Order and Worſhip or Diſcipline of the Goſpel.

Rev. 11. 1, 2, 3.

2. For the Body of Chriſt, which is his Church, &c.

3. And laſtly, For the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, which here are ſaid to be the Temple of this City.

Now then, when he ſaith, He ſaw NO Temple therein, he cannot exclude the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, for they are here ſaid to be the Temple of it: Neither can he ſhut out the Church, which is the Body of Chriſt, for that is the City it ſelf; yea, and the Church ſhall be God's Temple, and God and Chriſt the Temple of the Church for ever and ever: He muſt therefore by this word [no Temple] exclude onely the outward Way of Goſpel-Worſhip, in which the Saints in the times of the New-Teſtament, both meet and edifie each other; and alſo meet their God, and are bleſſed and refreſhed by him.

Again, That this outward Goſpel-Worſhip ſhould be laid aſide while the Church is in this World, before her Lord doth come to be enjoyed by her, as touching his Perſonal Preſence; it looks too like Ranting Opinions, and contradiction to Scripture, for me to believe. For when He comes, but not till then, ſhall theſe things be laid aſide.

1 Cor. 11. 26.

Beſides, That which yet confirms me more fully in this Opinion, is, Becauſe herein this New Jeruſalem doth moſt exactly anſwer the City and Temple, which was builded after the Captivity; which City and Temple being once built, it ſtood till Chriſt our Lord did viſit them in his own Perſonal coming the firſt time; as the Prophets alſo ſaid it ſhould: The Lord whom ye ſeek, ſaith one, ſhall ſuddenly come to his Temple; even the Meſſenger of the Covenant, whom ye delight in, behold, he ſhall come, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts: And again, I will ſhake all Nations, and the Deſire of all Nations ſhall come; and I will fill this Houſe with glory, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts: Wherefore the glory of this latter Houſe ſhall be greater than that of the former, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts: And I will give Peace in this place, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts.

Mal. 3. 1. Hag. 2. 6, 7, 8, 9.

Now obſerve, That from the time of the Building of the ſecond Temple, to the coming of Chriſt, the Worſhip of the Temple-Order was to be by all moſt devoutly and continually obſerved: but when the Lord Jeſus was come, and had eſtabliſhed his own more honourable and New-Teſtament Diſpenſation, then all the former Temple-Worſhip fell to the ground, and became (with all the Inſtruments of Worſhip that thereunto belonged) null and void; yea, and it was a derogation to his Goſpel to offer to uphold that former way of Worſhip, after he had by his own Perſonal Preſence and Spirit, brought in that other Diſpenſation. All which, I ſay, will be anſwered by our ſecond and New-Teſtament New Jeruſalem: For as the old Jeruſalem was builded after the Jews were come out of literal Babylon, ſo is our New Jeruſalem builded after our coming out of the Antichriſtian Oppreſſion of ſpiritual Babylon: again, As that City did after ſhe was builded, continue and retain her Temple-Worſhip, until the Perſonal appearing of Chriſt the firſt time; ſo new Jeruſalem ſhall retain and hold her outward New-Teſtament-Worſhip till He comes in Perſon the ſecond time: After all which, as the ſecond Temple was ſwallowed up of a more heavenly and ſpiritual Diſpenſation, by the Perſonal Preſence of Chriſt; ſo ſhall alſo the New Jeruſalem Temple-VVorſhip be ſwallowed up by the glory of the appearing of the Perſon of Chriſt the ſecond time; as Paul ſaith, for he ſpeaks in the Perſon of Chriſt. Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine, &c.

1 Tim. 4. 13.

Thus then, when this holy City doth once again appear upon the ſtage, and in her own ſituation, and when ſhe hath been ſhewed in the Attire of a Queen before the face of all Nations, and their Kings; and when ſhe hath by the Glory of the Light of her New-Teſtament-Temple, gathered, as with a Net, the number of Gods Elect; then ſhe is taken into her Husbands Privy-Chamber, where ſhe and he alone ſhall be in that bleſſed

Fellowſhip

Fellowſhip and Communion that ſhall not again be once eclipſed, or in the leaſt interrupted to Eternity.

Thus have I ſhewed you my preſent Light into this portion of the holy Scripture; if any can give me further, I hope I ſhall not refuſe it: but as yet, methinks, this ſhould be the genuine Sence of this place, and is the very Track of John himſelf: For after he had ſeen the Wall for preſent Safety, the Foundations for Continuation, the Gates for Entrance, and the like; then he comes to tell us of the Glory of all, and of the Street it ſelf at laſt; which indeed is the laſt and end of all the Order of God, and to continue till an end be put to it by Mortality's being ſwallowed up of Life: As is yet more fully ſhewed you in the next Verſe of this Deſcription.

76. Verſe 23. And the City had no need of the Sun, nor of the Moon to ſhine in it: for the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the Light thereof.

And the City had no need of the Sun] That is, after Temple-worſhip is over: this Verſe is added therefore for further clearing up and illuſtrating of that which he ſaid before: there he tells us this City had no Temple, and here he tells us ſhe needed neither the Light of the Sun or Moon: There he ſaid, The Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, is the Temple of it; and here he ſaith, They are the Light thereof: The ſubſtance of which, in the Language of the Holy Ghoſt, is this: The reaſon why Temple-worſhip is now gone and over, it is becauſe there is now no need in this City of the Light of the Sun and the Moon; and the reaſon why ſhe hath now no need of them, is becauſe the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb are to it inſtead of both Temple and Light: For the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the Temple of it: For the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the Light thereof: Whereby we may note, that though the Light in which ſhe deſcended (being the Purity of Temple-worſhip) was glorious, yet this City ſhall, when ſhe is once builded, ſo advance from Glory to Glory, that at the laſt ſhe ſhall be more happy without the help of that Light, without which ſhe had been for ever unbuilded, than ſhe was by it in the midſt of the Fulneſs of it.

77. And the City had no need of the Sun, &c. The VVord Sun is in Scripture taken divers ways; ſometimes for the true and natural Sun in the Firmament; ſometimes again for Perſecution, and the Rage of the Enemy, &c. but I take Sun here not to be any of theſe, but for the good and pure Word of the Goſpel of Chriſt, unfolded, opened, and explained by the Servants of Chriſt; which Sun is the ſame that before you find to be darkened by the Antichriſtian Fog and Miſt, which was darkened, I ſay, even to a third part of it. This Sun, or VVord of the Goſpel, Paul ſaith it is ſhadowed forth even by that which ſhineth in the Firmament of Heaven, becauſe as that by its Light and Shining, giveth to thoſe that have Eyes, to ſee the Glory and Excellency of this VVorld; ſo by the Shining and Light of the Goſpel, is given the Light of the Knowledge of the Glory of God in the Face of Jeſus Chriſt, and a View of the Excellency of the things of the World to come. Now, I ſay, though while the Church is in this World, and on this ſide the State of Glory, ſhe cannot live and flouriſh without the Shining of this Sun, but would be lifeleſs and lightleſs, and without all Heat and Comfort (For it is the entrance of the Law that giveth Light here, and that lightneth the Eyes, making wiſe the Simple) yet at the day of the coming of her Lord in Perſon, ſhe ſhall ſee far more clearly without the thus ſhining of this Sun, than ever ſhe did, or could ſee with and by it. And the City had no need of the Sun: For when by the Light of it, the whole Body of the Elect have found out the way to this City, and when they have alſo by this Light accompliſhed and fulfilled all their Work; yea, when the Lord himſelf is come, and doth immediately communicate far more glorious Light to this City without it, than ever he did by it; What need is there then of the Light of this Sun? for that is to be of uſe but for the time preſent, even until the whole of the Body of the Lord Jeſus is come to the perfect Meaſure, even to the Meaſure of the Stature of the Fulneſs of Chriſt: So then, when the Body of Chriſt is in every Sence compleated in this Life by the Light of the Sunſhine of his holy Goſpel, what need of this Sun? And hence it is that the Word of the Goſpel is called, The Word of Reconciliation, the Word of Faith, and the Word of this Life. Wherefore, I ſay, it ceaſeth when there is no more to be reconciled, and when Faith in all is perfected, and when this Life is put an end unto by the coming in of another: For when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part ſhall be done away.

Joſh. 10. 12. Mat. 13. 10. Rev. 8. 12. Rev. 9. 2. 2 Cor. 4. 3, 4. Pſal. 19. 7, 8. & 119. 130. Eph. 4. 10, 11, 12. 2 Cor. 5. 19. Rom. 10. 8 Act. 5. 20 1 Cor. 13. 8, 9, 10.

The Miniſters of the Goſpel are of uſe ſo long as there is either Elect to be converted, or any converted Soul to be perfected by that Meaſure of Perfection that God hath appointed on this ſide Glory; but when this Work is done, their Miniſtry ceaſeth: Wherefore, though like the Widows Son, they are buſie to borrow Veſſels for the Oyl ſo long as it is running, and emptying it ſelf out of the great and principal Barrel; yet when it ceaſeth, as it will do when there are no more Veſſels to be found, then let them ſit down as they, and receive of the Fruits of their Labour, for the Reward of their Work is then only to be enjoyed by them. 2 King. 4. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

78. And the City had no need of the Sun, neither of the Moon to ſhine in it. This Word Moon alſo, as well as that of the Sun, is to be taken divers ways in the Scriptures of Truth; ſometimes for the natural one, ſometimes for the World and Perſecutors, &c. but Moon here, is to be taken for the Church of God, with reference to her Life, Converſation, Duties, and exemplary Behaviour, in which ſhe is converſant on this ſide Glory; according to that of the Song, Who is this that looketh forth as the Morning, fair as the Sun, clear as the Moon, and terrible as an Army with Banners? When he ſaith then, that at this day there ſhall be here no need of the ſhining Light of the Moon, he means that this City at this day, in the State ſhe is in when ſhe hath the Perſon of the Lamb in her, then ſhe ſhall have no need of the growth of Chriſtianity, for they ſhall be all perfect; nor no need of Mortification, for there ſhall be no Sin: they ſhall not need now, as in time paſt, to exhort and encourage one another to ſtick faſt to the Promiſe, for they ſhall be ſwallowed up of Life and open Viſion: Here ſhall be no need either of Prayer, of Repentance, of Faith, or of good Works, as afore: And the City had no need of the Sun, neither of the Moon to ſhine in it. Joſh. 10. 1. Rev. 12. 1. Pſal. 121. 6 Song 6. 10. 2 Cor. 5. 4.

Now, I ſay, the Holy Ghoſt is pleaſed to bring in here the ſhining Vertues of the Church, under the Notion of a ſhining Moon; becauſe as the Church her ſelf is compared to the Moon, ſo her Vertues are as naturally compared to a ſhining Light; as Chriſt ſaith, Let your Light ſo ſhine; and again, Let your Loins be girded, and your Lights burning: for indeed, while we are here, that Church and Congregation of the Lord doth moſt ſhine, and moſt ſend forth the golden Rays and pleaſant Beams of Chriſtianity, that is moſt in the exerciſe of the afore-mentioned Vertues: take away the Moon, and the Night is doubtful; or though the Moon be in the Firmament, if ſhe hath loſt her Light, the Night is not thereby made more comfortable: And thus, I ſay, it is firſt with the World, where there is no Church to ſhine, or where there is a Church that doth not ſo ſhine that others may ſee and be lighted: for while the day of time doth laſt, even the World it ſelf hath need of the ſhining of the Church; but at this day, this time will be no longer, becauſe the day of Eternity will break, and by that means cauſe the World that now is, even the World of the Ungodly, to ceaſe to have a Being here any longer. Therefore now no need of the Moon, or of the Light thereof, to ſhine before that which is not. Mat. 5. 16. Duk. 12. 35 Phil. 1. 15. The Life of the Church compared to the Light of the Moon upon a double Account.

Secondly

Secondly, Again, as the Church is in her Sight before Men as the Moon is in her Light in the Night to the World; ſo as I ſaid before, this City which is called alſo Heaven, ſhe even ſhe, ſhall have no need of theſe things, for ſhe ſhall be taken up in open Viſion, and ſhall be compleatly delivered from all Imperfection; ſhe ſhall not need now the Light of her Children to provoke her and to ſtir her up to this or the other Act of Holineſs, all ſhall be done, all ſhall be compleat, the Lord himſelf is come. Indeed while Chriſt is abſent as touching his Perſon, and while the Work of God is not yet compleatly done in the Church, there will be need both of the Light of Sun and Moon, but when the Work is done, and he come, then theſe things will be out of uſe. Thus The path Prov. 4 18. of the Juſt is as the ſhining light, which ſhineth more and more unto perfect day.

79. For the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. This is rendred as the reaſon, why at this day both the light of Sun and Moon are needleſs; it is, becauſe the Glory of God did lighten it, and becauſe the Lamb is the light thereof. Now the Glory of God muſt be underſtood in this place, not of that Glory that doth attend the Church in this world, for that Glory doth attend the Church upon the account of her Purity of VVorſhip, of Temple-VVorſhip, and doth either abide on her, or withdraw it ſelf, according to her exact obſerving the Rule, or declining from it, as I have ſhewed you in the * beginning of this diſcourſe. But the Glory that here you read of, it is a Glory that ſupplieth this City without thoſe Ordinances; yea, therefore, thoſe Ordinances (as the Temple and the light of the Sun and Moon) do ceaſe becauſe of the Glory of this Glory that now is come into this City: The City had no need of the Sun, neither of the Moon to ſhine in it, (mark) for the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

*See the Expoſition of the 11 verſ.

VVherefore, I ſay, this Glory that now he ſpeaks of, it is the Glory that ſhall poſſeſs this City at the end of her Glory in this World; wherefore, as ſaith the Holy Ghoſt by Iſaiah the Prophet, from this Iſa. 60. 19. day forward, The Sun ſhall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightneſs ſhall the Moon give light unto thee; but the Lord ſhall be unto thee an everlaſting Light, and thy God thy Glory.

80. For the Glory of God did lighten it, &c. Thus it was at the finiſhing of the Tabernacle in the VVilderneſs, and of the Temple at Jeruſalem; both which were figures in their finiſhing, of the finiſhing of the ſtate of the Church in this world: and it is ſaid of them, that in the day when they in all things were accompliſhed, according to the faſhion that was revealed before concerning their Order and accompliſhment, that then the Glory of God Exod. 4. [ſo] appeared upon them, that neither Moſes nor 33, 34. Aaron was able to enter in, or to ſtand therein, be- 1 King. 8. cauſe of the Cloud, and of the Glory of the Lord 9, 10, 11. that at that time filled the Houſe. Thus you ſee this City deſcends in one meaſure of Glory, and is conſummate in another meaſure of Glory. The Glory of the Lord was upon the Mount Sinai while the pattern of the Tabernacle was giving: but it reſted on the Tabernacle when the work thereof was finiſhed; to ſignifie, I ſay, that the Glory of God will reſt in his Ordinances and in his Church by them, ſo long as Ordinances are in uſe: but when they are needleſs, then it will reſt in the Church without them, and that more gloriouſly than ever it therein did reſt by them.

81. For the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the Light thereof. Mark; Though now there ſhall be no need of Temple, Sun, or Moon: yet Chriſt the Lamb, or the Man who was offered in ſacrifice for our Redemption, ſhall be of uſe and benefit; for, the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. VVherefore, all, that we (who are the ſaved) ſhall enjoy of Glory and Sweetneſs in another world, though we ſhall not enjoy it from God through Chriſt, by and in the Ordinances, yet we ſhall enjoy it through Chriſt the Lamb, without them; for the Lamb is the light of it. By this word [Lamb] he would have us underſtand that when we are in Glory, the blood, death and bloody conqueſt that the man Chriſt did get over our infernal enemies, will be of eternal uſe to us; becauſe that benefit of Chriſt ſhall not only for ever be the Foundation of our eternal felicity, but the burden of our Song of Glory in all our raptures among the Angels. It will be the Blood the Blood, the Rev. 9. 5. redeeming Blood of the Lamb. Bleſſing, glory, honour & 5. 13. and power be to him that ſits upon the Throne, and to the Zech. 3 9. LAMB for ever and ever. 'Tis he in whom will be found the ſeven Eyes, the ſeven Spirits of God, Rev. 5. 6. in whoſe light we ſhall ſee the heights and depths of thoſe Springs and everlaſting Fountains and Depths of Glory for ever; and indeed the conceit of the contrary is fooliſh. Is not Chriſt the Head, and we the Members? and do not the Members receive their whole light, guidance and wiſdom from it? Is not he alſo the price, the ground and bottom of our Happineſs, both in this world and that which is to come? And is it poſſible it ſhould be forgotten, or 1 Sam. 25. 29. that, by it, our Joy, Light and Heaven ſhould not be made the ſweeter to all Eternity. Our ſoul is Col. 3. 3, 4. now bound up in him, as in a bundle of life; and when we come thither, he is ſtill the Chriſt, our life; and it is by our being where he is that we ſhall Joh 17 24. behold his Glory and our Glory, becauſe he is glorified; For the Glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. As he ſaid, Ye now there- Joh 16. 22 fore have ſorrow: but I will ſee you again, and your heart ſhall rejoyce, and your Joy no man taketh from you.

Thus much of this City, her deſcending, her faſhion, her glory, and of her wading thorow glory, from glory to glory.

Verſ. 24. And the Nations of them that are ſaved 82. ſhall walk in the light of it; and the Kings of the Earth do bring their glory and honour to it. After this long and pleaſant Deſcription of this Holy and New Jeruſalem, the Holy Ghoſt now falleth upon a Relation of the People that ſhall be the Inhabitants of this City, and of their numerouſneſs and quality.

And the Nations, &c. The Nations of the world, both of the Jews and Gentiles.

Every one knoweth what the Nations are, wherefore I need not ſtay upon the explication of that, for it doth in general include the multitude of Eph. 2. 1, the ſinners of the world: Therefore when he ſaith, 2, 3. the Nations ſhall walk in the light of this City, it is as 1 Cor. 6. if he had ſaid, that at this day, when ſhe is here in 9, 10. her tranquillity, the ſinners and diſobedient among Tit. 3. 3. the ſons of men, ſhall by Multitudes and whole Kingdoms, come in and cloſe with the Church and Houſe of God. Theſe Spiders ſhall take hold with Prov. 30. their Hands, and be in Kings Palaces. 28.

And the Nations, &c. For this word, the Nations, 83. is a great word, and it comprehendeth much; How the mark, it doth not ſay a Nation, or ſome Nations, Nations neither doth it ſay, few or ſmall Nations, but in- ſhall flock definitely, the Nations, Many Nations, Strong Na- to New tions, the Nations in general: only he ties them up Jeruſalem. with this limit, the Nations of them that are [ſaved:] Iſa. 52 15. which yet is not ſo much ſpoken to clip off the mul- & 60. 22. titude that we ſuppoſe may then be converted, as & 2. 2. to ſhew us their qualifications and happineſs: as he ſaith by the Prophet in another place, Thy Children ſhall be all holy, or righteous and great ſhall be the Iſa. 60. 21. peace of thy Children. And the Nations of them that are ſaved ſhall walk in the light of it. Surely the holy Ghoſt would never have ſpoken at ſuch a rate as this, if he had not intended to ſhew us that at the day of the ſetting up of this Jeruſalem, a great harveſt of ſinners ſhall be gathered by the Grace of the Goſpel. But the truth is, the Scriptures go with open arms towards the latter end of the world, even as if they would graſp and compaſs about, almoſt all People then upon the face of the whole Earth, with the Grace and Mercy of God. The Earth, ſaith God, ſhall be filled with the knowledge of the Glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the Sea. As he ſaith, alſo, for the comfort of the Church in another place; Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands, thy Walls are continually before me. Thy Children ſhall make haſte; thy Deſtroyers and thoſe that made thee waſte ſhall go forth of thee. Lift up thine eyes round about, behold all theſe gather themſelves together to come unto thee: as I live, ſaith the Lord, thou ſhalt ſurely cloath thee with them all, as with an Ornament, and bind them on thee as a Bride doth. For thy waſte and deſolate places, and the land of thy deſtruction, ſhall even now be too narrow by reaſon of the Inhabitants, and they that ſwallowed thee up ſhall be far away. The Children which thou ſhalt have, after thou haſt loſt the other, ſhall ſay again in thine ears, The place is too ſtrait for me, give place that I may dwell. Then ſhalt thou ſay in thy heart, Who hath begotten me theſe, ſeeing I have loſt my Children, and am deſolate, a captive and removing to and fro? Who hath brought up theſe? Behold, I was left alone, theſe where have they been? Thus the multitudes of the Nations ſhall at this day be converted to the Lord, and be made the Inhabitants of this Jeruſalem; as he ſaith again, The Kingdoms of this world are become the Kingdoms of the Lord and of his Chriſt. And again, The Kingdom and Dominion, and the greatneſs of the Kingdom under the whole Heaven ſhall be given to the People of the Saints of the Moſt High, whoſe Kingdom is an everlaſting Kingdom, and all Dominions ſhall ſerve and obey him.

Iſa. 11. 9. Hab. 2. 14. Iſa. 49. 14, 15, &c. Rev. 11. 15. Dan. 7. 26, 27.

And obſerve it, theſe Promiſes are to be fulfilled in the laſt days, at the time of the pouring forth of the laſt Vial, which is the time of the ſounding of the laſt of the ſeven Trumpets; for then this City ſhall be builded, and Lucifer fallen from Heaven; then the Priſoners ſhall be ſet at liberty, and the People be gathered together, and the Kingdoms to ſerve the Lord. Rejoyce, O ye Nations, with his People, for he will avenge the Blood of his Servants, and will render vengeance to his adverſaries, and will be merciful to his Land, and to his People. Alas it is now towards the end of the world, and therefore now all is going, if the Lord ſteps not in with the riches of his Grace. Wherefore now at laſt before all be turned into fire and aſhes, behold the Lord caſts the net among the multitude of Fiſh, and the abundance of the Sea ſhall, without fail, be converted to Jeruſalem. Though Satan and Antichriſt have had their day in the world and by their outrage have made fearful havock of the Souls of ſinners from time to time, yet now at length God will ſtrike in for a ſhare with them, and his Son ſhall divide the Spoil with the Strong. Wherefore he now ſets up this City, puts the Glory of Heaven upon her, provides a New Heaven and a New Earth for her ſituation; drives prophaneneſs into the holes and dens of the Earth: giveth Righteouſneſs authority to reign in the world; and takes off the vail from all faces, that none may hereafter be for ever beguiled by blindneſs and ignorance. Now ſhall they make merry with the things of God; now ſhall all eat the fat and drink the ſweet: For in this Mountain ſhall the Lord make a feaſt of fat things to all People, a feaſt of Wine on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of Wine on the lees well refined.

84. And the Nations of them that are ſaved ſhall walk in the light of it. They ſhall walk in the light of it] That is, in the Light that is in it while it is in its purity in this world, and in the Glory of it when it is in its perfection and immortality in another. whence note by the way, that in the midſt of all this Glory, or while the glorious light of the Goſpel ſhall thus ſhine in the world, yet even then there will be ſome alſo that will not ſee and rejoyce in the Glory hereof: But as for thoſe, whoever they are, they are excluded from a ſhare in the bleſſed and goodly Privileges of this City: The Nations of them that are [SAVED] ſhall walk in the light of it.

85. And the Kings of the Earth do bring their Glory and Honour to it. By theſe words are great things held forth. He told us before that the Nations of them that are ſaved ſhall walk in the light of it; and here he tells us, that even their Kings alſo, the Kings of the Earth do bring their Honour and Glory to it. The People of the Nations they are but like to ſingle-pence and half-pence, but their Kings like Gold-Angels and Twenty-ſhilling-pieces. Wherefore when he ſaith, that the Kings of the Earth do bring their Glory and honour unto it; It argueth, that the Goſpel and the Grace of God, when it is diſplayed in its own complexion, even then they that have moſt of the Honour and Glory of the World will yet ſtoop their Top-gallant unto it: Becauſe of thy Temple which is at Jeruſalem, ſhall Kings bring Preſents to thee. The Kings of Tarſhiſh, and of the Iſles, ſhall bring Preſents to thee: The Kings of Sheba and Seba ſhall offer Gifts, yea, all Kings ſhall fall down before him, and all Nations ſhall ſerve him. The Kings ſhall ſee and ariſe, and Princes ſhall worſhip becauſe of the Lord, &c. The Kings ſhall come to thy light, and Princes to the brightneſs of thy riſing. The Kings ſhall ſee thy righteouſneſs, and all Kings thy Glory. Yea, that which hath not been told them ſhall they ſee, and that which they have not heard ſhall they conſider. All the Kings of the Earth ſhall praiſe thee, O Lord, when they hear the words of thy mouth; Yea they ſhall ſing in the ways of the Lord; for great is the Glory of the Lord. Thus we ſee, that though in the firſt day of the Goſpel, the poor, the halt, the lame and the blind are chief in the embracing of the tenders of Grace, yet in the latter day thereof, God will take hold of Kings.

How the Kings of the Earth ſhall flock into New Jeruſalem.

86. And the Kings of the Earth do bring their glory and honour to it. To it] That is to Jeruſalem. Wherefore this City muſt be built before they all of them will fall in love with her. Indeed, I do conceive, that ſome of them will lay their hand to help forward the work of this City, as did Hiram with Solomon, and Darius, Cyrus and Artaxerxes, with Ezra and Nehemiah, at the building and repairing the City, in the letter, in the days of old; But yet, I ſay, the great conqueſt of the Kings will be by the beauty and glory of this City, when ſhe is builded. Thou ſhalt ariſe, O Lord, and have mercy upon Zion, for the time to favour her, yea, the ſet time is come: for thy Servants take pleaſure in her ſtones, and favour the duſt thereof: So the Heathen ſhall fear the name of the Lord, and all Kings thy Glory. And indeed, before this City is ſet up, and eſtabliſhed in her own place, moſt of the Kings and great ones of the Earth will be found imployed and taken up in another work, than to fall in love with Mount Zion, and with the Hill thereof. They will be found in love with Miſtriſs Babylon, the Mother of Harlots, the Miſtreſs of Witchcrafts, and Abominations of the Earth. They will, I ſay, be committing Fornication with her, and will be as the horns upon the heads of the Beaſt, to defend the riding Lady from the Gunſhot that the Saints continually will be making at her by the force of the Word and Spirit of God. They will be ſhaking the ſharp end of their VVeapons againſt the Son of God continually labouring to keep him out of his Throne, and from having that rule in the Church, and in the VVorld as becomes him who is the head of the body, and over all principality and power. Theſe ſhall make War with the Lamb: but I ſay, it ſhall ſo come about, at the laſt, by the illuminating Grace of God, and by the faithful and patient enduring of the Saints, together with the glory that every-where ſhall now be abiding on the Church and Congregation of Jeſus, that they ſhall begin to receive a mans heart, and ſhall conſider things that have not been told them: wherefore at laſt they ſhall withdraw themſelves from the love

This is the Effect of what you read before; namely, of the coming in of the Kings and great Ones of the Earth to this Jeruſalem: For when the Whore is made deſolate and naked, and burned with Fire, and when the Kings alſo that loved her, and that maintained her, are come in, and have cloſed with the Glory and Beauty of this City, then what need is there to ſhut the Gates? Alas, all the Injuries that the Kings and great Ones of the Earth have done to the Church and Spouſe of Chriſt in theſe Days of the New Teſtament, it hath been through the Inſtigation and Witchcraft of this Miſtris of Iniquity. The Horſeman hath lift up both the bright Nah.3.3.4. Sword, and the glittering Spear againſt the Saints of God, by reaſon of the Multitudes of the Whoredoms of the well-favoured Harlot, the Miſtris of Witchcrafts, who ſelleth Nations thorow her Whordoms, and Families thorow her Witchcrafts. Wherefore, I ſay, this Gentlewoman being laid in her Grave, and all her fat Ones gone down to the ſides of the Pit; theſe Kings will change their Mind, and fall in love with the true and chaſte Matron, and with Chriſt her Lord: Now when this is thus, this City muſt needs be ſafely Iſa.2.4. inhabited as Towns without Walls, and as a Place, Jer.33.16 near to which there is neither Thief nor ravenous Zec.2.4.& Beaſt. 14.11.

Perſecutors, while they remain in their Spirit of Outrage againſt the Church and People of God, they are frequently in the Scripture compared to the venemous Dragons, fierce Lions, and ravenous Wolves; Jer.51. all which at this day ſhall be driven out of the 34,37. World: that is, ſo out, as never to moleſt the Church again, or to cauſe a Gate of this City to be ſhut, through fear againſt them; as he ſaith by the Prophet, In the Habitation of Dragons where each lay, Iſa 35.7. ſhall be Graſs, with Reeds and Ruſhes, In the Habitation of Dragons, that is, even in the Places of Perſecutors, where each lay, ſhall be Food for the Flock of Chriſt. The Dragon is a venemous Beaſt, and poiſoneth all where he lieth; he beats the Earth bare, and venoms it, that it will bear no Graſs: as do the Perſecutors where they inhabit and lie. But behold, the Days do come in which theſe Dragons ſhall be removed, and the Ground where they lay be made fruitful and flouriſh, ſo that even there ſhall be Places for the Flocks to lie down in; In the Habitation of Dragons, where each lay, ſhall be Graſs, with Reeds and Ruſhes. No Lion ſhall be there, nor any ravenous Beaſt ſhall be found thereon; but the Redeemed of the Lord ſhall walk there, and the Ranſomed of the Lord ſhall return and come to Zion with Iſa.35.9, 10. Songs, and everlaſting Joy ſhall be upon their Heads; they ſhall obtain Joy and Gladneſs, and Sorrow and Sighing ſhall flee away: according to that of Moſes, The Lord will give Peace in his Land, and his People Lev.26.6. ſhall lie down, and none ſhall make them afraid: For Iſa.32.18. he will rid the evil Beaſts out of the Land, and the Sword ſhall not go through it more. And my People ſhall dwell in a peaceable Habitation, and in ſure Dwellings, and in quiet reſting Places.

And the Gates ſhall not be ſhut at all by Day, for there ſhall be no Night there. This Word Day, we 89. may underſtand two ways; either for the Day of bringing in to fill this City, or for the Day of her Perfection and Fulneſs. Now if you take it with reference to the Day in which her Converts are coming in (as indeed it ought) why then, the Gates ſhall not be ſhut at all. Thy Gates ſhall be open continually, Iſa. 60. 11. they ſhall not be ſhut Day nor Night, that Men may bring unto thee the Forces of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

But again, This Day of Grace, and of Converſion of Sinners, it muſt be looked upon, either as the Church is in Captivity and Perſecution, or as ſhe is out: now as ſhe is in Captivity, ſo her longeſt Day is uſually accompanied with a black and doubtful Night of Temptation and Affliction. Wherefore this day here being ſpoken of, it is the Day of Grace that ſhe ſhall have even when ſhe is abſolutely delivered from the Rage of the Beaſt, Falſe Prophet, and Whore. Wherefore he is not content to ſay, the Gates ſhall not be ſhut at all by Day, but adds withal, for there ſhall be no Night there; as who ſhould ſay, I know that commonly in the Day of the Churches Affliction, ſhe is accompanied with Nights as well as Days, but it Iſa. 60. 20. ſhall not be ſo here, Thy Sun ſhall go no more down, neither ſhall thy Moon withdraw it ſelf; for the Lord ſhall be thine everlaſting Light, and the Days of thy Mourning ſhall be ended.

Wherefore John conſidering this, doth quite exclude the Night, ſaying, There ſhall be no Night there. Indeed, after this New Jeruſalem hath had her golden Day in this World, I ſay, juſt towards the ending thereof, ſhe will yet once again be beſet with raging Gog and Magog, which Enemies will after the Ez. 38. & 39. long Safety and Tranquillity of this City, through the Inſtigation of the Devil, come upon the Breadth of the Earth, and encamp about this holy City. But behold in the midſt of this Intention to ſwallow her up, The Lord rains Fire and Brimſtone from Heaven, and deſtroys them all: So that Gog, I ſay, though he may bring one onely Evening upon this Holy City, after her long Peace and Reſt among the Sons of Men, yet he ſhall not bring one Night upon her, nor cauſe a Gate thereof to be ſhut for ever. The Sun Joſ. 10. ſhall now ſtand ſtill in the midſt of Heaven, and this Night ſhall be thus prevented by this marvellous Zec. 14. 7. Judgment of God; as another Prophet ſaith, At Evening-time it ſhall be light: that is, though her Enemies will at laſt ſtill make, thorow their Enmity, one only Attempt to ſwallow up all in everlaſting Oblivion: yet they themſelves ſhall fall down dead upon the Mountains of Iſrael, and be a Prey to this Jeruſalem. Thus there will be only Day accompanying the Inhabitants of this City: For there ſhall be no Night there.

§ 0. Verſe 26. And they ſhall bring the Glory and Honour of the Nations to it. This, as I ſaid before, is to ſhew us how heartily, and how unfeignedly, both the Nations and their Kings ſhall now come over to New Jeruſalem. They come Hand in Hand, not the People without their Prince, nor the Prince without his People; though it will, and muſt be ſo in the Times of Perſecution: But now, together THEY ſhall bring the Glory and Honour of the Nations to it.

Again, I told you before, that the Jews ſhall at this Day be converted to the Chriſtian Faith, and ſhall have a great Name, and much of Heaven upon them in this City. For indeed they are the Firſt-born, the natural Branches, and the like. Now when he ſaith, They ſhall bring the Glory and Honour of the Nations to it: I cannot think that by this ſhould be underſtood only, or yet principally, the outward Pomp and Treaſure of the World, but that rather by Honour and Glory we are here to underſtand the heavenly Treaſure and Glory that the Saints ſhall continually pour forth into one anothers Boſoms in this City: in this City, I ſay, for at this Day, as I have formerly ſhewed you, there will be found no Treaſure any where but at Jeruſalem; every Saint ſhall be here, every Grace ſhall be here, the precious Stones of the Sanctuary, the precious Sons of Zion ſhall not then, as now, lie ſcattered, ſome in the World, and ſome in Miſtris Babylons Lap; neither ſhall any thing, pertaining to the Churches Priviledges, be found in her at all for ever. There ſhall be heard no more at all in her any Rev. 18. 22. 23. Harpers, Trumpeters, Pipers, or any other heavenly Muſick in her; neither ſhall there be any more the Sound of a Milſtone to grind us Bread, nor the Light of a Candle to guide us in the Houſe, nor yet the Voice of the Bridegroom [Chriſt] nor of the Bride his Wife, 2 Chron. 36 7. to tempt or allure any that are ſeeking the way of Life, to ſtay with her: all theſe things ſhall be brought to Jeruſalem. Chriſtians, you muſt underſtand that there is a time when all the Treaſures of the Church are to be found in Babylon, as in the days of old; but at this Day, when this City is built, not any of them ſhall be found there, but all ſhall be brought and delivered up to Jeruſalem again, as was alſo foreſhewn in the Type; and all places ſhall be void of the Treaſure of Heaven, but Jeruſalem. Ezra 6. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. & 7. 13, 14, 15, 16.

Wherefore by the Glory and Honour of the Nations in this place, I underſtand, That all the Treaſures of the Church, and all the Graces that at this day lie ſcattered here and there, ſome in one place, and ſome in another, they ſhall be found no where at that day but in this City, in the Church that walks according to Rule. Now the Reaſons why I take this Honour and Glory to be meant of theſe things, are,

Firſt, Becauſe thus it was in the time of the building of Jeruſalem after the Captivity; the Treaſure of the Jews, which was become the Treaſures of the Provinces of Babylon, was again reſtored and brought to Jeruſalem, as you may ſee by the Scriptures now cited.

Secondly, Becauſe I find indeed, that the Milk and Ezek. 20. 6, Honey of the Land of Canaan (which are in our Goſ- 25. pel-language, the Gifts, Graces and Treaſures of the Church) it is called, The Glory of all Lands. Now, Cant. 4. 11. I ſay, ſeeing the Milk and Honey, which is the Comforts of the Church and her Treaſure, is called, the Glory of all Lands: I take Glory and Honour in this place to ſignifie the ſame thing alſo.

Thirdly, Becauſe alſo I find, by comparing the Prophets, that the Chriſtians Glory and Honour lieth moſtly, even principally, in heavenly and Spiritual things; as in Faith, Love, Experience of God, of Grace, of Chriſt, and ſpiritual Life. I read, that at the building of this City, the Jews and Gentiles ſhall meet together, and that at that day they ſhall mutually be Partakers of each others Glory. The Gen- Iſa. 66. 10. tiles ſhall milk out, and be delighted in the Abundance 11, 12, 13. of the Glory of the Jews: and the Glory of the Gentiles ſhall be again extended unto the Jews, like a mighty flowing Stream: But I ſay, that this Glory and Honour ſhould conſiſt in outward things, or that the Glory that is meerly carnal, ſhould be principally here intended, I confeſs it grates too near the Ground for me to believe or rejoyce in. Alas, I find that thoſe Souls that have not now the tenth part of the Spirit and Life of heavenly things, that ſhall then be poured forth; I ſay, I find that theſe things are trampling on the World, and diſdain the thoughts of being taken with its Glory: Wherefore much leſs will it be eſteemed in that day, when the Glory and Goodneſs of God ſhall in that manner break forth. Again, Can it be imagined that the Chief of the Glory that the Gentiles ſhould bring to the Jews after a ſixteen hundred years VVarming in the Boſome of Chriſt? I ſay, is it imaginable that the great Crop of all they have reaped, ſhould conſiſt in a little outward Trumpery? or if it ſhould, would it be a ſuitable Medicine in the leaſt to preſent to the Eyes of a broken and wounded People, as the Jews will be at that Day? or if the Glory that the Gentiles at that Day ſhall ſuck from the Jews were ſuch as this, would it at all be as Life from the Dead to them in a Goſpel Sence? The Church of the Gentiles

Rom. 11. 13,14,15. tiles shall be a VVall to the Jews at their Return, but such a VVall as will chiefly consist in spiritual and heavenly Safeguard, and in outward, because of that: I am a Wall, saith she, and my Breasts are Cant. 8. 8, 9, 10. Towers, on which the Jews will build upon her a Palace of Silver. But must this VVall, I say, consist chiefly in outward Glory, in the Glory of earthly things? or must this Silver Palace be of that Nature either? no verily, but when God hath builded the City Jerusalem, and put his Church into such a State, that upon all her Glory shall be a Defence of Heaven, then shall the Jews, by their coming into this City, build by their Experience a Palace for Psal. 61. 13 spiritual and heavenly Pleasure, to solace and com- Cant 2. 1. fort their Brethren withal. In a word then, by Glory Isa. 27. 13. and Honour in this place, we are chiefly to understand the spiritual and heavenly things of this City, which in the Times of the Reign of Antichrist have lain, some among the Potsheards of the Earth, some again under the Stairs, some under this Abuse, and some under that; all which shall be brought by the Souls that shall be converted, forthwith to this City the Church, where will be the Treasury of God, into which every one at that Day shall throw in of their Abundance; but as for the Glory of the VVorld, the Saints shall be above it, it shall be with them, as 1 Kin. 10 21. Silver and VVood was in the Days of Solomon, even as little worth as the Stones in the Street in their account.

91. Verse 27. And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh Abomination, or maketh a Lie, but they which are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

I am not yet convinc'd that the highest Church-state that ever was, or ever will be in this VVorld, could possibly be so all of them the Elect of God, but that there would get in among them some that had not saving Grace; the same also I believe touching the State of this Jerusalem: But yet this I do believe again, that the right and Gospel-pattern is, 1 Cor. 1. 1. 2 Cor. 1. 1. That none be admitted into Church-Communion, but such who are visible Saints by Calling; the Substance Eph. 1. 12. of which these VVords import, There shall not enter Phil. 1. 1. into it any thing that [defileth] or that [worketh] Abomination, or that [maketh a Lye;] which VVords do principally strike at a People that appear to be loose, wicked or ungodly; of which sort indeed, not one shall here at any time, no, not in any wise, be admitted Entrance: for now shall all the Forms, and Ezek. 43. 10, 11. all the Ordinances, and all the Forms of the Goings out of the Church of God, and the Comings in to Joel 3. 17. it, be so exactly opened to these People, and they so Zec. 14. 21 punctual and distinct in the Observation of them, Ezek. 43. 12. that it will not be possible that a Canaanite should be here for ever again found any more: This is the Law Ezek. 44. 6, 7, 8. of the House upon the Top of the Mountains, the whole Limit thereof shall be holy; behold, this is the Law of the House.

And as there shall at this day be none admitted here, but such as are in truth visible Saints; so none must here continue, but they that continue such: If any of those Stones that are put in for Building into the House of God, shall afterwards have the Plague Lev. 14. 40 found on them; then the Priest shall command that such Stones be taken away, and cast into the unclean Place that is without the City. And observe it, that Congregation on Earth that admits only of such Num. 19. 22. Persons as are visible Saints by Calling and Profession (though possibly some of them, as in the case of Ephes. 5. 11 Heb. 12. 15 Judas and Demas, may be known to God to be 2 Thes. 3. 6, 14. Non-elect, yet) that Church is holy round about the 1 Cor. 5. 6 11, 12, 13. Limits thereof: Provided also, that if at any time after that the Plague appears, they orderly proceed to deal with them (as here things will be done to a tittle, and a Hairs breadth.) Now the reason why the Church may be said to have some within her that are Non-Elect, and yet be counted Holy still, it is, because the Church is to judge of Persons by their VVords and Lives; they know not the Heart absolutely: and therefore if in Word and Life a Man be as he ought, he is to be accounted a visible Saint, and orderly ought to be received of the Church as such: So that I say, as I said before, these Words of barring out Sinners out of the Church, they are not to be understood as if they intended that those should be debarred visible Communion, that in Word and Life appeared visible Saints, that are so judged by the Rules of Christ's Testament; but that such should be from it shut out, that appeared visible Sinners: Those that are Defilers, Workers of Abomination, and Makers of Lies, none of these shall enter.

92. But those that are written in the Lambs Book of Life. These Words explain the Matter: Those, and those only, shall enter here, that are found written in the Lambs Book of Life. Now by Book of Life, we are to understand two things in the Scriptures of Truth: First, Either the Book of Gods eternal Grace and Mercy thorow Christ, in which all the Elect are recorded for ever: Or, Secondly, That Book of Life in which the Lord Jesus hath all recorded that are visible Saints by calling; for, for both these there is a Book of Life. For the first of these, I judge these Scriptures do suit; and for the second, these, with that in the Text. Luk. 10. 20. 2 Tim. 2. 19. Phil. 4. 3. Exod. 32. 32, 33. Rev. 22. 19

Now the Book of Life in this place must not be so strictly taken as if it included those only that were elect of God to eternal Life, but must be understood of that Book wherein are recorded the Rules and Bounds of visible Church-communion; and so all those that thorow the Gifts and Operations of special or common Grace do fall within the compass of those Rules and Bounds. Thus it was in the Type, at the Return out of Captivity, none were to be admitted entrance into the Church but those that could shew their Priviledges by Genealogy, and the Records of the Church; and to others it was said, That they had neither Portion, nor Lot, nor Memorial in Jerusalem. Ezr. 2. 62. 63. Nehem. 7. 64 65. & 2. 20.

Now that by Book of Life in this place we are to understand that Book that hath in it the Bounds and Liberties of this City, and so every one that falleth within the compass of these Bounds and Priviledges visibly; Consider,

First, They that are visible Matter for visible Church-Communion, they shall be found within this City, and yet there shall not enter any, but those that are written in the Lambs Book of Life.

Secondly Now visible Church-Communion doth not absolutely call for only invisible Saints neither can it: for if the Church were to joyn with none but those whom they knew to be the very Elect of God (as all invisible Saints are) then she must joyn with none at all; for it is not possible that any Church should be so infallible to judge in that manner of the Elect, as to discern them always, and altogether from the Non-Elect, which cannot be an invisible Saint.

Thirdly, By Book of Life therefore, in this place, we are to understand, I say, that Book that hath written in it every visible Saint, whether they be Elect or not; and so such a Book that is capable of receiving in a Man at one time, and of blotting of him out again, as occasion doth require, at another: which thing is only applicable to that Book that binds and looses on the account of a Mans being a visible Saint or a visible Apostate: which thing is only applicable to the visible Rules of receiving or shutting out of visible Church-Communion; which Rules being the Rules of Christ's New-Testament, it is proper to call it the Book of Life; and is about the Matter of going in or going out of this very City, so called: If any Man shall take away from the Rev. 22. 18, 19. Words of the Book of this Prophecy, God shall take away his Part out of the Book of Life, and out of the Holy City, and from the things that are written in this Book. O how happy is he who is not only a visible, Rev. 3. 5. but also an invisible Saint! He, he shall not be blotted out of the Book of Gods eternal Grace and Mercy; when others are liable to lose a share, not only in Heaven, but to be for ever blotted out of of the Book that approveth of viſible Believers alſo.

Fourthly, But again, to explain the Matter yet more: In the viſible Church there are not only Sons but Servants, that is, not only thoſe that are truly Elect, but ſuch as have received a Gift for the perfecting the Church under * Chriſt, in his Service here in this World: Now, I ſay, the Servant for the time preſent hath his Place in the Church as well as the Son, though not the Place of a Son, but of a Servant, even a Place of Service, as of Preaching, Propheſying, Adminiſtring the Ordinances that are given to the Church, and the like; all which, a Man that hath not Grace may do, and that by the Appointment of Chriſt; thus was Judas, Demas, Hymeneus, Phyletus and others, who ſometimes were the Servants of Chriſt in the Church, and did miniſter for him to them; yet themſelves, notwithſtanding, ſuch as were all that time Strangers and Aliens to the Life, and Power and ſaving Operations of the juſtifying and preſerving Grace of the Goſpel: as he ſaith alſo by the Prophet Iſaiah, Strangers ſhall ſtand and feed your Flocks, and the Sons of Aliens ſhall be your Plough-men, and your Vine-dreſſers. For verily Chriſt will give to thoſe that have not his ſaving Grace, yet great Knowledge and Underſtanding in the Myſteries of the Kingdom of God, and will alſo make them for Profit and Advantage in his Church, to feed their Flocks, to plough up the fallow Ground of their Hearts, and to dreſs their tender Vines: Yet, I ſay, they themſelves ſhall not be everlaſtingly ſaved, for they want his ſaving Grace. As Chriſt ſaith, The Servant abideth not in the Houſe for ever, but the Son abideth for ever. As he ſaith again in another Prophet, If the Prince give a Gift to any of his Sons, the Inheritance thereof ſhall be his Sons; it ſhall be their Poſſeſſion by Inheritance; but if he give a Gift of Inheritance to one of his Servants, then it ſhall be his to the Year of Liberty; after it ſhall return to the Prince; but his Inheritance ſhall be his Sons for them. Some indeed have Grace as well as Gifts; now they that are ſuch, the Profit of their Gifts ſhall be rewarded by vertue of their Grace; but as for them that have only a Gift, when the Work of a Gift is done, then they ceaſe to be any longer of uſe in the Church, and therefore are forthwith ſhut out of the ſame, but the Son abideth for ever. Thus you ſee that as viſible Church-communion doth not abſolutely call for the Elect only, but admits, and that by the Book of Rules, all that are viſible and open Saints by calling: So alſo the Lord Jeſus himſelf doth, and will uſe ſome in his Church as his Officers and Servants, that yet in a ſtrict Sence are neither his Sons nor Members; Who yet are within the Bounds of that Book of Life that here he ſpeaks of, as is evident because with Chriſt's Allowance they are admitted into Communion with his Church and by him alſo furniſhed with Gifts and Abilities to profit and edifie withal. Now obſerve, ſuch a one is admitted, though but a Servant, yet not by the Church, becauſe but ſuch a one. The Church receiveth no Man upon the account of Gifts alone, but upon the Account of the Appearance of Grace; as of Goſpel-Repentance, of the Confeſſion of Faith, and of a Converſation ſuitable to the ſame: All which, a Man that is not Elect may have the Notion of, yea, the * Power, though not the ſaving Power.

5ly. Further, This which I have ſaid about the viſible Church-Communion, and ſo conſequently about the Book of Life, it muſt needs be a Goſpel-Truth; yea, a thing for truth in this New Jeruſalem: becauſe, beſides what hath been ſaid, there will be found in this City, even at the coming of the Lord Jeſus (which coming of his, will not be for ſome time after the building and ſetting of it up) I ſay, there will be then found among them fooliſh Virgins, and ſuch who have not the ſaving Grace of God in their Souls: But yet, 1. Theſe very Souls ſhall be counted by the Church, yea, by Chriſt himſelf, for Virgins; that is, ſuch as had not defiled their Profeſſion. 2. And will be ſuch Virgins as have, and hold every one her Lamp, even as the Wiſe themſelves. 3. Such Virgins as were, every one of them, gone forth from the Pollutions of this evil World. 4. And ſo ſuch as continued viſible Saints, even till the Bridegroom came, for then 'tis ſaid in the Margent, they cryed, Our Lamps are going out. Theſe, I ſay, be thoſe gifted People that will have place in the Church, and ſo place in the Book of Life here mentioned, which yet will (though they continue hid from the Church) be diſcovered in the Day of the Lord to be ſuch, as had only a Gift, but not Grace, and ſhall for their ſecret Sins be cut off, and caſt away, notwithſtanding they were viſible Saints all their Days.

To conclude then; If the Scripture ſaith, that none that defileth, or that worketh Abomination, or maketh a Lie, ſhall enter into this holy City, which yet is but the Church on Earth; with what Face can Defilers think and ſay, they ſhall poſſeſs a part among the Church which is in Heaven. Again, If many that have received Gifts from God, and that may be ſerviceable in his Houſe, ſhall yet be put out of Doors at the coming of the Lord, What will they do that have been, and yet continue both giftleſs and graceleſs, as viſibly as the Light that ſhineth? and that inſtead of being the Plough-men and Vine-dreſſers of the Church, prove Thieves, Robbers, Perſecutors, and the like! yea, if many that are within the Bounds of that Book of Life that hath the Records and Rules of a rightly conſtituted viſible Church, may yet periſh, what will become of them that never were ſo much as written therein? muſt they not periſh rather? And whoſoever were not found written in the Book of Life, was caſt into the Lake of Fire.

Chap. 22. Ver. 1. And he ſhewed me a pure River of Water of Life, clear as Cryſtal, proceeding out of the Throne of God and of the Lamb. 93.

Having thus ſhewed us this City, her Faſhion, Glory, Inhabitants, and the like: he now comes to ſhew us her Proviſion and Maintenance, wherewith ſhe is kept in Safety, Life, Peace and Comfort, &c.

And he ſhewed me a pure River of Water of Life. This Water of Life, is nothing elſe but the manifold Grace of God in Chriſt, let forth to the Inhabitants of this Jeruſalem wherewith ſhe is watered and repleniſhed, as the Earth with Rain from Heaven, for the good of thoſe that drink thereof. For both the Word Water, and that of Life, they are but metaphorical Sayings, under which is held forth ſome better and more excellent thing. And indeed it is frequent with God in Scripture to ſpeak of his Grace and Mercy under the Notion of Waters, of a Fountain, a Sea, and the like.

Now it is called Water,

Firſt, Becauſe no Soul can be cleanſed, or effectually waſhed from its Guilt and Filth, but by the Grace of God. I waſhed thee with water, yea, I throughly waſhed away thy Blood from thee, and thou becameſt mine.

Secondly, It is called Water, becauſe it alſo quencheth the ſpiritual Thirſt of them that by Faith do drink thereof: I will give, ſaith Chriſt, to him that is athirſt, of the Fountain of the Water of Life freely. And again, He that drinketh of the Water that I ſhall give him, ſhall never thirſt.

Further, As it is called Water, ſo it is called the Water OF LIFE, and that upon a diverſe Account.

Firſt, Becauſe it is that which recovereth the Soul that drinketh thereof, from the Death of Sin, and the Curſe of God, to a Principle of Life and heavenly Bleſſing. And it ſhall come to paſs that every one that liveth, that moveth whitherſoever the Waters ſhall come, ſhall live.

Secondly, It is called the Water of Life; becauſe, that from it come all thoſe heavenly and ſpiritual Quick-

Quicknings and Revivings, that (like Aqua-vitæ) do fetch again, and chear up the Soul that was ſinking, Pſal. 45. 4. and giving up the Ghoſt in this World. There is a River, the Streams whereof make glad the City of God.

Thirdly, It is called the Water of Life, becauſe it healeth the Soul of all its ſpiritual Infirmities and Diſeaſes, wherewith by reaſon of the remainders of Sin, the Creature is moſt ſadly annoyed and in-
Mat. 4. 19. Ezek. 47. 9. fected. And there ſhall be a great multitude of Fiſh (of Men he means) becauſe the Waters ſhall come thither, for they (the Fiſh) ſhall be healed, and every thing ſhall live whither the Waters come.

Fourthly, and laſtly, It is called the Water of Life, becauſe that whoſoever doth effectually drink thereof, ſhall die no more, but the Water that Chriſt ſhall give him, ſhall be in him a Well of Water, ſpringing up in him to eternal Life; wherefore he calleth it in a-
Joh. 4. 10, 14. nother place, the Living Water, becauſe the Quality and Nature of it is to beget, to increaſe, to maintain and preſerve Life.

94. And he ſhewed me a pure River of Water of Life, clear as Cryſtal, &c. Mark, It is Water, Water of Life, pure Water of Life, and clear as Cryſtal. Theſe Words, Pure and Clear, and that as Cryſtal, they are added upon a double account.

Firſt, To ſhew you that it is Grace alone that ſaveth the Sinner.

And Secondly, To ſhew you, that at this Day the Doctrine of this Grace will be by it ſelf alone without the Commixture of that Dirt and Traſh that for a long time, even to this Day, hath been thrown into it.

Firſt, It ſheweth us, that it is Grace alone that ſaveth the Sinner, pure Grace, Grace that admits of nothing of ours to be in the leaſt a Helper in the Matter of our Happineſs; we are juſtified freely by his Grace, through the Redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt. As he ſaith by the Prophet, I will pour Ezek. 36. 25, 26, 27, 32, 33. [CLEAN] Water upon you, and you ſhall be clean, and from all your Idols will [I] cleanſe you. Not for your Sakes do I this, ſaith the Lord. Be ye aſhamed and confounded for all your own evil ways, O Houſe of Iſrael. It is clean Water indeed, it is clear in the Nature of it, clear in the Gift of it, and clear in the Working of it: It waſheth freely, throughly and
Rev. 21. 6. perfectly: From all your Idols will I cleanſe you.
Ezek. 16. 9. Ezek. 36. 25, 26. Secondly, This Word Pure, and clear as Cryſtal: It alſo ſheweth us, that at the Day of New Jeruſalem the Doctrine of Grace ſhall be cleanſed from all thoſe dirty and muddy Inventions, that Sin, Satan, and the Wiſdom of this World hath thrown into this River, and into its goodly Cryſtal Streams; I ſay, at this day they ſhall not come near it, neither ſhall the Rubbiſh they have already caſt into it any more Ezek. 32. 13, 14. be there for ever. I will deſtroy all the Beaſts thereof (the beaſtly Men he means) from beſide the great Waters, neither ſhall the Foot of Man trouble them any more, nor the Hoofs of Beaſts trouble them. Then will I make the Waters deep, and cauſe their Rivers to run like Oyl, ſaith the Lord God.

95. And he [ſhewed] me a pure River of Water of Life, clear as Cryſtal, &c. In that he ſaith, he ſaw this River, he giveth us in a Myſtery alſo to underſtand how openly and plainly this River ſhall in all its Cryſtal Streams and Currents be apprehended and ſeen by the Children of this City; for in this Viſion he doth as it were repreſent in his Perſon, the Children of New Jeruſalem; as God ſaid to Ezekiel in a-
Ezek. 24. 22, 27. nother caſe, Thou ſhalt be their Sign, and they ſhall do as thou haſt done. So here, I SAW, ſaith John, a pure River of Water of Life. I am in this a Sign to the Houſe of the Iſrael of God, and to the Inhabitants of this City; they ſhall do as I have done, and ſhall alſo ſee as I have ſeen. As ſaith the Church
Pſal. 48. 8 and People of this City, As we have heard, ſo have we SEEN, in the City of the Lord of Hoſts. And Zech. 13. 1, 2. hence it is called an OPEN Fountain, becauſe it ſhall be no more ſhut up or kept cloſe for ever.

And he ſhewed me a pure River of Water of Life, clear as Cryſtal [proceeding] out of the Throne of God. This Word, Proceeding, hath alſo in it two things. 96.

Firſt, An implicit Declaration whither it goes. And,

Secondly, A Diſcovery of its gradual Extenſion to thoſe to whom it goes.

Firſt, Touching to whom, or whither it goes; it is let out both to the Jews and Gentiles indifferently; and ſo it never yet was ſince the Foundations of the Jewiſh Church; for in the time of the Old Teſtament it did run to the Jews in ſpecial, and in the Times of the New-Teſtament hitherto, unto us the Gentiles in ſpecial. O but now it ſhall in this manner be extended to Sinners no longer; not now to the Jews without the Gentiles; nor again, to them without the Jews, but equally and alike to both, and on them both it ſhall work alike effectually: It ſhall be at that day, ſaith the Prophet, that Living Waters ſhall go out from Jeruſalem; half of them towards the former Sea, and half of them towards the hinder Sea. By Living Waters here, you are to underſtand the ſame with this in the Text; by the former Sea, the People of the Jews, for they were God's former People; and by Hinder Sea, the People of the Gentiles, for they are the younger Son: And becauſe the whole World conſiſteth of theſe two People, therefore Ezekiel in his Viſion puts them both together, calling them the Fiſh of one great Sea, to which this Water of Life ſhall run, and upon whoſe Fiſh it ſhall have a like Operation, even to heal them, and make them live without reſpect either to this or that Party. Zec. 14. 8.

It ſhall come to paſs that the Fiſhers (that is, the Goſpel-Miniſters) ſhall ſtand upon the Rivers from Engedi, even to Eneglaim, they ſhall be a place to ſpread Nets, their Fiſh ſhall be according to their Kinds, as the Fiſh of the great Sea, exceeding many; as another Prophet ſaith, The abundance of the Sea ſhall be converted to thee. Ezek. 47. 10. Iſa. 60. 5.

Thus much touching whither this Water goes.

And now to come to the Manner of the Extenſion of it in the way of its proceeding. A thing that proceeds, it doth what it doth gradually, that is, by degrees. Firſt, it comes or goes ſo far, and then further, and afterwards further than that, till at laſt it aſcends to the height and uppermoſt Degree that is allotted for its Perfection: All which the Holy Ghoſt would have us gather out of this Word, it proceedeth, or that John ſaw this Holy Water proceeding: The which, the Prophet Ezekiel in a Myſtery unfoldeth to us, ſaying, the firſt time he paſſed over this Water, it was up but to his Ankles; the ſecond time he paſſed through, it proceeded to his Knees; the third time to his Loyns; and laſt of all, became a River to ſwim in. Ezek. 47. 3, 4, 5.

Firſt, It is but up to the Ankles, that is, but ſhallow, and ſignifies that, firſt, the Soul is but a little Child in God's things, ſuch as the Apoſtle calls Babes, Children, little Children. 1 Joh. 2. 12.

Secondly, Then from the Ankles it proceeds to the Knees, that is, ſomewhat higher than the Ankles, and ſignifieth that the Chriſtian groweth from a Child to a young and ſtrong Man, one that is now gotten deeper into the things of God, and that is able to tug with, and overcome the wicked ones. 1 Joh. 2. 13.

Thirdly, After this, it proceeds higher, even up to the Loins; this ſignifies, that as Grace makes Men Children of God, and his Young Men, ſo alſo it maketh them Fathers, and Ancients in his Church; it makes them grave, knowing, ſolid Guides, and Unfolders of the Myſteries of the Kingdom; theſe are ſuch as are inſtructed into the Kingdom of God, and that can bring out of their Treaſury things new and old.

Fourthly, It yet proceeds higher, even to be above the Head, a River to ſwim in, and that ſuch a River as can by no means be paſſed over. This ſignifieth our launching into Eternity; our being beyond all Heights, Depths, Lengths and Breadths, in the Iſa.33. 21. the open Viſions and Enjoyments of Grace. For there the glorious Lord ſhall be unto us a place of BROAD Rivers and Streams, wherein ſhall go no Gally with Oars, neither ſhall gallant Ships paſs thereby. Thus we begin Children, and wade up to the Ankles in the things of God, and being once in, it riſeth and proceeds to come up to our Knees, then to our Loins, and laſt of all to be a River to ſwim in, a River ſo wide, ſo deep, and every way ſo large, that it can in no wiſe be paſſed over.

97. And he ſhewed me a pure River of Water of Life, clear as Cryſtal, proceeding out of the Throne of God, and of the Lamb. Having thus ſpoken to the Water what it is, as alſo to whom it extends it ſelf, and how it proceeds: He now comes to ſhew us from whence and from whom it doth come. It proceeds, ſaith he, from the Throne of God and of the Lamb. Out of the Throne of God; This Throne of God it is Exod.25. 22. in another place called the Mercy-Seat, and Throne of Grace, from which, as always, ſo now in a ſpeci- Heb.4. 16. al manner he will iſſue forth of himſelf in the Glory of the Goſpel of the Grace of the Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, to the Inhabitants of this City. When he ſaith therefore, that it doth proceed out of the Throne of God, it is as if he had ſaid, I ſaw, that from the yearning Bowels of the great God did flow continually the Living Streams of the everlaſting Fountains of Grace, and that not only to, but in the midſt of this City, wherewith her Inhabitants are continually watered, and their Paſtures kept always Iſa.55. 1. green and flouriſhing. Ho, every one that thirſteth, Come ye to the Waters.

98. Proceeding out of the Throne of God, and of the Lamb. In that this Water of Life is ſaid to proceed not only out of the Throne of God, but alſo of the Lamb. It ſignifieth and holdeth forth unto us two ſpecial things.

Firſt, That the Throne of God is alſo made the Throne of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, upon which he (as a Reward of his Sufferings and Victory over Sin, Satan and all Evils) is ſet down, and upon which he Heb.1.2.& 10. 12.& 12. 2. ſits and rules as Lord and Chief of all Worlds. He is ſet down on the Right-hand of Power, on the Right-hand of the Majeſty on high; as he ſaith, To Rev.3. 21. him that overcometh will I grant to ſit down with me on my Throne, even as I overcame, and am ſet down with my Father upon his Throne. This being thus, it ſignifieth that this City ſhall have her Enjoyments of Life, Peace and Joy in the Holy Ghoſt, by Vertue of the Kingſhip of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, as well as by the Vertue of his Prieſtly and Prophetical Office. The Church doth in our Days know a little what Joy, Peace and Life is to be enjoyed from Chriſt, even through that dark and glimmering Sight that ſhe hath of the Offices of Chriſt in a Miſt; but ſhe feels not yet what Joy ſhe ſhall have, and what Peace ſhe ſhall enjoy when her Lord in all his Offices is manifeſt before her, and when he in the Glory of them doth reign in the midſt of this Jeruſalem. There are none of the Offices of the Lord Jeſus yet upon the Throne in his Church on Earth, though they be all upon the Throne in Heaven: O! but the Day is coming that they ſhall be all upon the Throne in the Church on Earth, when they ſhall each of them, in its full Length, Breadth, Heighth and Depth, bear ſway among his People, and before Iſa.24. 23. all Men: Then ſhall the Moon be confounded, and the Sun aſhamed, when the Lord of Hoſts ſhall reign in Mount Zion, and in Jeruſalem, and before his Antients glorioufly.

O that thou wouldeſt rend the Heavens, that thou wouldeſt come down, and that the Mountains might flow down at thy Preſence! O that the Day were come that the Smoak ſhould go forth of the Temple of God, that Men might enter into it, and there meet with God upon the Throne, and with Jeſus in him upon the Throne in all his Offices. It will be Iſa.41. thus, thou Zion, ſhortly, and great ſhall be the Peace of thy Children.

The ſecond thing obſervable, is, That as all Grace comes from out of the Throne of God, ſo it alſo proceeds, or comes out of the Throne of the Lamb: that is, No Grace comes to any, but thorow the Victory and Conqueſt of the Lord Chriſt: We are Rom.3 24. juſtified freely by his Grace, through the Redemption Eph.1. 7. that is in Chriſt Jeſus: And again, We have Redemption thorow his Blood, even the Forgiveneſs of our Sins, according to the Riches of his Grace. By which we may gather, that when theſe things come to be in their own Purity among us; that is, when Grace runs clear without the Dirt and Mud of the Traditions of Men commixed therewith, then will all that hold up falſe and erroneous Opinions, be waſhed away: for this River will not only waſh away the Sins and Filthineſs of thoſe that are truly gracious, but it will alſo deſtroy the Heretick and erroneous Perſon; it will be to them at that Day as the red Sea was to the Egyptians of old; which Sea, though it was a Wall on this Hand, and on that, to the Children of Iſrael, yet it deſtroyed the Egyptians that aſſayed to go thorow it, as Iſrael did. The Heb.11.29. reaſon alſo why we are at this day in ſuch confuſion in Matters of Religion, it is for want of the clear and pure Streams of this River of Water of Life; all which will be mended when there is but one River to water this City, and that too the pure River of the Water of Life, in all its Streams as clear as Cryſtal; then ſhall all drink-in all things into one Spirit, and be watered with the ſame Dews of Heaven.

Thus much of the Water of Life that belongeth to this Jeruſalem.

Verſe 2. And in the midſt of the Street of it, and on either ſide of the River, was there the Tree of Life, 99. which bare twelve manner of Fruits, and yielded her Fruit every Month; and the Leaves of the Tree were for the healing of the Nations. This Tree of Life is the Lord Jeſus Chriſt; and that he is here called a Tree, rather than by other of his Names, it is to ſhew us how fruitful and exceeding advantagious he in all his Benefits will be to the Inhabitants of this City: This is that Tree under whoſe Branches the Mat. 13. Fowls of Heaven ſhall now moſt ſafely lodge, and 31, 32. find Relief from the hot and fainting Beams of the perſecuting Sun of this World, as the Word doth there inform us.

Now before I come to ſpeak to this Tree touching the manner of its Fruit, and its often Bearing, with the efficaciouſneſs of its Leaves, which here he ſaith do heal the Nations; I will take notice of one or two general things that lie before me, from the ſtanding of the Tree in the midſt of the Street of this City.

Firſt then, In that he ſaith this City hath a Tree of Life in it; He alludes to the Garden of Eden, the pleaſant Paradiſe that God began the World withal; whereby he ſignifieth, that as the World began with a Paradiſe, ſo alſo it ſhall end with a Paradiſe, when Sin and Satan have done their worſt: This New Jeruſalem ſhall be the Wind-up of the World, and in it ſhall ſtand the Tree of Life, as well as there ſtood one in the goodly Garden, which was the beginning thereof. In which Paradiſe there ſhall be no Tree of Knowledge, or the Law of Works to bear ſway, and to cauſe that the Sons of God ſhall be thruſt out thence for their eating of its forbidden Fruits; no, the Tree of Life alone ſhall here bear ſway and rule, whoſe Fruit is only healthful, and the Leaves thereof for Medicine.

Now this Tree of Life being in the midſt of this City, it ſignifieth that the Inhabitants of it ſhall be ſweetly ſhadowed, refreſhed and defended with its Coolneſs, and alſo ſweetly nouriſhed and comforted with its Dainties: And hence it is that the Scriptures do hold him forth in his Benefits to his Church, under theſe very Notions: As the Apple-tree is among the Cant.2. 3. Trees of the Wood, ſo is my Beloved among the Sons. I ſate down under his Shadow with great delight, and his Fruit was ſweet to my Taſte. Indeed the Shadow of this Tree of Life, as always it is refreſhing to the Tempted and Weary, ſo now it will be far more:

They

Hoſ.14. 5, 6, 7. They that dwell under his Shadow ſhall return; they ſhall revive as the Corn, and grow as the Vine, and the Scent thereof ſhall be as the Wine of Lebanon. Mark, 1. His Shadow will make us return, that is, to our firſt Love; to the Days of our Youth, to our young, freſh, tender, and flouriſhing Faith, Love and Self-denial, that we received in the Days of our Eſpouſals. 2. As it will make us return to theſe, ſo it will make us revive in theſe; they ſhall return, and revive; they ſhall revive as the Corn; as the Corn doth when in the Heat of Summer after long Scorching, it is covered with cool Clouds, and watered with the Bottles of Heaven. 3. As it ſhall make them return and revive, ſo it ſhall make them grow; they ſhall grow as the Vine, that is, ſpeedily, fruitfully, and ſpreadingly. 4. This is not all, but the ſmell of Saints in theſe days ſhall be excellent, They ſhall revive as the Corn, they ſhall grow as the Vine, and ſhall ſend forth their Scent as the Wine of Lebanon. This Tree is a perfuming Tree, and makes them alſo that abide under the Shadow thereof, to ſmell as ſweet-ſmelling Myrrh; it makes them ſmell as the Wine of thy Grace, O Lord, and as the fragrant Oyntments of Heaven. When the Spouſe did but touch where her Lord had touched afore her, it made her Hands drop with Myrrh, and her Fingers with ſweet-ſmelling Myrrh. O they will be green, ſavoury, reviving, flouriſhing, growing Chriſtians, Hoſ. 14. 8. that ſhall walk the Street of New Jeruſalem! I am, ſaith he, a green Fir-Tree, from me is thy Fruit found.

But again, As he ſhall be thus profitable to his People for Shadow and Reviving, ſo he will be in the midſt of the Street of it for Food, for refreſhing and repleniſhing that way. I ſate down under his Shadow with great delight, ſaid ſhe, and his Fruit was ſweet to my Taſte. Ezekiel tells us, that this Tree is all
Ezek. 47. 12. Trees; And on the Bank of the River, on this ſide, and on that, were [all Trees] for Meat. Indeed Chriſt is all Trees; yea, there is more to be found in him for the Food of the Soul, than there can be on all Trees
Hoſ. 14. 8. Rom. 11. 12. John 15. 1, 2. Cant. 2. 13 for the Food of the Body. He is a Fir-tree for Tallneſs, Greenneſs and Strength; He is an Olive for Fatneſs, a Vine for Sweetneſs and Goodneſs, for therewith is refreſhed the Heart both of God and Man. What ſhall I ſay, he is the Almond-Tree, the Fig-Tree, the Apple-Tree, all Trees; The Tree of Life alſo in the midſt of the Paradiſe of God.

To conclude, Seeing Chriſt is ſaid to be in the midſt of the Street of this City, it ſheweth unto us with what, at all Occaſions, the Actions of the Saints of this City ſhall be ſeaſoned. The Street, you know I told you, is the Way of Holineſs in this City, the Place of Spiritual Recreation and Solace. Now in the very midſt of this Street there ſtands this Tree, which being thus, it ſheweth us how wonderfully Chriſt, as a Tree of Life, will be in all the Words and Deeds of the Inhabitants of this Jeruſalem; they will walk in Chriſt, they will talk in Chriſt, they will do all they do in Chriſt, or rather Chriſt will be found in all their Ways, even as the Tree of Life is found in the midſt of the Street of this City:
Zec. 10. 12 they ſhall walk up and down in my Name, ſaith the Lord.

Again, In that this Tree is ſaid to ſtand in the midſt of the Street, it ſheweth unto us how common and free his Benefits will now be alſo. The Plumbs, and Figs, and Grapes, and Apples of this Tree, will be open to every Paſſenger; not a Boy nor a Girl that now ſhall play in thy Street, O Jeruſalem, but
* Jer. 31. 4, 5. ſhall eat of the Fruits of the Tree that ſtands in the midſt of thee, as of common * things.

100. And in the midſt of the Street of it, and [on either ſide] of the River was there the Tree of Life. As this Tree doth ſtand in the midſt of the Street of this City, ſo it alſo ſtandeth on each ſide of the River of the Water of Life, of which you have heard before. Now when he ſaith, the Tree is on either ſide of the River; whence by the way note yet again, That both the Water of Life, and alſo the Tree of Life, they are both to be enjoyed by the Inhabitants of this City in the way of Holineſs; the Tree is in the midſt of the Street, and the River runs thorow or between the very Tables of the Heart of this Tree of Life; on either ſide of the River was there the Tree of Life.

Again, In that it is ſaid that this Tree of Life is on either ſide of the River; it argueth that they who come at any time at this River for Water to quench their Thirſt, and to make them live, they muſt come to it by the Tree of Life, which is Chriſt. In more eaſie terms, read it thus; there is none can partake Col. 2. 3, 9. of the Grace of God but by the Man Chriſt Jeſus, Joh. 1. 16. which is this Tree of Life; for this Tree, this Chriſt, doth ſtand on either ſide of the River, to ſignifie that all Grace to us comes thorow his bloody Wounds, Death and Victory. I am the Way, ſaith Joh. 14. 6. Chriſt, the Truth and the Life, no Man cometh to the Father but by me.

And on either ſide of the River was there the Tree of 101. Life. Mark. But one Tree, and yet ſuch a Tree whoſe Body reached as far as the River reached; indeed Ezekiel ſaith this Tree is all Trees for Meat, yet not to ſhew that there are more Trees of Life than one, but to ſhew that all that can be thought of that is good for Soul-nouriſhment, is to be found in this one, that is, in Chriſt Jeſus: and it is further evident, that though he ſaith all Trees, as if he meant many, yet he ſpake but metaphorically, to ſhew thereby the Fulneſs of Chriſt; becauſe John doth underſtand him ſo, calling it one Tree, to wit, the Tree of Life. But mark again, ſo far as the River goes, ſo far the Tree goes, ſo that where you cannot find the Tree of Life, be ſure there is none of the Water of Life. No Chriſt, no Grace; He that hath the Son hath Life, Joh. 3. 36. but he that hath not the Son ſhall not ſee Life, but the 1 Joh. 5. Wrath of God abides upon him: For on either ſide of 12. the River was [there] the Tree of Life.

Which bare twelve manner of [Fruits.] This word 102. FRUITS, it may be taken two ways, either as it relates to God, or as it relates to Man (for, as I ſaid before, the Fruit of this Tree refreſheth the Heart Judg. 9. 9, both of God and Man.) 13.

Now if it be taken with reference to God, then it ſignifieth the compleat Satisfaction that by the worthineſs of the Fruits of the Paſſion of Chriſt is given to God for the Salvation of the Church; this City of God. He ſuffered to finiſh Tranſgreſſion, to make an Dan. 9. 24. end of Sin, and to bring in everlaſting Righteouſneſs; 26. by this, I ſay, is the Heart of God refreſhed, and in Mat. 3. 17. this doth it reſt.

2. If Fruit here be taken with reference to Men, then it ſignifieth the Happineſs and Glory that thoſe for whom he died and roſe again, ſhould receive by this means. His Fruit I have ſhewed you is ſweet to the Taſte of his Church, which Fruit is the Effect of his undertaking for Sinners, and the comfortable Savour of it in the Soul.

Which bare [twelve] manner of Fruits. In that he 103. ſaith, the Fruits are twelve, he herein alludeth to the twelve Tribes of the Iſrael of God; for which twelve Tribes here will be found a ſuitable Meaſure of Food, healing Food: I will multiply the Fruit of the Tree, Ezek. 36. ſaith God, and alſo the Encreaſe of the Field, that you 30. may receive no more Reproach of Famine among the Heathen.

Again, Theſe that John calleth twelve manner of Fruits, the Prophet Ezekiel calleth, all manner of Fruit for Meat: For indeed, as I ſhewed before, there is that to be found in Chriſt, both for Fulneſs and Variety, that is not to be found in Heaven and Earth beſide. Here is Fruit for Body, Fruit for Soul, Fruit for Babes, Fruit for ſtrong Men, Fruit for Fathers, yea, for glorified Saints and Angels: Fruits, variety of Fruits, even twelve manner of Fruits.

2. By twelve manner of Fruits, he doth alſo allude to the Apoſtles, who are called twelve, and are thoſe who have made Proviſion for the Houſe of God, according to the twelvefold manner of the Diſpenſation of God unto them, and of the twelvefold manner of Operation of that holy Spirit, which wrought in every one of them severally as he pleased: which twelve were before figured unto us by the 1 King 4. 7. twelve Officers of King Solomon (the Type of Christ) which twelve were to make Provision for the House of the King, according to the Season of the Year, and each Man his Month in the Year. Which very thing the Holy Ghost also doth here cast his Eye upon, and that makes him bring in the VVords of every Month, saying, it yields its Fruit every Month: For indeed, whatever you read of, concerning this City in this Description of John, you find something or other in the Writings of the Prophets that giveth ground for such Expressions. Wherefore seeing the Officers of Solomon were twelve, and the Apostles of Christ twelve also; and seeing the Officers of Solomon made Provision for his House, each Man his Month in a Year and the Fruits of this Tree of Life are called twelve manner of Fruits: I do take the twelve manner of Fruits here to be signified by the Provision of Solomon's Officers according to the twelve Seasons of

1 Thess. 2 7. the Year, and they a Type of the twelvefold Doctrine of the twelve Apostles of the Lord Christ, for
1 Cor. 3 2 Heb. 5. 11, 12, 13, 14. it is their Doctrine that is the Bread of the Church, yea, the Milk for the Babe, and the strong Meat for Men.

And yielded her Fruit every Month. As this confirmeth what I have said before; so it further sheweth us these three things. 104.

First, That the effectual Fruits of Christ for the saving of the VVorld, they are to be had especially at certain Seasons: It yielded her Fruit every Month.

Secondly, It sheweth also that at the Building of this Jerusalem, these Seasons will be very thick and quick; she yielded her Fruit every Month.

Thirdly, It sheweth us also, the abundance of Provision that this holy City shall then enjoy from the Tree of Life, even all manner of Fruit every Month.

1. For the first, That the Gospel hath and will be especially effectual at certain Seasons for the saving of the Sons of Men: it is shewed us by the descending of the Angels into the Pool of Bethesda to trouble the VVater, which as it was at certain Seasons, so he that
Joh. 5. 4. in those Seasons first stepped in, he only was made whole of whatsoever Disease he had. It is shewed us also in that Parable of the Lord's hiring Men to work in his Vineyard; which time of hiring, tho' it lasteth in general from the first hour to the eleventh, yet so, as that there were vacant Seasons be-
Mat. 20. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. tween hireing-times and hireing-times, quite thorow the whole Day; he went out at the first, third, sixth, ninth and eleventh Hour, and not at every hour to hire
Gal. 1. 15, 16. Labourers. For as God hath appointed out before hand the Number of his Elect, so also he hath determined in his good Pleasure the day of their bringing
Hos. 6. 11. Jer. 2 24. in, and will then have them as certainly as the wild Ass is found in her Month. Of which times and Seasons, because Men are ignorant, therefore they
Joh. 5. 8. should with all Faithfulness wait upon God in all the Seasons of his Grace for their Souls, even as he did for his Body; who because he would be there at all Seasons, brought thither his Bed and Couch to rest there.

Secondly, As by the Fruit of this Tree, being yielded at certain Seasons, VVe may gather that there are certain Seasons, in which the Word in an especial manner shall be blessed and made successful to the Salvation of many Souls. So again, in that he saith, This Fruit is yielded every Month, it signifieth that in the Days of the Building of the City, the New Jerusalem, these Seasons will be very thick and quick. Lift up thine Eyes, saith God to this City, all these gather themselves together, to come unto thee; thy Sons shall come from far, and thy Daughters from the Ends of the Earth. All the Flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee (so that thou wandringly shalt say) Who are these that fly as
Isa. 49. 11, 12. a Cloud, and as a Dove to the Windows. For I will make thy Mountain a Way, and my High-ways shall be
Isa. 60. 7, 8. exalted. Behold these shall come from far, and lo these from the North and the West, and those from the Land of Sinim.

Thirdly, In that she is said to yield not only Fruit, but all manner of Fruit; and that not only one manner of Fruit now, and another then, but all manner of Fruit, and that every Month: it argueth also, that at this Day Jerusalem shall have abundance of heavenly and spiritual Provision, and of Variety of Dainties for her Solace and Refreshment; always new, I say, and immediately from the Tree. The
Jer. 31. 5. Fruits of the Vine shall at that Day be upon the Mountains of Samaria, and shall be eaten as common things, saith the Prophet. Fear not, O Land, be glad and rejoyce, for the Lord will do great things. Be not afraid ye Beasts of the Field, for the Pastures of the Wilderness do spring: for the Tree beareth her Fruit; the Fig-tree and the Vine do yield their Strength. Be glad ye Children of Zion, and rejoyce in the Lord your God; for he hath given you the former and the latter Rain moderately, and he will cause it to come down to you, the Rain, the former and the latter Rain in the first Month; and the Floors shall be full of Joel 2. 21, 22, 23, 24, 25. Wheat, and the Fats shall overflow with Wine and Oyl. And I will restore unto you that which the Canker-worm, the Catterpillar, and the Palmer-worm hath eaten, and you shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and shall praise the Name of the Lord. And then shall every one, not only sit under his own Vine, and under
Zec. 3. 10. his own Fig-tree, but from thence they shall call each to other, to give to each other their Dainties, and none shall make them afraid.

And the Leaves of the Tree were for the healing of the Nations. By Leaves here, we may understand the blessed and precious Promises, Consolations and Encouragements that by Vertue of Christ's undertaking for us, we have every where growing upon the new Covenant; which Promises and Encouragements they are, and will be, most freely handed to the wounded Conscience that will be tossed upon the restless Waves of Doubt and Unbelief, as was the Olive-leaf by the Dove brought home to Noah, when he was tossed upon the Waves of that
Gen. 11. outragious Flood that then did drown the World. 105.

But again, by this Word, the Leaves, you may conceive, that still he hath his Eye to the Paradise in which at first God placed Adam and his Companion, for 'twas to Leaves they fled for Covering, after they had transgressed against their Maker. Now
Gen. 3. 7. then, in his saying the Leaves are for healing, it is as if he had said, the Paradise that will be towards the latter end of the World, will far outstrip the Paradise that first was planted in the beginning thereof; for as the Tree of Life, which is the Christ and Saviour, shall stand where did the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, which is the old Covenant and Law of Works: So the Leaves of this Tree shall be for healing, and for covering the Nakedness of poor Transgressors; though the Leaves that Adam found in the first Paradise, do what he could, did leave him naked.

Christ's Leaves are better than Adams Aprons. Ezekiel saith, that these Leaves are for Medicine, Ezek. 47. 12. that is, they are for Healing, saith John; the which may most fitly be applied to the blessed Promise of Grace: for as a Leaf for Medicine, when applied to a Sore in the Body, doth supple, mollifie and heal the Wound; so the Word of Promise, when rightly applied to the Soul, it doth supple, mollifie and heal the wounded Conscience: He sent his Word and healed them, and delivered them from their Distractions. O that Men would praise the Lord
Psal. 107. 20, 21. for his Goodness, and for his wondrous Works to the Children of Men!

And the Leaves, &c. There is yet another Mystery lieth in these Words. 106.

He doth not say, And the Fruits thereof are for the Healing of the Nations; but the Leaves, by which he would have us to understand, that all the Benefits and Priviledges that we do here receive from Christ, they are as inferior to the Glory we shall have from from him when we come to Heaven, as inferior, I ſay, as the Leaves are to the Fruit. Again, The Comfort and Sweetneſs that at any time we receive from the Lord, it is not before, but after a Promiſe is ſuitably applied, even as the Fruit of the Tree with which the Body is comforted, is not before, but after the Leaves have put forth themſelves. VVherefore Chriſt might well ſay to Nathaniel (and that after he had received ſome Refreſhment from a Leaf) Thou ſhalt ſee greater things than theſe; and Paul, That yet a far more exceeding and eternal weight of Glory is laid up for all Believers: for indeed, indeed, the Glory that God hath prepared for us againſt the Day of God, it doth, and will more outſtrip the moſt high Enjoyment of the higheſt Saint in New Jeruſalem (notwithſtanding their Enjoyment will be ſo eminent) than doth the ſweeteſt Fruit outſtrip the Leaf that hangeth on that Tree: And the Leaves of the Tree were for the Healing of the Nations.

Joh. 1. 50. 2 Cor. 4. 17.

If the Leaves be ſo good, O Lord, let us enjoy the Fruit; and not a little, or earneſt, but the whole Harveſt thereof in thy Kingdom.

Thus much touching this VVater and Tree of Life.

107. Verſe 3. And there ſhall be no more Curſe, but the Throne of God ſhall be in it, and his Servants ſhall ſerve him. This is the Concluſion of the whole Diſcourſe, and it ſheweth unto us the bleſſed Effect of the bleſſed Recovering of this City to her firſt and primitive State. Theſe VVords therefore, they are only applicable to this ſtate of the Church.

For there hath no State of the Church been yet in the VVorld, but that State hath been liable to a Curſe; but this State, to wit, the State ſhe will be in at her building again, will be a State without parallel, a State properly her own. And there ſhall be no more Curſe.

By Curſe in this Place we are chiefly to underſtand, not the taking away of the Curſe, the eternal Curſe which ſeparates between God and the Soul for ever, for ſo the Curſe in this ſence hath always been taken away, by vertue of the Terms, the general Terms of the New Covenant, and that in common for every Saint in all Ages: But by Curſe here, we are to underſtand that, or thoſe Curſes that do, and have frequently befallen the Church for her Sin and Apoſtaſy; as namely, the giving up his People to their own Darkneſs and Ignorance; his ſuffering them to ſwerve from his true VVorſhip and Ordinances; his giving them up into the Hand of thoſe that hate them, to become among them a Hiſſing, a Taunt, a Reproach, and a By-word, as it is at this Day: his taking away from them the Means, to wit, the outward Word of the Goſpel, and ſuffering them to be even at the point to famiſh for the want thereof. Theſe and other things are the Curſes that he here ſaith ſhall be no more among his People; for indeed they ſhall not, becauſe the Goſpel-patpern ſhall never be removed more, nor their Light to ſee, nor their Love to practiſe, never be diminiſhed more; Their Defence, alſo, ſhall be the Munition of Rocks; Bread ſhall be given them, and their Waters ſhall be ſure: As here, you find the Tree and River of the Water of Life are fixed now in the midſt of this City. Wherefore now the Church (as I have all along ſhewed you) ſhall have her Sun at the height, her Light as the Light of ſeven Days, and ſhall go no more down for ever: Alſo ſhe ſhall never be pulled down: She ſhall be a Tabernacle that ſhall never be pulled down, neither ſhall one of the Cords thereof be looſed, or one of her Stakes again removed. There ſhall be no more Curſe.

Gal. 3. 13. Zeph. 1. 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17. Ier. 43. 28. Jer. 29. 18 & 44. 8, 12. Amos 8. 9. 10, 11, 12. 13. Iſa. 33. 16.

108. But the Throne of God ſhall be in it. Indeed, here lieth the reaſon of all Bleſſedneſs to any People, even the Preſence of God. Now the Preſence of God is with his People, either at Times and Seaſons, or all together: He will not be to this City a God of Times and Seaſons, even like a wayfaring Man that tarries but for a Night, as he uſed to be to his People of old, but here he will abide, reſt and dwell, I will dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem, and my Houſe ſhall be built in it, ſaith the Lord: And again, I will dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem for ever: wherefore John conſidering this, he ſaith, there ſhall be here no more any Curſe, but the Throne of God. God will now, when he returneth to Jeruſalem, bring his Seat with him, to ſignifie his ſitting down in the midſt of his People to be their Company-keeper for ever.

Zeph. 3. 17. Jer. 14. 8, 9. Zech. 2. 10, 11. Ezek. 43. 9.

But the Throne of God ſhall be in it. By this Word Throne, we are to underſtand, yet further, theſe particular things. 109.

Firſt How bleſſed a State this City will be in at all times, for the Anſwer of Prayer; the Throne of God will be in the midſt of them; the Throne of Grace, the Mercy-Seat, they will be open now to all the Inhabitants of this City; yea, the Fame thereof ſhall ſo ſpread, that it ſhall be rumored among all Nations, that in Jeruſalem God will be found ſpeedily; that in Jeruſalem the God of Heaven and eternal Mercy is found at all times by them that ſeek his Face. My Houſe, ſaith he, ſhall be called a Houſe of Prayer for all Nations. Yea, many People, and ſtrong Nations ſhall at that Day come to ſeek the Lord at Jeruſalem, and to pray before the Lord. And at that Day, the very Faſts of the Houſe of God, ſhall be to the Houſe of Judah, Joy and Gladneſs, and chearful Feaſts; therefore Love, Truth and Peace.

Iſa. 56. 7. Zech. 8. 19. 20, 21, 22.

Secondly, The Throne of God being now eſtabliſhed in this City, what a Government, what Rule, what a Life of Holineſs and Godlineſs, what Dread and Majeſty will now be in the Hearts of all the Sons of this City! How to an Hairs breadth will he command and guide them with his Eye at all times, when they ſhould either turn to the Righthand or to the Left: What Wiſdom (I ſay) what Holineſs, what Grace and Life will be found in all their Words and Actions? The Throne of God is among them, from which there will come continual Influence, Light and Splendor into all their Hearts. Hear the Word of the Lord, O ye Nations, and declare it in the Iſles afar off. He that ſcattered Jacob, will gather him, and keep him as a Shepherd doth his Sheep: for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ranſomed him from the hand of him that is ſtronger than he. Therefore they ſhall come and ſing in the height of Zion, and ſhall flow together to the goodneſs of the Lord, for Wheat, and for Wine, and for Oyl, and for the young of the Flock, and of the Herd; and their Soul ſhall be as a watered Garden, and they ſhall not ſorrow any more at all.

Iſa. 18. 17. Jer. 31. 10, 11, 12, 13.

Thirdly, The Throne of God being in this City, there is alſo thereby diſcovered what ſway and commanding an Authority this City will have at this day, (as I have already ſhewed you) over all the Earth: The Lord ſhall roar out of Zion, and ſhall utter his Voice from Jeruſalem, and the Heavens and the Earth ſhall ſhake; but the Lord ſhall be the Hope of his People, and the Strength of the Children of Iſrael. This was figured forth by the Throne of Solomon, in the days when that City was in its Proſperity; which Throne, to ſhew the Majeſty and commanding Awe that then that City had over all, both far and near; it had for the Bearers of the Steps twelve Lions, ſix on this ſide, and ſix on that ſide of the Throne. This City ſhall then be the Head and Chief, but the Tail and Reproach no more: Glorious things are ſpoken of thee, O City of God.

Iſa. 2. 9, 10. Joel 3. 16. 1 King. 10. 18 19 20. Pſal. 87. 3.

And his Servants ſhall ſerve him. That is, him only: Indeed his Servants ſerve him always but yet withal they do too too often ſerve with the VVills and Luſts of Men even in their Service and worſhiping God; that is they ſerve him in much Affliction, Temptation, Fear and Perſecution; but then they ſhall ſerve him without any of theſe: Yea, they ſhall take them Captives, whoſe Captives they were, and they ſhall rule over their Oppreſſors. And it ſhall come to paſs in that Day (O City) that the Lord ſhall give thee [REST] from thy Sorrow, and from the hard Bondage wherein thou waſt made to ſerve, and thou ſhalt ſerve the Lord thy God without 110.

fear

fear in Holineſs and Righteouſneſs before him all the Days of thy Life.

111. And they ſhall ſee his Face. This alſo argueth a very great diſpenſation of Grace and Mercy to this Jeruſalem. VVhen God did deliver up his People into the hand of the King of Babylon, he ſaid, it ſhould be done in fury and in anger, and that for their wickedneſs he would hide his face from his City. VVherefore by the ſight of his face here, we are to underſtand that glorious viſible appearance of God that then will be for this City and People in the face of all the world. For by the Face of God, we are to underſtand the Diſcovery of his Severity, Providences, and wonderful Out-goings among the Sons of Men; as alſo the glorious breaking forth of Grace, Mercy and Forgiveneſs thorow Chriſt Jeſus; all which the People of God ſhall then moſt marvelloufly ſee and behold.

Firſt, They ſhall ſee his Severity and Judgments upon the VVhore.

Secondly, They ſhall ſee how God by his ſtrange Judgments and VVorks of VVonder hath brought this about: Who ſhall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name? for thou only art holy; for all Nations ſhall come and worſhip before thee: for thy Judgments are made manifeſt. * They that are delivered from the Noiſe of Archers in the places of drawing Water; there ſhall they rehearſe the Righteous Acts of the Lord, even the Righteous Acts towards the Inhabitants of his Villages in Iſrael.

Thirdly, And as for his Mercy, they ſhall ſee that their Horn is exalted, and that they are near to him. Praiſe ye the Lord.

Pſal. 148. 14.

112. And his Name ſhall be in their Fore-heads. And his Name] That is, his Fear and Image, it ſhall appear in all their Doings. Sometimes he ſaith, he will write his Fear and Law in their Hearts and Minds. VVhich Fear and Law is all one with that which in this place he calleth his Name in their Foreheads. The Forehead of a Man is the place above all parts of the Body, that is moſt naked and plain to be beheld of all that paſs by; wherefore when he ſaith, their Fathers Name ſhall be in their Foreheads; it is as if he had ſaid, The Profeſſion of my People ſhall now be open, and the Beauty of it apparent to all Beholders; I will make them, ſaith God, a Name and a Praiſe among all the People of the Earth, when I turn back your Captivity before your Eyes. Every Face ſhall then ſhine with Oyl, as well as every Heart be repleniſhed with Milk and VVine. This was held forth by the Memorial that the Iſraelites were to wear at Gods Command, between their Eyes: which Memorial, was the Doctrine of Unleavened Bread, and of the Paſchal Lamb, the Doctrine of Faith and Holineſs. VVherefore by Name here, he means the Faith and Holineſs of the Goſpel, which in thoſe days ſhall walk openly with Honour, with Reverence and Eſteem before all Men. At this day the VVorld will, as I have ſaid, be ſo far off from oppoſing and perſecuting, that they ſhall wonder, and tremble, and fear before this People; yea, be taken, affected, and pleaſed with the VVelfare of this Beloved. The Mountains and the Hills ſhall break forth before her into ſinging, and all the Trees of the Field ſhall clap their hands: All Nations ſhall call them bleſſed; for they ſhall be a delightſome Land, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts. The VVaters of Noah ſhall now be no more, the tumultuous Multitudes ſhall now be gone, and there will be no more Sea: Now therefore the Doves may be gathering their Olive-branches, and alſo find reſt for the Soals of their Feet, while the Ark ſhall reſt upon the Mountains of Ararat.

The Wolf ſhall (now) dwell with the Lamb, and the Leopard ſhall lie down with the Kid; the Calf and the young Lion, and the Fatling together; and a little Child ſhall lead them. The Lion ſhall eat Straw like an Ox. And the little Child ſhall play at the hole of the Aſp, and the weaned Child ſhall put his hand into the Cockatrices Den. They ſhall not hurt nor deſtroy in all my Holy Mountains, ſaith the Lord.

Gen. 8. 4, 5, &c. Isa. 11. 6, 7, 8, 9 & 56. 25.

Bleſſed is he whoſe Lot it will be to ſee this holy City deſcending and lighting upon the place that ſhall be prepared for her Situation and Reſt! Then will be a golden VVorld; VVickedneſs ſhall then be aſhamed, eſpecially that which perſecutes the Church: Holineſs, Goodneſs and Truth ſhall then with great Boldneſs, Countenance and Reverence, walk upon the Face of all the Earth. From the riſing of the Sun, even to the going down of the ſame, my Name ſhall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place Incenſe ſhall be offered to my Name, and a pure Offering: for my Name ſhall be great among the Heathen, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts. 'Twill be then always Summer, always Sunſhine, always pleaſant, green, fruitful and beautiful to the Sons of God. And it ſhall come to paſs in that day that the Mountains ſhall drop new Wine, and the Hills ſhall flow with Milk, and all the Rivers of Judah ſhall flow with Water; and a Fountain ſhall come forth of the Houſe of the Lord, and ſhall water the Valley of Shittim; and Judah ſhall dwell for ever, even from Generation to Generation. And the Name of the City ſhall be from that day, THE LORD IS THERE. [Oh Bleſſedneſs!] And he ſaid unto me, Theſe Sayings are faithful and true. And the Lord God of the Holy Prophets ſent his Angel to ſhew unto his Servants, things that MUST SHORTLY be done.

Mal. 1. 11. Joel 3 18. 20. Rev. 22. 6.

I conclude therefore with that earneſt Groan of Moſes, the Man of God: O ſatisfie us early with thy Mercy, that we may rejoyce and be glad all our days: Make us glad according to the days wherein thou haſt afflicted us, and the years wherein we have ſeen evil. Let thy Work appear unto thy Servants, and thy Glory to their Children; and let the Beauty of the Lord our God be upon us, and eſtabliſh thou the Work of our hands; yea, the Work of our hands, eſtabliſh thou it. Amen.

THE

1. THE

RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD; AND Eternal Judgment:

OR,

The Truth of the Reſurrection of the Bodies, both of Good and Bad at the Laſt Day: Aſſerted and proved by God's Word. Alſo the manner and order of their coming forth of their Graves; as alſo, with what Bodies they do ariſe. Together, with a Diſcourſe of the Laſt Judgment, and the final Concluſion of the whole World.

By John Bunyan, a Servant of the Lord's Chriſt.

Courteous Reader,

2. THough this be a ſmall Treatiſe, yet it doth preſent thee with things of the greateſt, and moſt weighty Concernment, even with a Diſcourſe of Life and Death to Eternity: opening, and clearing, by the Scriptures of God, that the Time is at hand, when, there ſhall be a Reſurrection of the Dead, both of the juſt and unjuſt; even of the Bodies of both, from the Graves where they are, or ſhall be, at the approach of that Day.

Thou haſt alſo in theſe few Lines, the order and manner of the riſing of theſe two ſorts of People, wherein is ſhewed thee with what Body they ſhall then riſe; as alſo their States and Condition at this Day, with great clearneſs.

For, here thou ſhalt ſee the Truth, and manner of the terrible Judgment, the opening of the Books, the examining of Witneſſes, with a final Concluſion upon Good and Bad. Which, I hope, will be profitable to thy Soul that ſhall read it. For if thou art godly, then here is that which will through Gods Bleſſing, incourage thee to go on in the Faith of the Truth of the Goſpel; but if thou art ungodly, then here thou mayeſt meet with Conviction; yea, and that of what will be, without fail thy end at the end of the World: whether thou continue in thy Sins or repent. If thou continue in them, blackneſs, and darkneſs, and everlaſting deſtruction: but if thou repent and believe the Goſpel, then light and life, and joy and comfort, and glory, and happineſs, and that to Eternity.

Wherefore let me here beg theſe things at thy hand.

Firſt, That thou take heed of that Spirit of Mockery, that ſaith, Where is the Promiſe of his coming? 2 Pet. 3. 4, 5.

Secondly, Take heed that thy heart be not overcharged with Surfeiting and Drunkenneſs, and the cares of this life, and ſo that Day come upon thee unawares. Luke 21. 34, 35.

Thirdly, But be diligent in making thy Calling and Election ſure; that thou in the day, of which thou ſhalt read more in this Book, be not found without that glorious Righteouſneſs that will then ſtand thee inſtead, and preſent thee before his glorious preſence, with exceeding joy; to him be glory in the Church by Chriſt Jeſus, world without end. Amen.

John Bunyan.

3. Acts 24. 14, 15. But this I confeſs unto thee, that after the way which they call Hereſie, ſo worſhip I the God of my Father, believing all things that are written in the Law and the Prophets, and have hope towards God, which they themſelves alſo allow, that there ſhall be a Reſurrection of the Dead, both of the juſt, and unjuſt.

MY Diſcourſe upon this Text, will chiefly concern the Reſurrection of the Dead: Wherefore to that I ſhall immediately apply my ſelf, not medling with what elſe is couched in the words.

You ſee here, that Paul, being upon his Arraignment, accuſed of many things, by ſome that were violent for his Blood; and being Licenſed to ſpeak for himſelf by the then Heathen Magiſtrate; he doth in few Words tell them, that as touching the Crimes wherewith they charged him, he was utterly faultleſs, only this he confeſſed, That after that way which they call Hereſie, ſo he worſhiped the God of his Fathers; believing all things that are written in the Law and the Prophets, and that he had the ſame hope towards God, which they themselves did allow that there should be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just, and unjust.

Whence note by the way, That an Hypocritical People will persecute the power of those Truths in others which themselves in words profess. I have hopes towards God, and that such a Hope which themselves do allow, and yet I am this day, and that for this very thing persecuted by them.

4. But to come to my purpose, there shall be a Resurrection of the Dead, &c. By these words, the Apostle sheweth us what was the substance of his Doctrine, to wit, that there should be a Resurrection of the Dead; and by these words also, what was the great Argument with his Soul, to carry him through these Temptations, Afflictions, Reproaches, and Necessities he met with in this World, even the Doctrine of a Resurrection. I have hope towards God, saith he, and there is my mind fixed, for there shall be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just, and unjust. The reason why I cannot do what these Jews would have me; also why I cannot live as do the Gentiles, it is, because I have in my Soul, the Faith of the Resurrection. This is the Doctrine, I say, which makes me fear to offend, and that is, as an undergirder to my Soul, whereby I am kept from destruction and confusion, under all the storms and tempests I here go through. In a word, this is it that hath more awe upon my Conscience, than all the Laws of Men, with all the Penalties they inflict. And herein Vers. 17. do I exercise my self to have always a Conscience void of offence, both towards God and towards Men.

5. Now here, seeing this Doctrine of the Resurrection of the Dead, hath that power, both to bear up and to awe; both to incourage and to keep within compass, the Spirit and Body of the People of God: It will be requisite, and profitable for us, to inquire into the true meaning and nature of this Word, the Resurrection of the Dead.

And for the better compassing of this Matter, I shall briefly inquire,

First, What in this place is meant by the Dead.

Secondly, What is meant by the Resurrection.

Thirdly, Why the Apostle doth here speak of the Resurrection of the Dead, as of a thing yet to come, there shall be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just and unjust.

For the first, The Dead in Scripture, go under a five-fold Consideration, as,

1. Such as die a natural Death, or as when a Man ceaseth to be any more in this World, as David, whom Peter tells us, is both Dead and Buryed, and his Se- Acts 2.29. pulchre remaineth with us to this day.

2. There is a People that are reckoned Dead in Trespasses and Sins, as those are, who never yet were translated from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God. Such I say who yet never felt the power of the Word and Spirit of God, to raise them from that state, to walk with him in the Regeneration; making a life out of Christ, and his present Bene- Ephe. 2. 1. fits. 2. John 5. 25.

3. There is a Death seizeth Men often after some measure of Light received from God, and some profession of the Gospel of Christ. These, for the certainty of their Damnation, are said to be dead, dead; twice dead, and Jude 12. plucked up by the Roots.

4. There is in Scripture mention made of a Death to sin, and the lusts of the Flesh; this Death is the be- Rom. 6. 6, ginning of true Life and Happiness, and is a certain 7. 8. 2 Tim. fore-runner of a share in Christ, and with him in ano- 2. 11. ther World.

5. Lastly, there is also in the Word, a relation of eternal Death. This is the Death that those are in, and swallowed up of, that go out of this World Godless, Christless, and Graceless; dying in sin, and so under the curse of the dreadful God, who I say, because they have missed of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Saviour Mark 9. 43, in this day of Grace; are fallen into the gulf and jaws 44. Luk. of eternal Death and Misery, in the fire that never 16. 23, 24, shall be quenched. 25, 26.

6. Now then, seeing there is Death, or to be dead, taken under so many Considerations in the Scripture; it is evident, that to be dead in Christ, the Text is not meant of them all: I then must distinguish, and inquire which of these Deaths it is, that here the Apostle did look for a Resurrection from.

First then, it cannot be meant a Resurrection from Psal. 49. eternal Death, for from that there is no Redemption. 38.

Secondly, Neither is it a Resurrection from that double Death; for they that are in that, are past recovery also.

Thirdly, And as for those that are dead to sin it is nonsence, to say there shall, or can be a Resurrection from that; for that it self is a Resurrection. Which Resurrection also, the Apostle had then passed through. Colos. 2. 12 And also all the Brethren, as he saith, You hath he 13. 20. quickned, who were dead in Trispasses and Sins: and again, If ye then be risen with Christ: and again, wherein also ye are risen with him through the Faith of the ope- Col. 3. 1. ration of God, who raised him from the dead.

Lastly, The Dead therefore in this Scripture, must be understood of those that have departed this life, that have Body and Soul separated each from the other; and so the Resurrection, a Resurrection of the Body out of the Grave; as Daniel saith, Many that sleep in the Dust Dan. 12. 2. of the Earth shall arise: and again, the Hour is coming, John 5. 28. when all that are in their Graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth, &c.

7. The Resurrection of the Just then, is the rising of the Bodies of the Just, and the Resurrection of the Unjust, the rising of their Bodies at the last Judgment. This also is the meaning of that saying of Paul to Agrippa, I stand, saith he, and am Judged, for the hope of the Promise made unto our Fathers: which promise at first began to be fulfilled in the Resur- Acts 13. rection of the Body of Christ, and hath it's accom- 32, 33. plishment, when the Dead, small and great, are raised out of their Graves: Wherefore though Paul saith, It is already fulfilled; yet here he saith, Acts 13. He hopes it shall come. Which Promise, saith he, our twelve Tribes instantly serving God day and night, Dan. 12. hope to come, as God told Daniel, saying, Go thy 13. way, for thou shalt stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

Christ is already risen, and therefore so far the promise is fulfilled, but his Saints are yet in their Graves, and therefore that part of the fulfilling of it, is yet to come, as he saith, why should it be an Acts 26. 6, incredible thing with you, that God should raise the 7, 8. dead?

8. Again, That it is the Resurrection of the dead Bodies of both Saints and Sinners that is here inserted, is further evident, because the Apostle saith, it is the Resurrection, that the very Pharisees themselves allowed. I have hope towards God, saith he, which themselves also allow, then what that hope is, he in the next words sheweth, namely, That there shall be a Resurrection of the Dead. &c. Now we know, that the Pharisees did not allow of a Resurrection from a state of Nature to a state of Grace, which is the same with the New Birth: but did confidently allow and teach, that they were the Children of Abraham, according to the flesh. Yea, when any of them began to adhere, or incline to Christ's Doctrine in some things, yet the Doctrine of the John 3. 1, New Birth, or of being raised from a state of Na- 2, 3, 4, 5, ture to a state of Grace, they would very much 6, 7, 8, 9. stick at: though in the mean time, they utterly John 8. 31, were against the Doctrine of the Sadduces, which de- 32, 33, 34, nyed the Resurrection of the Body. 35. Acts

Further, the Resurrection here spoken of must 23. 6, 7, 8. needs be the Resurrection of the Body, because it is called, a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just and unjust, that is, of both Saints and Sinners, according to the saying of Christ, The Hour is coming, when all that are in their Graves shall hear his Voice, and shall come forth, they that have done good, to the Resurrection Joh. 5. 28, of Life; and they that have done evil, to the Resurrecti- 29. on of Damnation.

Again, the Resurrection here mentioned, is a Resurrection to come, not already injoyed, either by Saints or Sinners, There shall be a Resurrection of the Dead both of the just, and unjust. Now I say, the Resurrection here being yet deferred by the just, and counted also the Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just and unjust. It must needs be the same Resurrection that is spoken of by Job, who saith, So Man lyeth down, and riseth not again till the Heavens be no more, they shall not a- Job 14. 12. wake, nor be raised out of their sleep.

Having thus in few words opened this Scripture unto you, I shall in the next place, for the further satisfaction of those that are yet wavering, and for the refreshment of those that are strong and stedfast, lay down before you, several undeniable Scripture demonstrations monſtrations, of the Reſurrection of the Dead, both of the juſt, and unjuſt.

9. I ſhall firſt begin with the Reſurrection of the Juſt.

The Juſt muſt ariſe, becauſe Chriſt is riſen from the Dead. Chriſt is the Head of the Juſt, and they are the Members of his Body; and becauſe of this Union, therefore the Juſt muſt ariſe. This is the Apoſtles own Argument, If Chriſt, ſaith he, be preached, that he roſe from the dead, how ſay ſome among you, 1 Cor. 15. 12, 13. that there is no Reſurrection of the dead; but if there be no Reſurrection of the dead, then is not Chriſt riſen. Now I ſay, the Reaſon why the Apoſtle thus argueth the Reſurrection from the dead, by the Reſurrection of Chriſt. It is, becauſe the Saints (of whoſe Reſurrection he here chiefly diſcourſeth) are in their Bodies as well as in their Souls, the Members of Chriſt; Know you not, ſaith he, that your Bodies are the Members of 1 Cor. 6. 15. Chriſt. A very weighty Argument; for if a good Man be a Member of Chriſt, then he muſt either be raiſed out of his Grave, or elſe ſin and death muſt have power over a Member of Chriſt. I ſay again, if this Body be not raiſed, then alſo Chriſt is not a complete Conqueror over his Enemies; for as much as death and the Grave, hath ſtill power over his Members. The laſt Enemy that ſhall be deſtroyed, is Death. Now though Chriſt in his own perſon, hath a complete Conqueſt over Death, &c. yet Death hath ſtill power over the Bodies of all that are in their Graves: Now I ſay, Chriſt being conſidered with relation to his Members, then he hath not yet a complete Conqueſt over death, neither will he, until they every one be brought forth of their Graves; for then, and not till then, ſhall 1 Cor. 15. 26 and 53, 54. that ſaying be every way fulfilled: Death is ſwallowed up of Victory.

Secondly, As there muſt be a Reſurrection of the Juſt, becauſe Chriſt is their Head, and they his Members: ſo alſo, becauſe the Body of the Saints, as well as their 10. Soul, is the purchaſe of Chriſt's Blood. 1 Cor. 6. 20. Ye are bought with a price, ſaith Paul: wherefore glorifie God in your Body, and in your Spirit, which are Gods. Chriſt will not loſe the purchaſe of his Blood. O Death, ſaith Chriſt, I will have them; O Grave, I will make thee let them go, I will ranſom them from the power of the Grave, I will redeem them from Death. (I have bought them, and they ſhall be mine.) O Death, I will be thy Plague, Hoſ. 13. 14 O Grave, I will be thy deſtruction. I ſay, though the Job 18. 13, power of the Grave be invincible, and death be the King 14 Revel. of Terrours, yet he who hath the Keys of Hell and of Death, 1. 18. at his Girdle, to him belongeth the iſſues from Death. Pſal. 68. He that is our God, is the God of Salvation, and to God 20. the Lord, belongeth the iſſues from death. And we the price of his Blood, ſhall be delivered.

Thirdly, As the Body is the Member of Chriſt, and 11. the price of his Blood, ſo it is the Temple of the Holy Ghoſt, which is in us. What, know you not that your Body is the Temple of the Holy Ghoſt which is in you? and you 1 Cor. 6. 13, 14, 19. are not your own. The Body is no ſuch ridiculous thing in the account of Chriſt, as it was in the account of 12. the Sadduces. The Body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the Body; and that not only in 1 Joh. 3. 2 this World, but that which is to come: wherefore he Luk. 24. 3 ſaith, God hath both raiſed up the Lord Jeſus, and will raiſe 45, 6, 7, 8. us up alſo by his power, that is, as he hath raiſed up the 35, 36, 37. Body of Chriſt, ſo will he raiſe up ours alſo by 38, 39, 40. Chriſt.

41, 42. Fourthly, The Bodies of the Juſt muſt ariſe again, John 20. becauſe of that Similitude, that muſt be betwixt the 24, 25, 26. Body of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the Bodies of the 27. Acts. Saints. When he ſhall appear, we ſhall be like him ‖. Now 1, 2, 3, 4, we have it abundantly manifeſt in Scripture, that the 5, 6, 7, 8, Body of the Lord Jeſus was raiſed out of the Grave, 9, 10, 11. caught up into Heaven, and that it ever remaineth in Acts 2. 31. the holieſt of all, a glorified Body *.

Acts 17. Now, I ſay, it would be very ſtrange to me, if Chriſt 30, 31, 32 ſhould be raiſed, aſcended, and glorified in that Body; Mar. 16. and yet that his People ſhould be with him, no other- 6, 7. 19. wiſe than in their Spirits; eſpecially, ſeeing that he in Heb. 7 24, his Reſurrection, is ſaid to be but the firſt begotten from 25, 26. the dead, and the firſt Fruits of them that ſleep. For we Heb. 8. 2, 3 know, that a firſt begotten, doth imply more Sons, Heb. 10. and that firſt-fruits do foreſhew an after-Crop: where- 12. fore we conclude, that as in Adam all die, ſo in Chriſt Col. 1. 18. ſhall all be made alive, but every man in his own order: 1 Cor. 15. Chriſt the firſt Fruits, and afterwards them that are his at 23. his coming.

1 cor. 15. And hence it is, that the Scripture ſaith, He ſhall 22, 23. change our vile body, that it may be faſhioned like to his glorious Body. And hence it is again, that the day of Chriſt is ſaid to be the day of the manifeſtation of the Sons of God, and of the redemption of our Body; for then ſhall Phil. 3. 20, the Saints of God not only be, but appear as their Sa- 21. viour, being delivered from their Graves, as he is from Rom. 8. 21 his, and glorified in their Bodies, as he is in his. 22, 23.

Fifthly, There muſt be a Reſurrection of the Body of the Saints, becauſe the Body, as well as the mind, 13. hath been a deep ſharer in the afflictions that we meet with for the Goſpels ſake. Yea, the Body is oft-times the greateſt ſufferer, in all the Calamities, that for Chriſts ſake we here undergo; it is the Body that feels the ſtocks, the whip, hunger, and cold, the fire and rack, and a thouſand calamities; it is the Body in which we have the dying Marks of the Lord Jeſus: that the life of Jeſus, alſo might be made manifeſt in Gal. 6. 17. our mortal fleſh. God is ſo juſt a God, and ſo merciful 2 Cor. 4. 9, to his People, that though the Bodies of his Saints 10, 11, 12, ſhould, through the Malice of the Enemy, be never ſo 13, 14. diſhonourably tortured, killed and ſown in the Grave, yet he will (as further will be ſhewed anon) raiſe it again in incorruption, glory and honour; as he ſaith alſo in another place, That we who have continued with Chriſt in his temptations, that have for his ſake underwent the reproach and malice of the World; to you, ſaith Chriſt, Luk. 22. I appoint a Kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me. If 28, 29. we ſuffer with him, we ſhall reign with him, and he that ha- 2 Tim. 2. teth his life in this World, ſhall keep it to life eternal. All 12. this is to be injoyed, eſpecially at the Reſurrection of John 12. the Juſt. 29.

But Sixthly, There muſt be a Reſurrection of the Juſt, 14. otherwiſe, there will be the greateſt diſappointment on all ſides that ever was, ſince Man had a being on the Earth.

A Diſappointment I ſay,

Firſt, Of the Will of God; for this is the will of the Father that ſent me, ſaith Chriſt, that of all that he hath given me, I ſhould loſe nothing (not a duſt) but ſhould John 6. 39 raiſe it up again at the laſt day.

Secondly, A diſappointment of the Power of God; for he that hath raiſed up the Lord Jeſus, doth alſo intend to raiſe us up by his Power, even our Bodies; as Paul ſaith, the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body, and God hath both raiſed up 1 Cor. 6. the Lord, and will alſo raiſe us up by his Power. 13, 14.

Thirdly, If there ſhould be no Reſurrection of the Juſt, Chriſt alſo would be wonderfully diſappointed of the fruits of all his ſufferings. As I told you before, his People are the price of his Blood, and the members of his Body, and he is now at the right hand of God (far above all Principalities and Powers, and every name that is named) expecting till his Enemies Heb. 1. 13. be made his Footſtool, and brought under the foot of the weakeſt Saint, which will not be, until the laſt Enemy Death is deſtroyed. We know that he ſaid, when he went away, that he would come again, and fetch all his People to himſelf, even up into Heaven, that where Joh. 12. 26 he is, there we may be alſo. But I ſay, how will he Joh. 14. 1, be diſappointed, if when he comes, the Grave and 2, 3. Death ſhould prevent and hinder him, and with it's Joh. 17. 24 bars, keep down thoſe, whom he hath ranſomed with his Blood, from the power thereof?

Fourthly, If the Bodies of the Juſt ariſe not from the dead, then they alſo will be diſappointed. 'Tis true, the Saints departed, have far more fellowſhip, and Communion with God and the Lord Jeſus, than we have, or are yet capable of having. They being in Luk. 23. 43 Paradiſe, and we in this World; but yet, I ſay for all that, they are, though there, very much longing for the day of the Lords vengeance, which will be the day in which they will, and muſt ariſe from the Dead. This I ſay, is the time that they long for, when they cry under the Altar, How long, O Lord, holy and true, doſt thou not judge and avenge our Blood, on them that dwell on the Earth? When they dyed, they dyed in hope to obtain a bet- Heb. 11. ter Reſurrection, and now they are gone, they long till 35. that day be come. Till the day come, I ſay, when Rev. 6. 10, the dead, even all the enemies of Chriſt, ſhall be 11. judged; for then will he give reward to his Servants the Prophets, and to his Saints, and to all that fear his Rev. 11. 18 name ſmall and great.

Fifthly, If the Juſt ariſe not, great diſappointment alſo will be to the Saints yet alive in this World: for, notwithſtanding they have already received the firſt-fruits of the Spirit, yet they wait, not only for more of that, but alſo for the Reſurrection, Redemption,

Rom. 8. 20, 21, 22, 23. Phil. 3. 20, 21. on, and changing of this vile Body. For our Conversation is in Heaven, saith Paul, from whence we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like to his glorious body. But now, I say, if the body riseth not, then how can it be made like to the glorious Body of Christ Jesus; yea, what a sad disappointment, infatuation, and delusion, are those poor Creatures under, that look, and that by Scripture warrant for such a thing? They look for good, but behold evil; they expect to be delivered in their whole man from every enemy; but lo, both Death and the Grave, their great Enemies, do swallow them up for ever; But beloved, be not deceived. The needy

Psal. 9. 10 shall not always be forgotten, the expectation of the poor shall not perish for ever, saith Christ, he that seeth the Son, and believeth on him that sent him, hath everlasting life,

John. 6. 40 and I will raise him up at the last day.

15. Sixthly, If the Just arise not out of their Graves, then also is every Grace of God in our Souls defeated; for though the Spirit of Devotion can put forth a feigned shew of holiness, with the denyal of the Resurrection, yet every Grace of God in the Elect, doth prompt them forward to live as becomes the Gospel, by pointing at this day: As

2 Cor. 4. 13, 14. First, 'Tis this that Faith looks at, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we believed, and therefore speak, knowing that he that hath raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise us up also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

Secondly, Hope looks at this: We, saith Paul, which have the first fruits of the Spirit, even we our selves groan within our selves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our Body, that is, we expect this by hope: but hope which is seen, is not hope; for what a man seeth, or hath in present possession, why doth he yet hope

Rom. 8. 23, 24, 25. for it.

Thirdly, The Grace of Self-denyal also worketh by this Doctrine, If after the manner of Men, I have fought with Beasts at Ephesus; what advantageth it me, if the Dead rise not? As who should say, Wherefore do I deny my self of those mercies and priviledges, that the men of this World injoy? Why do not I also, as well as they, shun persecution for the Cross of Christ? If the Dead rise not, what shall I be the better for 1 Cor. 15. 32. all my trouble that here I met with for the Gospel of Christ?

Fourthly, Both zeal and Patience, with all other the Graces of the Spirit of God in our hearts are much, yea, chiefly incouraged, animated, and supported by this Doctrine, as James saith, Be patient therefore my Brethren, unto the coming of the Lord (for then shall the Dead be raised.) Behold, the Husbandman waiteth for

1 Thes. 4. 16, 17. the precious fruits of the Earth, and hath long patience, till he receive the early and latter Rain; be ye also patient, stablish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord draws

Jam. 5. 7, 8. nigh.

16. Seventhly, The Doctrine of the Resurrection of the Just, must needs be a certain Truth of God, if we consider the deviliſh, and satanical Errours and absurdities that must unavoidably follow the Denyal thereof: As,

First, He that holdeth no Resurrection of our Body, he denyeth the Resurrection of the Body of Christ. This is the Spirits own Doctrine; For if the Dead rise

1 Cor. 15. 16. not, then is not Christ risen. He that denyeth the Resurrection of the Members, denyeth the Resurrection of the Head; for seeing the Resurrection of the Saints is proved by the Resurrection of Christ: he that doth deny the Resurrection of the Saints, must needs deny the Resurrection of Christ, that proves it.

Now this Errour, as it is in it self destructive to all Christian Religion; so it, like an Adder, carrieth within it's Bowels, many other alike, deviliſh and filthy: As,

1. He that denyeth the Resurrection of the Saints, he concludeth, That to preach deliverance from Sin and Death, it is vain preaching; for how can he be freed of Sin, that is swallowed up for ever of Death, and the Grave? as he most certainly is, that is always contained therein, as Paul saith, If Christ be not risen (whose Resurrection is the ground of ours) then our preaching is vain, and your faith is also vain; then

1 Cor. 15. 14. we preach lyes, and you receive them for truth.

2. This errour, casteth the Lie in the face of God, of Christ, and the Scriptures, Yea, and we also, saith Paul,

1 Cor. 15. 15. are found false witnesses of God, because we have testified of God, that he raised Christ up, if so be that the dead rise not. Mark, before he said, Christ in his Resurrection doth prove our Resurrection; but now he saith, that our Resurrection will prove the truth of his, and indeed both are true: for as by Christs rising, ours is affirmed; so by ours, his is demonstrated.

3. The Denyal of the Resurrection, it also damneth all those that have departed this World in the Faith of this Doctrine. If Christ be not raised (as if he is not, we rise not) then is not only your Faith vain, and ye are yet in your Sins that are alive; but then they also that are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished.

4. He that denyeth the Resurrection of the Just, he concludeth, that the Christian is of all Men the most miserable. Mark the words, If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable. First of all Men the most miserable, because we let go present Injoyments for those that will never come, If the Dead rise not? Of all Men most miserable, because our Faith, our Hope, our Joy and Peace, are all but a Lie, if the Dead rise not. But you will say, He that giveth up himself to God, shall have comfort in this Life. Ah! but if the Dead rise not, all our comfort that now we think we have from God, will then be found presumption and madness, because we believe, that God hath so loved us, as to have us in his day, in Body and Soul to Heaven; which will be nothing so, if the Dead rise not. If in this Life only we have Hope in Christ, we are of all Men most miserable. Poor Christian, thou that lookest for the blessed hope of the Resurrection of the Body, at the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ: how wilt thou be deceived, if the dead rise not? But now is Christ

1 Cor. 20, 21. risen, and become the first fruits of them that sleep; for since by Man came Death, by Man came also the Resurrection from the Dead.

5. But again, he that denyeth the Resurrection of the Dead, he setteth open a Flood-gate to all manner of Impiety; he cutteth the Throat of a truly Holy Life, and layeth the Reins upon the neck of the most outragious Lusts: For if the Dead rise not, let us eat and drink, that is, do any thing, though never so diabolical and hellish; let us eat and drink, for to morrow we die; and there is an end of us, we shall not arise again, to receive either Evil or Good.

6. To deny this Resurrection, nay if a Man do but say, It is past either with him or any Christian: his so saying tendeth directly to the destruction and overthrow of the Faith of them that hear him; and is so far from being according to the Doctrine of God, that it eateth out good and wholsom Doctrine, even as Cankers eat the Face and Flesh of a Man: How ill favouredly do they look, that have their Nose and Lips eat off with the Canker? Even so badly doth the Doctrine of no Resurrection of the Dead, look in the Eyes of God, Christ, Saints and Scripture.

Lastly, I conclude then, that to deny the Resurrection of the Bodies of the Just, it argueth,

First, Great ignorance of God, ignorant of his power to raise, ignorant of his Promise to raise, ignorant of his Faithfulness to raise; and that both to himself, Son, and Saints, as I shewed before; Therefore saith Paul to those that were thus deluded, Awake to Righteousness, and sin not, for some have not the knowledge of God; I speak this to your shame. As if he had said, Do you profess Christianity? And do you question the Resurrection of the Body? Do you not know, That the Resurrection of the Body, and Glory to follow, is the very quintessence of the Gospel of Jesus Christ? Are you ignorant of the Resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and do you question the Power and Faithfulness of God, both to his Son and his Saints, because you say, There shall be no Resurrection of the Dead? You are ignorant of God, of what he can do, of what he will do, and of what he will by doing, glorifie himself.

Secondly, As it argueth very great ignorance of Gods Power, Faithfulness, &c. So it argueth gross Ignorance of the Tenor and Current of the Scriptures; for as touching the Dead, That they are raised, have ye not read in the Book of Moses (saith Christ) how Mark. 12. 26, 27. that God said unto him in the Bush, I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the Dead, but of the Living: ye do therefore greatly Err.

To be the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, it is

Heb. 8.10, 11. Joh. 8. 44. 1 Joh 3.8,9 10. Hos. 6. 2. Col. 3. 4. Ephes. 1.4

to be underſtood of his being their God, under a new Covenant-Conſideration, as he ſaith, I will be their God, and they ſhall be my People. Now thus he is not the God of the Dead, that is, of thoſe that periſh, whether they be Angels or Men.

Now, I ſay, they that are the Children of God, as Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, they are counted the Living under a threefold Conſideration.

1. In their Lord and Head, and thus all the Elect may be ſaid to live; for they are from Eternity choſen in him, who alſo is their Life, tho poſſibly many of them yet unconverted. I ſay, yet Chriſt is their Life, by the eternal purpoſe of God.

Gal. 2. 20.

2. The Children of the new Covenant, do live both in their Spirits in Glory, by open viſion, and here by Faith and the continual Communication of Grace from Chriſt into their Souls.

Rom. 4. 17

3. They live alſo with reſpect to their riſing again; for God calleth thoſe things that are not, as though they were; to be born, dead, buried, riſen and aſcended, are all preſent with God, he liveth not by time, as we do, a thouſand years to him, are but as the day that is paſt, And again, one day is as a thouſand Years. Eternity, which is God himſelf, admitteth of no firſt, ſecond, and third, all things are naked and bare before him, and preſent with him, all (his) live unto him. There ſhall be a Reſurrection of the Dead, both of the Juſt, and unjuſt.

2 Pet. 3. 8. Heb. 4. 13. Iſa. 46. 9. 10. Rom. 8 29, 30, 31, 32, 33.

A Reſurrection, of what? of that which is ſown, or of that which was never ſown; if of that which is ſown, then it muſt be either of that Nature that was ſown, or elſe of the corruption that cleaveth to it; but it is the Nature, and not the Corruption that cleaveth unto it that riſeth again. And verily, the very term Reſurrection, is a forcible Argument, to prove the Dead ſhall come forth of their Graves; for the Holy Ghoſt hath always ſpoke more properly, than to ſay, There ſhall be a Reſurrection of the Dead, both of the Juſt and Unjuſt, when yet neither the good, nor the bad ſhall come forth of their Graves, but rather ſomething elſe to delude the World withall.

Having thus in few words, ſhewed you the truth of the Reſurrection of the Dead, I now come to the manner of their riſing.

The manner of the Reſurrection of the Dead: And firſt of the Juſt.

THE Apoſtle, when he had in the fifteenth of the firſt of the Corinthians, proved the truth and certainty of the Reſurrection, he deſcends to the diſcovery of the manner of it; and to the end, he might remove thoſe fooliſh ſcruples that attend the Hearts of the ignorant, he begins with one of their Queſtions; But ſome

Verſ. 35. will ſay, ſaith he, how are the Dead raiſed? and with what Body do they come? To which he anſwereth: firſt by a ſimilitude of Seed, that is ſown in the Earth. In which Similitude, he inſerteth three things.

Firſt, that our reviving or riſing, muſt be after

Ver. 36. Death, That which thou ſoweſt, is not quickned, except it die.

Secondly, That at our riſing, we ſhall not only revive and live, but be changed into a far more glorious

Verſ. 37. ſtate, than when we were ſown. That which thou ſoweſt, thou ſoweſt not that Body that ſhall be, &c. But God giveth it a Body as it pleaſeth him, that is, he giveth the Body more ſplendor, luſter, and beauty, at its Reſurrection.

But Thirdly, Neither its quickening, nor yet tranſcendent ſplendor, ſhall hinder it from being the ſame Body, (as to the nature of it) that was ſown in the Earth; for as God giveth it a Body, for Honour and Verſ. 38. Splendour, as it pleaſeth him, ſo to every Seed his own Body.

And indeed, this Similitude by which he here reaſoneth the manner of the Reſurrection of the Juſt, is very natural, and fitly ſuiteth each particular; for, as to its Burial, Firſt, The Corn of Wheat is firſt dead, and after ſown and Buried in the Earth, and ſo is the Body of Man.

Secondly, After the Corn is thus dead and buried, then it quickeneth and reviveth to Life: ſo alſo ſhall it be with our Body; for after it is laid in the Grave and buried, it ſhall then quicken, riſe, and revive.

Again, As to the manner of its change in its riſing, this Similitude alſo doth fitly ſuit; as,

Firſt, It is ſown a dead Corn, it is raiſed a living one.

Secondly, it is ſown dry, and without comlineſs, it riſeth green and Beautiful.

Thirdly, It is ſown a ſingle Corn, it riſeth a full Ear.

Fourthly, it is ſown in its Huſk, but in its riſing it leaveth that Huſk behind it.

Further, Though the Curnel thus die, be buried, and meet with all this change and alteration in theſe things: yet none of them can cauſe the nature of the Curnel to ceaſe; it is Wheat ſtill. Wheat was ſown and Wheat ariſeth, only it was ſown dead, dry, and barren Wheat; and riſeth living, beautiful, and fruitful Wheat. It hath this alteration then, that it doth greatly change its reſemblance, though yet it hath this power, as ſtill to retain its own nature. God giveth it a Body, as it pleaſeth him; but to every Seed his own Body.

The Apoſtle having thus preſented the manner of the Reſurrection of the Saints, by the nature of Seed ſown, and riſing again: he proceedeth, for further illuſtration, to three more Similitudes.

The firſt is, to ſhew us the variety and glory of fleſh.

The ſecond is, to ſhew us the difference of Glory that is between Heavenly Bodies, and thoſe that are Earthy.

The third is to ſhew us the difference that is between the Glory of the light of the Sun, from that of the Moon; and alſo how one Star differeth from another in Glory. And then concludeth, ſo is the Reſurrection of the Dead. As who ſhould ſay, at the Reſurrection of the Bodies, they will be abundantly more altered and changed, than if the fleſh of Beaſts and Fouls were made as noble as the fleſh of Men; or the Bodies of Earth, were made as excellent as the Heavenly Bodies; or as if the glory of the Moon ſhould be made as bright, and as clear as the glory of the Sun; or as if the glory of the leaſt Star was as glorious, and as ſhining, as the biggeſt in the Firmament of Heaven.

1 Cor. 15. 39, 40, 41, 42.

It is a Reſurrection indeed, a Reſurrection every way. The Body ariſeth as to the nature of it; the ſelf-ſame nature; but as to the manner of it, how far tranſcendent is it! There is a poor, dry, wrinkled Kirnel caſt into the ground, and there it lyeth, and ſwelleth, breatheth, and one would think, periſheth; but behold, it receiveth life, it chitteth, it putteth forth a blade, and groweth into a ſtalk, there alſo appeareth an Ear; it alſo ſweetly Bloſſoms, with a full Kirnel in the Ear; it is the ſame Wheat, yet behold how the form and faſhion of that which now ariſeth, doth differ from that which then was ſown, its glory alſo when 'twas ſown, is no glory: when compared with that in which it riſeth. And yet it is the ſame that riſeth that was ſown, and no other: though the ſame after a far more glorious manner, not the ſame with its huſk, but without it. Our brun ſhall be left behind us when we riſe again. The Compariſon alſo between the Bodies Heavenly, and Bodies Earthly, hold forth the ſame. The glory of the Celeſtial is one, and the glory of the Terreſtrial is another. Now mark it, he doth not ſpeak here of the natures of each of theſe Bodies: but of the tranſcendent glory of one above another. The glory of the Heavenly is one, and the glory of the Earthly is another. Wherefore I ſay, at our riſing, we ſhall not change our nature, but our glory; we ſhall be equal to the Angels; Not with reſpect to their nature, but glory. The nature alſo of the Moon is one thing and the glory of the Moon is another: and ſo, one, Star alſo differeth from another in glory.

Luke. 20. 36.

A Beggar hath the ſame nature as a King, and Gold in the Ore, the ſame nature with that which is beſt refined; but the Beggar hath not the ſame glory with the King, nor yet the Gold in Oar the ſame glory with that which is refined. But our ſtate will be far more altered, than any of theſe in the days when we like ſo many Suns in the Firmament of Heaven, ariſe out of the heart and bowels of the Earth.

Theſe things thus conſidered, do ſhew you how vainly they argue, that ſay, our humane nature conſiſting of Body and Soul, ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God, and alſo how far from their purpoſe, that ſaying of the Apoſtle is, which ſaith, (That fleſh and blood ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God.) And now alſo becauſe I am fallen upon the Objection it ſelf, I ſhall not paſs it, but with a ſhort daſh at it. Wherefore Reader, whoever thou art, conſider, that frequently in Scripture, the word fleſh and blood (as alſo in the place alledged) is not to be underſtood of that matter which God made; which fleſh cleaveth to our bones, and blood runs in our veins: but is taken for that corruption, weakneſs, mortality, and evil that cleaveth to it. Which weakneſs and corruption, becauſe it poſſeſſeth all Men, and alſo wholly ruleth where the Soul is unconverted: therefore it beareth the name of that which is ruled, and acted by it, to wit, our whole Man, conſiſting of Body and Soul; yet I ſay, is a thing diſtinct from that fleſh and blood which is eſſential to our being, and without which, we are no Men. As for inſtance, he that is Chriſts, ſaith Paul, hath crucified the fleſh, with the Affections and Luſts, Who is ſo vain as to think that the Apoſtle by theſe words, ſhould mean our material fleſh that hangeth on our Bones, and that is mixed with our natural Blood, ſinews, and veins? And not rather of that inward fountain of ſin, corruption and wickedneſs, which in another place he calleth the old Man with his deceitful luſts. Again, The fleſh luſteth againſt the Spirit, and the ſpirit againſt the fleſh: Is it our fleſh that hangeth on our Bones, which luſteth againſt the Spirit? and that alſo againſt which the Spirit luſteth? Certainly if the Spirit luſteth againſt our material fleſh, then it is our duty not to nouriſh it at all, becauſe, by nouriſhing of it, we nouriſh that againſt which the Spirit of God fighteth, and warreth. Nay, if the Spirit luſt againſt the fleſh on our bones, ſimply conſidered as fleſh; and if it be our Duty to follow the Spirit, as it is, then we muſt needs kill our ſelves, or cut our fleſh from our bones. For whatever the Spirit of God luſteth againſt, it muſt be deſtroyed, yea, it is our duty with all ſpeed to deſtroy it. But wilt thou, know O vain Man, that by fleſh here, is to be underſtood, not the nature that God hath made, but the corrupt apprehenſion, and wiſdom, with thoſe inclinations to evil, that lodge within us. Which in another place is called, the Wiſdom of the fleſh. Yea, in plain terms, fleſh and blood, where Chriſt ſaith, fleſh and blood hath not revealed this unto thee, but my Father which is in Heaven.

Gal. 5.24.

Epheſ. 4. 22.

Mat. 16. 16.

Nay, obſerve it, all theſe places, with many others, do rather point at a corrupt Soul, than a corrupt Body; for indeed, ſin and all ſpiritual Wickedneſs, they have their ſeat in the heart and ſoul of a Man, and by their uſing this or that Member of the Body, ſo defile the Man; the weakneſſes of the Body, or that attend our material fleſh and blood, they are weakneſſes of another kind, as ſickneſs, aches, pains, ſoars, wounds, deſection of members, &c. Wherefore, where you read of fleſh and blood, as rejected of God; eſpecially, when it ſpeaks of the fleſh and blood of Saints you are not to underſtand it as meant of the fleſh, which is their proper humane nature; but of that weakneſs which cleaveth to it.

Paul in another place, reckoneth up the works of the fleſh, in many things, as in Witchcraft, hatred, variance, ſtriſe, emulation, fornication and many others. But can any imagin that he there, ſhould ſtrike at that fleſh which hangeth on our bone? or rather at that malignity and rebellion that is in the mind of man againſt the Lord, by reaſon of which, the members of the Body are uſed this way, and alſo ſometime that, to accompliſh its moſt filthy and abuſive deeds They are Enemies in their Minds by wicked Works.

Gal. 17, 18, 19, 20.

Col. 1. 21.

Thus you ſee that Fleſh and Blood is not to be taken always for the Fleſh, that is upon our hands and feet, and other parts of our Body; but for that ſin, weakneſs, and infirmity, that cleaveth to our whole man.

Further then, touching our real ſubſtantial fleſh, it may be either conſidered as God's Creature purely, or as corrupted with ſin and infirmity. Now if you conſider it as corrupted, ſo it ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God: But yet conſider it as God's Creature, and ſo all that God hath converted to himſelf, through Jeſus Chriſt, ſhall, even with that Body, when changed, inherit the Kingdom of God. The Woman whoſe Cloaths are foul, can yet diſtinguiſh between the Dirt and the Cloth on which it hangeth; and ſo deals God with us. 'Tis true, there is not one Saint, but while he liveth here, his body is arrayed and infected with many corrupt and filthy things, as touching bodily weakneſſes; yea, and alſo with many ſinful infirmities, by reaſon of that body of Sin and Death that yet remains in us: But yet God, I ſay, diſtinguiſheth between our weakneſſes, and his Workmanſhip, and can tell how to ſave the whole Man of his People, while he is deſtroying the Corruption and Weakneſs that cleaveth to them.

21. And now to return to the place objected, Fleſh and Blood ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God. It cannot be truly underſtood, that that fleſh which is Mans Nature, ſhall not enter the Kingdom: For then, as I ſaid before, Chriſt muſt loſe his Members, the purchaſe of his Blood, the Veſſels and Temples of his Spirit; for all this is our Body. Again, then Chriſt alſo in that his Body, which is alſo our Fleſh and Blood, is not in Glory, contrary to the whole Current of the New Teſtament.

Heb. 2. 14, 15. Heb. 7. 24, 25. Heb. 8. 3, 4. Heb. 10. 10, 11, 12. Rev. 1. 18. Rev. 2. 8.

Yea it would be Non-ſenſe to ſay, there ſhould be a Reſurrection, and that our vile Body ſhall be changed, and made like to the Glorious Body of the Son of God; if this Body do not at all riſe again, but ſome other thing, which is not in us and our Nature. But to be ſhort, the Apoſtle here, when he ſaith, Fleſh and Blood ſhall not inherit, &c. ſpeaks properly of that Mortality and Weakneſs, that now attends our whole Man, and not of our real ſubſtantial Body it ſelf. For after he had ſaid, Fleſh and Blood ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God; he adds, Neither doth Corruption inherit incorruption. Which two ſayings are anſwerable to what he preſently adds; Saying, Behold! I ſhew you a Myſtery, we ſhall not all ſleep, but we ſhall all be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an Eye, at the laſt Trump, for the Trumpet ſhall ſound, and the Dead; mark, the Dead ſhall be raiſed incorruptible; that is, the Dead ſhall be ſo raiſed, as that in their riſing, Incorruption ſhall poſſeſs them inſtead of Corruption, and Immortality, inſtead of that Mortality that deſcended to the Grave with them. For this Corruptible; mark, this Corruptible, ſhall put on incorruption; and this Mortal ſhall put on Immortality: Mark, I ſay, it is this Corruptible, and this Mortal, that muſt be raiſed, though not Corruptible and Mortal, as it was buried, but immortal and incorruptible: it ſhall leave its Grave-Cloaths of Corruption and Mortality behind it.

1 Cor. 15. 40, 51, 52, 53.

22. The manner of which their Riſing, the Apoſtle doth more diſtinctly branch out a little above in four particulars: Which particulars are theſe that follow,

1. It is ſown in Corruption, it is raiſed in Incorruption.

2. It is ſown in Diſhonour, it is raiſed in Glory.

3. It is ſown in Weakneſs, it is raiſed in Power.

4. It is ſown a Natural Body, it is raiſed a Spiritual Body,

1 Cor. 15.

Firſt, it is raiſed in Incorruption: We are brought into this World by Sin and Corruption; Corruption is our Father, and in Sin did our Mother conceive us. And hence it is, that we have our Life; not only like a ſpan, ſhadow, or Poſt, for ſhortneſs, but alſo, that it is attended with ſo much vanity and vexation of Spirit: But now being raiſed from the Dead incorruptible, (which is alſo called a Begetting and Birth) theſe things that now in our Life annoy us, and at laſt take away our Life, are effectually deſtroyed: And therefore we live for ever, as ſaith the Spirit; And there ſhall be no more Death, nor Sorrow, nor Crying, neither ſhall there be any more pain; for the former things (that is, all our Corruptibleneſs) are paſſed away.

Job 17. 14. Pſal. 51. 5. Rev. 21. 4.

There ſhall be in our Reſurrection no Corruption, either of Body, or of Soul; no weakneſs nor ſickneſs, nor any thing tending that way; as he ſaith, He will preſent us to himſelf a glorious Church, not having ſpot or wrinkle, or any ſuch thing. Therefore when he ſaith, it is raiſed in Incorruption, it is, as if he had ſaid, It is impoſſible that they ſhould ever ſin more, be ſick more, ſorrow more, or dye more. They that ſhall be counted worthy of that world, and the Reſurrection from the Dead, neither marry, nor are given in Marriage, (though 'twas thus with them in this World) neither can they dye any more, for they are equal unto the Angels, and are the Children of God, being the Children of the Reſurrection.

Epheſ. 5. 25, 26, 27. Luc. 20. 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36.

23. Secondly, It is raiſed in Glory; the diſhonour that doth attend the Saint at his departing this World, it is very great, he is ſown in diſhonour; he is ſo loathſom at his death, that his deareſt Friends are weary of him, ſtop their noſes at him, ſee no beauty in him, nor ſet any price upon him. (I ſpeak nothing here, how ſome of them are hanged, ſtarved, baniſhed, and ſo die, torn to pieces, and not ſuffered to be put into Graves;) but it is raiſed in glory. Glory is the ſweetneſs, comelineſs, purity, and perfection of a thing. The light is the glory of the Sun, ſtrength is the glory of youth, and gray hairs is the glory of old Age. That is, it is the excellency of theſe things, and that which makes them ſhine.

1 Cor. 15. 40, 41. Prov. 20. 29.

Therefore to ariſe in glory, it is firſt to ariſe in all all the beauty, and utmoſt compleatneſs that is poſſible to poſſeſs a humane Creature, I ſay in all its features and members, inconceiveably beautiful: ſin and corruption hath made mad work in our bodies, as well as in our Souls; 'Tis ſin commonly that is the cauſe of all that deformity, and ill-favouredneſs, that now cleaveth to us, and that alſo rendereth us ſo diſhonourable at our death; but now at our riſing, we being raiſed incorruptible, we ſhall appear in ſuch perfections, and that of all ſorts belonging to the Body, that all the beauty and comelineſs, ſweetneſs and amiableneſs, that hath at any time been in this World, it ſhall be ſwallowed up a thouſand times, told with this glory. The Pſalmiſt ſaith of Chriſt, That he was fairer than the Children of Men, and that as I believe, in his outward Man, as well as in his inward part, He was the exacteſt, pureſt, compleateſt, and beautifulleſt Creature that ever God made, Till his Viſage was ſo marred by his perſecutions: for in all things he had, and ſhall have the prehemineuce. Why our Bodies at our Reſurrection will not only be as free from ſin. as his was before he dyed; but alſo as free from all other infirmities, as he was after he was raiſed again. In a word, if incorruptibleneſs can put a beauty upon our Bodies, when they ariſe, we ſhall have it. There ſhall be no lame legs, nor Crump-ſhoulders, no blare-eyes, nor yet wrinkled faces, He ſhall change our vile body, that it may be faſhioned like unto his glorious Body.

Pſal. 45.2. Iſa. 42.14. Col. 1.18. Phil. 3.20, 21.

Again, all the glory that a glorified Soul can help this Body to, it at this day ſhall enjoy. That Soul that hath been theſe hundreds or thouſands of years in the Heavens, ſoaking in the Boſom of Chriſt, it ſhall in a moment come ſpangling into the body again, and inhabit every Member and Vein of the body, as it did before its departure. That Spirit of God alſo, that took its leave of the Body, when it went to the Grave, ſhall now in all perfection dwell in this Body again: I tell you, the Body at this day, will ſhine brighter than the face of Moſes or Stephen, even as bright as the Sun, the Stars and Angels. When Chriſt who is our life ſhall appear, we ſhall appear with him in glory.

Exod. 34. 29. 35. Acts 6.15. Dan. 12.3. Mat. 13. 42, 43. Luk. 20. 36. Col. 3. 3, 4.

Thirdly, It is raiſed in Power. While we are here, we are attended with ſo many weakneſſes and infirmities, that in time the leaſt ſin or ſickneſs is too hard for us, and taketh away both our ſtrength, our beauty, our days, our breath and life, and all. But behold, we are raiſed in power, in that power that all theſe things are as far below us, as a Graſhopper is below a Gyant, at the firſt appearance of us, the World will tremble.

Job 38.17. Judg. 16.3

Behold the Gates of Death, and the bars of the Grave are now carried away on our ſhoulders, as Sampſon carried away the Gates of the City. Death quaketh, and deſtruction falleth down dead at our feet: What then can ſtand before us? We ſhall then carry that Grace, Majeſty, Terrour, and commanding Power in our ſouls, that our countenances ſhall be like Lightning, For this mortal muſt put on immortality, and this corruptible muſt put on incorruption: So when this corruptible, ſhall have put on incorruption, and this mortal ſhall have put on immortality: then ſhall be brought to paſs that ſaying which is written, Death is ſwallowed up of Victory.

Compare Luke 20. 36. with Mat. 28. 2, 3. 1 Cor. 15. 53, 54.

Fourthly, It is raiſed a ſpiritual Body. This is the laſt particular, and is indeed the reaſon of the other three; it is an incorruptible Body, becauſe it is a ſpiritual one; it is a glorious Body, becauſe it is a ſpiritual one; it doth riſe in power, becauſe it is a ſpiritual Body. When the Body is buried, or ſown in the Earth, it is a Body corruptible, diſhonourable, weak and natural: but when it ariſeth, it doth riſe incorruptible, glorious, powerful, and Spiritual. So that ſo far as incorruption is above corruption, glory above diſhonour, power above weakneſs, and ſpiritual above natural: So great an alteration will there be in our Body, when raiſed again. And yet it is this body, and not another, this in nature, though changed into a far more glorious State; A thouſand times further, than if a Hoggard was changed to be an Emperour. Mark, It is ſown a natural Body: a very fit word; for though there dwell never ſo much of the Spirit and Grace of God in it while it liveth, yet ſo ſoon as the Soul is ſeparate from it, ſo ſoon alſo doth the Spirit of God ſeparate from it; and ſo will continue while the day of its riſing be come. Therefore it is laid into the Earth, a meer Lump of Man's Nature: It is ſown a natural Body: But now at the day, when the Heavens ſhall be no more, as Job ſaith, Then the Trump ſhall ſound, even the Trump of God, and, in a moment, the Dead ſhall be raiſed incorruptible, glorious, and ſpiritual, So that I ſay, the body when it ariſeth, will be ſo ſwallowed up of life and immortality, that it will be, as if it had loſt its own Humane Nature; though in truth, the ſame ſubſtantial real Nature is every whit there ſtill. 'Tis the ſame [it] that riſeth, that was ſown; it is ſown, it is raiſed: it is ſown, it is raiſed, ſaith the Apoſtle. You know, that things which are candied by the Art of the Apothecary, they are ſo ſwallow'd up with the ſweetneſs and vertue of that in which they are candied, that they are now, as though they had no other Nature, than that in which they are boiled: When yet in truth, the thing candied doth ſtill retain its own proper Nature and Eſſence; though by vertue of its being candied, it loſeth its former ſourneſs, bitterneſs, ſtinking, ſmell, or the like. Juſt thus, at the laſt day, it will be with our Bodies; We ſhall be ſo candied, by being ſwallow'd up of Life, as before is ſhewed, That we ſhall be as if we were all Spirit, when in truth, it is but this Body that is ſwallowed up of Life: And it muſt needs be, that our Nature ſtill remain, otherwiſe it cannot be Us that ſhall be in Heaven, but ſomething beſides Us. Let us loſe our proper Humane Nature, and we loſe abſolutely our Being, and ſo are annihilated into nothing. Wherefore, it, the ſame it, that is ſown a Natural Body, it ſhall riſe a Spiritual Body.

Job 14.12 1 Cor. 15. 52. 1 Theſ. 4.16, 17.

But again, as I ſaid, concerning Things that are candied, our Body, when thus riſen, it ſhall loſe all that ſourneſs and ſtink, that now, by reaſon of ſin and infirmity, cleaveth to it; neither ſhall its lumpiſhneſs or unwieldineſs, be any impediment to its acting after the manner of Angels. As Chriſt hath ſhewed us, what our Body at our Reſurrection ſhall be, by ſhewing of us, in his Word, what his body was at, and after his Reſurrection: We read, that his Body after he was riſen from the Dead, though it yet retained the very ſame fleſh and Bones, that did hang upon the Croſs, yet how Angelical was it at all times, upon all occaſions? He could come in to his Diſciples with that very Body, when the doors were ſhut upon them: He could, at pleaſure, to their amazement, appear in the twinckling of an Eye, in the midſt of them: He could be viſible and inviſible as he pleaſed, when he ſate at meat with them. In a word, he could paſs and re-paſs, aſcend and deſcend in that Body, with far more pleaſure and eaſe, than the Bird by the Art of her Wing.

Luk. 24. 38, 39, 40, 41. Joh. 20 24, 25. Luk. 24. 31, 32, 50, 51. Joh. 20. 19, 26. Act. 1. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. 11 Mar. 16. 19 Eph. 4. 7, 8, 9.

Now, I ſay, as we have in this World born the Image of our firſt Father; ſo at that Day, we ſhall have the Image of Jeſus Chriſt, and be as he is. As is the Earthly, ſuch are they that are Earthly; and as is the Heavenly, ſuch are they that are Heavenly; and as we have born the Image of the Earthly, we ſhall at our Reſurrection) bear the Image of the Heavenly: It is ſo in part now, but ſhall ſo be in perfection then.

1 Cor. 15. 48, 49.

To mount up to Heaven, and to deſcend again at pleaſure, ſhall with us, in that day, be ordinary. If there were ten thouſand Bars of Iron, or Walls of Braſs, to ſeparate between us, and our pleaſure and deſire, at that day, they ſhould as eaſily be pierced by us, as is the Cobweb, or Air by the Beams of the Sun: And the reaſon is, becauſe to the Spirit, wherewith we ſhall be unconceivably filled at that Day, nothing is impoſſible. And the working of it at that Day, ſhall be in that nature and meaſure, as to ſwallow up all impoſſibilities. He ſhall change our vile Body, and faſhion it like unto his glorious Body; Now mark, according to the working, whereby he is able to ſubdue all things unto himſelf. As who ſhould ſay, I know that there are many things, that in this World hinder us from having our Bodies like the Body of Chriſt; but when God ſhall raiſe us from the Dead, becauſe he will then have our Bodies like the Body of his Son: He will ſtretch forth ſuch a power to work upon, and in our body, that he will remove all impoſſibilities and hinderances.

Mat. 10.27 Phil. 3.21.

Nay further, we do not only ſee what operation the Spirit will have in our Body, by the carriage of Chriſt, after his Reſurrection; but even by many a Saint before their Death. The Spirit uſed to catch Elijah away, no Man could tell whither. It carryed Ezekiel hither and thither: It carryed Chriſt from the Top of the Pinacle of the Temple into Galilee; through it he walked on the Sea; the Spirit caught away Philip from the Eunuch, and carried him as far as Azotus.

Thus

Thus the great God hath given us a Taste of the power and glory that is in himself, and how easily it will help us, by its possessing of us at the Resurrection, to act and to do like Angels; as Christ saith, They that shall be counted worthy of that World, and of the Resurrection from the Dead, they shall not dye, but be equal to the Angels.

Luk.33.36

26. Further, as the Body by being thus spiritualized, shall be as I have said; so again it must needs be, that hereby all the service of the body, and faculties of the Soul, must be infinitely inlarged also. Now we shall see him as he is, and now we shall know, even as we are known.

1 Joh.3.2.

1 Cor. 13. 12. First, now we shall see him; to wit, Christ in his Glory: Not by Revelation only, as we do now, but then Face to Face; and he will have us with him, to this very end. Though John was in the Spirit, when he had the Vision of Christ, yet it made him fall at his feet as dead, and also turned Daniel's Beauty into Corruption; It was so glorious, and so overweighing a Glory that he appeared in; but we shall at the day of our Resurrection, be so furnished, that we shall with the Eagle, be able to look upon the Sun in his strength: We shall then, I say, see Him as he is; who now is in the Light, that no Eye hath seen, nor any Man can see till that day.

Joh.17. 24 Rev.1. 17. Dan. 10.8.

1 Tim. 6. 16.

Now we shall see into all Things: There shall not be any thing hid from us; there shall not be a Saint, a Prophet, or saved Soul, small or great; but we shall then perfectly know them: Also, all the Works of Creation, Election and Redemption, and shall see and know as throughly, all the Things of Heaven and Earth, and Hell, even as perfectly, as now we know our A, B, C. For the Spirit, with which we shall in every Crany of Soul and body, be filled, I say, that searcheth all things, yea the deep things of God. We see what strange Things have been known by the Prophets and Saints of God, and that when they knew but in part.

1 Cor. 2. 10.

Gen.15.13 2 King. 6. 12. 1King.14. 1,2 3,4,5.

Abraham could by it, tell to a day, how long his Seed should be under Persecution in Egypt. Elisha, by it, could tell what was done in the King of Assyria's Bed-Chamber. Abijah could know by this, Jeroboam's Wife, so soon, yea before her Feet entred within his Door, though he saw her not.

1 King. 13. 2. Jud. 4,15 Isa. 53. Joh.12.41 Luk.9.33.

The Prophet of Judah could tell by this, what God would do to Bethel, for the Idolatry there committed; and could also point out the Man by Name, that should do the Execution long before he was born. What shall I say, Enoch by it could tell, what should be done at the end of the World. How did the Prophets to a Circumstance prophesie of Christs Birth, his Death, his Burial, of their giving him Gall and Vinegar, of their parting his Raiment, and piercing his Hands and Feet? Of his riding on an Ass, also, all this they saw, when they spake of him. Peter also, though half asleep, could at the very first word, call Moses and Elias by their Names, when they appeared to Christ in the Holy Mount. He is very ignorant of the operation of the Spirit of God, that scrupleth these things: But now, I say, if these Things have been done, seen and known, by Spiritual Men, while their knowledge hath been but in part, how shall we know, see, and discern, when that which is perfect is come? Which will be at the Resurrection; It is raised a Spiritual Body.

27. Thus, in few words, have I shewed you the truth of the Resurrection of the Just, and also the manner of their Rising: Had I judged it convenient, I might have much enlarged on each particular, and have added many more: For the Doctrine of the Resurrection, however questioned by Hereticks, and Erroneous Persons; yet is such a Truth, that almost all the Holy Scriptures of God point at, and center in it.

God hath, from the beginning of the World, shewed to us, that our body must be with him, as well as our Soul, in the Kingdom of Heaven. I say, he hath shew'd; first he hath shewed us, how he will deal with those that are alive at Christs coming, by his translating of Enoch. And taking him Body and Soul to himself: As also, by his catching of Elias, up Body and Soul into Heaven, in a Fiery Chariot.

Gen.5.24. Heb. 1.5. 1 King. 2. 10, 11.

Secondly, He hath often put us in Remembrance of the Rising of those that are Dead, at that day.

First, By the Faith he gave Abraham, concerning the Offering of his Son: For when he offer'd him, he accounted that God was able to raise him up, even from the Dead; From whence also he received him in a Figure. In a Figure of the Resurrection of Christ, for Abraham's Justification, and of Abraham's Resurrection by Christ at the last day, for his Glorification.

Heb. 11. 19.

Secondly, By the Faith he gave Joseph, consuming his Bones; which Charge, the Godly in Egypt, did diligently observe, and to that end, did keep them four hundred years; and, at length, carryed them, I say, from Egypt to Canaan. which was a Type of our being carryed in our Body, from this World to Heaven.

Heb.11.22

Besides, How oft did God give power to his Prophets, Servants, and Christ Jesus, to raise some that were now dead, and some that had been long so; and all, no doubt, to put the present Generations, as also the Generations yet unborn, in mind of the Resurrection of the Dead. To this end, I say, how was the Shunamites Son raised from the dead? The Man also at the touching of the bones of Elisha. Together with the body of Lazarus, with Jairus Daughter, and Tabitha, and many others, who after their Soul was departed from them, Lazarus, lying in his grave four days, were all raised to life again, and lived with that very body out of which the Soul, at their death, had departed.

2 King.4. 2King.13. 20, 21. Luk.8.53, 54, 55. Joh. 11. 43,44,45. Acts.9.40, 41.

But above all, that notable place in Matthew, at the Resurrection of the Lord Jesus, gives us a notable fore-word of the Resurrection of the Just, Saith the Text, And the Graves were opened, and many Bodies of Saints which slept, arose, and came out of their graves after his Resurrection, and went into the holy City, and appeared unto many.

Mat. 27. 50,51,52, 53.

When the Author to the Hebrews had given us a Catalogue of the Worthies of the Old Testament, he saith at last, These all dyed in Faith. In the faith of what? That they should lie and rot in their graves eternally? No, verily, this is the Faith of Ranters, not of Christians. They all dyed in faith, that they should rise again; and therefore counted this World not worth the living in [upon unworthy Terms] that after death they might obtain a better Resurrection.

Heb.11.13 35.

'Tis also worth the considering, that of Paul to the Philippians, where he saith, That he was confident, that that God, that had begun a good Work in them, would perform it unto the day of Christ.

Phil. 1. 6.

Which day of Christ, was not the day of their Conversion, for that was past with them already, they were now the Children of God; but this day of Christ, it is the same which in other places is called the day when he shall come with the sound of the last Trump to raise the dead. For you must know, That the Work of Salvation is not at an end with them that are now in Heaven; no, nor ever will, until (as I shewed you before) their Bodies be raised again. God as I have told you, hath made our bodies the Members of Christ, and God doth not count us thoroughly saved, untill our bodies be as well redeemed and ransomed out of the grave and death, as our Soul from the Curse of the Law, and dominion of Sin.

Though God's Saints have felt the Power of much of his grace, and have had many a sweet word fulfilled on them; yet one word will be unfulfilled on their particular person, so long as the Grave can shut her Mouth upon them: But, as I said before, when the Gates of death do open before them, and the barrs of the grave do fall asunder; then shall be brought to pass that saying that is written, Death is swallowed up of Victory: and then will they hear that most pleasant Voice, Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the Dust; for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the Earth shall cast forth her dead. Thus much touching the truth of the Resurrection of the Just, with the manner of their rising.

Isa.26.19.

28 Now you must know, That the time of the rising of these Just, will be at the coming of the Lord: For when they arise, nay, just before they are raised, the Lord Jesus Christ will appear in the Clouds, in flameing fire, with all his mighty Angels; the effect of which appearing, will be the rising of the dead, &c. For the Lord himself shall descend from Heaven with a shout, saith Paul, and with the voice of the Arch-Angel, and with the Trump of God, and the dead shall rise.

1 Thes. 7, 8. 2 Thes. 4. 16. 1 Cor. 15. 52.

Now at the time of the Lords coming, there will be found in the World alive, both Saints and Sinners. As for the Saints that then shall be found alive, they shall so soon as all the Saints are raised out of their Graves, not die, but be changed and swallowed up of Incorruption, immortality and glory; and have the Soul-Spiritual Translation, as the raised Saints shall have; as he saith, We shall not all dye, or sleep, but we shall all be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an Eye; For the Trump shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. And again, For the Lord himself shall descend from Heaven with a shout, with the voice of the Arch-Angel, and with the Trump of God, and the dead in Christ shall rise first, and then we which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the Clouds, to meet the Lord in the Air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord. As he saith also in another place, He shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing, and his Kingdom.

1 Cor. 15. 52. 1 Thes. 4. 15, 16, 17. 2 Tim. 4. 1.

Now when the Saints that sleep shall be raised thus incorruptible, powerful, glorious, and Spiritual; and also those that then shall be found alive, made like them: Then forthwith, before the unjust are raised, the Saints shall appear before the Judgment Seat of the Lord Jesus Christ, there to give an account to their Lord the Judge, of all things they have done; and to receive a reward for their good according to their labour.

They shall rise, I say, before the Wicked, they being themselves the proper Children of the Resurrection; that is, Those that must have all the glory of it, both as to preheminency and sweetness; and therefore they are said, when they rise, to rise from the Dead, that is, in their rising, they leave the Reprobate World behind them. And it must be so, because also the Saints will have done their Account, and be set upon the Throne with Christ as Kings and Princes with him, to Judge the World, when the wicked World are raised. The Saints shall judge the World; they shall judge Angels: yea, they shall sit upon the Thrones of Judgment to do it. But to pass that:

Luke 20. 35, 36. Acts 3. 15. Acts 4. 10. Acts 13. 30. Joh. 12 1, 9, 17. 1 Cor. 6. 2, 3. Psal. 122. 5.

29. Now when the Saints are raised, as ye have heard they must give an account of all things in general, that they have done while they were in the World. Of all things, I say, whether they be good or bad.

First, Of all their bad; but mark, not under the Consideration of Vagabonds, Slaves and Sinners, but as Sons, Stewards, and Servants of the Lord Jesus. That this shall be, it is evident from divers places of the Holy Scriptures: First, Paul saith, we must all stand before the Judgment Seat of Christ; We Saints: For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every Knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God. So then every one of us shall give an account of himself to God. Again, wherefore we labour, that whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him: for we must all appear before the Judgment Seat of Christ, that every one of us may receive the things done in his body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

Rom. 14. 10, 11, 12. 2 Cor. 5. 10.

'Tis true, God loveth his People, but yet he loveth not their sins, nor any thing they do, though with the greatest zeal for him, if it be contrary to his Word: Wherefore as truly as God will give a reward to his Saints and Children for all that they have indeed well done: So truly will he at this day distinguish their good and bad; and when both are manifest by the righteous Judgment of Christ, he will burn up their bad; with all their labour, travail, and pains in it for ever. He can tell how to save his people, and yet take vengeance on their Inventions.

Psal. 99. 8.

30. That is an observable place, in the first Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians, and the third Chapter, If any man build, saith he, upon this foundation (Christ,) Gold, Silver, precious Stones, Wood, Hay, Stubble, every mans work shall be manifest, for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire, and the fire shall try every mans work of what sort it is. If any mans work shall abide that he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward. If any mans work shall be burnt, that Man shall suffer loss, but he himself shall be saved, yet so as by fire.

1 Cor. 3. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

Now observe, first, as I said before, the Foundation is Christ,

Vers. 11.

2. The Gold, Silver, and Precious Stones, that here are said to be built upon him, are all the actings in Faith and Love according to the Word, that the Saints are found doing for his sake in the World.

1 Pet. 1. 7. Rev. 3. 18

3. To build on him Wood, Hay, and Stubble, it is to build, together with what is right in it self, humane Inventions, and carnal Ordinances; fathering them still on God and his allowance.

4. The Fire that here you read of, it is the pure Word and Law of God.

Jer. 23. 29. Joh. 12. 48

5. The day that here you read of, it is the day of Christ's coming to Judgment, to reveal the hidden things of darkness, and to make manifest the Counsels of the heart.

1 Cor. 4. 5.

6. At this day, the Gold, Silver, Pretious Stones, Wood, Hay, and Stubble, and that of every Man, shall be tryed by this fire, that it may be manifest of what sort it is; the Wind, the Rain, and Floods, beat now as vehemently against the house upon the Rock, as against that on the Sand.

Luke 6. 48 49.

Observe again,

1. That the Apostle speaks here of the saved, not of the Reprobate, He himself shall be saved.

2. That this saved man may have Wood, Hay, and Stubble; that is, things that will not abide the Tryal.

3. That neither this mans goodness, nor yet Gods love to him, shall hinder all his Wood, Hay, or stubble for coming on the stage, Every Mans work shall be manifest: the fire shall try every mans work, of what sort it is.

4. Thus, a good Man shall see all his Wood, Hay, and stubble burnt up in the tryal before his face.

5. That good Man then shall suffer loss, or, the loss of all things that are not then according to the Word of God. If any mans Works shall be burnt (or any of them) he shall suffer loss; but he himself shall be saved, yet so as by fire, that is, yet so as that all that ever he hath done, shall be tryed, and squared by the Word of God.

From all which, it must be unavoidably concluded, that the whole Body of the Elect must count with their Lord for all things they have done, whether good or bad, and that he will destroy all their bad, with the purity of his word, yea, and all their pains, travel, and labour that they have spent about it. I am persuaded, that there are now many things done by the best of Saints, that then they will gladly disown and be ashamed of; yea, which they have and do still do with great Devotion. Alas, what gross things do some of the Saints in their devotion father upon God, and do reckon him the Author thereof, and so he also prompts them forward to the doing thereof, and doth give them his presence in the performance of them! Yea, and as they father many superstitions and Scriptureless things upon him: so they die in the same Opinion, and never come in this World, to the sight of their evil and ignorance herein. But now the Judgment day is the principal time wherein every thing shall be set in its proper place; that which is of God in its place, and that which is not, shall now be discovered, and made manifest. In many things now, we offend all, and then we shall see the many Offences we have committed, and shall our selves judge them as they are. The Christian, is in this World, so candid a Creature, that take him when he is not under some great temptation, and he will ingenuously confess to his God before all Men, how he hath sinned and transgressed against his Father; and will fall down at the Feet of God, and cry, Thou art righteous, for I have sinned; and thou art gracious, that notwithstanding my sin, thou shouldst save me: Now, I say, if the Christian is so simple and plain-hearted with God in the days of his imperfection, when he is accompanied with many infirmities and temptations: how freely will he confess and acknowledge his Miscarriages, when he comes before his Lord and Saviour: absolutely stript of all temptation and imperfection. As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every Tongue shall confess to God. Every knee shall bow, and reverence God the Creator, and Christ the Redeemer of the World; and every Tongue shall confess, that his will alone ought by them to have been obeyed in all things; and shall confess also, and that most naturally and freely. I mean, the Saints shall in how many things they were deceived, mistaken, deluded, and drawn aside in their intended Devotion and Honour to God.

Rom. 14. 11. Phil. 2. 10, 11.

But yet take notice, that in this day, when the Saints are thus counting for their evil before their Saviour and Judge: They shall not then, as now, at the remembrance and confession of sin, be filled with that guilt, confusion and shame that now through the weakness of Faith attendeth their Souls: neither shall they in the least be grieved or offended, that God hath before the Angels and the rest of their holy Brethren, laid open to a tittle their infirmities from the least and first, to the biggest and last.

For first, the God to whom they confess all, they will now more perfectly than ever, see he doth love them, and free them from all, even when and before they confess and acknowledge them to him, and they shall, I say, have their Soul so full of the ravishing Raptures of the life and glory that now they are in, that they shall be of it swallowed up in that measure and manner, that neither fear nor guilt, nor confusion can come near them, or touch them. Their Judge is their Saviour, their Husband, and Head: who, tho he will bring every one of them for all things to Judgment, yet he will keep them for ever out of condemnation, and any thing that tendeth that way. Perfect love casts out fear, even while we are here: Much more then, when we are with our Saviour, our Jesus, being passed from Death to Life.

John 5. 24 1 John 4. 18.

Secondly, The Saints at this Day, shall have their Hearts and Souls so wrapped up in the pleasure of God their Saviour, that it shall be their delight, to see all things, though once never so near and dear unto them, yet now to perish, if not according to his word and will: Thy will be done, is to be always our Language here; but to delight to see it done in all things, though it tend never so much to the destruction of what we love: to delight, I say, to see it done in the height and perfection of delight, it will be when we come to Heaven, or when the Lord shall come to judge the World.

Mat. 6. 10.

But thirdly, The sole end of the counting of the Saints at the day of God, it will be, not only for the vindication of the Righteousness, holiness, and purity of the Word, neither will it center only in the manifestation or the knowledge and heart-discerning nature of Christ (though both these will be in it.) But their very remembrances and sight of the sin and vanity that they have done while here; It shall both set off, and heighten the tender affections of their God unto them; and also increase their Joy and sweetness of Soul, and clinging of heart to their God. Saints while here, are sweetly sensible, that the sense of sin, and the assurance of pardon, will make famous work in their poor hearts. Ah, what meltings without guilt! what humility without casting down! and what a sight of the Creatures nothingness, yet without fear, will this sense of sin work in the Soul! The sweetest frame, the most heart-indearing frame, that possibly a Christian can get into, while in this World, is to have a warm sight of sin, and of a Saviour upon the Heart at one time. Now it weeps not for fear, and through Torment, but by vertue of constraining grace and mercy, and is at this very time, so far off of disquietness of heart, by reason of the sight of its wickedness, that it is driven into an extasie, by reason of the love and mercy that is mingled with the sense of sin in the Soul. The heart never sees so much of the power of mercy as now, nor of the vertue, value, and excellency of Christ in all his Offices as now, and the Tongue so sweetly enlarged to proclaim and cry up grace as now; now will Christ come to be glorified in his Saints, and admired in them that believe.

Revel. 2. 22, 23.

2 Thes. 1. 10, 11.

32. Wherefore, though the Saints receive by Faith the forgiveness of sins in this Life, and so are passed from death to life; yet again, Christ Jesus, and God his Father, will have every one of these sins reckoned up again, and brought fresh upon the stage in the day of Judgment, that they may see and be sensible for ever, what grace and mercy hath laid hold upon them. And this I take to be the Reason of that remarkable saying of the Apostle Peter, Repent therefore and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord, and he shall send Jesus Christ, who before was preached unto you, whom the Heaven must receive till the restitution of all things, spoken of by the mouth of all the holy Prophets since the World began.

Acts 3. 19, 20, 21.

If a sense of some sin (for who sees all?) and a sight of the love of God, will here so work upon the spirit of the Godly: What will a sight of all sin do, when together with it they are personally present with their Lord and Saviour?

Ps. 19. 12.

Yea, if a sight of some sins, with a possibility of pardon, will make the heart love, reverence, and fear with guiltless and heart-affecting fears: what will a general sight of all sin, and together with them an eternal acquittance from them, work on the heart of the Saint for ever?

Yea, I say again, if a sight of sin, and the love of God, will make such work in that Soul, where yet there is unbelief, blindness, mistrust, and forgetfulness: what will a sight of sin do in that Soul, who is swallowed up of Love, who is sinless, and temptationless; who hath all the faculties of Soul and Body strained, by love and grace, to the highest pin of perfection, that is possible to be in glory injoyed and possessed? O the wisdom and goodness of God that he at this day, should so cast about the worst of our things, even those that naturally tend to sink, us, and damn us, for our great advantage! All things that shall work together for good, indeed, to them that love God. Those sins that brought a curse upon the whole World, that spilt the heart-blood of our dearest Saviour, and that laid his tender Soul under the flaming wrath of God, shall by his Wisdom and love, tend to the exaltation of his Grace, and the inflaming of our affections to him for ever and ever.

Rom. 8. 28

Revel. 5. 9 10, 11, 12, 13, 14.

'Twill not be thus with Devils, 'twill not be thus with Reprobates; the saved only have this priviledge peculiar to themselves: (wherefore to vary a little from the matter in hand, will God make that use of sin, even in our counting for it, that shall in this manner work for our advantage? why then, let Saints also make that advantage of their Sin, as to glorifie God thereby, which is to be done, not by saying, Let us do Evil that good may come, or, let us sin that Grace may abound; but by taking occasion by the sin that is past, to set the Crown upon the Head of Christ for our justification: Continually looking upon it, so as to press us to cleave close to the Lord Jesus, to grace and mercy through him, and to the keeping of us humble for ever, under all his dispensations and carriages to us.

Now having counted for all their evil, and confessed to Gods glory, how they fell short, and did not the truth in this or that, or other particulars; and having received their eternal acquittance from the Lord and Judg, in the sight of both Angels and Saints: forthwith the Lord Jesus will make inquiry into all the good and holy actions and deeds they did do in the World. Now here shall all things be reckoned up, from the very first good thing that was done by Adam or Abel, to the last that will fall out to be done in the World. The good of all the holy Prophets, of all Apostles, Pastors, Teachers, and helps in the Church: here also will be brought forth and to light, all the good Carriages of Masters of Families, of Parents, of Children, of Servants, of Neighbours, or whatever good thing any Man doth; but to be general and short, first, here will be a recompence for all that have sincerely laboured in the Word and Doctrine; I say, a recompence for all the Souls they have saved by their Word, and watered by the same.

Now shall Paul the Planter, and Apollo the Waterer, with every one of their Companions, receive the reward that is according to their Works.

33. 1 Cor. 3. 6, 7, 8.

Now all the Preaching, praying, watching, and labour thou hast been at, in thy endeavouring to catch Men from Satan to God, shall be rewarded with spangling Glory. Not a Soul thou hast converted to the Lord Jesus, nor a Soul thou hast comforted, strengthned, or helped by thy wholsom Counsel, Admonition, and comfortable Speech; but it shall stick, as a Pearl in that Crown which the Lord the Righteous Judge shall give thee at that day. That is, if thou dost it willingly, delighting to lift up the name of God among men; if thou dost it with love, and longing after the Salvation of Sinners (otherwise thou wilt have only thy labour for thy pains, and no more.) If I do this willingly, I have a reward; but if against my will, a dispensation of the Gospel is committed to my charge. But I say, if thou do it graciously, then a Reward followeth: For what is our hope, or joy, or Crown of rejoycing? are not even ye, saith Paul, in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming, for ye are our glory and joy. Let him therefore that Christ hath put into into his Harveſt, take comfort in the midſt of all his ſorrow, and know that God acknowledgeth that he that converteth a ſinner from the Error of his way, doth even ſave that Soul from death, and covereth a multitude of ſins. Wherefore labour to convert, labour to water, labour to build up, and to feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the overſight thereof not by conſtraint but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a 1 Pet. 5. 2, 4. ready mind; and when the chief Shepherd ſhall appear, ye ſhall receive a Crown of Glory that fadeth not away.

Secondly, And as the Miniſters of Chriſts Goſpel ſhall at this day be recompenſed: ſo ſhall alſo thoſe more private Saints be with tender affections, and love looked on, and rewarded for all their Work and Labour of Love, which they have ſhewed to the name of Chriſt, in miniſtring to his Saints, and ſuffering for his ſake. Whatſoever good thing any Man doth, the ſame ſhall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free. Ah! little do the People of God think, how largely and thorowly, God will at that day, own and recompenſe all the good and holy Acts of his People. Every bit, every drop, every rag, and every nights harbour, though but in a wiſp of ſtraw, ſhall be rewarded in that day before Men and Angels. Who- Mat. 10. 43. ſoever ſhall give to drink, to one of theſe little ones, a Cup of cold Water, only in the name of a Diſciple: verily I ſay unto you, ſaith Chriſt, He ſhall in no wiſe loſe a Diſciples reward. Therefore when thou makeſt a Feaſt, Luke 14. 13, 13. ſaith he, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, and the blind, and thou ſhalt be bleſſed; for they cannot recompenſe thee, for thou ſhalt be recompenſed at the Reſurrection of the Juſt. If there be any Repentance among the godly at this day, it will be, becauſe the Lord Jeſus in his Perſon, Members, and word, was no more owned, honoured, entertained, and provided for by them, when they were in this World: For it will be raviſhing to all, to ſee what notice the Lord Jeſus will then take of every Widdows Mite. He, I ſay, will call to mind, even all thoſe Acts of mercy and kindneſs, which thou haſt ſhewed to him, when thou waſt among Men. I ſay, he will remember, cry up, and proclaim before Angels and Saints, thoſe very Acts of thine, which thou haſt either forgotten, or through baſhfulneſs wilt not at that day count worth the owning. He will reckon them up ſo faſt, and ſo Mat. 25. 37,38,39. 40. fully, that thou wilt cry, Lord, when did I do this? and when did I do the other? When ſaw we thee a hungry, and fed thee? or athirſt, and gave thee drink? When ſaw we thee a ſtranger, and took thee in? or naked, and cloathed thee? or when ſaw we thee ſick, or in Priſon, and came unto thee? and the King ſhall anſwer and ſay unto them, Verily I ſay unto you, in as much as ye did it unto one of the leaſt of theſe my Brethren, ye did it unto me. The good Works of ſome are manifeſt before hand, 1 Tim. 5. 25. and they that are otherwiſe cannot be hid. Whatever thou haſt done to one of the leaſt of theſe my Brethren, thou haſt done it unto me. I felt the Nouriſhment of thy Food, and the warmth of thy Fleece. I remember thy loving and holy viſits, when my poor Members were ſick, and in priſon, and the like. When Mat. 25. 21,22,23, they were ſtrangers, and wanderers in the World, thou tookeſt them in. Well, thou good and faithful Ser- 34,35,36 vant, enter Thou into the Joy of thy Lord.

35. Thirdly, Here alſo will be a Reward for all that hardneſs, and Chriſtian induring of affliction that thou haſt met with for thy Lord, while thou waſt in the World. Here now will Chriſt begin from the greateſt ſuffering, even to the leaſt, and beſtow a reward on them all: from the blood of the ſuffering Saint, to the loſs of an heir: nothing ſhall go unrewarded. Heb. 11. 36,37, 38, 39, 40. For theſe light afflictions which are but for a moment, they work out for us, a far more exceeding, and eternal weight of Glory. Behold by the Scriptures, how God hath 2 Cor. 4. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. recorded the ſufferings of his People, and alſo how he hath promiſed to reward them. Bleſſed are they that are perſecuted for righteouſneſs ſake, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Bleſſed are ye, when Men ſhall revile you, and ſpeak 2 Cor. 4. 17. all manner of evil againſt you, falſly for my ſake, rejoyce, leap for joy, and be exceeding glad, for great is your re- Luk. 6. 22, 23. ward in Heaven. And every one that hath forſaken Houſes, or Brethren, or Siſters, or Father, or Mother, or Wife, Mat. 5. 16, 17, 18. or Children, or Lands, for my Names ſake, ſhall receive an hundred fold, and ſhall inherit everlaſting Life.

Mat. 19. 29 Fourthly, There is alſo a Reward at this day, for

36. all the more ſecret, and more retired Works of Chriſtianity: There is not now one Act of Faith in thy Soul, either upon Chriſt, or againſt the Devil, and Antichriſt; but it ſhall in this day be found out, and praiſed, honoured and glorified, in the Face of Heaven. 1 Pet. 1. 7.

2. There is not one groan to God in ſecret, againſt thy own luſts, and for more grace, light, ſpirit, ſanctification, and ſtrength, to go thorow this World like a Chriſtian; but it ſhall even at the coming of Chriſt, Mat. 6. 6. be rewarded openly.

3. There hath not one Tear dropped from thy tender Eye againſt thy Luſts, the love of this World, or for more Communion with Jeſus Chriſt, but as it is now in the Bottle of God; ſo then it ſhall bring forth ſuch plenty of Reward, that it ſhall return upon thee, with abundance of increaſe. Bleſſed are ye that weep Pſal. 56 8. now; for ye ſhall laugh. Thou telleſt my wanderings and Pſal. 126. puttеſt my Tears into thy Bottle; are they not in thy Book? 5, 6. They that ſow in Tears, ſhall reap in Joy. He that goeth Luk. 6. 21. forth and weepeth, beareth precious Seed, ſhall doubtleſs come again, bringing his ſheaves with him.

Having thus in brief ſhewed you ſomething concerning the Reſurrection of the Saints, and that they ſhall 37. count with their Lord at his coming, both for the burning up what was not according to the truth, and rewarding them for all their good. It remains, that I now in few words, ſhew you ſomething alſo of that with which they ſhall be rewarded.

Firſt then, thoſe that ſhall be found in the day of their Reſurrection, when they ſhall have all their good things brought upon the ſtage; they I ſay, that then ſhall be found the People moſt laborious for God while here: they ſhall at that day injoy the greateſt portion of God, or ſhall be poſſeſſed with moſt of the glory of the God-head then. For that is the portion of the Saints in general. And why ſhall he that doth moſt God in Rom. 8. 17 this World, injoy moſt of him in that which is to Lam. 3. 24. come? But becauſe by doing and acting, the heart, and every faculty of the Soul is inlarged, and more capacitated, whereby more room is made for glory. Every Veſſel of Glory ſhall at that day be full of it; but every one will not be capable to contain a like meaſure. And ſo if they ſhould have it communicated to them, would not be able to ſtand under it; for there is an eternal weight in the glory that Saints 2 Cor. 4. ſhall then injoy; and every Veſſel muſt be at that day 17. filled, that is, have it's heavenly load of it.

All Chriſtians have not the ſame injoyment of God in this life, neither indeed were they able to bear it, if they had it. But thoſe Chriſtians that are moſt 1 Cor. 3. 2. laborious for God in this World, they have already moſt of him in their Souls, and that not only becauſe diligence in Gods ways, is the means whereby God communicates himſelf; but alſo becauſe thereby the ſenſes are made more ſtrong, and able, by reaſon of uſe to underſtand God, and to diſcern both good and Heb. 5. 13, evil. To him that hath, to him ſhall be given, and he 14. Mat. 13 ſhall have more abundance. He that laid out his pound 11, 12. for his Maſter, and gained ten therewith, he was made Ruler over ten Cities; but he that by his pound gained but five, he was made Ruler over but five. Luk. 19. Often, he that is beſt bred in his youth, he is beſt 16, 17, 18. able to manage moſt, when he is a Man (touching 19. Dan. 1. things of this Life) but always he that is beſt bred, 3, 4. and that is moſt in the boſom of God, and that ſo acts for him here: He is the Man that will be beſt able to enjoy moſt of God in the Kingdom of Heaven. It is obſervable, that Paul ſaith, Our afflictions work out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. Our afflictions do it, not only becauſe there is laid up a reward for the afflicted, according to the meaſure of affliction; but becauſe afflictions, and ſo every ſervice of God, doth make the heart more deep, more experimental, more knowing, and profound; and ſo more able to hold, contain, and bear more. Every man ſhall receive his own Reward, according to his 1 Cor. 4. own labour. And this is the reaſon of ſuch ſayings as 17. theſe; Lay up for your ſelves a good foundation againſt Pſal. 119. the time to come, that you may lay hold on eternal life: 71. which eternal Life, is not the matter of our Juſtifi- 1 Cor. 3. 8. cation from ſin in the ſight of God; for that is done freely by Grace, through Faith in Chriſts Blood; (but here the Apoſtle ſpeaks of giving of Alms) but it is the ſame that in the other place he calls the far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. And hence it is, that he in his ſtirring them up to be diligent in good works, doth tell them, that he doth not exhort hort them to it, because he wanted, but because he would have fruit that might abound to their account, as he saith also in another place, Beloved Brethren, be 1 Tim. 6. 18, 19. stedfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Phil 4.16, 17. Lord, for as much as ye know that your labour is not

1 Cor. 15. 58. in vain in the Lord. Therefore I say, the reward that the Saints shall have at this day for all the good they have done, it is the enjoyment of God, according to their works: though they shall be freely justified and glorified without works.

38. Secondly, As the injoyment of God at that day, will be to the Saints, according to their Works and doings: (I speak not now of Justification from sin) So will their praise and commendations at that day, be according to the same, and both of them their degrees of Glory; for I say, as God by communicating of himself unto us at that day, will thereby glorifie us, so also he will for the adding all things that may furnish with glory every way, cause to be proclaimed in the face of Heaven, and in the presence of all the holy Angels, every thing that hath for God, his ways and people, been done by us while here we have been. Whatsoever hath been spoken in darkness, shall be heard in the light: and that which ye have spoken in the Ear in Closets, shall be proclaimed upon the House tops. Again, he that shall confess me, saith Christ, before Men, him will I confess before the Angels of God.

Now as he of whom Christ is ashamed when he comes in his glory, and in the glory of the holy Angels, will then lie under unconceivable disgrace, shame, dishonour, and contempt: so he whom Christ shall confess, own, commend, and praise at that day,
Luke 12. 2, 3. must needs have very great Dignity, Honour, and Mark 8. 38. Renown, for then shall every Man have praise of God, to Mat. 10. 32. wit, according to his works. Now will Christ pro-
1 Cor. 4. 5. claim before thee, and all others, what thou hast done, and what thou hast suffered, what thou hast owned, and what thou hast withstood for his Name. This is he that forsook his goods, his Relations, his Country, and life for me: This is the man that overcame the flatteries and threats, allurements and inticings of a whole World for me; behold him, he is an Israelite indeed, the top Man in his Generation, none like him in all the Earth. It is said, that when King Ahasuerus, had understanding of how good Service Mordecai the Jew had done to, and for him, he commanded that the Royal Apparel, and the Crown, with the Horse that the King did ride on, should be given to him, and that he should with that Crown, Apparel, and Horse, be had through the City, in the presence of all his Nobles, and that Proclamation
Esther 6. 9, 10, 11. should be made before him, Thus shall it be done to the Man whom the King delighteth to honour.

Ahasuerus in this was a Type, to hold forth to the Children of God, how kindly he will take all their labour and service of love, and how he will honour and dignifie the same, as Christ saith, Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning, and you your selves like unto Men that wait for their Lord, when he will return from the Wedding: that when he cometh and knocketh, ye may open to him immediately, blessed are those Servants, whom the Lord when he cometh, shall find watching. Verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and
Luke 12, 35, 36, 37. shall make them sit down to meat, and shall come forth and serve them. The meaning is, that those Souls that shall make it their business to honour the Lord Jesus Christ, in the day of their temptation, he will

Mark 14. 9. that he will make them sit down to meat, and shall come forth and serve them; if any Man will serve me, saith he, him will my Father Honour. It hath been God's way in this World, to proclaim the Acts and doings of his Saints in his Word, before all in this
Rev. 3. 4. Rev. 14. 12. 3, 4, 5. World, and he will do it in that which is to come.

39. Thirdly, Another thing that shall be yet added to the glory of the Saints, in the Kingdom of their Saviour, at his coming, is, they shall every one of them then have his Throne and place of degree on Christ's right hand, and on his left, in his glorious Kingdom, according to the Relation they stand in to Christ, as the Members of his Body; for as Christ will have a special eye on us, and a tender and affectionate heart, to recompence to the full every good thing that any Man doth for his Name in this World: so also he will have as great regard, that there be to every Member of his body, the place, and state that is comely for every such Member. When the Mother of Zebedees Children petitioned our Saviour, that he would grant to her, that her two Sons might sit the one on his right hand, and the other on his left in his Kingdom: though he did not grant to her the request for her Children, yet he affirmed, That there would be places of degrees and honour in Heaven, See saying, To sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine Mat. 20. to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepa- 20, 21, 22, red of my Father. In the Temple, there were Cham- 23. bers bigger and lesser, higher and lower, more inward and more outward: which Chambers were Types of the Mansions that our Lord when he went away, told us he went to prepare for us. In my Fathers House are many mansions, if it were not not so, I would have told you, I go to prepare a place for you. The foot here, John 14: shall not have the place prepared for the eye, not yet 1, 2, 3. the hand, that which is prepared for the ear; but every one shall have his own place in the Body of Christ, and the glory also prepared for such a relation: Order, as it is comely in Earth, so much more in the Kingdom of the God of Order, in Heaven, where all things shall be done in their utmost perfections. Here shall Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Moses, Joshuah, David, with the Prophets, have every one his place, according to the degree of old Testament Saints. As God said to Daniel, Go thy way till the end be; Dan. 12. for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the 13. days. And here also, shall Peter, Paul, Timothy, and all other the Church-Officers have their place, and Heavenly State, according as God hath set them in the Church in the New Testament. As Paul saith of the Deacons, They that use the Office of a Deacon well, 1 Tim. 3. they purchase to themselves a good degree, and great bold- 13. ness in the faith which is in Christ. And so of all other Saints, be they here of what Rank, Quality, or place in the Church soever, they shall have every one his state, his heavenly State, according as he standeth in the Body. As he saith, seeing those Members that are most feeble, are necessary, to them shall 1 Cor. 12. be given more abundant honour. Of this Heavenly Order 22, 23. in the Kingdom of Christ, when his Saints are risen from the dead, was Solomon a notable Type in his Family, and among his Servants and Officers, who kept such exactness in the famous Order, in which he had placed all about him, that it did amaze and confound beholders. For when the Queen of Sheba had seen the Wisdom of Solomon, and the House which he built, and the Meat of his Table, the sitting of his Servants, and 2 Chron. the attendance of his Ministers, and their Apparel, his 9. 3, 4. Cup-bearers also, and their Apparel, and the ascent by which he went up into the House of the Lord: There was no more spirit in her. Glorious things are spoken of thee, O thou City of God.

Having gone thus far, I shall now come to the second part of the Text, to wit, that there shall be a 40. Resurrection of the Wicked. There shall be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the Just and Unjust. For as the Just go before the Unjust, in Name and Dignity, and Honour, so they shall in the last day, go before them in the Resurrection.

Now then, when the Saints have thus risen out of their Graves, given up their Accounts, received their glory, and are set upon the Thrones (for there are set Thrones of Judgment, the Thrones of the House Psal. 122. of David;) When I say, they are all of them in their 5. Royal Apparel, with Crowns of Glory, every one presenting the Person of a King: Then come the unjust out of their Graves, to receive their Judgment for what they have done in the Body. As Paul saith, we must all appear before the Judgment Seat of Christ, that every one (both Saints and Sinners) may receive the things done in the Body, whether it be good, or whether it be bad.

But now because I would prove by the words, whatever I would have others receive for a Truth: Therefore I shall in few particulars, prove the Resurrection of the wicked.

First then, it is evident, that the wicked shall rise from the very terms and names that the raised shall then go under, which is the very same Names that they did go under when they lived in this World. They are called the Heathen, the Nations, the World, the Wicked, ed, and those, that do Iniquity; they are called Men, Women, Sodom, Sidon, Bethsaida, Capernaum, and Tire. The Men of Nineve shall rise up in Judgment, the Queen of the South shall rise up in the judgment, and it shall be more tolerable for Sodom in the day of judgment, than for other sinners that have resisted more light. The Heavens and the Earth that now are, are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment, and perdition of ungodly Men. Now these Terms, or Names, are not given to the spirits of the wicked only; but to them as consisting of Body and Soul. Further, Christ tells his adversaries, when they had apprehended him, and shamefully intreated him, That yet they should see him sit on the right hand of power, and coming in the Clouds of Heaven, as John also doth testifie, saying, Behold, he cometh with Clouds, and every Eye shall see him, and they also that pierced him, and all the kindreds of the Earth, shall wail because of him. Now none of these sayings are yet fulfilled, neither shall they, until his second coming; for though the Jews did many of them see him, when he did hang upon the Cross, yet then he was not coming in the Clouds of Heaven, neither did then all kindreds of the Earth wail because of him. No, this is reserved till he comes to judge the World; for then shall the ungodly be so put to it, that gladly they would creep into the most invincible Rock or Mountain under Heaven, to hide themselves from his Face, and the Majesty of his Heavenly presence. There shall therefore, that this may be brought to pass, be a Resurrection of the dead, both of the just, and unjust. For though an Opinion of no Resurrection may now lull Men asleep, in security and impiety, yet the Lord, when he comes, will rouse them, and cause them to awake; not only out of their security, but out of their Graves, to their doom, that they may receive for their Error, the recompence that is meet.

2 Pet. 3. 7. Mat. 12. 41, 42. Mat. 11. 21, 22, 23, 24. Luke 10. 12, 13, 14. Joel 3. 12, 13, 14. Mat. 25. 32. Jud. 14. 15 Mat. 26. 64 Rev. 1. 7. Rev. 6. 14, 15, 16, 17.

41. Secondly, The Body of the ungodly must, at the last, arise out of the Grave, because that Body and their Soul, while they lived in the World, were Co-partners in their lusts and wickedness. God is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed. He will therefore bring every work into Judgment, with every secret thing. And as he will bring into Judgment every work, so will he also the worker thereof, even the dead, small and great. It is not in God to lay the punishment where the fault is not, neither to punish a part of the damned for the whole. With righteousness shall he judge the World, and the people with Equity; shall not the Judge of all the Earth do right? As therefore the Body was Co-partner with the Soul in sinning, so shall every Man receive the things done in his Body, according to what he hath done. Wherefore he saith in another place, Behold I come quickly, and my Reward is with me, to give every Man according as his work shall be. There shall therefore be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just, and unjust.

1 Sam. 2. 3 Eccles. 12. 14 Rev. 20. 12, 13, 14. Psal. 98. 9. Gen. 18. 25. Rev. 22. 12.

42. Thirdly, The Body of the wicked must rise again, because as the whole Man of the just also that is the Vessel of Mercy and Glory: so the whole Man of the unjust, is the Vessel of wrath and destruction. There are, saith Paul, in a great House, not only Vessels of Gold and of Silver, but also of Wood and of Earth, and some to Honour, and some to Dishonour. Now as he sheweth us these Vessels to Honour, they are good Men, and the Vessels to Dishonour are the bad. Now as these Vessels to Dishonour, are called the Vessels of Wrath; so it is said, that God with much long suffering, doth suffer them to be fitted to destruction. How they are thus fitted, he also further sheweth, where he saith, They do after their hardness and impenitent Heart, treasure up wrath against the day of wrath, and the Revelation of the Righteous judgment of God. Which treasure of wickedness, James saith, it is treasured up against the last days, (which is the time of Judgment,) and observe it, he saith, That then it shall eat their flesh as it were fire. Now then their Bodies being the vessels of the wrath of God, and again, seeing with this wrath they must be possessed at the last day, that their flesh must with it be eaten, it is evident, that their Body must rise again out of their Graves, and before the Judgment Seat appear; for it is from thence, that each of them must go with his full load to their long and eternal home, where their worm dieth not, and their fire is not quenched.

2 Tim. 2. 20, 21. Rom. 9. 22 Rom. 2. 5. Jam. 5. 12, 13. Mark 9. 47, 48.

43. Fourthly, The severity of the Hand of God towards his Children, with his forbearance of his Enemies, doth clearly bespeak a Resurrection of the ungodly, that they may receive the reward for their wickedness which they have committed in this World. We know, that while the Eyes of the wicked start out with fatness, the godly are plagued all the day long, and chastned every morning. Wherefore it is evident, that the place and time of the punishment of the ungodly, it is another World. If Judgment begin at the House of God, what will the end of them be, that obey not the Gospel of God? and if the Righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear? Alas, poor Creatures! They now plot against the Righteous, and gnash upon them with their Teeth, but the Lord laugheth at them, for he seeth their day is coming? for as he saith, the wicked is reserved, or let alone in his wickedness, to the day of destruction, and shall then be brought forth to the day of wrath, though in the mean time he may go to his Grave in his Banner, and rest within his Tomb. As Peter saith again, The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, but to reserve the unjust to the day of Judgment to be punished. And Jude saith, For them is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever. The punishment of the ungodly, it is reserved till the day of Judgment, which will be the time of their Resurrection.

Psal. 73. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. 1 Pet. 4. 17, 18. Psal. 37. 12, 13. Job 21. 29, 30, 31, 32. 2 Pet. 2. 9. Jude 13.

Observe, first. The Wicked must be punished.

Secondly, The time of their punishment, is not now, but at the day of Judgment. 44.

Thirdly, This day of Judgment must be the same with the Resurrection of the dead, at the end of this World. As therefore the Tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this world. The Son of Man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his Kingdom all things that offend, and them that do iniquity, and shall cast them into a Furnace of Fire, there shall be weeping and gnashing of Teeth. There shall then be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just, and unjust.

Mat. 13. 40, 41.

Fourthly, The Soveraignty of the Lord Jesus over all Creatures, doth plainly foreshew a Resurrection of the bad, as well as of the good. Indeed, the unjust shall not arise, by vertue of any relation they stand in to the Lord Jesus, as the Saints shall; but yet, because all are delivered into his hand, and he made Soveraign Lord over them; therefore, by an Act of his Soveraign Power, they that are ungodly shall arise, this is Christs own Argument, The Father judgeth no Man, saith he, but hath committed all Judgment unto the Son, that is, Count him, and fall before him as their Soveraign Lord, even as they honour the Father, and he hath given him authority to execute Judgment also, because he is the Son of Man. And then he adds, Marvel not at this, for the hour is coming, that all that are in their Graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth, they that have done good to the Resurrection of Life; and they that have done evil to the Resurrection of Damnation. From hence also Paul argueth, saying, For this cause he both died, rose and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living. And then adds, We must all stand before the Judgment Seat of Christ.

Joh. 5. 22, 23, 27, 28, 29. Rom. 14. 9, 10.

Pray mind these words, Jesus Christ by his Death and Resurrection, did not only purchase Grace and Remission of Sins for his Elect, with their Eternal Glory; but did thereby also obtain of the Father, to be Lord, and Head over all things, whether they be things in Heaven, or things on Earth, or things under the Earth, All Power, saith he, in Heaven and in Earth, is given unto me, and I have the Keys of Hell and of Death. So that all things, I say, whether they be visible or invisible, whether they be Thrones or Dominions, or Principalities or Powers; all things were created by him, and for him. This being thus, at the Name of Jesus, every knee must bow, and every Tongue confess that he is Soveraign Lord, to the Glory of God the Father. Now that this may be done, he hath his Resolutions upon a Judgment-day, in which, he, to shew himself, his People, his Way, and Word in their Glory, will have all his Enemies raised out of their Graves, and brought before him, where he will sit upon them in the Throne of his Glory, and will shew them then, who is the only Potentate, the King of Kings, and Lord of Lords.

Mat. 28. 18. Rev. 1. 18. Col. 1. 16. Phil. 2. 9, 10, 11. See more of this in their Judgment. Mat. 25. 31, 32. 1 Tim. 6. 14, 15.

Beloved, He comes with ten Thousand of his Saints, to execute Judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them, of all their ungodly Deeds which they have committed, and of all their wicked speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. Jude 14. 15.

Fifthly, The great preparation that God hath made for the judgment of the wicked, doth clearly demonstrate their rising forth out of their Graves. 45.

First, He hath appointed the day of their rising.

Secondly, He hath appointed their Judge to judge them.

Thirdly, He hath Recorded all their acts and doings against that day.

Fourthly, He hath also already appointed the Witnesses to come in against them.

Fifthly, The Instruments of Death and Misery, are already prepared for them.

For the first, he hath appointed the day of their rising, which day, John calleth the time of the dead, that they should be judged. Which time, Paul saith, is a time fixed; he hath appointed a day, in which he will judge the World, &c. This time and day, Christ brings down to an hour, saying, The hour is coming, when all that are in their Graves, shall hear his Voice, and shall come forth, &c. Revel. 11. 18. Acts 17. 30, 31. John 5. 28, 29.

Secondly, As he hath appointed the day, so he hath appointed the Judge. He hath appointed a day in which he will judge the World in Righteousness, by that Man whom he hath ordained, of which he hath given assurance to all Men, in that he hath raised him from the Dead. This Man is Jesus Christ; for it is He that is ordained of God, to be the Judge of the Quick and the Dead. Acts 17. 30, 31. Acts 10. 40, 41, 42.

Thirdly, All their deeds and works, to a word and thought, and every one already Recorded and Inrolled in the Books of the Laws of Heaven against that day. The sin of Judah is written with a Pen of Iron, and with the point of a Diamond, upon the Tables of their Heart. And again, saith God, Write it in a Table, and note it in a Book, that it may be for the time to come, even for ever and ever, that this is a rebellious House, &c. Jer. 17. 1. Isa. 30. 8, 9.

Fourthly, God hath prepared his Witnesses against this day. James 5. 1 Job 20. 27

Fifthly, The Instruments of Death, and Eternal Misery, are all already prepared. He hath prepared for them the Instruments of Death, he hath ordained his Arrows against the Face of Persecutors. Hell is of old prepared, he hath made it deep and large, the fire, the everlasting fire is also now of a long time prepared; the heavy weights of Gods Curse, are also ready, and their damnation now of a long time slumbereth not. But now I say, how ridiculous a Business would all this be, if these things should be all prepared of the only wise God, and there should be none to be judged; or if he that is ordained Judge, should not either through want of power or will, command these Rebels, and force them before his Judgment Seat? Glad indeed, would the Sinners be, if these things might be true. Glad I say, at very heart, if they might be in their secret places of darkness, and the Grave for ever; but it must not be, the day of their rising is set; the Judge is appointed, their Deeds are written; the deep Dungeon is with open Mouth, ever waiting for them; wherefore at the day appointed, neither Earth, nor Death, nor Hell can hinder: There shall be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just and unjust. Mat. 24. 14 Rom. 2. 14, 15. Mal. 3. 5. Psal. 7. 11, 12, 13. Psal. 21. 12. Isa. 30. 33. Mat. 25. 41 Deut. 29. 19, 20. 2 Pet. 2. 3.

46. Lastly, Besides what hath been said, I cannot but believe, there shall be a Resurrection of the wicked at the last day, because of the ungodly consequences and Errors that do most naturally follow the denial thereof.

For first, He that taketh away the Doctrine of the Resurrection of the wicked: He taketh away one of the main Arguments that God hath provided for to convince a sinner, of the evil of his ways; for how shall a sinner be convinced of the evil of sin, if he be not convinced of the certainty of Eternal Judgment? and how shall he be convinced of Eternal Judgment, if you perswade him, that when he is dead, he shall not at all arise? (especially seeing the Resurrection of the Dead, and Eternal Judgment, must unavoidably be one the fore-runner of the other. It was Pauls reasoning of Righteousness, Temperance, and Judgment to come, that made Felix tremble. 'Tis this also he calleth the Argument of terrour, wherewith he perswaded Men. This was Solomons Argument, and Christs also, where he saith That every idle word that Man shall speak, he shall give an account thereof, in the day of Judgment. Heb. 6. 2. Acts 24. 25. 2 Cor. 5. 10, 11. Eccles. 11. 9. Mat. 12. 36.

Secondly, They that deny the Resurrection of the wicked, they do both allow and maintain the chief Doctrine of the Ranters, with most of the Debauched Persons in the World. For the Ranters deny it both in Principle and Practice, and the other in practice, at least. Now to me it is very strange, that these Men above all other, should both know and live in the Doctrines of the Kingdom of God: Especially, seeing the denial hereof is an evident token of one appointed to wrath and destruction. But to be plain, There shall be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just, and unjust: Wherefore, whatever others may say, or profess, being beguiled by Satan, and their own hearts, yet do thou fear him that can destroy both Body and Soul in Hell. 2 Tim. 2. 18. Mat. 10. 28

There shall be a Resurrection of the Dead, both of the just, and unjust. And the Sea gave up the Dead that were in it, and Death and Hell delivered up the Dead that were in them. Rev. 20. 13.

Having in the first place shewed you, that the wicked must arise; I shall in the next place shew you the manner of their rising. And observe it, as the very Title of the just and unjust, are opposites, so they are in all other matters, and in their Resurrections. 47.

First then, as the just in their Resurrection do come forth in incorruption; the unjust in their Resurrection, shall come forth in their corruptions; for though the ungodly at their Resurrection, shall for ever after be incapable of having Body and Soul separate: Or of their being annihilated into nothing, yet it shall be far from them to rise in incorruption; for if they arise in incorruption, they must arise to Life, and also must have the Conquest over Sin and Death. But that they shall not; for it is the Righteous only, that put on incorruption, that are swallowed up of life. The wickeds Resurrection, it is called the Resurrection of Damnation. These in their very Resurrection, shall be hurt of the second Death. They shall arise in death, and shall be under it, under the gnawings and terrours of it, all the time of their Arraignment. As it were, a living death shall feed upon them, they shall never be spiritually alive, nor yet absolutely dead; but much after that manner, that natural Death, and Hell, by reason of guilt doth feed on him, that is going before the Judge, to receive his Condemnation to the Gallows. You know, though a Felon go forth of the Goal, when he is going to the Bar for his Arraignment, yet he is not out of Prison, or out of his Irons for that; his Fetters are still making a noise on his Heels, and the thoughts of what he is to hear by and by from the Judge, is still frighting and afflicting his Heart, Death like some evil Spirit or Ghost, doth continually haunt him, and playeth the Butcher continually in his Soul and Conscience, with frights and fears about the thoughts of the sudden, and unsupportable after-clap, by and by he is to meet withal. 1 Cor. 15. 54. John 5. 28

Thus I say, will the wicked come out of their Graves, having yet the Chains of Eternal Death hanging on them, and the Talons of that dreadful Ghost fastned in their Souls. So that Life will be far from them, even as far as Heaven is from Hell. This Morning to them, is even as the shadow of Death. They will then be in the very terrours of the shadow of Death. As Christ saith, Their worm never dies, and their fire is never quenched. From Death to Eternity, it never shall be quenched, their Bed is now among the Flames; and when they rise, they will rise in Flames; while they stand before the Judge, it will be in Flames, even in the Flames of a guilty Conscience: They will in their coming before the Judge, be within the very Jaws of Death and Destruction. Thus I say, the ungodly shall be far off from rising as the Saints; for they will be even in the Region and Shadow of Death. The first moment of their rising, Death will be ever over them, ever feeding on their Souls; and ever presenting to their hearts, the heights and depths of the misery that now must seize them, and like a bottomless Gulf must swallow them up. They shall come out of their holes, like worms of the Earth, and be afraid of the Lord our God. Job 24. 17 Mark 8. 43, 44. Mic. 7. 17.

48. Secondly, As the Resurrection of the godly, shall be a Resurrection in Glory: So the Resurrection of the wicked, it will be a Resurrection in dishonour. Yea, as the glory of Saints, at the day of their rising, will be glory unspeakable: So the dishonour of the ungodly at that day, it will be dishonour beyond Expression. As Daniel saith, The good shall arise to everlasting Life; but the wicked to shame, and everlasting contempt. And again, When thou, O God, awakest, that is, to judge them, thou shalt despise their Image. Never was Toad or Serpent more lothsom to any, than these will be in the Eyes of God, in their rising forth of their Graves. Dan. 12. 2 Psal 73. 20.

When

When they go to their Graves, saith Job, Their Bones are full of the sin of their Youth, which lyeth down in the dust with them. And arise they shall, in the same noisom and stinking condition; for as Death leaves, so Judgment finds them. At the Resurrection then of these ungodly, they will be in a very loathsom condition. Job 20.11.

The ungodly at their death, are like the Thistle-seed; but at their rising, they will be like the Thistle grown; more noisom, offensive, and provoking to rejection abundance. Then such dishonour, shame and contempt, will appear in them, that neither God nor Christ, Saints nor Angels, will so much as once regard them, or vouchsafe one to come near them. He beholdeth the wicked afar off; because in the day of Grace they would not come to hand, and be saved, therefore now they shall, all as thorns, be thrust away, as with fences of Iron. Their rising is called the Resurrection of the unjust, and so they at that day will appear, and will more stink in the Nostrils of God, and all the Heavenly Hosts, than if they had the most irksom Plague-sores in the World running on them. If a Man at his Birth, be counted as one cast forth to the loathing of his Person: How loathsom, and irksom, dishonourable and contemptible, will those be that shall arise Godless, Christless, Spiritless, and Graceless, when the Trumpet sounds to their Judgment, they coming out of their Graves far more loathsom and filthy, than if they should ascend out of the most filthy hole on Earth. 2 Sam. 23. 6, 7

49. Thirdly, As the Just shall rise in power, so the wicked and unjust, in weakness and astonishment. Sin and guilt bringeth weakness and faintness in this Life: How much more, when both with all their power and force, like a Giant, fasten on them, as God saith, can thy hands be strong, and can thy Heart indure in the day that I shall deal with thee? Now will the ghastly Jaws of despair gape upon thee, and now will condemnings of Conscience, like Thunder-claps, continually batter against thy weary Spirit. It is the godly that have boldness in the day of Judgment; but the wicked will be like the Chaff which the Wind driveth away. O the fear, and the heart-aking that will seize them in their rising! The frightful Thoughts that then will fill their throbbing hearts! Now must that Soul that hath been in Hell-fire among the Devils, possess the Body again. Possess it I say, with the hot scalding stink of Hell upon it. They shall not be able to lift up the Head for ever, pangs shall take hold on them, all their hands shall faint, and every Mans Heart shall melt; They shall be amazed one at another, their Faces shall be as Flames. Every thing they see, hear, or think of, shall tend to their discomfort. They must needs be weak, whom God hath left, whom guilt hath seized, and whom death is swallowing up for ever. Eccles. 22. 14. 1 John 4. 17. Mal. 1. 4. Isa. 13. 6, 8.

55. Fourthly, As the Just shall arise spiritual Bodies, so the unjust shall arise only as meer and naked lumps of sinful nature: Not having the least help from God to bear them up under this condition. Wherefore, so soon as ever they are risen out of their Graves, they will feel a continual sinking under every remembrance of every sin, and thoughts of Judgment; in their rising they fall, fall I say from thencesorth, and for ever. And for this Reason, the Dungeon into which they fall, is called bottomless. Because, as there will be no end of their misery, so there will be no stay or prop to bear them up in it. Only, as I said before, they shall not now, as afore, be separate Body from Soul, but both together be bound in the Cords of sin and iniquity, in which they shall now tremble as Thieves and Murderers, &c. as they go before the Judge, to hear what he will say unto them. Rev. 20. 1.

51. Now when the wicked are thus raised out of their Graves, they shall, together with all the Angels of darkness, their fellow Prisoners, be brought up, being shackled in their sins, to the place of Judgment; where there shall sit upon them Jesus Christ, the King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, the Lord Chief Judge of things in Heaven, and things in Earth, and things under the Earth. On whose Right Hand, and Left, shall sit all the Princes, and Heavenly Nobles; the Saints and Prophets, the Apostles, and Witnesses of Jesus: Every one in his Kingly Attire, upon the Throne of his Glory. Then shall be fulfilled that which is written, As for these my Enemies, that would not that I should reign over them, bring them before me to slay them. Joel 3. 11, 12, 13, 14. Luke 19. 27.

When every one is thus set in his proper place, the Judge on his Throne, with his Attendants, and the Prisoners coming up to Judgment: Forthwith there shall issue forth a mighty Fire and Tempest from before the Throne, which shall compass it round about. Which Fire shall be as Bars and Bounds to the wicked, to keep them at a certain distance from the Heavenly Majesty. As David saith, Our God will come, and not keep silence, a Fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him. And again, His Throne was like the Fiery Flame, and his Wheels like burning Fire. A fiery Stream issued, and came forth from before him, &c. Psal. 50. 3. Dan. 7. 9.

This Preparation being made, to wit, the Judge with his Attendance on the Throne; the Bar for the Prisoners, and the Rebels all standing with ghastly Jaws, to look for what comes after: Presently the Books are brought forth, to wit, the Books both of Death and Life. And every one of them opened before the sinners, now to be Judged and Condemned. For after that he had said before, A fiery stream issued, and came forth from before him: He adds, Thousands, Thousands ministred to him, and ten Thousand times ten Thousand stood before him: The Judgment was set, and the Books was opened. And again, I saw a great white Throne, and him that sate upon it, from whose Face, the Earth and the Heaven fled away, and there was found no more place for them; and I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God, and the Books were opened: and another Book was opened, which is the Book of Life. And the Dead were Judged out of the things that were written in the Books, according to their works. Dan. 7. 10. Revel. 20 11, 12.

He doth not say, the Book was opened, as of one, but the Books, as of many. And indeed, they are more than one, two, or three, out of which the Dead shall in the Judgment be proceeded against. 52.

First then, there is the Book of the Creatures to be opened.

Secondly, The Book of Gods Remembrance.

Thirdly, The Book of the Law.

And fourthly, The Book of Life. For by every one of these, that is, out of what is written in them, shall the World of the ungodly be Judged.

And the Books were opened.

First, The Book of the Creatures shall be opened, and that first as it concerns Mans Nature, and next, as it relates to all other Creatures. First, he will shew in what the Principles of Nature were, as they were Gods Creation; and how contrary to these Principles, the World have walked, acted, and done. The Principles of Nature are concluded under these three general Heads. The first Book opened in its first part.

First, That Man by his own Natural Reason and Judgment, may gather, that there is a God, a Deity, a chief, or first, or principal Being, who is over all, and supreme above all. This instinct, I say, Man meerly as he is a Rational Creature, findeth in himself; and hence it is, that all Heathens that mind their own Natural Reason, do conclude, that we are his Off-spring; that is, his Creation and Workmanship. That he made Heaven and Earth, and hath made of one Blood, all Nations of Men; That in him we live, and move, and have our Being, &c. Acts 17. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.

It appears further, that Man by his own Nature, doth know that there is such a God.

1. By his being able to judge by Nature, that there is such a thing as Sin, as Christ saith, Why do ye not even of your selves, judge that which is right? As if he had said, you are degenerated even from the Principles of Nature and right Reason; as Paul saith in another place, Doth not even Nature it self teach you? Now he that can judge, that there is such a thing as sin, it must of necessity be, that he understandeth that there is a God, to whom sin is opposite; for if there be no God, there is no sin against him, and he that knows not the one, knows not the other. Luke 12. 57. 1 Cor. 11. 14.

2. It is evident further, that Man by Nature, knows that there is a God, by those fits of fear and dread that is often begotten in themselves, even in every Man that breatheth in this World; for they are by their own Consciences and Thoughts, convicted and reproved, judged and condemned, though they know neither Moses nor Christ. For the Gentiles which have not the Law,

Mans Nature is a Book, or Law to it ſelf.

Law, theſe are a Law to themſelves, and ſhew the works of the Law, written in their Hearts; that is, by this very thing, they hold forth to all Men, that God created them in that ſtate and quality, that they might, in, and by their own nature, judge and know, that there is a God. And it further ſheweth it ſelf, ſaith he, by Rom. 2. 14. 15. thoſe workings of Heart, convictions of Conſcience, and accuſations, that every Thought maketh within them, together with the fear that is begotten in them, when they tranſgreſs, or do thoſe things that are irrational, or contrary to what they ſee they ſhall do. I might add further, that the natural proneneſs that is in all Men, to Devotion and Religion, that is, of one kind or another, doth clearly tell us, that they by the Book of Nature, which Book is themſelves, do read, that there is one great and eternal God.

53. Secondly, The ſecond Principle of Nature is, That this God ſhould by Man be ſought after, that they might enjoy Communion with him for ever. As I ſaid before, the Light of Nature ſheweth Man, that there is a great God, even God that made the World; and the end of its ſhewing him this is, that they might ſeek the Lord, if happily they may feel after him, and find him, Acts. 17. 26, 27. though he be not far from every one of them, &c.

54. Thirdly, This light of nature teacheth, that Men between themſelves, ſhould do that which is juſt and equal. As Moſes ſaid, and that long before the Law Acts. 17. 26. was given, Sirs, ye are Brethren, why do ye wrong one another? as who ſhould ſay, you are of equal Creation, Exod. 2. 13 you are the ſame fleſh; you both judge, that it is not equally done of any to do you wrong, and therefore ought to judge by the ſame Reaſon, that ye ought not to wrong one another.

55. Now againſt every one of theſe three Principles, hath every Man in the whole World tranſgreſſed, as Paul ſaith; For both Jews and Gentiles, are all under Rom. 3. 9. ſin. For as touching the firſt, who is he that hath honoured, reverenced, worſhipped, and adored the living God, to the heighth both of what they ſaw in him, and alſo according to the goodneſs and mer- Rom. 1. 25 cy, they have as Men, received from him? All have ſerved, and worſhipped the Creature more than the Creator, who is bleſſed for ever, and ſo have walkt contrary to, and have ſinned againſt this bond of nature, in this firſt principle of it.

Secondly, Men inſtead of minding their own future happineſs, as nature teacheth, they have through their giving way to ſin and Satan, minded nothing leſs; for though Reaſon teacheth all men to love that which is good and profitable, yet they contrary to this, have loved that which is hurtful and deſtructive. Yea, though ſenſe teacheth to avoid the danger that is manifeſt: Yet Man, contrary to reaſon and ſenſe both, even all Men have both againſt light and feeling, rejected their own happineſs, as Paul ſaith, Though they know Rom. 1. 33 the Judgments of God, that they which do ſuch things, are worthy of death: not only do the ſame, but take pleaſure in them that do them.

Thirdly, Man inſtead of doing equity, and as he would be done by, which nature it ſelf teacheth: he hath given up himſelf to vile affections, being filled, by refuſing the dictates of nature, with all unrighteouſneſs, fornication, wickedneſs, covetouſneſs, maliciouſneſs, envy, Murder, debate, deceit, malignity, whiſpering, backbiting: to hate God, to be deſpiteful, proud boaſters, inventors of evil things, diſobedient to Parents, without underſtanding, Covenant-breakers, with- Rom. 1. 28 29, 30, 31, 32. out natural affections, implacable, unmerciful.

And obſerve it, he doth not ſay, that all theſe things are by every man, put into practice; but every man hath all theſe in his heart, which there defile the Soul, and make it abominable in the ſight of God. They are filled with all unrighteouſneſs, which alſo appears, as occaſion ſerveth, ſometimes, one of them, ſometimes more. Now man having ſinned againſt that natural Light, Judgment, Reaſon, and Conſcience, that God hath given him: Therefore, though as I ſaid before, he neither knew Moſes nor Chriſt, yet he ſhall periſh: Rom. 2. 12 As many, ſaith Paul, as have ſinned without Law, they ſhall periſh without Law.

Yea, here will man be found, not only a ſinner againſt God, but an oppoſer of himſelf, a contradictor of 2 Tim. 1. 2. 25. his own nature, and one that will not do that which he judgeth even of himſelf to be right. Their ſin is written upon the Tables of their own heart, and their Jer. 17. 1. own wickedneſs and back-ſliding, ſhall both correct, and re- Jer. 2. 19. prove them.

It is marvellous, (if we conſider) how curious a Creature man was made of God: To behold how much 56. below, beſides and againſt that ſtate and place, Man acts, and does in this ſtate of ſin and degeneracy. Man in his Creation was made in the Image of God, but Man, by reaſon of his yielding to the Tempter, hath Gen. 1. 2 made himſelf the very Figure and Image of the Devil. Man by Creation was made upright, and ſinleſs; but Man by ſin, hath made himſelf crooked and ſin- Eccl. 7. 2 ful. Man by Creation, had all the faculties of his Soul at liberty, to ſtudy God his Creator, and his glorious Attributes and Being; but Man by ſin hath ſo bound up his own ſenſes and reaſon, and hath given way for blindneſs and ignorance of God, ſo to reign in his Soul, that now he is Captivated, and held bound in alienation and eſtrangedneſs, both from God, and all things truly ſpiritually good; Becauſe, ſaith he, That when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, but became vain in their imaginations, and their fooliſh hearts were darkened. And again, having, the underſtanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God, through the Rom. 1. 2 ignorance that is in them, through the blindneſs of their hearts. Eph. 4. 1

Now for this abuſe of the Workmanſhip of God, ſhall man be brought forth to the Judgment, ſhall be convicted, caſt, and condemned as a Rebel, againſt both God, and his own Soul, as Paul affirmeth, and Rom. 3. 5 that when he reaſoned but as a man.

When this part of the Book touching mans nature, is open'd, and man convicted and caſt by it, by reaſon of his ſinning againſt the three general principles thereof: then forthwith is the ſecond part of the Book opened, which is the myſtery of the Creatures; for the whole Creation, that is before thee, are not only made to ſhew the power of God in themſelves, but alſo to teach thee, and to preach unto thee, both much of God and thy ſelf; as alſo the Righteouſneſs, and Juſtice of God againſt ſin; For the wrath of God is revealed from Heaven, againſt all ungodlineſs, and unrighteouſneſs of Men, who hold the truth in unrighteouſneſs; becauſe that which may be known of God, is manifeſt in them; for God hath ſhewed it unto them, for the inviſible things of him, from the Creation of the World, are clearly ſeen, being underſtood by the things that are made, even his Eternal Power and God-head: ſo that they are Rom. 1. 18 19, 20. left without excuſe.

The Creation then of the World, namely of the Heavens, Earth, Sun, Moon, Stars, with all other the Creatures of God: They preach aloud to all Men, the Eternal Power and God head of their Creator. In Pſal. 8. 3 Wiſdom he hath made them all: To be teachable, and carrying inſtruction in them; and he that is wiſe and will underſtand theſe things, even he ſhall under- Pſ. 104. 24 ſtand the loving kindneſs of the Lord; for the Works of Pſal. 107. the Lord are great, and ſought out of all them that have Pſ. 111. 2. pleaſure therein.

Secondly, As the Creation in general, preacheth to 57. every man ſomething of God: So they do hold forth how Man ſhould behave himſelf both to God, and one to another; and will aſſuredly come in, in the Judgment, againſt all thoſe that ſhall be found croſſers, and thwarters of what God by the Creatures doth hold forth to us.

As firſt, The obedience of the Creatures both to God and thee; firſt to God, they are all in ſubjection (ſet Devils and Men aſide) even the very Dragons, and all Deeps, Fire, Hail, Snow, and Vapours, fulfilling his Word. Yea, the Winds and Seas obey him. Thus, I ſay, by their obedience to God, they teach thee Obe- Pſal. 148 dience, and by their obedience, ſhall thy diſobedience 7, 8. be condemned in the Judgment. Pſal. 147.

2. Their obedience to thee alſo, teacheth thee o- 15, 16, 17 bedience to all Superiours; For every kind of Beaſts, 18. and of Birds, and Serpents, and things in the Sea, is Mar. 4. 41. tamed, and hath been tamed, and brought into obedience by mankind. Man only remains untamed, and unruly, and therefore by theſe are condemned. Jam. 3. 7, 8

Secondly, The fruitfulneſs of all the Creatures, in 58. their kind, doth teach and admoniſh thee to a fruitful life to Godward, and in the things of his holy Word. God did but ſay in the beginning, Let the Earth bring Gen. 1. 11 forth fruit, Graſs, Herbs, Trees, Beaſts, creeping things, 24. and Cattel after their kind; and it was ſo. But to Man he hath ſent his Prophets, riſing early, and ſending them, ſaying, O do not this abominable thing that I hate; Jer. 44. 4, 5 but they will not obey. For if the Gentiles which have not the Law, do by ſome acts of obedience, Job. 36. 27 condemn the wickedneſs of thoſe who do by the Letter and Circumciſion, break the Law, how much more ſhall the fruitfulneſs of all the Creatures come in, in the Judgment, againſt the whole World? As Job 36.27 28,29,30, 31. Job ſaith, By the obedience and fruitfulneſs of the Creatures he judgeth, (and ſo will judge) the People.

59. Thirdly, The knowledge and wiſdom of the Creatures, do with a check, command thee to be wiſe, and do teach thee wiſdom.

1. The Stork in the Heaven, the Swallow and the Crane, by obſerving the time and ſeaſon of their coming, do admoniſh thee to learn the time of grace,
Jer. 8. 7. and of the mercy of God.

2. The Ox and the Aſs, by the knowledge they have of their Maſters Crib, do admoniſh thee to know the Bread and Table of God, and both do and ſhall

60. Fourthly, The labour and toyl of the Creatures, doth convict thee of ſloath and idleneſs. Go to the Ant, thou ſluggard, conſider her ways, and be wiſe; for
Prov. 6. 6, 7 ſhe provideth her food in the Summer, and layeth up againſt the day of tryal. But thou ſpendeſt the whole Summer of thy life, in waſting both time and Soul. All things

Joh. 5. 40. on the Rock Chriſt, as the Coney doth teach, nor lay hold on the Kingdom of Heaven, as the Spider doth bid him.

61. Fifthly, The fear that is in all Creatures, when they perceive that danger is near, it teacheth men
Prov. 1. 17 18. to fly from the wrath to come; In vain is the ſnare laid in the ſight of any Bird; but Man, Man only is the fool-hardy Creature, that layeth wait for his own blood, and that lurketh privily for his own Life. How I ſay, will every Creature flie, run, ſtrive, and ſtruggle, to
Rom. 1. 33 eſcape the danger it is ſenſible of? 'tis Man only, that delighteth to dance about the mouth of Hell, and to be knowingly ſmitten with Satans Snare.

62. Sixthly, The dependence that all the Creatures have upon God: They teach thee to depend on him that made thee; yea, and will in the Judgment condemn thee for thy unlawful practices, and dealings for thy preſervation. The young Ravens ſeek their food from God,
Pſal. 147. 9 and will condemn thy lying, cheating, over-reaching,

65. All theſe things, as inconſiderable and unlikely as they may appear to you now, yet in the judgment will be found the Items, and warning words of God to your Souls. And know, that he who could overthrow the Land of Egypt, with frogs, lice, flies, Locuſts, &c. will overthrow the World, at the laſt day, by the Book of the Creatures; and that by the leaſt, and moſt inconſiderable of them, as well as by the reſt. This Book of the Creatures, it is ſo excellent, and ſo full, ſo eaſie, and ſo ſuting the capacity of all, that there is not one Man in the World, but is catched, convicted, and caſt by it. This is the Book, that he who knows no letters may read in: yea, and that he who neither ſaw New Teſtament, nor Old, may know both much of God, and himſelf by. 'Tis this Book, out of which generally, both Job and his friends did ſo profoundly diſcourſe of the Judgments of God, and that out of which God himſelf did ſo convincingly anſwer Job. Job was as perfect in this Book, as we are, many of us in the Scriptures, yea, and could ſee further by it, than many now a days do ſee by the new Teſtament and old. This is the Book out of which, both Chriſt, the Prophets, and Apoſtles, do ſo frequently diſcourſe by their Similitudes, Proverbs, and Parables: as being the moſt eaſie way to convince the World, though by reaſon of their ignorance, nothing will work with them, but what is ſet on their heart by the Holy Ghoſt.

One word further, and I have done with this, and that is, God hath ſealed the judgment of the World by the Book of the Creatures, even by Mans own carriage unto ſuch of them, which, through any impediment, have diſappointed his expectations. As thus, if thou haſt but a Tree in thy Orchard, that neither beareth fruit, nor ought elſe that is good: Why, thou art for hewing it down, and for appointing it, as fewel for the Fire: Now thou little thinkeſt that by thy thus judging, thou ſhouldeſt paſs ſentence upon thy own fruitleſs Soul; but it is ſo, For now is the Ax laid to the Roots of the Trees, and every Tree that bringeth not forth good Fruit, is hewn down, and caſt into the fire.
Mat. 3. 10. Luk. 13. 6, 7, 8. Ezek. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. For as truly as thou ſayeſt of thy fruitleſs Tree, cut it down, why doth it cumber the ground? So truly doth thy Voice cauſe Heaven to Eccho again upon thy head: Cut him down why doth he cumber the ground?

Further, The inclination of thy heart towards fruitleſs and unprofitable Creatures, doth fore-preach to thee, the inclination of the heart of God towards thee in the judgment: If thou haſt either Cow, or any other Beaſt, that is now unprofitable to thee, though thou mayſt ſuffer them for ſome time to be with thee, as God ſuffereth ſinners in the World, yet all this while thy heart is not with them; but thou wilt take thy time to clear thy hands of them. Why, juſt ſo ſhall thy judgment be, as God ſaith, Though Moſes and Samuel ſtood before me, that is, to pray me to ſpare this
Jer. 15. 1. Ezek. 14 13, 14. People, yet my heart could not be towards them, therefore caſt them out of my ſight, and let them go forth.

Thus I ſay, will God judge the World at the laſt day; he will open before them, how they have degenerated and gone back from the Principles of Nature, in which he created them. Alſo how they have ſlighted all the inſtructions that he hath given them, even by the obedience, fruitfulneſs, wiſdom, labour, fear and love of the Creatures; and he will tell them that as to their judgment, they themſelves have decided it, both by their cutting down that which was fruitleſs, and by the withdrawing of their hearts from thoſe things, which to them were unprofitable: As therefore the Tares are gathered, and burned in the fire, ſo ſhall it be in the end of the world. As Men deal with Weeds, and rotten Wood, ſo will God deal with ſinners in the day of judgment: And will bring in, I ſay, all the Counſels and warnings he hath given Men by these things, both to clear up, and to aggravate their judgment to them.

66. The second Book that will be opened at this day, it Mal. 3. 16. will be the Book of Gods Remembrance. For as God hath in his Remembrance, Recorded all and every particular good thing that his own People have done to, and for his Name, while they were in this World: So he hath in his Remembrance, Recorded all the evil and sin of his Adversaries; even every thing. Now Gods Remembrance is so perfect every way, that it is impossible, that any thing should be lost, that is committed to it to be kept, and brought forth to the Judgment at the time appointed; for as a thousand years are but as yesterday, with his Eternity: So the sins that have been committed thousands of years since, they are all so firmly fixed in the Remembrance of the Eternal God, that they are always as fresh and clear in his sight, as if they were but just now in committing. He calleth again the things that are past, and hath set our most secretest things in the light of his Countenance. As he also saith in another place, Hell it self is naked before him, and destruction hath no covering. That is, the most secret, cunning and hidden contrivances of the most subtle of the Infernal Spirits, which yet are far more fleshly, than Men, to hide their wickedness; yet, I say, all their ways, hearts, and most secret doings, are clear, to the very bottom of them, in the Eyes of the great God. All things are open and bare, before the Eyes of him with whom we have to do; who will bring to light, the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the Heart.

Ye that say, the Lord shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob regard it; Understand, O ye brutish among the People, and ye Fools, when will ye be wise? He that planted the Ear, shall not he hear? He that formed the Eye, shall not he see? He that chastiseth the Heathen, shall not he correct? He that teacheth Man knowledge, shall not he know? Can any hide himself in secret places, that I should not see him? that is, when he is committing wickedness, saith the Lord, Do not I fill Heaven and Earth, saith the Lord?

Jer. 23. 24.

Now to know and see things, it is the cause among Men, of their remembrance. Wherefore, God to shew us, that he will remember all our sins, if we die out of Christ, he tells us, that he knoweth, and seeth them all, and therefore must needs remember them; for as is his sight and knowledge, so is his Remembrance of all things.

When this Book of his Remembrance therefore is opened, as it shall be, in the Judgment: Then shall be brought forth of their hidden holes, all things, whatsoever hath been done since the World began, whether by Kingdoms in general, or persons in particular. Now also, shall be brought forth to open view, all the transactions of God and his Son, among the Sons of Men, and every thing shall be applied to every particular Person, in Equity and Justice, to whom they belong: The Sins that thou hast committed shall be thy own, and thou thy self shalt bear them. The Lord is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed.

It will be marvellous to behold, how by thousands, and ten thousands, God will call from their secret places, those sins, that one would have thought, had been dead, and buried, and forgotten; yea, how he will shew before the Sun, such things, so base, and so horrid, that one would think, it was not in the hearts of any to commit; for all is Recorded in the Book of Gods Remembrance. While Men are here, they have a thousand tricks to present themselves one to another, far more fair, and honest than they are, or ever were. As Christ said to the Pharisees, Ye are they, who justifie your selves before Men, but God knoweth your Hearts. I, God knoweth indeed, what a nest, what a heap, what swarms; yea, what Legions of Hellish wickednesses, there is with power lurking, like cockatrices, in those Men, that one would swear a thousand times, are good and honest Men. The way of Men in their sins, It is like an Eagle in the Air, a Serpent upon the Rock, a Ship in the midst of the Sea, and of a young Man with a Maid, saith Solomon. That is, hiddenly, closely, covertly, burying all under fair pretences, wipeth their Mouths in the close of their Evil, saying, I have done no wickedness.

Prov. 30. 19, 20.

But this, though it may serve for the time present, and no longer, God will not be deluded, nor blinded, nor mocked, nor put off. They consider not that I remember all their wickedness, saith he, but I will reprove thee, and will set them in order before thine Eyes. Here will be laid open, the very Heart of Cain the Murderer, of Judas the Traytor, of Saul the Adversary of David, and of those that under pretences of holiness, have persecuted Christ, his Word and People. Now shall every Drunkard, Whore-master, Thief, and other wicked Person, be turned their inside outward; their hearts right open, and every sin, with every circumstance of place, time, person with whom, with the causes also that drew them to the commission of every evil, be discovered to all. Here will be no hiding your selves behind Curtains, nor no covering your selves with the black and dark Night. If I say, surely the darkness shall cover me, even the Night shall be light about me; yea, (O God) darkness hideth not from thee, but the Night shineth as the day, the darkness and light are both alike unto thee.

Psal. 1. 9, 11, 12.

The piercing Eye of God, beholds all places, persons and things; the holy hand of his Justice writeth them down in the Book of his Remembrance; and by his Power and Wisdom, will he open and read to all Men exactly, distinctly, and convincingly, whatever hath passed from them, or been done by them in their whole Life; For, for all these things, God will bring thee into Judgment. Again, as God will bring out of the Book of his Remembrance, whatever hath passed from thee, against him; so also will he then bring forth by the same Book, all things and carriages of his towards thee.

Eccles. 11. 9.

67. Here will he bring to thy Mind, every Sermon thou hast heard, every Chapter thou hast read; every conviction thou hast had on thy Conscience: And every Admonition that hath been given thee in all thy Life, when thou wast in the Land of the Living.

Now will God lay open before thee, what patience he extended to thee, how he let thee live one year, two years, ten, yea twenty and twenty years, and all to try thee. Yea, now also will he bring to thy view, how many times he warned, rebuked, threatned, and chastised thee for thy Wickedness; how many awakening Providences and Judgments he continually laid before thy Face; yea, how many a time, thou didst like Balaam run upon the point of the Sword of Justice, and how he gave back, as being loth to Kill thee.

Numbers 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28,

Now also again, shall be brought before thee and all Men, how many struglings God had with thy Heart, on thy Sick-bed, to do thee good; yea, and at such times, how many Vows, Promises, Ingagements, and Resolutions, thou madest before God, to turn, if he would release thee from thy Affliction, and take off his Rod from thy Back: And yet how thou didst like the Man possessed, break, and snap in twain all these Chains of Iron, with which thou hadst bound thy Soul; and that for a very Lust and Sin. Here also will be opened before thee, how often thou hast sinned against thy light and knowledge; how often thou hast laid violent hands on thy own Conscience; how often thou hast laboured to put out that light that hath stood in thy way, to hinder thee from sinning against thy Soul. Ah Lord, what a condition will the Christless Soul be in at this day? How will every one of these things afflict the damned Soul? they will pierce like Arrows, and bite like Serpents, and sting like an Adder. With what shame, will that Man stand before the Judgment-Seat of Christ, who must have all things he hath done against God, to provoke the Eyes of his Glory to jealousie, laid open before the whole Host of the Heavenly Train! It would make a Man blush, to have his Pockets searched, for things that are stolen, in the midst of a Market, especially, if he stand upon his Reputation and Honour. But thou must have thy Heart searched, the bottom of thy Heart searched; and that, I say, before thy Neighbour, whom thou hast wronged, and before the Devils, whom thou hast served; yea, before God, whom thou hast despised, and before the Angels, those holy and delicate Creatures, whose holy and chast Faces, will scarce forbear blushing, while God is making thee Vomit up all thou hast swallowed; for God shall bring it out of thy belly.

Job 20. 12, 13, 14, 15.

For as for God to forget iniquity, is one of the chief Heads of the Covenant of Grace, and is an Argument of the highest Nature, to beget, and to continue Consolation in the godly: So the remembrance of Iniquity, by by the Lord, it is one of the heavieſt Loads, and Judgments that can befall any poor Creature. Lord, ſaith the Prophet, remember not againſt us former iniquities. And again, If thou Lord, ſhouldeſt mark iniquity, O Lord, Pſal. 130. 3. who ſhall ſtand? And the Reaſon is, becauſe, that which the Lord forgetteth, is forgiven for ever; but that Heb. 8. 12. which he remembreth, it is charged for ever, and nothing can take it away. Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8. Though thou waſh thee with Nitre, and take thee much Soap, yet thine iniquity is marked Jer. 2. 22. before me, ſaith the Lord God.

68. The third Book that will at this day be opened, and out of which God will judge the World: It is the Book of the Law, or ten words given forth on the Mount Sinai. But this Book will more ſpecially concern thoſe that have received it, or that have had knowledge thereof. Every one ſhall not be judged by this Book, as there delivered, though they ſhall be judged by the works of it, which are written in their Rom. 2. 14 hearts. As many as have ſinned without Law, ſhall periſh without Law, and they that have ſinned in the Law, ſhall Rom. 2. 12 be judged by the Law. That is, the Heathens that never knew the Law, as delivered on Sinai, they ſhall be judged by the Law, as it was written in Mans heart in his Creation, (which is compriſed within the Book of the Creatures;) but thoſe that have knowledge of the Law, as delivered on Sinai; they ſhall be judged by the Law as there given.

Now then, this Book when it is opened, at the day of Judgment, it will to thoſe to whom it eſpecially relates, be a moſt terrible Law, far ſurpaſſing the two afore-mentioned. This Law, as I may ſo ſay, it is the chief, and moſt pure Reſemblance of the juſtice and holineſs of the Heavenly Majeſty, and doth hold forth to all Men, the ſharpneſs and keenneſs of his wrath, above the other two that I have before mentioned. I ſay, both becauſe it hath been delivered more plain and open, both as to the Duty injoyned, and the ſin prohibited; and therefore muſt of neceſſity, fall with the more violence upon the Head of all that ſhall be found within the compaſs of it. This Law, it hath in it to be opened at this day, theſe two general Heads. Firſt, A diſcovery of the evil of ſin, that is ſo, againſt plain light and truth.

69. And Secondly, A diſcovery of the vanity of all things that will at this day be brought by ſinners, for their help and plea at the judgment. Alas, who can but imagine that the poor World, at the day of their Arraignment, ſhould muſter up all that ever they can think of, as Arguments to ſhelter them from the Execution of that fierce wrath, that then with ſinking Souls, they will ſee prepared for them?

As to the firſt of theſe, the Apoſtle tells us, that the Law was added, that the offence might abound, or be diſcovered what it is. As he ſaith again, I had not known Rom. 5. 20 ſin but by the Law. Thus it is in this Life, and thus it Rom. 7. 7. will be in the day of judgment, that is, thoſe that ſee Rom. 7. 13 ſin, and that in its abounding Nature, and in its exceeding ſinfulneſs, they muſt ſee it by the Law, for that Jam. 1. 22, is indeed, the Glaſs by which God diſcovereth ſin: And 23, 24, 25. the filthy ſpots of Leproſie, that are in the Soul. Now thoſe that have not the happineſs to ſee their ſin by the Law in this Life, while there is a Fountain of Grace to waſh in, and be clean: They muſt have the miſery to ſee it at the judgment, when nothing is left but miſery and pain, as the puniſhment for the ſame. At which day, thoſe little Titles of this holy Law, that now Men ſo eaſily look over, and ſin againſt with eaſe, they will every one of them appear with ſuch dread, and with ſuch flaming Juſtice againſt every offence committed: That if Heaven and Earth it ſelf, ſhould ſtep in to ſhelter the ſinner from the juſtice and wrath due to ſin, it would turn them up by the Roots. It is Luke 16. 17. eaſier for Heaven and Earth to paſs away, than for one tittle of the Law to fail. If there appeared ſuch Flames, ſuch Thunderings and Tempeſts, as there were at the giving of the Law: What Flames and Blackneſs will there appear at the execution thereof? And if at the giving of the Law, there appeared ſo much Holineſs and Juſtice, that it made all Iſrael fly; yea, holy Moſes Exod. 19. 16. exceedingly fear and quake: What will become of theſe Heb. 11. 21. that God ſhall judge by the rigour of this Law in the day of Iudgment?

O what Thunderings and Lightnings, what Earthquakes and Tempeſts, will there be in every damned Soul, at the opening of this Book? Then indeed, will God viſit them with Thunder and Earthquake, and great noiſe: With Storm and Tempeſt, and the Flame of a devouring Fire. For behold, ſaith the Prophet, the Lord will Iſa. 29. 6 come with Fire, and with his Chariots, like a Whirlwind, Iſa. 66. 15. to render his anger with fury, and his rebukes with Flames of Fire.

The Lord will come with Fire, that is, in the flaming heat of his juſtice and holineſs againſt ſin and ſinners, to execute the rigour of his threatnings upon their periſhing Souls. 70.

Secondly, The ſecond general Head, that is contained in this Law, to be opened at this day, is its exactneſs and purity, and ſtrictneſs as to all acts of good that any poor Creature hath done in this Life, whereby he in the judgment will think to ſhelter, or ſecure himſelf from the wrath of God. This is the Rule, and Line, and Plummet, whereby every act of every Man, ſhall be meaſured; and he whoſe righteouſneſs is not found every way anſwerable to this Law, which all will fall ſhort of, but they that have the Righteouſneſs of God Rom. 3. 21 by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt: He muſt periſh, as he ſaith, 22. Judgment alſo will I lay to the Line, and Righteouſneſs will Iſa. 28. 17 I lay to the Plummet, and the Hail ſhall ſweep away the re- 18. fuge of Lies, and the Water ſhall overflow the hiding places. That is, though Men may now ſhelter themſelves under legal Repentance, cold profeſſion, good meaning, thinkings, and doings: Yet all theſe things muſt be meaſured, and weighed in the Ballance of Gods moſt righteous Law: And as I ſaid, whatever in that day, is not found the righteouſneſs of God, it will be found a refuge of Lies, and will be drowned by the overflowing of the wrath of God, as the Waters of Noah over- Mal. 4. 1. flowed the World. And hence it is, that all the ungodly will at this day, be found as ſtubble, and the Law as Fire. As it ſaith, From his right hand went a Deut. 33. 2 fiery Law. And again, His Lips are full of indignation, Iſa. 30. 27. and his Tongue as a devouring Fire. For as fire, where it ſeizeth, doth burn, eat, deſtroy, devour and conſume: So will the Law, all thoſe that at this day, ſhall be found under the tranſgreſſion of the leaſt tittle of it. It will be with theſe Souls at the day of Judgment, as it is with thoſe Countreys that are over-run with moſt mercileſs Conquerors, who leave not any thing behind them, but ſwallow up all with Fire and Sword, For by Fire, and by his Sword, will the Lord Iſa. 66. 16. plead with all Fleſh, and the ſlain of the Lord ſhall be many. There are two things at the day of Judgment, Joel 3. 13. will meet in their heighth and utmoſt ſtrength, and they Rev. 14. are Sin and the Law; for the Judgment will not be, till 15, 16, 17, the iniquity of the World be full ripe. 18, 19, 20.

Now then, when ſin is come to its full, having play'd all its pranks, and done all the miſchief it can againſt the Lord of Glory: Then God brings forth the Law, his holy and righteous Law, one of which will now reign for ever, that is, either the Law or Sin: Wherefore Sin and Sinners, they muſt tremble with all that help, and hold them up; for God will magnifie Iſa. 42. 21. the Law, and make it honourable. That is, will give it the Victory over the World for ever; for that is holy, juſt and good: They are unholy, unjuſt and bad. Therefore by this Law, will the Lord rain ſnares, fire and brim- Pſal. 11. 5, ſtone, and a horrible tempeſt, this ſhall be the portion of their 6. cup. Let no Man ſay then, that becauſe God is ſo famous in his mercy and patience, in this day of his Grace, that therefore he will not be fierce and dreadful in his Juſtice, in the day of Judgment; for Iudgment and Juſtice, is the laſt thing that God intends to bring upon the ſtage, which will then be to the full, as terrible, as now his goodneſs and patience, and long ſufferance, is admirable. Lord, who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, ſo is thy Pſal. 90. 11 wrath.

You may ſee, if you will, a few of the ſparks of the Iuſtice of God againſt Sin and Sinners: By his caſting off Angels for Sin, from Heaven to Hell; by his drown- 2 Pet. 2. 4, ing the old World; by his burning of Sodom and Gomor- 5, 6. rah, to aſhes; condemning them with an overthrow, Jude 6. 7. making them an example to thoſe that after ſhould live ungodly.

For whatſoever the Law ſaith, it ſaith it to them that are under the Law, that every mouth may be Rom. 3. 19 ſtopped, and all the World become guilty before God.

Moſes ſeems to wonder, that the Children of Iſrael could continue to live, when they did but hear the Law delivered on the Mountain; Did ever People, ſaith he, hear the Lord ſpeak out of the midſt of the Fire, as thou Deut. 4. haſt done, and live? O that ye did but know the Law, and 73.

and the wonderous things that are written therein, before the Lord cause that fearful Voice to be heard, Cursed is every one, that continueth not in every thing that is written in the Book of the Law to do them: Which Curse must fall on all that walk not in all the Commandments of God, without iniquity, which none do, I say, but they that walk in Christ, who hath alone fulfilled them all.

Gal. 3.10. Ezek. 33. 15.

The Law is that which standeth at the entrance of the Paradice of God, as a flaming Sword turning every way to keep out those that are not righteous with the righteousness of God; that have not skill to come to the Throne of Grace by that new and living way which he hath consecrated for us through the veil; that is to say, his flesh: for though this Law, I say, be taken away by Christ Jesus, for all that truely and savingly believe; yet it remains in full force and power in every tittle of it, against every Soul of Man, that now shall be found in his Tabernacle; that is, in himself, and out of the Lord Jesus, it lyeth, I say, like a Lion rampant at the Gates of Heaven, and will roar upon every unconverted Soul, fiercely accusing every one, that now would gladly enter in through the Gates into this City. So then, he that can answer all its most perfect and legal commands, and that can live in the midst of devouring fire, and there enjoy God and solace himself; he shall dwell on high, and shall not be hurt by this Law: His place of defence shall be the munitions of Rocks; bread shall be given him, and his waters shall be sure; thine Eyes shall behold the King in his Beauty, they shall see the Land that is very far off. Blessed then is he whose Righteousness doth answer every point of the Law of God, according to 1 Cor. 1. 30. he shall be able to escape all those things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man; for in himself, our God is a consuming Fire, and Man out of Christ, is but as stubble, chaff, thorns, briars, and fuel for the wrath of this holy and sinner-consuming God to seize upon for ever. Who can stand before his indignation? Who can abide the fierceness of his anger? His fury is poured out like Fire, and the Rocks are thrown down by him.

Col. 2.14. Rom. 3 19 Job 18.14. Joh. 5.45. Isa. 33.14, 15, 16, 17. Nah. 1. 6. Heb. 12. 29. Mal. 4. 1. Mat. 3.12. Heb. 6.7, 8

Now when these three Books are thus opened, there will without doubt, be sad throbbing and pricking, in every heart that now stands for his Life, before the Judgment-Seat of Christ the Righteous Judge; and without all question, they will be studying a thousand ways to evade and shift the stroke, that by the sin that these three Books do charge them with, will immediately fall upon them.

Isa. 27, 4. 2 Sam. 23. 6, 7.

71. But now to cut off all these at a blow, forthwith appear the witnesses, who are ready to evince, and make full, and Soul-killing proof of every particular charged against them.

The Witnesses give in their Evidence.

And the first is, God himself; I, saith he, will be a swift Witness against the Sorcerers, and against the Adulterers, and against false Swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling of his Wages; the Widow and the Fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and that feareth not me, saith the Lord.

Mal. 3. 5.

This must needs be of great sway with every Soul, that God should now come in. I will witness, saith God, that these things of which you are accused before the Judge, are true. I have seen all, know all, and write down all. There hath not been a thought in your Heart, nor a word in your Tongue, but I have known it altogether, All things have always been open, and naked to my Eye. Yea, my Eye-lids try the Children of Men. I have known your down-sitting, and your up-rising; and have understood your thoughts afar off. I have compassed your path, and am well acquainted with all your ways.

Heb. 4.13. Psal 11.4. Psal. 139. 1, 2, 3, 4. Eccles. 7. 29. Rom. 1.

1. You have not continued in that state of Nature in which I did at first create you: You have not liked to retain that knowledge and understanding of God, that you had, and might have had, by the very Book of the Creatures. You gave way to the suggestions of fallen Angels, and so your foolish Hearts were darkned and alienated, and estranged from God.

2. All the Creatures that were in the World, have even condemned you, they have been fruitful, but you fruitless; they have been fearful of danger, but you fool-hardy; they have taken the fittest opportunity for their own preservation, but thou hast both blindly, and confidently gone on to thy punishment.

Prov. 22.3.

3. Touching the Book of my Remembrance, who can contradict it? Do not I fill Heaven and Earth, saith the Lord? Was not I in all places to behold, to see, and to observe thee in all thy ways? My Eye saw the Thief, and the Adulterer, and I heard every Lie and Oath of the wicked. I saw the hypocrisie of the dissembler. They have committed villany in Israel, and have committed Adultery with their Neighbours Wives, and have spoken lying Words in my Name, which I have not commanded them, even I know, and am a Witness, saith the Lord.

Jer. 29. 23.

4. God will also come in against them for their transgressing his Law, even the Law which he delivered on Mount Sinai, he will, I say, open every tittle thereof in such order and truth; and apply the breach of each particular person with such convincing Arguments, that they will fall down silenced for ever. Every Mouth shall be stopped, and all the World shall become guilty before God.

Secondly, There is yet another Witness, for the condemning the Transgressors of these Laws, and that is, Conscience: Their Consciences also bearing Witness, saith the Apostle. Conscience is a thousand Witnesses. Conscience, it will cry, Amen, to every word that the Great God doth speak against thee. Conscience is a terrible accuser, it will hold pace with the Witness of God, as to the truth of Evidence, to a hairs breadth. The Witnesses of Conscience, it is of great Authority, it commands guilt, and fastneth it on every Soul which it accuseth. And hence it is said, If our Hearts or Conscience condemn us. Conscience will thunder and lighten at this day; even the Consciences of the most Pagan Sinners in the World, will have sufficiently wherewith to accuse, to condemn, and to make paleness appear in their Faces, and breaking in their Loins, by reason of the force of its Conviction. O the mire and dirt, that a guilty Conscience, when it is forced to speak, will cast up, and throw out before the Judgment-Seat! It must out, none can speak peace, nor health, to that Man upon whom God hath let loose his own Conscience, Cain will now cry, My punishment is greater than I can bear; Judas will hang himself; and both Belshazzer and Felix will feel the joynts of their loins to be loosened, and their knees to smite one against another, when Conscience stirreth. When Conscience is once thoroughly awakened, as it shall be before the Judgment-Seat: God need say no more to the Sinner, than Solomon said to filthy Shimei, Thou knowest all the wickedness that thy Heart is privy to. As who should say, thy Conscience knoweth, and can well inform thee of all the evil and sin that thou art guilty of. To all which it answereth, even as Face answereth to Face in a Glass; or as an Eccho answereth the Man that speaketh, as fast, I say, as God chargeth, Conscience will cry out, guilty, guilty, Lord, guilty of all, of every whit, I remember clearly all the Crimes thou layest before me. Thus, I say, will Conscience be a witness against the Soul, in the day of God.

72. Rom. 2.14, 15. 1 John. 3, 20. Gen. 4.13. Mat. 27.3. Dan. 5.6. Acts 24. 23. 1 King. 2. 44.

Thirdly, as God and Conscience will at this day be most dreadful Witnesses against the sinful Man: So also will those several thoughts that have passed through mans heart, be a Witness also against him. As he said before, Their Conscience also bearing witness, and their Thoughts the mean while accusing, or else excusing one another, in the day when God shall judge the secrets of Men by Jesus Christ, according to the Gospel.

Rom. 2. 14, 15.

The Thoughts come in as a Witness for God against the Sinner, upon the account of that unsteddiness and variety that was in them, both touching God, and their own selves. Sometimes the man thinks there is no God, but that every thing hath its rise of it self, or by chance, or fortune, The Fool hath said in his Heart, there is no God.

Psal. 14.1.

Sometimes again, they think there is a God; but yet they think and imagine of him falsly, Thou thoughtest that I was altogether such a one as thy self, saith God, but I will reprove thee.

Psal. 50. 21.

Men think, that because they can Sin with delight; that therefore God can let them escape without punishment. Nay, oftentimes they think, that God doth either quite forget their wickedness, or else that he will be pleased with such satisfaction as they are pleased to give him, even a few howling Prayers, fained and hypocritical tears, and weepings, which pass from them, more for fear of the punishment of Hell-fire, than because cauſe they have offended ſo holy, ſo juſt, and ſo glorious a God; and ſo loving, and ſo condeſcending a Jeſus.

Hos. 7.14. Mal. 2.13.

Sometimes again, they have had right thoughts of ſomething of God, but not of him together: Either thinking ſo of his Juſtice, as to drive them from him, Job 21.14 and alſo cauſe them to put him out of their mind: Or elſe ſo thinking of his Mercy, as that they quite forget his Holineſs and Juſtice, Now both theſe are but baſe Thoughts of God, and ſo erroneous and ſinful Thoughts.

Heb. 6. 2, 3, 4. Heb. 10. 26. 2 Pet. 2. 20. Sometimes alſo, they have pretty right Thoughts of God, both as to Juſtice and Mercy, but then through the wretchedneſs of their unſatisfied Nature, they, againſt this Light and Knowledge, do with ſhut Eyes, and hardened hearts, ruth fiercely, knowingly and willingly again into their ſins and wickedneſs.

74. Secondly, As Men have theſe various Thoughts of God, ſo alſo their Thoughts are not ſteddy about themſelves.

1. Sometimes they think they are Sinners, and therefore they have need of Mercy.

2. Sometimes again, they think they are Righteous, and ſo have not ſo much need; mark, and yet both alike Mark 10. 17,18,19, 20,21,22. rotten, and baſe: Becauſe, as the laſt is altogether ſenſeleſs; So the firſt is not at all ſavingly ſenſible.

Luke 18. 11, 12. 3. Sometimes again, they think they are Gods; that they ſhall never die, or that if they do die, yet they ſhall never riſe again; or if they do riſe again, yet they ſhall be ſaved, though they have lived vilely, and in Ezek. 28. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. their Sins all the days of their Life. Now I ſay, every one of theſe Thoughts, with ten thouſand more of the like Nature, will God bring in againſt the Rebels in the 1 Cor. 15. 12 Judgment-day. Which Thoughts, ſhall every one of them be brought forth in their diſtinct Order. He Deut. 29. 18,19,20. ſheweth to Man what is his Thought. And again, I know that thou canſt do every thing, and that no Amos 4. 13. Thought can be hid from thee. We read, that when Job 42. 2. the Strangers at Jeruſalem, did but hear the Apoſtles Acts 2. 6, 7, 8. ſpeak to every one of them in their own Language, how it amazed and confounded them. But I ſay, how will they look, and be amazed, when God ſhall evidently, clearly and fully ſpeak out all their Hearts, and every thought they have had before them?

Now the reaſon and ſtrength of this witneſs, will lye here, that God will by the variety and croſsneſs that their Thoughts had one to another, and by the contradiction that was in them, prove them Sinners and Ungodly; becauſe that I ſay, ſometimes they thought there was a God, ſometimes again they thought there was none. Sometimes they thought that he was ſuch a God, and ſometimes again they thought of him quite contrary: Sometimes they thought he was worth regarding, and ſometimes they thought he was not: As alſo, ſometimes they thought he would be faithful, both to Mercy, and Juſtice, and Sinners; and ſometimes again, they thought he would not.

What greater Argument now can there be, to prove Men, vanity, froth, a lie, ſinners, deluded by the Devil, and ſuch as had falſe apprehenſions of God, his Ways, his Word, his Juſtice, his Holineſs, of themſelves, their ſins, and every action?

Now they will indeed appear, a very lump of confuſion, a maſs of ſin, a bundle of ignorance, of Atheiſm, of unbelief, and of all things that ſhould lay them obnoxious to the Judgments of God. This will God, I ſay, by muſtering up the Thoughts of Man, and by ſhewing of them, that every Imagination and Thought of their Heart was only evil, and that continually (by ſhewing of them what ſtaggering, drunken, wild, and uncomely Thoughts they have had, both of him, and of themſelves) convince them, caſt them, and condemn them for Sinners, and Tranſgreſſors againſt the Book of Creatures, the Book of his Remembrance, and the Book of the Law. By the variety of their Thoughts, they ſhall be proved unſtable, ignorant, wandring Stars, Clouds carried with a Tempeſt, without order or guidance, and taken Captive of the Devil at his will.

Now while the wicked are thus ſtanding upon their Trial, and Lives before the Judgment-Seat, and that in the view of Heaven and Hell, they I ſay, hearing and ſeeing ſuch dreadful things, both written and witneſſed againſt every one of them; and that by ſuch Books, and ſuch Witneſſes, as do not only talk, but teſtifie, and that with the whole ſtrength of Truth againſt them: They will then begin, though poorly, and without any advantage, to plead for themſelves, which plea will be to this effect.

75. The Sinners plea for himſelf at the Judgment-Seat.

Lord, we did find in the Scriptures, that thou didſt ſend a Saviour into the World, to deliver us from theſe ſins and miſeries. We heard this Saviour alſo publiſhed, and openly proffered to ſuch poor ſinners as we are. Lord, Lord, we alſo made profeſſion of this Saviour, and were many of us frequenters of his holy Ordinances. We have eat and drunk in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreets. Lord, we have alſo ſome of us, been Preachers our ſelves, we have prophecied in thy Name, and in thy Name have we caſt out Devils, and done many wonderous works. Nay Lord, we did herd among thy People, we forſook the profane and wicked World; and carried our ſhining Lamps before us in the Face of all Men: Lord, Lord, open to us. Mat. 7.21, 22, 23. Luke 13. 24, 25, 26, 27. Mat. 25. 1, 2, 10, 11.

And all the while they are thus pleading, and ſpeaking for themſelves: Behold, how earneſtly they groan, how ghaſtly they look, and how now the Briniſh Tears flow down like Rivers from their Eyes, ever re-doubling their Petition, Lord, Lord, Lord, Lord: Firſt thinking of this thing, and then of that, ever contending, ſeeking, and ſtriving to enter in at this ſtrait Gate. As Chriſt ſaith, when once the Maſter of the Houſe is riſen up, that is, when Chriſt hath laid aſide his mediation for ſinners, and hath taken upon him only to judge and condemn: Then will the wicked begin to ſtand without, and to knock and contend, for a portion among them that are the bleſſed. Ah how will their Hearts twitter, while they look upon the Kingdom of Glory! And how will they ake and throb at every view of Hell, their proper place! Still crying, O that we might inherit Life, and O that we might eſcape Eternal Death!

76. The Book of Life opened.

But now, to take away all Cavils and Objections, that of this Nature will ariſe, in the Hearts of theſe Men: Forthwith the Book of Life is brought out for a Concluſion, and a final end of Eternal Judgment. As John ſaith, The Books were opened, and another Book was opened, which is the Book of Life, and the Dead were judged out of thoſe things that were written in the Books, according to their works. Rev. 20. 12

But this Book of Life it is not at this time opened, becauſe there are not any godly to be Tried; for as I have ſhewed before, their Judgment is paſt, and over, before the wicked riſe. The Book of Life then, it is now opened for further Conviction of Damned Reprobates, that their Mouths may be ſtopped for ever, as touching all their Cavils, Contendings and Arguments againſt Gods proceeding in Judgment with them. For believe it, while God is judging them, they will fall to judging him again, but he will be juſtified in his ſayings, and will overcome when he is judged at this day. Rom. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. Yet not by a haſty and angry caſting them away, but by a legal and convincing proceeding againſt them, and overthrowing all their Cavils, by his manifeſt and invincible Truth. Wherefore, to cut off, all that they can ſay, he will now open the Book of Life before them, and will ſhew them what is written therein, both as to Election, Converſion, and a truely Goſpel Converſation. And will convince them, that they neither are of the number of his Elect, neither were they ever regenerate, neither had they ever a truely Goſpel-Converſation in the World.

By theſe three things then, out of this Book, thou, who art not ſaved, muſt at laſt be judged, and overcome.

77. Firſt, Here will be tried, whether thou art within that part of this Book, wherein all the Elect are Recorded; for all the Elect are written here, as Chriſt

Luk 10. 20 ſaith, Rejoyce that your Names are written in Heaven, Pſal. 139. 16. Heb 12 22, 23. And again, in thy Book, ſaith he to his Father, are all my Members written.

Now then if thy name be not found, either among the Prophets, Apoſtles, or the reſt of Saints, thou muſt be put by, as one that is caſt away, Iſa. 14. 18 19. as one polluted, and as an abominable branch. Thy name is wanting in the Genealogies and Rolls of Ezra 2. 62 Heaven. Thou art not prickt for everlaſting life, therefore thou muſt not be delivered from that Soul-amazing miſery; for there are no Souls can, though they would give a thouſand Worlds, be delivered at the day of God, but ſuch that are found written in this Book. Every one of thoſe that are written, though never a one of thoſe that are not written Dan. 12. 1. ſhall in that day be delivered from the wrath to come.

But, O methinks, with what careful hearts will the damned now begin to look for their names in this Book? Thoſe that when once the long ſuffering of God waited on them, made light of all admonition, and ſlighted the Counſel of making their Calling and Election ſure: Would now give thouſands of Treaſures, that they could but ſpy their names, though laſt and leaſt among the Sons of God: But I ſay, how will they fail? how will they faint? how will they dye and languiſh in their Souls? when they ſhall ſtill as they look, ſee their names wanting? What a pinch will it be to Cain, to ſee his Brother there Recorded, and he himſelf left out? Abſalom will now ſwoon, and be as one that giveth up the Ghoſt, when he ſhall ſee David his Father, and Solomon his Brother, written here, while he withal is written in the Earth, among the damned? Thus I ſay, will ſadneſs be added to ſadneſs, in the Soul of the periſhing World, when they fail of finding their Names in this part of Rev. 13. 8. the Book of the life of the Lamb, ſlain from the foundation of the World.

78. Secondly, The ſecond part of this Book, is that in which is Recorded, the Nature of Converſion, of Faith, Love, &c. And thoſe that have not had the effectual Word of God upon them, and the true and ſaving operation of Grace in their hearts, which is indeed the true life which is begun in every Chriſtian, they will be found ſtill not written in this Book; for the living, the holy living Souls, are they only that are written therein: As the Prophet ſaith, And Iſa. 4. 3. he that remaineth in Jeruſalem, ſhall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jeruſalem. Eternal life is already in this Life, begun in every Soul that ſhall be ſaved; as Chriſt ſaith, He that believeth in me, hath everlaſting life. And again, Whoſo eateth my fleſh, and drinketh my Blood, hath eternal life, Joh. 6, 54. and I will raiſe him up at the laſt day. And hence they are called the living, that are written in this Book. Here then the Lord will open before thee, what Converſion is, in the true and ſimple nature of it, which when thou beholdeſt, thou wilt then be convinced, that this thou haſt miſt of; for it muſt needs be, that when thou beholdeſt by the Records of Heaven, what a change, what a turn, what an alteration the work of Regeneration maketh on every Soul, and in every heart, where the effectual Call, or the Call according to his purpoſe, is, that thou who haſt lived a ſtranger to this, or that haſt contented thy ſelf with the Notion only, or a formal, and feigned profeſſion thereof: I ſay, it cannot be, but that thou muſt forthwith fall down, and with grief conclude, that thou haſt no ſhare in this part of the Book of Life neither, the living only are written herein. There is not one dead, carnal, wicked Man recorded here. No, but when the Lord ſhall at this day make mention of Rahab, of Babylon, of Philiſtia, and Ethiopia: that is, of all the curſed rabble and crue of the damned: then he will ſay, that this Man was born there, that is, amongſt them, and ſo hath his name where they have theirs; namely, under the black Rod, in the Kings black Book, where he hath recorded all his Pſal. 87. 4. Enemies, and Traytors. It ſhall be ſaid of this Man, of this ungodly Man, that he was born there. That he lived and dyed in the ſtate of nature, and ſo under the Curſe of God, even as others; for as he ſaid Jer. 22. 30. of wicked Coniah, Write this Man childleſs: So he ſaith of every ungodly Man that ſo departed out of this World, Write this Man Graceleſs. Wherefore I ſay, among the Babylonians, and Philiſtians; among the unbelieving Moors and Pagans, his name will be found in the day when it will be enquired where every Man was born; for God at this day, will divide the whole World into theſe two Ranks, the Children of the World, and the Children of Zion. Wherefore, here is the honour, the priviledge, and advantage that the Godly above the wicked, will have at the day of their counting, when the Lord maketh mention of Zion, it ſhall be then acknowledged, that this and that (good) Man was Pſal. 87. 5, 6. born in her, the Lord ſhall count, ſaith the Prophet, when he writeth up the People, that this Man was born there.

This Man had the work of Converſion, of Faith, and Grace in his Soul. This man is a Child of Zion, of the Heavenly Jeruſalem, which is alſo written in Hea- Gal. 4. 26. ven. Bleſſed is the People that are in ſuch a Caſe, Heb. 12. 22 23.

But poor Soul, Counters will not go for Gold now; Pſal. 144. for though ſo long as thou didſt judge thy ſelf by 15. the crooked rule of thy own reaſon, fancy, and affection, thou waſt pure in thy own eyes: yet now thou muſt be judged alone, by the words and Rule of the Lord Jeſus. Which words ſhall not now, as in times paſt, be wreſted and wrung, both this way and that, to ſmooth thee up in thy Hypocrites hope, and carnal confidence; but be thou King, or Keſer, be thou who thou wilt, the Word of Chriſt, and that with this interpretation only, It ſhall judge thee Joh. 12. 44 in the laſt day.

Now will ſinners begin to cry with loud and bitter 79. cryes, Oh! ten thouſand Worlds for a ſaving work of Grace, Crowns and Kingdoms for the leaſt meaſure of ſaving Faith, and for the love, that Chriſt will ſay is the love of his own Spirit.

Now they will begin alſo to ſee the work of a broken and a contrite ſpirit, and of walking with God, as living ſtones, in this World. But alas, theſe things appear in their hearts, to the damned too late; as alſo do all things elſe. This will be but like the repentance of the Thief, about whoſe neck is the halter, and he turning off the ladder; for the unfortunate hap of the damned will be, that the glory of heavenly things will not appear to them, till out of ſeaſon. Chriſt muſt now indeed be ſhewed to them; as alſo the true nature of Faith, and all Grace; but it will be, when the door is ſhut, and mercy gone: they will pray, and repent moſt earneſtly; but it will 1 Tim. 6. be in the time of great Waters of the floods of 15. eternal Wrath, when they cannot come nigh Mat. 25. 10 him. 11.

Pſal. 32. 6.

Well then, tell me ſinner, if Chriſt ſhould now come to judge the World, canſt thou abide the tryal of the Book of Life? Art thou confident that thy Profeſſion, that thy Converſion, thy Faith and all other Graces thou thinkeſt thou haſt, will prove Gold, Silver, and precious Stones in this day? behold, he comes as a Refiners fire, and as Fullers Soap, ſhalt thou indeed abide the melting and waſhing of this day? Examine I ſay before hand, and try thy ſelf unfeignedly; for every one that doth truth, cometh to Joh. 3. 21. the light, that their deeds may be made manifeſt, that they are wrought in God.

Thou ſayeſt thou art a Chriſtian, that alſo thou haſt repented, doſt believe, and love the Lord Jeſus; but the queſtion is, whether theſe things will be found of equal length, heighth, and breadth with the Book of Life. Or whether, when thou art weighed in the balance, thou wilt yet be found wanting. Dan. 5. 27. How if when thou comeſt to ſpeak for thy ſelf before God, thou ſhouldeſt ſay Siboleth, inſtead of Shiboleth: that is, though almoſt, yet not rightly, and naturally the language of the Chriſtians. Judg. 12. 4 5, 6.

If thou miſs but one Letter in thy Evidence, thou art gone, for though thou mayſt deceive thy own heart with Braſs, inſtead of Gold, and with Tin inſtead of Silver. Yet God will not be ſo put off. You Gal. 6. 7. know how confident the fooliſh Virgins were, and yet how they were deceived. They herded with the Saints, they went forth from the groſs pollutions of the World, they every one had ſhining Lamps, and all all went forth to meet the Bridegroom. and yet they miſt the kingdom, They were not written among the living in Jeruſalem; they had not the true, powerful ſaving Work of Converſion, of Faith, and grace in their Souls; they that are fooliſh, take their Lamps, but take no Oyl, no ſaving Grace with them. Thus you ſee how ſinners will be put to it before the Judgment Seat, from theſe two parts of this Book of Life. But

Mat. 25 1, 2, 3, 4.

80. Thirdly, There is yet another part of this Book to be opened, and that is, that part of it in which is Recorded thoſe Noble and Chriſtian Acts, that they have done ſince the time of their Converſion and turning to Chriſt. Here I ſay, is Recorded the Teſtimony of the Saints againſt ſin and Antichriſt; their ſuffering for the ſake of God, their love to the Members of Chriſt, their patience under the Croſs, and their faithful frequenting the Aſſemblies of the Saints, and their incouraging one another to bear up in his ways in the worſt of times; even when the proud was called happy, and when they that wrought wickedneſs were even ſet up. As he there ſaith; Then they that feared the Lord, ſpake often one to another, and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a Book of Remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his Name.

Mal. 3. 14, 15, 16.

For indeed, as truly as any perſon hath his name found in the firſt part of this Book of Life, and his Converſion in the ſecond: So there is a third part in which there is his noble, ſpiritual and holy actions Recorded, and ſet down. As it is ſaid by the Spirit, to John, concerning thoſe that ſuffered Martyrdom for the truth of Jeſus, Write, Bleſſed are the Dead that dye in the Lord, yea, ſaith the Spirit, that they may reſt from their labours, and their works follow them.

Rev. 14. 13

And hence it is, that the labours of the Saints, and the Book of Life, are mentioned together, ſignifying, that the travels and labours, and acts of the Godly, are recorded therein.

Phil. 4. 3.

And hence it is again, that the Lord doth tell Sardis, that thoſe among them that ſtood it out to the laſt gaſp, in the Faith and love of the Goſpel, ſhould not be blotted out of the Book of Life; but they, with the work of God on their Soul, and their labour for God in this World: ſhould be confeſſed before his Father, and before his Angels.

Rev. 3. 5.

This part of this Book, is in another place, called, The Book of the Word of the Lord, becauſe in it, I ſay is Recorded theſe famous acts of the Saints, againſt the World, Fleſh, and the Devil.

Numb. 21 14.

You find alſo, how exact the Holy Ghoſt is, in Recording the travels, pains, labour, and goodneſs of any of the Children of Iſrael, in their Journey from Egypt to Canaan, which was a Repreſentation of the Travels of the Saints, from nature to Grace, and from Grace to Glory. King Ahaſuerus kept in his Library a Book of Records, wherein was writ the good Service that his Subjects did for him at any time, which was a Type alſo of the manner and order of Heaven. And as ſure as ever Mordecai, when ſearch was made in the Rolls, was found there to have done ſuch and ſuch ſervice for the King and his Kingdom: So ſurely will it be found what every Saint hath done for God, at the day of inquiry. You find in the Old Teſtament alſo, ſtill as any of the Kings of Judah dyed, there was ſurely a Record in the Book of Chronicles, of their memorable acts and doings for their God, the Church, and the Common-Wealth of Iſrael, which ſtill doth further hold forth unto the Children of Men, this very thing, That all the Kings of the New Teſtament, which are the Saints of God, have all their acts, and what they have done for their God, &c. Recorded in the Book of Chronicles, in the Heavenly Jeruſalem.

Eſt. 6. 1. 2.

81. Now I ſay, when this part of the Book of Life ſhall be opened, what can be found in it, of the good deeds, and Heaven-born actions of wicked men? Juſt nothing; for as it is not to be expected, That Thorns ſhould bring forth Grapes, or that Thiſtles ſhould bear Figs: So it cannot be imagined, that ungodly Men ſhould have any thing to their Commendation, Recorded in this part of the Book of Life. What haſt thou done Man, for God in this World? Art thou one of them that haſt ſet thy ſelf againſt thoſe ſtrong ſtruglings of Pride, luſt, covetouſneſs, and ſecret wickedneſs, that remain in thy heart, like Job and Paul.

Job. 1. 8. 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5.

2. And do theſe ſtruglings against theſe things, ariſe from pure love to the Lord Jeſus, or from ſome legal terrours and conviction for ſin?

Gal. 5. 6.

3. Doeſt thou, I ſay, ſtruggle againſt thy Luſts, becauſe thou doeſt in truth love the ſweet, holy, and bleſſed leadings of the Spirit of the Lord Jeſus; its leadings of thee I ſay, into his blood and death, for thy juſtification, and deliverance from Wrath to come?

Phil. 3. 6, 7, 8.

4. What acts of ſelf-denyal haſt thou done for the name of the Lord Jeſus, among the Sons of Men? I ſay, what houſe, what friend, what Wife, what Children and the like, haſt thou loſt or left, for the Word of God, and the Teſtimony of his truth in the World?

2 Cor. 5. 14. Mat. 19. 27, 28. Revel. 12. 10, 11.

5. Waſt thou one of them that didſt ſigh and afflict thy ſelf for the Abominations of the times? and that Chriſt hath marked, and Recorded for ſuch a one?

Ezek. 9. 3, 4. Zeph. 3. 18.

6. In a word, Art thou one of them that wouldeſt not be won, neither by fear, frowns, nor flatteries, to forſake the ways of God, or wrong thy Conſcience? or art thou one of them that ſlighteſt thoſe opportunities, that Satan and this World did often give thee to return to ſin in ſecret. Theſe be the Men whoſe praiſe is in the Goſpel; and whoſe commendable and worthy acts are recorded before the Judge of all the World. Alas, alas, theſe things are ſtrange things to a carnal and wicked Man. Nothing of this hath been done by him in this Life, and therefore how can any ſuch be Recorded for him in the Book of Life; wherefore he muſt needs be ſhut out of this part alſo. As David ſaith, Let them be blotted out of the Book of the Living, and not be written with the Righteous.

Heb. 11. 14, 15. Pſal. 69. 28

82. Thus I ſay, the wicked will find nothing for their comfort, either in the firſt part of this book, where all the names of the Elect are, neither will they find any thing in the ſecond part thereof, where is recorded the true nature and operation of effectual Converſion, of Faith, or love, or the like; and I ſay, neither can any thing be found in this third part, wherein is recorded the worthy acts, and memorable deeds of the Saints of the Lord Jeſus. Thus when Chriſt therefore hath opened before them this book of Life, and convinced the ungodly at this day out of it; he will then ſhut it up again, ſaying, I find nothing herein that will do you good, you are none of my Elect, you are the Sons of perdition: For as theſe things will be found clear and full in the book of Life, ſo they will be found effectually wrought in the hearts of the Elect, all whoſe converſion and perſeverance ſhall now be opened before thy Eyes, as a witneſs, I ſay, of the truth of what thou here ſeeſt opened before thee, and alſo of thy unregenerate Eſtate? Now thou wilt ſee what a turn, what a change and what a clinging to God, to Chriſt, and his word, and ways, there was found in the Souls of the ſaved ones; here ſhall be ſeen alſo how reſolvedly, unfeignedly, and heartily the true Child of God did oppoſe, reſiſt, and war againſt his moſt dearеſt and darling luſts and Corruptions: Now the Saints are hidden ones, but then they ſhall be manifeſt, this is the marrow in which the Lord will ſhew who are his, and who they are that fear the Lord, and who that fear him not. Now you ſhall ſee how Abraham left his Country, how cloſe good Lot did ſtick to God in prophane and wicked Sodom; How the Apoſtles left all to follow Jeſus Chriſt, and how patiently they took all Croſſes, afflictions, perſecutions, and neceſſities for the Kingdom of Heavens ſake; how they indured burning, ſtarving, ſtoning, hanging, Hanging, and a thouſand Calamities; how they manifeſted their love to their Lord, his Cauſe and People in the worſt of Times, and in the days when they were moſt rejected, ſlighted, abuſed, and abaſed, then ſhall the King ſay to them on his Right Hand (and that when all the Devils and Damned Sinners ſtand by) Come ye Bleſſed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the Foundation of the World, (you are indeed the truely Converted Souls, as appears by the Grace that was in your Hearts.) For I was an hungred, and you gave me Meat: I was thirſty, and you gave me Drink: I was a ſtranger, and ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me; I was ſick, and you viſited me; and in Priſon, and you came unto me. You owned me, ſtood by me, and denied your ſelves to nouriſh me and my poor Members, in our low, and weak, and moſt deſpiſed condition. This, I ſay, the World ſhall ſee, hear, and be Witneſſes of, againſt themſelves and their Souls for ever; for how can it be, but theſe poor Damned Sinners ſhould be forced to confeſs, that they were both Chriſtleſs and Graceleſs, when they ſhall find, both in the Book of Life, and in the Hearts of the Holy and Beloved Souls, that which themſelves are quite barren of, and greateſt ſtrangers to. The Saints, by the Fruits of Regeneration, even in this World, do teſtifie to the World, not only the Truth of Converſion in themſelves, but alſo that they are yet Chriſtleſs, and ſo Heavenleſs, and Salvationleſs, that are not Converted. But alas, while we are here, they will evade this Teſtimony, both of our Happineſs, by calling our Faith, phantaſie; our Communion with God, deluſion; and the ſincere profeſſion of his Word before the World, Hypocriſie, Pride, and Arrogancy: Yet, I ſay, when they ſee us on the Right Hand of Chriſt, commingled among the Angels of Light, and themſelves on his Left Hand, and commingled with the Angels of Darkneſs; and, I ſay, when they ſhall ſee our Hearts and Ways opened before their Eyes, and owned by the Judge for honeſt Hearts and good Ways, and yet the ſame Ways that they hated, ſlighted, diſowned and contemned; what will they, or what can they ſay, but thus, We Fools counted their Lives Madneſs, and their End to be without Honour; but how are they numbred with the Saints, and owned by God and Chriſt?

Mat. 25. 34,35,36.

1 Tim. 6. 12.
1 Theſ. 2. 10.
2 Tim. 2. 2.

And truely, was it not that the World might, by ſeeing the turn that is wrought on the godly at their Converſion, be convinced of the evil of their ways, or be left without excuſe the more in the day of God (with ſome other Reaſons) they ſhould not, I am perſwaded, ſtay ſo long from Heaven as they do, nor undergo ſo much abuſe and hardſhip as frequently befalls them. God, by the lengthening out the Life of his people that are ſcattered here and there among Men in this World, is making work for the day of Judgment, and the overthrow of the implacable, for ever and ever, and, as I have ſaid, will by the Converſion, Life, Patience, Self-denial, and Heavenly-mindedneſs of his dear Children, give them a heavy and moſt dreadful blow. Now when God hath thus laid open the work of Grace, both by the Book of Life, and the Chriſtians Heart; then, of it ſelf, will fall to the ground, their pleading what Gifts and Abilities they had in this World, they will now ſee that Gifts and Grace, are two things; and alſo, that whoſoever is graceleſs, let their Gifts be never ſo excellent, they muſt periſh and be loſt for ever: Wherefore for all their Gifts, they ſhall be found the workers of iniquity, and ſhall ſo be judged and condemned. That is a notable place in the Prophecy of Ezekiel, Thus ſaith the Lord, ſaith he, If the Prince (the Prince of Life) give a gift to any of his Sons, that is, to any that are truely gracious, the Inheritance, or the profit that he gets thereby, ſhall be his Sons; that is, for the exerciſe of his gift, he ſhall receive a reward; but if he give a Gift of his Inheritance to one of his Servants, (that is not a Son) then it ſhall be his (but) to the year of Liberty, after it ſhall return to the Prince, &c. This day of liberty, it is now, when the Judge is ſet upon the Throne to Judgment, even the glorious liberty of the Children of God; wherefore then will Chriſt ſay to them that ſtand by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds, this Servant muſt not abide in the houſe forever, though with the Son it ſhall be ſo. A Man may be uſed as a Servant in the Church of God, and may receive many gifts, and much knowledge of the things of Heaven, and yet at laſt, himſelf be no more than a very bubble and nothing.

1 Cor. 13. 1, 2, 3.

But now I ſay, at this day, they ſhall clearly ſee the difference between gifts and grace, even as clearly, as now they that have Eyes can ſee the difference between gifts and ignorance, and very fooliſhneſs: This our day doth indeed abound with gifts; many ſparkling Wits are ſeen in every corner, Men have the Word and Truths of Chriſt at their Fingers ends; but alas, with many, yea, a great many, there is nought but wits and gifts, they are but words, all their Religion lyeth in their Tongues and Heads, the power of what they ſay and know, it is ſeen in others, not in themſelves: Theſe are like the Lord on whom the King of Iſrael leaned, they ſhall ſee the plenty, the bleſſed plenty that God doth provide, and will beſtow upon his Church, but they ſhall not taſte thereof.

2 Kings 7. 17, 18, 19, 20.

84. Before I conclude this matter, obſerve, that among all the Objections and Cavils that are made, and will be made, by the ungodly, in the day of the Lord Jeſus, they have not one hump about Election and Reprobation: they murmur not at all that they were not predeſtinated to Eternal Life; and the reaſon is, becauſe then they ſhall ſee, though now they are blind, that God could in his Prerogative Royal, without prejudice to them that are Damned, chuſe and refuſe at pleaſure; and beſides, they at that day ſhall be convinced, that there was ſo much reality, and downright willingneſs in God, in every tender of Grace and Mercy, to the worſt of Men; and alſo ſo much goodneſs, juſtneſs, and reaſonableneſs in every command of the Goſpel of Grace, which they were ſo often intreated and beſeeched to imbrace, that they will be drowned in the conviction of this, that did refuſe Love, Grace, Reaſon, &c. Love, I ſay, for Hatred, Grace for Sin, and things Reaſonable, for things Unreaſonable and Vain. Now they ſhall ſee they left glory for ſhame, God for the Devil, Heaven for Hell, Light for Darkneſs. Now they ſhall ſee, that though they made themſelves Beaſts, yet God made them reaſonable Creatures, and that he did with reaſon expect that they ſhould have adhered to, and have delighted in, things that are good, and according to God: Yea, now they ſhall ſee, that though God did not determine to bring them to Heaven againſt their Hearts and Wills, and the love that they had to their Sins: Yet then they ſhall be convinced, that God was far from infuſing any thing into their Souls, that ſhould in the leaſt hinder, weaken, obſtruct, or lett them in ſeeking the welfare of their Souls. Now Men will tattle and prattle at a mad rate, about Election and Reprobation, and conclude, that becauſe all are not Elected, therefore God is to blame that any are Damned: But then they will ſee, that they are not Damned becauſe they were not Elected, but becauſe they ſinned, and alſo that they ſinned, not becauſe God put any weakneſs into their Souls, but becauſe they gave way, and that wilfully, knowingly, and deſperately, to Satan and his ſuggeſtions; and ſo turned away from the holy Commandment delivered unto them; yea, then they will ſee, that though God at ſome times did faſten his Cords about your Heads, and Heels, and Hands, both by godly Education, and ſmarting Convictions: Yet you ruſht away with violence from all, ſaying, Let us break theſe Bonds aſunder, and caſt their Cords from us. God will be juſtified in his ſayings, and clear when he judgeth; though thy proud ignorance thinks to have, and to multiply Cavils againſt him.

Pſal. 2. 1, 2, 3.

85. But ſecondly, as the whole Body of the Elect, by the Nature of Converſion in their Hearts, ſhall witneſs a non-converſion in the Hearts of the Wicked; and as the ungodly ſhall fall under the Conviction of this Cloud of Witneſſes: So to increaſe their Conviction, there will alſo be opened before them all the labours of the godly, both Miniſters and others, and the pains that they have taken, to ſave, if it had been poſſible, theſe Damned Wretches; and now will it come burning hot upon their Souls, how often they were fore-warned of this day; now they ſhall ſee, that there was never any Quarter-Seſſions, nor general Goal-delivery more publickly foretold of, than this day. You know that the Judges, before they begin their Aſſizes, do give to the the Countrey in Charge, that they take heed to the Laws and Statutes of the King: Why Rebel, thou shalt be at this day convicted, that every Sermon thou hast heard, and that every serious debate thou hast been at about the things of God, and Laws of Eternity, they were to thee as the Judges Charge before the Assizes and Judgment began. Every Exhortation of every Minister of God, it is as that which Paul gave to Timothy, and commanded him to give in Charge to others. I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the Elect Angels, saith he, that thou observe these things; and again, I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickneth all things, and before Jesus Christ, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good Confession, that thou keep this Commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until the 1 Tim. 3. 21. and c. 6. v. 13. appearing of Jesus Christ; these things give in charge, saith he, that they may be blameless. This, I say, hast thou heard and seen, and yet thou hast not held fast, but hast cast away the things that thou hast heard, and hast been warned of; alas, God will multiply his Witnesses against thee.

85. 1. Thy own Vows and Promises shall be a Witness against thee, that thou hast, contrary to thy Light and Knowledge, destroyed thy Soul, as Joshuah said to the Children of Israel, when they said the Lord should be their God. Well, saith he, Ye are Witnesses against your selves, that ye have chosen the Lord to serve him; that is, if now you turn back again, even this Covenant and Resolution of yours will in the great day be a Witness against you, and they said, We are Josh. 24. 20, 21, 22. Witnesses.

2. Every time you have with your Mouth said well of godliness, and yet gone on in wickedness; or every time you have condemned sin in others, and yet have not refrained it your selves; I say, every such word and conclusion that hath passed out of thy Mouth, sinner, it shall be as a Witness against thee in the day of God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, as Christ saith, By Matth. 12. 36, 37. thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. I observe, that talk with who you will, they will with their Mouth, say, serving of God, and loving of Christ, and walking in ways of Holiness is best, and best will come of it. I observe again, that Men that are grosly wicked themselves, will yet, with heavy Censures and Judgments, condemn Drunkenness, Lying, Covetousness, Pride, and Whoring, with all manner of abominations in others; and yet in the mean time, continue to be Neglecters of God, and Imbracers of Sin and the Allurements of the Flesh themselves. Why such Souls, every time they speak well of godliness, and continue in their Sins, they do pass Judgment upon themselves, and provide a Witness, even their own Mouth, against their own Soul, at the Judgment-Seat: Out of thy own Mouth, saith Christ, will I judge thee, thou wicked Servant; thou knowest what I was, and that I loved to see all my Servants zealous and active for me, that at my coming, I might have received again what I gave thee with increase: Thou oughtest therefore to have been busying thy self in my work, for my glory, and thy own good, but seeing thou hast against thy own Light, and Mouth, gone contrary; Angels, take this unprofitable Servant, and cast ye him into utter darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of Teeth; he sinned Matth. 25. 26, 27, 28, 29, 30. against his Light, he shall go to Hell against his Will.

The very same, I say, will befall all those that have used their Mouth to condemn the sins of others, while they themselves live in their sins. Saith God, O thou wicked Wretch, thou didst know that sin was bad, thou didst condemn it in others; thou didst also condemn, and pass Judgment upon them for their sin, Thou art therefore inexcusable, O Man, whosoever thou art, that hast thus Judged; for thou that judgest, dost the same thing: Wherefore, wherein thou hast judged another, thou hast condemned thy self. I must therefore, saith Christ, look upon thee to be no other but a sinner against thy own Mouth, and cannot but judge thee as a despiser of my goodness, and the riches of my forbearance; by which means, thou hast treasured up wrath against this day of wrath, and Revelation of the Righteous Judgment of God, He that knoweth to do good, and doth it not, to him it is sin. Thus will God, I say, judge and condemn poor Sinners, even from and by themselves, to the Fire, that Lake of Brimstone and Fire. Rom. 2. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

86. Thirdly, God hath said in his Word, that rather than there shall want Witness at the Day of Judgment, against the workers of Iniquity; the very dust of their City, that shall cleave to his Messengers that publish the Gospel, shall it self be a Witness against them; and so Christ bid his Servants say; into whatsoever City, ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say, Even the very dust of your City which cleaveth to us, we do wipe off against you, &c. But I say unto you, saith he to his Ministers, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom at the Judgment, than for that City. Luke 10. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14.

It may be, that when thou hearest that the dust of the Street, (that cleaveth to a Minister of the Gospel, while thou rejectest his Word of Salvation) shall be a Witness against thee at the day of Judgment: Thou wilt be apt to laugh, and say, the dust a Witness! Witnesses will be scarce where dust is forced to come in to plead against a Man. Well sinner, mock not, God doth use to confound the great and mighty, by things that are not, and that are despised. And how saist thou? If God had said by a Prophet to Pharaoh, but two years before the Plague, that he would shortly come against him with one Army of Lice, and a second Army of Frogs, and with a third Army of Locusts, &c. and would destroy his Land; dost thou think it had been Wisdom in Pharaoh, now to have laughed such Tidings to scorn? Is any thing too hard for the Lord? Hath he said it, and shall he not bring it to pass? You shall see, in the Day of Judgment, of what force all these things will be, as Witnesses against the ungodly.

Many more Witnesses might I here reckon up, but these at this time shall suffice to be nominated; for out of the Mouth of two or three Witnesses, every word shall be established. And at the Mouth of two or three Witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death, be put to death. 2 Cor. 13. 1. Deut. 17. 6 Joh. 8. 17.

87. Thus then the Books being opened, the Laws read, the Witnesses heard, and the Ungodly Convicted, forthwith the Lord and Judge proceeds to Execution. And to that end doth pass the Sentence of Eternal Death upon them, saying, Depart from me, ye cursed, into Everlasting Fire, prepared for the Devil and his Angels. You are now by the Book of the Creatures, by the Book of Gods Remembrance, by the Book of the Law, and by the Book of Life, adjudged guilty of High Treason against God, and me; and as Murderers of your own Souls. As these faithful and true Witnesses here have testified, every one of them appearing in their most upright Testimony against you. Also you never had a saving work of Conversion and Faith past upon you, you died in your Sins; neither can I find any thing in the last part of this Book that will serve your turn, no worthy act is here Recorded of you. When I was an hungred, you gave me no Meat; when I was athirst, you gave me no Drink; when I was a stranger, you took me not in; I was naked, but ye clothed me not; I was sick and in prison, but ye visited me not.

I have made a thorough search among the Records of the Living, and find nothing of you, or of your Deeds therein: Depart from me, ye cursed, &c. Matth. 25. 41, 42, 43.

Thus will these poor ungodly Creatures be stript of all hope and comfort, and therefore must needs fall into great sadness and wailing, before the Judge; yea, crying out, as being loth to let go all for lost; and even as the Man that is fallen into the River, will catch hold of any thing, when he is strugling for Life, though it tend to hold him faster under the Water, to drown him. So, I say, while these poor Creatures, as they lye strugling and twining under the ireful countenance of the Judge; they will bring out yet one more faint and weak groan, and there goes Life and all; their laſt ſigh is this, Lord, when ſaw we thee an hungred, and gave thee no Meat? Or when ſaw we thee thirſty, and gave thee no drink? When ſaw we thee a ſtranger, and took thee not in? Or naked, and clothed thee not? Or when waſt thou ſick, or in priſon, and we did not miniſter unto thee?

Matth. 25. 44.

Thus you ſee, how loth the Sinner is now to take a Nay of Life Everlaſting. He that once would not be perſwaded to cloſe with the Lord Jeſus, though one ſhould have perſwaded him with Tears of Blood: Behold how faſt he now hangs about the Lord; what Arguments he frames with mournful groans; how with ſhifts and words, he ſeeks to gain the time, and to defer the Execution. Lord open unto us! Lord, Lord, open unto us! Lord, thou haſt taught in our ſtreets, and we have both taught in thy Name, and in thy Name have we caſt out Devils. We have eat and drank in thy preſence. And when did we ſee thee an hungry, or thirſty, or a ſtranger, or naked, or ſick, or in priſon, and did not miniſter to thee? O poor Hearts, how loth, how unwillingly do they turn away from Chriſt? how loth are they to partake of the fruit of their ungodly doings? Chriſt muſt ſay, depart once, and depart twice, before they will depart. When he hath ſhut the door upon them, yet they knock, and cry, Lord open unto us; when he hath given them their anſwer, that he knows them not, yet they plead and mourn. Wherefore, he is fain to anſwer again, I tell you, I know you not whence you are, depart.

Matth. 25. 10, 11.
Mat. 7. 21, 22, 23.
Luke 13. 25, 26, 27, 28.
Luke 13. 25, 26, 27.

88. Depart] O this word, depart! How dreadful is it? with what weight will it fall on the Head of every condemned Sinner! For you muſt note, that while the ungodly ſtand thus before the Judge: They cannot chuſe but have a moſt famous view, both of the Kingdom of Heaven, and of the Damned Wights in Hell. Now they ſee the God of Glory, the King of Glory, the Saints of Glory, and the Angels of Glory; and the Kingdom in which they have their Eternal abode. Now, they alſo begin to ſee the worth of Chriſt, and what it is to be ſmiled upon by him; from all which they muſt depart, and as I ſay, they ſhall have the view of this, ſo they will moſt famouſly behold the Pit, the bottomleſs Pit, the Fire, the Brimſtone, and the flaming Beds that Juſtice hath prepared for them of old. Their Aſſociates alſo, will be very conſpicuous and clear before their watery Eyes. They will ſee now, what and which are Devils, and who are Damned Souls; now their great Grandfather Cain, and all his brood, with Judas and his Companions, muſt be their Fellow-ſighers in the Flames and Pangs for ever. O heavy day! O heavy Word!

Jude 4.

This word [depart] therefore, it looketh two ways, and commands the Damned to do ſo too. Depart from Heaven, depart to Hell: Depart from Life, depart to Death: Depart from me] now the Ladder doth turn from under them in deed. The Saviour turns them off, the Saviour throws them down, He hath given him authority to execute Judgment alſo, becauſe he is the Son of Man. Depart from me. I would come to have done you good; but then you would not: Now then, though you would have it never ſo willingly, yet you ſhall not.

Joh. 5. 27.

Depart from me, ye Curſed] You lye open to the ſtroke of Juſtice for your ſins; ye forſaken, and left of God, ye Veſſels of wrath, ye Deſpiſers of God and Goodneſs. You muſt now have vengeance feed on you; for you did, when you were in the World, feed on Sin, and treaſure up wrath againſt this day of wrath, and Revelation of the Righteous Judgment of God.

Rom. 2. 3, 4, 5, 6.

89. Depart ye Curſed, into Everlaſting Fire.] Fire is that which of all things is the moſt inſufferable, and inſupportable. Wherefore, by Fire, is ſhewed the grievous State of the ungodly, after Judgment. Who can eat Fire, drink Fire, and lye down in the midſt of flames of Fire? Yet this muſt the wicked do. Again, not only Fire, but Everlaſting Fire. Behold how great a Fire a little matter kindleth. A little Sin, a little Pleaſure, a little unjuſt dealing and doing: What preparation is made for the puniſhment thereof? And hence it is, that the Fire into which the Damned fall, is called the Lake, or Sea of Fire. And whoſoever, ſaith John, was not found written in the Book of Life, was caſt into the Lake of Fire and Brimſtone. Little did the Sinner ſeriouſly think, that when he was ſinning againſt God, he was making ſuch proviſion for his poor Soul; but now 'tis too late to repent, his worm muſt never die, and his Fire never ſhall be quenched. Though the time in which Men commit Sin, is ſhort, yet the time of Gods puniſhing of them for their Sin, is long.

Revel. 20. 15.
Mar. 9. 49.

Depart from me ye Curſed into Everlaſting Fire, prepared for the Devil and his Angels.] In that he ſaith, prepared for the Devil and his Angels, he inſinuates a further Conviction upon the Conſciences of the Damned. As if he had ſaid, as for this Fire and Lake that you muſt go to, though you thought but little of it, becauſe you were careleſs, yet I did betimes put you in mind of what would be the Fruits of Sin, even by preparing of this Judgment for the Devil and his Angels. The Devil in his Creation, is far more noble than you, yet when he ſinned, I ſpared him not. He ſinned alſo before Man, and I, upon his ſinning, did caſt him down from Heaven to Hell, and did hang the Chains of Everlaſting Darkneſs upon him, which might, yea, ought to have been a fair item to you to take heed; but you would not, Wherefore, ſeeing you have ſinned as he hath done and that too, after he had both ſinned, and was bound over to Eternal Puniſhment: The ſame Juſtice that layeth hold on theſe more noble Creatures, muſt ſurely ſeize on you. The World ſhould be convinced of Judgment then, becauſe the Prince of the World is judged. And that before they came to this condition of hearing the Eternal Sentence rattle in their Ears; but ſeeing they did not regard it then, they muſt and ſhall feel the ſmart of it now. Depart from me, ye Curſed, into Everlaſting Fire, prepared for the Devil and his Angels.

Jude 6.
Gen. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.
Rev. 20. 1.
Joh. 6. 8, 9, 10.

God would have Men learn both what Mercy and Juſtice is to them, by his ſhewing it to others; but if they be ſottiſh and careleſs in the day of forbearance, they muſt learn by ſmarting in the day of rebukes and vengeance. Thus it was with the old World, God gave them one hundred and twenty years warning, by the preparation of Noah for the Floud that ſhould come; but for as much as they then were careleſs, and would not conſider the works of the Lord, nor his threatning them by this preparation: Therefore he brought in the Floud upon the World of the ungodly. As he doth hear the laſt Judgment upon the workers of iniquity, and ſweep them all away in their wilful ignorance.

Matth. 24. 37, 38, 39.

Wherefore I ſay, the Lord Chief Judge, by theſe words [prepared for the Devil and his Angels] doth as good as ſay, this Fire into which now I ſend you, it did of it ſelf, even in the preparation of it, (had you conſidered it) forewarn you of this that now is come upon you. Hell Fire is no new, or unheard of thing, you cannot now plead, that you heard not of it in the World, neither could you with any reaſon judge, that ſeeing I prepared it for Angels, for noble, powerful, and mighty Angels; that you poor Duſt and Aſhes ſhould eſcape the Vengeance.

Depart from me ye Curſed into Everlaſting Fire, prepared for the Devil and his Angels. The Sentence being thus paſſed, it remains now, the work being done, that every one goeth to his Eternal Station. Wherefore, forthwith this mighty Company, do now with heavy Heart, return again from before the Judgment-Seat: And that full haſtily, God knoweth, for their proper Center, is the Hell of Hell; into which they deſcend like a Stone into a Well, or like Pharaoh into the bottom of the Red Sea. For all hope being now taken from them, they muſt needs fall with violence, into the Jaws of Eternal Deſperation, whiwhich will deal far worse with the Souls of Men, and make a greater slaughter in their tortured Consciences, than the Lions in the Den with Daniel, could possibly do with the Men that were cast in among

Dan. 6. 24. them.

Heb. 6. 2. This is that which Paul calleth Eternal Judgment, because it is that which is last and finall. Many are the Judgments that God doth execute among the Sons of Men, some after this manner, and some after that, divers of which continue but for a while, and none of them are Eternal, no, the very Devils and Damned Spirits in Hell, though there is the longest and most terrible of all the Judgments of God yet on foot: Yet I say, they must pass under another Judgment, even this last, great and final Judgment. The Angels that kept not their first State, but left their own Habitation, he hath reserved in Everlast-
Jude 6. ing Chains under Darkness, unto the Judgment of the great day. And so also it is with Damned Souls; for both Sodom and Gomorrah, with all other, though already in Hell in their Souls: Yet they must (as I have before shewed) all arise to this Judgment, which will be their final judgment. Other of the judgments of God, as they have an end, so the end of many of them prove the profit of those on whom they are inflicted, being I say, Gods Instruments of Conversion to Sinners; and so may fitly be compared to those petty judgments among Men, as putting in the Stocks, Whipping, or Burning in the Hand: Which punishments and judgments, do often prove profitable to those that are punished with them; but Eternal judgment it is like those more severe judgments among Men, as Beheading, shooting to Death, Hanging, Drawing and Quartering, which soop all, even Health, Time, and the like, and cut off all opportunity of good, leaving no place for Mercy or amendment: These shall go away into everlast-
Matth. 25. 40. ing punishment, &c. This word, depart, &c. is the last word the Damned for ever are like to hear. I say, it is the last voice, and therefore will stick longest, and with most power on their slaughtered Souls: There is no calling of it back again, it is the very wind-up of Eternal Judgment.

92. Thus then, the judgment being over, the Kingdom ceaseth to be any longer in the hand of the Man Christ Jesus: For as the Judges here among men, when they have gone their Circuit, do deliver up their Commission to the King; So Christ the Judge, doth now deliver up his Kingdom to his Father. And now
Mat. 21. 8. all is swallowed up of Eternity. The Damned are swallowed up of Eternal Justice and Wrath; the Saved, of Eternal Life and Felicity; and the Son also delivereth up, I say, the Kingdom to the Father, and subjects himself under him that did put 1 Cor. 15. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28. all things under him, that God may be all in all.

For now is the end come, and not before, even the end of the Reign of Death it self; for Death and Hell, and Sinners, and Devils, must now together into the Revel. 20. 14, 15. Lake, that burns with Fire and Brimstone. And now is the end of Christs Reign, as the Son of Man, and the end of the Reign of the Saints, with him in this his Kingdom, which he hath received of his Father, for his work sake, which he did for him, and for his Elect. Then cometh the end, saith Paul, when he shall have delivered up the Kingdom to God the Father: But when shall that be? why, he answers saying, When he shall have put down all Rule, and all Authority and Power; for he must Reign, saith he, until he hath put all his Enemies under his feet, (which will not be, until the final Sentence and Judgment be over;) for the last Enemy that shall be destroyed, is Death. For God hath put all things under his Feets, but when he saith all things are put under him: It is manifested, he is accepted, that did put all things under him. And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject to him, that did put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

93. All things being now at this pass, to wit, every one being in its proper place, God in his, Christ in his, the Saint in his, and the Sinner in his; I shall conclude with this brief touch upon both the state of the Good and Bad after this Eternal Judgment.

1. The Righteous now shall never fear Death, the Devil, and Hell more: And the Wicked shall never hope of Life.

2. The Just shall ever have the Victory over these things: But the Wicked shall Everlastingly be swallowed up of them.

3. The Holy shall be in Everlasting Light: But the Sinner in Everlasting Darkness. Without Light, I say, yet in Fire ever Burning, yet not consumed, always afraid of Death and Hell, vehemently desiring to be annihilated to nothing. Continually fearing to stay long in Hell, and yet certainly sure they shall never come out of it. Ever desiring the Saints happiness, and yet always envying their Felicity. They would have it because it is easie and comfortable; yet cannot abide to think of it, because they have lost it for ever. Ever loaden with the delight of Sin: And yet that is the greatest torture, always desiring to put it out of their mind, and yet assuredly know they must for ever abide the guilt and torment thereof.

4. The Saints are always inflamed with the Consideration of the Grace that once they imbraced: But the Wicked most flamingly tormented with the Thoughts of rejecting and refusing it.

5. The Just, when they think of their Sins, they are comforted with the Thoughts of their being delivered from them; but the Ungodly, when they think of their Righteousness, will gnaw themselves, to think that this would not deliver them from Hell.

6. When the Godly think of Hell, it will increase their Comfort; but when the Wicked think of Heaven, it will twinge them like a Serpent. Oh this Eternal Judgment! What would a Damned Soul give, that there might be, though after Thousands and Hundreds of Thousands of Millions of Years, an end put to this Eternal Judgment. But their Misery is, they have sinned against a God that is Eternal; they have offended that Justice that will never be satisfied; and therefore they must abide the Fire that never shall be quenched. Here is Judgment, just, and sad.

94 Again, As it will be thus with Good and Bad in general, so again, more particularly, when the Wicked are thus Adjudged and Condemned, and also received of the Fiery Gulph; then they shall find, That as he that busieth himself to do good, shall have more glory than others; so they that have been more busie and active in Sin than others, they shall have more Wrath and Torment than others. For as doing good abundantly, doth inlarge the Heart to receive and hold more Glory; so doing evil abundantly, doth inlarge the Heart and Soul to receive Punishment so much the more. And hence it is that you have such sayings as these, It shall be more tolerable in the Judgment for Sodom, than for others; that is, than for those that had sinned against much greater Light and Mercy: For these, as he saith in another place, shall receive greater Damnation. Yea, it standeth to reason, that he who had most Light, most Conviction, most means of Conversion, and that was highest towards Heaven, he must needs have the greatest Fall, and so sink deepest into the Jaws of Eternal Misery. As one Star, that Luke 10. 12. is, as one Saint, differeth from another in Heaven; Luke 20. 47. so one Damned Soul shall differ from another in Hell. It is so among the Devils themselves, they are some worse than others: Beelzebub is the Prince,
Mat. 9. 34. Mar. 3. 22. or the Chief of the Devils; That is, one that was most glorious in Heaven; Chief among the Reprobate Angels before his Fall, and therefore sinned against the greater Light, Mercy, and Goodneſs: And ſo became the Chief for Wickedneſs, and will alſo have as the Wages thereof, the Chief of Torments. For that will be true of the Damned in Hell, which is

Rev. 18.7. prayed for againſt Babylon. How much ſhe hath glorified her ſelf, and lived deliciouſly; ſo much Torment and Sorrow give her. Can it be imagined, that Judas ſhould have no more Torment, who betrayed the Prince of Life and Saviour of the World, than others who never came near his Wickedneſs by ten Thouſand Degrees? He that knew his Maſters Will, and prepared not himſelf, neither did according to his will, ſhall be beaten with many ſtripes. With many more ſtripes, than others that through ignorance did commit Sin worthy of many ſtripes. But what ſhould I thus diſcourſe of the Degrees of the Torments of the Damned Souls in Hell? For he that ſuffers leaſt, will the Waters of a full Cup be wrung out to him. The leaſt meaſure of Wrath, it will be the Wrath of God, Eternal and Fiery Wrath, inſupportable Wrath; it will lay the Soul in the Gulph of that Second Death, which will for ever have the Maſtery over the poor Damned periſhing Sinner. And Death and Hell were caſt into the Lake of Fire; which is the Second Death. And whoſoever was not found in the Book of Life, was caſt into the Lake of Fire. Revel. 20. 14, 15.

Here's Sixty Pieces of his Labours, and he was Sixty Years of Age.

He was born at Elſto, nigh Bedford, about 1628. And about 1652. was, by Irreſiſtible Grace, Converted: And in 1660 he had Preached Five Years, and then for that, was thrown in Bedford-Goal; and in 1671. was called to the Paſtoral Office at Bedford, being the 11th. of his Twelve Years and an half's Impriſonment; and died at London, Aug. 31. 1688.

REASONS why Christian People should Promote by Subscriptions the Printing in Folio the Labours of Mr. John Bunyan, late Minister of the Gospel, and Pastor of the Congregation at Bedford.

I. HE was a very able and excellent Minister of the Gospel; viz. able to express himself, and had excellent Matter known to all Christians that have heard him preach.

II. He became thus able and excellent a Minister by a great degree of Gospel-Grace bestowed upon his own Soul, more than probable for that very end; for that God wrought him from a very great profane Sinner, and an illiterate poor Man, to this profound understanding the true or genuine Spiritual Meaning of the Scriptures, whereby he could experimentally preach to Souls with Power, and Affection, and Apostolical Learning, the true Nature of the Gospel.

III. God's bestowing such great Grace, to turn so great a Sinner, to make such a great Gospel-Labourer, and thrust him into his Harvest, argues there was great need, and therefore without Question his Labours ought to be preserved.

IV. Our Bunyan being so graciously (by the Lord of the Harvest) thrust into Labour, clearly shews to Us, (and may by this Preservation to future Ages) That God is not bound to Humane Means of Learned Education, (though Learning may be useful in its place) but can, when he will, make a Minister of the Gospel without man's forecast of Education, and in spite of all the men in the World that would oppose it, though it be above sixteen hundred years after the Apostles.

V. Many thousands had the Soul-benefit and Comfort of his Ministry to astonishment, as if an Angel or an Apostle had touch'd their Souls with a Coal of holy Fire from the Altar.

VI. This excellent Operarion of the special Grace of God in him, and the gift of Utterance when he preached, confounded the Wisdom of his Adversaries that heard him, or heard of him, he being (as it is commonly called) unlearned, or had not School-Education.

VII. For all these Reasons before-mentioned, of the Spirituality of his Preaching, his Labours in Writing deserve preservation by printing, as much as any other famous Man's that have writ since the Apostles time.

VIII. Moreover, he hath been a Christian Sufferer for above twelve years, by Imprisonment, whereby he sealed to the Truth he preached.

IX. Yet for all that Imprisonment, he preached then, and there, and afterwards abroad, as a faithful Labourer for the Salvation of Souls.

X. And he was not a Man that preached by way of bargain for Money, for he hath refused a more plentiful Income to keep his Station.

XI. And his Moderation (or desire of Money) was as the Apostle Paul's practice, below his Priviledge; so that he did not when he died leave much Wealth to his Family.

XII. And the Church that wants such a Pastor, may find it long before they get one, and therefore ought to respect our Bunyan's Labours.

XIII. If God had not put it into the Heart of some Christian, or Church, to preserve the Epistles of the Apostles to the Romans, Corinthians, Galatians, and others, we in this Age of the World should in all probability never have known that there ever were any such Christians and Doctrines; their Names and Doctrines might have been lost, and we might have perished, and that would have been dreadful; for God mostly works by second Causes.

XIV. And why should any Christian People, that have reason to reckon themselves obliged herein, set themselves aside from communicating to other Christians, and the Ages to come, the Gospel-Labours of so eminent a Minister as God so graciously honored and assisted them with?

XV. And if these Labours (of, as I may say, an Apostle of our Age, if we have any) are not preserved by printing thus in Folio, most of them in all probability will be lost, for there are many of them have been out of Print many years, and will never otherwise be printed again because of the Charge, &c.

XVI. By the late Act for Liberty of Conscience, it is lawful now to print the Works of Dissenters, though it was not so formerly; therefore much Danger cannot plead Excuse.

XVII. It is a good Work without Controversie, and therefore there can be no Scruple of Conscience about its pleasing God.

XVIII. There is also to the Subscribers a further Benefit in this Folio: For whereas these twenty Books would (if bought single) cost nigh twenty Shillings: now, as printed in Folio, they will have them for about twelve Shillings bound together in one Volume; which conveniency also prevents losing.

XIX. These ten Manuscripts, which were never before printed, would, if printed in small Books, and bought single, cost almost the Money that these twenty in Folio comes for, which is great odds.

XX. Not to preserve his Labours and Name, which are so great, is a disingenuous slighting or despising them, and serving them no better than a wicked man's, that rots: Bunyan hath preached, and freely bestowed many a good and Gospel-Truth, and Soul-reviving Expressions; for which of them doth any of his Friends slight him? Nay, do not they rather owe him something for his Labour he bestowed on them, as Philemon did to Paul?

XXI. The Price of the First Part will be an easier purchale than of the Whole; and all in one Volume would be somewhat too big in Bulk and Price.

XXII. There is need of printing these Books now, because Errours and Superstitions, like the smoak of the bottomless Pit, darken Protestants understanding the purer Truths of the Gospel.

XXIII. And when this First Part is sold off, we shall endeavour to publish a Second Part, whereby he that is willing may have the Whole in Folio.

XXIV. This preservation will preserve the Name of John Bunyan, a Champion of our Age, to future Ages; whereby it may be said in the Pulpit, The great Convert Bunyan said so and so.

XXV. If the Labours of so Eminent a Minister should not be preserved, I know not whose should.

XXVI. Antichristian People are diligent to preserve the Works of their Eminent Men; and therefore Christians should be diligent to preserve theirs.

XXVII. The chief Reasons we argue from, are not common Rules, that therefore every good Ministers Endeavours ought to be printed in Folio: But this case is extraordinary, as an Eminent Minister, made so by abundance of Gospel-Grace; who has also writ much, which hath gone off well. I say Eminent, though he was, when young, profane, and had not School-Education to enable him, as is apparent to all that knew him.

XXVIII. By this printing in Folio, a Man may have recourse for satisfaction in a Case of Conscience to any of these particular Books with the rest, which otherwise are not to be bought; and that I have proved by often trying most London-Booksellers; and before that, given them above twice the Price for a Book; and I know not how to get another of those sorts for any Price whatsoever.

XXIX. All these things, or half of them, (beside many others that might be given,) being considered, I cannot see but 'tis an absolute Duty.

XXX. And lastly, (Pardon me, if I speak too great a Word, as it may seem to some to be born,) All things considered, that is, his own former Profaneness, Poverty, Unlearnedness, together with his great Natural Parts, the great change made by Grace, and his long Imprisonment, and the great Maturity in Grace and Preaching he attained to; I say, our deceased Bunyan hath not left in England, or the World, his Equal behind him, as I know of. And this is the unfeigned belief of

Your Christian Brother,

Charles Doe.

The Struggler (for the preceding Preſervation of Mr. John Bunyans Labours in Folio) thinks it may anſwer the Deſires of many to give the following Relation.

Chriſtian Reader,

I Do here (as a further duty) preſume to give you, according to my underſtanding, a Relation in three Parts, concerning our eminent Author Mr. John Bunyan, and his Labours.

I. The Authors Parentage, Impriſonment, Times, and Manner of his Life and Death, &c.

II. Relations and Obſervations upon his Labours, &c.

III. Notes on printing this Folio and Index, &c.

Firſt, Our Excellent Author, by the abundant Grace of God Mr. John Bunyan, was born at Elſto, a mile ſide of Bedford, about the year 1628. (his Father was mean, and by Trade a Mender of Pots and Kettles, vulgarly called a Tinker, and of the National Religion, as commonly men of that Trade are, and was brought up to the Tinkering Trade, (as alſo were ſeveral of his Brothers) whereat he worked about that Country, * being alſo very profane and poor, even when married, &c.

* As doth appear by his Book of his Converſion, intituled, Grace Abounding, &c.

But it pleaſed God, by his irreſiſtible Grace, to work in him ſome Convictions and Fears of Hell, and alſo Deſires of Heaven, which drove him to reading and hearing of Religious matters; ſo controlling Grace growing abundantly, he did not take up Religion upon truſt, but Grace in him continually ſtrugling with himſelf and others, took all advantages he lit on to ripen his Underſtanding in Religion, and ſo he lit on the diſſenting Congregation of Chriſtians at Bedford, and was (upon Confeſſion of Faith) baptized about the years 1651, or 52, or 53.

And after a little time, having a Gift of Utterance, and Love to the Conviction of Sinners, preached about the Country, the ſame Salvation he found by Experience himſelf ſtood in need of by, Faith and Repentance, and worked at his tinkering Trade for a Livelihood, whereby the reiging Grace of God appeared the more Sovereign and Glorious in this choice, even as it ſhone in the choice of Peter a Fiſherman, and the reſt of the Apoſtles, and other of the eminent Saints of old, moſt of them Tradeſmen, and of whom moſt excellent things are ſpoken, &c.

In the year 1660. (being the year King Charles returned to England) having preached about * five years, the rage of Goſpel-Enemies was ſo great, that Novemb. 12. they took him Priſoner at a Meeting of Good people, and put him in Bedford Gaol, and there he continued about ſix years, and then was let out again.

* As in his Book, intituled, Grace Abounding, v. 319.

1666. (Being the Year of the burning of London) and a little after his releaſe, they took him again at a Meeting, and put him in the ſame Gaol, where he lay ſix years more.

* Before they took him, his intent was to preach on theſe words, Doſt thou believe on the Son of God? John 9. 35. from whence he intended to ſhew the abſolute need of Faith in Jeſus Chriſt.

* As he ſays in his Epiſtle to his Confeſſion of Faith.

And after he was releaſed again, they took him again, and put him in Priſon the third time, but that proved but for about half a year.

Whilſt he was thus twelve years and a half in priſon, he writ ſeveral of his publiſhed Books (as by many of their Epiſtles appears) as Pray by the Spirit, Holy City, Reſurrection, Grace abounding, and others; alſo the Pilgrims Progreſs, as himſelf and many others have ſaid.

The Paſtor of Bedford Congregation dyed, and after ſome years Vacancy, John Bunyan, though a Priſoner, was by the Church called to the Paſtoral Office, December 21. 1671. and as it pleaſed the Lord to rule the rage of men, it proved in or about the laſt year of his twelve years Impriſonment. And being out, he preached the Goſpel publickly at Bedford, and about the Countries, and at London, with very great ſucceſs, being mightily followed every where. And it pleaſed the Lord to preſerve him out of the hands of his Enemies in the ſevere Perſecution at the latter end of King Charles 2*d's Reign, though they often ſearched and laid wait for him, and ſometimes narrowly miſs'd him.*

1688. He publiſhed ſix Books (being the time of K. James 2*d's Liberty of Conſcience) and was ſeized with a ſweating Diſtemper, which after his ſome weeks going about, proved his Death, (at his very loving Friend's, Mr.* Strudwicks, a Grocer at Holborn-Bridge, London,) on Aug. 31. 1688. and in the 60. year of his Age, and was buried in Finsbury Burying Ground, where many London Diſſenting Miniſters are laid; and it proved ſome days above a month, before our great Goſpel-deliverance was began by the Prince of Orange's Landing, whom the Lord of his continued Bleſſing hath ſince made our preſerving King William the Third.

And as to his Family, he left his Widow Elizabeth and three Sons, John, Thomas and Joſeph, and three Daughters, Elizabeth, Sarah and Mary; but his blind Daughter (he writes of in his Grace Abounding) dyed ſome years before him, and his Widow dyed 169$\frac{0}{1}$.

Secondly, Concerning his Labours; God did give of his extraordinary Grace of the Goſpel to our Author Bnnyan, and 'tis worthy our Obſervation, for thereby God may have due Honour, his People Comfort, and Adverſaries confuted in their ſeveral corrupt Notions, eſpecially that of Only them that have School-Education, are fitly qualified for Miniſters of the glorious Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt: and alſo hereby the ſuperſtitious man is confounded in his way of Worſhip, as were his Predeceſſors, the Rulers of the Jews, in the Caſe of Peter and John, ſaying, Whence had theſe men this knowledge, ſeeing they are unlearned; but there was and is a Reaſon beyond their falſe Rules of Education, For they had been with Jeſus.

This is alſo apt to convince ſincere-hearted Chriſtians, that God can, when he will, make a Miniſter of his Goſpel, and ſend him forth in the power of his Spirit, Spirit, and defend him, nay, may I say, 'tis Gods Prerogative to make his Gospel-Ministers, and he makes them effectual to all the Ends of his Gospel, to preach, as the great Apostle saith, in season and out of season, to abase and abound, &c.

He that can make the dry bones live (as in Ezek. 37.) what can he not do? yea, they shall live, and become a great Host, and Antichristian Arts must fall; for the Lord doth make his Servants, as he did Jeremiah, as brazen Walls against People and Priests.

And however some subtilly and vain-gloriously pretend to be the only lawful Successors of the Apostles, yet certain I am from safer Reasons of Faith, that our Author Bunyan was really, sincerely, and effectually, a lawful Successor of the Apostles, and as lawful as any have been above this Thousand years. Nay, may I say, he was as a second Paul; for that his Conversion was in a great measure like that Great Apostle's, who of a great Enemy to Godliness, was by strong and irresistible workings of Sovereign Grace, made a great Minister of, and Sufferer for the Gospel.

Thousands of Christians in Country and City can testifie that their Comfort under his Ministry, have been to Admiration, so that their Joy hath shewed it self by much Weeping.

To the Eye of carnal Reason it may seem, that the Great Apostle Paul's Imprisonment was a Contradiction to his Commission of effectual preaching the Gospel to many Countries, especially considering his Commission was strengthened by his miraculous Conversion, from the Glory and Call of the Lord Jesus from Heaven, for the making of him such a great Gospel Preacher. And yet God suffered it so to be, and we have reason to believe for the best, because God usually works those seeming contrary things to his own End and Glory: And the effect was, the Saints were strengthened thereby, and several Epistles were written thereby, which hath preserved much of the Gospel in writing to the Ages after, and even for our very great and needful help.

And I reckon I shall not be out of the way, if I observe and say, What hath the Devil or his Agents gotten by putting our great Gospel-Minister Bunyan in prison? for in prison (as before mentioned) he wrote many excellent Books, that have published to the World his great Grace, and great Truth, and great Judgment, and great Ingenuity; and to instance in one, the Pilgrims Progress he hath suited to the life of a Traveller so exactly and pleasantly, and to the life of a Christian, that this very Book, besides the rest, hath done the superstitious sort of men and their practice, more harm, or rather good, as I may call it, than if he had been let alone at his Meeting at Bedford to preach the Gospel to his own Auditory, as it might have fallen out; for none but Priest-ridden people know how to cavil at it: it wins so smoothly upon their affections, and so insensibly distills the Gospel into them; and hath been printed in France, Holland, New-England, and in Welch, and about a hundred thousand in England, whereby they are made some means of Grace, and the Author become famous, and may be the cause of spredding his other Gospel-Books over the European and American World, and in process of time may be so to the whole Universe.

When Mr. Bunyan preached in London, if there were but one days notice given, there would be more people come together to hear him preach, than the Meeting-house would hold: I have seen to hear him preach (by my computation) about twelve hundred at a Morning-Lecture by seven a clock, on a working day, in the dark Winter time.

I also computed about three thousand that came to hear him one Lords day at London, at a Townsend Meeting-house, so that half were fain to go back again for want of room, and then himself was fain at a back-door to be pull'd almost over people to get up stairs to his Pulpit.

Mr. Bunyans Dispute with a Scholar to this effect.

As Mr. Bunyan was upon the Road near Cambridge, there overtakes him a Scholar that had observed him a Preacher, and said to him, How dare you peach, seeing you have not the Original, being not a Scholar?

Then said Mr. Bunyan, Have you the Original? Yes, said the Scholar.

Nay but, said Mr. Bunyan, Have you the very self same Original Copies that were written by the Penmen of the Scriptures, Prophets and Apostles?

No, said the Scholar, but we have the true Copies of those Originals.

How do you know that? said Mr. Bunyan?

How, said the Scholar? Why we believe what we have is a true Copy of the Original.

Then said Mr. Bunyan, So do I believe our English Bible is a true Copy of the Original.

Then away rid the Scholar.

Another Dispute with a Scholar.

As Mr. Bunyan was preaching in a Barn, and shewing the Fewness of those that should be saved, there stood one of the Learned to take advantage of his Words; and having done preaching, the Schoolman said to him, You are a Deceiver, a Person of no Charity, and therefore not fit to preach; for he that (in effect) condemneth the greatest part of his Hearers, hath no Charity, and therefore not fit to preach.

Then Mr. Bunyan answered, The Lord Jesus Christ preached in a Ship to his Hearers on the shore, Mat. 13. And shewed that they were as four sorts of Ground, the High-way, the Stony, the Thorny, and the Good Ground, whereof the good Ground was the only persons to be saved.

And your Position is, That he that in effect condemneth the greatest part of his Hearers, hath no Charity, and therefore not fit to preach the Gospel.

But here the Lord Jesus Christ did so, then your Conclusion is, The Lord Jesus Christ wanted Charity, and therefore not fit to preach the Gospel.

Horrid Blasphemy, away with your hellish Logick, and speak Scripture.

Then replied the Learned, 'Tis blasphemy to call Logick hellish, which is our Reason, the Gift of God; for that which distinguisheth a man from a beast, is the Gift of God.

But Mr. Bunyan replied, Sin doth distinguish a man from a beast; is Sin therefore the Gift of God? &c. They parted.

I once asked him his Opinion in a common Religious point, and offered some Arguments to prove my Opinion for the General of it; but he answered, that where the Scripture is silent, we ought to forbear our Opinions, and so he forbore to affirm either for or against, the Scripture being altogether silent in this point.

Thirdly,

Thirdly, Concerning this Folio, &c. I have ſtruggled to bring about this great good Work, and it had ſucceeded in Mr. Bunyans life time, even all his Labours in Folio; but that an intereſted Book-ſeller oppoſed it. And notwithſtanding the many diſcouragements I have met with in my ſtruggles in this great a Work, we have (and I may believe by the bleſſing of the Lord) gotten about 400 Subſcriptions, whereof about thirty are Miniſters, which alſo ſhews the great Eſteem our Authors Labours are in among Chriſtian people. And that the Reaſonableneſs and Duty of the preſervation of his Labours in Folio by Subſcription, may be continued to memory; I have alſo added my Reaſons, which I diſtributed in my late Struggles to effect this Work.

His Effigies was cut in Copper from an Original paint done to the life (by his very good Friend a Limner) and thoſe that deſire it ſingle to put in a Frame, may have it at this Book-ſeller's, Mr. Marſhal, and alſo the Catalogue-Table.

The Epiſtle is writ by two Miniſters, Mr. Wilſon of Hichin in Hartford-ſhire, and Mr. Chandler who ſucceeds Mr. Bunyan at Bedford.

And Mr. Burton that writ the Epiſtle to ſome Goſpel-Truths Opened (being the firſt Book Mr. Bunyan writ) was Miniſter at Bedford.

Note, I would not charge the following running Titles upon our Author Bunyan, becauſe they were added in the Propoſals for want of running Titles, and the knowledge of them, and the Copies being at Bedford when the Propoſals were drawn up at London; and alſo becauſe perhaps he deſigned ſome other like running Titles.

I did intend to print a compleat Table of all the Texts of Scripture uſed in our Authors Labours, that from thence, looking into his Book, his ſenſe might be eaſily found upon any Text, ſo his Labours might have been alſo in the Nature of an Expoſition upon the whole Bible; but I have delayed till ſome other opportunity, it may be of the next Folio, and when ever it falls, I intend to give notice.

Becauſe I and other Subſcribers, eſpeciallly Miniſters, were willing this Folio ſhould be commoded with an Index, I have, as a Chriſtian, expoſed my ſelf and made one, and that without money for my labour of writing it, though I confeſs it might have ſeem'd ſome other mens Duty, yet being ignorant of the man that had the opportunity, and would have done it, unleſs paid for it, I was neceſſitated to effect it; and if the Book-ſeller had paid for it, he would have leſſened the number of 140 ſheets of Mr. Bunyans Labours in this Folio at 10s. (excuſe this fault in me, if it be one.)

I could have collected abundance more of exeellent matter in this Table, and I have placed an Italick letter'd word in every Paragraph in the Table to be the Guide-word to the ſame word in the Folio, which is a black lettered Word in the Folio latter part, that is, thoſe Books formerly printed (where the Printer hath not failed to make it ſo) and alſo in the Manuſcript fore-part a Guide-word to the ſame word under which I have drawn a black line in as many Folio's as opportunity and time would permit me to do, becauſe I had not time and conveniency (before this Folio was printed) to mark the Manuſcripts for to be a black letter'd Word, as I had time for the formerly printed Books.

Alſo note, the Book though marked, doth not always refer to the Table, but the Table to the Book, is the intent; and becauſe the word in the book doth not always (though very often) fall in Alphabetical Order, therefore ſome other like word is put in its place in the Table.

Alſo note, Sometimes many principal Words are in one Paragraph, and then, though the matter be not to be found in the Table by the Word, that ſome perhaps may expect, yet it may be found by another Word, becauſe ſeveral Words are ſo united, that one cannot well part them, and it would be too large a Table to put them all in ſeverally in Alphabetical Order, as Soul, Sinner, Saved, Salvation, Juſtification, Chriſt, God, &c.

Alſo note, When to the Table phraſe more than one number is placed, then expect not that the ſame black Letter word is always to be found in the book to the laſt number, as is to the firſt number, but it may be ſome other black or marked word of like meaning, as for Antichriſt, the black lettered Word in ſome places is Harlot, and for Apoſtles the black letter Word ſometimes is Twelve, becauſe the word Apoſtle is not in that part of the Folio, tho' intended by Twelve.

Alſo note, The Phraſe in the Table is not always the very ſame, word for word in the book, becauſe the deſign of the Table is to give matter in ſhort, ſaying as well as moſt commonly a compleat Sentence; and therefore they that would have Mr. Bunyans intire, compleat, and full ſenſe of the matter, let them look out of the Table into the book, and there take all its Connection together.

Alſo I have (to keep the Table as ſhort as I well could, and yet to direct well to the matter in the book) placed one part of the matter under one Word in Alphebetical Order, and another part of the ſame matter in another following Paragraph under another Word in the Table; ſo that by finding one Word in the Table, you may often find in the ſame Paragraph in the book (before or after that word) other matter thereto relating.

I had but about two years acquaintance with our Author, and therefore have ſaid but little of him, becauſe of haſtening this to the Preſs; yet if any more comes to my memory, I intend to put it at the End of the Index.

Your Chriſtian Brother,
